Your Committee find, That the Court of Directors, in this Letter, deny that the Letter of 1767 imports any promiſe to the Nabob, or that he claims any ſuch promiſe, as he goes no further than to ſay, that he has heard that leave had been given to grant him a leaſe of this Circar.—The Directors then obſerve, That as to the oſtenſible clauſe which ſubjects the bargain to their future approbation, they are really concerned to find their Servants capable of ſheltering themſelves behind a ſubterfuge which they ought to have been aſhamed of ſtating, knowing, as they muſt, the inconvenience and embarraſſment that would unavoidably attend the operation of that proviſo, if the Company ſhould think fit to annul the agreement—That, however, they do expreſsly diſallow the agreement, and poſitively direct the Guntoor Circar to be reſumed for the Company—That Hyder Ally could not be expected to remain an indifferent ſpectator, if, in addition to the oſtenſible plea of expelling the French from the Guntoor Circar, that country were put into the hands of the Nabob, his inveterate enemy; and that the Preſidency, as they themſelves repreſent, had been informed by the Nabob, that Hyder was acquainted with every thing that paſſed at his Durbar—That Colonel Harpur's march of 6 days through Hyder's country, without his conſent, was highly imprudent; and that if Bazalet Jung's country is kept, and they are unable to afford him the ſtipulated protection, he will probably fall a ſacrifice to the reſentment of the Nizam and Hyder Ally; Par. 150. adding this obſervation: " The latter has, by your im- " prudence, had an opportunity of acquiring and mani- " feſting additional conſequence; the reſult may render " him ſtill more troubleſome, and the concluſion be un- " favourable to the Company's affairs on that ſide of " India."—Your Committee further find, that in this General Letter the Court of Directors animadvert upon the manner of letting this Circar to the Nabob, which they term precipitate and unjuſtifiable; and that they agree with Mr. Smith in opinion, that the Nabob's propoſals ought to have been conſidered in the Council at large in their Revenue Department, and not in the Select Par. 153—4. Committee—That Bazalet Jung, and his accounts, were made a ſubſtitute for a Committee of Circuit, with this difference, that the Committee of Circuit's Reports would have come before the Board at large, but Bazalet Jung's repreſentations were, by the cuſtom of the Service, ſubject in the firſt inſtance to the Preſident's inſpection only—That they commend Mr. Smith's conduct, in wiſhing for time to conſider of the accounts and propoſals till the next Committee; but that this requeſt, which they deem reaſonable, was refuſed.

Your Committee further find, That the Directors obſerve that the Nabob's Letter was above a fortnight in the Preſident's poſſeſſion, and, when brought to light, a majority appeared ripe for deciſion; that the queſtion was forthwith put, and carried, for a ten years leaſe, with as little ceremony as if it had been for the purchaſe of a bale of cloth; as though it had involved no one conſideration of importance, nor been of the leaſt conſequence to the peace of the country, or welfare of the Company, although the Preſidency had every reaſon to believe, from the ſtrong repreſentations of Hyder and the Nizam, that it would be extremely difficult to reconcile them to the meaſures, or to fulfil their ſtipulation with Bazalet Jung, even by force of arms.

Your Committee having examined the origin and progreſs of this Treaty reſpecting the Guntoor Circar, and the effect it produced on the minds of the Nizam of the Decan and Hyder Ally; and having alſo examined the conduct of the Supreme Council upon that occaſion, as well as the ſentiments and conduct of the Court of Directors, proceeded next to examine another important tranſaction that was going on with the Nizam, and which is intimately connected with the tranſaction with his Brother Bazalet Jung above ſtated.

It appears to the Committee, That on the 27th January 1779, Sir Thomas Rumbold delivered in a Minute, accompanied with certain Letters of intelligence which he had received; from all which, together with a conſideration of many points reſpecting the affairs of the Carnatic, he was induced to propoſe to the Committee, that Mr. Holland ſhould be ſent to the Nizam's Court; and he urges it as neceſſary, " if no other conſequence " were to ariſe from it, than our being at a certainty of " the views and intentions of the Nizam, and to obtain " ſuch intelligence as we now only receive by chance; " the ſettlement of the Guntoor Circar; the payment of " the Nizam's Tribute; the being at ſome certainty with " reſpect to any intrigues the French may be carrying " on, are all objects of importance; and the ſending " ſome perſon immediately to Hyderabad, as well as to " Hyder Ally, appeared to him abſolutely neceſſary." 1779. Select Conſ. 168, 199. Appendix, No. 110.

Your Committee find, That the Tribute here alluded to, payable to the Nizam, is five lacks of Rupees, ſtipulated to be paid to him when the Circars were ſurrendered in 1765, and is called Peiſhcuſh—And it appeared, that the Committee agreed to this propoſal, and ordered a Letter to be written to the Governor General and Council, acquainting them with this meaſure; which Letter, dated 7th February, ſets out with acquainting them of their having intelligence from Poonah, " that " the Company's arms had ſuſtained a diſgrace; and " with reſpect to the Nizam, they ſay, that his avowed " attachment to the Poonah Miniſters, and the warmth " with which he remonſtrated to your Board, and to " this Government, againſt the deſigns which he un- " derſtood to be formed in favour of Ragonaut Row, " ſufficiently ſhew how he muſt have received the news " of this diſaſter, and how materially this misfortune " will contribute to ſtrengthen the inclination he will " naturally have conceived to our prejudice. As our " Northern Circars are ſo open to invaſion from the do- " minions of Nizam Alli, and as there is but too much " reaſon to doubt of his friendſhip for the Company, we " think it highly expedient, at this juncture, to have the " beſt intelligence of his deſigns, and to be timely in- " formed of any motions he may make towards the pro- " vinces. For this purpoſe, as well as to ſettle every " thing that may be neceſſary for obtaining the Guntoor " Circar, and procuring the diſmiſſion of the French " Troops from the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, we have ap- " pointed one of the Company's Servants to proceed to " the Court of Nizam Alli, in quality of Reſident: he " will have inſtructions to correſpond with your Board, " and to communicate every information you may re- " quire from that quarter." Vide Treaty in Appendix. Appendix, No. 111. Select Conſ. 212, &c. 215, 216.

And Your Committee find, That the Inſtructions given to Mr. Holland on this occaſion, were to the following purport: That he ſhould endeavour to remove from the mind of the Nizam any unfavourable impreſſion he may have received reſpecting the Maratta War, and the expedition ſet on foot by Bengal; to ſubſtitute others more favourable in their ſtead, and to cultivate the friendſhip eſtabliſhed between the Nizam and the Company by the Treaty of 1766. But as ſome circumſtances had happened, with reſpect to the Guntoor Circar, which might be thought to affect the terms of that Treaty, they enter into an explanation of the danger to be apprehended from the French Troops which were in his ſervice; and acquaint him, that they had opened a negociation with Bazalet Jung on that ſubject, incloſing a copy of the Treaty propoſed by that Prince, together with their Anſwer; and inform him, that they ſhortly expect a final concluſion of it. They acquaint Mr. Holland, that it is left to his judgment to open this matter with the Nizam, in order to obtain his [illegible] and informs him, the Treaty of 1766 having been concluded with the Nizam only, they have [illegible] on their applications Appendix, No. 12. Ibid. 197.

applications to him, conſidering him as reſponſible for the due execution of that part which concerns his Brother. They then ſtate to Mr. Hollond, that, in their opinion, Bazalet Jung has infringed the Treaty, by entertaining French Troops, and that they have for that reaſon retained the Nizam's Peiſhcuſh, or Tribute—That this muſt however be explained to the Nizam, ſo as to remove any doubts about the future regular payment of his Peiſhcuſh. And they further direct Mr. Hollond to convey every neceſſary intelligence to the Supreme Council, as well as to themſelves, and to be as early as poſſible in all communications to both Preſidencies.—And Your Committee find, That on the 19th April 1779, the Select Committee reſolved to acquaint Mr. Hollond (who had arrived at Hyderabad on the 6th) with the ſteps which had been taken to aſſiſt Bazalet Jung, that he might avail himſelf of it with the Nizam, in order to engage him to take a part with his Brother in checking the dangerous deſigns of Hyder Ally: but Your Committee do not find the Anſwer to this Letter entered upon the Madras Conſultations, either within the time in which Letters appear in the uſual courſe to have been received from Hyderabad, or at any after period.—It appeared to Your Committee, That Mr. Hollond, in September following, tranſmitted to Bengal his whole correſpondence with the Preſidency of Madras, and among others a copy of this Anſwer, which appears to have been written on the 17th May, and contains an account of the Nizam's being greatly offended with the Preſidency.—And it further appears to Your Committee, That Sir Thomas Rumbold, in a Letter to Mr. Hollond, dated 10th June, acknowledges the receipt of this, together with another Letter of ſubſequent date, viz. 24th of May. But Your Committee cannot aſcertain the day on which it was ſo received by Sir Thomas Rumbold, as he only mentions his having duly received it: but Your Committee find, from examining the dates and receipts of many Letters from Hyderabad to Madras, that 10, 11, or 12 days is the uſual time required for tranſmitting them from the one place to the other; and that in the preſent inſtance 18 days had elapſed between the 17th May (the day of the date) and the 5th June, when a very important ſtep was moved by the Preſident, which added greatly to the Nizam's reſentment.

Appendix, No. 113. Select Com. 19th April 1779, 84—87.

Appendix, No. 113.

Appendix, No. 114.

Your Committee find, That this Letter of Mr. Hollond's, dated 17th May (addreſſed to the Preſident and Select Committee) informs them, That, in his audience of the Nizam, he had ſtated to him the meaſures taken in ſupport of his Brother, and the hopes which were entertained that he would aſſiſt the Preſidency with Troops, to check Hyder Ally; but that, from the change in his Highneſs's countenance, he ſaw that he was much diſtreſſed; and that when he requeſted an Anſwer, the Nizam told him, that affairs of this nature were attended with ſerious conſequence, and required mature deliberation, and gave ſeveral reaſons why he could not furniſh Troops or proviſions.—Your Committee further find, That Mr. Hollond, in this Letter, repreſents, that in a ſecond conference with the Nizam, his Highneſs obſerved, that it was extraordinary, when a perſon was ſent for the purpoſe of ſtrengthening their friendſhip, that the Company ſhould engage in meaſures ſo little likely to produce that effect—That he read over the articles of the Treaty of 1768, and ſaid, that entering into engagements with his Brother was a direct violation of it—That the Preſidency had no right to interfere in the concerns of his Family; and that he ought to have been conſulted.—And it appears to Your Committee, That Mr. Hollond endeavoured to excuſe this, by obſerving, that the Preſidency were ſo well aſſured that Hyder Ally intended immediately to attack his Brother's country, that there had not been time for conſulting him; but that the Nizam denied that Hyder had any ſuch intention, and always reverted to the Treaty, ſaying, that nothing could be urged in vindication of the ſteps which had been taken, and that if the Treaty was to be obſerved, the Troops ſhould be ſtopped from marching into the country; if it was not to be regarded, he ſhould be obliged to oppoſe them.—Mr. Hollond adds, that the Nizam had informed him, that Hyder Ally intended ſpeedily to fall on the Carnatic, in his former manner of plundering and burning, and avoiding pitched battles; and that he has no doubt of the Nizam's wiſhes to form an alliance with the Engliſh againſt Hyder Ally.

Your Committee find, That previous to the date of the foregoing Letter, the Nizam had written a Letter to Madras (received on the 10th May) in which he expreſſed ſatisfaction at the appointment of Mr. Hollond, and repreſented himſelf as determined to adhere ſtedfaſtly to Treaties; and that Mr. Hollond acquainted the Preſidency of his arrival at Hyderabad on the 6th, and the honourable reception given to him by the Nizam two days after his arrival; and that at the ſecond interview with the Nizam, he had aſſured him, according to inſtructions, of the Company's intentions to adhere ſtrictly to the Treaty of 1768; and that with reſpect to the Peiſhcuſh for the Circars (in full confidence of his giving all reaſonable ſatisfaction with regard to the Circar of Guntoor, and the Troops in Bazalet Jung's ſervice) it was their intention to give orders for paying the arrears, and diſcharging the Peiſhcuſh regularly in future, according to kiſt; and that his Highneſs made the ſtrongeſt and moſt earneſt declarations of his deſire to be upon terms of the cloſeſt friendſhip with the Company; ſaying, "That he had never deviated in any inſtance from "the Treaties ſubſiſting, had reſiſted ſolicitation to ſup"port the French, and had cauſed his Brother to diſmiſs "Lally and his Troops from Guntoor," which Mr. Hollond informs them the Nizam had taken into his own ſervice, to prevent their joining Hyder and the Marattas, as the Nizam alledged. And Your Committee find, That the Anſwer which the Preſident propoſed to be made to Mr. Hollond's Letter, appearing on the Select Conſultations of the 5th June, directed him to ſtate to the Nizam, that it was wiſhed the French Troops had been ſent to the ſea-coaſt, where they might have been ſent, together with other French priſoners, to their native country, that they might not diſturb the peace of the different States of India. And Your Committee alſo found, That the Governor's Minute then proceeds in theſe words: "I "muſt now requeſt the Committee's permiſſion to lay "before them my ſentiments on a particular point, if "poſſible, to be negociated with the Soubah. If I "ſhould be ſo happy as to find the Committee with me "in opinion, I would recommend that Mr. Hollond be "wrote to on the ſubject. I am ſenſible it is a very de"licate one, and muſt not be abruptly gave into; but "that the opening it to the Soubah (Nizam) will re"quire much management on the part of Mr. Hollond, "who muſt, by turns, ſooth and work on his apprehen"ſions as occaſion may require. I have always conſi"dered the Peiſhcuſh as diſgraceful to the Company, "and an acknowledgment which the Soubah had no "right to demand. The giving up the Guntoor Circar "during the life of his Brother Bazalet Jung, was ſuf"ficient condeſcenſion. The grant from the Mogul "was free and unconditional for the five Circars; and "the receiving them afterwards from the Nizam, on "paying him an annual Peiſhcuſh, was a ſacrifice of the "Company's rights. The time ſeems favourable to "throw off ſo heavy a burden; for the immenſe ex"pences the Company are put to, both to the North"ward and in the Carnatic, renders it neceſſary that "we ſhould endeavour to relieve them as much as "poſſible. We may with ſafety make the attempt, and "try to obtain a remiſſion of ſo unneceſſary and ſo im"proper a Tribute, which, by the Mogul's Phirmaund "to the Company, the Soubah has no legal title to; but "in the end, ſhould the withholding of it be impolitic, "or likely to be attended with difficulty, we may then Appendix, No. 115. Country Cor. 73.

Appendix, No. 116. 9th May 1779. 274—278.

Appendix, No. 117. Select Com. 5th June 1779. 426 to 428.

"make

" make good the payments to him. I am perſuaded he " is not ſufficiently powerful to enforce the demand; " and the ground I go upon is, that he would not have " been entitled to exact ſuch a mark of dependance, if " the original Phirmaund from the Emperor had been " properly attended to." And Your Committee further find, that after ſome other arguments (grounded on the circumſtance of the Peiſhcuſh having been but two lacks for the firſt ſix years, and afterwards raiſed to five by the Treaty) that he propoſed that Mr. Hollond ſhould be written to particularly on the ſubject, that he might uſe his utmoſt endeavours to obtain ſo deſirable an object; " nor (continued he) would I have him mention any " compromiſe, or ſtipulate for the payment of any " part of the Peiſhcuſh, till every endeavour has in vain " been uſed to induce the Soubah to relinquiſh the " whole; and Mr. Hollond may from his obſervations " learn, if there are any points in which the Soubah " wiſhes a compliance on the part of the Company that " may be acceded to in return for giving up his claim to " the Peiſhcuſh." And it appears, that the Select Committee entirely approved, and ordered the Letter accordingly, which was ſigned on the 11th of June (as Sir Thomas Rumbold ſtates in his Minute of the 30th December, Appendix No. 138.) proceeding in the ſame ſtrain of reaſoning with the Preſident's Minute; and concluding in theſe terms: " Although our wiſhes extend to an entire " remiſſion of Peiſhcuſh, which we would have firſt pro- " poſed to the Soubah, and ſupported by your beſt en- " deavours, yet we confeſs, that without ſomething of " importance to tempt him, we can hardly expect he " will at once be brought to ſo great a conceſſion; but " we hope, by making the demand at this time, we ſhall " more eaſily obtain what we think we have a juſt claim " to, which is a conſiderable abatement in the amount " of the Peiſhcuſh. If therefore the Soubah, after all " your endeavours, ſhall appear diſinclined to remit the " whole, you will try to bring the Peiſhcuſh back to the " former ſtandard of two lacks, which is as much as the " countries can afford." Your Committee find, that the terms of the original Treaty are theſe (viz.) That from 1768 to 1774, the Company ſhall pay two lacks a year—from 1774, the ſum of five lacks; and when the Guntoor Circar ſhall come into poſſeſſion, ſeven lacks annually.

Appendix, No. 118. Select Conſ. 9th July 1779. 579.

It appears to Your Committee, That Mr. Hollond's Anſwer (26th June) repreſented the Nizam as continuing the ſame language as he had before held, with reſpect to his entertaining Mr. Lally and his Troops, and that he ſpeaks of them as vagrants of all nations.—As to the Treaty with Bazalet Jung, that he (Mr. Hollond) had repreſented to the Nizam, that, in fact, the Company had a right to the Guntoor Circar, by Bazalet's having broken the ſecond article in the Treaty, in harbouring the Enemies of the Engliſh, but that they were ſatisfied with renting it from him, and undertaking, at the ſame time, to defend his territories.—But Your Committee find, That when the ſubject of the Peiſhcuſh was mentioned, Mr. Hollond acquaints them, that the Nizam was exceedingly agitated, and ſaid, that he finds that the Preſidency was determined to break the Treaty; that there is no further occaſion for his (Mr. Hollond's) ſtaying there, and that if they were bent on war, he was likewiſe ready; and that if they ſaw any advantage in breaking with him, he ſhould be very well pleaſed, as he was convinced, in caſe of a rupture, the profits of the conteſt would be on his ſide—That the ſurrender of theſe Circars was grounded on the fraud and ignorance of his Manager, and that he had ſubmitted to that heavy loſs from a ſenſe of his engagements, and conſidered himſelf as bound by the Treaty—That he threatened immediately to join Hyder Ally, and deſired this might be communicated to the Preſidency, and a ſpeedy Anſwer returned, for if there were any delay, his Troops might poſſibly advance on Colonel Harpur.—And Your Committee find, That on the 10th July the Select Committee anſwered this Letter; obſerving, that although the Nizam's reſentment is raiſed, they ſtill flatter themſelves with greater ſucceſs than they could have procured by a different line of conduct; and that they directed Mr. Hollond to repreſent, that no threat was meant, but that it was intended the remiſſion ſhould proceed from the Nizam's favour and generoſity—that the claim, however, is built on ſuch foundation of equity, that it cannot be relinquiſhed, and hope he will be convinced of it—that as they cannot flatter themſelves that an entire remiſſion will be granted, Mr. Hollond may make propoſitions for abatement of the Tribute; and concluded with inſtructing him, that though they will pay what is due, when in caſh, they ſhall be fully prepared to revenge the leaſt inſult that is offered to them.

Appendix, No. 119. Select Conſ. 5th July 1779.

587—591. 589.

Mr. Hollond's Anſwer to theſe Orders (dated 31ſt Auguſt 1779) appeared to Your Committee to ſtate, That he and the Nizam had gone over the ſubject with the ſame arguments which had been uſed on the former occaſion—that he ſeemed particularly agitated, when it was ſtated to him that he had made the ſame remiſſion in favour of others—that he ſtill ſpoke of the neceſſity of commencing hoſtilities, if the Peiſhcuſh were withheld, ſaying, that he (Mr. Hollond) might have his audience of leave in two days; and that he had received a meſſage accordingly, to prepare himſelf for his departure.—Mr. Hollond alſo ſtated this as the reaſon why he did not make the propoſitions of paying the arrears, if the Peiſhcuſh in future were remitted, believing the meſſage to be an artifice to drive him to the laſt propoſitions he might have in charge, and that Mr. Hollond then repreſented his wiſh, that a nazir (or preſent) might be offered to the Nizam, as he is ſatisfied that the remiſſion having been once propoſed, ought to be carried through, leſt it ſhould appear to be deſerted from weakneſs; and that he conceives that the Nizam's reluctance proceeded from the credit he derives from this Tribute being paid to him by the Engliſh Company.

Appendix, No. 120. 230. 242.

Select Conſ. 817.

Your Committee, finding that the negociation with the Nizam ſtood in this ſituation in September 1779, it was thought neceſſary next to advert to the proceedings at Bengal on this ſubject; the Preſident and Select Committee at Madras having acquainted the Governor General and Council with Mr. Hollond's deputation, on the 7th February 1779, and having informed them that he was inſtructed to communicate with the Governor General and Council.

Your Committee have ſtated above, That Mr. Hollond had written to Bengal on the 9th May; but from thenceforward, to the 3d September, no Letter appears to have been written by him to the Government of Bengal.—On that day Your Committee find that he wrote very ſhortly, incloſing copies of the ſeveral Letters enumerated below, the ſubſtance of which have been already mentioned; and informing them, " That he ſhould have ſent them " ſeparately at the time they were written, but deferred " doing it, in expectation of being able to give them " more deciſive information with regard to the objects " they relate to." The Soubah (he added) talks of taking the field as ſoon as the rains are over, but his motions muſt depend upon the turn the negociations take with the Miniſters of Poonah.

Bengal, Select Conſ. 670—689.

Appendix, No. 121.

The Incloſures are,

His Letter to Madras, 9th May.
Letter from Madras to him, 23d April.
Letter to Madras, 17th May.
Letter to him from Madras, 11th June.
His Anſwer, 26th June.
Letter from Madras, 29th July.
His Anſwer, 31ſt Auguſt.

Your Committee found, That the Governor General, on the 25th October, entered a Minute on this ſubject, recapitulating the objects of Mr. Hollond's original inſtructions, as ſent to the Governor General on 7th February, which he conſiders as wiſe, and conſiſtent with the power of the Government of Madras, independent of the controul troul of the Governor General, being merely calculated to maintain Peace; but obſerving, by the tenor of the ſubſequent Inſtructions, it appeared they had been imperceptibly led from their firſt deſign, into a train of demands, which are, both in their nature and tendency, oppoſite to it, and have proved ſuch in their effects. The Treaty with Bazalet Jung, ſays he, is concluded and avowed without the interpoſition of his immediate Sovereign and their Ally;—the arrears and current payment of the Peiſhcuſh withheld, and effectually, though indirectly, refuſed, under pleas highly unreaſonable and irregular; and a demand made for diſmiſſion of the French and other Enemies, and Native Forces, entertained under the command of Lally, a French Officer, a demand in itſelf reaſonable and ſuitable to the relation in which they ſtand with the Nabob, but neither politic nor reaſonable, while their other demands indicate War, and are even accompanied with indirect threats of it. And the Governor General obſerved on the light in which the Nizam received theſe propoſitions, as proceeding from a proper ſenſe of inſult. That the demands of State imply conſideration, and a determination to ſupport them; that the ceſſion of the Circars was extorted by neceſſity, and an attempt to deprive the Nizam of his Peiſhcuſh is therefore doubly criminal. The Governor and Council (continued he) have, however, on 10th July, expreſſed their hopes to ſucceed from the generoſity of the Nizam, and have apparently reduced the negociation to a quiet acquieſcence in the Treaty, as it now ſtands, apparently, becauſe they conclude with this expreſſion, That they will diſcharge what is due when they are in caſh, but will defend their juſt rights if they ſhould be attacked; and obſerved, that they will have diſturbed, in any event, the good underſtanding between them and their Ally; that all negociation ſhould originate with the Government of Bengal; that they had given their ſanction to Mr. Hollond's appointment, under inducements widely different from the circumſtances which have ſince been made the object of that negociation. And Your Committee find, That he therefore moved, Whether the Board ſhall interfere, or ſhould leave the conduct of the negociation to Fort Saint George; and that it was unanimouſly carried for interfering.

Select Conſ. 670. Appendix, No. 122, 123.

Bengal, Sec. Conſ. 1st Nov. 1779. 745. Appendix, No. 124.

Your Committee alſo find, That a Letter was written, on the 1ſt of November 1779, to the Nizam, calculated to throw as little blame as poſſible on the Government of Madras, in the eyes of the Nizam, and yet to quiet his apprehenſions; and that the Letter ſtates, that the Government of Madras could not have had an idea of the offenſive intentions which his Highneſs imputed to them; for if they had, they muſt have imparted it to the Government of Bengal, as ſuch a deſign could not be carried into execution, nor could the Company's name be ever pledged without the ſanction of the Supreme Council; and that they acquaint the Nizam, that they have directed Mr. Hollond to ſuſpend his negociation till he ſhall have received further Inſtructions from his immediate Conſtituents, to whom they have written for that purpoſe. And Your Committee find, That on the 1ſt of November, the Supreme Council accordingly wrote to Mr. Hollond, ſuſpending his negociation, and incloſing the foregoing Letter. Your Committee further find, That the Governor General, &c. alſo wrote to Madras on the 4th November 1779, in the ſame ſtrain of propriety and moderation that was held in their Letter to the Nizam, and incloſed to them Copies of their Letters to Hyderabad, requiring their ſtrict conformity to the ſubject of theſe Letters. It appears to Your Committee, That Mr. Hollond, on the 18th December 1779, acquainted the Governor General, that he had delivered his Letter above mentioned to the Nizam, who expreſſed great ſatisfaction. And it alſo appears, that the Nizam's anſwer dwelt on the reputation of the Engliſh for good faith, and then adverted to the negociation of Mr. Hollond; and ſtates, that the Government of Madras had by violence ſeized the Circar, which by Treaty belonged to his brother; and aſks, what was he to conclude from ſuch conduct, but a breach of the Treaty? and declares, that he was on the eve of revenging theſe inſults when their Letter arrived, but that he has now put a ſtop to his meaſures. "If, ſays he, what you write is from your heart, "and the Government of Madras will remain ſtrict to "Treaty, and will relinquiſh poſſeſſion of the Circar, it "is well; if not, I have nothing of more conſequence "than defending my Country. It is from this new line "of conduct of the Engliſh Company, that the foundations of enmity have been laid in the whole country of "Indoſtan." And he concludes with deſiring their friendſhip may continue ſteady.

Appendix, No. 125. Sec. Conſ. 75. Appendix, No. 126. Ibid. 753. Appendix, No. 127. Appendix, No. 128. 1780. Bengal Select Conſ. 14—22.

Your Committee find, That on the 14th February 1780, the Governor General and Council took into conſideration a Letter from Madras, dated 15th January 1780, in anſwer to theirs of 4th November; in which the President and Council of Madras expreſs ſurprize that their endeavours, by friendly and perſuaſive means, to get rid of a heavy and diſgraceful burthen, ſhould be deemed a breach of faith; they ſtate their firſt repreſentation to the Nizam, as erring rather on the ſide of forbearance; and that the violent manner in which the Soubah received them, had occaſioned the ſpirited repreſentation made by Mr. Hollond, and their ſubſequent orders to addreſs the Nizam in a ſtyle ſuitable to the offence he had given: they expreſs themſelves as greatly concerned at the interpoſition of the Governor General, and the manner of it; aſſerting, that no interference on this occaſion was juſtified by their reſtraining powers: they cite the clauſes above ſtated in the Act 13 Geo. III. and obſerve, "that the reſtraining power is confined "to two points, Orders for declaring War, or for mak-"ing Treaties, not a poſitive compelling power extend-"ing to all political affairs; but that the Nizam choſe "to conſtrue this inoffenſive, and even forbearing con-"duct, into a deſign of committing hoſtilities, and to "expreſs himſelf in a ſtyle that betrayed more weakneſs "and folly than any purpoſe from which they might "apprehend danger;" and add, that they had written to the Nizam to ſatisfy him in regard to the Peiſhcuſh.

Sec. Conſ. 129—132. Appendix, No. 129.

Your Committee further find, That this Letter incloſed a Minute of Sir Thomas Rumbold's, which the Council of Madras alluded to as containing their own ſentiments; in which he complains both of the matter and ſtyle of the Letter from Bengal, and then proceeds to ſhew, at very great length, that the Nizam's reſentment aroſe from the Maratta War, and the part which the Government of Bengal had taken in it: and it appears, that the Preſident very elaborately diſputes the point of juriſdiction, and endeavours to ſhew, that the controuling power is confined to the concluding of a Treaty only, and not to the intermediate negociation; that he inſiſts upon the ſame poſitions which are dwelt upon in the Letter which accompanied it, at much greater length; and obſerves, that the ſtoppage of Peiſhcuſh is juſtified by the ſame practice which obtained in the caſe of Shuja Allum; recriminating upon the conduct of the Preſidency of Bengal with much warmth, and acquainting them, that in the laſt Committee he had moved for the recal of Mr. Hollond, to whom Letters had been ſent for that purpoſe on the 17th December preceding.

Appendix, No. 132. 285.

Your Committee find, That the Governor General entered a Minute upon theſe Letters, hoping at the ſame time that the Board would concur with him in referring theſe extraordinary performances, as he terms them, to the Court of Directors, and that he declined making any particular reply to them.

231. Appendix, No. 134.

In anſwer to the Letter from Madras, the Governor General and Council, appear to Your Committee, to ſatisfy themſelves with proteſting againſt the doctrine therein laid down, which endeavours to confine their controlling power merely to the concluding of a Treaty; and not ſeeing how the reſt, in any ſhape, applies to the meaſures of either Board, they make no reply to it.—Your Committee alſo find, That on 16 January Mr.

Appendix, No. 132. Fo. 288.

1780, Sec. Co. Fo. 442. Appendix, No. 133.

Hollond acquainted the Governor General of his recal; and was much ſurprized that the Letter which recalled him, ſhould have deſired the Nizam to ſend down one of his own "confidential ſervants to Madras, to confer "with that Preſidency on ſuch matters as he might have "to propoſe;" and that he concluded from his having had no ſeparate Letter or official copy of that to the Nizam, that the Governor was perſonally diſſatisfied with him; and conjectured, that this might ariſe from the Nabob of Arcot, or Fazel Beg, whoſe intrigues he always ſuſpected, as a free intercourſe with the Nizam was miſchievous to both; or from his having communicated, purſuant to his Inſtructions, with the Governor General and Council.

And Your Committee find, That he thought it abſolutely impoſſible to make the Nizam eaſy on the head of Bazalet Jung, whom that Prince conſiders as independant the moment the Company's Troops reach Adoni; and that Mr. Hollond ſtated his own opinion of the very pernicious tendency of his ſubſequent Inſtructions relating to the Peiſhcuſh, eſpecially at ſo critical a time, when Hyder was connecting himſelf with the French, and Lally actually gone over to him.

Bengal Select Conſ. 1780. 289. Appendix, No. 134.

And Your Committee further find, That on the 14th of February 1780, the Governor General and Council, in order to obviate the ill effects which might proceed from Mr. Hollond's ſudden recal, took into conſideration the neceſſity of appointing a perſon to reſide as their Miniſter at the Court of the Nizam. The reaſon particularly ſtated, is, that his recal would have too viſible an appearance of diſunion between their Government and that of Madras; they therefore reſolved, that an application ſhould be made to the Preſident and Select Committee at Madras, for their permiſſion to appoint Mr. Hollond to reſide as public Miniſter on the part of the Governor General and Council at the Court of the Nizam, for the purpoſe of negociating ſuch matters as remained to be adjuſted with him. They further reſolved, that Mr. Hollond ſhould be furniſhed with credentials for that purpoſe, and directed to remain at the Nizam's Court, until an anſwer ſhould be received from Fort St. George: and they ſtate as additional motives for appointing Mr. Hollond their Reſident, that advantages would ariſe from his being jointly appointed by both Preſidencies, and his having had the approbation of the Select Committee at Madras.

And it appears to your Committee, That Mr. Hollond was accordingly written to, his negociations being reſtricted to his original Inſtructions; and that the Governor General alſo acquainted the Nizam with Mr. Hollond's new appointment, and communicated this to Madras.

Ibid, 14th Feb. 1780. 290.

Your Committee further find, That whilſt the Governor General and Council were thus employed in reſtoring the Company to the Nizam's friendſhip, the Government of Madras were taking meaſures for the recal of Mr. Hollond from his embaſſy; for on the 14th December 1779, the recal of that Gentleman was moved by Sir Thomas Rumbold the Preſident, adding, that the Nizam ſhould be informed, that they ſhould be glad to receive any perſon from his Court; and it appears, that on the ſame day he entered a Minute upon that ſubject, and wrote to the Nizam, acquainting him with Mr. Hollond's recal, and again, on the 30th December, delivered in another long and elaborate Minute, entering largely into the Maratta War, and proteſting againſt being anſwerable for the conſequence of obedience to the Orders of the Governor General and Council, but yet ſubmitting to them from a ſenſe of the neceſſity of preſerving harmony between the two Boards. From the 31ſt December 1779 to the 1ſt April 1780, the Records of the Preſidency at Madras, could not be furniſhed to Your Committee, as they had been loſt on board the General Barker, and no duplicates had been ſent by other ſhips; but the following Minute of Mr. Johnſon, entered on the 22d May (from which period ſome of the Records are in England) is ſufficient to ſhew that Mr. Hollond had been ſuſpended from the Company's Service, with ſevere reflections upon his whole conduct, and as far as relates to this particular ſubject, will ſerve in ſome degree to ſupply the defect in the Company's Records.

Appendix, No. 135.

Appendix, No. 136, and 137. Appendix, No. 138.

Appendix, No. 139.

It appears to Your Committee, That Mr. Johnſon declined entering into the diſcuſſion of the powers claimed by the Supreme Council (which he aſſerts to have been the oſtenſible reaſon for the ſuſpenſion of Mr. Hollond) chooſing to confine himſelf to the arguments contained in a Minute left by Sir Thomas Rumbold, and dated on the firſt of April preceding, recommending the ſuſpenſion of that Gentleman from the Service.

That Mr. Johnſon denominates this Minute a political Teſtament, by which Sir Thomas Rumbold aſſumed the power of directing the proceedings of the Committee, even after his reſignation.

Your Committee find, That Mr. Johnſon endeavours to refute the late Preſident's interpretation of that part of Mr. Hollond's Inſtructions which directed him to communicate with the Supreme Council, viz. "That ſuch "communication was only to be made of matters relat-"ing particularly to Bengal;" obſerving, that the words of the Inſtructions ordered him to convey every neceſſary intelligence to them, as well as to us, and to be as early as poſſible in his intelligence to both Preſidencies; and that in other inſtances, where the correſpondence was meant to be limited, it had been ſo expreſſed.

Mr. Johnſon appears to Your Committee to have combated another argument, viz. That Mr. Hollond had never been particularly directed to communicate with Bengal on the ſubject of the Peiſhcuſh, which depended upon ſubſequent Inſtructions, and therefore could not fall within the ſcope of his general Inſtructions to correſpond with the Supreme Council; and alſo animadverted on ſome alluſions of Sir Thomas Rumbold, to matters which have come to his knowledge, but which he forbears to expreſs. Mr. Johnſon takes notice of an expreſſion contained in the late Preſident's Minute, wherein (after objecting to Mr. Hollond's Correſpondence with Bengal, and his receiving a freſh appointment from thence, and conſidering it as a great honour) Sir Thomas Rumbold is ſtated to have obſerved, that this exceeds all that went before; to which Mr. Johnſon oppoſes the prior Letters of great commendation which had been ſent from the Preſident and Committee to Mr. Hollond. And it further appears, that Mr. Johnſon aſcribes all that had happened reſpecting the Treaty with the Nizam, not to Mr. Hollond's having actually aſſiſted the views of the Nizam (as Sir Thomas Rumbold had aſſerted in his Minute) but to their having attempted a negociation with a Country Power without the permiſſion of the Supreme Council, and contrary to the injunction of an Act of Parliament. Mr. Johnſon further appears to have compared the reaſons aſſigned by the late Preſident for the recal of Mr. Hollond, on the 30th December 1779, namely, a compliance with the wiſhes of the Supreme Council with thoſe which were given on the 1ſt April 1780, viz. an unauthorized communication with Bengal, and great breach of truſt on the part of Mr. Hollond, in favouring the views of the Nizam; and obſerves, that theſe reaſons, if they exiſted at all, exiſted in December, but were not then ſtated.

Appendix, No. 138.

It alſo appears, that Mr. Johnſon vindicates Mr. Hollond for having obeyed the Orders of the Supreme Council, in remaining at the Nizam's Court, notwithſtanding he had received previous Letters of recal from Madras; and concludes with ſpeaking of Mr. Hollond as an able and faithful ſervant, and ſtrongly objecting to his ſuſpenſion from the Service of the Company; which, however, took place; but that Gentleman has ſince been reinſtated by Order of the Court of Directors.

Your Committee have thought it proper to ſtate this Minute at length in the Appendix, as it is the only document from whence the conduct of Sir Thomas Rumbold and the Council can, in any degree, be aſcertained, ſubſequent to 30th December 1779, reſpecting their oppoſition to the interference of the Supreme Council upon this this occaſion; to which interference the Court of Directors have given their ſanction, by the General Letter, dated 10th January 1781.

Appendix, No. 139.

Your Committee having traced the courſe of the negociation with the Nizam, from its commencement to its concluſion, and having examined the tranſaction with his brother Bazalet Jung, which terminated in a leaſe of the Guntoor Circar to the Nabob Mahomed Ali, then proceeded to examine the conduct of the Governor and Council of Madras, in letting certain other lands called jaghire lands, belonging to the Company, immediately adjoining to Madras, and which were alſo let to the Nabob of Arcot for three years.

The ſentiments of the Company on the ſubject of theſe lands, appeared to Your Committee to have been fully communicated to their Servants abroad, in their Letter of the 12th April 1775 (the ſame which eſtabliſhed the Committee of Circuit); in which the Directors order, that the jaghire lands ſhould be kept in the Company's immediate poſſeſſion, and that the Nabob ſhould not rent them, unleſs he ſhould agree to ſuch arrangements as they deemed neceſſary for mutual advantage. "You are to "agree with him (ſay they) for renting them for one "year only, and that on condition that our Committee "of Circuit are at liberty to explore the country, and to "aſcertain the real produce and revenue thereof."

Your Committee thought it proper to trace the practice of the Company in letting theſe lands antecedent even to this period of 1775, and found that thoſe lands were granted by the Nabob in jaghire to the Company, at different times in the years 1763, 1764, 1765, and in 1768 and 1769 were ſurveyed by Order of the Preſidency.—That in the year 1769, the Board at Madras repreſented to the Court of Directors the impropriety of letting thoſe lands to the Nabob on any terms; and as his then preſent leaſe was to expire in July 1771, deſired to be inſtructed as to their continuing under the Nabob's management, or being let to other renters, or being managed by Amuldars; that the Directors in anſwer to this Letter (on the 10th April 1771) expreſſed themſelves as averſe to leſſening the Nabob's importance, or increaſing his jealouſies by not letting to him the Enaum lands (or certain lands which had been alymoſinary) and that the objections to his renting the jaghire lands might be removed by letting them for one year only; and directed the Board at Madras to make out a leaſe for that term, and to repreſent to the Nabob, that, in this inſtance, they have poſtponed their own intereſt to his deſire. And Your Committee find, that before this Letter from the Court of Directors could have arrived at Madras, that Preſidency had again written to the Court of Directors, repeating their objections to the Nabob's renting the jaghire lands; and that in the courſe of the year 1772 and 1773, the Preſidency in their ſeveral Letters continued the like repreſentations, but complied with the directions received from home on the 10th April 1771, as above ſtated, and with ſimilar directions of the 25th March 1772; and it appeared that the grounds of theſe ſeveral repreſentations were, that the inhabitants undergo continued oppreſſions, and that the lands, though very capable of cultivation, are not improved; that all the weavers live in the jaghire lands, and that upon the whole, no benefit is derived from them but the mere rent.

Separate Letter, from 27 June 1769, page 13.

Appendix, No. 140.

Appendix, No. 141.

And Your Committee find, That on the 25th of January 1775, the Directors were informed by Letters from Madras, that the Enaum lands had been let to the Nabob for one year longer from the 1ſt Auguſt 1773, and that all poſſible meaſures had been taken to prevent injuſtice and oppreſſion; and alſo on the 21ſt September 1776, another Letter informed them, that another annual leaſe had been granted of the jaghire lands, ſuch had been the mode of leaſing, as it appeared to Your Committee antecedent to the 12th of April 1775, when the ſame courſe was directed to be continued by the orders of that date.

And Your Committee find, That their orders were attended to in Mr. Whitehill's firſt Government; for on the 5th February 1778, the Directors are informed, that the jaghire lands had been continued to the Nabob for the then current year, upon the ſame terms as formerly; and were alſo informed, that the conditions required by the Court, and other ſtipulations (conducive to the improvement of the lands) had been attended to; and it appears that the directions of the Court were requeſted, as to the taking the jaghire lands into their own poſſeſſion, the Inſtructions of the 12th of April not being ſufficiently explicit to authorize that meaſure.

Appendix, No. 142.

On the 20th July 1778, Your Committee find, That Sir Thomas Rumbold, the Preſident, entered a Minute relative to the Nabob, which Your Committee have thought proper to ſtate at length in the Appendix, in order that the opinion which prevailed in the Council with reſpect to his Highneſs on the 20th July 1778, may be compared with their conduct on the 2d October following; at which time a leaſe of the jaghire lands was propoſed by the Preſident to be given to the Nabob for the term of three years, notwithſtanding the poſitive orders of the Company that they ſhould not be let for more than one year, as appeared to Your Committee from the documents above ſtated; and notwithſtanding the practice of the Company had always correſponded with thoſe orders, and the propriety of letting them to the Nabob on any terms had been queſtioned by the Company's Servants during the courſe of ſeveral years.

Appendix, No. 143.

Your Committee found, That in this Minute Sir Thomas Rumbold, the Preſident, repreſents the Nabob as owing very large balances to the Company, which no arguments, or ſenſe of the common danger in caſe of a war, can prevail upon him to pay even in part, though he has large ſums hoarded up at Chepank, and has granted tunkahs or ſecurities on very valuable countries, which will not bear inſpection; adding, that this complaint againſt his Highneſs is not the complaint of a day, but that the records are filled with diſtreſſes ariſing from the trifling and dilatory conduct of the Nabob, whenever money has been demanded of him; and that his love of money has increaſed with his advanced years.

And Your Committee further find, That with reſpect to the jaghire lands, the Preſident obſerves, that if his Highneſs would, but conſent to pay his juſt debt to the Company, and what is due from him on account of the jaghire lands, which ought to be a conſtant and never-failing reſource to the Company, the Settlement might ſupport itſelf for ſome time.

That the Nabob muſt be rouſed by determined and ſpirited meaſures; his debt at that time being very heavy, viz.

Balance of old debt, and account of current charges - - -	754. 981. 31. 29
Balance on account of the Company's jaghire - - -	147. 170. 25. 70
Pagodas -		900. 052. 25. 70

That beſides this ſum, many other articles might juſtly be charged; that his debt was increaſing at the rate of 40,000 Pagodas a month, beſides a lack of Pagodas which would be due for the jaghire lands in September following; and that tunkahs ought to be obtained from the Nabob to ſecure thoſe debts.

Your Committee alſo find, That on this occaſion the Preſident obſerved, that the jaghire lands, a valuable poſſeſſion of the Company, were moſt ſhamefully neglected and oppreſſed, not by the Nabob, for he might be ignorant of it, but by his Collectors; which Your Committee found to have been much complained of from the year 1769 down to this period.

The Preſident then appears to have propoſed, That advertiſements ſhould be publiſhed for letting theſe lands, but that the Nabob ſhould be made acquainted with that meaſure; and that the ſyſtem of letting from year to year, which the Preſident terms a deſtructive one, ſhould by

by all means be avoided, and propoſals received for three or five years leaſes, which might recover that diſtrict from its preſent ruinous ſituation; and that it was alſo neceſſary to appoint a Receiver of the Rents till an agreement ſhould be concluded: and Your Committee find, that a Letter was ordered to be written to the Nabob accordingly.

Appendix, No. 144. And Your Committee find, That on the 28th Auguſt 1778, five weeks after the date of this Minute, the Preſident reported the Nabob's deſire that the jaghire lands might be continued to him on the uſual terms, and that he offered to enter into any articles that might be judged neceſſary for the improvement of them; and that on the Appendix, No. 145. 4th of September he further reported, that he had endeavoured to converſe with the Nabob upon the ſubject, but had found his converſation unſatisfactory; and that he had reaſon to believe that the Nabob was actually treating with individuals for mortgaging the revenues of the jaghire lands before he is aſſured of renting them: whereupon it was reſolved, that they ſhould be advertiſed Appendix, No. 146. to be let for one, three, five, or ten years; and on the 11th of September, the Nabob requeſted generally that he might have a leaſe of theſe lands for five years, engaging to keep the tanks in repair; but that the conſideration of this propoſition was deferred till the time within which the propoſals were to be received ſhould have expired, the Preſident having propoſed that they ſhould be leaſed to the Nabob for three years.

Appendix, No. 147. And Your Committee find, That on the 23d September, propoſals from three perſons were delivered in, purſuant to the advertiſement, for a ten years leaſe, which were as follow:

Antonio De Souſa 370,000 P', to increaſe in the five laſt years to 390,000.
Kiſtnajee Punda 313,000 to 320,000.
Nawkoia Chattam 320,000 to 390,000.

And that theſe propoſals were ordered to be ſent round for the conſideration of the Members of Council.

Appendix, No. 148. Your Committee further find, That on the 2d day of October 1778, the Preſident entered a Minute upon the Records, repreſenting, that the advertiſements for letting the jaghire lands were meant rather to be a means of aſcertaining the value of thoſe lands, than of letting them to the higheſt bidder, which he informed the Board, was in his opinion an improper mode to be obſerved; that this valuable acquiſition ought only to be let to a tenant who could furniſh indiſputable ſecurity; that the Nabob, who had for ſeveral years rented them, was ſaid to have attended ſufficiently to the neceſſary repairs of the tanks, &c. &c. though the inhabitants were oppreſſed by the Collectors, which he imputed to want of attention in the Government, to ſee thoſe terms obſerved for which they had ſtipulated.

That the Nabob is apprehenſive that his honour would be injured by the advertiſements, of which the Preſident ſtill however approves, as ſhewing that the Select Committee had been actuated by no other views than what their duty required—that the Nabob paid a larger rent than he had collected, and had ſubmitted to this from the credit he derived from his leaſe, and the ſupply which it afforded to his family and attendants; and that without the occupation of the jaghire lands, he would be obliged to remove to Arcot, which would be of great prejudice to the Company, though ſome inconveniencies ariſe from his reſidence at Madras—that his reſidence at Madras ſuits his inclinations, which at his time of life it would be cruel to thwart—that the Company have always ſeemed cautious not to diſtreſs him, and have never given orders to deprive him of the jaghires; and that the mode of letting from year to year is a moſt deſtructive ſyſtem, as it has always kept the Nabob in a ſtate of uncertainty, and made him backward in making repairs, and prevented his being indemnified for the loſs he ſuſtains, by laying more than he receives.

And Your Committee find, That the Preſident, after ſtating that he had taken pains to find out what the country had yielded to the Nabob (which he ſtated at 330,000 Pagodas) propoſed that he ſhould have a leaſe for three years inſtead of five, which he had requeſted; obſerving, that this would give the Company time to obtain the information neceſſary for their future guidance in this matter; and that being engaged in a war with France, an annual leaſe would be impolitic, becauſe ſo conſiderable a part of the revenue ought not to be left to the chance of falling into any other hands than the Nabob's, in caſe of troubles ariſing—that the Company in their laſt diſpatches had expreſſed great friendſhip for the Nabob, and had directed them to conciliate his mind by every means; and that in this preſent juncture, it would be highly impolitic to ſour him—that Mr. De Souza's propoſal is the only one made for renting the whole, and being for a ten years leaſe cannot be accepted, and appears to be with a view to ſpeculate.

Your Committee obſerve upon this laſt paſſage of the Preſident's Minute, That three perſons appear to have given in propoſals as above mentioned, and that the objection made to the propoſals as being for ten years, is furniſhed by the advertiſement itſelf, which invited propoſitions for one, three, five, or ten years.

Your Committee further find, That the Preſident concluded his Minute by propoſing that the Nabob ſhould have the leaſe granted him for the term of three years, at the rent of 324,000 Pagodas, ſtipulating for conditions calculated to protect the inferior people, and make the payments regular and certain.

And Your Committee alſo find, That on the 5th October 1778, the Preſident moved that the Minute above Appendix, No. 149. mentioned ſhould be taken into conſideration; which was accordingly done: and it appears to Your Committee, that the Council concurred unanimouſly with their Preſident, chiefly upon the grounds of this being a meaſure which would conciliate the mind of the Nabob, and would beſt accord with the Company's wiſhes reſpecting that Prince expreſſed in their Letters.

Your Committee alſo find, That on the 17th of October, a Letter was written to the Nabob, acquainting Appendix, No. 150. him with the Board's having granted him a leaſe on the conditions above-mentioned; of which he accepted by Letter, dated the 5th of December 1778.

And it appears to Your Committee, That the Court of Directors (having been informed of this tranſaction, by a Revenue Letter from Madras, dated the 17th October 1778) in their Anſwer on the 16th of June 1779, Appendix, No. 151. Par. 22, 152, Par. 23. make the following obſervations upon it; they deem the letting the jaghire land to the Nabob for more than one year improper, referring to the Letter of 13th of April 1775, and ſay, "We are very ſorry you have thought "fit to depart from that order, and though the Nabob "was alarmed at the advertiſement, yet we have no doubt "he might have been ſatisfied with a leaſe for one year "as uſual." They then obſerve, that as he had lately ſhewn great zeal and attachment, they acquieſced in the preſent agreement, but that no future leaſe ſhall be given for more than one year.

Your Committee find, That by a General Letter from Madras of the 4th of April 1780, the Directors were informed, that the Nabob had addreſſed a Letter to the Preſidency, deſiring permiſſion to rent the Company's jaghire for the term of twenty years; which it was thought neceſſary to refer to the conſideration of the Court; and that on the 31ſt of May 1781 the Directors deſired in their General Letter, that his Highneſs might be informed of their good diſpoſition towards him, and that they would take an early opportunity of expreſſing themſelves to him on that ſubject.

And Your Committee find, That with regard to the ſeveral other matters, which have been herein above-ſtated, namely, the tranſactions with [illegible] during Mr. [illegible]'s laſt Government, and the tranſactions with Sadhaſeu and his ſon [illegible] in the Government of Sir [illegible]'s Government, the conſideration of the Committee

Committee of Circuit, the calling down of the Zemindars to Madras, the manner of the President's negociating with them in person, the implicit credit given by the Council to his reports, the inadequate rents reserved, the non-payment of balances, the want of stipulations on behalf of the under-tenants, and the acceptance of Sitteram Rauze the Father as surety for his Son when adopted by his Uncle the Rajah; the restoring of the fort of Vizianagrum, the whole transaction with Bazalet Jung, and the ten years lease to the Nabob, which followed upon it, and the negociation with the Nizam of the Decan, are highly disapproved of, and severely censured, by the Court of Directors, in their General Letter of the 10th January 1781; and that by this Letter they dismiss from their service, Sir Thomas Rumbold, Baronet, President of their Council, and Governor of Fort St. George, and John Whitehill and Peter Perring, Esquires, Members of their Council; and express their strongest displeasure at General Munro, for his concurrence in abolishing the Committee of Circuit, and the countenance given by him to measures which they deem very improper, relative to the letting of the districts; but as they cannot suppose that he was influenced by corrupt motives, as his military conduct had been highly meritorious, and as those subjects were foreign to his profession, they proceed no further, than to express their disapprobation.

Last Number in Appendix, 153

APPENDIX No. 1.

APPENDIX.

APPENDIX, No. 1.

Copy of the Instruments by which Sir Thomas Rumbold was appointed President, and Mr. Whitehill and Mr. Perring were appointed Members, of the Council or Select Committee of Madras.

Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors.

To the Right honourable George Lord Pigot, our President and Governor of Fort St. George, dated 11th June 1777.

Thomas Rumbold, Esquire,
Major General Hector Munro,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnson,
Peter Perring,
Alexander Davidson,
John Hollond,
James Daniel,
} Esquires

Par. 6. AFTER the most mature consideration of those transactions, and in consequence of the several Resolutions of the General Court, we think it of the highest importance to mark our disapprobation, as well to our own Servants as to the Natives of India, of the violent act by which the Government of our Settlement of Fort St. George at Madras was subverted, and our President imprisoned; and have therefore, resolved to restore Lord Pigot to the full exercise of the powers vested in him, by the Commission from the Company, as President, and Governor of our said Settlement of Fort St. George; and do hereby direct, that on the arrival of this Letter (if his Lordship shall not have been previously released from his confinement) he be immediately released, and put in possession of the full exercise of the said powers as Governor and President of our said Settlement of Fort St. George; yet, as his Lordship's proceedings appear to us in several instances to be reprehensible, we have resolved, agreeable to the Resolution of the General Court, and do hereby direct, that his Lordship do, within one week after the dispatch of the first ship from Madras for England, which shall happen after the receipt of this Letter, and his Lordship's restoration to the possession of the said Government, deliver over to Thomas Rumbold, Esquire, appointed by the Commission given you herewith, to succeed his Lordship as Governor and President of our said Settlement, or to the Senior Civil Councillor named in that Commission then at the Presidency, the charge of our said Government of Fort St. George at Madras; and we do hereby further order and require, that his Lordship do return to England by the ship which shall so have been dispatched before his Lordship's delivering up the said Government, or by the next ship which shall sail after that time for England.

10. Till enquiry has been made into the conduct of Lord Pigot and his late Council, we cannot judge whether any, or which of them ought to be continued in our Service; we have, therefore resolved to appoint a temporary Government for the management of our affairs in our said Settlement of Fort St. George at Madras, during the said enquiry, and until our further orders; which Government, until the said George Lord Pigot shall have delivered over the charge thereof as hereinbefore is directed, shall consist of the following persons; viz.

Lord Pigot, as President and Governor.
Thomas Rumbold, Esquire, 2d, and to succeed to the Government.
John Whitehill, Esquire, 3d.
Major General Hector Munro, 4th, and not at any time to rise to an higher rank than 3d in Council.
Charles Smith, Esquire, 5th.
Samuel Johnson, Esquire, 6th.
Peter Perring, Esquire, 7th.

And we direct, that in case any three or more of the said persons, appointed of Council at Fort St. George, shall be of the Presidency when these orders arrive, his Lordship and the said three or more Members of Council do forthwith take upon themselves the Government and Administration of our affairs, at our said Presidency of Fort St. George; and that all our Servants at that Settlement, Civil and Military, do yield them due obedience, on pain of dismission from the Service. But as some of the above-named persons of the Council are to go from England, and others to be recalled from subordinate factories, it is uncertain what time they may respectively arrive at Fort St. George, wherefore, we have named Messrs. Alexander Davidson, John Hollond, and James Daniel, to be Members of the Council, until three or more of the above-named Gentlemen shall arrive, and take upon them their offices, when the appointment of Messrs. Davidson, Hollond, and Daniel, is to cease; and in the mean time, such of them the said first-named six Members of Council as shall be at Fort St. George when these orders shall arrive there, and the others, as soon as they shall respectively arrive, are to be sworn, and take upon them their several offices of Members of the said Council.

11. From the time Lord Pigot shall have delivered over the Government as hereinbefore is directed, our Council is to consist of six persons only, viz. the said Thomas Rumbold, Esquire, President and Governor; the said John Whitehill, Esquire, 2d; the said Major General

APPENDIX. No. 1.

Hector Munro, 3d, and not to riſe to a ſuperior rank; the ſaid Charles Smith, Eſquire, 4th; the ſaid Samuel Johnſon, Eſquire, 5th; the ſaid Peter Perring, Eſquire, 6th, and laſt of the ſaid Council; in whom the whole Civil and Military Government of the ſaid Preſidency, and the ordering and managing of all our affairs therein, ſhall be veſted, in like manner, to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever, as the ſame now might legally be, or at any time heretofore might legally have been exerciſed by any Preſident and Council of the ſaid Settlement; ſubject nevertheleſs, to the ſuperintending and controlling power of the Governor General and Supreme Council of the Preſidency of Fort William, in Bengal, ſo far as the ſaid Governor General and Council have, and are authorized to have, the power of ſuperintending and controlling the Government and Management of the Preſidency of Fort St. George, at Madras, by an Act paſſed in the 13th year of His preſent Majeſty, intituled, "An Act for eſtabliſhing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Eaſt India Company, as well in India as in Europe." And alſo ſubject always to ſuch ſtanding orders and directions as have at any time heretofore been given by any Court of Directors of the ſaid Company, and to ſuch other orders and directions as now are, or hereafter ſhall from time to time be given by us, or by any other Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company, or by any thirteen or more of them.

12. Agreeable to theſe Reſolutions, we have cauſed a Commiſſion to be executed, under the Common Seal of the Company, the original of which Commiſſion will be ſent by the ſhip Beſborough, a copy thereof atteſted by our Secretary, with a duplicate of this Letter, by John Whitehill, Eſquire, and another copy thereof atteſted by our Secretary, with a triplicate of this Letter, by Meſſrs. William Burk and Robert Dean; and we direct, that as ſoon as the original Commiſſion, or any one of the ſaid atteſted copies ſhall arrive, and be received by our ſaid Preſident and Council, or any of them, at Fort St. George, the ſame be forthwith publiſhed and carried into execution, by their taking upon them the Government of the Company's affairs.

13. If Meſſieurs Charles Smith, Samuel Johnſon, and Peter Perring, or either of them, ſhall be abſent from Fort St. George at the time of the arrival of this Letter, an expreſs muſt be immediately ſent to each of them, informing them that it is our moſt poſitive order, that upon receiving ſuch expreſs they do ſeverally, without loſs of time, come to the Preſidency, to take upon them there, the important offices to which they are hereby appointed as Members of our Council.

The United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, to all to whom theſe preſents ſhall come, ſend Greeting.

Whereas the ſaid United Company by a certain Commiſſion under the common ſeal of the ſaid United Company, bearing date the 11th day of April, which was in the year of our Lord 1775, appointed the Right honourable George Lord Pigot, Baron Pigot of Patſhall, in the kingdom of Ireland, to be Preſident and Governor of Fort St. George, at Madras, and alſo appointed ſuch perſons as therein are named, to be of the Council of Fort St. George aforeſaid, for the governing and managing all the Company's affairs at the places therein ſpecified, with ſuch powers and authorities as in the ſaid Commiſſion are mentioned, as by the ſaid Commiſſion may more at large appear: And whereas the ſaid George Lord Pigot took upon him the ſaid office of Preſident and Governor of the ſaid Preſidency; and afterwards certain perſons of the Council of the ſaid Preſidency, removed him violently from his ſaid office, and cauſed him to be ſeized by a military force, and confined in priſon, and aſſumed and took upon themſelves the Government of the ſaid Preſidency: Now know ye, that ſaid United Company, highly diſapproving of the removal of the ſaid George Lord Pigot from the ſaid office of Preſident and Governor of Fort St. George aforeſaid, and of arreſting and confining his perſon, have reſtored, conſtituted, and appointed, and by theſe preſents do reſtore, conſtitute, and appoint the ſaid George Lord Pigot, upon, and from and immediately after, the arrival and publication of this Commiſſion at Fort St. George aforeſaid, to the ſaid office or place of Preſident and Governor of and for all our affairs on the coaſt of Choromandel and Orixa, and of the Chingee and Moratta countries, and of all the territories thereunto belonging, and of all and ſingular the forts, factories, and ſettlements, territories, countries, and juriſdictions thereof, and to execute all and every the powers and authorities thereunto appertaining, by order and direction of the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company, for the time being, in as full and ample manner as he could have executed the ſame by virtue of the ſaid recited Commiſſion, or otherwiſe howſoever, and to continue in the exerciſe of the ſame during our and their pleaſure, and until the contrary thereof ſhall be ſignified under the ſeal of the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, or under the hands of thirteen or more of the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company for the time being: And to the end that the ſaid George Lord Pigot may be better enabled to order and manage all the affairs of us the ſaid Company, we do by theſe preſents conſtitute and ordain Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, to be ſecond of our Council of Fort Saint George, to wit, to be next in Council after our ſaid Preſident George Lord Pigot; Major General Hector Munro to be third of our ſaid Council, and not to riſe to a ſuperior rank therein; John Whitehill, Eſquire, to be fourth; Charles Smith, Eſquire, to be fifth; Samuel Johnſon, Eſquire, to be ſixth; Peter Perring, Eſquire, to be ſeventh; Alexander Davidſon, Eſquire, to be eighth; John Holland, Eſquire, to be ninth; and James Daniel, Eſquire, to be tenth and laſt of the ſaid Council, for governing and managing all the ſaid Company's affairs upon the coaſt of Choromandel and Orixa, and the Chingee and Moratta countries, and for governing the ſaid Fort St. George and city of Madras-Patnam, and all other our forts, factories, and ſettlements within any of the ſaid territories. Provided always, that when and ſo ſoon as any three of them the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, John Whitehill, Hector Munro, Charles Smith, Samuel Johnſon, and Peter Perring, ſhall arrive at Fort St. George aforeſaid, and take upon them their offices of Members of the ſaid Council, the appointment hereinbefore made of the ſaid Alexander Davidſon, John Holland, and James Daniel, ſhall be abſolutely null and void, and they the ſaid Alexander Davidſon, John Holland, and James Daniel, ſhall from thenceforth ceaſe to be Members of the ſaid Council, in like manner as if they had never been named or appointed thereto, any thing hereinbefore contained to the contrary notwithſtanding: And we do hereby give and grant unto our ſaid Preſident and Governor, George Lord Pigot, and to our Council aforenamed, or the major part of them (the whole Council reſident at Madras aforeſaid being duly ſummoned) full power and authority from time to time to rule and govern all and every our factors and ſervants under the ſaid Preſidency, and all the ſoldiers and inhabitants of our ſaid Fort St. George and city of Madras-Patnam, and elſewhere within the places aforeſaid, to adminiſter lawful oaths as occaſion ſhall require, and to do and perform all ſuch other acts and things, and to uſe and exerciſe all ſuch other powers and authorities, as the ſaid Preſident and Governor, and his Council, in the ſeveral and reſpective places where the ſaid United Company have or ſhall have factors, or any places of trade, are authorized to do; ſubject nevertheleſs to the ſuperintending and controlling power of the Governor General and Council of Fort William in Bengal, in ſuch caſes wherein they are authorized to have a ſuperintending and controlling power in and by an Act of Parliament, paſſed in the 13th year of His preſent Majeſty's reign reign, intituled, "An Act for eſtabliſhing certain Regu- "lations for the better Management of the Affairs of "the Eaſt India Company, as well in India as in Europe;" and alſo ſubject and according to ſuch inſtructions and directions as he the ſaid George Lord Pigot, our Preſident and Governor, and Council aforeſaid, ſhall from time to time receive under the hands of thirteen or more of the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company for the time being: And we, the ſaid United Company do hereby order and require all our factors, ſervants, officers, and ſoldiers, within the limits of the ſaid Preſidency, and all the people and the inhabitants of our ſaid Fort St. George and city of Madras-Patnam, or any other our forts, places or colonies within the ſaid Preſidency, to conform, ſubmit, and yield due obedience unto the ſaid George Lord Pigot, our Preſident and Governor, and his Council, accordingly. And foraſmuch as it is altogether neceſſary, that upon the death, reſignation, or removal of the ſaid George Lord Pigot, our Preſidency ſhould be provided for the defence and government thereof; we do therefore by theſe preſents ordain and appoint, that from and immediately after ſuch vacancy ſhall happen of the office of our ſaid Preſident and Governor, the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall immediately be and ſucceed in the place and charge of Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George aforeſaid, and in caſe of his death, reſignation, or removal, the next civil Servant in degree of Council below the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, ſhall ſucceed to the ſaid Preſidency and Government, in as full and ample manner, and with as large and ample powers, privileges, and authorities, as are hereby granted unto the ſaid George Lord Pigot, until our further pleaſure be known therein; and upon ſuch ſucceſſion to the ſaid office of Preſident and Governor of Fort St. George aforeſaid, the ſeveral other perſons hereinbefore named as Councillors of the ſaid Preſidency, ſhall remain and continue to be Councillors of the ſaid Preſidency in manner aforeſaid, and ſhall reſpectively riſe in rank therein, according to their reſpective ſeniorities, except that the ſaid Hector Munro ſhall not at any time take rank therein, higher than third of the ſaid Council. And we do hereby revoke, repeal, and make null and void the ſaid recited Commiſſion, and all and every other Commiſſions and Appointments whatſoever, heretofore granted or made by us in any manner whatſoever, whereby any other perſon or perſons, other than and except the perſons hereinbefore named, have been or are appointed to be Preſident and Governor and Council at Fort St. George aforeſaid: In witneſs whereof, we the ſaid United Company have cauſed our common ſeal to be affixed to theſe preſents the tenth day of June, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of His moſt excellent Majeſty George the third, by the grace of God of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith and ſo forth, and in the year of our Lord 1777.

APPENDIX No. 2.

(L. S.)

Signed by order of the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company, (L. S.)

(Signed) P. Michell, Secretary.

Extract of ſeparate General Letter to Fort Saint George, dated the 10th April 1778.

Par. 2. Having thought proper to appoint a Select Committee for tranſacting all political, military, and naval affairs, and likewiſe all ſuch as may require ſecrecy, at our Settlement of Fort St. George, it is our order, and we hereby direct, That the ſaid Select Committee do conſiſt of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, our Preſident and Governor, or our Preſident and Governor for the time being; John Whitehill, Eſquire, the ſecond Member of our Council, or the ſecond Member for the time being; Major General Hector Munro, our Military Commander in Chief, or our Military Commander in Chief for the time being; and Charles Smith, Eſquire, the fourth Member of our Council for the time being.

3d. If our Military Commander in Chief at any time be abſent from the Preſidency, then our order is, that our Preſident and the ſecond and fourth Members of our Council, ſhall be a Select Committee for the purpoſes aforeſaid, during the abſence of the Commander in Chief from the Preſidency.

Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors.

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor of Fort St. George.
John Whitehill, Eſquire,
Major General Hector Munro, and
Charles Smith, Eſquire; dated the 10th April 1778.

Par. 2. Having thought proper to appoint a Select Committee for tranſacting all political, military, and naval affairs, and likewiſe all ſuch as may require ſecrecy, at our Settlement of Fort St. George, it is our order, and we hereby direct, That the ſaid Select Committee do conſiſt of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, our Preſident and Governor, or our Preſident and Governor for the time being; John Whitehill, Eſquire, the ſecond Member of our Council, or the ſecond Member of our Council for the time being; Major General Hector Munro, our Military Commander in Chief, or our Military Commander in Chief for the time being; and Charles Smith, Eſquire, the fourth Member of our Council, or the fourth Member of our Council for the time being.

3d. If our Military Commander in Chief ſhall at any time be abſent from the Preſidency, then our order is, that our Preſident, and the ſecond and fourth Members of our Council, ſhall be a Select Committee for the purpoſes aforeſaid, during the abſence of the Commander in Chief from the Preſidency.

APPENDIX, No. 2.

(Copy.) 25th June, 1777.

Covenant of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, of Council for Fort Saint George.

Factors 1770.

THIS Indenture, made the twenty-fifth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, and in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the third, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, and ſo forth, between the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the one part, and Thomas Rumbold, of London, Eſquire, of the other part. Whereas the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, have (upon the ſpecial requeſt and entreaty of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, and upon the conditions and agreements hereinafter contained, on the part of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold to be performed) received and entertained him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold into their ſervice, as their Councillor and Covenant Servant of Fort Saint George, on the coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies, to ſerve them in the ſtation aforeſaid, and to be employed in all or any of the traffic or merchandizes, buſineſſes, and affairs, in any place or places whatſoever between the Cape of Good Hope and the Streights of Magellan, as the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors for the time being, or any thirteen or more of them, or any by them authorized, ſhall appoint, at and for the wages or ſum of forty-thouſand Pagodas by the year, to commence from the time of his embarkation from England to go to Fort St. George aforeſaid: Now this Indenture witneſſeth, That the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, and their ſucceſſors, in manner and form following; (that is to ſay) That he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, from the time of his arrival at Fort St. George aforeſaid, ſhall and will faithfully, honeſtly, diligently, and careſully ſerve the ſaid Company at ſuch place and places, and in all and every ſuch affairs and buſineſs whatſoever of the ſaid Company, as the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall be employed in; and ſhall alſo from time to time, and at all times, obſerve, keep, and fulfil all and every the orders of the ſaid Company, and of the ſaid Court of Directors, made and to be made for the government of their factories and ſettlements, officers, agents, or ſervants abroad; and ſhall and will alſo obſerve, keep, and fulfil all ſuch orders, inſtructions, and directions, which he ſhall herewith or hereafter receive under the ſeal of the ſaid Company, or from the ſaid Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, or any thirteen or more of them, or from their Preſident and Council at the reſpective ſettlement where the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall reſide or be employed, or from any perſons authorized thereunto by ſuch Directors; and ſhall and will, to the utmoſt of his power and ſkill, reſiſt and withſtand all and every ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall break, or endeavour to break, the ſaid orders, inſtructions, or directions, or any of them: And the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he will not do, attempt, or practice, nor ſhall wittingly or willingly permit or ſuffer any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, to do, attempt, or practiſe, any matter or thing whatſoever, to the hindrance, hurt, prejudice, damage, or defrauding of the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or of their ſervants, or any of them, or of the ſaid Company's goods, merchandizes, trade, or traffic, or any of them, or any part thereof; but ſhall, as much as in him lieth, prevent and defeat the ſame. And the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will, from time to time, and at all times from henceforth, give notice and intelligence, with all convenient ſpeed, unto the ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, of all and every the deceits, wrongs, abuſes, breach of orders, inconveniencies, and hindrances, which he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall know, underſtand, hear, or ſuſpect to be done, practiſed, offered, or intended againſt the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or their goods or trade, or any of them, or againſt any perſon or perſons by them, or by the ſaid Court of Directors, employed, or in their ſervice, in any place or places, together with the names of thoſe perſons by whom the ſame ſhall be ſo offered, practiſed, or intended. And the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he will not engage, or employ the ſtock of the ſaid Company, or any part thereof, or make uſe of the credit of the ſaid Company, in any other kind, way, or manner howſoever, than for the affairs of the ſaid Company, and as by the major part of the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, under their hands, or under the common ſeal of the ſaid Company, or by their ſaid Preſident and Council, ſhall be ordered and directed. And that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will at all times keep and conceal the ſaid Company's ſecrets, and every matter and thing committed to him as ſuch by the ſaid Court of Directors, or their agents, factors, officers, and ſervants, or any of them. And alſo, That he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will, from time to time, and at all times from henceforth, during his ſaid employment, keep, or cauſe to be kept, a true and particular journal or day-book of all paſſages and proceedings relating to the affairs of the ſaid Company, and alſo books of accounts; in which journal, day-book, and books of accounts, he ſhall daily, duly, truly, and fully enter, or cauſe to be entered, the accounts of all and every particular buying, ſelling, receipts, payments, barterings, and all other tranſactions and occurrences relating to his truſt, during the time he ſhall continue in the ſaid United Company's ſervice and employment. And the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that he will not place, or conſent to the placing to the ſaid Company's account, nor otherwiſe charge the ſaid Company with, any more or greater ſums than he ſhall really and in good faith pay for all or any goods, merchandizes, or effects, which he ſhall buy, or cauſe, procure, or conſent to be bought, for or on account of the ſaid Company. And that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will bring to the account of the ſaid Company, in the books of the ſaid Company, the full rates and prices for which he ſhall ſell, or cauſe to be ſold, any of the ſaid Company's goods, merchandizes, or effects; and further, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold will not, directly or indirectly, take, accept, or receive, or agree to take, accept, or receive, any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, compenſation, ſum or ſums of money whatſoever, from any perſon or perſons of whom he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall, by himſelf, or any agent for him, buy or barter any goods, merchandizes, treaſure, or effects, for or upon account of the ſaid Company; and further, that he will not take, accept, or receive, or agree to take, accept, or receive, any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, compenſation, ſum or ſums of money whatſoever, from any perſon or perſons to whom the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall, by himſelf, or any agent for him, ſell or barter any goods, merchandizes, treaſure or effects, of or belonging to, or for or upon account of the ſaid Company; and moreover, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, his executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall produce and deliver the ſaid books, together with all waſte books, pocket-books, diaries, memorials, and other writings and papers whatſoever, wherein he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall make, or cauſe to be made, any entries, or ſet down any matter or thing touching or concerning the ſaid Company's affairs, or any of them, or any way relating thereunto (although the ſame may or ſhall be intermixed with his own, or others concerns) unto the ſaid Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, or to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall by letter or order under the hands of thirteen or more of the ſaid Court of Directors, or under the ſeal of the ſaid Company, be authorized and appointed to demand and receive the ſame; and ſhall and will, if required, make oath to the truth of ſuch books, diaries, memorials, writings, and papers, and that the ſame contain the whole of his tranſactions, and that they have not been defaced, obliterated, or altered; and further, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will well and truly deliver and pay unto the ſaid United Company, or their ſucceſſors, all and every ſuch monies, goods, merchandizes, and things whatſoever, as by the foot of his account, or otherwiſe, ſhall be due from him, or remain in his hands and poſſeſſion, and for which he ought to be chargeable or anſwerable in any manner or wiſe; and alſo, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will (before he ſhall leave the ſaid Company's factories or ſettlements) pay and diſcharge all and every ſuch ſum or ſums of money as he ſhall juſtly owe or be indebted to any of the black Merchants or Natives of the country where he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall be, together with ſuch other ſums as he ſhall owe abroad to any other merchants or perſons not being ſubjects of His Majeſty the King of Great Britain, or his ſucceſſors; and that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will, from time to time, when and as often as he ſhall be thereunto required by the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or by the Preſident, Agent, or Chief and Council, of the place where the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall be, remove to any ſuch other factories as ſuch Preſident, Agent, or Chief and Council ſhall ſo direct and require; and alſo, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall, at all times during the time of his ſervice aforeſaid, faithfully and diligently demean himſelf as a good, honeſt, and faithful ſervant towards the ſaid Company and their ſucceſſors, and thoſe by them authorized. And foraſmuch as complaints have been made to the ſaid United Company, that ſeveral of the ſaid Company's Preſidents and Chiefs of their factories, and ſeveral of ſuch perſons as are of their Councils in their factories abroad, or ſome of them, as alſo their factors, agents, and ſervants, have committed very heinous and grievous offences in ſuch factories of the ſaid Company, and elſewhere in the Eaſt Indies, and other places within the ſaid Company's limits of trade, by unjuſtly menacing, impriſoning, aſſaulting, abuſing, and evil-treating the Natives and black Merchants, and others with whom the ſaid Company have had dealings or correſpondence, and by ſuch means, and other violences, abuſes, and injuries, have extorted and forced great ſums of money, and other valuable effects, from ſuch injured perſons, who, by reaſon of the great diſtance from this kingdom, and the wholeſome laws thereof, and by reaſon that the ſaid Company have not been enabled to obtain and render ſatisfaction for ſuch injuries and miſdemeanors, are, and have been remedileſs: Now it is hereby agreed by and between the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that in caſe any ſum or ſums of money, goods or chattels whatſoever, ſhall at any time or times hereafter be extorted, forced, or taken by him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold (either ſeparately or jointly with others) from any perſon or perſons whatſoever within the ſaid Company's limits of trade, by the means or uſe of impriſonments, aſſaults, violences, menaces, or other force or compulſion whatſoever, then and as often as any ſuch offence or offences ſhall be committed, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for every perſon or perſons injured thereby, to make and ſend over complaints and atteſtations thereof in writing, to the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being; and that upon the receipt of ſuch complaints and atteſtations, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, to enquire into the truth of the ſaid complaints, by all ſuch ways and means as they ſhall think juſt and equitable, and thereupon to hear the matter of the ſaid complaint or complaints, and thereupon finally to judge and determine the ſame, and to award ſatisfaction and reparation to be made by the ſaid Thomas Rumbold to the ſaid Company, for the benefit of ſuch injured perſons; and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, well and truly to pay to the ſaid Company, at ſuch time or times as ſhall be limited by the ſaid Court of Directors (or the major part of them) for that purpoſe, all and every ſuch ſum and ſums of money as ſhall be ſo awarded by the ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, or the major part of them then aſſembled, to be paid as aforeſaid; but in truſt nevertheleſs, and to the intent, that the ſaid Company may and do render and pay over the monies received or recovered by them, to the parties injured or defrauded; which the ſaid Company accordingly hereby agree and covenant to do: And the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth furthermore, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, to pay and ſatisfy to the ſaid Company, for their own uſe and benefit, all ſuch damages as they ſhall have ſuſtained by reaſon or means of any ſuch offence or offences as aforeſaid. And foraſmuch as it frequently happens that the Preſident and Council, Agent and Council, Chief and Council, and ſeveral other ſubordinate Officers of ſeveral of the ſaid Company's factories abroad, have, by mutual influences on each other, ſettled, ſtated, and adjuſted amongſt themſelves, their own accounts with the ſaid Company, in order, as far as they could, to bar and preclude the ſaid Company from reviewing, altering, amending, correcting, or conteſting the ſame: Now it is hereby further declared, That all and every ſuch account and accounts ſo at any time ſtated, balanced, ſigned, or adjuſted, by, between, or amongſt ſuch Preſidents and Councils, or Agents and Councils, or Chiefs and Councils, or other ſubordinate Officers, or any of them, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, are hereby agreed to be, and ſhall at all times hereafter be taken and eſteemed to be open accounts, formed and prepared only for the inſpection, peruſal, and approbation or correction of the ſaid Company, and ſhall not in any ſort or kind, or in any article thereof, bind or conclude the ſaid Company. And the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold will not at any time during his reſidence in the Eaſt Indies, or within the ſaid Company's limits, directly or indirectly trade, correſpond, traffic, deal with or for, or be in anywiſe aiding, aſſiſting, or employed as Agent or Factor, by or for any foreign Company trading in or to the Eaſt Indies, or any perſon or perſons whatſoever, who do or ſhall during the continuance of theſe preſents, traffic, adventure, or trade to, in, or from the Eaſt Indies, or elſewhere within the limits of the ſaid Company's trade, by, or under, or by virtue of any foreign commiſſion, licence, or authority whatſoever, nor ſhall or will, by himſelf, or in conjunction with any perſon or perſons whatſoever, directly or indirectly carry on, or uſe, or be concerned in, any ſort of trade, traffic, or merchandize, either from Europe to the Eaſt Indies, or to any place within the ſaid Company's limits, between the Cape of Good Hope and the Streights of Magellan, or from the Eaſt Indies, or from any place within the ſaid Company's limits, to Europe, or to or from any place whatſoever, although not within the ſaid Company's limits of trade, ſave and except for and on account of the ſaid Company: And in order to a diſcovery of, and a ſatisfaction for, ſuch illicit trade as aforeſaid, it is hereby agreed, that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid United Company, and their Succeſſors, to file any bill or bills of complaint or diſcovery, in His Majeſty's High Court of Chancery, or Court of Exchequer, againſt him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, his executors and adminiſtrators, whereunto the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby agree, that neither he nor they ſhall or will demur or plead in bar of the diſcovery or relief ſought by ſuch bill or bills, that thereby he or they is, are, may or ſhall become liable to any penalty or forfeiture, by force of any law or ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or otherwiſe howſoever, but ſhall make and put in a full and perfect anſwer and anſwers to all the parts thereof, and ſhall not, in ſuch anſwer and anſwers, inſiſt upon any penalty, forfeiture, law, or ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or alledge any matter whatſoever, whereby to prevent, bar, or preclude the ſaid Company from the diſcovery or relief ſought or to be ſought by ſuch bill or bills as aforeſaid; but then and in ſuch caſe the ſaid United Company do hereby conſent to wave and diſclaim all and all manner of penalties and forfeitures that ſhall or may, in any kind or degree whatſoever, accrue or incur to them, upon or by reaſon of any diſcovery or diſcloſure ariſing by the ſaid anſwer or anſwers of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, his executors or adminiſtrators; and the ſaid United Company, for themſelves and their ſucceſſors, do agree to accept, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, agree to account for and pay, or cauſe to be paid, to or to the uſe of the ſaid Company or their ſucceſſors, as and for a full, ſtated, and adjuſted compenſation and ſatisfaction for the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid Company upon account of the ſaid illicit trade, the ſum of one hundred pounds for every one hundred pounds value of all and every the goods and merchandizes traded or trafficked with or for, contrary to the true intent and meaning hereof. Provided always, and it is hereby expreſsly covenanted, declared, and agreed between the parties to theſe preſents, and it is the true intent and meaning thereof, that in caſe the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall make default in any of the covenants hereinbefore contained, or ſhall embezzle any of the ſaid Company's money, goods, or effects, or be guilty of any breach of truſt towards the ſaid Company, or ſhall be concerned in buying, bartering, ſelling, or diſpoſing of any artillery, ordnance, muſquets, fire-arms, ammunition, or warlike ſtores, to or for the uſe of any Prince, Nabob, or Country Power in India, or of the Natives there, without the expreſs licence of the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors for the time being, or a majority of them, or of the ſaid Company's Preſident and Council at the reſpective ſettlement where ſuch buying, bartering, or ſelling ſhall be; or in caſe the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall at any time during the continuance of theſe preſents, without the like licence and authority as aforeſaid, hold correſpondence with any Prince, Nabob, or Country Power in India, or any of their Miniſters; or ſhall ſupply, lend to, or procure for the uſe of any foreign Company trading in or to India, or any perſon or perſons trading under the licence or authority of ſuch foreign Company, any money, at reſpondentia, or any other ſecurity, loan, or engagement whatſoever; that then and in each and every of the ſaid caſes, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Company and their ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, or the majority of them, or the Preſident and Council at the reſpective ſettlement where the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall be reſident or employed, and they are hereby reſpectively declared to have full power and authority for that purpoſe, to ſuſpend or wholly diſmiſs the ſaid Thomas Rumbold from the ſaid Company's ſervice and employment; the ſaid Thomas Rumbold having firſt had notice given him of ſuch his offence or default, and a reaſonable time allowed him to make his defence againſt the ſame, and having been convicted thereof. And, for the more effectually carrying the ſaid laſt-mentioned covenant and agreement into execution, it is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that in caſe of ſuch diſmiſſion from, or quitting and reſigning the ſaid Company's ſervice and employment, he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will, within one year after the ſame ſhall happen, or by the firſt paſſage that can be obtained after the expiration of the ſaid one year, tranſport himſelf, together with his Family, to Great Britain in ſuch ſhip employed by the ſaid Company as ſhall be appointed for that purpoſe by the ſaid Company or by their Court of Directors, or their Preſident and Council as aforeſaid; and ſhall not nor will, upon any account or pretence whatſoever, ſtay or continue any longer in the Eaſt Indies; and moreover, in caſe the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall make default in the ſaid laſt-mentioned covenant, the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby conſent and agree with the ſaid United Company, that from and immediately after ſuch default, it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors, or their Preſident and Council at the ſaid ſettlement where the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall reſide or be, to cauſe the ſaid Thomas Rumbold to be apprehended and detained, and to put him and his Family on board any ſhip employed by the ſaid Company, for the purpoſe of being tranſported to Great Britain, ſo, nevertheleſs, that no unneceſſary delay be ſought, nor any fit occaſion or opportunity loſt in ſo doing; and further, in caſe of ſuch apprehending, putting on board, and tranſporting the ſaid Thomas Rumbold and his Family, in manner aforeſaid, the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby covenant, promiſe, and agree, to and with the ſaid United Company, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, his executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall not, nor will commence, ſue, or proſecute the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors, or any of their Preſidents and Council, Commanders or Officers of any ſuch ſhip, or any other perſon employed in any of the matters aforeſaid, in or by any action, ſuit, or other proſecution, civil or criminal, in reſpect of ſuch apprehending and detaining him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, or of putting on board and tranſporting him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold and his Family to Great Britain, in manner aforeſaid; and in caſe any ſuch action, ſuit, or proſecution ſhall be commenced, ſued, or proſecuted for any of the matters aforeſaid, the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the ſaid Company, that the general iſſue may be pleaded, and that this preſent indenture, or any other ſpecial matter, may be given in evidence by any of the defendants in any ſuch ſuit, action, or proſecution. In witneſs whereof the ſaid United Company have to one part of theſe indentures ſet their common ſeal, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold hath to the other part of the ſaid indentures ſet his hand and ſeal, the day and year firſt above written.

of

APPENDIX No. 2.

(Signed) Tho^s Rumbold. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being ſtamped according to Act of Parliament) in the preſence of us,

(Signed) P. Michell,
R^d Hoit.

I acknowledge to have read the within Covenant before I executed the ſame.

(Signed) Tho^s Rumbold.

Witneſs, P. Michell.

Know all men by theſe preſents, That we John Stables, of Park Hill, near Croydon, in Surrey, and Thomas Raikes, of New Broad Street, Eſquires, are held and firmly bound unto the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, in the ſum of four thouſand pounds of lawful money of Great Britain, to be paid to the ſaid United Company; or their certain Attorney or Succeſſors, to which payment, well and truly to be made, we bind ourſelves and each of us, jointly and ſeverally, and our and each of our heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators. Sealed with our ſeals, dated the 25th day of June, in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, and in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, and ſo forth.

Whereas Thomas Rumbold, of London, Eſquire, is appointed and choſen a Covenant Servant and Counſellor for Fort Saint George, on the Coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies, to the above-named United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies. The condition of this obligation is ſuch, That if the ſaid Thomas Rumbold do and ſhall, from time to time, and at all times hereafter during his continuance in the ſaid office or ſervice, faithfully, honeſtly, diligently, and carefully execute, perform, and diſcharge the ſaid office or ſervice; and further, if the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, his heirs, executors, adminiſtrators, and aſſigns, and every of them, ſhall and do well and truly obſerve, perform, pay, fulfil, and keep all and every the conditions, covenants, payments, articles, and agreements, contained and ſpecified in one pair of indentures, bearing even date with theſe preſents, and made between the above-named United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the one part, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, of the other part, which on the part and behalf of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, his heirs, executors, adminiſtrators, and aſſigns, or any of them, are or ought to be obſerved, ſerved, performed, paid, fulfilled, and kept, and that in all things according to the tenor, effect, and true meaning of the ſaid indentures, then this obligation to be void and of none effect, or elſe to remain in full force and virtue.

APPENDIX. No. 2.

(Signed) J. Stables. (L. S.)
Thomas Raikes. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being firſt ſtamped according to the Act of Parliament) in the preſence of us,

(Signed) P. Michell,
Rd Holt.

(Copy.) 26 June 1777.

Covenant of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, of Council for Fort Saint George (reſpecting Preſents.)

1776. Civil. 1000.

This indenture, made the twenty-ſixth day of June, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God, King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and ſo forth, and in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, between Thomas Rumbold, of London, Eſquire, of the one part, and the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the other part: Whereas the ſaid Thomas Rumbold is employed in the ſervice of the ſaid United Company as one of their Counſellors and Covenant Servants, at their chief ſettlement of Fort Saint George, on the coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies; Now this indenture witneſſeth, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, in compliance with a reſolution of a General Court of the ſaid United Company, and for and in conſideration of what he is or ſhall be entitled to receive from the ſaid Company, in reſpect of his ſaid ſervice, or in reſpect of any other ſtation, capacity, or employment in which the ſaid Thomas Rumbold may hereafter be retained or employed by the ſaid United Company, or their Court of Directors, doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall not nor will, at any time or times hereafter, during his being employed in the ſaid Company's ſervice, in any ſtation or capacity whatſoever, either by himſelf or by any other perſon or perſons whomſoever, in truſt for him or for his uſe, directly or indirectly, accept, take, or receive, or agree to accept, take, or receive, any gift or grant of lands, or rents or revenues iſſuing out of lands, or any territorial poſſeſſion, juriſdiction, dominion, power, or authority whatſoever, from any of the Indian Princes, Sovereigns, Subahs, or Nabobs, or any of their miniſters, ſervants, or agents, for any ſervice or ſervices, or upon any account or pretence whatſoever; nor ſhall or will, at any time or times hereafter, during his being employed in the ſaid United Company's ſervice in any ſtation or capacity whatſoever, either by himſelf, or any other perſon or perſons whomſoever, in truſt for him or for his uſe, directly or indirectly, accept, take, or receive, or agree to accept, take, or receive any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, donation, or compenſation, in money, effects, jewels, or otherwiſe howſoever, from any of the Indian Princes, Sovereigns, Subahs, or Nabobs, or any of their miniſters, ſervants, or agents, for any ſervice or ſervices performed or to be performed by the ſaid Thomas Rumbold in India, upon any account or pretence whatſoever: And that all and every ſuch gifts or grants of lands, or rents or revenues iſſuing out of lands, or any ſuch territorial poſſeſſion, juriſdiction, dominion, power, or authority whatſoever; and all and every ſuch gifts, rewards, gratuities, allowances, donations, or compenſations whatſoever, which, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents, ſhall come to the hands, poſſeſſion, or power of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, or any other perſon or perſons in truſt for him, or for his uſe as aforeſaid, ſhall be deemed and conſtrued to have been received and taken by him or them, for the ſole uſe of the ſaid United Company. In witneſs whereof to one part of theſe indentures the ſaid Thomas Rumbold hath ſet his hand and ſeal, and to the other part thereof the ſaid United Company have cauſed their common ſeal to be put, the day and year above written.

(Signed) Tho' Rumbold. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being firſt duly ſtamped) in the preſence of (Signed) P. Michell.

Rd Holt.

I acknowledge to have read the within covenant before I executed the ſame.

(Signed) Tho' Rumbold.

Witneſs, P. Michell.

(Copy.) 27 June 1777.

Covenant of Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. reſpecting Trade and Money Tranſactions.

This indenture, made the twenty-ſeventh day of June, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. and in the year of our Lord ſeventeen hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, between the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the one part, and Thomas Rumbold, of London, Eſquire, of the other part, witneſſeth, That for and in conſideration of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold being appointed Preſident and Governor of the ſaid United Company's Preſidency of Fort Saint George, on the Coaſt of Coromandel, in the Eaſt Indies, and for and in conſideration of the ſalary of forty thouſand Pagodas by the year, agreed to be allowed and paid by the ſaid United Company to the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, as Preſident and Governor as aforeſaid, and alſo for and in conſideration of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, as Preſident and Governor as aforeſaid, being allowed to have the advantage of reſiding in the fort-houſe at Fort Saint George aforeſaid, and to have the uſe of the ſaid United Company's plate and furniture there, and alſo in conſideration of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold being allowed, as Preſident and Governor as aforeſaid, to take ſuch commiſſion on coral as hath uſually been allowed to be taken by the Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George aforeſaid; he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company in manner and form following; that is to ſay, That he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, during the time he ſhall continue to be Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George aforeſaid, ſhall not nor will, directly or indirectly, upon any pretence or pretext whatſoever, by himſelf, or by any other perſon or perſons for his or their uſe, or on his or their behalf, carry on or be concerned in, or have any dealings or tranſactions, by way of traffic or commerce, in money or in goods of any kind whatſoever, for his or their uſe, benefit, profit, or advantage, or for the benefit or advantage of any other perſon or perſons whatſoever ſave and except the trade and commerce of the ſaid United Company, to be carried on by him as Preſident and Governor as aforeſaid, for the uſe and benefit of the ſaid Company; and alſo ſave and except in the diſpoſal of ſuch goods and merchandizes as ſhall be remaining on hand and unſold, belonging to him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, at the time of his taking the ſaid office of Preſident and Governor upon him; and alſo ſave and except the collecting and getting in ſuch debts as ſhall be owing to him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, at that time, in reſpect of the trade and commerce heretofore carried on by him, or wherein he hath been concerned: And alſo, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will, within 30 days next after the time that he ſhall take upon him the ſaid office of Preſident and

Governor

APPENDIX. No. 2.

Governor of Fort Saint George aforeſaid, deliver to the Council of the ſaid Preſidency, at the Council Board, a full and juſt ſpecification, upon oath, of the debts due to him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, in the courſe of the ſaid trade and commerce heretofore carried on by him, or wherein he hath been concerned, and of the goods, wares, merchandizes, effects, and ſtock in trade, of which he or they ſhall be at that time poſſeſſed, and ſhall and will ſell and diſpoſe of ſuch goods, wares, merchandizes, effects, and ſtock in trade, within the ſpace of nine months next after the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall take upon him the ſaid office or place of Preſident or Governor of Fort Saint George aforeſaid: And alſo, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold during the time he ſhall continue to be Preſident or Governor as aforeſaid, or in any other ſtation or capacity in the ſervice of or under the protection of the ſaid United Company, ſhall not nor will lend money to any of the Country Powers in India, nor to any perſon or perſons holding any commiſſion or commiſſions under or employed by them, directly or indirectly, or any mortgage or mortgages, or on any ſecurity or ſecurities in the nature of a mortgage or mortgages upon lands, or upon the produce of any growing revenues of the country: And alſo, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will, within thirty days next after his taking upon him the ſaid office of Preſident and Governor, and before he ſhall proceed to recover any ſuch money as aforeſaid, deliver, or cauſe to be delivered, to the Council of the ſaid Preſidency of Fort St. George, at the Council Board, upon oath, a ſpecific and particular account of all ſuch loan or loans (if any) as at this time he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold is concerned in, and therein ſhall and will ſpecify and declare how ſuch loan or loans reſpectively is or are ſecured, and deſcribe the whole tranſaction from the beginning of ſuch loan: And alſo, that he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and will accept and take ſuch ſalary and allowances as are hereinbefore mentioned to be agreed to be paid and allowed to him, in lieu and full ſatisfaction of all other fees of office, perquiſites, emoluments, and advantages whatſoever; and that he ſhall not nor will, directly or indirectly, on any pretext or pretence whatſoever, by himſelf, or by any other perſon or perſons, for his uſe, accept or take any fees of office, perquiſites, emoluments, or advantages whatſoever, other than and except the ſalary and allowances hereinbefore mentioned: And for the true performance of the covenants and agreements herein contained on the part of him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, he the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby bind himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, unto the ſaid United Company in the ſum of fifty thouſand pounds of lawful money of Great Britain. And in order to a diſcovery of ſuch trading and trafficking, and of ſuch loan or loans, and ſuch fees, perquiſites, emoluments, or advantages, carried on, made, accepted, or taken, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents, it is hereby covenanted and agreed, that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid United Company to file any bill or bills of complaint or diſcovery in His Majeſty's High Court of Chancery or Court of Exchequer in England, or in the Mayor's Court of Madras aforeſaid, againſt him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, for a diſcovery of any breach or breaches of all or any of the covenants herein contained, and for ſatisfaction of the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid Company on account thereof: Whereunto the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth hereby covenant and agree, that he ſhall not nor will demur or plead in bar of the diſcovery or relief ſought by ſuch bill or bills, that thereby he is, may, or ſhall become liable to any penalty or forfeiture by force of any law or ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or otherwiſe howſoever, but ſhall put in a full and perfect anſwer and anſwers to all the parts thereof, and ſhall not in any ſuch anſwer or anſwers, inſiſt upon any penalty, forfeiture, law, or ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or alledge any matter whatſoever, whereby to prevent, bar, or preclude the ſaid United Company from the diſcovery or relief ſought or to be ſought by ſuch bill or bills as aforeſaid; but then and in ſuch caſe the ſaid United Company do hereby conſent to wave and diſclaim all and all manner of penalties and forfeitures which ſhall or may, in any kind or degree whatſoever, accrue or incur to them, upon or by reaſon of any diſcovery or diſcloſure ariſing by or from the ſaid anſwer or anſwers of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, other than except the ſum or ſums of money hereinafter agreed to be paid to the ſaid United Company, by way of ſatisfaction for the damages which the ſaid United Company ſhall or may ſuſtain in reſpect of any breach or breaches of the covenants aforeſaid, or any of them. And the ſaid United Company, for themſelves, do agree to accept and take, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, agree to account for and pay, or cauſe to be paid, to or to the uſe of the ſaid United Company, as and for a full, ſtated, and adjuſted compenſation and ſatisfaction for the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid United Company by reaſon or means of any breach or breaches, or any or either of the covenants and agreements hereinbefore contained, or the part of the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, the ſeveral and reſpective ſum or ſums of money hereinafter mentioned; that is to ſay, the ſum of one hundred pounds for every one hundred pounds value, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer value of all and every the goods, merchandizes, and money, traded or trafficked with or for, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents; and the ſum of one hundred pounds, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer value, in reſpect of every one hundred pounds which ſhall be lent by the ſaid Thomas Rumbold to any of the Princes in India, or their officers, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents; and the ſum of two hundred pounds in reſpect of every one hundred pounds, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer ſum, which ſhall be accepted, received, or taken by him the ſaid Thomas Rumbold, for any fee, perquiſite of office, emolument, or advantage whatſoever, over and beſides the ſalary hereinbefore mentioned to be agreed to be made to him. Provided always nevertheleſs, that ſuch bill or bills of complaint or diſcovery as aforeſaid, ſhall be filed within three years next after the breach of the covenants aforeſaid ſhall be made known to the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall have quitted the ſaid office of Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George, or ſhall have been removed therefrom; and in default of ſuch bill or bills filed within the ſaid three years from the times aforeſaid, the ſaid Thomas Rumbold ſhall and may demur or plead thereto in like manner as he might have done if he had not agreed to anſwer the ſame as aforeſaid. In witneſs whereof, the ſaid United Company have, to one part of theſe Indentures ſet their common ſeal, and the ſaid Thomas Rumbold hath to the other part of the ſaid Indentures ſet his hand and ſeal, the day and year firſt above written.

(Signed)
Tho⁸ Rumbold. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being firſt duly ſtamped) in the preſence of (Signed) P. Michell,
R⁴ Holt.

I acknowledge to have read the within Covenant before I executed the ſame.
(Signed) Tho⁸ Rumbold.

Witneſs,
(Signed) P. Michell.

(Copy.) 10th June 1777.

Covenant of John Whitehill, Eſquire, of Council for Fort Saint George.

Factors 1770.

This Indenture, made the tenth day of June, in the year of our Lord One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-

APPENDIX. No. 2.

ſeventy-ſeven, and in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, and ſo forth, between the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the one part, and John Whitehill, Eſquire, of the other part. Whereas the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies have (upon the ſpecial requeſt and entreaty of the ſaid John Whitehill, and upon the conditions and agreements hereinafter contained, on the part of the ſaid John Whitehill to be performed) received and entertained him the ſaid John Whitehill into their ſervice, as their Counſellor and Covenant Servant of Fort Saint George, on the coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies, to ſerve them for the term of years, and to be employed in all or any of the traffic or merchandizes, buſineſſes and affairs, in any place or places whatſoever, between the Cape of Good Hope and the Streights of Magellan, as the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors for the time being, or any thirteen or more of them, or any by them authorized, ſhall appoint, at and for the wages or ſum of ſixteen thouſand Pagodas by the year, to commence from the time of his embarking from England to go to Fort Saint George aforeſaid: Now this Indenture witneſſeth, That the ſaid John Whitehill, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, and their ſucceſſors, in manner and form following; (that is to ſay) That he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will faithfully, honeſtly, diligently, and carefully ſerve the ſaid Company at ſuch place and places, and in all and every ſuch affairs and buſineſs whatſoever of the ſaid Company, as the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall be employed in: And ſhall alſo from time to time, and at all times, obſerve, keep, and fulfil all and every the orders of the ſaid Company, and of the ſaid Court of Directors, made and to be made for the government of their factories and ſettlements, officers, agents, or ſervants abroad; and ſhall and will alſo obſerve, keep, and fulfil all ſuch orders, inſtructions, and directions, which he ſhall herewith or hereafter receive under the ſeal of the ſaid Company, or from the ſaid Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, or any thirteen or more of them, or from their Preſident and Council at the reſpective ſettlement where the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall reſide or be employed, or from any perſons authorized thereunto by ſuch Directors; and ſhall and will, to the utmoſt of his power and ſkill, reſiſt and withſtand all and every ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall break, or endeavour to break, the ſaid orders, inſtructions, or directions, or any of them: And the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he will not do, attempt, or practiſe, nor ſhall wittingly or willingly permit or ſuffer any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, to do, attempt, or practiſe, any matter or thing whatſoever, to the hindrance, hurt, prejudice, damage, or defrauding of the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or of their ſervants, or any of them, or of the ſaid Company's goods, merchandizes, trade, or traffic, or any of them, or any part thereof; but ſhall, as much as in him lieth, prevent and defeat the ſame: And the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will, from time to time, and at all times from henceforth, give notice and intelligence, with all convenient ſpeed, unto the ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, of all and every the deceits, wrongs, abuſes, breach of orders, inconveniencies, and hindrances, which he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall know, underſtand, hear, or ſuſpect to be done, practiſed, offered, or intended againſt the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or their goods or trade, or any of them, or againſt any perſon or perſons by them, or by the ſaid Court of Directors employed, or in their ſervice, in any place or places, together with the names of thoſe perſons by whom the ſame ſhall be ſo offered, practiſed, or intended: And the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he will not engage, or employ the ſtock of the ſaid Company, or any part thereof, or make uſe of the credit of the ſaid Company, in any other kind, way, or manner howſoever, than for the affairs of the ſaid Company, and as by the major part of the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, under their hands, or under the common ſeal of the ſaid Company, or by their ſaid Preſident and Council, ſhall be ordered and directed: And that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will, at all times, keep and conceal the ſaid Company's ſecrets, and every matter and thing committed to him as ſuch by the ſaid Court of Directors, or their agents, factors, officers, and ſervants, or any of them: And alſo, that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will, from time to time, and at all times from henceforth during his ſaid employment, keep, or cauſe to be kept, a true and particular journal or day-book, of all paſſages and proceedings relating to the affairs of the ſaid Company, and alſo books of accounts; in which journal, day-book, and books of accounts, he ſhall daily, duly, truly, and fully enter, or cauſe to be entered, the accounts of all and every particular buying, ſelling, receipts, payments, barterings, and all other tranſactions and occurrences relating to his truſt, during the time he ſhall continue in the ſaid United Company's ſervice and employment: And the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that he will not place, or conſent to the placing to the ſaid Company's account, nor otherwiſe charge the ſaid Company with any more or greater ſums than he ſhall really, and in good faith pay for all or any goods, merchandizes, or effects, which he ſhall buy, or cauſe, procure, or conſent to be bought, for or on account of the ſaid Company: And that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will bring to the account of the ſaid Company, in the books of the ſaid Company, the full rates and prices for which he ſhall ſell, or cauſe to be ſold, any of the ſaid Company's goods, merchandizes, or effects: And further, that he the ſaid John Whitehill will not, directly or indirectly, take, accept, or receive, or agree to take, accept, or receive, any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, compenſation, ſum or ſums of money whatſoever, from any perſon or perſons, of whom he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall, by himſelf, or any agent for him, buy or barter any goods, merchandizes, treaſure, or effects, for or upon account of the ſaid Company: And further, that he will not take, accept, or receive, or agree to take, accept, or receive any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, compenſation, ſum or ſums of money whatſoever, from any perſon or perſons to whom the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall, by himſelf, or any agent for him, ſell or barter any goods, merchandizes, treaſure, or effects, of or belonging to, or for or upon account of, the ſaid Company: And moreover, that he the ſaid John Whitehill, his executors, or adminiſtrators, ſhall produce and deliver the ſaid books, together with all waſte books, pocket-books, diaries, memorials, and other writings and papers whatſoever, wherein he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall make, or cauſe to be made, any entries, or ſet down any matter or thing touching or concerning the ſaid Company's affairs, or any of them, or any way relating thereunto (although the ſame may or ſhall be intermixed with his own, or others concerns) unto the ſaid Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, or to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall by letter or order under the hands of thirteen or more of the ſaid Court of Directors, or under the ſeal of the ſaid Company, be authorized and

APPENDIX. No. 2.

and appointed to demand and receive the ſame; and ſhall and will, if required, make oath to the truth of ſuch books, diaries, memorials, writings, and papers, and that the ſame contain the whole of his tranſactions, and that they have not been defaced, obliterated, or altered: And further, That he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will, well and truly, deliver and pay unto the ſaid United Company, or their ſucceſſors, all and every ſuch monies, goods, merchandizes and things whatſoever, as by the foot of his account, or otherwiſe, ſhall be due from him, or remain in his hands and poſſeſſion, and for which he ought to be chargeable or anſwerable in any manner or wiſe: And alſo, That he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will (before he ſhall leave the ſaid Company's factories or ſettlements) pay and diſcharge all and every ſuch ſum or ſums of money as he ſhall juſtly owe or be indebted to any of the Black Merchants or Natives of the country, where he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall be, together with ſuch other ſums as he ſhall owe abroad to any other merchants or perſons, not being ſubjects of His Majeſty the King of Great Britain, or His ſucceſſors: And that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will, from time to time, when and as often as he ſhall be thereunto required by the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or by the Preſident, Agent or Chief, and Council of the place where the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall be, remove to any ſuch other factories as ſuch Preſident, Agent or Chief, and Council, ſhall ſo direct and require: And alſo, that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall, at all times during the time of his ſervice aforeſaid, faithfully and diligently demean himſelf as a good, honeſt, and faithful ſervant towards the ſaid Company, and their ſucceſſors, and thoſe by them authorized. And foraſmuch as complaints have been made to the ſaid United Company, that ſeveral of the ſaid Company's Preſidents and Chiefs of their factories, and ſeveral of ſuch perſons as are of their Councils in their factories abroad, or ſome of them, as alſo their factors, agents, and ſervants, have committed very heinous and grievous offences in ſuch factories of the ſaid Company, and elſewhere in the Eaſt Indies, and other places within the ſaid Company's limits of trade, by unjuſtly menacing, impriſoning, aſſaulting, abuſing, and evil-treating the Natives and Black Merchants, and others with whom the ſaid Company have had dealings or correſpondence, and by ſuch means, and other violences, abuſes, and injuries, have extorted and forced great ſums of money, and other valuable effects, from ſuch injured perſons, who, by reaſon of the great diſtance from this kingdom, and the wholeſome laws thereof, and by reaſon that the ſaid Company have not been enabled to obtain and render ſatisfaction for ſuch injuries and miſdemeanors, are and have been remedileſs; Now it is hereby agreed by and between the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, and the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that in caſe any ſum or ſums of money, goods or chattels whatſoever, ſhall at any time or times hereafter be extorted, forced, or taken by him the ſaid John Whitehill (either ſeparately or jointly with others) from any perſon or perſons whatſoever, within the ſaid Company's limits of trade, by the means or uſe of impriſonments, aſſaults, violences, menaces, or other force or compulſion whatſoever; then, and as often as any ſuch offence or offences ſhall be committed, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for every perſon or perſons injured thereby, to make and ſend over complaints and atteſtations thereof in writing, to the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being; and that upon the receipt of ſuch complaints and atteſtations it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, to enquire into the truth of the ſaid complaints, by all ſuch ways and means as they ſhall think juſt and equitable, and thereupon to hear the matter of the ſaid complaint or complaints, and thereupon finally to judge and determine the ſame, and to award ſatisfaction and reparation to be made by the ſaid John Whitehill to the ſaid Company, for the benefit of ſuch injured perſons: And the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, well and truly to pay to the ſaid Company, at ſuch time or times as ſhall be limited by the ſaid Court of Directors (or the major part of them) for that purpoſe, all and every ſuch ſum and ſums of money as ſhall be ſo awarded by the ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, or the major part of them then aſſembled, to be paid as aforeſaid; but in truſt nevertheleſs, and to the intent, that the ſaid Company may and do render and pay over the monies received or recovered by them, to the parties injured or defrauded, which the ſaid Company accordingly hereby agree and covenant to do: And the ſaid John Whitehill doth furthermore, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, to pay and ſatisfy to the ſaid Company, for their own uſe and benefit, all ſuch damages as they ſhall have ſuſtained by reaſon or means of any ſuch offence or offences as aforeſaid. And foraſmuch as it frequently happens that the Preſident and Council, Agent and Council, Chief and Council, and ſeveral other ſubordinate officers of ſeveral of the ſaid Company's factories abroad, have, by mutual influences on each other, ſettled, ſtated, and adjuſted amongſt themſelves, their own accounts with the ſaid Company, in order, as far as they could, to bar and preclude the ſaid Company from reviewing, altering, amending, correcting, or conteſting the ſame: Now it is hereby further declared, That all and every ſuch account and accounts ſo at any time ſtated, balanced, ſigned, or adjuſted, by, between, or amongſt ſuch Preſidents and Councils, or Agents and Councils, or Chiefs and Councils, or other ſubordinate officers, or any of them, and the ſaid John Whitehill, are hereby agreed to be, and ſhall at all times hereafter be taken and eſteemed to be, open accounts, formed and prepared only for the inſpection, peruſal, and approbation, or correction, of the ſaid Company, and ſhall not, in any ſort or kind, or in any article thereof, bind or conclude the ſaid Company: And the ſaid John Whitehill doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the United Company, that he the ſaid John Whitehill will not, at any time during his reſidence in the Eaſt Indies, or within the ſaid Company's limits, directly or indirectly trade, correſpond, traffic, deal with, or for, or be in anywiſe aiding, aſſiſting, or employed as Agent or Factor, by or for any foreign Company trading in or to the Eaſt Indies, or any perſon or perſons whatſoever, who do or ſhall, during the continuance of theſe preſents, traffic, adventure, or trade to, in, or from the Eaſt Indies, or elſewhere, within the limits of the ſaid Company's trade, by, or under, or by virtue of any foreign commiſſion, licence, or authority whatſoever, nor ſhall or will, by himſelf, or in conjunction with any perſon or perſons whatſoever, directly or indirectly carry on or uſe, or be concerned in, any ſort of trade, traffic, or merchandize, either from Europe to the Eaſt Indies, or to any place within the ſaid Company's limits, between the Cape of Good Hope and the Streights of Magellan, or from the Eaſt Indies, or from any place within the ſaid Company's limits, to Europe, or to or from any place whatſoever, although not within the ſaid Company's limits of trade, ſave and except for and on account of the ſaid Company: And, in order to a diſcovery of and a ſatisfaction for ſuch illicit trade as aforeſaid, it is hereby agreed, that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid United Company, and their ſucceſſors, to file any bill or bills of complaint or diſcovery in His Majeſty's High Court of Chancery, or Court of Exchequer, againſt him the ſaid John Whitehill, his executors and adminiſtrators; whereunto the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby agree, that neither he nor they ſhall or will demur or plead in bar of the diſcovery or relief ſought by ſuch bill or bills, that thereby he or they is, are, may, or ſhall become liable to any penalty or

APPENDIX. No. 2.

or forfeiture, by force of any law or ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or otherwiſe howſoever, but ſhall make and put in a full and perfect anſwer and anſwers to all the parts thereof, and ſhall not, in ſuch anſwer and anſwers, inſiſt upon any penalty, forfeiture, law or ſtatute, bond, covenant or agreement, or alledge any matter whatſoever, whereby to prevent, bar, or preclude the ſaid Company from the diſcovery or relief ſought or to be ſought by ſuch bill or bills as aforeſaid; but then and in ſuch caſe the ſaid United Company do hereby conſent to wave and diſclaim all and all manner of penalties and forfeitures that ſhall or may, in any kind or degree whatſoever, accrue or incur to them, upon or by reaſon of any diſcovery or diſcloſure ariſing by the ſaid anſwer or anſwers of the ſaid John Whitehill, his executors or adminiſtrators; and the ſaid United Company, for themſelves and their ſucceſſors, do agree to accept, and the ſaid John Whitehill doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, agree to account for and pay, or cauſe to be paid to, or to the uſe of the ſaid Company or their ſucceſſors, as and for a full, ſtated, and adjuſted compenſation and ſatisfaction for the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid Company upon account of the ſaid illicit trade, the ſum of One hundred Pounds for every One hundred Pounds value of all and every the goods and merchandizes traded or trafficked with, or for, contrary to the true intent and meaning hereof; and alſo of the produce of the ſaid illicit trade. Provided always, and it is hereby expreſsly covenanted, declared, and agreed between the parties to theſe preſents, and it is the true intent and meaning thereof, that in caſe the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall make default in any of the covenants hereinbefore contained; or ſhall embezzle any of the ſaid Company's money, goods or effects; or be guilty of any breach of truſt towards the ſaid Company; or ſhall be concerned in buying, bartering, ſelling, or diſpoſing of any artillery, ordnance, muſquets, fire-arms, ammunition, or warlike ſtores, to or for the uſe of any Prince, Nabob, or Country Power in India, or of the natives there, without the expreſs licence of the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors for the time being, or a majority of them, or of the ſaid Company's Preſident and Council at the reſpective ſettlement where ſuch buying, bartering, or ſelling ſhall be; or in caſe the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall at any time during the continuance of theſe preſents, without the like licence and authority as aforeſaid, hold correſpondence with any Prince, Nabob, or Country Power in India, or any of their Miniſters, or ſhall ſupply, lend to, or procure, for the uſe of any foreign Company trading in or to India, or any perſon or perſons trading under the licence or authority of ſuch foreign Company, any money, at reſpondentia, or any other ſecurity, loan, or engagement whatſoever; that then, and in each and every of the ſaid caſes, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Company, and their ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, or the majority of them, or the Preſident and Council at the reſpective ſettlement where the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall be reſident or employed, and they are hereby reſpectively declared to have full power and authority for that purpoſe, to ſuſpend, or wholly diſmiſs the ſaid John Whitehill from the ſaid Company's ſervice and employment; the ſaid John Whitehill having firſt had notice given him of ſuch his offence or default, and a reaſonable time allowed him to make his defence againſt the ſame, and having been convicted thereof. And, for the more effectually carrying the ſaid laſt-mentioned covenant and agreement into execution, it is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents, and the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that in caſe of ſuch diſmiſſion from, or quitting and reſigning the ſaid Company's ſervice and employment, he the ſaid John Whitehill, ſhall and will, within one year after the ſame ſhall happen, or by the firſt paſſage that can be obtained after the expiration of the ſaid one year, tranſport himſelf, together with his family, to Great Britain, in ſuch ſhip employed by the ſaid Company as ſhall be appointed for that purpoſe by the ſaid Company, or by their Court of Directors, or their Preſident and Council as aforeſaid; and ſhall not nor will, upon any account or pretence whatſoever, ſtay or continue any longer in the Eaſt Indies; and moreover, in caſe the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall make default in the ſaid laſt-mentioned covenant, the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby conſent and agree with the ſaid United Company, that from and immediately after ſuch default, it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors, or their Preſident and Council at the ſaid ſettlement where the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall reſide or be, to cauſe the ſaid John Whitehill to be apprehended and detained, and to put him and his family on board any ſhip employed by the ſaid Company, for the purpoſe of being tranſported to Great Britain; ſo nevertheleſs that no unneceſſary delay be ſought, nor any fit occaſion or opportunity loſt in ſo doing: And further, in caſe of ſuch apprehending, putting on board, and tranſporting the ſaid John Whitehill and his family, in manner aforeſaid, the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby covenant, promiſe, and agree, to and with the ſaid United Company, that he the ſaid John Whitehill, his executors, or adminiſtrators, ſhall not nor will commence, ſue, or proſecute the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors, or any of their Preſidents and Council, commanders or officers of any ſuch ſhip, or any other perſon employed in any of the matters aforeſaid, in or by any action, ſuit, or other proſecution, civil or criminal, in reſpect of ſuch apprehending and detaining him the ſaid John Whitehill, or of putting on board and tranſporting him the ſaid John Whitehill and his family to Great Britain, in manner aforeſaid; and in caſe any ſuch action, ſuit, or proſecution ſhall be commenced, ſued, or proſecuted for any of the matters aforeſaid, the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the ſaid Company, that the general iſſue may be pleaded, and that this preſent Indenture, or any other ſpecial matter, may be given in evidence by any of the defendants in any ſuch ſuit, action, or proſecution. In witneſs whereof the ſaid United Company have to one part of theſe Indentures ſet their common ſeal, and the ſaid John Whitehill hath to the other part of the ſaid Indentures ſet his hand and ſeal, the day and year firſt above-written.

John Whitehill. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being ſtamped according to Act of Parliament) in the preſence of us,

P. Mitchell, Secretary.
R^d Holt.

I acknowledge to have read the within Covenant before I executed the ſame.

John Whitehill.

Witneſs, R^d Holt.

(Copy.) 11th June 1777.

Covenant of John Whitehill, Eſquire, of Council for Fort St. George. (Reſpecting Preſents.)

1776. Civil 1,000.

This Indenture, made the eleventh day of June, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God, King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and ſo forth, and in the year of our Lord One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, between John Whitehill, of London, Eſquire, of the one part, and the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the other part: Whereas the ſaid John Whitehill is employed in the ſervice of the ſaid United Company, as one of their Counſellors and Covenant Servants at their chief Settlement of Fort St. George, on the coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies: Now this indenture witneſſeth, and the ſaid John Whitehill, in compliance with the the Reſolution of a General Court of the ſaid United Company, and for and in conſideration of what he is or ſhall be entitled to receive from the ſaid Company, in reſpect of his ſaid ſervice, or in reſpect of any other ſtation, capacity, or employment in which the ſaid John Whitehill may hereafter be retained or employed by the ſaid United Company, or their Court of Directors, doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall not nor will, at any time or times hereafter, during his being employed in the ſaid Company's ſervice, in any ſtation or capacity whatſoever, either by himſelf or by any other perſon or perſons whomſoever in truſt for him or for his uſe, directly or indirectly, accept, take, or receive, or agree to accept, take, or receive, any gift or grant of lands, or rents or revenues iſſuing out of lands, or any territorial poſſeſſion, juriſdiction, dominion, power or authority whatſoever, from any of the Indian Princes, Sovereigns, Subahs, or Nabobs, or any of their miniſters, ſervants, or agents, for any ſervice or ſervices, or upon any account or pretence whatſoever, nor ſhall or will, at any time or times hereafter during his being employed in the ſaid United Company's ſervice in any ſtation or capacity whatſoever, either by himſelf or any other perſon or perſons whomſoever in truſt for him or for his uſe, directly or indirectly, accept, take, or receive, or agree to accept, take, or receive, any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, donation or compenſation, in money, effects, jewels, or otherwiſe howſoever, from any of the Indian Princes, Sovereigns, Subahs, or Nabobs, or any of their miniſters, ſervants, or agents, for any ſervice or ſervices performed or to be performed by the ſaid John Whitehill in India, upon any account or pretence whatſoever: And that all and every ſuch gifts or grants of lands, or rents or revenues iſſuing out of lands, or any ſuch territorial poſſeſſion, juriſdiction, dominion, power, or authority whatſoever; and all and every ſuch gifts, rewards, gratuities, allowances, donations, or compenſations whatſoever, which, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents, ſhall come to the hands, poſſeſſion, or power of the ſaid John Whitehill, or any other perſon or perſons in truſt for him, or for his uſe as aforeſaid, ſhall be deemed and conſtrued to have been received and taken by him or them for the ſole uſe of the ſaid United Company. In witneſs whereof to one part of theſe Indentures the ſaid John Whitehill hath ſet his hand and ſeal, and to the other part thereof the ſaid United Company have cauſed their common ſeal to be put the day and year above written.

John Whitehill. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being firſt duly ſtamped) in the preſence of
P. Michell, Sec.
R^d. Holt.

I acknowledge to have read the within Covenant before I executed the ſame.

John Whitehill.

Witneſs,
R^d Holt.

(Copy.) 12th June 1777.

Covenant of John Whitehill, Eſquire, of Council for Fort St. George. (Reſtrictive of Trade.)

This Indenture, made the twelfth day of June, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. and in the year of our Lord ſeventeen hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, between the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the one part, and John Whitehill, of Queen Ann-ſtreet, Cavendiſh Square, Eſquire, of the other part, witneſſeth, That for and in conſideration of the ſaid John Whitehill being appointed one of the Members of the Council of the ſaid United Company's Preſidency of Fort St. George, on the coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies, and for and in conſideration of the ſalary of Sixteen thouſand Pagodas by the year, agreed to be allowed and paid by the ſaid United Company to the ſaid John Whitehill, as one of the Members of the ſaid Council of the ſaid Preſidency as aforeſaid, he the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, in manner and form following; that is to ſay, that he the ſaid John Whitehill, during the time he ſhall continue to be one of the Members of the Council of the ſaid Preſidency of Fort Saint George aforeſaid, ſhall not nor will, directly or indirectly, upon any pretence or pretext whatſoever, by himſelf, or by any other perſon or perſons, for his or their uſe, or on his or their behalf, carry on or be concerned in, or have any dealings or tranſactions by way of traffic or commerce, in money or in goods of any kind whatſoever, for his or their uſe, benefit, profit, or advantage, or for the benefit or advantage of any other perſon or perſons whatſoever; ſave and except the trade and commerce of the ſaid United Company, to be carried on by him as one of the Members of the ſaid Council as aforeſaid, for the uſe and benefit of the ſaid Company; and alſo ſave and except in the diſpoſal of ſuch goods and merchandizes as ſhall be remaining on hand, and unſold, belonging to him the ſaid John Whitehill, at the time of his taking the ſaid office of one of the Members of the ſaid Council of Fort Saint George upon him; and alſo ſave and except the collecting and getting in ſuch debts as ſhall be owing to him the ſaid John Whitehill, at that time, in reſpect of the trade and commerce heretofore carried on by him, or wherein he hath been concerned: And alſo that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will, within thirty days next after the time that he ſhall take upon him the ſaid office of one of the Members of the ſaid Council as aforeſaid, deliver to the Preſident and Governor and Council of the ſaid Preſidency, at the Council Board, a full and juſt ſpecification, upon oath, of the debts due to him the ſaid John Whitehill, in the courſe of the ſaid trade and commerce heretofore carried on by him, or wherein he hath been concerned; and of the goods, wares, merchandizes, effects, and ſtock in trade, of which he or they ſhall be at that time poſſeſſed; and ſhall and will ſell and diſpoſe of ſuch goods, wares, merchandizes, effects, and ſtock in trade, within the ſpace of nine months next after he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall take upon him the ſaid office or place of one of the Members of the ſaid Council as aforeſaid: And alſo that he the ſaid John Whitehill, during the time he ſhall continue to be one of the Members of the ſaid Council as aforeſaid, or in any other ſtation or capacity in the ſervice of, or under the protection of, the ſaid United Company, ſhall not nor will lend money to any of the Country Powers in India, nor to any perſon or perſons holding any commiſſion or commiſſions under or employed by them, directly or indirectly, on any mortgage or mortgages, or on any ſecurity or ſecurities in the nature of a mortgage or mortgages upon lands, or upon the produce of any growing revenue of the country; and alſo that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will, within thirty days next after his taking upon him the ſaid office of one of the Members of the ſaid Council, and before he ſhall proceed to recover any ſuch money as aforeſaid, deliver, or cauſe to be delivered, to the Preſident and Governor and Council of the ſaid Preſidency of Fort Saint George, at the Council Board, upon oath, a ſpecific and particular account of all ſuch loan and loans (if any) as at this time he the ſaid John Whitehill is concerned in; and therein ſhall and will ſpecify and declare how ſuch loan or loans reſpectively is or are ſecured, and deſcribe the whole tranſaction from the beginning of ſuch loan: And alſo that he the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and will accept and take ſuch ſalary and allowances as are hereinbefore mentioned to be agreed to be paid and allowed to him, in lieu and full ſatisfaction of all other fees of office, perquiſites, emoluments, and advantages whatſoever; and that he ſhall not nor will, directly or indirectly, on any pretext or pretence whatſoever, by himſelf, ſelf, or by any other perſon or perſons for his uſe, accept or take any fees of office, perquiſites, emoluments, or advantages whatſoever, other than and except the ſalary and allowances hereinbefore mentioned. And for the true performance of the Covenants and Agreements herein contained, on the part of him the ſaid John Whitehill, he the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby bind himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, unto the ſaid United Company, in the ſum of Twenty-five thouſand Pounds of lawful money of Great Britain; and in order to a diſcovery of ſuch trading and trafficking, and of ſuch loan or loans, and of ſuch fees, perquiſites, emoluments, or advantages, carried on, made, accepted, or taken, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents, it is hereby covenanted and agreed, that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid United Company to file any bill or bills of complaint or diſcovery in His Majeſty's High Court of Chancery, or Court of Exchequer, in England, or in the Mayor's Court of Madras aforeſaid, againſt him the ſaid John Whitehill, for a diſcovery of any breach or breaches of all or any of the covenants herein contained, and for ſatisfaction of the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid Company, on account thereof; whereunto the ſaid John Whitehill doth hereby covenant and agree, that he ſhall not nor will demur nor plead in bar of the diſcovery or relief ſought by ſuch bill or bills, that thereby he is, may, or ſhall become liable to any penalty or forfeiture, by force of any law, ſtatute, bond or covenant, or agreement, or otherwiſe howſoever, but ſhall put in a full and perfect anſwer and anſwers to all the parts thereof, and ſhall not in any ſuch anſwer or anſwers, inſiſt upon any penalty, forfeiture, law or ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or alledge any matter whatſoever, whereby to prevent, bar, or preclude the ſaid United Company from the diſcovery or relief ſought, or to be ſought, by ſuch bill or bills as aforeſaid; but then and in ſuch caſe, the ſaid United Company do hereby conſent to wave and diſclaim all and all manner of penalties and forfeitures which ſhall or may, in any kind or degree whatſoever, accrue or incur to them, upon or by reaſon of any diſcovery or diſcloſure ariſing by or from the ſaid anſwer or anſwers of the ſaid John Whitehill other than except the ſum or ſums of money hereinafter agreed to be paid to the ſaid United Company, by way of ſatisfaction for the damages which the ſaid United Company ſhall or may ſuſtain, in reſpect of any breach or breaches of the covenants aforeſaid, or any of them. And the ſaid United Company for themſelves do agree to accept and take, and the ſaid John Whitehill doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, agree to account for and pay, or cauſe to be paid, to or to the uſe of the ſaid United Company, as and for a full, ſtated, and adjuſted compenſation and ſatisfaction for the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid United Company, by reaſon or means of any breach or breaches, or any or either of the covenants and agreements hereinbefore contained, on the part of the ſaid John Whitehill, the ſeveral and reſpective ſum and ſums of money hereinafter mentioned; that is to ſay, the ſum of One hundred Pounds for every One hundred Pounds value, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer value, of all and every the goods, merchandizes, and money traded or trafficked with or for, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents; and the ſum of One hundred Pounds, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer value, in reſpect of Hundred Pounds which ſhall be lent by the ſaid John Whitehill to any of the Princes in India, or their Officers, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents; and the ſum of Two hundred Pounds in reſpect of every One hundred Pounds, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer ſum, which ſhall be accepted, received, or taken by him the ſaid John Whitehill, for any fee, perquiſite of office, emolument, or advantage whatſoever, over and beſides the ſalary hereinbefore mentioned to be agreed to be made to him. Provided always nevertheleſs, that ſuch bill or bills of complaint or diſcovery as aforeſaid, ſhall be filed within three years next after the breach of the covenants aforeſaid ſhall be made known to the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company, and the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall have quitted his ſaid office of one of the Members of the ſaid Council of Fort Saint George, or ſhall have been removed therefrom; and in default of ſuch bill or bills being filed within the ſaid three years from the time aforeſaid, the ſaid John Whitehill ſhall and may demur, or plead thereto in like manner as he might have done if he had not agreed to anſwer the ſame as aforeſaid. In witneſs whereof, to one part of theſe Indentures the ſaid John Whitehill hath ſet his hand and ſeal, and to the other part thereof the ſaid United Company have cauſed their common ſeal to be put, the day and year above-written.

APPENDIX No. 2.

John Whitehill. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered, being firſt duly ſtamped, in the preſence of us,

P. Michell.
R^d Holt.

I acknowledge to have read the within Covenant before I executed the ſame.

John Whitehill.

Witneſs,
R^d Holt.

Know all Men by theſe Preſents, That we General Joſeph Smith, and Charles Bourchier of London, Eſquire, are held and firmly bound unto the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, in the ſum of Four thouſand Pounds of lawful money of Great Britain, to be paid to the ſaid United Company, or their certain Attorney or ſucceſſors, to which payment, well and truly to be made, we bind ourſelves, and each of us, jointly and ſeverally, and our and each of our heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, Sealed with our ſeals, dated the tenth day of June, in the year of our Lord One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, and in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, and ſo forth.

Whereas John Whitehill, of London, Eſquire, is appointed and choſen a Counſellor and Covenant Servant for Fort Saint George, on the Coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies, to the above-named United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies. The condition of this obligation is ſuch, That if the ſaid John Whitehill do and ſhall, from time to time, and at all times hereafter, during his continuance in the ſaid office or ſervice, faithfully, honeſtly, diligently, and carefully execute, perform, and diſcharge the ſaid office or ſervice; and further, if the ſaid John Whitehill, his heirs, executors, adminiſtrators, and aſſigns, and every of them, ſhall and do well and truly obſerve, perform, pay, fulfil, and keep all and every the conditions, covenants, payments, articles, and agreements, contained and ſpecified in one pair of Indentures, bearing even date with theſe preſents, and made between the above-named United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the one part, and the ſaid John Whitehill of the other part; which, on the part and behalf of the ſaid John Whitehill, his heirs, executors, adminiſtrators, and aſſigns, or any of them, are or ought to be obſerved, performed, paid, fulfilled, and kept, and that in all things according to the tenor, effect, and true meaning of the ſaid Indentures, then this obligation to be void and of none effect, or elſe to remain in full force and virtue.

Joſeph Smith. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being firſt ſtamped according to the Act of Parliament) in the preſence of us, by the above-bound Joſeph Smith,

R^d Holt,
Thos Morton,
Ch. Bourchier. (L. S.)

And by the above-bound Charles Bourchier, in the preſence of

W. Ramſay. R. Owen.

APPENDIX. No. 2.

(Copy.) 18th June 1777.

Covenant of Peter Perring, Eſquire, of Council at Fort Saint George.

Factors 1770.

This Indenture, made the eighteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, and in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, and ſo forth, between the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the one part, and Peter Perring, of Fort Saint George, in the Eaſt Indies, Eſquire, of the other part: Whereas the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies have (upon the ſpecial requeſt and entreaty of the ſaid Peter Perring, and upon the conditions and agreements hereinafter contained on the part of the ſaid Peter Perring to be performed) received and entertained him the ſaid Peter Perring into their ſervice, as their Counſellor and Covenant Servant of Fort Saint George, on the coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies, to ſerve them in the ſtation aforeſaid, and to be employed in all or any of the traffic or merchandizes, buſineſſes, and affairs, in any place or places whatſoever, between the Cape of Good Hope and the Streights of Magellan, as the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors for the time being, or any thirteen or more of them, or any by them authorized, ſhall appoint, at and for the wages or ſum of ſixteen thouſand Pagodas by the year, to commence from the time of the ſaid Peter Perring taking upon him the execution of the office of a Counſellor at Fort Saint George aforeſaid: Now this Indenture witneſſeth, That the ſaid Peter Perring for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, and their ſucceſſors, in manner and form following; (that is to ſay) that he the ſaid Peter Perring, from the time of his taking upon him the execution of the office of a Counſellor at Fort Saint George aforeſaid, ſhall and will faithfully, honeſtly, diligently, and carefully ſerve the ſaid Company, at ſuch place and places, and in all and every ſuch affairs and buſineſs whatſoever of the ſaid Company, as the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall be employed in; and ſhall alſo from time to time, and at all times, obſerve, keep, and fulfil all and every the orders of the ſaid Company, and of the ſaid Court of Directors, made and to be made for the government of their factories and ſettlements, officers, agents, or ſervants abroad; and ſhall and will alſo obſerve, keep, and fulfil all ſuch orders, inſtructions, and directions, which he ſhall herewith or hereafter receive under the ſeal of the ſaid Company, or from the ſaid Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, or any thirteen or more of them, or from their Preſident and Council, at the reſpective ſettlement where the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall reſide or be employed, or from any perſons authorized thereunto by ſuch Directors; and ſhall and will, to the utmoſt of his power and ſkill, reſiſt and withſtand all and every ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall break, or endeavour to break, the ſaid orders, inſtructions, or directions, or any of them: And the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he will not do, attempt, or practiſe, nor ſhall wittingly or willingly permit or ſuffer any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, to do, attempt, or practiſe, any matter or thing whatſoever, to the hindrance, hurt, prejudice, damage, or defrauding of the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or of their ſervants, or any of them, or of the ſaid Company's goods, merchandizes, trade or traffic, or any of them, or any part thereof; but ſhall, as much as in him lieth, prevent and defeat the ſame: And the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby, for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will, from time to time, and at all times from henceforth, give notice and intelligence, with all convenient ſpeed, unto the ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, of all and every the deceits, wrongs, abuſes, breach of orders, inconveniencies, and hindrances, which he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall know, underſtand, hear, or ſuſpect to be done, practiſed, offered, or intended againſt the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or their goods or trade, or any of them, or againſt any perſon or perſons by them, or by the ſaid Court of Directors employed, or in their ſervice, in any place or places, together with the names of thoſe perſons by whom the ſame ſhall be ſo offered, practiſed, or intended: And the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, that he will not engage or employ the ſtock of the ſaid Company, or any part thereof, or make uſe of the credit of the ſaid Company, in any other kind, way, or manner howſoever, than for the affairs of the ſaid Company, and as by the major part of the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, under their hands, or under the common ſeal of the ſaid Company, or by their ſaid Preſident and Council, ſhall be ordered and directed: And that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will, at all times, keep and conceal the ſaid Company's ſecrets, and every matter and thing committed to him as ſuch by the ſaid Court of Directors, or their agents, factors, officers, and ſervants, or any of them: And alſo, that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will, from time to time, and at all times from henceforth during his ſaid employment, keep, or cauſe to be kept, a true and particular journal or day-book of all paſſages and proceedings relating to the affairs of the ſaid Company, and alſo books of accounts; in which journal, day-book, and books of accounts, he ſhall daily, duly, truly, and fully enter, or cauſe to be entered, the accounts of all and every particular buying, ſelling, receipts, payments, barterings, and all other tranſactions and occurrences relating to his truſt, during the time he ſhall continue in the ſaid United Company's ſervice and employment: And the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that he will not place, or conſent to the placing to the ſaid Company's account, nor otherwiſe charge the ſaid Company with, any more or greater ſums than he ſhall really and in good faith pay for all or any goods, merchandizes, or effects which he ſhall buy, or cauſe, procure, or conſent to be bought, for or on account of the ſaid Company; and that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will bring to the account of the ſaid Company, in the books of the ſaid Company, the full rates and prices for which he ſhall ſell, or cauſe to be ſold, any of the ſaid Company's goods, merchandizes, or effects: And further, that he the ſaid Peter Perring will not, directly or indirectly, take, accept, or receive, or agree to take, accept, or receive, any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, compenſation, ſum or ſums of money whatſoever, from any perſon or perſons, of whom he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall, by himſelf, or any agent for him, buy or barter any goods, merchandizes, treaſure, or effects, for or upon account of the ſaid Company: And further, that he will not take, accept, or receive, or agree to take, accept, or receive, any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, compenſation, ſum or ſums of money whatſoever, from any perſon or perſons to whom the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall, by himſelf, or any agent for him, ſell or barter any goods, merchandizes, treaſure, or effects, of or belonging to, or for or upon account of, the ſaid Company; and moreover, that he the ſaid , his executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall produce and deliver the ſaid books, together with all waſte-books, pocket-books, diaries, memorials, and other writings and papers whatſoever, wherein he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall make, or cauſe to be made, any entries, entries, or ſet down any matter or thing touching or concerning the ſaid Company's affairs, or any of them, or any way relating thereunto (although the ſame may or ſhall be intermixed with his own or others concerns) unto the ſaid Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, or to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall by letter or order under the hands of thirteen or more of the ſaid Court of Directors, or under the ſeal of the ſaid Company, be authorized and appointed to demand and receive the ſame; and ſhall and will, if required, make oath to the truth of ſuch books, diaries, memorials, writings, and papers, and that the ſame contain the whole of his tranſactions, and that they have not been defaced, obliterated, or altered: And further, that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will well and truly deliver and pay unto the ſaid United Company, or their ſucceſſors, all and every ſuch monies, goods, merchandizes, and things whatſoever, as by the foot of his account, or otherwiſe, ſhall be due from him, or remain in his hands and poſſeſſion, and for which he ought to be chargeable or anſwerable in any manner or wiſe: And alſo that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will (before he ſhall leave the ſaid Company's factories or ſettlements) pay and diſcharge all and every ſuch ſum or ſums of money as he ſhall juſtly owe or be indebted to any of the Black Merchants or Natives of the Country where he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall be, together with ſuch other ſums as he ſhall owe abroad to any other merchants or perſons not being ſubjects of His Majeſty the King of Great Britain, or his ſucceſſors: And that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will, from time to time, when and as often as he ſhall be thereunto required by the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, or by the Preſident, Agent, or Chief and Council of the place where the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall be, remove to any ſuch other factories as ſuch Preſident, Agent, or Chief and Council ſhall ſo direct and require: And alſo, that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall, at all times during the time of his ſervice aforeſaid, faithfully and diligently demean himſelf as a good, honeſt, and faithful ſervant towards the ſaid Company, and their ſucceſſors, and thoſe by them authorized. And foraſmuch as complaints have been made to the ſaid United Company, that ſeveral of the ſaid Company's Preſidents and Chiefs of their factories, and ſeveral of ſuch perſons as are of their Councils in their factories abroad, or ſome of them, as alſo their Factors, Agents, and Servants, have committed very heinous and grievous offences in ſuch factories of the ſaid Company and elſewhere in the Eaſt Indies, and other places within the ſaid Company's limits of trade, by unjuſtly menacing, impriſoning, aſſaulting, abuſing, and evil treating the Natives and Black Merchants, and others with whom the ſaid Company have had dealings or correſpondence; and by ſuch means, and other violences, abuſes, and injuries, have extorted and forced great ſums of money, and other valuable effects, from ſuch injured perſons; who, by reaſon of the great diſtance from this kingdom, and the wholeſome laws thereof, and by reaſon that the ſaid Company have not been enabled to obtain and render ſatisfaction for ſuch injuries and miſdemeanors, are, and have been remedileſs: Now it is hereby agreed by and between the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, and the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that in caſe any ſum or ſums of money, goods or chattels whatſoever, ſhall at any time or times hereafter be extorted, forced, or taken by him the ſaid Peter Perring (either ſeparately or jointly with others) from any perſon or perſons whatſoever, within the ſaid Company's limits of trade, by the means or uſe of impriſonments, aſſaults, violences, menaces, or other force or compulſion whatſoever, then and as often as any ſuch offence or offences ſhall be committed, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for every perſon or perſons injured thereby, to make and ſend over complaints and atteſtations thereof in writing, to the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being; and that upon the receipt of ſuch complaints and atteſtations, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company for the time being, to enquire into the truth of the ſaid complaints by all ſuch ways and means as they ſhall think juſt and equitable, and thereupon to hear the matter of the ſaid complaint or complaints, and thereupon finally to judge and determine the ſame, and to award ſatisfaction and reparation to be made by the ſaid Peter Perring to the ſaid Company, for the benefit of ſuch injured perſons; and the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, well and truly to pay to the ſaid Company, at ſuch time or times as ſhall be limited by the ſaid Court of Directors (or the major part of them) for that purpoſe, all and every ſuch ſum and ſums of money as ſhall be ſo awarded by the ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, or the major part of them then aſſembled, to be paid as aforeſaid; but in truſt nevertheleſs, and to the intent, that the ſaid Company may and do render and pay over the monies received or recovered by them, to the parties injured or defrauded; which the ſaid Company accordingly hereby agree and covenant to do: And the ſaid Peter Perring doth furthermore for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, to pay and ſatisfy to the ſaid Company, for their own uſe and benefit, all ſuch damages as they ſhall have ſuſtained by reaſon or means of any ſuch offence or offences as aforeſaid. And foraſmuch as it frequently happens that the Preſident and Council, Agent and Council, Chief and Council, and ſeveral other ſubordinate Officers of ſeveral of the ſaid Company's factories abroad, have, by mutual influences on each other, ſettled, ſtated, and adjuſted amongſt themſelves, their own accounts with the ſaid Company, in order, as far as they could, to bar and preclude the ſaid Company from reviewing, altering, amending, correcting, or conteſting the ſame: Now it is hereby further declared, That all and every ſuch account and accounts, ſo at any time ſtated, balanced, ſigned, or adjuſted, by, between, or amongſt ſuch Preſidents and Councils, or Agents and Councils, or Chiefs and Councils, or other ſubordinate Officers, or any of them, and the ſaid Peter Perring, are hereby agreed to be, and ſhall at all times hereafter be taken and eſteemed to be, open accounts, formed and prepared only for the inſpection, peruſal, and approbation or correction of the ſaid Company, and ſhall not in any ſort or kind, or in any article thereof, bind or conclude the ſaid Company: And the ſaid Peter Perring doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that he the ſaid Peter Perring will not at any time during his reſidence in the Eaſt Indies, or within the ſaid Company's limits, directly or indirectly, trade, correſpond, traffic, deal with or for, or be in anywiſe aiding, aſſiſting, or employed as Agent or Factor by or for any foreign Company trading in or to the Eaſt Indies, or any perſon or perſons whatſoever who do or ſhall, during the continuance of theſe preſents, traffic, adventure, or trade to, in, or from the Eaſt Indies, or elſewhere within the limits of the ſaid Company's trade, by or under, or by virtue of any foreign commiſſion, licence, or authority whatſoever; nor ſhall or will, by himſelf or in conjunction with any perſon or perſons whatſoever, directly or indirectly, carry on, or uſe, or be concerned in any ſort of trade, traffic, or merchandize, either from Europe to the Eaſt Indies, or to any place within the ſaid Company's limits, between the Cape of Good Hope and the Streights of Magellan, or from the Eaſt Indies, or from any place within the ſaid Company's limits, to Europe, or to or from any place whatſoever, although not within the ſaid Company's limits of trade; ſave and except for and on account of the ſaid Company: And, in order to a diſcovery of and a ſatisfaction for ſuch illicit trade as aforeſaid, it is hereby agreed, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid

APPENDIX No. 2.

APPENDIX. No. 2.

ſaid United Company, and their ſucceſſors, to file any bill or bills of complaint or diſcovery, in His Majeſty's High Court of Chancery or Court of Exchequer, againſt him the ſaid Peter Perring, his executors and adminiſtrators; whereunto the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby agree, that neither he nor they ſhall or will demur or plead in bar of the diſcovery or relief ſought by ſuch bill or bills, that thereby he or they is, are, may, or ſhall become liable to any penalty or forfeiture, by force of any law or ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or otherwiſe howſoever, but ſhall make and put in a full and perfect anſwer and anſwers to all the parts thereof, and ſhall not, in ſuch anſwer and anſwers, inſiſt upon any penalty, forfeiture, law or ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or alledge any matter whatſoever, whereby to prevent, bar, or preclude the ſaid Company from the diſcovery or relief ſought or to be ſought by ſuch bill or bills as aforeſaid; but then and in ſuch caſe the ſaid United Company do hereby conſent to wave and diſclaim all and all manner of penalties and forfeitures that ſhall or may, in any kind or degree whatſoever, accrue or incur to them, upon or by reaſon of any diſcovery or diſcloſure ariſing by the ſaid anſwer or anſwers of the ſaid Peter Perring, his executors or adminiſtrators: And the ſaid United Company, for themſelves and their ſucceſſors, do agree to accept, and the ſaid Peter Perring doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, agree to account for and pay, or cauſe to be paid to or to the uſe of the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, as and for a full, ſtated, and adjuſted compenſation and ſatisfaction for the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid Company, upon account of the ſaid illicit trade, the ſum of one hundred pounds for every one hundred pounds value of all and every the goods and merchandizes traded or trafficked with or for, contrary to the true intent and meaning hereof. Provided always, and it is hereby expreſsly covenanted, declared, and agreed, between the parties to theſe preſents, and it is the true intent and meaning thereof, that in caſe the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall make default in any of the covenants hereinbefore contained, or ſhall embezzle any of the ſaid Company's money, goods, or effects, or be guilty of any breach of truſt towards the ſaid Company, or ſhall be concerned in buying, bartering, ſelling, or diſpoſing of any artillery, ordnance, muſquets, fire-arms, ammunition, or warlike ſtores, to or for the uſe of any Prince, Nabob, or Country Power in India, or of the Natives there, without the expreſs licence of the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors for the time being, or a majority of them, or of the ſaid Company's Preſident and Council at the reſpective ſettlement where ſuch buying, bartering, or ſelling ſhall be; or in caſe the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall at any time during the continuance of theſe preſents, without the like licence and authority as aforeſaid, hold correſpondence with any Prince, Nabob, or Country Power in India, or any of their Miniſters; or ſhall ſupply, lend to, or procure, for the uſe of any foreign Company trading in or to India, or any perſon or perſons trading under the licence or authority of ſuch foreign Company, any money at reſpondentia, or any other ſecurity, loan, or engagement whatſoever; that then, and in each and every of the ſaid caſes, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Company, and their ſaid Court of Directors for the time being, or the majority of them, or the Preſident and Council at the reſpective ſettlement where the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall be reſident or employed, and they are hereby reſpectively declared, to have full power and authority for that purpoſe, to ſuſpend or wholly diſmiſs the ſaid Peter Perring from the ſaid Company's ſervice and employment; the ſaid Peter Perring having firſt had notice given him of ſuch his offence or default, and a reaſonable time allowed him to make his defence againſt the ſame, and having been convicted thereof. And, for the more effectually carrying the ſaid laſt-mentioned covenant and agreement into execution, it is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents; and the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that in caſe of ſuch diſmiſſion from, or quitting and reſigning the ſaid Company's ſervice and employment, he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will, within one year after the ſame ſhall happen, or by the firſt paſſage that can be obtained after the expiration of the ſaid one year, tranſport himſelf, together with his Family, to Great Britain, in ſuch ſhip employed by the ſaid Company as ſhall be appointed for that purpoſe by the ſaid Company, or by their Court of Directors, or their Preſident and Council as aforeſaid; and ſhall not nor will, upon any account or pretence whatſoever, ſtay or continue any longer in the Eaſt Indies: And moreover, in caſe the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall make default in the ſaid laſt-mentioned covenant, the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby conſent and agree with the ſaid United Company, that from and immediately after ſuch default, it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors, or their Preſident and Council at the ſaid ſettlement where the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall reſide or be, to cauſe the ſaid Peter Perring to be apprehended and detained, and to put him and his Family on board any ſhip employed by the ſaid Company for the purpoſe of being tranſported to Great Britain; ſo nevertheleſs that no unneceſſary delay be ſought, nor any fit occaſion or opportunity loſt in ſo doing: And further, in caſe of ſuch apprehending, putting on board, and tranſporting the ſaid Peter Perring and his Family, in manner aforeſaid, the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby covenant, promiſe, and agree, to and with the ſaid United Company, that he the ſaid Peter Perring, his executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall not nor will commence, ſue, or proſecute the ſaid Company, or their Court of Directors, or any of their Preſidents and Council, Commanders or Officers of any ſuch ſhip, or any other perſon employed in any of the matters aforeſaid, in or by any action, ſuit, or other proſecution, civil or criminal, in reſpect of ſuch apprehending and detaining him the ſaid Peter Perring, or of putting on board and tranſporting him the ſaid Peter Perring and his Family to Great Britain, in manner aforeſaid; and in caſe any ſuch action, ſuit, or proſecution ſhall be commenced, ſued, or proſecuted, for any of the matters aforeſaid, the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the ſaid Company, that the general iſſue may be pleaded, and that this preſent Indenture, or any other ſpecial matter, may be given in evidence by any of the defendants in any ſuch ſuit, action, or proſecution. In witneſs whereof the ſaid United Company have to one part of theſe Indentures ſet their common ſeal, and the ſaid Peter Perring hath to the other part of the ſaid Indentures ſet his hand and ſeal, the day and year firſt above written.

P. Perring. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being ſtamped according to Act of Parliament) in the preſence of us,

John Whitehill.
The' Lewin.

I acknowledge to have read the within covenant before I executed the ſame.

(Signed) P. Perring.

Witneſs, (Signed) Sam' Johnſon.
John Whitehill.

(Copy.) 2d June 1777.

Covenant of Peter Perring, Eſquire, of Council at Fort Saint George, reſpecting Trade and Money Tranſactions.

This Indenture, made the ſecond day of June, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, and

APPENDIX No. 2.

ſo forth, and in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, Between the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the one part, and Peter Perring, of Fort Saint George, in the Eaſt Indies, Eſquire, of the other part, witneſſeth, That for and in conſideration of the ſaid Peter Perring being appointed one of the Members of the Council of the ſaid United Company's Preſidency of Fort Saint George, on the coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies, and for and in conſideration of the ſalary of ſixteen thouſand Pagodas by the year, agreed to be allowed and paid by the ſaid United Company to the ſaid Peter Perring, as one of the Members of the ſaid Council of the ſaid Preſidency as aforeſaid, he the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree, to and with the ſaid United Company, in manner and form following; that is to ſay, that he the ſaid Peter Perring, during the time he ſhall continue to be one of the Members of the Council of the ſaid Preſidency of Fort Saint George aforeſaid, ſhall not nor will, directly or indirectly, on any pretence or pretext whatſoever, by himſelf, or by any other perſon or perſons, of his or their uſe, or on his or their behalf, carry on or be concerned in, or have any dealing or tranſactions by way of traffic or commerce, in money or in goods of any kind whatſoever, for his or their uſe, benefit, profit, or advantage, or for the benefit or advantage of any other perſon or perſons whatſoever; ſave and except the trade and commerce of the ſaid United Company, to be carried on by him as one of the Members of the ſaid Council as aforeſaid, for the uſe and benefit of the ſaid Company; and alſo ſave and except the diſpoſal of ſuch goods and merchandize as ſhall be remaining on hand and unſold, belonging to him the ſaid Peter Perring at the time of his taking the ſaid office of one of the Members of the ſaid Council of Fort Saint George upon him; and alſo ſave and except the collecting and getting in ſuch debts as ſhall be owing to him the ſaid Peter Perring at that time, in reſpect of the trade and commerce heretofore carried on by him, or wherein he hath been concerned: And alſo that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will, within thirty days next after the time that he ſhall take upon him the ſaid office of one of the Members of the ſaid Council as aforeſaid, deliver to the Preſident and Governor and Council of the ſaid Preſidency, at the Council Board, a full and juſt ſpecification, upon oath, of the debts due to him the ſaid Peter Perring, in the courſe of the ſaid trade and commerce heretofore carried on by him, or wherein he hath been concerned, and of the goods, wares, merchandize, effects, and ſtock in trade, of which he or they ſhall be at that time poſſeſſed; and ſhall and will ſell and diſpoſe of ſuch goods, wares, merchandize, effects, and ſtock in trade, within the ſpace of nine months next after he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall take upon him the ſaid office or place of one of the Members of the ſaid Council, as aforeſaid: And alſo that he the ſaid Peter Perring, during the time he ſhall continue to be one of the Members of the ſaid Council as aforeſaid, or in any other ſtation or capacity in the ſervice of or under the protection of the ſaid United Company, ſhall not nor will lend money to any of the Country Powers in India, nor to any perſon or perſons holding any commiſſion or commiſſions under or employed by them, directly or indirectly, on any mortgage or mortgages, or on any ſecurity or ſecurities in the nature of mortgage or mortgages, upon lands, or upon the produce or any growing revenue of the country: And alſo that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will, within thirty days next after his taking upon him the ſaid office of one of the Members of the ſaid Council, and before he ſhall proceed to recover any ſuch monies as aforeſaid, deliver, or cauſe to be delivered, to the Preſident and Governor and Council of the ſaid Preſidency of Fort Saint George, at the Council Board, upon oath, a ſpecific and particular account of all ſuch loan and loans (if any) as at this time he the ſaid Peter Perring is concerned, and therein ſhall and will ſpecify and declare how ſuch loan or loans reſpectively is or are ſecured, and deſcribe the whole tranſaction from the beginning of ſuch loan: And alſo that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and will accept and take ſuch ſalary and allowance as are hereinbefore mentioned to be agreed to be paid and allowed to him, in hire and full ſatisfaction of all other fees of office, perquiſites, emoluments, and advantages whatſoever; that he ſhall not, nor will, directly or indirectly, on any pretext or pretence whatſoever, by himſelf, or by any other perſon or perſons for his uſe, accept or take any fees of office, perquiſites, emoluments, or advantages, whatſoever, other than and except the ſalary and allowances hereinbefore mentioned: And for the true performance of the covenants and agreements herein contained, on the part of him the ſaid Peter Perring, he the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby bind himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, unto the ſaid United Company in the ſum of twenty five thouſand pounds of lawful money of Great Britain: And, in order to a diſcovery of ſuch trading and trafficking, and of ſuch loan or loans, and of ſuch fees, perquiſites, emoluments, or advantages, carried on, made, accepted, or taken, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents, it is hereby covenanted and agreed, that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid United Company, to file any bill or bills of complaint, or diſcovery, in His Majeſty's High Court of Chancery, or Court of Exchequer in England, or in the Mayor's Court of Madras aforeſaid, againſt him the ſaid Peter Perring, for a diſcovery of any breach or breaches of all or any of the covenants herein contained, and for ſatisfaction of the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid Company on account thereof; whereonto the ſaid Peter Perring doth hereby covenant and agree, that he ſhall not nor will demand or plead in bar of the diſcovery or relief ſought by ſuch bill or bills, that thereby he is, may, or ſhall become liable to any penalty or forfeiture by force of any law, ſtatute, bond, covenant, or agreement, or otherwiſe howſoever, but ſhall put in a perfect anſwer and anſwers to all the parts thereof, and ſhall not, in any ſuch anſwer or anſwers, inſiſt upon any penalty, forfeiture, law, or ſtatutes, bond, covenant, or agreement, or alledge any matter whatſoever, whereby to prevent, bar, or preclude the ſaid United Company from the diſcovery or relief ſought, or to be ſought, by ſuch bill or bills as aforeſaid; but then and in ſuch caſe the ſaid United Company do hereby conſent to wave and diſclaim all and all manner of penalties and forfeitures which ſhall or may, in any kind or degree whatſoever, accrue or incur to them, upon or by reaſon of any diſcovery or diſcloſure ariſing by or from the ſaid anſwer or anſwers of the ſaid Peter Perring, other than except the ſum or ſums of money hereinafter agreed to be paid to the ſaid United Company, by way of ſatisfaction for the damages which the ſaid United Company ſhall or may ſuſtain, in reſpect of any breach or breaches of the covenants aforeſaid, or any of them: And the ſaid United Company for themſelves, do agree to accept and take, and the ſaid Peter Perring doth for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, agree to account for and pay, or cauſe to be paid, to or to the uſe of the ſaid United Company, as and for a full, ſtated, and adjuſted compenſation and ſatisfaction for the damages ſuſtained by the ſaid United Company, by reaſon or means of any breach or breaches, of any or either of the covenants and agreements hereinbefore contained on the part of the ſaid Peter Perring, the ſeveral and reſpective ſum or ſums of money hereinafter mentioned; (that is to ſay) the ſum of one hundred pounds for every one hundred pounds value, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer value, of all and every the goods, merchandize, and money, traded or trafficked with or for, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents; and the ſum of one hundred pounds, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer value, in reſpect of every one hundred dred pounds which ſhall be lent by the ſaid Peter Perring to any of the Princes in India, or their officers, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents; and the ſum of two hundred pounds in reſpect of every one hundred pounds, and ſo in proportion for any greater or leſſer ſum, which ſhall be accepted, received, or taken by him the ſaid Peter Perring, for any fee, perquiſite of office, emolument, or advantage whatſoever, over and beſides the ſalary and allowances hereinbefore mentioned to be agreed to be made to him. Provided always nevertheleſs, That ſuch bill or bills of complaint or diſcovery as aforeſaid, ſhall be filed within three years next after the breach of the covenants aforeſaid ſhall be made known to the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company, and the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall have quitted his ſaid office of one of the Members of the ſaid Council of Fort Saint George, or ſhall have been removed therefrom; and in default of ſuch bill or bills being filed within the ſaid three years from the time aforeſaid, the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall and may demur or plead thereto, in like manner as he might have done if he had not agreed to anſwer the ſame as aforeſaid. In witneſs whereof, the ſaid United Company have to one part of theſe Indentures ſet their common ſeal, and the ſaid Peter Perring hath to the other part of the ſaid Indenture ſet his hand and ſeal, the day and year firſt above written.

(Signed) P. Perring. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being firſt duly ſtamped) in the preſence of
Samuel Johnſon,
John Whitehey.

I acknowledge to have read the within Covenant, before I executed the ſame.
P. Perring.

Witneſs,
John Whitehey,
Samuel Johnſon.

(Copy.) 19 June 1777.

Covenant of Peter Perring, Eſquire, of Council at Fort St. George, reſpecting Preſents.

1776. Civil. 1000.

This Indenture, made the nineteenth day of June, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the grace of God, King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and ſo forth, and in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-ſeven, between Peter Perring, of Fort St. George in the Eaſt Indies, Eſquire, of the one part, and the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, of the other part: Whereas the ſaid Peter Perring is employed in the ſervice of the ſaid United Company as one of their Counſellors and Covenant Servants at their chief Settlement of Fort St. George, on the coaſt of Choromandel, in the Eaſt Indies; Now this Indenture witneſſeth, and the ſaid Peter Perring, in compliance with a Reſolution of a General Court of the ſaid United Company, and for and in conſideration of what he is or ſhall be entitled to receive from the ſaid Company, in reſpect of his ſaid ſervice, or in reſpect of any other ſtation, capacity, or employment in which the ſaid Peter Perring may hereafter be retained or employed by the ſaid United Company, or their Court of Directors, doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, and agree to and with the ſaid United Company, that he the ſaid Peter Perring ſhall not nor will, at any time or times hereafter, during his being employed in the ſaid Company's ſervice, in any ſtation or capacity whatſoever, either by himſelf or by any other perſon or perſons whomſoever in truſt for him or for his uſe, directly or indirectly, accept, take, or receive, or agree to accept, take or receive, any gift or grant of lands, or rents or revenues iſſuing out of lands, or any territorial poſſeſſion, juriſdiction, dominion, power or authority whatſoever, from any of the Indian Princes, Sovereigns, Subahs, or Nabobs, or any of their miniſters, ſervants, or agents, for any ſervice or ſervices, or upon any account or pretence whatſoever, nor ſhall or will, at any time or times hereafter during his being employed in the ſaid United Company's ſervice, in any ſtation or capacity whatſoever, either by himſelf or any other perſon or perſons whomſoever in truſt for him or for his uſe, directly or indirectly, accept, take, or receive, or agree to accept, take, or receive, any gift, reward, gratuity, allowance, donation, or compenſation, in money, effects, jewels, or otherwiſe howſoever, from any of the Indian Princes, Sovereigns, Subahs, or Nabobs, or any of their miniſters, ſervants, or agents, for any ſervice or ſervices performed or to be performed by the ſaid Peter Perring in India, upon any account and pretence whatſoever: And that all and every ſuch gifts or grants of lands, or rents or revenues iſſuing out of lands, or any ſuch territorial poſſeſſion, juriſdiction, dominion, power, or authority whatſoever; and all and every ſuch gifts, rewards, gratuities, allowances, donations, or compenſations whatſoever, which, contrary to the true intent and meaning of theſe preſents, ſhall come to the hands, poſſeſſion, or power of the ſaid Peter Perring, or any other perſon or perſons in truſt for him, or for his uſe as aforeſaid, ſhall be deemed and conſtrued to have been received and taken by him or them, for the ſole uſe of the ſaid United Company. In witneſs whereof to one part of theſe Indentures the ſaid Peter Perring hath ſet his hand and ſeal, and to the other part thereof the ſaid United Company have cauſed their common ſeal to be put the day and year above written.

P. Perring. (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered (being firſt duly ſtamped) in the preſence of
John Whitehill,
Tho. Lewin.

I acknowledge to have read the within Covenant, before I executed the ſame.
P. Perring.

Witneſs,

(Signed) { Sam^l Johnſon. / John Whitehill. }

APPENDIX, No. 3.

An Act for eſtabliſhing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the Eaſt India Company, as well in India as in Europe. 13 Geo. III. c. 63.

WHEREAS the ſeveral powers and authorities granted by charters to the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, have been found, by experience, not to have ſufficient force and efficacy to prevent various abuſes which have prevailed in the government and adminiſtration of the affairs of the ſaid United Company, as well at home as in India, to the manifeſt injury of the public credit, and of the commercial intereſts of the ſaid Company; and it is therefore become highly expedient that certain further regulations, better adapted to their preſent circumſtances and condition, ſhould be provided and eſtabliſhed: And whereas the electing and chuſing of Directors of the ſaid United Company every year, in ſuch manner as at preſent preſcribed by charter, has not anſwered the good purpoſes intended thereby, but, on the contrary, by limiting the duration of their office to ſo ſhort a time, evidently tends to weaken the authority of the Court of Directors, and to produce inſtability in the councils and meaſures of the ſaid Company; May it therefore pleaſe Your Majeſty that it may be Enacted; and Be it Enacted by the King's Moſt Excellent Majeſty, by and with the advice and conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority Preamble.

APPENDIX. No. 3.

At the next enſuing General Election, inſtead of 24, there ſhall be choſen 6 Directors for the term of one year, 6 for two years, 6 for three years, 6 for four years; and thenceforward 6 to be choſen yearly.

rity of the ſame, That at the next enſuing General Election of Directors of the ſaid United Company, inſtead of an election of twenty-four Directors to ſerve for the ſpace of one year only, there ſhall be choſen, in ſuch manner and order as the Directors of the ſaid United Company for the time being ſhall appoint, ſix Directors expreſsly for the term of one year, and ſix other Directors for the term of two years, and ſix other Directors for the term of three years, and the remaining ſix Directors for the term of four years, and not otherwiſe; and from thenceforth, yearly, and every year, and at the expiration of each and every of the ſaid terms reſpectively, ſix new Directors, and no more, ſhall be choſen, from time to time, in the place of ſuch Directors whoſe term ſhall have expired, and who are hereby declared incapable of being then re-choſen; and at every ſubſequent election, during the continuance of the charter of the ſaid United Company, ſix new Directors ſhall be choſen, and ſhall continue to be Directors for the term of four years, and no longer, to be accounted from the day on which the election of ſuch Directors was reſpectively made: And in caſe the office and authority of any ſuch Director ſhall become void by death, removal, or otherwiſe, another ſhall be choſen from time to time in his place, to ſerve as a Director during the remainder of ſuch term for which the perſon whoſe office ſhall have become void was choſen, and no longer.

No perſon employed in any office in the Eaſt Indies, ſhall be choſen into the office of Director, until he ſhall return and be reſident in England for two years.

And it is hereby further Enacted, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever, employed in any civil or military ſtation, office, or capacity whatſoever, in the Eaſt Indies, or claiming or exerciſing any power, authority, or juriſdiction therein, ſhall be capable of being appointed or choſen into the office of Director, until ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall have returned to and been reſident in England for the ſpace of two years; any law or uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

All transfers made in a collusive manner to qualify voters at elections,

And whereas it has been found, that the proviſion made by the charter of the tenth year of the reign of King William the Third, under which perſons poſſeſſed of five hundred pounds ſtock are entitled to vote in General Courts, has been productive of much inconvenience in the preſent ſituation of the Company, and tends to promote the miſchievous practice of making colluſive tranſfers, which practice hath not been ſufficiently prevented by the proviſion made by an Act of the ſeventh year of His preſent Majeſty's reign, whereby the right of voting is limited to perſons having been ſix calendar months in poſſeſſion of their ſtock; Be it further Enacted, That all tranſfers of ſtocks whatſoever made to any perſon or perſons in any fraudulent or colluſive manner, on purpoſe to qualify him, her, or them, to give his, her, or their vote or votes at any election of Members of the Court of Directors, or in any General Court of the ſaid United Company (ſubject nevertheleſs to conditions or agreements, either verbal or in writing, to defeat or determine ſuch tranſfers, or to re-tranſfer or return the ſame) ſhall be deemed and taken againſt thoſe perſons who tranſferred the ſame, as free and abſolute, and be holden and enjoyed by all and every ſuch perſon or perſons to whom ſuch tranſfer ſhall be made, as aforeſaid, freely and abſolutely acquitted, exonerated and diſcharged, of and from all manner of truſts, conditions, powers of revocation, proviſoes of redemption, or other defeazances between or with the ſaid parties, or any other perſon or perſons in truſt for them; and that all bonds, covenants, notes collateral, or other ſecurities, contracts, or agreements, between or with the ſaid parties, or any other perſon or perſons in truſt for them, or any of them, for the re-tranſferring, redeeming, revoking, or defeating ſuch tranſfer, or for the reſtoring or re-tranſferring thereof, or any part thereof, to any perſon or perſons who made ſuch tranſfer, or to any other perſon or perſons in truſt for them, or any of them, ſhall be null and void, to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever: And that every perſon to whom ſuch tranſfer ſhall have been made, and who ſhall have voted by virtue thereof at any election of Members of the Court of Directors, or in any General Court of the ſaid United Company, and who ſhall afterwards re-tranſfer or return the ſame, in conſequence of any truſt, condition, powers of revocation, proviſo of redemption, or other defeazance whatſoever, as aforeſaid, ſhall, for every ſuch offence, forfeit the ſum of one thouſand pounds; one moiety whereof ſhall go and be diſpoſed of, to any perſon who ſhall ſue for the ſame, and the other moiety to His Majeſty, His Heirs and Succeſſors; to be recovered, together with full coſts of ſuit, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of His Majeſty's Court of Records at Weſtminſter, wherein no eſſoin, privilege, protection, wager of law, or more than one imparlance, ſhall be admitted or allowed: And that from and after the firſt day of October one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-three, no Member or Proprietor of the ſaid United Company ſhall be deemed qualified or capable to vote, or be admitted to give any vote or votes, at any election of Directors, or at any General Court of the ſaid United Company, in reſpect of any ſtock amounting to leſs than one thouſand pounds, nor in reſpect of any transferred to him, her, or them; after the ſaid firſt day of October one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-three, until he, ſhe, or they, ſhall have been poſſeſſed of ſuch ſtock twelve calendar months, in his, her, or their own right, and not in truſt for any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, freed and diſcharged of all incumbrances which can or may affect the ſame; unleſs ſuch ſtock ſhall have been acquired, or ſhall have come to ſuch Proprietor by bequeſt, or by marriage, or by ſucceſſion to any inteſtate's eſtates, or by the cuſtom of the city of London, or by any deed of ſettlement after the death of any perſon who ſhall have been entitled for life to the dividends of ſuch ſtock; any law, ſtatute, or uſage, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

and all bonds, covenants, &c. with perſons in truſt, ſhall be null and void;

And every perſon to whom ſuch tranſfer ſhall have been made, or who ſhall have voted by virtue thereof, at any election, who ſhall afterwards re-tranſfer the ſame, in conſequence of any truſts, ſhall forfeit, for every offence, 1000l. to be recovered with full coſts, at Weſtminſter; and after Oct. 1, 1773, no Proprietor ſhall vote at any election of Directors in reſpect of ſtock, amounting to leſs than 1000l. nor until he ſhall have been poſſeſſed of ſuch, 12 calendar months.

Provided always, and be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Member or Proprietor of the ſaid United Company, who ſhall be poſſeſſed, for the time or term aforeſaid, in his or her own right, of three thouſand pounds capital ſtock of the ſaid Company, ſhall be entitled to give two votes at any election of Directors, or at any ballot of the ſaid Company; and every Member or Proprietor who ſhall be poſſeſſed, for the time or term aforeſaid, of ſix thouſand pounds, in his or her own right, ſhall be entitled to give three votes; and every Member or Proprietor who ſhall be poſſeſſed, for the time or term aforeſaid, of ten thouſand pounds, or more, ſhall be entitled to give four votes at ſuch election or ballot; and the oath and affirmation hereinafter reſpectively preſcribed, ſhall, as occaſion ſhall require, be altered in ſuch manner as ſhall be neceſſary to comprize ſuch right of voting.

Every Proprietor poſſeſſed of 3000l. capital ſtock, ſhall be entitled to two votes at any election; if poſſeſſed of 6000l. he ſhall have three votes; and when poſſeſſed of 10,000l. is entitled to four votes.

Provided always, and it is hereby further Enacted, That any Member or Proprietor of the ſaid United Company ſhall be deemed qualified or capable to vote, and ſhall be admitted to give his or her vote or votes, at any election of Directors, or at any General Court of the ſaid United Company, that ſhall be held after the firſt day of October, one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-three, in reſpect of any ſuch ſtock, not amounting to leſs than one thouſand pounds, whereof he or ſhe ſhall have been poſſeſſed from the ſaid firſt day of October, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding: And the oath and affirmation hereinafter reſpectively preſcribed ſhall be, as occaſion ſhall require, altered in ſuch manner in reſpect of the continuance of the poſſeſſion of ſuch ſtock as to comprize the time aforeſaid.

Every Member ſhall be deemed qualified to vote at elections of Directors, in reſpect of 1,000l. ſtock, after Oct. 1, 1773.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the firſt day of October one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-three, upon every election to be made of any Member or Members of the Court of Directors, and upon every ballot to be taken at any General Court of the ſaid United Company, every Member or Proprietor of the ſaid Company ſhall, before admitted to vote at ſuch election, or in ſuch General Court, firſt take the oath hereafter mentioned, before two or more

Upon election of Directors, every Proprietor ſhall, before admitted to vote, take the following oath.

more of the Directors of the ſaid United Company, who are hereby empowered to adminiſter ſuch oath; (that is to ſay)

"I, A. B. do ſwear, [or, being one of the people "called Quakers, do ſolemnly affirm] That the "ſum of one thouſand pounds, or more, of the "capital ſtock of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, "ſtanding in my name, doth at this time belong, "and hath for the ſpace of twelve calendar "months actually belonged to me, in my own "right, and not in truſt for any perſon or perſons whatſoever; and that I have been in the "actual receipt of the dividends and profits "thereof for my own uſe, freed and diſcharged "of all incumbrances which can or may affect "the ſame, for the ſaid ſpace of twelve calendar "months; or, that the ſame came to me within "the time aforeſaid, by bequeſt, or, by marriage, or, by ſucceſſion to an inteſtate's eſtate, "or, by the cuſtom of the city of London, or, by "ſettlement; and that ſuch ſtock has not been "transferred or made to me fraudulently or col"luſively on purpoſe to qualify me to give my "vote; and that I have not before given my "vote on this ballot.

"So help me GOD."

Perſons committing wilful perjury, or corruptly ſuborning others ſo to do, ſhall be liable to the penalties in Acts 5 Eliz. and 2 Geo. II.

And in caſe any perſon taking the oath or affirmation hereby appointed, ſhall thereby commit wilful perjury, and be thereof convicted; and if any perſon do unlawfully or corruptly procure or ſuborn any other perſon to take the ſaid oath or affirmation, in order to vote, whereby he or ſhe ſhall commit ſuch wilful perjury, and ſhall be thereof convicted, he, ſhe, and they, for every ſuch offence, ſhall incur ſuch pains and penalties as are in and by two Acts of Parliament, the one made in the fifth year of the late Queen Elizabeth, intituled, "An Act "for puniſhing ſuch perſons as ſhall procure or commit "wilful perjury, or ſuborn or procure any perſon to "commit any wilful or corrupt perjury;" the other made in the ſecond year of his Majeſty King George the Second, intituled, "An Act for the more effectual pre"venting and further puniſhment of forgery, perjury, "and ſubornation of perjury, and to make it felony to "ſteal bonds, notes, or other ſecurities, for payment of "money," directed to be inflicted for offences committed contrary to the ſaid Acts.

A Governor General and four Counſellors to be appointed, in whom the whole Civil and Military Government of Bengal, Bahar, and Oriſſa, ſhall be veſted.

And, for the better management of the ſaid United Company's affairs in India, Be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That for the Government of the Preſidency of Fort William in Bengal, there ſhall be appointed a Governor General, and four Counſellors; and that the whole Civil and Military Government of the ſaid Preſidency, and alſo the ordering, management, and government, of all the territorial acquiſitions and revenues in the kingdoms of Bengal, Bahar, and Oriſſa, ſhall, during ſuch time as the territorial acquiſitions and revenues ſhall remain in the poſſeſſion of the ſaid United Company, be, and are hereby veſted in the ſaid Governor General and Council of the ſaid Preſidency of Fort William in Bengal, in like manner, to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever, as the ſame now are, or at any time heretofore might have been exerciſed by the Preſident and Council, or Select Committee, in the ſaid kingdoms.

In caſe of difference of opinion, the deciſion of the major part to be concluſive; and in caſe of death, removal, or abſence, the Governor or eldeſt Counſellor to have a caſting vote.

And be it enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That in all caſes whatſoever, wherein any difference of opinion ſhall ariſe upon any queſtion propoſed in any conſultation, the ſaid Governor General and Council ſhall be bound and concluded by the opinion and deciſion of the major part of thoſe preſent: And if it ſhall happen, that by the death or removal, or by the abſence of any of the members of the ſaid Council, ſuch Governor General and Council ſhall happen to be equally divided, then, and in every ſuch caſe, the ſaid Governor General, or, in his abſence, the eldeſt Counſellor preſent, ſhall have a caſting voice, and his opinion ſhall be deciſive and concluſive.

Power of the Governor General and Council.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Governor General and Council, or the major part of them, ſhall have, and they are hereby authorized to have, power of ſuperintending and controlling the government and management of the Preſidencies of Madras, Bombay, and Bencoolen, reſpectively, ſo far and inſomuch as that it ſhall not be lawful for any Preſident and Council of Madras, Bombay, or Bencoolen, for the time being, to make any orders for commencing hoſtilities, or declaring or making War againſt any Indian Princes or Powers, or for negociating or concluding any Treaty of Peace, or other Treaty, with any ſuch Indian Princes or Powers, without the conſent and approbation of the ſaid Governor General and Council firſt had and obtained, except in ſuch caſes of imminent neceſſity as would render it dangerous to poſtpone ſuch hoſtilities or treaties until the orders from the Governor General and Council might arrive; and except in ſuch caſes where the ſaid Preſidents and Councils reſpectively ſhall have received ſpecial orders from the ſaid United Company; and any Preſident and Council of Madras, Bombay, or Bencoolen, who ſhall offend in any of the caſes aforeſaid, ſhall be liable to be ſuſpended from his or their office, by the order of the ſaid Governor General and Council; and every Preſident and Council of Madras, Bombay, and Bencoolen, for the time being, ſhall, and they are hereby reſpectively directed and required to pay due obedience to ſuch orders as they ſhall receive touching the premiſes, from the ſaid Governor General and Council for the time being, and conſtantly and diligently to tranſmit to the ſaid Governor General and Council, advice and intelligence of all tranſactions and matters whatſoever that ſhall come to their knowledge, relating to the government, revenues, or intereſt, of the ſaid United Company; and the ſaid Governor General and Council for the time being, ſhall, and they are hereby directed and required to pay due obedience to all ſuch orders as they ſhall receive from the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company, and to correſpond, from time to time, and conſtantly and diligently tranſmit to the ſaid Court, an exact particular of all advices or intelligence, and of all tranſactions and matters whatſoever, that ſhall come to their knowledge, relating to the government, commerce, revenues, or intereſt, of the ſaid United Company; and the Court of Directors of the ſaid Company, or their ſucceſſors, ſhall, and they are hereby directed and required, from time to time, before the expiration of fourteen days after the receiving any ſuch letters or advices, to give in and deliver unto the High Treaſurer, or Commiſſioners of His Majeſty's Treaſury for the time being, a true and exact copy of ſuch parts of the ſaid letters or advices as ſhall any way relate to the management of the revenues of the ſaid Company; and in like manner to give in and deliver to one of His Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State for the time being, a true and exact copy of all ſuch parts of the ſaid letters or advices as ſhall any way relate to the Civil or Military Affairs and Government of the ſaid Company; all which copies ſhall be fairly written, and ſhall be ſigned by two or more of the Directors of the ſaid Company.

Names of the firſt Governor General and Counſellors, who ſhall continue in office five years after their arrival at Fort William in Bengal.

And it is hereby further enacted, That Warren Haſtings, Eſquire, ſhall be the firſt Governor General; and that Lieutenant General John Clavering, the Honourable George Monſon, Richard Barwell, Eſquire, and Philip Francis, Eſquire, ſhall be the four firſt Counſellors; and they, and each of them, ſhall hold and continue in his and their reſpective offices, for and during the term of five years from the time of their arrival at Fort William in Bengal, and taking upon them the Government of the ſaid Preſidency, and ſhall not be removable, in the mean time, except by His Majeſty, His heirs, and ſucceſſors, upon repreſentation made by the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company for the time being: And in caſe of the avoidance of the office of ſuch Governor General

APPENDIX. No. 3.

General, by death, reſignation, or removal, his place ſhall, during the remainder of the term aforeſaid, as often as the caſe ſhall happen, be ſupplied by the perſon of the Council who ſtands next in rank to ſuch Governor General; and, in caſe of the death, removal, reſignation, or promotion, of any of the ſaid Council, the Directors of the ſaid United Company are hereby empowered, for and during the remainder of the ſaid term of five years, to nominate and appoint, by and with the conſent of His Majeſty, His heirs, and ſucceſſors, to be ſignified under His or their Sign Manual, a perſon to ſucceed to the office ſo become vacant in the ſaid Council; and, until ſuch appointment ſhall be made, all the powers and authorities veſted in the Governor General and Council, ſhall reſt and continue in, and be exerciſed and executed by, the Governor General and Council, remaining and ſurviving; and from and after the expiration of the ſaid term of five years, the power of nominating and removing the ſucceeding Governor General and Council ſhall be veſted in the Directors of the ſaid United Company.

Time when the proviſions relative to the Governor and Council ſhall commence.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid ſeveral proviſions, relating to the ſaid Governor General and Council, ſhall commence and take place from and immediately after the time that public proclamation ſhall be made of the arrival of the ſaid Governor General and Counſellors hereinbefore appointed, or any three of them, at Fort William in Bengal; which proclamation the ſaid Governor General and Council are hereby required to make.

The Company may appoint officers in purſuance of former Acts or Charters.

Provided always, That nothing in this Act ſhall extend, or be conſtrued to extend, to prevent, controul, or reſtrain, the ſaid United Company from conſtituting and appointing ſuch officers, factors, or agents, as they ſhall think proper and neceſſary, by virtue or in purſuance of any powers, rights, or privileges, granted to them by any former Act or Acts of Parliament, or by any charter or charters, for managing, conducting, and tranſacting the trade and commerce of the ſaid Company, at and within the ſaid Preſidency of Fort William in Bengal.

His Majeſty may, by Charter, or Letters Patent, eſtabliſh a Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William, &c.

And whereas his late Majeſty King George the Second did, by his letters patent, bearing date at Weſtminſter the eighth day of January, in the twenty-ſixth year of his reign, grant unto the ſaid United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, his Royal charter, thereby, amongſt other things, conſtituting and eſtabliſhing Courts of Civil, Criminal, and Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, at the ſaid United Company's reſpective Settlements at Madras, Patnam, Bombay on the iſland of Bombay, and Fort William in Bengal; which ſaid charter does not ſufficiently provide for the due adminiſtration of Juſtice in ſuch manner as the ſtate and condition of the Company's Preſidency of Fort William in Bengal, ſo long as the ſaid Company ſhall continue in the poſſeſſion of the territorial acquiſitions before-mentioned, do and muſt require; Be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful for His Majeſty, by charter, or letters patent under the great ſeal of Great Britain, to erect and eſtabliſh a Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William aforeſaid, to conſiſt of a Chief Juſtice and three other Judges, being Barriſters in England or Ireland of not leſs than five years ſtanding, to be named from time to time by His Majeſty, His heirs and ſucceſſors; which ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature ſhall have, and the ſame Court is hereby declared to have, full power and authority to exerciſe and perform all civil, criminal, Admiralty, and Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, and to appoint ſuch Clerks and other miniſterial Officers of the ſaid Court, with ſuch reaſonable ſalaries, as ſhall be approved of by the ſaid Governor General in Council; and to form and eſtabliſh ſuch rules of practice, and ſuch rules for the proceſs of the ſaid Court, and to do all ſuch other things as ſhall be found neceſſary for the adminiſtration of Juſtice, and the due execution of all or any of the powers which, by the ſaid charter, ſhall or may be granted and committed to the ſaid Court; and alſo ſhall be, at all times, a Court of Record, and ſhall be a Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, in and for the ſaid town of Calcutta, and factory of Fort William in Bengal aforeſaid, and the limits thereof, and the factories ſubordinate thereto.

to conſiſt of a Chief Juſtice and three other Judges.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid new charter, which His Majeſty is hereinbefore empowered to grant, and the juriſdiction, powers, and authorities to be thereby eſtabliſhed, ſhall and may extend to all Britiſh ſubjects who ſhall reſide in the kingdoms or provinces of Bengal, Bahar, and Oriſſa, or any of them, under the protection of the ſaid United Company; and the ſame charter ſhall be competent and effectual: And the Supreme Court of Judicature, therein and thereby to be eſtabliſhed, ſhall have full power and authority to hear and determine all complaints againſt any of His Majeſty's ſubjects, for any crimes, miſdemeanors, or oppreſſions committed, or to be committed; and alſo to entertain, hear, and determine any ſuits or actions whatſoever, againſt any of His Majeſty's ſubjects in Bengal, Bahar, and Oriſſa, and any ſuit, action, or complaint, againſt any perſon who ſhall, at the time when ſuch debt or cauſe of action or complaint, ſhall have ariſen, have been employed by, or ſhall then have been, directly or indirectly, in the ſervice of the ſaid United Company, or any of His Majeſty's ſubjects.

Extent of the juriſdiction and powers of His Majeſty's charter; and of the Supreme Court of Judicature.

The Supreme Court not competent to hear and determine Indictments and Informations againſt the Governor General, &c.

Provided alſo, That the ſaid Court ſhall not be competent to hear, try, or determine, any indictment or information againſt the ſaid Governor General, or any of the ſaid Council for the time being, for any offence (not being treaſon or felony) which ſuch Governor General, or any of the ſaid Council, ſhall or may be charged with having committed in Bengal, Bahar, and Oriſſa.

Limitation of actions before the ſaid Court.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That the ſaid Supreme Court ſhall hear and determine any ſuits or actions whatſoever of any of His Majeſty's ſubjects, againſt any inhabitant of India reſiding in any of the ſaid kingdoms or provinces of Bengal, Bahar, and Oriſſa, or any of them, upon any contract or agreement in writing, entered into by any of the ſaid inhabitants with any of His Majeſty's ſaid ſubjects, where the cauſe of action ſhall exceed the ſum of Five hundred current Rupees; and where the ſaid inhabitant ſhall have agreed in the ſaid contract, that, in caſe of diſpute, the matter ſhall be heard and determined in the ſaid Supreme Court; and all ſuch ſuits or actions may be brought, in the firſt inſtance, before the ſaid Court, or by appeal from the ſentence of any of the Courts eſtabliſhed in the ſaid Provinces, or any of them.

The Governor General, Council, &c. not ſubject to be arreſted or impriſoned.

And it is hereby further enacted and provided, That nothing in this Act ſhall extend to ſubject the perſon of the Governor General, or of any of the ſaid Council or Chief Juſtice and Judges reſpectively for the time being, to be arreſted or impriſoned upon any action, ſuit, or proceeding, in the ſaid Court.

Appeal may be made to His Majeſty in Council.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be directed, in and by the ſaid new charter, which His Majeſty is hereinbefore empowered to grant, that in caſe any perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhall think himſelf, herſelf, or themſelves, aggrieved by any judgment or determination of the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature, to be eſtabliſhed as aforeſaid, he, ſhe, or they ſhall and may appeal from ſuch judgment or determination to His Majeſty in Council, His heirs or ſucceſſors, within ſuch time, in ſuch manner, and in ſuch caſes, and on ſuch ſecurity, as His Majeſty, in His ſaid charter, ſhall judge proper and reaſonable to be appointed and preſcribed.

So much of the charter granted by Geo. II. (ſhould a new charter be granted) to be repealed;

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That ſo much of the ſaid charter, granted by his ſaid late Majeſty, as reſpects or relates to the eſtabliſhment of the Mayor's Court at Calcutta aforeſaid, in Bengal, or to the civil, criminal, or eccleſiaſtical juriſdiction thereof, in the ſaid United Company's Settlement there, or the ſubordinates thereunto belonging, in caſe a new charter ſhall be granted by His Majeſty in purſuance of this Act, and ſhall be openly publiſhed at Fort William aforeſaid, from and immediately after ſuch publication ſhall ceaſe, determine, and be abſolutely void to all intents and purpoſes:

APPENDIX. No. 3.

otherwiſe to be in full force.

But nevertheleſs, the ſaid charter, ſo granted by his ſaid late Majeſty, ſhall, in all other reſpects, and as for and concerning all or any other of the ſaid Company's principal Preſidencies or Settlements to which the ſame relates, or to any factories or places now or hereafter to be ſubordinate to ſuch principal Settlements, continue, be, and remain in full force and virtue, according to the true intent and meaning thereof, and that as fully and effectually, to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever, as if this Act had never been made, or ſuch new charter, as aforeſaid, ſhould never have been granted.

All records and muniments belonging to the Mayor's Court at Calcutta, &c. to be delivered to, and preſerved by, the new Court.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That all the records, muniments, and proceedings whatſoever, of and belonging to the ſaid Mayor's Court at Calcutta aforeſaid, or to the Courts of Over and Terminer and Gaol Delivery at Fort William aforeſaid, eſtabliſhed by the ſaid charter of his ſaid late Majeſty, ſhall, from and immediately after ſuch Court of Judicature, which His Majeſty is hereinbefore empowered to erect, ſhall be eſtabliſhed at Fort William as aforeſaid, be delivered over, preſerved, and depoſited for ſafe cuſtody, in the ſaid new Court of Judicature; to which all parties concerned ſhall and may reſort and have recourſe, upon application to the ſaid Court.

Salaries eſtabliſhed to the Governor General, Council, Chief Juſtice, and Judges.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That during ſuch time as the territorial acquiſitions ſhall remain in the poſſeſſion of the ſaid Company, the Court of Directors of the ſaid United Company ſhall, and they are hereby required to direct, and cauſe to be paid, certain and eſtabliſhed ſalaries to the Governor General, and to each of the Council of the ſaid United Company's Preſidency of Fort William in Bengal, and to the Chief Juſtice, and each of the Judges of ſuch Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William, as ſhall be by the ſaid new charter eſtabliſhed; (that is to ſay), to the Governor General Twenty-five thouſand Pounds by the year, and to each of the Council of the ſaid United Company's Preſidency of Fort William in Bengal, Ten thouſand Pounds by the year; and to the Chief Juſtice Eight thouſand Pounds by the year; and to each of the Judges of the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William, Six thouſand Pounds by the year: And that ſuch ſalaries ſhall be paid and payable to each and every of them reſpectively for the time being, out of the ſaid territorial acquiſitions in the kingdoms of Bengal, Bahar, and Oriſſa.

When ſuch ſalaries ſhall commence.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the ſalaries of ſuch Governor General and Council, and of ſuch Chief Juſtice and Judges of ſuch Supreme Court of Judicature as aforeſaid, ſhall take place and commence, in reſpect to all ſuch perſons who ſhall be reſident in Great Britain at the time of their appointment, upon and from the day on which ſuch perſon ſhall embark from Great Britain; and that the ſalaries of all ſuch perſons who ſhall, at the time of their appointment, be reſident in India, ſhall commence and take place from and after their reſpectively taking upon them the execution of their office as aforeſaid; and that all ſuch ſalaries to ſuch Governor General and Council, and of ſuch Chief Juſtice and Judges, ſhall be in lieu of all fees of office, perquiſites, emoluments, and advantages whatſoever; and that no fees of office, perquiſites, emoluments, or advantages whatſoever, ſhall be accepted, received, or taken, by ſuch Governor General and Council, or by ſuch Chief Juſtice and Judges, as aforeſaid, or any of them, in any manner, or on any account or pretence whatſoever, other than ſuch ſalaries and allowances as are to and by this Act directed to be paid to them reſpectively.

The Governor General or Council ſhall not accept of any preſent;

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That no Governor General, or any of the Council of the ſaid United Company's Preſidency of Fort William in Bengal, or any Chief Juſtice, or any of the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William aforeſaid, ſhall, directly or indirectly, by themſelves, or by any other perſon or perſons for his or their uſe, or on his or their behalf, accept, receive, or take, of or from any perſon or perſons, in any manner, or on any account whatſoever, any preſent, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward, pecuniary or otherwiſe, or any promiſe or engagement for any preſent, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward; and that no Governor General, or any of the ſaid Council, or any Chief Juſtice or Judge of the ſaid Court, ſhall carry on, be concerned in, or have any dealing or tranſactions, by way of traffic or commerce of any kind whatſoever, either for his or their uſe or benefit, profit, or advantage, or for the benefit or advantage of any other perſon or perſons whatſoever (the trade and commerce of the ſaid United Company only excepted); any uſage or cuſtom to the contrary thereof in anywiſe notwithſtanding.

nor be concerned in any tranſaction by way of traffic.

No perſon holding a civil or military office under the the Crown, &c. ſhall accept any donation or gratuity.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the firſt day of Auguſt one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-four, no perſon holding or exerciſing any civil or military office under the Crown, or the ſaid United Company, in the Eaſt Indies, ſhall accept, receive, or take, directly or indirectly, by himſelf, or any other perſon or perſons on his behalf, or for his uſe or benefit, of and from any of the Indian Princes or Powers, or their Miniſters or Agents, (or any of the natives of Aſia) any preſent, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward, pecuniary or otherwiſe, upon any account or on any pretence whatſoever; or any promiſe or engagement for any preſent, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward: And if any perſon, holding or exerciſing any ſuch civil or military office, ſhall be guilty of any ſuch offence, and ſhall be thereof legally convicted in ſuch Supreme Court at Calcutta, or in the Mayor's Court in any other of the ſaid United Company's Settlements, where ſuch offence ſhall have been committed; every ſuch perſon, ſo convicted, ſhall forfeit double the value of ſuch preſent, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward, ſo taken and received; one moiety of which forfeiture ſhall be to the ſaid United Company, and the other moiety to him or them who ſhall inform or proſecute for the ſame; and alſo ſhall and may be ſent to England, by the order of the Governor and Council of the Preſidency or Settlement where the offender ſhall be convicted, unleſs ſuch perſon ſo convicted ſhall give ſufficient ſecurity to remove him or themſelves within twelve months after ſuch conviction.

Counſellors, Phyſicians, Surgeons, and Chaplains, excepted.

Provided always, and be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That nothing herein contained ſhall extend, or be conſtrued to extend, to prohibit or prevent any perſon or perſons who ſhall carry on or exerciſe the profeſſion of a Counſellor at Law, a Phyſician, or a Surgeon, or being a Chaplain, from accepting, taking, or receiving any fees, gratuities, or rewards, in the way of their profeſſion.

The Company may proſecute and recover any gift upon waving forfeitures.

And it is hereby further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch preſent, gift, gratuity, donation, or reward, accepted, taken, or received, and all ſuch dealing or tranſaction by way of traffic or commerce, of any kind whatſoever, carried on contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Act, ſhall be deemed and conſtrued to have been received, taken, had, and done, to and for the ſole uſe of the ſaid United Company; and that the ſaid United Company, upon waving all penalties and forfeitures, ſhall and may ſue and proſecute for the recovery of the ſame, or the full value of ſuch preſent or gift, or the profits of ſuch trade reſpectively, together with intereſt at the rate of Five Pounds per centum per annum, from the time of ſuch preſent, gift, gratuity, donation, or reward being received, or of ſuch dealing or tranſaction by way of traffic or commerce, as aforeſaid, by action for money had and received to the uſe of the ſaid Company.

No Collector, Supervifor, &c. to buy goods by way of trade.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the firſt day of Auguſt one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-four, it ſhall not be lawful for any Collector, Supervifor, or any other of His Majeſty's ſubjects, employed or concerned in the collection of the Revenues, or the adminiſtration of Juſtice, in the provinces of Bengal, Bahar, or Oriſſa, or their agents or ſervants, or any perſon or perſons in truſt for them, to buy buy

APPENDIX No. 3.

buy any goods, wares, merchandize, or other commodities whatsoever, by way of traffic or trade, at any place within the provinces of Bengal, Babar, and Oriſſa, and to ſell the ſame again, or any part thereof, at the place where he or they bought the ſame, or at any other place within the ſaid Provinces reſpectively; and it ſhall not be lawful for any of His Majeſty's ſubjects in the ſaid Provinces, to engage, intermeddle, or be any way concerned, directly or indirectly, in the inland trade, in ſalt, beetle-nut, tobacco, or rice, except on the account of the ſaid United Company, on pain of forfeiting all ſuch goods or commodities which he ſhall ſo buy and ſell again by way of traffic, or in which he ſhall ſo trade, and alſo treble the value thereof; one moiety to the ſaid United Company, and the other moiety to him or them who will ſue for the ſame in the ſaid Supreme Court; and every ſuch perſon, on conviction, ſhall moreover be liable to be ſent to England, by ſuch order as aforeſaid, unleſs he or they ſhall give ſufficient ſecurity to remove him or themſelves within twelve months after ſuch conviction.

Not to reſtrain His Majeſty's ſubjects not herein prohibited.

Provided always, That nothing herein contained ſhall extend, or be conſtrued to extend, to prohibit or reſtrain any of His Majeſty's ſubjects, or any perſon or perſons whatſoever (except ſuch perſons as are by this Act prohibited and reſtrained from being concerned in trade) from carrying on or exerciſing any trade or traffic within Fort William, and the town of Calcutta.

Not to extend to outſtanding debts, nor to ſelling merchandizes poſſeſſed by perſons before ſuch prohibition take place.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That nothing herein contained ſhall extend, or be conſtrued to extend, to prohibit or prevent any ſuch perſon or perſons, who is, are, or ſhall be hereby reſtrained from carrying on any trade, or being concerned in the buying or ſelling any goods, wares, merchandizes, or other commodities whatſoever, by way of traffic or trade as aforeſaid, or from being any way concerned in the inland trade in ſalt, beetle-nut, tobacco, or rice, from collecting in their outſtanding debts, or from ſelling and diſpoſing of the goods, wares, merchandizes, effects, and ſtock in trade, of which ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall ſeverally be poſſeſſed, at the time when ſuch prohibition ſhall reſpectively take place; ſo as each ſuch perſon or perſons who, by this Act is, are, or ſhall be ſo reſtrained, ſhall, and each and every of them reſpectively do, deliver in to ſuch Governor General and Council of the provinces of Bengal, Babar, and Oriſſa aforeſaid, within thirty days from the time when ſuch reſtriction and prohibition ſhall take place, as aforeſaid, a full, true, and juſt ſpecification, upon oath, of the goods, wares, merchandizes, effects, and ſtock in trade, of which he or they ſhall be at that time ſo reſpectively poſſeſſed; and ſo as ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall and do ſell and diſpoſe of ſuch goods, wares, merchandizes, effects, and ſtock in trade, within the ſpace of nine months after ſuch reſtriction and prohibition as aforeſaid, ſhall commence and take place; and ſo as no new trade or concern in commerce or merchandize be entered into, contracted for, or carried on, by ſuch perſon or perſons.

No perſon ſhall take on loan or money above the rate of 12 per cent. per annum.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That no ſubject of His Majeſty, His heirs and ſucceſſors, in the Eaſt Indies, ſhall, upon any contract which ſhall be made from and after the ſaid firſt day of Auguſt one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-four, take, directly or indirectly, for loan of any monies, wares, merchandize, or other commodities whatſoever, above the value of Twelve Pounds for the forbearance of One hundred Pounds for a year, and ſo after that rate for a greater or leſſer ſum, or for a longer or ſhorter time; and that all bonds, contracts, and aſſurances whatſoever, made after the time aforeſaid, for payment of any principal, or money to be lent or covenanted to be performed upon, or for any uſury, whereupon or whereby there ſhall be reſerved or taken above the rate of Twelve Pounds in the Hundred, as aforeſaid, ſhall be utterly void: And all and every ſuch perſon or perſons whatſoever who ſhall, after the time aforeſaid, upon any contract to be made after the ſaid firſt day of Auguſt one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-four, take, accept, and receive, by way or means of any corrupt bargain, loan, exchange, ſhift, or intereſt, of any wares, merchandizes, or other thing or things whatſoever, or by any deceitful way or mean, or by any covin, engine, or deceitful conveyance, for the forbearing or giving day of payment for one whole year, of and for their money or other thing above the ſum of Twelve Pounds for the forbearing of One hundred Pounds for a year, and ſo after that rate for a greater or leſſer ſum, or for a longer or ſhorter term, ſhall forfeit and loſe, for every ſuch offence, treble the value of the monies, wares, merchandizes, and other things ſo lent, bargained, exchanged, or ſhifted, with coſts of ſuit; one moiety whereof ſhall be to the ſaid United Company, and the other moiety to him or them who will ſue for the ſame in the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Calcutta, or in the Mayor's Court in any other of the ſaid United Company's Settlements where ſuch offence ſhall have been committed, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in which no eſſoin, wager of law, or protection, ſhall be allowed; and in caſe no ſuch action, bill, plaint, or information, ſhall have been brought and proſecuted with effect within three years, that then it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the party aggrieved to ſue and proſecute for recovery of all ſums of money paid over and above ſuch rate of intereſt.

Perſons by covin accepting loans, &c. ſhall forfeit, for every offence, treble the value.

One moiety to go to the Company, and the other to the Proſecutor.

Perſons making compoſitions contrary to the meaning of the Act.

And be it further Enacted, That no Informer or Plaintiff ſhall or may compound or agree with any perſon or perſons that ſhall offend, or ſhall be ſurmiſed to offend, againſt this Act, for any offence committed, or pretended to be committed, before anſwer made in the ſaid Supreme Court, unto the information or ſuit in that behalf exhibited or proſecuted, nor after anſwer, but by the order or conſent of the ſaid Court, on pain that if any perſon or perſons ſhall offend in making of any compoſition or agreement, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Act, or ſhall, by colour or pretence of proceſs, or without proceſs upon colour or pretence of any matter of offence againſt this Act, make any compoſition, or take any money, reward, or promiſe of reward, for himſelf, or to the uſe of any other, without order or conſent of the ſaid Court; that then he or they ſo offending, being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall, for every ſuch offence, be liable to be fined and impriſoned at the diſcretion of the ſaid Court.

liable to be impriſoned, at the diſcretion of the Court.

Perſons who may be diſmiſſed the ſervice, or reſign, &c.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the ſaid firſt day of Auguſt one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-four, it ſhall not be lawful for any perſon or perſons whatſoever, who ſhall have been diſmiſſed from, or ſhall have voluntarily reſigned, the ſervice of the ſaid United Company, or for any free merchant, free mariner, or other perſon, whoſe covenants or agreements with the ſaid United Company for reſiding or trading in India ſhall be expired, from thenceforth to carry on or be in anywiſe concerned in any trade, traffic, merchandize, or commerce whatſoever, in the Eaſt Indies, other than for the diſpoſal of his or their ſtock in hand, without the licence of the ſaid United Company, or the Governor General and Council of the Preſidency of Fort William in Bengal, or the Preſident and Council at the place or ſettlement where ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall reſide, for that purpoſe firſt had and obtained.

not to be concerned in any traffic, other than for diſpoſal of ſtock in hand.

Servants of the Company proſecuted for breaches of truſt, on conviction, to be fined or impriſoned, at the diſcretion of the Courts.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the ſaid firſt day of Auguſt one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-four, if any of His Majeſty's ſubjects in India, employed by, or in the actual ſervice of, the ſaid United Company, ſhall be charged with and proſecuted for any breach of public truſt, or for embezzlement of public money or ſtores, or for defrauding the ſaid United Company; every ſuch offender, being convicted thereof in the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature, or in any Court of Judicature in any other Preſidency or ſettlement in India, may be fined and impriſoned, and adjudged to be for ever after incapable of ſerving

APPENDIX No. 3.

ſerving the ſaid United Company, at the diſcretion of the Court before which he ſhall be tried; and immediately after the ſentence of ſuch Court ſhall have been executed and inflicted, ſhall and may be ſent over to England, by ſuch order, and in ſuch manner, as is hereinbefore mentioned and directed, unleſs he ſhall remove himſelf within twelve months, and, in the mean time, give ſufficient ſecurity ſo to do.

Offences to be tried by a Jury of Britiſh ſubjects.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That all offences and miſdemeanors which ſhall be laid, tried, and enquired of in the ſaid Supreme Court, ſhall be tried by a jury of Britiſh ſubjects reſident in the town of Calcutta, and not otherwiſe.

The Company may not compound or diſcharge ſentences of the Supreme Court, &c. without the conſent of 3-4ths of the Proprietors.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That after any judgment of the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature, or of any Court of Judicature at any of the ſaid United Company's ſettlements, againſt any of the ſaid United Company's Servants, civil or military, for any debt or penalty due or belonging to the ſaid United Company, ſhall be made known to the Court of Directors for the time being of the ſaid United Company, it ſhall not be lawful to releaſe or compound ſuch ſentence or judgment, or to releaſe, diſcharge, or put a ſtop to any proſecution, ſuit, or action, commenced, or to be commenced, for carrying on any illicit trade, or for any debt or penalty due to the ſaid United Company, or to reſtore any Servant or Servants whatever of the ſaid Company, who ſhall have been removed or diſmiſſed from his or their office or employment, for or upon account of any miſbehaviour, without the conſent of three parts in four of the ſaid Court of Directors, to be taken by ballot, and alſo the conſent of three parts of four in number of the Proprietors of the ſaid United Company, who ſhall be preſent, and give their votes by ballot, to be taken at a General Court to be ſpecially called for that purpoſe, and of which fourteen days public notice, at the leaſt, ſhall be given before the holding the ſame, and of the particular occaſion for which ſuch General Court ſhall be called.

Governor General and Council may make ſuch regulations as may appear fit;

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful for the Governor General and Council of the ſaid United Company's ſettlement at Fort William in Bengal, from time to time, to make and iſſue ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations, for the good order and civil government of the ſaid United Company's ſettlement at Fort William aforeſaid, and other factories and places ſubordinate, or to be ſubordinate thereto, as ſhall be deemed juſt and reaſonable (ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations, not being repugnant to the laws of the realm) and to ſet, impoſe, inflict, and levy, reaſonable fines and forfeitures for the breach or non-obſervance of ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations; but nevertheleſs the ſame, or any of them, ſhall not be valid, or of any force or effect, until the ſame ſhall be duly regiſtered and publiſhed in the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature, which ſhall be, by the ſaid new charter, eſtabliſhed with the conſent and approbation of the ſaid Court; which regiſtry ſhall not be made until the expiration of twenty days after the ſame ſhall be openly publiſhed, and a copy thereof affixed in ſome conſpicuous part of the court-houſe or place where the ſaid Supreme Court ſhall be held; and from and immediately after ſuch regiſtry as aforeſaid, the ſame ſhall be good and valid in law: But, nevertheleſs, it ſhall be lawful for any perſon or perſons in India to appeal therefrom to His Majeſty, His Heirs or Succeſſors, in Council, who are hereby empowered, if they think fit, to ſet aſide and repeal any ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations reſpectively, ſo as ſuch appeal, or notice thereof, be lodged in the ſaid new Court of Judicature, within the ſpace of ſixty days after the time of the regiſtering and publiſhing the ſame; and it ſhall be lawful for any perſon or perſons in England to appeal therefrom, in like manner, within ſixty days after the publiſhing the ſame in England; and it is hereby directed and required, that a copy of all ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations, which ſhall not be valid until duly regiſtered in the Supreme Court,

Appeals may be made to the King in Council, who may repeal ſuch rules;

and a copy of all regulations to be affixed in the India Houſe.

from time to time, as the ſame ſhall be ſo received, ſhall be affixed in ſome conſpicuous and public place in the India Houſe, there to remain and be reſorted to as occaſion ſhall require; yet, nevertheleſs, ſuch appeal ſhall not obſtruct, impede, or hinder the immediate execution of any rule, ordinance, or regulation, ſo made and regiſtered as aforeſaid, until the ſame ſhall appear to have been ſet aſide or repealed, upon the hearing and determination of ſuch appeal.

Governor General and Council to tranſmit copies of their rules to one of the Secretaries of State;

Provided always, and be it enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Governor General and Council ſhall, and they are hereby required, from time to time, to tranſmit copies of all ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations, as they ſhall make and iſſue, to one of His Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State for the time being; and that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for His Majeſty, His Heirs and Succeſſors, from time to time, as they ſhall think neceſſary, to ſignify to the ſaid United Company, under his or their ſign manual, his or their diſapprobation and diſallowance of all ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations; and that from and immediately after the time that ſuch diſapprobation ſhall be duly regiſtered and publiſhed in the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, all ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations, ſhall be null and void; but in caſe His Majeſty, His Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall not, within the ſpace of two years from the making of ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations, ſignify his or their diſapprobation or diſallowance thereof, as aforeſaid, that then and in that caſe all ſuch rules, ordinances, and regulations, ſhall be valid and effectual, and have full force.

which, if His Majeſty does not ſignify His diſallowance of, ſhall have full force.

Governor General and Council to act as Juſtices of the Peace.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the Governor General and Council for the time being of the ſaid United Company's ſettlement at Fort William aforeſaid, and the Chief Juſtice and other Judges of the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature, ſhall and may, and they are hereby reſpectively declared to be and to have full power and authority to act as Juſtices of the Peace for the ſaid ſettlement, and for the ſeveral ſettlements and factories ſubordinate thereto; and to do and tranſact all matters and things which to the office of a Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace do belong and appertain; and for that purpoſe the ſaid Governor General and Council are hereby authorized and empowered to hold quarter ſeſſions within the ſaid ſettlement of Fort William aforeſaid, four times in every year, and the ſame ſhall be at all times a Court of Record.

If the Governor General, Preſident, &c. commit offences, the ſame may be tried and determined in the Court of King's Bench.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That if any Governor General, Preſident, or Governor or Council of any of the ſaid Company's principal or other ſettlements in India, or the Chief Juſtice, or any of the Judges of the ſaid Supreme Court of Judicature, to be by the ſaid new charter eſtabliſhed, or of any other Court in any of the ſaid United Company's ſettlements, or any other perſon or perſons who now are, or heretofore have been employed by or in the ſervice of the ſaid United Company, in any civil or military ſtation, office, or capacity, or who have or claim, or heretofore have had or claimed, any power or authority, or juriſdiction, by or from the ſaid United Company, or any of His Majeſty's ſubjects reſiding in India, ſhall commit any offence againſt this act, or ſhall have been, or ſhall be guilty of, any crime, miſdemeanour, or offence, committed againſt any of His Majeſty's ſubjects, or any of the inhabitants of India, within their reſpective juriſdictions, all ſuch crimes, offences, and miſdemeanours, may be reſpectively enquired of, heard, tried, and determined, in His Majeſty's Court of King's Bench; and all ſuch perſons ſo offending, and not having been before tried for the ſame offence in India, ſhall, on conviction in any ſuch caſe as is not ſpecially provided for by this Act, be liable to ſuch fine or corporal puniſhment as the ſaid Court ſhall think fit; and moreover ſhall be liable, at the diſcretion of the ſaid Court, to be adjudged to be incapable of ſerving the ſaid United Company in any office, civil or military; and all and every ſuch crimes, offences, and misdemeanours, as aforesaid, may be alledged to be committed, and may be laid, enquired of, and tried in the county of Middlesex.

APPENDIX. No. 3.

Manner of procedure in cases of indictments and informations laid in the King's Bench.

And whereas the provisions made by former laws for the hearing and determining, in England, offences committed in India, have been found ineffectual, by reason of the difficulty of proving in this kingdom matters done there: Be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That in all cases of indictments or informations, laid or exhibited in the said Court of King's Bench, for misdemeanors or offences committed in India, it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty's said Court, upon motion to be made on behalf of the prosecutor, or of the defendant or defendants, to award a writ or writs of Mandamus, requiring the Chief Justice and Judges of the said Supreme Court of Judicature for the time being, or the Judges of the Mayor's Court at Madras, Bombay, or Bencoolen, as the case may require, who are hereby respectively authorized and required accordingly to hold a Court, with all convenient speed, for the examination of witnesses, and receiving other proofs concerning the matters charged in such indictments or informations respectively; and, in the mean time, to cause such public notice to be given of the holding the said Court, and to issue such summons or other process, as may be requisite for the attendance of witnesses, and of the agents or counsel, of all or any of the parties respectively, and to adjourn, from time to time, as occasion may require; and such examination as aforesaid shall be then and there openly and publicly taken viva voce in the said Court, upon the respective oaths of witnesses, and the oaths of skilful interpreters, administered according to the forms of their several religions; and shall, by some sworn officer of such Court, be reduced into one or more writing or writings on parchment, in case any duplicate or duplicates should be required by or on behalf of any of the parties interested, and shall be sent to His Majesty, in His Court of King's Bench, closed up, and under the seals of two or more of the Judges of the said Court, and one or more of the said Judges shall deliver the same to the agent or agents of the party or parties requiring the same; which said agent or agents (or, in case of his or their death, the person into whose hands the same shall come) shall deliver the same to one of the Clerks in Court of His Majesty's Court of King's Bench in the public office, and make oath that he received the same from the hands of one or more of the Judges of such Court in India, (or, if such agent be dead, in what manner the same came into his hands); and that the same has not been opened or altered since he so received it, (which said oath such Clerk in Court is hereby authorized and required to administer): And such depositions being duly taken and returned, according to the true intent and meaning of this Act, shall be allowed and read, and shall be deemed as good and competent evidence as if such witness had been present, and sworn and examined viva voce, at any trial for such crimes or misdemeanors, as aforesaid, in His Majesty's said Court of King's Bench, any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding; and all parties concerned shall be entitledto take copies of such depositions at their own costs and charges.

Offences against this Act committed by the Chief Justice or Judges, to be determined by the Court of King's Bench.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That in case the said Chief Justice or Judges of the said Supreme Court of Judicature, or any of them for the time being, shall commit any offence against this act, or be guilty of any corrupt practice, or other crime, offence, or misdemeanor, in the execution of their respective offices, it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty's said Court of King's Bench in England, upon an information or indictment laid or exhibited in the said Court for such crime, offence, or misdemeanor, upon motion to be made in the said Court, to award such writ or writs of Mandamus, as aforesaid, requiring the Governor General and Council of the said United Company's settlement at Fort William aforesaid, who are hereby respectively authorized and required accordingly to assemble themselves in a reasonable time, and to cause all such proceedings to be had and made as are thereinbefore respectively directed and prescribed concerning the examination of witnesses; and such examination, so taken, shall be returned and proceeded upon in the same manner, in all respects, as if the several directions hereinbefore prescribed and enacted in that behalf were again repeated.

The Chancellor or Speaker of the House of Commons may issue warrants for the examination of witnesses in India, which shall be deemed competent evidence to both Houses of Parliament.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That in all cases of proceedings in Parliament, touching any offences against this Act, or any other offences committed in India, it shall and may be lawful for the Lord High Chancellor or Speaker of the House of Lords, and also for the Speaker of the House of Commons for the time being, in like manner to issue his or their warrant or warrants to the Governor General and Council of the said United Company's Presidency of Fort William, and to the Chief Justice and Judges of the said Supreme Court of Judicature, or the Judges of the Mayor's Court at Madras, Bombay, or Bencoolen, as the case may require, for the examination of witnesses; and such examination shall be returned to the said Lord High Chancellor or Speaker of the House of Lords, or to the Speaker of the House of Commons respectively, and proceeded upon in the same manner, in all respects, as if the several directions hereinbefore prescribed and enacted in that behalf were again particularly repeated; and every such examination, returned either to the Lord Chancellor or Speaker of the House of Lords, or to the Speaker of the House of Commons, as aforesaid, shall be deemed good and competent evidence, and shall be allowed and read in both Houses of Parliament, or either of them respectively, as occasion may require; any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

No proceedings in Parliament, touching offences in India, to be discontinued by any prorogation.

And whereas, by the usage and custom of Parliament, no proceedings by Bill in Parliament have continuance from one session to another: And whereas it would be impracticable that the examination, taken upon such warrant as aforesaid, could ever be returned within the ordinary length of a session of Parliament; Be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, That, from and after the first day of November, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three, no proceedings in Parliament, touching any offence committed, or to be committed, in India, wherein such warrant as aforesaid shall have been issued, shall be discontinued by any prorogation or dissolution of the Parliament; but that such proceedings may be resumed and proceeded upon in a subsequent session, or in a subsequent Parliament, in either House of Parliament, in like manner, to all intents and purposes, as they might have been in the course of one and the same session; any law, usage, or custom, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Writs of Mandamus may be awarded by the Courts at Westminster, when the Company commence suits in law or equity there.

And whereas His Majesty's subjects are liable to be defeated of their several rights, titles, debts, dues, demands, or suits, for which they have cause arising in India against other subjects of His Majesty; Now, for preventing such failure of justice, be it further enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That when and as often as the said United Company, or any person or persons whatsoever, shall commence and prosecute any action or suit, in law or equity, for which cause hath arisen, or shall hereafter arise, in India, against any other person or persons whatever, in any of His Majesty's Courts at Westminster, it shall and may be lawful for such Court respectively, upon motion there to be made, to provide and award such writ or writs, in the nature of a Mandamus or commission, as aforesaid, to the Chief Justice and Judges of the said Supreme Court of Judicature for the time being, or the Judges of the Mayor's Court at Madras, Bombay, or Bencoolen, as the case may require, for the examination of witnesses, as aforesaid; and such examination being duly returned, shall be allowed and read, and shall be deemed good and competent evidence at any trial or hearing between the parties in such cause or action, in the same manner, in all respects, as if the several directions hereinbefore prescribed and enacted in that behalf were again repeated.

Provided

No depoſitions returned to be allowed as evidence, in cauſes not proceeded againſt in Parliament.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it enacted, That no ſuch depoſitions, taken and returned as aforeſaid by virtue of this Act, ſhall be allowed or permitted to be given in evidence in any capital caſes, other than ſuch as ſhall be proceeded againſt in Parliament; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The privileges of the Company, not hereby varied, ſhall remain in force.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That all and every the rights, intereſts, powers, privileges, and authorities, which are now veſted in the ſaid United Company of Merchants trading to the Eaſt Indies, and which are not hereby expreſsly taken away, altered, or varied, ſhall remain to, and continue in, the ſaid Company, in as full and ample a manner, to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever, as if this Act had never been made.

Public Act.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall be deemed and taken to be a Public Act; of which notice ſhall be judicially taken by all Judges, Juſtices, and other perſons whatſoever, without ſpecially pleading the ſame.

APPENDIX, No. 4.

FIRMAUN from the Mogul for the Northern Circars.

IN theſe happy times, our Firmaun, full of ſplendor and worthy of obedience, is deſcended; purporting, That whereas Salabat Jung Behauder, Subahder of the Decan, conferred the Circar of Siccacole, &c. on the French Company; and that, in conſequence of its not being confirmed by us, either by Firmaun or otherwiſe, the high, mighty, glorious Chiefs of the Khans, choſen of the Omrahs, Sepoy Surdars, truly faithful, worthy of receiving favours and obligations, our invariable and never-failing friends and well-wiſhers, the Engliſh Company (having ſent a large force for that purpoſe) did expel the French therefrom; we therefore, in conſideration of the fidelity and good wiſhes of the above high, mighty, &c. &c. Engliſh Company, have, from our throne, the baſis of the world, given them the aforementioned Circars, by way of iniam or free gift (without the leaſt participation of any perſon whatever in the ſame) from the beginning of the Fuſſul Tuccaucooul, in the year of Phaeſly 1172, equal to the month April 1762; it is incumbent, therefore, on you our Sons, Omrahs, Viziers, Governors, Muttaſeddees, for the affairs of our Dewanſhip, Mootecophils, for thoſe of our kingdom, jaghiredars, and Karorees, both now and hereafter, for ever and ever; to uſe your endeavours in the ſtrengthening and carrying into execution this our moſt high command, and to cede and give up to the above-mentioned Engliſh Company, their heirs and deſcendants, for ever and ever, the aforeſaid Circars; and eſteeming them likewiſe free, exempt, and ſafe from all diſplacing or removal, by no means whatever, either moleſt or trouble them on account of the demands of the Dewan's office, or thoſe of our Imperial Court.

Looking upon this high Firmaun as an abſolute and poſitive order, obey it implicitly.

Dated the 24th of the moon Sophar, in the ſixth year of our reign, equal to the 12th of Auguſt 1765.

Forms made uſe of on the Back of the Firmaun.

From the Secretary, ſetting forth, That his Majeſty had been pleaſed to ſign a Peſhtion (ſuppoſed to be from the Company) of the ſame date as the Firmaun, directing, That whereas Salabat Jung Behauder, Subahder of the Decan, conferred the Circar of Siccacole, &c. on the French Company; and that, in conſequence of its not being confirmed by his Majeſty, either by Firmaun or otherwiſe, the high, mighty, &c. &c. Engliſh Company (having ſent a large force for that purpoſe) did expel the ſaid French therefrom; His Majeſty therefore, in conſideration of the fidelity of the aforeſaid Engliſh Company, has given them (without the participation of any perſon whatever in the ſame) the above-mentioned Circars, by way of iniam, or free gift.

Then follow two orders from the Mogul, the firſt ſuppoſed to be his own hand, addreſſed to his Son Mirza Mahomed Akbur Shah Behauder, telling him to comply with the contents of this Firmaun; the other directing, that the Engliſh Company be under his Son's command, or in his Reſſaula.

The whole atteſted under Kazzi Inayet Khan's ſeal, to be a true copy from the original.

Tranſlation of Saned, under the Seal of Nizam Ally Cawn, for the Five Circars.

Be it known to the Deeſmohees, Deeſpondees, Muccuddems, Huſbandmen, and Inhabitants of the Circars of Rajahmundry, Ellour, Muſtephanagur, Siccacole, and Murtezanagur, belonging to the Subahſhip of Hydrabad, That out of our great favour and goodneſs, from the 9th of the moon Gemace-duſſuny, in the year of Phaeſley 1176, equal to the 12th of November 1766, the whole of the ſaid Circars (the jaghire of the Muſtephanagur, alias Condapille Fort, and the uſual villages appertaining to the diamond mines excepted) are now given to, and conferred upon the European Engliſh Company, by way of iniam, or free gift, for ever and ever, agreeable to their petition ſigned by us: In return for which, they, the Engliſh Company, are to pay the annual ſum of nine lacks of rupees, and to ſtand to all ſebbendy charges, and whatever earthly or heavenly miſchances may happen. You, therefore, our above-mentioned Deeſmohees, &c. are hereby required, with contented minds, to live in obedience to the above Company's Deputies, and to pay the proper revenues at the fixed and ſtated times.

Looking upon this as a poſitive order, obey it accordingly.

Dated the 9th of the moon Gemace-duſſuny, in the year of Hegyra 1180, equal to the 12th November 1766.

APPENDIX, No. 5.

Revenue Conſultations. Committee of Circuit.

Extract of the ſeparate Letter from Court of Directors to the Preſident and Council at Fort St. George, dated 12th April 1775.

Para. 24. AND being well aſſured that the Jaghire Lands and Northern Circars, and eſpecially the latter, will be found capable of anſwering this deſirable purpoſe, if duly explored and properly regulated, we therefore direct, that when affairs reſpecting Tanjore ſhall have been accommodated and finally adjuſted, a Committee of our Council, conſiſting of five Members, be appointed to make the Circuit of the Northern Circars; and that they aſcertain, with all poſſible exactneſs, the produce of the country, the number of inhabitants, the ſtate of the manufactures, the fortified places, the groſs amount of the revenues, the articles from which they ariſe, the mode by which they are collected, the charges of collection, the ſpecific proportion uſually received by the Rajah or Zemindar, and that which cuſtom or uſage has allotted to the cultivator as the reward of his labour.

25. They are alſo particularly to enquire what ſecurity the Native has for his property, what courts there are for the adminiſtration of juſtice, and how far ſimilar regulations to thoſe lately eſtabliſhed at Bengal by our Preſident and Council, may with propriety be introduced into the Northern Circars.

26. It is by no means our wiſh to deprive the hereditary Rajahs or Zemindars of their annual income; on the contrary, we mean to ſecure it to them without leaving them under the power of keeping up an armed force to compel the payment thereof; and it is alſo our earneſt deſire to deliver the inhabitants, ſo far as may be in our power, from undue exactions and oppreſſions.

APPENDIX. No. 5.

27. The impropriety of ſuffering any Zemindar to become formidable to his neighbours, or too powerful, cannot admit of a doubt.—We never approved the policy of our late Governor and Council, in conſenting to accept a ſmall tribute, or ſuch compoſition for lands as Sitteram Rauze might think proper to make, without aſcertaining in any degree the value of ſuch lands.—And if it be true, that his power has heretofore rendered it dangerous to riſk his diſpleaſure, by admitting competitors to bid for lands, it is high time to correct our ſyſtem, and to diſallow the keeping of other Troops than our own in the Circars, more eſpecially as ſuch Troops are not ſubject to our orders, but render our tenants leſs dependent than they ought to be upon our authority and controul.

28. In order to enable us to ſtrike at the root of this evil, the Committee of Circuit muſt take the moſt effectual meaſures for aſcertaining the ſtrength of each Rajah, Zemindar, or Landholder in the Circars, the expence of his houſhold and that of his Troops, the means he may have of defraying ſuch expences, and the number of regular Sepoys which it will be neceſſary for us to maintain in the reſpective diſtricts, in order to keep them in due ſubjection.

29. As an addition of military ſtrength within our own poſſeſſions, ſeems to us ſo abſolutely neceſſary, and as we can have no doubt but that, with proper economy, a conſiderable force may be maintained in the Circars, and the annual rent or tribute remitted to our Treaſury at Fort St. George, be nevertheleſs conſiderably increaſed; we are therefore reſolved, that every military man reſiding in the Circars, ſhall be abſolutely under our command, obliged to ſerve us whenever he may be wanted, and not left at liberty to take part with our enemies, in caſe troubles ſhould ariſe in the country.

30. After having fully inveſtigated the provincial accounts of the Circars, if any of the Zemindars ſhall prefer receiving their income from the Company, and relinquiſh their hereditary claims, we have no objection to allowing them ſuch ſtipends as ſhall be found reaſonable, in lieu of the benefits ariſing from their Zemindaries: and as it is our intention, on the expiration of the preſent leaſes, that the Committee of Circuit ſhall proceed to let the lands for a term of years, in the ſame manner as hath been practiſed at Bengal, it is our order, that the Zemindars have their option of retiring upon ſtipends, or of continuing to rent the lands at a proper valuation; but it is our poſitive command, that the proportion of the produce to be received by farmers of every denomination, be aſcertained, and exactly defined; and that it be an expreſs condition in every leaſe, that all farmers who ſhall exact more than their due proportion from the undertenants, ſhall forfeit their farms; and you are to take eſpecial care that the means of redreſs, in caſe of impoſition or oppreſſion, be rendered as eaſy as poſſible.

31. Theſe are the outlines of the plan which we wiſh to ſee adopted for the Circars. In regard to the jaghire lands, many conſiderations induce us to keep them in our immediate poſſeſſion; and unleſs the Nabob ſhall agree to ſuch arrangements as we deem neceſſary for our mutual advantage, we ſhall no longer conſent to his renting the ſaid jaghire lands, as it almoſt enables him to ſhut us up within the walls of Madras, and even to prevent us from obtaining a proper ſupply of proviſions for our ſettlement; we therefore direct, that you conclude no agreement with the Nabob for the ſaid lands for more than one year; and that it be an expreſs condition in ſuch agreement, that our Committee of Circuit ſhall be at full liberty to explore the country, and to aſcertain the real produce and revenues thereof, in the manner deſcribed in our preſent Inſtructions reſpecting the Northern Circars.

32. If any of our ſervants, civil or military, ſhall oppoſe the execution of theſe our Orders and Inſtructions, or refuſe to aſſiſt in carrying them into full effect, we hereby declare, that upon proper repreſentation of the caſe to us, every ſuch perſon ſhall be abſolutely diſmiſſed from the ſervice of the Company.

33. And in order to add the greateſt weight in our power to your proceedings, and to enſure, ſo far as may be, ſucceſs to your meaſures, we have directed our Governor General and Council of Bengal to co-operate with you, if you ſhall find it neceſſary, and to yield you all proper aſſiſtance in bringing the important affairs hereby committed to your management to a ſpeedy and happy concluſion.

APPENDIX, No. 6.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 28th June 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right Honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident,
George Stratton,
General Sir Robert Fletcher,
George Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
Claude Ruſſel,
Alexander Dalrymple,
Charles Floyer,
John Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Fourdan,
George Mackay.

SIR Robert Fletcher deſires to enter the following Minute:

Sir Robert Fletcher being of opinion, that the time limited by the Company has been long expired for enforcing their commands reſpecting the Committee of Circuit, he now begs leave to record this his opinion, that he may not in future be in any degree reſponſible, or ſubject to blame, either for diſobedience or neglect of thoſe important Orders.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, Friday, 26th July 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right Honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Sir Robert Fletcher,
Henry Brooke,
Claude Ruſſel,
Alex. Dalrymple,
Charles Floyer,
John Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Fourdan,
George Mackay.

Mr. Fourdan informs the Board, That he has delivered a Minute to the Secretary, in which there is a motion reſpecting the Committee of Circuit.—Mr. Mackay deſires to ſecond the motion; the Minute is then read as follows:

The Court of Directors ſay, That when the buſineſs of Tanjour ſhall be finally ſettled, the Committee of Circuit ſhall be ordered on that ſervice. When they gave thoſe orders, it is very probable, they expected reſiſtance on the part of the Nabob, for they direct us to apply to the Gentlemen at Bengal, if neceſſary, and direct them, if applied to, to co-operate in the carrying of their orders relative to Tanjour into execution. This appears alſo from the anxious manner in which they expreſs themſelves on this ſubject, by the Royal Henry; and therefore it was conſiſtent and judicious in the Court of Directors, to order, that a buſineſs, from which the moſt important conſequences might reſult, ſhould be conducted by as many Members of the Board as could be ſpared from the other other departments. But the Nabob, although he has objected to the reſtitution of the country, has not in any inſtance reſiſted; and the Rajah is in poſſeſſion of the whole country, Hunnimumtagody excepted. Of this the Board have written to the Nabob; and although he has claimed it as part of the Maravar Country, yet, when he conſiders what has been ſaid upon that ſubject, it is to be hoped he will judge proper that it be reſtored. This, however, is not of much importance; for were he to object, as having been illegally taken from the Maravar, there can be no doubt but that both parties would willingly ſubmit this to the deciſion of the Company; to which may be added, that the Rajah has entruſted to the Company the defence of his country, and ſtipulated an ample ſum for that purpoſe.

The claims of Mr. Benfield have been brought before the Board; the Circar ſhare of the crop has been adjudged to the Nabob, and the mortgages of courſe admitted; nothing remains then, but to aſcertain what the Rajah has received, and to ſettle ſuch terms of payment as may be juſt.

I have been thus particular on theſe ſubjects, as, whenever the ſubject has been mentioned, the Tanjour buſineſs has been urged againſt it. I know of no circumſtance in the preſent ſituation of our affairs, that can juſtify longer delay, in carrying theſe orders of the Company for the Circuit, into execution; on the contrary, the rents of ſome of the farms are continued for one year, and the mode tends evidently to the diſtreſs of the inhabitants in thoſe diſtricts. The Zemindaries likewiſe muſt be managed in the ſame manner: the Zemindar will be diſcouraged from improvement, in the apprehention of increaſe of tribute; and this mode, injurious as it may be, cannot be altered, until the Committee obtain full and perfect information of the real value of the lands.—The Circars are capable of great improvement: the ſoil in moſt parts is very rich; two very conſiderable rivers, and ſome ſmall ones, run through them. The inhabitants under Bajatil Jing, and Moſam Ally Cawn, are greatly oppreſſed, and, with proper encouragement, many might be brought to reſide with us. The foreſts to the Weſtward produce teak, and other valuable woods. They have mines which might furniſh iron for many uſeful purpoſes. Saltpetre is made on the borders of the Guntoor Circar. The ſugar cane grows luxuriantly in the Rajahmundry Circar, and over the whole country are weavers in great numbers.—To ſecure to the inhabitants their juſt rights from their Lords, and from each other, by eſtabliſhing ſome mode of obtaining juſtice—to cultivate the deſerted and waſte lands—to reſtore a country almoſt depopulated by frequent wars and other calamities—to apply the ſuperfluous waters of the Godaveery, Kiſtna, and other rivers, to the purpoſes of cultivation, and by the quantity of proviſions, to improve the manufactures, and encourage the workman; theſe are objects worthy of Government, and which, if well attended to, will give conſequence, wealth, and happineſs to the people, and increaſe the revenue to the Government, and theſe are the objects entruſted to the care of the Committee.—For all theſe reaſons, I think the Committee ſhould be ordered upon the Circuit; and I therefore move, That, according to thoſe orders, they be immediately ſent upon it.

Francis Fourdan.

The foregoing Minute concluding with a motion, That the Committee of Circuit do immediately proceed upon their enquiries, Mr. Mackay deſires leave to record it.

The Right honourable the Preſident, previous to putting the queſtion, obſerves to the Board, That, in his opinion, there are many points of great conſequence that remain to be ſettled in which he ſhould be glad to have the aſſiſtance of as many of the Members as poſſible.

That the affairs of the Company at Bengal, the Committee of Circuit, and [illegible] reſpecting Tanjour, have been [illegible] adjuſted; and there appears [illegible] by the Company's orders, the Committee ought not yet to proceed, and therefore he cannot recommend the meaſure.

The Preſident then put the Queſtion.

Mr. Mackay. For the Motion.

Mr. Fourdan. For the Motion.

Mr. Palmer. For the Motion, with the following Minute:

As the Committee of Circuit appears to be a buſineſs the Court of Directors ſeem to have very much at heart, from the information they expect from it, relating to points ſo very eſſential to their affairs; and as I am likewiſe apprehenſive that much benefit will ariſe from their proceeding, I am of opinion, that there ſhould be no longer delay in their ſetting out.

Mr. Stone. Againſt the Motion; as the Company's orders reſpecting Tanjour are not, in his opinion, accompliſhed, there being many very material matters remaining unadjuſted.

Mr. Floyer concurs entirely with Mr. Fourdan in the ſentiments he has now delivered in his Minute; and he thinks, if the Board were longer to defer the departure of the Committee of Circuit, they would diſobey the poſitive orders of the Court of Directors; for which reaſon, and for thoſe expreſſed in Mr. Fourdan's Minute, he is for the Motion.

Mr. Dalrymple. Againſt the Motion; as the Preſident has declared it to be his opinion, That the Committee of Circuit cannot at this time proceed to the Northern Circars, conſiſtent with the Company's orders, which require "affairs reſpecting Tanjour to be accom-"modated, and finally adjuſted;" but he thinks the Committee may proceed to execute their truſt in the jaghire lands, where the Members can attend any urgent call.

Mr. Ruſſell. Againſt the Motion; for the reaſons given by Mr. Dalrymple.

Mr. Brooke. For the Motion.

Sir R. Fletcher. For the Motion; becauſe he thinks the buſineſs of the Committee of the firſt importance to the Company; and he is clearly of opinion, that not any thing remains to be ſettled, reſpecting Tanjour, which can, by any conſtruction, come within the letter or meaning of the Company's orders regarding the Committee of Circuit.

Mr. Stratton. For the Motion.

Preſident. Againſt it.

Carried for the Queſtion, by a majority of 7 to 4.

Preſident. As Mr. Fourdan has paid ſo much attention to the Company's orders, reſpecting the Committee of Circuit, and thinking it of conſequence that it ſhould proceed immediately, the Preſident recommends him to fill up the vacancy occaſioned by the departure of Mr. Dawſon.

Mr. Fourdan thereupon informs the Board, That ſince he has been in the ſervice he has taken his tour of duty at Manilba-Cuddalore and Maſulipatam, and he hopes therefore the Board will be pleaſed to permit him to decline the honour intended him by the Right honourable the Preſident.

The Queſtion being then put, "Whether Mr. Fourdan "ſhall proceed on the Circuit in the room of Mr. Daw-"ſon?" the votes of the Members are taken as follow:

Mr. Mackay. Againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Fourdan obſerves, That ſince it has been reſolved that a Member may vote in his own cauſe, he ſhall, in the preſent caſe, give his voice againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Palmer. Againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Stone. Againſt the Queſtion; as he himſelf does not wiſh to proceed on the Circuit.

Mr. Floyer. Whenever any Member of the Committee of Circuit ſhall [illegible] on that deſire, which [illegible] for it, as he ſees no [illegible] of Directors, he ſhall [illegible] the reaſons aſſigned by Mr. Jourdan appearing ſo to him, he declares his vote againſt the Queſtion.

APPENDIX. No. 6.

Mr. Dalrymple. For the Queſtion; becauſe he thinks it the duty of every Member to proceed on ſuch ſervice as the Preſident recommends to be for the intereſt of the Company; and becauſe, in his opinion, the reaſons aſſigned by Mr. Jourdan are not ſufficient to excuſe him, as he thinks him a man of buſineſs, and therefore a very proper perſon to be a Member of the Committee of Circuit.

Mr. Ruſſell. For the Queſtion.

Mr. Brooke. Againſt the Queſtion.

Sir Robert Fletcher obſerves, That he ſhould be very glad to have Mr. Jourdan's abilities employed on the Committee of Circuit, but in juſtice to Mr. Jourdan he cannot but excuſe him, for the reaſons he has aſſigned; and therefore he is againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Stratton. Againſt the Queſtion; for the ſame reaſons.

Carried againſt the queſtion by a majority of 8 to 3.

Agreed to adjourn until Monday morning.

Geo. Stratton,
Henry Brooke,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, Monday, the 29th July 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Sir *Rob*t Fletcher,
Henry Brooke,
Claude Ruſſell,
*Alex*r Dalrymple,
Charles Floyer,
John Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

Mr. Mackay delivers in the following Letter, which is read:

To the Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident, and Council of Fort Saint George,

My Lord, and Gentlemen,

As the Court of Directors have done me the honour to include my name in the Committee of Circuit for the Northern Circars, I ſhould think myſelf wanting in duty, if I did not expreſs the grateful ſenſe I have of this mark of their favour: at the ſame time, I eſteem it equally my duty to inform the Board, that in my own ideas I cannot, with propriety, or with hopes of being ſo uſeful to the Company as I could wiſh, undertake a truſt of ſuch importance, when I know it is impoſſible for me to take an active part in the buſineſs. I ſay this, becauſe my time of life, at the age of near ſixty, and after having ſuffered much fatigue with the Army in the field, I hope I ſhall ſtand excuſed in the opinion of our Honourable Maſters and of the Board, if I requeſt to be indulged with remaining at the Preſidency, where, to the utmoſt of my ſtrength and abilities, I ſhall always endeavour to do my duty to the Company. However, after ſaying this much, as the reſult of what I know and feel, I ſhall cheerfully ſubmit myſelf to the determination of the Board, to diſpoſe of me as they may ſee proper; and I remain, moſt reſpectfully,

My Lord and Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient, and moſt
humble Servant,
George Mackay.

Fort Saint George,
29th July 1776.

The Right honourable the Preſident obſerves to the Board, that he is himſelf convinced that the Court of Directors never expected a ſervant to undertake a ſervice of fatigue, which he is perſuaded his conſtitution will not enable him to perform; and underſtanding Mr. Mackay to be of this opinion with reſpect to himſelf, the Preſident doubts not but the Board will comply with his requeſt.

Mr. Jourdan. Conſidering what has been urged by Mr. Mackay, particularly his time of life, he thinks his ſervices on the Circuit ought to be diſpenſed with.

Mr. Palmer. Agrees in opinion with Mr. Jourdan.

Mr. Stone. Agrees to Mr. Mackay's requeſt, for the reaſons urged by the Preſident.

Mr. Floyer. Is of opinion that Mr. Mackay ſhould be excuſed, and enters the following Minute on the ſubject:

The reaſons ſet forth by Mr. Mackay, in his Letter to the Board, for requeſting to be excuſed the duties of a Member of the Committee of Circuit, are ſuch as, in my opinion, juſtly merit an indulgence from this Board. I therefore think he ſhould be excuſed; and hope this my opinion will be deemed conformable to the declaration made in my Minute of the 26th inſtant, on a ſimilar occaſion reſpecting Mr. Jourdan.

Mr. Dalrymple. Aſſents to Mr. Mackay's requeſt, for the reaſons aſſigned by the Preſident.

Mr. Ruſſell. Aſſents to Mr. Mackay's requeſt, for the ſame reaſons.

Mr. Brooke. Aſſents to Mr. Mackay's requeſt, for the reaſons aſſigned in his Letter, and by the Preſident.

Sir R. Fletcher. Agrees to excuſe Mr. Mackay, on account of his great age; but he does not admit that Mr. Mackay is to be the only judge whether or not he can perform the ſervice.

Mr. Stratton. Thinks Mr. Mackay ſhould be excuſed, being perſuaded, from his advanced age, that he cannot bear the fatigues attending the duty of a Member of the Committee of Circuit.

Reſolved unanimouſly, That Mr. Mackay be excuſed from proceeding on the Circuit.

The Board, taking into conſideration in what manner the two vacancies in the Committee of Circuit ſhall be filled up, and Mr. Stone being mentioned by ſome of the Members as a proper perſon for that ſervice, the Right honourable the Preſident expreſſes his hope, that the Board will not think of Mr. Stone on this occaſion—That Mr. Stone, ever ſince his arrival in the country, has been always employed in the Settlement—That he was ten years in office as Secretary to the Military Department, part of which time was in the Preſident's former Government, when he found Mr. Stone's ſervices very uſeful to him, both in his official and private capacity—That he has experienced the ſame ready and cheerful aſſiſtance from that Gentleman during his preſent Government; and being perſuaded that his long official experience and knowledge of the Company's affairs will make him more uſeful at the Preſidency than if he were employed on the Circuit, he flatters himſelf the Board will diſpenſe with his going upon that ſervice.

Agreed at the requeſt of the Preſident, and for the reaſons urged by him, that Mr. Stone be excuſed from going on the Circuit.

Mr. Dalrymple reads the following Minute:

The buſineſs for which the Committee of Circuit are appointed, is,

To aſcertain, with all poſſible exactneſs, the produce of the country.

The number of inhabitants.

State of manufactures.

Fortified places.

Groſs account revenues.

Articles from which they ariſe.

Mode by which they are collected.

Specific proportion uſually received by the Rajah or Zemindar,

Zemindar, and what cuſtom or uſage has allotted to the cultivator.

What ſecurity the Native has for his property.

What Courts of Juſtice.

How far ſimilar regulations to thoſe lately eſtabliſhed in Bengal may be introduced with propriety in the N^a^ Circars.

Aſcertain the ſtrength of each Rajah or Zemindar, expence of his Troops, &c.

The means of defraying thoſe expences.

The number of regular Sepoys neceſſary to maintain.

The Company expreſs an intention that every military man in the Circars be paid by the Company.

And that the Committee of Circuit are afterwards to proceed to let the lands.

That branch of the Committee's duty, which depends upon enquiry, can ſcarcely be effected by a Committee; at leaſt, it can be much more effectually and expeditiouſly done by a ſingle perſon, with the aſſiſtance of junior ſervants, and when the ſeveral reports are made to the Board, the Committee then proceeding conjointly to let the lands, may on the ſpot examine each Report, to ſee that it is complete and exact.

By this method each perſon of the Committee will naturally be ſtimulated to diſtinguiſh himſelf by the manner in which he executes his truſt; and being left to execute it in the mode he thinks beſt, it will be done more completely as well as more expeditiouſly than if the whole Committee act in conjunction.

Mr. Floyer, ſeeing the difficulties which the Board are under in filling up the vacancies in the Committee of Circuit, readily offers his ſervices upon this occaſion, obſerving only, that, for want of local knowledge, he does not think himſelf at preſent competent to do the duties of a Member of the Committee; but if the Board will permit him to remain at Maſulipatam (where he has been appointed Chief by the Honourable Court of Directors, and of which Settlement he has not yet taken charge) until he ſhall have acquired that local knowledge ſo neceſſary in a Chief, for the information of the Committee of Circuit, he will, after having obtained ſuch neceſſary information, readily join the Committee, and go on with them in their enquiries.

Agreed unanimouſly, That Mr. Floyer be one of the Committee of Circuit, and that he be permitted to remain at Maſulipatam ſo long as he ſhall find it convenient for the above purpoſes.—Sir Robert Fletcher, Mr. Jourdan, and Mr. Mackay, having given an opinion heretofore, that Chiefs ought not to be appointed Members of the Committee of Circuit; but the majority determining contrary to that opinion, they think themſelves at liberty to aſſent to Mr. Floyer's being of the Committee of Circuit.

One vacancy in the Committee remaining ſtill to be filled up, and Mr. Latham, the Chief of Cuddalore, being propoſed as a proper perſon, it is moved, That he be appointed a Member.—The Queſtion being accordingly put by the Right honourable the Preſident,

Mr. Mackay. For the Queſtion.

Mr. Jourdan. For it.

Mr. Palmer. For it.

Mr. Stone. For it, ſuppoſing it will be agreeable to Mr. Latham.

Mr. Floyer. For it.

Mr. Dalrymple and Mr. Ruſſell. For it, thinking Mr. Latham a proper perſon, and ſuppoſing that it will be agreeable to him.

Mr. Brooke. Againſt it, and delivers the following Minute:

I give my negative to the appointing Mr. Latham on the Committee of Circuit, becauſe I think it improper to call the Chief of Cuddalore to proceed to the Northern Circars, where he has had no opportunity of acquiring any knowledge in the buſineſs on which that Committee is ordered; whereas the Chief of Vizagapatam, by his reſidence there, may have acquired ſuch knowledge as might be of material ſervice in inveſtigating the ſeveral matters recommended by the Company: and becauſe the Chiefs of Vizagapatam and Maſulipatam having been appointed Members of that Committee, he may be called before them (though his juniors in the ſervice) without having a ſeat with them, which I think is an indignity, though this Board never meant that any ſhould be offered him.

Henry Brooke.

Sir R. Fletcher. For it.

Mr. Stratton. For it.

Preſident. For it.

Reſolved accordingly, That Mr. Latham be appointed a Member of the Committee of Circuit, with permiſſion to retain the Chiefſhip of Cuddalore;—that he be adviſed of his appointment, and deſired to repair to the Preſidency with all convenient expedition.

Agreed, to meet again on Thurſday next, on the buſineſs of the Committee of Circuit.

Geo. Stratton.
Henry Brooke.
Archdale Palmer.
Francis Jourdan.
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, Thurſday the 1ſt of Auguſt 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Sir Robert Fletcher,
Henry Brooke,
Claude Ruſſell,
Alex. Dalrymple,
Charles Floyer,
John Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

The Right honourable the Preſident lays before the Board the following Minute, which is read.

The Preſident obſerving to the Board, that the occaſion of their now aſſembling is in conſequence of the Reſolution of the laſt Council, That they ſhould this day take into conſideration, the departure of the Committee of Circuit—and having upon a former day repreſented, that he thought the affairs of Tanjour far from being finally adjuſted, he continues of opinion, that the Committee ought not at this time to proceed on the Circuit.

The Preſident maintains, that there are many very great abuſes at the Preſidency; in the inveſtigation of which, he thinks the extraordinary diligence and application of Mr. Dalrymple is eſſentially neceſſary to him, and theſe require to be fully examined into and regulated, before the Members of the Council proceed upon a buſineſs, which will take years to execute. Notwithſtanding this, the Preſident, convinced of the infinite importance of the Jaqueer, has no objection to the Committee of Circuit going upon an enquiry into the ſtate thereof, which is a ſervice he hopes may be performed in a few months with the aſſiſtance of the examination Mr. Barnard has already made.

The Preſident further obſerves, that he has a volume of complaints to lay before the Committee; that he had many made to him on his late journey; and the laſt letter from the Nabob, deſiring that orders of Government may be made public, which orders in ſuch caſes [illegible] courage and forbid complaints being [illegible] Preſidency, ſtrengthens him the more in his opinion, that thoſe complaints require their firſt attention.

The Preſident hopes, that the reaſons alleged by Mr. Mackay, do not extend to a leaving of the Coaſt during the [illegible] and to keep the Preſidency [illegible] Jaqueer; [illegible] fore, as the Court of Directors [illegible] plied to [illegible] him, him, the Preſident recommends, that he be a Member of the Committee on this expedition into the Jaqueer—and more particularly as Mr. Floyer will depart ſoon for Maſulipatam.

APPENDIX. No. 6.

The Preſident moves, That the Committee of Circuit ſhall firſt proceed to the inveſtigation of the Jaqueer—and the queſtion being put,

Mr. Mackay. Againſt the Queſtion; as he is clearly of opinion the Court of Directors, in their orders by the Grenville, mean, that the Northern Circars ſhould be inveſtigated by the Committee of Circuit before the Jaqueer.

Mr. Jourdan. Againſt the Queſtion; for the reaſons contained in the following Minute entered by him:

As the abuſes of which the Right honourable Preſident ſpeaks, are not ſpecified, I can only ſay, that in my opinion the Preſident ought to lay them before the Board, and that the Members who will remain here after the Gentlemen appointed on the Circuit may ſet out, will be competent for the inveſtigation and redreſs of any abuſes that may exiſt. The material parts of the Tanjour buſineſs I think are concluded; the Nabob deſires that we order notice to be given, that the Ryots and Inhabitants that receive the ſhares eſtabliſhed in Saadut Ulla Cawn's time; that all Chotrums and Enams granted by former Soubahs, ſhall be allowed; and that if any Ryot ſhall demand more than is due to him, he ſhall not receive encouragement and protection from the Engliſh; all which I think may be done, in terms that will not preclude the injured from complaining. The Members of the Committee of Revenue, in the abſence of the Committee of Circuit, may receive and examine the accounts of the Trepaſſore, &c. diſtricts, collected by Mr. Barnard; and I therefore am againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Palmer. Againſt the Queſtion; as he thinks the ſpirit of the Company's orders is, that the Northern Circars ſhall be firſt inveſtigated by the Committee of Circuit.

Mr. Stone obſerves, That he has already given his opinion, that the departure of the Committee ſhould be delayed for ſome time, as it appeared to him there were many important points reſpecting Tanjour remaining to be adjuſted; but it having been determined by the Board, that the Committee ſhall proceed immediately, he thinks they ſhould make the Jaqueer the firſt object of their enquiry, as they may, on any emergency, be called to the Preſidency at a ſhort notice; he is therefore for the Queſtion.

Mr. Floyer obſerves, That he has conſidered, with due attention, the ſubject of the Right honourable the Preſident's Minute, and confeſſes he does not ſee reaſons ſufficient to induce him to deviate from what he thinks the poſitive orders of the Court of Directors, That the Committee of Circuit ſhould firſt proceed to the Circars; where, he is of opinion, the duties of the Committee are firſt and moſt eſſentially required: he is therefore againſt the Queſtion, for the above and other reaſons, which he ſhall more fully aſſign in a Minute hereafter.

Mr. Dalrymple. For the Queſtion; and gives his reaſons in the following Minute:

The Nabob having not given in any application for continuing to rent the Trepaſſore, &c. diſtricts, and the term for his laſt agreement being now expired, I think the Jaqueer is at preſent virtually under the charge of the Committee of Circuit: and although I do not mean to ſay, that in caſe the Nabob ſhould now make application for a continuation of this farm for the enſuing year, that his Highneſs's application ſhould be rejected, becauſe not given in before this time; yet, if a further agreement is made with him, the Company's orders are, that this agreement with the Nabob ſhall be made for one year only; and that it muſt be "an expreſs condition in "ſuch Agreement," that the Committee of Circuit ſhall be at full liberty to explore the country, and to aſcertain the real produce and revenues thereof, in the manner deſcribed in their Inſtructions reſpecting the Northern Circars; which condition would be rendered void, if the Committee were firſt to be ordered to the Northern Circars, as it is impoſſible for them to execute their duty in one year. And I am convinced, not only from what I have heard, but from what I have ſeen, that the Jaqueer is capable of very great improvement, and that the inhabitants ſuffer great oppreſſions.

Mr. Ruſſell. For the Queſtion; and gives his reaſons in the following Minute:

I am for the queſtion, for the reaſons urged by the Preſident; and, becauſe I think the Jaqueer is of the firſt importance to the Company, on account of its vicinity to the Preſidency, as well as revenue; alſo, becauſe until an inveſtigation is made, the lands cannot be let on long leaſes, which is abſolutely neceſſary to relieve them from the decayed ſtate they are ſaid to have fallen into under the Nabob's management on leaſes from year to year.

Mr. Brooke. Obſerves, That he is unhappy in differing in opinion from the Preſident in the preſent caſe; but he thinks the inveſtigation of the Circars an object of much more importance than the Jaqueer, as well as that the Company's orders have ſo particularly and ſtrongly recommended it. For theſe reaſons, and thoſe aſſigned by Mr. Jourdan, he is againſt the Queſtion.

Sir Robert Fletcher. Subſcribes to the opinion given by Mr. Jourdan; and is therefore againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Stratton. Againſt the Queſtion, being clearly of opinion, That, from the ſpirit of the Company's orders, the Committee of Circuit ſhould firſt proceed to inveſtigate the Northern Circars, which appear to him to be the Company's principal object in the appointment of this Committee.

Preſident. For the Queſtion; obſerving, That he is much concerned the arguments made uſe of in his Minute, have not had that weight with the Board which he expected, and which he thinks they deſerve. In reply to Mr. Jourdan's Minute, he remarks, that undoubtedly he ought to lay before the Board, the abuſes mentioned; and the ſooner he does ſo, the more he is perſuaded it will be acceptable to his Employers—That he wiſhed to do this at a time when he could have Mr. Dalrymple's aſſiſtance.—That he is perſuaded Mr. Jourdan is as well acquainted with the circumſtance and ſituation of this Settlement, as any man; but if he ſhould be ſo unfortunate in all his recommendations henceforward, as he has been of late, it is evident he will receive very little ſupport from his Council after the departure of the Committee of Circuit.

Carried againſt the Queſtion by a majority of 7 to 4.

Mr. Brooke delivers in the following Motion in writing, which is now read:

It having been determined, that the Committee of Circuit ſhall immediately proceed on that ſervice, and the Court of Directors appearing deſirous of having the affairs of the Chicacole Circar firſt ſettled, I move, That Meſſrs. Ruſſell and Dalrymple do ſet out by the 15th of this month to the Chicacole Circar to be there joined by Mr. Johnſon, in order to commence upon this buſineſs; that Mr. Lathom do repair thither as ſoon as poſſible; and that Mr. Floyer ſhall join them when he has acquired that knowledge which is ſo neceſſary for him as Chief of Maſulipatam.

The above Motion being read, Mr. Floyer deſires leave to ſecond it.

It being late in the day, and the Right honourable the Preſident informing the Board, that he has a great deal to ſay to them on the ſubject of Mr. Brooke's Motion, it is agreed to adjourn till to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Geo. Stratton.
Henry Brooke.
Archdale Palmer.
Francis Jourdan.
Geo. Mackay.

Extract

APPENDIX. No. 6.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, Friday, the 2d Auguſt 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Henry Brooke,
Charles Floyer,
John Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Fourdan,
George Mackay.
Sir Robert Fletcher indiſpoſed.
Mr. Ruſſell and Mr. Dalrymple abſent.

The following Letters from Mr. Ruſſell and Mr. Dalrymple are now read:

My Lord, and Gentlemen,

As I conſider the Motion given in yeſterday by Mr. Brooke, and ſeconded by Mr. Floyer, to convey a charge of backwardneſs in my duty to the Company, by fixing a particular day for my departure on the Committee of Circuit, I think it incumbent on me, before I can attend your Councils, to requeſt you will call upon thoſe Gentlemen to explain themſelves, and point out in what inſtance I have either been backward or negligent. On this occaſion I muſt beg leave to obſerve, that Mr. Dalrymple nor myſelf have not, ſince our arrival, incumbered ourſelves with the charge of any employ of emolument, that we might be the readier for ſetting out on the Circuit, when the Tanjour buſineſs ſhould be finally adjuſted.

The Board, when fuller than at preſent, did me the honour of appointing me Reſident at Tanjour, to ſettle the buſineſs there, and quiet the alarms in the Rajah's mind, before my ſervices on the Circuit ſhould be called upon; and I ſhould hope they would not now fruſtrate that appointment, as I cannot but think it a highly neceſſary one, it being well known that the Nabob's ſons took great pains, and made large offers to Mr. Dawſon, to prevent the appointment taking place; and even now are indefatigable in their nocturnal viſits.

I have the honour to be, very reſpectfully,
My Lord, and Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
2d Auguſt 1776. Claude Ruſſell.

To the Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

My Lord, and Gentlemen,

The Motion made yeſterday by Mr. Brooke, and ſeconded by Mr. Floyer, conveying an imputation that Mr. Ruſſell and I have declined our duty to the Company, I muſt conſider as a charge; and am under the neceſſity, before I attend Council, to call upon Mr. Brooke and Mr. Floyer, to explain in what inſtance I have ever been backward in performing my duty; the more particularly as I have never expreſſed even a wiſh to be excuſed going on the Committee of Circuit; on the contrary, always did expreſs my readineſs to proceed; and, to qualify myſelf for the execution of this duty, I have, with great pains, abſtracted the proceedings of the Board of Revenue, to know what had been done antecedent to our arrival; and before I was ſent to Tanjour, had drawn out a model for abridging Mr. Barnard's Account; which model was approved by the Board, and ordered to be carried into execution, under the direction of the Accountant: and ſince my return I have almoſt completed, from the Company's Records, an Abſtract of all circumſtances I can find concerning the Jagueer. It is true, conſidering the Jagueer to be the matter of the moſt real importance to the Company, I have not entered into any inveſtigation of the Northern Circars, concerning which I have no local knowledge, and am therefore as great an ignoramus as Mr. Floyer declared himſelf to be; and for this reaſon his preſent attendance with the Committee was excuſed. If the Committee are to proceed firſt to the Northern Circars, the pains I have taken concerning the Jagueer is labour loſt; and an examination of the Company's Records, to acquire the neceſſary knowledge concerning the Northern Circars, and to have the neceſſary Extracts made, will take more time than the Motion allots for our departure.

So indecent a Motion, as to affix any day for the departure of the Members of this Board, cannot, I preſume, ever be put to the vote by the Preſident; whoſe duty, I conceive, obliges him to maintain the reſpect due to the Members of his Council; ſince, if there was any ground for ſuch an order, the perſon who requires to be put under ſuch command, muſt be unmeriting that confidence indiſpenſably neceſſary to be lodged in the Members of the Committee of Circuit.

But, circumſtanced as I am, the motion is particularly injurious: Upon the eve of the Grenville's diſpatch, when ſuch important matters, wherein I have been ſo much a party concerned, are to be referred to the Company, and the Commander in Chief, having repeatedly intimated to the Board his intention to call upon them to enter into the conſideration of my conduct, which I am conſcious will ſtand the teſt as well as his or any Member of the Board's; it is in a manner preventing me from making my defence to our Honourable Maſters, and precluding me from that juſtice which I have a perfect confidence of ever receiving from them, when all circumſtances are fairly repreſented.

I have the honour to be,
My Lord, and Gentlemen,
Your moſt obed^t humble Servant,
Fort Saint George, A. Dalrymple.
2^d Aug^t 1776.

The above Letters being read, Mr. Floyer addreſſes himſelf to the Board as follows:

The Letters which have now been read from Meſſrs. Ruſſell and Dalrymple, ſhould imply, by my ſeconding the Motion of Mr. Brooke, read yeſterday at the Board, an indirect charge or accuſation of a neglect of duty on their parts. I have in a former Conſultation very fully expreſſed my wiſhes, that a time, not exceeding the departure of the Grenville, ſhould be fixed for the ſetting out of the Committee of Circuit; and did then aſſign as a reaſon for ſuch wiſh, that it was not ſufficient the Court of Directors ſhould know that we had reſolved to enforce their orders relative to the Committee of Circuit, but that they ſhould, by the ſame conveyance, have the additional ſatisfaction of knowing they were actually ſet out on that duty. When I uttered theſe my ſentiments, I did expect the Grenville would have been diſpatched from hence to Europe, within a month at fartheſt, as we have been told by the Gentlemen at Bombay, that the Grenville would be diſpatched in a few days after the Revenge, which arrived here nine days ago, and as we have nothing to detain her here, to my recollection, after her arrival, but the ſending by her our public diſpatches to the Honourable Court of Directors, and perhaps a few bales of our inveſtment, theſe, together with the lateneſs of the ſeaſon, make me think I am rather beyond than within the time ſhe can with propriety be kept here. I muſt add to the above reaſons, that in my opinion, the buſineſs of the Circuit has been already too long delayed, and that if I did not uſe my endeavours as a Member of this Adminiſtration to expedite the departure of the Committee, I ſhould deſervedly incur the ſevereſt cenſure my Honourable Maſters could impoſe upon me. Theſe are the reaſons which induced me to ſecond Mr. Brooke's Motion, and no other. If in that act I had intended any thing to the prejudice of thoſe two Gentlemen, I ſhould have taken the liberty to have mentioned it at the Board when they were preſent. I am extremely ſorry to have given this trouble to the Board, and [illegible] leave to make one obſervation more upon three words in Dalrymple's Letter, [illegible] to-day, alluding to this that made by Mr. Brooke). The word indecent is, in my opinion, by no means proper to be made uſe of by any Member upon any occaſion, which leads to become a public Act of this Board.

APPENDIX. No. 6.

Mr. Brooke. When I gave in my Motion yeſterday at the Board, it was upon a general idea that the Company's poſitive commands, regarding the Circuit, had been already too long delayed, and not from any intention to convey to this Board any charge of neglect againſt Mr. Ruſſell or Mr. Dalrymple. I have, upon all occaſions, during the debates touching the Circuit, given it as my opinion, that the Company's intentions, regarding the buſineſs of Tanjour, were fully accompliſhed when the Rajah was put in poſſeſſion of his country, and thought that the Committee of Circuit ſhould have ſet out immediately after that period. Mr. Stratton propoſed to move, more than two months ago, That the Committee ſhould then proceed; but poſtponed it, on the Preſident's requeſting it might be deferred until the arrival of the Greenwich. Upon the Minute given in by Mr. Jourdan the 26th ultimo, it was determined, that the Committee of Circuit ſhould proceed immediately. The exception made to that, was, that the word "immediately" was indefinite; I therefore thought it proper to mention a preciſe time for their departure, that no further debates might ariſe. I am concerned upon this occaſion, that thoſe Gentlemen ſhould miſunderſtand my meaning, as nothing more was intended than to carry the Company's orders into execution, which appears to me already to have been too long delayed.

The Right honourable the Preſident remarks, upon that part of Mr. Brooke's Minute which mentions his having requeſted Mr. Stratton to defer his Motion until the arrival of the Greenwich, that it never could but have been his intention, that Mr. Stratton ſhould poſtpone that Motion until he (the Preſident) ſhould think the proper time was arrived for the departure of the Committee, when it would be unneceſſary for Mr. Stratton to make the Motion at all.

The Preſident cannot avoid upon this occaſion expreſſing his concern, that two Members of the Council, of whom he has the higheſt opinion, whom he has known from very young men, and whoſe ability, integrity, and aſſiduity are equal to thoſe of any ſervant of the Company he has ever known, ſhould be placed in a ſituation, which they themſelves think improper and diſagreeable. The Preſident feels the more, as he ſhould think it all growing from his conduct at Tanjour, and from his wiſh to keep the Rajah of Tanjour in a ſituation, that ſhall henceforward free him from all unjuſt ſufferings from the Nabob, did not the Gentlemen of the majority aſſure him to the contrary. The Preſident will allow great merit to the majority in adhering ſtrictly to what they conceive to be the commands of the Court of Directors; but at the ſame time he is ſorry to obſerve, that even ſince that unfortunate journey, he has not been able to ſatisfy the majority of the Council, that any political queſtion he had to recommend was for the benefit of the Company. Thus ſituated, the Preſident thinks it his indiſpenſable duty to recommend to the Board, to call up, from Ganjam and Vizagapatam, Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon, that he may be aided and aſſiſted with their advice upon this emergent occaſion: He therefore moves the Board, That they will come to that reſolution: And further informs them, he ſhall afterwards propoſe, That the Commander of the Company's ſhip Revenge be directed to proceed to the Northward, to bring up Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon.

That if upon enquiry it ſhould appear that the nocturnal viſits, mentioned by Mr. Ruſſell in his Letter to be made by the Nabob's Sons, be to the Members of this Council, ſuch Members be ſuſpended from the Company's ſervice until their pleaſure be known.

Mr. Floyer then requeſts that the Summons ſent laſt night round to the Council may be read, which is accordingly done, as follows:

Gentlemen of the Council,

The Right honourable the Preſident has directed me to acquaint you, That he finds it will require more time to prepare what he has to lay before the Board on the ſubject of Mr. Brooke's Motion; that he deſires, however, the Council will attend at the Fort to-morrow morning at eleven o'clock, to take under conſideration Mr. Davidſon's Letter concerning the Ingeram Inveſtment, and other current buſineſs.

I am very reſpectfully,
Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
Thurſday evening, nine o'clock. Charles Oakeley, Secr.

Mr. Floyer then reads the following Minute, ſubſcribed to by himſelf, Mr. Stratton, Sir Robert Fletcher, Meſſrs. Brooke, Palmer, Jourdan, and Mackay.

After the many inſtances which the Majority of the Board have given of their attention to the Preſident, it was with much concern and aſtoniſhment, that we read the Paper laſt night ſent round to the Council.

A Motion for the ſetting out of the Committee for the Circars, was intended to be made by Mr. Stratton, more than two months ago. Mr. Ruſſell then objected to ſuch a Motion being made, on account of the land winds; and the Preſident wiſhing that it might be poſtponed until the arrival of the Greenwich, the Board yielded thereto. Near two months have elapſed ſince the arrival of the Greenwich, and in the intermediate time it has been reſolved by the Governor's caſting vote, that one of the Members appointed and ordered by our Maſters on the Committee of Circuit, ſhall be appointed Reſident at Tanjour; but with an intimation from the Preſident, during the debate, that the appointment to Tanjour ſhould not interfere in that Member's going on the Circuit. Some days ago the vacancies in the Committee of Circuit were filled up, and it was reſolved, that the Committee ſhould proceed immediately; and as ſome Gentlemen obſerved, that the word "immediately" was indefinite, Mr. Brooke moved yeſterday to fix their departure to a day—In this debate the Preſident deſired to have one day's delay, and to adjourn until this morning at ten o'clock—This was complied with, and it was made an Act of the Board that we ſhould meet at that hour to proceed upon Mr. Brooke's Motion—The Preſident, notwithſtanding that adjournment, having taken upon himſelf to order the Secretary to ſend round a paper to ſuperſede that Act, by ſummoning them at a different time, to go upon the buſineſs of the Ingeram Inveſtment, (which buſineſs appears ſo immediately connected with that of the enquiry into the conduct of Mr. Sadlier, that we think no new ſyſtem can with propriety be adopted until that be finiſhed) we muſt declare this Act of the Preſident to be unconſtitutional, and that it appears to us intended to delay the execution of the poſitive orders of the Company, touching the Circuit: In ſupport therefore of thoſe orders, and of the dignity and honour of this Government, we think ourſelves obliged to object to going on any freſh buſineſs, until the time of the departure and place of enquiry of the Committee of Circuit be ſettled, unleſs ſuch buſineſs ſhall be deemed of more or of equal importance to that which is now before the Board.

Geo. Stratton,
Henry Brooke,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

The Motions before entered by the Right honourable the Preſident are again read at his deſire.

Mr. Jourdan. As the paſſage alluded to by the Right honourable the Preſident, in the Letter from Mr. Ruſſell, is too general for me to form any judgment upon, I think Mr. Ruſſell ſhould be called upon to explain himſelf; and as I do not ſee the ſituation of the Company's affairs in the manner the Right honourable the Preſident does,

I am

APPENDIX No. 6.

I am of opinion that the Motion delivered by Mr. Brooke to the Board, in point of order and regularity, as well as importance, ought to be firſt taken into conſideration; and I therefore move, That the Preſident's Motion be not now put. This Queſtion being accordingly moved,

Mr. Mackay. I think the Motions of the Preſident very irregular, as another Motion made by Mr. Brooke is now before the Board, and ought to be firſt diſpoſed of. I am therefore of opinion that the Preſident's Motion be not now put.

Mr. Palmer. I conceive that as there is a Motion now before the Board antecedent to the Preſident's Queſtion, and for the determination of which the Board are now aſſembled, I am of opinion that the determination of the Preſident's Motion be ſubſequent to that of the Motion now before the Board.

Mr. Stone. I think that the Preſident's Motion ſhould be now put.

Mr. Floyer. I am of opinion, that the Preſident's Motions ought not to be now put, for the reaſons given by Mr. Jourdan; but I can have no objection to their being put in due order and place.

Mr. Brooke. I ſhall always pay the greateſt attention to every thing that is moved by the Preſident; but as the Motion of yeſterday is prior to thoſe made to-day by him, and for the conſideration of which the Board agreed to meet this day, I am of opinion, that the Motion made yeſterday, in point of order and propriety, ſhould be firſt put, and am therefore for the Queſtion.

Mr. Stratton. I am for the Queſtion, for the reaſons aſſigned by Mr. Jourdan.

Preſident. Againſt the Queſtion.

Carried by a majority of 6 to 2, that the Right honourable the Preſident's Motions be not now put.

Meſſrs. Brooke and Floyer having declared in their Minutes relative to the Motion made by the former, and ſeconded by the latter, at yeſterday's Conſultation, That they never intended to convey any idea of neglect of duty in Mr. Ruſſell, or Mr. Dalrymple, by fixing a time for their departure, Reſolved, That they be furniſhed with a Copy of theſe Minutes, and that the Secretary deſire their attendance next Council.

Agreed, That Mr. Brooke's Motion be taken into conſideration on Monday next.

Geo. Stratton,
Henry Brooke,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 5th Auguſt 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident.
George Stratton,
Sir Robert Fletcher,
Henry Brooke,
Claude Ruſſell,
Alex. Dalrymple,
Chas. Floyer,
John Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

Minutes of laſt Conſultations read.

The Right honourable the Preſident obſerves to the Board, that the Nabob's agreement for renting the Jagueer, being expired, and the Honourable Company's inveſtments at Ingeram, as well as the Preſidency, being at a ſtand, he recommends to the Board to take thoſe important matters into conſideration, before they proceed upon other buſineſs.

Reſolved, That a Letter be written to the Nabob, to remind him that the term for which the Tupaſſore, &c. Diſtricts were let to him, expired on the 31ſt ultimo; and to requeſt his Anſwer as ſoon as poſſible to the Letter which was addreſſed to him on that ſubject the 23d ultimo.

With reſpect to the other part of the Preſident's recommendation, relative to the buſineſs of the inveſtment, the ſeveral Members give their opinions as follow:

Mr. Mackay. I am opinion that Mr. Brooke's Motion ſhould be taken into conſideration before the buſineſs of the Ingeram inveſtment.

Mr. Jourdan. I am of opinion, for the reaſons I gave in laſt Conſultation, that Mr. Brooke's Motion ſhould be firſt conſidered.

Mr. Palmer. I am of the ſame opinion.

Mr. Stone. As a very conſiderable and valuable part of the Company's inveſtment has been provided under Ingeram, any ſtop or failure therein muſt be attended with not only immediate but future bad conſequences to the Company; I am therefore of opinion, that the Board cannot too ſoon proceed to take Mr. Davidſon's Letter on that ſubject into conſideration.

Mr. Floyer. I think the orders of the Court of Directors are too poſitive with reſpect to the Committee of Circuit, to admit of longer delay; and as the recommendation now before us is not, in my opinion, of equal importance to the ſubject contained in Mr. Brooke's Motion, I am of opinion, that the ſaid Motion of Mr. Brooke ſhould firſt be conſidered.

Mr. Dalrymple. I am of opinion, that nothing is of more eſſential conſequence to the Company than their inveſtment: As I underſtand the Ingeram inveſtment is at a ſtop, I think this requires the firſt attention of the Board; and it is neceſſary for me to obſerve, that I called in vain for Mr. Davidſon's Letter to be read. I alſo underſtand, from the Export Warehouſe-keeper's declaration at the Board, a few day ago, that the weavers of the Southern Pyckets had given to him a written declaration, that they could not conform to the reſolutions of the Board, and that this branch of the inveſtment is alſo at a ſtand.

Mr. Ruſſell. I am of opinion, that the Ingeram inveſtment ſhould be firſt taken into conſideration, for the reaſons given by Mr. Stone.

Mr. Brooke. I am of opinion, that the Motion I have delivered in ſhould be firſt conſidered, as well from the importance of the ſubject, as becauſe what I have therein propoſed, is in obedience to the Company's orders.

Sir Rob^t Fletcher. I am of the ſame opinion with Mr. Floyer.

Mr. Stratton. I am of opinion Mr. Brooke's Motion ſhould be firſt conſidered, for the reaſon given by Mr. Jourdan.

Preſident. I am of opinion, that the buſineſs of the inveſtment ſhould be firſt conſidered.

Agreed, by a majority of 7 to 4, That the Motion delivered in by Mr. Brooke, be firſt taken into conſideration.

The Right honourable the Preſident then delivers in the following Minute:

Minute of the Preſident.

The Preſident obſerves to the Board, that the Motion before them having been objected to by two Members, as reflecting upon them, he cannot think the Gentlemen from whom it came can ſtill require ſuch a Motion to be put; the more particularly as it is impoſſible for Meſſrs. Ruſſell and Dalrymple, who have no local knowledge of the Circars, to prepare themſelves in ſo ſhort a time for ſuch a ſervice. He muſt further obſerve, that Mr. Brooke, the Gentleman from whom this Motion comes, ſo lately as the 29th of laſt month, gave his negative to Mr. Lathom's appointment, that Gentleman having "had no "opportunity of acquiring any knowledge in the buſineſs "on which that Commiſſion is ordered." The Preſident fident conſidering alſo that the Board have given Mr. Floyer permiſſion to remain at Maſulipatam till he has had time to make himſelf ſomewhat acquainted with the Circars, he, the Preſident, cannot conceive the Motion propoſed by Mr. Brooke, and ſeconded by Mr. Floyer, can be ſupported on any ground, ſince Mr. Ruſſel and Mr. Dalrymple are at preſent as little acquainted with the Circars as Mr. Lathom or Mr. Floyer.

APPENDIX. No. 6.

The Preſident further obſerves, That if the Committee of Revenue can be conſidered in any degree ſimilar to the Committee of Circuit, Mr. Jourdan, who is one of that Committee, and has been to the Circars, would have been the propereſt perſon to have filled up the vacancy in the Committee of Circuit; and the majority of Council having excuſed him merely for his private convenience, cannot, with any decency, deny ſomething to the convenience of other Members, who are acknowledged to be in no meaſure backward in their duty.

The Court of Directors having been pleaſed to commit the inſpection of the Jagueer to the Committee of Circuit, the Preſident thinks that charge cannot be transferred to the Committee of Revenue, as recommended by Mr. Jourdan. The Preſident is very well convinced of the neceſſity of enquiring into the many abuſes and oppreſſions; and at the ſame time he is not ignorant that it would be very pleaſing to the Nabob to have that enquiry poſtponed or made by his friends.

The Preſident makes no reply to the Minute delivered in by Mr. Stratton, Sir Robert Fletcher, Meſſrs. Brooke, Floyer, Palmer, Jourdan, and Mackay, leaving the conſideration of that to the Court of Directors; but he cannot avoid taking notice, that thoſe ſeven Members generally go together upon any queſtion, and compoſe the majority: Minutes are prepared and agreed to; Motions are framed and determined on, even before the purport of them is made known to him the Preſident, or the other Members of the Council; ſo that, in fact, the buſineſs of the Company is conducted in private meetings, inſtead of being regularly introduced and properly diſcuſſed by the Council at large. The Preſident is fully perſuaded, that nothing he can urge will put a ſtop to theſe irregular proceedings; but nevertheleſs, he thinks it a duty incumbent on him thus publicly to take notice of them, that the Court of Directors may ſee that their Preſident, inſtead of meeting with ſupport from the Council appointed to aid and aſſiſt him, finds, when they are aſſembled, it is only to give ſanction to meaſures hatched and matured by them in private, and to put a negative upon every meaſure propoſed by him the Preſident.

The Preſident, conſidering his own reſponſibility, as well as that of his office, confirmed by the Company's late diſmiſſion of his Predeceſſor, for the meaſures of the Council, thinks he is warranted, by the neceſſity of circumſtances, to require, "that Mr. Ruſſell ſhall forthwith proceed to Tanjour to quiet the mind of the "Rajah;" which is the more proper, as the majority of the Council have been pleaſed to refuſe the Rajah ſo ſmall a requeſt as to continue Lieutenant Colonel Harpur in the command of Tanjour; and to declare, that he, the Preſident, will not aſſent to Colonel Stuart's proceeding to Tanjour, till Mr. Ruſſel goes thither.

The above Minute being read, Mr. Dalrymple and Mr. Ruſſel enter the following Minutes:

Mr. Dalrymple's Minute.

I ſhall ever be ready, at a minute's warning, to go where the exigency of the ſervice demands; but I cannot be induced to think an undertaking, which will take ſome years to execute, can require a day, or even a month, to be affixed for its commencement: I truſt, therefore, I ſhall ſtand excuſed to our Honourable Maſters, in ſaying that I cannot be ready by the day propoſed in Mr. Brooke's Motion, to proceed on the circuit of the Northern Circars, in which my reputation is ſo much at ſtake, and on which I muſt be ſo long abſent; and being convinced my Honourable Maſters will not require more of me, as I am acquitted by the Board of every ſuſpicion of backwardneſs to execute that or any other duty, I ſhall without apprehenſion ſtand in the deciſion of our Honourable Maſters; and although I cannot name a day when I ſhall be ready, nobody will ſuſpect me of idling away my time.

Mr. Ruſſell's Minute.

I am in the ſame predicament with Mr. Dalrymple; and having, beſides, diſpatched part of my baggage to Tanjour in expectation thither, in conſequence of my appointment as Reſident, I muſt beg leave to appriſe the Board, that it will be impoſſible for me to ſet out on the circuit on the day fixed in the Motion.

Mr. Mackay then moves an Amendment to the Motion delivered in by Mr. Brooke the 1ſt inſtant, by fixing the date of the Committee's departure to the 31ſt inſtead of the 15th of this month.

Mr. Ruſſell thereupon deſires it may be minuted, that he cannot poſſibly get ready to proceed before the 1ſt October; and the Preſident expreſſes his hope, that the Board will ſee the neceſſity, where the Company's affairs do not require the immediate departure of the Committee, that a Member ſhould make it convenient to his own affairs.

The Queſtion on the Amendment propoſed in Mr. Brooke's Motion is then put.

Mr. Mackay. I am for the Amendment.

Mr. Jourdan. For the Amendment.

Mr. Palmer. For the Amendment.

Mr. Stone. I am againſt the Amendment; and I am very ſorry to ſee any day fixed for the departure of a Member of this Board, as I have not the leaſt reaſon to ſuſpect that he will make any unneceſſary delay, knowing the deſire of the Board that he ſhould proceed with all expedition.

Mr. Floyer. I am for the Amendment, and have no other reaſon for giving this as my opinion, than that I deem the time of departure therein mentioned more conſiſtent with the orders of the Court of Directors.

Mr. Dalrymple. I am againſt the Amendment propoſed by Mr. Mackay, becauſe I think the Board ought to conform to Mr. Ruſſell's convenience, ſo far as to allow him till the 1ſt October; and I doubt not, before that period, the other Members may be enabled to give our Honourable Maſters a general idea of the ſtate of the Jagueer, from their own knowledge and obſervation.

Mr. Ruſſell. Againſt the Amendment.

Mr. Brooke. For the Amendment.

Sir Robert Fletcher. For the Amendment.

Mr. Stratton. For the Amendment.

Preſident. Againſt the Amendment, as he is of opinion the Committee ſhould not proceed at all until he thinks proper.

Carried for the Amendment by a majority of 7 to 4.

Mr. Brooke's Motion is then read, with the propoſed Amendment; and the Queſtion being put thereupon,

Mr. Mackay. For the Queſtion.

Mr. Jourdan. For the Queſtion.

Mr. Palmer. For the Queſtion.

Mr. Stone. Againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Floyer. For the Queſtion.

Mr. Dalrymple. Againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Ruſſell. Againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Brooke. For the Queſtion.

Sir Robert Fletcher. For the Queſtion.

Mr. Stratton. For the Queſtion.

Preſident. Againſt the Queſtion.

Carried for the Queſtion by a majority of 7 to 4.

Reſolved, That the Members of the Committee preſent be furniſhed, as ſoon as poſſible, with a copy of the orders of the Company touching the circuit, for their guidance.

The

The Right honourable the Preſident's Motions entered in laſt Conſultation are then read, as follows:

1. "That the Board will come to the reſolution of "calling up Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon to take their ſeats "at the Board.

2. "That the Commander of the Company's ſhip "Revenge be directed to proceed to the Northward to "bring up Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon.

3. "That if, upon enquiry, it ſhall appear that the "nocturnal viſits mentioned by Mr. Ruſſell in his Letter "to be made by the Nabob's Sons, to the Members "of this Council, ſuch Members be ſuſpended from the "Company's ſervice until their pleaſure be known."

The Queſtion upon the firſt Motion being put,

Mr. Mackay. I am againſt the Queſtion, becauſe I think the ſending for the Chiefs of Ganjam and Vizagapatam will be prejudicial to the Company's affairs, particularly as Mr. Johnſon is a "Member of the Com-"mittee of Circuit."

Mr. Jourdan. Againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Palmer. Againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Stone. For the Queſtion.

Mr. Floyer. When the Honourable Court of Directors granted a new Commiſſion of Government to the Right honourable Lord Pigot, &c. and the other Members of their Council at this Preſidency, as is uſual upon their confirmation or nomination of a new Preſident and Governor, they thought proper to include therein every Member who they were adviſed had ſucceeded to the ſeats vacated by ſome of the Gentlemen who had returned to Europe, ſo that by the introduction of Mr. Ruſſell, Mr. Dalrymple, and myſelf into Council, upon this Eſtabliſhment, the number of the Council at that time amounted to nineteen Members (of which number Mr. Hay, Mr. Straton, and Mr. Cotſford, were in Europe) including the Preſident and Commander in Chief; but they were pleaſed particularly to direct, that no future vacancies in the Council ſhould be filled up, until it was reduced to the number of twelve; four of this number are conſtant Reſident Chiefs at the ſubordinate factories. Hence it is evident to me, that the number of the Board ultimately intended to govern the Company's affairs on this coaſt, are eight, including the Commander in Chief, whoſe reſidence at Fort Saint George is precarious and uncertain: we have ſtill very lately been twelve Members of the Board, and are now actually eleven in number; notwithſtanding which, the Preſident moves that Mr. Smith and Mr. Johnſon be called up from the Northern Settlements to take their ſeats at the Board. To this Motion I object for the following reaſons; 1ſt, Becauſe the Board is compoſed of more Members than our Maſters intended it ſhould hereafter be compoſed of, for the Government of their affairs: 2dly, Becauſe, I think, the delay which muſt neceſſarily be occaſioned by the coming up of theſe Chiefs from Settlements ſo very diſtant from the Preſidency, will be attended with prejudice to the affairs of the Company, and be inconſiſtent with their poſitive commands relative to the Adminiſtration of Civil Juſtice; Becauſe Mr. Johnſon is one of the Members of the Committee of Circuit, nominated by the Honourable Court of Directors; and 4thly, Becauſe the Board, by this day's conſultation, have appointed a part of the Committee ſhall hold their Circuit this inſtant for the Circar of Ongole, which is under the Adminiſtration of Mr. Johnſon and the Council at Vizagapatam.

Mr. Dalrymple. [illegible] thinking the preſent [illegible] affairs [illegible] abſence of a full Board, [illegible] I give [illegible] Motion, becauſe it [illegible] for our [illegible] opinion [illegible] Preſident on [illegible] Company on [illegible]

Mr. Ruſſell. [illegible] reaſons urged by Mr. [illegible]

Mr. Brooke. I am [illegible] becauſe I think [illegible] Board [illegible] Company's affairs [illegible]

the intereſt of our Maſters in their reſpective ſtations, than they would be at the Preſidency, where there are already Members ſufficient.

Sir Rob. Fletcher. I ſhould be very glad to ſee Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon here at this time; but I am obliged to be againſt the Motion, becauſe I think it is contrary to the Reſolutions of the Board, reſpecting the Committee of Circuit; contrary to the Company's orders reſpecting the eſtabliſhed number of the Council at the Preſidency; and contrary to the expreſs words of the commiſſion of Government, as it reſpects the Chiefs of ſubordinates.

Mr. Straton. Againſt the Queſtion, for the reaſons urged by Mr. Floyer.

Preſident. For the Queſtion.

The Queſtion being carried againſt the firſt Motion, by a majority of 7 to 4, it becomes unneceſſary to put any Queſtion upon the ſecond Motion.

The third Motion being read, and the Queſtion put upon it,

Mr. Mackay. I am againſt the Queſtion; becauſe I think it is contrary to every principle of juſtice, as well as to the eſtabliſhed rules of the ſervice, that we ſhould make an Act of Government to puniſh any ſervants of the Company before an accuſation is brought againſt them, or even before it is known that they have committed any offence. If this Motion is carried in the affirmative, every Member of the Board who may have been viſited by either of the Nabob's Sons after it is dark, is liable to be ſuſpended from the Company's ſervice, though it ſhould appear on examination, that the viſit was not made with the knowledge or conſent of ſuch Member; and notwithſtanding the Reſolution of the Council, not to viſit the Nabob, or his Sons, &c. has been reſcinded by a great majority of the Board.

Mr. Jourdan. The majority of the Board having determined, that the Reſolution of Council, prohibiting the Members of Council from viſiting the Nabob, or is legally, if not formally, reſcinded, I know of no offence in viſiting or receiving viſits from the Nabob, or his Sons, and of courſe cannot conſent to the Motion; but I cannot help adding, that to paſs the Motion as it ſtands would be inconſiſtent with my ideas of juſtice, as it would be condemning a man without giving him an opportunity of defending himſelf, nay, even before a charge be laid againſt him.

Francis Jourdan.

Mr. Palmer. I am againſt the Queſtion for the reaſons given by Mr. Mackay.

Mr. Stone. I think the Motion rather premature, and am therefore againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Floyer. Whenever a charge is given, and particularly in ſo general a manner as this ſeems to have been done by Mr. Ruſſell, I conceive the only proper and regular manner of procedure is, to call upon Mr. Ruſſell to explain ſuch charge, in order to obtain the neceſſary proofs; and upon the obtaining of proofs of any delinquency, the Board, in my opinion, ſhould then and not before, proceed to paſs ſuch cenſure upon the delinquent as they may deem themſelves legally authorized to inflict. I therefore think this Motion of the Preſident premature, and am againſt its being made, until a charge of delinquency is brought and proved, not only againſt any Members of this Board, but againſt any other perſons reſiding under the Britiſh Government.

Mr. Dalrymple. I am for the Queſtion, as I conſider the prohibition againſt viſits from the Nabob or his Sons ſtill in force; if ſuch viſits are conſidered as crimes, they merit ſuſpenſion.

Mr. Ruſſell. I look upon the Reſolution, prohibiting viſits as [illegible] of any Lord [illegible] Nabob or his Sons, [illegible] and [illegible] conſidered [illegible] I am [illegible] the Queſtion.

Mr. Brooke. I am againſt the [illegible] reaſons given by Mr. Mackay.

APPENDIX. No. 6.

Sir Rob. Fletcher. I ſubſcribe to the opinion given by Mr. Jourdan; and am therefore againſt the Queſtion.

Mr. Stratton. Againſt the Queſtion, for the reaſons given by Mr. Mackay.

Preſident. For the Queſtion.

Carried againſt the Queſtion, by a majority of 8 to 3.

It being late in the day and ſome of the Members propoſing to adjourn, the Right honourable the Preſident obſerves, That if any Gentlemen are to riſe from the table not ſatisfied that Mr. Ruſſell can clearly maintain what he has aſſerted, he objects to the Council's breaking up at this time, and is for going into that enquiry immediately.

Mr. Floyer agrees to the Preſident's deſire of having the ſubject of Mr. Ruſſell's Letter diſcuſſed at preſent; and the majority of the Board being of that opinion, Mr. Ruſſell's Letter, dated the 2d inſtant, and entered in the laſt Conſultation, is read.

Mr. Ruſſell is then deſired to acquaint the Board where he obtained the information relative to Mr. Dawſon's having had large offers made him for the purpoſe mentioned in that Letter? Mr. Ruſſell replies, That what relates to Mr. Dawſon he had from himſelf; which he mentions to his credit. Mr. Dalrymple likewiſe obſerves, that what relates to Mr. Dawſon he heard from him.

Mr. Floyer upon this occaſion, ſolemnly declares, that this is the firſt time he ever heard of this matter, except from that paſſage of Mr. Ruſſell's Letter to the Board read the other day.

The Right honourable the Preſident then obſerves, that the other paſſage in Mr. Ruſſell's Letter, reſpecting nocturnal viſits, proceeds from intelligence which that Gentleman received from himſelf; but that having failed in his application to the Board to make the puniſhment certain, he ſhall keep the names of the offenders concealed until another opportunity.

Mr. Floyer gives it as his opinion, that the Preſident ſhould be now requeſted to explain to the Board what he means by nocturnal viſits, and further deſired to favour the Board with the names of any of its Members whom he thinks have committed any offence.

With reſpect to nocturnal viſits, the Preſident eſteems all viſits made after ſunſet, to be nocturnal viſits, and when he ſhall ſee an opportunity which ſuits well with the intereſt of the Company, and he is well perſuaded he can bring the puniſhment home, he will produce the offenders, and not till then.

The Board adjourn till Thurſday next, to take into conſideration the buſineſs of the Inveſtment at the Preſidency, and at Ingeram.

Geo. Stratton.
Henry Brooke.
Archdale Palmer.
Francis Jourdan.
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 9th Auguſt 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Henry Brooke,
Claude Ruſſell,
Alex. Dalrymple,
Cha. Floyer,
Jn. Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

The Honourable Company's ſhip Revenge, being under diſpatch for the Northern Settlements; conformable to what he mentioned in Conſultation the 5th inſtant, the Preſident lays before the Board, the draft of a Letter to Maſulipatam, that Mr. Floyer may proceed thither, if it be convenient to him.

To Charles Floyer, Eſquire, Chief, &c. Council at Maſulipatam.

Gentlemen,

The Court of Directors having been pleaſed to nominate Mr. Floyer to the Chiefſhip of Maſulipatam next after Mr. Whitehill, and the ſame being vacant by the reſignation of that Gentleman, Mr. Floyer proceeds accordingly to take charge of that ſettlement.

As complaints have ariſen, from the ſervants of the Company becoming ſecurity for the payment of the Kiſts due to the Company, and the influence they have had, and authority exerted, in the country, having been injurious in the greateſt degree to the Natives, who had prior aſſignments on the country, for money ſupplied the different Zemindars for payment of their Kiſts, &c. we direct, that in time to come, no ſervant of the Company ſhall, on any account whatever, directly or indirectly, lend money to the Country Powers, or be in any reſpect whatever concerned in the collection of the revenues.

Lauldoſs, the Soucar, acquaints the Preſident, that he has a demand on the country of Opparow Zemindar, for Pagodas 160,000. Aſſignments were properly made to him for the payment of this, by Opparow Zemindar; but this Soucar having been interrupted in collecting his debts, we recommend to your attention his particular caſe, and direct that you give him all proper aid and aſſiſtance, as alſo in recovering his debts of the Zemindar Vaſoriddy, and the Pitaporam Zemindar, although this laſt was during the Mooriſh Government.

The complaints made by the Nabob to our Honourable Maſters, ſhall be removed, by the lands being let out in future, either by the Committee of Circuit, or the Preſident and Council here; and of this you will give public notice, that propoſals will be received until the 1ſt March next, for the renting of that part of the Circars which falls under your management after the preſent time expires. Theſe propoſals muſt be for one year only, for although we are ſatisfied larger offers might be expected, were we to grant a longer leaſe, the Court of Directors would diſapprove our ſo doing, before the Committee of Circuit had made ſome enquiry into that part of their eſtate.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 9th Auguſt 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Henry Brooke,
Claude Ruſſell,
Alex. Dalrymple,
Charles Floyer,
John Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

The following Minute, delivered in by Mr. Stratton, Sir Robert Fletcher, Meſſrs. Brooke, Floyer, Palmer, Jourdan, and Mackay, is now read.

Meſſrs. Brooke and Floyer have declared, That they did not, by their Motion, mean an imputation of neglect on Meſſrs. Ruſſell and Dalrymple; but after the Letters thoſe Gentlemen have written, after the declaration Mr. Ruſſell has made, we think there will appear to the Court of Directors an unwillingneſs on their part to ſet out upon the Circuit.

The firſt duty of every Member of this Government is obedience to the Reſolutions of the Board. Mr. Ruſſell, notwithſtanding the Reſolution, "That the Com-"mittee of Circuit" (of which he is at the head) "ſhall "proceed immediately," tells the Board, he hopes to go firſt to Tanjour, to quiet the alarms of the Rajah. Of theſe alarms hereafter: in this place we ſhall only note the impropriety of the expreſſion. If he underſtood not, whether he was first to go to Tanjour, he should have asked the question, and have been informed; but from the manner in which he has written, it is by implication a remonstrance, the propriety of which we submit to the Court of Directors. Concerning that part of the Letter relating to Mr. Dawson, we say, that we know not of those offers, or any other offers; had they been made, it would have been more to Mr. Dawson's credit to have laid the information before the Board ere his departure, than to have given them to Mr. Russell, to be brought forth at a future time. The remark of the indefatigability of the Nabob's sons, in their nocturnal visits, may have been intended to operate in working suspicions on those who have opposed the President; but as the President has taken this information on himself, we shall not here say more upon the subject, than that such general insinuations appear to us very unbecoming.

The whole tendency of Mr. Dalrymple's Letter is finding fault with the late acts of the Board, as well respecting the time of the Committee's departure, as its local prosecution of the important matters committed to its charge. But he has gone farther, he has given it under his hand. He presumes that the Motion regularly made and seconded, cannot, in the case before us, ever be put by the President. This is not the first instance of his unconstitutional and arbitrary principles. It would be descending too much, for us, on this occasion, to enter into a refutation of principles, better calculated for the meridian of a despotic Government, than that of the free one of which we are Members, and which we are determined to preserve and support.

The high encomiums paid by the President, in his Minute of the 2d August, to Messrs. Russell and Dalrymple, we think might as well have been omitted; but being recorded, we are obliged, in justice to other Members of the Board, to say, that we conceive them to be at least equal in ability, as well as integrity, to those Gentlemen.

After the contents of the Letter of the Secretary, of the 1st August, entered in the proceedings of the 2d, superseding the act of the Board; and after the President had declared himself not ready for the business of the Circuit, it was extraordinary that, from the Letters written by Messrs. Russell and Dalrymple, he should make three Motions; one of which, if admitted, would operate in direct opposition to a late Resolution, which fixes Messrs. Russell, Dalrymple, and Johnson, to the immediate prosecution of the business upon which they were ordered by the Company; to which we add, that it was irregular in the President to offer, and the Board to receive, any Motions, until the Motion then before the Board had been carried in the affirmative or negative, or been otherwise disposed of. Local knowledge can only be acquired on the spot; the Records of each Subordinacy are to be seen at the principal places of the Subordinacies; and in those Records are to be found every material opinion or order touching the Circars:—We see therefore the impropriety of delay. Mr. Brooke moved such a time as he judged sufficient, considering their appointments had been long known to them, and that they had not charge of any employs. Mr. Floyer was of the same opinion, but unwilling to differ with the Gentlemen, an amendment of the Motion was proposed and carried, and the main Question then put and carried, fixing the 31st for their departure.

We cannot but observe, That the President hath been pleased to say, that the Nabob wishes to have the enquiry into abuses and oppressions continued, or made by his Friends. We know not what is meant by this Expression, but we refer to the President's own feelings, whether this be liberal. We are not ashamed to call ourselves the Friends of the Nabob, for we are ordered by our Masters so to treat him as such; but that our friendship for the Nabob should make us turn a deaf ear to oppressions committed on the poor people under our Government, is an idea too shocking for us to conceive to have entered into the mind of any man. Were it possible for the President to mean to convey such an idea, it were beneath us to justify ourselves, unless the Company should require it on misapprehension of what hath been said.

Minutes of this kind cannot be written at the Board—if they could, when divisions run as they have done, and when such doctrines have been held forth as we have heard, discussions at the Board would have brought on personalities, which might have involved the Company's affairs in more difficulties than they now are. We cannot but observe, that the President hath given us numberless instances of plans prepared in the Cabinet, and hurried through the Board; such as the Letter, per Ankerwicke, which ought to have been the effect of deliberation—the Motions for the President's going to Tanjour—his Powers—his Diary—his Motion for sending the Nabob to Arcot—the Chief and Council for Tanjour, &c.; and we may also say, every Motion he has opposed has been delayed for consideration from day to day: and since the President hath said, the majority put a negative on every measure he recommends, we take this opportunity of assuring him, that whenever he shall propose measures to the Board which we, in our consciences, can approve, he shall meet with all our support; and whether in our duty to the Public we could or could not support the measures we have opposed, the Court of Directors will be able to determine.

We have so often heard from the President and Mr. Dalrymple, of Council being appointed to assist the President, that we are not surprized to hear the President speak of his particular responsibility. We will, to shew the futility of this opinion, insert the following standing Order, although the very constitution of the Company is so clear as to render it quite unnecessary to any one, who does not wilfully refuse conviction. The requisition of the President, that Mr. Russell shall proceed to Tanjour, and his refusal of assent to Colonel Stuart's going to Tanjour until Mr. Russell goes thither, are equally extraordinary and equally inadmissible.

Standing Orders from England.

3d January 1678, Par. 54.

"Whatever shall be agreed on by the majority, shall "be esteemed the order by which each one is to act; "and accordingly every individual person, even the "Dissenters themselves, are to perform their parts in "the prosecution thereof; and in so doing they do their "duty, and must be blamed for the event."

9th March 1702, Para. 2d.

Of the Instructions to Mr. Pitt, &c.

"We do strictly enjoin, that all our affairs be transacted in Council, and ordered and managed as the "majority of the Council shall determine, and not otherwise, upon any pretence whatsoever, &c. &c."

When Lord Pigot came to Council, on the [illegible] we understood, that on the evening he summoned the Council on a different business from that on which they had adjourned, he knew not that Messieurs Russell and Dalrymple intended to write the Letters which are before the Board: on the Consultation of Monday he has recorded, that he gave Mr. Russell the information touching the nocturnal visits which Mr. Russell has introduced into his Letter, and on which he has founded that extraordinary Motion recorded on Consultation, as the third he intended to make. Let these circumstances speak for themselves.

Before we enter further into the subject of the Motions, it may not be unnecessary to make some observations touching the alarms of which the Rajah's mind ought to be quieted. We have in the Military Department given an opinion that no such alarms exist; but that if the Rajah has alarms, the President ought to [illegible] them to the Board, that proper remedy might be applied: we know not of any; but we cannot help saying, that if any could exiſt, they moſt likely have ſprung from the delay of communication of the Reſolution of the Board of 14th June, as ſuch delay may carry with it an air of myſtery, and might raiſe ſuſpicions: but even in this caſe, the blame would fall on the Preſident, who ought, when at Tanjour, to have informed the Rajah there were demands of tunckedars, mortgagees, &c. and that he could not of himſelf determine the validity of thoſe claims. But if alarms ariſing from this exiſt, the moſt likely method to remove them will be, without more delay, to tell the Rajah that he ought to have been informed of theſe demands from the Preſident when at Tanjour; that we have conſidered the ſubject, and are of opinion, that the demands on the crop are conſiſtent with reaſon, juſtice, and the Company's orders; that in conſequence, he ought to aſcertain what the produce hath been, and fix upon periods for paying the ſame as his finances will beſt admit; that the Company mean to do ſtrict juſtice to the Rajah, as he may clearly ſee by the orders which have taken the country from the Nabob, and reſtored it to him; that the whole of the Board have not agreed in opinion touching the grain on the ground; but that our proceedings go to the Court of Directors, to whom, if he thinks proper, we ſhall be ready faithfully to repreſent every circumſtance he may deſire; that their favourable diſpoſition towards him cannot be doubted; and that if they ſhould judge this Government has erred, may reverſe that judgment: to which we ſhould add, that the Court of Directors thinking the Company guarantees of the Treaty of 1762, we are conſequently as much in duty bound to ſupport his juſt rights againſt the Nabob, as the Nabob againſt Hyder, or any other of the Country or European Powers.

APPENDIX. No. 6.

When the Company directed us to carry into execution a plan which they were apprehenſive might bring on conſequences of the utmoſt importance, they judged the Board competent to determine upon it: and can we, with propriety, when that buſineſs of importance is finiſhed; when we have on mature conſideration reſolved, that the Committee of Circuit ſhall immediately ſet out; when we know that the buſineſs of the Northern Settlements is of great conſequence to the Company, loſe a moment in a debate, whether we ſhall call up the Chiefs from the Northward or not? We have heard of the alarms of the Rajah, of the oppreſſions of the Nabob, of abuſes exiſting in the Settlement, but with a Council inferior in number, the buſineſs of the Company on emergent occaſions, hath been well conducted. We have denied the exiſtence of juſt alarms; we are convinced of our intention to do the inhabitants of the Jagueer, as well as the Company, ſtrict juſtice; and we think ourſelves competent to redreſs any grievances or alarms which may have occurred at the Preſidency; we therefore could not heſitate a moment in refuſing conſent to his firſt Motion. But what ſhall we ſay of the third? Can any thing more ſtrongly mark the very extraordinary diſpoſition and deſigns of the Preſident, than that Motion? "That if the "nocturnal viſits were made to Members of the Coun-"cil, they ſhould ſtand ſuſpended." The Preſident could not but remember, that the majority had determined the Reſolution of touching the Nabob and his ſons, ſtood legally, if not formally, reſcinded. But he endeavours to avail himſelf of the want of form, thereby reproaching thoſe Members who failed in the execution of their duty, and who did not exert their rights, by inſiſting upon the Preſident's putting the Queſtion for reſcinding that Reſolution. Unwilling to proceed to extremities, they adopted a mode they judged likely to anſwer the end without it. But the Preſident ſays, when he ſhall ſee an opportunity which ſuits with the intereſt of the Company, and he is well perſuaded he can bring the puniſhment home, he will produce the offenders, and not till then. This is the return for our moderation, and that delicacy we have ſhewn the Preſident, and which is but one of the many inſtances we might quote; this ſhews the neceſſity of a ſtrict adherence to the principles of our conſtitution; but we hope the Preſident will not put us to ſuch another trial. When the Company ſhall read, that, notwithſtanding their orders to Bengal, that a man ſhall have a copy of the charge againſt him, to anſwer and croſs queſtion the witneſs, one of their Preſidents ſhall endeavour to paſs an order to condemn men unknown, unheard, on a ſpecies of offence not admitted as an offence by the majority of the Board, they cannot but be aſtoniſhed. If the Motion had paſſed into a Reſolution, it would have reflected on thoſe who had paſſed it; for it is contrary to humanity and juſtice, the characteriſtics of a free ſtate, and only to be reconciled to the cuſtoms of thoſe arbitrary courts, where men have formerly been tried and condemned unheard.

The Preſident obſerves on the firſt part of the above Minute, which relates to Mr. Ruſſell, That that Gentleman was by a former Reſolution of the Board, appointed Reſident at Tanjour, although one of the Committee of Circuit; that this Reſolution has never been reſcinded, and therefore he ſhould have thought Mr. Ruſſell at liberty to go to Tanjour, without infringing any ſubſequent Reſolution, provided he could be back in time to proceed on the Circuit within the period fixed for his departure: that, notwithſtanding, he (the Preſident) was of this opinion, he had before mentioned his wiſh, that Mr. Ruſſell might have expreſs permiſſion from the Board, to proceed for a few days to Tanjour; but as nothing of that kind is yet recorded, he now repeats his requeſt, and deſires the ſentiments of the Board upon it.

Mr. Mackay. I am againſt Mr. Ruſſell's going to Tanjour, and will deliver in a Minute on the ſubject.

Mr. Jourdan. As I never have conſented to Mr. Ruſſell's going to Tanjour, for reaſons before entered in Conſultation, ſo I cannot with propriety give my conſent to it at this time.

Mr. Palmer. Againſt it, and will deliver in a Minute.

Mr. Stone. For it.

Mr. Floyer. I am againſt, for the reaſons I have before aſſigned, as well as that Mr. Ruſſell has ſaid, he ſhall not be ready to go on the Circuit before the firſt of October.

Mr. Dalrymple. For it.

Mr. Ruſſell. For it.

Mr. Brooke. Againſt it, for the reaſons aſſigned by Mr. Jourdan.

Mr. Stratton. Againſt it.

Preſident. For it.

Agreed by a majority of 6 to 4, that Mr. Ruſſell be not permitted to go to Tanjour.

Geo. Stratton,
Henry Brooke,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 16th Auguſt 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right honourable Lord Pigot, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Sir Rob. Fletcher,
Henry Brooke,
Claude Ruſſell,
Alexr. Dalrymple,
Jas. Maxwell Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

Minutes of the laſt Conſultations read:

Mr. Jourdan delivers in the following Minute, in reply to that part of the Preſident's Minute of the 5th inſt. which reſpects him.

Mr.

Mr. Jourdan's Minute.

Mr. Jourdan thinks it neceſſary to deliver in the following Minute on the ſubject of the Circuit, which he had prepared to have laid before the Board, but the diſputes which occurred prevented him from doing it.

Mr. Jourdan begs leave to obſerve, That Lord Pigot has miſunderſtood him, if he imagined that he wanted to take from the Committee of Circuit what the Company had entruſted to them. All Mr. Jourdan meant was, that while the Gentlemen were acting to the Northward, the Committee of Revenue might collect and arrange the accounts againſt their return. Since Lord Pigot's Minute carries with it an implication of want of zeal in Mr. Jourdan for the ſervice, in having declined the vacancy in the Committee of Circuit, Mr. Jourdan hopes he may, without being preſumptuous, ſay, that he has ſhewn as much attention and zeal to the ſervice of the Company, as any of the Members of the Board; and the Board have been pleaſed to confer on him, on that account, marks of their favour. He does alſo further declare, that having applied himſelf very particularly to the affairs of the Company at the Preſidency, he thinks he can render more eſſential ſervice by remaining here, than by going upon the Circuit; otherwiſe, that he ſhould not have wiſhed to decline it.

Mr. Ruſſell enters the following Minute:

Mr. Ruſſell's Minute.

Mr. Stratton, Sir Robert Fletcher, and Meſſrs. Brooke, Floyer, Palmer, Jourdan, and Mackay, in their Minute of the 9th inſtant, found an opinion upon my Letter of the 1ſt, and the declarations made at the Board the That there will appear to the Court of Directors an unwillingneſs in me to ſet out upon the Circuit. I muſt remark in reply, that my Letter was before the Board when I was acquitted of backwardneſs in my duty to the Company; and that thoſe Gentlemen in this very Minute, acknowledge that it would have been diſtreſſing us to fix our departure for fifteen days, and therefore extended it to thirty. On urgent occaſions private conſiderations ought not to have any weight with this Board; and I ſhould hope no Member is capable of making them a plea for declining public ſervice. For my own part, I expreſſed my readineſs to go to the Southward, agreeably to the Preſident's requeſt; in the preſent inſtance, the ſhort time allowed us being meant only to fruſtrate a former Reſolution of the Board, I ſubmit to the Court of Directors, whether more regard ought not to have been paid to the declarations I made, and whether more time might not have been expected after I had made my arrangements for going to Tanjour, in conſequence of ſuch Reſolution, and had even ſent part of my baggage thither.

I cheerfully appeal likewiſe to the Court of Directors, whether my declaring, under ſuch circumſtances, that, inſtead of the 1ſt September, I could not poſſibly be ready before the 1ſt October to go to the Northern extremity of the Company's poſſeſſions, on a ſervice which will require years to execute, or Mr. Jourdan's reaſons (26 July) for declining that ſervice, and Mr. Mackay's Letter of the 29th July, indicate moſt unwillingneſs.

With equal cheerfulneſs I further ſubmit to the Court of Directors, the propriety of what theſe Gentlemen term a remonſtrance. Theſe Gentlemen ſurely cannot mean to deny, that a Member of the Board has a right to expreſs his ſentiments; nay, more, to remonſtrate, or even proteſt, what I had was founded on public grounds: and as the appointment for Tanjour, which ſtill exiſted, appears highly expedient, I did hope that it would firſt take place, and the more ſo as it was ſo underſtood at the time the appointment was made.

Theſe Gentlemen do Mr. Dacres great injuſtice in ſuppoſing he gave the information mentioned in my Letter to be brought forth at a future time; I declare ſuch was never his intention; and it is a thing ſelf-evident that it could not be, for he did not dream more than myſelf, that the appointment of a Reſident at Tanjour would have been overſet after his departure; if he had, probably he would have laid open to the Board the various means taken with him to vote againſt that appointment.

APPENDIX, No. 7.

Extract of Fort Saint George Military Conſultations, the 29th Auguſt 1776.

PRESENT,

George Stratton, Eſquire, Preſident,
Henry Brooke,
Sir Robt Fletcher,
Charles Floyer,
Archd Palmer,
*Franc*s Jourdan,
George Mackay.

Fort Saint George, 29th Auguſt 1776.

THE Board proceeded to take into conſideration the immediate execution of the orders of the Honourable Court of Directors, relative to the Committee of Circuit, in order that this matter may undergo the leaſt delay poſſible by the late events, and the ſuſpenſions of Meſſrs. Ruſſell, Dalrymple, and Lathom, who were appointed Members of that Committee.

Minute, 29th Auguſt 1776.

The Board, taking into conſideration the nomination of proper perſons for the Committee of Circuit, refer to the Company's orders on the ſubject, which are as follows:

Separate Letter from England, 12 April 1775.

"We therefore direct, that when affairs reſpecting "Tanjore ſhall have been accommodated and finally ad-"juſted, a Committee of our Council, conſiſting of five "Members, be appointed to make the Circuit of the "Northern Circars, &c."

When the Court of Directors gave theſe orders, the Council conſiſted of nineteen, ſo that there were more than ſufficient for carrying on the Company's buſineſs at the Preſidency, for the Chiefſhips, and for the Committee of Circuit. The caſe is now altered; for by the late change the Council is reduced to nine Members on the Coaſt: two are gone home with leave, viz. Meſſrs. Dawſon and Whitehill; and two others, Meſſrs Cotſford and Hay, are now in England, and have the leave of the Court of Directors for remaining there another year. The Honourable the Court of Directors, in their commands of the 12th April 1775, poſitively direct that no new Members ſhall be taken into Council till the number is reduced to twelve.

Letter from England, 12th April 1775, paragraph 64.

"Although, from a variety of circumſtances, it has "happened that our Council at Fort Saint George have "never been reduced to the number of twelve, alluding "to our directions in the year 1769; nevertheleſs it is "our poſitive order, That no further vacancy therein "be filled up by you, even proviſionally, until the Coun-"cil ſhall be reduced to the ſaid number, twelve, &c."

In this ſituation, we are under the neceſſity of deviating from the orders of our Honourable Maſters, with reſpect to the Committee of Circuit, as in filling up the Council beyond the number preſcribed, which we think ought not to be done but in caſes of neceſſity. After the moſt mature deliberation on theſe ſubjects, we are unanimouſly of opinion, that three vacancies now in the Committee of Circuit, by the ſuſpenſion of Meſſrs. Ruſſell, Dalrymple,

APPENDIX. No. 8.

Dalrymple, and Lathom, be filled up by Meſſrs. Perring, Daniel, and Crawfurd, thoſe Gentlemen being near Council, and in our opinion very capable of ſerving the Company on this important buſineſs. The Committee will then conſiſt of Meſſrs. Johnſon,

Floyer,
Perring,
Daniel,
Crawfurd.

Mr. Sadlier, the next ſervant on the liſt to Mr. Perring, cannot, we think, be employed until the Board come to a determination on his conduct at Ingeram.

Mr. Davidſon has the charge of an employ of great truſt, which cannot at this time be transferred to another.

Mr. Morgan Williams, the next ſervant on the liſt to Mr. Davidſon, having been many years at Vizagapatam, and well acquainted with the buſineſs of that Settlement, we think his remaining there will be abſolutely neceſſary, as both the Chief and ſecond are ordered on the Committee of Circuit.

Mr. John Hollond is next to Mr. Williams, but he is Perſian tranſlator.

Mr. Williams to ſucceed Mr. Perring as ſecond.

Ordered, That Meſſrs. Perring, Daniel, and Crawfurd be wrote to, adviſing them of their appointments to the Committee of Circuit; that Meſſrs. Crawfurd and Daniel be directed to proceed to Vizagapatam, where they will be joined by Meſſrs. Johnſon and Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 8.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 30th September 1776.

PRESENT,

The Honourable George Stratton, Eſq. Preſident,
Henry Brooke,
Charles Floyer,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Fourdan,
George Mackay.

READ the following Letter from Mr. Hollond:

To the Honourable George Stratton, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

As I underſtand your not naming me on the Committee of Circuit, purſuant to the ground you had adopted of appointing the ſervants next to Council, was on account of my being Perſian tranſlator; I muſt obſerve, with ſubmiſſion, that the buſineſs of that office does not ſeem to render it neceſſary for me to be kept at the Preſidency. I beg leave therefore to offer myſelf for the Committee Service; hoping, that my knowledge of Perſian will not be an impediment to my being appointed to a ſtation ſo much more creditable than that which I now hold.

I am with reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient,
humble Servant,
Fort Saint George, 21ſt September 1776. John Hollond.

Mr. James Daniell, who was, in Conſultation the 29th Auguſt, appointed a Member of the Committee of Circuit, having ſince repreſented, that it would be attended with great inconvenience to him to be removed from his preſent ſtation; it is reſolved, That he be excuſed, and that Mr. Hollond be a Member of the Committee of Circuit in his room.

Geo. Stratton,
Henry Brooke,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Fourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 1ſt November 1776.

November 1. Diſpatched the following Letter to Vizagapatam, incloſing Inſtructions for the Committee of Circuit:

To Samuel Johnſon, Eſquire, Chief, &c. Council, at Vizagapatam.

Gentlemen,

You were adviſed in our Letter of the 11th inſtant, of the appointment of the Committee of Circuit; we now incloſe our Inſtructions to the Committee, and we deſire they may be opened by ſuch of the Gentlemen as may be at Vizagapatam on receipt of this Letter.

The Committee being directed to begin their enquiries in the Chicacole Circar, we deſire that the Records of your Settlement be immediately open to their inſpection; and in general, that you afford them every information and aſſiſtance in your power.

Such perſons as may be employed in ſurveying the Company's lands, dependant upon Vizagapatam, muſt be put under the order of the Committee of Circuit.

We are,
Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends,
Fort Saint George, 1ſt Nov. 1776. Geo. Stratton, and Council.

To Samuel Johnſon, Charles Floyer, } Eſquires.
Meſſrs. Peter Perring,
John Hollond,
and Quintin Crauſurd.

Inſtructions to the Committee of Circuit.

Gentlemen,

1. In conſequence of the orders of the Honourable Court of Directors, ſignified to us by their ſeparate Letter of the 12th April 1775, we have appointed you to be a Committee, to make the Circuit of the Northern Circars and Company's Jaqueer; and we incloſe herewith, a copy of ſuch parts of the ſaid Letter as contain their ſentiments and Inſtructions on this ſubject.

2. The Court of Directors have been ſo explicit with regard to the ſeveral points they wiſh to have aſcertained by the Committee of Circuit, that we ſhall have occaſion to add very little at preſent on that ſubject; if in the courſe of your proceedings and enquiries, any thing ſhould occur to us which may improve the deſigns of the Court of Directors, we ſhall communicate it to you, and we are confident you will yourſelves take every opportunity of making their plan as perfect as poſſible.

3. The Chicacole Circar being the firſt object of your enquiry, we have reſolved that Mr. John Hollond and Quintin Crauſurd ſhall proceed thither with all poſſible expedition, to join Mr. Johnſon and Mr. Perring, who are now at Vizagapatam; but we have permitted Mr. Floyer to proceed firſt to Maſulipatam, where he has been appointed Chief, and to remain there ſo long as he ſhall find it neceſſary to acquire a knowledge of the affairs of that Chiefſhip, after which he is to join the other Members of the Committee of Circuit, and go on with them in their enquiries.

4. As ſoon as either Mr. Hollond or Mr. Crauſurd is arrived at Vizagapatam, we would the Committee proceed on their buſineſs of the Circuit without waiting for the other Members.

5. In reſpect to the mode to be obſerved in carrying the Company's intentions into execution, whether by the Committee's proceedings jointly in that of the buſ[illegible] which relates to the enquiry, or ſeparately taking di[illegible] Diſtricts in the ſame Circar, we leave this matter to [illegible] own judgment and determination, obſerving only, that we wiſh to have the enquiry carried on in the moſt expe[illegible]tious and effectual manner poſſible.

We

We ſhall direct that the Records of the Company at every Settlement ſhall be open to your inſpection, and the Chief and Council reſpectively will be deſired to give you every information and aſſiſtance in their power.

7. There are ſome points not immediately connected with the buſineſs of the Circuit, which we have agreed to refer to your examination.

8. In March laſt the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam repreſented, that the renters of the Havelly lands have ſuſtained very great loſſes by their farms, and petitioned for an abatement of rent. From the reports that were made to us on the ſubject, the caſe of theſe renters appeared ſo ſingular, that although they were not entitled by their Cowles to any conſideration, we determined to refer the examination of their loſſes to the Committee of Circuit; and upon their report, to act as might appear moſt equitable. In conſequence of this Reſolution, we direct that you make the neceſſary enquiry, and tranſmit the particulars to us, with your opinion.

9. The Preſident informs us, That when he was in the Chicacole Circar, Jugganautrauze, the preſent renter of the Havelly lands, acquainted him, that if thoſe lands (for which the Company now receive only 170,000 Rupees per annum) were let to him for 10 years, he would give 210,000 Rupees per annum, and after that term 400,000 per annum for 10 years more. From this circumſtance we are led to ſuppoſe the farm capable of the greateſt improvement; and we expect, from your enquiries, to aſcertain its value with ſome degree of preciſion.

10. Juggabundoo Chowdry, renter of the Havelly lands in the Ichapour diſtrict, has delivered a petition, ſetting forth, the great loſs he has ſuſtained by that farm, which expired the 25th September laſt, and requeſting either that ſome abatement might be made, or that he might have the ſame farm for a further period of three years, at 150,000 Rupees per ann. This laſt requeſt we could not comply with, as we had before reſolved on letting all the Company's farms for one year only; but as Juggabundoo Chowdry was repreſented by the Chief and Council of Ganjam, as a man very deſerving of our favour, on account of his general good conduct and punctuality in performing his engagements, we reſolved, if it were agreeable to him, that he ſhould be permitted to hold the farm for the preſent year, at 150,000 Rupees, and that if his behaviour ſhould merit the approbation of the Committee of Circuit, it ſhould be recommended to that Committee, to continue him for two years longer at the ſame rent. He has ſince accepted our propoſal, and we deſire, in conſequence, that you attend to the promiſe we have made him.

11. The Chief and Council of Ganjam, in a Letter lately addreſſed to us on the affairs of the Ichapour diſtrict, recommend the converting ſome of the ſmaller Zemindaries into Havelly lands, and allowing the Zemindars Jaghires out of them for their ſupport. We do not mean, upon any account, to take away from the Zemindars their hereditary rights; and at preſent we are far from ſuppoſing they will voluntarily give them up; nevertheleſs, when you come into the Ichapour diſtrict, and have made proper enquiry into the ſtate of it, we deſire you will communicate to us your opinion on the ſubject of the above recommendation.

12. Sometime ago a Letter came before us from the Paymaſter at Aſſa, requeſting permiſſion to build a houſe there for his reſidence. We agreed that it ſhould be referred to the Committee of Circuit to report, whether ſuch a building were neceſſary; and we mention it here that you may make enquiry when you arrive at that place, and inform us.

13. It has long been a matter of complaint, and we believe it is very juſtly founded, that the ſalt made in the Maſulipatam diſtricts has been ſold by the renters, both for exportation and to the Lomberdy People, at too high a rate; upon which account the owners of ſhips have generally preferred taking their ſalts from ports to the Southward; and many of the Lombardy People, who would otherwiſe chooſe to purchaſe ſalt in the Maſulipatam diſtricts, by reaſon of the protection they meet with, go to other people of the country.

14. Another diſcouragement to theſe people, is the Juncan, collected by the Zemindars in their reſpective diſtricts upon different articles of merchandize paſſing through the country; by which means ſuch merchandize is, we believe, taxed higher than it will bear, and the proprietors are ſubject to great delay and difficulty in paſſing their goods through ſo many different Chokies.

15. The Juncans in the Circars originally belonged to the Government, but the Zemindars in times of trouble uſurped the right of collecting them, and that right was confirmed to them when the Circars came under our Government. They are, as we have ſaid, high in general, and the mode of collection oppreſſive; it would be a great encouragement to trade, if the Juncan and Zemindar's ſees in all merchandize were aboliſhed, and we have no doubt the Zemindars would readily give them up on receiving an equivalent; in this caſe it would be proper that fixed rates be eſtabliſhed upon the ſeveral articles of merchandize, and thoſe rates collected at one particular place only, from whence the merchant ſhould be furniſhed with a certificate to paſs his goods through the country, free of all other tax or duty whatſoever.

16. Theſe objects appear deſerving your attention, and we accordingly recommend them to be conſidered by you in their proper place.

17. In all the diſtricts, whether Zemindaries, Havelly lands, or the ancient poſſeſſions of the Company, we wiſh you to cauſe ſtrict enquiry to be made into all grants of whatever nature. We would have you aſcertain their produce, examine the ſeveral grants, and report by whom they were given, and to what purpoſe the produce is applied: this merits particular attention, as the renters often think themſelves empowered to make ſuch grants without the concurrence of Government.

18. We ſhall direct that the perſons who are now employed in ſurveying the Company's lands be put under your orders.

19. We have appointed the following Gentlemen to proceed with you on the circuit, as Aſſiſtants:

Mr. Matthew Tuder,
Mr. William Jackſon,
Mr. Daniel Ruſſell,
Mr. Arthur Gregory.

20. We have agreed, that the Company ſhall defray the expences of ſervants, table, and palanquin hire for yourſelves and Aſſiſtants, excluſive of the ſalary to which you are entitled by your ſeveral ſtations in the ſervice. We deſire you will keep a regular account of theſe expences, and tranſmit the ſame to us monthly.

21. The increaſe of cultivation and of population, the increaſe of wealth to individuals, and of revenue to Government, are ſo connected with each other, that in the inveſtigations entruſted to you, every day will throw new light upon the information of the preceding day. We rely upon the exertion of your endeavours in the execution of this important buſineſs, and we ſhall therefore only add, that much will depend on impreſſing the minds of the people with confidence in our Government, and ſecuring to the induſtrious the produce of their labour.

We are, Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends,
Geo. Stratton, &c. Council.

Fort St. George,
21ſt October 1776.

APPENDIX. No. 9.

APPENDIX, No. 9.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 26th February 1777.

PRESENT,

The Honourable George Stratton, Eſquire, Preſident,
Henry Brooke,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

WE have to acquaint your Honour, &c. that the Chief, with Meſſrs. Perring and Hollond, proceeded this evening from hence on the circuit.

We remain, with reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
Morgan Williams,
Henry Crawfurd,
Nathaniel Barlow.

Vizagapatam,
4th January 1777.

APPENDIX, No. 10.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 26th February 1777.

PRESENT,

The Honourable George Stratton, Eſquire, Preſident,
Henry Brooke,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

READ the following Letter from the Committee of Circuit:

To the Honourable George Stratton, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have received your Letter of the 11th inſtant.

You were pleaſed to inform us, in your Letter of Inſtructions of the 31ſt of October, that our expences were to be defrayed by the Company; but as they are likely to run high, from a variety of unavoidable cauſes, which, though we are convinced of the neceſſity of them, may appear to be exceptionable, we could have wiſhed you had provided for them in a different mode from the one you have pointed out. If it meets with your approbation to make us a fixed allowance, it would be much more to our ſatisfaction, and may in the end be not more expenſive to the Company. By the neareſt judgment we can form, the pay and batta of a Colonel to each Member of the Committee, will be requiſite, which we flatter ourſelves you will not think more than adequate to the important ſervice we are employed on. We beg leave at the ſame time to recommend the pay and batta of a Captain for each of our Aſſiſtants, as the fears of Dubaſhes and Black Servants at going into the interior part of this country, occaſions their being put to extraordinary expences.

We remain, with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient Servants,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring,
John Hollond.

Woddy,
28th Jan^{y} 1777.

Reſolved, That the Members now employed on the Committee of Circuit be allowed each Colonel's pay and batta from the time they left Vizagapatam; and that the other Members be permitted to draw it from the day on which they may join the Committee. Reſolved alſo, That each of the Aſſiſtants be allowed Captain's pay and batta; but neither they or the Members of the Committee are to be allowed any diet-money, whilſt they are on the circuit.

Such articles of proviſion, &c. as have been already bought for the Company, for the uſe of the Committee of Circuit, muſt be paid for, and the amount brought to the Company's credit.

George Stratton,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 16th March 1777.

To Samuel Johnſon, Eſquire, &c. Gentlemen of the Committee of Circuit.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letter of the 28th January, and in conſequence of your repreſentation, have reſolved, That each of you be allowed the pay and batta of a Colonel, and that the pay and batta of a Captain be allowed to each of your Aſſiſtants; both to commence from the time of your departure from Vizagapatam. As we deem theſe allowances ſufficient to defray all your expences, you muſt bring to the Company's credit the amount of the proviſions and neceſſaries which have been purchaſed for the uſe of the Committee of Circuit, agreeably to the incloſed account.

We are, Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends,
George Stratton, &c. Council.

APPENDIX, No. 11.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 5th December 1777.

At a Conſultation;

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

Mr. Johnſon being of opinion that the Board ſhould come to a reſolution upon the ſeveral points mentioned in the laſt Letter from Vizagapatam, he moves, That a day be appointed for taking the ſame into conſideration.

The Queſtion being thereupon put to the different Members,

Mr. Perring. I think the ſeveral points, excepting that of the Chicacole Havelly, ſhould not be determined upon before the arrival of Viziaramrauze.

Mr. Johnſon. I am for the Motion, and will give my reaſons for it in writing.

Mr. Smith. I am for the Motion.

Preſident. As orders have been already diſpatched for Viziaramrauze to come up, I am of opinion that all theſe matters, except the Havelly of Chicacole, ſhould be deferred till his arrival.

Carried againſt the Motion.

The Honourable the Court of Directors having in their commands of the 12th April 1775, thought proper to appoint a Committee, conſiſting of five Members of the Council, to make the circuit of the Northern Circars, and alſo of the Company's Jaghire, in order to aſcertain the value of thoſe lands, and to anſwer ſuch other good purpoſes as are ſpecified in their ſaid Letters; and a variety of cauſes having ſince combined to impede, in a great a great meaſure, the execution of thoſe orders, the Board being juſtly ſenſible of the advantages which may be derived to our Honourable Employers from the due diſcharge of this important commiſſion, it is reſolved, That the buſineſs of it be proſecuted without further loſs of time; and that Mr. Edwd Saunders, Mr. Robert Barclay, and Mr. John Hudleſton, be appointed Members of the Committee, to fill the vacancies occaſioned by the ſuſpenſion of Mr. Floyer from the Company's ſervice, and the appointment of Meſſrs. Johnſon and Perring, as mentioned in the laſt Commiſſion of Government.

The Committee will then conſiſt of

Mr. John Hollond,
Mr. Quintin Craufurd,
Mr. Edwd Saunders,
Mr. Robert Barclay,
Mr. John Hudleſton.

Ordered, That the Secretary do inform theſe Gentlemen reſpectively of the foregoing Reſolution, that they be directed to aſſemble at Vizagapatam, then to wait our further inſtructions; and that the three firſt-mentioned, who are now at the Preſidency, be told that the Board expect they will ſet out by the end of this month.

The following Gentlemen are appointed Aſſiſtants to the Committee of Circuit:

Mr. William Jackſon,
Mr. Daniel Ruſſell.

Agreed, That the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam be adviſed of theſe appointments.

Agreed alſo, That the allowances to the ſeveral Servants employed on this ſervice, be eſtabliſhed as before.

Farm.	Renter.	Term.	Rent.
Chigutty aſſig^{d} vill^{s}	Corſugee	From the 25th Sept. 1777 to the 25th Sept. 1778	R^{s} 36,000
Daracoote, D^{o}	Corſugee	D^{o}	25,265
Hautgur reſt^{d} vill^{s}	Nibbanpoody, Dunamauna	D^{o}	4,185
Vizianagur, D^{o}	Ramdoſs	D^{o}	5,500
Meherry and Hoonmah reſt^{d} vill^{s}	Vencata Ramadoo	D^{o}	5,575
Sea cuſtoms	Dallapadet, Pundet	D^{o}	12,100

As the Chief and Council at Ganjam have rejected the propoſals of the aſſigned villages of Callicoote, deeming them wholly inadmiſſible; and as no further propoſals have ſince been received; agreed, that the revenue ariſing from thoſe villages for the preſent year be collected for the Company, under the management of the Chief and Council.

The Board approve of the reaſons given by the Gentlemen at Ganjam, together with thoſe of the out-ports: Agreed therefore, that they be directed to iſſue advertiſements accordingly, when the term of the preſent leaſe ſhall have expired.

It appearing extraordinary, that in the propoſals now before the Board no mention is made of the aſſigned villages of Vizianagur and Pretapabgherr, the term of whoſe leaſe expired with thoſe of the other farms dependant on Ganjam: Agreed, that this be taken notice of in our next Letter to the Chief and Council.

Agreed alſo to obſerve to them, that there was an impropriety in their applying to the Gentlemen at Vizagapatam for Troops, as well as in their making other preparations againſt the Zemindar of Gumſoor, before they knew whether the ſituation of the Company's affairs would admit of our authoriſing them to proceed to the reduction of his country.

APPENDIX, No. 12.

APPENDIX. No. 12.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 5th December 1777.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſq. Governor, Preſident.
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Board are concerned to obſerve, by the propoſals delivered in at Ganjam, that the Company are likely to ſuſtain ſo conſiderable a decreaſe in their revenue, as appears from the ſtatement tranſmitted with the foregoing Letter. We are ſenſible of the good conſequences that might reſult to the Company from letting out their farms on long leaſes; and, indeed, when we conſider how much the value of thoſe in the Ichapore Diſtrict has been impaired by the preſent ſyſtem of annual leaſes, there needs no further argument to evince the propriety of ſetting it aſide. But having reſolved to keep in view the objects propoſed by our Honourable Employers, in appointing a Committee to aſſemble at Vizagapatam, that they may be in readineſs to proceed upon this important ſervice, we ſhall forbear to paſs our judgment upon the meaſures propoſed by the Gentlemen at Ganjam, for augmenting the value of the farms dependant upon that ſettlement, until we can have the aſſiſtance of the Committee's opinion upon the ſubject.

In the mean time, as the advanced ſeaſon of the year renders it neceſſary that the Chief and Council ſhould be furniſhed with our Reſolutions, in conſequence of the propoſals which they have tranſmitted to us, it is reſolved, that the higheſt offers for the term of one year be accepted, and the Cowles be accordingly made out as hereunder mentioned:

Farm.	Renter.	Term.	Rent.
Chigutty aſſig^{d} vill^{s}	Corſugee	From the 25th Sept. 1777 to the 25th Sept. 1778	R^{s} 36,000
Daracoote, D^{o}	Corſugee	D^{o}	25,265
Hautgur reſt^{d} vill^{s}	Nibbanpoody, Dunamauna	D^{o}	4,185
Vizianagur, D^{o}	Ramdoſs	D^{o}	5,500
Meherry and Hoonmah reſt^{d} vill^{s}	Vencata Ramadoo	D^{o}	5,575
Sea cuſtoms	Dallapadet, Pundet	D^{o}	12,100

APPENDIX, No. 13.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 10th December 1777.

Diſpatched by Tappies, the following Letter to Ganjam, purſuant to the Reſolutions of laſt Conſultation:

To Mr. Robert Maunſell, &c. Council at Ganjam.

Gentlemen,

ON peruſing the extracts from your Minutes of the 23d October, we are concerned to obſerve, by the propoſals then delivered in to you, that the Company are likely to ſuſtain ſo conſiderable a decreaſe in their revenue, as appears from the ſtatement you have laid before us. We are ſenſible of the advantage that might accrue to the Company from letting out their farms at long leaſes; and indeed when we conſider how much the value of thoſe in your diſtrict has been impaired by the preſent ſyſtem of annual leaſes, there needs no further arguments to evince the propriety of ſetting it aſide: but as we mean to keep in view the objects propoſed by the Company, in appointing a Committee of Circuit, and have directed the Committee to aſſemble at Vizagapatam, that they may be in readineſs to proceed upon this important ſervice, we ſhall reſerve our judgment upon upon the measures which you have proposed to us for augmenting the value of the farms dependant upon your settlement, until we can have the assistance of their opinion upon the subject.

APPENDIX. No. 14.

In the mean time, the advanced season of the year rendering it necessary that you should be furnished with our Resolutions, in consequence of the proposals which you have transmitted, that the several farms shall be let for one year to the highest bidders, upon the terms expressed in your Minutes of the 23d October, and we have accordingly directed Cowles to be made out as hereunder mentioned:

Farm.	Renter.	Term.	Rent.
Chigutty	Corsugee	From the 25th Sept. 1775 to the 25th Sept. 1778	R° 36,000
Daragooto	D°	D°	25,265
Hautgur rest[d] vill[s]	Nellbanpoody, Dunamanau	D°	4,185
Vizianagur, D°	Ramdoss	D°	5,500
Moberry and Houmah rest[d] vill[s]	Vencata Ramador	D°	5,575
Sea Customs	Dallapadet, Pundit	D°	12,100

As you have rejected the proposals for the assigned villages of Callicoote, deeming them wholly inadmissible, and as we have not received from you any further proposals, we direct that the revenue arising from these villages for the present year be collected for the Company under your own management.

We approve of the reasons set forth in your Minutes, for letting out the sea and river customs of Ganjam, together with those of the out-posts; and direct, that when the term of the present leases shall have expired, advertisements be issued accordingly.

We are surprized that we have not heard any thing further from you relative to the assigned villages of Vizianagur and Poctapaghire, the term of whose lease expired the 25th of September last.

Before we conclude this Letter, we think it necessary to observe to you, that there was an impropriety in your applying to the Gentlemen at Vizagapatam for Troops, as well as in your making other preparations against the Zemindar of Goomsum, before you knew whether the situation of the Company's affairs would admit of our authorizing you to proceed to the reduction of his country.

We are, Gentlemen,

Fort St. George, 10th December 1777. Your affectionate friends, J. W. &c.

APPENDIX, No. 14.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Consultations, the 17th December 1777.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Esquire, Governor, President,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnson,
Peter Perring.

THE President lays before the Board the following Letter from the Nabob:

Translation of a Letter from his Highness the Nabob to Governor Whitehill, dated 18 November 1777.

"In my Letter of the 17th instant, I explained to you the causes of the delay in the payment of the money, on account of the jaghire and current expences; notwithstanding which, in the same Letter you see that I have proposed a mode for the payment of it. In consequence of my firm friendship for the Company, I at all times consider it my first duty to afford them assistance in their affairs; and as I am their friend, I hope you will continue to entrust the Company's Jaghire to my security, as formerly."

The President observes on the foregoing Letter from the Nabob, that having inspected the Consultations, he finds the Nabob made application to Mr. Stratton, the 9th August, to be continued in the management of the Company's Jaghire for the present year; and that the Council thereupon resolved in their Minutes of the 27th August, that it was necessary some new stipulations should be inserted in the agreement to be made with the Nabob for the ensuing year; and that those stipulations should be proposed to him in a Letter from the President.

The change of Government which took place a few days after, prevented the above resolution from being carried into effect; so that the Jaghire, although the term of the last rent expired the 31st July, has not been formally, though tacitly, continued under the Nabob since that period. This being the cause of the present application from the Nabob, the President is of opinion, that a Letter should be written, to acquaint his Highness, that the Jaghire shall be continued under his direction for the present year, that is to say, till the 31st July next, upon the same terms and conditions that he held it for the last year; which appears to the President the more necessary, as above a third of the term is already elapsed, and he understands that part of the revenue, produced by small grain, has been already collected by his Highness, so that no alteration could take place, without involving the Company in difficulties, and perhaps losses.

The Board concurring in opinion with the President, on the expediency of continuing the Company's Jaghire Lands under the direction of the Nabob for the present year, it is agreed accordingly; and that the following Letter upon the occasion be written to him by the President:

To the Nabob, &c.

May it please your Highness,

I have received your Highness's Letter of the 18th ultimo, proposing that the management of the Trepassore, &c. Districts be continued under your Highness's security and direction, upon the same terms as before.

This proposal having been communicated to the Council, I am happy to inform your Highness, that they concur with me in a sincere desire to comply with your Highness's wish in every instance that shall be found consistent with our duty to the Company; and we have, in consequence, resolved, That the Trepassore, &c. Districts, together with the Poonamallee Country, shall be continued under your Highness's management for another year, on certain conditions hereafter expressed; which I hope will be agreeable to your Highness.

The Company desire it may be an express article in the agreement with your Highness, that "the Com-"mittee of Circuit shall be at full liberty to explore the "country, and to ascertain the real produce and reve-"nues thereof, the number of inhabitants, the state of "the manufactures, the gross amount of the revenues, "the charges of collection, the specific proportion usually "received by Government, and that which custom or "usage has allotted to the cultivator, as a reward for his "labour,

" labour, to enquire what ſecurity the Native has for his " property, to deliver the inhabitants, as far as may be " in their power, from undue exactions and oppreſſions, " that the produce to be received by the Farmer of " every denomination, be aſcertained, and exactly de- " fined; and that all Farmers who ſhall exact more than " their due proportion from their under-tenants, ſhall " forfeit their farms; and that eſpecial care be taken, " that the means of redreſs, in caſe of impoſition or op- " preſſion, be rendered as eaſy as poſſible."

I requeſt your Highneſs will be pleaſed to give ſtrict orders to prevent the Inhabitants being oppreſſed; the property of the Huſbandmen ſhould not be taken on default of their rent, until it be determined by other than the Aumildar or Renter, whether any thing be due to the Circar; and even in this caſe, I hope your Highneſs will give time to the people to diſcharge their debts.

Now I am upon this ſubject, I cannot help obſerving to your Highneſs, that it would be of great benefit to the country and Inhabitants, if ſome regular mode were adopted, to ſettle any diſputes that may ariſe in the reſpective diſtricts; for if the Aumildars be left at liberty to decide upon all matters, how can the poor Inhabitants obtain redreſs? they cannot afford to leave their habitations to come to Madras for it. I therefore beg leave to recommend to your Highneſs, to eſtabliſh a country court in each diſtrict, independant of the Aumildar, and to have all their deciſions recorded in a book to be kept for that purpoſe.

As I am informed that many of the tanks in their diſtricts are in want of repair, I earneſtly requeſt your Highneſs will give particular orders that they be properly repaired in future, and that the collections annually made from the Inhabitants, on account of the tanks, be on no pretence applied to other purpoſes; and I ſhall be obliged to your Highneſs, if you will be pleaſed to ſend me, at the end of the year, the annual repairs, ſigned by the principal Inhabitants.

Fort Saint George, the 18 December 1777. I have the honour to be, &c.

APPENDIX, No. 15.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 24th March 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Major General Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
James Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Preſident delivers in the following Minute:

When the Honourable the Court of Directors, in their Letter per Greenwich, ordered a Committee of Circuit, with extenſive powers, to proceed to the Northern Circars, and enquire into the number of Inhabitants, the ſtate of the Manufactories, the fortified Places, the groſs amount of the Revenues, &c. &c. they appointed five Members of the Board for this important ſervice: The orders, however, were not for ſome time put in execution; and I find by the Records, that at laſt a Committee was formed and ſent. The expence of ſuch Committee has been great; and as, from the reduction of the Members of the Board, it is impoſſible any can now be appointed from it for that ſervice, I recommend, as a much more eligible plan for the preſent, that the Committee do not proceed, but that the Zemindars of the different Diſtricts in the Northern Circars be directed to repair immediately, and without loſs of time, to the Preſidency; which, I am perſuaded, will give us an opportunity of gaining the moſt complete knowledge of the ſtate of the Country, Circars, &c. important to them. I am the more confirmed in this opinion, when I reflect, that hitherto the different Zemindars have, in ſome degree, been taught to conſider the ſubordinate ſettlement under which they were, as the Government itſelf, and a communication between them and the Preſidency has been in a great meaſure cut off. The ſettling the Jammabundy here, will give them a confidence in this Government, teach them to look up to us for protection; they will of courſe be ever ready, in all caſes, where they may ſuppoſe themſelves injured, to make a final appeal to this Board; and I have no doubt but we ſhall, from a thorough inveſtigation, and from the information we receive, obtain a perfect knowledge of thoſe Circars, in a ſhorter time than we can from the enquiries of a Committee of Circuit for that purpoſe, travelling under many diſadvantages, and at a great expence: It will be the means of removing all intrigues and intereſts, which ever operate to the detriment of the Company. As I purpoſe entering more fully into this ſubject in a future Minute, I move, That the Zemindars in all the Northern Circars, dependant on the Company, be immediately ordered to proceed to the Preſidency, to ſettle the Jemmabundy, and that the Company's Dubaſhes at the different Subordinates, who have generally been employed on the buſineſs of the Revenue, be ordered here alſo.

The Board, taking into conſideration the ſubject of the Preſident's Minute, are ſenſible of the propriety and force of the arguments he has made uſe of, in ſupport of the points which are therein recommended; and being perſuaded that they are calculated to promote the intereſt of the Company, they do not heſitate to give their hearty concurrence towards the attainment of that deſirable end. Reſolved, therefore, That the appointment of a Committee of Circuit be for the preſent diſcontinued; and that the ſeveral Gentlemen who compoſe that Committee be informed, that they are no longer to conſider themſelves as Members thereof.

Reſolved, for the reaſons ſet forth in the Preſident's Minute, That the annual rent or Jemmabundy of the ſeveral Diſtricts of the Northern Circars, be in future at the Preſidency; and that the ſeveral ſubordinate Settlements be directed to ſignify to the Zemindars under them, and to the Muſmedars of the reſpective countries, that it is our order they proceed hither for this purpoſe, without loſs of time; and that the Company's Dubaſh, or Interpreter, who has generally been employed in the buſineſs of the Revenue under each Settlement, be alſo directed to repair to the Preſidency.

And the more effectually to enſure a compliance with this order, it is further reſolved, That the Preſident do write a ſeparate Letter upon this occaſion to each of the Zemindars; a copy of which is to be tranſmitted to the Chiefs and Councils of the reſpective Settlements, for their information. They muſt alſo be directed to repreſent in the ſtrongeſt manner to the Zemindars, the neceſſity of an implicit acquieſcence on their part, and the danger of incurring our diſpleaſure, by ſhewing the ſmalleſt reluctance or unwillingneſs to obey our commands; which they are to be told muſt be enforced, in caſe they ſhould not meet with a ready compliance.

The Preſident obſerves to the Board, That having carefully peruſed ſuch parts of the Records for a conſiderable time paſt, as relate to Vizzeramrauze, he is of opinion, that, conſidering the particular circumſtances of his ſituation, it will be neceſſary to be more urgent with him than with the other Zemindars, upon this occaſion; and propoſes, therefore, that the Letter to be written to him be varied accordingly, which is unanimouſly agreed to; and alſo that the Chief and Council of Vizzagapatam be required, by every means in their power, to impreſs upon his mind the abſolute neceſſity of his paying immediate attention to our orders, and the ill conſequences that muſt inevitably attend his making uſe of any delay. The Preſident further recommends that the ſame be furniſhed with an eſcort of Sepoys, to Vizzeramrauze, on his journey to the Preſidency; and accordingly hints on his journey to the Preſidency; and that the ſame do conſiſt of two Companies of Captain Caſſaki's

APPENDIX. No. 16.

Lyſaght's Battalion at Vizianagrum. Ordered accordingly; and that Captain Lyſaght be directed to proceed forthwith to Vizagapatam, in order to take upon himſelf the command of that detachment.

In conſideration of the expence which the Members of the Committee of Circuit, as well as their Aſſiſtants, muſt have been put to, in making the neceſſary preparations for entering upon that ſervice, it is agreed, That they be paid half the amount of the allowances which they would have received, agreeably to a Minute of Conſultation, the had they been actually employed thereon, to commence from the 5th December laſt, and to continue until this day. The Gentlemen at Vizagapatam muſt be directed to pay the ſame to Meſſrs. Barclay, Hudleſton, Jackſon, and Ruſſell; and ſuch of the Members of the Committee as are now here, are to receive it at the Preſidency.

APPENDIX, No. 16.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, dated the 19th September 1777.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident,
Anthony Sadlier,
Quintin Craufurd.

To the Honourable George Stratton, Eſquire, Preſident, and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

WHEN we addreſſed you the 23d inſtant, we promiſed to ſend you the Rajah's (Viziaram Rauze) Anſwer to the Preſident's Letter; but the Rajah has thought proper to deviate from the eſtabliſhed mode of conducting buſineſs of this nature, and we believe, by Sitteram Rauze's advice, has ſent it through another channel, with which we are unacquainted. Tranſlation of his Anſwer to us we ſend you herewith. On comparing his late with his preſent conduct, we are perſuaded you will perceive the great alteration which has been made therein, through the influence of Sitteram Rauze, who takes every opportunity of impreſſing him with ideas of his own conſequence, and of contempt for the Company's Authority. We are happy to reflect, that by ſtopping Sitteram Rauze's flight, we have fruſtrated, for the preſent, his ſchemes for raiſing diſturbances; and that the effectual ſuccours you have been pleaſed to ſend us, have convinced the Rajah that a prompt obedience to your commands is the only method left for preſerving him from deſtruction. He has delivered up to Colonel Braithwait One hundred and ſixty-five ſtand of Arms, and ſet out for Vizianagrum laſt night, under an eſcort of our Grenadiers. Colonel Braithwait will march with the remainder of them to Camp this evening, and from thence proceed to Vizianagrum with ſuch a detachment as he may judge neceſſary to execute your Orders.

Tranſlation of a Letter from Vizieram Rauze to Samuel Johnſon, Eſquire, Chief of Vizagapatam, dated 23d Auguſt 1777.

"You ſent a Letter from the Governor to me by the hands of your Chubdar, at eight o'clock this night; I muſt acknowledge the receipt thereof. The purport of that Letter is, that immediately on receipt of it, to ſuffer the Company's Troops to take poſt in the Fort Vizianagrum, and for me to proceed to the Preſidency; to apply to the Chief and Council for Sepoys to eſcort me thither, and that they will comply with my requeſt. Should I delay obeying the Orders, I may probably incur their cenſure, therefore I requeſt you will, on receipt hereof, give the neceſſary Orders for the Troops to be ſtationed at Vizianagrum, and likewiſe to let me have a Company of Sepoys to accompany me on my journey to Madras, and to grant me permiſſion this very day to leave this place; upon receipt of which, both me and my Brother will ſet out for Madras. To delay my requeſt will be the means of drawing upon me their ſevere diſpleaſure; therefore I repeat my requeſt, that you will pleaſe to comply therewith this very day. This Letter is meant by me, to the Chief and Council. I have replied to the Governor's Letter, and incloſed a Copy hereof. The above I write for your information."

APPENDIX, No. 17.

Eaſt India Houſe, Jovis 24 Maij 1781.

Committee of Secrecy met.

LIEUT. Col. Matthews attending, was called in, and examined.

I have been in the Service of the Company, under the Preſidency of Madras, from 1759—I continued there till 1776, and returned again in 1778, and arrived at Madras the 22d of July 1778—then I continued on the Coaſt for nine months, till March 1779—my rank, when laſt there, was that of Major.

I was in Chicacole Circar from the latter end of 1773 to 1776, and when there had occaſion to be acquainted with the ſituations and characters of Viziaram Rauze, Sitteram Rauze, and Jaggernaut Rauze—That Viziaram was the Rajah, but the Power of the Country was in the hands of Sitteram Rauze, whoſe Dewan Jeggernaut Rauze was, although underſtood to be attached to Viziaram Rauze, with whom he was connected by marriage.

Being aſked the character of Sitteram Rauze? he ſaid, He was a very ſenſible man, but would ſtick at nothing to carry his point, and had been guilty of many atrocious crimes.

What character did Viziaram Rauze bear?

Rather weak than otherwiſe, but a mild tempered and humane man; and I ſhould think rather improper to manage his affairs, as being addicted to pleaſure, and no ways attentive to buſineſs.

I know Jaggernaut Rauze, and think, that, with his aſſiſtance as Dewan, the affairs of the Country could have been managed by Viziaram Rauze; but in ſaying ſo, would be underſtood as ſaying, the management would reſt entirely with Jaggernaut Rauze.

What was Jaggernaut Rauze's character?

A man of very good ſenſe, and had in general a very good character, and conſidered as one who would manage the affairs of the Country with lenity and juſtice.

Whether do you conceive it more for the intereſt of the Company, and ſecurity of the Revenues, that the Country ſhould be under the management of Sitteram Rauze or Jaggernaut Rauze?

Under Jaggernaut Rauze.

Being aſked, Whether during the time he was laſt in India he had ſeen the Troops belonging to that Preſidency?

He ſays, He ſaw only thoſe in Garriſon at Madras, which were very few; and thoſe in the diſtrict of Mazulipatam, where there were three Battalion of Sepoys—that the Troops at the Preſidency were in very good order, and well appointed—thoſe at Mazulipatam in very indifferent order, owing chiefly to their being diſperſed about the country on Revenue buſineſs.—I believe all the Sepoy Corps, though well diſciplined according to the European ſyſtem, are in one reſpect worſe than they were formerly; conſiſting of men of the lower Caſts, inſtead of being of the higher Caſts, or Moors, of which they conſiſted formerly.

Col. Matthews ſays, That in 1771 and 1772, he commanded the Nabob of Arcot's Cavalry—At that time his Regiment was in very good order—the ſecond Regiment was then forming—and thoſe were all the regular Cavalry the Nabob had at that time; and about that time he had about 3,000 irregular Cavalry—he had at that time 16 battalions of Sepoys, amounting to about 16,000—which may have ſaid to have been in good order, and diſciplined in the European way, commanded by European Officers, but not ſo well diſciplined as ours, though conſiſting in general of better men—there were beſides two Rajahs under his influence, who had about 10,000 men, irregulars, without any kind of diſcipline.

Being aſked what number of Troops the Nabob had, and what was their condition in 1776?—he delivered in a ſtate of them:

The 16 battalions of Sepoys were then in good order, though not ſo well diſciplined as the Company's—his Cavalry were in very bad order, exceedingly ill appointed, owing to his want of paying them; and that whole regiments frequently mutinied and confined their Officers, and deſerted by 50 at a time to Hyder Ally—the Artillery was in general compoſed of Mahomedans—that he can't ſay any thing of the condition of the Artillery at that time, as it was in the Southern part of the Carnatic, but that detachments of them had behaved exceedingly well at the ſieges of Tanjore and Pondicherry.

Colonel Matthews has been at Arcot ſeveral times—that from his knowledge of the fortification of that place, he thought it might have held out a conſiderable time, even with the Troops that were in it when it was taken—that they defended the petta, flanked with round towers, with a very narrow rampart where cannon could hardly be drawn, for a conſiderable time, and he ſhould have thought the ſame number of men might have defended the fort of Arcot, which is in all reſpects infinitely ſtronger, a conſiderable time longer than they did—though he underſtands Hyder Ally's Troops are much improved in the art of attacking places to what they were formerly.

Being aſked, Whether, after the Circars came into our poſſeſſion, it was better policy to permit the Rajahs to continue to have Troops of their own, or that the whole military force ſhould be ours?

He anſwered, That in his opinion, the Rajahs ſhould not have any military men, but only Sebendy Peons for collecting the revenues, who are more for ſhew than office—that he thinks the fortified places and paſſes which form the entrance from the Circars into the Maratta Country, ſhould be alſo in our poſſeſſion, which they are not at preſent.

In 1778, when he returned to Madras, an account was received, that Lally was in the Guntoor Circar, and threatened to invade our Mazulipatam diſtrict; and in conſequence thereof, he was ſent down to collect the Troops to oppoſe him—Lally was then in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, but it was ſuppoſed he was directed to make the attack by orders from the French Commander of Pondicherry.

Colonel Matthews having informed the Committee, That the reaſon of the Company's Sepoys being worſe men than they uſed to be formerly, was, that moſt of the good men were enticed into and liſted in the Nabob's ſervice, where they had more liberty, and from which they frequently deſerted; he was aſked, Whether it would not have been more for the intereſt of the Company, that the Nabob ſhould have had no Troops at all, and that the whole military force neceſſary for the defence of the Carnatic, ſhould belong to the Company?—anſwered, That he is clearly of that opinion; and that if it had been ſo, he thinks Hyder could never have invaded the Carnatic; and if he had, he would not have taken a ſingle fort.

From your knowledge of Mahomed Ally, do you think that it would have been eaſy to have induced him to have given up his military eſtabliſhments and fortifications, and depended on the Company for the defence of his poſſeſſions in the Carnatic, and the ſecurity of the ſucceſſion of the Nabobſhip in his family?

I believe it was frequently attempted to perſuade him to conſent to this, but he conſtantly refuſed; but if he was not under the influence of his ſecond ſon, I think he might be induced to conſent to reſign all the military force of the country.

Could Mahomed Ally, in any reſpect, defend his country, if it was not for the force of the Company?

It would be impoſſible.

Are there any Officers in the Nabob's ſervice, who at the ſame time hold commiſſions in the Company's ſervice?

There are a few.

Being aſked, Whether, in the War with Hyder in 1769, he had any opportunity of knowing the condition of his Troops?

He anſwered, He ſerved through the whole War at that time againſt him; and in one action he obſerved his Artillery was well ſerved, and had gained an evident advantage, and obliged us for a time to retreat—we had then a ſmaller quantity of Artillery than he had—that his Artillery were ſerved by Frenchmen and Moors—that his Cavalry were very numerous, and the beſt of the country—that his Infantry was very indifferent—I believe ſince then, he has formed his Infantry into battalions with European Officers of different nations, ſome Engliſh deſerters, and that they are now diſciplined in the European way—amongſt the deſerters, I have heard of one Engliſhman who had been in the Company's civil ſervice, and one Officer who had been broke by a Court-martial.

In the campaign you ſerved againſt Hyder, were you well or ill ſupplied with carriage and draft bullocks?

Very ill ſupplied both as to number and quality.

How were you ſupplied with proviſions?

I don't recollect any want, but was unacquainted with the magazines.

Were the whole operations of that Army directed by the Commanding Officer?

I believe when we were in Hyder's country, there were two Members of the Council joined with the Commanding Officer.

Do you know who were the Contractors for ſupplying the Army with draft and carriage bullocks, and proviſions, for that campaign?

I don't know—Mr. Call and Mr. Mackay were the Field Deputies.

Did you ever know a Sepoy battalion as good as European?

No, they are not ſo good—I have known them ſtand cannonading, and advance in good order againſt Cavalry.

When you arrived at Madras, in July 1778, did you find any of the Rajahs and Circar Zemindars there?

I did, ſeveral others refuſed to come—it was in general eſteemed by the people of the country to be an unjuſt and unneceſſary meaſure, and the general opinion was, that the lands might have been as well let without their coming to Madras.

Do you think the meaſure of the Committee of Circuit, or the meaſure of bringing down the Rajahs and Zemindars to Madras, was the beſt calculated to aſcertain the value of the lands, and the ſituation of the occupier?

Undoubtedly, by the Committee of Circuit, who, being upon the ſpot, would have judged of the value, and not received diſtant reports from others.

Whether, from your knowledge of the ſituation and diſpoſition of the Zemindars, and other the inhabitants of the Circars, the bringing them to Madras was not a very offenſive meaſure?

It certainly was.

The diſtance from Vizagapatam to Fort George is 550 miles, and from Ganjam, about 720 miles.

Withdrew.

And Colonel Matthews attending again on the next day, delivered into Your Committee, an Account of the Revenues of the diſtrict under Vizagapatam in 1775; and he informed Your Committee, he drew it up from information he got in the country—that he ſent his ſervants to the villages, and they got it from the Records.

APPENDIX No. 17.

An Account of the Revenue of the diſtrict under Vizagapatam in the year 1775.

Four Pergunnahs, being the Jaghire of Viziaram Rauze, Rajah of Vizianagrum.

	Rupees.
Putnire, including Vizianagrum, 88 villages -	200,000
Bogaporam - - - 44 D° -	80,000
Dawapella - - - 44 D° -	100,000
Gurcadu - - - 44 D° -	80,000
Rupees -	460,000

The country of Wodady, about fifty years ago, was a part of the Chicacole Havelly; the Rajah rented it at 30,000 Rupees, and it has been withheld from the Company.—There are two Forts in this Pergunnah; the annual income is reckoned at Rupees 325,000.

The Rajah of Vizianagrum has at different times taken the countries from 13 other Rajahs, which were valued at per annum, R° 1,278,000; viz.

From Deſamuntiro, the fort of Chepporapilla, and 4 Pergunnahs, taken about 30 years ago by old Viziaram Rauze, valued at R° 60,000.

From Baallapellindo, the fort of Goperapilla, and two Pergunnahs, valued at Rupees 40,000.

From the Rajah of Cattapollam, one Pergunnah, taken by Sitteram Rauze, R° 25,000.

Curingum, a Pergunnah, which belongs to Chicacole Havelly, R° 12,000.

Ancapilla and Milpanen, two forts and four Pergunnahs, valued at 10,000 R°—They belonged to Pikerow, who was killed by order of Sitteram Rauze.—The Pergunnah of Sittiavaram belonged to one of the ſame family, and was taken at the ſame time.—The ſum of 30,000 Rupees is paid to the Rajah, but it is worth more.

Four Forts, and four Pergunnahs, that did belong to Vellibaury Tim Rauze.

Uratta, valued at Rupees - - -	75,000
Collacotah - - - - - -	25,000
Millygapauca - - - - -	60,000
Upallum Pakenadur - - - -	47,000

From Mackeycauzey Pettarauze, were taken four Pergunnahs, valued at R° 200,000.

The forts of Nerrywa and Peddagaddy, and the two Pergunnahs, belonging to Narſingram, were taken by old Viziaram Rauze, valued at Rupees 20,000.

The diſtrict of Mandagoil which belonged to Lingabeepatty, valued at - - R°	200,000
Peondymalatallaga Saltpans, formerly belonged to Coſſimcotah Havelly, valued at - R°	30,000
Laeverrum Pergunnah - - - R°	40,000
Bobilly Pergunnah - - - - R°	300,000
The Pergunnah of Eremundalum, formerly belonged to Khimedy - - - - R°	14,000

Of the lands to the Eaſtward of the hills, which old Viziaram Rauze took from Vikramdor, Rajah of Nardaperam, and of which ſome were under his own management, and others tributary, valued at Rupees 475,000; viz.

1. Four Pergunnahs, that formerly belonged to Maripilla Pikerow, valued at - R°	100,000
2. Taadab Pergunnah, D° - - -	70,000
3. Salure, lately taken from Senarba Rauze, D°	40,000
4. Rumpetty Pergunnah, D° - - -	25,000
5. Singa Vellara Pergunnah, D° - -	10,000
6. Bellegarum and Narſingperam, D° - -	40,000
7. The country lately taken from Severam Rauze, Rajah of Curipam, D° - -	100,000
8. Polycondah Ramboda Rauze's country;—it is valued at 150,000 R°, and Sitteram Rauze receives from it annually, - - R°	90,000
R° -	475,000

A Tax gathered from every Jaghiredar, and from ſome Bramin villages, amounts to yearly Rupees 150,000.

Cuſtoms, collected by order of Sitteram Rauze, Rupees 25,000.

Houſe tax, D°, D° 30,000.

Total of the Revenue of the country under the management of Sitteram Rauze, Rupees	2,743,000
The Chicacole and Coſſimcotah Havelly -	200,000
The Teckley Rajah receives - - - -	100,000
Khimedy D° D° - - - - -	200,000
Total Revenue of the diſtrict, R° -	3,243,000

APPENDIX, No. 18.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 1ſt Auguſt 1777.

PRESENT,

George Stratton, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
Henry Brooke,
Brigadier General James Stuart,
Charles Floyer,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

READ the following Letter from the Committee of Circuit:

To the Honourable George Stratton, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We doubt not you have been duly informed, by the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam, of the impriſonment of Jagonautrauze.

Having maturely conſidered Jagonautrauze's ſituation, with regard to his dependence on the Company, that having under his charge their Havelly lands and diſtrict Sittenvarum, he is entitled to their protection, and that it is notorious he has, through the intrigues of Sitteramrauze, been lately deprived of his employ of Dewan to Viziaramrauze, and has not acted in any public capacity at Vizianagrum theſe three months. We were of opinion, that Viziaramrauze's ſeizing his perſon and effects, when thus in a manner unemployed by him, and charged with important truſts under the Company, without previouſly aſking the conſent of their Government, was a manifeſt breach of that reſpect and ſubmiſſion it is his duty, on all occaſions, to ſhew to the authority of the Company; which appeared to us, by this violent meaſure, to be treated with a degree of contempt highly injurious to their intereſt.

Concluding from public reports, that Viziaramrauze had been drawn into his extraordinary conduct from the artful inſinuations of Sitteramrauze, who it is generally thought, has more than Jagonautrauze's diſgrace in view, and knowing Viziaramrauze to be naturally of a mild, humane diſpoſition, and that he is principally indebted to the abilities of Jagonautrauze for the power he now, happily for the Company, has in his Zemindary; we judged it beſt, firſt to try what friendly admonitions, and a full repreſentation of the impropriety of his, Viziaramrauze's conduct, would do towards the releaſe of Jagonautrauze; theſe proving ineffectual, and it being the general prevailing opinion among the Country People, from Sitteramrauze's known inveterate hatred to Jagonautrauze, that his life was in danger if he was not protected by the Company; we thought it proper, both from motives of duty and humanity, to take the matter up on public grounds, and in conſequence thereof, addreſſed the Rajah a Letter, of which we encloſe a copy, requiring Jagonautrauze's enlargement. We deferred this addreſs till now, in daily expectation of an anſwer, but have not yet received any.

As the Committee buſineſs has been much impeded of late, by the village Conecoplies being kept from us in an unuſual manner; we are to requeſt your Honours, &c. will pleaſe to ſend an order to the Rajah, to prevent in future any obſtacles being thrown in our way.

We are,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
with utmoſt reſpect,
Your moſt obedient Servants,

Chicacole, 5th July 1777.

Sam[l] Johnſon,
P. Perring,
John Hollond.

Copy of a Letter from the Committee of Circuit to Viziaramrauze.

We are informed you have taken upon you to impriſon the perſon, and ſeize on the houſe and effects, of Jagonautrauze, the renter of the Honourable Company's Havelly lands, and manager of their diſtrict of Setteaverum.

The Company having put under this man's charge, countries to the amount of three lacks of Rupees per annum, he is their ſervant and ſubject, and entitled to their protection.

We therefore require of you his immediate enlargement; acquainting you at the ſame time, that we conſider your conduct as an inſult to the Company, of a very ſerious nature, and warn you to be cautious how you perſevere in a meaſure ſo contrary to your duty to the Company; to whom we deem you anſwerable for Jagonautrauze's perſon and effects.

If you have any complaints to make againſt him for miſconduct in the affairs he has had to tranſact under you, the Company will, no doubt, give you redreſs.

Chicacole, 28 June 1777.

Agreed, that the Preſident do write to Viziaramrauze, requiring him to remove the obſtacles complained of by the Committee of Circuit, and to pay regard to their orders in future.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, 2d Auguſt 1777.

Sent the following Letter to the Committee of Circuit:

To Samuel Johnſon, Eſq. &c. Members of the Committee of Circuit.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letter of the 24th June and 5th ult.

The Chief and Council at Vizagapatam having intimated to us, that the term of the late Cowles for the Chicacole and Ceſſimcotah Havelly lands is nearly expired, and having requeſted orders for our reletting the ſame, we deſire you will communicate to us ſuch obſervations as you may have made in the courſe of your enquiries reſpecting this farm in particular, which may ſerve as a guide to us in forming our opinion upon the ſubject.

Being alſo deſirous of knowing what progreſs you have hitherto made in the buſineſs of the Circuit, we deſire you will tranſmit to us ſuch parts of your proceedings as may moſt effectually afford us the information we require; you will alſo continue from time to time, to adviſe us of every material occurrence.

We are,
Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends,
G. S. &c. Council.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 27th Auguſt 1777.

PRESENT,

Brig[r] Gen[l] James Stuart,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Fourdan,
George Mackay.

Mr. Brooke and Mr. Floyer indiſpoſed.

Read the following Letter from the Committee of Circuit:

To the Honourable George Stratton, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

1. We have received your commands of the 2d inſt. and ſhall forward Auots of the Havelly lands in a few days, together with an offer we have received from Jagonautrauze in behalf of his brother Padnaubrauze, of 230,000 Rupees a year, for the term of five years; 222,000 thereof for ſuch of the Havelly lands as have been under the late renters, and 8,000 Rupees on account of Muſmedars collections; which we ſhall ſubmit to your conſideration; and further, to give an adequate rent for ſuch other villages as may be put under him, the Rajah having received, as we have found in the courſe of our enquiries, the rents of ſeveral of the Havelly villages ever ſince the Circars have been in our poſſeſſion; all which circumſtances we ſhall enlarge on when we tranſmit the accounts.

2. We ſhall, conformable to your orders, continue to adviſe you of all material occurrences, and ſhall lay before you an account of the progreſs we have made in our enquiries, as ſoon as an abſtract can be formed. For your immediate information, we beg leave to acquaint you, that we have examined accounts, for the laſt five years, of lands to the amount of fourteen lacks of Rupees nett revenue, ten of which are on account of countries dependant on the Rajah; we could have ſent you part of theſe accounts ſooner, but as they were broken and unfiniſhed, we thought it probable you might not wiſh to ſee them till completed.

3. We did ourſelves the honour to addreſs you on the 5th ultimo, concerning the obſtructions we had lately met with in the proſecution of our enquiries into the Circar Revenues, and hoped that a Letter from you to the Rajah might have produced a good effect; but as the delays we then complained of ſtill continue, and are probably contrived to gain time, in order to enable him the more effectually to elude or oppoſe the Company's intentions; and as we are not inveſted with any powers for enforcing a prompt obedience to our orders, we think it our duty to addreſs you again upon this important ſubject.

4. By the enquiries we have made, and the informations we have obtained, we have every reaſon to be aſſured that the ſeveral countries now under Viziaramrauze yield at leaſt a revenue of twenty lacks of Rupees, out of which we underſtand he maintains a military force at a monthly expence of 50,000 or 60,000 Rupees; and as he is probably apprized of the Company's intentions to reduce his Troops, and raiſe his Jemmabundy, we may reaſonably conclude that the great importance of theſe objects will animate his endeavours to preſerve them, and incline him to a conteſt; and if ſuch ſhould be his intentions, he will hope, by delaying the new ſettlement, not only to gain time to prepare for reſiſtance, but alſo that he will thereby be enabled to obtain an increaſe of treaſure by the new crops, and a more favourable ſeaſon for obtaining the aid of the Marattas or other allies; and we therefore conceive, that your Honour, &c. may not judge it prudent to depend wholly upon his acting with good faith.

5. The carrying that part of the Company's Inſtructions

APPENDIX. No. 18.

tions into execution, which relates to the reducing the military ſtrength of the Zemindars, is, we think, more likely to be attended with difficulty in this Circar than any of the reſt; the Vizianagrum family have long been conſidered as the moſt powerful in wealth and military force, and the moſt capable of making reſiſtance to the Company's authority, of any in the Circar; and we find hey have, in different parts of the Company's Records, een accordingly repreſented to be ſo formidable, that hey have been allowed, on this account, to hold their Zemindary at a low tribute, rather than that any attempts ſhould be made to raiſe it at the riſk of the peace of the Circars, and the ruin that might enſue to the country from the reſiſtance that might be expected to the execution of ſuch a plan.

6. From a very particular enquiry we have lately made with regard to the Rajah's military ſtrength, we are informed that it conſiſts of the following Troops now in his pay:

2,300 Seyoys, with ſlinted firelocks, of which 1,100 are cloathed, and 1,700 receive the ſame pay as the Company's.
4,000 Matchlockmen.
2,700 Pikemen.
1,000 Poleconda Pike and Matchlockmen.
100 Vikeramdoos Pikemen.
200 Ditto Matchlockmen.
300 Pikemen belonging to Byrabooby of Golgunda.
300 Flinted Firelock Sepoys, belonging to Sitteram Rauze, now ſtationed at Ankapille.
200 Pikemen.

11,100

Of the above, about 8,000 are at Vizianagrum, the remainder in the diſtricts, and can be called at the ſhorteſt notice.

7. Excluſive of theſe, we are of opinion the Rajah could collect from the Nundaporam, Peluonata, Madagola, Gutgunda, &c. Diſtricts, five or ſix thouſand Pike and Matchlockmen.

8. As his collecting the large body of Troops above enumerated, ſhews but too manifeſtly that he entertains ideas of the relative ſituation in which he ſtands with reſpect to the Company, very different from thoſe expreſſed in their inſtructions to the Committee of Circuit, that inſtead of depending on their juſtice, he is inclined to truſt to his own ſtrength; and if not to aim at a ſtate of independence, at leaſt to deter us from proceeding againſt him, by impreſſing us with an idea of his being armed with ſufficient power to make effectual reſiſtance to the Company's orders; we are of opinion, that no time ſhould be loſt in bringing him to a due ſenſe of the obedience he owes to their authority. His late extraordinary conduct, in ſeizing the Company's Renter of the Havelly Lands, having been the occaſion of drawing into this diſtrict a very conſiderable force, we think it may appear to you highly expedient to avail yourſelves of the opportunity it affords of eſtabliſhing the Company's authority upon the footing that has been marked out in their inſtructions to their Committee above referred to. It hath been lately our opinion, from the conduct the Rajah has been purſuing for ſome time paſt, in obſtructing our enquiries, as well as from the important objects of our appointment, and the very conſiderable change intended to be introduced in the tenure of theſe Zemindaries, that the application of force would probably in the end become neceſſary for effecting the Company's intentions; but as extremities of this nature are ever, if poſſible, to be avoided, and the Company's inſtructions ſeemed to point out, that the reduction of the Rajah's military force, as a meaſure that was intended to take place after the accounts of the country had been examined into, we were unwilling to ſuggeſt a meaſure that might appear in any degree precipitate, or which might be deemed to vary from the plan the Court of Directors ſeemed to have laid down; yet, when it is conſidered that their orders for the reduction of the military force of the Zemindars are poſitive, and that it is their declared opinion that ſuch military force, particularly and expreſsly that of the Vizianagrum Rajah, is dangerous, we think, that the longer he is allowed to continue in poſſeſſion of ſuch force, after being appriſed of the Company's intentions to reduce it, the more dangerous it becomes in his hands. Admitting that the new ſyſtem intended to be eſtabliſhed will excite reſiſtance, which appears, by the Vizagapatam records, to have been the opinion formerly entertained upon this ſubject, we conceive that the reduction of the Rajah's force ſhould be the work firſt entered upon; for if his intentions are bad, which we have ſome reaſon to ſuſpect from his late conduct, any delay on this important point might be attended with ill conſequences, as it would give him an opportunity of ſtrengthening himſelf, by applying the produce of his country to the purpoſe of increaſing his Troops, of forming alliances with other Zemindars, and exciting inſurrections.

9. The points which we think it will appear proper to inſiſt on as a baſis for a ſettlement with Viziaramrauze, are, the immediate diſbanding of his Troops, the ſurrendering of his Forts, and the delivering up the expelled Zemindars, whom he holds in confinement. The two former articles are virtually included in the Company's inſtructions; and the latter, we think, is likewiſe eſſentially neceſſary, in order, as much as poſſible, to guard againſt any deſigns the Rajah may have of temporiſing, till a more favourable opportunity offers for his declaring himſelf openly. The Forts in this country being ſmall, and not very ſtrong, the Rajah could not truſt to them were he attacked; and with reſpect to his Troops, as they are not kept in a body, nor diſciplined like ours (except about 1,700 Sepoys) he might privately retain; the reſt to be aſſembled when wanted. The delivering up the confined Zemindars will therefore, we think, be no leſs neceſſary to be inſiſted on than the other two conditions, as we ſhall thereby have an opportunity of engaging them in our intereſt, and of drawing material ſervices from them, ſhould the Rajah attempt hereafter to oppoſe us.

10. Having thus ſtated, as fully as we have been able, the reaſons which induce us to think, that immediately entering upon the meaſures of reducing the power of Viziramrauze is founded in policy and expedience, and juſtified by his late conduct; and having alſo ſubmitted to your conſideration the objects which appeared to us neceſſary to be inſiſted on, previous to our coming to a final ſettlement with this Rajah, we now proceed to offer you our ſentiments with regard to what we conceive to be the advantages of the preſent juncture.

11. The appointment of the Committee of Circuit being a meaſure of an extraordinary nature, it may naturally be ſuppoſed to have created very great alarms among the Zemindars in general of theſe Circars; and the full extent and purpoſe of their commiſſion being probably not known to all of them, the few who may have found means to inform themſelves of the Company's intentions, and who have diſcovered that their military power is to be reduced, will, no doubt, repreſent ſuch intentions to ſtrike deeper, and be of wider extent than they are, and will endeavour by ſuch means to engage the other Zemindars in a combination to oppoſe their being carried into execution.

12. Sitteramrauze is well known to be a man of great intrigue, abilities, and perſeverance. We have been informed that he keeps up a conſtant correſpondence with all the Zemindars under the Company's Government, who are capable of being wrought upon, to embrace his views, or to yield him an addition of ſtrength in time of trouble; and as his intereſt, and the great ſtake he has depending, will incline him to employ every means in his power to ſhield himſelf from the blow that is now aiming at him, we cannot doubt but he will leave no art unpractiſed to inflame the minds of the Zemindars in general, by impreſſing them with an idea that they are to be deprived of their lands as well as of their forces, and that the latter is but a prelude of the former; an opinion, which, from the treacherous character of the people in this country, where might alone is right, will, we think, be very readily received among them. This conſideration opens, we think, a very wide field. The appointment of the Committee of Circuit, as we have already obſerved; has given the alarm, and having probably been magnified by the arts, and for the private views of one or more of the moſt powerful of the Zemindars, to the extent of ſtriking at the exiſtence of all of them, theſe arts may in ſome meaſure have ſhaken that confidence and dependance the Zemindars before had on our Government, inſpired by a ſeries of many years of peace and tranquillity. Such being the preſent ſituation of affairs here, we think that the continuation of peace in Europe, as it affords a favourable opportunity for carrying the Company's new ſyſtem into execution, is too important a circumſtance to be overlooked in your deliberations upon this extenſive ſubject. If it ſhould appear by the Suez advices, that there is likelihood of war with France, for the preſent year there will, we imagine, be ſufficient time on your hands for accompliſhing this important work, which, if it is effected previous to the breaking out of ſuch a war, will evidently be attended with the moſt beneficial conſequences to the future ſecurity of the Company's poſſeſſions: but if it ſhould be urged, that the preſent unſettled condition of affairs in Europe makes it neceſſary for you to be cautious of taking any ſteps that might alienate the minds of the Zemindars, and that on this account it would be ſafer for us, at this juncture, to be at peace with our Tributaries, it might, on the other hand, be conſidered, that much of the work, by a vigorous application of our force, may, in all probability, be ſoon completed, that there will then be little to apprehend from the ſhattered condition to which their power will have been reduced; that if the Vizianagrum Family are inclined to oppoſe us now, they will be equally well inclined, and better able to do it, in January; and that if it ſhould even then be thought neceſſary, from political conſiderations, to ſuſpend the execution of ſuch part of the Company's inſtructions as might lead to hoſtilities, ſuch temporizing might be to little purpoſe, ſince no more dependance can hereafter be placed on their attachment to our intereſt, now the alarm has been given, than if hoſtilities had actually commenced againſt them.

13. The preſent peaceable ſtate of the Company's poſſeſſions in general, the ſeaſon of the year favouring the tranſporting of reinforcements and ſtores from Madras, the improbability, on account of the rains, of the Marattas venturing into the country before December, and for the ſame reaſon of the Rajah's receiving any aſſiſtance from Ibrahim Beg, the preſent ſituation of the grain on the ground, which is not of a growth high enough to ſhelter an enemy, nor capable of being eaſily deſtroyed, are further reaſons for recommending the preſent juncture as favourable; and as they cannot fail to occur to the Rajah, they may conduce to deter him from thoſe ideas of oppoſition which he might at other times be led to entertain.

14. Ibrahim Beg, the Nizam's General, being an old ſervant of the Rajah, is thought to be attached to him, and it is ſaid the Rajah has applied to him for aſſiſtance; as he is in the ſervice of the Nizam, who receives an annual ſtipend from the Company on condition of the Circars being in peace, there is good reaſon to expect he will remain neutral.

15. The Rajah is ſaid to be on a good footing with the Buſtaver Zemindar, whoſe poſſeſſions are ſituated to the weſtward, on the other ſide the Paſſes, between the Chicacole Circar and the Maratta Countries, dependant on Calahandre.—This Zemindar has, we underſtand, 7 or 8,000 Pike and Matchlockmen; but, on account of his vicinity to the Marattas, with whom he is obliged to be conſtantly on his guard, and his want of Troops to defend himſelf againſt a Brother who has lately headed a party, with an intention to diſpoſſeſs him, he is not likely to be ſoon in a condition to aſſiſt Vizianamrauze. There does not appear to us any likelihood of this Family being able to procure any foreign aid.

16. The reſources of the Rajah for paying the Troops he has already aſſembled, or which he may hereafter aſſemble, are Sitteramrauze's treaſury, the ſums lately extorted from Jagonautrauze and Pabnaubrauze, the collection from the country, and loans from the Soucars.—Sitteramrauze, it is ſaid, keeps his money moſtly in the hands of a Soucar at Peddapore, from whence he may find it difficult to convey it to Vizianagrum. The collections from the country, at this ſeaſon of the year, are inconſiderable. The Soucars may, we think, by proper management, be drawn away from Vizianagrum, or deterred from making the Rajah any loans; and with reſpect to Jagonautrauze's effects, if your order for them to be delivered up ſhould be complied with, the Rajah muſt, we think, be reduced to great embarraſſments; particularly if you ſhould likewiſe think proper to order reſtitution of the effects of Pabnaubrauze, which, we think, there is ground for in the Company's inſtructions, intimating it to be their intention, that the property of all the inhabitants of the Circars ſhall be ſecured to them.

17. The Rajah, we think, is expoſed to be gradually weakened by negociations; and we are not without hope, that with circumſpection and ſecrecy, ſo neceſſary to be obſerved in undertakings of this nature, there is a poſſibility of carrying the Company's intentions into execution without bloodſhed.

18. The having in our poſſeſſions the expelled Zemindars of the Nundaporum, &c. Diſtricts, would contribute greatly to intimidate and check him; as they might, with very little aſſiſtance from the Company, ſoon regain their former poſſeſſions; the fear of which would make the Rajah very cautious how he proceeded to lengths that might render him obnoxious to the Company's reſentment.

19. We think that the money extorted from Jagonautrauze and Pabnaubrauze might be obtained, and perhaps the confined Zemindars be delivered up, by your poſitive orders to the Rajah for this purpoſe, previous to the arrival of any additional force in the diſtrict; but we are of opinion, that at leaſt two more battalions of Sepoys, and, if poſſible, 200 Europeans, will be neceſſary before any thing further ſhould be attempted. When theſe reinforcements arrive, the firſt ſteps we would recommend to be taken, are to draw away the Soucars from Vizenagerumda, and privately to ſecure to our intereſt the Polycondar Zemindar, by freeing him from his dependance on the Rajah, and putting him on a footing with other Zemindars, who hold their lands immediately of the Company, a meaſure which we think will of courſe be neceſſary hereafter, as we underſtand that his paying tribute to the Rajah is an impoſition upon our Government. The Rajah has great reliance on this Zemindar, receiving from him a ſmaller tribute than he would probably otherwiſe demand, on condition of being ſupplied with his Troops whenever they are wanted, the Rajah allowing him batta while on ſervice; they conſiſt of about 2,000 Matchlock and Pikemen, and being more uſed to ſervice than others, by being called out on all occaſions, are eſteemed the beſt Troops of the kind the Rajah has; with the Polycondaman gained over, which may be done eaſily by a Letter to him from yourſelves, and the aſſiſtance of the Kimeedy Rajah, whoſe fidelity to the Company may, we think, be relied on, there will be a ſhew of Country Troops on our ſide, which will be a further help to prepare the Rajah for the reception of ſuch arrangements as your Honour, &c. may be pleaſed to determine on. Whatever theſe may be, we are of opinion, that in order to your demands operating with the fulleſt effect, they ſhould be declared in a Letter from you to the Rajah, to be held ready to be preſented to him, at a time the moſt favourable for enſuring obedience, to which we think he may be diſpoſed when he finds it to be your determination, in caſe of refuſal, to deprive him of his Zemindary, and ſees on the ſpot a force ſufficient to reduce him.

APPENDIX No. 18.

20. We have propoſed in para. 9th, that the Rajah ſhould be required to diſband his Troops, and ſurrender his Forts to be garriſoned by the Company's Sepoys. It has in a former part of our Letter been mentioned, that his Troops coſt him 50 or 60,000 Rupees per month; and we underſtand that a military Force has been kept up by himſelf and family for many years paſt:—Sometimes even at a much greater expence expence than that above-mentioned.—As the Vizianagrum family therefore have been long uſed to great ſtate, and as the preſent Rajah is a vain man, and has been bred up in ſhew and parade, he will naturally be very averſe to any conditions that may deprive him of theſe external marks of greatneſs. We would therefore recommend, that ſome ſhadow of power ſhould be held out to flatter his pride, and thereby engage him to ſubmit the more readily to the Company's Orders. His acquieſcence will probably be followed by that of all the other Zemindars, and the object is ſo important, that the effecting it without bloodſhed, will be cheaply purchaſed at the expence of a few indulgences and diſtinctions granted to the Vizianagrum family; who, having rendered eſſential ſervice in aſſiſting Colonel Ford to expel the French from the Circars, and in delivering up Vizagapatam to the Company, after having taken it from the French, may, we think, be juſtly deemed entitled from theſe conſiderations, to ſuch marks of the Company's favour as can prudently be ſhewn them. The high authority this family has been poſſeſſed of in this Circar, by having had the entire management of it, with the title of Nabob, under the Mooriſh Government, for a conſiderable time, may very juſtly be ſuppoſed to have given Viziaramrauze lofty notions of his perſonal conſequence; and although he has been miſled to the late acts of violence againſt Jagonautrauze and Padnaubrauze, he has the character of being a well-meaning, humane man, and is favourably ſpoken of by the people in general of this Circar. He has hitherto generally appeared in public with a retinue of 50 Horſe and 500 or ſometimes a thouſand Sepoys and Pikemen. We think if he were allowed to retain the 50 Horſe and 500 Sepoys as a guard, it would tend greatly to reconcile him to the change.

21. With reſpect to the Forts, we are of opinion that it may be very difficult to bring the Rajah to deliver up that of Vizianagrum; not that we ſuppoſe he depends upon it as a place of defence, but we believe that he is greatly attached to it on account of the length of time his family has reſided there; that he will probably be afraid, on account of his women, of continuing there when it is garriſoned by our Troops, and will dread the mortification and diſgrace of being obliged to remove. It is a ſmall Fort of about 200 yards ſquare, with a dry unfiniſhed ditch, and has four round baſtions at the angles; the body of the Fort is at preſent in pretty good repair, and is partly of brick and partly of ſtone, cemented on the outſide with Chunam. By the conſtruction of it, which is wholly in the country ſtile of fortifying, without any outworks, we conceive that it cannot be deemed ſtrong; there are but few buildings in it, conſiſting of the Rajah's dwelling-houſe, with the outhouſes, a ſmall bomb proof, and ſome ſheds for the Rajah's people. We do not imagine it to be a place of any conſequence conſidered as a Fortification, but the leaving it in the Rajah's hands might make other Zemindars expect the ſame indulgences. We ſhould think it more adviſable to allow the Rajah an addition to his guard than the poſſeſſion of his Fort, and rather the poſſeſſion of his Fort, than that the inſiſting on this article alone ſhould be the occaſion of a total breach with him: His holding the Fort cannot put it in his power ever hereafter to do us miſchief; and in order to effect quietly a great change, all immaterial or unimportant matters ſhould, we think, be ſacrificed.

22. We think, after diſbanding the Rajah's Troops, that four Battalions of Sepoys ſhould be kept up by the Company for ſome time in this Diſtrict, allowing for the Rajah's Body Guard, to be taken from his Sepoys. Such of the remainder as chooſe it, might be enliſted in the Company's Service, and divided amongſt the different Battalions; his Pike and Matchlockmen will employ themſelves in the cultivation of the Country.

23. It would have been a very great ſatisfaction to us, to have been able to offer you our ſentiments upon this occaſion, with regard to the tribute that might reaſonably be demanded from this Rajah—as his being at a certainty with regard to the proviſion that might be intended to be made for his maintenance, and the ſupport of his family, his guard, &c. might the more incline him to accede peaceably to the terms to which he is to be reduced. We have already enlarged upon the cauſes which, we conceived, had led the Rajah to obſtruct the enquiry; and his miſconduct in this particular, renders us unable at preſent to aſcertain the tribute that might be deemed adequate to the Revenues of the Country he holds; he muſt in this reſpect depend ultimately upon the juſtice and generoſity of the Company, and he will accordingly ſee the neceſſity and propriety of ſubmitting to whatever they may determine on.

24. If it ſhould appear to you inexpedient at preſent to compel the Vizianagrum Rajah to obedience, we think it our duty to repreſent to you, that the enquiry, in ſuch caſe, is liable to be lengthened out to what extent he pleaſes: It is neceſſary, in order to our proceeding with diſpatch in this ſervice, that we ſhould have the prompt attendance of the village Conecoplies, and others, whom we may have occaſion to examine: When we write to the Rajah for them, he promiſes to order them to attend us, but they come to us very ſlowly; and when our Hircarrahs and Sepoys are ſent for them to the villages, not above half the number we want are to be found. We wiſhed, previous to entering on any other work, to have firſt finiſhed the Accounts of the Vizianagrum Zemindary, in order that a more adequate Jemmabundy might be ſettled with the Rajah; and if the Conecoplies are hereafter ſent to us without delay, we ſhall be able in three months to go through the whole of the Accounts of that Country. We have been obliged lately, on account of their not attending, to take in hand the Kemedy Zemindary, and are now proceeding upon that of Tibaly. Jagonautrauze and his brother Padnaubrauze, having, on account of the ill uſage they have received from the Vizianagrum family, determined to quit their ſervice, and implore the protection of the Company, we think it will be adviſable to give them all poſſible encouragement; and are the more induced to recommend ſuch a meaſure, on account of their being eſteemed the moſt capable and truſt-worthy managers in this Circar, a ſet of people much wanted; particularly if it ſhould appear, as there is ſome reaſon to think, that part of the country now held by the Rajah as Zemindary lands, was formerly Havelly, and that his claim to them may not ſtand the teſt. Theſe two men having a thorough knowledge of every part of the Countries dependant on the Rajah, they are capable of rendering the Company great ſervice: Jagonautrauze, the moſt able of them, we propoſe recommending to your Honour, &c. for the office of Meeraſſydar to the Diſtrict; but it being neceſſary before we do ſo, in order to judge of the degree of reliance to be placed on him, to queſtion him particularly relative to the produce of the different Countries, and receive from him other important informations, to keep by us as a check to refer to in the courſe of our enquiries, we ſhall defer entering further on this ſubject till our next Addreſs.

26. In your Letter of Inſtructions to us, you mention the the repreſentations that had been made to you of the loſſes that were declared by the Renters of the Chicacole and Coſſimcotah Havelly lands, to have been ſuſtained by them in thoſe farms. We have found, in our enquiries into theſe Havelly lands, that the collections for the year in which the repreſentation of loſſes was made to you, fell ſhort of the collections for the two years preceding; but as they amounted to 59,000 Rupees above the ſum for which the lands were rented from the Company, and as the average collections for that and the two years preceding included in the ſame Cowle, amounted to 76,000 Rupees a year above that ſum, we cannot think the Renters entitled to any abatement in their rents. It is true, the crops in general fell ſhort; and ſome parts of the country, by ſuffering more ſeverely than the reſt, muſt have appeared in a ruined ſtate; but the high prices of grain made up to the Renter for the differences in the produce.

We are, with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient, and
moſt humble Servants,

Chicacole,
16 Auguſt 1777.

John Hollond,
P. Perring,
Sam^l Johnſon.

To Samuel Johnſon, Eſquire, Chief of Vizagapatam, and Senior Member of the Committee of Circuit.

Sir,

When we were lately at Vizagapatam, we agreed with you, on the 8th inſtant, that it would be proper to addreſs the Board upon the ſubject of reducing the Rajah's force. The rough drafts of a Letter, which you moſtly approved, was read to you; but we were obliged, upon the receipt of the Board's Letter of the 2d Auguſt, to come away to Chicacole, in order to put in hand Tranſlates of ſuch Accounts as were neceſſary to enable us to comply with their Orders. We have not been able, till now, to finiſh our Addreſs to the Board upon the ſubject firſt above-mentioned: In proportion to its importance, it was neceſſary for us to conſider it very maturely; if you ſhould approve of it, you will pleaſe to ſign and forward it; but if you ſhould diſapprove of any part of it, we beg nevertheleſs that you will forward it immediately, as the diſtance we are at renders it impoſſible to debate on any difference of opinion, and the ſubject of the Letter, and time of the year, does not admit of any delay.

We are, Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servants,
(Signed) P. Perring,
John Hollond.

Chicacole,
16 Auguſt 1777.

APPENDIX, No. 19.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 25th November 1777.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident.
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Board having met, according to adjournment, to take into conſideration the Letter from the Committee of Circuit, dated the 10th September, as entered in laſt Conſultation, the Preſident lays before them a Letter, which has been addreſſed to him from the family of the deceaſed Uppala Poyakarew, late Zemindar of Ancapillee; alſo one from Jumpana Jaggernautrauze, and one from Vizziaramrauze, which are read as follows:

(Tranſlation.)

APPENDIX. No. 19.

To the Honourable Governor and Council of Fort Saint George.

The Urgee or Petition of Vancataputty Rauz, Pada Rauz, and Vancataputty Rauz, Son of Vancataram Rauz, &c. Couſins of Appola Poick Roy, and the Vakeel Sacarmunter Nurſunna.

That your Honour is the Fountain of Juſtice arrived from England, and that we hope and confide in your Honour, and &c. Gentlemen, will look into the merits of our cauſe, and render on us our rights, of which we have already repreſented to your Honour, and &c. Gentlemen, bearing date 18th September laſt, which we doubt not by this time may have arrived with you, to which we expect a juſt Anſwer, and we hope it may not prove ineffectual. Now Seetaram Rauz is gone to Madras; he, in our Rauze's life-time, lent him a ſmall ſum of money, and for which he had a Tunca on the Diſtrict of Ancapully; he did calculate intereſt on intereſt, until it amounted to a great ſum; and he alſo made up other accounts, and increaſed them to an enormous ſum, thinking that he is powerful and rich, and we are poor, and that what can be in our power, let him be who it will, provided he ſpends money, it will turn out to his advantage, even ſuppoſing it was contrary to juſtice; and he endeavoured alſo to encroach upon our Country: Since the deceaſe of our Rajah, he has wrote to the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam, and alſo to the Governor and Council of Fort St. George, which muſt be in the Company's books, as well as their Anſwer. He has alſo offered them preſents of large ſums of money, which practice he even now makes uſe of after the deceaſe of our Rajah Appola Poick Roy Jumpana Jagunnada Rauz; what he has wrote, and his verbal meſſages, in order to bring our Diſtrict, called Ancapully, under their Jamindarſhip, this Honourable Board will find if you will but make enquiry. The Company is full of juſtice: We rely on you, Gentlemen, that you will do us juſtice, as by uſual cuſtom, according to the People that have been in power before in this quarter, have done with regard to our Jamindarſhip; as a proof of which, that in theſe our Circars, when there was no iſſue at the death of the different Rajahs, viz. Pooſaputty Raovoo, Appan Row Culdindy, &c. the names of families, their wives did addreſs themſelves to the then Government; they did always permit them to adopt any lad they pleaſed out of their couſins; this was the uſual cuſtom of the Jamindarſhips from ancient times: And beſides, a year ago, at the deceaſe of Bungar Yaſum Naick, his wives did requeſt Lord Pigot, Bahadar, to permit them to adopt a lad they choſe of their couſins, as heir, which was accordingly granted to them, who is now in the Government of the Country: Our requeſt is not unprecedented: Our Rajah's wives reſt aſſured that this Honourable Board will favour them, by permitting them to adopt a lad they like on the deceaſe of our Rajah Appola Poick Roy. The Governor of Madras did write to the Gentlemen at Maſulipatam, and deſired them to make an enquiry of who was the heir to that Jamindarſhip, and of what was cuſtomary in other Circars; and alſo deſired them to get certificates thereof from them, and ſend them to Madras, which they have accordingly complied with, which we doubt not muſt remain in the Company's books, which will convince this Honourable Board of our aſſertions. When the Houſe of Pooſaputty lent money to us, they did alſo lend to the Houſe of Kimmedy, and increaſed it to an exorbitant ſum, as their Country is woody: They thought proper to ſettle matters amicably; the balance they have agreed to pay, yearly a certain ſum. The Houſe of Vutchavoy have lent money to the Houſe of Raovoo; and they were at variance, and made their complaint to the Council of Maſulipatam, on which their Accounts were juſtly ſettled, and they have determined the balance to be paid at the rate of Five thouſand Pagodas per annum. We beg this Honourable Board will be ſo good as to ſettle our Accounts juſtly and equitably, and determine us to pay either according to the terms of the Houſes of Kimmedy or Raovoo,

APPENDIX. No. 19.

Rawvoo, to which we will readily agree. If the lenders ſhould incline to encroach upon the borrowers Country, it is a thing quite unprecedented: The inclination of Viziaram Rauze is only to recover the money juſtly due to him, and he has no intention to encroach on our Country: The inclination of Sittaram Rauze is from a long time to encroach on our Country, and he thinks of nothing elſe. Our Vakeel Sacermuntry Nurraſumma is coming for to repreſent our cauſe. We humbly beg this Honourable Board will take our caſe into their conſideration, and ſupport our Jamindarſhip, and for which we ſhall pray, &c. &c.

We beg this Honourable Board will excuſe any fault in this Urgee.

October 17th 1777.

A Duplicate of it is ſent.

Tranſlation of a Letter from Jumpana Jaggernaut Rauze to the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir,

Since your arrival at Madras, I have had the honour to addreſs you with two Letters, and my Vakeel, Narſimloo, has communicated to you what I wrote to him. I ſuppoſe you have to this juncture conſtantly many other affairs to tranſact, and therefore I have not received your favourable Letter.

The late Uppala Poyakarow, who died about thirteen months ago, was my neareſt couſin.

On the application I made about Poyakarow's country, and the repreſentation made by the family of the deceaſed Poyakarow, as alſo on the Rajah's interceſſion, the Chief and Council of Vizigapatam thought proper to give me their intereſt. All the Papers in my favour, the Chief and Council incloſed in their Letter about this buſineſs to the Preſidency of Madras; if you will be pleaſed to refer to what has been wrote on this ſubject, after the death of Poyakarow, you will fully underſtand this buſineſs.

If the Honourable Company be pleaſed to grant me the ſucceſſion of Ankapilly Zemindary, I am to diſcharge a large debt due to the Rajah Viziaram Rauze; and I agree that the Company ſhall order the family of Poyakarow to adopt a Son, and they to ſettle a Jamabundy to Sallawaram, and the remainder of the collection of ſaid Sallawaram money, to go towards the maintenance of them; and I further conſent to pay the tribute, if the Company are pleaſed to increaſe it. To all which the Rajah Vizitram Rauze agreed, and alſo the family of Poyakarow. The Chief and Council here have promiſed me to endeavour to procure a Cowle for me for this Zemindary; until this was procured, they thought proper to make me their Manager for this Country, and they gave me their Duſtock in order to collect the Revenue from that Diſtrict, and to pay it into the Company's Treaſury; they alſo ordered me to pay a ſmall ſum monthly to Poyakarow's family. I am acting conformable to the Company's Orders; I have alſo improved the lands to the ſatisfaction of all the Inhabitants.

Sitteram Rauze has made application to the Board at Vizagapatam, for the ſucceſſion of Ankapilly Zemindary, to join with his brother's Zemindary; the Rajah Viziaram Rauze having adopted his ſon to ſucceed him, which Sitteram Rauze knows perfectly well, his next ſtep is to get Ankapilly, and then to rent the Chicacole Havelly at any rate, that he may thereby engroſs all the political buſineſs; if he can accompliſh this, then he knows very well how to make himſelf great, as there will be no other perſon but himſelf in this Circar: Theſe are his inward ſentiments; but he pretends that he wants to have nothing to do with his Brother's Country, and that he has got nothing for his own maintenance. He thinks, if he can perſuade your Honour and the Council into this, the Company will doubtleſs grant him a Cowle for Poyakarow's Country: when he gets it, he intends to turn Poyakarow's family out of the country; at the time he made his repreſentation to the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam about this, they thought proper to refuſe him, becauſe he was not a relation to Poyakarow, nor had he any claim or mortgage on that country, therefore the Chief and Council reſolved to recommend me to the Board of Madras, as they deemed me a proper perſon, being manager for the Company and a couſin of Poyakarow's; I have conſented to give Sittavaram to the family to make them contented, and to pay off the debt to Rajah Viziaram Rauze, and alſo to content all the inhabitants, beſides paying more Jamabundy. The Company will be pleaſed to conſider how far I deſerve their favours, and I hope to get the Cowle. I have ſome little private affairs to be ſettled here, then will ſet out to Madras, and will pay my reſpects to you perſonally by the 1ſt of December.

Incloſed I ſend my Sarmed to you, on account of the Cowle, for the Ankapillee Zemindary, which I hope you'll receive ſafe. What can I ſay more?

(Signed)

Vizagapatam, 1ſt Nov. 1777. Jumpana Jaggernaut Rauze.

(Tranſlation.)

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

I Mirja Rauza Vizia Ram Rauz, Bohadar, Monſub Sultan, write this Letter.

An intimate friendſhip between the Honourable the Engliſh Company and us ſubſiſted before, and even after they had the Circars; we doubt not, Gentlemen, but that you are acquainted with it. Lately, by ſome reaſons, and unfortunately for us, the Company placed their garriſon in all the forts of our country, and even in the fort of Vizianagrum, the place of our habitation. We, for ſome reaſons, had received a ſum of money from Janagada Rauz; even that ſum we returned to him; as the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam informed us, that the Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George, have deſired us to do ſo, we thought proper to comply with their pleaſure. Vizianagarum fort is not large enough for their Company's Troops, but juſt fit for the habitation of our family. There being there diſtreſſed the place much, which has produced many inconveniencies to us, on which we removed with our family to Summa Chellem, a place devoted to our religion, ſituated at the diſtance of five coſs from Vizagapatam. All theſe circumſtances we doubt not but Meſſrs. Johnſon and Perring have informed you, Gentlemen, of. There was a ſum of money due to the Company from us, on account of the Kiſtees; although our country is in different circumſtances, we thought proper to diſcharge the above due, which we have accordingly done by a teep or draft given by the Soucars for one hundred and fifty thouſand Rupees, of which Mr. Williams, &c. Council, wrote to you, Gentlemen. We did formerly, and ſhall henceforth, entirely rely upon the Company, of which you, Gentlemen, are ſenſible of. We beg you will pleaſe to order the Troops at Vizianagarum to leave the place, for which we ſhall thank you, and return to that place again with our family; it is our duty to pay obedience to the Company's orders, and their duty is to protect us. We expect your anſwer, which we hope you will favour us with ſoon. Formerly the management of our country was taken care of by our Brother; now, ſince two years, we have managed it ourſelves, as we thought proper ſo to do, and paid the Company's money according to the payments. When our Brother delivered the management of it to us, there was an allowance of five thouſand Rupees per month ſettled on himſelf, which he received for one year, and after he made known to us, by people of character, that five thouſand Rupees was not enough, and that he would be glad if we allowed him at the rate of ten thouſand Rupees per month, at which rate we have allowed him, and told him to reſide in any place he pleaſed; he ſaid, that he was deſirous to ſee Mr. Stratton; and ſet off for Madras; and alſo he ſaid, that he would have nothing to do with our Rauzſhip; and that I may write to my Vakeel on that purpoſe: by this time he may have arrived with you. As our brother has not any buſineſs with our Rauzſhip, we have wrote to our Vakeel, Gondala Sectaram, with regard to every thing, of which we dare ſay he has informed you, Gentlemen, of our brother; that the farm of the diſtricts of Havelly, Sriceeolim, Cuſmy, Cottah, &c, for three years, when we told him that he ſhould not take any farm on which he ſuſtained a loſs of ſixty thouſand Rupees; when the Company demanded it of him, he requeſted us to pay it: merely to oblige him we have agreed to it. The farm of the Havelly diſtrict, the Gentlemen of the Committee lately much increaſed the rate; of courſe our brother will not think of it: in caſe he does take it, I take the liberty to obſerve to you, Gentlemen, that our Rauzſhip ſhall have no manner of buſineſs with it. We have lent a large ſum of money to Poick Roy, on the mortgage Annacapully diſtrict, the Governor and Council, their papers, and alſo the papers of Poick Roy, I have with me, and alſo the copies thereof we doubt not muſt remain in the Board after the deceaſe of Appola Poick Roy; what we wrote to the Board concerning the diſtricts of Annacapully and Sullyaverem muſt remain in the Company's books; by your peruſing them every thing will occur to your knowledge. Lately, for a little time, the Company appointed Jagunnad Rauz, manager of the diſtricts of Annacapully and Sullyverem, and the revenues produced therefrom the Company have received entirely. The Company's Troops remaining in Annacapully fort. We are indebted a large ſum of money to the Gentlemen and the Soucars at Vizagapatam. We beg this Honourable Board will pleaſe to write to Jagunnada Rauz, and order him to pay us the money due to us from the diſtricts of Annacapully and Suttyaverem, which will enable us to diſcharge our debts. As it is your duty, and incumbent on you, Gentlemen, to do us juſtice, we wrote to you. In our return from Rajamahandrem to our country, we did call at Suttyaverem, to enquire after the late Poick Roy's wives; they grievouſly complained to us, ſaying, that ſome perſon of wealth is endeavouring to encroach upon our country, by diſburſing ſome of his riches, and obtain an order for it from the Company: and alſo they ſaid, that their Rauzſhip is very ancient; and that they have repreſented their deplorable caſe to the Board; and that I might write in their favour to you, Gentlemen, and beg you to permit them to adopt a lad as their heir; that they, their children, and aged, will retain a great ſenſe of the favour; and that it will be to the repute and fame of the Company. For which we aſſured them, that the Company is our ſuperior, and they will do no other than juſtice; and that they may reſt aſſured of it. We are only deſirous of recovering our money due from them, but we had not any intention on their Rauzſhip; if we illegally ſhould attempt any thing againſt it, we ſhould be deemed by the Company and others as uſurpers; but the Company never will agree to ſuch meaſures. We hope you, Gentlemen, will do them juſtice.

Vizia Ram Rauze.

30th October 1777.

The Letter of the 6th inſtant, from Vizagapatam, as entered in laſt Conſultation, being alſo read again, the Board are of opinion, That previous to the determining upon the ſubjects contained therein, it will be neceſſary that Viziaramrauze ſhould come to Madras; and the Preſident is accordingly requeſted to write him the following Letter, to be ſent to him through the Chief and Council, at Vizagapatam.

To Mirza Rauze Viziaramrauze, Behauder, Monſul Sultan.

Sir,

From the Letters you have written to me, ſince your return to Vizagapatam, which have been laid before the Board, and the repreſentations made through the Council of that Settlement, which have been tranſmitted hither, I obſerve you are under great uneaſineſs of mind on account of the late proceedings regarding you. I write you at this time, that you make yourſelf eaſy on the ſubject of your affairs. The Company are full of juſtice, and their friendſhip is never wanting to thoſe who are under their protection. The faults you have committed will not be remembered, whilſt you continue ſubmiſſive and obedient to their orders, and ſhew yourſelf diligent in the management of your country, and in the payment of your Jimmabundy to the Company. Be not careful that any of your juſt rights will be infringed; the Company have a regard for your family, and will not only protect you in what you have a claim to, but extend their indulgence to you whenever it can be done conſiſtently with the ſafety and welfare of their own affairs.

As the ſeveral requeſts communicated in your Letters will require much conſideration, and the ſituation in which your affairs ſtand at preſent, making it proper and neceſſary that you ſhould come to Madras, I deſire you will accordingly proceed hither without delay, leaving careful and truſty ſervants to manage the buſineſs of your Zemindary during your abſence.

In compliment to you I have directed the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam to order a company of Sepoys to eſcort you to Madras.

As it has been a rule long eſtabliſhed by the orders of the Company, that all correſpondence with the Prince, and the Natives of India, ſhould be carried on through the channel of their Governor, you will apprehend that your Letters ſhould in future be addreſſed to me alone.

I am, Sir,

Your moſt obedient,

Fort St. George, humble Servant,

17th November 1777. John Whitehill.

Mr. Johnſon deſires it may be minuted, that he cannot give his aſſent to this meaſure, for the reaſons he ſubſcribed to as Chief of Vizagapatam, in the Letter from that Settlement, dated the 30th Auguſt laſt, in the Military Department.

Agreed, That the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam be directed to furniſh Viziaramrauze with the eſcort mentioned in the Preſident's Letter to him.

John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Sami Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 20.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 18th November 1777.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
Charles Smith.
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

READ the following Letter from Vizagapatam:

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have the honour to acquaint you with the return of Viziaramrauze to his country, ſeemingly full of contrition for his paſt miſconduct, which had ſo juſtly drawn upon him the diſpleaſure and reſentment of the late adminiſtration. The Rajah ſince his return has paid us a viſit, and acknowledged his error, in liſtening too readily to the advice of evil Counſellors, whereby he has brought himſelf nothing but ſhame and diſgrace. He is extremely apprehenſive the Company will never ſhew the ſame regard and friendſhip they had formerly for him and his family; on which account, has requeſted our interceſſion with the Honourable Board for pardon, and to explain to your Honour, &c. his great concern for his late miſbehaviour, which has been expreſſed in a very pathetic manner, in his addreſs to Mr. Williams, on the ſubject of his affairs, as will be perceived in the incloſed copy of it, ſent herewith for your peruſal by his deſire.

APPENDIX. No. 20.

As the reſtoration of the fort of Vizianagrum ſeems to be the principal object the Rajah has in view, we beg leave to recommend that part of his Letter to your ſerious conſideration; and to obſerve at the ſame time to your Honour, &c. that we are fully convinced within ourſelves, the Rajah, from his weakneſs and ſuperſtition, can never be happy whilſt he continues abſent from the ancient reſidence of his family; nor have we reaſon to believe he will ever be faithfully attached to the Company's intereſt, unleſs their Troops are withdrawn from Vizianagrum; for ſhould the Rajah not be indulged in his requeſt to be reſtored to his family, fort, and reſidence, his averſion to the Company's Government will certainly ſhew itſelf whenever he can be encouraged and ſupported by an European Power. It is true indeed the fort is ſmall, and in the defenceleſs condition deſcribed in the Rajah's Letter; but as it is the poſitive orders of the Company, that all the Rajahs or Zemindars who hold their lands of them, ſhall truſt to the Company's Troops for defence and protection, we cannot, in duty to our Honourable Employers, recommend the fort of Vizianagrum to be reſtored to the Rajah, without firſt having from him ſome ſecurity for his fidelity and attachment to the Company, as well as for the peace and tranquillity of this Circar: for although the Rajah has expreſſed the utmoſt concern for his late diſobedience, and has promiſed future amendment, in hopes of obtaining again his fort; yet we are ſomewhat doubtful of the ſincerity of his profeſſions, from his too well known fluctuating diſpoſition; and we are not a little ſurpriſed at his expecting the Company's indulgence to his ſuperſtition, without making the leaſt offer of increaſing his tribute (which is at preſent too ſmall for the large poſſeſſions he holds of the Company); nor, what appears to us very extraordinary, has he propoſed to reimburſe the Company for the great expence they have been at in ſending Troops and Stores from the Preſidency, Maſulipatam, and Ganjam, in order to reduce him to a proper obedience to their Authority and Government.

The reſtoring the fort of Vizianagrum to the Rajah, the raiſing of his tributes, and the reimburſement of the Troops ordered to be employed to reduce him to a due ſenſe of his duty, are ſubjects of the utmoſt importance, highly meriting the attention of the Honourable Board; therefore, as we have no authority from you to enter into any negociation with the Rajah upon theſe matters, of which he ſeems to be truly ſenſible, if we might judge by his averſion to his having any diſcourſe about them, we ſhall wait your orders and inſtructions regarding the propriety of his requeſt, and the ſettling a reaſonable Jemmabundy with him for the enſuing year, as his Cowle for the preceding one expired the 25th September laſt, as well as thoſe of the other Zemindars in this Circar; about which alſo we ſhould be glad to have ſpeedily your directions.

It affords us much ſatisfaction, to have it in our power to inform your Honour, &c. that the Rajah has at length ordered the money which he forcibly took from Jumpana Jagernautrauze, to be reſtored to him. In our Letter to the Preſidency, dated 31ſt July laſt, we mentioned, that it was our intention, after the recovery of Jagernaut Rauze's effects, to ſubmit to the determination of the Board, how far it may be proper to inſiſt alſo on reſtitution being made to Pudda Naib Rauze, for the large ſum of money taken from him by the Rajah, merely becauſe he was a brother to the aforeſaid Jagernaut Rauze. As this is an inſtance of oppreſſion that loudly calls forth the juſtice of the Company, who, we are perſuaded will not ſuffer any of their Zemindars to act oppreſſively by the people under them, we hope your Honour, &c. will cauſe the Rajah to ſatisfy the injured man: for, upon the ſtricteſt enquiry, Viziaramrauze, we find, cannot have any claim upon Pudda Naib Rauze for the money he has unjuſtly taken away from him, after having once given him an acquittal upon ſettling accounts to the Rajah's entire ſatisfaction. Pudda Naib Rauze is in ſome meaſure deſerving of your protection, as he will moſt probably be an uſeful ſervant to the Company; being determined, as he aſſures us, to devote the remainder of his life to their ſervice.

As the Cowle for Havelly land is expired, and this is the time for repairing the tanks and watercourſes, we beg permiſſion to remind your Honours, &c. of a propoſal lately made by Pudda Naib Rauze, delivered to the Committee of Circuit, for renting the Caſſimcolah and Chicacole Havelly lands, for 10 years, at 2,30,000 Rupees per annum, eſpecially as he has requeſted we would apply to you for a Cowle on the above terms, and to aſſure you that he will be punctual in the payment of his kiſts, and that he will do all in his power to improve thoſe lands, and to make the people happy under him, during the time he is Renter.

We obſerve in the Rajah's Letter, a ſtrong diſlike to Sitteramrauze renting the Havelly lands, from an apprehenſion, in caſe of failure in his payments, that he will want him to be reſponſible for his balance; therefore, as it is his determination not to pay any ſuch balance, he requeſts your Honour, &c. will not liſten to any propoſals Sitteramrauze might make for renting thoſe lands. If the Rajah is ſo averſe to his brother becoming a Renter, for the reaſons already ſet forth, it is beyond a doubt his objection to his being appointed Zemindar of Ancapillee muſt be inſuperable, as there is no leſs than ſeven lacks of Rupees due to him from the mortgaged lands: indeed, Viziaramrauze has already explained his ſentiments on this head, in his Letter to the Chief and Council (which was tranſmitted to the Board in our Letter of the 12th December 1776) that it appears to us there is no neceſſity for enlarging on the ſubject further than it is our opinion, that ſhould this Zemindary be granted to Sitteramrauze, there will be eternal diſputes between the two brothers, and our time, of courſe, will always be taken up with hearing of their complaints, frivolous on one ſide, but conſequential to the other; which might be avoided, if your Honour, &c. ſhould think proper to confer the Zemindary on Jaggernaut Rauze, who is a man of abilities and ſubſtance, and worthy of truſt and favour, and to whom the Rajah has no objection with regard to the ſucceſſion, and hath frequently expreſſed his wiſh he might obtain the Zemindary, as he is convinced the heavy debt due to him from the late Zemindar, would be ſoon diſcharged; beſides, the Company, in the courſe of a few years, would have a conſiderable increaſe in the Jemmabundy, which cannot be expected at preſent, while the Rajah is allowed to collect the revenues, and to charge annually the country intereſt of 24 per cent. beſides Soucar of Tepawany batta, of exchange, and other charges attending the collections. Notwithſtanding the heavy debt due to the Rajah, Jagernautrauze is willing to increaſe the tribute from 65,000, to a lack of Rupees per annum, which is 35,000 more than ever was before given for the Ankapillee Zemindary. But leſt your Honours, &c. ſhould be impreſſed with an unfavourable opinion of Jagernautrauze, on account of the accuſation made laſt February againſt him by Sitteramrauze, for traiterous proceedings againſt the Company, we think, in honour to ourſelves, and in vindication of an injured character, we ought to do juſtice to Jaggernautrauze, for too eaſily giving credit to the cruel aſperſions caſt upon him by his vindictive, ill-deſigning enemy, Sitteramrauze; who, for endeavouring to impoſe upon the Council, by his infamous, falſe informations, has rendered himſelf deſerving your high diſpleaſure: conſcious, therefore, of Sitteramrauze's deception of us, and of Jaggernautrauze's innocence, the Chief and Council had, laſt

Auguſt,

APPENDIX. No. 20.

Auguſt, delivered the latter a paper, with their ſign manual and the Company's ſeal affixed thereto, in order to produce occaſionally to the Honourable Board for his juſtification; but as his preſent bad ſtate of health prevents him from going up immediately to the Preſidency for redreſs, he has requeſted we would lay the ſaid paper before you, in the full perſuaſion your Honours will juſtify his character to the Company; otherwiſe this man, who has it in his power to render them ſervices, muſt retire from the world, and of courſe be buried in oblivion. Before we conclude, we muſt make another remark on the Rajah's Letter, wherein he gives us to underſtand, that Sitteram Rauze's going up to the Preſidency, was only on a viſit to his friend, Mr. Stratton, and that he did not entertain any ſuſpicions of his wanting to intermeddle with his affairs. Although this appears doubtful to us, yet we are pleaſed he has guarded againſt this interference, by deſiring it may be repreſented to your Honours that his brother has no authority to act or do any thing for him in his affairs. We repeat, we are well pleaſed with the Rajah's aſſurance, as it will be the means of guarding you againſt the machinations of Sitteramrauze, whoſe ambition knows no bounds, and whoſe character bears the mark of infamy upon our Records for ſome months paſt, which we have faithfully repreſented in its true light, in our correſpondence with the late adminiſtration.

We have the honour to ſubſcribe ourſelves, with the utmoſt reſpect,

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt dutiful,
humble Servants,
M. Williams,
Hy Crawford,
Nath. Barlow.

Vizagapatam,
6th November 1777.

Tranſlation of a Letter from Rajah Viziaram Rauze to Mr. Morgan Williams, Provincial Chief of Vizagapatam.

Sir,

Since the happy era in which the Honourable Company were put in poſſeſſion of the Northern Circars, until this juncture, my family have experienced their friendſhip; and I humbly hope they have all proved themſelves deſerving of the favours conferred on them.

My late miſbehaviour, for which I am truly concerned, drew upon me the Company's diſpleaſure, and they thought proper to order all my inſignificant forts to be garriſoned by their Troops, not even excepting Vizianagrum, the ancient reſidence of my family: being conſcious I brought this misfortune upon myſelf, I paid the ſtricteſt obedience to their orders, and not only gave up my forts, but being further informed by Mr. Johnſon, in the name of himſelf and the Council of Vizagapatam, that it was expected that I ſhould reſtore the money which I had forcibly taken from Jampane Jaggernaut Rauze, I have returned it accordingly, and hope this will alſo be conſidered as a proof of my ſincere intentions implicitly to obey in future the Company's orders on all occaſions.

I yeſterday delivered you a teepe for Rupees, 150,000 on account of the kiſts due from me to the Honourable Company, although I have found the greateſt difficulty, in the preſent poſture of affairs, to raiſe that ſum, my credit being materially affected by the late meaſures taken againſt me.

I have no doubt but the Honourable Preſident and Council have been fully informed of the preſent defenceleſs condition of Vizianagrum; that lately a great part of the walls has tumbled down, and the remainder is tottering; that it is but barely capable of containing my family, and it is not of the leaſt conſequence as a fort, but is very dear to me as the ancient reſidence of my family; and by my being diſpoſſeſſed thereof, am rendered unhappy. It is true, the Company moſt conſiderately granted me permiſſion to remain therein; but this is impracticable whilſt a battalion of Sepoys remain there, and in the adjoining village. Want of room, continual complaints about proviſions, and the little ſquabbles (to which my people were ſubjected) with the Sepoys, made the place ſo diſagreeable, that I have been neceſſitated to forſake it, and take up my reſidence at Sumatchallum, within five coſs of Vizagapatam. Two Members of the Council (Samuel Johnſon and Peter Perring, Eſquires) can give the Honourable Board a more affecting deſcription of my diſtreſſed condition (thus obliged to forſake my ancient habitation) than I am capable of inditing.

When the Honourable Board take my preſent ſituation into conſideration, I have the moſt ſanguine hopes, that their humanity and juſtice will influence them to give orders for my fort of Vizianagrum being evacuated, that I may joyfully return thereto, and by future dutiful and peaceable demeanour, evince that I am deſerving of the favour. I faithfully promiſe that it ſhall never be put into any poſture of defence; and that the Honourable Company's Troops ſhall again have immediate poſſeſſion whenever they think proper. I am now perfectly convinced that the Company's protection is my beſt ſecurity, and on it I ſhall ever place (next to God) my chief dependance.

My brother, Silteram Rauze, managed my affairs for many years, and of his own accord delivered them over to me about two years paſt, encumbered with an enormous debt; yet ever ſince I have had the good fortune to conduct them ſo well myſelf, that I have punctually paid the Company's kiſts, and given entire ſatisfaction to all the people under me. My brother then agreed to receive from me for his ſubſiſtence 5,000 Rupees per month, and received at that rate for one year; but afterwards he ſent people to repreſent to me, that this allowance was inadequate to his expences, and therefore hoped I would double it: as my brother, I thought it incumbent on me to comply with his requeſt; and told him he might reſide in any part of my country that was moſt agreeable to him; but he replied, that he would proceed to Madras, on a viſit to his friend Mr. Stratton, and I muſt not entertain any ſuſpicions of his wanting to intermeddle with my affairs, leſt he may act otherwiſe. I beg that it may be repreſented to the Honourable Board, that he has no authority from me to do any thing in my affairs, and that whatever I wiſh to be tranſacted, will be communicated to my proper Vakeel, Gundal Sbittanah, who reſides in that capacity at Madras.

Contrary to my inclination and advice, my brother, Sitteram Rauze, rented the Chicacole Havelly for three years; and beſides other loſſes, leſt a balance due to the Company of ſixty thouſand Rupees. As this debt was contracted whilſt he was my Manager, and he declared he was incapable of diſcharging it, I took upon me to be reſponſible for it to the Honourable Company. I have now a worſe opinion of ſuch an undertaking than before, as the Committee of Circuit have thought proper to increaſe the rent conſiderably; and yet, I ſuſpect my brother wiſhes to become again Renter, flattering himſelf, that ſhould the loſs be ever ſo great, I will be induced to pay it; and therefore he will have the temporary gratification of his own wiſh, without riſque: for theſe reaſons I think it incumbent on me, to timely advertiſe you of my firm reſolution not to be again reſponſible for any ſuch balance.

I have already tranſmitted to the Honourable Board, copies of the original mortgage bonds granted to me by the deceaſed Poyatarow, on the Zemindary of Ancapilly; which were allowed to be taken by the ſaid Board, and duly authenticated by the Chiefs of this place. My debt is large, and accumulates daily. If you will be pleaſed to refer to what I wrote on this ſubject after the death of Poyatarow, you will fully underſtand my ſentiments of that matter. Lately the relations of Poyatarow, although they are very diſtant, have requeſted that I will intercede for

APPENDIX No. 20.

for permiſſion being given to the wife of the deceaſed Poyakarow, to adopt a ſon who may poſſeſs that Zemindary, as they are greatly alarmed by a report that it is to be given to my family, and they be left in indigence. I anſwered, that I never had applied for this Zemindary, or claimed any pretenſions to it, but ſo far as my mortgage gave me a right, nor did I ever wiſh to poſſeſs it; that they muſt reſt ſatisfied the Company would take care of their maintenance; but as to the country, I ſuppoſe, it would only be given to a perſon who could ſatisfy me for my great debt, which is nearly the worth of the Zemindary. Joggernaut Rauze being appointed Manager on behalf of the Company, now receives all the revenues of this country, which is contrary to the tenor of my mortgages, and keeps me in great diſtreſs. I hope the Honourable Board will be pleaſed to take care of my intereſt, in the diſpoſition of this Zemindary, and not grant it to any perſon who will not undertake fully to pay off my mortgage; by this I ſhall be enabled to diſcharge my balance to the Company, and part of the heavy debt I owe to individuals. I further hope they will be pleaſed to take into conſideration the diſtreſſed ſituation of the deceaſed Poyakarow's family and relations.

I cannot conclude this long addreſs without aſking your pardon for having been ſo prolix; but the neceſſity of my affairs required it. I hope you will not only lay this Letter before the Council here, but ſend a copy thereof to the Honourable Preſident and Council; when I hope you will aſſure them, my future behaviour ſhall convince them I am deſerving of all favours they may hereafter be pleaſed to conſer on me. What can I ſay more?

(A true copy.)

Vizigapatam, 30th October 1777. *Nath*l Barlow. Secr*y*.

Whereas Jumpana Jaggernaut Rauze has repreſented to us the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam, that from the repeated attempts made on his life and property by the Rajah Viziaram Rauze, through the evil Council of Sitteram Rauze, he can have no dependance on either; and therefore has this day paſſed us an obligation, wherein he binds himſelf never to ſerve them in any capacity whatſoever, without our expreſs permiſſion firſt had and obtained.

Now be it known unto all men, That we, taking into conſideration the preſent ſituation of Jaggernaut Rauze, and the ſervices which he may be able to render our Honourable Employers, by his great knowledge of all the Chicacole Circar, do hereby, at his earneſt requeſt, acknowledge him to be Renter of Chicacole Havelly, and Manager of Ankapillee, Dodegulloo, &c. Zemindary; that we conſider him as immediately under the Company's protection, and ſhall endeavour on all occaſions to ſee juſtice done to him and all his family: we alſo hereby declare, that we think he merits further encouragement, and ſhall embrace every opportunity which may offer, for giving him reaſon to be grateful for the protection and favour ſhewn him by this writing. In juſtice to his character, which we apprehend may have been injured by the Letter we wrote the Governor and Council of Fort Saint George, under date the 26th of February laſt, an account of the repreſentation made againſt him by Sitteram Rauze, we think it neceſſary to certify, that many circumſtances have ſince come to our knowledge, to induce us to believe that Sitteram Rauze is capable of inventing any ſtory, however wicked, which will ſerve his purpoſe, and that the complaints he urged againſt Jumpana Jaggernaut Rauze were groundleſs, though it is probable they have been the means of preventing him from being nominated Zemindar of Ankapillee, Dodegulloo, &c. we therefore being willing to repair the injury done him, as far as in our power, do hereby promiſe to uſe our beſt endeavours for his procuring that Zemindary; and in caſe this ſervice cannot be effected for him, we hereby promiſe to uſe every means in our power to make the Rajah Vizieram Rauze fulfil a Sanned granted by him to Jumpana Jaggernaut Rauze, bearing date the October 1776 (Gentoo Stile) wherein he promiſes to grant to him the following places, viz.

	R*y*.
Narva and Peddagady for -	9,000 per annum.
Canathee and Caravoſa - -	10,000 D°
Leva Cheema - - - - -	5,000 D°
Rupees -	24,000

In caſe the Zemindary of Ankapillee, Dodegulloo, &c. ſhall not be granted to Jumpana Jaggernaut Rauze within one year after the date of the ſaid Sanud, we further, being willing to bind the ſaid Jumpana Jaggernaut Rauze by all poſſible ties of gratitude to our Honourable Employers, do hereby promiſe to aſſiſt and ſupport him on all occaſions where it can be done conſiſtent with our own honour and the intereſt of the Honourable Eaſt India Company, whoſe ſeal is affixed to this writing, to which we have ſubſcribed our names in Vizagapatam, this 20th day of Auguſt 1777.

(Signed) Samuel Johnſon,
Morgan Williams,
Henry Crawfurd,
Nathaniel Barlow.

(A true copy.)
*Nath*l Barlow,
Secr*y*.

Agreed, That this Letter do lay upon the table, until the Letter of the 10th September, from the Committee of Circuit, ſhall be taken into conſideration.

John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
*Sam*l Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 21.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 27th of November 1777.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Gov*r*, Pres*t*.
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

PURSUANT to the Reſolution of laſt Conſultation, the following Letter was this day diſpatched by Tappies to Vizagapatam, incloſing the Preſident's to Viziram Rauze:

To Mr. Morgan Williams, &c. Council at Vizagapatam.

Gentlemen,

We have received your ſeveral Letters in this department, the laſt bearing date the 15th inſtant. As we are of opinion, that before we come to a concluſive determination upon the ſubjects contained in your Letter of the 6th inſtant, it is neceſſary that Viziaram Rauze ſhould come to Madras, in order to give us ſuch particular information regarding them as we may have occaſion to require him. —Our Preſident has been deſired to write him a Letter to this effect, which we incloſed herewith, to be immediately forwarded by you, and of which a copy is alſo ſent for your peruſal.

We deſire you will prepare and ſend up to us as ſoon as poſſible, a ſtatement of your nett territorial revenues, from the 25th March to the 25th September laſt.

Fort St. George, 27th November 1777. We are, Gentlemen, Your affectionate Friends.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 15th May 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Governor, Preſident.
John Whitehill,
Major General Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
Peter Perring.

Read the following Letter from Vizagapatam:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have received your Honour, &c. Council's Letter of the 3d of April.

Incloſed we tranſmit a duplicate of our Letter of the 16th December. In our Letter of the 3d March, we ſent you an account of our territorial revenues, from the 25th March to the 25th September 1777.

Immediately on the receipt of the Honourable Board's Letter, we ſignified to all the Zemindars dependant on this Settlement, your order to them to proceed to the Preſidency without loſs of time. We repreſented to them reſpectively, in the ſtrongeſt manner, the neceſſity of an implicit acquieſcence on their part, and the danger of incurring your diſpleaſure, by ſhewing any reluctance to obey your commands; which we informed them, agreeably to your deſire, would be enforced in caſe your orders ſhould not meet with a ready compliance.

We have not yet received replies from Tugganaut Deo, nor from his Dewan Arzebeg, neither have we heard from Tugga Deo; but we have no reaſon to apprehend any delay on their part.

Viziaram Rauze, in a Letter to Mr. Davidſon of the 17th inſtant, acquaints him, that he ſhould leave Boney the 24th inſtant; and we are informed that he intends ſetting out from Vizagapatam for the Preſidency the 28th inſtant. The Rajah has not ſhewn any reluctance to act conformably to the Orders received from the Government.

Juggarauze, the Company's Dubaſh, will leave this in a few days, and will probably arrive at Madras ſome time before Viziaram Rauze.

Captain Lyſaght has received orders to hold himſelf in readineſs with two Companies of his Battalion to eſcort Viziaram Rauze to Madras.

Advertiſements were, on the receipt of your Letter, ſent to Chicacole, and publiſhed at this place, for letting out the Honourable Company's farms for a period of five, eight, or ten years, commencing from the firſt inſtant. Whatever propoſals we may receive, ſhall be tranſmitted to you for your information; we ſhall likewiſe ſend you an account of the character and circumſtances of each perſon who may bid for the Company's farms.

Conformably to your orders, we have ſignified to the Company's Servants, and other Europeans in this Diſtrict, your having been pleaſed to revoke the permiſſion formerly granted to them, of bidding for the Company's farms.

We are, reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient,
and moſt humble Servants,
Alex' Davidſon,
Hy Crawford,
Nath' Barlow,
Chas Maxtone.

Vizagapatam,
22d April 1778.

APPENDIX, No. 22.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 9th September 1777.

Extract of a Letter from the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam, to the Governor and Council at Fort Saint George.

WHEN the Rajah Viziaram Rauze came here on the 17th inſtant, exclaimed againſt Sitteram Rauze's intrigues, and imputed to them all his misfortunes. As a proof of his contrition, and of his abhorrence of this wicked man's projects, he gave, under his hand, an account of the ſchemes which he, Sitteram Rauze, had projected, to carry him amongſt the hills, and raiſe diſturbances; he requeſted that Sitteram Rauze, and the evil-diſpoſed people which were with him, might be ſeized, as he had information they had fled from Viziaram Rauze, and were carrying off his money and effects; he fully exculpated Jaggernaut Rauze, and acknowledged he had given him an acquittal of all demands, (Tranſlation of which is N° 16); and therefore would directly make full reſtitution of all he had taken from him. He alſo acknowledged he had granted Boney and its dependencies to the ſon of Jaggernaut Rauze (Jumpana Vencata Veziaram) for ever, in the manner engraved on a copper-plate, (of which we ſend an exact Tranſlation, N° 17;) and we hope it will appear to you, as it does to us, an irrevocable grant, conceived in the ſtrongeſt terms which could be made uſe of for this purpoſe. The Rajah further acknowledged his having bound himſelf by an Inſtrument (of which we incloſe a Tranſlation, N° 18) to grant ſundry villages, on the conditions therein recited, to Jaggernaut Rauze. The Rajah alſo allowed, that he had given Jumpana Padnat Rauze an acquittal of all demands, previous to his having confined him; and in ſame writing made to him a grant of three villages, as particulariſed in his Sanad, a Tranſlation of which comes herewith, N° 19. We repreſented to the Rajah, that, to regain the Company's favour and protection, it was neceſſary not only to make reſtitution to thoſe he had unjuſtly deſpoiled of their property, but alſo to diſband his Forces, and admit a garriſon of the Company's Troops into Vizianagrum, without any ſtipulation of not being ſtationed in all parts of it. We further remonſtrated, that he ſhould ſpeedily diſcharge the large balance of 3 lacks and 11,000 Rupees he owes to the Company, and pay the amount of all charges incurred by the Company, for the preparations made by them to enforce obedience to their commands. To all theſe conditions he aſſented; and had not other proſpects opened, would, we are convinced, have ſpeedily fulfilled. But no ſooner did he receive the Preſident's Letter by the Coventry, than he began to adopt new meaſures, and to evade the performance of all he had before promiſed to us: He no longer conſidered us as capable of rendering him any ſervices, but paid all poſſible attention to Colonel Braithwaite. The morning after the Coventry's arrival, the Chief ſent for the Rajah, and endeavoured to perſuade him to fulfil his engagements, which were founded on equity, conſiſtent with the Company's honour and dignity, and greatly to their intereſt; but to all theſe demands he gave evaſive anſwers, without concluding on any thing, although the Chief urged him to give an explicit reply. The next morning he thought proper to wait on the Colonel before he viſited the Chief; and when he came, it was ſo late, there was a neceſſity for ſeeing him again in the evening, to ſpeak to him relative to the impediments which had juſt been given to the Committee of Circuit, as recited in a Letter from Meſſrs. Perring and Holland to the Chief, copy of which comes herewith, N° 20. We were alſo deſirous of receiving from him ſome information relative to the plan he muſt have laid, for the management of his Country during his abſence; who were to be his managers and receivers; how he propoſed to prevent the Hill People from availing themſelves of his abſence, by making incurſions, and laying waſte the Country; when and how the Company's large balance was to be paid; and whether he had prevailed on the Soucars to make the neceſſary advances for cultivation, and other contingent expences, during his abſence. But on his return to the Chief, at ſix o'clock the ſame evening, he again evaded ſatisfactory anſwers to any one of theſe important queſtions. The Chief plainly perceived he relied on the permiſſion he had received to proceed to Madras, and the ſupport he flattered himſelf he ſhould receive from Colonel Braithwaite, in complying with no other requiſition than that of diſbanding his Troops, and permitting our Forces to take poſſeſſion of the gates of Vizianagrum; he told him, he might proceed to Vizianagrum whenever he thought proper; and the Rajah ſet out that night.

APPENDIX No. 22.

We have thus minutely recited all that has paſſed ſince the arrival of your Orders of the 15th inſtant, that we may ſtand exculpated for any delay in their execution, as we hope it will appear to you we detained the Rajah no longer than was abſolutely neceſſary to obtain the requiſite information on ſubjects of the higheſt importance; and thus, as our endeavours have proved fruitleſs, we ſhall not be conſidered in a ſhape reſponſible for the conſequences. We entertain not the ſmalleſt doubt, but you have good and ſufficient reaſons for giving Colonel Braithwaite authority to act without controul on this occaſion; and if we feel the leſs concern, from our conſciouſneſs of having fully executed our duty during this diſpute with the Rajah, yet we cannot but lament that thereby the Civil Authority has been greatly weakened, and we apprehend it will be attended with worſe conſequences than we can at preſent foreſee. If what Colonel Braithwaite advances in his Letter of the 25th inſt. N° 10, be true, That a Civil Chief reſiding in one of the Honourable Company's Forts, cannot with propriety iſſue any military orders, or exerciſe any military authority whatſoever, the conſequence of a Chief muſt be thereby leſſened conſiderably; and it appears to us inconſiſtent that he ſhould keep the keys of the Garriſon, give out the parole, and order ſalutes. The Chief's anſwer to Colonel Braithwaite will evince how deſirous he is to avoid diſputes, and the actual neceſſity there was for requiring his Orders to be iſſued. In conſequence of the powers granted to Colonel Braithwaite, the majority of the People have imbibed a notion, that his authority is much greater than his rank entitles him to; and we are convinced, that both the Rajah and Sitteram Rauze entertain this opinion.

When you granted the Rajah and Sitteram Rauze permiſſion to proceed to the Preſidency, we apprehend you did not advert to the conſequences, which it is probable will reſult from their leaving this Diſtrict, eſpecially as Jaggernaut Rauze has declared he never will again undertake the management of the Rajah's affairs: We therefore beg leave to enumerate ſome of thoſe evils, which may be apprehended from this meaſure.

The ſeaſon for reaping will ſoon approach, when it is probable the Hill People will take this favourable opportunity for ruſhing down, carrying away the grain, and deſtroying all before them; the Marattas may alſo make an incurſion in November, as they have received ſuch frequent invitations from Sitteram Rauze, and it is probable will not be diſpleaſed to find his brother and him abſent. During the Rajah's abſence, the Soucars will not advance any money; the Company's Kiſts will become due, and his debts be ſo increaſed, that it is probable he will not be able to diſcharge it for many years. The large ſum he owes to individuals will remain undiſcharged, and the greateſt diſtreſs be brought on many families. The continual diſturbances occaſioned by his abſence, will deter the weavers from ſettling to their work; and therefore our Inveſtment muſt be greatly impeded, if not totally ſtopped, as our Merchants will not advance the money without having ſome proſpect of receiving the cloth; and even on the report of the Rajah's intentions, they begin to expreſs their apprehenſions.

Bima Beopity (late Zemindar of Golconda) has got poſſeſſion of his Country, although the Rajah has not thought proper to acquaint us with this circumſtance; and it is very probable Rajah Donah (late Zemindar of Totapilly) notwithſtanding the protection and friendſhip the Rajah has ſo recently ſhewn him, may ſeek for a ſettlement near the hills, or plunder the country contiguous to them. The oppreſſions and exactions of Sitteram Rauze have created him many enemies, who now ſeeing him ſo cloſely connected with the Rajah, may conſider them as one, and revenge their cauſe at ſo favourable an opportunity.

We conceive that the buſineſs of the Committe of Circuit is an object, which both our Honourable Employers and you, Gentlemen, deem of the greateſt conſequence; and therefore we ſubmit to your conſideration, if the Committee have met with ſo many obſtructions and ſtudied delays in the execution of their buſineſs, even whilſt the Rajah is preſent, how many more may they reaſonably ſuppoſe may be created, when he ſhall be abſent. We will not venture to aſſert, that the buſineſs of the Committee in this Diſtrict muſt be ſuſpended until his return; whereas, if he remains, the Chief is of opinion the inveſtigation of his Zemindary may be accompliſhed in three months from hence, and a Report made by the Committee, which will aſcertain his tribute in future; by which it is probable the Company will gain above two lacks in the two firſt Kiſts, and this they muſt unavoidably loſe for next Kiſts, if the enquiry is impeded or ſuſpended. We ſhould too far tranſgreſs on your time, were we to write more diffuſely on this ſubject; and we flatter ourſelves, we have ſaid ſufficient to convince you there is an apparent neceſſity for your giving immediate orders, that the Rajah ſhall remain in this Diſtrict, and even if he be ſet out before your commands can reach him, that he be poſitively directed to ſpeedily return. As to Sitteram Rauze, his abſence will be highly pleaſing to all degrees of people; and we cannot help expreſſing our ſincere wiſh, that he may never be permitted to return, as we are fully perſuaded this is the only means of keeping this Circar in perfect tranquillity.

We ſhould not conſider ourſelves fully juſtified, if we did not thus explicitly repreſent what may, and probably will, reſult from the Rajah's being permitted to go ſo very far from his Zemindary; at the ſame time we beg leave to aſſure you, nothing ſhall be wanting on our parts to avert the conſequences we apprehend, and that we ſhall keep you conſtantly adviſed of every occurrence which happens.

The Chief requeſts we will expreſs his concern at a paragraph in your Letter of the 16th inſtant, which ſeems to ſuggeſt that a private antipathy ſubſiſts between the Rajah and him. He aſſerts, that he never had any difference with the Rajah, except when he ſaw that he was deficient in reſpect for his public character; and that he thought it incumbent on him to aſſert the dignity and honour of his employers, whoſe Repreſentative he is, by reminding the Rajah of his duty, and the relation in which he ſtands to the Company, to whom he is tributary. This was doctrine, he believes, the Rajah was little accuſtomed to, and therefore, perhaps, ſometimes liſtened to it with diſguſt; but he declares there never was any difference of a private nature, and appeals to the public Records for the favourable manner in which the Rajah is mentioned, even on occaſions where an opening was given for cenſure, had he been ſo inclined. He is ſorry to obſerve the Rajah's late behaviour towards him, though he ſtill will do him the juſtice to declare he thinks he has a good heart, and might manage his Zemindary with reputation, were he freed from the pernicious Councils of Sitteram Rauze, who acts on his fears, and renders him entirely ſubſervient to his inſidious ſchemes.

We earneſtly requeſt you will immediately anſwer this Addreſs, and determine relative to the Rajah's departure for Madras, as we flatter ourſelves you will ſee the conſequence in the light we have repreſented, and order him to remain in this Diſtrict.

for

We are, reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient and
moſt humble Servants,
Samuel Johnſon,
M. Williams,
Henry Crawford,
Nath. Barlow.

Vizagapatam,
30th Auguſt 1777.

APPENDIX, No. 23.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 13th January 1778.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

WE have been honoured with your Letter of the 27th ultimo, incloſing one from the Honourable Preſident to the Rajah Viziaramrauze, which was immediately forwarded to him, conformably to your directions.

As your Honour, &c. are of opinion nothing concluſive can be determined upon the ſubjects contained in our Letter of the 6th ulto. unleſs the Rajah waited on you perſonally, to give ſuch information as may be required regarding them; we have been very urgent with him in this particular, and pointed out to him the inconvenience which might attend his affairs, ſhould he on any account evade your orders; in ſhort, nothing has been wanting on our part, to induce the Rajah to undertake this journey: But we are ſorry to inform your Honour, &c. of his determination to the contrary, concerning which, we ſuppoſe, he has been very particular in his Anſwer to the Honourable Preſident's Letter, which comes herewith incloſed. He has likewiſe repreſented to us his reaſons for not going up to the Preſidency; which are theſe: That the Hill People from Madagloo and Gulgunda, in the intereſt of Kiſtna and Bira Boopely, have lately made diſturbances in thoſe Countries, with an intention to burn the villages, and deſtroy or carry off the grain. His great debt to individuals, which he is incapable of paying off, or any part thereof, from his loſs of credit with the Soucars, who have in general entertained a notion that the Honourable Board will never reſtore him to his ancient reſidence, and of courſe are apprehenſive his affairs are in ſuch a predicament, as will involve him in difficulties that he cannot extricate himſelf from. He is full of fears and apprehenſions, that during his abſence, all the Hill People will deſtroy his Country, which he at preſent keeps in ſome order, by negociation with ſome of their Head Men or Chiefs. He is, wherewithal, ſo ſuperſtitious, which is the characteriſtic of the Gentoos, that he is led to think it will be impoſſible to recover his ancient family habitation, without he is continually employed in ſupplication to his Deity, for the Company's favour and protection, for which purpoſe he is encamped near the Pagoda, on the Hill of Sumachilum, and means not, as it is reported, to quit it before your Honour, &c. reſtore to him his Fort of Vizianagrum; which circumſtance, although founded in ignorance and ſuperſtition, we hope will merit ſome degree of attention from the Honourable Board; particularly as the Rajah aſſures us, he will ſettle with us any reaſonable tribute on account of the Company, ſhould you think it proper to order him to negociate with us about this buſineſs, which is of ſo much importance to the Honourable Company's intereſt.

As Jagernautrauze, the manager of the Sallaveram Zemindary, will, in the courſe of the preſent month, pay in the balance due on the Cowle granted to the late Rajah Pyakerow, his brother-in-law, we wait for your directions about the diſpoſal of the balance of the collections, ſhould there be any from the Ancapillee country, which had been mortgaged for ſome years paſt to the Rajah of Vizinagrum, and guaranteed to him by the Honourable Board in Mr. Du Pre's Government. From a full perſuaſion it was never the intention of the late adminiſtration that Jagernautrauze ſhould take to himſelf, for his own uſe, or that of the Company, the balance due on the collections made by him from the mortgaged lands, the Rajah claimed the balance remaining after the Company's tribute and charges of collections are paid; we have informed him, that juſtice in this and every other reſpect will be done him, although we could not take upon ourſelves to direct Jagernautrauze to pay him any money from the Ancapillee collections without your orders. Now we are on the ſubject of the Ancapillee country, we beg leave, at the earneſt deſire of Jagernautrauze, to requeſt your Honour, &c. will come to a deciſive determination about his claim to this Zemindary; and in conſequence of his offer of increaſing the tribute from ſixty-five to one hundred thouſand Rupees per annum, which we humbly think is for the preſent a conſiderable increaſe to the Company's revenue; and after the Ankapillee mortgage is paid off, it could then be further increaſed, for Jagernautrauze will engage, in a certain period of time, to diſcharge the debt due to the Rajah from the mortgaged country; out of which, nothing can ever be collected for the Company, if the Rajah is allowed to be the manager and collector. This appears to us to be plainly the caſe, for the debt, inſtead of being decreaſed, is increaſed from three to ſeven lacks of Rupees in a few years, which is ſtill accumulating, from the heavy intereſt paid thereon, and never can be leſſened in any other manner than by Jagernautrauze's liquidating the debt with the Rajah; becauſe it appears the annual intereſt on the principal, is nearly, if not more than the whole produce of the revenues of Ankapilly amounts to, after all charges of the collections are deducted. The harveſt time is approaching faſt, when it is expected there will be freſh diſputes between the Rajah and the Company's manager, about the produce of the mortgaged lands, which, we preſume, might be prevented, ſhould your Honour, &c. come to a ſpeedy determination, whether Jagernautrauze, or the Rajah, ſhall have Ankapillee, or whether this Zemindary ſhall be converted into Havelly lands, and the Company made anſwerable for the heavy debt due to Viziaramrauze. Your Honour, &c. are the beſt judges what is proper for the Company's intereſt, we ſhall therefore only beg permiſſion to obſerve, that the Rajah has expreſſed his wiſh, that Jagernautrauze might have the Zemindary, as he has not only promiſed, in caſe of ſucceeding thereto, to be reſponſible for the large debt due to him from the late Pyakerow, but will engage to allow a decent maintenance for the deceaſed's relations. We do not doubt but your Honour, &c. will be well pleaſed to find that Viziaramrauze has no thought of increaſing his territories, by putting in a claim for Ankapilly, on account of his large mortgage on it; indeed, we are glad for this reaſon, as we were informed by the late adminiſtration, that it was the Company's poſitive orders, the aſſumed power of this Rajah's family ſhould be leſſened, and not by any means increaſed.

We are with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient,
humble Servants,
M. Williams,
Hr Crawford,
Nath' Barlow.

Vizagapatam,
24th December 1777.

The Preſident alſo lays before the Board the following tranſlation of a Letter, which he has received from Viziaram Rauze.

Tranſlation

APPENDIX. No. 23.

(Tranſlation.)

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſq. Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George.

The Chief and Council have ſent to me your favour, and I obſerve the contents thereof. You ſay you have mentioned the purport of the Letter I lately wrote to you, in the Board, and that you have received a Letter from the Council of this place, in which you ſay they have mentioned my requeſts; and alſo you ſay, that the Company is full of juſtice, and the people that are under their protection will not want aſſiſtance, and that I might be eaſy about it, of which I am very glad. I expected your anſwer to my Letter of congratulation ſince your arrival at Madras. Your favour which I now received, I eſteem it as if I had ſeen you in perſon, my joy for which is inexpreſſible. Jaggernaut Rauze intends to come to you in a few days, when I ſhall alſo ſend my Vakeel, Keſtnagee, to accompany him with my preſents to you: they will ſoon arrive with you, and addreſs concerning all my applications. As the Honourable Company were our protectors from the time of our anceſtors, we have always with reverence obeyed their commands. In September laſt George Stratton, Eſq. then Governor, wrote Letters, deſiring me to come to Madras at any rate; in conſequence of which I did ſet out, and arrived at Rajamohandrem, though it was againſt my will, thinking my abſence would be attended with bad conſequences to my Zemindaries. When I was informed that Meſſrs. Johnſon and Perring, in their way to Madras, would call there, I waited for them to take their advice: I informed them of all my affairs; on which they adviſed me to return to my country. After my arrival here, I have paid to the Company one lack and fifty thouſand Rupees, by a draft on the Soucar; I am yet to make payments to the Company; and alſo it is now the time of harveſt, my whole attention is on theſe buſineſſes, as the Company obliged me to diſmiſs my own Troops, and put their Troops into the fort of Vizianagaram, and no regard was ſhewn to me. Kiſtnah Booputty of Modugul, Colacona, Boyerawa, Booputty, and ſome others with them, have taken poſſeſſion of ſome part of my mountain places, and thoſe places that they could not take they have ſet on fire, of which I have informed the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam, who have been ſo good as to ſend a battalion of Sepoys to Modugul. I have again made my application to them for another battalion of Sepoys, as the firſt was not ſufficient; I doubt not but that they already informed you of it. Lately I have wrote to you concerning my preſent circumſtances, on which you deſired me to come to Madras myſelf; I had not any objection againſt it, but I beg leave to inform you, that I muſt unavoidably diſcharge my debt to the Soucar, in procuring a draft in favour of the Company, and I have yet to pay the Company's payments entirely; and the diſturbances in my country have not as yet ſubſided; which, againſt my will, prevents me from coming to you. Jagannaut Rawze is the Company's ſervant, and always ſtudies the Company's intereſt; he is perfectly acquainted with the nature of our Zemindary and the rules thereof, and there is not a better man than him; I have requeſted him to go to you on my buſineſs, and promiſed him that I ſhall approve of what he agrees to about my buſineſs; and alſo I intend to ſend in company with him my Vakeel Kiſtnagee, and my Muſnoondar or accountant; he will anſwer you every queſtion for me. I am ſorry to obſerve to you of my being much diſtreſſed for want of money, and the fort of Vezianagarum is not in my poſſeſſion, and my country is diſturbed. Jaggannaut Rauze is not in my ſervice; my brother, Sitteram Rauze, is very ſenſible of the troubles and difficulties I labour under; and his not pleading my cauſes convinces me that he wiſhes for my fall. I have a brotherly affection for him! When he did deliver the management of my country into my poſſeſſion, he requeſted me to allow him five thouſand Rupees per month, but I allowed him at the rate of ten thouſand Rupees per month, and always endeavoured to pleaſe him; but he wiſhes my ruin. As I am not in poſſeſſion of Vizianagarum, the Soucars and my other ſubjects do not eſteem me as if I had any Zemindary. I dare ſay your reaſon for not letting me have my fort is, you think that I would not agree to increaſe the Jemmabundy; I ſhall allow the ſame as others Circars do. As you are a Gentleman of great knowledge, I will not dwell long on the ſubject; I beg you will favour me with my fort. In that caſe the Soucars will put their confidence in me. Although I allow ten thouſand Rupees per month to my brother Sitteram Rauze, he is not contented with it, but is forming various contrivances; whatever ſum I may allow him is out of the Company's money. I hope you and the Members of your Council will take it into your conſideration; I will comply with your pleaſure about it. The troubles I have here, and the loſs I ſuſtained, you will underſtand more fully by the Letter from the Chief and Council. I hope you will ſhew me great favour, and write me often of your welfare; I ſhall in two or three days anſwer the private Letter. I write this that you may have knowledge of it.

23d December 1777.

As Viziaramrauze has in this Letter declined coming to Madras, and informs us of his having deputed Jaggernautrauze to act concluſiveiy on his behalf; Agreed, That his ſeveral requeſts, as well as the matters contained in the Letter from Vizagapatam which relate thereto, be deferred until the arrival of Jaggernautrauze; and that in the mean time theſe Letters do lie upon the table for further conſideration.

APPENDIX, No. 24.

THE Preſident acquaints the Board, That Sitteramrauze, who arrived here ſome time ago from Vizagapatam, has lately applied to him for permiſſion to deliver in propoſals for rendering the Havelly lands dependant upon that Settlement; and as the Committee of Circuit have alſo acquainted us, in their Letter of the 10th September, of their having received ſome propoſals for that farm; it is agreed, That Friday be appointed for taking the whole into conſideration.

APPENDIX, No. 25.

THE Preſident acquaints the Board, That having, ſince the ſhort time he has been here, found his time and attention wholly taken up with the buſineſs of the Civil and Military Departments; and underſtanding that ſome important matters in the Revenue branch had engaged the Board at the time of his arrival, which he has not yet had an opportunity of underſtanding ſufficiently to enable him to paſs an opinion upon them, particularly ſuch as relate to the appointment of a Committee of Circuit, and the affairs of the Chicacole Circar; he requeſts the Board will defer entering upon theſe ſubjects until after the diſpatch of the Duke of Kingston, by which time he hopes to be able to inform himſelf fully concerning them, and will be ready to join with the other Members of Council in bringing them to a final deciſion. General Munro alſo takes this occaſion of expreſſing the ſame doubts as are entertained by the Preſident; and therefore wiſhes thoſe matters may be deferred for the reaſons he has juſt given.—Agreed accordingly, and that this be taken notice of, in our Letter by the Duke of Kingston from this Department, to account for the inattention which would otherwiſe appear to have been ſhewn to this branch of the Company's affairs.

(Signed) Tho' Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Sam' Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 26.

Extract Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 15th April 1778.

SENT by Tappies the following Letters to Ganjam and Maſulipatam:

To Mr. Morgan Williams, Chief, &c. Council at Ganjam.

Gentlemen,

Having judged it expedient for the preſent to diſcontinue the appointment of a Committee of Circuit, and having reſolved that the annual rent or Jemmabundy of the ſeveral diſtricts of the Northern Circars ſhall in future be ſettled at the Preſidency, we direct that you do ſignify to all the Zemindars dependant upon your Settlement, and to the Muſmedars of the reſpective countries under them, That it is our order they proceed hither for this purpoſe, without loſs of time; and alſo, that Bali Kiſtnah, the Company's Dubaſh or Interpreter, who has generally been employed on the buſineſs of the revenue under Ganjam, be directed to repair to the Preſidency.

And, in order more effectually to enſure a compliance with this Reſolution, our Preſident has been deſired to write ſeparate Letters upon this occaſion to each of the Zemindars; a copy of which is herewith tranſmitted for your information. You will alſo repreſent to them reſpectively, in the ſtrongeſt manner, the neceſſity of an implicit acquieſcence on their part, and the danger of incurring our diſpleaſure, by ſhewing the ſmalleſt reluctance or unwillingneſs to obey our commands, which muſt be enforced in caſe they ſhould not meet with a ready compliance.

As we are ſenſible of the many advantages to be expected from letting out the Company's lands on long leaſes, we have reſolved to extend the term of thoſe under your Settlement, as the preſent leaſes may occaſionally expire; we have therefore thought proper to reject the ſeveral propoſals for renting the aſſigned villages of Callicoute, which we deſire you will ſignify to the perſons who made them to you; and we direct, that advertiſements be iſſued for receiving ſeparate propoſals for renting theſe lands, for a period of five, eight, or ten years, commencing from the 1ſt ulto.

We doubt not, that in conſequence of our augmenting the term, the value of this farm will be conſiderably increaſed; and we deſire, that whatever propoſals you receive, may be ſent to us for our conſideration.

Having thought proper to revoke the permiſſion granted to the Company's ſervants, and other Europeans living under the Company's licence, to bid for their farms, as expreſſed in our Letter of the 15th June 1775, we deſire that this Reſolution may be made public at the ſame time that you iſſue the advertiſements before-mentioned.

As the Company's farms will thus by degrees fall again into the hands of the Natives of India, it will become neceſſary for you to be more attentive to the ſecurities required of ſuch perſons as may be hereafter put in poſſeſſion of them, and ſtill more ſo from the conſideration of the leaſes being extended, which renders it an article of ſo much the more importance; we deſire, therefore, that you will be very careful in this particular, and that you will alſo make it a rule in future to ſend us an account of the character and circumſtances of each perſon who may bid for any of the Company's farms, and whether ſuch perſon is any way connected, either directly or indirectly, with any ſervant of the Company, or other European reſiding under their licence or protection, that we may not be in danger of giving the preference to propoſals in any reſpect exceptionable.

We are,
Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends,

Fort St. George, 15 April 1778.

Tho' Rumbold,
&c. Council.

APPENDIX, No. 27.

Extract Fort Saint George Conſultations, the 15th April 1778.

To Mr. Anthony Sadlier, Chief, &c. Council at Maſulipatam.

Gentlemen,

HAVING judged it expedient, for the preſent, to diſcontinue the appointment of a Committee of Circuit; and having reſolved, that the annual rent or Jemmabundy of the ſeveral diſtricts of the Northern Circars, ſhall in future be ſettled at the Preſidency; we direct, that you do ſignify to all the Zemindars dependant upon your ſettlement, and the Muſmedars of the reſpective countries under them, that it is our order they proceed hither for this purpoſe, without loſs of time; and alſo, that Vencataroyaloo, the Company's Dubaſh or Interpreter, who has generally been employed on the buſineſs of the revenue under Maſulipatam, be directed to repair to the Preſidency.

And, in order more effectually to enſure a compliance with this Reſolution, our Preſident has been deſired to write ſeparate Letters upon this occaſion to each of the Zemindars, a copy of which is herewith tranſmitted for your information. You will alſo repreſent to them reſpectively, in the ſtrongeſt manner, the neceſſity of an implicit acquieſcence on their part, and the danger of incurring our diſpleaſure, by ſhewing the ſmalleſt reluctance or unwillingneſs to obey our commands, which muſt be enforced in caſe they ſhould not meet with a ready compliance.

Having thought proper to revoke the permiſſion granted to the Company's ſervants, and other Europeans living under our licence, to bid for their farms, as expreſſed in our Letter of the 15th June 1775; we deſire that this Reſolution may be made public throughout your ſettlement, and the diſtricts dependant thereon.

As the Company's farms will thus by degrees fall again into the hands of the Natives of India, it will become neceſſary for you to be more attentive to the ſecurities required of ſuch perſons as may hereafter be put in poſſeſſion of them, and ſtill more ſo, from the conſideration of the leaſes being extended, as they probably will be, which renders it an article of ſo much the more importance; we deſire, therefore, that you will be very careful in this particular; and that you will alſo make it a rule in future to ſend us an account of the character and circumſtances of each perſon who may bid for the Company's farms, and whether ſuch perſon is any way connected, either directly or indirectly, with any ſervant of the Company, or other European reſiding under their licence or protection, that we may not at any time be in danger of giving the preference to propoſals in any reſpect exceptionable.

We are,
Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends,

Fort Saint George, 15 April 1778.

Tho' Rumbold,
&c.

APPENDIX. No. 28.

APPENDIX, No. 28.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 27th March 1778.

THE Preſident lays before the Board the following draft of a Letter, which he propoſes may be ſent to each of the Circar Zemindars, purſuant to a Reſolution of laſt Conſultation; as alſo a draft of one to Viziaramrauze.

Copy of the Governor's Letter to the Circar Zemindars, dated the 4th April 1778.

As the affairs of the Company require that the Jemmabundy, and the adjuſting of other matters, ſhould be ſettled at the Preſidency, you are directed to proceed to Madras with all poſſible expedition. You will not require many attendants, or to put yourſelf to much expence on this occaſion; the Company's protection will be ſufficient: and you may reſt aſſured, that the meaſure of ſettling your affairs immediately with the Government, is intended to remove all difficulties from you, and to enſure ſtability and happineſs to your country. As you regard your own ſituation with the Company, you will make no delay, but proceed immediately to ſettle your buſineſs here, and receive the Company's favour and protection.

Copy of the Governor's Letter to Viziaramrauze, dated April 1778.

I have had the pleaſure to receive the ſeveral Letters you have wrote me ſince I have taken charge of this Government; and as I am very deſirous to reſtore peace and order to your country, which has ſo lately been full of diſturbances and trouble, the Government here have thought proper to direct you immediately, and without loſs of time, to proceed to Madras, where, upon your ready compliance with this order, you will meet with all favour and protection. If you had come when you was before wrote to, all your buſineſs would by this time have been ſettled, and you would now have been in the quiet poſſeſſion of your country. Be careful not to evade a ſecond time the orders you receive. I recommend to you by no means to put yourſelf to any great expence, or to come up with too many attendants; they are unneceſſary here. This is the ſeat of juſtice, and the Company's protection is ſufficient. Two companies of Sepoys are ordered to attend you, under the command of Captain Lyſaght, who has directions to ſhew you all proper attention. As you value your own welfare, ſhew an immediate readineſs to comply with this requeſt of the Company. A proper houſe will be ready for your reception here. Eſteem me as your Friend. What can I ſay more?

Approved, and ordered to be ſent accordingly.

APPENDIX, No. 29.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 15 May 1778.

AS the departure of the Zemindars, &c. to the Preſidency at this time, leaves us little room to hope that they will be able to negociate bills with their Soucars, ſo that we may receive any conſiderable part of the heavy Kiſts now due from them during their abſence, which otherwiſe we were in expectation they would have accounted for in full, they having been ordered, and many of them having actually repaired hither for that purpoſe, we judge it expedient that your Honour, &c. ſhould be made acquainted with the preſent ſituation of the Settlement; and for that end, now tranſmit you our proceedings relative thereto, together with a ſtatement of our probable receipts and monthly diſburſements; that being thus furniſhed with full information relative to our probable exigencies and reſources, you may be enabled to determine on ſuch meaſures as will be moſt effectual in relieving our diſtreſs, and promoting the ends you have in view.

We are, with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
Anth. Sadlier,
James Hodges,
John Peter Boileau,
Tho. Barnard,
Alex. Pringle.

APPENDIX, No. 30.

THE Preſident then delivers in the following Minute:

Having attentively peruſed the Letter from Maſulipatam, with the Conſultations, and account of probable receipts and diſburſements, I ſhall now proceed to offer a few remarks on them. The conduct of the Chief, Mr. Sadlier, on his firſt arrival there, in enquiring into the ſtate of the factory, the ſeveral balances due from the Zemindars, Soucars, and Renters, the cauſes for non-payment, and the forming an eſtimate of the probable receipts and diſburſements, with the view to every reſource for ſupplying the demands of the factory during the abſence of the Zemindars at the Preſidency, was certainly a meaſure very proper and neceſſary.

Having gone thus far, nothing more was wanting than to direct the Zemindars, in conſequence of the orders received, to repair to the Preſidency with all poſſible diſpatch, and to have endeavoured to prevail on them to pay in ſome part of their balances before their departure. The Letter wrote by the Chief to accompany the one wrote by me to the Zemindars, ſeems to enter more into the buſineſs than there was any occaſion for: he ſays, "In future you will know, that it is the intention of the "Governor and Council to ſettle the annual rent or "Jemmabundy of your ſeveral diſtricts at the Pre-"ſidency." This in ſome degree implies, that they were annually to repair here; which might be a great diſcouragement to them, and I believe is not the intention of any Member of this Board, but to ſettle the Jemmabundy for a length of time, and on ſuch a footing as may prevent ſuch heavy balances in future, as now appear due from them, from every oppreſſion and undue influence. It is with concern I find balances to ſo large an amount remain due from the Zemindars, the payment of which ought to have been enforced as they became due. There is one part of the extracts of the Conſultations of the 20th of April, that demand our particular notice. They agree to apprize the Zemindars of what will be expected from them on their arrival at Madras, without our ever having made known to them our expectations, or the plan we intend to purſue, as they particularly make uſe of the following expreſſions: "to find means during "their abſence to pay in to the Treaſury here, on account "of the heavy Kiſts now due from them, ſuch money as "would otherwiſe have been received, had not the buſineſs "of the Jemmabundy been transferred to the Preſidency." It therefore remains for us to ſhew, that the mode we intend to adopt has not, as yet, by any means impeded the payment of the balances due; for our Letters ordering the Zemindars up here, had but juſt been received, and no ſteps taken in conſequence; but if we look to the adjuſtment of accounts in former years, I apprehend we ſhall find that the ſtated Kiſts have ſeldom been regularly complied with, and that large balances have been allowed to remain in the hands of the Zemindars, though ſuch Zemindars have been immediately under the eye and influence of the Northern Subordinate Councils. The Letter from the Chief to the Zemindars, in conſequence of the Reſolution the Chief and Council came to, "to "apprize them of what would be expected from them," &c. &c. is certainly ill conſidered, for having made uſe of the following expreſſions in it; "ſuch money as would "otherwiſe have been received, had not the buſineſs of this "Settlement been transferred to Madras," gives the Zemindars an opportunity of making uſe of the ſame fineſſe in excuſe for not paying what is due from them; and accordingly Rajah Trippetty Rauze, in his anſwer to the Chief's Letter, dwells upon that part, and adds to it, on mentioning his balance, "the Company would have re- "ceived that money to this time." On the whole, though the Gentlemen at Maſulipatam have iſſued our orders for the Zemindars to repair to the Preſidency, they have rather ſtarted difficulties than held forth encouragement for their coming; and at the concluſion of their Conſultations of the 2d of May, they give up all hopes of receiving any part of the balance due, previous to the departure of the Zemindars for Madras, merely in conſequence of the ſeveral Letters the Chief has received in anſwer to his, without any one good reaſon offered; for whoever is acquainted with the nature and conduct of the Zemindars throughout Indoſtan, muſt know it is their cuſtom to complain, and retard the payment of their Kiſts, though their countries are in ever ſo flouriſhing a condition; and I am perſuaded, from the great balances due, the Zemindars might, by management, be induced amongſt them to pay in ſuch a ſum, though not the whole of their debts, as would ſupply the exigencies of the factory during their abſence, which at moſt will not be above two months. The amount due from them is upwards of three lacks ſixty-eight thouſand Pagodas, and the diſburſements of the factory do not exceed thirty-three thouſand Pagodas monthly; and with what muſt be coming in from the Soucars and other reſources, the ſum of fifty thouſand Pagodas would amply ſupply every want and remove every difficulty; and as I ſee no way to ſettle the Circars, and provide againſt the riſk of ſuch balances being incurred in future, as well as to ſecure what is now due, but by hearing the Zemindars themſelves, letting the lands for a term of years, and by giving them redreſs in their grievances, I am of opinion the order ſhould be repeated to the Chief and Council of Maſulipatam, to haſten the coming up of the Zemindars here, and that we ſhould take upon ourſelves to ſee the factory properly ſupplied with money for the purpoſes of the Inveſtment and current expences.

The Board, having attentively conſidered this Letter, together with the accompanying extracts from the Proceedings at Maſulipatam, and being perſuaded of the juſtneſs and propriety of the Preſident's remarks upon the occaſion, as ſet forth in his Minute hereinbefore entered, we cannot, without ſurpriſe, obſerve the delay which the Zemindars have ſhewn, in complying with our orders, by remaining at Maſulipatam ſo long after the receipt of our Letter of the 15th ultimo, notwithſtanding the earneſt and peremptory manner in which thoſe orders were conceived. Reſolved, That the Chief and Council be told to repeat to them our directions to ſet out immediately for the Preſidency.

The Board, recurring to that part of the extracts which relates to the balance due from Narſiah Naik, are concerned to obſerve the backwardneſs of that Soucar in performing the engagements he has entered into with the Gentlemen at Maſulipatam, on behalf of Zemindars, &c. dependant on that Settlement; and as it appears from their proceedings, as well as from their own repreſentation upon the ſubject, that this failure has ariſen, in a great meaſure, from the want of proper aſſiſtance from the principal Houſe of Govindoſs, at Hydrabad, it is reſolved, That the Preſident do call upon the Agent for that Houſe, now reſiding here, to exert himſelf upon the occaſion, towards ſupporting the credit of Govindoſs; and that a Letter be written to the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam, directing them to make a ſimilar application to the Gomaſtah at Chicacole.

As it does not appear from the extracts hereinbefore entered, that Venkatareyaloo, the Company's Dubaſh at Maſulipatam, has given the Gentlemen there any aſſurances of his ready obedience to our commands, nor that he has even been properly informed of them; it is reſolved, That the Chief and Council be directed not to delay any longer acquainting him therewith, repreſenting to him the neceſſity of his immediate departure for the Preſidency.

APPENDIX. No. 31.

APPENDIX, No. 31.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 20th July 1778.

READ the following Letter from Maſulipatam:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council at Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

The multiplicity of buſineſs in which your late advices have engaged us engroſſing all our attention, we have not had time for ſome days paſt, for the conſideration of what remained to communicate, reſpecting the conduct of thoſe Zemindars and Tributaries, who, having received your orders to proceed to the Preſidency, have not hitherto ſhewn any actual obedience thereto; we embrace the opportunity of the firſt leiſure from attentions at this juncture more immediately neceſſary, to give you this communication.

The accompanying Paper (No. 1.) contains a liſt of all the Zemindars and Tributaries now remaining in theſe Circars, with every material circumſtance, ſtated under general heads, of their tribute or rents; and we now proceed to give you, in detail, ſuch other circumſtances relative to theſe perſons as could not be exhibited to you under a general view, but which we, at the ſame time, conſider as neceſſary for your complete information. In beginning this detail, it may not be altogether uſeleſs to premiſe, that the correſpondence of all theſe people, without exception, however contradicted by their conduct, offers nothing but repeated profeſſions of ſubmiſſion; it is, however, on a conſideration of their conduct, combined with that of their circumſtances, that the opinions we may in the courſe of this addreſs ſubmit to your Honour, &c. will be founded.

The firſt perſon whoſe name appears on the above liſt is the Zemindar of Chintalapoondy, Toopallee Vencatarow; he replied to our Chief's ſummons to repair to the Preſidency, by a requeſt, that on account of his diſtreſſed circumſtances, he might be permitted to remain. When he found, by a ſecond Letter addreſſed to him, that this could not be granted, he then promiſed compliance; but intimated at the ſame time, that this could not be very ſpeedy, for that he ſhould find the greateſt difficulty in raiſing a ſum to defray the expences of his journey, of which he could not better convince us, than by repreſenting, that even in his own country, and at his own home, he with difficulty provided for the current expences of his Family. We offer no remarks with reſpect to this perſon, the circumſtances related, in our judgment, requiring no comment.

It would be perfect waſte of time, to detain your Honour, &c. on the ſubject of the next perſon in the above liſt, the Zemindar of Taluachartah; it will be ſufficient to obſerve, that, like the others, he ſtill promiſes, and without delay, to repair to the Preſidency.

We proceed to thoſe of the joint Zemindars of Zummalvoy and Madoore Guttoo, for whom Trippelly Rauze of Muglatore, is ſecurity; namely, Vallankey Gopautrow and Vencatarow. They plead very ſtrongly the neceſſity they are under of continuing in their country, to provide for for the payment of what they owe to Trippelly Rauze, as well as the future cultivation of their country: This, and what we eſteem feigned promiſes of obedience, are the only reply our Chief has been able to get from them.

APPENDIX. No. 31.

Vaſſereddy Ramanah, Zemindar of Nandigamah: This man is a conſiderable Tributary under Bazalet Jung, as Poſſeſſor of the Guntoor Circar; his Zemindary of Nandigamah being very much inferior to what he holds under Bazalet Jung, has been conſidered at all times ſince we have had the adminiſtration of theſe countries, with reſpect to intereſts, as a ſecondary object, and on that account, as well as that we have always found great punctuality in his payments, and that occaſionally he has even been a reſource to us, in becoming ſecurity for the tribute of countries from which, without his aid, we had little proſpect of obtaining it, he has hitherto been excuſed giving perſonal attendance at the time the other Zemindars have been aſſembled to ſettle their Jemmabundy; influenced, as we ſuppoſe, by theſe circumſtances, although he promiſes obedience to your orders, we judge, that unleſs he be compelled to alter his conduct, nothing more is to be expected from him than a repetition of theſe profeſſions. We ſhall have occaſion to make further mention of him in the next article.

The joint Zemindars of Mylavaram, Sooranany, Narſirvarow, and Venkataramarow. The country of theſe people is wild, woody, and uncultivated. The tribute of it has not only never been regularly paid, but has been ſeldom paid at all. In the month of March, laſt year, the above Zemindars fled their country, and took ſhelter with Vaſſereddy Ramanah. The protection thus given by him to ſubjects of this Government, who had abſconded only to avoid the payment of its juſt demands, and his perſiſting to hold this conduct, in contempt of all public authority, were conſidered as ſuch flagrant miſdemeanors, that upon a repreſentation thereof to the Preſidency, orders were received in laſt July to puniſh his delinquency by the ſequeſtration of his Zemindary of Nandigamah. A Tanadar was accordingly appointed, and put in charge of the revenues of the country; and it remained in that ſituation until the month of March in the preſent year. At this time the Vakeel of Vaſſereddy Ramanah was brought, by the means of Venkatroyaloo, our Interpreter, to make ſome overtures to the Chief, Mr. Davidſon; namely, that if his diſtrict ſhould be reſtored to him, he would not only become ſecurity for the arrears of the Mylavaram Zemindars, but if their country were likewiſe put into his poſſeſſion, and ſo continued for a term of years, and the Zemindars themſelves allowed to come to Maſulipatam with protection from their Creditors, that he would then bind himſelf for the payment of its future Jemmabundy ſo long as the country remained under his charge. The Council here conſidered theſe propoſals as ſo advantageous to the revenue, the Tanadars appointed in both the Nandigamah and Mylaveram Countries, although they had been in charge ſeveral months, not having been able to make any conſiderable collections, that, ſo far as their powers enabled them to act, they cloſed with them immediately. The ſudden death of the Vakeel of Vaſſereddy Ramanah, as he was on the point of departure to get the buſineſs completed by his Maſter, interrupted for a time the train of it; but the Son of the Vakeel engaging to proſecute it on the ſame plan, the Council perſevered in the meaſure, and the Tanadars and Sepoys, who had been almoſt an uſeleſs expence, were recalled from both countries. Vaſſereddy Ramanah has been at Mylaveram, and taken the neceſſary ſteps for ſecuring the collection of the revenues; and we ſhortly expect a Vakeel from him finally to adjuſt the above tranſaction. The uncertainty into which it fell, by the untoward circumſtance of the Vakeel's death at the moment every thing was concluded with him, was the reaſon no mention of it was made to your Honour, &c. at the time it happened; and we do not now ſtate the particulars of the agreement at length, conceiving it to be not improbable they may be altered when the matter comes to be diſcuſſed with the new Vakeel; they may be ſeen, however, by your Honour, &c. in our Conſultations of March, where they are recorded. The detail into which we have entered on the ſubject of the Mylaveram Country, will ſufficiently explain to you the conduct the Zemindars of it will probably hold, in conſequence of your orders for their proceeding to the Preſidency; to wit, That they will continue in their country, attending, in conjunction with Vaſſereddy Ramanah, to the buſineſs of it, if left unmoleſted, otherwiſe that they will again have recourſe to flight.

One of the Bezoara Zemindars has proceeded to the Preſidency, and the other, by name Collavacollue Timmanarow, is gone off. The Chief has received no Anſwer to any of his Letters to him, nor are we informed with certainty where he has taken ſhelter.

We have already made mention of two Zemindars of Zumalvoy and Madoore Guttoo, for whom Tripetty Rauze, of Muglatore, is ſecurity; there are two others, namely, Vellunkey Mullarow and Sunjevarow; theſe aſſured our Chief, in anſwer to his firſt ſummons, that as ſoon as they could raiſe money to defray their expences, they would ſet out for the Preſidency; but on the approach of ſome Sepoys we had required from Condopillee to quicken their departure, they have, within theſe few days, quitted their country, ſo that we have not any expectation of bringing them to comply with your orders. Their Tribute is inconſiderable, and themſelves poor.

Canjee Mahamed Ruffy, Saddacally Cawn, Domadar Doſs, and Buchana Pundat, paying only the ſmall ſums annexed to their names in the above liſt; it appeared we ſhould not conform to the ſpirit and true intent of your orders with reſpect to theſe people, in rigorouſly exacting a compliance with them; and therefore they have only been communicated without any attempt to enforce them. We ought not, perhaps, to omit obſerving, with reſpect to Buchana Pundat, that beſides being aged and infirm, he is our Perſian Interpreter, and that his place could not eaſily be ſupplied.

Having thus gone through the liſt of all the Zemindars and Tributaries remaining in theſe Circars, as contained in the Paper, No. 1, we have only to obſerve to your Honour, &c. that if our account of them ſhould not convey all the information you could wiſh, we muſt refer you for further particulars to our Interpreter, Vincalaroyaloo, at this time at the Preſidency: and having now taken every ſtep, which from the nature of your orders, commanding the attendance of the Zemindars at the Preſidency, we conceived to be proper, we conclude the ſubject by acquainting your Honour, &c. that we ſhall not proceed to further extremities in compelling the refractory Zemindars to obedience, without your expreſs orders.

The departure of the principal Zemindars from theſe countries leaving us deſtitute of pecuniary reſources, whilſt our demands of money not only continue, but are likely to increaſe, we find it neceſſary to make a particular repreſentation thereof; and we flatter ourſelves, that the ſupplies, which from the ſtatement that will now be laid before you, may appear to be neceſſary, will be granted as ſpeedily as the nature of ſuch buſineſs will admit. In the Paper, No. 2, we have exhibited to your Honour, &c. a view of all the balances now due to us, as in charge of this factory, and its dependencies. We have ſtated them under two general heads, that of balances we can depend upon, as immediately forthcoming, and that of balances on which no ſuch dependance can be placed; the greater part of the latter indeed are deſperate, and have for ſome time paſt been entered as ſuch on our books, where at any time hereafter circumſtances change with reſpect to any of theſe balances, care ſhall be taken duly to adviſe your Honour, &c. thereof, that your remittances may by that means be proportioned to our actual wants. The amount of balances now at command, or the payment of which we may depend upon when due, is, Rupees 16,750, Madras Pagodas 6,536. There is to add to this, the amount of Mint, Sea, and Land Cuſtoms, and the payments to be made by the different Managers of Farms, immediately under charge of the Chief and Council; the amount of the above Cuſtoms, eſtimated at what they produced monthly at the ſame period laſt year, will be, during the three ſucceeding months, Rupees 3,420 per month; and with reſpect to theſe Farms we are ſorry to obſerve, that the expected payments, of which we made mention to your Honour, &c. in the Extracts accompanying our Letter under date the 3d May, have, on account of the low price grain has borne in all parts of theſe diſtricts, failed in almoſt every inſtance; we find the utmoſt difficulty in procuring purchaſers for it at any price for which it can be offered. Having in the preceding paragraph given your Honour, &c. a ſketch of ſuch reſources as remain to us, we ſhall briefly mention the amounts of our ſeveral monthly demands, as nearly as they can at preſent be eſtimated: The civil and military diſburſements of the Paymaſters here, and in our Circars, 5,000 Rupees, and 10,000 Pagodas; the inveſtment at Ingeram, 16,000 Pagodas; penſion to the Family of Huſſam Ally, 8,500 Rupees nearly; we were the 25th of laſt month already in arrears 25,000 Rupees to them: And to the amount of theſe certain demands, ſome addition ought perhaps to be made, as a proviſion for any ſudden emergency.

proportioned

We ſhall not preſume to propoſe to your Honour, &c. any ſpecific ſum as neceſſary for the ſupply of theſe our probable exigencies. We think we have diſcharged our duty in placing all the immediate, and, as far as we can judge, future circumſtances of our ſituation under your view; it will remain with you, after combining theſe with ſuch particulars as come within your knowledge, through your greater inſight and more extenſive information concerning the affairs of our Honourable Employers, to determine in what degree it may be expedient to ſupply our wants. We find it neceſſary, however, to intreat, that you will grant us ſome immediate aſſiſtance, without which, our Chief reports to us, all buſineſs muſt be ſoon at a ſtand; the balance now in his hands amounting to, in Pagodas, only 8,366 : 17 : 69.; in Rupees 79,574, and in Fannams 3,598 Pagodas. In this extremity we hope we ſhall ſtand excuſed to your Honour, &c. if we embrace the opportunity, ſhould ſuch an one preſent itſelf, of drawing bills on you, as far as may be neceſſary to anſwer our inſtant demands.

We are, with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
Anth. Sadlier,
James Hodges,
Tho' Barnard.

Maſulipatam,
11th July 1778.

APPENDIX, No. 32.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 12th June 1778.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident,
Major General Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.
Mr. Rumbold indiſpoſed.

MINUTES of laſt Conſultation read.

Read the following Letter from Maſulipatam:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have received your commands of the 15th inſtant.

It gives us concern to find, that your Honour, &c. ſhould have had occaſion to expreſs ſurpriſe at the delay the Zemindars have ſhewn in their departure to the Preſidency; and we beg leave to aſſure you, that it certainly has been our wiſh and endeavour to obtain the earlieſt compliance with the orders entruſted to us, and to prevent unneceſſary delay. If any has happened, it has not been by impediments cauſed by us; on the contrary, their departure has been required in the ſtrongeſt terms, and the moſt effectual means have been taken that we could deviſe, not only to inſure their obedience, but to promote the ſucceſs of the meaſures of Government; your orders have been again repeated, and as ſeveral of the Zemindars have already taken leave of us, we hope no further plea of delay will be urged by them. APPENDIX. No. 33.

With regard to the latter paragraphs of your commands, reſpecting Vencataroyaloo, we are ſorry to find, that the ſmall and undeſigned omiſſion in our Extracts, of mentioning him expreſsly by name, has been the cauſe of miſleading your Honour, &c. into an opinion, that your orders have not been properly communicated to him. Our Chief, in a Minute of the 6th ultimo, acquainted us, that he had delivered a Letter from the Governor to Vencataroyaloo, ordering him to Madras, and afterwards at another meeting that he had received Vencataroyaloo's Anſwer, and tranſmitting the ſame to the Honourable the Preſident: but to remove all doubt, we yeſterday called Vencataroyaloo before us, who acknowledged to have received your orders, as we have already ſaid, and in conſequence, that he had been from that time preparing for his journey; that he had already ſent away part of his baggage, and propoſed to depart himſelf in two or three days; ſo that we hope he will arrive in time to prevent any diſappointment.

The following Zemindars and Tributaries have taken leave of this Government, in order to proceed to Madras, purſuant to your orders:

10th inſtant. { Jaggerputty Rauze, of Peddapore. / Ramchunderauze, of Ramchundaporum.

18th inſtant. { Culdendee Trippetty Rauze, of Muglatore. / Mundapetty Trippetty Rauze, of Corcondah. / Opporow, of Noozeed.

18th inſtant. { Angra Bramajee, Kiſtna Deſmook, and Ramajee Banow, Muſmedar of the Rajahamundry Circar, and Veraſha Singum, Deſpondah of Ellore Circar.

Opparow left this place this morning; but the others not yet having ſet out, although they have taken leave, we have thought it neceſſary to inform you particularly of it. As the others depart, your Honour, &c. ſhall be regularly adviſed.

We are, with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
Anthony Sadlier,
John Peter Beileau,
Tho' Barnard,
Alex' Pringle.

Maſulipatam,
21ſt May 1778.

APPENDIX, No. 33.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 12th June 1778.

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

IN conſequence of your orders of the 15th ultimo, directing us to ſignify to the ſeveral Zemindars dependant on this Settlement, to proceed immediately to the Preſidency, in order to ſettle their Jemmabundys, we deſire the Chief to make known to them your Reſolution.

We have now the pleaſure to tranſmit to your Honour, &c. copies of Letters (No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5) from the Zemindars of Callicoote, Chigutty, Vizianagur, Moberry, and Hautgur, to the Chief, on the ſubject of your orders, together with Letters from thoſe Zemindars to the Preſident. We have not as yet received any Letter from Jugganauldoo, Rajah of Pretapagherry; when it comes to hand we ſhall not fail to diſpatch it immediately.

APPENDIX. No. 33.

From the tenor of the Zemindars Letters to the Chief, as well as from our own knowledge, we are well aſſured of their inability, were they ever ſo well inclined, to proceed to the Preſidency at this juncture: And we ſhould hold ourſelves wanting in the duty we owe to your Honour, &c. did we not point out, to the beſt of our knowledge, the difficulties that would ariſe from ſuch a procedure. In the firſt place, we beg leave to make a ſtatement of the balances due to the Company from the Zemindars you have been pleaſed to order up to the Preſidency.

	Balance. P.	F.	C.		Annual Tribute. P.	F.	C.
From the Zemindar of Callicoote	45,997.	17.	22.	-	9,714.	20.	46.
D° - - D° - - - Chigutty	17,543.	25.	65.	-	10,000.	10.	23.
D° - - D° - - - Viziangur	19,242.	25.	57.	-	7,143.	5.	11.
D° - - D° - - - Moberry	20,000.	20.	45.	-	12,857.	15.	34.
D° - - D° - - - Hautgur	7,714.	20.	46.	-	10,571.	25.	57.
D° - - D° - - - Pretapaghery	11,406.	31.	36.	-	6,285.	25.	57.

As the Zemindars of Callicoote, Chigutty, Viziangur, and Pretapaghery, have already aſſigned over lands for the payment of their debts, no very material loſs to the Company would enſue from their going to the Preſidency; and we are convinced that theſe Zemindars would with cheerfulneſs proceed thither, were they in a capacity to defray the expences of ſo long a journey. But we can, with a degree of certainty, inform your Honour, &c. that theſe Zemindars, ſo far from being in a capacity to travel, are ſcarcely enabled to maintain their families with common decency at home.

The Zemindar of Moberry, in point of circumſtances, is altogether in the ſame predicament with the four abovementioned Zemindars, with the additional misfortune of his being afflicted with a diſorder which has totally deprived him of the uſe of his reaſon; on which account, the management of that Zemindary has devolved on the Rajah's mother. The balances due from this Zemindary are very conſiderable; yet, in juſtice, we muſt obſerve, that theſe balances have in a great meaſure ariſen from an over-rated Jemmabundy, it being one half of the whole revenue, under which hardſhip the country has laboured for theſe laſt ten years.

We have called the Moberry Pauter to Ganjam, and are now preſſing him for the payment of ſome part of his balance, which we hope to effect either by aſſignments or ſecurity; though we would much rather prefer the latter mode, having already experienced the pernicious conſequences of taking aſſignments; which, if taken in the preſent caſe, would be attended with no material advantage until the month of February or March next.

In regard to the Zemindar of Hautgur, we have to acquaint your Honour, &c. that he is, without a doubt, in a capacity to defray the expences of a journey to the Preſidency; and have only to obſerve, that if you are not pleaſed to admit of the reaſons ſet forth in his Letter, we are apprehenſive force muſt be uſed to compel him into a compliance with your orders. This Zemindar, from motives of prudence, and a dread of your arms, has ever been regular in his payments; though, from the nature of his country, and the ſtrength of his fort, it is in his power to give us as much trouble as any Zemindar in the diſtrict. This much we thought ourſelves obliged to mention in his favour, and we entirely ſubmit to your Honour, &c. the expediency of enforcing your orders with reſpect to this Zemindar.

We have the honour to be, very reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
M. Williams,
R^t Maunſell,
Rob^t Hughes,
George Forſter.

Ganjam,
25 May 1778.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 15th June 1778.

Diſpatched by Tappies the following Letter to Maſulipatam:

To Mr. Anthony Sadlier, Chief, &c. Council at Maſulipatam.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letters of the 21ſt and 26th ultimo.

We deſire that advertiſements may be iſſued at your Settlement and its dependencies, for receiving propoſals for renting, for a period of five, eight, or ten years, the ſeveral farms under Maſulipatam, which have been for a conſiderable time paſt entruſted to the immediate management of the Chief and Council. You will tranſmit to us ſuch propoſals as may be tendered to you in conſequence, obſerving, at the ſame time, the particular directions contained in our Letter of the 15th April.

As the ſeveral Zemindars of your diſtrict are ſhortly expected here, in purſuance of our repeated orders for their coming to the Preſidency, we ſhall defer, until their arrival, taking into conſideration thoſe parts of your Letter of the 26th ultimo, which relate to the ſucceſſion of the Zemindary of Cotah.

We are, Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends,
Tho^s Rumbold, &c. Council.

Fort St. George,
15 June 1778.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 12th June 1778.

Zemindars, &c. Tributaries, who have taken their leave of this Government, and proceeded on their journey for the Preſidency, as follows; viz.

On the 23d May 1778,
Culdindee Trippelly Rauze, Zemindar of Muglatore.
Candraigula Vencatoroyaloo, Company's Interpreter, and Surſuſtadar of the Rajah Mundry Circar.

On the 24th May 1778,
Jaggapully Rauze, Zemindar of Peddapore.
Ramchundrarauze, Zemindar of Ramchundraporam.
Coneety Narſimvoloo, of the diſtrict of Cottapillee.

On the 21ſt May took leave, but has not yet ſet out on his journey, Row Vencatarow, Zemindar of Pettaporam.

APPENDIX, No. 34.

Read the following Letter from Vizagapatam:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have received your Honour, &c. Council's commands of the 6th ultimo, relative to Narſiah Naick, Soucar. We immediately addreſſed the Gomaſtah of Govindoſs, Conareo Naick, Soucar, reſiding at Vezianagrum, deſiring he would make ſuch payments in favour of the houſe of Govindoſs, as might ſupport Govindoſs's credit, and that of his Agent at Maſulipatam, Narſiah Naick.

In reply, Conarco Naick informs us, that the Manager of each particular Bank (or Cottee) ſhould be anſwerable for the engagements he may enter into; in failure of which, recourſe ought to be had to the Principal at Hydrabad, who ſhould be anſwerable for his ſervants; that each Gomaſtah muſt take care of his own buſineſs, and pay the balance that may be due by him. Conarco Naick further informs us, that he has no directions from his Superiors to act in ſuch a caſe as Nurſiah Naick's, nor is it in his power to advance a ſingle Rupee.

In our Letter to the Revenue Department of the 16th ultimo, we explained fully the ſtate of our finances. We beg to take this occaſion to obſerve to you, that unleſs we receive your aſſiſtance or orders in our favour, in the courſe of this month, we ſhall be in great diſtreſs for means to make the uſual monthly payments. Our inveſtment is already nearly at a ſtand. Your Honour, &c. Council have been pleaſed, in your Letter of the 6th June, to acquaint us, that Sitteram Rauze, now at the Preſidency, had aſſured you, that the Kiſts ariſing on the Chicacole Havelly ſhould be punctually diſcharged at Vizagapatam. A Kiſt from him became due on that farm the 25th April laſt, for Rupees 58,750; another Kiſt for the ſame amount will be due the 25th of next month: a remittance from Sitteram Rauze on this account would ſupply our preſent exigencies.

For the large ſums due by the Rajah Viziaram Rauze, and from Jaggernaut Rauze, now at the Preſidency, we continue to preſs their Conſtituents here, but without ſucceſs; they informing us, that they wait for the inſtructions of their Superiors. We are thus urgent in ſoliciting your aſſiſtance, and in ſtating our diſtreſs, becauſe we have no money to advance our Merchants on account of the inveſtment, nor any proſpect of a reſource within ourſelves, for our military payments the enſuing month of Auguſt.

Mr. Morgan Williams, in a Letter dated the 19th ultimo, in reply to a Letter from Mr. Davidſon, requeſting to know, on a ſuppoſition that the Chief and Council ſupplying us with treaſure, might be agreeable to the Government of Madras, what ſums might be expected from Ganjam for the uſe of the inveſtment at Vizagapatam, from the 1ſt June to the 31ſt December 1778? Mr. Williams acquaints Mr. Davidſon, that they are extremely low in caſh at Ganjam, having been obliged to ſend up to Madras, on board the Seahorſe man of war, half a lack of Rupees; but that nevertheleſs, by the time that orders can be procured from the Preſidency, for us to apply for money to Ganjam in favour of Vizagapatam, he hoped the Chief and Council of Ganjam would be able to furniſh us with fifty thouſand Rupees. We beg your orders in our favour, on the ſubject of ſupplies, may be communicated to Ganjam and to Maſulipatam.

We are, with reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
Alex. Davidſon.
Hy Crawford,
Nath. Barlow,
Cha. Maxtone.

Vizagapatam,
3d July 1778.

Ordered, That the paſſage in this Letter relating to the neceſſity of ſupplies for the expences of Vizagapatam Factory, be delivered to the Secretary of the Civil Department.

The Preſident informs the Board, that with reſpect to the balances mentioned in this Letter to be due from Viziaram Rauze and Jaggernaut Rauze, they had aſſured him, that before their departure from the Chicacole Diſtrict, they left orders for the diſcharging of their reſpective arrears to the Company, at the ſame time that they provided for the management of their affairs in that diſtrict, during their abſence.

Agreed, That the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam be directed to acquaint us what ſums they have received on account of the balances due from Viziaram Rauze and Jaggernaut Rauze, ſince their departure from that Settlement.

APPENDIX. No. 35.

The Preſident alſo repeats to the Board, That Sitteram Rauze has aſſured him, that the firſt Kiſt for the Havelly Lands of Chicacole and Coſſimcotah, which became due the 25th February laſt, has been paid at Vizagapatam, and that he (Sitteram Rauze) has given orders for diſcharging the ſucceeding ones as they became due.

APPENDIX, No. 35.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 20th July 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Major General Hector Munro,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

The Preſident lays before the Board a Letter from the Chief at Ganjam, incloſing one from the Zemindar of Goomſur, both which are ordered to be entered on theſe Proceedings as follows:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir,

Herewith I have the pleaſure of tranſmitting to your Honour, copy of a Letter I have juſt received from Vickeram Bunge, the unhappy Rajah of Goomſur; who I underſtand will ſhortly make his ſubmiſſion to Government, and I flatter myſelf many good conſequences will ariſe therefrom; ſuch as an increaſe in the Goomſur Tribute, and the inſuring to us in future a perfect tranquillity in this diſtrict, as well as leſſening the heavy expences the Company have been at for ſome months paſt, in keeping this country in ſubjection, without any other advantage than convincing the deluded Rajah of the ſuperiority of our arms; for no revenue can be collected from the preſent ſtate of the country, as it is lying waſte for want of cultivation. When the Rajah arrives, I ſhall not fail making him ſenſible of his diſreſpectful ſilence to your Letter, which I attribute more to his ſavage ignorance than to any other motive; for the Zemindars in this diſtrict are in general more like ſavages than reaſonable beings, as they are to all appearance void of common underſtanding, and extremely timorous and miſtruſtful; ſo that your Honour may eaſily conclude how difficult an undertaking it will be to perſuade Vickeram Bunge, or indeed any of our Rajahs, to comply with the orders of the Honourable Board, with regard to their proceeding to the Preſidency; poverty, and their large balances to the Company, and their inability to diſcharge them, are the only excuſes that ought to be admitted, otherwiſe a military force ſhould, I think, be uſed to enforce a compliance, although it might be attended with a great deal of trouble and expence. Notwithſtanding the weak prejudices of theſe people, I ſhall endeavour all in my power to prevail on Vickeram Bunge to ſeek for your favour at the Preſidency; but ſhould I unfortunately be diſappoined in my attempts, I can only aſſure your Honour, that any inſtructions you might be pleaſed to favour me with, either public or private, ſhall be implicitly followed by me, as I have nothing to hope or wiſh for but your countenance and favour; on which I beg leave to rely.

I am, with due deference and reſpect,
Honourable Sir,
Your moſt devoted and
obedient humble Servant,
M. Williams.

Ganjam,
13th June 1778.

Tranſlate

APPENDIX, No. 36.

Tranſlate of a Letter from Vickeram Bunge to Mr. Williams, Chief of Ganjam.

I am much honoured with your kind Perwannah, and have obſerved the contents; conformably to my deſire, you have ſent to me Ball Kiſtnah and Hatmaram, in order to encourage. I entirely depend on your kind Letter, and by the perſuaſion of Ball Kiſtnah and Hatmaram, I am determined to come to Ganjam to make my ſubmiſſion, and after my arrival at that place, I hope you will do me all the good in your power.

With regard to immediately ſetting off for Ganjam, it is impoſſible, as all my family and things are at different places, which obliges me to go back again; therefore you will be ſo good as to excuſe me for a few days, till I can ſettle my family in one place. I ſhall get ready myſelf for ſetting out by the 20th of this month from hence, and ſhall be with you as ſoon as poſſible. What can I ſay more?

The Anſwers of the Zemindars dependant on Ganjam to the orders for their coming up to the Preſidency, together with the Letter of the 25th May from the Chief and Council, coming next under conſideration:—The Board are ſenſible of the heavy expence which the Zemindars would be liable to incur in performing ſo long a journey, and are, upon that account, induced to diſpenſe with their perſonal attendance; but as it is, however, highly expedient for us to be well informed of the particulars relative to each Zemindary, in order that we may be enabled to ſettle a permanent Jemmabundy, which can only be done by forming a juſt valuation of theſe lands, it is Reſolved, That the Pauters and Muſmedars of the ſix principal Zemindaries be ordered forthwith to proceed hither, bringing with them ſuch accounts as may be neceſſary for the before-mentioned purpoſe.

The Board cannot help obſerving, that notwithſtanding our orders for the coming up of Ball Kiſtnah, the Company's Dubaſh or Interpreter at Ganjam, were moſt pointedly ſignified in our Letter of the 15th April to that Settlement, it does not appear that thoſe orders have been in the leaſt attended to, nor has any excuſe been offered to us in extenuation of his diſobedience.

Reſolved therefore, That the ſame directions be repeated in our next Letter to the Chief and Council; and that they be inſtructed to require him, on pain of incurring our further diſpleaſure, to depart from Ganjam for the Preſidency as ſoon after the receipt of it as the nature of circumſtances will permit.

APPENDIX, No. 36.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 20th July 1778.

READ the following Letter from Maſulipatam:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have been favoured with your commands of the 15th June, in the Revenue Department.

Advertiſements have in conſequence been iſſued at this Settlement, and through the Circars dependant thereon, ſignifying that propoſals will be received until the 15th inſtant, for renting the ſeveral farms under Maſulipatam, which for ſome time paſt have been under the immediate management of the Chief and Council, for a term of five, eight, or ten years.

No propoſals having hitherto been tranſmitted to us, we beg to be honoured with your commands, whether you would have the time, above fixed for receiving theſe propoſals, prolonged or not.

Anthony Sadlier, &c.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, 24th July 1778.

Sent by Tappies the following Letter to Maſulipatam.

To Mr. Anthony Sadlier, Chief, &c. Council at Maſulipatam.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letters of the 3d, 6th, and 11th inſtant.

We deſire you will give notice throughout the Diſtrict dependant on your Settlement, that the term for receiving Propoſals for renting the farms which have lately been under the management of the Chief and Council, will be extended to the 20th of next month; and as you inform us that no offers had been made to you for them ſo late as the 3d inſtant, we have ordered advertiſements to be publiſhed at the Preſidency for receiving propoſals within the before-mentioned term.

Obſerving by your Letter of the 11th inſtant that you were likely to be much in want of caſh, we recommend to you to uſe every poſſible exertion with the Soucars that are indebted to the Company, in order to prevail upon them to diſcharge their reſpective balances; particularly the Agent for the Houſe of Govindoſs, whoſe debt is the moſt conſiderable, and who being a Soucar of principal note, appears to be the moſt capable of fulfilling his engagements. Should this prove inſufficient to anſwer your demands, you may ſupply the reſt by monthly draſts upon the Preſidency, taking care, however, not to exceed the amount of your neceſſary expences.

We are, Gentlemen,

Your affectionate Friends,

Fort St. George, 24th July 1778. Thomas Rumbold, &c.

APPENDIX, No. 37.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 21ſt July 1778.

Extract of Letter from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George, to the Chief and Council at Ganjam.

HAVING taken into conſideration the Anſwers of the ſeveral Zemindars, addreſſed to your Chief on the occaſion of their being ordered to repair to the Preſidency, together with thoſe addreſſed to the Preſident, and your own repreſentation upon the ſubject; we are induced, on account of the heavy expence which they would be likely to incur in performing ſo long a journey, to diſpenſe with their perſonal attendance here; but it being however highly expedient for us to be well informed of the particulars relative to each Zemindary, in order that we may be enabled to ſettle a permanent Jemmabundy, which can only be done by forming a juſt valation of thoſe lands, we direct that the Pauters and Muſmedars of the ſix principal Zemindaries be ordered forthwith to proceed hither, bringing with them ſuch accounts as may be requiſite for the before-mentioned purpoſe.

We muſt here take notice, That notwithſtanding our orders for the coming up of Ball Kiſtnah, the Company's Dubaſh, or Interpreter, were moſt pointedly conveyed to you, in our Letter of the 15th April, we do not find that they have been in the leaſt attended to; nor has any excuſe been offered to us, in extenuation of his diſobedience: You will therefore, upon receipt hereof, repeat to him our directions, contained in that Letter, and require him, on pain of incurring our further diſpleaſure, to depart from Ganjam as ſoon as the nature of circumſtances will permit, and proceed, without loſs of time, to the Preſidency.

APPENDIX, No. 38.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 20th July 1778.

THE Preſident acquaints the Board, That ſeveral of the Maſulipatam Zemindars having arrived at the Preſidency, he has for ſome time paſt been employed in endeavouring to recover the balances due from them, as well as in collecting particular information relative to the Revenue of their different Countries; and that he purpoſes ſhortly to lay a full account of the ſame before the Board.

APPENDIX, No. 39.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 19th December 1777.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Board having met, according to adjournment, to conſider how the farm of the Chicacole and Coſſimcotah Havelly lands, dependant on Vizagapatam, may be let out moſt for the advantage of the Company; ſuch parts of the Committee of Circuit's Letter of the 10th September, as related to this ſubject, and the Propoſals of Padnabrauze for renting thoſe lands for the term of ten years, being recommended by the Committee, they are read, as follows:

Padnabrauze's terms of Propoſals for renting the Havellys of Chicacole and Coſſimcotah, and the four Pergunnahs, viz. Bomally, Nagarycattuum, Jelmore, and Caricawalſa, and Naupada Salt Pans, for ten years; the firſt five years at the rate of 230,000 Rupees per annum, and the five laſt years as follows:

For the 6th year,	-	-	236,000
7th D°	-	-	244,000
8th D°	-	-	252,000
9th D°	-	-	260,000
10th D°	-	-	268,000

On condition, that at the expiration of my Cowle, I am to be credited, and have a receipt for the good outſtanding balances then due to me from the Country; and I engage the ſaid balances ſhall not exceed 10 per Cent. or 268,000 Rupees; and that I alſo have the privilege for ſelling what ſalt may be on the ground at the expiration of my Cowle, before any of the new Renter's ſalt is ſold; and I engage the amount of the ſalt on hand ſhall not exceed 15,000 Rupee's; 5,000 Rupees worth of which I engage to ſell off for ſhipping, and the other 10,000 Rupees I am to have credit and a receipt for, at the end of my term.

The Jagindars, Inaumdars, Agraharom and Maniam, Holders, ſhall pay to me the ſums which it has been cuſtomary for them to pay to former Renters.

The Preſident then lays before the Board the Propoſals delivered to him by Sitteram Rauze, which are alſo read, as follows:

(Tranſlation.)

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George, &c. &c.

I, Mirja Rauze Sitteram Rauze, Behader, Munna Sultan, do write theſe Propoſals:—When I was at Vizianagrum, the Gentlemen of the Committee came there, and propoſed to me, that I ſhould rent Shecacolam Havelly; to which I anſwered, that I would go myſelf to Madras, and ſpeak to the Preſident and Council there concerning it. When I paid my viſit to you, after my arrival here, I applied to you concerning Shecacolam and Coſſimcotah, &c. diſtricts; to which you have been pleaſed to tell me to make my Propoſals in writing, and give it you, and that when an opportunity offers, that you will think of it; in conſequence of which, I now write, as the villages of our Zemindary, and the villages belonging to the diſtricts of Shecacolam and Coſſimcotah, &c. are ſituated among my Diſtricts, if the Company ſhould let the farm of thoſe Diſtricts to others, diſputes and quarrels will always ariſe between that Renter and us, concerning water; and the Inhabitants requeſt the Company will be ſo good as to favour me with farm of the ſaid Diſtrict. I would be glad to have them for ten years, if not, for five.

The number of thoſe Diſtricts, viz.

Shecacolam Diſtricts,
Coſſimcotah,
Zulmoor,
Bommaully,
Negary Cutcum,
Curca Valaſa,
Nowpadda, &c. Salt Pans,
The Cuſtoms of Muzendar, &c.

If the Renter of the ſeven Diſtricts and Office were given to me, for the firſt five years I ſhall pay to the Company at the rate of two lacks and thirty-five thouſand Rupees per year, which, from the year 1777 to the year 1781, amounts to eleven lacks and ſeventy-five thouſand Rupees, which I promiſe to pay, according to the Kiſts of each year. If the Company will be kind enough to let me have rent for ten years, from the ſixth year to the tenth year both included, I ſhall pay the Jemmabundy to the Company; viz.

		R°.
For the year 1782	—	241,000
83	—	249,000
84	—	257,000
85	—	265,000
86	—	273,000

For theſe five years amounts to twelve lacks and eighty-five thouſand Rupees, which I promiſe to pay according to their reſpective Kiſts of each year. Of theſe two Propoſals, whichſoever the Company thinks moſt convenient to let me have, I ſhall accept it; if you let me have it for ten years, it will be for the Company's advantage, as it would be of ſervice to the Diſtricts: as the Company before had given the Cowle for one year and three years, the Diſtricts were much ruined. If you think of doing ſo now, it will be detrimental both to the Company and the Diſtricts; as the rent was granted for a few years only, the Renters had not an opportunity of improving the Country, by repairing the Lakes and Channels: And beſides, we have ſome years a good monſoon, and in others none, for which reaſon I propoſe to take it for ten years, or for five years. The balance that may become due from the Inhabitants, and which was acknowledged by them in the laſt year, the Company muſt examine and give me credit for the ſame. Alſo, I requeſt that the Company will be ſo good as to mention in the Cowle, that after the remaining ſalt of my farm is ſold, the ſalt of the new Renter may be ſold, and not till then. I ſhall allow the ſhare to the Inhabitants, as in other Diſtricts. The owners of the gift lands, Jaggurs, and the Oggrahareems, or the villages granted to the Brahmins, they muſt allow me the ſame they allowed to the former Renters.

(Signed) Mirja Rauze Sitteram Rauze, Behader, Munna Sultan.

The Preſident obſerving that the Propoſals of Sitteram Rauze are higher than thoſe of Padnabrauze, and conſequently more for the intereſt of the Company, he moves, That the Chicacole and Coſſimcotah Havelly lands be let to him for ten years, agreeable to the terms therein mentioned.

APPENDIX. No. 40.

tioned.—And after ſome debate, the Queſtion being put,

Mr. Perring.—As Sitteram Rauze has made the higheſt offer, I think he ought to have the rent.

Mr. Johnſon.—I have already given many reaſons, in the courſe of the debate, why Sitteram Rauze ſhould not have the Havelly; but, as the Board ſeems inclined to favour his Propoſal, I ſhall for the preſent content myſelf with expreſſing my diſapprobation of the meaſure, and with explaining myſelf more fully upon it, in a Minute which I ſhall deliver in at a ſubſequent Conſultation.

Mr. Smith.—I am againſt Sitteram Rauze having it, and will deliver my reaſons for it at a ſubſequent Conſultation.

Preſident.—I am for giving it to Sitteram Rauze, and will enter a Minute upon the occaſion.

Carried in favour of the Preſident's Motion by his caſting vote.

Reſolved, That the Chicacole and Ceſſamcotah Havelly lands be let to Sitteram Rauze for ten years, agreeable to the terms of his Propoſal; and that the Gentlemen at Vizagapatam be adviſed thereof, and a Cowle tranſmitted accordingly, commencing from the 25th September 1777, and ending the 25th September 1787.—A Clauſe muſt however be inſerted in the Cowle, ſtipulating, that the amount of ſalt on hand at the expiration of the Cowle, as well as the outſtanding balances which may be then due from the Inhabitants, ſhall be provided for agreeably to the recommendation of the Committee of Circuit, in the paragraph of their Letter of the 10th September.

APPENDIX, No. 40.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 2d February 1778.

PRESENT,

John Whitehill, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

READ the following Letter from Vizagapatam:

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have received your commands of the 24th ultimo, incloſing therein a Copy of the Cowle, your Honour, &c. have been pleaſed to grant to Sitteram Rauze, as Renter of the Havelly lands.

As it has been an invariable eſtabliſhed cuſtom, ſince the Honourable Company were put in poſſeſſion of the Circars, for the Chief and Council of the different Settlements under which they have been reſpectively arranged, to adverti ſe and receive Propoſals for the renting of Countries that have been entruſted to their care and management, and afterwards to tranſmit to the Preſidency an account of ſuch as were offered, with their opinion of the characters, capacity, and ſubſtance of the men who had made Propoſals for the Honourable Board's determination; we are not a little concerned to find you have deemed it neceſſary to deviate from this rule, as it has conveyed to us a different idea, that your Honour, &c. have unfavourable ſentiments of our capacity or integrity, although we flatter ourſelves that is not the caſe. Your Honour, &c. are undoubtedly the beſt judges of what is moſt advantageous for the intereſt of our Honourable Employers; nevertheleſs, whenever an inconvenience ſhould ariſe, from a new arrangement of their affairs in this Diſtrict, we think it our duty to point out ſuch to our ſuperiors as might occaſionally happen, eſpecially as an inſtance of the kind now preſents itſelf before us, in your accepting the Propoſals of Sitteram Rauze, for the renting the Havelly lands in preference to thoſe made by Padnabrauze; who, being at a very great diſtance from the Preſidency, had not the leaſt idea that he would have been outbid by another, or he would have authorized ſome proper perſon to make more advantageous offers to the Honourable Board for thoſe Diſtricts; therefore, as he moſt ardently wiſhes for a continuance of the Honourable Company's favour and protection, he has requeſted we would lay before you this his laſt Propoſal, which is, that he will give as a rent for the Havelly lands for the term of ten years, twenty five lacks of Rupees, at the rate of two hundred and fifty thouſand Rupees per annum, which is forty thouſand more than what has been offered by Sitteram Rauze, during that period of time, and fifteen thouſand Rupees per annum more than his offer for the firſt five years, which we eſteem worthy your conſideration, as it is ſo advantageous to the Company's intereſt.—If this Propoſal of Padnab Rauze ſhould arrive too late for your Honour's, &c. approbation, he has only to lament his abſence from the Preſidency, and to regret that both the parties did not make their Propoſals at this Settlement.

We hope the above propoſal will not arrive too late for the Honourable Board's determination, becauſe it is very conſiderable, and what was before never offered by any individual ſince the Company's poſſeſſion of the Havelly lands; but this, we preſume, is not the only conſideration with your Honour, &c. the character and capacity of the man is undoubtedly the firſt. Padnabrauze, although he has lately ſeverely felt the iron rod of oppreſſion, is ſtill a man of ſubſtance, and univerſally known to be an improver of a country, and an enemy to fraud and violence; his great love of juſtice has won the hearts of all the poor inhabitants, both in the Rajah's country and in the Havelly lands, during the time of his being manager on account of the Company. With regard to Sitteram Rauze, although much might be ſaid againſt his conduct during his late management of the Havelly lands, yet, without animadverting on his character ourſelves, we will only beg leave to refer your Honour, &c. to the account which we underſtand was given of him by the late Committee of Circuit to your Board, and to ſubmit it to your judgment, whether, of the two candidates, the preference ought not to be given to Padnab Rauze, eſpecially when backed by an higher offer.

We are, with great reſpect,
Your moſt devoted, and
obedient humble Servants,
M. Williams,
Hy Crawford,
*Nath*l Barlow.

Vizagapatam,
17th January 1778.

Agreed, That the conſideration of this Letter be deferred till after the diſpatch of the Houghton.

Read the following Letters from Vizagapatam and Cuddalore:

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have received Mr. Secretary Lewin's Letter of the 27th ultimo, directing us to deliver over the management of the Havelly lands (during the abſence of Sitteram Rauze) unto Annapindee Veſſannah; which we have complied with.

We are, with reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
M. Williams,
Hy Crawford,
*Nath*l Barlow.

APPENDIX, No. 41.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 10th April 1778.

PRESENT,

The Hon. Sir Tho' Rumbold, Preſident and Governor.
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Pe' Perring. } Eſq^rs

READ the following Letter from Vizagapatam:

To the Honourable Tho' Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council, Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

On an application to Annapindee Viſſenah, Sitteram Rauze's manager of the Havelly lands, for payment of fifty-eight thouſand ſeven hundred and fifty Rupees, the amount of the firſt Kiſt, due on his Cowle the 25th laſt month, we are concerned to inform your Honour, &c. that to our great aſtoniſhment, he acquaints us, as he is only a ſervant of Sitteram Rauze's, we muſt apply to his maſter at Madras, not only for the payment of his Kiſt, but any matter relative to his management, having no authority from him to ſatisfy us in this reſpect. This aſſertion of his we have reaſon to think is well founded, for we have undeniable proof that the ſaid Viſſenah has remitted to Sitteram Rauze, in grain and bills, no leſs a ſum than one hundred and thirty one thouſand Rupees; beſides, it is currently reported that he is now negociating bills with the Soucars on Sitteram Rauze's account, for the further ſum of ſeventy thouſand Rupees, which likewiſe we are informed were raiſed from the produce of the Havelly lands. As theſe two ſums nearly equal the amount of the annual rent Sitteram Rauze has agreed to pay the Company for thoſe lands, we think it is our duty thus early to communicate this intelligence to your Honour, &c. that meaſures may be taken to ſecure the payment of his Kiſts at the Preſidency, ſince the manager has refuſed to pay them here. We muſt not here omit to notice, the great diſreſpect ſhewn to the authority of your Chief and Council, by the contemptuous ſilence of Viſſanah, to two Letters wrote to him about fifteen days ago, on the ſubject of the above information, and the conſequent order, that no part of the Company's Revenues ſhould be remitted to Sitteramrauze, unleſs his firſt Kiſt was diſcharged. If Sitteram Rauze's manager, Viſſenah, ſhould be allowed to diſregard our authority by a wilful diſobedience of our orders, we ſhall no longer be able to conduct the affairs of this diſtrict with the ſame regularity as formerly; but on the contrary, have reaſon to expect we ſhall frequently be under the neceſſity of preferring complaints againſt him to your Honour, &c. diſagreeable to ourſelves, and troubleſome to the Honourable Board when too often repeated. We therefore requeſt your Honour, &c. will be pleaſed to order Sitteram Rauze to direct his Manager to diſcharge his Kiſts regularly at this Settlement, and to pay due deference to any orders we may think fit to iſſue for the intereſt of our Employers.

We are, very reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
M. Williams,
H^y Crawford,
Vizagapatam, Nath' Barlow,
11 Mar. 1778. Cha' Maxtone.

Reſolution thereon.

Agreed, That the Preſident do call upon Sitteram Rauze for the Kiſt due from him on account of the Chicacole and Coſſimcotah Havelly lands.

APPENDIX, No. 42.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, 10th April 1778.

READ the following Letter from Vizagapatam:

To the Honourable Tho' Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

Since we addreſſed your Honour, &c. on the 12th inſtant, on the ſubject of Viſſenah's having remitted to Sitteram Rauze nearly the amount of a year's rent out of the produce of the Havelly lands, it affords us the utmoſt concern to obſerve further to you, that we have the ſtrongeſt reaſon to believe, in order to raiſe the large ſums mentioned in that addreſs, the poor farmers have been ſeverely oppreſſed, for we are credibly informed that ſome of them are fled out of the country, and thoſe remaining, groaning under the oppreſſions of Viſſenah, who, ſo far from protecting the inhabitants in their rights, by allowing them their proper ſhares, as have been heretofore uſual and cuſtomary, has taken conſiderably from their proportions by force and threats, giving them at the ſame time to underſtand, that we had no power over him, and conſequently to ſeek redreſs from us would be needleſs, his maſter Sitteram Rauze, having received his Cowle at the Preſidency, and that he was, from that circumſtance, only anſwerable for his conduct immediately to your Honour, &c. without our interference. This conduct of Viſſenah's, we beg leave to obſerve to your Honour, &c. is unuſual, and highly improper, tending to hurt the Company's Government, and diſreſpectful and inſulting to us, their immediate Repreſentatives here; for were we not allowed to take cognizance of any oppreſſion committed by him, the poor farmers and inhabitants muſt ſuffer greatly, as they cannot conveniently demand redreſs ſo far diſtant as the Preſidency, and will therefore ſeek ſhelter elſewhere. To avoid this growing evil, the dangerous conſequence of this being eaſy to be conceived, we flatter ourſelves you will immediately take ſuch meaſures as will effectually prevent it.

We are very reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt humble and obedient Servants,
M. Williams,
H^y Crawford,
Vizagapatam, Nath' Barlow,
21ſt March 1778. Cha. Maxtone.

Agreed, That the Preſident be deſired to communicate this purport of the Letter to Sitteram Rauze, who muſt be required to take ſuch meaſures concerning it as may effectually obviate all future complaints of this nature.

Tho' Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Sam' Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 43.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 24th April 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Major General Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Preſident acquaints the Board, that in purſuance of the Reſolution at the laſt Conſultation, he has communicated

APPENDIX. No. 44.

nicated to Sitteram Rauze the purport of the Letters lately received from Vizagapatam, relative to the Chicacole and Coſſimcotah Havelly lands, and that Sitteram Rauze has, in anſwer, aſſured him that the firſt Kiſt of the annual rent of that farm, due the 25th of February, ſhall be forthwith diſcharged at Vizagapatam, and that he will alſo ſend poſitive orders to his Agent there, to take ſuch meaſures as may effectually prevent all further cauſe of complaint from the inhabitants of that country.

Thomas Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Sam. Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 44.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, 20th July 1778.

THE Preſident delivers in the following Minute:

Having given my utmoſt attention to the ſeveral Letters and Tranſactions which appear on the Records regarding the Chicacole Circar, and having made it my buſineſs to obtain the beſt information with reſpect to the ſtate and conſequence of thoſe lands; and alſo the ſituation of the family of Viziaram Rauze, the Rajah of Vizianagrum, and his brother Sitteram Rauze, &c. I ſhall trouble the Board with a few obſervations, but not go particularly into the ſubject, unleſs any circumſtances ſhould render it neceſſary for me to be more full and explicit in my remarks, but content myſelf with offering my ſentiments on the proper mode to be obſerved, in reſtoring order and management to that country, ſo that the Company's Intereſt and Revenues may be fixed upon a firm and advantageous footing.

The great power of the brothers, Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze, which has been held forth as an object of jealouſy to the Company, and which alarmed our Honourable Employers for the ſecurity of their Revenues in thoſe diſtricts, is now no longer a queſtion relative to this buſineſs, as the conduct of Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze on the march of our Troops to reduce them, muſt evidently eraſe from our minds any hoſtile ideas which might hitherto have been entertained of them; for inſtead of reſiſting our arms in that formidable manner it was expected, they laid down their own, opened the gates of their forts, and their dreaded power, which has been ſo particularly repreſented to the Court of Directors, vaniſhing at once, they wiſely looked up to the Company for favour, protection, and forgiveneſs of any miſbehaviour towards them, either intentional or by miſtake, thus laying themſelves at the mercy of this Government, imploring its ſupport and aſſiſtance to reinſtate them in their poſſeſſions, and former favour with the Company, that every diſagreeable impreſſion might be removed which occaſioned the ſending a force againſt them. We cannot, in my opinion, be too early in adopting a plan, and carrying it into execution with firmneſs, tending to reſtore the two brothers, Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze, to that friendſhip and harmony which ought ever to ſubſiſt between them, and to place them in the quiet poſſeſſion and management of their countries; the Jemmabundy of the diſtricts dependant on Vizianagrum, has been long thought very inadequate, and far ſhort of what other Zemindars have paid.

The Government here, ever ſince the Circars have been under the Company, have made repeated repreſentations of this kind home; alledging, in excuſe for not raiſing the Jemmabundy, that endeavours, by negociations through the Chiefs and Councils, failed; and that the great influence and power of the Vizianagrum family, which were greatly exaggerated, rendered the uſe of force to effect it, hazardous to the peace of the Circars. Their repreſentations were credited at home till 1774, by which time the Circars had been well explored, and a pretty juſt idea of their ſituation and value communicated to the Direction; who, on ſuch authority, ventured, in 1775, to ſend out poſitive orders by Lord Pigot, that the military force of the Zemindars ſhould be reduced, and that a reaſonable Jemmabundy ſhould be ſettled, after the Revenues of the ſeveral diſtricts had been enquired into by the Committee of Circuit. The Directors were ſo particular, and ſo pointed in their orders with regard to the Chicacole diſtrict, as evidently ſhews that they have higher expectations from that quarter than any other; that theſe may be anſwered as much as poſſible, the oſtenſible grounds of theſe expectations, by which the public will judge of the reaſonableneſs of any ſettlement that may now take place, ſhould be fully conſidered.

The reduction of the Vizianagrum Troops, leaves the defence of that Circar to the Company; of courſe the Company will expect, for this purpoſe, a ſum equal to the expence the Zemindar is eaſed of by the diſbanding his Troops. This may be deemed only an additional ſtrength to the Company's military force on the Coaſt, and not an increaſe of Revenue. And though the Company have forbid the Zemindars keeping regular Troops, yet they muſt have a Sibendy for collecting the revenues. The charge attending theſe and other revenue ſervants, and diſburſements, ſhould be fully ſtated, as well as the Rajah's houſehold expences; and for the laſt, ſhould be allowed as amply as they have ever enjoyed. Theſe articles of expence, deducted from the revenue uſually collected, good and bad years together, will ſhew the increaſe of Jemmabundy the country is capable of, and will naturally be the ſtandard for the people at home to judge: till theſe are aſcertained, no judgment can be formed with any degree of preciſion, and the aſcertaining them requires no great length of time.

The Committee of Circuit reported, in September laſt, their examination of a conſiderable part of the Vizianagrum Zemindary; the remainder can be ſpeedily collected from the Rajah's Muſnedars; the reports and opinions of many individuals here, can be collected to compare or check the accounts given by the Rajah's ſervants, which, without ſuch precaution, cannot be relied on.

Till of late years the country under Vizianagrum was divided into many petty Zemindaries; the Zemindars of theſe proving troubleſome, were reduced by Sitteram Rauze, ſome before the Circars were ours, and ſome ſince, and are now priſoners; the only Zemindar at preſent remaining tributary to Vizianagrum, is the Polliudah man. Mr. Cotsford, in his Letter to the Court of Directors, recommends the reſtoration of all theſe Zemindars. Should a plan take place, the proviſion for this expence in office will conſiderably leſſen the Jemmabundy, and, by cauſing a diviſion of intereſt, may be otherwiſe a ſource of inconvenience. If the reſtoring be thought ineligible, the dignity of the Company's Government requires their enlargement, and that a comfortable allowance be ſettled for their ſupport.

Whether Polliundah ſhould be tributary to the Company or the Rajah, requires conſideration; that part of the Vizianagrum diſtrict called Warulla, is claimed by Jogapetty Rauze of Peddapore; his claim to it has been ſeveral times referred to this Government, but Sitteram Rauze has always found means to prevent a deciſion being obtained. The merits of each of the claimant's pretenſions ſhould be enquired into, before a final ſettlement take place with either; and as our reſources for ſupporting the expected War with France, depend principally upon the good management, and upon the regular collection of our revenues, no time ſhould be loſt in putting them on the moſt ſtable footing they will admit of.

Our Zemindars, without exception, ſeem to have made it a rule to be in arrears, and ſome of them where there is

APPENDIX No. 44.

is no ground or pretence for being ſo; in particular, the principal of them, Viziaram Rauze, whoſe management appears to me to be glaringly exceptional; though he diſbanded his Troops in Auguſt laſt, and was of courſe, by that meaſure, eaſed of a conſiderable expence, and pays the Company only three lacks of Rupees out of the amount he collects, he is ſtill in arrears to them, and greatly in debt to individuals. I have been very particular in my enquiries relative to Viziaram Rauze, and am ſorry to ſay, that there is too much reaſon to conclude, that his preſent circumſtances are owing to his want of capacity and firmneſs to guard againſt the artifice and intrigues of the rapacious ſervants he has had about him. Viziaram Rauze's character appears to me to be marked with a degree of fickleneſs and inſufficiency, that renders him unfit to be depended on for the preſent Jemmabundy in quiet times, much leſs ſo in the times of trouble, which we are now to expect, and when the Jemmabundy is to be conſiderably increaſed. I am clearly of opinion, that it is indiſpenſably incumbent on us, without delay, to place with Viziaram Rauze, as Duwan, a man of known abilities to aſſiſt him in eſtabliſhing that order and economy in the management of the collections, ſo eſſentially neceſſary to ſecure to the Company the punctual receipt of this ſo conſiderable a part of their revenue. The people he has lately had about him, I do not heſitate to ſay, are improper for this high truſt. His brother Sitteram Rauze's abilities in the revenue branch, cannot be doubted; and their intereſt being united, by the line of ſucceſſion to the Zemindary, point him out at the fitteſt man. There is not that room to apprehend ſelfiſhneſs in him, or profuſion to others, that may be looked for from aliens. Any diſgrace that may fall on the management of the Zemindary, will affect Sitteram Rauze's future hopes equally with Viziaram's, he has therefore the ſpur of intereſt to excite him to avert it; whereas a common ſervant, unconcerned in the future welfare of the family, may, on its own ruins, raiſe his own fortune. A man ſo diſpoſed, could not wiſh a better opportunity than the confidence of Viziaram Rauze would afford him; and the ſituation of the Chicacole Circar is ſo much altered ſince the movement of our Troops, the diſbanding of the Rajah's, and our getting poſſeſſion of Vizianagrum, that we muſt ever have a check on either of the Rajahs, who attempt to go beyond the bounds we preſcribe to them. In Sitteram Rauze we ſhall have for the management of the country, a man of firmneſs and abilities, whoſe intereſt it is to prove faithful and ſteady to the Company. For the inability of the other brother, let us only look to the Records, and we ſhall find too many proofs of the weakneſs and inconſiſtency of his character. Mr. Cotsford, who is ſaid to be well acquainted with the Northern Circars, in his Letter to the Court of Directors, points out Viziaram Rauze as a man of a very limited capacity; and in another part of his Letter, doubts Viziaram Rauze's real and juſt title to the Zemindary, and upon ſuch grounds as would juſtify the Company in putting the management and revenues of it on a different footing, ſhould his obſtinacy, inſufficiency, or intrigues of thoſe who have obtained an aſcendancy over him, make it neceſſary for the ſecurity and intereſt of the Company to effect a change.

There is no doubt but his preſent ſervants have all that influence with him, that a weak mind will generally give way to, when a love of indolence, and a fondneſs for trifles, are gratified by the ſacrifice; they at the ſame time flatter his vanity, and feed the ridiculous haughtineſs of his character, by continual endeavours to make him believe himſelf of more conſequence than he really is, whilſt they are ready to laviſh his treaſures in ſupport of the aſcendancy they have gained: but theſe are not times to trifle either with the revenues, inveſtment, or reſources of the Northern Circars, and I am perſuaded, in the Chicacole diſtrict, as well as in every other part of thoſe poſſeſſions of the Company, and not in thoſe poſſeſſions alone, but in all where they have an intereſt in the Carnatic, the moſt ſpirited and vigorous meaſures are neceſſary to be purſued, ſhould a war break out with the French, which we daily apprehend; I am convinced we cannot render a more eſſential piece of ſervice to that vigilant and intriguing enemy (ſhould their views be turned to the Circars) than by leaving the brothers, Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze, at variance; the utmoſt hopes of the French, even from the neighbourhood of thoſe Troops under Mr. Lally, with every artifice (which I have no doubt they would make uſe of in caſe of troubles) would not afford ſuch a proſpect of ſucceſs to their wiſhes, as the continuance of the diſſentions in the Pooſpully family, and the management of the country under a man of ſuch ſlender abilities as Viziaram Rauze: but if any Gentleman at the Board ſhould differ with me in opinion upon a point of this conſequence, let him refer to the Records, to the Letters from the Vizagapatam factory, and inveſtigate the whole tranſactions in the Chicacole Circar for the laſt two or three years. I think they muſt then conclude with me on the neceſſity of ſettling it on a permanent and ſecure footing, with the aſſiſtance of ſuch a man as Sitteram Rauze, who ſhould be under thoſe reſtrictions, that the brother, Viziaram Rauze, may enjoy all he is capable of enjoying (and which till lately he has been contented with) ſecurity, eaſe, affluence, and the neceſſary ſtate and reſpect due to the rank and ſtation he holds.

To what I have already offered as neceſſary to be done before we can finally conclude for the Jemmabundy or tribute of the Chicacole diſtrict; I ſhall add the following circumſtances, neceſſary to be attended to.—That a juſt and true ſtatement of the expences of the expedition under the command of Colonel Braithwaite, be made out, and that Viziaram Rauze make good the ſame to the Company. That the Zemindary of Ancapilly be given to Viziaram Rauze, on his increaſing the tribute to the Company, which before was ſixty-five thouſand Rupees per annum, to one lack:—It appears upon the Records, that the Zemindary of Ancapilly is mortgaged to Viziaram Rauze, and that the amount of the mortgage is (agreeable to bonds, yearly executed in the preſence of the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam) between ſeven and eight lacks of Rupees, though upon a ſtrict ſcrutiny into the amount of intereſt, &c. ſome deduction might be made, yet as this mortgage has been incurred to pay the tribute due to the Company, and being conducted under the ſanction of their ſervants, it appears but reaſonable that he, Viziaram Rauze, ſhould have the Zemindary given up to him. I did intend to propoſe that it ſhould be converted into Havelly lands for the Company; but when I conſidered the heavy mortgage under the guarantee of the Preſident and Council, the value of the Zemindary, the increaſed tribute propoſed to be received from it; I am perſuaded it will be more for the intereſt of the Company to give the grant of it, on the terms I have before-mentioned, to Viziaram Rauze; ſome allowance ſhould however be made by him to the widow and remaining family of the former poſſeſſor, the deceaſed Poyakerow, or ſome proviſion be made for them from the Zemindaries of Salevaram.

It appears, That Viziaram Rauze, after having adopted the ſon of Sitteram Rauze, his elder brother, as ſucceſſor to the Zemindary, and after having gone through all the ceremonies uſual on ſuch an occaſion, writes a moſt extraordinary Letter, full of equivocation, reſpecting this adoption; which plainly ſhews the intrigues at his Court, the weakneſs and fears of the man, and indicates the abſolute neceſſity that Sitteram Rauze ſhould again reſume the management of affairs in the Circar, as all the evils ſeem to have ariſen from the intrigues and miſmanagement ſince his removal; and as the ſon of Sitteram Rauze is the undoubted preſumptive heir to the Zemindary, the adoption ſhould be confirmed by Cowle of this Board. After Viziaram Rauze is rendered ſenſible that he ought not to have taken ſuch a ſtep without the advice and conſent of the Preſident and Council, as repreſentatives of the Company, and a proper Nazer, as uſual, been given to the Company on the occaſion; for we muſt all be ſenſible, that no ſimilar circumſtance could take place under the Government of the Moors, without the conſent of the feudal Lord, and that a proper acknowledgement for ſuch conſent is always exacted. In the preſent caſe, notwithſtanding the Letter I have before mentioned from Viziaram Rauze, the ſon of Sitteram Rauze, Naraſummah Gazepetty Rauze, in conſequence of the adoption, is acknowledged in the Diſtricts, and, conformable to eſtabliſhed cuſtom, all acts of Government are executed in his name.

APPENDIX. No. 45.

That no Troops be levied or entertained by Viziaram Rauze, except ſuch a number as may be thought requiſite to collect the revenues; but that this Board take into conſideration the mode of eſtabliſhing an additional force for the protection of his country.

With reſpect to the Havelly Lands of the Chicacole Circar, they were let to Sitteram Rauze, before my arrival, on too long a leaſe; but as I am of opinion true policy ſhould induce us to ſupport the brothers, to reconcile them to each other, and attach them to the Company, ſo I do not ſee that the lands can be in better hands, being thoroughly convinced from the late tranſactions, the Company have nothing to apprehend from their power and ambition; and I have never ſeen that too frequent a change of men or meaſures have ever proved beneficial to the Company in farming out their revenues.

Such are my ſentiments upon this buſineſs, which I beg leave to ſubmit to the conſideration of the Board; they are dictated by a firm conviction, that the plan I have propoſed is calculated for the ſecurity and benefit of our Honourable Employers in their poſſeſſions in the Northern Diſtricts, and free from every private view or prejudice; and as the Rajah obſtinately perſiſts (from the advice of thoſe about him) to keep at variance with his brother, I ſhall propoſe to the Board to appoint Sitteram Rauze Dewan of the Circar, that we may without delay have the Jemmabundy, and every neceſſary article ſettled, and that the balances due may be immediately collected.

The Board approve in general of the ſentiments expreſſed by the Preſident, and of the arguments he has made uſe of in the foregoing Minute, relative to an arrangement of the Company's lands in the Chicacole Diſtrict.

Mr. Johnſon then delivers in the following Minute:

I readily conſent and agree to adopt the ſentiments of the Preſident, contained in his Minute delivered in this day, ſo far as appears to be conſiſtent, and no further, with the opinions I have already given while Chief of Vizagapatam, on the various ſubjects the above Paper contains.

APPENDIX, No. 45.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 29th July 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill, Eſq.
Major General Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
Peter Perring.

THE Board having aſſembled at the Company's Garden Houſe, agreeably to the adjournment of yeſterday, for the purpoſe of coming to a concluſive determination upon the affairs of the Chicacole Diſtrict; the Preſident expreſſes himſelf concerned to inform them, that his utmoſt endeavours to promote a reconciliation between the two brothers, Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze, have proved ineffectual. He further obſerves, that, in the preſent critical ſituation of affairs, it is neceſſary that harmony ſhould ſubſiſt in the Government of the Northern Circars, not only for the ſake of ſecuring the revenues of that country, but that we may have ſome dependance for military ſupport, in caſe of any invaſion from a foreign Enemy; that for theſe and other reaſons, which are recited at large in his Minute of the 20th inſtant, he continues to be of the ſame opinion he has therein expreſſed; that an accommodation between the two brothers is indiſpenſably requiſite, and he hopes, upon an occaſion of ſo much importance, to ſee unanimity prevail in the Reſolutions of the Board, as nothing conduces ſo eſſentially towards carrying them into effect.

The Preſident alſo adds, That having, purſuant to the Reſolution of yeſterday, required the attendance of Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze, they are now waiting in readineſs to be called before the Board. Previous, however, to their being admitted, he requeſts, that as the circumſtances of the preſent occaſion are of a particular nature, the Members of the Board will give their ſeparate opinions upon it.

The following Minutes are delivered in.

Mr. Perring delivers in the following Minute:

I have fully conſidered the Preſident's Minute, and am clearly of opinion, that it is for the intereſt of the Company that an immediate reconciliation ſhould take place between the two brothers, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze; that on the known abilities of the latter only, the Company can depend for the punctual payment of that part of their revenues dependant on this family; of courſe that it is indiſpenſably neceſſary to give him ſuch a ſhare in the management of the Vizianagrum buſineſs as will enable him to act with effect.

Minute of Mr. Smith.

I wiſh, as much as any Member at this Board, to ſee a hearty reconciliation take place between the Rajah Viziaram Rauze and his brother Sitteram Rauze; but as they have both of them now been before the Board, and the Rajah has expreſſed his utter averſion to the meaſure in ſtrong and pointed terms, I am of opinion that he ſhould not be compelled thereto.

Minute of General Munro.

The Preſident's Minute is ſo full, and correſponds ſo much with my ideas reſpecting Viziaram Rauze and his brother Sitteram Rauze, that there is nothing left for me to ſay upon the ſubject, only to give my moſt hearty aſſent to the ſettling of the collection of the revenues of Viziaram upon Sitteram Rauze, as the only effectual method of ſatisfying the Company's demands, and keeping peace and harmony in that country.

Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze are then deſired to come in, and being ſeated, the Preſident informs Viziaram Rauze of the ſentiments of the Board with reſpect to the lands dependant on Vizianagrum; and concludes with recommending to him, in the ſtrongeſt terms, to ſhew a ready and entire acquieſcence to the wiſhes of the Board, which he aſſures him are dictated, not more by an attention to the intereſts of the Company, than by a regard to juſtice, and to the real and permanent advantage of the Poofputty Family.

Viziaram Rauze returns for Anſwer by an Interpreter, That in all things he is ready to obey the commands of this Government, but that he cannot conſent to an accommodation with his brother Sitteram Rauze.

He is then told, That if the fear of endangering his life, by being reconciled to Sitteram Rauze, which he has repeatedly urged as a principal objection againſt it, be the only one he has to offer, it ought not to have any influence over him, as the Company are a ſufficient guarantee to him.

A Letter from him to Mr. Whitehill being produced (as entered hereafter) he is aſked, how he could write ſo ſtrongly in favour of his brother Sitteram Rauze, unleſs he entertained a favourable diſpoſition towards him?

He replies, That the outward form of an accommodation had paſſed between them, about the time that Letter was written, and alſo upon ſome other occaſions, but that he never felt himſelf cordially reconciled to Sitteram Rauze.

APPENDIX. No. 45.

Here Sitteram Rauze requeſted the permiſſion of the Board to repreſent ſome circumſtances relative to his own ſituation, which being granted, he proceeds as follows:

" For a conſiderable length of time I tranſacted entirely the affairs of my brother's Government, and ſo much were we all at that time upon a footing of equality and brotherly affection, that it never was a queſtion with me whether I acted upon his account or my own. I took all the care I poſſibly could in the management of his country, and omitted no opportunity of improving the revenues of it, or of contributing in every reſpect to his happineſs and welfare, according to the beſt of my ability. I deſire to be informed in what light I was to be conſidered; whether as the brother or as the ſervant of the Rajah?"

Preſident. The Board look upon you as his brother acting for him.

Sitteram Rauze. I deſire that the ſame queſtion may be put to my brother, in preſence of the Board.

Whereupon the queſtion being put;

Viziaram Rauze. It is true he is my brother; but he only held the management of my affairs during my pleaſure.

Queſtion from the Board to Viziaram Rauze. Has Sitteram Rauze ever done any act injurious or offenſive to you?

Viziaram Rauze. He has taken away the Braminies Maniams.

Sitteram Rauze. Who beſtowed them upon the Braminies?

Viziaram Rauze. The Rajahs have uſually done it; but the gifts of individuals have ſometimes been allowed.

Sitteram. If I have taken away the Maniams, who has enjoyed the benefit ariſing from them?

Viziaram. It was received into my treaſury; but ſince that time my ill fortune has been ſuch, that the affairs of my country have never proſpered.

Board to Viziaram. Who has had the diſtributing of that part of the revenue, ſince the Company's tribute has not been paid?

Viziaram Rauze. The perſons who have managed the country.

Some debate ariſing with regard to the authority from which the Pooſputty Family derive their right to the Zemindary of the countries dependant on Vizianagrum, Viziaram Rauze affirms, That he holds it by virtue of a grant from Nizam Ally Cawn, the Soubah of the Decan.

Sitteram Rauze to Viziaram Rauze. Where is the Saned for it?

Viziaram Rauze. There was no Saned; the thing was done in too open and public a manner to render that neceſſary. The whole country were witneſſes to it.

Board to Viziaram Rauze. Have you any thing more to alledge againſt your brother?

Here Sitteram Rauze interpoſing, ſaid, I am ſenſible that Jaggernaut Rauze has contrived and worked up many falſehoods, with intent to prejudice me, by ſetting me at variance with my brother; but I deſire only that Viziaram Rauze may relate before this Board what I have ever done to injure him. For myſelf, I can ſafely ſay, that when I left him I took nothing with me but my own wearing apparel.

Viziaram Rauze. I always conſidered my poſſeſſions as my own; but I am concerned to perceive that the Board do not ſeem to admit it.

Sitteram Rauze to Viziaram Rauze. What was the ſtate of your affairs at the time I undertook the management of them? Your annual revenues amounted then to about ſeven lacks of Rupees, and when I gave up the management I left you poſſeſſed of a revenue amounting to upwards of twenty-two lacks.—It generally happens that perſons acting in ſo high a truſt, reſerve ſome benefit to themſelves, but I never reſerved any ſuch advantage to myſelf.

Viziaram Rauze making no reply, the Board addreſs him, through the Preſident, to the following effect:

Board. You are to know, that this is the laſt opportunity you will have of declaring yourſelf to the ſatisfaction of the Board, and you cannot but be ſenſible that it is an occaſion of the utmoſt importance to your future happineſs and well-doing.—We recommend it to you, in the moſt earneſt manner, to become reconciled to your brother Sitteram Rauze, as we are convinced that it is a meaſure which your own welfare and the intereſt of the Company render indiſpenſably neceſſary.—But ſhould you continue obſtinately to withſtand the preſſing inſtances that have been repeatedly made to you by the Board, conjunctively as well as ſeparately, we ſhall be under the neceſſity of taking ſuch Reſolutions as will, in all probability, be extremely painful to you, but which being once paſſed, can never be recalled.

Viziaram Rauze. I ſhall conſider myſelf henceforward as diveſted of all power and conſequence whatever, ſeeing that the Board urge me to do that which is contrary to my fixed determination, and that the reſult of it is to be the loſing of my country.

The above Anſwer precluding every hope of effecting, by means of perſuaſion and mildneſs, an accommodation between the two brothers, the Preſident, on account of the obſtinacy of Viziaram Rauze, deſires that the following queſtions may be put:

1. That Sitteram Rauze be appointed Dewan of the countries dependant on Vizianagrum, for the management of the collections, but not to the prejudice of Viziaram Rauze's right to the Zemindary.

Mr. Perring. For the Queſtion.
Mr. Smith. Againſt it.
General Munro. For it.
Mr. Whitehill. For it.
Preſident. For it.
Carried in the affirmative, Mr. Smith only diſſenting.

2. That it be recommended to Sitteram Rauze, by every means in his power, to cultivate a friendſhip, and endeavour to bring about a reconciliation with his brother Viziaram Rauze.

Carried unanimouſly.

3. That Sitteram Rauze be directed to look into the accounts of the province committed to his charge, and to acquaint the Board with the reaſons for the preſent balance due from it to the Company. In the mean time, as the ſaid balance has been moſtly incurred during the management of the Rajah and his Servants Trippetty Rauze, Jaggernaut Rauze, and others, that they be called upon to account for, or make good the ſame.

Mr. Perring. I am for the Queſtion.
Mr. Smith. As the Board have thought proper to appoint Sitteram Rauze Dewan of the country, I can have no objection to the preſent Queſtion.
General Munro. I am for the Queſtion.
Mr Whitehill. I am for it.
Preſident. I am for it.
Carried in the affirmative.

4. That Sitteram Rauze do immediately take into conſideration the ſettling of the Tribute or Jemmabundy to be paid to the Company in future, alſo the neceſſary Sibbendy to be kept up, which it muſt be recommended to him to make as ſmall as poſſible.

Carried in the affirmative, Mr. Smith expreſſing himſelf the ſame as to the preceding Queſtion.

The ſeveral queſtions propoſed by the Preſident having been thus reſolved in the affirmative, he declares to Sitteram Rauze the ſenſe of the Board as follows:

Preſident to Sitteram Rauze. We have appointed you Dewan to the Diſtricts dependant on Vizianagrum, in the Chicacole Circar. You will therefore proceed to take charge charge thereof, and uſe your utmoſt endeavours to recover the balances due from thoſe lands to the Company; the Accounts will be ordered to be delivered into your poſſeſſion, and you are to take the moſt expeditious and effectual means of ſettling a Jemmabundy for the ſaid Diſtricts. As ſoon as you are ready to ſet out for Vizianagrum, an eſcort of Troops ſhall be ordered to attend you thither. Your Brother is, however, ſtill to be conſidered as Rajah of the Country, and you are to conduct yourſelf in ſuch a manner as may be the moſt likely to produce a reconciliation with him.

APPENDIX. No. 45.

Ordered, That a Saned be prepared for Sitteram Rauze, conformably to the purport of the foregoing Reſolution.

The Preſident then addreſſes himſelf to Viziaram Rauze in the following manner:

Preſident to Viziaram Rauze. Having done all that lay in our power to effect what appeared to us the ſureſt means of promoting your real advantage, whatever uneaſineſs you may experience from the meaſures which this Government hath judged neceſſary to be adopted, you ought to impute entirely to the pernicious Councils of your principal Servants, and thoſe in whom you have imprudently placed your confidence.

Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze withdrawing, the Board adjourn unto Friday next the 31ſt, for taking into conſideration the ſubject of the Ancapilly Zemindary, and other matters relative to the Chicacole Diſtrict.

Letter from Viziaram Rauze to Mr. Whitehill.

I, Meerjah Rauze Viziaram Rauze, Behader, Munna Sultan, write this Letter: As there is a large ſum of money due to me from the Diſtricts of Sutleavaram and Ancapilly, all the Papers concerning them to my Brother, and have ſent him to you. I requeſt the favour of you, Gentlemen, to favour him with whatever applications he may make concerning them, and grant him thoſe Diſtricts, and which will be to my ſatisfaction; and there will be no diſpute concerning the money due to me with the Company. You may keep this Letter in the Company as a voucher; and I hope you will make him Proprietor of thoſe Diſtricts. With regard to this buſineſs, what I have already wrote, and what I ſhall henceforth write, you need not regard them; but I hope you, Gentlemen, will regard and take notice of this Letter.

(Signed) Viziaram Rauze Meerjah Rauze.

Thos Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
P. Perring.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 3d Auguſt 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident.
John Whitehill,
Major General Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
Peter Perring.

The Preſident obſerves to the Board, That notwithſtanding Sitteram Rauze was, at laſt Conſultation, appointed Dewan or Manager for the Diſtricts dependant on Vizianagrum, and that the ſame was then declared to his Brother Viziaram Rauze, the former has not yet been able to obtain the accounts of thoſe lands, owing to the obſtructions which the latter has created, with the view of ſetting aſide the Reſolutions of the Board in favour of Sitteram Rauze. The Preſident therefore recommends, that Viziaram Rauze be poſitively ordered to ſend the Muſnedars and other Officers of the Revenue, to Sitteram Rauze; and that he be directed to proceed with him to Vizianagrum, as ſoon as the neceſſary ſtipulations for paying off his balance, and ſettling a new Jemmabundy, ſhall be concluded.

Approved; and ordered accordingly.

The Preſident requeſts, That ſome perſons who are attending without may be called before the Board, as he wiſhes to put a few queſtions to them relative to the affairs of the Chicacole Circar; and the ſame being agreed to, Jaggernaut Rauze is called in, and interrogated as follows:

Queſ. Why have you not paid off the balances you owe the Company?—Anſ. I will pay them off if you will deliver up Meir Saib to me.

Queſ. What is become of the Collections from the Ancapilly Zemindary, during the time it was under your management?—Anſ. I paid them to the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam.

Queſ. What proof of this can you ſhew?—Anſ. I have their receipts.

Queſ. Whoſe Servant do you reckon yourſelf?—Anſ. I am in Viziaram Rauze's pay, but under the Company's protection.

Queſ. Did you not give an obligation not to ſerve the Vizianagrum family without the Company's leave?—Anſ. The Gentlemen at Vizagapatam have given me leave under their hands.

Queſ. What are the names of thoſe Gentlemen?—Anſ. Meſſrs. Johnſon, Williams, Crawford, and Barlow.

Queſ. When is it dated?—Anſ. I do not know.

Being further queſtioned, he prevaricates, and contradicts his aſſertion of the written permiſſion.

Queſ. In whoſe name is the buſineſs of Vizianagrum tranſacted?—Anſ. In the name of Guzziputty Rauze.

Queſ. Is he Sitteram Rauze's Son?—He was ſo formerly, but now he is Viziaram Rauze's.

Queſ. Are not all Acts of Government made out in his name?—Anſ. Yes.

Queſ. Is he conſidered as the Zemindar of the Country?—Anſ. He is.

Queſ. Have not bonds that were formerly due to European Gentlemen from Viziaram Rauze, been lately made out in the name of Guzziputty Rauze?—Anſ. Some bonds have, and others have not.

Queſ. Is the public ſeal of the Zemindary or Government Guzziputty Rauze's ſeal?—Anſ. Sometimes the ſeal of Viziaram Rauze is made uſe of, and ſometimes that of Guzziputty Rauze.

Queſ. Under whoſe ſeal are Acts of Government enforced and validated?—Anſ. Under Guzziputty's.

Queſ. Did not Viziaram Rauze write a Letter to the Gentlemen at Vizagapatam, importing, that the circumſtance of the adoption of Guzziputty Rauze was untrue?—Anſ. He wrote it with the concurrence of Sitteram Rauze, as they were apprehenſive that the Company might be diſpleaſed at ſuch an act being done without their ſanction.

Preſ. You muſt go and ſettle all the Accounts of the Country with Sitteram Rauze, and pay off your balances.

Jaggernaut. As Sitteram Rauze and I are in a ſtate of enmity with one another, how can I go to him upon the Company's buſineſs?

Preſ. It is the Government that commands you to it. Sitteram Rauze will lay before the Board whatever Accounts you deliver to him.

Jag. I ſhall be glad of it. I deſire, however, that Meer Saib may be compelled to pay what he owes me.

Preſ. That is not the matter in queſtion, your balances muſt be paid off unconditionally.

Jaggernaut Rauze informs the Board, that Mr. Morgan Williams, as acting Chief of Vizagapatam, ſome time ſince received from him, on account of the Honourable Company's Kiſts, a Bond of Meir Saib's, to the amount of fifty thouſand Rupees.

As Meir Saib is a man who has long been looked upon as in a ſtate of inſolvency, the Board cannot ſuffer themſelves to believe that this circumſtance can have happened as Jaggernaut Rauze repreſents. Agreed, however, that a Letter a Letter be written to the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam, directing them to enquire and inform us particularly on the ſubject.

Jaggernaut Rauze being ordered to withdraw, Juggah Row is called in, and interrogated as follows:

Queſ. You have long acted in the capacity of the Company's Dubaſh, or Interpreter, at Vizagapatam. In what ſtate do you look upon the Diſtricts of Vizianagrum to be at preſent?—Anſ. They have been much injured by the diſputes long ſubſiſting between the two brothers, Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze.

Queſ. Do you think Viziaram Rauze capable of managing the affairs of his Country?—Anſ. I cannot take upon me to ſay. Your Honour, &c. are the moſt capable of judging, from the manner in which he has performed his engagements to the Company.

Queſ. Are all acts of Government done in the name of Guzziputty Rauze, or in whoſe name are they done?—Anſ. In Guzziputty Rauze's.

Queſ. Do you not think that a diviſion between the two brothers muſt prove detrimental to the Country?—Anſ. Every body muſt be ſenſible of it, if the reconciliation be ſincere.

Preſ. Relate what further particulars you are acquainted with, regarding the Countries dependant on Vizianagrum.

Jug. The Rajah Viziaram Rauze has given away part of the Medigut Country, yielding an annual Revenue of ſeventeen thouſand Rupees, in order to preſerve tranquillity to his own Diſtricts. He has alſo reſtored the Curaupaum Diſtrict, amounting to about fifty thouſand Rupees a year, to the ancient poſſeſſors of it, and he has loſt a tract of land worth fifty thouſand Rupees a year, which was forcibly taken from him by the people of Golconda.

Juggah Row being ordered to withdraw, the Board adjourned to Wedneſday next at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

Thomas Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Peter Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 46.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 27th February 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Major Gen^l Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

READ the following Letters from Vizagapatam:

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have received your Letter of the 22d ultimo, and in obedience to your Honour, &c. commands, now forward to you a copy of the Tranſlation of a Paper delivered to our Chief by Viziaram Rauze, which indeed contains a lively deſcription of the ſentiments he entertained of Sitteram Rauze.

With regard to the Letter wrote by Viziaram Rauze in anſwer to one of the Chiefs reſpecting the adoption of Sitteram Rauze's ſon as his preſumptive heir, we are ſorry to ſay, that it has either been miſlaid or loſt, as it cannot at preſent be found; however, ſo ſoon as we receive a copy of the ſaid Letter from the Rajah (to whom we have applied for one) it ſhall be ſent to you.

(Signed) M. Williams,
Hy Crawford,
Nath^l Barlow,
Cha^s Maxtone.

Vizagapatam,
5th February 1778.

Tranſlation of a Repreſentation to Samuel Johnſon, Eſq. Chief, by Viziaram Rauze.

As you inform me it would afford much pleaſure to the Governor, Mr. Stratton, to hear of my reconciliation with my brother, and that it would alſo contribute greatly to your own ſatisfaction, I have thought it neceſſary to inform you of my real ſentiments on this ſubject.

For fourteen years paſt my brother, Sitteram Rauze, confined me, as if a priſoner, in my own Fort, and took upon him the ſole management of all my affairs; moreover, the injuries and inſults he rendered me, during this interval, were greater than I can recapitulate. Knowing his temper, I was induced to diſſemble, and make him believe I was an inſignificant perſon, and incapable of managing my Country, otherwiſe my life would have been in danger; but now having an inclination to take the whole management of my Country upon myſelf, and to convince the world, that I ever was capable of managing my own affairs, I have excluded him from interfering, and by the Almighty's favour, I manage all my buſineſs myſelf, and find from experience, that it is not a weight upon me. When I reflect on the hardſhips I have ſuffered from my brother, it can never enter my thoughts to reconcile myſelf with him during his life, or to be under his management as I was before. If you and the Company wiſh to ſee my life prolonged, you muſt drop all thoughts of our union; on the contrary, if you and the Company are averſe to my exiſtence, then you may do as you think proper.

Theſe are my undiſguiſed ſentiments of this matter, to authenticate which I have written them with my own hands.

(A true copy.) Nath^l Barlow, Sec^y.

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

In obedience to your commands of the 22d ultimo, we have now the honour of tranſmitting you a copy of the Rajah's Letter to the Chief, regarding the adoption of his brother Sitteram Rauze's ſon.

We are with reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient
humble Servants,
Cha^s Maxtone,
N. Barlow,
Hy Crawford,
M. Williams.

Vipagapatam,
16th February 1778.

Tranſlation of a Letter from Viziaram Rauze to the Chief, dated 10th July 1777.

I have received your Letter, wherein you ſay, that you are informed that I had an entertainment made for my brother's ſon, on account of adopting him as my preſumptive heir, which all the people believe; and that you are very much ſurpriſed at my not communicating ſo material a circumſtance to you. In caſe this was a fact, the Governor lately wrote both me and my brother, that he ſhould be glad to effect a reconciliation between us, on which ſubject he alſo wrote to you. I thought it would be for our intereſt to pleaſe the Preſident, and therefore reſolved to reconcile myſelf to my brother; although my prejudices were very ſtrongly againſt him, for which purpoſe I ſent for him and his ſon Guzziputty, and made an entertainment to pleaſe them both. Be aſſured there was nothing ſerious in the adoption, and that our meeting together was merely convivial, for I never never gave my Cowle in Guddiputty's name, which I could not do without the Governor and Council's permiſſion, or repreſenting it to you. I am very much ſurpriſed at your writing to me, that you know nothing from me concerning the affair, becauſe I think at our laſt meeting, there was a long converſation between us about it, but I may be miſtaken. What can I ſay more? (A true copy.)

APPENDIX No. 47.

*Nath*l Barlow, Secr.

APPENDIX, No. 47.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, 18th of Auguſt 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

General Munro abſent on ſervice.
Mr. Smith indiſpoſed.

READ the following Letter from Vizagapatam:

Revenue Department.

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

In our Letter of the 16th June and 3d ultimo, we expreſſed ſo fully our diſtreſs for caſh, that we had ſanguine hopes of teips or bills from Madras, by the influence of your Honour, &c. Council; we are informed, the repreſentatives of Viziaram Rauze, and the Havelly Renter Sitteram Rauze are in advance, but not having received inſtructions from their Conſtituents, they withhold the kiſts due.

In our Letter of the 3d ult°. we obſerve, "that we are urgent in ſoliciting your aſſiſtance, and in ſtating our diſtreſs, becauſe we have no money to advance our merchants on account of the inveſtments, nor any proſpect of a reſource within ourſelves, for our military payments the enſuing month of Auguſt." It is with concern we inform you, notwithſtanding repeated and preſſing ſolicitations, we have received no money from any of the repreſentatives of the Zemindars now at the Preſidency, ſince we laſt had the honour of addreſſing you, except five thouſand Rupees from Padnab Rauze, the repreſentative of Jaggernaut Rauze, who is in charge of the Ancapilly country. Our inveſtment is at a ſtand for want of money; the pay due to our military muſt have remained in arrears, but that Mr. Davidſon has prevailed with thoſe acting for the eſtate of the late Captain Murphy, to depoſit into the Company's caſh, for the Chief and Council, notes payable on demand for fourteen thouſand Rupees without intereſt, which, with the five thouſand above-mentioned, will enable us to pay our current expences for the preſent month of Auguſt.

Having been directed, in caſe of urgency to apply to Gangam for aſſiſtance, we addreſſed that Board the 14th ultimo; but you will perceive from their reply, incloſed No. 1. that they were not able to comply with our requiſition: ſince the receipt of your Letter of the 24th July, we have again written to them on the ſubject, but we have little reaſon to rely on them for a ſupply, as they informed us their expences are increaſed.

Before we ventured to apply to Gangam, the Chief, the 22d June, addreſſed the principal Soucars, deſiring to know of them, whether they could aſſiſt the Government with money on bond, or for their bills on the Preſidency. The replies of the Soucars are unfavourable; and it would appear by the incloſed copies of Letters, No. 2 and 3, from the principal Soucar of the Diſtrict, Conarra Naick, that the Rajah, Viziaram Rauze, is much involved with him.

In caſe of diſtreſs for treaſure, we requeſt to know, whether we may be permitted to draw on the Preſidency if occaſion offer, or whether we may be allowed to take up money on bond, if we ſhould be able to procure any; we think it neceſſary to apply for leave in ſuch caſe; but in this remote place, even if your permiſſion ſhould be obtained, we have little proſpect of receiving any conſiderable ſum, either for our bills or on bond; our principal reliance is from your influence with the Zemindars at Madras, in order to their remitting to us Soucar bills, for the heavy arrears due from the Zemindars. The following is an abſtract of their preſent debts to the end July, viz.

	Rupees.
From Viziaram Rauze - - - - -	321,196 5 4
Sitteram Rauze - - - - -	58,750 — —
Jaggernaut Rauze - - - - -	103,030 — —
Jagganaut Dee - - - - -	103,333 5 4
Juggardeo - - - - -	20,742 — —
Ancapilly Zemindary, under the charge of Jagganaut Rauze -	42,000 — —
Rupees -	649,051 10 8

We are reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient
humble Servants,
*Alex*r Davidſon,
Hy Crawford,
*Nath*l Barlow,
Cha. Maxtone.

Vizagapatam,
Auguſt 5, 1778.

From Conaroo Naick, Soucar, to the Chief of Vizagapatam, dated Vizianagrum, 22d of May 1778.—Received 23d of May 1778.

I have received your Letter, deſiring me to come to you. I have lately received two Letters from my maſter at Hydrabad, deſiring me to go to him. In theſe parts, Viziaram Rauze is indebted to me, principal without intereſt, three lack and twenty thouſand Rupees to this time; Jumpana Jaggernaut Rauze, and Padnab Rauze, are alſo indebted to me large ſums; beſides, at Paleonda, Zeekalie, &c. large balances are due. Such heavy debts being due in this Diſtrict, my maſter is quite tired out and has deſired me to go to him. I intend, after I go to Paleonda, &c. to ſettle ſome balances, to come to you to aſk my leave of you, but not being well at preſent, I am unable to proceed there. Such being our ſituation, how can we lend money to thoſe who want it? As you have ſent for me, as ſoon as I am better I will proceed to Vizagapatam. I had no occaſion to write ſo much, but you being the Chief, I take the liberty to mention to you my ſituation.

(A true copy.)
Charles Maxtone, Secr.

From Conaroo Naick, Soucar, to the Chief of Vizagapatam, dated Vizianagrum, the 24th of June 1778.—Received 5th of June 1778.

You were pleaſed to write to me, to let you know if I could ſupply you with 50,000 Rupees, either for the Chief and Council's bond, or for their bills on the Governor and Council; in conſequence of which, I acquaint you, the Pooſapally Rajahs are indebted to me the amount of 325,000 Rupees; the Teekaly man and Zemindars, and the Renters of thoſe parts, are indebted to me 125,000 Rupees, and none of theſe balances can be collected. My maſter has drawn on me in favour of certain merchants, which bills I find it out of my power to diſcharge.

If it were in my power to ſerve the Company, I would do ſo with pleaſure, but it being out of my power, I am ſorry I cannot comply with your requeſt.

I wrote to you, that I would come to you; for theſe ſeveral days paſt I have been very ill, and am ſtill much indiſpoſed; have not been able to go to Palaconda or Teckaly, on account of my ill health.

(A true copy.)
Charles Maxtone, Secr.

To Mr. Alexander Davidſon, Chief of the Council at Vizagapatam.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letter of the 14th inſtant, and are much concerned it is not in our power to aſſiſt you with the ſum of money you have applied to us for, ſince the date of Mr. Williams's Letter to Mr. Davidſon, giving him reaſon to expect we might be able to furniſh you with Rupees 50,000. A ſhip has called here, by order of the Honourable Board, for all our ſurplus caſh, and our expences being of late much increaſed, we fear our inability to aſſiſt you for ſome time to come.

We are,
Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient Servants,
Morgan Williams,
Rob^t Maunſell,
Rob^t Hughes,
George Foſter.

(A true copy.)
Cha^s Maxtone, Secr^y.

The Chief and Council of Vizagapatam having, by Letter of yeſterday's date from the Civil Department, been permitted to draw upon the Preſidency for ſuch ſupplies of caſh as may be neceſſary for their immediate exigencies, it is needleſs to take notice of their preſent application.

The Preſident delivers in the following Minute:

I am happy to acquaint the Board, that a reconciliation has taken place between the two Northern Rajahs, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze, which I believe to be ſincere, and hope it will be attended with all the ſalutary conſequences I expect, from the endeavours you have uſed to bring them together. If I wanted any circumſtance to confirm me in my opinion I had formed of the neceſſity of making up the quarrel between the two brothers, and of ſending Jaggernaut Rauze to Vizagapatam to ſettle the heavy balances due from him with the Chief and Council there, the laſt Letters received from that factory, with an account of the balances and debts due from the Vizianagrum family, and Jaggernaut Rauze to the Company; the Soucars and individuals will ſufficiently evince the propriety of the meaſures I propoſed to purſue.

The Preſident further informs the Board, that having preſſed Viziaram Rauze upon the ſubject of diſcharging his balances to the Company: he, Viziaram Rauze, had promiſed to give him an order for that purpoſe upon his agent in the Chicacole Diſtrict; and the Preſident expects to receive it from him in the courſe of a few days.

The Preſident acquaints the Board, that he has for ſome time paſt applied himſelf with much attention towards making the neceſſary enquiry into the circumſtances of the ſeveral principal Zemindars dependant on Maſulipatam, who are now at the Preſidency, as well with a view of ſtipulating with them for an increaſe of the Company's Jemmabundy, as for the diſcharging their reſpective outſtanding balances: that having nearly completed theſe enquiries, and inveſtigated the claims which ſome of the Zemindars reciprocally make upon one another; he takes this opportunity of acquainting the Board, that he means ſhortly to lay before them a particular account of each Country, with his opinion of the moſt eligible meaſures to be taken regarding it; as he wiſhes that the intention of calling up the Zemindars to the Preſidency ſhould be accompliſhed without loſs of time, that they may be ordered back to their reſpective Diſtricts.

The Board receive with ſatisfaction, this intimation of the Preſident's intentions, and will chearfully co-operate with him upon every occaſion, in meaſures ſo conducive to the advancement of the Company's intereſts, as thoſe which he appears to be deſirous of adopting, with reſpect to the Zemindars dependant on Maſulipatam.

Thomas Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Samuel Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 48.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 28th Auguſt 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Preſident reports to the Board, that Viziaram Rauze has informed him of his having ſent an order to his ſervants at Vizagapatam, for paying immediately a Lack of Rupees into the hands of the Chief and Council there, on account of his balances to the Company.

He alſo acquaints them, that from the diſpoſition which he has of late obſerved in the ſeveral Zemindars dependant on Maſulipatam, he entertains the moſt confident hopes of bringing them to acquieſce in an augmentation of the Company's Jemmabundy.

The Board perceive with ſatisfaction, the ſucceſs that has thus far attended the Preſident's negociations with the Zemindars and other Northern tributaries dependant on the Company; and as it is probable that his time may ſhortly be taken up by buſineſs of another nature, they recommended to him to conclude as ſpeedily as poſſible, what he is at preſent engaged in, that the Company's Revenue may be firmly eſtabliſhed upon an advantageous footing, and he be left at liberty to purſue their intereſts in the Military Department.

APPENDIX, No. 49.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 11th September 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Board now reſuming the conſideration of the unlet farms dependant on Maſulipatam;—as it is neceſſary, that we ſhould be furniſhed with every information concerning them, to enable us to determine upon the mode of collecting thoſe Revenues in future, it is reſolved, that the Chief and Council be directed to prepare and forward to us without delay, a ſtatement of them for the two laſt years that they have been under their management; ſhewing, what ſums have been due from them each year, with the amount paid for the ſaid time into the Company's caſh, and the balances outſtanding reſpectively at the expiration thereof, diſtinguiſhing in what manner ſuch balances have ariſen, and how ſoon they are likely to be recovered.

Diſpatched

APPENDIX. No. 49.

Diſpatched by Tappies, the following Letter to Maſulipatam:

To Mr. Anthony Sadlier, Chief, &c. Council at Maſulipatam.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letters of the 22d July, and 5th and 24th ultimo.

The unlet farms dependant on your Settlement being at preſent under conſideration, and as it is neceſſary that we ſhould be furniſhed with every information concerning them, to enable us to determine upon the mode of collecting theſe Revenues in future, we deſire you will prepare and forward without delay, a ſtatement of them for the laſt two years that they have been under your management, ſhewing what ſums have been due from them each year, with the amount paid for the ſame into the Company's caſh, and the balances outſtanding reſpectively at the expiration thereof, diſtinguiſhing in what manner they have ariſen, and how they are likely to be received. We are,

Gentlemen, &c.

Fort Saint George, 12th Sept^{r} 1778. Your affectionate Friends.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 2d October 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

Read the following Letter from Maſulipatam:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council, Fort St. George.

We have been favoured with your commands in your Revenue Department, under date the 12th inſtant.

We incloſe to you the ſtatements of the different farmers, under the form you were pleaſed to ſend us, with however, an additional head, which we judged would throw ſome uſeful lights on this ſubject.

We are, with reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient,
humble Servants,
Anth^{y}. Sadlier,
James Hodges,
Tho^{s} Barnard.

Maſulipatam, Sep^{t} 24th 1778.

Mr. Hodges delivers in to the Board, the accounts of Nizampatam Diſtrict for the firſt and ſecond years management, after the form reſolved upon; in regard to the third year's buſineſs, the Jemmabundy was not yet ſettled; to do this in a proper manner, it is neceſſary for the Manager to be on the ſpot: we did not proceed to this for ſome time, on account of the preſſing buſineſs of the Settlement, and the Board being left with only three of its Members; he begs to remark, that this is no advantage to the Company. The heavy part of the grain having been ordered here as a garriſon ſtore, which will much aſſiſt the buſineſs of the year, which is indeed a fortunate circumſtance, as the Troops paſſing through this Diſtrict have entirely depopulated it; theſe detachments, inſtead of carrying with them the Coolies they were ſupplied with at their firſt outſet, took from Nizampatam one thouſand men, moſt of whom were the cultivators; the plough ſtill remains nearly at a ſtand, eight hundred of theſe not being returned which were carried away by the Troops under the command of Captain Colliers; to attempt ſettling the Jemmabundy until the return of its inhabitants would be vain. Mr. Hodges would wiſh to give the Board ſome ſatisfaction reſpecting the buſineſs of laſt year, but the preſent military preparations, added to the deſertion of the people, will, doubtleſs, retard the collection; and the withdrawing of all the Revenue's Sepoys muſt ſeverely affect the ſale of our ſalt, which, with ſuch aſſiſtance, was at leaſt one-third of the amount of the profit of this farm. To ſhew by what means this can affect the Revenue on the above article for the year in queſtion, it is neceſſary to obſerve, that the ſale of ſalt for that year commenced as uſual 1ſt April, and does not therefore terminate till 31ſt March next. The want of Sepoys, without which this Diſtrict has never been left (or at leaſt for many years back) muſt alſo conſiderably injure the Revenue, by impeding the collections. It is not therefore at the preſent inſtant, from the above circumſtances, in his power to give the Board any ſatisfactory idea of the Company's clear receipts this year from Nizampatam.

James Hodges.

FORT SAINT GEORGE, 2d October 1778.

NIZAMPATAM FARM, 1ſt Year of Management, taken Charge of 1ſt September 1775; Jemmabundy ſettled.

Jemmabundy ſettled, or ſums due each Year.	Advances made (or Loans) to begin the Cultivation, and for making of Salt.	Old Rent, or Rent previous to the Farm coming under Management.	Amount paid into Caſh.	Balance due.	Reaſons why due, and when they will be paid, and how theſe Balances aroſe.
Mrd^{s} Pag^{s} 28,109	5,900	19,600

E. E.
P^{r}
James Hodges, Man^{r}.

APPENDIX. No. 49.

FORT SAINT GEORGE, 2d October 1778.

NIZAMPATAM FARM, 2d Year's Management; Jemmabundy ſettled 14th of July 1777.

Jemmabundy ſettled, or Sums due.	Old Rent.	Advances made (or Loans) to begin the Cultivation, and for making of Salt.	Amount paid into Cash.	Balance due.	Reaſons why due, and when they will be paid; and how theſe Balances aroſe.
21,038	19,600	5,900	2,37,200	3,238	Grain having been at ſo low a price, the inhabitants were deſirous of waiting, with a hope of its riſing; this retarded the ſale of the grain, and of courſe kept back the payments. But here the Manager obſerves, that Renters are not uſed to collect ſo expeditiouſly in this Farm as the Company appear to have done. Theſe balances aroſe from the mode invariably purſued in all our Farms—the inhabitants receive the grain at the market price, and give bonds to the Renter or Manager. This balance will (if no diſturbances ariſe) with much more, be paid into caſh within two months. The rains which poured down like an inundation on this diſtrict laſt September, rolled almoſt the whole of the crop of grain, which is the reaſon the Revenue fell ſhort laſt year.

E. E. James Hodges, Man^r.

FORT SAINT GEORGE, 2d October 1778.

GUNDOOR and ACCLAMANAR FARM, 1ſt Year of Management, taken Charge of 1ſt September 1775; Jemmabundy ſettled in the Month of June 1776.

Jemmabundy ſettled, or Sums due each Year.	Advances made (or Sums) to begin the Cultivation.	Old Rent, or Rents previous to the Farms coming under Management.	Amount paid into Cash.	Balance due.	Shewing the Manner in which theſe Balances have ariſen, and how ſoon they are likely to be recovered.
17,213 7 51	1,000 — —	11,200 — —	18,213 7 51
	2d Year of Management.
11,955 11 2	3,500 — —	— —	11,440 19 32	4,014 37 50	Part of this balance, nearly the whole, conſiſt in grain; the low price thereof, in all the Circars, for ſome time paſt, has prevented the earlier ſale of it; the whole of it will ſtill be realized, in all probability, in the courſe of three months.
	3d Years Management.
9,269 27 71	3,500 — —	— —	2,000 — —	10,455 25 63	The Jemmabundy of this year is but recently ſettled; the payments are never made at ſo early a period after it; but there is every reaſon to expect the amount of this balance will be collected within ſix months from the preſent date.

T. Barnard, per
J. P. Boileau.

APPENDIX.
No. 49.

FORT SAINT GEORGE, 2d October 1778.

BANDARMALANKE, &c. Towns, Farms, 1ſt Year of Management, taken Charge of 1ſt Sep^{r} 1775; Jemmabundy ſettled in the Month of June 1776.

Jemmabundy ſettled, or Sums due each Year.	Advances made, or Sums to begin the Cultivation.	Old Rent, or Rent previous to the Farms coming under Management.	Amount paid into Caſh.	Balance due.	Shewing the Manner in which theſe Balances have ariſen, and how ſoon they are likely to be recovered.
6,164 25 39	700 — —	6,000 — —	6,864 25 39
	2d Year of Management.
4,913 26 6	600 — —	— —	5,513 26 6
	3d Year of Management.
3,561 28 78	— —	— —	835 11 55	2,726 17 23	The payments are never made immediately upon the ſettling of the Jemmabundy; this happened in the month of July for this Farm, therefore, ſo large a balance will take ſix months to call it in.

Tho^{s} Barnard, Man^{r}.

FORT SAINT GEORGE, 2d October 1778.

ENEGODROO FARM, 1ſt Year of Management, taken Charge of 1ſt Sept^{r} 1775; Jemmabundy ſettled in the Month of June 1776.

Jemmabundy ſettled, or Sums due each Year.	Advances made, or Sums to begin the Cultivation.	Old Rent, or Rent previous to the Farms coming under Management.	Amount paid into Caſh.	Balance due.	Shewing the Manner in which theſe Balances have ariſen, and how ſoon they are likely to be recovered.
4,356 5 9	500 — —	2,590 — —	4,856 5 9
	2d Year of Management.
2,781 33 8	1,500 — —	— —	2,781 33 8	1,500 — —	This balance is the advance to the Farmer for laſt year's cultivation; it is promiſed to be repaid in the courſe of three months.
	3d Year of Management.
2,260 3 47	— —	— —	218 12 72	2,041 36 55	The Jemmabundy has but lately been ſettled, whence ſo large a balance; the whole will probably be cleared in ſix months time.

Tho^{s} Barnard, P^{r} A. Pringle.

Agreed, That the further conſideration of this buſineſs be deferred till Mr. Cotsford takes upon him the Chief-ſhip of Maſulipatam.

The Preſident delivers in the following Minute relative to, and Statement of, the Revenues of the Maſulipatam Diſtrict, with the propoſed Jemmabundy for the next 5 years:

The many complaints received on my arrival from the Northern Settlements, the large balances that appeared due from the Zemindars, induced me to propoſe, that the beſt method to ſettle all differences, to ſecure the balances, and to fall on ſome plan for eſtabliſhing a fixed revenue to the Company, would be, to order the Zemindars to the Preſidency.

The Board were pleaſed to agree with me in opinion, and ſeveral of them are accordingly come up. But it appears from enquiry they are ſo loaded with debt, as well to the Company as to individuals, that I obſerve, with great concern, the little proſpect there is of any great increaſe of revenue from their lands, or the ſpeedy payment of what remains due from them; it ſeems abſolutely neceſſary that they ſhould be at ſome certainty, and that for a length of time, what Tribute they are to pay; that their Jemmabundy ſhould be ſettled accordingly, that they may not be liable to frequent calls for making a freſh ſettlement, which is ever attended with inconveniencies and trouble. The ſituation of their ſeveral countries is at preſent in ſuch a ſtate as to require indulgence and time to recover them. I will not determine where miſmanagement has firſt ariſen; but we find in April one payment of the laſt and ſix of the preſent year were due, and not the leaſt part of ſo heavy a debt likely to be received. Since that, another payment has become due, the 31ſt of Auguſt, which greatly increaſes their arrears to the Company. I ſpeak of the Zemindars in the Maſulipatam Diſtrict alone, and have been at ſome pains to enquire into their ſeveral circumſtances.

Jagapulle Rauze, of Peddepore, is ſaid to be able to ſettle

ſettle his affairs if time is allowed him, and there is no doubt but the balances due from him will be received; part he is ready now to pay in, and he has agreed to an increaſe of his Jemmabundy, which ſeveral others have followed, as will appear by the account annexed.

Row Venceta Row's country, by good management, is recovering, and he promiſes to make good his balance, and abſolutely objects to an increaſe of Jemmabundy, which he declares his country cannot bear; and this is confirmed by the teſtimony of others acquainted with his ſituation.

Coldinda Trippetty Rauze, was formerly punctual in his payments to the Company, is ſaid to be a good and able Manager of his country, and well verſed in buſineſs, and at little expence for Sibbendy; has been extremely uſeful to the Company's revenues, in aiding the different Chiefs to ſettle the Jemmabundy, by ſubſtituting himſelf ſecurity for Zemindars, who otherwiſe could not have found it; and has hitherto preſerved great influence among the Zemindars; he is ſaid to have loſt conſiderably by the countries under his management, for which he became ſecurity, and has paid on that account what money he may have ſaved by his former good management. At preſent he is much in arrears, both to the Company and his Soucars, and is greatly embarraſſed to make good his payments. He aſſures me, if time is allowed, and he is not much preſſed at preſent, the whole of his debt ſhall be ſoon diſcharged.

Opparow's country has been in the management of other hands, on account of the conſiderable debts due from him; great part of his Zemindary is under the management of Coldinda Trippetty Rauze, and the remainder mortgaged to and ſuperintended by different people. His country is ſaid to be a very fine one, capable of great improvement, and of diſcharging its Tribute to the Company when properly taken care of. Opparow has not been thought equal to the taſk; he is given up to indolence and expence, and fond of the name of having a large Sibbendy. There ſeems no proſpect of proſperity to his country, or certainty of recovering the Company's balances, but by ſequeſtration under the management of proper perſons, making him an allowance for his maintenance till the country is in ſome meaſure eaſed of the load of debt with which it is now burthened, when he may be again put in poſſeſſion, with proper regulations for ſecuring the Company's rents. And I am of opinion, it ſhould in the ſtrongeſt manner be recommended to the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam, to take Opparow's ſituation into conſideration, and endeavour to fall on ſuch a plan, either by ſequeſtration or the appointing a proper Manager to ſee the Company's Tribute ſecured, and the private Creditors ſatisfied by an equitable diviſion of the ſurplus revenue, after making a proviſion for Opparow's expences. I am informed the Land Cuſtoms would be ſufficient for that purpoſe, and with which he would be contented till his affairs are retrieved and brought into ſuch order as may allow of his being reſtored to the full poſſeſſion of his Zemindary.

Ramachunder Rauze complains of having had his Jemmabundy raiſed more on former occaſions, in proportion, than the other Zemindars. He, however, gives way to the preſent increaſe, and ſays, he is ready here or at Maſulipatam to diſcharge the balance due from him, but is deſirous of having his claim ſettled to the Cotah Country, which has been in diſpute between him and another branch of his family.

Codant Ram and Vaſſereddy Ramanah have always been punctual in the performance of their engagements to the Company, and may be expected to continue ſo.

I have now mentioned the principal of the Zemindars of the Maſulipatam Diſtrict; ſome few of the leſs conſiderable ones are not come up, but I am aſſured they will have no objection to an increaſe of Jemmabundy, in proportion to what the others pay; and it ſhould be recommended to the Chief and Council to ſettle with them accordingly for the ſame term, that Cowles may be granted accordingly.

The heavy balances due from the Zemindars ſeem owing, in ſome meaſure, to their not keeping ſtrictly to their engagements with the Soucars, to whom they are greatly indebted for former payments, and the Soucars, on that account, are not inclined to grant them further Teeps; it will therefore be neceſſary, ſhould the whole of the balance not be ſoon paid after the return of the Zemindars to Maſulipatam, that Tajeldars be ſent by the Chief and Council into the ſeveral diſtricts from whence any conſiderable ſums remain due, as well to ſecure the crops for the enſuing year's revenue, as to provide for the payment of what is owing; it being a certain eſtabliſhed rule, that the rents to Government have always a prior claim, and ought to be accounted for before any proviſion is made for other demands.

It is to be wiſhed, and I think ſhould in the ſtrongeſt manner be recommended to Mr. Cotsford, at a proper time, to endeavour to ſecure the Company's revenue without the aſſiſtance or interference of the Soucars; who, from the high intereſt and other advantages they receive, acquire a very conſiderable profit on the revenues of the country, oppreſſive to the Zemindar and Landholder, who by this mode is conſtantly burthened with debt, which, from a failure of crop or bad ſeaſon, he can hardly ever relieve himſelf from, and is left at the mercy of the Soucars to ſatisfy the Government. If ſome plan could be formed to ſecure the crop on the Government's account, till by the ſale of the produce the revenue might be provided for, nothing could contribute more to the relief of the Zemindars and the country in general; and I ſhould ſuppoſe it no difficult matter to appoint people on account of the Company for that purpoſe, under proper checks. It would be the intereſt of the Zemindar to prevent all colluſive management; for as ſoon as Government have received their ſhare, which it is his buſineſs to ſee diſpoſed of to the beſt advantage, the greater the ſurplus the more for his benefit, and it becomes entirely his own property: but in his agreements with the Soucars, he is under the neceſſity of ſubmitting to many impoſitions to ſecure their future aſſiſtance whenever Government calls on them for arrears: nor are the Company better ſecured by receiving Teeps from the Soucars; the payment of them is generally for a length of time, and depends upon the ſale of the produce of the lands, which the Soucars have in their hands as ſecurity, and which might as well be taken for the Company.

Some inconveniencies might ariſe at firſt, from the year's revenue being not ſo ſoon brought to account, and ſome difficulty would occur in bringing the Zemindars to conſent to it, after a mode they have long practiſed, but the advantage to them muſt ſoon evidently appear; and from the abilities and knowledge of Mr. Cotsford, of the revenue buſineſs in the Northern Circars, I ſhould hope ſo deſirable a change from the preſent mode of receiving the revenue by Soucars Teeps, might be effected. But ſhould this ſcheme be found impracticable, it is abſolutely neceſſary that the Soucars ſhould meet with proper ſupport from Government, which I am afraid has not hitherto been the caſe, and is the reaſon of the failure in payment of Ramanah Naick, of the houſe of Govindoſs, who now ſtands indebted upwards of eighty thouſand Pagodas to the Company. The Zemindars ſhould be obliged to fulfil their engagements to them, or a total ſtop to their payments and loſs of revenue muſt enſue.

The annexed Statement of Revenue, if it meets with the approbation of the Board, I propoſe to be fixed for five years, that Cowles be granted accordingly, and the Zemindars be directed to proceed to their ſeveral Zemindaries with all expedition, that the cultivation and manufactories for the enſuing year may not ſuffer by a longer abſence. I alſo propoſe, that the ſeveral petitions they have delivered in, relative to the diſputes amongſt themſelves, be taken into conſideration, that we may determine on the merits of them, or refer the deciſion of them to arbitration.

October 1ſt 1778. Thos Rumbold.

APPENDIX. No. 49.

FORT SAINT GEORGE,

Propoſed STATEMENT of the JEMMABUNDY in

Rajahmundry Circar.	Mamool or Jemmabundy in the Moor Government.	French and Hyder Jung's Jemmabundy.	Haſnully Cawn's Jemmabundy.
Rajah Jagaputty Rauze, - - - Zemindar of Peddapore - - - -	93493	167098 — —	139740 22 40
Row Vencatarow, - - - - - D° - of Pettapour - - - -	51832	77186 18 —	76249 6 60
Caucurlamoody Atchudaram Rauze D° - of Cotah - - - - -	9646	20316 — —	15626 — —
Caucurlamoody Ramachundra Rauze, D° - of Ramahchundraporam	7657	15954 — —	13525 15 60
Mandapautty Trippetty Rauze, - D° - of Corcondah - - -	4904	9277 9 —	7706 — —
Culdinda Trippetty Rauze, - - D° - of Paroor - - - - -	11403	16500 — —	16500 — —
Reddy Mungaputty D° - - - D° - of Polaram - - - -	6160	10955 18 —	9279 22 40
Reddy Lutchemenarrain D° - - - D° - of Goolalah - - - -	6160	10955 18 —	9279 22 40
Condraigula Vencatarow, - - - Muzumdar and Sircirſhdar of Rajahmundry, for Caſancuroo Village	4352	- - - - -	5112 — —
Angura Brummajey, - - - - Muzumdar and Deſmook of D°, for Villiampollan D° - - - - -	2000	4000 — —	2575 — —
Jellalah Ramiah, - - - - - - Muzumdar of D°, for Salemoody -	120	308 — —	130 — —
Joganah, - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - for Balacondah -	- -	- - - - -	- - - - -
Vaudar Somapah - - - - - - Diſpondah of D°, for Vaygayam Pilla Village - - - - - -	870	1610 — —	1001 — —
Sublenevefs Naganah - - - - for Paunnungapilla Village - - -	100	150 — —	131 9 —
Cauzey Mahamed Raffy - - - for Vellah - - - D° - - -	444	150 — —	150 — —
Sadecally Cawn, - - - - - - for Vencataypollam D° - - -	200	300 — —	200 — —
Daumodara Doſs, Soucar, - - - for Maccamala - - D° - - -	35	35 — —	35 — —
Gaumojee Vencataurſoo, - - - for Vondataſaraporam D° - - -	150	300 — —	150 — —
Conaty Nurſewaloo, - - - - for the Diſtrict of Collapilly - -	1250	2817 — —	1452 18 —
Chief and Council of Jaggernautporam - - - - - - - - - -	143	143 — —	143 — —
Ellore and Muſtaphanagur Circars.
Macca Nurſina Opparow, - - - Zemindar of Noozud - - - -	49000	- - - - -	109650 — —
Culdinda Trippetty Rauze, - - - D° of Muglatoor - - - - -	57300	- - - - -	96400 — —
Cundama Subiah, - - - - - D° of Chaar Mahall - - - - -	- -	- - - - -	29500 — —
Erlagudda Codant Ram - - - D° of Davaracotah - - - - -	12000	- - - - -	17500 — —
Vaſſereddy Ramanah, - - - - D° of Nundegamah - - - - -	- -	- - - - -	19000 — —
Collaracollau Timmarow and Ramahrow - - - - - - - - D° of Bazoura - - - - - -	- -	- - - - -	8450 — —
Soorany Nurſinaarow and Vincatarow, D° of Mylaveram - - - - -	- -	- - - - -	5700 — —
Joopilly Mullarow and Nurſinvarow, D° of Chintalapoody - - - -	2950	- - - - -	4850 — —
Vullunky Sunjeivarow and Mullarow, D° of Varigondah - - - - -	- -	- - - - -	7500 — —
Uppalapaully Vencaputty Rauze, - D° of Telicaiharla - - - - -	300	- - - - -	600 — —
Codant Ram and Nurhurry, - - Diſpondah for Lingagery - - -	- -	- - - - -	250 — —
Kiſſara Vincahamrow, - - - - Deſmook for Moonagalo - - -	- -	- - - - -	1650 — —
Chief and Council of Palicole - - - - - - - - - - - - -	- -	- - - - -	217 — —

N. B. Thoſe Zemindars who are not come to the Preſidency, their Jemmabundy to be ſettled at Maſulipatam agreeable to the propoſed Increaſe.

2d October 1778.

the MASULIPATAM DISTRICT for Five Years.

Last Year's Jemmabundy.	Raised 12½ per Cent. or Mamool Jemmabundy.	Present Jemmabundy.	REMARKS.
127969 22 40	11686 27 —	139656 31 40	Agreed.
62720 4 40	- - - - -	62720 4 40	Objects to an Increase of Revenue.
13443 24 60	1202 — —	14645 24 60	Agreed.
11743 6 60	957 4 40	12700 11 20
6862 13 40	613 — —	7475 13 40
15235 27 —	1425 13 40	16661 4 40
8260 — —	770 — —	9030 — —
8500 — —	770 — —	9270 — —
5180 — —	544 — —	5724 — —	Agreed.
2550 — —	250 — —	2800 — —
75 — —	15 — —	90 — —
- - - - -	- - - - -	200 — —
1363 — —	100 22 40	1426 4 40
131 9 —	12 18 —	143 27 —
150 — —	18 27 —	168 27 —
200 — —	25 — —	225 — —	Not come to the Presidency.
35 — —	4 13 10	39 13 40
150 — —	37 18 —	117 18 —	Agreed.
2940 — —	156 9 —	3096 9 —	Agreed.
143 — —	- - - - -	143 — —	Dutch Factory.
92564 18 —	- - - - -	92564 18 —	Country not capable of Increase.
90800 — —	7162 18 —	97962 18 —	Agreed.
24724 18 —	3090 20 20	27815 2 20	Not come to the Presidency.
16130 — —	1500 — —	17630 — —	Agreed.
15125 — —	1890 22 40	17015 22 40
4343 9 —	542 32 50	4886 6 60
5175 — —	646 31 40	5765 22 40
4735 — —	368 27 —	5103 27 —
5651 — —	706 13 40	6357 13 40	Not come to the Presidency.
450 — —	37 18 —	487 18 —
496 9 —	24 19 10	220 28 10
1505 27 —	188 7 70	1693 34 70
217 — —	- - - - -	217 — —	Dutch Factory.
		564249 11 20

APPENDIX. No. 50.

APPENDIX, No. 50.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 5th of October 1778.

THE Preſident propoſes, that his Minute relative to, and Statement of, the Maſulipatam Diſtrict, be now taken into conſideration.

Read accordingly.

The Preſident informs the Board, he has uſed his utmoſt endeavours to obtain from the Zemindars a larger increaſe of Jemmabundy, and that it is with difficulty he has brought them to agree to 12½ per cent. being added to the Mamool or Jemmabundy under the Mooriſh Government, as expreſſed in the Statement he has delivered in, which he believes is the utmoſt the Country will at preſent bear, when the debt of the Zemindars are conſidered, both to the Company and Individuals; and he does not think that the preſſing them further at this time would anſwer any other purpoſe than adding to their diſtreſs.

Agreed, That the Preſident's Minute, together with the Statement of a Revenue accompanying it, and delivered in laſt Conſultation, be now taken into conſideration, that a Jemmabundy may be ſettled, and the ſeveral Zemindars return to their reſpective Diſtricts without delay.

As the exacting terms from the Zemindars, which there is no likelihood of their fulfilling, will render any ſettlement with them that may be determined on, more nominal than real, and be the ſource of endleſs diſappointment to the Government here, and the Company at home, as well as productive of diſtreſs and diſcontent to the Zemindars; all which ought, even in times of Peace, to be guarded againſt, but more eſpecially in the preſent critical ſituation of War, when the unavoidable expences of military operations alone have almoſt exhauſted the Company's Treaſury;—on mature conſideration, the Board are clearly of opinion, that it is not in the power of the Maſulipatam Zemindars to make any great increaſe to their Jemmabundy at preſent; and that the endeavouring to draw from them more than they have with ſo much difficulty been prevailed on to pay, would be treating them with a degree of ſeverity that is inconſiſtent with that juſtice and lenity which it has ever been the Company's inclination to ſhew them. It cannot be denied, that in their preſent unfavourable circumſtances they are entitled to our compaſſion, and that every reaſonable indulgence ſhould be exerciſed towards them; but nevertheleſs, particular care ſhould be taken to recover the ſums they ſtand indebted to the Company, in preference to every other demand:

Reſolved, therefore, That the Jemmabundy, agreeable to the Statement of the Preſident, be agreed to, and that Cowles for five years be made out accordingly; and that a Letter, in conſequence, be written to the Chief and Council of Maſulipatam.

Tho^s Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Sam^l Johnſon,
2d October 1778. P. Perring.

The Preſident delivers in the following Minute relative to, and Statement of, the Chicacole Circar:

Having already given my ſentiments on the Revenues of the Maſulipatam Circar, and the new ſettlement of the Jemmabundy, I ſhall beg leave to offer my opinion with reſpect to the Chicacole Circar; and particularly on the Vizianagrum Country.

The Havelly lands were granted before my arrival, to Sitteram Rauze, on a large increaſe of the Revenue, for a term of ten years. I hope the agreement with him will be punctually fulfilled; but from all accounts I have received, I am led to believe, the deſire of different people to have the Country under their management, have induced them to offer more than the real value will admit of. This method of letting lands to the higheſt bidder often proves deſtructive to the Country, and ends at laſt in a failure of Revenue, and an accumulation of heavy balances from year to year.

The Accounts given in by the Committee of Circuit, lead us to imagine the value of thoſe Countries to be much greater than in reality they are ſaid to be. It is not from accounts collected from different people, ſome of them intereſted, others diſcontented, and wiſhing for a change of Government, that the true value of a country can be eſtimated; the collections alone ought to determine the Jemmabundy to be received. I have found it extremely difficult to bring the two Brothers, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze, to conſent to an increaſe of their tribute: They plead their inability on account of their load of debt to Soucars and others, of which they produce proofs, and aſſert their Country is not ſo valuable, nor does not produce ſo conſiderable a revenue as has been repreſented. They will, however, only conſent, after much altercation, to increaſe their preſent tribute of three lacks five thouſand Rupees, which they have hitherto paid, to four lacks five thouſand Rupees.

I was in hopes we ſhould have been able to ſettle a larger amount of revenue for the Company from the Vizianagrum Country, but do not believe it poſſible to obtain a further increaſe at preſent. But as the Company may have been led to expect more from the Countries, I wiſh to obtain the ſentiments fully of the Members of the Board on the occaſion; and if any certain mode can be adopted, that may do juſtice to the Rajahs, and at the ſame time add to the Revenue of the Company, I ſhall be happy to join in promoting it; but in our preſent ſituation, of an actual War and exhauſted Treaſury, I am clearly of opinion, that a certain eſtabliſhed Revenue is preferable to any ſpeculative ſchemes, even if they ſhould in the end be productive of a larger tribute; and which probably might be attempted with greater proſpect of ſucceſs, when we have a certainty of tranquillity in the Country, and nothing to apprehend from the views of the French; which, in caſe of the fall of Pondicherry, can only be aſſiſted either on the Malabar Coaſt or our Northern Settlements, that open immediately to thoſe Powers who are able to afford them aſſiſtance.

The Revenue of the Kimmedy Country is well known to have been conſiderably increaſed of late years. I have, however, prevailed on the Dewan of the Rajah, who has been ſent up here, to admit of a further increaſe of Rupees, 6000 per annum; which, I am informed from many accounts, is full as much as the Country is able to bear.

The Dewan is very deſirous of having a Cowle made out, that he may return to his Country, which he repreſents as ſuffering much by his abſence.

Raganaud Jaga Doo, of the Teekaly Country, is not yet come up. Should he not arrive, the Jemmabundy muſt be left to be ſettled by the Chief and Council at Vizagapatam.

I have annexed a Statement of the preſent propoſed Revenue of the Chicacole Circar, excluſive of the Havelly lands, for the approbation of the Board.

Thomas Rumbold.

October 1ſt 1778.

APPENDIX. No. 51.

FORT SAINT GEORGE, 2d October 1778.

Propoſed STATEMENT of the Jemmabundy in the Vizagapatam Diſtricts, for Five Years.

Chicacole Circar.	Laſt Year's Jemmabundy.	Raiſed.	Preſent Jemmabundy.	Remarks.
Rajah Viziaram Rauze, Rem^{r} of: Vezianacaram Bogapoor, &c. Diſtricts; Madagole Singaram Cohah, &c. D°; Nundaporam Curupaum, &c. D°; Bobbilly Rajaum, &c. D°; Palacondah Veeracotam, &c. D°; Worllah, &c. D°; Golgundah, &c. D°; Ancapilly, &c. D°	250,000 — —	100,000 — —	405,000 — —	Agreed.
	50,000 — —
	5,000 — —
	65,000 — —	25,000 — —	90,000 — —	D°
Jaganaud Doo, Rem^{r} of Kemedy D°	80,000 — —	6,000 — —	86,000 — —
Raganaud Jago Doo D° of Tecklay D°	20,000 — —	— — — —	20,000 — —
		Total R^{s}	601,000 — —

Ten thouſand Rupees annually to be paid from the Ancapilly and Saleaveram Diſtricts to the Family Pyakarow, to be received into the Company's Treaſury from Viziaram Rauze, and paid to the Family in quarterly payments.

APPENDIX, No. 51.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 6th October 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.
General Munro on ſervice.

MINUTES of laſt Conſultation read.

The Preſident propoſes that his Minute relative to, and Statement of, the Chicacole Circar, be now taken into conſideration.

Read accordingly.

Read the following Petition from Viziaram Rauze:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

The humble Addreſs of Murjah Rajah Viziaram Rauze, Bahadar, Manna Sultan.

During the recent prevalency of my bad luck, and through the ill fortune which attended me, I was induced to rely upon my ſervant Jaggernaut Rauze, and employed him confidentially in the management of all my affairs; who availing himſelf hereof, with ſiniſter views, and attentive to his own intereſt, did breed and foment the diſſonancy which lately took place between me and my brother; and the world is too firmly convinced of the truth of this circumſtance to need any comment.

From the time of our anceſtors to this period, we have preſerved and acquired freſh inſtances of the Honourable Company's friendſhip and protection, and with a view to diſtinguiſh our ſteady attachment and dependance on them, the Company did likewiſe graciouſly condeſcend to ſhew us every manner of countenance and favour; but Jaggernaut Rauze, in hopes of prejudicing the Company againſt me and my brother, and deſirous that we might forget their favours and good-will, did ſpuriouſly and maliciouſly inſinuate many and divers ill-grounded ſuggeſtions to the Gentlemen at Vizagapatam, who giving implicit faith to ſuch his miſrepreſentations, were led thereby to magnify matters in their repreſentations to the Preſidency; and the Board truſting, was pleaſed to iſſue orders for my ſurrendering up my fort, guns, ſmall arms, ammunition, ſtores, &c. to the Honourable Company. In purſuance thereto, from a ſenſe of my dependance on them, to exhibit a proof of my cheerfulneſs to ſubmit both my life and fortune to their pleaſure, and to ſhew a ready compliance with their injunctions, I obeyed their orders to me without heſitation, flattering myſelf to prove my innocency in courſe of time.

To witneſs our ſteady attachment to the Company, and to evince our dependance on them, I beg leave to refer your Honour, &c. to our conduct and behaviour during Colonel Torde's campaign in the Northern Circars, and at the time Captain Cajemere quelled ſome diſturbances in the Chicacole Circar; of all which your Honour, &c. will be fully convinced on conſulting impartial perſons, and referring to the Company's Records.

I am neither alarmed, nor in any ſhape anxious on account of my fort being garriſoned by the Company's Troops, any farther than by reaſon of the Soucars, who are inhabitants of my country, and the Pooligars, who occupy the hills, being led to put unfavourable conſtructions thereon, and drawing preſumptive concluſions, implying the Company's having withdrawn their favour and protection from me, and therefore refuſe their wonted ſubjection; by which my dignity and rank is materially decreaſed: therefore, to convince the world of the Company's retaining their accuſtomed favour and confidence towards me, it will be an eſſential ſtep to reſtore back my fort, and to ſupport my rank and degree.

The late Rambudra Poyakerow, of Ancapillee and Satevaram Diſtricts, proving backward in the payment of his Jemmabundy, and being actually indebted to the Company in the amount of two years Tribute, Mr. John Andrews, then Chief of Vizagapatam, ſummoned him thither, and demanded the payment of this heavy balance; but Rambudra Poyakerow replied, "that he had "no money, the Soucars would give him no credit, and "that it was beyond his power to procure the money;" adding, adding, " that he had his country and poſſeſſions, which, " excepting Mr. Andrews prevailed on ſome perſon to " hold in mortgage to guarantee the ſame to them, and " through that means to recover the ſum due from him, " that he ſaw no other expedient left for being paid the " money." Hereupon Mr. Andrews ſent for us, and communicated the purport of Poyakerow's declaration; adding, that the Company's money ſhould be recovered at all events; therefore, that as we were firmly attached to the Company's intereſt, we ought to accept theſe diſtricts in mortgage, and thereon to make good the amount due to the Company; and ſupported his arguments in very ſtrong terms. To which we replied, that Rambudra Poyakerow was always ſlow in ſatisfying thoſe who had ever contributed to the ſupport of his poſſeſſions, therefore begged he would not involve us in ſo intricate an affair as the nature hereof was; but that in hopes of augmenting the Company's favour, and in deference to his recommendation, we would willingly make Rambudra Poyakerow a preſent of five thouſand Rupees, and leave him to procure and pay the reſidue. Mr. Andrews reiterated hereto, that Rambudra Poyakerow could not procure the money; therefore, that if we accepted the mortgage of theſe diſtricts, and paid the Company the ſum due to them, we would in that caſe ſhare the Company's favour in a higher degree; that we need not be under any apprehenſions of Poyakerow uſing deception in this tranſaction, for that he (Mr. Andrews) would procure it to be guaranteed to us by the Governor and Council; that no perſon or perſons whatever ſhould be permitted to interfere with the management of the country revenues, until the full and total diſcharge of our debt, principal and intereſt included; and added many other arguments to the ſame effect; which in the end induced us to acquieſce therewith, in hopes of inſuring to us the Company's favour and protection. Accordingly we accepted the mortgage of theſe diſtricts, and paid the Company the whole of Poyakerow's balance to that period; from which time hitherto I punctually pay to the Company the fixed Tribute for Ancapillee and Sattevaram, at the ſtated periods with the payment made for my own country; have always obtained the Company's receipts for the ſums thus paid by me, and likewiſe uſually received the Cowles for thoſe diſtricts. Agreeable to Mr. Andrews's engagement, he procured for us a guarantee of the mortgage from the Preſident and Council, during the government of Mr. Dupré.

APPENDIX No. 51.

To this period of time there is a balance of about ten lacks of Rupees due to me from theſe mortgaged diſtricts; therefore, as both Rambudra Poyakerow and his ſon Uppala Poyakerow are dead, and as no iſſue of their body are ſurviving, and moreover, as none of their kin or relations are able to pay off my debt, or to manage the country; I therefore beg leave to obſerve, that it will be equally agreeable to me, that either the Company retain theſe diſtricts in their own poſſeſſion and pay me my heavy debt, or that they will be pleaſed to annex Ancapillee and Sattevaram to my own country, and give them up to me as a part of my Zemindary, and inſert them in the Grant or Cowles given me for my country. Of either of the modes, that which your Honour, &c. think proper to adopt, ſhall be agreeable and acceptable to me. If your Honour, &c. determine on the latter, I agree to increaſe the former Jemmabundy from 65,000 to 80,000 Rupees per annum, and for the ſupport of the relations of the late Poyakerow, I will engage to pay them yearly in four Kiſts, the ſum of ten thouſand Rupees.

I lately gave Jaggernaut Rauze ſome writing under my hand, relating to the foregoing buſineſs, for ſome particular reaſons; which papers, and likewiſe thoſe I had given my brother regarding the ſame affair, I beg may be returned to me as void, and this alone to continue in full force and virtue. Your Honour, &c. will be pleaſed to take the foregoing ſubject into your ſerious conſideration, and determine therein.

It having been cuſtomary in my family, for the Rajahs, during their lives, to inveſt their heirs with full power and title to their Zemindaries and Rajahſhips, making all grants, deeds, and writings, and tranſactions of buſineſs of all kinds, in the name and with the ſeal of the new-appointed Rajah, from the day of his appointment; thereby preventing ill-deſigning ſervants or people from altering by intrigues the ſucceſſion after the deceaſe of the Rajah, contrary to his intention—Having no children of my own, I have made my brother's ſon my heir, and your Honour, &c. are already appriſed of my having, conformable to this cuſtom, in April laſt year, appointed my ſaid brother's ſon, Nurſemah Guzziputty Rauze, the Rajah and ſole Proprietor of my Zemindary; alſo, that I nominated and augurated him in the Rajahſhip, cauſed the ſeals and ſignatures, Cowles and Cuthpaws, bonds for monies borrowed and lent, and all other paper and papers whatever, to be executed in his name ſolely, and which your Honour, &c. are ſenſible, is now the practice and method I make uſe of in tranſacting every buſineſs. Nevertheleſs, it is indiſpenſably neceſſary, that Nurſemah Guzziputty Rauze be veſted with the right and title to the government of my Zemindary, formally by your Honour, &c. and that you grant him a Commiſſion of Rajahſhip, and alſo that you give all future Cowles in his name, for any ſtipulated Tribute [illegible] may be hereafter agreed on, in the ſame manner as Cowles were granted to me during my minority, and to Rajahs of my family appointed during the life-time of their fathers, in the time of the Mooriſh Government, viz. to Vizi'aram Rauze, appointed by Anunda Rauze, both whom were appointed in the life-time of their fathers, in the ſame ample manner as I have appointed Nurſemah Guzziputty Rauze. The procuring the Board's confirmation has been hitherto procraſtinated on account of the diſſonancy excited by Jaggernaut Rauze between me and my brother; but as all manner of difficulties and diſagreements are effectually and entirely removed between us, and we are become firm friends, I repeat my requeſt, that your Honour, &c. will be graciouſly pleaſed to confirm and guarantee my ſaid appointment of Nurſemah Guzziputty Rauze, and grant a Senud, or Commiſſion of Rajahſhip, in favour and in the name of Nurſemah Guzziputty Rauze. As I am ignorant of your rules in drawing and preparing the ſaid Senud or Commiſſion of Rajahſhip, I leave that important and weighty matter to you, and deſire you will cauſe the ſaid Senud to be written in very ſtrong terms, leaving no clauſe that will admit of diſpute in after times, but to render it of force and virtue to himſelf and heirs for ever, only reſerving to me the management of the affairs of the Zemindary, on condition that I and my brother Sitteram Rauze become ſecurity for the punctual payment of Rajah Nurſemah Guzziputty's Tribute to the Honourable Company.

By reaſon of my brother and I remaining here, the affairs of my country cannot be conducted with propriety and efficacy; therefore, after taking theſe points into your ſerious conſideration, I beg your Honour, &c. will be pleaſed to permit me to return thither.

As my brother will remain here, I beſeech your Honour, &c. will be pleaſed to give your attention to ſuch repreſentations as he may find neceſſary to make regarding all my affairs, he being fully authorized and empowered to act for me in all matters whatſoever: And alſo I beg you will comply with his requeſt, and permit him to follow me ſpeedily. During the time I and my brother differed in ſentiments, Jaggernaut Rauze came thither, and preſented divers papers; ſince my arrival, I alſo preſented others; but as I hold them all unſerviceable and too puerile, I beg they may be returned back to me, and this paper alone held in force and conſequence.

The foregoing I humbly ſubmit to your Honour, &c. and beſeech your compliance with all and every part thereof. What can I ſay more?

The Board taking into conſideration the Petition of Viziaram Rauze, delivered in Conſultation, have come to the following Reſolution on the points therein contained:

That the fort of Vizianagrum, being a very inconſiderable fortification, be delivered up by the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam, to the Rajah Viziaram Rauze, upon conditions that the baſtions and walls remain in their preſent ſituation.

The Preſident obſerves, That ſince the delivering in of the Petition of Viziaram Rauze, he has obtained from them a verbal agreement, that they will pay to the Company 90,000 Rupees per annum for the Ancapilly Zemindary, and 10,000 Rupees per annum at ſtated payments, to the family of Poyakerow; which, he is of opinion, ſhould be ſo ſecured to them as to prevent any failure of payment in future.

Reſolved, That the Ancapilly and Sittevaram Zemindary be granted to the Rajah Viziaram Rauze, agreeable to the prayer of his Petition, on the conditions abovementioned, and for the ſecurity of the ſtipend to the family of Poyakerow.

Reſolved, That the ſame be received into the Company's Treaſury at Vizagapatam, and be paid by the Chief and Council there to the family, in quarterly payments.

Reſolved, That all ſuch Letters and Petitions as have been given into the Preſident and Council, cannot, on any account, be returned.

Reſolved, That Viziaram Rauze's appointment of Venkemah Guzziputty Rauze to the Zemindary of Vizianagrum, be confirmed, ſo far as is conſiſtent with the rights, privileges, and cuſtoms of their own lands; and that all Cowles in future be made out in the name of Venkemah Rauze; and that Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze be required to ſecurity in the manner they have propoſed for the Tribute of the Company; and that Viziaram Rauze continue in the management of the Zemindary.

Agreed, That the Rajahs Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze be called before the Board, and that every endeavour be uſed to prevail on them, if poſſible, to conſent to a larger increaſe of Jemmabundy.

The Rajahs, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze, called before the Board.

The Board repreſents, in the ſtrongeſt terms, to the Rajahs, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze, the neceſſity there is for a larger increaſe of Jemmabundy; that they are willing to ſhew them every attention and friendſhip that can be conſiſtently ſhewn, but ſtill they expect their compliance in a matter which they cannot by any means conſider oppreſſive, but, on the contrary, no more than an act of juſtice to the Company.

But the Rajahs, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze, objecting to a larger increaſe of Jemmabundy,—that great part of their country is hilly and woody, and its ſeveral paſſes into the Marattas and other countries, require more than double the Sibendy of the Maſulipatam Diſtricts, which are all plain countries; that their hill countries are all ſo very unwholeſome, that no truſt-worthy Sibendy or Servants will remain there, but at an extraordinary allowance; that by engaging for more than they were able to pay, it would involve them in unſurmountable difficulties, and ſubject both their own affairs and the Company's to uncertainty and confuſion; and depending, further, from a former experience of the Company's protection and friendſhip, that they will not in the preſent inſtance diſcredit the repreſentations they have faithfully made; the Board are reduced to the diſagreeable neceſſity of declaring, That their beſt endeavours have been uſed to raiſe the Jemmabundy, and are ſorry that they have proved ineffectual, and that there ſeems to be little (if any) proſpect of a larger increaſe of Jemmabundy. Agreed, however, that the Preſident do once more endeavour to prevail on them to raiſe it.

Reſolved, therefore, That Viziaram Rauze be directed to repair with all poſſible expedition to his own country, ſo ſoon as the Cowles ſhall be made out; and that it be particularly recommended to the Rajahs, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze, to diſcharge their heavy balance that remain due to the Company.

APPENDIX. No. 52.

The Board taking into conſideration the neceſſity of Viziaram Rauze's defraying the expences of the expedition under Colonel Braithwaite, agreed, That the Accountant be ordered to make out an eſtimate of the extra expences of the ſaid expedition for the inſpection of the Board.

Thos Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Saml Johnſon,
P. Perring.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, Friday, November 13, 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill, Eſq.
Major Gen. Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

SENT by Tappies the following Letter to Vizagapatam, dated Nov. 13th:

Mr. Alexander Davidſon, Chief, &c. Council of Vizagapatam.

Gentlemen,

You will order the fort of Vizianagrum to be delivered up to the charge of any perſon Meerjah Rajah Viziaram Rauze ſhall appoint to receive it; and you will likewiſe order the Ancapilly and Sattevaram Diſtricts to be given up to any perſon Viziaram Rauze ſhall think proper to be intruſted with them till his arrival at Vizagapatam.

We are, Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends.

APPENDIX, No. 52.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 8th October 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Governor. Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.
General Munro on ſervice.

MINUTES of laſt Conſultation read.

The Preſident acquaints the Board, that ſince the laſt Conſultation he has exerted his utmoſt endeavours, and renewed his former arguments with additional force, to prevail upon the Rajahs, Viziaram Rauze and Sitteram Rauze, to conſent, if poſſible, to a larger increaſe of Jemmabundy; but finding, notwithſtanding his moſt preſſing ſolicitation upon this ſubject, that they ſtill continue inflexible, he entirely deſpairs of ſucceſs upon any further endeavours at preſent.

The Board, in conſequence of the repreſentations of the Preſident, ſeeing no probability of prevailing upon the Rajahs, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze, to increaſe the Jemmabundy higher than four lack and five thouſand Rupees; Reſolved, That the ſame be accepted for the countries at preſent under Viziaram Rauze in the Chicacole

APPENDIX. No. 53.

Circar, for the term of five years, and that Cowles be made out accordingly.

Tho^s Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 53.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Select Committee, Fort Saint George, 13th October 1780.

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Members of the Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

WE addreſſed you yeſterday from on board the Sartine; this morning we came on ſhore. We find ourſelves in a predicament which we conceive dangerous: the revolt of the Grenadiers, of which we adviſed you, is in all reſpects an event that may lead to dangerous conſequences: it has annihilated our power and influence in a great meaſure; at any rate, it has received ſuch a ſhock, that we feel ourſelves degraded as a Government. The conduct of the mutineers was adopted by five Companies of the 1ſt Circar battalion, that happened to be in garriſon here; they are all gone off with them, except about 40 men, and even thoſe joined the inſurgents; and as this revolt took place when we had not the leaſt idea that ſuch a diſpoſition prevailed in the Troops, it is not improbable but that the remains of the 1ſt battalion and 5th battalion, now at Chicacole, have adopted ſimilar opinions. On a review of the general ſtate of affairs on the Coaſt, the War with the Marattas and Hyder, and the probability of a French force landing, it is not drawing an improbable concluſion, to ſuppoſe, that the Zemindars may avail themſelves of this criſis of events, and throw off their allegiance. We are here without any reſources either of men or money; the former we ſuſpect, and for the latter we depend alone on the Zemindars. We have now ſtated to you, our ſituation; and we add, that all we have to truſt to is, the attachment of 300 Sibbendy Sepoys, and half of them are now detached. In this repreſentation we have not, in our opinion, either exaggerated in points of real ſtate or conjecture: we therefore requeſt of you, Gentlemen, that you will determine on ſome plan of operations for us to purſue. The revolt has ſo effectually deranged this Government, and ſo reduced our conſequence, that we imagine ſome meaſures ought to be adopted that will give us the importance we have loſt; and we can think of no other ſtep ourſelves, than procuring us ſome Sepoys, and about 50 Europeans from Calcutta, or ſending Southern people here, and ordering all the Sepoys in theſe diſtricts to the Southward. Sitteram Rauze is not yet arrived at Vizagapatam; he keeps away in a manner that has the appearance of premeditated delay; all theſe matters ſerve to create in us, anxiety about the fate of this Settlement. And Shaik Mahomed, the man who heads the revolted Sepoys, is gone off with a great deal of money; is capable, daring, and full of enterprize, and what are his intentions, is not at preſent to be conjectured. By this day's intelligence, he has taken the road to Ankapile, and it is very probable that he has written to the Sepoys at Chicacole of his ſucceſs; at any rate, common report favours that ſuſpicion. Could the Sartine ſtay here until this Government was again re-eſtabliſhed, it would be of much aſſiſtance to the Settlement, in caſe of an unfortunate event; but the ſeaſon is ſo far advanced, that Captain Mackay cannot venture to ſtay here longer than to-morrow, without violating his inſtructions; in juſtice to him, however, we muſt obſerve, that he has been ready in his offers of aſſiſtance, and the preſence of the Sartine contributed to render the revolt leſs permanent. We have nothing further to add on the ſtate of the Settlement, but that we wait your orders and reſolutions with ſome degree of anxiety; and the ſcene that was exhibited here for 24 hours, warrants us in our apprehenſions of every kind.

By the maſſacre of Mr. Rutherford, there is a vacancy of the paymaſterſhip of Chicacole. Mr. Gregory has been a long time an aſſiſtant at this place, and has ſuffered in his property, as well as every individual here; we therefore take upon ourſelves to mention him as a proper ſucceſſor to this vacant office.

We have the honour to tranſmit you a duplicate of our addreſs, dated yeſterday.

Captain Brule, of whom we wrote yeſterday, is deſirous of proceeding to Madras, to vindicate his conduct; and we believe, that had he offered his ſervices on the day of the revolt, he would have been attended to. We recommend him for forgiveneſs, and to have ſome allowance as a ſubſiſtence. He takes his paſſage on the Sartine.

We are, with reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
J. H. Caſamajor,
Henry Crawford,
Charles Maxtone.

Vizagapatam,
5th October 1780.

The Committee are much concerned at the mutiny which has happened among the Grenadier Sepoys at Vizagapatam.

Reſolved, That the Nancy, ketch, be immediately ſent down there, with 50 European Invalids for that garriſon, and that the Reſident at Ganjam be directed to ſend 25 or 30 Coffrees from that place.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Caſamajor, Chief of Vizagapatam, to Mr. Whitehill, Governor of Fort Saint George, dated 9th October 1780.

Sel. Conſ. 18th October 1780.

You have been addreſſed by the Chief and Council here, under date the 4th and 5th inſtant, relative to the unfortunate and unexpected revolt of the four companies of Grenadiers. All ſeems quiet here at preſent; but this event has raiſed ſuch a general ſuſpicion of all the Sepoys, that we know not where to place any confidence. Thoſe at Chicacole are moſt of them related and connected with the mutineers; and when you conſider, that out of four companies of Grenadiers, and five battalion companies of the firſt battalion, there were but a few who did not join the mutineers; I am ſure it warrants every apprehenſion of the remaining eleven companies of the two battalions at Chicacole and Maringy. There was an univerſal and complete plunder of all the property belonging to the Company and European inhabitants. All the Company's caſh in the treaſury, amounting to Rupees 21,922. 11. 9. and the money of ſome of the Employers fell into the hands of the inſurgents; and in the wreck of all property, all the Company's broad cloth, and a large proportion of the Civil and Military ſtores, fell into the poſſeſſion of the plunderers. The inhabitants of the place were as active in this ſcene as the inſurgents; and quantities of broad cloth, firelocks, &c. are hourly brought in. My own loſs amounts to 5,000 Pagodas; and the other Gentlemen have alſo ſuffered conſiderably.

As ſoon as poſſible, a complete account of the public loſs ſhall be tranſmitted, and the orders and regulations we have iſſued ſince the revolt. Among other expedients, we have raiſed for the preſent 100 Gun Peons, who have families in the town, and with the aſſiſtance of the Sibendy they at preſent ſerve to garriſon this place, as our confidence in the regular Sepoys is for a time loſt; nor can any detachment be well ſpared from Chicacole, as the two battalions are now reduced to eleven companies, and two of them detached to Maringy. The mutinous party, under Shaik Mahomed, were by the laſt accounts entering into the Yotapilly country. The Rajah, Viziaram Rauze, has written to all the little Zemindars to ſtop them; ther - but they yet compoſe a ſtrong body, and it is not a trifling force that can oppoſe them. I have written to Colonel Stoddard and Captain Bridges; and as they will probably paſs near Samul Cotah, I am in hopes ſome of them may be picked up and puniſhed. They evidently are going to the Nizam's country, or through the Guntoor Circar to Cuddapah.

APPENDIX. No. 54.

Captain Lane is directed to recruit up the battalion to the eſtabliſhment, and to conſider the mutinous companies as annihilated; and to receive only ſuch of them as preſerved their fidelity into the ſervice again, who are alſo to be rewarded with one month's pay.

APPENDIX, No. 54.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 6th November 1778.

READ the following Letter from Vizagapatam:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

In your Honour and Council's Letter of the 6th Auguſt, you direct us to acquaint you what ſums have been received from the Agents of the Zemindars, ſince their departure from the Vizagapatam Diſtrict to the Preſidency: alſo to inform you what ſums have been received on account of the Chicacole Havelly from Sitteram Rauze. By the incloſed account, N° 1, we have ſtated the ſums received from the Zemindars ſince their departure. N° 2. contains a Sketch of the ſeveral accounts with the Zemindars, calculated according to the tenor of their laſt Cowles, ſerving to ſhew, that their arrears amounted at leaſt to the balances ſpecified in the accounts current.

We are in daily expectation of a Teep from Vencatty Rauze, the repreſentative of the Rajah, for ſixty thouſand Rupees, on account of Sitteram Rauze.

Callagarah Veneatuchellum has been made acquainted with your having accepted of his propoſals for renting the farms of Wattarah Wallaire and the Vizagapatam Salt Pans, and his Cowles have been received.

Agreeably to your commands we again iſſued advertiſements for letting the farms of Upparah, the Beetle and Tobacco, and Arrack farms, for the term of five years; we have accepted the propoſal of Anoopindee Vincaiah for Upparah, that of Baddaty Comiah and Bollipillee Boochinnah, for the Arrack, and that of Mulla Mudagala Oſſanah for the Beetle and Tobacco, &c.; judging their propoſals the moſt eligible and advantageous for the Honourable Company: we requeſt their Cowles may be ſent to us. Copies of the propoſals of the above-mentioned perſons make a number of this packet, N° 3.

The late Dewan of the Rajah Viziaram Rauze, Jagganaut Rauze, whom you mention in your Letter of the 9th Auguſt, to have intended to ſend to Vizagapatam, not having arrived here, we have been prevented from demanding of him a ſettlement of his accounts. We furniſhed Mr. Williams with the ſubſtance of your commands, relative to a tranſaction ſaid by Jagganaut Rauze to have paſſed between him and Mr. Williams, while acting Chief of Vizagapatam: we incloſe a copy of that Gentleman's reply, N° 4, to a Letter addreſſed to him by our Secretary.

From the ſmall ſums for which we have drawn upon you, the money you have remitted by bills, and from the large payments we have reaſon to expect at this ſeaſon, we are glad to inform you, that we have not now any immediate apprehenſions of being in diſtreſs for means to pay our military, or for advances on account of the inveſtment.

We are, with reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
Alex^r. Davidſon,
Hy. Crawford,
Cha^s. Maxtone.

P. S. Since writing the above we are glad to inform you, that the expected Teep on account of Sitteram Rauze has been received.

An ACCOUNT of the Sums received from the following Zemindars and Renters of the Chicacole Circar ſince their Departure from the Diſtrict.

	Viziaram Rauze, Rajah of Vizeanagrum, &c.
1778.
Sept. 7th.	Rupees	15,000 — —
17th.	Soucar Bills for Rupees	47,864 — —
			62,864 — —
	Sitteram Rauze, Renter of the Havelly Lands.
May 1ſt.	Soucar Bills for Rupees	59,000 — —
Oct. 7th.	Rupees	5,000 — —
			64,000 — —
	Jagganaut Rauze, Manager of the Ancapillee Zemindary, on Account of the Collections from that Zemindary.
May 21.	Rupees	353 — —
July 7.	Ditto	4,952 — —
Aug. 31.	Ditto	9,960 — —
Sept. 30.	Ditto	2,822 — —
Oct. 14.	Ditto	4,200 — —
			22,287 — —
		Rupees	149,151 — —

Errors excepted.
H^y. Crawford, Accomp^t.

Vizagapatam,
15th Oct. 1778.

N. B. Rupees 4,647, received the 21ſt May on Account of the Collections, and carried it to the Credit of Pyakerow, being the Remainder in full of the Balance due on his Cowle, ending 25 Sept. 1777.

Since cloſing the above Account, received a Teep on Ramaſhuſhu Naick, from the Agent of Sitteram Rauze, for Rupees 55,000 the 19th inſtant, on Account of the Chicacole Havelly.

APPENDIX. No. 54.

Dr. Viziaram Rauze, Rajah of Vizeanagrum, &c. in Account Current with the Honourable Company. Cr.

1777. Sept. 25.	To Arrears due from him on his laſt Cowle, which expired the 25th September 1777			1778. Sept. 7.	By Caſh received in further Part of the 3d and laſt Kiſt, due the 25th Auguſt 1777
1778.	To his Tribute, calculated according to his laſt Cowle		53,333 5 4				15,000 — —
				17.	By Bills receivable in full of the 3d and laſt Kiſt		38,333 5 4
					By D°, D° on Account		9,530 10 8
Feb. 25.	1 Kiſt, due 25 Feb.	101,666 10 8					62,864 — —
May 25.	2 Ditto, 25 May	101,666 10 8
Aug. 25.	3 Ditto 25 Auguſt	101,666 10 8	305,000 — —	Oct. 15.	By Balance due to the Hon. Company		295,469 5 4
	Rupees		358,333 5 4		Rupees		358,333 5 4

Dr. Jagganaut Deo, Zemindar of Kimmedy, in Account Current with the Honourable Company. Cr.

1777. Sept. 25.	To Balance of his laſt Cowle, ending 25 September 1777		52,267 — —	1778. May 6th.	By Caſh received in further Part of 3d Kiſt, due 31ſt March 1777		7,000 — —
	To his Tribute, calculated according to his laſt Cowle			Oct. 15.	By Balance due to the Honourable Company		125,267 — —
Nov. 30th.	1ſt Kiſt, due 30th November 1777	14,000 — —
1778. Jan. 31ſt.	2d Kiſt, due 31 January 1778	13,000 — —
Mar. 31ſt.	3d D°, 31 March	13,000 — —
May 31.	4th D°, 31 May	13,000 — —
July 31ſt.	5 D°, 31 July	13,000 — —
Sept. 25.	6 D°, 25 September	14,000 — —
			80,000 — —
	Rupees		132,267 — —		Rupees		132,267 — —

Dr. Juggadeo, Zemindar of Teckaly, in Account Current with the Honourable Company. Cr.

1776. Sept. 25.	To Balance of his former Cowle, ending 25 September 1776		742 — —	1778. Oct. 15.	By Balance due to the Honourable Company		40,742 — —
1777. Sept. 25.	To Amount of laſt Cowle for One Year, ending 25th September 1777, no part of which has yet been paid		20,000 — —
1778. Sept. 25.	To his Tribute, calculated according to his laſt Cowle		20,000 — —
	Rupees		40,742 — —		Rupees		40,742 — —

Dr. Sitteram Rauze, late Renter of Chicacole, Julmore, &c. Diſtricts, in Account Current with the Honourable Company. Cr.

1776. Sept. 25.	To Balance due from him on this Account		R' 64,530 — —	1778. Oct. 15.	By Balance due to the Honourable Company		R' 64,530 — —

The above Sum Viziaram Rauze has promiſed to diſcharge.

Dr. Jagganaut Rauze, late Renter of the Havelly Lands, in Account Current with the Honourable Company. Cr.

1777. Sept. 25.	To Balances due from him on this Account		103,030 — —	1777. Oct. 15.	By Balance due to the Honourable Company		103,030 — —

Of this Sum Viziaram Rauze has promiſed, by a Letter, to pay Rupees 40,000.

APPENDIX. No. 54.

Dr. - - Sitteram Rauze, the preſent Renter of the Havelly Lands, in Account Current with the Honourable Company. - - Cr.

1778.			1778.
Feb. 25th.	To the Amount of 1ſt Kiſt. which became due the 25 February - -	58,750 — —	May 1ſt.	By a Bill received on Canaroo Naick, Soucar - - - - - - - - -	59,000 — —
April 25.	To Ditto, 2d Ditto, due 25th April -	58,750 — —	Oct. 7th.	By Caſh received - - - - - -	5,000 — —
Aug. 25.	To Ditto, 3d Ditto, due 25th Auguſt	58,750 — —			64,000 — —
			15th.	By Balance due to the Honourable Company - - - - - - - -	112,250 — —
	Rupees -	176,250 — —		Rupees -	176,250 — —

N. B. Since cloſing the above Account, received a Teep on Ramaſhaſha Naick, from the Agent of Sitteram Rauze, for Rupees 55,000, the 19th Inſtant, on Account of the Chicacole Havelly.

Dr. - - Ancapille Zemindary, at preſent under the Charge and Management of Jugganaut Rauze, in Account Current with the Honourable Company. - - Cr.

1778.			1778.
	To the Tribute, calculated according to the Terms of laſt Cowle to the laſt Pyakerow.		May 1ſt.	By Caſh received of Jagganaut Rauze, on Account Collections made by him from that Zemindary - - -	353 — —
Feb. 25.	Due the 25 February - - - - -	21,000 — —	July 7.	By Caſh received of Jagganaut Rauze, on Account Dº - - - - - -	4,952 — —
May 25.	Due the 25 May - - - - - -	21,000 — —	Aug. 2.	By Caſh received of Jagganaut Rauze, on Account Dº - - - - - -	5,000 — —
Aug. 25.	Due the 25 Auguſt - - - - -	23,000 — —	15.	By Caſh received of Jagganaut Rauze, on Account Dº - - - - - -	4,960 — —
			Sept. 11.	By Caſh received of Chintataputty Ram Rauze, on Account - - -	493 — —
			23.	By Caſh received - - - - - -	4,335 — —
			28.	By Caſh received - - - - - -	994 — —
			Oct. 14.	By Caſh received - - - - - -	4,200 — —
					22,287 — —
			15.	By Balance due to the Honourable Company - - - - - - -	42,713 — —
	Rupees -	65,000 — —		Rupees -	65,000 — —

Dr. - - - - Pyakerow, late Zemindar of Ancapilly, in Account Current with the Honourable Company. - - - - Cr.

1778.			1778.
Sept. 25.	To Balance of his laſt Cowle, ending 25th September 1777 - - - -	4,647 — —	May 21ſt.	By Caſh received of Jugganaut Rauze, in full - - - - - - - - -	4,647 — —
	Abſtract of Balances due from Rajah Viziaram Rauze, and from the following Zemindars, &c.
	Viziaram Rauze - - - - -	295,469 5 4
	Jugganaut Deo - - - - -	125,267 — —
	Juggadeo - - - - - - -	40,742 — —
	Sitteram Rauze, late Renter - -	64,530 — —
	Jagganaut Rauze - - - - -	103,030 — —
	Sitteram Rauze, the preſent Renter	112,250 — —
	Ancapillee Zemindary, under the Charge of Jagganaut Rauze - - - - -	42,713 — —
	Rupees -	784,001 5 4

Vizagapatam, 15 October 1778.

Hº Crawford, Accountt.

APPENDIX. No. 55.

APPENDIX, No. 55.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 10th Auguſt 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. Governor, Preſident.
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Board having taken into conſideration the ſeveral propoſals tranſmitted by the Chief and Council of Maſulipatam, for renting the Havelly Lands and Farms dependant on Maſulipatam, together with the propoſals delivered in at the Preſidency; the Preſident puts the following queſtion to the Board, Whether the propoſal of Mopooy Vencata Pentaloo, for renting the whole at the rate of one lack and twenty-five thouſand Madras Pagodas per annum, be accepted? Whereupon the opinions of the ſeveral Members of Council are taken, and are as follow:

Mr. Perring is of opinion, as the propoſal of Mopooy Vencata Pentaloo is higher than any other, it ſhould be accepted, provided he is a man of fair character, and can find ſuch ſecurity as will ſatisfy the Board.

Mr. Johnſon is of opinion the higheſt offer ought to be accepted; and as he underſtands the ſecurity of Sunca Rama, offered by Mopooy Vencata Pentaloo, is good, is for the propoſal of Mopooy Vencata Pentaloo.

Mr. Smith is of opinion the propoſal of Mopooy Vencata Pentaloo ſhould be accepted, as he underſtands the ſecurity of Sunca Rama, which he has offered, is good.

Sir Hector Munro is of opinion, that the higheſt offer ſhould be received, provided the bidder is a man of fair character, and reſident on the ſpot, and gives undoubted ſecurity; but as he is not reſident at Maſulipatam, objects to his propoſal being accepted.

Mr. Whitehill is of opinion the propoſal of Mopooy Vencata Pentaloo ſhould not be accepted.

The Preſident is ſtrongly againſt the propoſal in queſtion being accepted, and delivers in the following Minute on the occaſion:

As the Board have now under conſideration the renting of the Maſulipatam Farms for the term of five years, I deem it incumbent on me to be particular in ſtating my reaſons for the opinion I ſhall give on the occaſion.

There is ſcarcely one of the Farms that have been now adverti[ſ]ed, that is not in debt to the Company for balances from the old Renters, who are moſt of them become bankrupts, and the number of reſponſible black people ſo few, that it encourages every needy adventurer to ſtand forth as a bidder, truſting to accidents whether he ſhall be a gainer or loſer by the Farm he bids for; if the latter, he is not in a much worſe ſituation than when he firſt ſet out, and the Government have nothing left but to inflict puniſhments that afford no recompence for the loſs of revenue, which can never be recovered; nor is it ſufficient, that in the ſeveral propoſals, mention is made of Soucar ſecurity, without particularizing the Soucars; for ſuch is the ſtate of public credit at preſent in the Carnatic and the Circars, that there are very few who are to be depended on, or whoſe ſecurity is worth accepting.

Upon examination of the ſeveral propoſals for renting the Farms, I find, that taking the higheſt bidder ſeparately, to whom with any propriety the Farms could be granted, and adding up the ſeveral ſums they offer for the different Farms, the amount does not exceed what is offered by Lechema Narſamaloo above one thouſand Pagodas annually. This appears from the ſtatement of the ſeveral bidders taken on a view of the groſs calculate of the higheſt offers, without conſidering the character, abilities, or ſecurity of the ſeveral competitors, and amongſt ſo many, without going into particulars, we may fairly conclude there are objections. I ſpeak from the enquiries I have made, when I inform the Board that there are ſeveral who offer, to whom the Farms ſhould on no account be entruſted. I ſhall mention three in particular, whoſe propoſals are very high. Achulerauze Lechemenerandoo, is no more than a rice-broker, has no property, and lives entirely from hand to mouth, on his brokerage per centage. This man offers M[r] Pagodas 12,600 for the Farms of Condoor and Acc[h]m[a]nor. Sooramy Moraloo and Coramaloo Gungarauze (the former makes propoſals for the Nizampatam Farm, and the other for the Ellore Havelly) are men not known, unacquainted with the management of the country buſineſs, and though they talk of ſecurity, I do not find, on enquiry, that they can inform me where it is to come from, but truſt, that in caſe they procure a grant of the Farms, they ſhall afterwards find ſecurity for them.

Letchema Narſinvaloo is a reſident in the Circars, has conſtantly been employed in the revenue buſineſs, is a man of repute, and offers Loll Doſs, one of the moſt reſponſible Soucars, as his ſecurity. The offer he makes of one lack of Pagodas, is five thouſand Pagodas more than the ſame Farms for which he now offers, were before rented.

It appears to me, there can be no heſitation in giving him the preference, when the ſecurity of the revenue is conſidered; for having the Farms in the hands of one reſponſible man, muſt be attended, not only with favourable conſequences to the inhabitants, but in caſe of failure in any one particular Farm, his having poſſeſſion of the others where the crops or produce ſucceed better, muſt enable him with greater certainty to fulfil his engagements to the Company; and the effects to the natives, and the conſequences to Government, of putting a needy man into a high-rented country, are too obvious to be further noticed.

The only offer that ſtands in competition with Letchema Narſinvaloo is Veneataragava Pantooloo, who offers a larger amount for the whole of the Farms, including the Farm of the Maſulipatam and Ponracca Salt. This man, from the enquiries I have made, proceeds entirely on ſpeculation; was a Gomaſtah of one of the Soucars, is unacquainted with the country buſineſs, and does not offer Soucar ſecurity; but the ſecurity of Sunkakiſſnama Chitty, the ſon of the late Sunkarama; the property of that family, I underſtand, is much divided, and notwithſtanding what he has mentioned relative to their being anſwerable for his payments, I have been aſſured they did not entirely agree to his propoſals, which were only to be conditional.

I am therefore of opinion thoſe Farms ſhould be granted to Letchema Narſinvaloo, for which he has made propoſals, and that the Farm of the Maſulipatam and Ponracca Salt ſhould be granted to Swamy Pillah, on condition that he takes off the Company's remaining Salt, on a fair valuation and meaſurement. I am informed from Maſulipatam, that he is a man to be depended on, and will tender proper ſecurity.

Carried by the Preſident's caſting voice againſt the propoſal.

The Preſident puts the following Queſtion to the Board, "Whether the propoſal of Letchema Narſinvaloo, "for renting the whole, excluſive of the Maſulipatam "and Ponracca Salt Farm, for the term of five years, "at the rate of one lack Madras Pagodas per annum, "ſhould be accepted on his finding Soucar ſecurity?"

Mr. Perring is of opinion, as the propoſals received from Maſulipatam were higher than Letchema Narſinvaloo's, and as many of them are recommended by the Chief and Council as proper perſons to manage the Diſtricts, they ſhould be accepted in preference to Letchema Narſinvaloo's.

Mr.

Mr. Johnſon is of the ſame opinion with Mr. Perring.

Mr. Smith is of the ſame opinion with Mr. Perring

Sir Hector Munro is of opinion, that the propoſal of Letchema Narſinvaloo ſhould be accepted, as the perſons recommended by the Chief and Council of Maſulipatam, do not appear to be themſelves the labourers of the ground.

Mr. Whitehill is of opinion, that the propoſal of Letchema Narſinvaloo ſhould be accepted.

The Preſident is of opinion, that Letchema Narſinvaloo's propoſal ſhould be accepted, for the reaſons already ſet forth in his Minute upon the ſubject.

Carried in favour of Letchema Narſinvaloo's propoſal.

Ordered, That a Cowle be made out accordingly.

General Letter from Fort Saint George, in the Revenue Department, to the Court of Directors, dated 14 October 1779.

Pa. 6. After paying every degree of attention to the ſeveral propoſals which we received, and making the neceſſary enquiries as to the bidders themſelves, whether they were men of character, could be reſponſible to the Company, and were reſident on the ſpot, and how far the ſecurities were admiſſible which they offered; we have thought it, on a due conſideration of matters, moſt adviſable to rent the whole (excluſive of the Maſulipatam and Ponracca Salt Farms) to Letchema Narſinvaloo, for the term of five years, at the rate of one lack Madras Pagodas per annum, which is an advance on the former rent of this farm, as a perſon more to be depended upon than the others, from his character, the circumſtance of his being reſident in the Circars, and the unqueſtionable ſecurity he has produced.

7th. The Maſulipatam and Ponracca Salt Farms we have let to Swamy Pillah, for the term of five years, at the rate of forty-two thouſand five hundred Arcot Rupees per annum, his propoſal being 500 Rupees higher than any other, and his character, on enquiry, free from objection.

APPENDIX, No. 56.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 26th February 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident, Governor,
John Whitehill, Eſquire,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

READ the following Letter from Ganjam:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident, and Governor, &c. Council, Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We now beg leave to lay before you, the information we have at length obtained, reſpecting the value of the Government lands, ſince the year 1773, when the rent was entruſted to Juggoobundoo Choudery.

From a variety of cauſes, the inveſtigation has been attended with much difficulty, and it was found impracticable to obtain any accounts for the year 1776, in the leaſt to be depended on, until the cloſe of enſuing year, ending laſt September.

We have reaſon to believe, that the account of collections is aſcertained with exactneſs; but the greateſt difficulty throughout the enquiry has been, to determine the amount of the charges in the ſeveral Pergunnahs; and we are of opinion they muſt have been more conſiderable than they appear to be by the incloſed abſtracts; but as we were unable to ſay preciſely how much they may have amounted to, we have inſerted thoſe ſums only which we find were actually diſburſed; and we premiſe thus much in regard to the charges, in order that your Honour, &c. may be better able to determine on an equitable reduction, on account of the heavy loſſes which the late Renter declares he has ſuſtained.

APPENDIX. No. 56.

On reference to Juggoobundoo Choudery's petition, it appears, he has ſtated his loſſes in the years 1773, 1774, and 1775, at Rupees 61,724; whereas by the abſtract now before you, they amount only to Rupees 35,149. 3. 3.; but when the additional charges for the three years are conſidered, we are inclined to believe his loſſes have not been exaggerated.

With reſpect to the debts, amounting to Rupees 20,942. 10. 8. which he has repreſented as dubious, we are of opinion it will not be in his power to recover any conſiderable part of them; and we think it would in the end be for the advantage of the Company, rather to allow a deduction of the whole ſum, than to ſuffer the inhabitants to be rigorouſly preſſed for the payment of debts which were contracted in a time of great ſcarcity, and which they could not fully diſcharge, even were they driven to the laſt extremity, and obliged to diſpoſe of their cattle to ſatisfy his demands.

The balance due from Juggoobundoo Chowdery amounts to Rupees 182,666. 10. 8. ſo that ſhould your Honour, &c. be pleaſed to ſhew him the indulgence he has prayed for in his petition, and further think proper, for the reaſons we have ſet forth, to allow for his outſtanding balances, there will ſtill remain due to the Company one lack of Rupees, which in the ſaid petition he promiſed to pay in the months of September and October 1777.

The Chief has frequently called upon Jaggoobundoo Chowdery for this ſum, and although he has from time to time promiſed to pay it, ſtill no part has yet been received; ſeeing, therefore, how little dependance was to be placed on his promiſes, and all the accounts of the Havelly being now completed, we determined to ſummon him before us, and to inform him, that if he delayed any longer to pay the Company Rupees 100,000, which we well knew he had received from the rent, and which he had ſo long promiſed to diſcharge, that we ſhould repreſent his conduct to your Honour; &c. in the ſame unwarrantable light in which we beheld it. Juggoobundoo Cowdery was accordingly ſummoned, and the foregoing being explained to him, he appeared much alarmed, and after ſome heſitation informed us, that he had nothing to do with the Havelly lands; that at the particular requeſt of Ball Kiſtna, he had indeed lent his name to him, but that he (Ball Kiſtna) was actually the Renter. We could not but be much aſtoniſhed at ſo extraordinary a declaration; and proceeding to queſtion him further concerning it, he informed us, that fearful of offending Ball Kiſtna, he had to this time ſubmitted to be looked upon as the Renter, but now that the Company peremptorily demanded the balance due from the Havelly lands, that he could no longer avoid diſcovering the real truth; that what he had advanced was perfectly well known in the different Pergunnahs, and might be proved by all the people employed in making the collections. He then produced a petition, which he ſaid he had prepared for the occaſion, whenever it might happen; its contents are unknown to us, but when tranſlated, it ſhall be laid before you; in the mean time we ſhall endeavour to arrive at a certainty as to the truth of what he has aſſerted, and ſhall inform you, as ſoon as poſſible, of the reſult of our enquiries.

We have the honour to be,
with the greateſt reſpect,
Honourable Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
M. Williams,
R. Maunſell,
T. Oakes.

Ganjam,
14th January 1778.

The Board taking into conſideration the above Letter, agreed, That the Chief and Council of Maſulipatam be acquainted acquainted, that as the Board underſtand Ball Kiſtna has been ſome time from Ganjam in his way to the Preſidency; that he has been long, and is ſtill at Maſulipatam; and as they have particular information from the Gentlemen of Ganjam, that renders his preſence here indiſpenſably neceſſary, it is their order, that he be ſent under a guard of Sepoys.

APPENDIX. No. 56.

Sent the following Letter to Maſulipatam:

Mr. Edward Cotsford, Chief, &c. Council at Maſulipatam.

Gentlemen,

As we underſtand Ball Kiſtna has left Ganjam for ſome time, in his way to the Preſidency; that he has been long and is ſtill at Maſulipatam; and as we have received very particular information from the Gentlemen at Ganjam, which renders his preſence here indiſpenſably neceſſary, you will pleaſe to order him to ſet out immediately, and upon his refuſing, you will ſend him under a guard of Sepoys.

We are,

Gentlemen,

Your moſt obedient Servants,

Fort Saint George, 28th February 1779.

Tho Rumbold, &c. Council.

ACCOUNT of the Paubacunda Pergunnah.

1773.	Jemmabundy of the whole Pergannah as let out	49000 — —
	Addition	5907 13 —
			54907 13 —
	Deduct the following.
	Inaums Durroburt	143 2 —
	Charges of Coolies for Paſſengers	100 — —
	Balances	12585 1 —
			12828 3 —
				42079 10 —
1774.	Jemmabundy as let out	47800 4 —
	Addition	1048 4 —
	Nurram	500 — —
			49348 8 —
	Deduct the following.
	Inaums Durroburt	294 — —
	Cuſtoms not collected	302 — —
	Balances	7282 8 —
			7878 8 —
				41470 — —
1775.	Jemmabundy as let out	66908 12 —
	Addition	6832 3 —
	Nurgar	1884 8 —
			75625 7 —
	Deduct the following.
	Inaums Durroburt	1607 5 —
	Cuſtoms not collected	553 10 —
	Coolies for Paſſengers	294 — —
	Balances	1999 1 —
			4454 — —
				71171 7 —
	Jemmabundy as let out	5576 4 —
	Addition	100 — —
	Nurgar	1621 4 —
			7297 8 —
	Deduct the following.
	Inaums Durroburt	517 13 —
	Cuſtoms not collected	643 9 —
	Coolies for Paſſengers	132 — —
	Balances	5585 4 —
			6878 10 —
				50606 10 —
			Rupees	205327 11 —

Tho. Oakes.

APPENDIX. No. 56.

ACCOUNT of the Itchapour Pergunnah.

1773.	Villages as let out		37202 — —
	Addition for Charges		2755 — —
				39957 — —
	Deduct the following
	Inaums		10000 — —
	Balances		520 — —
				10520 — —
				29437 — —
	Land Cuſtoms collected		1894 — —
	Charges		237 — —
				1657 8 —
	Arrack Shop, &c. Farmer lets for		3186 4 —
	Charges	185 6 —
	Balances	94 2 —
			279 8 —
				2906 12 —
	Ibrahumbadda Pettah and Puckeer Pettah			330 12 —
	Salt ſold		7699 4 3
	Charges of making	608 4 —
	D° attending the Sale	499 — —
			1107 4 —
				6592 — 3
					40924 2
1774.	Villages as let out		38500 — —
	Addition for Charges		3725 12 —
			42225 12 —
	Inaums	11000 — —
	Balances	520 — —
			11520 — —
				30705 12 —
	Land Cuſtoms clear			2390 9 —
	Arrack Shop, &c. Farmer lets for		3662 5 —
	Charges	206 4 —
	Balances	231 10 —
			437 14 —
				3224 7 —
	Pettahs			297 4 —
	Salt ſold		3031 5 —
	Charges of making	514 8 —
	Ditto of Sales	179 — 6
			693 8 6
				2337 12 6
					38955 12 6
1775.	Villages as let out		36601 10 —
	Addition for Charges		3475 — —
			40076 10 —
	Inaums	10140 — —
	Charges	3475 — —
	Balances	2209 8 —
			15824 8 —
				24252 2 —
	Land Cuſtoms collected		2795 8 —
	Charges		213 — —
				582 8 —
	Arrack, &c. Farms let for		3352 10 —
	Charges	196 — —
	Balances	91 7 —
			287 7 —
				3065 3 —
			Carried forward - Rupees		79879 14 9

			Brought forward - Rupees		79879 14 9
	Ibrahimbadda and Packeer Pettah - - -			242 4 —
	Salt fold - - - - -		572 14 3
	Charges making - 426 2 —
	Sundry Charges - 15 — —
			441 2 —
				131 12 3
					30273 13 3
1776.	Villages let out - - - -		54182 — —
	Addition for Charges - - -		2840 — —
			57022 — —
	Inaums - - 12800 — —
	Balance and Charges 8791 — —
			21591 — —
				35431 — —
	Land Cuſtoms collected - - -		2083 8 —
	Charges - - - - -		542 — —
				1741 8 —
	Arrack, &c. Farms let out for - -		3048 11 —
	Charges - - 192 — —
	Balances - - 206 — —
			398 15 —
				2649 12 —
	Ibrahimbadda Pettah only - - - - -			189 12 —
	Salt Works, the Charges equal to, or greater than the Sales.				40012 — —
				Rupees - -	150165 10 —

ACCOUNT of the Terriſtaun Pergunnah, Years 1773, 1774, 1775 and 1776.

1773.	Villages let out for - - -	5480 4 —
	Balances unpaid - - - -	2228 1 —
			3252 3 —
	Farms of Tobacco, &c. - - -	3086 — —
	Balances unpaid - - -	343 11 —
			2742 5 —
	Land Cuſtoms - - - -	306 9 9
	Balances unpaid - - -	27 — —
			3042 — 9
				9036 8 9
1774.	Villages let out for - - -	14001 3 —
	Balances unpaid - - -	1844 5 —
			2 156 14 —
	Farms of Tobacco, &c. - - -	2300 15 9
	Balances unpaid - - -	404 7 —
			1896 8 9
	Land Cuſtoms - - - -	4850 9 9
	Balances unpaid - - -	1220 15 9
			3629 10 —
				17683 — 9
1775.	Villages let out for - - -	18155 8 9
	Balances unpaid - - -	2468 3 —
			15687 5 9
	Farms of Tobacco, &c. - - -	2772 2 6
	Balances unpaid - - -	994 — 6
			1778 2 —
	Land Cuſtoms - - - -	3912 9 —
	Balances unpaid - - -	276 11 3
			3635 13 9
				21101 5 6
1776.	Villages let out for - - -	20529 15 —
	Balances unpaid - - -	2024 8 —
			18505 7 —
	Farms of Tobacco, &c. - - -	2194 9 —
	Balances unpaid - - -	516 11 —
			1677 14 —
	Land Cuſtoms - - - -	2819 1 9
	Balances unpaid - - -	464 7 6
			2354 10 3
				22537 15 3
			Rupees - -	70358 14 3

(A true copy)
T. Oakes.

ACCOUNT of the Montready Pergunnah.

1773.	Jemmabundy	9915 — —
	Addition to D° for Charges	2000 — —
			11915 — —
	Inaums	- 250 — —
	Charges	1750 — —
	Balances	1187 7 —
			3187 7 —
				8727 9 —
1774.	Jemmabundy	14851 — —
	Addition for Charges	2200 — —
			17051 — —
	Inaums	- 890 — —
	Charges	1450 — —
	Balances	2773 11 —
			5113 11 —
				11937 5 —
1775.	Jemmabundy	7851 — —
	Addition for Charges	1258 6 —
			9109 6 —
	Inaums	- 100 — —
	Charges	1160 — —
	Balances	- 383 5 —
			1643 5 —
				7466 1 —
1776.	Jemmabundy of Biaulu	- 900 — —
	of Soorlah	- 800 — —
	of the Remainder	13500 — —
	Addition for Charges	2930 — —
			18130 — —
	Inaums	- 500 — —
	Charges	2430 — —
			2930 — —
				15200 — —
	(A true Copy) Thoˢ Oakes, Secʸ.		Rupees	43330 15 —

ACCOUNT of the Courlah Pergunnah.

1773.	Jemmabundy		6700 — —
	Balances		707 4 —
				5992 12 —
1774.	Jemmabundy		7250 — —
	Inaums Durroburt	- 64 — —
	Balances	- 439 10 9	503 10 9
				6746 5 3
1775.	Jemmabundy, the whole collected			5800 — —
1776.	Jemmabundy		5500 — —
	Inaums Durrobert	- 44 14 3
	Balances	- 500 7 6	545 5 9
				4954 10 3
	(A true Copy) Thomas Oakes, Secʸ.		Rupees	23493 11 6

ACCOUNT of the Aſka Pergunnah.

1773.	Collected		9000 — —
	Deduct Inaums		1500 — —
				7500 — —
		Carried forward	Rupees	7500 — —

APPENDIX. No. 56.

		Brought forward - -	Rupees	7500 — —
1774.	Collected - - - - - - - -		7900 — —
	Deduct Inaums - - - - - - - -		1200 — —
				6700 — —
1775.	Collected - - - - - - - -		8100 — —
	Deduct Inaums - - - - - - - -		1400 — —
				6700 — —
1776.	Collected - - - - - - - -		11800 — —
	Deduct Inaums - - - - - - - -		2183 — —
				9617 — —
	(A true Copy) Tho^{s} Oakes, Sec^{y}.		Rupees -	30517 — —

ACCOUNT of the Baroua Pergunnah.

1773.	Jemmabundy - - - - - - - - -		8422 — —
	Charges - - - - - - 927 7 9
	Lofs - - - - - - - 194 8 3
	Inaums - - - - - - 450 5 —
	Balances - - - - - - 64 2 —
			1636 7 —
				6785 9 —
1774.	Jemmabundy - - - - - - - - -		7214 2 —
	Charges - - - - - - 391 — —
	Inaums - - - - - - 501 10 6
	Balances - - - - - - 380 12 —
			1273 6 6
				5940 11 6
1775.	Jemmabundy - - - - - - - - -		7278 2 —
	Charges - - - - - - 444 15 —
	Inaums - - - - - - 234 15 —
	Balances - - - - - - 567 7 6
			1247 5 6
				6030 12 6
1776.	Jemmabundy late Crop, &c. - -	7949 7 —
	Parmaus - - - - - - 885 5 4
			8834 12 4
	Charges - - - - - - 350 — —
	Inaums - - - - - - 590 8 7
	Balances - - - - - - 367 1 4
			1207 9 11
				7627 2 5
	(A true Copy) T. Oakes, Sec^{y}.		Rupees -	26384 3 5

ACCOUNT of the Monſurcotah Pergunnah.

1773.	Jemmabundy of the Villages, &c. -	5745 — —
	Inaums, valued at - - -	250 — —
	Addition for Charges - - -	650 — —
			6645 — —
	Deduct Inaums - - - -	250 — —
	Charges - - - - -	650 — —
	Balances - - - - -	943 6 6
			1843 6 6
				4801 9 6
		Carried forward - -	Rupees	4801 9 6

APPENDIX. No. 58.

	Brought forward - - Rupees			4801 9 6
1774.	Jemmabundy of the Villages, &c. including two Pannauſes - - - - -	6251 — —
	Deduct Charges - - - - -	- 750 — —
			— — —	5501 — —
1775.	Jemmabundy of the Villages, &c. - - - -		6401 — —
	Deduct Charges - - - -	- 750 — —
	D° Balances - - - - -	- 125 8 —
			875 8 —
				5525 8 —
1776.	Jemmabundy of the Villages, &c. - - - -		8009 — —
	Deduct Charges - - - -	1000 — —
	Jhaums - - - - -	500 — —
	Balances - - - - - -	1110 15 —
			2610 15 —
				5389 1 —
		Rupees -		21217 2 6

(A true Copy)
Thos Oakes, Secr.

APPENDIX, No. 57.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, dated 21ſt May 1779.

SENT by Tappies the following Letter to Ganjam:

To Mr. Morgan Williams, Chief, &c. Council, at Ganjam.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letter of 5th March, relative to the ſtate of the Goomſoor Country, of which we are ſorry to find you give ſo unfavourable accounts.

We are willing to try every expedient that may poſſibly affect a reconciliation between the brothers: as we are ſtill apprehenſive that Vickeram Bungee may be the cauſe of more trouble at the particular periods when the harveſt is ready for reaping, and by that means occaſion a diminiſhing of the Company's revenues, or at leaſt give pretext for delay or excuſes for non-payment, we deſire that you will propoſe to him, that the ſon of Latchema Bungee ſhall be nominated to ſucceed to the Zemindary, upon the death of Vickeram Bungee; and if this is agreed to by him, that he ſhall, during his life-time, make ſuch proviſion for Latchema Bungee and his ſon as ſhall be thought adequate for their ſupport: on theſe conditions, he may return immediately to his Zemindary; and we deſire you will obtain from Vickeram Bungee his Anſwer, in writing, within a reaſonable time. But if this propoſition ſhould be rejected, we then empower you, in our name, to put Latchema Bungee into immediate poſſeſſion of the whole Zemindary, for which we will forward you, by the earlieſt opportunity, a Commiſſion of Rajahſhip; and it will be neceſſary that you inform us, after particular enquiry, whether by any meaſures we may take with the Zemindars bordering on the Ganjam Diſtricts where Vickeram Bungee now takes ſhelter, we may prevent his making any further inroads to the diſturbance of the inhabitants of the diſtricts, or that may give us ſome chance of getting him into our power.

We have received likewiſe your Letter of the 29th April, and peruſed the Papers incloſed, relative to the Havelly Lands, rented to Jaggabundoo Chowdrey, though it would appear that the real Renter is Ball Kiſtna.

As Ball Kiſtna is ſo ſoon to return to Ganjam, it will then be proper that you enter upon a thorough inveſtigation of this matter; and if it proves he is the real Renter, you will be careful that he makes good his balances to the Company.

We are, Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient Servant,
Thos Rumbold, &c.
Council.

Fort St. George,
May 21ſt, 1779.

APPENDIX, No. 58.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 26th April 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thos Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Major General Hector Munro,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Board reſuming the conſideration of a Letter from Ganjam, as entered in Conſultation the 3d inſtant; ordered, That Ball Kiſtna, the Company's Dubaſh, be immediately ſummoned before the Board.

Ball Kiſtna being ſummoned in conſequence, and attending the Board, the following Queſtions are put to him by the Preſident:

Queſ. Does he think Letchema Bungee a proper perſon to be appointed Rajah of the Goomſoor Country?—Anſ. He thinks Letchema Bungee a very proper perſon, and that Vickeram Bungee has been the cauſe of all the troubles that have happened in the country.

Queſ. Suppoſe Letchema Bungee was appointed Rajah, does he then think Vickeram Bungee would occaſion any trouble?—Anſ. Yes, unleſs matters are accommodated between the two brothers.

Queſ. Does he think that the Ryots are attached to Vickeram Bungee?—Anſ. A quarter part for Vickeram Bungee, and three parts for Letchema Bungee.

Queſ. Does he think that if the Goomſoor Country was once ſettled, that there would be an end put to the troubles?—Anſ. He thinks there would be no troubles in any other part of the country.

Queſ. What is the time for ſowing the crops?—Anſ. This is the time.

Queſ. How did Vickeram Bungee, being the younger brother, come to be appointed to the Zemindary?—Anſ.

APPENDIX. No. 58.

Anſ. He was adopted by his father, and acted under him during his adminiſtration; and upon the death of his father, the Board confirmed him in the Zemindary agreeable to his father's adoption.

Two Petitions having been delivered in to the Board by Ball Kiſtna, with ſome accompanying papers, relative to the ſubject of the above Letter, they are now read, and ordered to lie upon the table for further conſideration.

To the Honourable Tho. Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

The humble Petition of Ball Kiſtna, ſheweth,

That your Petitioner begs leave to lay before your Honours, a demand for a balance due from the Havelly Renter, Jagabundoo Chowdrey, at Ganjam: In his defence, he pretends that he only lent his name as renter, and that your Petitioner was to be accountable for the whole rent to the Company, which your Petitioner denies, as being entirely falſe, the ſaid Jagabundoo Chowdrey having acted with full power in the whole management, with the aſſiſtance of your Petitioner whenever it was required.

Your Petitioner moſt humbly requeſts leave to lay before your Honours, vouchers in teſtimony of Jagabundoo Chowdrey's having the ſole management of the Havelly, as follows:

In 1769, whilſt Mr. Cotsford was Chief, the ſaid Jagabundoo Chowdrey, brother to Sham Sunder Chowdrey, received the rent of the Havelly, and deſired your Petitioner to aſſiſt him in the management; accordingly your Petitioner did ſo, and drew up an agreement, dated 21ſt July 1772, to ſecure himſelf in the property for the profit and loſs of the rent, of which your Honours will receive the tranſlation here joined.

On the 21ſt May 1773, the ſaid Sham Sunder Chowdrey died, and Jagabundoo Chowdrey became the heir of his eſtate, and undertook the whole management of the Havelly, in which he was aſſiſted by your Petitioner for a conſiderable time, in the ſame manner as he had acted for his deceaſed brother. Several months after, a diſpute aroſe between your Petitioner and Jugabundoo Chowdrey, concerning different dealings; at the time of ſettling, all the accounts of each party were examined by an arbitration of reputation; Jagabundoo Chowdrey appeared himſelf indebted to your Petitioner for the ſum of R^{s} 63,019, to the end of the 8th of January 1775, for which he gave two obligations, and which your Petitioner is ready to produce whenever your Honours may require it, together with another diſcharge which has been determined under the ſame date, of which alſo your Honours have a tranſlation.

Some time after, the ſaid Jagabundoo Chowdrey made uſe of many perſuaſions to induce your Petitioner to aſſiſt him, as he had done before, without which he was not capable to carry on the management; and gave an agreement to your Petitioner, dated 20th July 1776, by which he was to receive and diſburſe to the beſt advantage; of which likewiſe your Honours have a tranſlation.

When the term of theſe obligations expired, and upon ſettling the accounts between your Petitioner, and the ſaid Jagabundoo Chowdrey, the account current, with every particular, was made up, commencing in December 1774, and ending in July 1778, with the monthly collections, and what has been paid by your Petitioner to the Company, &c. in the hand writing of the ſaid Jagabundoo Chowdrey's Conicoply, Tormundra Sheveram Pundit, which your Petitioner is ready to produce.

Your Petitioner, at the time of his proceeding to Madras, on the 6th September 1778, appeared before the Chief, Mr. Williams, and offered to atteſt the truth of what he now declares, relative to the matter between him and Jagabundoo Chowdrey, whether or no your Petitioner had any concerns or connections with the rent, or if he owed him any money; to which Jagabundoo Chowdrey replied, that he had no concern or connection whatever with the rent, and that he himſelf was the only perſon accountable to the Company for the rent, and ſtood indebted in the ſum Rup^{s} 63,019, which is balance due to your Petitioner: All this has been declared before the Chief of Ganjam.

It was agreed, between your Petitioner and the ſaid Jagabundoo Chowdrey, that the whole management of the country ſhould be tranſacted under the particular hand and ſeal of the ſaid Jagabundoo Chowdrey.

Your Petitioner, therefore, humbly hopes that your Honours will perceive the injuſtice done him by falſe information during his abſence from Ganjam, and that you will be pleaſed to enter into a full examination of the affair.

Your Petitioner, as in duty bound, ſhall ever pray.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, dated 26th April 1779.

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

The Propoſal of Ball Kiſtna.

Who humbly begs leave to lay before your Honour, &c. That if the Honourable Company grant the rent of the whole Itchapour Diſtrict (that is to ſay, Havelly or Government Lands, with the Sea and River Cuſtoms of Monſoor Cotah, Sonepoor, and Baroa, and likewiſe the ſeveral Zemindary Diſtricts) for ten years, commencing from 1ſt June 1779, the value of the rent for every year as follows:

1ſt Year	Rupees	350000
2d D°	-	350000
3d D°	-	350000
4th D°	-	425000
5th D°	-	425000
6th D°	-	430000
7th D°	-	430000
8th D°	-	430000
9th D°	-	430000
10th D°	-	430000
	Rupees	4050000

The yearly payments of which ſums ſhould be granted, the ſame as the rent of the Chicacole Havelly.

The following articles to be granted in order to ſettle the diſtrict, and to encourage the ſame to the Inhabitants, &c. viz.

The Garriſon conſiſting of a battalion of Sepoys, may conſtantly remain in the Ganjam Diſtrict, out of which one or two companies of Sepoys may attend the Renter, in order to collect the Revenues, and to place the Guards at the different places when it is required: The Renter will allow the Batta to them, according to the regulation of the Company's books, except in the Ganjam Town.

When the Troops are marching up the country on account of any troubles ariſing from the Zemindars, &c. the field charges ſhould be placed to the Honourable Company's account, but not to that of the Renter.

From the beginning of this rent, the Jemmabundies ought to be ſettled upon the value of the crops, or what they may produce; and in caſe any Rajah or Zemindar ſhould make complaints about the increaſing of them, he hopes they will be obliged to comply to the ſatisfaction of the Renter.

The Goomſoor Zemindar, Vickeram Bungee, has left the place for theſe ſeveral months, on account of his not being able to make up the Company's Tribute; by which means that country is now in great confuſion and trouble, and likewiſe the inhabitants gone away from the place, which ought to be ſettled ſoon. Vickeram Bungee and Latchema Bungee are brothers; the firſt is the Rajah, and the latter is now under the Company's protection; he therefore hopes, that whichever of them is found moſt capable to manage the country, and who pays the Company's rent the beſt, may be confirmed Rajah, and as ſoon as the Renter has ſettled every thing, that the Troops now in that diſtrict may be removed, on his application to the gentlemen there.

Lately the Honourable Company have let out ſeveral farms in that diſtrict, which he deſires they may enjoy, agreeable to the Company's Cowle, under the Renter, on paying him the Kiſts regularly; otherwiſe he hopes they will grant a permiſſion to take away thoſe rents from them, that he may receive the revenues himſelf.

As ſeveral perſons may interfere privately with the Zemindars, and may perſuade them to put off or cauſe difficulties in paying the Company's revenue, he hopes there will be a poſitive order given, not to protect or give them any bad counſel.

Permiſſion ſhould be allowed to all the European merchants to purchaſe grain, &c. and pay the ſame value as the natives, and likewiſe to pay the cuſtoms and duties for the ſea and lands as uſual.

As the ſeveral duties at the Ganjam Buzar, and the rents of the Bannians, were formerly paid to the Renter, but now, ſince the Havelly have been taken under the Company's management, theſe articles have been received by the gentlemen, he hopes that all the articles at the Ganjam Town may be received by the Renter.

The Nizeanagur Rajah, Munny Doo and the Calli-coote Rajah, Murda Rauze, are both now at Ganjam; he hopes theſe two Rajahs may be delivered up to the Renter's diſpoſal, otherwiſe troubles will ariſe in their Countries, and the inhabitants will leave the place, which will conſequently injure the revenues.

As the hire of coolies, carts, bullocks, &c. has been lately fixed by the Chief and Council at Ganjam, he requeſts that it may be confirmed accordingly.

He hopes permiſſion will be granted to enjoy the ſeveral Inaum lands and villages in the Itchapour Diſtrict as uſual, under the management of Mr. Maunſell.

APPENDIX, No. 59.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, dated the 2d July, 1779.

At a Conſultation;

PRESENT,

The Right Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

MINUTES of laſt Conſultation read:

The Board reſuming the conſideration of the buſineſs relative to the Ganjam Revenues, upon which the Preſident in a former Conſultation had requeſted the favour of the Members of Council to give their opinions fully, to aſſiſt his own judgment as much as poſſible, the opinion of the following Members of Council are now read.

Read the following Minute of Mr. Perring.

Mr. Perring is of opinion with regard to the Revenues of the Ganjam Diſtrict, that on account of their having fallen ſo much in arrear, it is incumbent on Government to fall, if poſſible, on ſome mode of collecting them, that can be more depended on, than the preſent one.

Ball Kiſtna is beyond doubt thoroughly acquainted with the nature of the inhabitants, and their ability to perform their engagements; and is, Mr. Perring believes, the fitteſt man the Board could appoint to the collection of the revenues; but the offer he makes, Mr. Perring is of opinion is inſufficient, being much leſs than what was collected by the Chief and Council for ſome years before the late troubles in the Goomſoor Country.

Read the following Minute of Mr. Johnſon.

The Preſident having requeſted the Members of the Board to give their ſentiments on the mode which appear to them beſt calculated for ſecuring the Company's Revenues in the Ganjam Diſtrict, and for preventing any failure of them in future; I am of opinion, that all the Zemindars ſhould be obliged to ſettle all their accounts until the 30th of April laſt, and to give bonds for the payment of them in ſuch Kiſts, and at ſuch ſtated periods, as the Chief and Council may think reaſonable; that orders be given to the Chief and Council to make the Rajahs adhere ſtrictly to the ſpirit of their agreements, and on no pretence whatſoever to poſtpone the punctual payment of the Kiſts for their Jemmabundy.

The management of the Havelly Lands to be continued under Mr. Maunſell, who, in my opinion, has given proofs of his attachment to the intereſt of his employers, and I am perſuaded will not ſuffer the revenue ariſing from theſe lands to decreaſe.

As the Board have agreed to reſtore Vickeram Bungee to the Rajaſhip of Goomſoor, I hope he will be punctual in the payment of his Tribute in future; although I muſt own I entertain great doubts of his prudent conduct; but by tranquillity being reſtored to the Itchapoor Diſtrict, there is no doubt of the other Rajahs being made ſenſible that the Company's orders muſt be obeyed.

The inſuperable objections to a Renter for this whole diſtrict, and the numerous examples I have ſeen of their inſufficiency, convinces me that the moſt eligible plan is what I have ſuggeſted; but, ſhould any more ſecure or feaſible mode be propoſed, I ſhall be happy to ſee it adopted.

Read the following Minute of Sir Hector Munro.

As different ſentiments are entertained reſpecting Ball Kiſtnah's propoſals, and as the Preſident has deſired the gentlemen of Council to give in their opinions ſeparately on that ſubject, I now, in compliance with his requeſt, ſhall deliver mine.

The little experience I have had in the buſineſs of the Revenue Department, and the want of practical knowledge, will not allow me to enter minutely into the ſubject: I mean therefore to expreſs what I have to ſay in a very few words, confining my attention ſolely to the preſent ſtate of the Revenues in the Ganjam Diſtrict, and to the means of ſecuring regular payments of them in future.

The Military Eſtabliſhment in the Diſtrict of Ganjam, coſts the Company no leſs than 80,000 Pagodas per annum; it is placed immediately under the Chief and Council; and this very conſiderable expence is incurred for the ſole uſe of ſupporting their authority in the collection of the revenue; nevertheleſs, in the courſe of a few years we find that the balance from the Zemindars have been gradually increaſing, until now that they amount to 400,000 Pagodas: From this plain and ſimple ſtate of the caſe, would not any one imagine that the military force was inſufficient; that our Troops had been defeated, and that the contumacy of the Zemindars had withſtood all our efforts to reduce them? this, I ſay, is the concluſion that any one would naturally draw: But the fact is widely different; our Troops have on every occaſion routed the enemy, and we have, in a very late inſtance, ſeen a principal Zemindar driven from his country; for preſuming to diſpute the orders of a Chief and Council.

When I reflect on the facility with which oppoſition was ſuppreſſed, I am at a loſs to conceive the cauſe of failure in the collection of the Tributes, or what plauſible reaſons can be aſſigned for it.

As the internal management of the diſtrict is entruſted ſolely to the Chief and Council, they have every thing in their power: Yet, inveſted as they are with authority of Government, and armed with the power of directing a military force, the Zemindars fall into arrear, and the amount of their balances increaſe; the revenues of the Company are not to be depended on, and the reſources of Government fail.

I have

APPENDIX. No. 60.

I have here, I think, in a few words drawn a juſt picture of the ſtate of the revenues in the Ganjam Diſtrict, a ſtate that in my opinion calls loudly for reformation; and I am well pleaſed to ſee the attention of Government fixed upon means of effecting it: But I muſt confeſs, that from any mode which we may at preſent adopt, I entertain hopes of little more than a temporary advantage. There is, I apprehend, a grand defect in the ſyſtem of the ſervice; the reſponſibility in which the Company hold their ſervants, is, I fear, not ſufficient encouragement to ſacrifice their intereſt to their duty; and while things continue ſo, I ſhall be free enough to declare, that with reſpect to the complexion of the party, it makes, I doubt, but little difference to the Company, by whom their Revenues are collected: There is however in the inſtance now before us, ſomething very ſingular.

After the revenues of Ganjam have fallen into arrear, and large balances remain due under the management of the Chief and Council, that a black man ſhould offer to uſe his endeavours for the recovery of thoſe payments which they could not obtain, and actually engage for the punctual diſcharge of the revenues in future, appears on firſt ſight ſo extraordinary, that if the offer was made by one who was a ſtranger to the diſtricts, I ſhould conſider him merely as an adventurer, and far from expecting that he would keep his word; I ſhould accept almoſt any ſecurity he might give for the performance of his engagements: This, however, at preſent, is far from being the caſe; no one is better acquainted with the Ganjam Diſtrict, than the man who makes theſe offers; he has, I underſtand, been employed there on public buſineſs for many years, particularly under Mr. Cotsford, who firſt ſettled that country, and is now ſtrongly recommended by him as a man of integrity and capacity. There is another circumſtance which in my opinion, leads to a concluſion favourable to his propoſals; ſince they have become public, ſome of the gentlemen at Ganjam have, I underſtand, offered to increaſe the revenue, and to enſure the payments of it, at leaſt for a time, although for years paſt there has been almoſt a conſtant annual decreaſe, and no plan, at leaſt to my knowledge, has ever been ſuggeſted for preventing it.

Conſidering therefore theſe circumſtances as a kind of expence, on which I may preſume to form a judgment, I declare the Propoſals of Ball Kiſtnah appear to me ſo much for the Company's advantage, that I ſee no ground on which they can be rejected: I do not, however, wiſh to determine finally, until we know what the gentlemen will undertake to perform. One of them has ſaid, that the country can bear a Tribute of five lacks of Rupees; will they inſure the payment of it? and in what time will they undertake to ſecure the outſtanding balances now due to the Company? Let them reply to theſe Queſtions; and as our concluding an engagement with Ball Kiſtnah might be conſtrued into a reflection on them, I hope their anſwer will be to the ſatisfaction of the Board, otherwiſe I am clearly of opinion that his Propoſals ſhould be accepted.

Having thus delivered my ſentiments on the ſubject under debate, I beg leave only to add, that although I expreſs myſelf on this occaſion without reſerve, nothing is more foreign to my intention than to paſs reflections on any man or ſet of men; but, as I have an opinion to ſupport, I cannot in juſtice to myſelf, avoid mentioning thoſe facts on which it is founded.

Fort St. George, Hector Munro.
26th June 1779.

APPENDIX, No. 60.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations,
Thurſday July 29th 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Baronet,
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Charles Smith,
Sam^l Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

READ the following Report of Ball Kiſtna, for renting the Itchapour Diſtrict.

To the Honourable Sir Tho^s Rumbold, Bart. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

The Propoſal of Ball Kiſtnah, humbly begs leave to lay before your Honour, &c. that if the Honourable Company grant the rent of the whole Itchapoor Diſtrict, excluſive of the Ganjam Sea and River Cuſtoms (that is to ſay Havelly or Government Lands, with the Sea and River Cuſtoms of Monſor Cota, Senacour, and Baroo, and likewiſe ſeveral Zemindar Diſtricts) for ten years, commencing from the 25 September 1779, at the rate of four lacks and fifteen thouſand Rupees per annum, the yearly payment of which ſums ſhould be made the ſame as the rent of the Chicacole Havelly. I beg leave to acquaint your Honour, &c. I ſhall conſider to let for the good of the Company, and alſo to ſhew my zeal for their ſervice by ſecuring the rent; in order to obtain their favour and protection, I am ready to engage to pay the ſum of forty thouſand Rupees annually to the Company's Treaſury, on account of the old balance due to the Company in that diſtrict, to the 25th September 1779, during the time of my receiving the rent for ten years, provided, if the Honourable Company ſhould approve and grant a Saned to Vickeram Bunjee for the Rajaſhip of Goojar; and I will give the particular account of the ſaid 40 000 Rupees collection to the Chief and Council there, to be credited from ſuch diſtrict.

I beg leave to inform your Honour, &c. the following articles to be granted, in order to ſettle the diſtrict, and to encourage the ſame to the inhabitants, &c

The Garriſon, conſiſting of a battalion of Sepoys, may remain in the Ganjam Diſtrict, out of which one or two Companies of Sepoys may attend the renter, in order to collect the revenues, and to place the Guards at the different places when it is required. The renter will allow the Batta to them according to the regulation of the Company's books, except in the Ganjam Town.

When the Troops are marching up the country, on account of any troubles ariſing from the Zemindars, &c. the Field charges ſhould be placed to the Honourable Company's account, but not to that of a renter.

Lately the Honourable Company have let out ſeveral Farms in that Diſtrict; which he deſires they may enjoy agreeable to the Company's Cowle under the renter, on paying him the Kiſts regularly, otherwiſe he hopes they will grant a permiſſion to take away thoſe rents from them, that he may receive the revenues himſelf.

Permiſſion ſhould be allowed to all European merchants to purchaſe grain, &c. paying the ſame value as the natives, and likewiſe to pay the cuſtoms and duties for the ſea and lands as uſual. The Maſoola boats in the ſea ports of Moonſoor Cota, Sonapour, and Barou, the permiſſion ſhould be granted to be under the renter, in order to encourage the merchants and traders for their export and import.

As the ſeveral duties at the Ganjam Buzar and the rent of the Banians were formerly paid to the renter, but now, ſince the Havelly has been taken under the Company's management, thoſe articles have been received by the gentlemen, he hopes that all ſuch articles at the Ganjam Town may be received by the renter. As the hire of coolies, carts, bullocks, &c has been lately fixed by the Chief and Council at Ganjam, he requeſts that it may be confirmed accordingly.

Read the following Repreſentation of Ball Kiſtna.

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

The Repreſentation of Ball Kiſtna.

I humbly beg leave to lay before your Honour, &c. Aſſurances that my offer for renting the Itchapoor Diſtrict for the ſum of four lacks and fifteen thouſand Rupees per annum, is full as large a Sum as the Company can expect; the revenues of that diſtrict will never bear to make a collection any thing near 500,000 Rupees, without oppreſſing the inhabitants, and whatever attempt may be made to ſhew a more conſiderable collection this year, will be ſeverely felt hereafter. What I now offer, conſidering the trouble I ſhall undergo, will afford very little advantages to myſelf, and my whole ſcheme is to put the revenues, in courſe of time, on a proper footing without oppreſſing any body, and to obtain the Company's favour and protection; and I am convinced that greater encouragement muſt be given to the inhabitants, and advances of conſiderable ſums of money be made them for manuring the lands, to bring the country into good order, otherwiſe the revenues of that diſtrict will certainly fall ſhort from year to year.

I beg leave to inform your Honour, &c. that there are ſeveral Diſtricts of the Zemindars, that turn out worſe and worſe from year to year, on account of the Rajah not managing properly, nor giving any encouragement to the inhabitants, but are conſtantly oppreſſing them, without allowing them their proper ſhare of the crops. Great numbers of inhabitants have been obliged to quit their habitations, which is a cauſe of great neglect in the cultivation. Therefore the Company's Jemmabundy, which was ſettled formerly for every year, has ſcarcely ever been collected, which occaſions the heavy balance due on them; and the Company's Troops have been obliged to take the field againſt them at great expence, and at laſt, what the Company have got from the country, has been moſtly expended by the charges of the diſtrict, which will be proved by the Ganjam accounts to this Honourable Board.

If the Honourable Company grant the Rent agreeable to my propoſals, I muſt take proper meaſures to ſettle thoſe diſtricts on advancing the money, and to eſtabliſh the inhabitants in their habitations again, otherwiſe the country will be ruined from one year to another without doubt. I have therefore, for my own credit, conſidering all that has paſt in the Ganjam Diſtrict, with regard to the falling off of revenues from year to year, undertaken to put the diſtrict into proper order, by encouraging the Zemindars and the Country People for my future reputation, with hopes of ſome ſmall advantage for my trouble upon an examination of the laſt ſeveral years, and have offered the ſum of 415,000 Rupees per annum, contained in my Propoſal, and likewiſe 40,000 Rupees for every year on account of the old balance due to the Company on the diſtrict; both ſums amount to Rupees 455,000 per annum, which I will engage to pay to the Honourable Company without admitting any trouble or expences in collecting the revenues, as there is very often great expences on this occaſion, and excluſive, as I have ſaid in my Propoſal, of the Ganjam Sea and River Cuſtoms. If the Honourable Company grant me the rent agreeable to my Propoſal, I muſt be at the expences of about a lack of Rupees for repairing the tanks, watercourſes, &c. and to aſſiſt the inhabitants of the Havelly and Zemindary, as this has been neglected hitherto, otherwiſe I ſhall not be able to make good the Company's rent and the balance, according to my promiſe.

If your Honour, &c. think that they can collect 500,000 Rupees every year, if the country is not let out, I humbly beg that your Honour, &c. will pleaſe to peruſe the former collections of every year what has been collected. There are two or three years collections will appear high, but the gentlemen of Ganjam were obliged to ſend Troops againſt the Rajahs, and got part of the balance with great difficulty, after leaving the Company's Troops ſeveral months there; but they did not forcibly collect it, the Rajahs were obliged to diſpoſe of their jewels, and I to make good the demands of the Company, and they are turned poor and are not able to make up the Company's balance, if the Company even ſend the Troops againſt them; to prove which, how has the Goomſoor Diſtrict ſtood for theſe ſeveral years in trouble and confuſion, and no inhabitants ſettled properly in their habitations. I am informed that Latchema Bunjee has been confirmed in the Rajaſhip of Goomſoor. If it is ſo, it will continually occaſion troubles in that diſtrict, and difficulty to collect the revenues, and the Company's Troops muſt remain there to prevent diſturbances. If it ſhould be the Company's pleaſure to grant the Zemindary again to Vickeram Bunjee, the country will be ſettled in peace and quiet without requiring the Company's Troops, and the revenues may eaſily be collected with the old balance due on that diſtrict, and I think it is the better way for the Company, if the Honourable Board may approve.

As for my paying the 40,000 R^{s} yearly on account of the old balance, it is a great offer for me to go through, and I muſt get every diſtrict properly ſettled to recover the yearly Tribute, together with a part of the Company's balance out of ſome diſtricts; others are entirely ruined, and will not afford the recovery of any part; and even the Tribute will fall ſhort, becauſe there are ſome family diſputes amongſt themſelves, and while they remain they will not let the inhabitants ſettle in the villages, in order to diſtreſs each party.

It is ſaid ſeveral of the inhabitants of the Havelly and Zemindary have abſconded from their villages, on account of not receiving their proper ſhare of their huſbandry, and a large part of the lands are uncultivated in the Government and the Zemindary Lands, which muſt occaſion a deduction in the Revenues.

Hoping therefore your Honour's favour and protection, I truſt you will conſider the above particulars, and determine as you judge beneficial for the Company's intereſt, and the juſtneſs of the repreſentation.

The Preſident delivers in the following Minute, relative to farming the Ganjam Diſtricts.

Having fully conſidered the ſtate of the Ganjam Diſtrict, its diſtance from the Preſidency, and the difficulty of bringing it under proper controul, but by letting it out to a Renter for a certain fixed rent to the Company, on whom the Chief and Council, or a reſident, may by a proper check, to ſee that the Renter's engagements are fully complied with, that he keeps within the terms of the Cowle granted to him, and in no reſpect exerciſes any degree of oppreſſion towards the Zemindars and inhabitants, but affords them all encouragement, in order to bring the country, in the courſe of a few years, into a more flouriſhing ſtate, than by accounts it is in at preſent: I am therefore of opinion, the terms of Ball Kiſtnah ſhould be accepted, and a Cowle be immediately granted to him, that he may repair, without loſs of time, to Ganjam, as the ſeaſon requires his immediate preſence there.

I ſhall beg leave to ſubmit to the Board the principal reaſons that have induced me to offer the opinion I have now done.

The Itchapore Diſtrict is valued in the Company's account, Revenues in their Northern Circars, at a Jemmabundy of R^{s} 516,419, which, at 350 R^{s} per 100 P^{s}, is, P^{s} 147,548. 10. 23. but on a calculate of one year with another, it will be found the revenue has not yielded any thing near to that amount, which has occaſioned an accumulated account of balances that are ſtill going on, and are yearly entered in the account of Quick Stock, only tended to deceive the Company with a Statement of what it's impoſſible for them ever to receive; but it is not the amount collected that is alone to be attended to, in conſidering the utility of farming out the diſtrict; but the immenſe expences attending theſe collections, leave but a trifling profit to the Company; and the accompanying Statement will ſhew the total amount collected from the time the Company took poſſeſſion till the 30th of April laſt, amounting to Pagodas 1,298,404. 13. 27. The Civil and Military charges (excluſive of the fortifications, which amount to near Pagodas 50,000) are Pagodas 856,450. 4. 70. beſides the Aſſiſtance of the Bengal Troops, whoſe expences were paid from Bengal; and it will here be neceſſary to add ſome remarks on the collections of thoſe years that appear conſiderable.

From May 1772 to April 1773, the collections amounted to Pagodas 144,578. 12. 47. that year there were were two battalions of Sepoys ſent into the diſtricts, and the amount collected not on the exact Statement of the Jemmabundy, but a great part in conſequence of the Reduction of ſeveral places belonging to Bumadoo, one of the principal Rajahs, and likewiſe part of the balances due from the ſeveral Zemindars.

APPENDIX. No. 61.

From May 1774 to the 30th of April 1775, the Collections amounted to Pagodas 138,098. 7. 9. From 1ſt May 1775 to the 30th of April 1776, 173,076. 23. 24.

In the above two years alſo, the collections are greatly aſſiſted by Troops employed in the diſtricts, and do not depend on the Jemmabundy alone, but a great part is the recovery of balances of former years, particularly from the Goomſoor Rajah, who paid what was due from him.

I come now to the laſt year's collections; From the 1ſt May 1778 to the 30th of April 1779 during which period the Collections are ſaid to amount to P^{s} 143,445. 15. 47. And it may here be neceſſary to remark, that obſerving from the year 1776 the collections decreaſed, and that in the laſt year, from the 1ſt May 1778 to the 28th of February 1779, there was to no greater amount collected than P^{s} 71,831. 26. 40. and for the full year preceding that, only P^{s} 97,907. 12. 57. I determined to conſider on ſome regulations that might ſecure a certain revenue to the Company in thoſe diſtricts at leſs expence; for, by referring to the Statement I now deliver in with this Minute, it will appear, that if a very unexpected collection had not been made in the months of March and April, the Company would have ſuffered a loſs from their being in poſſeſſion of the diſtricts; for the amount of the Civil and Military charges for the two years, to the 30th of April 1779, are eſtimated at Pagodas 189,587. 41. 30. the collections to the end of February 1779, for the two years, amount to no more than Pagodas 169,739. 7. 7. and even with the addition brought ſo unexpectedly to account in the months of March and April, the Company gain in the two years, only Pagod 24,585. 28. 74. I ſay unexpectedly; for during the twelve years that the Company have had poſſeſſion of the diſtricts, no ſuch collection was ever made in the months of March and April; the preceding year the amount received was trifling in compariſon of what has been brought to account in thoſe months of the preſent ſeaſon; whether a report of a deſign to rent the country, or to make ſome alterations in the mode of collections and reduction of expence operated to produce ſo conſiderable a receipt of revenue, in order for the preſent to ward off an alteration, by ſhewing a more conſiderable collection than was expected, I will not pretend to ſay: no reaſon was aſſigned at the end of February, for the receipts being ſo backward, and it cannot be urged that the low price, or little demand for grain, was the cauſe, as it is well known the grain from the Ganjam Diſtricts is chiefly exported to the Southward, and that the exportation is generally made in the months of January and February, or the middle of March at the lateſt, with ſafety.

I ſhall not, therefore, proceed further into an examination how ſuch a conſiderable part of the revenue came to be brought to account ſo late in the ſeaſon; but ſince we have been ſo fortunate as to receive the money, and we are much diſtreſſed at the Preſidency, by the lowneſs of the treaſury, I ſhall recommend to the Board, that an order be iſſued to the Chief and Council of Ganjam, to ſend up two lacks of Rupees with all poſſible diſpatch and ſafety.

Ball Kiſtna, in his propoſal, offers 415,000 R^{s} annually, excluſive of the Ganjam ſea and river cuſtoms, which may be computed at 10,000 R^{s}. and alſo to pay annually 40,000 R^{s} on account of the balances; theſe ſums make a certain revenue to the Company of 465,000 R^{s}. which is more, Communibus Annis, than ever they received; but whatever may be the collections, the Company can look but for little advantage, if ſome reductions are not made in the expences, for nearly the whole amount of the revenue is abſorbed in the Civil and Military charges; at preſent two battalions of Sepoys are kept there; by Ball Kiſtnah's account, one will be ſufficient. He offers to pay the propoſed rent, free from all charges of collections, and even to pay the batta to the Sepoys employed with him upon that ſervice. I would recommend to the Board to go into an inveſtigation of the Civil and Military charges, and to ſee how they can be reduced; and it is worthy their conſideration, whether the eſtabliſhment of a Chief and Council, or a Reſident, is moſt for the Company's intereſt; the former muſt unavoidably occaſion a greater expence, and it ſeems to be entirely unneceſſary to have a Chief and Council where the whole inveſtments of the Company do not amount to twelve thouſand Rupees in a year; the ſea and river cuſtoms of Ganjam, &c. ſea ports, formerly, when under the adminiſtration of the Moors, produced eighty thouſand Rupees per annum; they do not now amount to more than 12,000 R^{s}, no great proof that the trade and advantages of the Settlement have benefited by an European Government.

Having fully offered the reaſons on which I have formed my opinion for farming the diſtrict, I have nothing more to add, and ſubmit the whole to the determination of the Board.

Tho^{s} Rumbold.

The Preſident's Minute being now read, Mr. Johnſon begs leave to obſerve, that not being prepared to give an opinion upon it at preſent, he wiſhes to have the conſideration of the Preſident's Minute, together with Ball Kiſtnah's propoſal and repreſentation, deferred for a few days, when Mr. Johnſon will enter a Minute on the occaſion.

Mr. Smith being of opinion with Mr. Johnſon, requeſts further time to conſider the Preſident's Minute, and will likewiſe deliver in a Minute on the ſubject of Ball Kiſtnah's propoſal.

Agreed, That the further conſideration of the Preſident's Minute be poſtponed to next Tueſday.

APPENDIX, No. 61.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 26th Auguſt 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Board reſuming the conſideration of the Preſident's Minute, relative to farming the Ganjam Diſtricts, together with the repreſentations and propoſals of Ball Kiſtna, as entered in Conſultation the 29th July; the Preſident delivers in the following Minute, with the accompanying papers, marked N° 1, 2, 3, in addition to his former Minute of the 29th July, for farming the Ganjam Diſtrict.

In addition to the Minute I delivered in to the Board the 29th July, on the ſubject of renting the Ganjam Diſtricts, I ſhall offer a few more obſervations, that have confirmed me in the opinion, that it will be for the credit and intereſt of the Company to accept the propoſals made by Ball Kiſtna. In matters of Revenue, aſſertions and declamations do not prove any thing, unleſs ſupported by facts. Accounts are the only guides by which a true judgment can be formed. I have thoroughly examined the laſt two years collections; and the papers I now deliver in, N° 1, 2, 3, will ſhew the particulars of the collections brought to account, from the 1ſt May 1777 to the

APPENDIX. No. 61.

the 30th April 1778; and from 1ſt May 1778 to the 30th April 1779. It muſt be obſerved, that the year for the collections end in September; but as the accounts are always adjuſted in the general books to the 30th April each year, it makes no difference with reſpect to the yearly collections; but has this diſadvantage, that the Zemindars are always in arrears. Had I examined the particulars of other former years, it would have ſtill gone further in ſupport of my ſentiments; but the two laſt will ſufficiently explain the nature of the Revenue, and ſhew the Company how fallacious an account is held out to them, when the Jemmabundy of the Ganjam Diſtricts is rated in their books at upwards of five lacks of Rupees. The accounts I now deliver in will ſhew, that

From the 1ſt of May 1777, to the 30th April 1778, there was collected, on account of Balances due from the Year 1770, to the end of the Year 1775	20,855	29	9
For the Year 1776	32,935	19	25
And of the Jemmabundy for the Year 1777, only	44,116	6	23
Total Collection	97,907	12	57

From the 1ſt of May 1778 to the 30th April 1779, on account of Balances from the Year 1770 to the end of the Year 1776	31,469	1	4
On account of the Year 1777	19,256	33	34
And for the Jemmabundy of the Year 1778	92,719	22	49
Total Collection	143,445	15	47

It muſt be obſerved, that the greateſt part of the collections for 1778, is brought to account in the months of March and April 1779; and being entered in the caſh as ſo much received, the Chief and Council become anſwerable for the amount, whatever is received either from the Havelly or Zemindary lands: from that period the ſeveral Renters will be entitled to a further credit; for, in the Letter from the Chief and Council of Ganjam, dated the 17th June, they do not ſpeak with any certainty of the recovery of the balances; ſome they mention are likely to be paid in a courſe of years; but I do not ſee of what benefit to the Company ſuch recovery can prove, if it is to be at the expence of each enſuing year's revenue. That ſuch will be the caſe, not only the accounts I now deliver in to the Board will demonſtrate, but alſo the ſtatement of the balances before referred to, which will prove the neceſſity of eſtabliſhing another Jemmabundy through the country, whether the collections are kept under the management of a Chief and Council, or let to a Renter; and where ſuch Renter takes the lands for a term of years, there can be no fear of oppreſſions; for his intereſt muſt lead him to give all due encouragement to the inhabitants. This ſeems to be the opinion of the Company in all they have ſaid on the ſubject of farming their lands; and it appears extraordinary, that the ſervants of the Company, in the Northern Circars, ſhould have been allowed to take to themſelves ſo much the management of the country, in contradiction to the expreſs orders of the Company, who, in their Letter of the 25th March 1768, direct as follows: "Should the "Circars continue in our poſſeſſion, it muſt be obſerved "as a general rule, that no European is to interfere in "the collection of the Revenues, further than receive "the rents from Huſſain Ally, or the Rajahs who hold "the Diſtricts, and are to account to the Chiefs of "Maſulipatam or Vizagapatam, as you ſhall direct; "neither are they to interfere in the management or the "Government of the country, further than to check the "Renter, if guilty of any grievous oppreſſions."

I before gave in a ſtatement of the collections and diſburſements, Civil and Military, for the time the Company have had poſſeſſion of the Ichapore Diſtrict; to the latter muſt be added, what has been expended in fortifications and buildings, amounting to Pagodas 119,711 5 50. as appears by the account dead ſtock; and if to this is added the expence of ſtores, the Company will not be found to have benefited much by the poſſeſſion of that country. An abſtract of the expences, Civil and Military, which I now deliver in, will, I am perſuaded, convince the Board of the neceſſity of reducing them: I have carefully looked into the military accounts: the eſtabliſhment of a Caffree Company appears to me very expenſive; their pay and allowances amount to near four hundred Pagodas monthly, beſides the expences they occaſion in the hoſpital, which is from twelve to fifteen hundred Pagodas per annum. I am not, however, ſufficiently acquainted with their uſe and ſervices, to decide haſtily on their diſmiſſion; but if, as I am informed, they are compoſed chiefly of old and decrepid Topaſſes, thoſe who can plead length of ſervice, had better be put on a penſion liſt, than be kept on a full eſtabliſhment, at a great expence, when they are not likely to prove of any ſervice; and it will be neceſſary to conſider, whether a leſs number of Sepoys than are now kept at Ganjam, may not be ſufficient to anſwer every purpoſe: by which means, and ſome regulations in the other Circars, we may be able to keep a greater force together, for the protection of the whole, as they are at preſent very much divided. The yearly field charges in the Ganjam accounts, appear enormous. I ſubmit further to the conſideration of the Board, whether the affairs of that diſtrict may not be as well managed, and at leſs expence, by a Reſident and one or two aſſiſtants, as by a Chief and Council. The reaſons given for appointing a Chief and Council, are as follows: "When Mr. Cotsford went down to Ganjam, 1768, the "ſituation of affairs in the Itchapore Diſtrict was exceedingly unfavourable; the Company reaped but little "advantage from the country, and even that little was "rendered very precarious by the revolt of Narrindoo, "and by that ſpirit of rebellion which prevailed amongſt "the Zemindars of the Itchapore Diſtrict, from the "deſire, and with a view, of freeing themſelves entirely "from the Company's Authority and Government. "The natural ſtrength of this country, from the number "of hills and woods, the unhealthineſs of the climate, "and the ſtrong holds poſſeſſed by the Zemindars, "favoured their ſcheme for independence; and at the "ſame time preſented us with many difficulties in the "execution of the plan we propoſed, of reducing them "to obedience, and receiving from them a reaſonable "Tribute, in proportion to the value of their ſeveral "Zemindaries. Mr. Cotsford, who has been employed "in this ſervice, hath conducted himſelf much to the "ſatisfaction of the Board, and to his own credit; the "peace of the country is now fully ſettled, the Zemindars are all brought under due ſubjection, and the "Company's Revenue, from this diſtrict only, is increaſed to ſo conſiderable a ſum, as upwards of five "lacks of Rupees per annum. Mr. Cotsford has aſſured "us alſo, that a conſiderable inveſtment may be provided at Ganjam, when the buſineſs is brought into a "proper

APPENDIX. No. 61.

" proper channel; and as the management of this Inveſtment, together with the collection of the revenues, " will require more ſervants than we have hitherto employed, it is agreed, that from henceforth the whole be " put under the direction of a Chief and Council, with " a proper number of aſſiſtants, who are to be on the " ſame footing, and to have the ſame allowances, as the " ſervants at Vizagapatam."

From the above extract of the Conſultations, it appears, that it was the Reſident that brought the revenue to five lacks of Rupees; which however has never been collected, one year with another, by the Chief and Council; and the principal reaſon aſſigned for the appointment of a Chief and Council, was the management of a ſuppoſed large increaſe of Inveſtment. The Inveſtment now, after five years appointment of a Chief and Council, is between three and four thouſand Pagodas annually; which certainly would not prove too great a labour for a Reſident to look after. I have endeavoured, from facts drawn from the Records, to ſtate to you my reaſons for being of opinion, that the renting the diſtricts will be the moſt eligible method we can purſue, for ſecuring a certain revenue to the Company, and for bringing the diſtrict into a more flouriſhing ſtate than it is in at preſent: either a Chief and Council, or a Reſident, whichever the Board may determine on, will be a proper check on the Renter. This is the idea of the Company, in their Letter of the 25th March 1768, which I have before quoted, and which I think ſhould be followed.

I will not take up the time of the Board, further than to remark on the laſt Letter from Ganjam, relative to the proceedings of the Chief and Council, with reſpect to the two brothers, Vickeram Bungee and Lechema Bungee. The idea of the cruelty of expelling a man entirely from his lands and patrimony, induced the Board not to come to deciſive meaſures againſt the former, till abſolute neceſſity ſhould oblige them. Our ſentiments were fully, and in ſtrong terms, expreſſed to the Chief and Council. They have ſent us the Copy of the Chief's Letters to Vickeram Bungee; and we have a Tranſlate of his anſwer, wherein Vickeram Bungee agrees to two of the propoſitions made to him, and does not abſolutely object to the third; he only reaſons on the ſubject, and expreſſes a wiſh to have a Cowle from the Preſidency, that he may come in: He expreſsly ſays, he has taken refuge with one of the Company's Zemindars, which is the ſame as if he was in his own diſtricts; and there is ſuch a myſtery runs through his Letter, and a declaration of having paid his Tribute, that I think the Gentlemen ſhould, for their own credit, have paid that attention to what they know to be our wiſhes, as to have taken a little time to conſider what was proper to be done; but ſuch was their hurry to carry this favourite point, they have not made any ſtipulation for the Company's balances, though they inveſted Lechema Bungee in a formal manner, with the Rajahſhip; and then ſay, they " do not doubt but he will do what we deſire." I hope I ſhall be excuſed from giving my aſſent to confirming this Act, till I am convinced Vickeram Bungee had no cauſe for complaint when he quitted his Zemindary, and that he has forfeited all claim to the Company's protection; which is by no means clear to me at preſent.

Ganjam Collections from 1ſt May 1777 to the 30th April 1778.

Auguſt.	Narrainder, Rajah of Moherry, in Part of his Tribute for 1775, -	1714	10	23
	Ditto - Ditto. Ditto - - - -	4000	—	—
Novem.	Bemadoo, Rajah of Vizianagur, in Part of his Tribute for 1774, -	2857	5	11
	Rajonaud Soor, Rajah of Turtah, in Part of his Tribute for 1771, -	285	25	57
	Santarow, Rajah of Hownnah, in Part of his Tribute, for 1774, -	57	5	11
	Hurry Chunden, Rajah of Souranghee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771,	285	25	57
	Mahurta, Rajah of Berandi, in Part of his Tribute for 1775, - -	285	25	57
	Guzender, Rajah of Polar, in Part of his Tribute for 1773, - -	85	25	57
December.	Ragonaud Soor, Rajah of Turlagh, in Part of his Tribute for 1771,	142	30	09
	Santarow, Rajah of Howmah, in full for his Tribute for 1775, -	57	5	11
	Hurry Chundon, Rajah of Souringhee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771,	285	25	57
	Mahurtah, Rajah of Berondi, in Part of his Tribute for 1775, -	285	25	57
	Gazendar, Rajah of Paloor, in full for his Tribute of 1773, and in Part for 1774, - - - - - - - - - -	114	10	23
	Narrainder, Rajah of Moherry, in Part of his Tribute for 1775, -	2857	5	11
February.	Rajah Sing, Rajah of Sourerah, in full of his Tribute for 1772, and in Part of 1773, - - - - - - - - - -	428	20	46
	Ragonaud Soor, Rajah of Turlah, in Part of his Tribute for 1771, -	1142	30	69
	Neſhunk, Rajah of Bouraur Singhee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771,	114	10	23
	Santarow, Rajah of Howmah, in Part of his Tribute for 1775, -	285	25	57
	Mahurtah, Rajah of Berondi, in Part of his Tribute for 1775, -	571	15	34
	Hurry Chunden, Rajah of Sourang, in Part of his Tribute for 1771,	571	15	34
	Hurry Kiſſen Sing, Rajah of Surgur, in Part of his Tribute for 1774, -	657	5	11
	Gazender, Rajah of Palloor, in Part of his Tribute for 1774, -	200	—	—
	Narrinder, Rajah of Moherry, in full of his Tribute for 1775, -	3571	15	34
		20,855	29	9

Ganjam Collections, from 1ſt May 1778 to the 30th April 1779.

Beemadoo, Rajah of Vizeanagur, in Part of his Tribute for 1774 - -	2857	5	11
Jagganaudoo, Rajah of Prelapahgery, in Part of his Tribute for 1775 - -	2000	—	—
Hurry Chunden, Rajah of Sourenghee, received in Part of his Tribute for 1775	571	15	34
Hurry Kiſſen Sing, Rajah of Surgur, received in Full for his Tribute for 1774, and in Part 1775 - - - - - - - - - -	285	25	57
Permaud Sing, Rajah of Burragur, received in Part of his Tribute for 1774 -	171	15	34
Santarow, Rajah of Howmah, in Part of his Tribute for 1775 - - -	285	25	57
Royah Sing, Rajah of Sourchah, in Part of his Tribute for 1775 - - -	285	25	57
Ragonaud Soor, Rajah of Turlah, in Part of his Tribute for 1771 - -	285	25	57

Carried forward

APPENDIX. No. 61.

Gazender, Raiah of Paloor, in Part of his Tribute for 1774	142	30	69
Narrainder, Rajah of Moherry, in Part of his Tribute for 1776	1428	20	46
Chotra, Rajah of Tellentra, in Part of his Tribute for 1770	157	5	11
Hurry Chunden, Rajah of Sourenghee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	157	5	11
Santerow, Rajah of Howmah, received of him in full of his Tribute for 1775 and in Part 1776	285	25	57
Gazendar, Rajah of Paloor, received of him in Part of his Tribute for 1774	285	25	57
Mahurtah, Rajah of Berondi, received of him in Part of his Tribute for 1776	285	25	57
Bunny Chitty Joguey, in Part of his Balance	350	—	—
Permanund Sing, Rajah of Burragur, in Part of his Tribute for 1774	265	25	57
Hurry Kiſſen Sing, Rajah of Surgur, received in Part of his Tribute for 1775	208	20	46
Ragonaud Soor, Rajah of Turlah, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	222	30	69
Hurry Chunden, Rajah of Souringhee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	62	30	69
Neſhunk, Rajah of Bourar Singhee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	28	20	46
Santarow, Rajah of Howmah, in Part of his Tribute for 1776	285	25	57
Gazendar, Rajah of Paloor, in Part of his Tribute for 1774	285	25	57
Mahurtah, Rajah of Berondi, in Part of his Tribute for 1776	485	25	57
Narrander, Rajah of Moherry, in Part of his Tribute for 1776	1,428	20	46
Roya Sing, Zemindar of Souretah, in Part of his Tribute for 1773	285	25	57
Choterow, Rajah of Tellantra, in Part of his Tribute for 1770	278	—	—
Narrander, Rajah of Moherry, in Part of his Tribute for 1776	2,857	5	11
Roya Sing, Rajah of Sourerah, in Part of his Tribute for 1773	285	25	57
Hurry Kiſſen Sing, Rajah of Surgur, in Part of his Tribute for 1775	285	25	57
Hurry Chunden, Rajah of Souringhee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	285	25	57
Ragonaud Soor, Rajah of Turlah, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	142	30	69
Permanaund Sing, Rajah of Barragur, in Part of his Tribute for 1774	228	20	46
Choterow, Rajah of Tellertra, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	579	5	11
Roya Sing, Rajah of Sourerah, in further Part of his Tribute for 1773	571	25	57
Beemadoo, Rajah of Viziangur, in full for his Tribute for 1774, and in Part for 1775, and 1777	4,285	25	57
Gazender Raiah of Paloor, in Part of his Tribute for 1774 and 1775	142	30	69
Ragonaud Soor, Rajah of Turlah, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	1,062	30	69
Hurry Chunden, Rajah of Souringhee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771 and 1772	937	5	11
Hurry Kiſſen Sing, Rajah of Surgur, in further Part of his Tribute for 1775	1,505	25	57
Neſhunk, Rajah of Bourour Singee, in Part of his Tribute for 1771	114	20	46
Narrander, Rajah of Moherry, in full for his Tribute for 1776	4,285	25	57
Mahurtah, Rajah of Berondi, in Part of his Tribute for 1776	285	25	57
	31,469	1	44

ACCOUNT of Particulars of the Collections at Ganjam, from the 1ſt May 1777 to the 30th April 1778.

Account of old Balances from the Year 1770 to the End of April 1775, as per Account N° 1	20,855	29	9
Account of Collections for the Balance of 1776	32,935	19	25
Account of Collections for the Year 1777	44,116	6	23
Total collected	97,907	12	57

ACCOUNT of Particulars of the Collections at Ganjam, from the 1ſt May 1778 to the 30th April 1779.

Account of old Balances, from the Year 1770 to the End of April 1776, as per annexed Account N° 2.	31,469	1	44
Account of Collections for the Balances of the Year 1777	19,256	33	34
Account of Collections for the Year 1778, chiefly brought to Account in the Months of February, March, and April, 1779	92,719	22	49
Total Collections	1,43,445	15	47

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 9th Auguſt 1779.

Read the following Minute of Mr. Smith:

Having attentively peruſed and conſidered the Petition and Repreſentation of Ball Kiſtna, together with the Preſident's Minute thereon, I beg leave to ſubmit to the Board my reaſons for diſapproving of the propoſed meaſure of giving Ball Kiſtna, or any other perſon, the rent of the Itchapore Diſtrict.

The collections and management of the Company's Revenues in the Itchapore Diſtrict have hitherto been in the hands of their Servants, whoſe conduct has from time to time received the moſt honourable teſtimonies of the approbation of this Government. The country was found in a ſtate of anarchy, to which it had been long accuſtomed. The Zemindars looked upon themſelves as independent, and many of them were poſſeſſed of ſtrong holds, which, with the ſmalleſt degree of reſolution, would have made them ſo; theſe have all been ſucceſſively reduced, and the Company's authority eſtabliſhed bliſhed throughout the diſtrict. In accompliſhing which important works, and bringing the Company's affairs in the Itchapore Diſtrict into their preſent ſecure ſtate, much expence has been incurred; yet the Treaſury here has ſeveral times received ſupplies from Ganjam in money and drafts; and the Inveſtment at Vizagapatam has been conſiderably aſſiſted from thence. It is a circumſtance well known, and has been often ſtated in the Records, that ſo long as the Goomſoor Rajah's force remained unbroken, the tranquillity of the diſtrict would be inſecure, and the Revenue uncertain. Equity and policy equally dictated, that he ſhould be brought to a level with the reſt. The undertaking was long deferred, from an idea of his ſtrength, and an apprehenſion of involving the Company in diſputes with the Maratta Government, to which he had been formerly tributary; at length the refractory conduct of the Rajah made it abſolutely neceſſary to proceed againſt him, and it fell to the lot of the preſent Chief and Council to aſſume the management of the Company's affairs at Ganjam, preciſely at the commencement of the troubles in the Goomſoor Country. Can it then be juſtly matter of reproach to the Chief and Council, if, during theſe troubles, the Revenues have fallen ſhort of their uſual amount? But the following fact will ſhew that little can be urged againſt them on this ſcore.

APPENDIX. No. 61.

The balances outſtanding at Ganjam on my arrival, or rather on the 30th September 1774, amounted to Pagodas 301,437. The 30th April laſt they amounted to Pagodas 378,467, ſo that in the ſpace of five years, during which the Goomſoor Country has been reduced, the balances have increaſed only 77,000 Pagodas. It cannot here eſcape the obſervation of the Board, how conſiderable a part of the arrears now due was incurred during the adminiſtration of a man, to whoſe ſpirited and judicious conduct the Company are indebted for the advantages they have received, or may hereafter receive, from that diſtrict. After my arrival at Ganjam with Mr. Hollond, in February 1774, one of the firſt objects to which we directed our attention, was the recovery of theſe balances. The then Preſident and Council, in their Letter of the 13th July 1774, deſired our opinion on that ſubject, and with great candour obſerved, "that when Mr. Cotsford was ſent to Ganjam, the natural ſituation of the country, and the ſtrong holds poſſeſſed by the principal Zemindars, ſo favoured their idea of independence, that they frequently with-held the ſums they had agreed to pay, and reduced him to the neceſſity of collecting what he was able by marching a force againſt them." In this ſtate of affairs it is not at all ſurpriſing that conſiderable balances ſhould have ariſen, particularly as Mr. Cotsford debited the Zemindars for a twelvemonth's arrears on his arrival at Ganjam.

It would render this Minute too voluminous were I to inſert even the ſubſtances of what we wrote in anſwer to the foregoing, under date the 28th Auguſt 1774; but as that Letter was very explicit on the ſubject of the balances, and ſhewed in what manner they had ariſen and accumulated to the ſtate they then were in, I wiſh to have it read on this occaſion. I beg leave to refer to the General Letter from Ganjam, of the 10th July 1776, in which is fully inveſtigated and explained one very conſiderable cauſe of the increaſe of the balances, namely, the ſituation of the ſix Zemindaries, collectively known by the appellation of the Mahindra Mullees, which had been conſtantly debited for a Tribute of Rupees 55,000, while the medium of the collections for nine years, from the time of Mr. Cotsford's arrival at Ganjam, amounted to only Rupees 19,082.

Upon the whole, with regard to the large balances due at Ganjam, let it be conſidered, firſt, That the Tribute exacted from many of the Zemindars (or at leaſt from thoſe of the Mahindra Mullees) was higher than their countries would bear. Secondly, That Mr. Cotsford debited the Rajahs for a whole twelvemonth's arrears on his arrival at Ganjam. Thirdly, That during the whole time of the troubles for two years afterwards, when moſt of the principal Zemindars were ſtruggling for independance, the full Tribute was carried to their debit in the ſame manner as if the diſtrict had been in perfect tranquillity. To theſe circumſtances add two years of ſcarcity after my arrival (for which not the leaſt deduction was allowed from the Tribute), and the late troubles in the Goomſoor Country, and when theſe conſiderations have had their full weight, let the arrears due at Ganjam be compared with thoſe due at the other ſubordinate Settlements, where no obſtacles have exiſted, and I am perſuaded it will appear that no argument can be drawn in favour of the meaſure now under conſideration, from the amount of the balances at Ganjam, which would not operate in a greater degree for letting the diſtricts of Maſulipatam and Vizagapatam.

I grant that the collections in the Ganjam Accounts for the month of April, are to an uncommon amount, and that the Chief and Council ſeem to have exerted themſelves in a particular manner, to bring as much as poſſible to account in that month, in order to make the collections for the year (which expires the 30 April) appear in the moſt advantageous light.

I grant alſo that the arrears are in conſequence conſiderably reduced from what they would otherwiſe have been; on the other hand, it ſhould be conſidered that the balance from the late Renter of the Havelly Lands forms a great part of the arrears; from which balances the Chief and Council ſome time ſince recommended a deduction of 60,000 Rupees, on account of the Renter's loſſes, which, if it is to be allowed, will of courſe leſſen the arrears by that ſum.

I now proceed to examine Ball Kiſtna's Propoſal and Repreſentation; in which he has indirectly endeavoured to convey an unfavourable idea of the conduct and management of the Company's Servants at Ganjam; yet I ſhall draw from theſe very Papers an ample vindication of them; for, if the Company's Servants have been unfaithful to their truſt, or through inability have miſmanaged it, we may reaſonably expect from Ball Kiſtna ſome at leaſt of the advantages which muſt hitherto have been loſt to the Company, particularly, as, if his Propoſal be accepted, he will have poſſeſſion of the lands for a length of time, amply ſufficient to accompliſh every plan that he can form for their improvement. We ſhall ſee whether his Propoſal correſponds with ſuch an expectation. The annual Jemmabundy at Ganjam, ever ſince the reſtoration of the villages that were detained from the Government Lands, and the addition of 20,000 R^{s} to the Goomſoor Rajah's Tribute, has amounted to Rupees 555,000.

The Board have already ſeen how much the arrears have accumulated in the laſt five years. Ball Kiſtna offers R^{s} 415,000 for the rent, and to pay off 40,000 Rupees per annum of the preſent balance; ſo that in the courſe of ten years, the preſent balance will be decreaſed 400,000 Rupees, and a new one incurred of 1,400,000 Rupees; or, in other words, if Ball Kiſtna fulfils his engagements, by paying 455,000 R^{s} per annum, the arrears, inſtead of being reduced by his renting the diſtrict, will accumulate ten lacks of Rupees beyond their preſent amount; but there appears to me an inconſiſtency in his offering to pay off 40,000 R^{s} per annum of the arrears, when his whole Propoſal, including that ſum, falls ſhort 100,000 R^{s} of the current Tribute. If we are to underſtand by that offer, that the payment of 40,000 R^{s} per annum is to be a full compenſation to the Company for whatever part of the arrears he may be able to collect by the expiration of his Cowle: in that caſe, I beg leave to remind the Board, that the Zemindars of Vizianagur, Pretapaghery, Callicoote, Chigutty, and Daracoote, have given aſſignments of lands for the diſcharge of their balances, which aſſignments, before I left Ganjam, produced nearly 50,000 R^{s} more than the current Tribute.—Ball Kiſtna himſelf now rents the Vizianagur aſſigned lands for eight years, engaging to clear off the Rajah's arrears by that period, ſo that one of the balances at leaſt he thinks recoverable.

I arrived at Ganjam the 21ſt February 1774, and left it the beginning of October 1777;

The collections for that period amount to - - - R' 16,42,653
On a medium - - - - - 4,69,328 per annum.

It is true that this includes the Goomſoor Rajah's balances, which he paid off in 1775; on the other hand, he paid nothing the laſt year, and the Havelly Collections fell ſhort upwards of a year's rent.

The great impediment to the collections is now removed, and the Company's authority eſtabliſhed by the reduction of the Goomſoor Country; yet Ball Kiſtna's offer, including the 40,000 R' for the balances, does not equal the collections that have been made for theſe ſix years paſt. What then is the object, or what the end propoſed, by transferring the charge and collection of the Company's Revenues from their Servants to Ball Kiſtna? It is not the recovery of the arrears, for they will increaſe ten lacks, even if he punctually fulfils his engagements; nor the collecting more of the current Tribute, for he offers leſs than has been collected theſe ſix years paſt: if it be the improvement of the lands, Ball Kiſtna will enjoy the benefit, for he offers no more for the laſt year than the firſt. It is true he propoſes to withdraw one of the battalions ſtationed in that diſtrict, well knowing that the Company's authority is now ſo firmly eſtabliſhed by the reduction of the only Zemindar who was in the leaſt formidable, that probably one battalion may henceforward be ſufficient; but to what does this amount, unleſs he were to engage to defray the expences in caſe another battalion ſhould be found neceſſary? If he, as Renter, can keep the Zemindars in due obedience with one battalion, will the Company's Servants require more? or can it be ſuppoſed that the Zemindars will more readily ſubmit to the controul of a Black Renter, than to the Company's immediate Government?—By the vigorous meaſures adopted at Ganjam, moſt of which were ordered, and all approved, from hence, the Zemindars are become ſenſible of the Company's power, and the ſtability of their Government; the diſtrict is at length in a ſtate of perfect tranquillity: Was it poſſible to accompliſh this work without expence? or, can the expences by which it has been effected, be urged as matter of reproach to the Company's Servants? The charges of collection, in caſe it ſhould be found neceſſary to ſend Troops to compel the Zemindars to make good their engagements, except the batta to two companies of Sepoys, are ſtill to be carried to the Company's account, as Ball Kiſtna expreſsly ſtipulates, "that when the Troops are marching "up the country on account of troubles ariſing from the "Zemindars, &c. the field charges ſhall be placed to "the Company's account."

Having now ſaid what has occurred to me on this important ſubject, I ſubmit the whole, with deference, to the opinion and judgment of the Board; only hoping they will conſider, that the depriving the Company's Servants of their truſt, and beſtowing it on a Black Man, will imply the ſevereſt reflection on their integrity, and operate as a puniſhment before they are charged with any crime.

Charles Smith.

Read the following Minute of Mr. Johnſon:

I diſſent from renting the Itchapore Diſtrict; for the following reaſons:

1ſt. Becauſe I conceive the Company's dignity, honour, and intereſts, are much better ſupported by a Chief and Council, than any other mode which can be adopted.

2d'y. Becauſe, although Mr. Cotsford had been a Reſident there for many years, this Board, of which I was then a Member, found it expedient to appoint a Chief and Council on his reſignation in 1773.

3dly. Becauſe I am convinced the balance now due in that diſtrict, chiefly accumulated during the Reſidentſhip of Mr. Cotsford; and that, when thoſe balances, which are unqueſtionably ſecure, are deducted, it will be found there has not been any great decreaſe ſince his time, although the diſtrict has greatly ſuffered by the rebellious diſpoſition of Vickeram Bungee, late Zemindar of Goomſoor.

And laſtly, becauſe I am convinced that the decreaſe of Revenue has ariſen from untoward circumſtances, which no longer exiſt, and from no inattention of the Chief and Council; that I think it too dangerous a ſcheme to truſt ſo extenſive a diſtrict to the management of any one man, and am of opinion we ſhould have had the ſentiments of the Chief and Council of Ganjam on this ſubject, before we agreed on the conditions of the Cowle to be granted to Ball Kiſtna.

Samuel Johnſon.

The Preſident then puts the following Queſtion to the Board, Whether the Itchapore Diſtrict be rented to Ball Kiſtna for the term of ten years, at the rate of four lacks and fifteen thouſand Rupees per annum, agreeable to the terms of his Petition?

Mr. Perring is of opinion that Ball Kiſtna ſhould have the rent, for the reaſons ſet forth in a former Minute.

Mr. Johnſon is opinion the Itchapore Diſtrict ſhould not be rented, for the reaſons alledged in his Minute.

Mr. Smith is of opinion the Propoſals of Ball Kiſtna ſhould not be accepted, for the reaſons contained in his Minute.

Sir Hector Munro is of opinion, the Propoſal of Ball Kiſtna ſhould be accepted, for the reaſons given in his former Minute upon this ſubject.

Mr. Whitehill is of opinion, that Ball Kiſtna's Propoſal ſhould be accepted.

The Preſident is of opinion, the Propoſal of Ball Kiſtna ſhould be accepted.

Carried in favour of Ball Kiſtna's Propoſal.

Reſolved therefore, that the whole Itchapore Diſtrict, excluſive of the Ganjam Sea and River Cuſtoms, be rented to Ball Kiſtna for the term of ten years, commencing the 25th September 1779, and ending the 25th September 1789, on condition that he pays into the Company's Treaſury, the ſum of four lacks and fifteen thouſand Rupees annually, at ſtated payments, as will be expreſſed in his Cowle; and forty thouſand Rupees annually, on account of the balances due from the Zemindars; as alſo twenty thouſand Rupees yearly, on account of the balance due from Jaggabundoo Chowdrey for the Havelly Lands, provided all accounts of the collections and payments are given up to him, unleſs Jaggabundoo Chowdrey immediately makes good the balances himſelf; that is, after deducting the ſixty thouſand Rupees recommended by the Chief and Council of Ganjam, on the enquiry made, "Account of Loſſes ſuſtained."

Agreed, That a Letter be written to the Chief and Council of Ganjam, to the above purport; and that they be directed, upon receipt of the ſaid Letter, to give the country in charge to whoever Ball Kiſtna may appoint for the purpoſe of acting for him till his arrival in the diſtrict, ſo far as may be neceſſary for his encouraging and ſecuring the cultivation for the enſuing year, for the Revenue of which he is to be anſwerable; and that they make known the Reſolutions of the Board accordingly, that there may be no delay, miſunderſtanding, or impediment to the mode they have thought proper to adopt, for the greater certainty of ſecuring the Revenue to the Company, and afford the Renter all neceſſary aſſiſtance to enable him to fulfil his engagements to the Company.

Extract

APPENDIX. No. 61.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, dated 13th Auguſt 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. Governor, Preſident.
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.
Mr. Smith indiſpoſed.

Read the following Petition of Ball Kiſtna:

The Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. Preſident, &c. Council.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I have to requeſt your Honours, &c. Council, will pleaſe to inſert in the Cowle for the Itchapore Diſtrict, the Jemmabundy to be collected by me from each of the Zemindars. I am far from wiſhing that the Jemmabundy of any Zemindar ſhould be raiſed; on the contrary, that many of them ſhould have their Jemmabundy conſiderably lowered, for at preſent it is fixed at ſo high a rate as never has been and never can be collected. It might be for my benefit to have it ſtand as it is, had I my own intereſt in view only; but as I am convinced theſe Zemindars are greatly diſſatisfied, by having large balances ſtanding againſt them, which they have not the leaſt proſpect of ever being able to pay, and which they are in continual apprehenſions may ſome time or other be their ruin, it would greatly quiet their minds to have their Jemmabundy fixed at what their countries will afford to pay, which is nearly about the ſum collected from them by the Chief and Council; under mentioned ſhews the Jemmabundy, as it ſtands on the Company's books, and the Jemmabundy I would beg leave to recommend to be fixed for the ſmall Zemindars.

	Jemmabundy as it ſtands on the Ganjam Books.		Jemmabundy as propoſed by Ball Kiſtna.
Pretepaghery	22,000	—	22,000	ſame as before.
Vizianagur	25,000	—	25,000	D° D°
Checkaly	35,000	—	35,000	D° D°
Darolotah	25,000	—	25,000	D° D°
Callicote	34,000	—	34,000	D° D°
Goomſoor	50,000	—	50,000	D° D°
Ratazur	37,000	—	37,000	D° D°
Sourdah	5,000	—	3,000
Homah	3,000	—	2,000
Beredy	5,700	—	4,000
Surgur	11,000	—	6,000
Paloor	3,500	—	2,000
Borgur	10,000	—	4,000
Moherry	45,000	—	30,000
Turlah	15,000	—	3,000
Bonaſſey	3,000	—	700
Sourahie	13,000	—	4,000
Jellentra	16,000	—	5,000
Jerdah	8,000	—	2,000
Munveſaw	20,000	—	15,000
Rupees	3,86,200		3,08,700

The Jemmabundy I have recommended, is leſs by 80,000 Rupees than what it was fixed at. The diſtreſſes and inability of theſe petty Zemindars, to pay their high Jemmabundy, has been conſtantly repreſented to the Chief and Council of Ganjam, and by them, I believe, to the Honourable Board; that by looking at the Letters, your Honours, &c. Council, will perceive how reaſonable what I have recommended. And your Petitioner will be ever bound to pray.

The Preſident deſires to remark, that the Petition given in by Ball Kiſtna, appears to him a further proof of the propriety of the meaſure lately adopted by the Board, in renting to him the Itchapore Diſtrict; and as it ſhews his deſire of relieving the ſeveral Zemindars, who have been diſtreſſed, by having too heavy a Jemmabundy fixed upon them, and at the ſame time does not diſcover an inclination to increaſe the revenues from any of the others, he has not a doubt but the good effects of his conduct, in managing the diſtrict, will very ſoon be experienced in the country, as well by the Zemindars as the inhabitants.

The Preſident then puts the following Queſtion to the Board: Whether the Jemmabundy ſhall be altered agreeable to the propoſal of Ball Kiſtna? whereupon the opinions of the ſeveral Members of Council are taken, and are as follows:

Mr. Perring is of opinion the Jemmabundy ſhall be altered.

Mr. Johnſon begs leave to remark, that as he ſees this matter in a very different light from the Preſident, he will take an opportunity of delivering his ſentiments upon the ſubject at a future day.

Sir Hector Munro is of opinion, that the Jemmabundy ſhould be altered.

Mr. Whitehill is of the ſame opinion.

The Preſident is of opinion the Jemmabundy ſhould be altered.

Carried in the affirmative.

Ordered, therefore, That the Jemmabundy be altered, in ſuch proportion as the Board may hereafter determine upon, and will be particularly expreſſed in the Cowle to Ball Kiſtna.

APPENDIX, No. 62.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, the 15th September 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Sir Thos Rumbold, Bart.
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

READ the following Letter from Ganjam:

To the Honourable Sir Thos Rumbold, Bart. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have received your Letter of the 10th inſtant, informing us of your having let out the whole Itchapore Diſtrict, excluſive of Ganjam Sea and River Cuſtoms, to Ball Kiſtna, for the term of ten years.

As nothing could exceed the happineſs we have experienced in reflecting, that no act of this Board hath been diſapproved of, ſince the affairs of the diſtrict have been entruſted to our management, and always conſidering your approbation of our conduct an ample recompence for our zealous endeavours for the advancement of the Company's intereſt; ſo nothing can equal the concern we feel in beholding ourſelves thus diveſted of truſt and influence, at a time too when by the reduction of the Goomſoor Zemindary, the diſtrict in general is brought to a ſtate of tranquillity, and its revenues ſecured on a more permanent footing than at any former period from the firſt eſtabliſhment of the Company's authority.

We had flattered ourſelves, that our repreſentation of the affairs of the diſtrict, under date the 16th June, which informed your Honour, &c. of the very conſiderable collections which had been made in the laſt year, and that we had every reaſon to believe they would increaſe in future, would have overſet a Propoſal which, even admitting the terms fully complied with, is inadequate to what would have been collected had the ſervants of the Company continued in the charge of affairs: permit us, however, to aſſure you, it is as far from our intentions as it would be inconſiſtent with reſpect, to arraign the plan you have thought proper to adopt; on the contrary, we are not to doubt the validity of the reaſons, though unknown to us, which have induced you to alter the ſyſtem of conducting the affairs of the diſtrict; yet as the meaſures apparently operate to the prejudice of our characters and conduct, and being inconſcious of having ever failed in a faithful diſcharge of our duty, we have too great a reliance on your juſtice not to hope, that when you addreſs the Honourable Court of Directors on the ſubject, you will not ſuffer them to ſuppoſe you have been actuated to it from motives which can in any degree reflect on us as ſervants to the Company.

On receipt of your commands of the 10th inſtant, we ſummoned Juggabundoo Chowdrey before us, and having made known to him your orders on the ſubject of the Havelly balance, he again declared to us, in the moſt ſolemn manner, that ſo far from having been the Renter, he had never the leaſt concern in the Government lands until the year 1776, when he rented the Poupacunda Courlah and Terriſtain Pergunnahs from Ball Kiſtnah, who appointed Langum Jurgiah Taſſalder of the eight Perſanahs, directing him to ſend the money to him at Ganjam, and to give the accounts to him (Juggabundoo Chowdrey) which was accordingly done; that by this means he is in poſſeſſion of the accounts of collections and payments for that year, and is ready to give them up when called upon; but that he has no other papers or accounts whatever concerning the Havelly lands. Much as Ball Kiſtna may be ſcreened by an artful conduct, and impoſſible as it may be to eſtabliſh the fact on poſitive proof, ſuch circumſtantial evidence appears againſt him, as leaves us without the ſmalleſt doubt of his having, to all intents and purpoſes, been the Renter of the Havelly lands; his having ſtipulated, therefore, as the expreſs condition of paying the balance, that all accounts of collections and payments be delivered to him, hath much the appearance of an intention to withhold it altogether; for which a pretext cannot be wanting, if, to ſay hereafter that all the accounts have not been given up, be deemed a ſufficient excuſe; and what corroborates this opinion, is, that having confirmed himſelf to have been the Manager, it is not to be believed he can be ſo uninformed on the ſubject, or ſo deſtitute of accounts, as that the receiving every individual paper from Juggabundoo Chowdrey can really make the difference to him of a lack of Rupees. But it were a waſte of time to argue on probabilities, when it is a fact not to be denied, that this lack of Rupees hath already been received, as mentioned in our Letter of the 29th of April laſt. We have thought it our duty to lay theſe circumſtances before you, as points neceſſary for your information.

APPENDIX. No. 63.

The brother of Ball Kiſtna having informed us of his being empowered to act in his brother's abſence, we deſired he would point out to us what ſteps he wiſhed us to take towards aſſiſting him in encouraging and ſecuring the cultivation for the enſuing year: and agreeably to his deſire, we have cauſed the appointment by Ball Kiſtna to be made public throughout the different Zemindaries and Havelly lands, as the only meaſure which appeared to him neceſſary to be taken for the preſent.

In our Letter of the 11th inſtant we informed your Honour, &c. of our having remitted to Vizagapatam, the ſum of fifty thouſand Rupees, in addition to twenty thouſand Rupees we diſpatched thither in April laſt; and having within theſe few days received a Letter from the Chief and Council, informing us of their being ſtill in want of money to advance for their Inveſtment, we ſhall now ſend to them a further ſupply of fifty thouſand Rupees.

We have the Honour to be,
with the greateſt reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,

Ganjam, 31ſt Auguſt 1779.

Mr Williams,
Rt Maunſell,
T. Oakes.

The above Letter from Ganjam, relative to the appointment of Ball Kiſtna to be Renter of the whole Itchapore Diſtrict for the term of ten years, being now read, the Preſident begs leave to remark, that he differs ſo much in ſentiment from the tenor and aſſertions of the above Letter, that, inſtead of ſpeaking in favourable terms to the Court of Directors of the conduct of the Gentlemen at Ganjam, he propoſes, before the diſpatch of the next ſhip, to give his opinion fully on the ſubject of the Letter, and to accompany his opinion with ſeveral papers in his poſſeſſion in ſupport of it.

APPENDIX, No. 63.

Martis, 22° Maii 1781.

COMMITTEE of Secrecy met.

Captain Foxall called in. In the ſervice of the India Company. A Captain in 1777. Was at Madras in 1778. Commanded the Royal George. Went from thence, in my way home, to China. Sailed from Fort Saint George early in Auguſt 1778.

Did you know at the time you left Madras, that there was any treaſure put on board your ſhip?—Yes, I did.

How did you know it?—By application being made to put ſome treaſure on board.

APPENDIX. No. 63.

By whom was the application made?—I cannot charge my memory with perfect accuracy, but think it was either by Governor Rumbold, or his Dubash.

By whom did they say the treasure was to be brought on board?—The Purser went, and had it counted or weighed.

Do you know how many boxes there were?—I knew then; and at present believe there were about eight. The Purser's name was George Perry.

Where is he now?—I believe he is in London; and I will endeavour to find him out, and inform the Committee.

Did you know at that time to whom the treasure belonged?—To Sir Thomas Rumbold; at least I received it as such.

Was this treasure at that time entered on your Boatswain's book?—I found, on enquiry afterwards made, that it was not.

What was the enquiry which led you to the discovery?—In the morning at day-light, getting the ship under sail in the river Canton, finding the tiller of the ship foul, the Gunner was sent down to clear it. He then discovered that the ship had been robbed; the rudder-coat and break-water were cut so as to admit a man to come through into the gun-room. They had forced open the larboard gun-room port, through which they had conveyed part of the treasure, which was in the gun-room the day before. The Gunner came up and gave this information. He was sent down with some of the officers to examine strictly into the circumstances of the robbery. They brought me an account of what was left; upon which I sent for the Boatswain's book, in order to see what had been first put on board; and not finding any treasure entered, I sent for the Purser for the account taken at Fort Saint George; which account proved the quantity first put on board, and of course the quantity lost.

Do you recollect the number of boxes which remained?—I do not; but it will appear by the Boatswain's book, in which I then caused an entry to be made of the parts remaining.

By whom is the Boatswain's book kept?—By the Commanding Officer on board at the time.

Who was the Commanding Officer at the time the treasure was put on board?—I was not on board; but it must have been either James Elkington the first Mate, or Charles Chambers the second Mate.

Where is James Elkington now?—He commands one of the Company's ships now going to the Downs.

Where is Chambers at present?—I heard he is in Devonshire. I know where a brother of his resides in town, and where he frequently is, when in town.

Did you enquire why this treasure was not entered in the Boatswain's book?—I did not, such omissions being very frequent.

To whom was this treasure consigned at China?—To the best of my knowledge to some of the Company's Supercargoes. I am not certain whether Mr. Raper, the Chief, was concerned in the commission; but I am certain Mr. Bradshaw and Mr. Pigou were.

Do not the consignments appear in the Purser's book?—No.

Did you sign a bill of lading for this treasure?—I did, but know nothing of it from the time I signed it; but delivered the treasure to the Consignees at China, in consequence of an order from the Board there.

Was any demand ever made on you for this treasure by any other person than the Consignees?—Yes.

By whom?—Mr. Coore, the Solicitor for Sir Thomas Rumbold.

When, and where?—Some time in March, April, or May, 1780, after my arrival in England.

What answer did you make when that demand was made upon you?—I did not think myself responsible to Sir Thomas Rumbold for it, having been lost by no fault of mine. And that was the answer I made to Mr. Coore, and to the other agents of Sir Thomas Rumbold.

What are the names of those Agents?—Mr. Thomas and William Raikes.

Did Sir Thomas himself ever speak to you upon the subject?—He has.

When?—I waited on him about a fortnight ago, not in consequence of any message, but on my own accord.

What were the particulars of the conversation relative to this subject?—I told him I had waited upon him in consequence of the robbery which had happened on board my ship in the river Canton; and informed him, that his Solicitor had made a demand for such loss. That it was not in my power to pay such loss, particularly as I had been lately captured myself, where I had lost near £.3,000, exclusive of the loss I had sustained at the time of the robbery.

Was this the first conversation you had with Sir Thomas Rumbold?—It was. I had called twice at Sir Thomas's without seeing him; and Sir Thomas had called once on me, and saw me, but no conversation passed on this subject.

When you made this representation to him, what answer did he make you?—He said he was very sorry; it was a great deal of money to lose, and that it was not all his; the whole did not belong to him.

Did he mention the amount of the loss?—No, he did not.

Did he say to whom the treasure belonged as well as himself?—To Sir Hector Munro.

Did he mention any one else?—No.

Did he mention how much belonged to himself?—No, I don't remember any thing more passed about the treasure but what I have mentioned.

Do you understand that any proceeding will be had against you for this money?—I don't understand that any proceedings are now commenced, but I don't know that none will.

Has ever any thing led you to judge what was the amount of the treasure lost?—I think the whole was 12 or £.13,000, and more than half was lost. I arrived at Plymouth from Spain the 1st of January. I called at Sir Thomas Rumbold's a few days after his arrival, which was in February.

What ships sailed from Madras to China in 1778 besides your own?—The Latham, Captain Prince; the Hillsborough, Captain Collett; the Lord Holland, Captain Lawson; the Glatton, Captain Dovetun, sailed after us: the Lord North, Captain Hamley, sailed some months before, and touched at Bencoolen.

Had you any conversation with any of the Captains of those ships, concerning the treasure on board them?—I had with Captain Prince, now abroad, and think with Captain Collett, now dead, but I can't be certain. Captain Prince told me he had a little; I understood it belonged to Sir Thomas Rumbold. I had no conversation with any one else about their having treasure on board.

What reason had you to understand that the treasure on board Captain Prince, was Sir Thomas Rumbold's?—I heard it in conversation with Captain Prince.

The Boatswain's book being shewn to Captain Foxall, and he being desired to explain the date of the entry of the treasure, as standing on the 4th of August,—Says, I made the entry of the date on which the treasure was received, at Madras.

Do you know of any other omission of the goods taken on board at Madras at that time, but of the treasure above-mentioned?—No, I do not.

Was Captain Elkington generally esteemed a careful man in making his entries?—Yes, he was; but the treasure came on board late in the evening.

Is it usual to send any valuable effects on board late in the evening, and just before the ship sails?—When treasure is sent on board, it is usually the last thing sent on board.

If this treasure had never been entered, either in the Boatswain's book or Captain's journal, would it, from any any other document on board the ſhip, appear to the Company to whom ſuch treaſure had been ſent from Madras to China?—No, it would not; but perhaps it might appear on the Company's books at China.

If the accident of the robbery had not happened, would any entry have been made of this treaſure in the Boatſwain's book?—It would not have occurred to me to look into that book.

Has any one elſe, in their own names, or in the name of any one elſe, made any demand on you for money loſt?—No.

Can you ſay whether that part of the treaſure taken on board at Madras, which was landed at Canton, was entered in the Boatſwain's book?—I did not know it was, but I am certain it was landed.

Captain Foxall being ſhewn the Boatſwain's book, and aſked whether he can find any ſuch entry?—Upon looking, he finds it is not entered. The treaſure was delivered two or three days after my arrival.

If the entry, at the time of the delivery, had been made in the Boatſwain's book, would the entry ſhew the delivery to have been made to the Conſignees?—It would. Withdrew.

Comes in again, and ſays, that one of the cheſts put on board his ſhip, belonged to Mr. Ferguſon, and was conſigned to Mr. Raper.

APPENDIX, No. 64.

Jovis, 24° die Maii 1781.

COMMITTEE of Secrecy met.

Mr. Pigou attending according to order, was aſked,

When did you go to India?—In March 1767.

To what part?—To China. I went firſt to China. Went as a Writer in the Company's ſervice. In four years after my arrival I became a Supercargo, and remained ſo till I returned to this country in laſt February. I was in China when Sir Thomas Rumbold came to the Preſidency of Madras.

Was you the Conſignee of any treaſure ſent by the Preſidency of Madras to China?—I was.

Was you likewiſe Conſignee of any treaſure for individuals?—I was.

As Conſignee did you keep regular accounts of what was ſent you on account of the Preſidency, and what by individuals?—What was ſent by the Company will appear by their books; and what was ſent to me on account of individuals, I kept a regular account of, and have left it in China. I have no copy of it here. I left the book with Mr. Bradſhaw, who was my partner in moſt of the conſignments.

Did you receive any conſignments, either on account of the Company or individuals, by the ſhips which ſailed from Madras for China in 1778?—I did on account of individuals, but am not certain with reſpect to the Company.

Do you remember the names of the ſhips, or their Commanders, who brought money ſo conſigned by individuals?—I remember the Latham, Captain Prince; Hillsborough, Captain Collet; the Royal George, Captain Foxall; don't recollect any others.

Nor by the country ſhips?—I received money by the ſhip Lord North, that came immediately from Bencoolen.

Have you any letters now in your poſſeſſion relative to theſe conſignments?—I don't believe I have, but will enquire.

Do you recollect the ſums conſigned on board each of the ſhips?—I cannot without my papers: by the Latham I received 50,000 Pagodas, value at eight ſhillings each, £. 20,000.

On whoſe account was that conſignment?—On account of Sir Thomas Rumbold.

How much did you receive by the Hillſborough?—56,000 Pagodas, by two conſignments; 50,000 from Sir Thomas Rumbold, and 6,000 from Mr. Plummer, a Company's factor.

APPENDIX. No. 64.

What did you receive by the Royal George, Captain Foxall?—I cannot recollect, but I imagine it was about 39,000 Pagodas; that was the whole invoice before the robbery was committed: it was all Sir Thomas Rumbold's.

What did you receive of it?—Fourteen thouſand Pagodas were ſtolen out of the ſhip, and 6,000 Dollars, part of the 39,000.

In what manner did you diſpoſe of the treaſure ſo conſigned to you?—We were directed to pay 25,000 Pagodas to the Agents of Sir Thomas Rumbold and Sir Hector Munro, Raper and Crommelin, who were then at China: the remainder we diſpoſed of thus; 150,000 Dollars I paid to Hutton and Gordon on account of Sir Thomas Rumbold.

Do you underſtand from any information, that this money was to be remitted to Great Britain?—As to the 25,000 Pagodas I don't know, but believe the 150,000 Dollars were intended for England, but don't know in what manner. I don't recollect any money being ſent to China, and ſent back to Madras.

Do you remember any remittance from individuals to China by any of His Majeſty's ſhips in 1778?—There were none of His Majeſty's ſhips in China that year.

Was there any in country ſhips in 1778?—None to me.

Were any jewels conſigned to you in 1778, to China, by any conveyance?—From Madras none, nor from any other Preſidencies.

Is it uſual to ſend property in any other ſhape than in money to China, in order to be remitted to Europe?—In merchandize and pearls.

Did you receive any in that ſhape in 1778?—None from the Preſidencies.

Did you receive any conſignments from Madras in 1779, by any of His Majeſty's ſhips, the Company's ſhips, or country ſhips, in ſpecie, pearl, or merchandize?—I received ſeveral conſignments in money by all the ſhips mentioned.

To what amount by each ſhip?—They were rather inſignificant conſignments, and I can't recollect them as to the preciſe ſhips. I think there were about 20,000 Dollars by the Sea Horſe for Sir Thomas Rumbold. Mr. Whittle's money did not come to me, nor Sir Hector Munro's. I can't recollect whether I received any thing elſe by the Sea Horſe, either in money or pearls, not having my papers.

By ſhips from Madras in 1779, by the Morſe Indiaman I received about 3,000 Pagodas, about £. 1,200 ſterling, on account of Mr. Palk. I believe I had no other conſignment by that ſhip in money, pearls, or goods.

By the Succeſs galley I received about 3,000 Pagodas for the ſame perſon.

By the Sea Horſe there was money conſigned to Mr. Creighton, but I don't know on whoſe account, but it was to a large amount; the greateſt part of it was the property of perſons in Bengal, though ſhipped at Madras, and ſent to me at China for remittance.

Did the Sea Horſe import to a large amount in ſpecie to China, in 1779?—Yes. No other country ſhips but the Succeſs galley brought money to me from Madras.

Is not the channel of remittance by the way of China greatly increaſed of late years?—It is very much increaſed, owing to the increaſe of the value of gold.

Did you receive, in 1778 or 1779, any remittances of money from Bengal?—Yes, I did.

Was any of it belonging to people on the coaſt of Coromandel?—I am pretty ſure not.

Did you receive any from Bombay in that year?—Yes; and all belonging to the Gentlemen of Bombay.

Whether in 1778 or 1779 did you receive any remittances which you knew to be the property of Gentlemen reſiding on the coaſt of Coromandel, beſides what you before mentioned?—To the beſt of my recollection I did not; but cannot give a positive answer, not having my papers.

APPENDIX. No. 65.

Did you know any other Gentlemen in your way, who had consignments of money from Madras in 1778 and 1779?—I think several had; Messrs. Raper and Crommelin. I don't know from whom this came, or to what amount. Mr. Raper and Crommelin, and many other Gentlemen, had consignments of treasure from their friends.

Were there very large sums of money laying in China for remittances?—Some, not much.

Are there large sums in the hands of the Chinese merchants belonging to British subjects?—Very large sums.

What interest is usually given in China by the Chinese merchants to Europeans for the loan of money?—Eighteen per cent. is usual, and some give more.

Do you know the reason of His Majesty's ship Sea Horse coming to China in 1779?—It was understood that Captain Panton came there to recover sums due to British subjects in China.

Did the Captain make any application to the Governor of China for that debt?—He delivered a letter to the second of the Province from Sir Edward Vernon.

Did you ever hear what amount the private property belonging to British subjects was in the hands of Chinese merchants?—Upwards of a million.

What success had Captain Panton's application?—None, whilst I remained in China.

Did you know how that application was received by the Chinese Government?—It appeared to me they did not chuse to take any notice of it whilst our ships remained in the river. No other Gentleman who was in the Company's service as Supercargo in China, in 1778 and 1779, is in England except Mr. Lane.

Have you received any bonds or bills of exchange payable out of the produce of cargoes sold from country ships in China?—I have from Bombay and Bengal, but not from Madras.

Do not the Dutch, French, Danes, Swedes, and Imperialists, take up money in China for bills payable in Europe?—The Danes, Swedes, and French do, to a large amount.

Do not British subjects often remit their property through those channels?—I suppose they do.

When you came to England, did you bring with you any property in money, or otherwise belonging to any of the Gentlemen on the Coast of Coromandel?—I did not.

Withdrew.

APPENDIX, No. 65.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Mayor's Court, at Fort St. George, the 24th Nov. 1778.

PRESENT,

James Call, Esquire, Mayor.
George Proctor, and Edward John Hollond, } Aldermen.

James Henry Casamayor, William Petre, and Alexander Brodie, } Executors of John Redhead, deceased,

Vers.

Stre. Sitteram Rauze, Maha Rauze, Loongar.

BILL, with translate of an Agreement annexed, filed between the days of adjournment. Summons issued thereupon; returned; served. The defendant appears by his attorney, Mr. Henry Dupuy. The attorney for the complainants prays, That the defendant may give bail. Mr. Charles Bromley, attorney for James Henry Casamayor, one of the complainants named in this cause, objects to any process being had thereon, until the name of his client be severed from the names of the other executors, and struck out of the bill, he having renounced all right of executorship to the last will and testament of John Redhead, deceased.

Ordered accordingly; and ordered by the counsel of the complainants attorney, That the defendant do put in bail by 6 o'clock to-morrow evening, or in default thereof, that warrant of arrest do issue.—The attorney for the defendant objects to give bail for more than the sum of 22,018 Rupees and 8 Anas, because it appears on the face of the bill of complaint, that it is the only sum which ought now to be forthcoming, the other sum, of 50,000 Rupees, being mentioned in the Agreement to be paid at a future day, upon the defendant's return to his own country, in Soucar bills of exchange. The Court having taken the same into consideration, Ordered That the defendant do put in bail for the sum of 22,018 Rupees and 8 Anas only.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Mayor's Court at Fort Saint George, the 1st of December.

PRESENT,

James Call, Esquire, Mayor,
John Turing, George Proctor, Edward John Hollond, Benjamin Roebuck, George Taswell, Edward Garrow, Edmund Saunders, and William Webb, } Aldermen.

James Henry Casamayor, William Petre, and Alexander Brodie, } Executors of John Redhead, deceased,

Vers.

Stre Sitteram Rauze, Maha Rauze, Loongar.

The Register acquaints the Court, that Moodee Kistnah Naidoo and Ramah Punto, became bail for the personal appearance of the defendant, or to answer all costs and damages, taken and acknowledged before Mr. Alderman Webb. The attorney for the defendant prays leave to deliver in a demurrer; which is granted. Demurrer filed the 30th November last. The attorney for the complainant prays leave to file an affidavit of Ramiah and Sashia, to prove the insufficiency of Moodee Kistnah Naidoo and Rama Punto, the bail taken in this cause. Affidavit sworn to, having been first explained to them by the Interpreter. Read and filed. The Court having taken the same into consideration, Ordered, That the defendant do put in better bail immediately, or in default thereof that a warrant of arrest do issue.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Mayor's Court at Fort St. George, the 8th December 1778.

PRESENT,

James Call, Esquire, Mayor,
Edward Saunders, and William Webb, } Aldermen.

Alexander Brodie, and William Petre, } Executors of John Redhead, deceased,

Vers.

Stre. Sitteram Rauze, Maha Rauze, Loongar.

The Register acquaints the Court, that Vencata Narnassah Chitty, and Subaroyaloo Chitty, became bail for the personal appearance of the defendant, or to answer all costs and damages, taken and acknowledged before the Mayor between the days of adjournment.

The attorney for the complainant prays, That he may be permitted to amend his bill of complaint by next court day, upon payment of cost.

Ordered accordingly.

Extract

Extract of the Proceedings of the Mayor's Court at Fort St. George, the 8th December 1778.

PRESENT,

James Call, Eſquire, Mayor,
Edwd Saunders, and Willm Webb, } Aldermen.

James Henry Caſamayor, Willm Petre, and Alexr Brodie, } Executors of John Redhead, deceaſed.

Vers.

Stre. Viziaram Rauze.

Bill, with copy of a receipt annexed, filed between the days of adjournment. A further time of one week, for the return of the ſummons. Returnable immediately, and warrant of arreſt iſſued againſt the Defendant's body, prayed for, and granted.

Mr. Charles Bromley, Attorney for James Henry Caſamayor, one of the Complainants named in this cauſe, objects to any proceſs being had thereon, until the name of his Client be ſevered from the names of the other Executors, and ſtruck out of the bill, he having renounced all right of Executorſhip to the laſt will and teſtament of John Redhead, deceaſed.

Ordered accordingly.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Mayor's Court at Fort St. George, the 15th December 1778.

PRESENT,

James Call, Eſquire, Mayor,
John Turing, and Edwd Garrow, } Aldermen.

Willm Petre, and Alexr Brodie, } Executors of John Redhead, deceaſed.

Vers.

Stre. Viziaram Rauze.

A further time, till the 12 January, for the return of the ſummons, returnable immediately, and warrant of arreſt iſſued againſt the Defendant's body, prayed for, and granted.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Mayor's Court at Fort St. George, the 15th December 1778.

PRESENT,

James Call, Eſquire, Mayor,
John Turing, and Edwd Garrow, } Aldermen,

Alexander Brodie, and Willm Petre, } Executors of John Redhead, deceaſed.

Vers.

Stre. Sitteram Rauze, Maha Rauze, Loongar.

The Attorney for the Complainant prays leave to file an amended bill in this cauſe, on payment of coſts. Mr. Charles Bromley, the Attorney for Mr. James Henry Caſamayor, one of the Complainants named in this cauſe, objects to the amended bill being received, until the name of his Client be ſevered from the names of the other Executors, and ſtruck out of the amended bill, he having renounced all rights of Executorſhip to the laſt will and teſtament of John Redhead, deceaſed. The Court having taken the ſame into conſideration, ordered, That the name of James Henry Caſamayor be ſevered and ſtruck out of the bill of complaint, and that the future proceedings in this cauſe do ſtand in the names of Willm Petre and Alexr Brodie only. Amended bill filed.

APPENDIX, No. 66.

(No. 1.)

Sir,

HAVING been to my houſe at Southampton, I have fortunately found amongſt ſome papers I left behind me when I embarked for India, a duplicate ſet of books, containing an account of my fortune in Bengal, cloſed in the year 1772. The balance in my favour amounts to about one hundred and eleven thouſand pounds. I take the liberty of ſending my books for the inſpection of the Committee; and requeſt they will do me the favour to obſerve, by the laſt article in the balance ſheet, that the above ſum even at that time was excluſive of intereſt on many accounts then not adjuſted (which intereſt was accumulating moſtly at 8 and ſome at 10 per cent. for ſeveral years): This, added to the amount of a bond of Mr. Droz's, which was to have been paid in England, but was afterwards paid in Bengal, amounting to upwards of nine thouſand pounds, will ſhew that I was poſſeſſed of very conſiderable property there. The not being able to get it remitted home was one reaſon for my returning to India. Some part of it was paid into the Dutch Factory at Chinſurah for certificates, as will appear in one of the accounts current with my Attornies (delivered in to the Committee by Mr. Stables) to the amount of about one hundred and ſixteen thouſand Rupees. In having taken the liberty of ſending my books to the Committee, I hope I ſhall not be thought to have acted officiouſly; or if it ſhould in any reſpect carry that appearance, I flatter myſelf they will not impute it to any other cauſe, than the anxiety I feel from thoſe aſperſions that have been thrown on me ſince my return from abroad. I had ſome doubt of the propriety of making my accounts public, whilſt I continued under a proſecution from the Company, and mentioned the ſame to Mr. Stables; but whatever may be the event, I wiſh to give every poſſible ſatisfaction to the Committee, and therefore leave it to them to make what uſe they think proper of the books and papers delivered in to them. I beg pardon for giving you this trouble, and have the honour to be,

Sir,
Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
Thos Rumbold.

New Cavendiſh Street,
18th June 1781.

APPENDIX No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER ON THE BUSINESS OF THOMAS

[1]

Dr. - - STOCK.

1770. January 1.	To ſundry Accounts, as per Journal	2,27,197 10 4
1772. January 31.	To David Killican, who paid the Amount of a Bill of Exchange for £. 500 at ⅔ in favour of C. Sympſon	4,615 6 —
	To Charles Ingram and M'Tagard, Reſpondentia Bond, the Account having been ſent Mr. Rumbold to recover the Inſurance in England	18,900 — —
	To Randolph Marriott, Reſpondentia Bond, the Account having been ſent Mr. Rumbold, to recover the Inſurance in England	32,400 — —
	To Ophium Account, never charged to Stock before	45,154 7 6
	To Honourable Company Treaſury, remitted Mr. Rumbold home in 5 Sets of Bills	1,72,506 12 —
	To Balance, being Mr. Rumbold's neat Eſtate, as appears by theſe Books	9,92,201 4 11
	C. R'	14,92,975 8 9

Dr. - EDWARD GOLDING.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per his Bond, 10 Auguſt 1769, payable in 2 Years	50,000 — —
	To Stock per his Bond, 26 November 1769, D° in 9 Years	9,874 14 6
	C. R'	59,874 14 6

Dr. - - EWAN LAW.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per his Bond, 30 September 1769, payable in 12 Months	13,307 3 6
1771. March 19.	To Intereſt from Date to this Day, Y. 1 M. 5 D. 9, at 9 per Cent.	1,759 14 —
	C. R'	15,067 1 6

[2]

Dr. - - MANUEL D'CRUZ.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, 18 October 1769, payable in 6 Months	20,150 — —
	C. R'	20,150 — —

Dr. - - JOHN CARTIER.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, 7 March 1769, payable in 12 Months	37,670 6 —
1771. February 9.	To Intereſt from Date Y. 1 M. 11 D. 2, at 9 per Cent.	6,516 15 —
	C. R'	44,187 6 —

Dr. - DR. JOHN ROUTLEDGE.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, 1 December 1769, payable in 9 Months	34,346 —
October 20.	To Intereſt from Date to this Date	3,043 15
	C. R'	37,390 —

RUMBOLD, Esquire;—commencing the 31st December 1769, ending the 28th February 1772.

	Per Contra - - - - - - - - -	Cr.	[1]
1770. January 1.	By sundry Accounts, as per Journal - - - - - - -	13,86,710 13 —
	By Charles Freake, Mr. Rumbold having paid him in England, £. 598. 16. at ¾ - - - - - - - - -	5,322 10 9
	By Profit and Loss, Balance of that Account, being a Gain, as appears by these Books, since Mr. Rumbold left India - -	1,00,942 1 —
	C. R°	14,92,975 8 9
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1772. January 31.	By Edward Golding, Ophium Account, transferred the opposite Bond to that Account - - - - - - - -	9,874 14 6
	By David Killican, Account Curr. who received per Part Payment his Bond - - - - - - - - - -	23,427 5 9
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - - -	26,572 10 3
	C. R°	59,874 14 6
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771. March 31.	By David Killican, Account Curr. of this Date, who received in full Principal and Interest - - - - - - - -	15,067 1 6
	C. R°	15,067 1 6
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.		[2]
1771. March 31.	By David Killican, his Account Curr. this Date, who received in Part - - - - - - - - - -	625 5 6
August 31.	By David Killican, D° D° D° - - - -	14,847 13 6
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - - -	4,676 13 —
	C. R°	20,150 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771. February 28.	By David Killican, Account Curr. this Date, who received in full Principal and Interest - - - - - - - -	44,187 6 —
	C. R°	44,187 6 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. Nov. 30.	By Joseph Price, Account Current this Date, who received in Two Payments, being in full Principal and Interest - - - -	37,390 — 6
	C. R°	37,390 — 6

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

Dr. — Capt. JOSEPH PRICE.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, 30 November 1769, payable in 10 Months	1,23,000 — —
1771. February 20.	To Joſeph Price, Account Curr. this Date, having granted a Bond this Date, for the Balance Account Curr.	25,118 12 7
	C. R^{t}	1,48,118 12 7

[3]

Dr. — EWAN LAW.

To Rajah Setraboy, who received of him in two Payments	34,174 2 —
To Profit and Loſs, a Gain on the Batty of the Dutch Bill	269 14 9
C. R^{t}	34,443 — 9

Dr. — EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond 25 November 1769, payable in 10 Months	52,916 6 6
	To Stock per Bond, which Mr. Rumbold values at 30,442. 1. —
	To Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins, Account Current, for the Balance that Account, which is added to the above on the Bond — 517 15 1	30,960 — 1
	To Intereſt on the Accounts and Bonds, as per their ſeparate Accounts, tranſmitted to Mr. Rumbold	10,153 11 8
	C. R^{t}	74,030 2 3

Dr. — EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond 1 October 1769, payable in 12 months	80,255 13 6
	To Intereſt from Date to 8 February 1771, Y. 1 M. 4 D. 8, at 5 per Cent.	5,439 9 —
	To Profit and Loſs, Diſcount on the Two oppoſite Bonds, 2 per D^{o}	1,078 7 —
1771. February 21.	To David Killican, who paid them this Balance of this Date	12,867 8 —
	C. R^{t}	99,641 5 6

[4]

Dr. — CHARLES INGRAM.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Amount his Bond, 12 January 1769, payable 6 Months	4,320 — —
1772. February 14.	To Intereſt on his Bond to this Date	1,376 1 1
	C. R^{t}	5,696 1 1

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - - -		1,45,118 12 7
	C. R[t]		1,45,118 12 7
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.		[3]
1770. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, Account Curr. Amount of a Dutch Bill - - - - - -	12,466 1 3
Nov. 30.	By Joſeph Price, Account Curr. Amount of a Bill on Bamaſſa Ghoſs - - - - - -	268 15 6
			12,735 — 9
	By Ewan Law, Ophium Account transferred to this Head - - - - - -	10,854 — —
	By Jeffrey Wilkins, Ophium Account transferred to this Head - - - - - - -	10,854 — —
			21,708 — —
	C. R[t]		34,443 — 9
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
1771. February 21.	By David Killican, Account Curr. this Date, received 8 January 1771 - - -	12,867 8 —
March 31.	By Ditto, D[o], 21 March - - -	10,000 — —
			22,867 8 —
Auguſt 31.	By Ditto, D[o], 19 June, of Mr. Law -	14,046 3 6
	28 D[o], of Mr. Law - -	3,000 — —
	5 July, of Mr. Law - -	2,432 2 9
			19,478 6 3
	24 D[o], of J. Wilkins -	18,923 9 1½ of D[o] - - -	6,076 6 10½
			25,000 — —
1772. January 31.	By David Killican, D[o], 9 Nov. of D[o] in full - - - -		4,994 14 1
	By Intereſt on the Accounts, as per their ſeparate Accounts, tranſmitted to Mr. Rumbold - - - - - - - -		1,689 . 5 11
	C. R[t]		74,030 2 3
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
1771. February 8.	By Ophium Account, Balance of Meſſrs. Law and Jeffrey Wilkins Account, dated 8 February 1771, and carried to Account Current of that Date - - - - - - - - -		45,154 7 6
	By Honourable Company Bonds, one Principal, 29 December 1770 - - - - - -	33,704 10 3
	One D[o], 26 D[o] - -	20,217 8 9
			53,922 3 —
	By Intereſt on the above Two Bonds to this Day - - -		564 11 —
	C. R[t]		99,641 5 6
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.		[4]
1770. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, Account Current, who received in Part - - - - - - -	3,092 — —
1771. February 20.	By Ditto D[o] - D[o] - -	631 15 —
			3,723 15 —
	By Joſeph Price, who received in full for Goods remaining in his Hands - - - - - - - - - -		768 12 6
	By ſundry Accounts - - - - - - - -		1,203 5 7
	C. R[t]		5,696 1 1

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

Dr. - CHAS. FLOYER, ROB. ALEXANDER, and H. INGLIS.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Amount of their Bond, 30 April 1769, payable 12 Months	1,16,356 3 —
1771. July 14.	Y. M. D. To Intereſt from the Date 2 2 14, at 10 per Cent.	25,664 — —
	C. R^{t}	1,42,020 3 —

Dr. - JOHN ROBINSON and ROB. CRAUFORD.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Amount their Bond, 26 November 1769, payable in 10 Months	25,360 — —

Dr. - EDWARD STEVENSON.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Amount his Bond, 3 November 1769, payable 8 Months	10,800 — —
1771. February 20.	Y. M. D. To Intereſt from Date 1 3 17	1,401 — —
	C. R^{t}	12,201 — —

Dr. - GILES HOLLOWAY, Account Rich^{d} Wyatt.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Amount Bond, 26 March 1769, payable 10 Months	18,900 — —
	Deduct received by Mr. Rumbold	14,115 — —
1771. January 1.	To Intereſt Account		4,975 — — 732 8 —
	C. R^{t}		5,707 8 —

[5]

Dr. - WALTER WILKINS.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, dated 1 December 1769, payable in 9 months	82,165 11 10
	To Stock per Bond, dated 19 December 1769, D^{o} in 6 D^{o}	25,240 5 1	1,07,406 — 11
1771. April.	Y. M. D. To Intereſt Account on 82,165 11 10. is 1 4 16 at 10 per Cent.	11,320 9 8 on 25,230 5 1. — 1 3 28	3,351 5 8	14,671 15 4
	C. R^{t}		1,22,078 — 3

Dr. - GOCUL GOSAUL and MODEN DUTT.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, 30th April 1779, payable 6 Months	65,880 — —
	Deduct, received by Mr. Rumbold	45,000 — —	20,880 — —
	To Owners Ship Rumbold's Account, for Account their Shares in the Rumbold, they being to account with Mr. Rumbold privately		32,859 9 9
	C. R^{t}		53,739 9 9

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
1771. August 31.	By David Killican, who received in full Principal and Intereſt -		1,42,020 3 —
	C. R^{s}		1,42,020 3 —
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - -		25,360 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
1771. February 20.	By David Killican, Account Current, who received Principal and Intereſt - - - - - - - - - -		12,201 — —
	C. R^{s}		12,201 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
1771. February 20.	By David Killican, Account Curr. who received in full - -		5,707 8 —
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
	By Honourable Company Bond, dated 31 December 1770 - - - - -	25,000 — —
	By Honourable Company Treaſury paid in by Mr. Miller - - - - - - -	7,016 — —
			32,016 — —
February 28.	By David Killican, Account Curr. who received, December 31 - - - - -	4,997 6 —
	By Ditto D° February 12 - -	32,400 — —
	By Ditto D° D° 21 - - -	8,042 4 9
			45,439 10 9
August 31.	By Ditto D° Balance Account to 17 April 1771 - -		42,604 11 6
	By Intereſt Account 25,000 - - - -	750 — —
	7,016 — — - -	282 9 3
	4,997 6 — - -	161 — 3
	32,400 — — - -	585 — —
	8,042 4 9 - -	239 — 6
			2,017 10 —
	C. R^{s}		1,22,078 — 3
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
1770. April 14.	By David Killican Account this Date, who received 6 February 1770 - - - - -	3,000 — —
	17 D° 1770 - - - - -	1,000 — —
	1 from Modun Dutt, 16 March 1770 - -	1,000 — —
			5,000 — —
	By Owners Ship Rumbold Account, for the Amount of Half the Ophium, he having become anſwerable to Meſſrs. Law and Wilkins - - - - - - - -		41,426 1 7
	By David Killican Account this Date, who received of Mr. Wilkins a Dividend on Ship Rumbold - - -		3,390 11 10
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - -		3,922 12 4
	C. R^{s}		53,739 9 9

[5]

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

Dr. - DR. ROBERT HUNTER.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, 1 October 1769, payable in 12 Months -	22,566 13 10
March 16.	To David Killican, who lent him on Bond, payable 1 November 1770 - - - - - - - - - -	15,000 — —
	C. R[1]	37,566 13 10

[6]

Dr. - FRANCIS HARE.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, dated 28th May 1769, payable in 12 Months	11,100 — —
	C. R[1]	11,100 — —

Dr. - ALEX[R] HANNAY.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, dated 20 Auguſt 1769, payable in 12 Months - - - - - -	10,000 — —
	To Intereſt for one Year, at 9 per Cent. -	900 — —
1771. February 21.			10,900 — —
	To David Killican, who lent him on Bond, dated 20, 1770 -		10,000 — —
	C. R[2]		20,900 — —

Dr. - ESOP GABLE, at Judda.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, 20 December 1769, payable on Demand -	17,526 8 7

Dr. - JOHN KNOTT,

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Bond, 20 December 1769, payable on Demand -	20,511 14 —
April 13.	To Intereſt from the Date - - - - - - - -	466 5 6
	C. R[3]	20,978 3 6

[7]

Dr. - HONOURABLE COMPANY BONDS.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per one Company's Bond, 1 September 1769 - -		7,849 11 5
1771. February 22.	To David Killican, Account this Date, who purchaſed 16 Bonds, viz.
	1 Company's Bond, 31 Dec. 1770, Prin[l]	6,607 8 —
	1 Ditto - - - 9 D° - - - - -	5,000 — —
	1 Ditto - - - 31 D° - - - - -	23,438 1 —
	5 Ditto, 2,000 each, 1 Jan. 1771 - -	10,000 — —
	1 Ditto - - - 17 D° - - - - -	1,763 12 6
	1 Ditto - - - 17 D° - - - - -	5,000 — —
	1 Ditto - - - 12 D° - - - - -	3,000 — —
	1 Ditto - - - 12 D° - - - - -	1,707 3 6
	1 Ditto - - - 9 Dec. 1770 - -	5,000 — —
	1 Ditto - - - 9 D° - - - - -	1,009 3 3
	1 Ditto - - - 9 D° - - - - -	3,000 — —
	1 Ditto - - - 26 D° - - - - -	6,978 2 —
			72,903 14 3

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771.
Auguſt 31.	By David Killican, who received 9 April -	7,000	— —
	1 May -	3,000	— —
1772.				10,000 — —
February 4.	By Ditto, who received - - - - - - - -			6,000 — —
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - - -			21,566 13 10
	C. R'			37,566 13 10
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.			[6]
1771.
Aug. 31.	By David Killican, who received a Dividend of 4 Annoes - - - - - - -	3,370	1 4
Oct. 31.	By Ditto, - - who received a Dividend of 4 D° - - - - - - - -	3,370	1 3
				6,740 2 7
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - - -			4,359 13 5
	C. R'			11,100 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771.
Feb. 22.	By David Killican, who received in full, Principal and Intereſt, 1ſt Bond - - - - - - - - - - -			10,900 — —
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - - -			10,000 — —
	C. R'			20,900 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1772.
Feb. 29.	By Profit and Loſs, this Debt being irrecoverable, and ſo Mr. Rumbold mentions in his Inſtructions - - - - - -			17,526 8 7
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770.
April 14.	By David Killican, who received in full, Principal and Intereſt -			20,978 3 6
	C. R'			20,978 3 6
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.			[7]
1771.
February 20.	By David Killican, Account this Date, having ſold 4 Bonds, viz.
	1 Company Bond, 31 Dec. 1770, Princ'	6,607	8 —
	1 Ditto - - - 31 D° - - - -	25,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 9 D° - - - -	5,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - May - - -	4,052	7 9
				40,659 15 9
Auguſt 31.	By David Killican, Account this Date, ſold 1 Bond, 1 Sept. 1769			4,709 7 3
October 31.	By Ditto - D° - - 1 D°, 12 July 1771			12,000 — —
1772.
January 31.	By Ditto - D°, who ſold the following Bonds:
	1 Bond - 19 Jan. 1771 -	5,400	— —
	1 Ditto - 28 Feb. - -	2,937	9 —
	1 Ditto - 22 Nov. 1770 -	1,000	— —
	1 Ditto - 23 Feb. 1771 -	1,567	8 —
	1 Ditto - 28 D° - -	1,222	— —
	1 Ditto - 5 Dec. 1770 -	1,854	12 6
				13,981 13 6
	Carried over -			71,351 4 6

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Books of 1771. March 30.	To David Killican, Account this Date, who purchased 7 Bonds, viz.

	1 Bond - - - - - - - - - Princ[l]	4,709	7 3
	1 Ditto - - - 26 Feb. 1771 - -	9,140	— 6
	1 Ditto - - - 26 D[o] - - - - -	5,553	2 —
	2 Ditto - - - 21 D[o] - - - - -	10,144	10 9
	1 Ditto - - - 29 Nov. 1770 - -	3,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 13 Dec. - - - -	11,151	11 —
				43,798 15 6
August 31.	To David Killican, Account this Date, who purchased 33 Bonds, viz.
	1 Bond - - - 18 Apr. 1771, Princ[l]	2,264	6 —
	1 Ditto - - - 18 D[o] - - - - -	17,658	3 3
	1 Ditto - - - 18 D[o] - - - - -	9,006	14 3
	1 Ditto - - - 18 D[o] - - - - -	4,814	9 6
	1 Ditto - - - 18 D[o] - - - - -	5,359	12 9
	1 Ditto - - - 29 D[o] - - - - -	10,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 29 D[o] - - - - -	10,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 30 D[o] - - - - -	10,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 17 Jan. - - - - -	10,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 20 June - - - - -	20,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 25 D[o] - - - - -	37,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 12 July - - - -	12,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 22 D[o] - - - - -	15,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 29 D[o] - - - - -	10,000	— —
	8 Ditto 10,000 each, 22 D[o] - - - - -	80,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 22 D[o] - - - - -	14,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 5 Dec 1770 - -	1,854	12 6
	1 Ditto - - - 28 Feb. 1771 - -	1,222	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 23 D[o] - - - - -	1,567	8 —
	1 Ditto - - - 28 D[o] - - - - -	2,937	9 —
	1 Ditto - - - 22 Nov[r] 1770, Princ[l]	1,000	— —
[8]	1 Ditto - - - 26 Dec. - - - -	3,991	1 6
	1 Ditto - - - 12 Jan. - - - -	2,684	— —
	1 To - - - 24 July 1771 - -	15,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 24 D[o] - - - - -	10,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - 25 D[o] - - - - -	8,000	— —
				3,15,620 12 9
	To Cloth, &c. our Company's Bonds - - - - -			1,24,685 15 9
	To Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins, viz.
	1 Bond - - - - - -	33,704	10 3
	1 Ditto - - - - - -	20,217	8 9
				53,922 3 —
1772. January 31.	To David Killican Account, this Date, viz.
	1 Bond - - - 15 June 1771 -	10,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 14 December -	3,766	14 —
	1 Ditto - - - 14 D[o] - - -	5,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 14 D[o] - - -	5,000	— —
	5 Ditto 200 each, 21 D[o] - - - -	10,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 21 July - -	5,270	6 —
				39,037 4 —
February 28.	To Ditto, 1 Ditto - - - 12 Febr[y] 1772	13,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 28 D[o] - - -	5,000	— —
				18,000 — —
29.	To Joseph Price, 2 Ditto, 10,000 each, 30 November 1771 - - - - - - -	20,000	— —
	1 Ditto - - - 30 D[o] - - -	13,928	4 6
	1 Ditto - - - 11 Jan[y] 1772 -	6,471	11 3
				40,399 15 9
	To Walter Wilkins, 1 Ditto, - - - 31 Dec[r] 1770 -			25,000 — —
	To Honourable Company Revenue, 1 Bond, - May - -			4,352 7 9
			C. R[s]	7,45,270 10 2

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

[8]

Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
Brought over - -	71,351	4 6
By Balance Account remaining, 70 Company's Bonds - -	6,73,919	5 8
C. R.	7,45,270	10 2

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Business of [9]

Dr. - - Capt. H. JAMES SHAW.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Half of Bond 16,514 7 8.—27 December 1769, payable in 12 Months	8,257 3 10
	To Interest	144 11 2
	C. R^{t}	8,402 15 —
	To Interest Account	1,789 1 —

Dr. - - EDW^{D} WAPLE and GEO. DOBINSON.

1770. January 1.	To Stock, Respondentia Bond, Lord Anson, 15 February 1763	1,620 — —

Dr. - - CHA^{S} INGRAM, P. M^{c}TAGART, and M^{c}TAGART.

1770. January 1.	To Stock Respondentia Bond, Greenwich Ketch, 10 April 1768	18,900 — —

Dr. - - - JOHN TOOL.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Respondentia Bond, Nelly Snow, 13 January 1769		6,480 — —
	To Profit and Loss, Premium on his Bond	1,620 — —
	To Interest on his Bond	1,937 6 9
			3,557 6 9
	C. R^{t}		10,037 6 9

[10]

Dr. - ROBERT DOBINSON.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Respondentia Bond, Snow Industry, A. R^{t} 37,500	40,500 — —
	To Profit and Loss per Premium, to 22d February 1770	10,125 — —
			50,625 — —
	To Interest, being Interest on the Balance of this Account; after deducting the Mortgage 30,000, the Balance is 20,625. Int. from that Date to 30 April 1771, 1 3 15. 9 per Cent.		2,092 12 12
	C. R^{t}		52,717 12 —

Dr. - RANDOLPH MARRIOTT.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Mortgage, Respondentia Bond, Snow Speedwell, 4 February 1769	32,400 — —

Dr. - HENRY WEDDERBURN.

1770. January 1.	To Stock Respondentia Bond and Premium	18,900 — —
	Deduct received by Mr. Rumbold	15,050 — —
			3,850 — —
	To Interest Account		3,990 — —
	C. R^{t}		7,840 — —

[11]

Dr. - - LEWIS D'COSTA.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Respondentia Bond and Premium	18,900 — —
	Deduct received by Mr. Rumbold	13,359 — —
			5,541 — —
	To Interest Account		4,147 8 —
	C. R^{t}		9,688 8 —

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

[9]

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771. August 31.	By David Killican, Account Current, this Date received - -	8,402 15 —
	C. R[s]	8,402 15 —
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - -	1,789 1 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - -	1,620 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1772. February 29.	By Stock, having ſent Mr. Rumbold the Account to recover the Inſurance in England - - - - - - - -	18,900 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, Account this Date, received in Part - -	6,716 4 5
1771. February 20.	By Ditto D[o] D[o] - - - - - - -	954 14 6
	By Ditto D[o] D[o], who received Balance of Goods -	768 12 6
	By ſundry Accounts - - - - - - - - -	1,597 7 4
	C. R[s]	10,037 6 9

[10]

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771. March 31.	By David Killican, Account this Date, who received for Sale of Tin, deducting Charges Merchandize - - - - -	18,273 7 6
August 31.	By Ditto, - D[o], who received Balance this Account -	3,572 9 9
	By Ditto, - D[o], who received in further Part for Sale Tin -	625 15 6
	By Hare's Aſſignment 30,000, being a Mortgage Bond on his Houſe, dated 14 March 1770, in Mr. Rumbold's Favour -	30,000 — —
	Intereſt on Tin - - - - - - -	245 11 3
	C. R[s]	52,717 12 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Stock, having ſent Mr. Rumbold the Account to recover the Inſurance in England - - - - - - - -	32,400 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, who received in Part - - - - -	2,618 12 10
1772. January 31.	By Ditto - D[o] in full - - - - - - -	1,554 15 5
	By Intereſt Account - - - - - - - -	3,666 3 9
	C. R[s]	7,840 — —

[11]

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, who received in Part - - - - -	4,000 — —
1772. February 29.	By Ditto - D[o] D[o] in full - - - - - -	1,985 — 6
	By Intereſt Account - - - - - - - - -	3,703 7 6
	C. R[s]	9,688 8 —

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

Dr. - THOMAS M'BRIDE and PETER MOREAU.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Reſpondentia Bond and Premium	38,800 — —
	Deduct received by Mr. Rumbold -	27,591 — —
			10,209 — —
	To Intereſt Account - - - - - - - -		296 14 3
	C. R'		10,505 14 3

Dr. - RAJAH SETABROY.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per Half of a large Houſe ſold him, 69,600, my Half - - - - - - - - - - - -	34,800 — —
	C. R'	34,800 — —

[12]

Dr. - - Capt. JOSEPH PRICE.

1770. January 1.	To Stock, being the Balance of Account Current, cloſed 30 November 1769 - - - - - - - - - - - -		13,466 15 —
July 23.	To Caſh Account received of your Banian Balance Caſh Account		27,342 10 —
	To Card Debts received of Middleton and Kelſall - - -		909 12 3
	To Honourable Company's Salary received of 1 Year's Salary -		403 3 3
	To Card Debts received of Floyer and Watſon -	548 10 —
	To Henry Wedderburn, received in Part of his Bond - - - - - - - - -	2,618 12 10
	To Thomas M'Bridge, &c. D° D° - -	7,332 14 9
	To Lewis D'Coſta, - - D° D° - -	4,000 — —
	To Salt Petre, neat Proceeds now rendered -	65,239 2 6
	To John Tool in Part Reſpondentia Bond -	6,716 4 5
	To Charles Ingram D° D° - - - -	3 092 — —
	To Dead Stock, received in Part Sale of Effects -	9,701 15 —
	To David Killican Balance Account, 14 April 1770	9,781 3 9
			1,09,030 15 3
	To Thomas M'Bridge, &c. Balance Reſpondentia Bond - - - - - - - - -	3,172 15 6
	To Honourable Company's Revenues, your Salary	39 3 —
	To Ewan Law, Amount of one Dutch Bill received - - - - - - - - -	12,466 1 3
			15,678 3 9
	C. R'		1,66,831 11 6
1770. July 23.	To Balance brought down from Account Current this Date -		23,480 15 1
Nov. 30.	To Ewan Law, Amount a Bill on Banaraſs Ghoſs - - -		268 15 6
	To Dr. Routledge, received in full Principal and Intereſt Bond -		37,390 — 6
	To Intereſt on this Account - - - - - - - -		1,240 13 6
	C. R'		62,380 12 7
1770. Nov. 30.	To Balance Account Current this Date - - - - - -		22,595 2 10
1771. February 20.	To Dead Stock - - received in further Part Sales of Effects -		616 9 6
	To Cloths - - - - received per Sales of Sundries - -		2,314 2 6
	To Charles Ingram - received in further Part Bond - - -		631 15 —
	To John Tool - - received in further Part Bond - -		954 14 6
	C. R'		27,112 12 4
1771. March 1.	To Cloths, &c. remaining for Amount Salt Petre to Ship Catharine - - - - - - - - - - -		3,780 — —
1771. May 1.	To Balance Account brought down - - - - - -		3,190 1 6

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, who received in Part - - - - - -	7,332	14 9
	By Ditto - - D° in full - - - - - -	3,172	15 6
	C. R^{s}	10,505	14 3
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Ewan Law, Account Curr. who received of him in Two Payments - - - - - - - - -	34,174	2 —
	By Profit and Loſs, ſuppoſed to be in Intereſt Account - -	625	14 —
	C. R^{s}	34,800	— —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.		[12]
1770. July 23.	By Salt Petre having paid Mr. Rumbold - - - - -	56,840	— —
	By Charges general Sundries paid of this Date - - - -	4,920	4 4
	By Card Debts, paid Marriott and Capt. Sampſon - - -	4,462	9 —
	By Card Debts, paid Lawrel, Barker, Price, and Kelſall - -	4,869	2 6
	By Charges general, paid Sundries of this Date - - -	6,696	— —
	By William Hoſea, paid him Balance Ophium Account - -	5,820	— —
	By Charges general, Sundries of this Date - - - -	1,367	3 6
	By Subſcription Mrs. Majendie, paid her - - - - -	5,400	— —
	By Card Debts, paid Mr. Cobham - - - - -	1,015	3 3
	By Charges general, February, March, and April - - -	5,041	5 1
	By Charges general, Taylor and Logun - - - - -	2,357	5 9
	By Edward Golding, Balance Account - - - - -	979	1 6
	By Dr. John Taylor, paid into the Treaſury - - - -	15,000	— —
	By Ditto, paid Balance Account - - - - - -	7,738	12 —
	By Commiſſion Account, my Commiſſion on Cloths - - -	6,224	3 9
	By Charges general, Sundries - - - - - -	479	9 9
	By Manual D'Cruz, paid his Child - - - - -	2,160	— —
	By Honourable Company Treaſury, paid into the Treaſury - -	12,000	— —
	By Balance to new Account - - - - - - -	23,480	15 1
	C. R^{s}	1,66,831	11 6
Nov. 30.	By Jeffrey Wilkins, paid him Balance private Account - -	1,636	9 6
	By Honourable Company Treaſury, paid into the Treaſury -	37,399	— 6
	By Charges general, Sundries - - - - - -	328	12 3
	By Intereſt on this Account - - - - - -	421	3 6
	By Balance carried to new Account - - - - -	22,595	2 10
	C. R^{s}	62,380	12 7
1771. February 20.	By General Charges, paid Sundries - - - - -	1,993	15 9
	By Captain Joſeph Price Account Bond, for the Amount of his Bond for the Balance of this Account of this Date - - -	25,118	12 7
	C. R^{s}	27,112	12 4
March 30.	By Charges general per Sundries - - - - -	589	14 6
April 30.	By Balance to new Account - - - - - -	3,190	1 6
	C. R^{s}	3,780	— —
	By Balance carried to new Account - - - - -	3,190	— —

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Business of [13]

Dr. - - - ACCOUNT in Company with WALTER WILKINS.

1770. January 1.	To Stock, being a Balance of a private Account, due me - -	5,701 8 3
	To Calcutta Houses, Half Rent of 1,533 9 8.—received of Major Polier - - - - - - - - - -	766 12 10
	And 3 Glass Lanthorns of the Honourable Company -	160 8 —
	To Charges general, he having received of a Gomastah - -	141 9 9
	C. R°	6,770 6 10

Dr. - DULLAB DASS, Gomastah at Gazypore.

1771. January 1.	To Stock, Balance Account Current to be received by Law and Wilkins - - - - - - - - - - - -	157 2 6

Dr. - - - CALCUTTA HOUSES.

1770. January 1.	To Stock, my Half, one House with Walter Wilkins 11,000 -	5,500 — —
	C. R°	5,500 — —

Dr. - - ADVENTURE to ROTASGUR.

1770. January 1.	To Stock Balance Chunam 25,000 - - - - - -		5,843 5 —
	To Stock Balance Cash in Gomastahs Hands -	3,643 10 —
	Deduct received per Mr. Rumbold -	1,110 — —
			2,533 10 —
	C. R°		8,376 15 —

Dr. - - ADVANCES for CHUNAM.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per sundry Advances - - - - - - -	3,953 9 3

[14]

Dr. - - CLOTHS with Mr. JOSEPH PRICE.

1770. January 1.	To Stock per sundry Cloths, which Mr. Rumbold values as follows; viz.
	1 Invoice of Musters	20 - - -	84 14 3
	29 Oct. 1 Ditto of Cloths -	4,922 - - -	22,537 2 —
	26 Aug. 1 Ditto D° - -	10,313 - - -	42,300 — —
	15 Oct. 1 Ditto D° - -	10,325 - - -	48,875 5 9
	22 D° 1 Ditto D° - -	5,610 - - -	15,120 — —
	Pieces -	31,190 - -	1,28,915 6 6
	Deduct 3 2 per Cent.		3,906 8 6
			1,25,008 14 —
	Batta 11 per Cent.		13,750 15 8
			1,38,759 13 8
	Amount Charges upon Invoice		2,308 6 —
					1,41,068 3 9
1771. August 31.	To David Killican, who paid Company's Duties - - -				5,508 11 —
1772. February 29.	To Joseph Price, Charges Merchandize on Sales to Honourable Company - - - - - - - -				2,179 1 —
	To Salt Petre, re-transferring the opposite Sum - - -				3,780 — —
	To Charges General, Commission on Cloths - - - -				6,224 3 9
	To Profit and Loss, Gain upon this Account - - - -				31,388 15 9
	C. R°				1,90,149 3 3

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

[13]

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771. August 31.	By David Killican, who received in full - - - - -	5,667 11 9
	By Charges general, having paid Mr. Kelſall per ſundry Plate -	987 — 11
	By Profit and Loſs, Mr. Rumbold having over-valued the Balance of this Account in his Inſtructions - - - - - -	115 10 2
	C. R^{s}	6,770 6 10
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Law and Wilkins Account Current made over to them - -	157 2 6
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Walter Wilkins, Houſe Rent of Major Polier 1,533 9 8 -	766 12 10
	And 3 Glaſs Lanthorns ſold to the Honourable Company -	160 8 —
	By Walter Wilkins, he having ſold our ſmall Houſe for 5,000 A. R^{s} my Half - - - - - - - - - -	2,700 — —
	By Profit and Loſs, Mr. Wilkins having ſold our ſmall Houſe -	1,872 11 2
	C. R^{s}	5,500 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Law and Wilkins Account Current made over to them - -	8,376 15 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Wilkins and Law Account Current made over to them - -	3,953 9 3

[14]

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771. February 20.	By Joſeph Price, who received for ſundry Cloths - - -	2,314 2 6
	By Honourable Company Bond, for the Amount Sales of 18,082 Pieces of Cloths ſold them, and for which they gave Bonds -	1,24,685 15 9
	By Joſeph Price, who received for Sundries, Account of this Date - - - - - - - - - - -	3,780 — —
	By Joſeph Price, who received for Cloths and Chints - - -	140 10 9
	By Owners Ship Alexander, 47 Bales Cloth ſold them - -	16,653 14 6
	By Joſeph Price, ſold the Honourable Company, 30 November 1771 - - - - - - - - 33,928 4 6
	By Ditto - - D^{o} 11 January 1772 - 6,471 11 3
		40,399 15 9
	By Balance remaining unſold with Mr. Price, as per Liſt now ſent Mr. Rumbold, P^{ces} 21,471½, and they being damaged and bad, are only valued at - - - - - - - -	2,174 8 —
	C. R^{s}	1,90,149 3 3

		Brought forward C. R	1,90,149 3 3
		To Balance brought down 2,174½ valued at	2,174 8 —
		To Stationary, having charged the Sales of Mr. Hurſt to this Head, 7 January 1771	636 1 9
		C. R[s]	2,810 9½ 9
		To Balance of Cloths 2,174½ Pieces	2,174 8 —
[15]		Dr. - - SALT PETRE.
	1770. January 1.	To Stock per Amount of 9,188 17 8. as valued by Mr. Rumbold	45,942 2 —
	July 23.	To Joſeph Price, who paid per Account this Date	56,840 — —
		To Profit and Loſs, gained on this Head	19,297 — 6
		C. R	1,22,079 2 6
		To Profit and Loſs, being a further Gain on this Head	3,780 — —
		Dr. - - STATIONARY.
	1770. January 1.	To Stock per Amount Invoice left with Mr. Price	1,259 4 6
		To Cloths, having carried the Amount Sales of that Head, 7 January 1771, and ſent Mr. Rumbold	636 1 9
		Dr. - - OWNERS Ship RUMBOLD.
	1770. January 1.	To Stock per Amount Balance Account, due to me	55,137 7 2
		To Gocul Goſall and Moden Dutt, to the Amount of Half the Ophium, he having become anſwerable to Meſſrs. Law and Wilkins	41,426 1 7
		To Intereſt on the Sum Mr. Wilkins paid, being Balance 19,891 2 Intereſt on that Sum	2,817 14 6
		C. R[s]	99,381 7 3
[16]		Dr. - VOYAGE in the Ship RUMBOLD.
	1770. January 1.	To Stock, my ⅓ of ⅔ Concern in the Voyage, Stock and Block 43,812 13 — Deduct Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins, their Concern under me 6,000 — —	37,812 13 —
		C. R[s]	37,812 13 —
		Dr. - EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS.
	1770. January 1.	To Stock, Amount their Concern under me in the Voyage Ship Rumbold	6,000 — —
		Dr. - CASH.
	1770. January 1.	To Stock, Balance of my Caſh Account	26,668 3 4
		To Profit and Loſs, more received than charged to Stock	674 6 8
		C. R[s]	27,342 10 —

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Brought forward - C. R^{s}	1,90,149 3 3
	By Stationary, Mr. Rumbold having had Credit for this Amount in Account Sales ſent him, 7 January 1771 - - - - -	636 1 9
	By Balance to new Account - - - - - - - -	2,174 8 —
	C. R^{s}	2,810 9 9
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - - -	2,174 8 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.	[15]
1770. January 1.	By Stock, Mr. Rumbold having received from Mr. Price the oppoſite Sum, and ſtill charges the whole Salt Petre to Stock	56,840 — —
July 23.	By Joſeph Price, who now renders neat Amount Sales of the Salt Petre - - - - - - - - - - -	65,239 2 6
	C. R^{s}	1,22,079 2 6
	By Cloths, having re-transferred the Amount, being ſold - - -	3,780 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Price and Loſs, the white Ants having entirely ſpoiled it -	1,259 4 6
	By Cloth, Mr. Rumbold had Credit for the oppoſite Sums - - -	636 1 9
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771. Auguſt 31.	By David Killican, who received of Mr. Wilkins his Proportion	22,709 — 6
	By Harry Verelſt, the Amount of his Share, as per Account, 30 December 1769 - - - - - - - - -	43,812 13 —
	By Gocul Goſaul and Moden Dutt, Account Half their Shares in the Ship Rumbold, they being to account privately with him -	32,859 9 9
	C. R^{s}	99,381 7 3
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.	[16]
1771. Auguſt 31.	By David Killican, who received of Mr. Wilkins - - -	4,420 15 11
1772. January 31.	By Ditto - D^{o} - D^{o} - - -	100 — —
February 27.	By Ditto - D^{o} - D^{o} - - -	13,452 2 —
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - -	19,839 11 1
	C. R^{s}	37,812 13 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - -	6,000 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
July 23.	By Joſeph Price, who received from his Banian - - -	27,342 10 —

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

	Dr. - DEAD STOCK.
1770. January 1.	To Stock as valued	10,000 — —
	To Profit and Loſs, more received than charged to Stock	5,283 — 5
	C. R'	15,283 — 5
[17]	Dr. - HONOURABLE COMPANY REVENUES.
1770. January 1.	To Stock per Months September, October, November, and December	4,494 14 —
	Dr. - JEFFREY WILKINS.
1770. Nov. 30.	To Joſeph Price, who paid him in full	1,636 9 6
	Dr. - CHARLES FEAKE.
1770. October 31.	To David Killican, who paid him	32,274 8 —
1772. January 31.	To Ditto, D° in Two Payments	16,551 14 3
	To Profit and Loſs, transferring the oppoſite Sum	1,111 13 6
	To ſundry Accounts	5,834 11 3
	C. R'	35,772 15 —
	Dr. - DR. JOHN TAYLOR.
1770. July 23.	To Joſeph Price, who paid into the Treaſury on his Account	15,000 — —
	To Ditto D° Balance Account	7,738 12 —
	C. R'	22,738 12 —
	Dr. - WILLIAM FISHER.
	To Balance Account	26,000 — —
[18]	Dr. - EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS.
	To Adventure to Rotargur Gomaſtah, made over to them	8,376 15 —
	To Advances for Chunam, made over to them	3,953 9 3
	To Dullab Doſs Balance Account D°	157 2 6
	To Charles Feake, Caſh received on his Account of Mr. Craig	1,111 13 6
	C. R'	13,599 8 3
	Dr. - EWAN LAW.
	To Ewan Law private Account, having transferred it to that Head	10,854 — —

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, who received in Part Sales of Effects - -		9,701 15 —
1771. February 20.	By Ditto D° in further Part - - -		616 9 6
1772. January 14.	By Walter Wilkins, Account this Date, for Plate ſold him -		4,964 7 11
	C. R¹		15,283 — 5
	Per Contra - - - - - -		[17]
1770. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, who received 1 Year's Salary - - -		403 3 3
	By Ditto D° - 1 Month D° - - - -		39 3 —
	By Honourable Company Bond, dated 1 May - - -		4,052 7 9
	C. R²		4,494 14 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock Balance Account, due him 30 November 1769 - - - - - - 718 6 5
	Caſh received from the Warehouſe Keeper 823 4 —
			1,541 10 5
	By Intereſt - - - - - - - - - - -		84 15 1
	C. R³		1,636 9 6
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock Balance Account, due him 20 December 1769 -		29,086 7 5
	By Law and Wilkins, who received of Mr. Craig - - -		1,111 13 6
	By Intereſt on this Account - - - - - -		5,574 10 1
	C. R⁴		35,772 15 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock Balance Account, due him 30 November 1769 - -		21,993 15 7
	By Intereſt to this Account - - - - - -		744 12 5
	C. R⁵		22,738 12 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock Balance Account, due him 31 December 1769 - -		26,000 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - Cr.		[18]
1770. January 1.	By Stock, Balance Account Current, due to them from Concern in Chunam - - - - - - - - -		13,081 9 2
	By Bond, Account for this Balance, being added to the Bond on this Account, was ſettled after Mr. Rumbold left India; Mr. Rumbold eſtimated their Bond - - 30,442 1 —
	But they ſend a Bond, dated 20 December 1769, for - - - - 30,960 1 — 517 15 1
	C. R⁶		13,599 8 3
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock, per Purchaſe of 30 Cheſts Ophium - - -		10,854 — —

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Business of

Dr. - JEFFREY WILKINS.

	To Ewan Law private Account, having transferred it to that Head	10,854 — —

Dr. - EDWARD GOLDING.

	To Edward Golding Bond Account, having transferred the Amount of his Bond 26 November to this Account - -	9,874 14 6
1770. July 23.	To Joseph Price, who paid him in full this Account - -	974 1 6
	C. R[s]	10,854 — —

Dr. - WILLIAM HOSEA.

1770. July 23.	To Joseph Price, who paid him in full - - - -	5,820 — —
	To Profit and Loss to balance this Account - - - -	34 — —
	C. R[s]	5,854 — —

[19]

Dr. - SUBSCRIPTION, Mrs. Majendie.

1770. July 23.	To Joseph Price, who paid her in full - - - -	5,400 — —

Dr. SALT and BETTLENUT, with Middleton and Ellis.

	To Balance Account - - - - - - - -	30,518 1 9

Dr. - MANUEL D'CRUZ.

1770. July 23.	To Joseph Price, who paid him - - - - -	2,160 — —

Dr. - DROZ'S CHILD.

	To Balance Account - - - - - - - -	2,160 — —

Dr. - CARD DEBTS.

1770. July 23.	To Joseph Price - paid Marriott and Sampson - -	4,462 9 —
	To Ditto D° - D° Lawrell, Barber, Price and Killican -	4,869 2 6
	To Ditto D° - Mr. Cobham - - - - -	1,015 3 3
	C. R[s]	10,346 14 9

[20]

Dr. - CHARGES GENERAL.

1770. July 23.	To Joseph Price, Account Current this Date -	4,920	4 4
	To Ditto - D° -	6,696	— —
	To Ditto - D° -	1,367	3 6
	Carried forward -

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock, per Purchaſe of 30 Cheſts Ophium - - -	10,854 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock, per Purchaſe of 30 Cheſts Ophium - - -	10,854 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock, per Purchaſe of 30 Cheſts Ophium - - -	10,854 — —
	Deduct received by Mr. Rumbold - - -	5,000 — —
	C. R^{t}	5,854 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.	[19]
1770. January 1.	By Stock, per my promiſe of a Preſent to her - - -	5,400 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock, per Balance Account due to them, Middleton and Ellis	30,518 1 9
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock, per my preſent to his Child, and Capt. Autchmutty	2,160 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. January 1.	By Stock, per my Preſent to be given his Child - - -	2,160 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770. July 23.	By Joſeph Price, received of Middleton and Kelſall - -	909 12 3
	By Ditto - D^{o} Floyer and Watſon - - - - -	548 10 —
1772. January 31.	By David Killican, Account this Date, who received of Walter Wilkins - - - - - - - - - -	4,218 7 8
	By Profit and Loſs, to balance this Account - - -	4,670 — 10
	C. R^{t}	10,346 14 9
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.	[20]
	By Walter Wilkins, who received Sundries, which is put to this Head for not having any Account - - - - - -	141 — —
	By Cloths, re-transferring the oppoſite Sum - - - -	6,224 3 9
	Carried forward -

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

1770.		Brought forward -
July 23.	To Joſeph Price, Account Current, this Date				5,041	5	1
	To Ditto - D° - -				2,357	5	9
	To Ditto - D° - -				479	9	9
								27,861 12 5
	To Ditto, Commiſſion on Cloths - - -							6,224 3 9
	To David Killican, who paid Sundries - -							1,351 4 —
Nov. 30.	To Joſeph Price - - - - - -				328	12	3
1771.
February 20.	To Ditto - - - - - - -				1,993	15	9
								2,322 12 —
21.	To David Killican, Fees on Company Bonds -				15	10	—
March 30.	To Ditto Sundries - - - -				1,125	5	6
Auguſt 31.	To Ditto D° - - - - -				16	12	3
								1,157 11 9
31.	To Ditto Mr. Law Bill - - -				104	6	—
October 31.	To Ditto D° - - - - -				1,458	3	—
								1,562 9 —
April 30.	To Joſeph Price D° - - - - -				589	14	6
1772.
January 1.	To Ditto D° - - - - -				211	6	9
								801 5 3
	To Walter Wilkins, who paid Mr. Kelſall - - - -							987 — 11
31.	To David Killican, Account Current this Day, who paid -							1,001 2 6
	To Joſeph Price, Godown Rent on his Goods - - -							2,575 7 —
		Y. M.
	To Ditto Office Charges	2	2	- - - -				4,212 — —
	To Ditto Coachman's Wages, January and February -							21 9 9
				C. R¹				43,078 14 4

[21]

Dr. - DAVID KILLICAN.

1770.
April 14.	To Moden Dutt, received in Three Payments - - -							5,000 — —
	To John Knott, received in Four Payments - - - -							20,978 3 6
	To Intereſt Account - - - - - - - -							154 4 3
				C. R¹				26,132 7 9
1771.
February 21.	To Alexander Hannay, received in full Principal and Intereſt of Bond - - - - - - - - - -							10,900 — —
	To Walter Wilkins, received in Three Payments - - -							45,439 10 9
	To Giles Holloway, received Balance his Reſpondentia Bond -							5,707 8 —
	To Law and Wilkins, received in part of their joint Bonds -							12,867 8 —
	To John Cartier, received in full his Bond - - - -							44,187 6 —
	To Edw^d Stevenſon, received in full his Bond - - -							12,201 — —
	To Profit and Loſs, Diſcount on 16 Company Bonds - -							1,411 5 3
	To Honourable Company Bonds, received for 4 Bonds - -							40,659 15 9
	To Intereſt, received for the Intereſt on the Company Bonds -							830 6 9
				C. R¹				1,74,204 12 6
February 21.	To Balance Account of this Date brought down - - -							14,809 11 9
March 31.	To Manuel Cruz, received in Part of his Bond - - -							625 5 6
	To Robert Dobinſon, received in Part Sale Tin - - -							18,273 7 6
	To Ewan Law, received in full Intereſt, &c. Bond - -							15,067 1 6
	To Law and Wilkins, received in Part joint Bonds - -							10,000 — —
	To Profit and Loſs, Diſcount on 7 Company Bonds - -							1,408 11 9
				C R¹				60,184 6 —

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Brought forward -
	By Profit and Loſs, to balance this Head - - - -	36,713 — 10
	C. R$	43,078 14 4

[21]

	Per Contra - - - - Cr.
1770.
April 14.	By Robert Hunter, lent him on Bond - - - - -	15,000 — —
	By Charges general, paid Sundries - - - - -	1,351 4 —
	By Joſeph Price, having paid him the Balance - - -	9,781 3 9
	C. R$	26,132 7 9
1771.
February 22.	By Honourable Company Bonds, for the Purchaſe of 16 Bonds -	72,903 14 3
	By Intereſt Account, for Intereſt on the 16 D° - - -	1,849 7 3
	By Alexander Hannay, lent him on Bond - - - -	10,000 — —
	By Law and Wilkins, paid them Balance Account - - -	12,867 8 —
	By Honourable Company's Treaſury, for Bills on Europe -	61,758 9 3
	By Charges general, Fees on Company Bonds - - -	15 10 —
	By Balance carried to new Account - - - - -	14,809 11 9
	C. R$	1,74,204 12 6
March 31.	By Honourable Company's Bonds, for the Purchaſe of 7 Bonds	43,798 15 6
	By Intereſt Account, for Intereſt on the 7 D° - - -	1,001 6 —
	By Charges general, ſundries paid - - - - -	1,125 5 6
	By Balance carried to new Account - - - - -	14,258 11 —
	C. R$	60,184 6 —

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

Dr. - WALTER WILKINS.

1771. September.	To Calcutta Houſes, he having ſold our ſmall Houſe to Mrs. Parkinſon, for A. R^{s} 5,000, Mr. Rumbold's Share - -	2,700 — —
1772. January 1.	To dead Stock, per Amount ſundry Plate he bought of Mr. Rumbold - - - - - - - - - -	4,964 7 11
	C. R^{s}	7,664 7 11
January 14.	To Balance, brought down from his Account Current this Date - - - - - - - - - - -	5,393 9 5

[22]

Dr. - - DAVID KILLICAN.

1771. March 31.	To Balance Account of this Date - - - - - - -	14,258 11 —
	To Robert Dobinſon, received Balance Tin Account - -	625 15 6
	To Robert Hunter, received in Part Payment Bond - - -	10,000 — —
	To Honourable Company Bonds, received Amount 1 Bond, 1 September 1769 - - - - - - - - -	4,709 7 3
	To Intereſt, received Intereſt on above Bond - - - -	607 0 9
	To Walter Wilkins, received Balance his Bond Account - -	42,604 11 6
	To Manuel Cruz, received in Part his Bond - - - -	14,847 13 6
	To Robert Dobinſon, received Balance Reſpondentia Bond -	3,572 9 9
	To Owners Ship Rumbold, received of Mr. Wilkins his Proportion - - - - - - - - - - -	22,709 — 6
	To Account Co^{y} Walter Wilkins, received of Mr. Wilkins private Account - - - - - - - - - -	5,667 11 9
	To Walter Wilkins private Account, received of Mr. Wilkins -	2,270 14 6
	To Voyage in Ship Rumbold, received of W. Wilkins - -	4,420 15 11
	To Law and Wilkins, received their joint Bond Account - -	44,478 6 3
	To Capt. Shaw, received in full - - - - - - -	8,402 15 —
	To Alexander, Floyer, and Inglis, received in full - - -	1,42,020 3 —
	To Francis Hare Hare, received a Dividend of 4 Annoes - -	3,370 1 4
	To Profit and Loſs, Diſcount on Company Bonds - - -	966 11 3
	To Intereſt, for 1 Year's Intereſt on 2 Company Bonds - -	5,135 5 —
	C. R^{s}	3,30,668 9 10
March 31.	To Balance of an Account of this Date - - - - -	8,326 14 10
October 31.	To Francis Hare, received a further Dividend - - - -	3,370 1 3
	To Honourable Company Bonds Caſh for one Bond ſold 12 July 1771 - - - - - - - - - -	12,000 — —
	To Intereſt Account, Intereſt on this Bond - - - -	274 8 —
	C. R^{s}	23,971 8 1
October 31.	To Balance of an Account of this Date - - - - - -	10,238 13 1
1772. January 31.	To Gocul Goſaul and Modun Dutt of Mr. Wilkins Dividend Ship Rumbold - - - - - - - - - -	3,390 11 11
	To Voyage Ship Rumbold, received of Mr. Wilkins Balance due on Dividend - - - - - - - - - -	100 — —
	To Card Debts, received of Mr. Wilkins Amount his Card Debt -	4,218 7 8
	To Honourable Company Bonds, for Sale of 6 Bonds - -	13,981 13 6
	To Intereſt Account, for Intereſt on 6 D^{o} - - - - -	1,032 7 6
	To Law and Wilkins, received in full J. Wilkins Balance Share Joint Bond - - - - - - - - - -	4,994 14 1
	To Edward Golding, received in Part his Bond - - -	23,427 5 9
	To Balance to new Account - - - - - - -	405 14 10
	C. R^{s}	61,790 8 3

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771.
Auguſt 31.	By David Killican, who received from him June 1771 - -		2,270	14 6
1772.
January 1.	By Balance to new Account, as from his Account Curr. - -		5,393	9 5
		C. R^{s}	7,664	7 11
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - - - -		5,393	9 5

[22]

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771.
Auguſt 31.	By Honourable Company Bonds, for the Purchaſe of 33 Bonds -		3,15,620	12 9
	By Intereſt - - - Intereſt on D^{o} - - -		1,091	1 —
	By Charges general - - Sundries paid - - -		16	12 3
	By Cloths in Calcutta - - Company's Duty - - -		5,508	11 —
	By Charges general - - Amount of his Bill - - -		104	6 —
	By Balance to new Account - - - - - - -		8,326	14 10
		C. R^{s}	3,30,668	9 10
October 31.	By Charges general, Sundries paid - - - - - -		1,458	3 —
	By Charles Feake, paid him - - - - - - -		12,274	8 —
	By Balance to new Account - - - - - - -		10,238	13 1
		C. R^{s}	23,971	8 1
1772.
January 31.	By Stock Amount of a Bill of Exchange from London £. 500, at ½, in favour C. Sympſon - - - - - - -		4,615	6 —
	By Charles Feake, paid him in full in Two Payments - - -		16,551	14 3
	By Honourable Company Bonds, for Purchaſe 10 Bonds - -		39,037	4 —
	By Intereſt on the above Bonds - - - - - -		584	13 6
	By Charges general, Sundries paid - - - - - -		1,001	2 6
		C. R^{s}	61,790	8 3

APPEND. DIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Business of [23]

Dr. - HONOURABLE COMPANY TREASURY.

1770. January 1.	To Stock which was paid in by Mr. Rumbold - - - -				50,000 — —
July 23.	To Joseph Price who paid in 20 June - - - - -				12,000 — —
Nov. 30.	To Ditto - - - - D° 26 October - - - - -				37,399 — 6
1771. February 21.	To David Killican Account this Date, paid in
	20 January - - - - - - -		6,636	13 9
	20 Ditto - - - - - - -		25,111	1 9
					31,747 15 6
	13 February - - - - - -		21,983	15 —
	21 Ditto - - - - - - -		8,026	15 9
					30,010 9 9
	To Walter Wilkins, paid in by Mr. Miller - - - -				7,016 — —
	To Interest on Sums before the Bills were granted - - -				4,333 12 —
		C. R°			1,72,506 12 —

Dr. - - INTEREST ACCOUNT.

1770. Nov. 0.	To Joseph Price, Interest on Account this Date - - -				421 3 6
1771. February 21.	To David Killican, D° on the Purchase of 16 Bonds - - -				1,849 7 3
March 30.	To Ditto - - - D° - - - - - 7 D° - - -				1,001 6 —
August 31,	To Ditto - - - D° - - - - - 33 D° - - -				1,091 1 —
	To Ewan Law - D° - - - - - 2 D° - - -				564 11 —
	To Walter Wilkins Account Bonds Interest on Sums received -				2,017 10 —
	To Robert Dobinson - - D° on his Tin Account - -				245 11 3
	To Jeffrey Wilkins - - D° on his private D° - -				84 15 1
	To David Killican - - D° on purchased Bonds -				584 13 6
	To Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins D° on Sums received Account Bonds - - - - - - - - - -				1,689 5 11
	To Charles Ingram, Interest on his Bond -		671	2 6
	To John Tool - - - D° - -		1,539	3 8
	To Henry Wedderburn - D° - -		3,666	3 9
[24]	To Lewis D'Costa - - D° - -		3,703	7 6
	To Dr. John Taylor - - D° - -		744	14 5
	To Charles Feake - - D° - -		5,574	10 1
					15,899 9 11
	To Profit and Loss, Gain upon this Head - - - - -				85,721 5 1
		C. R°			1,11,171 3 6

Dr. - - PROFIT and LOSS.

To Walter Wilkins Account in Co. Difference of Estimation -	115 10 2
To Charles Ingram Account for his Bond to Balance - - -	532 3 1
To John Tool - D° - - - D° - - -	58 3 8
To Esop Gable, now wrote off, being irrecoverable - - -	17,526 8 7
To Calcutta Houses, Mr. Wilkins having sold the House - -	1,872 11 2
To Stationary, Amount a Chest spoiled by white Ants - -	1,259 4 6
To Card Debts, Balance of that Account - - - -	4,673 — 10
To Rajah Settabroy, D° - - D° - - - - -	625 14 —

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

[23]

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Stock, having remitted Mr. Rumbold Home, viz.
	1 Set of Bills, Original per Houghton, and Duplicate per Kingſton			1,03,748	2 9
	1 Ditto - - - - - - - D°			7,000	— —
	1 Ditto D° per Worceſter, and D° - - per Vereſt			31,747	15 6
	1 Ditto - - - - - - - D°			21,983	15 —
	1 Ditto - - - - - - - D°			8,026	10 9
	C. R°			1,72,506	12 —

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1770.
April 14.	By David Killican, Intereſt on Account Current this Date - -			154	4 3
Nov. 30.	By Joſeph Price - D° - - - - D° - -			1,240	13 6
1771.
February 21.	By David Killican - D° on Company Bonds -	4	- -	830	6 9
Auguſt 31.	By Ditto - - D° - - - -	1	- -	607	— 9
	By Ditto - - D° - - - -	2 for 1 Year		5,135	5 —
Sept. 30.	By Ditto - - D° - - - - D° - -			274	8 —
	Y. M. D.
	By Ewan Law - D° on his Bond for 1 5 9 - - -			1,759	14 —
	By John Cartier - D° on D° - - - - - -			6,516	15 9
	By Dr. John Routledge, D° D° - - - - - -			3,943	15 9
	By Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins, D° on Bond 80,255 13 6			5,439	9 —
	By C. Floyer, R. Alexander, and H. Inglis, Intereſt on their Bond			25,664	— —
	By Edward Stevenſon - - - - - - D°			1,401	— —
	By Giles Holloway - - - - - - - D°			732	8 —
	By Walter Wilkins Account of 2 Bonds, Intereſt on them - -			14,671	15 4
	By John Knott, Amount Intereſt on his Bond - - - -			466	5 6
	By Capt. Harry James Shaw, D° - D° - - - -			144	11 2
	By Robert Dobinſon, Intereſt on that Account - - -			2,092	12 —
	By Thomas M'Bride and Peter Moreau, Intereſt on their - -			296	14 3
	By Joſeph Price, who received One Year's Intereſt on Two Bonds			5,467	7 9
	By Owners Ship Rumbold, Intereſt on the Sum paid by Mr. Wilkins - - - - - - - - - - -			2,817	14 6
	By David Killican, Intereſt on Company's Bonds ſold - -			1,032	7 6
	By Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins, Intereſt on Joint Bond - -			10,153	11 8
	By Charles Ingram, Intereſt on his Bond - -	1,376	1 1
	By John Tool - - D° - - - -	1,937	6 9
	By Henry Wedderburn D° - - - -	3,990	— —
	By Lewis De Coſta - D° - - - -	4,147	8 —
	By Honourable Company Treaſury, D° on Sums	4,333	2 3
	By Charles Feake - - D° - - -	512	— 6
	By Owners Ship Alexander D° on Account -	2,230	11 —
	By Capt. Shaw - - D° on Rumbold Half	1,789	1 —
				20,315	14 7
	C. R°			1,11,171	3 6

[24]

	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1771.
February 21.	By David Killican, Diſcount on Company Bonds - - -			1,411	5 3
March 31.	By Ditto - - - D° - - D° - - - -			1,408	11 9
Auguſt 31.	By Ditto - - - D° - - D° - - - -			966	11 3
	By Ewan Law, Batty gained on the Dutch Bill - - - -			268	14 9
	By Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins, Diſcount on 2 Company Bonds			1,078	7 —
	By Robert Dobinſon, Premium on Reſpondentia Bond - -			10,125	— —
	By Salt Petre Account, gained upon this Head - - - -			19,297	— 6
	By John Tool, Premium on his Bond - - - - -			1,620	— —

APPENDIX, No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

		Brought forward -
	To Charges general - - - - - - - - -		36,713 — 10
	To Stock, being neat Gain ſince Mr. Rumbold left India - -		1,00,942 1 —
		C. R[s]	1,64,315 9 10
	Dr. - - OPHIUM ACCOUNT.
	To Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins, Account of one Bond for the Amount of the Balance Ophium Account, which they charge 8 February 1771 to that Account - - - - - -		45,154 7 6
[25]	Dr. - HARE'S ASSIGNMENT.
	To Robert Dobinſon, Account Reſpondentia, for a Mortgage Bond, dated 14 March 1770 - - - - - - -		30,000 — —
	Dr. - Capt. JOSEPH PRICE.
1771. May 1.	To Balance an account this Date - - - - - - -		3,190 1 6
October 4.	To Intereſt Account for One Year, on 4 Company Bonds -		5,467 7 9
	To Cloths, for Sundries ſold - - - - - - -		140 10 9
	To John Tool, received in full Balance Goods Outcry - - - - - - - -	768 12 6
	To Charles Ingram, D° D° -	768 12 6
	To Henry Wedderburn, D°, in full Balance -	1,554 15 5
	To Lewis D'Coſta, D° D° -	1,985 — 6
			5,077 8 11
	To Cloths, for Sales to the Honourable Company, 30 November 1771 - - -	33,928 4 6
	To Cloths, D° 11 January 1772 - -	6,471 11 3
			40,399 15 9
		C. R[s]	54,275 12 8
	To Balance - - - - - - - - - -		4,676 4 5
	Dr. - HARRY VERELST.
	To Owners Ship Rumbold, Account for the Amount his Share, as per Account, December 1769 - - - - -		43,812 13 —
[26]	Dr. - OWNERS Ship ALEXANDER.
	To Cloths, having ſold them 47 Bales Cloths, as per Account Sales ſent Mr. Rumbold - - - - - - - -		16,653 14 6
	To Profit and Loſs, for a ſhort Charge - - - - -		146 4 —
	To Intereſt to 9 March 1772, and gave Bond of that Date -		2,230 11 —
		C. R[s]	19,030 13 6

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Esquire—continued.

	Brought forward -
	By Cash Account, received more than charged - - - -	674 6 8
	By Dead Stock, D° - - - D° - - - -	5,283 — 5
	By William Hosea, paid less than charged - - - -	34 — —
	By Salt Petre, a further Gain - - - - - - - -	3,780 — —
	By Cloths, gained upon this Head - - - - - -	31,388 15 9
	By Charles Feake, re-transferring as per J. 22 - - - -	1,111 13 6
	By Owners Ships Alexander, Charge omitted - - - -	146 4 —
	By Interest Account Balance that Head - - - - -	85,721 5 1
	C. R°	1,64,315 9 10
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Stock to close this Head, as Mr. Rumbold never charged it to Stock, and Messf. Law and Wilkins charges this Sum in their Account Current - - - - - - - - -	45,154 7 6
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.		[25]
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - - - -	30,000 — —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1772. January 1.	By general Charges, Sundries paid of this Date - - -	211 6 9
	By Honourable Company's Bonds, received per Sales November 30 1771,
	1 Bond - - 10,000 — —
	1 D° - - - 10,000 — —
	1 D° - - - 13,928 4 6
	33,928 4 6
	By Honourable Company Bond, received per Sales 11 January 1772 - - - - - - 6,471 11 3 40,399 15 9
	By Cloths, per Charges Merchandize, 30 Nov. 1771 1,884 3 —
	11 Jan. 1772 294 14 —
		2,179 1 —
	By Charges general, Godown Rent - - - - - -	2,575 7 —
	Y. M.
	By Office Charges 2 2 - - - - - - -	4,212 — —
	By Charges General, Coachman's Wages - - - -	21 9 9
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - -	4,676 4 5
	C. R°	54,275 12 8
	By Balance - - - - - - - - - -	4,676 4 5
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - - -	43,812 13 —
	Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.		[26]
	By Balance Account - - - - - - - - -	19,030 13 6

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 2.)—LEDGER on the Buſineſs of

		Dr. - DAVID KILLICAN.
1772. February 28.		To Robert Hunter, received in further Part his Bond -	6,000 — —
		To Voyage in the Ship Rumbold, received in Part her Cargo -	13,452 2 —
		C. R[s]	19,452 2 —
February 29.		To Balance brought down from above Account - - -	1,046 3 2

[27]

		Dr. - BALANCE ACCOUNT.
1772. Feb. 29.	1	To Edward Golding - - Balance his Bond Account	26,572 10 3
	2	To Manuel D'Cruz - - Balance his Account -	4,676 13 —
	2	To Capt. Joſeph Price - - Amount of his Two Bonds -	1,45,118 12 7
	4	To John Robinſon and R. Crauford, Amount their Bond - -	25,360 — —
	5	To Gocul Goſaul and Moden Dutt, Balance their Account -	3,922 12 4
	5	To Robert Hunter - - Balance his Bond Account	21,566 13 10
	6	To Francis Hare - - - Balance his Bond - -	4,359 13 5
	6	To Alexander Hannay - - Bond - - - -	10,000 — —
	26	To Honourable Company Bonds - 70 Bonds, value - -	6,73,919 5 8
	8	To George Waple and Geo. Davidſon, Reſponderitia Bond - -	1,620 — —
	13	To Cloths - - - - Balance remaining on Hand	2,174 8 —
	15	To Voyage in the Ship Rumbold - Balance Account - -	19,839 11 1
	15	To Law and Wilkins - - their Concern in the Rumbold	6,000 — —
	20	To Walter Wilkins - - Balance of private Account -	5,393 9 5
	24	To Mortgage Bond - - - Mr. Dobinſon's Houſe -	30,000 — —
	24	To Harry Verelſt - - - Proportion Ship Rumbold -	43,812 3 —
	26	To David Killican - - - Balance Account Current -	1,046 3 2
	24	To Owners Ship Alexander - Cloths and Intereſt - -	19,030 13 6
	8	To Capt. Harry James Shaw - Balance Intereſt Account -	1,789 1 —
	25	To Joſeph Price - - - Balance his Account Current	4,676 4 5
		C. R[s]	10,50,879 6 8

THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire—continued.

		Per Contra - - - - - - Cr.
1772. January 31.		By Balance of Account of this Date - - - - -		405 14 10
February 28.		By Hon^ble Company Bond, 1 Bond, 12 Feb. 1772	13,000 — —
		28 D° -	5,000 — —
				18,000 — —
		By Balance to new Account - - - - - -		1,046 3 2
			C. R°	19,452 2 —
		By Balance Account - - - - - - - - - -		1,046 3 2

[27]

		Per Contra - - - - - Cr.
1772. Feb. 29.	16	By William Taylor, Balance due him - - - - -	26,000 — —
	18	By Salt and Beetlenut, in C° with Middleton and Ellis - -	30,518 1 9
	18	By Droz Child, Preſent to be given - - - - -	2,160 — —
			58,678 1 9
		By Stock, being the neat Eſtate of Mr. Rumbold, as appears from theſe Books, excluſive of Intereſt on many Accounts -	9,92,201 4 11
		C. R°	10,50,879 6 8

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL on the Buſineſs of THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire; Commencing the 31ſt of December 1769, ending the 28th of February 1772.

[1] 1. SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to STOCK.

1.	Edward Golding, this Bond, dated 10 Auguſt 1769, for C. R^{s} 50,000, free of Intereſt for Two Years, and then remitted Home with the very beſt Methods				50,000	—	—
	Ditto, his Bond, dated November 26, 1769, payable 9 Months				9,874	14	6
							59,874 14 6
1.	Ewan Law, this Bond, dated 30 September, payable in 12 Months						13,307 3 6
2.	Manuel D'Cruz, this Bond, dated 18 October 1769, payable 6 Months						20,150 — —
2.	John Cartier, this Bond, dated 7 March 1769, payable in 12 Months						37,670 6 3
2.	Captain Joſeph Price, this Bond, dated 30 November 1769, payable 9 Months						1,20,000 — —
2	John Rowtledge, this Bond, dated 1 December 1769, payable 9 Months						34,346 — 9
3.	Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins,
	1ſt. 1 Bond, dated 1 October 1769, payable in 12 Months				80,255	13	6
	2d. 1 Bond, dated 25 November 1769, ditto, ditto				32,916	6	6
	3d. 1 Bond, dated ditto, ditto,				30,442	1	—
							1,43,614 5 —
4.	Charles Ingram, this Bond, dated 12th January 1769, payable 6 Months						4,320 — —
4.	Charles Floyer, Rob^{t} Alexander, and Hugh Inglis, Their Bond, dated 30 April 1769, payable in 12 Months						1,16,356 3 —
4.	John Robinſon and Robert Craufurd, Their Bond, dated 26 November 1769, payable in 10 Months						25,360 — —
5.	Walter Wilkins,
	1ſt. One Bond, dated 1 December 1769, payable in 9 Months				82,165	11	10
	2d. One ditto, 19 D^{o} D^{o} 6 D^{o}				25,240	5	1
							1,07,406 — 11
4.	Edward Stevenſon, his Bond, dated 3d November 1769; 8 M^{o} 10,000 A. R^{s}						10,800 — —
5.	Gocul Goſaul and Modun Dutt, Their Bond, dated 30 April 1769, payable in 6 Months		61,000	— —
	Batta 8 per Cent.		4,880	— —
					65,880	—	—
	Received in Account Modun Dutt		30,000	— —
	Gocul Goſaul		15,000	— —
					45,000	—	—
							20,880 — —
4.	Giles Holloway, Account Richard Wyatt and Company, This Bond, 26 May 1769, payable in 10 Months				18,090	—	—
	Received in part Payment from Tho^{s} Bagnell, and Alex^{r} Murray his Attorney				14,115	—	—
							4,975 — —
5.	Robert Hunter, Surgeon at Patna, This Bond, dated 1 October 1769, payable in 12 Months						22,566 13 10
6.	Francis Hare, this Bond, dated 28 May 1769, payable on Demand						11,100 — —
6.	Alex^{r} Hanway, this Bond, dated 26 Auguſt 1769, payable in 12 Months						10,000 — —
[2] 6.	Eſop Gable, at Judda, For my Proportion of a Bond, for Goods ſold him by Captain Harry James Shaw, when he carried the William Snow, belonging to Walter Wilkins and me, Cruz 50,000, my $\frac{9}{16}$ Proportion						17,526 8 7
6.	John Knott, his Bond, dated 20th December 1769, payable on Demand						20,511 14 —
7.	Honourable Company, their Intereſt, Receipts dated the 18 December 1769, for Bills on Europe by the firſt Ship following Year				50,000	—	—
	One ditto, 20 November 1769, to bear Intereſt from 1 September 1769, payable in 12 Months				7,849	1	5
							57,849 1 5
8.	Captain Harry James Shaw, This Bond, dated 27 December 1769, payable 12 Months, Walter Wilkins and Self, for 16,514 7 8. my $\frac{1}{2}$ is						8,257 3 10
8.	Edward Waple and George Davidſon, Their Reſpondentia Bond, Ship Lord Anſon, 15 February 1768, A. R^{s} 1,500						1,620 — —
8.	Charles Ingram, Pal M^{c}Taggart, and P. M^{c}Taggart, Their Reſpondentia Bond on the Greenwich Ketch, dated 10th April 1768						18,900 — —
8.	John Tool, his Reſpondentia Bond on the Nelly Snow, dated 13 January 1769 A. R^{s} 6,000						6,480 — —

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

9.	Rober Dobinſon, this Reſpondentia Bond on the Induſtry Snow			40,500 — —
9.	Randoph Marriott, this Mortgage Reſpondentia Bond on the Snow Speedwell, ated 4 February 1769, for 30,000			32,400 — —
9.	Henry Wedderburn, the Amount his Reſpondentia Bond, March	15,120 — —
	Premium 25 per Cent.	3,780 — —
		18,900 — —
	Received from him December 12th	7,772 15 5
	Ditto D° 26th	7,277 — 7
		15,050 — —		3,850 — —
10.	Lewis Da Coſta, the Amount of his Reſpondentia Bond, dated 1 March 1769 — Principal	15,180 — —
	Premium 25 per Cent.	3,780 — —
		18,900 — —
	Received from him December 12	7,772 15 5
	Ditto D° 26	5,586 — 7
		13,359 — —		5,541 — —
10.	Thomas M^c Bryde and Peter Moreau, Their Bond, dated 1 March	30,240 — —
	Premium, 25 per Cent.	7,560 — —
		38,800 — —
	Received in part 12 December	15,545 14 10
	D° D°	12,045 1 2
		27,591 — —		10,209 — —
10.	Raja Setabroy, for the large Houſe bought of Meſſrs. Wilkins and me, from the Eſtate of Lieutenant Vollam, and ſold by us to Rajah Setabroy, for S. R^s	60,000 — —
	Batta 16 per Cent.	9,600 — —
		69,600 — —
	Payable, One Half in Two Months, the other in Four D° My $\frac{1}{2}$ is			34,800 — —
11.	Capt. Joſeph Price, Balance 30th November 1769			13,466 15 — [31
12.	Account in Co. with Walter Wilkins, Balance of an Account due me, my $\frac{1}{16}$ Proportion			5,701 8 3
12.	Dullub Doſs, Gomaſtah at Gazypore, Balance of Account due from him			157 2 6
12.	Calcutta Houſes, for a ſmall Houſe adjoining to the one ſold Setrabroy, Purchaſed by Walter Wilkins and me, from the Eſtate of Lieut. Vollam, C. R^s 11,000, my Half			5,500 — —
12.	Adventure to Rotaſgur, Balance Chunam remaining 25,000 M^ds at 20. 14. 3. per Maunds	5,264 4 —
	Batta 11 per Cent.	579 1 —
		5,843 5 —
	Balance of Caſh in the Gomaſtah's Hands, 30 October	3,643 10 —
	Deduct ſince received	1,110 — —
		2,533 10 —		8,376 15 —
12.	Advances for Chunam to Chopſah 31 October			3,953 9 3
13.	Cloths with Mr. Joſeph Price, 1 Invoice Muſter — 20 Pieces	84 14 3
	1 Ditto of Cloth, Oct. 29. 4,922	22,537 2 —
	1 Ditto D° Aug. 26. 10,313	42,300 — —
	1 Ditto D° Oct. 15. 10,325	48,873 5 9
	1 Ditto D° D° 22. 5,610	15,120 — —
		1,28,915 6 6
	Batta 32 per Cent.	3,906 8 6
		1,25,008 14 —
	Batta 11 per Cent.	13,750 15 8
		1,38,759 13 8
	Amount Charges on the Invoice as appears by my Books	2,308 6 1
				1,41,068 3 9

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

		Mds
14.	Salt Petre ſent to Calcutta, 9,188 17 8: at 5 per Maund			45,942 2 —
	Received in Part Payment, 56,840.
14.	Stationary, Amount Invoice left with Mr. Price, A. Rs 1,096			1,259 4 6
14.	Owners Ship Rumbold,
	Amount Sundries paid by me, the Particulars given Mr. Wilkins		1,25,847 8 —
	Deduct as follows:
	Received from Mynheer Doulah	8,640 — —
	Ditto from Walter Wilkins	10,000 — —
	My ½ Joint Bond to me of Walter Wilkins from Capt. Harry James Shaw	8,257 3 10
	My ⅓ of ⅔ Concern in the Voyage	43,812 13 —
			70,710 — 10
				55,137 7 8
15.	Voyage in the Rumbold,
	My ⅓ of ⅔ Concern in the Voyage, Stock and Block		43,812 13 —
	Deduct Meſſ. Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins Concern under me 3,000		6,000 — —
				37,812 13 —
[4] 15.	Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins,
	Amount of their Concern under me in the Voyage Ship Rumbold			6,000 — —
15.	Caſh,
	Balance of my Caſh Account paid to Mr. Price and Killican			26,668 3 4
15.	Dead Stock valued at			10,000 — —
16.	Honourable Company's Commiſſion on Revenues			4,494 14 —
			C. Rs	13,86,710 13 —

Calcutta, 29 February 1772.

(Errors excepted.)

[5] 5.	STOCK, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.
16.	Jeffrey Wilkins, Balance of an Account Current, dated 30 November 1769, due him		G. Rs 718 6 5
	Received from Mr. Hare, Warehouſe-keeper, an Overcharge in the Sepoys Cloathing		823 4 —
				1,541 10 5
16.	Charles Feake, Balance of Account due him, 20 December 1769			29,086 7 5
16.	John Taylor, Balance of Account due him, 30 November 1769			21,993 15 7
16.	Wm Fiſher, Balance of Account due him, 21 December 1769			26,000 — —
17.	Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins, Balance of an Account Current due to them for a joint Concern in Rotaſgur in Chunam			13,081 9 2
17.	Ewan Law, purchaſed from him 30 Cheſts Ophium			10,854 — —
17.	Jeffrey Wilkins, purchaſed from him 30 Cheſts Ophium			10,854 — —
17.	Edward Golding, purchaſed from him 30 Cheſts Ophium			10,854 — —
17.	Wm Hoſea, purchaſed from him 30 Cheſts Ophium		10,854 — —
	Deduct paid in Calcutta		5,000 — —
				5,854 — —
18.	Subſcription for Mrs. Majendie			5,400 — —
18.	Salt and Bettlenutt, in Co. with Middleton and Ellis, Due from me on that Account			30,518 1 9
18.	Manuel D'Cruz, for his Daughter Mary D'Cruz		1,000 — —
	for the Daughter of Captain A.		1,000 — —
		A. Rs	2,000 — —	2,160 — —
18.	Droz Child, to ſettle on her		2,000 — —	2,160 — —
14.	Salt Petre, Mr. Rumbold having charged the whole Amount of Salt Petre, and never given Credit for this Sum received			56,840 — —
			C. Rs	2,27,197 10 4

Calcutta, 29 February 1772.

(Errors excepted.)

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

[6]

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE,
From Account Current, dated 23 July 1770.

14	Salt Petre, Caſh paid Mr. Rumbold, 30 November 1769				39,440 — —
	Caſh paid his Banyan on this Account				17,400 — —
					56,840 — —
19	Charges general Caſh, per 1 Caſk Brandy		226 1 3
	1 Set Stone China		432 — —
	Amount 3 Pipes Madeira and China		1,198 — —
	Amount 2 Leagures Arrack		237 9 7
	Preſent to the Muſicians		151 3 3
	Mr. Smith at Chinſurah		118 12 9
	Mr. Porter, per Sea Stock		1,648 9 3
	Your Proportion of European Wages		21 9 6
	Petty Diſburſements this Month		885 10 —
					4,920 4 4
18	Card Debts, paid Mr. Marriott		4,289 12 3
	To Caſh paid Brook Sampſon		172 12 9
					4,462 9 —
						66,222 13 4

Ditto

JOSEPH PRICE Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS,
From Account Current, dated 23d July 1770.

15	Caſh, received from his Banyan				27,342 10 —
18	Card Debts, of Mr. Middleton		77 12 3
	of Mr. Killican		832 — —
					909 12 3
16	Honourable Company's Salary, 29 Sept. 1769 to 1769				403 3 3
						28,655 9 6

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE,
From Account Current, dated 23d July 1770.

18	Card Debts, Caſh paid James Laurel his Debt				3,251 5 9
—	Sir Robert Barker				583 3 3
	Mr. Price, Ring and Card Debt				689 — —
	Thomas Kelſal, Card Debt				345 9 6
					4,869 2 6
19	Charges general, Caſh paid Ramkiſon		540 — —
	Caſh paid Rammander per Fireworks		159 11 9
	D° for 3 Tarcern Bills		2,535 10 —
	Preſent to Thomas Andrews		162 — —
	Caſh paid Charles Pigot per Rent		15 14 3
	To Conſumer, per Mr. Fiſher's Orders		10 8 —
	Rammandart, per Draft		2,160 — —
	Ramdie Tackoor, per Order		216 — —
	Capt. Garden		324 — —
	Manuel D'Cruz, your Account Linen		515 — 3
	Barramſue, 2 Bills, per Order Mr. Fiſher		57 3 9
					6,696 — —
					11,565 2 6
17	W^m Hoſea, paid him Balance per Receipt				5,820 — —
						17,385 2 6 [7]

11	SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE, From Account Current, dated 24 July 1770.
19	Charges general,
	1770.
	January 31. Mr. Porter, Account Balance			335 6 3
	Sundry Charges omitted in December			101 14 6
	10 Cheſts and 3 Boxes for Neceſſaries			64 — —
	2 French Horn Men, per Order			108 — —
	2 China Bills in December laſt			89 10 3
	2 Cheſts Wine per Duke of Grafton			584 13 —
	Your Proportion of European Wages			21 9 6
	Petty Diſburſements this Month			61 14 —
				1,367 3 6
18	Subſcription, Mrs. Majendie, paid the Amount for the Widow			5,400 — —
18	Card Debts, paid Mr. Coleham his Bill			1,015 3 3	7,782 6 9
	Ditto
19 11	CHARGES GENERAL, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE, From Account Current, dated 24 July 1770.
	28 Feb. To Caſh paid Daniel Hoizard			1,231 3 1
	Company's Writer, per 2 Bonds			2 5 —
	Paid Thomas Roxburgh per 9 Pair Shoes			48 9 6
	Thomas Andrews, 2 Dozen Lime Juice			51 13 6
	Thomas Ewers, per Mr. Fiſher's Orders			216 — —
	Doctor Hunter, per Receipt			540 — —
	William Hoſea, per a Ring			540 — —
	Colonel Goddard, per a Ring			540 — —
	Your Proportion of European Wages			21 9 6
	Petty Diſburſements this Month			43 13 3
	31 March. To Caſh paid Diaram, a Gift per Order Mr. Feake			432 — —
	Your Subſcription per Mr. Stone and Family			324 — —
	Thomas Pizzy, as per Order			216 — —
	Meſſrs. Hearn and Taylor's Bill			35 10 3
	Proportion European Wages			21 9 6
	30 April. Petty Diſburſements			4 10 3
	Mr. Lealy 3 Bills againſt Buxy			103 15 —
	Petty Diſburſements			662 2 3	5,041 5 1
	Ditto
[8] 11	JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.
	Card Debts, Caſh received of Major Watſon			276 7 6
18	Caſh received of Mr. Floyer			272 2 6
9	Henry Wedderburn, received in Part of his Bond			2,618 12 10
10	Thomas M°Bride and Mureau, in part his Bond			7,332 14 9
10	Lewis Da Coſta, received in part his Bond			4,000 — —
4	Salt Petre, neat Proceed now rendered			65,239 2 6
8	John Tool, in Part his Reſpondentia Bond			6,716 4 5
4	Charles Ingram and C°, ditto ditto			3,092 — —
20	David Killican, Balance of his Account Current this Date			9,781 3 9
15	Dead Stock, received in Part Sales his Effects			9,701 15 —
					1,09,030 15 3

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

"	SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE.
11
19	Charges General, paid Dr. John Taylor		1,221 9 9
	paid Dr. Logun		1,135 12 —
				2,357 5 9
17	Edward Golding, paid him			979 1 6
					3,336 7 3
	Ditto
21	JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.
"
10	Thomas M'Bride, Balance his Reſpondentia			3,172 15 6
16	Honourable Company's Salary, your Salary			39 3 —
3	Ewan Law, received Amount Dutch Bills			12,466 1 3
					15,678 3 9
	Ditto
—	SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE.
—	Dr. John Taylor, paid into the Company's Caſh			15,000 — —
	D°, Balance due to him			7,738 12 —
				22,738 12 —
	Charges General, Commiſſion on 202 Bales Cloth ſold Company		5,677 13 —
	Commiſſion on Effects ſold		546 6 9
				6,224 3 9
	Mr. Purling, per Bandanah		62 10 3
	Dr. Taylor, per Sundries		414 10 6
	Paid Company's Writer		2 5 —
				479 9 9
—	Manuel D'Cruz, for his Child Autchinutty			2,160 — —
—	Honourable Company Treaſury, paid into their Caſh			12,000 — —
					43,602 9 6
	Ditto
1 —	DAVID KILLICAN, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, From Account Current, dated 14 April 1770.
—	Modun Dutt, received in Three Payments			5,000 — —
	John Knott, received in for Payments			20,978 3 6
	Intereſt, for Intereſt on the above Sums			154 4 3
					26,132 7 9
	Ditto
	SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to DAVID KILLICAN, from Account Current, dated 14 April 1770.
	Robert Hunter, lent him on Bond			15,000 — —
	Charges general, paid Mr. May per a Bond and Intereſt			811 4 —
	Ditto, a Ring to Mr. Killican			540 — —
					16,351 4 —
	Ditto
	SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE, as per Account, dated 30 November 1770.
	Jeffrey Wilkins, paid him Balance Account cloſed 31 Auguſt			1,636 9 6
	Honourable Company Treaſury, paid into the Treaſury			37,399 — 6
	Intereſt, for Intereſt this Account Current			421 3 6
	Charges general, paid Nixon's Bill per Cooper's Work		154 14 6
	Mr. May per Marriott's Declaration		101 8 —
	Pool's Bill burying a Child		72 5 9
				328 12 3
					39,785 9 9

[9]

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Esquire—continued.

JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS,
as per Account, dated 30 November 1770.

Ewan Law, received Amount of a Bill on Baranaſſy Ghoſs	268 15 6
Dr. Routledge, received in Two Payments	37,390 — 6
Intereſt, for Intereſt on this Account	1,240 13 6
		38,899 13 6

Ditto

CHARGES GENERAL, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE,
as per Account, dated 20 February 1771.

Mr. Lepape per making Shirts	55 1 3
George and Thomas Brown per Claret	585 12 —
Mr. Darrell per Fees	13 5 —
Sundry Cloths to Dr. Taylor	167 6 6
Making Clothes for your Child	17 8 9
Commiſſion on Piece Goods, Salt Petre, &c.	640 14 6
Dr. Taylor's Bill	513 15 9
		1,993 15 9

Ditto

[10] JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS,
as per Account, dated 20 February 1771.

Dead Stock, received in further Part Sales Outcry	616 9 6
Cloths, received per Sales delivered	2,314 2 6
Charles Ingram, in further Part, his Bond	631 15 —
John Tool, in further Part, his Bond	954 14 6
		4,517 9 6

Ditto

Capt. Joſeph PRICE, his Account Bond, Dr. to his ACCOUNT.

To the Amount of his Bond of Date 20 February, being the Balance Account Current cloſed this Day	25,118 12 7

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to DAVID KILLICAN,
as per his Account Current, dated 22d February 1771.

Honourable Company Bonds, 1 Bond, dated 31 Dec. 1770	6,607 8 —
1 Ditto 9 D°	5,400 — —
1 Ditto — 31 D°	23,438 1 —
5 Ditto, 2,000 ea. 1 Jan. 1771	10,000 — —
1 Ditto — 13 D°	5,000 — —
1 Ditto — 17 D°	1,763 12 6
1 Ditto — 12 D°	3,000 — —
1 Ditto — 12 D°	1,707 3 6
1 Ditto — 9 Dec. 1770	5,000 — —
1 Ditto — 9 D°	1,009 3 3
1 Ditto — 9 D°	3,000 — —
1 Ditto — 26 D°	6,978 2 —
		72,903 14 3
Intereſt on the above Bonds; viz.
On Bond 23,438 1 — to 10 February	203 2 —
10,000 — — / 5,000 — — / 1,762 12 6 } to 10 February 1771	119 3 3
3,000 — — / 1,707 3 6 } to 10 February 1771	28 4 —
5,000 — — to 9 February 1771	477 12 6
1,009 3 3 / 3,000 — — } to 21 February 1771	382 3 3
6,978 2 — to 21 D°	638 14 3
		1,849 7 3
Alex' Hannah, lent him on Bond		10,000 — —
Law and Wilkins, paid Balance their Account		12,867 8 —
Honourable Company Treaſury, January 20, paid into Caſh	6,636 13 9
21, D°	25,111 1 9
February 13, D°	21,983 15 —
21, D°	8,026 10 2
		61,758 9 3
Charges General, for Fees		15 10 —
		1,59,395 — 9

[11]

DAVID KILLICAN, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, from Account Current, dated 22d February 1771.

Major Alex^{r} Hannah, received in full of him, per his Bond				10,900 — —
Walter Wilkins, received in Part of his Bond		4,997 6 —
received D° D°		8,042 4 9
received D° D°		32,400 — —
				45,439 10 9
Giles Holloway, received Balance of his Account				5,707 8 —
Law and Wilkins, in Part of their Bond				12,867 8 —
Honourable Company Bonds, received per one Bond, 31 December 1770				6,607 8 —
Intereſt, for Intereſt on this Bond to 20 January				29 5 9
Honourable Company Bonds, one dated 31 December 1770				25,000 — —
Intereſt, for Intereſt on this Bond to 20 January				111 1 9
Honourable Company Bonds, one dated 9 December 1770				5,000 — —
Intereſt, for Intereſt on this Bond to 20 January				400 — —
Honourable Company's Bonds, one dated May 1770				4,052 7 9
Intereſt, for Intereſt on this Bond to 20 February 1771				289 15 3
John Cartier, the Amount of his Bond and Intereſt				44,187 6 —
Mr. Stevenſon, Ditto D°				12,201 — —
Profit and Loſs, Diſcount on Bond				1,411 5 3
				1,74,204 12 6

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to DAVID KILLICAN, from Account Current, dated 30 March.

Honourable Company Bonds, 1 Bond Principal		4,709 7 3
1 Ditto, 26 February 1771		9,140 — 6
1 Ditto		5,553 2 —
2 Ditto, 21 February		10,244 10 9
1 Ditto, 29 November		3,000 — —
1 Ditto, 15 December		11,151 11 —
			43,798 15 6
Intereſt,
4,709 7 3		556 — —
9,140 — 6 / 5,553 2 —		65 5 —
10,244 10 9		45 8 3
3,000 — —		74 10 9
11,151 11 —		260 3 —
			1,001 6 —
Charges General, paid Manuel D'Cruz, per Bill of Exchange from St. Helena		625 5 6
Paid Col. Chapman		500 — —
			1,125 5 6
			45,925 11 —

[12

DAVID KILLICAN, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, from Account Current, dated 30 March,

Manuel D'Cruz, received in Part		625 5 6
Robert Dobinſon, received for Tin ſold Mr. Ruſſell		18,273 7 6
Ewan Law, Intereſt on Bond	13,307 3 6
Intereſt	1,759 14 —
		15,067 1 6
Law and Wilkins, in Part joint Bond		10,000 — —
Profit and Loſs, for Diſcount on the Bond		1,408 11 9
			45,374 10 3

Ditto

DAVID KILLICAN, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, as per Account Current, dated 31 Auguſt 1771.

Robert Dobinſon, Balance of his Tin Account received			625 15 6
Robert Hunter, received in Part his Bond		7,000 — —
Ditto D°		3,000 — —
			10,000 — —
Honourable Company Bonds, one dated 1ſt September 1769		4,709 7 3
Intereſt, for Intereſt on the above Bond		607 — 9
Walter Wilkins, 2 Bonds, 1,22,078 - 3, Balance now received		42,604 11 6
Manuel D'Cruz, in Part of his Bond to you,		14,847 13 6
Robert Dobinſon, received in further Part Balance		3,572 9 9
			66,341 10 9

DAVID KILLICAN, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS,
as from Account Current, dated 31 August 1771, continued.

Interest, One Year's Interest, 1 Bond, 15 Dec. 1769, 46,342 5 6	4,507 6 3
1 Ditto, 1 Sept. 1769, 7,849 1 3	627 14 9
		5,135 5 —
Owners Ship Rumbold, received of Mr. Wilkins his Proportion of the Debt due me by the Owners, with Interest		22,709 — 6
Account in Co. Walter Wilkins, received of Mr. Wilkins the Balance of an Account between us	5,667 11 9
Walter Wilkins, private Account received	2,270 14 6
Voyage in the Ship Rumbold, received of Mr. Wilkins, being Proportion of Money received on Account his Voyage homeward bound	4,420 15 11
		12,359 10 2
Law and Wilkins, received of Mr. Law, Share of his joint Bond	14,046 3 6 received of Mr. Law, Share of Two joint Bonds	3,000 — — received in full of D° - - D° -	2,432 2 9
		19,478 6 3
received of Jeffrey Wilkins, half joint Bond	18,923 9 1½
Ditto - - - - D° -	6076 6 10½
		25,000 — —
Capt. Shaw, received in Two Payments - - - -		8,402 15 —
Alex[r] Floyer and Inglis, received in full - - - -		1,42,020 3 —
Francis Hare, a Dividend ¼ - - - - - -		3,370 1 4
Profit and Loss, Discount on Bond - - - - -	787 — 9
Ditto - - - - - - -	179 10 6
		966 11 3

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to DAVID KILLICAN,
as from Account Current, dated 31 August 1771.

[13]

Honourable Company Bonds, 1 Bond, dated 18 April 1771,	2264 6 —
1 D° - - - - -	17,658 3 3
1 D° - - - - -	9,266 14 3
1 D° - - - - -	4,814 9 6
1 D° - - - - -	5,359 12 9
		39,363 13 9
1 D° - 29 April 1771	10,000 — —
1 D° - 29 D° - -	10,000 — —
		20,000 — —
1 D° — 30 D° - - -		10,000 — —
1 D° — 12 January 1771		10,000 — —
1 D° - 20 June 1771		20,000 — —
1 D° - 25 D° - -		37,000 — —
1 D° - 12 July 1771 -		12,000 — —
1 D° - 20 July 1771 -	15,000 — —
1 D° - 20 D° - -	10,000 — —
		25,000 — —
8 D° 1,000 each, 22 D° -	80,000 — —
1 D° - 22 D° -	14,000 — —
		94,000 — —
1 D° - 5 December 1770	1,854 12 6
1 D° - 28 February 1771	1,222 — —
1 D° - 23 D° - -	1,567 8 —
1 D° - 28 D° - -	2,937 9 —
1 D° - 22 November 1770	1,000 — —
1 D° - 26 December 1770	3,991 1 6
1 D° - 12 January 1770	2,684 — —
		15,256 15 —
1 D° - 24 July 1771	15,000 — —
1 D° - 24 D° -	10,000 — —
		25,000 — —
1 D° - 25 D° - -		8,000 — —
		3,15,620 12 9

Interest - - - - on 10,000 — —	266 10 9
1,854 12 6	90 4 —
1,567 8 —	49 1 9
1,222 — —	36 14 9
2,937 9 —	88 12 6
1,000 — —	51 9 —
3,991 1 6	184 7 6
2,684 — —	323 4 9
		1,091 1 —

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to DAVID KILLIGAN, as from Account Current, dated 31 Auguſt 1771, continued.

Charges general, Caſh for cancelled Bonds	2	5	3
Caſh for Fees on Bonds	5	12	9
Cooley Hire, bringing	8	10	3
		16	12 3
Cloths in Calcutta, Company's Duty on Goods		5,508	11 —
Charges general, paid Mr. Ewan Law		104	6 —
		3,22,341	11 —

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to DAVID KILLICAN, [14]
from Account Current, dated 31 October 1771.

Charges general, paid for Fees on Company's Bonds	17	6	6
paid Mr. Dobinſon per Wine	1,440	12	6
		1,458	3 —
Charles Eeake, paid him in one Company's Bond		12,274	8 —

Ditto

DAVID KILLICAN, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS,
from Account Current, dated 31 October 1771.

Fran' Hare, received One Four Annoes Dividend	3,370	1	3
Honourable Company's Bonds, One 12 July 1771, Principal	12,000	—	—
Intereſt, to October 26, 1771	274	8	—
		15,644	9 —3

Ditto

EDW. GOLDING and OPHIUM ACCOUNTS, Dr. to EDW. GOLDING

To Amount of his Bond, 26 November 1769, transferred to this Account 9,874 14 6

Ditto

EWAN LAW, Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNTS.

	Y. M. D.
Intereſt on his Bond 13,307 3 6,	1 5 9	1,759 14 —

Ditto

JOHN CARTIER, Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNTS.

	Y. M. D.
To Intereſt on his Bond 37,670 6 3,	1 11 2	6,516 15 9

Ditto

JOHN ROUTLEDGE, Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNT.

Intereſt on his Bond, 34,346 — 9, to 20 October 1770 3,043 15 9

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to EWAN LAW.

Ewan Law, Ophium Account transferred to this Head	10,854	— —
Jeffrey Wilkins, D° transferred to this Head	10,854	— —
	21,708	— —

Ditto

EWAN LAW, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

Rajah Settabroy, he having received of him in Two Payments	34,174	2 —
Profit and Loſs, Batty gained on the Dutch Bill	268	14 9
	34,443	— 9

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Esquire—continued.

EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS, Two Bonds Account, Dr. to their private Account Current.

To the Amount of the Balance of their Account, which was not settled when Mr. Rumbold left India, and is now added to this Bond, dated 20 December 1769 - - - - - - - - - - - - - - 517 15 1

Ditto

[15] EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS, one Bond Account, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

	C. R^{s}	Y. M. D.
Interest on their joint Bond,	80,255 13 6	— 1 4 8—$\frac{5}{6}$	—	5,439 9 —
Profit and Loss, Discounts on Two Company's Bonds, which they made over to Mr. Rumbold - - - - -				1,078 7 — 6,518 — —

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS Dr. to EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS, One Bond Account.

Ophium, Account for the Amount of a Balance of an Account, dated 8 Feb. 1771, and carried to this Account of that Date -		45,154 7 6
Honourable Company Bonds, One Bond, Principal	33,704 10 3
One D° D° -	20,217 8 9
		53,922 3 —
Interest, for Interest on the above Bonds - - - -		564 11 —
			99,641 5 6

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNT.

E. Floyer, R. Alexander, and H. Inglis, Interest on Bond -	25,664 — —
Edward Stevenson, Interest on his Bond - - - -	1,401 — —
Giles Holloway, D° D° - - - - -	732 8 —
		27,797 8 —

Ditto

WALTER WILKINS Bond Account Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNT.

	C. R^{s}. A. P.	Y. M. D.
Interest on 1 Bond	82,165 11 10	— 1 4 16	- -	11,320 9 8
1 Ditto	25,240 5 1	— 1 3 28	- -	3,351 5 8
				14,671 15 4

Ditto

INTEREST ACCOUNT Dr. to WALTER WILKINS, Bond Account.

Interest on 5 Sums received from him, viz.

25,000 — —	- - - - -	750 — —
7,016 — —	- - - - -	282 9 6
4,997 6 —	- - - - -	161 — 3
32,400 — —	- - - - -	585 — —
8,042 4 9	- - - - -	239 — 6
		2,017 10 —

Ditto

JOHN KNOTT Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNT.

To Interest on his Bond - - - - - - - - - - - - 466 5 6

Ditto

CAPTAIN HARRY JAMES SHAW Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNT.

To Interest on his Bond - - - - - - - - - - - 144 11 8

Ditto

ROBERT DOBINSON Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.

To Amount Premium on his Respondentia Bond, to 22d February 1771 - - 10,125 — —

ROBERT DOBINSON, Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNT.

To Intereſt, being Intereſt on the Balance of his Account, March 14 1770 to 30 April 1771, 1 3 15 - - - - - - - - - - - 2,092 12 —

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to ROBERT DOBINSON. [*15]

Hare's Aſſignments, being a Mortgage Bond on his Houſe, dated 14 March 1770, in favour of Mr. Rumbold - - - - -	30,000 — —
Intereſt Account, for Intereſt on the Sale of Tin - - -	245 11 3
		30,245 11 3

Ditto

THO^{s} M^{c}BRIDE and PETER MOREAU, Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNT.

To Intereſt on the Balance of their Reſpondentia Bond - - - - - 296 14 3

Ditto

EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS Private Account, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

Dullab Daſs, Gomaſtah at Gazypore, made over to them -	157 2 6
Adventure to Rotaſgur, the Amount this Account made over to them - - - - - - - - - -	8,376 15 —
Advances for Chunam, the Amount made over to them - -	3,953 9 3
		12,487 10 9

Ditto

EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS Private Account, Dr. to CHA^{s} FEAKE.

They having received of Mr. Craig, on his Account - - - - - - 1,111 13 6

Ditto

SALTPETRE, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.

To Profit gained on this Head - - - - - - - - - - 19,297 — 6

Ditto

INTEREST ACCOUNT, Dr. to JEFFREY WILKINS Private Account.

To Intereſt on his Private Account - - - - - - - - - 84 15 1

Ditto

HONOURABLE COMPANY's BONDS, Dr. to CLOTHS, &c. remaining.

To Amount of 5 Bonds for the Amount Sale of 18,082 Pieces of Cloth ſold to the Honourable Company, as per Account Sales ſent Mr. Rumbold - 1,24,685 15 9

Ditto

JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to CLOTHS, &c. remaining.

To Amount Sale Saltpetre ſold the Owners of the Ship Catherine - - - 3,780 — —

Ditto

CHARGES GENERAL, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE.

Caſh paid his Coachman - - - - - -	15 1 9
Sundry Mats ſent on Board the Worceſter - - -	108 — —
Coachman per March and April - - - - -	2 11 3
Sundry Charges on Merchandize - - - - -	445 1 6
		589 14 6

Ditto

JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to INTEREST ACCOUNT.

To Intereſt on 4 Company's Bonds - - - - - - - - - 5,467 7 9

[15] CHARGES GENERAL, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE.

To the Allowance his Coachman	86 6 —
Paid the Treaſury for endorſing Company Bonds	4 10 3
Paid your Draft to Geo. Lethews	100 — —
Paid Proportion Morris's Bill for Decrees	20 6 6
		211 6 9

Ditto

JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to CLOTHS, &c. remaining.

To Amount 12 Pces Chints ſold Mr. Harris	42 2 —
To Amount 28 Pces Cloths and Wrappers	98 8 9
		140 10 9

Ditto

CHARGES GENERAL, Dr. to WALTER WILKINS, Account in Co.

To the Amount of ſundry Fillegree Work, bought by Thomas Kelſal, on Mr. Rumbold's Account, as per Mr. Wilkins Account	987 — 11

Ditto

WALTER WILKINS, Account in Co. Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

Charges General, to Caſh received nurſing his ſettel Gomaſtah		141 9 9
Houſes in Calcutta, received of Major Polier, his Half of Houſe Rent, C. R^{s} 1,533 9 8	766 12 10
3 Glaſs Lanthorns received from our Houſe by the Company	160 8 —
		927 4 10

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to OWNERS Ship RUMBOLD, as from Mr. Wilkins Account.

Harry Vereliſt, the Amount of his Share, as per Account 31 December 1769	43,812 13 —
Gocul Goſaul and Moden Dutt, for Account Half their Shares in the Rumbold, they being to account with him	32,859 9 9
		76,672 6 9

Ditto

OWNERS Ship RUMBOLD, Dr. to GOCUL GOSAUL and MODEN DUTT.

To Amount of Half the Ophium, he having become anſwerable to Meſſrs. Law and Wilkins	41,426 1 7

Ditto

OWNERS Ship RUMBOLD, Dr. to INTEREST.

To Intereſt on the Balance of Walter Wilkins Account, being C. R^{s} 1,989 1 2 and Intereſt	2,817 14 6

Ditto

WALTER WILKINS, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

Calcutta Houſes, having ſold the ſmall Dwelling Houſe to Mr. Parkinſon, for A. R^{s} 5,000, Mr. Rumbold's Half is	C. R^{s} 2,700 — —
Dead Stock, per Amount of the Bill of ſundry Plate, bought by Mr. Wilkins of Mr. Rumbold	4,964 7 11
		7,664 7 11

Ditto

PROFIT and LOSS Dr. to WALTER WILKINS, Account in Co.

To the Difference of Mr. Rumbold's Eſtimation of the Balance of Account in Co. Mr. Wilkins having ſince ſettled this Account	115 10 2

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to DAVID KILLICAN,
Account Current, 31 January 1772.

Stock, for the Amount of Caſh paid for a Bill of Exchange, drawn by you from London, for £. 500, at ⅔ C. R^{s} in Favour of C. Sympſon				4,615	6	—
Charles Feake, 9 Nov. paid in further Part		7,725	8 —
21 Ditto paid in full		8,826	6 3
				16,551	14	3
Honourable Company Bonds, 1 dated 15 June 1771		10,000	— —
1 D° 14 Dec. 1771		3,766	14 —
1 D° 14 D°		5,000	— —
1 D° 14 D°		5,000	— —
5 D° 21 D° 2000 ea.		10,000	— —
1 D° 21 July 1771		5,270	6 —
				39,037	4	—
Intereſt on the above Bonds,
10,000 — —		402	3 6
5,270 6 —		138	3 —
Intereſt on a Bond of 5,447		44	7 —
				584	13	6
Charges General, Sub-treaſury for Fees		1	2 6
12 Dec. Mr. Caulfield	116 — —
28 Jan. D°	884 — —
	1,000 — —
				1,001	2	6
						61,790 8 3

Ditto

DAVID KILLICAN Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS,
Account Current, 31 January 1772.

Gocul Goſaul and Moden Dutt, received of Mr. Wilkins on Account a Dividend of the Sales of Part the Rumbold's Cargo				3,390	11	11
Voyage in the Ship Rumbold, received of Mr. Wilkins, being the Amount of a Miſtake, his Share being 4,520 15 10 when he only remitted before 4,420 15 10				100	—	—
Card Debts, received of Mr. Wilkins, Amount his Card Debt				4,218	7	8
Honourable Company Bonds, 1 dated 19 Jan. 1771		5,400	— —
1 - 28 Feb. 1771		2,937	9 —
1 - 22 Nov. 1770		1,000	— —
1 - 23 Feb. 1771		1,567	8 —
1 - 28 D° 1771		1,222	— —
1 - 5 Dec. 1770		1,854	12 6
				14,026	4	6
				21,735	8	1
Intereſt on 5,444 7 —		44	7 —
Ditto — —		339	13 6
2,937 9 —		186	11 —
1,000 — —		85	5 3
1,567 8 —		101	6 6
1,222 — —		77	6 9
1,854 12 6		152	14 6
				988	—	6
Law and Wilkins, received of Jeffrey Wilkins the Balance of his Share, Joint Bonds				4,994	14	1
Edward Golding, received in Part of his Bond				23,427	5	9
						51,145 12 5

[17]

Ditto

EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS, Dr. to INTEREST.

Intereſt on their Two Joint Bonds, as per Account tranſmitted to Mr. Rumbold	10,153 11 8

Ditto

INTEREST, Dr. to EWAN LAW and JEFFREY WILKINS.

Intereſt on Sums received of their Joint Bonds, as per Account tranſmitted Mr. Rumbold	1,689 5 11

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

STOCK, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

Charles Ingram, P. M'Tagart, and M'Tagart. The Account being ſent Mr. Rumbold to recover the Inſurance in England, we now write it off	18,900 — —
Randolph Marriott, the Account being ſent Mr. Rumbold to recover the Inſurance in England, we now write it off,	32,400 — —
		51,300 — —

Ditto

CHARLES INGRAM, Dr. to INTEREST.

To Intereſt from 12 July 1769, on 4,514 6 3. from 14 February 1772	1,181 10 10
And Intereſt on his Bond for 9 Months, from 12 January to 12 July	194 6 3
		1,376 1 1

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to CHARLES INGRAM.

Intereſt, for Intereſt on ſeveral Sums received	671 2 6
Profit and Loſs, for the Balance due, Mr. Price having no more Goods remaining	532 3 1
		1,203 5 7

Ditto

JOHN TOOL, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

Profit and Loſs, for Premium on his Bond	1,620 — —
Intereſt to 14 February 1772	1,937 6 9
		3,557 6 9

Ditto

[*17] SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to JOHN TOOL.

Intereſt, on ſeveral Sums received	1,539 3 8
Profit and Loſs, for the Balance due, Mr. Price having no more Goods remaining	58 10 3
		1,597 7 4

Ditto

JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

John Tool, received the Balance their Account Goods in my Cuſtody, his Half	768 12 6
Charles Ingram, Ditto, D°	768 12 6
Henry Wedderburn, received in full his Balance	1,554 15 5
Lewis D'Coſta, received in full D° - D°	1,985 — 6
		5,077 8 11

Ditto

HENRY WEDDERBURN, Dr. to INTEREST.

To Intereſt on his Bond 18,900	3,990 — —

Ditto

INTEREST, Dr. to HENRY WEDDERBURN.

To Intereſt on Sums received	3,666 3 9

Ditto

LEWIS D'COSTA, Dr. to INTEREST.

To Intereſt on his Bond 18,900	4,147 8 —

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL, of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

INTEREST, Dr. to LEWIS D'COSTA.
To Intereſt on Sums received - - - - - - - - - -		3,703 7 6
Ditto
HONOURABLE COMPANY's BONDS, Dr. to DAVID KILLICAN, as per Account Current, dated 28 February 1772.
February 12, One Bond of this Date - - -	13,000 — —
28, Ditto - - D° - - -	5,000 — —
		18,000 — —
Ditto
DAVID KILLICAN, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.
Robert Hunter, February 4, received in further Part - -	6,000 — —
Voyage in the Ship Rumbold.
Received in Part of her Cargo - - - - -	13,452 2 —
		19,452 2 —
Ditto
PROFIT and LOSS, Dr. to ESOP GABLE.
To the Amount of his Debt, we now write it off being irrecoverable, and Mr. Rumbold, in his Inſtructions thinks the ſame - - - -		17,526 8 7
Ditto
PROFIT and LOSS, Dr. to CALCUTTA HOUSES.
To the Amount of my Share of the Loſs, Mr. Wilkins having ſold the Houſes - - - - - - - - - - - -		1,872 11 2
Ditto
PROFIT and LOSS Dr. to STATIONARY.		[17]
To the Amount of the Cheſt Stationary, it being entirely ſpoilt by the white Ants, as Mr. Price informed Mr. Rumbold - - - - - - - -		1,259 4 6
Ditto
CASH, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.
To the Amount of Caſh received from his Banyan, then Mr. Rumbold charges in his Stock Head - - - - - - - - - - -		674 6 8
Ditto
DEAD STOCK, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.
To the Amount of Caſh received more for the Sales than valued at in this Stock -		5,283 — 5
Ditto
INTEREST, Dr. to JOHN TAYLOR.
To Intereſt on his Account, ſettled by Mr. Price - - - - - -		744 14 5
Ditto
WM. HOSEA, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.
To Difference in the Sum paid Mr. Hoſea, and the Value eſtimated in the Stock		34 — —
Ditto
PROFIT and LOSS, Dr. to CARD DEBTS.
To Balance this Account - - - - - - - -		4,670 — 10

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

STOCK, Dr. to OPHIUM ACCOUNT.

To the Amount of this Head, Mr. Rumbold having never mentioned it in his Inſtructions, and Ewan Law and Jeffrey Wilkins charges Mr. Rumbold with this Debt, we now write it off to Stock - - - - - - - 45,154 7 6

Ditto

OWNERS, SHIP ALEXANDER Dr. to CLOTHS.

To the Amount of 47 Bales Cloth ſold them, 31 January 1771 - - - 16,653 14 6

Ditto

JOSEPH PRICE, Dr. to CLOTHS.

To the Amount Sales ſundry Cloths to the Honourable Company, as per Account Sales ſent Mr. Rumbold - - - - - - - - - - - 40,399 15 9

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE.

Honourable Company Bonds received of the Company for Sale of Cloths, viz.

November 1771, 1 Bond this Date,	Principal	10,000 — —
1 D° - -	D°	10,000 — —
1 D° - -	D°	13,928 4 6
			33,928 4 6
January 1772, 1 D° - -	D° - - - -		6,471 11 3
				40,399 15 9

Cloths for the Charges Merchandize on the above.

Sales to the Honourable Company, 30 November 1771	1,884 3 —
11 January 1772 -	294 14 —
		2,179 1 —
		2,579 — 9

Ditto

[18] PROFIT and LOSS, Dr. to RAJAH SETTABROY.

For the Difference ſuppoſed to be in Intereſt - - - - - - 625 14 —

Ditto

CLOTHS in CALCUTTA, Dr. to SALTPETRE.

For the Amount this Head now re-tranſferred - - - - - - 3,780 — —

Ditto

SALTPETRE, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.

For this Amount being neat Profit as the Account is cloſed - - - - 3,780 — —

Ditto

CLOTHS in CALCUTTA, Dr. to CHARGES GENERAL.

For my Commiſſion, &c. on Cloths ſold - - - - - - - 6,224 3 9

Ditto

CLOTH in CALCUTTA, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.

Gain upon this Head - - - - - - - - - - - - 31,388 15 9

Ditto

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to WALTER WILKINS.

Honourable Company Bonds, One Bond, Principal - - -	25,000 — —
Honourable Company Treaſury, paid in by Mr. John Miller, N° 22, 1770, for a Set of Bills - - - - -	7,016 — —
		32,016 — —

HONOURABLE COMPANY TREASURY, Dr. to INTEREST.

50,000 — —	3,714	1	9
12,000 — —	405	5	3
37,399 — 6	216	11	3
			4,333 2 3

Ditto

STOCK, Dr. to HONOURABLE COMPANY's TREASURY.

Bills remitted Home.

22 November 1770, 1 Set Original per Houghton, Duplicate per Kingſton				1,03,748	2	9
January 20 1771	1 D°	D°	D°	7,000	—	—
D°	1 D°	per Worceſter,	D°
per Vereſt				31,747	15	6
D°	1 D°	D°	D°	21,983	15	—
D°	1 D°	D°	D°	8,026	10	9
						1,72,506 12 —

Ditto

CHARLES FEAKE, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.

Re-transferring the Sum Meſſr' Law and Wilkins received of Mr. Craig on that Gentleman's Account — 1,111 13 6

Ditto

INTEREST, Dr. to CHARLES FEAKE.

	Y.	M.
Intereſt to the 20th November,	1	11	5,574 10 1

Ditto

CHARLES FEAKE, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

Stock, ſo much Mr. Rumbold paid him in England 598 6 a $\frac{2}{7}$	5,322	10 9
Intereſt on Sums paid him	512	— 6
		5,834 11 3

Ditto

OWNERS SHIP ALEXANDER, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS. [19]

Being a ſhort Charge, and as the Cloth Account was cloſed, this Sum is carried to Profit and Loſs — 146 4 —

Ditto

OWNERS SHIP ALEXANDER, Dr. to INTEREST.

Intereſt on 16,800 2 6. to 9 March, the Day they granted a Bond; Principal 19,030 13 6. — 2,230 11 —

Ditto

HONOURABLE COMPANY BONDS, Dr. to HONOURABLE COMPANY REVENUE.

Amount of One Bond received on that Account — 4,052 7 9

Ditto

CAPTAIN HARRY JAMES SHAW, Dr. to INTEREST.

Intereſt on the Half of Mr. Rumbold's Bond. N. B. No Notice is taken of Mr. Wilkins Half — 1,789 8 —

Ditto

CHARGES GENERAL, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE.

Being the Amount of the Account of Godown Rent on his Goods, as per Account ſent Mr. R. — 2,575 7 —

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

CLOTHS, Dr. to STATIONARY.

For ſo much Stationary being ſold to Mr. Hurſt, which was carried to Cloth Account, is now transferred - - - - - - - - - - 636 1 9

Ditto

STATIONARY, Dr. to CLOTHS.

Having given Mr. Rumbold Credit for this Amount, in Account Sales 7 January 1771, this Entry is only to ſhew the whole of the Stationary was not loſt - 639 1 9

Ditto

CHARGES GENERAL, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE.

Being the Amount of a Writer's Wages, and Office Charges - 3,900 — — 312 — —
4,212 — —

Ditto

PROFIT and LOSS, Dr. to CHARGES GENERAL.

To Balance this Account by Profit and Loſs - - - - - - - 36,713 — 10

Ditto

INTEREST ACCOUNT, Dr. to PROFIT and LOSS.

To Balance this Account, being a neat Gain on this Head - - - - 85,721 15 1

Ditto

CHARGES GENERAL, Dr. to JOSEPH PRICE.

Coachman's Wages January and February - - - - - - - 21 9 9

Ditto

[20] BALANCE, Dr. to SUNDRY ACCOUNTS.

Edward Golding - - - - -	Balance Bond Account - -	26,572	10 3
Manuel D'Cruz - - - - -	D° - - D° - - -	4,676	13 —
Captain Joſeph Price - - - -	2 Bonds - - - - -	1,45,118	12 7
John Robinſon and Robert Craufurd -	Bond - - - - -	25,360	— —
Gocul Goſaul and Moden Dutt - -	Balance - - - - -	3,922	12 4
Dr. Robert Hunter - - - -	D° - - - - - -	21,566	13 10
Francis Hare - - - - - -	D° - - - - - -	4,359	13 5
Alexander Hannay - - - - -	Bond - - - - - -	1,0000	— —
Honourable Company's Bonds - -	70 valued - - - - -	6,73,919	5 8
George Waple and George Davidſon	Bond - - - - - -	1,620	— —
Cloths remaining in Calcutta on Hand	- - - - - - -	2,174	8 —
Voyage in the ſhip Rumbold - -	Balance - - - - -	19,839	11 1
Law and Wilkins - - - - -	Voyage in the Rumbold - -	6,000	— —
Walter Wilkins - - - - -	Private Account - - -	5,393	9 5
Mortgage Bond - - - - -	Dobinſon Houſe - - -	30,000	— —
Harry Verelſt - - - - -	Proportion Rumbold - - -	43,812	3 —
David Killican - - - - -	Balance Private Account - -	1,046	3 2
Owners of the Ship Alexander - -	Cloth and Intereſt - - -	19,030	13 6
Captain Harry James Shaw - -	Intereſt Account - - -	1,789	1 —
Joſeph Price - - - - - -	Balance Account - - -	4,676	4 5
	C. R'	10,50,879	6 8

SUNDRY ACCOUNTS, Dr. to BALANCE.

William Fiſher - - - - -	Balance Account - - - -	26,000	— —
Salt and Beetlenutt, in C°. with Middleton and Ellis - - - - -		30,518	1 9
Droz Child, Preſent to her - - - - - - - - - -		2,160	— —
	C. R'	58,678	1 9

APPENDIX No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

PROFIT and LOSS, Dr. to STOCK.
To Balance this Account, being neat Gain ſince Mr. Rumbold left India - -	1,00,942 1 —
STOCK, Dr. to BALANCE.
To the Amount of Mr. Rumbold's neat Eſtate in India, as appears by theſe, excluſive of Intereſt, on many Accounts not adjuſted - - - - - -	9,92,201 4 11

Calcutta, 29 February 1772.

(Errors excepted.)

Sir Thomas Rumbold's Obſervations added to the Account of Remittances, as Part Inſtructions for his Anſwer delivered to his Solicitor, which refers to his Accounts with his Attornies, Meſſrs. Bradſhaw and Pigou, in China, M. Droz, and his Attornies in England; whoſe ſeveral Accounts are alſo delivered, to be referred to.

To Meſſrs. Stables, Macreath, and Raikes, through different Channels - - - -	150,837 19 4
To Meſſrs. Goſlings, D° - - - - - - - - - - - - -	16,250 — —
	167,087 19 4
From the above Sum muſt be deducted ſeveral Sums included in the above Account, which were remitted on Account of other People, and at the time of this Defendant's Arrival at Fort St. George, in February 1778, this Defendant had Property due to him in Bengal, to the Amount of above £. 100,000, carrying an Intereſt at 8 and 10 per Cent. - -	38,091 13 —
	128,996 6 4

N. B. Of the above Remittances to Meſſ. Stables, Macreath, and Raikes, the following were remitted by way of China, through the Hands of Meſſrs. Bradſhaw and Pigou, the Defendant's Attornies there.

1779.
June 10th.	Bill on the India Company, due June 19th 1780 - - - - -	3,123 16 5
	Bill on the Swediſh Company, due 13th March 1780 - - - -	4,775 15 6
July 9th.	Bill on India Company, due 17th July 1780 - - - - -	9,268 1 9
23d.	Bill on Swediſh Company, due 13th March 1780 - - - - -	31,042 10 6
Sept. 7th.	Bill on the India Company, due 11th September 1780 - - - -	10,769 12 11
1780.
June 22d.	Bill on the Swediſh Company, due 9th January 1781 - - - -	5,000 — —
Sept. 26th.	Bill on the Court of Directors, due 30th September 1781 - - - -	5,554 3 4

The above Sums were remitted from Madras to China for the purpoſe of being remitted from thence to England, for which end the Defendant borrowed a conſiderable Sum at Madras, and for the Remainder drew Bills on Bengal. Annexed (N° 3 and 4) are my Accounts Current with Meſſrs. Bradſhaw and Pigou; which will not only ſhew how and when the ſeveral above-mentioned Sums have been remitted, but will contradict another Charge againſt me, of having ſent conſiderable Sums out of the Carnatic, to the Detriment of the Circulation of Specie. The only current Money in the Carnatic are Pagodas, of which it will be ſeen, that on Account of myſelf and others, during the whole courſe of my Government, I ſent only 93,000 Pagodas, excluſive of ſome plundered in the River of Canton from the Royal George Eaſt Indiaman, about 15,000 Pagodas and 6,000 Dollars.

Having mentioned the Remittances made, it will be neceſſary to obſerve, that when I left England, I had remaining in Bengal, and due to me, upwards of £. 100,000. To this Sum muſt be added, the Amount of a Bond from Mr. Simeon Droz, which was payable in England; but it not being convenient for him to pay it here, the Amount was received in Bengal after my Arrival at Madras. The Principal and Intereſt was about R° 83,858, which, at 2*s*. 3*d*. per Rupee, is Sterling £. 9,517. 7*s*. 2*d*. It muſt be obſerved here, that the principal Sum due to me was ſecured by ſundry Bonds and Mortgages, on Intereſt which had been and was ſtill accumulating, after the Rate of 8 and ſome of 10 per Cent. ſo that the accumulated Amount muſt have been conſiderable; but having loſt all my Books and moſt of my Papers, except ſuch as are of very late Date, I cannot ſpeak with Certainty and Exactneſs of the ſeveral Sums. If the Company require any further Information, I can write to Bengal, for Copies of all Books and Accounts in my Attornies Hands.

It will appear by my Account Current with Meſſrs Bradſhaw and Pigou, that in a few Months after my Arrival at Madras, I remitted a conſiderable Sum to China; and this has probably given Riſe to many diſadvantageous Inſinuations from People not acquainted with my Affairs and Circumſtances: I ſhall therefore take Notice, that I was under the Neceſſity, at all Events, of ſending a large Sum there, to anſwer Bills in Favour of the Swediſh Eaſt India Company, which Money was to be paid at a certain Period, or I was liable to a Forfeiture of 5 per Cent. as will appear by the annexed Account (N° 5.) To raiſe this Sum, I borrowed Money at Madras from ſeveral People; my Books being loſt, I cannot with Preciſion mention from whom, further than my Recollection goes, but I particularly remember I borrowed from Mr. Caſmajor about 14,000 Pagodas, from Chickapoore, Chitty, and other Black Merchants, about 30,000 Pag[s]; and I drew Bills on Bengal, as the annexed Accounts from my Attornies there, (N° 6, 7, and 8) will ſhew. I do not know that I am obliged to go into this Detail, but I do it for the Company's Satisfaction; at the ſame Time I deſire no more of the Accounts with my Attornies may be made public, than ſuch Entries as relate to the Drafts made by me on them, or Remittances made by them to me. I muſt further obſerve, that the whole of the Money ſent to China was not my own, 30,000 Pagodas were on Account of Sir Hector Munro, who, to my Knowledge, borrowed Money for the Occaſion, and in particular 10,000 Pagodas from Alex[r] Brodie, Eſq.

APPENDIX. No. 66.

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued.

When I arrived at Madras, as my Salary from the Company commenced on my leaving England, I had about Seven Months due, which was upwards of 20,000 Pagodas, or near £.9,000, and before any Remittances were made, about 6 Months more Salary was due, near £. 8,000. And I muſt further obſerve, that ſome of the Sums mentioned to be remitted in the annexed Account of Meſſrs. Stables, Mackreath, and Raikes, were not remitted immediately from Madras, but from Bengal, and in particular the Two following Sums:

Auguſt 7th. Bills on the India Company, due the 16th Auguſt 1779, for - - -	£. 5,000.
November 4. D° and D° due 7th November 1779 - - - - - - - - -	1,000.

Theſe Remittances alſo through the Daniſh Company, were by Transfers from Bengal, with Francis Jourdan, Eſq. The annexed Accounts (N° 9 and 10) are my Accounts Current with Mr. Simeon Droz, for the Amount of his Bond to me, which ſhould have been paid in England, but was paid in Bengal.

REMITTANCES received by Meſſrs. J. Stables, R. Mackreth, and T. Raikes, on Account of Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart.

		£.	s.	d.
1778.
Auguſt 7.	From David Killican of Calcutta, the Preſidency at Fort William on the Eaſt India Company, due 16th Auguſt 1779 - - - - - - - - -	5,000	—	—
Oct. 28.	From Sir Thomas Rumbold, Alex[r] Grant's Bill on Hugh Grant, Eſq. drawn from Fort St. George, and due 18th January 1779 - - - - - -	70	—	—
Nov. 4.	From David Killican at Calcutta, the Preſidency at Fort William, on the Eaſt India Company, due 7th November 1779 - - - - - - - - -	1,000	—	— 1779.
Mar. 31.	From Sir Thomas Rumbold, Tho[s] Powell's Bill on Jn° Eames, dated Madras 4th July, and due 23d April 1779 - - - - - - - - -	70	—	—
	From D° R. Doveton's Bill on R[d] Neave, Eſq. dated Madras, due 4th July 1779	2,000	—	—
	From D° J. Shaw on Peter Shaw, drawn from Fort St. George, due 21ſt April 1779 - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - -	100	—	—
	From D° the Preſidency of Fort St. George on the India Company, due 4th April 1780 - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - -	2,125	10	10
	From Ditto, a Bond of John Whitehill's, due 9th April 1781 - - - - -	8,000	—	—
June 10.	From Meſſrs. Bradſhaw and Pigou of Canton, the Preſidency on the Eaſt India Company, 19th June 1780 - - - - - - - - -	3,123	16	5
	From Ditto, Swediſh Supra Cargoes at Canton on the Swediſh Eaſt India Company, 13th March 1780 - - - - - - - - - - - - -	4,775	15	6
July 9.	From Ditto, Supra Cargoes at Canton on the Eaſt India Company, 17th July 1780	9,268	1	9
July 23.	From Meſſrs. Bradſhaw and Pigou of Canton, Swediſh Supra Cargoes there, on their Eaſt India Company, due 13th March 1780 - - - - - - -	31,042	10	6
Aug. 19.	From Sir Thomas Rumbold, J. Utterſon's Bill on the Commiſſioners of the Victualling Office, drawn from Fort St. George, due 6th November 1779 - -	5,000	—	—
Sept. 7.	From Mat. Raper, Jun[r], Supra Cargoe at Canton on the Eaſt India Company, due 11th September 1780 - - - - - - - - -	10,769	12	11
Dec. 27.	From Edw[d] Golding, Eſq. Preſidency at Fort St. George on the Eaſt India Company, due 3d January 1781 - - - - - - - - -	958	6	8
	From Sir Thomas Rumbold, Daniſh Preſidency at Tranquebar on their Eaſt India Company, due 18th July 1780 - - - - - - - - -	1,916	13	4
	From George Baldwin of Cairo, his Remiſe through Treves of Venice, on N. and H. Modegliani, due 23d February 1780 - - - - - - -	699	—	— 1780.
June 22.	From W[m] Henry Pigou of Canton, the Swediſh Preſidency there on their Eaſt India Company, due 9th January 1781 - - - - - - - - -	5,000	—	—
Aug. 30.	From Sir Thomas Rumbold, Jn° Utterſon's Two Drafts from Fort St. George, on the Commiſſioners of the Navy, for £. 3,000 and £. 4,000, due 17th October 1780 - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - -	7,000	—	—
	From Ditto, Daniſh Preſidency at Tranquebar on their Eaſt India Company, due 19th March 1781 - - - - - - - - - - - - -	1,823	7	6
	From Ditto, George Taſwell of Fort St. George, his Bill on W. and T. Raikes and A. Greenland, due 5th October 1781 - - - - - - - -	1,450	—	—
	From Ditto, a Bond of Quintin Crawfurd's, due 23d July 1781 - - -	5,750	—	—
Sept. 26.	From Bradſhaw and Pigou, Supra Cargoes there, on the Eaſt India Company, due 30th September 1781 - - - - - - - - - - - -	5,554	3	4
	Carried forward - £.	112,496	18	9

(No. 3.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Esquire—continued.

	Brought forward -	£.	112,496	18 9
1781.
Jan. 22.	From Sir Thomas Rumbold, a Bond of Jn° Huddleston's, due 19th March 1783 -		4,600	— —
Jan. 22.	From Ditto, a Bond of Quintin Crawfurd's, due 1st October 1781 - - -		5,750	— —
	From Ditto, A. Cuthbert's Bill on the Board of Ordnance, dated in Fort St. George, due 30th March 1781 - - - - - - - - -		5,000	— —
	From Ditto, Thomas Moore's Bill on the Commissioners of the Victualling Office, dated Fort St. George, due 25th February 1781 - - - - - -		9,375	— —
	From Ditto, a Bond of Jn° Whitehill's, due the 4th of April 1782 - - -		13,616	— 7
	From Ditto, Francis Welden's Receipt for 100 Pagodas, never repaid by Mr. Welden		—	— —
		£.	150,837	19 4

Messrs. Gosling's Letter to Sir Thomas Rumbold.

London, 30th May 1781.

Sir,

We have your Favour of the 28th Instant, desiring an Account of the Remittances you made us from the 8th February 1778 to 29 January 1781, and Copies of your Letters to us in that Period.

Inclosed are Copies of Two Letters which were all we received, and they take Notice of the Remittances you made us; which were,

Bill on the Danish East India Company, per £. 5,750 paid 2 October 1779.
Ditto, East India Company - - 10,500 paid 8 January 1781.

£. 16,250

We are,
Sir,
Your most humble Servants,
Rob^t & Fra^s Gosling.

Sir Tho^s Rumbold, Baronet.

Dates of Sir THOMAS RUMBOLD's following Remittances.

£. 5,000 — —	Bill - - - - - -	dated	17th December 1777	-	at 12 Months Sight.
70 — —	D° - - - - - - -		20th February 1778	-	at 60 Days Sight.
1,000 — —	D° - - - - - - -		27th January - 1778	-	at 12 Months Sight.
70 — —	D° - - - - - - -		4th July - - 1778	-	at Sight.
2,000 — —	D° - - - - - - -		7th August - 1778	-	at 90 Days Sight.
100 — —	D° - - - - - - -		12th October - 1778	-	at 10 Days Sight.
2,125 10 10	D° - - - - - - -		30th June - - 1778	-	at 12 Months Sight.
8,000 — —	Bond, Madras - - - - -		9th April - 1778	-	at 3 Years.
3,123 16 5	Bill - - - - - - -		10th January - 1779	-	at 12 Months Sight.
4,775 15 6	D° - - - - - - -		28th December 1778	-	at 4 Months Sight.
9,268 1 9	D° - - - - - - -		10th January - 1779	-	at 12 Months Sight.
31,042 10 6	D° - - - - - - -		21st December 1778	-	at 4 Months Sight.
5,000 — —	D° - - - - - - -		7th November 1778	-	at 30 Days Sight.
10,769 12 11	D° - - - - - - -		10th January - 1779	-	at 12 Months Sight.
958 6 8	D° - - - - - - -		1st January - 1779	-	at 12 Months Sight.
1,916 13 4	D° - - - - - - -		10th March - 1779	-	at 6 Months Sight.
699 — —	D° - - - - - - -		20th November 1779	-	at 3 Months.
5,000 — —	D° - - - - - - -		16th December 1779	-	at 6 Months Sight.
3,000 — — } 4,000 — — }	Bills - - - - - -	dated	30th September 1779	-	at 30 Days Sight.
1,823 7 6	a Bill - - - - -	dated	21st June - - 1779	-	at 6 Months Sight.
1,450 — —	D° - - - - - - -		2d October - 1779	-	at 24 Months Date.
5,750 — —	Bond, Madras, Fort Saint George, - -		23d July - - 1779	-	payable in 2 Years.
5,554 3 4	Bill - - - - - - -		31st December 1779	-	at a Month's Sight.
4,600 — —	Bond, Fort Saint George - - -		19th March - 1780	-	payable in 3 Years.
5,750 — —	Bond, Fort Saint George. - - -		1st October - 1779	-	payable in 2 Years.
5,000 — —	Bill - - - - - - -		4th February 1780	-	at 30 Days Sight.
9,375 — —	Bill - - - - - - -		4th February 1780	-	at 30 Days Sight.
13,616 — 7	Bond - - - - - - -		4th April - - 1780	-	payable in 2 Years.

Pagodas 100 Rec^t dated 9th August 1778.

APPENDIX. No. 66.

Dr. (No. 3.)—THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſq. in Account

	Pillar Dollars.
To Caſh paid into the Swediſh Company's Treaſury by the Hands of Mr. Hutton, for Bills on their Directors, to the Amonnt of 162,000 Rix Dollars, Holland's Current, payable to the Order of Meſſrs. Robert Mackreth, John Stables, and Thomas Raikes, at the Houſe of Meſſrs. Pye, Rich, and Wilkinſon's, in Amſterdam - - - - - - - - - - -	150,000
To D° paid into the Engliſh Company's Treaſury for Bills in Favour of the beforementioned Gentlemen, at the Exchange of 5 s. 3 d. per Dollar, and 12 Months Sight - - - - - - - - - - - - - - -	35,307
To D° paid for ſundry Articles, ſent per Ships Concordia and St. Carmoe e S[t] Anna - - - - - - - - - - - - - -	372 458
To D° paid Mr. Pigou for Tea and Sugar Candy ſent laſt Year - - -	82 336
To our Commiſſion of 2 per Cent. on 189,552. 851 Dollars received - -	3,791 057
	189,552 851

with Meſſrs. BRADSHAW and PIGOU—continued. Cr.

				Pillar Dollars.
By Stock, received per Ship Latham, Goldſtar Pagodas			50,000
Hillſborough			29,000
Royal George			14,000
			93,000
Deduct the Amount of Meſſrs. Raper and Crommelin's Bill			25,000
			68,000
Exchange 168 Head Dollars per 100 Pagodas, Head Dollars			114,240.
By Stock, received per Ship Hillſborough	D°		9,524 250
Royal George	D°		8,163
D° from Mr. Benedict, in Part of our Bill in his Favour			3,144 444
			135,071 694
Deduct 2 per Cent. thereon, as inferior to Pillar Dollars, by dividing by 102			2,648 464
				132,423 230
By Stock, received per Hillſborough, 7,000 Fr. Crown. weighed		Taſ. 5,429	Mce. 050
Deduct 2 per Cent. worſe than Pillar Dollars		106	452
			Tales 5,322 598
By Stock, received per Hillſborough, 4,500 Ger. Crown. weighed		Taſ. 3,355	Mce. 640
Deduct 9 per Cent. worſe than Pillar Dollars		277	072
			3,078 568
By Stock, received per Hillſborough — 23,083 Arcot Rupſ, 2,100 Pondy Rup — weighed		Taſ. 7,643	Mce. 730
Add 3 per Cent. better than Pillar Dollars		229	311
			7,873 041
			Tales 16,274 207
at 72 Mce. per Dollar				22,603 065
By Stock, received per Ship Hillſborough				2,784
Royal George				7,337
D° from Mr. Raphael, for our Bill on you in his Favour				14,500
Mr. Catchick, for our Bill in Favour of Mr. Michael Joannes				1,450
Mr. Benedict, in full of our Bill in his Favour				8,455 556
				189,552 857

Canton, 10th January 1779.

(Errors excepted.)

Jaſ Bradſhaw,
Wm Henry Pigou.

APPENDIX. No. 66.

Dr. (No. 4.)—Sir THOMAS RUMBOLD, Baronet, in

1780.	New Spa. Dollars.
To Caſh paid into the Company's Treaſury, for Bills in Favour of Meſſrs. Robert Mackreth, John Stables, and Thomas Raikes, amounting to Dollars 21,500	21,930
To Caſh paid into the Swediſh Treaſury, for Bills in Favour of the ſaid Gentlemen, amounting to Dollars 20,000	20,400
To Caſh for amount of Sundries ſent to England	1,421
To Caſh for our Commiſſion of Two per Cent. on Dollars, 43,751	875
To Balance remaining, which we have depoſited in the Company's Treaſury for Bills next Seaſon	7,374
New Spa. Dollars	52,000

(No. 5.)

We received by the Ships from China this ſummer, a Letter from your Partner, Mr. John Ferguſon, dated Canton 16 December 1776; wherein he gives us Orders to contract with the Engliſh, Daniſh, or Swediſh Eaſt India Companies, for the delivery, at Canton, of One hundred and fifty or Two hundred thouſand weighty Spaniſh Dollars, on your account, at 5^{s} or 5^{s} 3^{d}. The Engliſh Eaſt India Company, we underſtood, would not engage in any ſuch affairs; and therefore, preferring the Swediſh to any other Eaſt India Company, we have contracted with them on your Account for One hundred and fifty thouſand Spaniſh Dollars, to be delivered to their Supra Cargoes at Canton; viz.

50,000 Dollars in October
50,000 D° - in November } 1778.
50,000 D° - in December

150,000 Dollars in all:

For which the Swediſh Supra Cargoes are to grant you Bills on their Directors in Sweden, payable in four months time in Amſterdam, at the Exchange of 54 S^{s} per H^{r} Current Money per Dollar; and we are bound in a Penalty of 5 per Cent. for a failure in the delivery of any part of the ſum. The Swediſh Company did not chuſe to make their Bills payable in London, and the Exchange of 54 S^{s} per H^{r} C^{y} is, as the courſe now ſtands between Amſterdam and London, rather better than 5 per 1 St^{g} per Dollar. Should the War with America be continued on, or a difference break out between us and the French, there is a likelihood of this Exchange being much in your favour.

The ſmallneſs of the Penalty being fixed at only 5 per Cent. whereas the Dutch always require 12 per Cent. was an additional inducement to us to agree with this Company. We incloſe you a Copy of a Set of Bills, or Letters of Credit, which we have given in this engagement to the Swediſh Company on Mr. Ferguſon, or any other perſon Agent for you at Canton.

London, 28th October 1777. { John Ferguſon, Eſquire, or to any other Perſon who may be Agent for the Houſe of Meſſrs. Robinſon, Crofts, Killican, Grant, and Ferguſon of Calcutta in Bengal at Canton.

Sir,

APPENDIX. No. 66.

Account with Meſſrs. BRADSHAW and PIGOU. Cr.

1780.	New Spa. Dollars.
By Caſh received by His Majeſty's Ship Sea Horſe	20,000
By Caſh received from Meſſrs. Johannes and Catchick, for Value of a Bill on them	20,000
By Caſh received from Mr. Manoel De Souza, from Manilha	12,000
New Spaniſh Dollars	52,000

Canton, January the 18th 1780.

(Errors excepted.)

Ja^s Bradſhaw.
Wm Henry Pigou.

Sir,

In conſequence of the Orders which you gave us in your Letter, dated Canton, 16 December 1776, we have contracted with the Honourable the Directors of the Swediſh Eaſt India Company, for the payment of One hundred and fifty thouſand of old weighty Spaniſh Dollars, to be paid to their Council at Canton; viz.

50,000 Dollars in the Month of October
50,000 Dollars D° - - November } 1778.
50,000 Dollars D° - - December

150,000 Old Spaniſh Dollars in all:

For which the Council of the Swediſh Eaſt India Company are to give you Bills on their Directors, payable at the Houſe of Meſſrs. Pye, Rich, and Wilkinſon, in Amſterdam, at four months ſight, at the Exchange of fifty-four Stivers, Holland's Current Money, per Dollars.

You will therefore pleaſe to pay the ſaid ſum of One hundred and fifty thouſand Spaniſh Dollars to the Council of the Swediſh Eaſt India Company, according to the terms of the Contract which we have made for you; obſerving, that we are bound in a Penalty of 5 per Cent. on any part of the ſum which is not paid conformably to the Agreement.

We are, with much truth,

Sir, your moſt obedient Servants,

(Copy.) (Signed) Rumbold, Charlton, and Raikes.

This Agreement was made over by John Ferguſon, Eſquire, to Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire.

APPENDIX. No. 66.

Dr. (No. 6.)—THOMAS RUMBOLD,

1778. Mar 19.	To Caſh paid to Joſeph Barretti, for a Set of Bills of Exchange drawn by him on Augavilly Suttur, at Madras, in your Favour, for Star Pagodas 2,615. 25		10,000 — —
Apr. 30.	To Caſh paid Poſtage to the End of April 1778 - - - - - 6 15 3
	Ditto Cooleyhire on Treaſure - - - - - - 4 8 —
			11 7 3
June 23.	To Caſh paid to Charles Weſton for One Set of Bills of Exchange, drawn by him, dated the 24th Inſtant, in your Favour, for Pagodas 5,000; Exchange at 360 Ar[t] Pagodas is - - - - - - - A. R[s] 18,000 — —
	Batta, 8 per Cent. - - - - - - - 1,440 — —
			19,440 — —
Aug. 26.	To Caſh paid the Amount of a Bill of Exchange, dated the 24th July 1788, drawn by you on your Attornies at Calcutta, in Favour of Showmier Sultan, for - - - - - - - - - - - -		44,712 — —
Oct. 14.	To Caſh paid to John Fergusſon, in full, the Amount of a Bill of Exchange, dated the drawn by you in Favour of George Moore, for Venetians 953 Exchange at A. R[s] 4. 9. 6 per each, is - A. R[s] 4,377 13 6
	Batta 8 per Cent. - - - - - - - 350 3 6
			4,728 1 —
31.	To Caſh paid by George Moore, the Amount of a Bill of Exchange drawn by you, dated the 25th Auguſt 1778, on your Attornies, in his Favour, for Venetians 9,924 $\frac{2}{4}$; Exchange at R[s] 4 A. 9 P. 6 Arcot Rupees each, is - - - - - - - - - A. R[s] 45,603 5 6
	Batta 8 per Cent. - - - - - - - 3,648 4 3
			49,251 9 9
Dec. 31.	To Caſh paid for 23 Pieces of flowered and plain Muſlin, and 6 Aprons, for Mrs. Rumbold, ſent in the Mountſtewart, as per Account, amounting to - -		2,047 11 6
			1,30,190 13 6
1779. Jan. 15.	To Balance - - - - - - - - - - - -		1,35,306 7 3
		Current Rupees	2,65,497 4 9

Esquire, in Account with his Attornies. Cr.

1778.
Mar. 10.	By Balance of an Account Current of this Date				1,12,546 2 3
31	By Cash received from William Larkins, in Part of his Mortgage Bond				6, 00 — —
Apr. 23.	By Ditto — — D° — — D°				2,500 — —
30.	By Cash received from P. M. Dacres, for One Year's Interest on Current Rupees 35,000, dated the 1st May 1776, at 5 per Cent.				1,750 — —
May 11.	By Cash received from Mr. Larkins, the Amount of his Bond for Principal			25,000 — —
	Interest from 23d December 1775 to 10th May 1778, is 28 Months and 18 Days, at 5 per Cent	2,979 2 8
	Deduct One Year's Interest, received the 27th December 1776	1,250 — —
				1,729 2 8
				26,729 2 8
	Deduct received the 27th Dec' 1776	5,000 — —
	28th July 1777	5,000 — —
	27th August	2,500 — —
	29th D°	2,500 — —
	31st Mar. 1778	6,000 — —
	23d April	2,500 — —
	Interest on D° to 10th May 1778	756 6 3
				24,256 6 3
					2,472 12 5
June 17.	By Cash received from Mr. Dacres, in full the Amount of his Mortgage Bond, dated 10th October 1776, for Principal			70,000 — —
	Interest thereon to 4th September 1777, is 10 M°s and 24 Days at 8 per Cent.			5,040 — —
	Interest on Current Rupees 60,000, from the 4th September to 10th October 1777, is 1 Month and 6 Days at 8 per Cent. per Ann.			480 — —
				75,520 — —
	Deduct received in Part of Principal the 4th September 1777, Current Rupees	10,000 — —
	Ditto received in Part of Interest, the 31st October 1777	5,520 — —
				15,520 — —
				60,000 — —
	Interest from the 10th October 1777 to the 10th June 1778 is 8 Months, at 8 per Cent			3,200 — —
					63,200 — —
July 22.	By Cash received from Simeon Droz, in Part of his Debt				10,000 — —
28.	By D° — — D° — — D°				3,827 2 3
Sept. 9.	By Cash received in Part of Mr. Droz's Debt				2,174 4 7
25.	By Ditto — — D° — — D°				12,143 5 3
Oct. 8.	By Cash received from Benjamin Laccum, in Part of his Mortgage Bond				5,000 — —
30.	By Cash received from Joseph Price, the 29th July 1777, Two Annas Dividend on his following Bonds to you, made up with Interest to the 1st May 1776:
	On Bond, for Current Rupees 25,118 12 7. dated the 25th February 1771			3,477 6 —
	On Bond, for Current Rupees 70,000, dated the 30th July 1774			9,406 4 —
					12,883 10 —
Dec. 31.	By Cash received from Mr. Laccum, the 10th February 1778, in Part of his Mortgage Bond omitted				1,000 — — 1779.
Jan. 12.	By Cash received from Mr. Droz, in Part of the Balance of his Account Current with you, dated the 10th Instant				30,000 — —
				Current Rupees	2,65,497 4 9

Calcutta, 15th January 1779.

(Errors excepted.)

per David Killican.

APPENDIX. No. 66.

Dr. (No. 7.)—Sir THOMAS RUMBOLD,

1779.
Jan. 15.	To Caſh paid for 70 Sheep, 17 Md. Potatoes, 3 Caſks of Pickles, and 2 Bullocks, ſent you to Madras, as per Account, Particulars ſent, amounting, with Charges, to		695 13 —
	To Caſh paid Mr. Auriol, the Amount of a Bill of Exchange, dated the 5th December 1778, drawn by you in Favour of Henry Richardſon, for		686 7 6
April 9.	To Caſh paid to Colonel Owen, the Amount of a Bill of Exchange, drawn by you, dated the 12th March 1779, in his Favour, for Arcot Rupees 89,640 — —
	Batta 8 per Cent.	7,171 3 3
			96,811 3 3
30.	To Caſh paid Cooley Hire on Treaſure, ſundry Times		7 8 —
June 15.	To Caſh paid Thomas Law, as per Bill for certain Silver and Gold Filagree Things ſent you		2,278 12 9
July 31.	To Caſh paid Cooley Hire on Treaſure this Month		— 15 —
Sept. 20.	To Caſh paid into the Dutch Company at Chinſurah, the Amount of a Bill of Exchange drawn by your Attornies in London, dated the 15th October 1778, for Sicca Rupees 100,000, is	C. R. 116,000 — —
	Hundian and Extra Batta, to remit the Money to Chinſurah	118 14 6
			116,118 14 6
20.	To Caſh paid Thomas Law, as per Bill, for Muſlins, &c. provided by Mr. Cleveland for Lady Rumbold		864 7 9
Oct 1.	To the Amount received by you from Francis Jourdan, 5,000 Pagodas, Exchange at 365 Arcot Rupees per Pag. is	A. R. 18,250 — —
	Batta 8 per Cent.	1,460 — —
			19,710 — —
	To Caſh paid Fees on Three Sets of Dutch Certificates tranſmitted you—Sicca R. 15, is		17 6 6
	To Commiſſion on Current Rupees 4,21,339 5 6, being the Amount of ſundry Bills, for Money remitted you from November 1777 to 30th September 1779, particulars as per Accounts Current, dated the 10th March 1778, the 15th January 1779, and 1ſt October 1779, at One per Cent.		4,213 6 6
			2,41,404 14 9
	To Balance		32,470 11 —
		Current Rupees	2,73,875 9 9

Baronet, in Account Current with his Attornies—continued. Cr.

1779.
Jan. 15.	By Balance of an Account Current of this Date		1,35,306 7 3
	By Caſh received for Batta on Sicca Rupees 590, being Part of the Amount of Charges working Muſlins for Lady Rumbold, erroneouſly overcharged in the Account tranſmitted to you		53 11 3
Feb. 16.	By Caſh received from P. M. Dacres in full the Amount of his Mortgage Bond, dated the 1ſt May 1778, for Principal	35,000 — —
	Intereſt thereon, from the 1ſt May 1778 to the 15th February 1779, is Nine Months and 15 Days, at Five per Cent. per Ann.	1,385 6 6
			36,385 6 6
March 22.	By Caſh received from Charles Grant, Two Years Intereſt on his Bond to you, for C. R^{s} 50,000, a. 8 per Cent.		8,000 — —
26.	By Caſh received from Joſeph Price, a Dividend of 9 Pice in the Rupee, on his Bond for C. R^{s} 25,118. 12. 7. to you	1,394 — 3
	Received D^{o} D^{o}, for D^{o} 70,000 D^{o}	3,437 5 6
			4,831 5 9
31.	By Caſh received from the Commercial Society, in full the Amount of their Intereſt Bond, dated the 19th February 1776, Principal	50,000 — —
	Intereſt thereon, from the 19th February 1777 to the 28th February 1779, is 2 Years 11 Days, at 8 per Cent.	8,122 3 6
			58,122 3 6
April 9.	By Caſh received from Simeon Droz, in Part of the Balance of his Account Current		8,000 — —
July 28.	By Caſh received from Simeon Droz, in full the Balance of his Account Current		17,176 7 6
Oct. 1.	By Caſh received from Richard Barwell, the Amount of a Bill of Exchange, dated the 30th Auguſt 1779, drawn by you for		6,000 — —
		Current Rupees	2,73,875 9 9

Calcutta, the 1ſt October 1779.

(Errors excepted.)

per David Killican.

APPENDIX, No. 66.

Dr. (No. 8.)—Sir THOMAS RUMBOLD, Baronet, in Account with his Attornies. Cr.

1779.			1779.
Oct. 31.	To Cash paid Cooley Hire on Treasure this Month	— 9 9	Oct. 1.	By Balance of an Account Current of this Date	32,470 11 —
Nov 22.	To Cash paid, the Amount of a Bill of Exchange drawn by you in Favour of John Ferguſſon	39,400 — —	25.	By Cash received for a Bill of Exchange, dated the 23d Inſtant, drawn by me on you, at 21 Days Sight, in Favour of Wm Duff, for Pagodas 1500, Exchange at 365 A. Rs per Pa. is 5,475
		39,400 9 9		Batta, 8 per Cent. 438
30.	To Balance	2,979 1 3			5,913 — —
			29.	By Cash received from the Company's Treaſury, the Amount of a Bill of Exchange drawn by the Governor and Council of Madras	3,996 9 9
	Current Rupees	42,379 11 —		Current Rupees	42,379 11 —

Calcutta, the 30th November 1779.

(Errors excepted.)

per David Killican,
Acts Attorney.

Dr. (No. 9.)—THOMAS RUMBOLD, Eſquire. Cr.

To paid Mr. David Killican on 11th January, in Part Payment of my Bond		30,000 — —	By Balance of an Account Current, dated 10th January 1779, tranſmitted to Mr. David Killican	54,644 1 1
To paid Mr. David Killican on 7th April, as in Part Payment of my Bond		8,000 — —
Intereſt on the above Sums calculated from their reſpective Dates, paid on as follows; viz.			Intereſt on the above Sum from 11th January to 20th July 1779, being 6 Months 9 Days, at 5 per Cent. per Ann.	1,434 5 7
On 30,000, from 11th January to 20th July 1779, being 6 Months 9 Days, at 5 per Cent. per Ann.	787 8 —
On 8,000, from 7th April to 20th July 1779, being 3 Months 13 Days, at 5 per Cent.	114 7 2
		901 15 2
		38,901 15 2
To Balance paid to Mr. Rumbold this Day		17,176 7 6
	Current Rupees	56,078 6 8	Current Rupees	56,078 6 8

Calcutta, 20th July 1779.

(Copy.)

(Errors excepted.)

per Simeon Droz.

Dr. (No. 10.)—JOURNAL of Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire—continued. Cr.

To paid Mr. Killican, by Roy Motichund, on 22d July		10,000 — —	By the Amount of my Bond to him, dated 10th January 1769		55,550 — —
To paid Mr. Killican, by Mr. William Alderſey, on 28th July		3,827 — —	Intereſt on the above Sum from 10th January 1769 to 10th January 1779, being 10 Years, at 5 per Cent. per Ann.		27,775 — —
To paid Mr. Killican, by Mr. William Alderſey, on 9th September		2,174 4 7
To paid Mr. Killican, by Mr. William Alderſey, on 25th September		12,143 5 4
Intereſt on the above Sums, calculated from their reſpective Dates, paid on as follows, viz.
On 10,000 — — from 22d July 1778 to 10th January 1779, being 5 Months 19 Days, at 5 per Cent. per Ann.	234 7 9
On 3,827 — — from 28th July 1778 to 10th Jan^{y} 1779, being 5 M^{s} 13 D^{s}, at 5 per Cent. per Ann.	86 12 3
On 2,174 4 7 from 9th Sept. 1778 to 10th January 1779, being 4 Mo 1 Day, at 5 per Cent. per Ann.	36 4 9
On 12,143 5 4 from 25th Sept. to 10th Jan$_{y}$ 1779, being 3 Mo^{s} 16 D^{s}, at 5 per Cent. per Ann.	17 12 3
		536 5 —
		28,680 14 11
To Balance due to him this Day		54,644 1 1
Current Rupees		83,325 — —	Current Rupees		83,325 — —

(Copy.)

Calcutta, 10th January 1779.

(Errors excepted.)

per Simeon Droz.

Extract of a Letter from Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. to Meſſrs. Robert Mackreath, John Stables, and Thomas Raikes, dated Fort St. George, 13th October 1778.

Meſſrs. Ferguſon, Killican, &c. having offered to me the Remittance procured for them by the houſe of Rumbold, Charlton, and Raikes, through the Swediſh Company, I have accepted the ſame, and tranſmitted the neceſſary Papers to Meſſrs. Bradſhaw and Pigou, who are my Attornies at Canton, and are deſired to correſpond with you. They will acquaint you of ſuch meaſures as they take for the Remittance of the ſums now ſent to them, or of any that I may conſign to them in future. Meſſrs. Raper and Crommelin have Bills on Meſſrs. Bradſhaw and Pigou for twenty-five thouſand Pagodas, which they are to remit to you on account of General Munro and myſelf; the particulars you will be informed of, by thoſe Gentlemen. I am afraid theſe Remittances will turn out but indifferently, as I have been obliged, in order to procure the money here, to draw on Bengal at a very diſadvantageous exchange.

APPENDIX, No. 67.

Extract of Proceedings of the Preſident and Council at Fort George, in their Military Department, the 4th April 1775.

CAME in the following Letter from John Whitehill, Eſq. Chief of Maſulipatam.

To the Honourable Alexander Wynch, Eſq. Preſident and Governor of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir,

Having had intelligence ſome time ago, that Bazalet Jung was coming down to the Guntoor Circar with a conſiderable Army, I thought it neceſſary to ſend Hircarrahs to take notice of the number of his Troops; and have this day received the information in the accompanying Paper from them.

The Renter of Nizampatam has juſt received a Letter from his manager in that diſtrict, acquainting him, that Monſ. Lally, with 120 Horſemen, 96 Soldiers, 300 Sepoys, 600 Coolies, ſome camels, and 400 bullocks, arrived on the 27th at Mootapillee. That the bullocks and Coolies were diſpatched the ſame night for Bazalet

APPENDIX. No. 67.

Jung's camp, with ſome pieces of large and ſmall cannon, ſeveral cheſts of ſmall arms, and a quantity of ammunition and other ſtores, all which had been laying ſome time at Nicotapillee; that beſides theſe, had been landed there from a veſſel that arrived from Pondicherry on the 26th inſtant, four pieces of large cannon, eight of ſmall cannon, ſix thouſand firelocks, and thirteen cheſts of gunpowder; and that it is reported two more ſhips are expected from Pondicherry, with a further ſupply of ſtores and 600 Europeans. But to this report I give little credit, it being uſual with the French at Mootapillee, upon every occaſion, to cauſe news of this kind to be circulated through the country.

I have written to Mr. Scott, who is at preſent ſurveying the Nizampatam Diſtrict, to inform himſelf particularly of what may be going forward at Mootapillee, and have ſent him intelligent Hircarrahs to aſſiſt him in his enquiries.

I am, with reſpect,
Honourable Sir,
Your moſt obedient
humble Servant,
John Whitehill.

Maſulipatam, 30th March 1775.

The Company's Hircarrahs brought the following news from Bazalet Jung's camp.

That Bazalet Jung is now halted on the Banks of Teaglais River, within eighteen coſs to Vinicondah, and has the under-mentioned Troops and Stores with him:

10 Pieces of Cannon,
5 Cheſts of Gunpowder,
1 Carriage of Gunpowder in Duppees,
18 Camels,
1 Load of Rockets,
8,000 Cavalry,
2,600 Sepoys.

That Manavar Cawn of Condanole is with him, with
2 Pieces of Cannon,
2 Gunpowder Cheſts,
1 Carriage loaded with Rockets,
200 Foot Men.

That Yellabreddy, Duan of Gadwale Zemindar, is with 300 Foot Men, and 50 or 60 Cavalry with him.

That Monſieur Lally is with him, with 150 Troopers,
200 Soldiers,
300 Topaſſes,
1,200 Sepoys,
5 Pieces of Cannon,
4 Cheſts of Gunpowder,
1 Carriage loaded with Duppies of Gunpowder,
3 Elephants,
4 Colours.

That Davy Chund, the Duan of Bazalet Jung, is halted within a coſs and half of Vinicondah, on the Banks of Gondlacomma River. That he has met with him Ameen Saib Surdar, with 500 Cavalry and 500 Foot Men.

That Rajah Burjanaud, the manager of the Guntoor Country, and Mahomed Huſſein, having paid their viſit to Davy Chund, went down to Chilkaloor Pundoo, and carried Maunaer Vencatakaſinahmah, one of the Zemindars of Guntoor to the ſaid Davy Chund, to pay viſit on the 25th March.

Monſieur Haurnout with 300 Sepoys, 2 guns, 2 ſmall cheſts of gunpowder, 2 tranſport carriages, 10 ſoldiers, and 10 topaſſes, from Monſieur Lally's Army, were come and halted near Potavenam, on their way to Mootapillee, to which place they are going to take the firelocks, cannon, ſhot, and gunpowder, which are lying there.

Extract of a Letter from Preſident and Council at Fort St. George, to John Whitehill, Eſquire, and Council, at Maſulipatam, dated 18th April 1775.

Our Preſident has laid before us ſeveral Letters and papers of intelligence, which he has received from Mr. Whitehill, relative to the late tranſactions in the Guntoor Circar; and as it is highly incumbent on us to keep a watchful eye on both Bazalet Jung and the French, who appear to us to be daily increaſing in ſtrength in that Circar, and as it is neceſſary for us to be furniſhed with every information relative thereto, we direct, that you keep the moſt conſtant attention to both Bazalet Jung and the French, and other Troops that are in his ſervice; and that you gain the cleareſt account poſſible of the nature and quality of ſtores that may arrive at Mootapilly, or other ports upon the coaſts, and of the places they may afterwards be ſent to: You will likewiſe endeavour to find out if Bazalet Jung had any other motives than thoſe of ſettling with the Guntoor Zemindars, for his leaving Adoni and coming to the ſea coaſt.

We are,
Gentlemen,
Your affectionate Friends,
A. Wynch, &c. Council.

Fort St. George, 18th April 1775.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 17th April 1775.

To the Honourable Alex^r Wynch, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir,

Since I had the honour to write you laſt, nothing very material concerning Bazalet Jung's motions has come to my knowledge; he ſtill continues encamped near Toccapilly in the Duopar Country, which is dependant on Cudapa. The Inhabitants of this Country about Adinge, which lies that way, being a good deal alarmed at his neighbourhood, I have, upon the repreſentation of the Renter, ſent a company of Sepoys there, in order to quiet their apprehenſions; but I have not heard of any of his people committing the ſmalleſt irregularities on the borders of this country.

A detachment from his Army under the command of Monſ. Lally, has arrived at Nairpilly and Mootapilly, which lies on the ſea coaſt; they have come at different times, and now amount to at leaſt ſeven or eight hundred men, horſe and foot, and amongſt the former is a good many Europeans. They have had ſixty or ſeventy camels with them, and a number of bullocks, and have already ſent off one convoy of military ſtores from thence, which has not taken the rout to his (Bazalet Jung's) Camp, but is gone to Guntoor or Cundur. Their ſtores have been juſt landed from ſome veſſels lately arrived there, (and two of which are ſtill lying there) and conſiſt of guns, muſquets, ſhot, powder, lead, and iron in bars. I have a particular information of eight guns of a middling ſize, and from 1,000 to 1,500 ſtand of arms, which it is ſuppoſed are immediately to follow what is already ſent off. There are ſome French People ſettled at Nairpilly in a commercial way, who I am told have had a few of theſe ſtores ſome time by them, but the greateſt part have come in their veſſels; I have not been able to learn from whence, but they are navigated moſtly by Europeans, of whom about twenty are landed. Monſ. Lally has his camp and people in good order, and under ſtrict diſcipline, fires his morning and evening gun, and ſeems very jealous of any people ſpying into his tranſactions. It is reported (with what certainty I know not) he, with a conſiderable party, are to remain in the Guntoor Circar.—Bazalet Jung has not yet ſettled with his Zemindars, but it is ſuppoſed will ſoon, and then return home. You may be aſſured of my always communicating cating whatever intelligence I ſhall think worthy of your notice; and that I have the honour to be with the greateſt reſpect,

Honourable Sir,

Ongole, 6th April 1775. Your very devoted and moſt obedient Servant, Alex. Duncan.

If the aforegoing intelligence of the arrival of the military ſtores at Mootapilly, is ſuch as can be depended on, it becomes highly neceſſary for this Government to keep a watchful eye on the motions of Bazalet Jung, who ſeems, by the encouragement he gives the French, and by collecting of ſo large a quantity of ſtores, to have ſomething in agitation which we are ignorant of:—Agreed, That Letters in conſequence, be wrote to the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam, and to Captain Duncan at Ongole, directing them to be attentive to every movement of Bazalet Jung's, and to make us acquainted with every material circumſtance that comes to their knowledge.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 6th May 1775.

PRESENT,

Alex^r Wynch, Eſq. Governor, Preſident, &c.

Came in this day the following Letter from the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam Military department:

To the Honourable Alex^r Wynch, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

Colonel Flint having repreſented to us, that the greater part of the Europeans of the 2d battalion of the 2d brigade, now at Ellore, will have ſerved out their reſpective times by the months of June and July, and that moſt of them are willing to re-inliſt, provided the bounty money is paid them in advance; and having further repreſented, that if they ſhould not be taken in their preſent diſpoſition, it may be apprehended, when the time comes, they will inſiſt on their diſcharge; and that as this will happen at a time when no ſea conveyances can be procured to tranſport them to the Southward, many inconveniencies may attend their being then diſcharged—we think it neceſſary to give you immediate information thereof, and to requeſt your orders upon the occaſion. The ſituation of the French party in the Guntoor Circar, giving us reaſon to apprehend that emiſſaries from thence will be employed to ſeduce our men; and tho' they may not ſucceed at preſent, yet we think it is to be feared the great number of our Soldiers, when diſcharged may be induced to engage themſelves in the ſervice of that party, the ſtrength of which having been lately increaſed from the veſſels which have arrived at Mootapilly, may be made formidable by ſuch an augmentation of trained Soldiers.

We are very reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
John Whitehill,
Charles Devoeux,
James Hodges,
John Sulivan.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 8th May 1775.

PRESENT,

Alex^r Wynch, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident.
Joſeph Smith,
George Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
Samuel Johnſon,
J. M. Stone,
Archd Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

The Preſident acquaints the Board of his having received a Letter from Mr. Whitehill, informing him of intelligence which he had received of a further importation of military ſtores at Mootapilly.

Extract of Proceedings of the Preſident and Council at Fort St. George, in their Military Department, the 25th April 1775.

The Preſident lays before the Board a Letter which he has received from Mr. Whitehill, incloſing one from Mr. Scott, on the ſubject of military ſtores, imported at Mootapilly.

To the Honourable Alexander Wynch, Eſquire, Governor of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir,

Herewith I have the honour to ſend you, copy of a Letter from Mr. Scott to me, giving an account of a further importation of military ſtores at Mootapillee; which intelligence is confirmed by a Letter from Mootapillee to the Company's Interpreter here, tranſlation of which I alſo forward for your information.

I am with reſpect,
Honourable Sir,
Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
John Whitehill.

Maſulipatam, 9th April 1775.

To John Whitehill, Eſquire.

Sir,

I find I have been rather too haſty in propoſing to ſend back the Hircarrahs. I have juſt been informed, That three days ago, two boats went out to ſea from Mootapillee in the morning, and returned in the evening loaded; they did the ſame the next day, and have landed in that manner, two hundred cheſts of arms, and fifty large caſks; likewiſe, four Soldiers came on ſhore with them; there is no veſſel within ſight of land, from which they could bring theſe things, nor could the Hircarrah hear that any had been ſeen off Mootapillee, only ſaw the above-mentioned ſtores when landed. Fifty Coffries and twenty Troopers (who were left by Monſieur Lally) took charge of them, and ſent them away immediately; to what place he does not know.

The Hircarrah I ſent to camp is alſo returned with account that Bazalet Jung is encamped, with eight thouſand Horſe and about three hundred Sepoys, at Doolah, which is thirteen coſs from Inacondah. Manuar Cawn, Nabob of Condanoor, is encamped with him, with three hundred Horſe; they have with them ten guns and ten tumbrils. Divechundah, whom he calls Bazalet Jung's Secretary, has been for ſome time encamped at Tuacondah, with five hundred and fifty Sepoys, and had with him one gun and a tumbril. Monſieur Lally is arrived at the ſame place, with two thouſand Sepoys, three hundred Coffries, and fifty Europeans; he brought with him two braſs guns and ſeven tumbrils. The Hircarrah did not hear that they have any other camp; but as it appears probable to me, from the ſmall number of Europeans that he mentions, that they have one ſomewhere, I intend ſending off Two Hircarrahs immediately, to try if they can find it. He likewiſe mentions, that they are buying up all the bullocks they can get; and that it is reported, that they only ſtay till the village people pay ſome arrears that are due to Bazalet Jung.

I am very reſpectfully,
Sir,
Your moſt obedient, humble Servant,
(Signed) Aud^w Scott.

Allapaure, 18th April 1775.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 16th May 1775.

To the Honourable Alexander Wynch, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir,

I juſt now had accounts brought me, that Bazalet Jung

APPENDIX. No. 67.

Jung had broke up his camp, where he has been for ſome time paſt, and is ſuppoſed to be on his return to his own capital; as he directs his rout towards the Cuddapah and Cummum Countries, by the ſame road which he came.

I have the honour to be; with the greateſt regard,
Honourable Sir,
Your very devoted, and moſt obedient Servant,
Alexander Duncan.

Extract of Fort Saint George Military Conſultations, 29th May 1775.

Preſent, Alexander Wynch, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
Joſeph Smith,
George Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
Samuel Johnſon,
J. M. Stone,
Arch^d Palmer,
Francis Fourdan.
Mr. Mackay indiſpoſed.

Read a Letter from the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam as hereafter:

Military Department.

To the Honourable Alexander Wynch, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, &c. Council, Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

Having in conſequence of your orders of the 18th ultimo, cauſed particular enquiry to be made as to the quantity of military ſtores, and the number of Troops, lately landed at Mootapilly; and having alſo procured an account of the Stores and Troops under the command of Monſ. Lally in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, before this reinforcement; we find that he now has with him,

European Troopers.	Ditto Infantry.	Topaſſes.	Sepoys.	Cheſts of Powder.	Ditto of Flints.	Ditto of Firelocks.	Bags of - - -	Shot.	Large Cannon.	Small Ditto.
150	200	300	1,200	4	—	—	—	—	5	—
—	56	—	—	66	62	91	50	—	4	10
—	13	—	—	125	65	280	—	3,000	5	4
150	269	300	1,200	195	127	371	50	3,000	14	14

And we have received certain information that he is recruiting Seapoys, and has already enliſted 150 of a new battalion, which it is ſaid he propoſes to train.

Upon the above information we make no doubt your Honour, &c. will think the ſituation and ſtrength of this party deſerving your particular notice, and that you will excuſe us the liberty of offering our ſentiments upon a ſubject, which may particularly concern that part of the Company's affairs which you have been pleaſed to entruſt to our management. For, however ſecure the preſent ſtate of India may make us in our poſſeſſions here, and however little we may have to apprehend from a country Enemy; yet, ſeparated by the Kiſtna from the Carnatic, and having ſuch a party as that now under Monſ. Lally to diſpute our communication, we cannot help thinking, that upon the firſt miſunderſtanding with the French Nation, we may be made to feel in its full extent, the inconveniencies of the ſtation which this party now holds. For as their preſent numbers are nearly equal to our eſtabliſhment, and as ſmall reinforcements may be eaſily ſent them by the Port of Mootapilly, they may in a ſhort time be put in a condition to diſturb us; and having it in their power at any time to poſſeſs themſelves of the Nizampatam Circar, and having the Zemindars of Nandigamah, Bezwara, part of Nozeed Devra Cotah, and the iſland of Devy, open to their depredations, we think it cannot be doubted but that our revenue would be materially and immediately affected by their firſt meaſures, and we be prevented thereby from ſending thoſe ſupplies of money to your Honour, &c. which theſe Circars now afford, and which in time of war may be of eſſential conſequence to the public ſervice. And our apprehenſions upon this occaſion are increaſed by the number of Europeans which have been this year landed at Mootapilly, 55 private and one officer having come up with one Ruſſell; a circumſtance which we think too ſtrongly proves, that the countenance of the French Government is given to this party, and of courſe makes it more particularly neceſſary that we ſhould take meaſures in time to counteract them; for if they ſhould be ſuffered to remain, and to ſtrengthen themſelves in the Guntoor Circar, we are of opinion they will thereby obtain an eſtabliſhment the moſt advantageous on the coaſt, not only for affecting the Revenue of theſe Circars, but for uniting with the Country Powers, for fitting out their artillery and for laying up granaries, beſides the opportunity of levying contributions from the Guntoor Country, from Nizampatam, Ongole and the Palnaud, and for receiving ſuch aſſiſtance as Hyder Ally, Bazalet Jung, or any other Country Power may be diſpoſed to give them.

Having expreſſed the grounds of our apprehenſion, we think it our duty to add, that nothing leſs than the abſolute poſſeſſion of that part of the Guntoor Circar, in which Mootapilly and the villages now held by the French, are ſituated, can give us ſufficient ſecurity againſt the intentions of the French. And we therefore beg leave to ſubmit to your Honour, &c. if, for reaſons which we cannot be acquainted with, you ſhould not think it proper to inſiſt upon the diſmiſſion of theſe French Troops, or the immediate ceſſion, for an adequate conſideration of a Circar, which is in reverſion to the Company, it would not be expedient to require, that Mootapilly and the other villages held by the French, be now given to the Company at a reſerved rent by Bazalet Jung during his life.

If Bazalet Jung ſhould refuſe to comply with ſuch a deſire, we think no ſtronger preſumption need be required, either of the deſigns of the French and the influence of their councils over him, or of his intention. And we ſubmit to your Honour, &c. better judgment, whether in ſuch a caſe it would not be better to deprive them of the means of giving us diſturbances, while we are in a general peace, than to defer it, till their increaſed ſtrength and other circumſtances may endanger the Company's right to ſo valuable a country as the Guntoor Circar, and now compel us to act upon the defenſive for the protection of thoſe now in our poſſeſſion.

We, are, Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
John Whitehill,
Charles Defoeux,
John Sulivan.

Maſulipatam,
20th May 1775.

Reſolved,

Reſolved, That the conſideration of the above Letter be deferred till a ſubſequent Conſultation.

A. Wynch,
Geo. Dawſon,
Hy. Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan.

Extract of ſeparate Letter from the Preſident and Council at Fort St. George to the Court of Directors, dated the 4th July 1775.

Par. 8. Having lately received information from the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam, of the particulars of the ſuccours of men and ſtores imported at Mootapilly for the uſe of Bazalet Jung, Brother to Nizam ul Mulck, within the courſe of a few months, we deemed it adviſable to communicate the ſame to the Governor General and Council, and at the ſame time to make known to them our apprehenſions, in caſe of a rupture with France; and that Bazalet Jung ſhould not be prevented from collecting ſuch vaſt quantities of military ſtores, and ſuch formidable numbers of French, and other Foreigners, as he is daily enliſting into his Service.

Par. 9. In the 2d Article of the Treaty afore-mentioned, entered into in 1768 with Nizam Ally Cawn, your Honours will be pleaſed to obſerve, that the Circar of Murtazanagur or Guntoor, is guaranteed to Bazalet Jung, on certain conditions, during his life-time, and at his deceaſe, or infraction of the terms agreed upon, that the property of it reverts to the Company.

Par. 10. Were we convinced that Bazalet Jung had in the leaſt manner infringed the terms on which he holds poſſeſſion of the Circar, we could, with the greateſt propriety, not only call him to a ſevere account for the ſame, but, according to the tenor of the agreement, diſpoſſeſs him of a Country, which he is no longer maſter of than while he adheres to the points ſtipulated in the Treaty aforeſaid. But, while no ſuch matter has come to our knowledge, and his conduct is, as far as we are acquainted with, conformable to the line laid down for his actions, we ſee not how we can, with any degree of propriety, prevent the great and increaſing evil of the French ſettling in his dominions. On this ſubject we have written particularly to the Governor General and Council, and have at the ſame time given it as our opinion, that the only modes which are left for obviating the danger to be apprehended, are, to endeavour, if poſſible, to prevail upon Bazalet Jung to give up the Port of Mootapilly, at which place all his ſuccours are imported, for an adequate acknowledgment; or, if practicable, the whole Circar on the like terms; or that he will admit of its being protected for him by the Company, he being at the expence of the force employed on that ſervice.

Extract of ſeparate Letter from the Preſident and Council at Fort St. George, to the Court of Directors, dated 14th October 1775.

Par. 2. In conſequence of the alarm which the eſtabliſhment of the French in the Murtanazagur Circar had given us, and of the real neceſſity there was to diſpoſſeſs them of that Eſtabliſhment, we wrote to the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam; directing them, if the opportunity was favourable, and they were of opinion they ſhould ſucceed, to endeavour to obtain from Bazalet Jung, Mootapillee, and the other villages granted to the foreign party in his ſervice, or, if practicable, the whole Guntoor Circar, at a certain reſerved rent to him, which ſhould be mutually agreed upon for that purpoſe.

Par. 3. In reply to which, we were given to underſtand by the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam, that they did not think any endeavours they could make uſe of would be ſufficient to induce Bazalet Jung to give to the Company the whole, or any part, of the Guntoor Circar, at rent, even though their offers ſhould be as much more conſiderable as their credit would be preferable to that of any other propoſer; for that Bazalet Jung had acquired a degree of confidence from the conſiderable ſupplies of men and ſtores he had received; and that thoſe ſupplies would, no doubt, be uſed to oppoſe a meaſure ſo much calculated to deprive him of the advantages of their ſupport.

Par. 4. On receipt of this Letter, therefore, from the Chief and the Council at Maſulipatam, and ſeeing that the conjunction of affairs was unfavourable, we came to the reſolution not to perſevere in the attempt to get poſſeſſion of Mootapillee, and the other villages, or of the whole of the Circar, until time and circumſtances ſhould ſecure to us a probability of ſucceſs.

Par. 5. Not many days after our having come to the above Reſolution, we received a Letter from the Governor General and Council, in anſwer to one we had written them on the ſubject, wherein they inform us of their having come to the reſolution, that no time was to be loſt in endeavouring to remove the French from the Guntoor Circar; authoriſing us immediately to take ſuch ſteps as might be neceſſary for that purpoſe; and recommending to us to form a body of Troops, if poſſible, in conjunction with the Nabob, and march them to the frontiers of the territory of Bazalet Jung. At which time they deſire we would acquaint him, that ſeeing he had applied for the aſſiſtance of foreign Troops, thoſe of the Company were come to him for that purpoſe, as well as to ſecure the reverſion of the Circar to them; that we therefore inſiſted upon the immediate diſcharge of all Foreigners from his ſervice; in failure of which, that our Troops ſhould take poſſeſſion of his country, and that we would endeavour, by a negociation with the Nizam, either by the offer of the whole Revenues, or otherwiſe, to obtain the immediate ceſſion of it to the Company.

Par. 6. Authorized in this manner to take vigorous meaſures for the expulſion of the French, we could not but deem it expedient to have matters in a proper train of preparation, ſhould it be at length found neceſſary to uſe forcible means; and we accordingly directed General Smith to prepare and lay before us an account of the Troops and Stores which would be required for that purpoſe.

Par. 7. We found it, however, impoſſible immediately to come to a determinate reſolution on the meaſures which the Governor General and Council had given us their ſanction to purſue, as they, not only in their immediate, but in their conſequential effects, were likely to be of the moſt ſerious nature, both to the intereſts of the Company, and the future tranquillity of their poſſeſſions and the Carnatic.

Par. 8. From the general poſture of affairs, both in the Decan and in the Carnatic, we could not but be of opinion, that the applying immediately to Bazalet Jung to diſmiſs the foreign party his ſervice, and to truſt to the Company for the protection of his country, or to rent to them the whole, or a part of the Guntoor Circar, would be the moſt effectual methods to render him ſtill more deſirous of the aſſiſtance of his European Troops, and probably to call to his aid, by raiſing his fears, the further ſuccour of a body of mercenaries, poſſibly of the Marattas, or of Hyder Ally Cawn.

Par. 9. Moreover, we could not conceive ourſelves, agreeably to the ſpirit and tenor of the Treaty of 1768, authorized to negociate with Bazalet Jung as principal, while in reality he could be conſidered in no other light than that of a dependant upon the Soubah, poſſeſſing a country at his pleaſure, or at the will of this Government, who, on the infraction of certain conditions ſpecified in the Treaty on his part, have an abſolute right to take poſſeſſion of it immediately.

Par. 10. Bazalet Jung, it could not be conceived, would part with a country which yields him ſuch ample Revenues, and which is ſo commodiouſly ſituated as not only to render him of conſequence on the Sea Coaſt, but like-wiſe of conſideration in his interior Dominions of Adoni; which, unleſs ſupplied with military ſuocours by the Port of Mootapillee, would not be in that defenſive ſtate in which it is now repreſented.

APPENDIX. No. 68.

Par. 11. Negociation, could it be carried on with propriety, which we do not think it could, would never effectuate the neceſſary purpoſes with Bazalet Jung; and therefore it was evident to us, as well from the foregoing reaſons, as from the jealouſy ſubſiſting between him and his brother, Nizam Ally Cawn, that nothing leſs than forcible meaſures would induce him to part with the Guntoor Circar, which, in his eſtimation, muſt be deemed a poſſeſſion of too material conſequence to admit of its being wreſted from him tamely.

Par. 12. And further, on adverting to the Treaty of 1768, we could not but be of opinion, that if we were directly to apply to Bazalet Jung, we ſhould, by ſuch a ſtep, give the Soubah the moſt alarming jealouſy; which, for every political conſideration, we ſhould avoid.

Par. 13. The Soubah muſt certainly conſider himſelf as having very material intereſt in the Guntoor Circar; for it is pointedly ſtipulated in the Treaty of 1768, that whenever it ſhall be his pleaſure ſo to do, he may diſpoſe of it from his brother to the Company. And for us to take meaſures for the getting poſſeſſion of that Circar without his acquieſcence, or without the terms of the Treaty being infringed by Bazalet Jung, which could alone authorize ſuch a ſtep, would be the moſt effectual means of ſtriking at the root of that friendſhip and connection which it is ſo much the intereſt of the Company to preſerve inviolate.

Par. 14. For us likewiſe to offer to protect the Guntoor Circar for Bazalet Jung, in ſo ſhort a time after we had poſitively refuſed the Soubah the aid which by Treaty we were bound to furniſh him, would be to convince him to a certainty that he never was to rely upon the faith of the Engliſh, while an adherence to their engagements could in the leaſt affect their own convenience, or the general ſyſtem of their affairs. Whereas, in a negociation with the Soubah, as principal, we might eaſily convince him of the propriety of the one and the impropriety of the other; the difference between detaching a ſmall body of Troops, at an unfavourable ſeaſon of the year, into diſtant provinces, and that of raiſing and placing a body of Troops in a country, which in ſo ſhort a time is to revert to the Company for ever.

Par. 15. In ſhort, after the moſt mature deliberation on the neceſſity of preventing the eſtabliſhment of Europeans in the Guntoor Circar, as well as on the meaſures which we had the ſatisfaction of the Governor General and Council to adopt, we could not but be of opinion, that the writing to Bazalet Jung, or the entering upon any kind of negociation with him, without the concurrence of the Soubah, would be to raiſe up more difficulties towards the accompliſhment of our ends than would be found an eaſy matter for us to overcome; and we therefore reſolve to commence a negociation, by Letter, with the Soubah.

Par. 16. Accordingly a Letter was prepared to the Soubah, ſtating to him our reaſons for wiſhing to diſpoſſeſs the French of their eſtabliſhment in the Guntoor Circar, and deſiring his acquieſcence in our inſiſting upon the compliance of Bazalet Jung; to the one or the other of the hereafter-mentioned propoſitions, viz.

Firſt, Either to let to the Company, at an annual rent, previouſly to be agreed upon, the whole of the Guntoor Circar; or,

Secondly, To diſmiſs the Europeans his ſervice, and truſt to the Engliſh for the protection of a country which in reality is their own, though conditionally veſted in him. And in the mean time, we have directed the Troops ſtationed in the Circars dependent upon Maſulipatam to be held in readineſs to march.

Par. 17. Having in this manner, and for the reaſons we have given, determined to apply immediately to the Soubah, we deemed it of conſequence that the Nabob ſhould be previouſly acquainted of the line we meant to take, and that he ſhould be requeſted to give us freely his ſentiments thereon, in order that nothing of moment, which, in its moſt diſtant conſequences, could affect the tranquillity of the Carnatic, ſhould be undertaken without his knowledge and opinion.

Par. 18. Accordingly, we received a Letter from the Nabob, wherein he ſtates to us at large his ſentiments with reſpect to the meaſure, and the objections which he has to a Letter being ſent to the Soubah, whom he declares expreſsly to be no well-wiſher to the Engliſh: but as thoſe objections, and the arguments which are adduced in ſupport of them, did not appear to us in the alarming light in which they are repreſented, we adhered to our firſt determination, and in conſequence diſpatched the Letter to the Soubah at Aurengabad.

Par. 19. As it was however more than probable that Bazalet Jung would in the mean time endeavour to ſtrengthen himſelf by his European connections, unleſs ſome effectual ſtop was put to it, we came to the reſolution of ordering two companies of Sepoys to Vantepollum, a village belonging to the Company, and adjoining to Mootapillee; at which place they have ſince been ſtationed, with directions to the officer commanding, to prevent the paſſing of any ſuccours of men and military ſtores that may be landed at Mootapillee for the reinforcement of Bazalet Jung; at the ſame time that he is to inform them, they have permiſſion to embark again themſelves, or re-ſhip the ſtores, ſhould they be ſo inclined, after being made acquainted with his orders.

Par. 20. Since the writing of the Letter to the Soubah, and the iſſuing of directions to the Troops in the Circars, in the manner aforegoing, our Preſident has received a Letter from Mr. Whitehill, Chief of Maſulipatam, wherein he informs him, that ſince the forwarding of the Letter to the Soubah about the Guntoor Circar, he has received ſuch aſſurances of the diſpoſition of the Soubah's Court to improve its connection with the Company, that he is fully convinced a deputation would be well received by that Prince, and that more good conſequences would reſult from a perſonal negociation, than from any other that could be ſet on foot.

Par. 21. Knowing the general principle of Aſiatics, and that unleſs from neceſſity, or to carry ſome private point, the truth is ſeldom ever communicated by Letter, we readily concur with the Chief of Maſulipatam, in the opinion, that the Soubah's reply to the propoſitions lately put to him about the Guntoor Circar, may be indefinite and unſatisfactory; but, as we have reaſon ſhortly to expect anſwers both from him and from the Governor General and Council, on the ſame ſubject, we have thought it expedient to defer coming to any new reſolution till we receive them; at which time, if it ſhall appear that the Soubah writes in vague or general terms on a matter which has been ſo ſeriouſly recommended to his conſideration, or that he ſhould expreſs an inclination, that a perſonal negociation ſhould be ſet on foot, and that the ſame ſhould meet with the approbation of the Gentlemen at Bengal, and that we ſhould think it for the benefit of your affairs, we mean to depute ſome perſon to him properly authorized, to treat on thoſe points already ſubmitted to his attention.

Par. 22. The Soubah's dominions are a natural barrier to the Company's Northern territories; and there is no doubt, but if ſupported by the countenance and protection of the Engliſh, he would be in a great degree enabled, under their ſanction, to ſecure the tranquillity of thoſe parts.

APPENDIX, No. 68.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 5th June 1775.

GENERAL Letter from Maſulipatam, of the 20th ultimo, which was ordered to lie on the table, being now taken into conſideration;

It is agreed, that though a great deal of trouble may be apprehended from the French in caſe of a rupture with that nation, and that Bazalet Jung ſhould ſtill perſevere in augmenting of his forces with them; yet, as he has not in any reſpect, that the Board are acquainted with, infringed the terms on which he holds poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, they cannot, with any degree of propriety, either inſiſt on the diſmiſſion of the French, or on the ceſſion of Mootapillee, and the other villages poſſeſſed by them. Reſolved therefore, That the Chief and Council be made acquainted with the aforegoing, and that they be directed, if the opportunity ſhould be favourable, and they are of opinion they may ſucceed, to endeavour at obtaining from Bazalet Jung, Mootapillee, and the other villages, or, if practicable, the whole Circar, at a certain reſerved rent to him, which ſhall be mutually agreed upon for that purpoſe. Reſolved likewiſe, That Copies of the Letters from and to the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam, be ſent to the Governor General and Council at Bengal, together with the ſentiments of the Board in full on that ſubject.

A. Wynch,
Geo. Dawſon,
Henry Brooke.
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 13th June 1775.

Conformable to the Minutes of Conſultation, the following Letter was diſpatched to the Governor General and Council:

To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Eſquire, Governor General, &c. Council, at Fort William.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have had the honour to receive your Letter of the 1ſt ultimo, and ſhall ſhortly conform to what you recommend.

Accompanying this, we have the honour to tranſmit you copies of a Letter from the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam, and of our Letter in reply thereto; both of which we requeſt your particular attention to. On reference to the ſecond article of the Treaty of Alliance entered into between this Government and Nizam Ul Mulk, in 1768, your Honour, &c. will pleaſed to be obſerve, that the Circar of Murtazanagur was to be held by Bazalet Jung, brother to the Soubah, on certain conditions during his life-time, and at his deceaſe, or infraction of the terms agreed upon, that the property of it reverts to the Company. For many years paſt Bazalet Jung, by reaſon of the jealouſy and ill-will ſubſiſting between him and his brother, as well as from the ſituation of his country, greatly expoſed to the incurſions and depredations of the neighbouring Powers, has conſtantly kept up a kind of regular military force, conſiſting of Natives, and a few Foreigners, moſt of them French. The encouragement he hath openly given to Foreigners has been frequently under the conſideration of this Government; but we did not ſee how we could, conſiſtently with the articles of the Treaty, take any meaſures to put a ſtop to ſuch practice, ſo long as he obſerved the conditions of the ſaid Treaty.—The conſiderable ſupply of men and military ſtores which Bazalet Jung has of late received from the French, has induced us to pay more particular attention to his motions, and was the cauſe of the above-mentioned Letter from Maſulipatam; and it therefore becomes not only a matter of good policy, but, conſidering our reverſionary right to the Muſtazanagur Circar, of evident neceſſity, to prevent, if in our power, ſuch a practice from being continued. Bazalet Jung not having infringed the terms agreed upon in the Treaty of Alliance afore-mentioned, it does not ſeem conſiſtent with the Articles of Agreement to diſpoſſeſs him of his country, or to inſiſt upon the diſmiſſion of thoſe European Troops, whom, he will ſay, he is under the neceſſity of employing for the protection of himſelf and dominions. The only mode, therefore, which occurs to us, for obviating the danger to be apprehended, is, to endeavour, if poſſible, to prevail upon Bazalet Jung to give up the Port of Mootapilly, at which place all his ſuccours are imported, for an adequate acknowledgement; or, if practicable, the whole Circar upon the ſame terms; or that he will admit of its being protected for him by the Company, he being at the expence of the force employed on that ſervice. We much doubt whether he will be brought to conſent to any of the above propoſitions; but, as the evil conſequences to be apprehended, ſhould he, as heretofore, continue increaſing his force, and ſhould he by ſuch means give the French a permanent footing in the Circar, are too evident to be pointed out; we have thought it expedient to recommend the conſideration of this ſubject to your Honour, &c.

(Signed) A. Wynch, &c. Council.

Extract of Fort Saint George Military Conſultations, the 13th June 1775.

Diſpatched the following Letter to the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam:

To John Whitehill, Eſquire, Chief, &c. Council at Maſulipatam.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letter of the 20th ultimo, and have particularly attended to the reaſon which you advance in ſupport of the meaſures propoſed by you, of either inſiſting upon the diſmiſſion of the French from the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, or the immediate ceſſion of Mootapilly, and the other villages held by the French, to the Company, at a reſerved rent to Bazalet Jung himſelf, during his life-time. There is, no doubt, a great degree of trouble to be apprehended from the French, in caſe of a rupture with that nation, and that Bazalet Jung ſhould ſtill perſevere in augmenting his force with them; yet, as he has not, in any reſpect that we are acquainted with, infringed the terms on which he holds poſſeſſion of the Circar, we cannot, with any degree of propriety, either inſiſt on the diſmiſſion of the French, or on the ceſſion of Mootapilly, and the other villages poſſeſſed by them; and therefore, at preſent, have only to deſire that you will, if the opportunity ſhould be favourable, and you are of opinion you may ſucceed, endeavour to obtain from Bazalet Jung, Mootapilly, and the other villages; or, if practicable, the whole Guntoor Circar, at a certain reſerved rent to him, which ſhall be mutually agreed upon for that purpoſe; previouſly adviſing us of what you may propoſe to do, and what proſpect you may have of ſucceeding.

A. Wynch, &c. Council.

APPENDIX, No. 69.

Extract of Fort Saint George Military Conſultations, the 31ſt July 1775.

PRESENT,

Alexander Wynch, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
Joſeph Smith,
George Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
Samuel Johnſon,
John M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Geo. Mackay.
Mr. Jourdan indiſpoſed.

READ Letter from the Governor and Council at Fort William:

To

APPENDIX. No. 71.

To the Honourable Alexander Wynch, Esq. President, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Gentlemen,

We are favoured with your Letter of the 13th ultimo, transmitting us inclosed a copy of a Letter to you from the Chief and Council at Masulipatam, with your sentiments at large on the intelligence which that contains, and your Answer, in consequence, to the Chief and Council at Masulipatam.

After weighing maturely the subject of the advices, we have come to a resolution, that no time is to be lost in endeavouring to remove the French from the Guntoor Circar. It is manifest to us, that the number of Foreigners entertained there by Bazalet Jung, and the considerable supply of Troops, Cannon, and Ammunition lately sent there, are in consequence of a concerted scheme with the French to secure to them the possession of that province, and to put them in a condition to attack our possessions in those parts with advantage on the first favourable opportunity: at all events, we deem it highly impolitic to leave the French in possession of the port of Mootapilly, which affords them so free and easy a communication with those Country Powers who may be supposed to entertain the greatest jealousy of the growing influence of the British Nation; we mean Nizam Ul Mulk, Hyder Ally, and the Marattas. For these reasons, and seeing that we have the sanction of a reversionary right for interfering to secure the independency of that district, we authorize you immediately to take such steps as may be necessary for that effect; and recommend, that you form a body of Troops, if possible, in conjunction with the Nabob of Arcot, and march them immediately to the frontiers of the territory of Bazalet Jung. You will then acquaint him, that seeing he has applied for the assistance of Foreign Troops, those of the Company are come to him for that purpose, as well as to secure the reversion of that Circar to them; that you insist upon the immediate discharge of all Foreigners from his service, in failure of which, you will signify to him, that your Troops will take possession of his country, and that you will endeavour, by a negociation with the Nizam, either by the offer of the whole Revenues, or otherwise, to obtain the immediate cession of it to the Company.

This is the measure which suggests to us at present as the most expedient in this affair; we do not mean expressly to direct it, but only to give a sanction to your undertaking it, supposing you should think it advisable, considering the general posture of affairs in the Carnatic.

We are, Gentlemen,
Your most obedient humble Servants,

Warren Hastings,
J. Clavering,
Geo. Monson,
Richd Barwell,
P. Francis.

Fort William,
5th July 1775.

As the measures authorized by the Governor General and Council to be pursued relative to the Guntoor Circar, are not only in their immediate, but in their consequential effects, likely to be of the most serious nature to both the interests of the Company, and the future tranquillity of their possessions, and the Carnatic; it is resolved, That they be taken into the most mature deliberation at a subsequent Consultation, when the Board will have more fully considered the subject.

Alexr Wynch,
Geo. Dawson,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

APPENDIX, No. 70.

Extract Fort Saint George Military Consultations, the 7th August 1775.

PRESENT,

Alexander Wynch, Esq. Governor, President,
Joseph Smith,
George Dawson,
Henry Brooke,
Samuel Johnson,
John M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Franc's Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

ALTHOUGH the Board have not had sufficient time to consider, in the necessary manner, the late measures recommended to be adopted with respect to the Guntoor Circar, by the Governor General and Council, yet cannot but deem it expedient, that matters should be in a proper train of preparation, in case their resolution should be to take possession of it, if Bazalet Jung should not acquiesce in the terms that shall be proposed to him; and they accordingly direct, that General Smith do prepare, and lay before them at the next Consultation, an account of the number of men and quantities of stores that may appear to him requisite for that purpose.

A. Wynch,
Geo. Dawson,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archd Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

APPENDIX, No. 71.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Consultations, the 14th August 1775.

Alexander Wynch, Esquire, Governor, President,
Joseph Smith,
George Dawson,
Henry Brooke,
Samuel Johnson,
John M. Stone,
Archd Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

IN consequence of the directions of the Board, that General Smith should prepare an account of the Troops necessary to take possession of the Guntoor Circar by force, should such a measure be at length determined on; he now lays before them an account of such as he deems absolutely necessary for that purpose.

List of the Troops:

Artillery Men, 60.
2d Battalion of the 2d Brigade, 290.
5 Circar Battalion of Sepoys.
3 Companies of Sepoys from the Battalion stationed at Masulipatam, two of whom to be Grenadiers:
And 2 Companies of Grenadiers of the 6th Circar Battalion of Sepoys.

J. Smith, B. G.

The Board being now informed by General Smith of the force which will be required, should it be at length determined on to take possession of the Guntoor Circar; and the same being such as can be collected with the greatest ease and expedition, it is agreed, That the measures meaſures recommended by the Governor General and Council, relative to the Guntoor Circar, be at once ſeriouſly taken into conſideration. From the general poſture of affairs, both in the Decan and in the Carnatic, the Board cannot but be of opinion, that the applying immediately to Bazalet Jung to diſmiſs the Foreigners whom he has employed in his ſervice, and to truſt to the Company for the protection of his country, or to rent to him the whole or a part of the Circar, would be the moſt effectual methods to render him ſtill more deſirous of the aſſiſtance of his European Troops, and probably to call in to his aid the further aſſiſtance of a body of mercenaries, poſſibly of the Marattas or of Hyder Ally Cawn: And moreover, the Board cannot conceive themſelves, agreeably to the ſpirit and tenor of the Treaty of 1768, authorized to negociate with Bazalet Jung as principal, while in reality he can be conſidered in no other light than that of a dependant upon the Soubah, poſſeſſing a country at his pleaſure or at the will of this Government, who, on the infraction of certain conditions, ſpecified in the Treaty on his part, have an abſolute right to take poſſeſſion of it immediately. Bazalet Jung, it cannot be ſuppoſed, would part with a country which yields him ſuch ample Revenues, and which is ſo commodiouſly ſituated, as not only to render him of conſequence on the ſea-coaſt, but likewiſe of conſideration in his interior dominions of Adoni; which, unleſs ſupplied with military ſuccours by the port of Mootapilly, would be in a much leſs defenſive ſtate than it really is. Negociation, could it be carried on with propriety, would never effectuate the neceſſary purpoſes with Bazalet Jung; and therefore it is evident to the Board, that as well from the aforegoing reaſons, as from the jealouſy ſubſiſting between him and his brother, that nothing leſs than forcible meaſures would ever induce him to part with the Guntoor Circar, which he muſt look upon as a poſſeſſion of too material conſequence to let it be wreſted from him tamely. And further, the Board, adverting to the Treaty of 1768, cannot but be of opinion, that if they were directly to apply to Bazalet Jung, they ſhould, by ſuch a ſtep, give the Soubah the moſt alarming jealouſy, which for every political conſideration they ſhould avoid. The Soubah muſt certainly conſider himſelf as having very material intereſt in the Guntoor Circar; for it is even ſtipulated in the Treaty of 1768, that when it ſhall be his pleaſure ſo to do, he may diſpoſe of it from his brother to the Company: and for this Government to take meaſures for the getting poſſeſſion of it without his acquieſcence, which they have no juſt right to do, while the terms are not infringed, and until the time of which infringement, the power of diſpoſal is abſolutely veſted in him, would be the moſt effectual means of ſtriking at the root of the friendſhip and connection which it is ſo much the intereſt of the Company to preſerve inviolable. The Board likewiſe offering to protect the Guntoor Circar for Bazalet Jung in ſo ſhort a time after they had ſo poſitively refuſed the aid which by Treaty they were bound to furniſh the Soubah with, would be to convince him to a certainty, that he never was to rely upon the faith of the Engliſh, while an adherence to their engagements could in the leaſt affect their own convenience, or the general ſyſtem of their affairs. Whereas, in a negociation with him as a principal, they might eaſily convince him of the propriety of one and of the impropriety of the other; the difference between detaching a ſmall body of Troops at an unfavourable ſeaſon of the year into diſtant provinces, and that of raiſing and placing a body of Troops in a country, which in a ſhort time is to revert to them for ever. In ſhort, the Board, after the moſt mature deliberation on the neceſſity of preventing the eſtabliſhment of Europeans in the Guntoor Circars, as well as on the meaſures which they have the ſanction of the Governor General and Council to adopt, cannot but be of opinion that the writing to Bazalet Jung, or the entering upon any kind of negociation with him without the concurrence of the Soubah, would be to raiſe up more difficulties towards the accompliſhment of their ends, than would be found an eaſy matter to overcome; and therefore the Preſident puts the following queſtion:

Queſt. Whether a negociation ſhall be carried on with the Soubah, to endeavour to obtain his conſent to oblige Bazalet Jung to accede to one of the hereafter-mentioned propoſitions? viz.

Firſt, Either to diſmiſs the Europeans his ſervice, and truſt to the Engliſh for the protection of a country, which in reality is their own, though conditionally veſted in him; or Secondly, To let to them, at an annual rent, previouſly to be agreed upon, the whole of the Guntoor Circar.

Agreed to unanimouſly: and

Reſolved in conſequence, that a Letter be prepared to the Soubah to the aforegoing effect; and another to the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam, directing them to order Colonel Flint to hold himſelf in readineſs to march at a moment's warning, with the Troops which are to be collected in the Circars dependant on Maſulipatam. As it is, however, of conſequence, that the Nabob ſhould be made acquainted with theſe matters, previous to their being carried into execution, it is reſolved, That the Preſident do inform him fully of them, and requeſt his ſentiments thereon, in order that nothing of moment, which can in its moſt diſtant conſequences affect the tranquillity of the Carnatic, be undertaken without his knowledge and opinion with reſpect to its propriety.

The Preſident lays before the Board, Extract of a Letter from Mr. Whitehill, Chief of Maſulipatam, as entered hereafter:

Nizam Ally is ſaid to be jealous of the correſpondence which Bazalet Jung ſeems to be engaging in with Hyder and the French; and, I am informed, ſeriouſly reſents his having received ſo many Troops and Stores from the latter; which I credit, from a paragraph in one of Fazel Beg's Letters, in which he ſays, if the Company will ſend a party of Troops to the Soubah, I will engage to put them in poſſeſſion of Guntoor in one year after the arrival of their Troops at the Soubah's camp.

Reſolved likewiſe, That a Letter be wrote to the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam, directing them to order two companies of Sepoys to Vantepolliam, under the command of a prudent European Officer, and there to ſtation them till further orders. Vantepollam being ſo nearly ſituated to Mootapilly, the ſtationing of two companies of Sepoys at that place will be the moſt immediate hindrance that can be given to the importation of military ſuccours to Bazalet Jung; and the Gentlemen at Maſulipatam are therefore to direct the Officer whom they may nominate to command the party, to ſtop any military ſtores or Europeans that may be landed at Mootapilly, and there to detain them until he ſhall receive the neceſſary directions for their diſpoſal. Eſpecial caution muſt, however, be given to him, that he, upon no account whatever, make known to any one the nature of the ſervice he is ſo ſent upon, unleſs neceſſity ſhall render it expedient for him to divulge it.

A' Wynch,
Geo. Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Arch' Palmer,
Fran' Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

APPENDIX. No. 72.

APPENDIX, No. 72.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 21ſt Auguſt 1775.

PRESENT,

Alex^r Wynch, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
Joſeph Smith,
George Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
Sam^l Johnſon,
John M. Stone,
Arch^d Palmer,
Fran^s Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

READ Letter which was diſpatched the 19th inſtant to the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam:

To John Whitehill, Eſq. Chief, &c. Council, at Maſulipatam.

Gentlemen,

On receipt hereof you will be pleaſed to order two companies of the battalion of Sepoys, at preſent garriſoning Maſulipatam, to Vantepollam, under the command of a prudent European Officer:—And you are to direct him to ſtop any military ſtores or Europeans that may be landed at the port of Mootapilly, and to detain them there until he ſhall have received further orders, taking eſpecial care at the ſame time, that the nature of the ſervice he is ſo ſent upon be not known to any one, unleſs neceſſity ſhall render it neceſſary for him to divulge it: and further, you are to acquaint him, that he is immediately to adviſe both you and us of the number and quantity of Men and Stores he ſhall ſo detain, in order that the neceſſary directions may be given for the diſpoſal of them.

We are, Gentlemen,

Fort St. George, 19th Auguſt 1775. Your affectionate Friends, A. Wynch, &c. Council.

The Preſident acquaints the Board, that in conſequence of the conference which he had with the Nabob, on the meaſures propoſed to be purſued with reſpect to the Guntoor Circar, and wherein the Nabob promiſed to give him his ſentiments candidly and ſincerely, and that he this morning waited on him (Monday 21ſt Auguſt 1775) and found him far from well, though on the recovery.

He aſked him for his opinion on what he ſpoke to him laſt week, our reſolution of writing to the Soubah. He pointed to his head, and ſaid he was not in a condition to ſpeak to it now. The Preſident replied, that at preſent nothing more was intended than to ſend a Letter to him; and aſked if he thought the Carnatic could be affected by it? He anſwered as before; and added, The pen being once made uſe of, there was no retracting.—He appearing ill, the Preſident took his leave of him.

A^r Wynch,
Geo. Dawſon,
Hen^y Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Arch^d Palmer,
Fran^s Jourdan.

Extract of Fort Saint George Military Conſultations, the 28th Auguſt 1775.

PRESENT,

Alexander Wynch, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
Joſeph Smith,
Geo. Dawſon,
H^y Brooke,
Sam^l Johnſon,
J^n M. Stone,
Arch^d Palmer,
Fran^s Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Read Letter from the Nabob, as entered in Co. Cor. No. 98, containing his ſentiments in full on the meaſures propoſed with reſpect to Bazalet Jung, and the Guntoor Circar.—Does not approve of the ſending a Letter immediately to the Soubah; declares him to be no Friend to the Engliſh, whoſe growing influence he is jealous of; and offers it as his advice, that application ſhould be firſt made to Bazalet Jung, unto whom, with the concurrence of the Board, he will ſend a Vakeel for that purpoſe.

Although the Nabob has in the aforegoing Letter uſed many arguments in ſupport of his advice of negociating through his means with Bazalet Jung, and, in conſequence, many objections to the meaſures propoſed to be adopted by the Board; yet, as they cannot conceive matters in the ſame alarming light in which they are repreſented; it is reſolved, to adhere to the firſt determination, and to make direct application to the Soubah by Letter.—That the Nabob ſhould not, however, have the leaſt colour of pretence for complaint, in acting thus oppoſite to his opinion; it is ordered, That the Tranſlator do wait upon him with copy of the Letter to the Soubah, and that he do, in the moſt particular manner, explain to him the contents, in order that he may point out to the Board any material objections which may occur to him on the ſubject. Reſolved, in conſequence, that the Letter to the Soubah be not diſpatched till Wedneſday next; when it is agreed to meet, and finally conclude this ſubject.

A^r Wynch,
Geo. Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan.

Extract from Fort St. George Country Correſpondence.

From the Nabob, - Dated - 27 / Received 28 } Auguſt 1775.

No. 98. The Paper I here, in a public manner, incloſe to you, contains my opinion for the preſent, on the affair of Bazalet Jung, that is, ſo far as you have explained it to me.—I requeſt, as a favour, that whatſoever you ſhall think fit to do in the preſent circumſtances, you will pleaſe to acquaint me with it particularly. What ſhall I ſay more?

From the commencement of my eſtabliſhed friendſhip with the King and Company, and Engliſh Nation, I have always been deſirous of their aggrandizement and advantage, and have always exerted myſelf, as far as my power would go, for the increaſe of the Company's authority in India.—In moſt of the conqueſts the Engliſh have made, a body of my Troops have acted in conjunction with them; and in future alſo it is my heart's deſire, that all the Enemies of the Engliſh may become contemptible, and be extirpated, particularly the French, the ruin of whoſe power muſt contribute greatly to the intereſts of myſelf, the Company, and the Engliſh Nation;—on them I have my eye more than any of the reſt, and if any ſcheme or aſſiſtance of mine can contribute to this end, it will impart to me the greateſt ſatisfaction.

Having lately underſtood from the Governor, Mr. Wynch, by the interpretation of Mr. Chambers, that the Governor General of Bengal has written to the Governor and Council of Madras, on the ſubject of procuring the diſmiſſion of the French Troops who are in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, and putting the Company in poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar;—notwithſtanding that I am not fully and particularly acquainted with the contents of that Letter, as I am yet convinced, from the proceedings of the Supreme Council, that they have a ſtrict regard for juſtice, that they are diſtinguiſhed for wiſdom and prudence, and that the meaſures they purſue in general are agreeable to the orders of the Court of Directors, and conformable to the intentions of His Majeſty, who are

are my beſt Friends, I have not the leaſt doubt that the directions they may have given on this ſubject have been well weighed and digeſted, and are entirely ſuited to the occaſion.

On the ſuppoſition that the Treaty concluded between the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah, myſelf, and the Company, in the year 1768, need not be attended to, there is no doubt but the Guntoor Circar may be taken poſſeſſion of with a very ſmall body of Troops; however, the ſeparation of the French who have been in his ſervice before the writing of that Treaty, if done by authority and violence, is attended with difficulties; the ſword muſt be drawn, and war muſt enſue, and this will be a breach of the Treaty ſo concluded, ſigned, and ſealed, by the four Powers, I mean the Nizam, myſelf, the Company, and the Marattas. The Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah, the Nabob Bazalet Jung, and the Marattas, will not be perſuaded that this Government have entered upon hoſtilities merely from an enmity to the French, but will conclude that they have made this a pretence for breaking through all the engagements that ſubſiſt between them, with a deſign to make themſelves maſters of their territories. Now that there is war between the Maratta Government and the Engliſh at Bombay, and that Preſidency have taken the part of Ragonaut Row, this meaſure will afford an excellent pretext for the Nizam to ſide openly with the people at Poonah.

Hyder Ally Cawn has alſo got together an extraordinary force of Horſe, Sepoys, Peons, and Artillery, and is ſtill raiſing more; he has a deſign upon the diſtrict of Cudapah, which is a dependency of mine, as alſo upon Caumool, Cadwall, &c. that is, he either means to make the Chiefs of thoſe places join him, or to take poſſeſſion of their territories; nay, he is ſo puffed up by the number of his Troops, that in defiance of the Engliſh, he thinks of laying hands on the diſtrict of Morari Row, who is included in the Treaty between the Governor and Council and himſelf, and propoſes commencing hoſtilities againſt Bazalet Jung; in ſhort, he ſummonſes them all to join him, and if they refuſe, he immediately employs his thoughts about ſeizing their poſſeſſions. By what he has given Morari Row to underſtand verbally by his Vakeel, and the meſſage he has alſo ſeparately ſent him, one may clearly ſee the high deſigns and the ambitious deſire of an increaſe of power he is poſſeſſed with: Theſe circumſtances you will learn by the two Letters from Morari Row, one to myſelf, and the other to his Vakeel, who is here, of which I ſend you Perſian tranſlations incloſed; a matter which cannot but prove highly injurious to the honour of the Company and the intereſt of their affairs. Now the increaſe of Hyder's power is in fact an eſſential addition to that of the French, for he has certainly the ſtrongeſt attachment to them; and they, when occaſion offers, place their hopes in his aſſiſtance and alliance; and though, for want of treaſure, and from other inauſpicious circumſtances, the French ſhould be even deſirous of deferring all hoſtile deſigns to a later period, yet Hyder, we may be ſure, will not be deficient in offers of ſuccour with his whole force, of paying all the expences of their Troops in treaſure and revenue, of protection in his forts, and of every neceſſary ſupply of grain, bullocks for the Artillery, proviſion, &c. that they can deſire, in order to ſpur them on; in a word, it may be deemed certain, that the Army of Hyder Ally Cawn, which is drawn up and ready in Manore, is entirely at the devotion of the French.

Whenever the Nabob Bazalet Jung ſhall experience ill uſage from the Engliſh, he will of neceſſity join himſelf to Hyder Ally Cawn; the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah will be induced to take the ſame meaſure, and the Fouzdars of Cannoul and Cudapah, with Morari Row, and the other Chiefs of the country, will unavoidably follow the reſt; the tranquillity of the Carnatic as well as the Circars will be diſturbed, and Hyder, who has his eye upon the diſtrict of Balbaunee Chetteldery, and of the other Zemindars dependant on Adoni, will eaſily become maſter of thoſe places, and will by that means be enabled to raiſe more Troops.

As I am attached to the Company, it is my deſire that their intereſts be promoted ſo as that their honour and reputation be preſerved, and that without trouble and difficulty; ſo I mean as that the tranquillity of my country and the Company's may be ſecured, and war and diſturbance be averted in future. Thus, formerly, without any requeſt on the part of the Company, the Nabob Salabut Jung ſent his Vakeel, through my mediation, with Sunnuds for the Circar, upon condition of friendſhip and aſſiſtance, which my Friends refuſed; after that, the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah ſent the ſame, which were in like manner rejected. At length they took poſſeſſion of them by way of open hoſtility and violence; and the Nizam being offended at this proceeding, Gen. Calliaud and Mr. Stracy were ſent with preſents to Hydrabaud, and took the Circars at rent, entering at the ſame time into engagements of alliance with him. As it was then the ſeaſon of the rains, the Nizam's Troops were not in readineſs for action; and on the other hand, thoſe of the Engliſh were quite prepared in the fort of Cundapilly and in the Carnatic; the Nizam therefore, inwardly diſſatisfied, patched up an imperfect peace; and I mentioned at the time, that it was not ſincerely and properly concluded. When he approached the Carnatic, and joined Hyder Ally Cawn, General Joſeph Smith was ordered to leave him with the Engliſh Forces under his command, and they then entered my country; the war and diſturbance that enſued upon this, the devaſtation of my country, the plundering of the inhabitants, and the load of military expences that fell upon me, need no long explanation here, as my Friends are already acquainted with them. What I would ſay is this, that all this I have done, from the regard I have to the Company, and the intereſt I take in the proſperity of their affairs, and that at the ſame time I wiſhed ſincerely well to the Engliſh Nation, and to them.—I am perfectly well acquainted with the diſpoſition of the Country Powers, and the ſyſtem of their politics; what I wiſh therefore is to promote the Company's intereſt with ſolidity and credit, and without diſturbance on either ſide. In the preſent inſtance, if the Governor and Council, who are the Deputies of my beſt Friends, will inform me of their real ſentiments, will let me know the full purport of the Letter from the Governor General of Bengal, and acquaint me, with openneſs and preciſion, of what they think adviſable, I might ſend a perſon in friendly manner to Bazalet Jung, with Letters from myſelf and the Governor and Council, propoſing the diſmiſſion of the French; and might empower him, in caſe Bazalet Jung ſhould remonſtrate concerning the injury his affairs might ſuſtain from ſuch a proceeding, and the advantage his Enemies would have over him, to aſſure him with confidence, that he might depend on receiving all the benefits he could propoſe to himſelf from the ſervice of the French, from the aſſiſtance of a body of Engliſh Troops, whom he might pay by a Tankoah on the Guntoor Circar.—If Bazalet Jung ſhould agree to this propoſal, and the Governor and Council ſhould ſend a body of Troops to be maintained at his expence out of the Revenues of the Guntoor Circar, the ſeparation of the French would not be the only benefit ariſing therefrom, a variety of advantages would accrue: for a Force being maintained out of the Revenue of that Circar, and one half being always ſtationed there, and the other with Bazalet Jung at Adoni, would be always ready for ſervice. The Commander of thoſe Troops would always have him and his country in his power in the way of friendſhip; and Bazalet Jung would be doubly ſecured from negociating or forming connections with any individual of the Company's Enemies; on the one hand, by the Treaty ſo often mentioned, on the other, by the awe thoſe Troops would keep him in: as a conſequence of this too, the Zemindars dependant on Adoni, the Fouzdar of Cannoul, with Morari Row, with all their Forces of Horſe, Sepoys, poys, and Foot, that make all together a formidable body, would join us in caſe of an invaſion from Hyder, or any other Enemy. The Fouzdar of Cuddapah, who is a Dependant of mine, would either act in allegiance, as his Maſters have done, or otherwiſe by the favour of Heaven, the diſtrict of Cudapah might eaſily be put upon the ſame footing as my other poſſeſſions; and all this would keep Hyder Ally in awe. But one principal advantage from keeping Bazalet Jung in your hand in the way of amity, would be this, that he would be a ſecurity againſt any ill deſign of the Nizam.

APPENDIX. No. 72.

Thus, as a ſincere friend and well-wiſher to the proſperity and intereſt of the Company, I have written, without the leaſt reſerve, whatever occurred to me as adviſable in this affair.

There is, however, one very important conſideration, which gives me a good deal of anxiety; which is this, that in the eye of ſound judgment it ſeems utterly unadviſed to ſeparate a body of French Europeans and Sepoys, well diſciplined and ſupplied with military ſtores, from the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, who is weak and impotent in war, without treaſure, and ſecured by a Treaty with the Engliſh, and to ſuffer them to join Hyder Ally, the Enemy of the Engliſh Nation, who is already puffed up with the extent of country he poſſeſſes, his abundance of treaſure, and the number of his Troops; by this means, bringing two powerful Enemies together.—Surely ſome means muſt be adopted to prevent the junction of this Force with any of the Powers of India, eſpecially the Enemies of the Company.

Tranſlate of a Letter from Morari Row Goporah; received at Durbah, 25th Auguſt 1775.

It is long ſince I had the pleaſing ſatisfaction of receiving a Letter from your Highneſs—among friends and brothers there is no need of a perpetual ſeries of buſineſs or important undertakings to keep up their correſpondence; and the receipt of Letters from your Highneſs cannot but be at all times to me a ſource of joy.—Gopaut Row and Sreeput Row, Vakeels, have repeatedly at your Highneſs's deſire written to me on the ſubject of an interview and mutual friendſhip, which has given me great pleaſure; the deſire I have of waiting upon your Highneſs is unbounded, and it is a meaſure your Highneſs's intereſts require, which it is needleſs to write upon.

The Nabob Hyder Ally Cawn, Behr, has got together an Army and a train of Artillery, and has ſome expedition in view.—Thus much I learn from intelligence, but it is not clear what quarter he has deſigns upon; common report ſays, he means to fall upon Cudapah, which belongs to your Highneſs, and alſo upon Adoni, Carnool, Cadwall Balharee, and my diſtricts. Now, though the ſaid Nabob and I are upon friendly terms as yet, and has given me no grounds to doubt his ſincerity; your Highneſs nevertheleſs knows the politics of the preſent time, and if by the inſtigation of ſhort-ſighted people he ſhould think of picking a quarrel, and invade my territory, I have no doubt that your Highneſs, who is our Brother and our Chief, and the Governor and Council, who are our Friends, will afford me ſuccour and aſſiſtance, eſpecially as I and my country are included in the Treaty of Peace. I conceive I have no room to be anxious, and I hope that your Highneſs and the Governor Behauder will be pleaſed to write to the Nabob Hyder Ally Cawn, to prevail upon him not to make a breach in the amity ſubſiſting between us.

I have written explicitly on this ſubject to Abdul Rachbed Cawn, Behauder, and Seid Auſin Cawn, Behauder, as alſo Sueput Row, who will give your Highneſs a full account of particulars. Your Highneſs's knowledge and diſcernment, I dare ſay, will incline you, on their repreſentation, to be favourable to my requeſt. Nackul Row Conair, the Intelligencer, who is with me, has no doubt written you fully, and your Highneſs will learn more from what he now ſends you. I have to beg you will favour me with a ſpeedy Reply to this Letter.

Tranſlate of a Letter from Morari Row to Sueput Row, his Vakeel; received at Durbar, 25th Aug. 1775.

My Vakeel, who is reſident with Hyder Ally Cawn, at Seringapatam, writes me the following particulars: That Hyder has lately been raiſing conſiderable Forces, and ſtill continues to raiſe more, inſomuch that he is ſending advance-money to all quarters for that purpoſe; that his Stable Horſe and others together amount to the number of 15,000—his Sepoys 30,000—and his Carnatic Peons, his Artillery, and warlike ſtores are abundantly formidable in his camp.—That there is a ſcantineſs in nothing, and his people are regularly paid; and that his firm intention is to march with his Army againſt the Polygars Cheeldurg, Raydurg, Ballauze, and Harpanpally; the Fouzdars of Sannoor and Cannoul, and the dominions of the Peiſhwa as far as the river Kiſtnah, to collect from the ſeveral Sedars, Soubahdars, and Polygars, as much money as he choſes; and to chaſtiſe thoſe that are refractory, or oblige them to join them. He ſent for my Vakeel into his preſence, and ſpoke to him thus, "Morari Row is an independant Chief, and I have not been "deficient in friendſhip and confidence towards him: I "am now deſirous of moving upon ſome expedition or "other.—Laſt year I ſent my ſon Tippoo with a Force "againſt Adoni and Cannoul, but as Morari Row wrote "to requeſt that I would, out of regard to his inclination, defer the ſaid deſign for that year, I attended to "his interceſſion—put a ſtop to the expedition, and recalled Tippoo with his Troops: now, however, I have "enliſted a great number of Troops, Horſe and Foot, "and they muſt have ſomething to do."

Bazalet Jung and Ramnaut Cawn have been writing to me for this twelvemonth paſt, that they will come and have an interview with me, when ſome ſchemes may be concerted; but from a principle of foreſight, I have, as yet, declined their propoſal: now, however, they are both particularly preſſing on that head, in order that a Treaty may be concluded between us; and Ramnaut Cawn is inceſſantly ſending me Letters that he will come poſt haſte to ſee me. In this caſe, how can I forbid his coming? and yet Hyder Ally Cawn, who has hoſtile deſigns, and puffed up as he is at preſent, cares for no one, will conceive ſome other ſuſpicions if I ſhould receive a viſit from Ramnaut Cawn, and what ſhall I do then? As to myſelf, I ſhall never be deficient in friendſhip; but, if notwithſtanding this, Hyder Ally Cawn will commence hoſtilities, I have no remedy; my dependance, however, is upon the ſincerity of the Nabob and the Engliſh Company, and my name is included in the Treaty of Peace.

Explain theſe matters to the Nabob, and he will repreſent them to the Governor and Council; they may then both write on this ſubject to Hyder Ally Cawn, that he form no deſign againſt me.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 30th Auguſt 1775.

PRESENT,

Alex^r Wynch, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
Joſeph Smith,
Henry Brooke,
Samuel Johnſon,
John M. Stone,
Fran^s Jourdan,
George Mackay.

Mr. Dawſon and Mr. Palmer indiſpoſed.

The Preſident lays before the Board, the following Report of the Perſian Tranſlator.

29th Auguſt 1775. Agreeable to directions I received yeſterday from the Governor I went this morning to the Nabob, and offered to interpret to him the contents of the Letter from Bengal of the 5th ult. and of the Letter intended to be ſent from this Government to the Nizam. The Nabob ſaid it would anſwer no end to hear them only read to him in that manner, as he was not able to retain in his memory immediately ſuch a length of argument, ſo as to form a competent judgment of the ſcope of it; he would be glad therefore, if either Tranſlations of them were ſent him, or copies in Engliſh; when he would peruſe them, and give his opinion. I told the Nabob from the Governor, that as Bazalet Jung was not a principal in the Treaty, the Board thought it improper to addreſs him on the ſubject; and therefore propoſed writing to the Nizam. The Nabob ſaid, that he himſelf being a principal in the Treaty, it was neceſſary he ſhould give his opinion, and that he ſhould be connected in the affair;—that his opinion was, that writing to the Nizam on this occaſion was exceedingly improper—that the Nizam himſelf was no friend of the Engliſh, and would never ſecond any friendly connection between them and Bazalet Jung—that Bazalet Jung, on the other hand, would pay no regard to the injunctions of the Nizam, and therefore he was convinced would by no means conſent to either of the propoſitions intended to be made to him:—In ſhort, that it was impoſſible to proceed in this manner without producing a rupture;—that he had offered his advice, which, if the Board would attend to, it would be well; if not, they would act as they thought proper.

Wm Chambers.

As the Board have now heard what further objections the Nabob had to urge againſt diſpatching the Letter to the Soubah, which was ordered to be prepared at a former Conſultation, the Preſident puts the following queſtion:

Queſt. Is it adviſable, conſidering what has been urged by the Nabob, to diſpatch the Letter to the Soubah immediately, or not?

Mr. Mackay. For the immediate diſpatch of the Letter.

Mr. Jourdan. For the ſame.

Mr. Palmer. For the ſame.

Mr. Stone. For the Letter being detained, until the Nabob ſhall be furniſhed with the ſubſtance of the Letter from the Governor General and Council, on the ſubject of Guntoor, as well as of that propoſed to be ſent to the Soubah, and that he ſhall have given the Board his ſentiments thereon more particularly, as he does not apprehend any inconvenience can reſult from ſuch delay.

Mr. Johnſon. For the Letter not being diſpatched—will give his reaſons at a future Conſultation.

Mr. Brooke. For deferring ſending the Letter until the Board ſhall have the ſentiments of the Nabob on the ſubſtance of the Letter from the Governor General and Council, and of that propoſed to be ſent to the Soubah, which he is to be furniſhed with, and more eſpecially as it is eſſential to the proſperity of the Company's affairs that they and he ſhould, if poſſible, go hand in hand together, or at leaſt that nothing definitive ſhould be undertaken, whereby the tranquillity of the Carnatic may be diſturbed, without his being previouſly, particularly, and candidly adviſed with.

General Smith. For detaining the Letter until the Nabob ſhall have given his ſentiments on the Letter from the Governor General and Council on the ſubject of Guntoor.

The Preſident. As the Preſident does not ſee any material inconvenience which can reſult from deferring the diſpatch of the Letter a few days longer, he is againſt its being ſent until the Board ſhall have heard further from the Nabob, on the contents of the Letter from the Governor General and Council.

The majority of the Board being againſt the immediate diſpatch of the Letter to the Soubah; It is reſolved, That it be detained until the Nabob ſhall have given them his further ſentiments;—which he promiſes to do on being furniſhed with the ſubſtance of the Letter from the Governor General and Council, in writing, as well as that to be ſent to the Soubah; both of which it is agreed to ſend him, with a Letter, which is now read and approved, as entered in Co. Corr. N° 99.

APPENDIX. No. 73.

Alex. Wynch,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Fourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract from Fort St. George Country Correſpondence.

To the Nabob.

N° 99. In conſequence of the report which I have juſt had the honour to receive from Mr. Chambers, the tranſlator, of the converſation which he had yeſterday with your Highneſs, I am to acquaint you, that this Government will always have a real ſatisfaction in communicating every thing to your Highneſs which may be material; and I therefore now have the honour of ſending you incloſed, agreeably to your deſire, the ſubſtance of the Letter which we have lately received from the Governor General and Council, relative to the Guntoor Circar, as well as of that which is propoſed to be diſpatched to the Nizam.—But as delay in all caſes of conſequence is detrimental to the public ſervice, I am to requeſt that your Highneſs will favour me with your ſentiments on thoſe Letters as ſoon as poſſible.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 4th September 1775.

Came in Letter from the Nabob, dated 31ſt Auguſt, as entered in Co. Corr. N° 100, in further ſupport of his former opinion, of the propriety of negociating firſt with Bazalet Jung, before any ſteps are taken with the Soubah.

APPENDIX, No. 73.

Extract of Fort Saint George Military Conſultations, the 18th Auguſt 1775.

PRESENT,

Alex^r Wynch, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
George Dawſon,
Hy Brooke,
Sam^l Johnſon,
J. M. Stone,
Arch. Palmer,
Fran^s Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.
General Smith indiſpoſed.

THE Preſident delivers in the Perſian Tranſlator's Report of Conferences with the Nabob, relative to the meaſures propoſed, with reſpect to the Guntoor Circar, as entered hereafter.

Tueſday 15th Auguſt 1775, went to the Nabob with the Governor; the Nabob was indiſpoſed, and wrapt up in a ſhawl. The Governor told the Nabob, that ſome time ago, on the arrival of warlike ſtores and a military force from the French to the country of Bazalet Jung, by the way of the Guntoor Circar, he had written the Governor General and Council of Calcutta on the ſubject.—That their anſwer was now come, to this purport: "That it was neceſſary to prevent this meaſure, either "by having the ſaid Circar in our poſſeſſion, or inducing "Bazalet Jung to diſmiſs thoſe forces."—That yeſterday the Council had taken it into conſideration, and did propoſe to write the Nizam a Letter, acquainting him, that they did not perceive the inconvenience that might ariſe from Bazalet Jung having the Guntoor Circar, at the time they firſt conſented to that meaſure; but it now appeared, that from his collecting a body of French in his country, the reverſion of the Guntoor Circar might not only be rendered uncertain to the Company, but their other Circars might alſo be injured by it—that therefore it was neceſſary either to let us have the Guntoor Circar at an annual rent, or that Bazalet Jung ſhould conſent to diſmiſs thoſe Europeans from his ſervice. The Governor then proceeded to tell the Nabob, that the Board intended, in the interim, to order the Sepoys at Ellore to be in readineſs, and ſome Sepoys to Vantepollam, which is cloſe to Mootapilly, where theſe ſtores are landed, and to prevent any more from being admitted there; and that the Ongole battalion was to be in readineſs, in caſe it ſhould become neceſſary to uſe any forces in that quarter: The Governor ſaid, he informed the Nabob of this, as it was thought proper he ſhould be previouſly acquainted, when ſuch meaſures were about to be purſued. The Nabob anſwered dryly, That it ſeemed needleſs to acquaint him, but he was, however, obliged for that favour. The Governor aſked his opinion; to which he replied, it was out of place to aſk his opinion, when a matter was abſolutely reſolved upon. The Governor ſaid it was an affair propoſed, and they ſhould be glad of his opinion about it. The Nabob ſaid, if they wanted his opinion, merely as ſuch, it was one thing; and if by way of attending to his advice, another; that in this caſe, if they would write him a Letter on the ſubject, he would anſwer it; he could not give his opinion on ſuch a matter, without ſome previous reflection. The Governor ſaid, it was not public as yet, it was only known to the Gentlemen of Council. The Nabob anſwered, that it could not be private; if a Letter was wrote to the Nizam, the whole Decan muſt then know it, and that he himſelf was as one of their Council. The Governor replied, that he had acquainted the Nabob with this matter, becauſe he conſidered the intereſt of the Nabob and the Company as connected, and becauſe meaſures ſo taken might alſo affect the Carnatic. The Nabob ſaid, by this it was plain, that the Governor's ſentiments ſo far correſponded with his own. The Governor then repeated the unity of intereſts; ſaid nothing would be undertaken to injure the Carnatic, and if the Nabob would think of it, and give his opinion, he would wait on him in a couple of days for that purpoſe. The Nabob ſaid, he would give it him with the utmoſt ſincerity, but if his health would permit him, he would come to him.

APPENDIX No. 73.

This was the ſubſtance of the diſcourſe; I do not recollect any thing elſe of conſequence.

Wm Chambers.

As it appears, from the conference which the Preſident has had with the Nabob, that we may expect his ſentiments fully on the meaſures propoſed, it is Reſolved, That nothing be done before the next Conſultation; when we hope to be furniſhed with his opinion at large.

Read draft of a Letter to the Soubah, as entered in Co. Corr. 94. conformably to the Minutes of Conſultation on the 14th inſtant. Approved—but as it is poſſible that the Nabob may be able to throw ſome new light on the ſubject, it is reſolved, That the Letter be not diſpatched until the Board are furniſhed with his ſentiments thereon.

A. Wynch,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay,
Geo. Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultation, the 15th September 1775.

PRESENT,

Alex. Wynch, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
Joſeph Smith,
George Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
Samuel Johnſon,
John M. Stone,
Arch. Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

Mr. Johnſon deſires that the following Minute may be entered, which contains his ſentiments on the Reſolution of the Board, relative to the meaſures propoſed to be taken with reſpect to the Guntoor Circar.

On conſidering the Guntoor buſineſs with the moſt deliberate attention, I cannot approve of the meaſure of our intended addreſs to the Soubah; I am afraid it is neither well-timed, well-concerted, or ſuch as is moſt likely to produce the intended good.—The principal object with the Supreme Council appears to me to be not ſo much the ſecuring the reverſion of the Circar, as the expulſion of the French Troops, and the immediate poſſeſſion of the ſea port of Mootapilly, by which they might hereafter introduce ſuch military ſuccours to the adjacent Country Powers, as might endanger our other Circars. The quere in this caſe then becomes, what ſeems the moſt effectual means to this end?—Why, I ſhould imagine, our Letter to the Soubah will only give the alarm, without inducing him to favour our views, or acknowledge our conduct to be an infraction of the Treaty. It is my opinion that before we write to either the Soubah or Bazalet Jung, we ſhould conſider well, and not only take our reſolution, but have every thing prepared for their non-compliance with our views—I have ſaid the meaſure is ill-timed, becauſe I think we ſhould wait the hourly expected arrival of the laſt orders of the Seaſon, and of a new Governor, and I conſider it ill-concerted, as it appears to me very impolitical, that the Nabob is not made a party in it: In any matter that has a relation to the French, it would, I think, be good policy to make him a principal; and in an affair that may end in war with the neighbouring Country Powers, would it not be equally ſo to have his Highneſs a party, both to defray the greateſt part of the expence, and ſupport us with his Cavalry? When the ſuperior Government recommend ſo ſtrongly employing his Troops, if poſſible, on this ſervice, I imagine theſe were their objects.

The arguments uſed againſt conſidering Bazalet Jung but as a dependant of the Soubah, and the reaſons offered againſt negociating with him directly, are, I ſuſpect, more ſpeculative than ſolid in politics with the Country Powers—Bazalet Jung poſſeſſes the diſtrict, and has the French in his ſervice. The danger of applying to the Soubah, before we act with his brother, is, that the latter will get intelligence and take the alarm; and either by negociating with neighbouring Powers, or other arrangements of ſecurity, endeavour to defeat our purpoſe. Hyder Ally is near him, and by his encroachment upon Cuddapa, and the very great preparations he is making near that quarter, he ſeems bent on extending his poſſeſſions to the Orixa Shore. If Bazalet Jung throws himſelf under Hyder's protection, our negociations with the Soubah will, I fear, be of little end.

In a word, I conſider this buſineſs as very intereſting, and I am afraid an addreſs to the Soubah will appear to the Supreme Council rather a ſort of compliance with their intentions on the terms of their Letter, than any effectual ſtep to the attainment of the grand object.

(Signed) A. Wynch,
Geo. Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort Saint George Military Conſultations, the 4th September 1773.

PRESENT,

Alexander Wynch, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Joſeph Smith,
George Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
Samuel Johnſon,
John M. Stone,
Arch. Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
George Mackay.

Read Letter from the Nabob, as mentioned in the Diary dated 31ſt ult°; wherein he ſtill continues to urge the propriety of negociating immediately with Bazalet Jung, and for that purpoſe propoſes that an Envoy ſhall be ſent to Bazalet Jung with Letters, both from the Preſident and from himſelf. As the Board have now waited till they were furniſhed with every argument which the Nabob could ſuggeſt in oppoſition to the meaſures propoſed by them to be carried into execution; as they do not ſee any political or juſt grounds for altering their firſt ſentiments, the Preſident moves to know, if the Letter already prepared to the Soubah ſhall be immediately diſpatched, or not.—Agreed to, and ordered accordingly, by all but Mr. Johnſon, who will give his reaſons at a future Conſultation.

Ordered, That the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam be adviſed of the determination of the Board to negociate immediately with the Soubah; and that they be directed to cauſe Colonel Flint to hold himſelf in readineſs to march with the Troops mentioned by General Smith, in Conſultation the 14th ult°, to be the number which it may be found neceſſary to employ in getting poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, ſhould ſuch a meaſure be at length determined on: Captain Duncan likewiſe, commanding at Ongole, to be directed to hold himſelf in readineſs to march with his battalion. Ordered likewiſe, That a Letter be prepared to the Governor General and Council, ſtating to them at large the reaſons which have induced the Board to begin by negociating with the Soubah, inſtead of purſuing thoſe meaſures to which they have given their ſanction in their Letter of the 5th of July.

APPENDIX, No. 74.

Extract of Fort Saint George Military Conſultations, the 13th September 1775.

CONFORMABLY to the Minutes of Conſultation, the following Letter was this day diſpatched to the Governor General and Council.

To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Eſquire, Governor General, &c. Council of Fort William.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have had the honour of receiving your Letter of the 5th July, conveying to us your ſentiments reſpecting the French Troops in the Guntoor Circar, and of the meaſures which appear to you moſt expedient for diſpoſſeſſing them of that footing which they have acquired, and for rendering the reverſionary right of the country to the Company as unclogged with difficulties as poſſible; and to the whole, we have paid the moſt particular attention. As your Honour, &c. however, has not expreſsly required us to adopt thoſe meaſures which you recommend, but only give us your ſanction for undertaking them, ſuppoſing we ſhould think them adviſable, conſidering the general poſture of affairs in the Carnatic; ſo we have maturely weighed every argument which could be advanced in ſupport of them; and we hope that the reſult of our deliberations will meet with your concurrence: And we could not conceive ourſelves, agreeably to the ſpirit and tenor of the Treaty of 1768, authorized to negociate with Bazalet Jung as principal, when in reality he can be conſidered in no other light than that of a dependant upon the Soubah, poſſeſſing a country at his pleaſure, or at the will of the Engliſh, who, on the infractions of certain conditions ſpecified in the Treaty, on his part, have an abſolute right to take poſſeſſion of it immediately. Bazalet Jung, it cannot be ſuppoſed, would part with a country which yields ſuch ample revenues, and which is ſo commodiouſly ſituated as not only to render him of conſequence on the ſea coaſt, but likewiſe of conſideration in his interior Dominions of Adoni; which, unleſs ſupplied with military ſuccours by the port of Mootapillee, would be in a much leſs defenſive ſtate than it really is. Negociation, could it be carried on with propriety, which we do not think it can, would never effectuate the neceſſary purpoſes with Bazalet Jung, and therefore we are convinced, as well from the reaſons which we have advanced, as from the jealouſy ſubſiſting between him and his brother, that nothing leſs than forcible meaſures would ever induce him to part with the Guntoor Circar, which he muſt look upon as a poſſeſſion of too material conſequence to let it be wreſted from him tamely: And further, by adverting to the Treaty of 1768, we could not but be of opinion, that if we were to apply directly to Bazalet Jung, we ſhould by ſuch a ſtep give the Soubah the moſt alarming jealouſy, which, by every political conſideration, we ſhould avoid. For us likewiſe to offer to protect the Guntoor Circar for Bazalet Jung, in ſo ſhort a time after we declined ſending the Soubah the aid which he had applied for, would be to convince him to a certainty, that he never was to rely upon the faith of the Engliſh while an adherence to their engagements could in the leaſt affect their own convenience, or the general ſyſtem of their affairs: Whereas, in a negociation with him as a principal, we might eaſily convince him of the propriety of the one, and of the impropriety of the other; the difference between detaching a ſmall body of Troops at an unfavourable ſeaſon of the year, into diſtant Provinces, and that of raiſing and placing a body of Troops in a country which in ſo ſhort a time is to revert to us for ever. In ſhort, after the moſt mature deliberation on the neceſſity of preventing the French from gaining an eſtabliſhment in the Guntoor Circar, as well as on the meaſures which we have the ſanction of your Honour, &c. to adopt, we could not but be of opinion, that the writing to Bazalet Jung, or the entering upon any kind of negociation with him without the concurrence of the Soubah, would be to raiſe up more difficulties towards the accompliſhment of our ends than would be found an eaſy matter for us to overcome. And we therefore reſolved to commence a negociation with the Soubah by Letter, copy of which comes incloſed, for your information; and in the mean time have directed that the Troops in the Circars dependant upon Maſulipatam, be held in readineſs to march, in caſe we ſhould find it expedient to carry our meaſures into execution by a military force. Having in this manner, and for the reaſons we have given, determined to apply immediately to the Soubah, we deemed it of conſequence that the Nabob ſhould be previouſly acquainted of the line which we meant to take, and that he ſhould be requeſted to give us freely his ſentiments thereon, in order that nothing of moment, which in its moſt diſtant conſequences could affect the tranquillity of the Carnatic, ſhould be undertaken without his knowledge and opinion. Accordingly, we received a Letter from the Nabob, copy whereof is incloſed; wherein he ſtates to us freely the objections which he has to a Letter being ſent to the Soubah, whom he declares to be no well-wiſher to the Engliſh;—but as thoſe objections, and the argument which he brings in ſupport of them, do not appear to us in the alarming light in which they are repreſented, we have adhered to our firſt determination, and in conſequence, we have diſpatched the Letter to the Soubah:

Previous

APPENDIX. No. 75.

Previous however to the diſpatch of the Letter, the Nabob was made acquainted with the ſubſtance of your Honour, &c.'s Letter of the 5th of July, and of that which we had prepared for the Soubah; and he accordingly addreſſed us another Letter on the ſubject, copy whereof is incloſed.

APPENDIX, No. 75.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 13th November 1775.

PRESENT,

Alex^r Wynch, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
Geo. Stratton,
R. Fletcher,
Geo. Dawſon,
H. Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Fran^s Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

SIR Robert Fletcher acquaints the Board, that as he has a motion to propoſe upon the ſubject matter of the laſt Conſultation; he deſires that a Letter may be read from Mr. Brooke, 14th March 1773, when he was Chief of Maſulipatam.

Letter from Mr. Brooke, 14th March 1774, read accordingly.

General Fletcher then addreſſes the Board as followeth:

Since our laſt Meeting, I have read with attention the ſeveral Papers relative to the Guntoor Circar, and I have maturely conſidered what the conduct of Bazalet Jung has been ſince our Treaties of 1766 and 1768, with his brother the Soubah. By the 5th Article of the Treaty of 1766, Bazalet Jung, his agents, and dependants are bound, under forfeiture of his right of poſſeſſion, not to cauſe any diſturbances to the prejudice of the Company.—Bazalet Jung may ſay he has not broken the 5th Article, becauſe he has not yet cauſed any actual diſturbances, but it is my opinion, that he has for years paſt been acting in direct contradiction to the ſpirit of the 5th article, by receiving numbers of our Europeans into his ſervice and by the encouragement he has conſtantly given them to deſert, either to himſelf, or his French party.

By the ſecond article of the Treaty of 1768, it is expreſsly the opinion of the contracting parties, that Bazalet Jung had previous to that early period, broken the 5th article of the Treaty of 1766. The parties declare therefore, that the Company had then had a juſt claim to take poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar; but in conſideration of our friendſhip for the Soubah, and our deſire not to diſtreſs his affairs, by obliging him to provide Bazalet Jung with another Jaghire, we overlook his bad conduct, and conſent to continue him in poſſeſſion of the Circar, upon the terms of the Treaty of 1766; with the additional clauſe inſerted in the ſecond article of the Treaty of 1768, that he ſhall live in harmony with the Engliſh, and that he ſhall give no protection or aſſiſtance to any of our enemies—Such are the terms of both Treaties; and ſuch has been the notorious and repeated conduct of Bazalet Jung, both ſubſequent and previous to the Treaty of 1768, that I think he has acted in open violation of both, and in a manner, though ſlow and progreſſive, yet, in his ſituation, the moſt direct and the moſt probable in the end, to do a real prejudice to the Company.

I know that Mr. Du Pre, and perhaps Mr. Wynch, received frequent information (although they may not be entered on the records) from the Chiefs of Maſulipatam, and Officers commanding to the Northward of the great prejudice we have repeatedly ſuſtained, in conſequence of the encouragement given by Bazalet Jung, his agents, and dependants, to the deſertion of our Europeans. Such then has been the conduct of Bazalet Jung; and I take this public opportunity of declaring it to be the moſt effectual way of violating the ſpirit of both Treaties to our prejudice; nay, the very words of the Treaty of 1768 are groſsly infringed; for I believe that it will be admitted that own deſerters are enemies, but enemies of the worſt ſort. If Bazalet Jung's conduct therefore can be reconciled to the clear and obvious terms of the Treaty of 1768, it muſt be done by thoſe who have better logical abilities than I can pretend to; and, unleſs ſome Member of the Board can prove to me, that I do not underſtand the meaning of the Treaty, or that I am miſinformed with reſpect to Bazalet Jung's conduct, I ſhall enter my proteſt againſt delaying any longer to take meaſures for our own ſecurity.

The Governor General and Council, although they do not appear to know any thing of the circumſtances I have mentioned, as an infringement of the Treaty, yet they are clearly of opinion that no time is to be loſt in removing the French from the Guntoor Circar; becauſe it is manifeſt to them, and it is ſo to me, that the number of French and the quantity of ſtores now in the Guntoor Circar, are concerted in conſequence of a ſcheme, to ſecure to them the poſſeſſion of that province, and to put them in a condition to attack our Circars on the firſt favourable opportunity, as well as to enable them to carry on their intrigues with thoſe Country Powers who already entertain the greateſt jealouſy of the Engliſh. Upon this opinion alone, they recommend to you to form a body of Troops, if poſſible, in conjunction with the Nabob, and march them immediately to the frontiers of the territory of Bazalet Jung, and then inſiſt on the immediate diſcharge of the French party.—But had they known the frequent cauſes which I think Bazalet Jung has given us to complain of a breach of Treaty, it is my opinion they would have recommended to you to diſpoſſeſs him immediately of the Circar. It is not to be ſuppoſed that the Governor General and Council did not advert to the Treaty, when they wrote their Letter to this Preſidency of the 5th July, becauſe in your Letter of the 13th June, wherein you apply to them, you clearly explain the terms of the 2d article of the Treaty of 1768; and they in their anſwer expreſsly tell you, that, after weighing maturely the ſubject of your Letter, they came to the reſolution they have recommended.—Inſtead of following their recommendation, you wrote to the Soubah on the 18th of Auguſt, to deſire his interpoſition with his brother.—The Soubah has not anſwered your Letter; and if he had anſwered it, it is more than probable that the anſwer would have been vague and inconcluſive; for the Soubah cannot, without wounding his own honour in the eyes of all the Princes of India, openly ſacrifice the intereſts of his elder brother to thoſe of the Engliſh, however much his diſlike to his brother may lead him to wiſh that we ſhould purſue the very meaſure we recommend, without making him a principal: And in a political light likewiſe I think the Soubah will take no part, from an apprehenſion, that ſuch a conduct in him might induce his brother to throw himſelf into the arms of Hyder Ally; who, for the kingdom of Adoni, and the aſſiſtance he would receive in annexing Canoul and Cudapah to his dominions, as well as from his enmity to the Soubah, would be glad to aſſert an elder brother's right to the Muſnud; on which he might place him without much difficulty, leaving us to take quiet poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, and exonerating us, perhaps, from our Piſhcuſh burden. We have information, that the Zemindars of the Guntoor Circar are ordered to aſſemble immediately at Condavir; of a part of Bazalet Jung's army being actually arrived at that Fort; of an advance of the new year's Jemmabundy being required; of Bazalet Jung's great preparations for war, and of a foundry being erected by the French for caſting cannon and ſhot. For all theſe reaſons, then, joined

APPENDIX. No. 75.

joined to the conſideration that the Governor General and Council came to their reſolution without ſeeing thoſe inſtances of Bazalet Jung's conduct, which I deem a violation of the Treaty, I now move the Board, "That the recommendation of the Governor General and Council of Bengal, given in their Letter to us of the 5th July, be immediately put in execution."

Robert Fletcher.

Whereupon, Letter from the Governor General and Council, as entered hereafter, is read.

To the Honourable Alexander Wynch, Eſquire, Preſident, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letters of the 13th and 30th ultimo. As we obſerve that you have addreſſed Nizam Ally Cawn, through your Preſident, in the terms we had ſuggeſted for obtaining the removal of the Europeans out of the Guntoor Circar, and ſecuring the reverſion of that diſtrict to the Company, we ſhall wait to hear the reſult of that Letter, before we ſend you any further inſtructions on this head.

We have conſidered the terms of the Treaty propoſed to be entered into between the Nabob and Hyder Ally Cawn; and as no progreſs ſeems yet to have been made in the negociation, we muſt obſerve, that we are not aware of any advantages that could be derived from ſuch a Treaty, either to the Nabob or the Company: Indeed, ſo far as we can judge of the conſequences, we conceive that they would be inconvenient, and contrary to the inſtructions of the Court of Directors; for, although the direct object of the Treaty is Peace, it would ultimately draw us into hoſtilities and diſtant operations, in ſupporting Hyder Ally Cawn.

It ſhall always be our ſtudy, as far as can depend on us, to promote a mutual confidence between your Preſidency and the Nabob, whoſe intereſt we regard as inſeparably united with the Company's in the Carnatic. For this reaſon we were much concerned at the mode through which he thought proper to make his application to us, to be included in the definitive Treaty of Peace with the Marattas. Conformably to theſe ſentiments, we requeſted him to convey any further propoſals which he might have to make to us, through the channel of your Board, that we might be furniſhed with your ſentiments at the ſame time, reſpecting the advantages alſo to be obtained for the Company on that ſide of India; and you may reſt aſſured that we ſhall obſerve this conduct towards the Nabob on all ſimilar occaſions.—We cannot help lamenting that ſuch an apparent want of cordiality has lately taken place between him and you, to which alone we can attribute the mode of communication which he has made uſe of; and we recommend to you, in the ſtrongeſt terms, to endeavour, as much as poſſible, to conciliate his friendſhip and confidence, and to remove every obſtacle in your power to the reſtoration of them.

Sir Robert Fletcher's Motion put to the vote; viz. "That the recommendation of the Governor General "and Council of Bengal, given in their Letter to the "Board, the 5th July, be immediately put in exe-"cution."

Mr. Mackay's Minute.

Since I have ſeen the Letter, juſt now received from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, of the 23d of laſt month, wherein they tell us, "that they will give us further inſtructions when they know the reſult of the Letter wrote to the Soubah, of the 18th of Auguſt," I think we cannot commence hoſtilities againſt Bazalet Jung, till we receive thoſe further inſtructions; and therefore, on that account only, I put my Negative on General Sir Robert Fletcher's Motion. I came here, fully determined to vote in favour of it; and as my reaſons for that opinion are contained in the following Minute, I beg leave to enter it on the Records:

Becauſe, on the moſt mature deliberation on what has already paſſed, with regard to the Guntoor Circar and to Bazalet Jung, I think the honour and intereſt of the Company materially concerned, that we ſhould bring the buſineſs to as ſpeedy a concluſion as poſſible. The preparations now making by Bazalet Jung, for oppoſing our deſigns; the large ſums of money which he has demanded in advance from the Zemindars in the Guntoor Circar; the time of cutting the crop in that Circar being ſo near at hand; and our not having received yet any anſwer from the Soubah, though he has been wrote to ſo long ago as the 18th of Auguſt—are likewiſe weighty reaſons with me, why we ſhould not loſe any more time: And I confeſs that I now wiſh I had not conſented to defer taking poſſeſſion of the Circar, after we had received the Governor General and Council's Letter of the 5th July. Though theſe Gentlemen have not given us poſitive directions, but left it to our own diſcretion, as they might not know whether the general poſture of affairs in the Carnatic would admit of our undertaking ſuch an expedition, yet an opinion ſo clearly expreſſed by them, on a matter of ſo much conſequence to the intereſts of the Company, and after they had every information on the ſubject which we could give them, ought to be equally binding on us as if they had ſent us the moſt poſitive orders, and will, in my opinion, render us equally reſponſible for the conſequences; unleſs we can make it appear, and I think we cannot, that the ſituation of the Company's affairs under this Preſidency will render the undertaking impoſſible, or highly imprudent.

We have told the Court of Directors and the Governor General and Council, that Bazalet Jung had not infringed the terms of the Treaty of 1768. I will ſay for myſelf, that I concurred in that opinion without having ſufficiently weighed all the circumſtances; for, conſidering the Company's reverſionary right to the Guntoor Circar, and the conditions on which they have ſuffered him to enjoy it during his life, viz. that he would do nothing to their prejudice, &c. it naturally follows, that Bazalet Jung ought to have regarded the Company as his firſt Friends, and have deſired their aſſiſtance only for the protection of his country, whenever he apprehended any danger. Inſtead of obſerving ſo wiſe a conduct, and which appears to me to have the true ſpirit and meaning of the Treaty, he has formed connections with their Rivals, the French, by giving Monſieur Lally, and others, jaghires in that very diſtrict which belongs to the Company, and by receiving continual ſupplies of men and military ſtores from Pondicherry. Beſides, I believe it will appear from our Records, that Bazalet Jung has often, ſince the year 1768, entertained ſeveral of our deſerters in that party commanded by Monſieur Lally, which has been the cauſe of all our apprehenſions.

I am very ſenſible that we ought to be extremely cautious how we engage the Company, without ſufficient cauſe, in military operations that may involve them in troubles with any of the Country Powers. If the information we have juſt received from the Chief of Maſulipatam is to be depended on (and I think it may) we have reaſon to believe that the Soubah would be well pleaſed if we took poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, as it would be an advantage to him hereafter, though it may not be convenient for him at preſent to give his public ſanction for our acting againſt his Brother; and his not having yet returned an Anſwer to the Preſident's Letter, to tell him that he approved or diſapproved of the meaſures we intended to take, as to myſelf, is a confirmation of this. Hyder Ally has always ſhewn a diſpoſition to be on terms of friendſhip with the Company, ſo that there is very little probability of his eſpouſing Bazalet Jung's cauſe againſt them. I am therefore of opinion, as I think we cannot well fail of ſucceſs, and as we have the ſanction of the Governor General and Council, that we ſhould give immediate orders for carrying their intentions into execution.

Geo. Mackay.

APPENDIX, No. 75.

Mr. Jourdan's Minute.

The poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar is of the utmoſt importance to the Company, as it reſpects the ſecurity of their Northern countries by the excluſion of the French and all other Foreigners from territorial connections with the Country Powers on this coaſt.—The Nabob is poſſeſſed of the whole country from Cape Comorin to the Kiſtnah, and the Company of all the Northern coaſt between the Cuttack Country and the Kiſtnah, excepting the villages of Mootapilly, &c. belonging to the Guntoor Circar—the French then can have no chance of interrupting our tranquillity, than by connections with Bazalet Jung; and this they ſeem attentive to;—for although it does not ſuit them to act openly, they have endeavoured to form an intereſt at Adoni, and ſeem to have ſucceeded; for Bazalet Jung has for a long time been encouraging the French, and has now collected a conſiderable number of them.—The French certainly do not appear in this; yet there can be no doubt but that the party at Guntoor is ſecretly encouraged from Pondicherry, and that they mean to ſeize the firſt convenient opportunity of interfering with us in India; and whilſt they can, without danger, convey ſtores and men to that party, they will continue it, until it may perhaps become dangerous to the tranquillity and ſecurity of the Company's ſettlements in the Decan.—The averſion Bazalet has ſhewn to the renting of the Guntoor Country to the Engliſh, although they offered him its full value for it—the continual encouragement given to the Britiſh Troops to deſert, and their reception into his ſervice; convey no favourable ideas of the friendſhip of Bazalet Jung towards the Engliſh; nor, conſidering his ſentiments of our connection with his Brother, of whom he is extremely jealous, is it likely he ſhould alter them. Of courſe, being joined to the French by his jealouſy of the Engliſh, we are to apprehend that he will be induced, by any favourable appearance, to join in acting againſt us, when, perhaps, ſuch a junction may be dangerous.—Self-preſervation is the firſt law of nature, and ſeems to point out the poſſeſſing ourſelves of Guntoor as a further ſecurity for our other poſſeſſions. The circar appertains to the Company, has been conditionally left with Bazalet Jung, and, if it cannot be proved that the conditions have already been broken, yet it is evident that Foreigners and Natives in his ſervice have ſeduced our Soldiers from us; that he has collected his Foreign and Native Troops; that he has ordered all his Zemindars to attend with their Sibbendy; that he is fortifying Condavir, evidently with a view to diſpute the circar with us; and having once ſhewn this doubt and ſuſpicion of us, we ſhall be juſtified for endeavouring to prevent this Prince from injuring us, when his attempts againſt us may be important—for he has it in his power to enter from Guntoor into our circars at pleaſure, and he may at one ſeaſon of the year overturn the country, and deſtroy the crops of a great part of Ellore. If we delay to ſeize the circar, alarmed as he is, he may put himſelf under the protection of the French, and as the Treaty of Paris does not prohibit ſuch protection and connection, if we delay, we may perhaps never gain poſſeſſion of it.

The Soubah has received our Letter on the ſubject; and has, after having detained the Letter, returned no Anſwer.—The Chief of Maſulipatam writes us word, that he has information that the Soubah will not be diſpleaſed at our taking the circar.—This is an encouragement, ſo far as the intelligence is to be depended on, and the Soubah's ſilence ſeems to confirm it.

The meaſures taken indicate our intention to enforce the demand—to delay, may convey ideas to the diſadvantage of the Nation.—In many caſes it is better to act at any rate, than not to act at all.

The advantages to be reaped from the acquiſition are ſelf evident; but it has alſo its dangers; for Bazalet Jung, diſtreſſed by our meaſures, may be urged to enter into the circars with his Cavalry, and he may deſtroy and lay waſte the greater part of the Ellore Circar, notwithſtanding all we can do; and the loſs the Company may ſuſtain by ſuch depredation, and the expences which may be incurred, may be more than equal to the value of the country, if acquired.

But it appears reaſonable to think, that if the Government are determined to have the circar, yet willing to make Bazalet Jung compenſation; as he cannot expect to cope with the Company, he will be ſatisfied with an annual rent.

It may be ſaid, that as we wrote to Bengal, we ſhould take no further ſteps until we ſhould hear from them—but the appearance has ſince changed, and ſuch delay might be productive of danger.

For all theſe reaſons I ſhould have voted for the Motion, but for the Letter which has come in from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, and which render a further delay proper and neceſſary.

Francis Jourdan.

Mr. Palmer's Minute.

I am againſt the Motion; becauſe we have already, upon mature deliberation, adopted meaſures, from which no new occurrence has rendered any deviation neceſſary; namely, that the Soubah has been told our apprehenſions from Bazalet Jung's late conduct, which ſeems to be very wide from that quiet and peaceable manner he, by Treaty, was to have the tenure of the Guntoor Circar, to which the Company have a reverſionary right; becauſe the Supreme Council have been wrote to on the ſubject. Therefore, both their Anſwers would be neceſſary before any ſtep is taken; and becauſe the Court of Directors have been adviſed of our Reſolution to purſue no further meaſure until we ſhould know the reſult of our propoſitions to the Soubah.

A. Palmer.

Mr. Stone's Minute.

I am againſt the Motion:—But before I aſſign my reaſons, I beg leave to premiſe, that in my Minute, entered in Conſultation the 22d September, I propoſed that the Troops which had been ſtationed for the purpoſe of intercepting Men and Military Stores landed at Mootapilly, in the Guntoor Circar, and intended for the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, ſhould be withdrawn. In this I was actuated by my aprehenſions of the dangerous conſequence to be expected from a perſeverance in the meaſure which had been adopted, and from a perſuaſion of the unjuſtifiableneſs thereof. By the advices now received from the Chief at Maſulipatam, and Captain Duncan, it appears that Bazalet Jung has, in conſequence of that meaſure, taken the alarm; and, as I foretold, is endeavouring, by every means in his power, to provide for the ſecurity of the Guntoor Circar, and to repel force by force. At the time I delivered in my above-mentioned Minute, I was convinced that the Court of Directors, in ſome part of their advices to this Government, had been explicit on the ſubject of ſeizing military ſtores intended for the ſervice of the Country Powers; but I could not immediately refer to the particular paſſages: I however made it my buſineſs to ſearch for the orders, and which I found under date the 25th March 1768, Par. 15, 16, 17, and 18. They appeared to me quite applicable to the preſent caſe, and thought it my duty to lay them before the Board at the ſucceeding Conſultation. The Court of Directors appear to me to expreſs themſelves therein very clearly and fully, of the unjuſtifiableneſs in ſeizing arms and military ſtores intended for the ſervice of any of the Country Powers, unleſs ſuch Powers are actually at war with us, or our Allies.

However, to ſave the trouble of a reference, and that the Company's orders may here appear in their own words, I beg leave to quote them as follows:

Extract from the Company's General Letter, dated 25th March 1768.

Par. 15. Having peruſed your Proceedings in the ſeveral Conſultations referred to in the margin, relating to the the practices of ſome Europeans, in ſupplying the Country Powers in enmity with the Company's Allies with warlike ſtores; and having taken advice thereon, we are of opinion, that it may be of very dangerous conſequences if we ſhould ſend orders for ſtopping and confiſcating warlike ſtores anſwering this deſcription, and the veſſels carrying them; for if they are fairly bought of Europeans, we think the aid which the Company can, conſiſtently with the terms of amity this Nation is bound to hold with other European Powers, afford to their Indian Allies, will not juſtify ſuch ſeizure and confiſcation.

16. The charters granted to the Eaſt India Company have no tendency to enable the Company to enter into offenſive wars; and, great circumſpection is neceſſary in the Alliances they enter into with the Indian Powers, leſt the aſſiſtance they afford under ſuch Treaties ſhould give juſt cauſe of umbrage and reſentment to European Powers, and kindle the ſparks of a new war in Europe. We never thought that an offenſive and defenſive Alliance with an Indian Prince, againſt all the world, was warranted by the Company's charters, or the laws of Nations; in caſe of an attack, the Company have a right not only to repel Invaders, but to obtain ſatisfaction for injuries they may have aſcertained; and in ſuch inſtances we muſt ſuppoſe that actual war exiſts, with or without a formal declaration of it; and then the ſupplying the Enemy with ſtores, or other things neceſſary towards the carrying on ſuch war, is a breach of good faith and amity; and we think the Company would be well warranted in ſeizing ſtores thus intended to be ſupplied. So likewiſe in wars commenced againſt the Company by Indian Powers, we have no doubt that the like means would be juſtifiable; but, where the Company can conſider themſelves only as Allies, we cannot think that attacking and ſeizing the property of Europeans is either legal or prudent.

17. We have taken occaſion from your ſaid Proceedings (which we obſerve you finiſhed with proper caution) to give you our ſentiments thus fully, for your information and future guidance on a ſubject of ſo intereſting a nature.

18. Moſt undoubtedly the practice of Europeans furniſhing the Country Powers with men and warlike ſtores is greatly prejudicial to the Nabob, and the other Indian Powers in amity with us; and may, in its conſequences, prove ſo to the Company: it is therefore incumbent on our ſaid Allies, ſo far as regards themſelves only, to take ſuch meaſures as they ſhall think juſtifiable, preferring pacific ones to any other; in which latter you are to interpoſe your good offices with the ſeveral Chiefs of the European Nation, to obtain redreſs for any injuries of this kind, and to prevent the repetition of them in future.

The reaſons which induce me to oppoſe the Motion are,

1ſt. Becauſe I conceive that any hoſtile meaſures to compel Bazalet Jung to accede to the terms propoſed, without the conſent of the Soubah, would juſtly expoſe this Government to the imputation of a breach of public faith.

2d. Becauſe I cannot think that any act of Bazalet Jung can warrant ſuch a proceeding; as it does not appear to me that he has, in any ſhape, violated the terms on which he hold the circar of Guntoor. The Board, on their Records, and in their Letters to Europe, to Bengal, and Maſulipatam, have declared as much. His entertaining and keeping of Foreigners in his ſervice, and receiving ſupplies of military ſtores, whenever he can get them, cannot, I conceive, be conſtrued a breach of the Treaty, eſpecially when it is certain, that excluſive of the Guntoor Circar, he has a much more conſiderable country dependant on Adoni, to defend, on which the Company cannot pretend to any claim, and for the protection of which he is certainly at liberty to entertain what Troops he pleaſes, provided they are not actually Enemies to the Company or the Carnatic; and I think it is evident that the Europeans maintained by him are principally for that ſervice: ſince, while he obſerves the terms of the Treaty on which he holds the circar of Guntoor, he can have nothing to apprehend for the ſafety thereof, it being bounded on the North by the Company's circars, on the South by the Nabob's country, and on the Weſt by his own; whereas his country of Adoni is open to the attacks and depredations of the Marattas, Hyder Ally, his brother Nizam Ally Cawn, and other Country Powers; and to the ſafety of which, it therefore certainly behoves him to be the more attentive.

APPENDIX, No. 75.

3d. Becauſe it was well known at the time the Treaty was concluded with the Soubah in 1768, that Bazalet Jung had many French and other Foreigners in his ſervice; that he had been long before, and was then, entertaining all he could get; and that he received ſupplies of military ſtores whenever he could procure them. If ſuch a conduct was deemed improper or contrary to the intereſt and meaning of the Treaty, a clauſe ought to have been inſerted therein to prevent the ſame, and to compel him to rely on the Company alone for protection.

4th. Becauſe I cannot conceive that the Commanding Officer of the Europeans in his ſervice having entertained ſome of our deſerters can be deemed or conſtrued a breach of the Treaty of 1768. It did appear to the Board in that light at the time it happened, now upwards of two years ago; and it is well known, that on application to Bazalet Jung on the ſubject, he ordered them to be diſmiſſed his ſervice. The trifling diſputes which have happened between his people and thoſe of the Company, on the confines of our reſpective diſtricts, regarding watercourſes, and the liberty of cutting wood, &c. and on which it has not been thought neceſſary to come to an eclairciſſement with him, cannot ſurely be deemed a violation of the Treaty, or a ſufficient ground to warrant our proceeding to hoſtilities, to deprive him of the circar of Guntoor.

5th. Becauſe, excluſive of the imputation of a breach of Treaty (which, as I have ſaid before, I conceive this Government would incur, by proceeding to hoſtilities, to compel Bazalet Jung to a compliance with the requiſitions propoſed, without the concurrence of the Soubah) I apprehend that, notwithſtanding what is alledged of the Soubah's jealouſy and diſlike towards his Brother, that his inclination towards the Company is by no means more favourable; that he would rejoice at their being diſpoſſeſſed of the circars; and that it is not improbable that he might be induced to ſupport his Brother, which the preſent diſtracted ſtate of the Maratta Government ſeems to leave him at liberty of doing. And although I do not think that Hyder Ally will wantonly or haſtily enter into a quarrel with us, yet it is impoſſible to ſay what he may not attempt on ſeeing us engaged in trouble, or what a tempting offer of country from Bazalet Jung may not induce him to undertake; and to what lengths we may be led, having once drawn the ſword, no one can tell:—we cannot ſay, we will go thus far, and no farther. To carry on a long and expenſive war, I am afraid our finances are by no means equal; eſpecially when it is conſidered, that the collection of our Northern Revenues, our principal reſources, would probably be ſtopped in the beginning, our inveſtment muſt immediately ceaſe, and the Company of courſe be diſappointed of returning cargoes to aſſiſt them in fulfilling their engagements in Europe. Moreover, as this war would be wholly on the Company's account, we could not expect that any part of the expence would be borne by the Nabob—nay, ſhould the Carnatic, in conſequence of the meaſures propoſed, be invaded, which I by no means think improbable, might we not juſtly be accuſed of bringing miſery on the Nabob's country, and of involving him in difficulties and diſtreſs?——The ſeaſon of the year, as the crops will ſoon be cut, has been urged as an argument for our taking immediate poſſeſſion of

the

APPENDIX. No. 75.

the Guntoor Circar. May it not be expected that the ſame argument may be an inducement with any of the Country Powers, to enter and lay waſte the Carnatic and circars? And may we not, in that caſe, ſuſtain far greater loſs than any advantages to be obtained by the meaſures now propoſed, can repay?

6th. Becauſe, from the accounts lately received from Captain Duncan, I conſider the Foreigners in Bazalet Jung's ſervice as a mere banditti, without diſcipline, ſubordination, or controul, and that while they are in that ſtate, which I think will be ſo long as they continue in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, leſs danger is to be apprehended from them than if they were removed from him; ſince, if he were to diſmiſs them, they would probably go off to Hyder Ally, when, by being kept in proper order and ſubjection, they might become very uſeful to him, and in time very dangerous to us. At any rate I am of opinion, that their removal is not an object of ſuch importance as to juſtify our undertaking it without the Soubah's concurrence; as the advantages to be expected therefrom are by no means to be put in competition with the difficulties and dangers to which we may expoſe ourſelves by ſuch a meaſure.

J. M. Stone.

Mr. Brooke's Minute.

The more I reflect on the conſequence which muſt attend the intercourſe between the French and Bazalet Jung, the more I am convinced of the neceſſity of putting a ſtop to that intercourſe; for, though the French have not openly appeared in it, I have not a doubt but they are ſecretly and intimately connected with him, and if ever Bazalet Jung ſhould aſpire to the Muſnud of Hydraḥad, in right of being the elder Brother, it is through the aſſiſtance of the French by which he means to obtain it. Bazalet Jung has ever been deemed a favourer of the French intereſt, and I believe it would not be eaſy to point out a ſingle inſtance wherein he has ſhewn a friendly diſpoſition to the Engliſh; and did not his natural attachment to the French preponderate againſt the real benefits which he has received from the Engliſh, in giving him a Revenue of £. 80,000 a year, it ſhould ſeem that gratitude alone ſhould have attached him to the latter. If ever the French mean to figure again on this coaſt, they muſt form an Alliance with ſome Country Power; that with Hyder Ally, though he is the moſt able to aſſiſt, yet is attended with many difficulties, becauſe of the Carnatic lying between, through which the ſupplies of men and ſtores may be intercepted; this is not the caſe with Bazelet Jung; their intercourſe with him is immediate and direct through the ſea-port of Mootapilly; and, in caſe of a war with the French, it ſeems more than probable their firſt ſtroke would be in the Northern Circars, to cut off, by his aſſiſtance, our Revenues there, which amount to near ten lacks of Pagodas per annum; and as the Nabob has told us, in caſe of troubles in the Carnatic, he will not be able to ſupply us, our finances then would be reduced indeed.—It ſeems therefore of the greateſt conſequence, that our Revenues from our circars ſhould be permanent and ſecure; and I think they cannot be deemed ſo, while men and ſtores are ſupplied Bazalet Jung by the French. But as they have not openly appeared in this intercourſe, they cannot openly take umbrage at our intercepting it. This then ſeems the moſt favourable juncture to take vigorous meaſures; for, ſhould we wait until they publicly declare their intentions, we could not then take any ſtep in this buſineſs without endangering a rupture between the two Nations. With reſpect to the Queſtion,—whether Bazalet Jung has broke the Treaty or not,—I muſt acknowledge, that when it was entered on our Minutes, that he had not, I gave my aſſent thereto with great reluctance; and I may with truth ſay, that I did not object to it, rather than that I concurred in that opinion. And if we at this time take a review of the whole tenor of Bazalet Jung's conduct, his attachment to the French in preference to the Engliſh, his encouraging our people to deſert us, his granting a jaghire in the Guntoor Circar to a French Officer when the Company have a reverſionary right to it; his employing another Officer in the management of his affairs at Mootapilly, who had taken upon him to alter the ancient watercourſes, land-marks, and uſages of the country, and puniſhed corporally the people of the Company's villages; I cannot think that Bazalet Jung, who enjoys the Guntoor Circar by Treaty on ſufferance and good behaviour, can be ſaid to merit much regard from the Engliſh; on the contrary, I think this Government had a right to call him to an account by the ſpirit of that Treaty, in the very firſt inſtance of his receiving our deſerters, and that his conduct ever ſince has been an aggravation of that fault. I am therefore of opinion, it would be right in this Government to take an active part in this buſineſs, having firſt obtained the concurrence of the Governor General and Council thereto; and in caſe ſatisfaction is not obtained, then to take poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, and thereby break off his direct intercourſe with the French, even though we ſhould, after poſſeſſion, give him the whole of the Revenues; which are, in my opinion, but a ſecondary conſideration in compariſon of the conſequences which may attend the connections between Bazalet Jung and the French.

The Nizam, it may be imagined, would not chuſe to give his public concurrence to this meaſure, to ſave appearances to the world, though ſecretly he may wiſh it ſhould take place; for it is well known that jealouſies have for a long time ſubſiſted between the two Brothers: and as ſelf-preſervation is the great law of nature, the more the Nizam can reduce the offenſive power of the other, the leſs will be his own apprehenſions; and nothing can contribute more to this end, than cutting off the means of aſſiſtance which the French may afford. What then can reſt with the Nizam, but the fear that his Brother may become burthenſome to him?—But if this can be provided for by paying Bazalet Jung the Revenues of the circar, the Nizam will not probably object, but on the contrary, will think himſelf benefited by the meaſure; and this may lead to further occaſions of mutual benefits between the Company and him; for as his country is the natural barrier to the Northern Circars, the Marattas cannot eaſily diſturb our poſſeſſions there while he continues to favour us. The relinquiſhing alſo of the Piſhcuſh of five lacks of Rupees might probably be obtained, if aſſiſtance was ſent him in caſe his country was invaded.

Henry Brooke.

Mr. Dawſon's Minute.

So far from conſidering the French, as they are termed in Bazalet Jung's ſervice, an eſtabliſhment from the French Government, I have always underſtood them to be principally the Natives of every European ſettlement in India; and on the whole, an undiſciplined rabble, who, like many others in the ſervice of the Country Powers, cannot find ſubſiſtence elſewhere. They may be regarded merely as adventurers not of ſufficient conſequence to be employed to promote any views of Government, and in fact, objects almoſt unworthy our conſideration. It is well known that foreign ſhips import military ſtores from Europe on account of individuals, and theſe ſtores are diſpoſed of to the ſeveral Country Powers. What military ſuccours have been imported at Mootapilly, I have reaſon to believe, from the intelligence received from Captain Duncan, were not intended for the defence of the Guntoor Circar, but conveyed, as uſual, through it, and for the defence of Bazalet Jung's poſſeſſions in the Adoni Country, which are extenſive, and ſurrounded with powerful Chiefs, among whom it is good policy in him to appear as reſpectable as poſſible. The Troops Bazalet Jung lately marched into the Guntoor Circar were from Adoni, and in conſequence of the alarm he has received from a detachment of ours being ſtationed on the borders of his country, and with no other deſign than to defend that country from any hoſtilities he may commit. It is from experience ſufficiently proved, that in

in the preſent ſyſtem of the Company's affairs, their firſt and grand object ſhould be the defence of that very great extent of territories they are now in poſſeſſion of, and not the acquiſition of new ones. Nay, I profeſs myſelf of opinion, that the Company do not even wiſh for an increaſe of territory at the hazard of interrupting the preſent tranquillity of the Country, and incurring an expenſive war. I, on no account, would ſubmit to any thing which would carry with it the leaſt appearance of inſult and indignity offered to the Company; but that not being now the caſe, I am convinced that moderate meaſures will ever prove moſt ſalutary to their intereſt; nor can I admit of the expediency of proceeding to more violent ones till thoſe have failed; and if we were to commence hoſtilities precipitately, it might involve us in a diſpute with both the Soubah and his Brother, injure the Company's inveſtment, and endanger our Revenues in the Northern Circars. For theſe reaſons, added to our having addreſſed the Soubah on this ſubject, and the Governor General and Council at Bengal deferred giving their final inſtructions until the reſult of that Letter is made known to them, I therefore give my vote againſt the Queſtion.

Geo. Dawſon.

Mr. Stratton's Minute.

I cannot agree to any hoſtile meaſures being taken againſt Bazalet Jung, for the following reaſons:

1ſt. Becauſe it does not appear to me that Bazalet Jung has infringed the 2d article of the Treaty entered into with the Soubah, in 1768, wherein it is ſtipulated, that the Company ſhall not take poſſeſſion of the circar he holds till after his death, or till he breaks the friendſhip of the ſaid Company, by raiſing diſturbances in the country, Nizampatam, or the Carnatic.

2d. Becauſe I think that Bazalet Jung's entertaining Foreigners in his ſervice, and receiving military ſtores, is conſiſtent with the plan he obſerved when the Soubah entered into the Treaty with the Company, and cannot therefore be looked upon as a breach of this Treaty; for he has not employed them againſt any of the Company's poſſeſſions, (though it has been apprehended for ſome years paſt that he would do ſo) and I conclude he keeps them for the protection of the country he holds dependant on Adoni, which the Company cannot have a claim to.

3d. Becauſe I am of opinion, that we ſhould firſt know the Soubah's ſentiments with reſpect to the propoſitions made to him in the Preſident's Letter, dated the 18th Auguſt 1775, wherein he is aſſured, "That nothing ſhall induce this Government to infringe any part of the Treaty entered into with him in 1768;" and if we were therefore to commence hoſtilities before we have an Anſwer to this Letter, the Soubah might juſtly look upon us as the aggreſſors, and might probably be induced, by promiſes from his Brother, of acting a part againſt us, and thereby bring on a war, which would be the loſs, for a time, of the Revenues in the circars, and deprive the Company of their inveſtments to the Northward.

4th. Becauſe I do not think there is any bad conſequence to be apprehended from the Europeans in Bazalet Jung's ſervice, as they are allowed (by the intelligence we have received) to be undiſciplined, and in want of pay; and I well remember, at the time that Captain Thomas Fletcher commanded at Angole, this party was ſo diſſatisfied with their ſituation, that he gave it as his opinion, that if he was allowed to march with his battalion into the Guntoor Circar, every man (then commanded by Bons Enfans) would come over to him.—About that time the Board determined on ſeizing a quantity of military ſtores landed at Mootapilly for Bazalet Jung's ſervice; but on mature deliberation, they reſolved to deliver them up.—The Company approved of the meaſures, as appears by their General Letter, dated 25th March 1768. Par. 15, 16, 17, and 18, to which I refer.

Having been for theſe three years abſent from Madras, it took me up ſome time to refer to the Records reſpecting what had paſſed relating to the Guntoor Circar; and while I was writing the foregoing, Mr. Stone's Minute on the ſubject was ſent for my peruſal, which makes it unneceſſary for me to add further, for I approve of the reaſons aſſigned by him in the ſupport of my opinion.

Geo. Stratton.

The Preſident's Minute.

The Company being adviſed that we ſhould wait the Anſwer to the Letter wrote the Soubah, before we took any further ſteps regarding the Guntoor Circar; alſo the Governor General and Council, who, by their Letter of the 23d ult. ſo far approve of what we have done, as to tell us that they ſhall not give us any further inſtructions until they know his Anſwer; and as nothing has occurred ſince to induce us to alter our former Reſolution, for I conſider Bazalet Jung's ſending the French into the Guntoor Circar, and calling upon the Zemindars for aſſiſtance, and an advance of their Jemmabundies, as things that we have to expect—I therefore give my vote againſt the Queſtion; and have no doubt within myſelf, that if at any future time it ſhould be judged by the Board adviſable to take poſſeſſion of that circar from the aſſurances that were given me, as I paſſed through it, that the Zemindars would be ready enough to put themſelves under the Company's Government.

Carried in the Negative by all preſent, excepting Sir Robert Fletcher; who will ſend in his reaſons to the Secretary, and requeſt they may be entered on this day's Conſultation.

Sir Rob^{t} Fletcher's Minute.

The Letter from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, under date the 23d ult. which was received and read at the Board yeſterday, ought not, in my opinion, to have prevented our adopting immediately the meaſure recommended in their Letter of the 5th of July.

Firſt. Becauſe the Governor General and Council's Letter of the 23d ult. appears to me to be nothing more than an unavoidable acquieſcence in the Letter this Board has written to the Soubah on the 18th of Auguſt, without containing any thing that can be conſtrued as an approbation of the Board's having declined to follow the idea recommended by the Governor General and Council, could not, I think, conſiſtently with the dignity of this Preſidency, and the regard that is due to the Soubah, inforce in their Letter of the 23d ult. what they recommended in their Letter of the 5th of July; becauſe, in doing ſo, they would have ſuperſeded the act of this Board, and endangered the preſent harmony which ſubſiſts between us and the Soubah.

Secondly. Becauſe Bazalet Jung's preſent preparations for war, and his correſpondence with the French, give us apprehenſions, that, if much more time be allowed him, he will form connections with that Nation dangerous to our circars: every delay may add to the evil, till our future poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar ſhall daily become more and more precarious; circumſtances being ſo altered ſince that date of the Governor General and Council's firſt Letter, as to render what appeared to be expedient then, abſolutely neceſſary now.

Rob. Fletcher.

Mr. Jourdan moves, That a Letter be wrote to the Governor General and Council, ſetting forth the neceſſity of obliging Bazalet Jung immediately to comply with what they have recommended in their Letter of the 5th July, whether the propoſitions put to the Soubah meet with his concurrence, or not?

Mr. Mackay. For the Motion.
Mr. Jourdan. For the Motion.
Mr. Palmer. Againſt the Motion.
Mr. Stone. Againſt the Motion.
Mr. Brooke. For the Motion.
Mr. Dawſon. Againſt the Motion.
Sir Robt. Fletcher. For the Motion.

APPENDIX. No. 76.

Mr. Stratton. Againſt the Motion.
The Preſident, Againſt the Motion.
The Majority againſt the Motion.

The Majority of the Board deeming it difficult to frame a Letter to the Governor General and Council, agreeably to the different opinions which have appeared in the courſe of this debate; it is agreed, That a copy of this day's Proceedings, as far as relates to the ſubject in queſtion, be tranſmitted to the Governor General and Council, for their opinion.

Reſolved, That a Letter be wrote to the Nabob, with the ſubſtance of the Letter from the Governor General and Council of the 23d ult. as far as relates to the Treaty propoſed by him to be entered into with Hyder Ally Cawn.

A. Wynch,
Geo. Stratton,
Rob^t Fletcher,
Geo. Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Arch^d Palmer,
Fran^s Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

APPENDIX, N° 76.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, 20th November 1775.

READ Letter from Nizam Ally Cawn, as entered in Co. Corr. N° 135, acquainting the Preſident of his having ſent directions to Bazalet Jung, to withdraw the Foreign Party from the Guntoor Circar, and ſtation them in the country dependant on Adoni; and to make them relinquiſh Mootapilly and the other villages, and draw their pay from the Adoni Country.

Extract from Fort St. George Country Correſpondence.

From the Nizam; received 16th Nov. 1775.

No. 135. I received at a moſt fortunate time your very agreeable Letter, every word of which may be compared to the bud of a flower out of the garden of ſincerity and friendſhip; the contents of it, like flowers of various hues, gave brightneſs to my countenance.

You ſay that in the beginning of 1769, the Chriſtian æra, a Treaty took place between the Governor and Council and me, by the means of the late Ruannud Dawlah, Bahadar, and the knowledge of Wallan Jau, which, by the bleſſing of God, has not been infringed till the preſent time; that the Engliſh have nothing more at heart than the obſervance of their Treaties, and that they will never deviate from the preſent one.—You mention ſome circumſtances relating to the Murtazanagur Circar, and it being held by Bazalet Jung (Erun ul Ourah) upon certain conditions.—You ſay that you have received certain intelligence, that he has a number of Europeans in his ſervice; that he has received a large quantity of ammunition and ſtores, which were landed at Mootapilly—You ſay that theſe Europeans have plundered, and committed violence in the diſtricts of the Company; and to remedy this you propoſe two things—That I will either allow the Engliſh to hold the Guntoor Circar at a ſtipulated rent; or that I will get theſe Europeans diſmiſſed, and truſt the defence of that circar to the Engliſh.—All the particulars of the above Letter are clearly underſtood.

I never formed the leaſt doubt concerning the faith and good wiſhes of the Engliſh to my Government; the Treaty made by Ruannud Dowlah with the Governor and Council, I conſidered as ſtable and firm as if engraven on ſtone never to be effaced; and I am certain there will not be the difference of an hair's breadth in their obſervance of it.—The particulars relating to the Europeans in Bazalet Jung's ſervice, are theſe: when Monſieur Buſſy obtained leave to go to the Carnatic, after the taking of Pondicherry, his men deſerted and wandered in ſeveral parts of the country, ſome of them were retained in the ſervice of this Government; and being afterwards diſmiſſed, went to the circars at Ellore Muſtaphanagur, where Huſſein Ally Cawn took them into pay, after this they went into Bazalet Jung's ſervice; they are not compoſed of French only, but all nations, ſuch as Germans, Dutch, Engliſh, Portugueze, who have deſerted from other places; their Commander may be a Frenchman.—Bazalet Jung took them into his ſervice for this reaſon: In the province of Viziapore there are ſeveral Zemindars, who have each from 10 to 15,000 Peons, and 2,000 Horſe, ſuch as thoſe of Chellapem, Walla, Coittal Durg, Ray Durg, and Ballary; thoſe often prove refractory, and without a force, it is impoſſible to collect the Peiſhcuſh due by them.—Hyder Ally Cawn's country alſo borders on this province, and his power is well known.—Bazalet Jung has therefore taken theſe Europeans into his ſervice, to render himſelf ſome way formidable; he has appropriated the Revenue of 10 or 12 villages towards their pay, and this is not always ſufficient; they receive from the Revenues of Adoni—I have no certain accounts of this, but write from gueſs. As theſe Europeans, being ſtationed in the diſtrict of Guntoor, ſeem to give you uneaſineſs; in order to remove all cauſe for it, a perſon of diſtinction has been ſent to Bazalet Jung, to get theſe men removed, and ſent to the diſtrict of Adoni and Raychoor, and to ſtop their receiving the Revenues of the villages granted to them for their pay, which they may receive from Adoni. This, I hope, by the aſſiſtance of the Almighty, will be brought about. Every article and condition of the Treaty between us ſhall remain fixed and unaltered even in an hair's breadth. Beſides this, a perſon has been ſent from the Preſence to Murtazanagur; that if Bazalet Jung has granted theſe twelve villages to the Europeans above-mentioned, their Agent ſhall be removed, and one appointed there from the circar of Murtazanagur; of which he is to acquaint me.

You will pleaſe to give orders to the Agents of the Company to obſerve the ſame boundaries, fixed and eſtabliſhed for theſe twelve years paſt.—What ſhall I ſay more?

Mr. Stone's Minute.

The Letter from the Soubah appears to me to be expreſſed in terms exceedingly proper, and highly becoming his ſituation, as it reſpects his Brother and this Government. He therein ſhows his good will towards the Company, and his deſire of maintaining the Treaty eſtabliſhed with them; and at the ſame time he manifeſts an earneſt inclination to live in harmony with his Brother, and to prevent, if poſſible, a rupture between him and the Company.—It affords us, in my opinion, the moſt favourable opportunity that could be, of relinquiſhing him with honour; a meaſure which I ſhall always think too precipitately undertaken, and which if purſued, will, I am afraid, probably endanger the peace and ſecurity of the Company's and the Nabob's poſſeſſions, and be productive of conſequences highly detrimental to the intereſts of our Employers—I therefore move, that the extraordinary number of Sepoys ſtationed at Vantepollam be immediately withdrawn, and that the Europeans ſent to Ongole be ordered to Ellore, as ſuch a meaſure will be a proof to the Soubah of our confidence in, and of our friendly diſpoſition towards him, and will convince him, that we mean not to injure his Brother Bazalet Jung; who, I think, would thereby be induced to comply the more readily with the Soubah's requiſition of removing the Europeans from the Guntoor Circar; and it might alſo be a means of preventing him from making any further preparations for its defence, which the collection of our Troops had obliged him to ſet about. This may be done with the more propriety, as it will be a conſiderable time before any ſtores can be imported at Mootapilly from the Southward.—I alſo move, That a Letter be wrote to the Soubah, informing him of the meaſures we have taken, and aſſuring him, that we are induced thereto by the firm reliance we have on his friendly interpoſition, and endeavours to prevent his Brother from giving us any juſt cauſe of complaint.

J. M. Stone.

Whereupon Mr. Stone's firſt Motion being put to the vote, it is carried in the Negative by a majority of the Board—Becauſe they have written to Bengal, and they think it improper to make any alteration in the preſent arrangement, until they ſhall have received the ſentiments of the Governor General and Council—Becauſe there are no more than two companies of Sepoys at Vantepollam, which is a Company's Village, and the Europeans ſent from hence are ſtationed at Ongole, in the Nabob's country.—And Mr. Mackay further adds,

Becauſe, while the party of Europeans commanded by Monſieur Lally remains in any part of Bazalet Jung's dominions, and while the port of Mootapilly is open to him for receiving men and military ſtores from Pondicherry, the evil which we complained of, and which occaſioned our writing to Bengal, will ſtill exiſt the ſame as before.

Sir Robert Fletcher obſerves to the Board, that the Soubah's Letter appears to him exactly ſuch as he ſaid in his former Minute he expected, vague and inconcluſive; he further thinks that the Soubah will take no active part unleſs he ſhall receive aſſurances of our complying with the articles of the Treaty of 1768, particularly the article wherein we agree to aſſiſt him with Troops.

Mr. Stone's firſt Motion being thus carried in the Negative, it is thought unneceſſary to put the ſecond, it being founded on the withdrawing of the Troops.

Ordered, That a copy of the Soubah's Letter be tranſmitted to Bengal, with an Extract of this day's Proceedings, as far as relates to the ſubject in queſtion, and a Letter prepared in conſequence to the Governor General and Council.

A. Wynch,
Geo. Stratton,
Rob^t Fletcher,
Geo. Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Thomas Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, November 22d 1775.

Came in the following Letter from John Whitehill, Eſquire, Chief at Maſulipatam:

To the Honourable Alex^r Wynch, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor of Fort St. George.

Honourable Sir,

The incloſed Letter from the Soubah was brought me this morning by the Hircarrahs who carried your Letter of the 8th September to him, and came accompanied by one addreſſed to me as uſual.

The extraordinary diſpatch which was uſed in ſending me the duplicate of this Letter, would of itſelf have been ſufficient evidence of the ſolicitude with which your Anſwer is expected; but if it needed any further demonſtration, the care which has been uſed to ſend a copy of it here, to be explained to me, carries the ſtrongeſt confirmation of the Soubah's anxiety, and makes it incumbent on us to be cautious and determined in our meaſures.

I am informed by very good authority, that the oppoſing intereſts of Bazalet Jung and Fazel Beg have particularly occaſioned this anxiety in the Soubah's mind upon this occaſion; and that while the aſpiring views of Bazalet Jung are ſet forth by one party, as a motive for the Soubah's improving his connexion with the Company; the power of Fazel Beg and the deſigns of the Nabob are urged by the other, to ſhew the danger of admitting the Company to any further footing in the country: If this ſhould really be the ſtate of the Durbar, and Bazalet Jung's conduct, on the one ſide, gives us as much reaſon to credit, as that of Fazel Beg, in ſending his family to this place at ſo critical a time, does on the other: if this ſhould be really the caſe, we cannot, I think, more effectually aſſiſt the party which favours our views, than by taking immediate poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, and then offering to pay a reaſonable rent for it, as was at firſt propoſed; for, by this means, not only the jealouſy which is now entertained of our intentions would be removed, but a degree of credit be acquired which might give an entire aſcendancy to the party we wiſh to favour; whereas by delaying to act, and truſting to further negociations for getting the circar, we muſt neceſſarily weaken Fazel Beg's intereſt, and add real ſtrength to the party of Bazalet Jung, by the money which in the interim he will draw from the Guntoor Country.

I ſhall anxiouſly expect the Board's orders upon this ſubject, that I may be enabled to remove the ſuſpenſe under which the Zemindars of that circar are now held, and to relieve the one, who has particularly made advances to me, from the preſſing demands of near two hundred people, who have been ſent in conſequence of the ſuſpicions entertained of him, to exact his proportion of the money required by Bazalet Jung. The Vackeel of this Zemindar has been ſome time here, and as I thought it might be of conſequence to have one on the part of Vaſſereddy Ramanah, I ordered him, as a Zemindar of the Muſtaphanagur Circar, to ſend a perſon to me; which he has accordingly done; and I hope my having taken this ſtep will be approved of by you. The other Zemindars I make no doubt of being able to ſecure in our intereſt, as ſoon as the appearance of our Troops in the circar can give them a confidence in our protection. I am, with great reſpect,

Honourable Sir,
Your moſt obedient,
humble Servant,
John Whitehill.

Maſulipatam,
November 15, 1775.

In conſequence of which the following Anſwer was immediately diſpatched to Mr. Whitehill:

To John Whitehill, Eſquire, Chief at Maſulipatam.

Sir,

Your Letters to the Preſident, of the 12th and 15th inſtant, have been laid before us.

As we have already come to the determination of not taking any further meaſures until we hear from the Governor General and Council, we ſhall for the preſent only direct, that you give ſuch Anſwer to the Vackeels from the Guntoor Circar, as may appear to you moſt conſiſtent with this our Reſolution. In the mean time you will keep us regularly adviſed, and be particularly attentive that no freſh alarms are given to Bazalet Jung or his party.

We are, Sir,
Your affectionate Friends,
A. Wynch, &c. Council.

Fort Saint George,
22d November, 1775.

Diſpatched Letter to the Governor General and Council, as entered hereafter:

To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, Eſquire, Governor General, &c. Council at Fort William.

Gentlemen,

We have been honoured with your Letter of 23d ultimo; previous to the receipt of which, we had advice from the Chief at Maſulipatam, and the Commanding Officer at Ongole, (copy of which comes incloſed) whereupon we have reaſon to ſuppoſe Bazalet Jung is making preparations for reſiſtance. This, together with the meaſures meaſures to be purſued in conſequence, we had under deliberation; but as you have deemed it expedient to wait the reſult of our Letter to the Soubah, we ſhall not take any further ſteps till his Anſwer arrives.

APPENDIX. No. 77.

In the courſe of our deliberations on the ſubject matter of the advice before-mentioned, and of the meaſure propoſed by the Chief of Maſulipatam, of taking poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar immediately, a difference of opinion appeared at our Board. But as this is a matter of moment to the Company, and cannot be too attentively weighed and conſidered, we ſhall, accompanying, furniſh you with our ſeparate opinions on the ſubject.

Since writing the aforegoing, we have received a Letter from the Soubah, copy of which comes incloſed; you will obſerve it is not a direct Anſwer to the propoſals that were made to him. We alſo ſend incloſed our further deliberations on this ſubject, for your information; and we requeſt you will favour us with your ſentiments with all convenient expedition.

We have the honour to be,
Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient and
moſt humble Servants,
A. Wynch, &c. Council.

Fort Saint George,
22d November 1775.

APPENDIX, No. 77.

Received the following Letter from Bengal:

To the Honourable Alexander Wynch, Eſq. Preſident, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Gentlemen,

WE have received the Letter which you wrote to us on the

If Nizam Ally Cawn ſhall not agree to the terms propoſed to him in the Letter from your Preſident, reſpecting the country of Bazalet Jung, or if he ſhall give an evaſive Anſwer to that Letter, we then ſhall approve of your deputing a perſon to his Court; but we deſire that his commiſſion may be confined merely to the affairs of the Guntoor Circar, agreeably to the inſtructions we have already given you; the principal object of which is, to deprive the French of any footing which they may have obtained in that diſtrict. And in caſe you find it neceſſary to depute a perſon on this ſervice, we requeſt to be furniſhed with a copy of the inſtructions which you may give him.

Minute thereon:

The Board having acquainted the Governor General and Council, in their Letter of the 22d ultimo, they had reſolved to wait their ſentiments upon the Soubah's Letter to the Preſident, before any further meaſures were taken for the removal of the French from the Guntoor Circar, they are of opinion, that it will not be proper to ſend a perſon to the Soubah's Court, or to purſue any other ſteps in the way of negociation, until they receive an Anſwer to that Letter.

Agreed, That a Letter to the foregoing effect be written to the Governor General and Council; and that we incloſe, for their information, copies of the laſt Letters received from Captain Duncan and Enſign Halcott, relative to the defeat of Bazalet Jung's Troops, before the fort of Bellari.

A. Wynch,
Geo. Stratton,
Rob^t Fletcher,
Geo. Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
J. M. Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Thomas Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

APPENDIX, No. 78.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 2d January 1776.

PRESENT,

The Right Honourable Lord Pigot, Governor, Preſident,
George Stratton,
Robert Fletcher,
George Dawſon,
Henry Brooke,
Claud Ruſſel,
Alex^r Dalrymple,
John Maxw Stone,
Archdale Palmer,
Francis Jourdan,
Geo. Mackay.

READ the following Letter from the Governor General and Coucil at Fort William:

To the Honourable Alexander Wynch, Eſquire, Preſident, &c. Council of Fort St. George.

Gentlemen,

We have this day received and taken into conſideration your Letter of the 22d ult. and your Proceedings relative to the Foreigners in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, in the Guntoor Circar.—As you have reſolved to ſuſpend taking any meaſures for their removal until you receive further inſtructions from us, we take the earlieſt opportunity of conveying to you our ſentiments, to enable you to proceed, without loſs of time, on this neceſſary buſineſs.

In our Letter of the 5th July laſt, we left it open to you to take poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, unleſs Bazalet Jung ſhould immediately conſent to diſmiſs all the Foreigners in his ſervice; without poſitively directing the meaſure, we authorized you to carry it into execution, if you ſhould think it adviſable, conſidering the general poſture of affairs in the Carnatic.

By the Anſwer of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn to the Letter which your Preſident wrote to him on that occaſion, we perceive he engages his Brothe ſhall remove his Foreign Troops from the ſea coaſt t Adoni, and to ſtop the Revenue of the villages allotted for their pay. If this engagement be fulfilled, and if we are put in poſſeſſion of Mootapillee, the object of our firſt inſtructions will be obtained; if not, we ſtill continue to allow you the ſame latitude to take poſſeſſion of the circar which we gave you in our Letter of the 5th July. In the firſt place, we think it proper to aſſign the Revenues of Mootapillee to Bazalet Jung, after defraying the extraordinary expences which may be incurred by that ſervice; and in the ſecond place, to grant the Revenues of the circar to the Soubah, with the like reſerve for defraying the expences; but in either, our yielding up our Revenues is founded on the ſuppoſition that Bazalet Jung, or Nizam Ally Cawn, reſpectively, do not oppoſe you in theſe operations.

Our ſole object in all the directions we have given on the ſubject of the Guntoor Circar, has been to exclude Europeans from an entrance, by ſea, into the diſtricts of Bazalet Jung, through the port of Mootapillee. This point, therefore, we recommend to your ſerious attention; and ſhall be ſatisfied with any juſt means by which you may be able to attain the end propoſed. You will obſerve, by the conceſſions we offer, how much it is our wiſh to ſettle the affair amicably, and to avoid proceeding to open hoſtilities.

We deſire you will acquaint the Nabob of the Carnatic with your intentions on this head, and that they proceed from the approbation and inſtructions of this Government. You will alſo explain to him our motives for recommending the above meaſures, and endeavour, if poſſible, ſible, to attain his acquieſcence and aſſiſtance in the execution of them. We are, Gentlemen,

Your moſt obedient Servants,
Warren Haſtings,
J. Clavering,
Geo. Monſon,
Rich^d Barwell,
P. Francis.

Fort William,
the 11th Dec. 1775.

Ordered to lie on the table, until the Right Honourable the Preſident, and the other new Members of the Board, ſhall have read over what has already paſſed on this ſubject.

APPENDIX, No. 79.

Extract of Fort St. George Military Conſultations, the 10th July 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Major General Munro,
Charles Smith,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

THE Preſident lays before the Board the following Minute for their conſideration:

On referring back to the Records of 1775, I find the attention of the Board at that time very much employed in endeavouring to remove an evil which has for ſome years paſt threatened no ſmall danger to the intereſts of the Company in the circars. The Board will be at no loſs to underſtand, that I mean the growing power and influence acquired by the French in the Guntoor Circar; an object of ſo much importance at this juncture, when we expect a war with France, that I cannot too ſtrongly recommend it to their attention; and I ſhall beg leave, after ſtating briefly what has paſſed on the ſubject, to propoſe to them ſuch meaſures as appear to me immediately neceſſary to be purſued on this occaſion.

The Guntoor Circar was by the Mogul's Phirmaund, granted with the other Northern Circars to the Company in 1765; but by the Treaties concluded between them and Nizam Ally Cawn in 1766 and 1768, they conſented that Bazalet Jung ſhould hold the Guntoor Circar during his life, on certain conditions, by which he was reſtrained from diſturbing their affairs; at his death this circar reverts to the Company.

Bazalet Jung holding on the above tenure, a country in which the Company have an immediate and powerful intereſt, ſhould certainly have been at ſome pains to cultivate their friendſhip, or at leaſt have been cautious of diſobliging them. Inſtead of obſerving a conduct ſo prudent and neceſſary in his ſituation, he has ventured to provoke their diſpleaſure, and even to inſult them, by converting this ſame country, which in fact belongs to them, into a nurſery for French and other Foreign Troops, who have been paid with its Revenues, ſupplied with all ſorts of military ſtores through the only ſea-port that opens to it, and who, to crown all, are to every appearance ſupported by the Government of Pondicherry, evidently with the view of ſecuring that Province to themſelves, or of attacking the Company in that quarter, in caſe of a rupture with France: for this purpoſe, it muſt be confeſſed, they are conveniently ſituated, and might give much diſturbance to our Northern poſſeſſions, which are the only ſure ſource of Revenue to the Company on this coaſt.

Theſe circumſtances were repreſented to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, in a Letter dated the 1775; the danger appeared to them in the ſame light that it did to this Government, and they came to a Reſolution, that no time was to be loſt in endeavouring to remove the French from the Guntoor Circar; the mode they recommended was to aſſemble a body of Troops near the Guntoor Circar, and to inſiſt on all Foreigners being immediately diſcharged from Bazalet Jung's ſervice, otherwiſe to take poſſeſſion of the country, and to negociate with Nizam for the immediate ceſſion of it to the Company.

APPENDIX No. 79.

The Board at that time, imagining this mode of application directly to Bazalet Jung would be improper, and not agreeable to the Treaty with Nizam Ally Cawn, complained of his Brother's conduct, and deſired redreſs from him; and a Letter being received from him in Anſwer, it was reſolved to ſend a copy of it to Bengal, and to wait the ſentiments of the Governor General and Council before any further ſteps were taken.

The Letter from Nizam Ally was conceived in very friendly terms. He promiſes therein to uſe his influence with Bazalet Jung to remove every cauſe of jealouſy from the Engliſh; and ſays, he had then ſent a perſon to him expreſsly for that purpoſe. The Governor General and Council of Bengal, very juſtly looking upon this as a ſlight ſecurity, continued the latitude before given to this Government to employ ſuch further meaſures as might be effectual. Their Letter on the ſubject is dated the 11th December 1775, and was received ſoon after Lord Pigot arrived in the country. The Government being then changed, the Letter was ordered to lie on the table for conſideration; and the ſubſequent diſputes at the Board left the matter in that ſtate in which it has ſince remained. The inſtances uſed by Nizam Ally Cawn with his brother have had very little, if any effect; it is well known that a conſiderable party of Troops, commanded by Mr. Lally, were lately in the Guntoor Circar, and approached very near to our poſſeſſions; and even ſince my arrival here, ſome Europeans, with paſſports from the Governor of Pondicherry, have been taken up by the Commanding Officer at Ongole, on their way to the Guntoor Circar, which clearly ſhews that the Foreign Troops with Bazalet Jung are not compoſed of mere adventurers, but are recruited by the authority of the French Government, and kept up for the purpoſes before explained. For theſe reaſons I am of opinion, and accordingly recommend to the Board, that preparations be made as ſoon as poſſible, for executing the former deſign of this Government relative to the Foreign Troops with Bazalet Jung. We have the fulleſt latitude from the Governor General and Council of Bengal to effect it in any manner we may think proper; and that as little delay as poſſible may happen, I think a Letter ſhould be written to Nizam Ally Cawn, acquainting him, that our deſire of continuing on the beſt terms with him induced us to repreſent the behaviour of his brother, Bazalet Jung, in the firſt inſtance, to his Highneſs, expecting the evils complained of, would, by his authority, be redreſſed; but finding no good effect from the endeavours he had employed with his brother on this occaſion, we propoſe applying to Bazalet Jung himſelf, in ſuch a manner as we hope will be more effectual;—that our views are not to acquire territory for the Company, but to take care of their intereſts, and ſecure their reverſionary right to the Guntoor Circar, neither of which can be done without checking at leaſt, if not entirely eradicating, the power obtained by the influence of the French with Bazalet Jung, and ſupported through the channel of that circar; that for this purpoſe we are deſirous of poſſeſſing the port of Mootapillee, by which they are ſupplied with warlike ſtores; but if that port be not immediately put into our hands, and ſufficient aſſurances given us that the Foreign Troops ſhall not be permitted, on any pretence, to enter the Guntoor Circar, the Company may in that caſe, for their own ſecurity, find themſelves under the neceſſity of taking the whole circar into their own hands.

The Board concurring entirely in opinion with the Preſident, relative to the ſtate of the French Force in the Guntoor, and the neceſſity of taking meaſures for ſecuring the Company's intereſts from danger, reſolved, That a Letter be written to Nizam Ally Cawn on this ſubject, as entered in Country Correſpondence, No. 104. Reſolved alſo,

APPENDIX. No. 80.

alſo, That Captain Barclay, the Commandant at Ongole, be directed to ſtop all Europeans going into the Guntoor Circar, and ſend them to the Preſidency.

Tho' Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Sam' Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 80.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 30th November 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
General Munro,
Charles Smith.

THE Preſident acquaints the Committee, that Bazalet Jung's Vackeel, who is now here, hath been frequently to viſit him, and hath expreſſed his Maſter's ſtrong deſire to obtain marks of the Company's friendſhip and good-will, which, he is willing to purchaſe by giving to them the Guntoor Circar, at rent on the terms of the following Treaty or Agreement, which he propoſes to be entered into by the Company's Repreſentatives and himſelf.

Treaty propoſed to be ſettled between the Honourable Tho' Rumbold, Eſquire, Governor, and the Council of Fort Saint George, on the part of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company, and the Nabob Suja Ul Mulk Bazalet Jung, Bahauder.

We Tho' Rumbold, Preſident and Governor, and Members of the Council of Fort Saint George, do engage, on behalf of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company, to take on rent from the Nabob Bazalet Jung, the circar of Murtazanagur, alias Guntoor, for a term of years, commencing the and ending The charity allowances and enams to Zemindars, amounting to Pag' 5,000 per ann. ſhall be paid by Bazalet Jung, and the villages depending on the fort of Condavir, amounting to 5,000 Pag', ſhall continue in their preſent ſtate without our interfering therein. We agree to pay for the reſt of the diſtrict, the annual rent of 1,92,000 Madras Pag'.

We ſhall, in conſideration of one lack of Madras Pag', remitted out of the above rent, maintain a body of Europeans and battalions of Sepoys, beſides guns and military ſtores, as ſhall be hereafter ſpecified; which Force ſhall be ſtationed with the ſaid Nabob, and employed at his diſcretion, or of any other perſon whom he ſhall appoint.

The remaining 92,000 Pag' ſhall be yearly remitted in Soucar Bills, or ready money, to Bazalet Jung.

The Officer whom we ſhall appoint to take command of the Force above-mentioned, ſhall have ſtrict orders to obey Bazalet Jung in every thing; and we promiſe to remove, and appoint another Officer, whenever application is made to us by Bazalet Jung.

If a powerful Enemy comes into Bazalet Jung's country with hoſtile intentions, we promiſe to aſſiſt Bazalet Jung with a Force ſufficient, beſides the ordinary one ſtationed with him, to repel the Enemy; and he ſhall pay the extraordinary charges attending ſuch aſſiſtance given him.

If any diſputes happen between Bazalet Jung's Servants or Ryots and our Soldiers and Sepoys, it ſhall be referred for deciſion to Bazalet Jung; and we promiſe to acquieſce to ſuch deciſions as he ſhall make.

Whatever changes may take place in the Council of Fort Saint George, we promiſe, that as long as the Engliſh are eſtabliſhed in the Decan, they ſhall never depart from the Alliance now entered into by us with Bazalet Jung, or his deſcendants and poſterity; and we promiſe to obſerve ſtrictly every part of this Treaty; and we ſwear, in the preſence of the Almighty God and Jeſus Chriſt, upon his holy Goſpels, that we ſhall abide and never deviate from it.

The Preſident then delivers in the following Paper; which he propoſes to the Committee as the foundation of ſuch Agreement as he thinks the Company may with propriety conclude with Bazalet Jung:

Articles for a Treaty of Agreement to be concluded between the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George, and the reſt of the Members of the Select Committee, and the Nabob Sujah Ul Mulk Bazalet Jung, Bahauder.

The Company agree to rent the Guntoor Circar from the Nabob during his life, for the amount he now actually receives from it, reſerving the Company's reverſionary right to it.

We will keep a ſufficient body of Troops, with artillery and military ſtores, with him, provided he diſcharge and diſarm all the French Troops now in his ſervice, and oblige them to quit the country.—But our Troops with him muſt only be employed within his own diſtricts, or againſt Zemindars dependant on him, and for the defence of his country, in caſe of an attack from a Foreign Power; but they are on no account to be carried beyond the line of his country. The expence of theſe Troops and Stores to be defrayed out of the rent for the Guntoor Circar; the reſt ſhall be paid to Bazalet Jung's order regularly as it becomes due.

In caſe of any improper behaviour in the Commanding Officer, or any other Officer of our Troops, upon a proper repreſentation to us, we ſhall remove ſuch Officer, and appoint another in his room.

If Bazalet Jung's territories be attacked, we will, beſides the Troops which may be with him, give ſuch further aſſiſtance as we can ſpare, without danger to our poſſeſſions; the ordinary and extraordinary expences of ſuch aſſiſtance to be paid by Bazalet Jung.—If any diſputes ariſe between our Soldiers or Sepoys and the Ryots or Servants of Bazalet Jung, the ſame, as far as our own Soldiers or Sepoys are concerned, muſt be determined by our own laws and cuſtoms, and puniſhment inflicted accordingly by our own Officers; but our Officers ſhall have no power over the Servants or People of Bazalet Jung, or protect them in any ſhape whatever againſt his authority; and in caſe of any diſputes where his People appear to be in the wrong, they ſhall be delivered up to him for puniſhment.

The charity allowances and enams to the Zemindars, amounting to 5,000 Pag' per ann. ſhall continue as before. The fort of Condavir ſhall be garriſoned by the Engliſh Troops; but the jaghire villages depending, amounting to 5,000 Pag' per ann. ſhall remain under the management of Bazalet Jung's people, as formerly.

In caſe the Company ſhould require a body of Horſe for the defence of their poſſeſſions, Bazalet Jung ſhall engage to let them have any number they may want, as he may be able to ſpare, upon the Company's paying the expence thereof; the ſaid Cavalry to be returned to Bazalet Jung as ſoon as the ſervice for which they ſhall be required is finiſhed.

This Agreement ſhall be executed with all due form, under our hands and the ſeal of the Company, and ſhall be binding on the Company for ever, ſo long as the terms are faithfully executed on the part of Bazalet Jung.

The Committee are of opinion, That the above Articles contain very proper Amendments to thoſe propoſed by Bazalet Jung; and the Preſident is deſired to communicate them to the Vakeel, and ſound him upon them.

Extract from Fort St. George Country Correſpondence.

No. 35. From the Nabob Bazalet Jung, Behauder; received 23d February 1779.

I received with great pleaſure your Letter, accompanying the draft of a Treaty to be ſealed with my ſeal, ſeal, and relating to the diſmiſſion of the French in my ſervice, which you repreſented would be the means of eſtabliſhing a friendſhip between the Company and me. The deſire I have of being allied with the Engliſh, is from a conſideration of their ſtrict adherence to Treaties, and firmneſs of their friendſhip, in which they ſurpaſs all other Nations; for all thoſe with whom they have made friendſhip, have enjoyed the continuation of it, and tranſmitted it to their poſterity. It has therefore long been my earneſt wiſh to be friendly connected with them; and I thank the Almighty that I have now, by your prudent and wiſe management, been able to obtain what I ſo much wiſhed for. May God, out of his infinite Providence, day by day increaſe and ſtrengthen the foundation of the friendſhip between us, and make it a ſource of mutual advantage to us! The draft of the Treaty ſent by you, has now been altered in a few places. This was done out of pure neceſſity; for, conſidering it as the firſt Treaty of friendſhip between us, it was proper to inſert in it ſuch expreſſions as only portend omens of good fortune, and without this my mind would never have been ſatisfied. In ſo doing, it can be no loſs to the Company; for the expreſſions made uſe of only tend to manifeſt our friendſhip. It has now been ſealed and ſigned by me, and goes with this. After I have received the collections for this year from the Guntoor Circar, and the Treaty is ſent to me under the ſeals and ſignatures of the Governor and Council of Madras, and the Troops deſigned to be ſtationed here are ſent to me, I will ſend you the Sunnud for the rent of the Guntoor Circar. The French Soldiers have been diſmiſſed my ſervice, as you deſire. For further particulars I refer you to the noble and illuſtrious Amer Ul Hind Wallaja, Bahauder.—What ſhall I ſay more?

APPENDIX. No. 81.

Treaty of Friendſhip and Alliance between the Nabob Amer Ul Omra, Sujah Ul Mulk, Behauder, and Mr. Rumbold, Governor, and the Council of Madras, for themſelves and all the future Governors and Councils, as Repreſentatives of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company, for ever and ever.

Suja Ul Mulk, Amer Ul Omra.

Article 1ſt. The Engliſh Company agree to rent from the Nabob Suja Ul Mulk, Bahauder, the Circar of Murtazanagur, commonly called Guntoor, clear of Sibbendy; for whatever he now annually receives from it, will appear by the accounts of collections of the Aumil now reſiding there. (Signed by the Nabob.)

Article 2d. We (the Engliſh Company) ſhall always have at heart the good and proſperity of the Nabob Suja Ul Mulk, who ſhall diſmiſs from his ſervice the French Soldiers now with him; we will ſend him what Troops he may want, who will remain with him conſtantly, and obey his inſtructions. They are, however, only to be employed within the diſtricts belonging to him, or againſt Zemindars dependant on him, or for the defence of his country, in caſe of an attack from a Foreign Enemy; but theſe Troops are on no account to be carried out of his country, or thoſe of the Zemindars dependant upon him. If his affairs ſhould at any time require his going to viſit his brother, the Nabob Nizam Ul Dowla, Bahauder, theſe Troops ſhall attend him and be always with him.

Article 3d. The expences of theſe Troops ſhall be regulated by the Company's cuſtom; and the Accounts having been ſigned by the Nabob, ſhall be paid monthly from the rent of the Guntoor Circar; the remainder of the rent ſhall be regularly remitted in Soucar Bills to the Nabob. In caſe of any improper behaviour or diſreſpect ſhewn by the Commanding Officer, or any other European Officer of our Troops, upon repreſentation being made to us by the Nabob, we ſhall remove ſuch Officer, and appoint another in his room. (Signed by the Nabob.)

Article 4th. If the Nabob Suja Ul Mulk's territories be invaded by an Enemy, we ſhall, beſides the Troops that are ſtationed with him, ſend ſuch a ſufficient Force as we can ſpare to his aſſiſtance. The extraordinary expences of ſuch Troops, whatever they may amount to, ſhall be paid, agreeable to the Company's eſtabliſhed cuſtoms, by the Nabob, who will ſign the Accounts. If any diſputes ariſe between our Soldiers and Sepoys and the Ryots and Servants of the Nabob, puniſhment ſhall be inflicted by our Officers on our Men, agreeable to the Engliſh laws and cuſtoms. The Engliſh Officers, and their People, ſhall not interfere with the Servants and Ryots of the Nabob, and ſhall not protect them or countenance them in any ſhape. In caſe of any diſpute where the Nabob's People appear to be in the wrong, they ſhall be delivered up to him for puniſhment. (Signed by the Nabob.)

Article 5th. The cuſtomary allowances of the Zemindars of the Guntoor Circar, amounting annually to five thouſand Pagodas, ſhall continue as before. The fort and jaghire villages of Condavir ſhall remain under the management of the Servants of the Nabob; but ſuch a garriſon of Engliſh Troops as may be deemed neceſſary for the defence of the fort, ſhall be ſtationed with the Killidar. (Signed by the Nabob.)

Article 6th. If the Company ſhall demand a body of Horſe from the Nabob, he ſhall let them have a number according to his abilities; and the ſaid Cavalry ſhall be returned to him, and their expences paid, as ſoon as the ſervice for which they were required is finiſhed. (Signed by the Nabob.)

This Treaty has been executed in due form, under the ſignatures and ſeals of the Governor and Council, and the Company's ſeal.

We the Governor and Council, who are the Repreſentatives of the Company, do promiſe, that as long as the above terms are faithfully executed by the Nabob Suja Ul Mulk, we ſhall, on our part, never demand from him more than is mentioned in the above Articles; and we engage, on our part, to adhere to them in the ſtricteſt manner. We have accordingly given this as a Treaty. Dated 19th of Mohum, in the 1193 of the Hygera, or 7th February 1779.

APPENDIX, No. 81.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 22d December 1778.

THE Vakeel of Bazalet Jung being deſirous of returning to his Maſter, it is agreed to write a Letter by him, incloſing the Articles on which we are willing to accept his offer of the Guntoor Circar, and requeſting his ſpeedy determination upon them.

Agreed to write to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, adviſing them of Bazalet Jung's Propoſals for a Treaty with the Company, and of the Anſwer we have ſent to him, and deſiring their opinion on the ſubject.

Extract of Fort St. George Country Correſpondence.

No. 194. To Bazalet Jung; dated the 23d December 1778.

I received your friendly Letter of congratulation upon my acceſſion to the Government; and your Vakeel has communicated to me the terms on which you are inclined to form a connection with the Company; all which I underſtand. In anſwer to the Propoſals made to me by your Vakeel, I have delivered him a Paper containing the Articles delivered by your Vakeel, altered and amended by me; and I hope you will approve the alterations, and ſignify your determination upon it as ſoon as poſſible. With reſpect to the diſmiſſion of the French Troops from your ſervice, as that is a circumſtance very eſſential to the cementing a proper Alliance between you and the Company, I hope it will be ſoon effected. And if any aſſiſtance from me be requiſite, I beg you will point out in what manner I can afford it, and I ſhall do it with great pleaſure. May your health and proſperity always increaſe! What can I ſay more?

Extract

APPENDIX. No. 82.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 31ſt December 1778.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Council at Fort Saint George, to the Governor General and Council in Bengal; dated the 31ſt December 1778.

We have written particularly to the Honourable Court of Directors on the ſubject of their engagements with the Nabob and the Rajah of Tanjore, and have requeſted that they will fall on ſome means of relieving us from the embarraſſments we are expoſed to in defending ſuch extenſive territories, without having the leaſt command over any one reſource belonging to them. In the meantime, we flatter ourſelves that you will, from a due conſideration of theſe circumſtances, be induced to yield us every aid in your power, and particularly at this period, when we are obliged to make exertions ſo much beyond our natural ſtrength, and when we have nothing to truſt to for ſupporting them, but engagements to be performed, and revenues to be collected.

On referring to our Records, we obſerve, that in the year 1775, ſeveral Letters were written to you from this Preſidency, on the ſubject of the French Troops in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, maintained in the Guntoor Circar, and ſupplied with warlike ſtores through the port of Mcotapaly; we obſerve too with ſatisfaction, the warmth with which you approved and ſupported the meaſures that were propoſed for effecting the diſmiſſion of thoſe Troops from the neighbourhood of our Northern poſſeſſions. It appears, however, that this neceſſary buſineſs was not at that time proſecuted by this Government, further than by a correſpondence with the Soubah, Nizam Ally Caun, which concluded in nothing.

As we are thoroughly convinced of the neceſſity of removing theſe Troops from the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, we have lately taken up the ſubject again; and having received certain Propoſals from Bazalet Jung, relative to the Guntoor Circar, we returned ſuch an Anſwer to them as we thought proper and neceſſary for the occaſion. We now incloſe copies of thoſe Papers for your information. By Letters from your Preſidency, dated the 5th July and 11th December 1775, we find ample authority from you to the then Government, to proceed in effecting the diſmiſſion of the French Troops, by Treaty, or in any other manner they might think proper. As ſo much time has been elapſed ſince, we have thought it neceſſary to apply to you again on this ſubject, and requeſt you will be pleaſed to favour us with your ſentiments upon the Articles we have propoſed to Bazalet Jung, and ſanction, if you approve them, to enter into a Treaty or Agreement with him.

APPENDIX, No. 82.

Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council in Bengal, to the Preſident and Council at Fort Saint George; dated the 25th of January: in Conſultations the 22d of February 1779.

IN regard to the Alliance propoſed to be formed with Bazalet Jung, we highly approve of the meaſures in general, and leave it to you to negociate and finally conclude a Treaty with him. That you may be acquainted with our ſentiments, as far as the materials you have ſupplied will enable us to form them, we ſhall make ſuch remarks upon the different Articles which you have propoſed to Bazalet Jung, as occur to us on the peruſal of them.

1ſt. The quota of Troops of every denomination, to be maintained by the Company for the ſervice of the Chief ſhould be mentioned; and theſe we recommend to be reſtricted as much as poſſible to Natives, that your European Force may not be weakened by this Alliance.

2dly. The ſubſidy for them ſhould be fixed at the utmoſt expence that will probably be incurred, and the ſurplus or deficiency ought to be on account of the Company.

3dly. That the Troops ſhould be confined to Bazalet Jung's country, is proper.

4thly. A net ſum ſhould be paid annually to Bazalet Jung, for the farm of his circars or country, to be fixed on a view of the preſent rent roll.

5thly. The removal of Officers on complaints of unbecoming behaviour, is proper.

6thly. The expence of extra Troops, furniſhed by the Company, ſhould be fixed on the ſame principle as thoſe which are to be ſtationary.

7thly. Mode of puniſhing offenders, proper.

8thly. The Propoſal reſpecting the fort of Condavir and the jaghire, proper.

9thly The charge of the Horſe which may be required of Bazalet Jung, ſhould be aſcertained; and whilſt they are employed by the Company, they ought to be paid from your own funds, at a fixed rate for each rank.

Thos Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith.

APPENDIX, No. 83.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 22d April 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident.

THE Committee having at their laſt meeting reſolved to ſend three battalions of Sepoys and a Company of Artillery, for the protection of Bazalet Jung's country, it is now ordered, That this Force, together with ſix field-pieces, and a proportionable quantity of ſtores, be got ready to proceed with all poſſible expedition; and that the command be given to Lieutenant Colonel Harpur.

APPENDIX, No. 84.

Extract of Letter from the Preſident and Council at Fort Saint George, to the Governor General and Council in Bengal; dated 23d April 1779.

SINCE writing the foregoing, we have intelligence from the Nabob, that Hyder has made a conqueſt of the Cuddapah Country, and taken the Phouſdar priſoner; that he is proceeding to ſubdue the Phouſdar of Cannoul, and that he means alſo to make a conqueſt of the territories of Bazalet Jung; of which laſt meaſure, the Vakeel of Bazalet Jung has, in the name of his Maſter, expreſſed the ſtrongeſt apprehenſions; that he has alſo written threatening Letters to the Zemindars of Vencatagbery and Calaſtry, who are tributary to the Nabob.

In conſequence of late negociations with Bazalet Jung, we have reſolved to ſend immediately, for the protection of his country, 3 battalions of Sepoys, a company of Artillery, and 6 field-pieces.

Hyder's proceedings in that quarter have added greatly to his power, and given him a much more eaſy acceſs to the Carnatic than he had before; conſidering all theſe circumſtances, we are of opinion, that immediate meaſures ſhould be taken to compel Hyder to retreat back within his former limits, or, if neceſſary, to reduce him totally; for we have every reaſon to conclude, from the language he holds, and from the nature of his proceedings, that he will very ſhortly draw us into hoſtilities; in which caſe it will be highly expedient that we ſhould be prepared to act deciſively; and we requeſt you will favour us with your ſentiments and determination upon this Letter as ſoon as poſſible. We have the honour to be,

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

Your moſt obedient and moſt humble Servants,

Thomas Rumbold. &c.
Select Committee.

APPENDIX, No. 85.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 22d February 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident,
General Sir Eyre Coote,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
General Munro abſent upon ſervice.

THE following inſtructions to Mr. John Hollond, who was appointed the 27th ultimo to proceed to the Soubah's Court, are now read, and approved:

To Mr. John Hollond.

Sir,

It appearing to us expedient at this juncture, to ſend a perſon to the Court of Nizam Ally Cawn, in quality of Reſident on the behalf of the Company; we have ſelected you for this ſervice, and deſire accordingly, that you will proceed by the way of Maſulipatam, to join Nizam Ally with all expedition. We have written to him, as you will perceive by the enclоſed copy of our Letter, to forward the neceſſary paſſports for this purpoſe, and we hope they will meet you on the road.

The intention of our appointment is in part explained in that Letter: we are anxious to know how the Nizam is diſpoſed towards the Company—what his deſigns are; and in particular whether he means to take any, and what, part in the preſent war with the French; or, in conſequence of the meaſures lately adopted by the Gentlemen at Bombay, in ſupport of Ragonaut Row; or by the Governor General and Council of Bengal, in detaching a conſiderable Force into the heart of the peninſula, to favour our Alliance with the Rajah of Berar.

The motions of our Troops from Bengal and Bombay, will naturally have excited a great degree of jealouſy and diſtruſt in the Nizam, becauſe they have been directed in oppoſition to his profeſſed views and intereſt; he has openly remonſtrated both to the Governor General and Council at Bengal, and to us, againſt the ſupport given to Raganaut Row, whom he conſidered as his declared enemy; and there is reaſon to believe, that he is no leſs adverſe to the meaſures which have been purſued with reſpect to the Rajah of Berar.

To remove theſe impreſſions from the mind of the Nizam, and to ſubſtitute others more favourable to the preſent ſituation of the Company's affairs, will be a work of difficulty, and we fear of time; relying much, however, on the ſincerity of our own intentions, and the ſeaſonable exertion of your abilities, we do not deſpair of accompliſhing the end we have in view; at leaſt ſo far as to preventing the Nizam from entertaining any diſhonourable deſigns againſt the Company, while they are engaged in a war with a National Enemy, which is likely to employ all their ſtrength.

We encloſe herewith copies of the Treaties concluded with the Nizam in 1766 and 1768, which will be of uſe to you in framing ſuch repreſentations as you may find it neceſſary to make to him, or in obviating any objections that he may raiſe againſt our conduct, on the grounds of thoſe Treaties. We deſire you to aſſure him of our firm intentions to abide ſtrictly by the terms of our engagements in all reſpects; and that we have nothing ſo much at heart as the preſervation of the peace and friendſhip eſtabliſhed between him and the Company, by the Treaty of 1776. But as ſome circumſtances have happened in relation to the Guntoor Circar, which may be thought to affect the terms of that Treaty, we ſhall here explain them to you, that you may be prepared to act as occaſion ſhall require.

The Guntoor Circar was, by the Mogul's Phirmaund, granted to the Company, with the other Northern Circars, in 1765; but at the ſolicitation of the Nizam, was allowed to remain with his brother Bazalet Jung during his life, on certain conditions expreſſed in the Treaty of 1768. Bazalet Jung, unmindful of theſe conditions, and diſregarding the intereſts of the Company, has for ſeveral years entertained a body of Frenchmen in his ſervice, appropriating the Revenue of the Guntoor Circar for their maintenance, and uſing the port of Mootapillee, in that circar, as an inlet for, and furniſhing them with, warlike ſtores. Theſe Frenchmen are ſtill with Bazalet Jung; and as we deem it not only an infringement of the Treaty of 1768 to entertain them at this juncture, when we are at war with their Nation; but conſider alſo that their vicinity to the other circars, and the means they poſſeſs of acquiring additional ſtrength, through the port of Mootapillee, may render them formidable, and even dangerous to our Northern poſſeſſions, we are determined to ſpare no pains in effecting their entire diſmiſſion and removal from the country. We formerly tranſmitted repeated repreſentations to Nizam Ally Cawn on this head, and ſince the commencement of the hoſtilities, we have opened a negociation immediately with Bazalet Jung, which we hope will conclude to our mutual ſatisfaction. For your information in this particular, we encloſe herewith copy of ſundry Propoſals made to us by Bazalet Jung, and of our Anſwer to them. The Anſwer has been ſome time forwarded to Bazalet Jung, and we ſhortly expect his final determination upon it.

We leave it to your judgment to preſs our views in this reſpect upon the Nizam, ſo far as may be neceſſary to obtain his concurrence and good offices towards their completion. The Treaty of 1768 being concluded with the Nizam only, we have hitherto made all our applications relative to the Guntoor Circar immediately to him, and conſidered him as reſponſible for the due execution of that part which concerns his brother: upon this ground, viewing the conduct of Bazalet Jung, in regard to the French Troops, as an infringement on the Treaty, we judged it proper to delay the payment of the yearly Peſcuſh to the Nizam until we could obtain ſome ſatisfaction on that head. It may be neceſſary that you explain theſe circumſtances in ſuch a manner as to remove any diſtruſt which may have been occaſioned by this delay, aſſuring him that we have no intention of withholding the Peſcuſh from him; and that, in firm confidence that his friendſhip for the Company will continue inviolate, and that he will afford them all reaſonable ſatisfaction with reſpect to the Guntoor Circar, and the Troops in Bazalet Jung's ſervice, we ſhall give the neceſſary orders for diſcharging the arrears, and paying the Peſcuſh regularly in future, according to the kiſts which have been ſettled for that purpoſe.

We deſire you will, during your reſidence at the Nizam's Court, convey every neceſſary intelligence to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, as well as to us; and that you will be as early as poſſible in all your communications to both Preſidencies.

APPENDIX, No. 86.

Letter to the Governor General.

APPENDIX. No. 86.

Honourable Sir,

I HAVE the honour to tranſmit to you a copy of a Letter which I this day addreſſed to the Preſident and Select Committee of Madras. The moſt important information I have been able to obtain, ſince my arrival here, is, that the Soubah begins to grow jealous of Hyder Ally's increaſing power; and in effect, not only the Soubah's ſecurity, but our own, ſeems to render it neceſſary that a check ſhould be given to the encroachments of that reſtleſs uſurper. By the reduction of the Fort of Chittuldungum, I have been informed that he acquired an acceſſion of country to the amount of 30 lacks of Rupees; he has ſince been employed in the countries bordering on the Soubah's. He has entirely ſubdued the Cudapah Country, and poſſeſſed himſelf of a very large ſum in plunder, and has exacted ſums of money from the Cannoul Nabob, and from Bazalet Jung, the Soubah's brother. How far it may be our intereſt to purſue peace at preſent, you are the beſt judge; but Hyder's power, if it is ſuffered to increaſe, will certainly become formidable. The Soubah would be glad, I believe, to ſtrengthen himſelf with our alliance; and although he has not yet ſaid a word to me upon this ſubject, I am clear that the buſineſs he deſired me to mention to the Governor of Madras, relates to this object.

APPENDIX. No. 86.

Fazel Beg Cawn, who was formerly in our ſervice, during the war with Myſore, and who was afterwards introduced and ſupported by——— ul Dowla, at this Court, is become ſo powerful, that he is no longer controllable by the Soubah. This man, who looks for ſupport to our Nabob, and who has a faction in his favour at this Durbar, and our Nabob, who is jealous of the Soubah, and who conſiders a free communication of ſentiments with this Court, without his intervention, as dangerous to his influence; will both of them exert themſelves to prevent my reſiding here: the Soubah and his ſervants ſeem, at preſent, from prejudice, to be diſinclined to it; and himſelf, as well as thoſe of his ſervants who are his friends and wiſh him well, are full of ſuſpicions. I think it, therefore, very probable, as ſoon as the negociations relative to the views he has againſt Hyder, are brought to a concluſion, that he will give me my audience of leave. If you ſhould be of opinion, that my reſiding here can be attended with any advantage to the Company, ſome ſteps that may be conducive towards procuring the Soubah's aſſent, will, no doubt, ſuggeſt themſelves to you. The Soubah conducts his buſineſs in his own perſon; and as I am allowed free conference with him, without the intervention of an interpreter, I can pledge myſelf for a faithful communication of any repreſentations you may have to make him, on the public intereſts.

Hydrabad, 9th May 1779. I am, &c. (Signed) John Hollond.

Mr. Hollond to the Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I arrived at this place on the 6th inſtant, and on the 8th, in the morning, waited on the Soubah. I was received with all the honours that have uſually been ſhewn to Gentlemen appointed in public ſtations to this Court; Cawn Dowrar, an Omrah of the firſt rank at the Durbar, having been ſent by the Soubah to my tent, to receive me, and to conduct me to Court, with a retinue of elephants, &c. and a large party of the Soubah's Troops. Upon my delivering the Governor's Letter, and the Company's Preſents, the Soubah expreſſed himſelf much pleaſed.

Nothing paſſed relative to buſineſs on my firſt viſit, but in conſequence of an appointment laſt night, I waited upon his Highneſs this morning. Conformably to my inſtructions, I aſſured him, that it was your firm intention to adhere ſtrictly to the terms of the Treaty of 1768; that with reſpect to the Peſcuſh for the Circars, in full confidence of his giving all reaſonable ſatisfaction with regard to the Circar of Guntoor, and the Troops in Bazalet Jung's ſervice, it was your intention to give orders for diſcharging the arrears, and paying the Peſcuſh regularly in future, according to the kiſts which have been ſettled for that purpoſe; that you had inſtructed me to make this declaration to him; and that, with a view to a more eaſy communication of ſentiments upon affairs of importance, you were deſirous I ſhould reſide conſtantly at his Court. In anſwer to what I have above ſtated, his Highneſs made the ſtrongeſt and moſt earneſt declarations of his great deſire to be upon terms of the ſtricteſt friendſhip with the Company; that he had not deviated in any inſtance from the Treaty ſubſiſting between the Company and him; that he had been ſtrongly ſolicited to join in ſupporting the French, but had deciſively, from the beginning, rejected every overture, as inconſiſtent with his engagements with the Company; that with reſpect to Lally's party, he has cauſed his brother to diſmiſs them from the Guntoor Circar, and that he had done this in compliance with the Governor's Letter, at a time when they might have been uſeful, on account of Hyder Ally's near approach towards that quarter. With reſpect to my reſiding at this Court, he expreſſed himſelf doubtfully, but he appeared on the whole diſinclined to it. He ſaid a great deal about our taking part with Raganaut Row, which he conceived to be a deviation from the terms of the Treaty of 1768; but he ſpoke with great moderation and reſpect towards the Company. He then proceeded to tell me, that he wiſhed I would ſtate the purport of his declarations to the Governor; and that upon receiving his anſwer, he ſhould have ſomething further to ſay upon ſome matters of importance, in which the Company's intereſts and his own were jointly concerned. I told him, that as there had been already a declaration of friendſhip on both ſides, there was no neceſſity for writing to the Governor, and waiting for his anſwer upon the ſubject of what had paſſed; and that I wiſhed he would immediately inform me of the buſineſs he had to propoſe, that I might communicate it without loſs of time, and receive early inſtructions regarding it. In reply to this, he again requeſted me to communicate what had paſſed; and hoped, from the whole of his conduct, and the earneſt and ſincere declarations he now made of his unſhaken attachment to the Company, that the Governor would expreſs himſelf ſatisfied with reſpect to his Highneſs's firm intention, of being ſteady to his engagements, and of his being heartily diſpoſed to adopt every means in his power, to preſerve and cultivate the Company's friendſhip. He gave me no intimation of the nature of the buſineſs he had to propoſe; but I have every reaſon to believe, that he wiſhes to form an alliance for the reduction of Hyder Ally, who has lately taken Cudapah and Sidoutam, and exacted money from Bazalet Jung and the Nabob of Cannoul.

The Soubah informed me, in the courſe of the conference, of his having engaged Lally in his ſervice; which he had told me he had done, merely to prevent that party joining the Marattas or Hyder Ally; who was, he ſaid, already too ſtrong. Attention to his own ſecurity againſt ſo powerful an enemy, who has invaded and ſubdued Countries ſituated ſo contiguous to his, and conſequently makes ſuch near approaches towards his own poſſeſſions and capital, was moſt probably the cauſe of the Soubah's taking this ſtep.

I have not been able to learn any thing preciſely with regard to the ſtrength of Lally's party, with reſpect to intelligence in general, you may depend upon my employing my beſt endeavours to obtain authentic accounts of all important occurrences, but you muſt be ſenſible that under a Mooriſh Government, good information cannot be procured but in the way of intrigue, and that precipitate enquiries muſt tend to create ſuſpicions, and give alarms; it will therefore be neceſſary to tread cautiouſly upon this ground.

The Soubah's ſon is at preſent with a part of his army at Kulbwig, a place near the Maratta Country, having been lately ſent there to cover it from an attack threatened by a party of Marattas.

With reſpect to the renting of the Guntoor Circar from Bazalet Jung, as you did not lay any ſtreſs upon it in your inſtructions, and as I was informed that my mentioning it would be totally uſeleſs, I thought it beſt for the preſent to paſs it over in ſilence.

Hydrabad, 9th May, 1779. I remain with reſpect, &c.

APPENDIX, No. 87.

Extract of Fort St. George Select Conſultations, the 1ſt of May 1779.

WROTE the following Letter to Colonel Harpur:

To Lieut. Col. Harpur.

Sir,

We have appointed you to the command of three battalions of Sepoys, a company of Artillery, and ſix field pieces, intended for the ſervice of Bazalet Jung.

This detachment is to be employed in the defence and protection of Bazalet Jung's territories, and for the ſupport of his Government. You are on no account to carry any of the Troops beyond the frontiers of his country, without our expreſs orders; but you are to employ them, at his requiſition, in enforcing due obedience and ſubmiſſion from any of the Zemindars, or others his dependants, who ſhall diſpute his authority, or withhold from him his juſt rights.

You are to pay the utmoſt attention to Bazalet Jung, and to be careful, by preſerving the ſtricteſt order and diſcipline among your Troops, that no juſt cauſe of complaint be given to him. If any violences or irregularities ſhould happen to be committed by our people, the offenders muſt be puniſhed agreeable to our laws and uſages; but if any diſputes ariſe between our people and the Ryots or Servants of Bazalet Jung, theſe laſt, ſhould they appear in fault, muſt be delivered over to Bazalet Jung, or his Officers, to be puniſhed.

You are not in any reſpect to interfere with the affairs of Bazalet Jung's Government, or to have any dealings or tranſactions in money concerns with him, or any of his people; and you are to take eſpecial care that this injunction be obſerved by every perſon under your command.

In the courſe of your march through the territories of Bazalet Jung, you will preſerve the ſtricteſt order, and ſee that the inhabitants be duly paid for every thing you require from them.

The Troops are directed to aſſemble at Mootapillee in the Guntoor Circar, from whence they are to be marched, by the ſhorteſt and moſt expeditious route, to Adoni or Raychour, as Bazalet Jung may appoint.

You are to keep up a regular correſpondence with us, and adviſe us of every occurrence that may happen.

We are, Sir,

Your moſt obedient Servants,

Tho' Rumbold, &c. Select Committee.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, dated the 14th June 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident,
John Whitehill,
General Munro,
Charles Smith.

READ the following Letters from Lieu' Colonel Harpur:

To the Honourable Preſident and Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I have the honour to tranſmit you monthly returns for the month of May, of the detachment under my command.

Captain George Nixon having obtained leave from the Chief and Council at Maſulipatam to join this detachment, I have taken the liberty to appoint him to do duty with it till your pleaſure may be known.

Laſt night I received a Letter from Bazalet Jung, expreſſing the joy on my arrival in his country, and deſiring my march to Adoni may be as expeditious as poſſible, leaving behind me with Rajah Bahauder a battalion of Sepoys to enforce his orders with ſeveral Zemindars, reſpecting the payments of the Revenues for which they are in arrears. He has pointed out the route he wiſhes me to take by the way of Atcour; aſſuring me at the ſame time, that not the leaſt danger is to be feared from the enemy's Army having left that part of the country and gone to Bangalore, except a ſmall party under the command of Meer Ali Raza, which garriſons a Fort called Sidotte. He has ſent his inſtructions to Rajah Bahauder to furniſh me with every thing I may want, which leaves me in hopes of receiving draft bullocks in a few days; the want of them has for ſome time paſt been the only obſtacle to my leaving this place. He alſo informs me, that Titula Khaun, his Vakeel from Madras, will accompany me, to ſee every thing provided during the march; as yet he is not arrived.

I am, with every reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your faithful and moſt obedient Servant,

Camp near Mootapilly, 2d June 1779. H' Harpur.

APPENDIX. No. 87.

The Honourable the Preſident and Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

Since I did myſelf the honour of addreſſing you the 2d inſtant, I find, by taking the route Bazalet Jung deſires, I ſhall have a march of three days through the Cuddapa Country, part of the dominions of Hyder, and where, in a fort near Cuddapa, the capital, he has a ſmall detachment of about three thouſand horſe under the command of Meer Ali Raza. There is another which leads through part of the Nizam Ally Khan's territories, who, as I learn from a Letter from Mr. Cotsford "is exceeding angry that our Troops are to march "to ſupport his brother Bazalet Jung, and talks of op-"poſing their march." Theſe circumſtances I thought proper to be communicated to you, and as there will be a ſufficient time before I can have gone any great diſtance from hence, beg the honour of your inſtructions reſpecting the route which I am to take.

From theſe circumſtances, I conceive the battalion which Bazalet Jung mentions to be left with Rajah Bahauder, is not meant from my detachment, but ſome other which he may perhaps expect. In this opinion I am ſtrengthened by Titula Khan (his Vakeel from Madras, and who arrived in camp yeſterday); he declares it was never intended a battalion ſhould be left by me with Rajah Bahauder, but that the whole of the Troops under my command ſhould proceed to Adoni.

In my Letter of the 10th ult. I mentioned having two three-pounders tumbrils more than the complement ordered for the detachment, and as no Artillery-men have joined ſince my arrival, and not ſufficient with me to man the ſix ſix-pounders, they are a real incumbrance.

I am, with the greateſt Reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your faithful and moſt obedient
humble Servant,

Camp, near Mootapilly, 4th June 1779. H' Harpur.

To the Honourable the Preſident and Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Letter of the 2d inſtant, informing me that you had been pleaſed to approve of my appointment of an Aid de Camp; that Enſign Moncrief is appointed Quarter-maſter to the detachment; and that the Artillery belonging to Captain Jones's company at Ellore and Maſulipatam, were ordered to join. In order to be better ſituated, I intend to march in two or three days with the greateſt part of the detachment near to Porteram (the reſidence of Rajah Bahauder) at which place I hope to be provided with every thing neceſſary to proceed to Adoni, and alſo to ſend back draft-bullocks for the part of the Artillery, &c. which will remain behind till then for want of them.

Great

APPENDIX. No. 88.

Great part of the tents brought from Madras for the uſe of the detachment, being very old, and having been a long time in ſervice, were, by a violent ſtorm of wind, hail, and rain, that came on yeſterday afternoon, torn to pieces. This morning I held a ſurvey on them, and beg leave to encloſe you an indent for others inſtead of thoſe deſtroyed; earneſtly intreating it may be complied with as ſoon as poſſible, as in the interim we muſt be greatly diſtreſſed.

Captain George Nixon, whom I mentioned in my laſt, I have taken the liberty to appoint Major of Brigade, until your pleaſure may be known (as there is no corps in camp to which he can be attached) I hope it will meet with your approbation.

I am, moſt reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt faithful and
Camp near Mootapilly, moſt obedient humble Servant,
7th June 1779. Hy Harpur.

The Preſident acquaints the Committee, that ſuch parts of Lieutenant Colonel Harpur's Letters as ſeemed to require an immediate Anſwer before the Committee met, were replied to by himſelf; and he now delivers in the following draft of the Letter which he wrote to Lieutenant Colonel Harpur on this occaſion; which is approved and entered accordingly,

To Lieutenant Colonel Harpur.

Sir,

Your Letter to the Committee of the 2d I have received; and as Mr. Whitehill and General Munro are gone to Pondicherry, and there will not be a Committee for ſome days, I ſhall mention to you what I find neceſſary in reply to your Letter. I am pleaſed to find you have heard from Bazalet Jung, and hope every thing will now go on well. It is intended that your detachment ſhall be kept as complete as poſſible, and that four or five companies of Sepoys, under the command of Lieutenant Douglas, ſhall be immediately ordered to Guntoor to aſſiſt the Manager in the collections; this may be repreſented to the Vakeel when he arrives with you: and would have you at any rate march with two complete battalions and the Artillery to Adoni; and if the Vakeel ſeems very anxious to have ſome Troops left in the Guntoor Circar to aſſiſt the collections, I would have you on no account leave more than four or ſix companies, and thoſe muſt have orders to join you as ſoon as the Sepoys under Lieutenant Douglas, deſtined for that ſervice, arrive in the circar; as it is the wiſh of the Committee to have your detachment to appear as formidable as poſſible; I hope you will ſoon be on your march. We are anxious to hear you are proceeding towards Adoni. You will pleaſe to take the route Bazalet Jung points out. I wiſh you health and ſucceſs; and am,

Sir,
Your moſt obedient humble Servant,
Fort St. George. (Signed) Tho' Rumbold.

P. S. I would wiſh you to have frequent muſters, that you may be always ſure your detachment is complete, as it is of the utmoſt conſequence to keep them ſo.

Tho' Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Hector Munro,
Charles Smith.

APPENDIX, No. 88.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 3d Auguſt 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Baronet, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Charles Smith.

READ the following Letter from Lieutenant Colonel Harpur:

The Honourable the Preſident and Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I am ſtill detained at Innacunda for want of proviſions, not having collected above enough for ſix days, nor bullocks near ſufficient to carry even that; yet, ſecured in the expectation of a peaceable march through the dominions of Hyder, I ſhould have proceeded with this; but as I learn by Letter from his Managers, this moment received (and which I take the liberty to encloſe you) that he ſeems inclined to oppoſe me, it is become neceſſary to complete to ten days at leaſt, for ſhould his Troops poſſeſs themſelves of the paſs, I may be ſome time in diſlodging them; during which, as well as from my firſt entering his territories, my reſources muſt be entirely within myſelf. I beg leave to obſerve, that this paſs is ſo very narrow and difficult, the guns, tumbrils, and their carriages, muſt be carried by coolies, eight cannon, and the latter, for that purpoſe, taken to pieces.

I beg the honour of your commands, as I imagine getting the ſupply juſt mentioned will leave me ſufficient time to receive them before I quit this neighbourhood.

I am, moſt reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your faithful and
Camp, Innacunda, moſt obedient humble Servant,
30th July 1779. Hy Harpur.

From Meer Reza Aly Cawn, Bahauder, to Colonel Harpur.

I have received your Letter, in which you acquaint me, that as a ſincere friendſhip ſubſiſts between the Nabob Hyder Ally Cawn and the Company, you propoſe marching the Troops under your command to Adoni, through Durnall and Atcour, which I underſtand. It is as manifeſt as the ſun, that a ſincere friendſhip ſubſiſts between his Excellency and the Company, and that they have no ſeparate intereſt; it is therefore my duty to pay a regard to the friendſhip they have for him; yet you will march your Troops by another road, that his friendſhip may be preſerved, for there are Sepoys ſtationed in that country, and ſome diſputes and quarrels may take place between your Men and theſe Sepoys, who are of a very quarrelſome diſpoſition. I have ſo much regard for our friendſhip, that I would not wiſh this to happen. Continue write me of your welfare. What ſhall I ſay more?

From Meer Mhadi Huſſein Cawn, the Phouzdar of Cummum, and Sri Nowaſs Vincagee, the Aumil of that place, to Colonel Harpur.

We heard that you was arrived at Innacunda, and intended marching with the Troops under your command to Adoni, by the ghaut of Burnachel, and the road of Cummum, which belongs to the Circar: we therefore acquainted his Excellency of it; and he has wrote us in anſwer, that your Troops are not to have leave to march through the country of Cummum. Theſe are our orders, and we therefore deſire that you will not march that way.

APPENDIX, No. 89.

AGREED to acquaint Lieutenant Colonel Harpur, that as the Guntoor Circar belongs to the Company, he muſt threaten Rajah Bahauder with our ſevereſt diſpleaſure, for his neglect in not procuring ſufficient ſupplies for the detachment; and if he (Colonel Harpur) meets with any further difficulty in this reſpect, he muſt take meaſures for ſupplying himſelf. In regard to the two Letters from Hyder's Managers, we cannot think they ſeriouſly intend to obſtruct the march of our Troops; but Colonel Harpur muſt be well on his guard againſt any deſign of this nature; and the Preſident is deſired to write himſelf to Hyder's Managers on the ſubject.

Wrote the following Letter to Lieutenant Colonel Harpur, commanding the Troops marching to Adoni:

Sir,

We have received your ſeveral Letters, and are ſorry that any impediments ſhould have happened to delay your march. We hope you have exerted yourſelf in ſuch a manner as to procure every thing you were in want of; and that we ſhall hear of your proceeding with more expedition, as we are very anxious for the arrival of your detachment at Adoni. We have ordered a quantity of ammunition to be ſent you from Maſulipatam, and we have forwarded ſome from hence to Mootapillee.

APPENDIX, No. 90.

To the Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Baronet, Preſident and Governor, &c. Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

AGREEABLE to what I wrote to your Honour, &c. laſt night, the two companies of my battalion (except a Zemindar's guard, which I thought beſt to leave) marched this morning at two o'clock, will be at Ardinay this night, and I hope I ſhall be at Innacunda by ten o'clock to-morrow morning, where I will conſult with the Rajah Bahauder on the intelligence he has received from Colonel Harpur, and ſee if ſuch a force can be got together as the Colonel may think ſufficient to puſh through the paſs with. If I find that I cannot be of immediate ſervice to the Army, I ſhall inſtantly return to this Garriſon.

I am this moment told by a bullock-man who has been in ſix days from the camp, that it is reported that Hyder has a very large body of Horſe on the other ſide of the paſs, that thoſe in the rear of the Army, and who ſtop the communication, are principally the people of the country collected together for the ſake of plunder.

When I wrote to your Honour, &c. laſt night, from the manner the Rajah Bahauder's Letter was interpreted, I did imagine that Colonel Harpur's Army was in danger of being cut off; that the Enemy were powerful both in front and rear, and that he was not able either to advance or retreat: it was on this idea that I have marched the Troops of this Garriſon, in hopes, with Bazalet Jung's Horſe and Zemindars people, to have by ſome means or other relieved Colonel Harpur. But as the two companies are marched, and cannot be attended with any great expence, nor can I depend on any intelligence I have received; I think it beſt that they proceed to Innacunda, from whence, if I find my aſſiſtance not wanted, I ſhall immediately return.

I am, with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient and
moſt humble Servant,
P. Barclay, Capt.

Ongole,
17 Auguſt 1779,
6 o'clock, morning.

The Honourable the Preſident and Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I beg leave to inform you, that after leaving Innacunda till my arrival at this place, which is about a courſe North of Daupad, not the leaſt interruption had been met with; on the contrary, we have been readily ſupplied. To-day we came here, and have had three Sepoys and a Nague plundered of their arms, &c. by a party of ſtraggling Horſe; the Nague is taken priſoner: theſe poor creatures were ſick, unable to keep up with the detachment. As they were incapable of defending themſelves, ſeveral of the camp-followers have ſuffered in the ſame manner. Half a dozen Horſemen appeared this afternoon near to our camp, and drove off ſome head of cattle belonging to it. The Manager of this country has collected his Troops together, and I hear taken every method to impede my march through the paſſes, by cutting down trees, and laying them acroſs the road; ſo that I ſhall find the greateſt difficulty in forcing it, if it is to be accompliſhed at all. Two courſe from hence, I apprehend from intelligence, a ſtand will be made againſt me: it is a ſmall paſs, and eaſily defended; I ſhall march through to-morrow. I ſhould have obſerved, barriers are formed at the paſſes, within which are a number of people plentifully ſtored with proviſions; and all intelligence agrees, that their Force without is far ſuperior to ours. I thought it neceſſary you ſhould be acquainted with theſe circumſtances, and therefore take the liberty to mention them. As I conſider myſelf in an Enemy's country, ſurrounded by his Troops, it will be impoſſible to fix Tappies without the greateſt riſk; Hircarrahs, by one of whom this is forwarded. I am reſpectfully,

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your faithful and
moſt obedient Servant,
H. Harpur.

Camp near Yenavelly,
12th Auguſt 1779.

APPENDIX No. 91.

APPENDIX, No. 91.

The Honourable the Preſident and Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I DID myſelf the honour to addreſs you from Yenavelly, mentioning the behaviour of Hyder's Horſe, and my reſolution of proceeding the next morning for Atcour; but after diſpatching the Hircarrah, I received from different people, intelligence, founded on good authority, that meaſures had been taken to ſurround the detachment; that the paſs was defended by a ſtrong barrier, and a large body of men both within and on the outſide of it, plentifully ſupplied with proviſions; and to render the paſſing more difficult, if poſſible, trees had been laid acroſs, and one breaſt-work thrown up in the rear of the other, to a conſiderable diſtance. Fitata Chawn and myſelf have alſo received accounts of a number of Horſe and Foot having left Seringapatam for Coman, and another from Sedout with five guns, the more effectually to diſtreſs us. In this ſituation I thought it neceſſary to hold a Council of the five oldeſt Officers; who, weighing every circumſtance, gave it as their opinion, that with our ſtrength, to force the paſs would be impracticable, and the attempt highly ridiculous; and that they ſaw no other way of ſaving the detachment than by returning to the Guntoor Circar: in conſequence of which, I decamped yeſterday morning for Innacunda. After marching about three miles, we ſaw a ſmall party of Horſe, one of which came up with us, and declared the whole Friends, Servants of Hyder, and intruſted with Letters for me and Fetula Chawn. The Letters were produced, one for each, from Meer Madee, the Commanding Officer of Comam, and Iſaac Beg, who commands the Troops near Dorual. Their contents ſignified, that the preceding evening orders had been received from Hyder through Meer Saib, to permit our march throughout his diſtricts, and to take off the guards at the barrier, and in the paſs. I ſaw through the treachery, but concealed my ſentiments, the better to get through the Wanampilly Paſs, where they might have given us a little trouble: and this ſucceeded; for inſtead of poſſeſſing it, and ſecured in believing I was ſatisfied with their ſincerity, they marched towards the Guntoopilly Paſs. I marched this morning at day-break, without any appearance of Horſe for ſome miles; at length they came out in ſmall parties of ten or fifteen, riding cloſe up to our rear, and endeavouring to cut off the baggage; but I had uſed ſuch precautions as to make that impoſſible: they frequently fired at us, but at too great a diſtance to do any execution. In this manner they haraſſed us for ſome hours; when we perceived a body of about one thouſand Horſe, and two or three hundred Foot, making their approach on our right flank; they moved rapidly, and came ſo near to the rear-guard, that the Officer commanding it was obliged to fire two ſhots at them, which being exceedingly well aimed, threw the whole into the greateſt confuſion; three were alſo given to thoſe who had advanced near to our front, with the ſame effect. They had with them three ſtands of colours.

APPENDIX. No. 91.

In the ſteps taken, I have had no other view than preſerving the Troops intruſted to my command. The laws of honour, and the dictates of humanity, would not ſuffer me to lead on men to deſtruction without one ſingle advantage deriving to the Community. I hope, Honourable Sir, and Sirs, to have met with your approbation: the ſimple facts are here related; from thoſe your better judgment will perceive the juſtneſs or impropriety of my conduct.

I am, moſt reſpectfully,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your faithful and
obedient humble Servant,
H. Harpur.

Camp, Wanampilly,
14th Aug. 1779.

To the Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. Preſident and Governor, &c. Select Committee.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I wrote your Honour, &c. yeſterday morning, acquainting you, that I had marched the two companies, except a Zemindar's guard. I had this morning at eight o'clock got within four courſe of Innacunda, when I received a Letter from Lieutenant Fleming, belonging to the detachment from my battalion with Colonel Harpur. He acquaints me, that they are returned to Innacunda; I have halted the detachment to refreſh ſome hours, as they are much fatigued, having marched ſince yeſterday morning, in very bad weather, ſeventeen coſs. I ſhall be back to the Garriſon of Ongole ſome time to-morrow night. I am, with great reſpect,

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient and
moſt humble Servant,
P. Barclay, Capt.

Jamulmurka,
18th Auguſt 1779.

The Committee having attentively conſidered the foregoing Letters, it is reſolved to write Lieutenant Colonel Harpur immediately as follows:

To Lieutenant Colonel Harpur, commanding the Detachment in the Guntoor Circar.

Sir,

We have received your Letters of the 12th and 14th inſtant.

We cannot at preſent judge of the ſufficiency of the reaſons which induced you to return with the detachment to the Guntoor Circar, after having advanced ſo near to the paſſes through which we wiſhed you to march. It is doubtleſs commendable to withdraw Troops from any certain and imminent danger to which they might be expoſed by encountering too great a ſuperiority of numbers; and if there be good foundation to believe the paſſes were guarded in the manner you mention, and that there were ſo many people to oppoſe you on both ſides, it was a prudent meaſure to retreat from the danger; but in order to decide clearly upon this point, it is neceſſary we ſhould be informed how the circumſtances you repreſent in your Letter were authorized, from whom you received the intelligence, and what reaſons you had to think the particulars true. We deſire alſo that you will communicate to us the Minutes of the Council which you judged it neceſſary to call of the principal Officers of the detachment.

We are concerned, after ſo long a delay in the Guntoor Circar, that you were not better ſupplied with proviſions: we ſhall enquire into the reaſons of ſuch neglect on the part of thoſe who were directed to furniſh them; and we hope to find there has been nothing omitted on your part that could haſten the ſupplies.

We would have you remain for the preſent at Innacunda, and we ſhall take meaſures immediately for ſending a proper reinforcement to your Troops, and for having the detachment ſo amply ſupplied with every thing, that when it is ordered to march, there may be no delay whatever.

You inform us, that when you had retreated about three miles, you received by a Horſeman Letters from Hyder's Officers commanding at Comam and Dourval, acquainting you that Hyder had ſent orders to permit you to march through his diſtricts, and to take off the guard at the paſſes. It is impoſſible to ſay whether this meaſure was intended to deceive you or not, but you ſhould have detained the man in your camp, and made particular enquiry into the circumſtances; you ſhould have alſo encloſed to us the Letters which you received by him. We now deſire they may be ſent to us.

We are, Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servants,
Thomas Rumbold, &c.
Committee.

Fort St. George,
23d Auguſt 1779.

Agreed alſo, That a Letter be written to Hyder Ally Cawn, to know the reaſons of his fortifying the paſſes againſt the march of our Troops; and that another Letter be written on the ſubject to his Manager in the Cuddapa Country.

Reſolved, That two companies of Europeans, half a company of Artillery, together with the firſt battalion of Sepoys, be ordered to hold themſelves in readineſs to reinforce the detachment under Lieutenant Colonel Harpur; and that the Admiral be requeſted to ſpare us the Coventry frigate, to aſſiſt in conveying thoſe Troops to Mootapilly.

The Committee approve of Captain Barclay's conduct, and for the reaſons he has given, conſent to his retaining the Collery Company for this month only, after which they muſt be diſcharged.

APPENDIX, No. 92.

Extract of Fort St. George Country Correſpondence.

No. 117. From the Nabob to the Governor; dated 24th Auguſt 1779: received 29 D.

I HEREWITH ſend you a copy of a Letter which I have received from the Nabob Bazalet Jung, Bahauder, expreſſing his anxiety of mind, at the delay of Colonel Harpur, and the declared enmity of his Brother the Nizam, and Hyder Ally Cawn, occaſioned by his having entered into an Alliance with the Engliſh. You will alſo receive copies of the Letters wrote by the Nizam and Hyder to him upon this ſubject, and their contents will plainly ſhew you the hoſtile intentions of thoſe two Powers againſt you and Bazalet Jung. The Nizam has called upon Runamuſt Cawn, the Fouzdar of Kinnoul, to come to him; but his intention in this is to ſeize the fort of Payckel and the jaghire annexed to it, which belongs to this Fouzdar; who having it not in his power to reſiſt Hyder, has agreed to comply with the orders of the Nizam; he has accordingly ſent all his family to Hydrabad; but I have intelligence that he was ſtill at Kinnoul on the 26th Rejub, though I cannot ſay whether he be there at preſent or not. The Nizam is determined to ſend ſix thouſand Sepoys and ſix hundred Europeans, and a thouſand Horſe, to Kinnoul, under the command of Monſieur Lally, a Frenchman; and to give up the country of Kinnoul, as a jaghire, to thoſe Frenchmen, whoſe power will be greatly increaſed.

This Monſieur Lally has no other intention of taking Kinnoul, Adoni, and Kunbaur, but to manifeſt his enmity to the Engliſh; and Bazalet Jung is full of cares and anxiety on that account: beſides, it is Hyder's intention to ſend Troops immediately againſt Adoni, before the Engliſh arrive there. A variety of difficulties preſent themſelves, but I make no doubt that my Friends will conſider what plan is beſt to purſue. What ſhall I ſay more?

APPENDIX. No. 93.

P. S. I need not recommend it to you, to keep this Letter from Bazalet Jung a profound ſecret.

From the Nabob Bazalet Jung to the Nabob Walla Jau.

I ſend you encloſed, for your information, the copy of a Letter from Hyder Ally Cawn to Mahomed Iſhaar Cawn; the contents diſcover his diſpleaſure and reſentment. My alliance and friendſhip with the Company has raiſed the jealouſy of my Enemies; and it is their intention to give me trouble before the arrival of the Engliſh Troops. At ſuch an important criſis, a delay muſt be attended with danger; thoſe Troops ought to be ſent with all expedition; I muſt, therefore, recommend it to you, to uſe all your endeavours to that purpoſe.

Letter from Hyder Ally to Iſhaar Cawn Bazalet Jung.

It has reached my ears, that the Nabob Suja Ul Mulk, Bahauder, has given up the circar of Guntoor to the Engliſh, with an intention of making an Alliance with them, and having a body of their Troops ſtationed with him. Such a ſtep could never be dictated by prudence or foreſight. In every part throughout Hindoſtan, where the Engliſh have eſtabliſhed their influence, and got a footing under the cover of giving their protection and aſſiſtance, experience has ſhewn what treatment thoſe have met with who have had any connection with that Nation. It may be ſeen by their conduct towards the Nazims of Bengal, and other places, whom they have ſtripped of every thing, and reduced under their own authority. His Excellency, no doubt, did not attend to all theſe conſiderations, when he thought of entering into a Treaty with them; for if he had, it is probable he would not have conſented to it. It is my opinion, that the Engliſh ſhould not be allowed to have a footing in this part of the country; time will ſhew, whether any benefit accrues from it or not. His Excellency might ſettle things in ſuch a manner, that he would keep poſſeſſion of the circar of Guntoor. This might be done, by allowing the Killedars of my country to rent that circar from him, which would be paid to him in three kiſts, by the means of the houſe of Wolluſs Sunder, the Soucar; nobody would then dare to attack that country. Thanks to Heaven, my Troops are not few, and his Excellency would find it more for his advantage to apply to me for ſuccour, than to another. When once a Treaty takes place between us, no one will dare to think of diſturbing that circar. It is in no ſhape whatever prudent or conſiderate to call the Engliſh into that country. When Hurry Pundit Purkich came ſome time ago, and diſturbed his Excellency's territories, I expended lacks for the good of his Excellency, and drove away Hurry Pundit. If I had not done it at that time, his Excellency would have been obliged to comply with the exorbitant demands which he made. It is not in my power to conſent to his Excellency's giving up the Guntoor Circar to my old and bitter Enemies, for it joins to my country. If the Engliſh are put in poſſeſſion, his Excellency and I cannot agree. You, Sir, will explain all this in a proper manner to his Excellency, and get his leave to come to me, in order to ſettle this affair.

What are the Engliſh whoſe name gives ſo much alarm to the people of this country? How did I encounter them when I was at war with them? How often were they not defeated by my victorious Troops? This is well known to every body: why ſhould they be ſo much feared that their protection ſhould be ſolicited?

If his Excellency and I are joined, we ſhall ſtand in fear of no one.

Letter from the Nizam to Bazalet Jung.

It has reached my ear, that the people about you have thought it adviſable to let the Engliſh Company have the renting of the Guntoor Circar from you, and to have a body of Engliſh Troops placed with you. You well know the diſpoſitions of thoſe Europeans, who, when once they get any thing in their poſſeſſion, never part with it; as may be ſeen from what they have done in Bengal and Oude. Suja Dowla poſſeſſed ſome power while living, but now the Engliſh authority prevails throughout his country, the ſituation his Sons are in is known to all the world: it is not in their power to recover their loſt dominions. Hyder Ally Cawn can ſcarce be conſidered in any other light but a Zemindar; he is not ſecure in his poſſeſſions; for we ſhall be able to recover when our power increaſes, any countries which he now takes; but it is highly improper to throw ſo much power into the hands of Europeans. You have done wrong in following this ſtep; for if you ſhould ever find it neceſſary to call for my ſupport, it will not be granted you. I now therefore write to you, to let me know what your intentions are: if you perſiſt in doing this, you will feel the bad conſequences of it.—Give me your Anſwer immediately.

APPENDIX, No. 93.

To Lieutenant Colonel Harpur, commanding the Detachment at Innacunda.

Sir,

WE have received your ſeveral Letters.

As we ſuppoſe by the time you receive this Diſpatch you will have collected ſufficient proviſions to proceed on your march, we deſire you will, without loſs of time, purſue ſuch a route to Adoni as ſhall be recommended to you by Bazalet Jung, or his Vakeel, unleſs it ſhall appear to you to be attended with great or inſurmountable difficulties; in which caſe you will ſtate your opinion to us, and wait our orders. We are, Sir,

Fort St. George, 29th September 1779. Your moſt obedient Servants *Tho*s Rumbold, &c.

APPENDIX, No. 94.

Extract from Fort St. George Country Correſpondence

No. 72. To Bazalet Jung; dated 12th May 1779.

IN order to aſcertain the yearly Revenue of the Guntoor Circar, your Excellency has ſent me the accounts of collections for four years back, viz. from the beginning of the Phazely year 1183 to the end of 1186. It is our intention to take immediate poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar; but as the preſent year of Phazely 1188 is near expiring, we ſhall not commence the rent from this time, but ſhall give your Naib and Managers in that country every aſſiſtance they may require, in order to collect the balance of Revenue due to your Excellency. We ſhall be able, before the expiration of the year, to aſcertain the ſtate of collections from the above accounts ſent by your Excellency, and the informations we may receive from the Zemindars and other people in the country, and we ſhall afterwards ſend to your Excellency an agreement under the Company's ſeal, and the ſignatures of the Governor and Council, to rent the circar from the beginning of the year Phazely 1189. As money will be wanted immediately for the payment of the Troops ſent to your Excellency, you will be pleaſed to give orders to your Managers at Guntoor to advance twenty-five or thirty thouſand Pagodas to the Paymaſter; for which he ſhall give receipts, and the amount ſhall be paſſed to your Excellency's credit. I herewith ſend you a copy of the orders given to Colonel Harpur, for your Excellency'

APPENDIX. 94.

Excellency's information. I have received from Tatta Ulla Cawn your Sunnud for giving up the Guntoor Circar to the Company, and I have delivered to him the Treaty and a Letter for you: I have at the ſame time ſent your Excellency a Sulpuh, &c. of which I beg your acceptance. What ſhall I ſay more?

Extract from Fort St. George Country Correſpondence.

Sunnud from Bazalet Jung.

Ummeen ul Urmah,
Sujah ul Mulk,
Amud ud Dowlah,
Meer Mahomed Sherif Cawn,
Bahauder, Bazalet Jung,
the devoted Servant of
His glorious Majeſty
Shaw Allum,
Bahauder.

To all Deſmooks, Zemindars, Deſpondahs, and Tenets of the Circar of Murtazanagur, commonly called Gentoor, be it written,

The aforeſaid circar has at this time been given to the glory of Merchants, the Engliſh Company, at a certain rent, commencing from the beginning of the year Phazeley 1188. You are therefore to give your attendance on the Naibs of the aforeſaid Company, and punctually pay to them the juſt Revenue due to the Circar (Government). After this, a freſh Sunnud, ſetting forth the rent which is fixed upon, ſhall be granted, and you are to act agreeable thereto. Let this be punctually obſerved.—Dated 12 Mohrem, in the 1193d year of the Hygera.

No. 127.

Extract of Fort St. George Country Correſpondence.

No. 127. From the Nabob to the Governor; dated the 19th September 1779: received 21 D°.

The circar of Guntoor being ſituated next to my country, and many differences intervening on account of its neighbourhood, it was always my wiſh, that whenever that diſtrict fell into my Friends hands, they would allow me to rent it from them. I have wrote this to former Governors, and mentioned it to the Company; and I have heard, that leave has been given for this to the Repreſentatives of my Friends. Now that, by the bleſſing of God, this diſtrict is in the poſſeſſion of my Friends the Company, I have to requeſt of you to give me the renting of it for the term of ten years, commencing from the 1ſt September 1779, to the 31ſt Auguſt 1789; during which I engage to pay twenty lacks ſeventy-five thouſand Madras Pagodas, as ſtated in the accompanying Paper Agreement. I have engaged, out of my deſire for the intereſt of my Friends, to pay them more than ever was annually collected in the circar of Guntoor during all the time it was in the Nabob Bazalet Jung's hands: but with their aſſiſtance, and expecting to ſee the country flouriſh, and diſtributing juſtice to the Ryots agreeable to my own form, I hope to ſerve myſelf; and I doubt not you will grant me that aſſiſtance, and keep always a ſufficient number of men in that country. You will give ſtrict orders to the Commanding Officer not to interfere in any ſhape in the affairs of the diſtrict, or lend money to the Zemindars or Ryots, or give them protection, and not to meddle with any thing, but aſſiſt my Aumil, and defend the country. You will alſo give orders, that when any Europeans and Sepoys paſs through that country to and from the circars, they moleſt not the inhabitants. In caſe any trouble happen, and loſs ariſes in the Revenue, I make no doubt but my Friends will make it good, for the ſake of the welfare of the inhabitants. What ſhall I ſay more?

KISTBUNDY ſtipulated to be paid for the Circar of Guntoor, excluſive of the Sunt Noonguy, and the Jaghire of Sunta Rawoor, and the Jaghire of the Fort of Condavir, for ten Years, commencing from the 1ſt of September 1779, to 31ſt of Auguſt 1789.

N. B. If any troubles happen, the Company ſhall make good the loſs which ſhall ariſe during that year. They will keep a ſufficient body of Troops to bring to order the Zemindars, when neceſſary; and ſhall always have a body of men in that diſtrict, to ſettle and defend it. No one ſhall in any ſhape interfere in the affairs of the diſtrict.

In the year 1780 ſhall be paid,
On the 31ſt January - -	70,000
30th June - -	70,000
30th November - -	60,000
		200,000
In the year 1781,
On the 31ſt January - -	70,000
30th June - -	70,000
30th November - -	60,000
		200,000
In the year 1782,
On the 31ſt January - -	70,000
30th June - -	70,000
30th November - -	65,000
		205,000
In the year 1783,
On the 31ſt January - -	70,000
30th June - -	70,000
30th November - -	65,000
		205,000
In the year 1784,
On the 31ſt January - -	70,000
30th June - -	70,000
30th November - -	65,000
		205,000
In the year 1785,
On the 31ſt January - -	70,000
30th June - -	75,000
30th November - -	65,000
		210,000
In the year 1786,
On the 31ſt January - -	70,000
30th June - -	75,000
30th November - -	65,000
		210,000
In the year 1787,
On the 31ſt January - -	70,000
30th June - -	75,000
30th November - -	65,000
		210,000
In the year 1788,
On the 31ſt January - -	75,000
30th June - -	75,000
30th November - -	65,000
		215,000
In the year 1789,
On the 31ſt January - -	75,000
30th June - -	75,000
30th November - -	65,000
		215,000
For ten years, Madras Pagodas		20,75,000

Extract

APPENDIX. No. 94.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 4th October 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Charles Smith.

The Preſident lays before the Committee, a Letter from the Nabob, as entered in C.C. No. 127, requeſting to have the management of the Guntoor Circar, at the following rent, for 10 years, from 1ſt September 1779 to 31ſt Auguſt 1789:

Firſt two years - -	2,00,000	Madras Pagodas.
Next three years - -	2,05,000	D°	D°.
Next three years - -	2,10,000	D°	D°
Next two years - -	2,15,000	D°	D°
In all -	20,75,000, for 10 years.

The foregoing Letter and Propoſals from the Nabob being read, Mr. Smith requeſts to know from the Preſident, whether he propoſes that the ſubject of the Letter ſhall be conſidered and determined in the Committee, or in the Council? The Preſident replies, That, in his opinion, it ſhould be ſettled in the Committee. Mr. Smith thereupon enters the following Minute:

I am of opinion, That the ſettling of the Guntoor Circar is a buſineſs of Revenue; and that it ſhould be conſidered and determined on by the Council within the Revenue Department.

Charles Smith.

The Preſident informs the Committee, That if he hereafter finds it neceſſary, he ſhall enter his reaſons at large for thinking the Nabob's Propoſals ſhould be determined in the Committee.

Mr. Smith obſerves, That if he finds it neceſſary, he ſhall reply to them.

Sir H. Munro and Mr. Whitehill are of opinion, That the Nabob's Letter ſhould be taken into conſideration in the Committee.

In order to enable the Committee to form a judgment on the Nabob's Propoſals, the Preſident lays before them the following Accounts of the produce of the Guntoor Circar for four years paſt, as ſent him by Bazalet Jung.

APPENDIX. No. 94.

Dr. ACCOUNT Revenues of the Circar at

			Pag^{a} F. C.	Pag^{a} F. C.
Phaſely 1183, or Anno 1775.	To Balance remaining on the following Diſtricts on Account of laſt Year, viz.
	Taulooka of Vencata Kiſtna Row, Muzumdar, as per Account delivered by Cojam Mahomed Johm Cawn, Bahauder	6,190 23 50
	Do	210 — —
			6,400 23 50
	Purgunnah Vellacunda and Vellum Conda, under the Management of Madarauze Goomda Row, as per Account of Mahomed Baholool Cawn	3,000 — —
	Do Balance due	3,003 13 10
			6,053 13 10
	Taulooka of Maurch Row, Jaggena Row, and Trippetty Row, as per Account delivered by Golam Rufool	9,793 — —
	Do Balance due	834 26 20
			10,627 26 20
				23,081 21 —
	To Rents and Revenues of this Year, viz.
	The eſtimated Jemmabundy, or total Produce amounting to		202,000 — —
	Deducting the following, viz.
	The Jagueir of the Fort	5,000 — —
	The Jagueir of Ally Mahomed Cawn, Bahauder	9,200 — —
	The Enam Villages of Venata Kiſtnama, Muzumdar	1,150 — —
	The Village called Santraver	3,000 — —
	A Village called Akloor, of Mahomed Fatula Cawn	400 — —
	The Enam of Sachmana Joſy	150 — —
	A Village called Acklatore	125 — —
			19,025 — —
	The Remainder		1,82,075 — —
	The Village called Audulpaud		125 — —
				1,83,100 — —
		Pagodas		2,06,181 21 —

Dr. ACCOUNT Revenues of the Circar of

Phaſely 1184.	To Balance brought from laſt Year			8,963 11 12½
or Anno 1776.	To Rents and Revenues of this Year, viz.
	The Jemmabundy		20,201 — —
	Deducting the following, viz.
	The Jagheer of the Fort	5,000 — —
	Ditto of Ally Mahomed Cawn, Bahauder	9,200 — —
	Santaroves, &c.	3,000 — —
	Vencata Kiſtna, Mazumdar	1,150 — —
	A Village called Ratnapury	400 — —
	Ditto Malicapor	125 — —
	Ditto Satchma Joſs	150 — —
			19,025 — —
	The remaining		182,976 — —
	A Village called Andelpaud		125 — —
				183,101 — —
		Pagodas	— — —	1,92,064 11 12½

Murtazanegar, belonging to the Soubah of Hyderabad. Cr.

APPENDIX. No. 94.

		Pags	F.	C.	Pags	F.	C.
Phaſely 1183, or Anno 1775.	By Caſh paid Rajah Balavent Row, Bahauder, as per Receipts	-	-	-	994	38	56
	By Caſh remitted to Muzóor in the Preſence, viz.
	For the Treaſury	80,563	—	—
	For the Chaut or Tribute of the Mahrattas	49,571	18	39
					130,134	18	39
	By Caſh paid Tankas and Tawejee to the different Perſons, as per Purwannahs	-	-	-	54,295	39	57½
	By ſundry Charges, as per Saneds	-	-	-	754	16	75
	By ſundry Charges Sibbendy paid the following Zemindars, viz.
	Vaſſareddy Ranſana	1,800	—	—
	Venkatakiſtnama Row, Muzumdar	1,200	—	—
	Mameknow Jagana Row, and Trippetty Row	1,000	—	—
	Mulrauz Goondarow	1,038	22	—
					5,038	22	—
	By Ditto in the Country	-	-	-	6,000	—	—
					197,218	9	67½
	By Balance carried forward	-	-	-	8,963	11	12½
	Pagodas	-	-	-	2,06,181	21	—

Murtazanegar under the Soubah of Hyderabad. Cr.

Phaſely 1184, or Anno 1776.	By Caſh remitted to Huzoor by Means of Phatalla Cawn, viz.
	Ready Money	8,000	—	—
	Bills of Exchange	15,000	—	—
		23,000	—	—
	Deducting on Account of the Year 1183 Phaſaly or 1775	13,000	—	—
					10,000	—	—
	By Camel Man	12,000	—	—
	Deduct on Account of the Phaſaly 1183 or 1775	2,563	—	—
					9,437	—	—
	In the Month of Zechaja 1188 Higery				3,700	—	—
	In Moharum Higery 1189				3,500	—	—
	In Saffer				1,500	—	—
	By Caſh paid Tankas, &c. as per Purwannahs.
	Monſr Dulally Bahauder Ruſtum Jung				1,05,226	—	—
	Mahomed Maroof Cawn				28,273	39	30
	Johyar Cawn, Merchr				1,519	10	40
	Huſſen Mahomed, Do				98	—	—
	Seid Badarudeen Cawn, Bahauder Humayoon Jung				5,901	—	—
	Mahomed Ameer Cawn				3,068	18	30
	Rajah Balavent Bahauder				1,027	—	—
	Mahomed Phatalla Cawn				549	23	50
	Roy Cavercaundoſs				64	39	30
	The Wife of Jaher Cawn				909	9	17½
	Ahamed Cawn				117	21	—
								1,46,653 36 7½
	By Caſh paid in Part of the Arrears to the following Perſons, viz.
	Abdul Iſlam Cawn				281	18	30
	Mahomed Iftear Cawn				287	10	40
	Mahomed Jamaul Cawn				53	10	40
	Coja Mahomed Ally Cawn, Bahauder				801	—	—
	Backtamal				82	2	50
	Harcara				52	31	40
								1,557 31 40
	By Oxen Hire				-	-	-	86 — —
	By Allowance to the following Zemindars, viz.
	Vaſreddy Ramanah				1,800	—	—
	Vancata Kiſtnah Marow, Mazumdar				1,200	—	—
	Mulrauz Gundarow				1,038	21	—
	Maunick Row				1,000	—	—
								5,038 21 —
	By Charges Sibbendy in the Country,
	Sibbendy				4,000	—	—
	The Allowance of Berjevandoſs				2,000	—	—
								6,000 — —
	By ſundry Charges				-	-	-	1,089 11 65
								1,88,562 16 32½
	By Balance carried to next Year				-	-	-	3,501 36 30
	Pagodas				-	-	-	1,92,064 11 12½

APPENDIX. No. 94.

Dr. ACCOUNT Revenues of the Circar of

Phaſaly, 1185, or Anno 1777.	To Balance brought from laſt Year			3,501 36 00
	To Rents and Revenues of this Year, viz. Jamabundy		202,001 — —
	Deducting the Amount of the Jagheers as follow:
	The Jagheer of the Fort	5,000 — —
	Aly Mohamed Cawn, Bahauder	9,200 — —
	Venkatakiſtnama, Muzundar	1,150 — —
	Santarover, &c.	4,500 — —
	The Village called Ratanpury	400 — —
	Ditto Akſaloore	125 — —
	Satchman Joſſey	150 — —
			20,525 — —
	The remaining Pag^{a}		1,81,476 — —
	To Sundries.
	An Account of the Jagheerdars	704 — —
	The Stoppages of Tankas, and the Preſents	6,422 30 67½
	The Fees of the Devan	1,000 — —
			8,126 30 67½
				1,89,602 30 67½
	Pagodas			1,93,104 25 47½

ACCOUNT Revenues of the Circar of Pag^{a} F. C.

Phaſaly, 1186, or Anno 1778.	To Balance brought from laſt Year			3,645 15 60
	To Rents and Revenues of this Year, viz. Jamabundy		202,001 — —
	Deducting the Amount of the following Jagheers, viz.
	Jagheer of the Fort	Pag^{a} 5,000 — —
	D^{o} of Alimahomed Cawn	9,200 — —
	D^{o} of Nerſanna Muzemdar	1,150 — —
	Santeveraven, &c.	4,500 — —
	A Village called Ratnapury	400 — —
	D^{o} Aklatore	125 — —
	Satcheman Joſy	150 — —
			20,525 — —
	The remaining Pag^{a}		181,476 — —
	To Sundries, viz.
	Nazer Putty, or Preſents received	Pag^{a} 25,000 — —
	Fees of the Devan	1,000 — —
	For the under-mentioned four Jagheers, viz.
	Narſana Muzumdar	Pag^{a} 287 21 —
	Satchemana Joſey	38 21 —
	Mahomed Careem	27 — —
	A Village called Udulpaud	124 — —
		477 — —
			26,477 — —
				207,953 — —
	Pagodas			2,11,598 15 60

APPENDIX. No. 94.

Murtazanegar, under the Soubah of Hyderabad.

			Cr.
Phasaly, 1185, or Anno 1777.	By Cash transmitted to Huzoor, or the Presence, as per Perwannah to the Treasury, viz.	3,700 — —
	Ditto - D° - to the Jagheerdar	701 — —
			4,401 — —
	By Cash paid Sad Siah		9,336 26 20
	By Said Badaree deen Cawn, Bahauder		4,508 23 50
	By Kittnama Naick		1,000 — —
	By Roath Cawn and Coreem Cawn		4,137 36 60
	By Mohabut Cawn, Merchant		3,512 21 —
	By Hareem Cawn, D°		750 — —
	By Phasalt Shaw		7 21 —
	By Rajah Balavent, Bahauder		1,129 31 40
	By Cash paid the Creditors, by means of Abdel Islam Cawn, as per Perwannah		2,500 — —
	By Abdel Islam Cawn		280 15 60
	By Mahomed Iflacar Cawn		287 10 40
	By Jamaul		82 5 20
	By Mahomed Jamaul Cawn		82 7 70
	By Roy Chendrabaun		120 35 32½
	By Raunojey, &c. Hircars		54 — —
	By Charges, Elephants, and Camels		72 8 45
	By Charges in the Country Sibbendy, 4,000, and Allowance of Berjevendoss, in all		6,000 — —
	By Yacoot Cawn		52 — —
	By Sunjevery, &c.		96 7 70
	By Allowance to the Zemindars		5,238 21 —
	By Charges extraordinary, as per Receipts		2,000 — —
	By Mahomed Aftarcan Cawn, &c.		90 — —
	By Cash paid Sagoly Vasantanaick Swear, by means of Golum Hussain Cawn, on account of a Debt		7,620 28 70
	By Rusteem Jung, Bahauder, viz.
	On account of the monthly Allowance	109,306 — —
	Ditto of the Debt, as per Perwannah	13,793 2 50
			1,23,099 2 50
	By Cojam Cawn, paid him for the Cavalry under him		10,000 — —
	By Manever Cawn		3,000 — —
			1,89,459 19 67½
	By Balance carried to next Year		3,645 15 60
	Pagodas		1,93,104 25 47½

Murtazanegar, belonging to the Soubah of Hyderabad.

			Cr.
Phasaly, 1186, or Anno 1778.	By Cash paid Rustum Jung, Bahauder		147,088 — —
	By Cash paid to sundry Persons, viz.
	Mahomed Caul Cawn, &c.		26,250 — —
	Neveesandas, or Writers		1,362 — —
	Jamaul Cawn		82 7 70
	Mahomed Iftacar Cawn		376 36 60
	Rajah Balavent Bahauder, &c.		1,129 31 40
	Mahomed Cauly, and Mahomed Cawn, Mer[t]		5,951 28 70
	Ahamud Cawn, on account of the Price of Cloth		548 21 —
	Abdul Islam Cawn		281 15 60
	Mahomed ul Cawn		1,641 2 50
	Seid Imaumably Cawn, &c. Cavalry		553 21 —
	Munver Cawn		2,672 2 50
	Coaja Mahomud Gaulib Cawn, Bahauder		1,000 — —
	Hussain Ally Cawn		225 28 70
	Allowance to the Zemindars		5,238 21 —
	Mubauzezdil Cawn, Bahauder		416 7 —
	Kandabiah		113 21 —
	Carpenters and Smiths		53 17 5
	Sundry Charges, as per Receipts		1,978 7 70
	By Sibbendy in the Country, viz.
	Charges Sibbendy	4,000 — —
	Allowance to Rajah Balavent Doss	2,000 — —
	Nazurputty, as per Perwannahs	350 — —
			6,350 — —
	By sundry Charges, viz.
	On account of the religious Ceremony		25 — —
	Harcaras, &c.		80 — —
	Nacud Ahamud Cawn		10 — —
	Sepoys in the Company of Abdul Islam, as per Perwannahs		109 24 22½
	Seid Nooralla Cawn, his Allowance, as per Receipt		54 31 40
	Sajmul		82 5 20
	Transmitted to Huzoor		141 — —
	Siedy Saroor		11 — —
	Mohan, &c.		30 — —
	Oxen Hire for sending Ammunition		40 21 70
			2,04,496 17 57½
	By Balance due to the Circar		7,101 40 2½
	Pagodas		2,11,598 15 60

APPEND IX
No. 95.

APPENDIX, No. 95.

THE Preſident alſo lays before the Committee, the following Extract from the Company's Letter, dated 4th March 1767.

Extract from the Company's General Letter; dated London, the 4th March 1767.

"You inform us, that as ſoon as our authority ſhall be perfectly eſtabliſhed in the Circars, you think it will be for our intereſt to give the management of the Circar of Condaver to the Nabob of Arcot, at a reaſonable rent. The reaſons you offer in ſupport of this opinion, are very ſatisfactory: ſuch a boundary as the river Kiſtna, muſt certainly prevent all colour of diſpute touching the limits; and the Troops employed in the protection of the Arcot Province, may hold that alſo in obedience; and you will take care to obtain from the Nabob as high a Revenue as could be procured in any other way."

The Preſident then deſires the opinion of the Committee, Whether, or not, the propoſals made by the Nabob ſhall be accepted, ſubject to the Company's approval, and under ſuch further limitations as the Committee ſhall think proper, for the ſecurity of the Revenue, and the welfare of the Inhabitants?

Mr. Smith thinks the letting of the Guntoor Circar a very important matter; and not having ſeen the Letter from the Nabob propoſing to rent it, or the other Papers now delivered in by the Preſident, until this day, he is not prepared to give an opinion upon them; and requeſts therefore the conſideration of the affair may be deferred till the next Committee.

Sir Hector Munro and Mr. Whitehill are of opinion, that the Circar ſhould be let to the Nabob on the terms of his propoſals, ſubject to the approbation of the Company, and to the other limitations propoſed by the Preſident.

As it ſeems to be the wiſh of the Company, that the Nabob ſhould have the Guntoor Circar at rent, whenever it came into our hands, he does not ſee how, with that paragraph of the Company's Letter before them, the Committee would be juſtified in rejecting the Nabob's propoſals; that he is againſt delay in this buſineſs, as the ſeaſon is very far advanced, and the Revenue will ſuffer, if ſome meaſures are not ſpeedily adopted—that he would have propoſed the ſubject before, but was deſirous of obtaining every neceſſary information of the value of the country, which he has accordingly done—that as he looks on the poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar to be of very material conſequence to the Company, and has propoſed every meaſure to the Committee that he thought likely to obtain, he is deſirous the Company ſhould know by the ſhips now under diſpatch, all the ſteps that have been taken in the negociation and ſettlement of the country, which he flatters himſelf cannot fail of meeting with their approval, and do credit to this Government, whether conſidered in a political light, or as eaſing the Company of ſome part of the burthen of their military expences. Though he thinks, for the reaſons abovementioned, that the Guntoor Circar ſhould be let to the Nabob for the ſums he has offered, yet he is of opinion that the following ſtipulations, with ſuch others as may appear neceſſary to the Committee, ſhould be made to the Nabob, viz.

The Zemindars and Inhabitants to be preſerved in their rights and privileges—the amount of the Revenue, according to the ſeveral Kiſts, as they become due, not in any reſpect to be blended with the Nabob's other Accounts or Payments to the Company, but to be received from the Aumildar, or whoever is appointed to the charge and management of the diſtrict, immediately into the Company's treaſury, or by ſuch perſon as ſhall be directed to receive the ſame; and in caſe of failure in any one payment beyond the ſpace of one month, a Reſident to be appointed on the part of the Company, to ſee the engagements the Nabob enters into more punctually fulfilled in future—the Grant of the Guntoor Circar to be made out to the Nabob, agreeably to his requeſt, but conditionally, that it meets with the approbation of the Company, which muſt be expreſſed in our reply to his Letter. As the Revenue from the Guntoor Circar is received, to be kept as a fund for the payment of ſuch of the Company's Troops as are employed with Bazalet Jung, and all charges incurred thereby, and for the protection of the Guntoor Circar, and the ſurplus to be remitted to Bazalet Jung, which muſt be ſtipulated in our final treaty with him.

APPENDIX, No. 96.

Extract from Fort Saint George Country Correſpondence.

N° 133. To the Nabob; dated 8th October 1779.

I HAVE had the honour to receive your Letter of the 19th September, acquainting me with your deſire of renting the Guntoor Circar from the Company for ten years, on certain terms and conditions expreſſed in your ſaid Letter, and in a Paper of propoſals which accompanied it.

It will always give me pleaſure to comply with ſuch of your Highneſs's requeſts as ſhall appear conſiſtent with the orders of my honourable Employers; and upon this ground I am willing to grant you the Circar at rent, but as I do not approve of binding the Company in a matter of ſuch importance, without their own expreſs conſent, what I now do muſt be entirely ſubject to their pleaſure.

Having, however, conſented to let your Highneſs have the Circar until that pleaſure be ſignified to us, I muſt ſtipulate the following Conditions to be obſerved by your Highneſs.

1ſt. That the Zemindars and Inhabitants be preſerved in all their juſt rights and privileges.

2d. That the amount of the ſeveral agreed to be paid by your Highneſs, ſhall not in any ſhape be blended with other accounts, but received immediately from the Aumildar, or ſuch other perſon as may be appointed to the management of the diſtrict.

3dly. That the Kiſts ſhall be paid regularly as they become due; and if they are at any time in arrear beyond the ſpace of one month, the Company will appoint one of the Company's ſervants to reſide upon the ſpot, and to ſee that the Revenues be duly collected and applied to the punctual diſcharge of your Highneſs's engagements.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c. &c.

APPENDIX, No. 97.

Fort Saint George Country Correſpondence.

N° 91. To Bazalet Jung; dated 23d September 1780.

YOUR Excellency having ſome time ago expreſſed your deſire of having the Guntoor Circar reſtored into your hands, in conſequence of the diſappointments which prevented our Troops marching for the protection of your country; and your brother Nizim Ally Cawn having alſo intereſted himſelf with the Governor General of Bengal upon the ſame account, we have come to the reſolution of complying with your's and the Nizim's wiſhes in this reſpect, and have diſpatched the neceſſary orders to our officer commanding in that country, to put your agent into immediate and entire poſſeſſion of it, and to withdraw the Troops entirely from the diſtrict. I hope this will prove acceptable to you, and tend to ſtrengthen ſtrengthen the friendly diſpoſitions which have hitherto ſubſiſted between us. May your happineſs and proſperity daily increaſe! What can I ſay more?

APPENDIX, No. 98.

Fort St. George Select Conſultations, 17th July 1780.

Copy of a Letter from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, to the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George.

READ the following Letter from the Governor General and Council of Bengal:

To the Honourable John Whitehill, Eſquire, Preſident, &c. Select Committee.

Gentlemen,

We are to acknowledge the favour of your Letter of the 19th May, in which you inform us that you had reſolved to ſuſpend Mr. John Hollond from the Company's ſervice. As this act cannot be reverſed, nor the conſequences of it averted by any power but that of the Company, we ſhall only ſay, that it has given us the deepeſt concern, and that we hope that Mr. Hollond's conduct will not appear to our Superiors to have merited the ſeverity with which you have proceeded againſt him.

The actual ſtate of the negociation in which he is employed, makes it neceſſary for us to communicate to you the incloſed copy of the laſt Letter we have received from him, and to expreſs to you our expectation, that you will readily concur with us in yielding to ſuch a final arrangement of the only point now in diſpute with the Nizam, as we find indiſpenſably neceſſary for ſecuring his neutrality, if not his friendſhip, at a period full of difficulty and hazard to the general intereſts of the Company, and of the Nation in India. We do not mean, however, that any ſacrifices ſhould be made to the Nizam, inconſiſtent with the Company's honour, or with that of your Preſidency. The conceſſion he expects, and which we propoſe ſhould be granted him, is in our opinion founded in ſtrict juſtice, and in effect will only replace all parties concerned in the poſſeſſion or reverſion of the Guntoor Circar, preciſely on the ground on which they ſtood a year ago, and on which the moſt ſolemn Treaties between the Company and the Nizam had placed them. You will be pleaſed to recollect, that the meaſures authorized and recommended in our Letter to you of the 5th July 1775, had for their firſt and direct object, to diſpoſſeſs the French of the port of Mootapillee, to ſecure to the Company the reverſion of the Circar, and to accompliſh the diſmiſſion of the French from Bazalet Jung's ſervice; but that (on his failing to comply with theſe terms) the immediate ceſſion of the Circar to the Company was to be obtained by a negociation with the Nizam. We did not mean to depart from this fundamental principle, in the general approbation which we gave to your intended Treaty with Bazalet Jung, in our Letter of the 25th January 1779; nor do we ſuppoſe that you yourſelves had it in contemplation to infringe the Treaties already ſubſiſting with the Nizam by a new agreement with his brother; who, as it appears to us, could not enter into any engagement whatſoever for the immediate ceſſion of the Circar, without the conſent of the Nizam, to whom he ſtands in the relation of tributary or jaghiredar. Whether this opinion be well founded, or not, or whether our general approbation of the terms in which you propoſed to treat with Bazalet Jung, be liable to a different conſtruction, are queſtions on which we deem it uſeleſs and inexpedient to enlarge at preſent, ſince our conduct muſt finally be determined by conſiderations of infinitely greater weight and importance.

Independent of the juſtice of the Nizam's pretenſions, the difference between the reverſion of the Guntoor Circar, on the death or forfeiture of Bazalet Jung, and the immediate poſſeſſion of it on the terms of your Treaty with him, is not an object of any eſſential moment to the Company's intereſts, provided a ſufficient ſecurity can be obtained againſt the introduction of the French, which the Nizam has agreed to give us; much leſs is it to be compared to the advantage of recovering his friendſhip in the preſent ſituation of our affairs, or at leaſt, of not being obliged to act againſt him.

On theſe principles we have determined to reinſtate Bazalet Jung in the poſſeſſions of the Circar, and to replace every thing in the ſtate in which it ſtood before you entered into a negociation with him. We have formerly notified to the Nizam, our reſolution reſpecting this arrangement, and we require and expect your immediate compliance with it, by withdrawing your forces, collectors, and other agents, of whatever character, from the Circar of Guntoor, and reſtoring it to the poſſeſſion of Bazalet Jung. There will be no breach of faith to him, ſince he, on his part, has been unable to perform the conditions to which he ſtood engaged, and wiſhes to be relieved from thence; nor do we foreſee any difficulty whatſoever in the execution of the accommodation we now have in view, and of courſe in preventing a rupture with the Nizam at this unfavourable juncture, except ſuch as may unfortunately ariſe from the preſent temper and diſpoſition of your Preſidency towards this Government. We are ſorry that ſuch a diſpoſition ſhould at any time prevail between us, but eſpecially in circumſtances in which the moſt perfect harmony and co-operation are eſſentially neceſſary to the common good and general ſervice of the Company, through all their poſſeſſions. We wiſh on our part, to put an end to every ſubject of diſagreement; and we flatter ourſelves, that in the preſent inſtance, our requiſition will not want any further motive or argument to ſupport it, and to inſure your willing and ready compliance.

We are,
Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient humble Servants,
Warren Haſtings,
P Francis.
Edwd Wheler.

Fort William, 12th June 1780.

APPENDIX, No. 99.

Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 6th September 1780.

THE Preſident lays before the Committee a draft of a Letter, which he propoſes to be ſent to Bengal, on the ſubject of the requiſition made by the Governor General and Council to them, for delivering up the Guntoor Circar to Bazalet Jung.

The ſaid Letter is now read as follows:

To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, eſquire; Governor General, &c. Council of Fort William.

Gentlemen,

We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Letter of the 12th June. The important requiſition contained in that Letter, added to the troubles which ſo ſoon followed the receipt of it, will, we flatter ourſelves, be conſidered by you as a ſufficient apology for not ſending an earlier anſwer. The ſubject has indeed engaged much of our attention, and we have turned it over and over again in our minds, with the view of meeting, as far as we poſſibly could, the objects which you propoſed for our compliance with your deſire.

It were needleſs to recapitulate what has paſſed relative to the Guntoor Circar, ſince the year 1775, when the French fleet ſtationed there, firſt became a ſource of jealouſy to us. Suffice it to obſerve, that the meaſures which were taken to obtain the diſmiſſion of theſe Troops, were ſuch as muſt have convinced the Nizam of the ſtrict regard we paid to our Treaties; yet the repeated peated applications we preferred to him on this ſubject, availed nothing: the French were permitted to continue in the Guntoor Circar, and when the war with that Nation broke out, we found it neceſſary to appoint a conſiderable force to counteract their deſigns. At this time we alſo made a pointed requiſition to the Nizam, with no better ſucceſs than the former one; and ſeeing there was little probability of obtaining the end we ſought, by direct applications in this channel, we liſtened to the propoſals made to us by Bazalet Jung, and with your ſanction entered into a Treaty with him, which freed us entirely from the inconvenience we had been ſo long endeavouring to remove.

APPENDIX No 99

APPENDIX. No. 99.

From this review of things, we confeſs it does not appear to us that the Nizam has any juſt cauſe for complaint. When our rupture with the French took place, it certainly became a violation of Treaty in the Nizam, to permit our enemies to remain in Bazalet Jung's diſtricts, after we had formally demanded their diſmiſſion: nor could he, by the moſt rigid conſtruction of the Treaty of 1768, accuſe us of any breach of our engagements in the mode we purſued, in conſequence of his neglecting to do us juſtice. But what, more than all we have ſaid, convinces us that we were right, is, that our proceedings, and the Treaty in conſequence, had the ſanction of your conſent and approbation.

You now require of us to deliver back to Bazalet Jung the Guntoor Circar, which we obtained on certain terms by virtue of the above-mentioned Treaty with him. Your motives ſeem principally to reſt upon the neceſſity of preſerving the Nizam's friendſhip; and this indeed is now become ſo urgent, that we are willing to make the ſacrifice you propoſe for effecting it. As to the mode of requiring us to give up the Circar, we do not wiſh in the preſent juncture to enter into the ſmalleſt diſpute about it.

The difficulty which occurs to us in complying with your deſire, is of another kind: nevertheleſs we are heartily diſpoſed to remove it, and ſhall uſe our beſt endeavours for that purpoſe.

When we obtained the Sunnuds for the five Northern Circars, including that of Guntoor; the Nabob requeſted of the Company that he might have the Guntoor Circar at rent, whenever it came into their hands; which they aſſented to; and accordingly, after the delivery of that diſtrict to us, upon the concluſion of the Treaty with Bazalet Jung, we farmed it to the Nabob for a certain term, ſubject to the pleaſure of the Company; and the Nabob now holds it upon this footing. We have written a Letter to his Highneſs, repreſenting what you have urged, as to the expediency of giving up the Guntoor Circar in compliance with the Nizam's deſire, and expreſſing our hope that he will relinquiſh his claim upon it as Renter. So ſoon as we receive his anſwer, we ſhall acquaint you with it, and do every thing in our power to expedite this buſineſs agreeably to your wiſhes.

Before we conclude, however, we muſt expreſs the apprehenſion we feel, leſt Hyder Ally Cawn ſhould, upon its reſtoration, have influence enough to acquire the poſſeſſion of this diſtrict to himſelf. We know that he has already, both by temptation and threats, endeavoured to obtain it; and ſhould he at any time hereafter ſucceed in his deſign, we ſhall find him a moſt troubleſome neighbour; as, by the ſituation of the country, he would have it in his power to ſtop our communication by land with the Northern Circars; and in caſe of Bazalet Jung's demiſe, it might coſt us a war to take poſſeſſion of our reverſionary rights to the diſtrict.

We are, Gentlemen,
Your moſt obedient
Fort St. George, and humble Servants,
Sept. 2d, 1780. John Whitehill, &c. Select Committee.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Johnſon diſapprove of the foregoing Letter, as inconſiſtent with the ſentiments they have already expreſſed on the ſubject of it.

APPENDIX, No. 100.

Fort St. George Conſultations, 7th and 8th November 1780.

Tueſday 7th Nov^r.

PRESENT,

The Honourable John Whitehill, eſq. Governor, Preſident.
Charles Smith,
Major General Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Samuel Johnſon,
Alexander Davidſon.

MINUTES of laſt Conſultation read.

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, K. B. Commander in Chief in India, having arrived here the 5th inſtant, in the ſhip Duke of Kingſton, now takes his ſeat at the Board as ſecond in Council.

The Preſident delivers in General Letter from Bengal Preſidency, under date the 10th ultimo, and a Minute from himſelf of this day's date.

Read the abovementioned Letter as follows:

To the Honourable the Preſident, &c. Council of Fort Saint George.

Gentlemen,

Having for good and ſufficient reaſons, ſtated in a Letter to the Preſident and Select Committee of this date, a copy of which we ſend to you encloſed, Reſolved to ſuſpend John Whitehill, Eſq. from his office of Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George: We do hereby order and declare John Whitehill, Eſq. ſuſpended from his office of Preſident and Governor of Fort St. George; agreeable to powers delegated to us for that purpoſe, by the Act of the 13th of His preſent Majeſty: and to this order and declaration we direct you pay implicit obedience and attention.

We are, Gentlemen,
Your moſt obliged
humble Servants,
(Signed) Warren Haſtings,
P. Francis,
Fort William, Edw^d Wheler,
the 10th Oct. 1780. Eyre Coote.

To the Honourable the Preſident, &c. Select Committee of Fort St. George.

Gentlemen,

We have been favoured with your Letter of the 3d ult. in anſwer to the one which we addreſſed to you on the 12th June.

You plead the importance of the requiſition contained in our Letter, added to the troubles which ſoon followed the receipt of it, as an apology for not ſending an earlier anſwer. You juſtify the Treaty concluded with Bazalet Jung without the participation of his ſuperior, the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, againſt the charge of having infringed the Treaty 1768; adding, that it had the ſanction of our conſent and approbation: that you are willing to deliver back to Bazalet Jung the Circar of Guntoor, obtained by the Treaty; but that a difficulty had occurred, which you were heartily diſpoſed to remove, and would uſe your utmoſt endeavours for the purpoſe; namely, that you had farmed the Circar of Guntoor to the Nabob Waulajah, and that you had written a Letter to him, repreſenting what we had urged as to the expediency of giving up the Circar of Guntoor, in compliance with the deſire of the Nizam; and expreſſing your hope, that he would relinquiſh his claim upon it as a Renter; and that ſo ſoon as you received his anſwer, you would acquaint us with it, and do every thing in your power to expedite this buſineſs agreeably to our wiſhes. To theſe points we ſhall ſeparately reply: the importance of our requiſition demanded your attention and unconditional obedience; nor could the troubles which intervened, afford any real impediment to ſo ſimple an act, or prevent your returning an earlier anſwer to our Letter, had you choſen to carry our orders into execution; ſince all that was neceſſary for your reply, obviouſly amounted to this: that you had received our Letter—that you had communicated its contents to the Nabob Waulajah—that you had withdrawn your Troops from the Circar of Guntoor, and required the Nabob to remove from it all Agents and Collectors belonging to him. Inſtead of this, it is evident that our Letter muſt have remained in your poſſeſſion for above the ſpace of two months, before you thought it worthy of the ſmalleſt regard; becauſe, when your anſwer was written (which was not till the 3d September) you confeſs you had only then made the Nabob acquainted with our determination.

Whether the Treaty concluded with Bazalet Jung were, or were not, an infringement of the Treaty 1768, exiſting with the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, ceaſed to be a queſtion from the very moment that we had refuſed our aſſent to it, and agreed to yield up the conditions obtained by it.

It is true, that in our reply to your Letter of the 31ſt December 1778, wherein you firſt mentioned the Treaty negociated with Bazalet Jung, we gave our aſſent to it generally; which by no means implied that extent of latitude which you have taken, but required to be uſed with reference to the condition in which it had our original ſanction, and which without any declaration on your part, or any authority expreſſed on ours, ought always to be underſtood as the ſuperior, indiſpenſable, and permanent condition, in all negociations, and in all acts of Government, the Faith of Treaties actually exiſting.

The following Extract of a Letter from this Preſidency, dated the 23d October 1775, is introduced here, as a proof of what our ſentiments then were on this ſubject, and is a part of the correſpondence quoted by you, as conveying "ample authority from us to the then Go-"vernment, to proceed in effecting the diſmiſſion of the "French Troops from the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, by "Treaty, or in any other manner they might think "proper"

"As we obſerve, you have addreſſed the Nabob Ni-"zam Ally Cawn, through your Preſident, in the terms "we had ſuggeſted, for the removal of the Europeans "out of the Guntoor Circar, and for the purpoſe of ob-"taining his conſent for the reverſion of that diſtrict to "the Company; we ſhall wait to hear the reſult of that "Letter before we ſend you any further inſtructions on "that head."

When, therefore, we give our aſſent generally to the terms of the Treaty marked out in your Letter of the 31ſt December 1778, we had no more of your proceedings before us, than what you had choſen to make known to us in that Letter; and theſe formed of courſe the limits of our approbation.

We knew not that you had wholly omitted the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn in the negociation; we could not therefore authorize what you had concealed from our knowledge, much leſs ought our ſanction to have been ſuppoſed by conſtruction to an act which pledged the faith of the Company in one inſtance, by the ſacrifice of it in another, and bore in its formation the principles of its own diſſolution.

But as ſoon as we were acquainted with it, and were enabled to give it our attention, we declared our diſapprobation of it, and then firſt interpoſed our authority, to prevent it from taking effect, by requiring the inſtant ſurrender of the Circar of Guntoor.

We cannot paſs over this period of the tranſaction, without obſerving, that although the Treaty with Bazalet Jung was concluded in the month of April 1779, it was not till the 18th of February 1780 that you thought proper to adviſe us of it, and apparently for the only purpoſe of informing us at the ſame time, after the difficulties which you had ſubſequently met with, from the proteſt of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, the menaces of Hyder Ally, and the retraction of his concurrence by the Nabob Bazalet Jung himſelf, on the plea of his inability to maintain it.

Whatever obligations our ſanction, given in the manner which has been explained, to the draft of the Treaty propoſed to Bazalet Jung, in December 1778, may be ſuppoſed to have conveyed on you to maintain it when made; yet, when the party with which it was made, declared it invalid on his part, and ſolicited to be abſolved from it, its obligation certainly became void upon yours, and the plea, that our ſanction had been previouſly obtained, will not avail againſt our orders for reſtoring the Circar of Guntoor; ſince, even in the exiſting ſtate of the Treaty, it would have been no infringement of it, to yield up any right obtained by it, much leſs would it have been liable to ſuch a conſtruction, when the reciprocal condition of it had been annihilated.

But your oppoſition to our orders in this inſtance was not only not incumbent upon you, from the engagement of the Treaty, but was, in effect, a violation of it, ſince the Revenue of the Circar of Guntoor had been aſſigned to you by it, only as a ſubſidy for the military force which you had ſtipulated to furniſh him, at your own ſolicitation, in the room of the French party under Mr. Lally, which he had long retained, and which at your ſolicitation alſo he had conſented to diſmiſs, and had actually diſmiſſed; when, therefore, he declined the acceptance of that aid, and you had already profited by his good faith in the diſmiſſion of Mr. Lally, we know not upon what right you could retain poſſeſſion of the land which had been aſſigned as an equivalent for that aid, or how an act of ſuch apparent violence could be reconciled to the Treaty, from which, by his rejection of the only condition intended for his benefit, your Government derived every advantage oſtenſibly propoſed to be obtained by it, and his none.

The plea which you alledge, of difficulties ariſing from your engagements with the Nabob Waulajah, comes laſt under conſideration; and is, indeed, too ſerious not to be dwelt upon more particularly. The more we reflect upon it, the more we are at a loſs to conceive how you could ſo far forget that reſpect which was due to our authority, and the faith which we informed you we had pledged to the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, as to admit of a moment's heſitation in the performance of our orders; but when we read your looſe, indefinite, vague promiſes, of your aſſiſtance in promoting our wiſhes, of an inſtant conformity to our injunctions, we have too much reaſon to ſuſpect ſuch a conduct as an intended cover to a fixed reſolution not to obey us, under the idea of the Nabob's claims being of ſufficient weight to poſtpone the execution of a peremptory requiſition from us, and to make it optional in the Nabob, whether he will give up the Circar of Guntoor or not, as his own convenience, or perhaps, even his caprice ſhall determine.

And this appears the more ſtriking, when we recollect, in your Letter of the 3d September, you inform us, that you actually had made repreſentations to the Nabob; when we have received Letters from you, dated the 17th September; when, even from your own account, the Letter which you had written to the Nabob muſt have been in his poſſeſſion above a fortnight; and when, from the 3d September to the 17th, you delayed procuring any Anſwer, although a conſtant, we might add a daily communication ſubſiſts between the Nabob and the Governor, and his reſidence is within your own walls; and when it is evident, that the ſubject of the Letter from you to the Nabob could not have comprized in it a number of ſpecific articles, which would have taken a length of time to reply to: there could be no references to accounts, no voluminous matter to wade through; nothing, in ſhort, to which a tedious or minute examination was neceſſary: and when we combine all theſe circumſtances together, and reflect, that the

APPENDIX. No. 100.

Letter could have contained ſimply one plain propoſition, whether or not the Nabob would give up the Guntoor Circar? which required not a day, no not an hour, to determine; we maintain that it was your duty to have exacted a poſitive Anſwer from the Nabob, without admitting any pretence for delay; and that the difficulties which you have alledged in extenuation of your miſconduct, were beneath you to offer, and unworthy of us to receive. Your conduct has expoſed us to the reproaches and deriſion of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, who has openly taxed us with having attempted to amuſe him with promiſes, which, though ſolemnly made, we have not the ability to perform; nor has he ſcrupled to avow himſelf the adviſer of the confederacy, the effects of which you yourſelves have recently and too fatally experienced, juſtifying it by the aggravated injuries which he had ſuſtained in this particular inſtance, and in the offenſive demands made on him, through your late Miniſter, Mr. Hollond. To what lengths of reſentment he may proceed, we cannot foreſee; he has indeed given us aſſurances of his pacific intentions, whenever he ſhall obtain the effects of our promiſes, and a reparation for the violation of his rights, and of the Treaty ſubſiſting between him and the Company.

Whatever may be the ſincerity of theſe profeſſions, we are morally certain, that but for our intervention, he would have become the declared Enemy of the Company; and if he ſhall yet prove ſuch, in conſequence of any actual, but latent impreſſion, we ſhall impute it totally to you, as the aggreſſors.

Nor is it in on his part that we have to dread the conſequence of your contempt of our authority—we have found it neceſſary to make abrupt advances for peace to the Maratta State, and to ſeek other Alliances, as the means of obtaining and confirming it. But what Prince or State, without much heſitation, involve themſelves in engagements with a Power which cannot protect them againſt its own dependants? or who will truſt to the faith of our Treaties, which they had ſeen hitherto violated by you with impunity? Such is the ſituation to which you have reduced us, and we ſubmit to the neceſſity which it impoſes on us, becauſe we feel ourſelves impelled by a ſenſe of duty, which renders us ſuperior to every other conſideration.

We now proceed to ſum up all that has been already ſtated, and to form the ſeveral facts into diſtinct charges.

You have attempted to make a Treaty with the Nabob Bazalet Jung, in direct violation of the former Treaty then ſubſiſting between the Company and the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn.

You have preſumed to hold the Circar of Guntoor or Murtazanagur at all events, in defiance of a requiſition from the Governor General and Council, peremptorily made to reſtore it; and you have refuſed to withdraw your Troops, and to remove your Agents and Collectors from it, knowing, as you did, that we had formerly pledged the faith of the Company to the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn for both theſe points; thereby degrading the authority, weakening the energy, and preventing the efficacy of the powers of this Government.

You have ſhewn a contemptuous indifference to the Governor General and Council, and a want of even common reſpect, in ſuffering a dangerous length of time to elapſe before you replied to orders of ſuch importance, or allowed them any conſideration; and when you did, you eluded the effects of theſe orders.

You have offered an inſult to the high commiſſion which we bear, in permitting other claims to ſtand in competition with the deliberative Reſolves of this Government.

In a word, you have made orders for commencing Hoſtilities, and you have negociated and concluded a Treaty of Peace, without the conſent and approbation of the Governor General and Council firſt obtained.

Under circumſtances of ſuch aggravation, ſo unpardonable in their very nature, and ſo dangerous in their conſequences, that nothing ſhort of inſtant example can preſerve the ſupremacy of the reſponſible Government, and give credit to its acts—we have reſolved, That John Whitehill, Eſquire, be ſuſpended from his office of Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George, and we declare him to be ſuſpended, in virtue of the power granted to us, the Governor General and Council of Bengal, for that purpoſe, by the Regulating Act of Parliament of the thirteenth of His preſent Majeſty.

It is neither our deſire to extend an Act of this nature beyond the line preſcribed for the aſſertion of the public rights entruſted to our charge, nor ſhould we be juſtified in ſuch an indiſcriminating rigour, which, by involving every perſon in the effects of a conduct oſtenſibly common to all, might fall, as we believe it would, on ſome whoſe opinions, had they prevailed, would have prevented the grievances of which we complain.

On you, Gentlemen, to whom the charge of affairs will eventally be committed, we place the moſt implicit reliance for the redreſs of paſt evils, for a zealous and united exertion of every means which may tend to retrieve the misfortunes to which, from whatſoever cauſes, your affairs have lately been ſubjected, and for a liberal co-operation with us for the ſame great ends.

Fort William, 10th October 1780. We are, &c. (Signed) Governor General and Council.

Sir Eyre Coote obſerves, that he ſhould object to the reading Mr. Whitehill's Minute, had not Mr. Whitehill given it in at the ſame time he delivered in the Letter from the Supreme Council, notifying his ſuſpenſion from the ſtation of Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George, and before that Reſolution of the Supreme Council was publicly known to this Board.

APPENDIX, No. 101.

THE Minute of Mr. Whitehill is then read as follows:

I have now heard read the extraordinary and intemperate animadverſions of the Governor General and Council of Bengal, on the meaſures of this Government, and the unauthorized privileges which they claim, of iſſuing orders, which in their conſequences muſt affect the character, honour, and welfare of every Servant of the Company, on this and the other Eſtabliſhment of India.

The blow in the preſent inſtance ſeems levelled at me; for what reaſon I know not; they are to anſwer for it who have attempted it; and, with or without ſupport, they ſhall feel that a ſubject of England, whatever may be his ſtation, is guarded and protected by the wiſe and wholeſome regulations of his country.

As a Servant of the Company, I have, and always will, implicitly obey the juſt and proper orders of my Superiors.

But I ſhould be treacherous to my Employers, and wanting in a proper attention to my own character and ſtation as Preſident of this Government, if I tacitly ſubmitted to the graſping hand of unconſtitutional power.

The other Gentlemen of the Council may reconcile an illegal innovation of their rights, as their own views may lead them; I aſſert the independency of this Government under the reſtrictive Act of Parliament, in the preſent inſtance, where the Governor General and Council have arrogated to themſelves a power of ſuſpenſion, and whatever may be the iſſue of it, I both call and rely upon the ſupport of thoſe Members of Adminiſtration, who in their high offices are bound to ſupport the acts of Government entruſted to their management, under the ſanction of their King and Country.—Wherefore I proteſt againſt the power aſſumed by the Supreme Council, of ſuſpending me, in their Letter of the 10th October 1780:

1ſt. Becauſe

APPENDIX. No. 101.

1ſt. Becauſe the grounds for their attempt to ſuſpend me, are mentioned by themſelves as acts of the whole Board, for which I ſingly and ſeparately cannot be held reſponſible.

2d. Becauſe there was no infraction of the powers granted to the Governor General and Council, when this Preſidency proceeded upon the meaſure of acquiring the Guntoor Circar; the Governor General and Council having themſelves concurred in the propriety of that meaſure.

3d. Becauſe the ſecond charge of the Governor General and Council, viz. That we have preſumed to hold the Guntoor Circar at all events, in defiance of their authority, and have refuſed to withdraw our Troops and Agents from it; has no foundation in truth or fact: that Circar having long ſince, and as ſoon as the local ſituation of affairs rendered it proper, been reſtored to Bazalet Jung, and the Troops, Agents, and Collectors withdrawn from it, agreeably to the deſire of the Governor General and Council.

4th. Becauſe with regard to the Treaty with Bazalet Jung, I was no more culpable than the other Members of the Board, Sir Thomas Rumbold having at that time been in charge of this Government.

5th. Becauſe their controlling power being confined to offences which cannot be committed otherwiſe than by the whole Board, extends to the Preſident and Council as a collective body only, and cannot affect individuals.

6th. Becauſe though the Act gives the Governor General and Council, in certain inſtances, a power of ſuſpending Preſidents and Councils, it gives them no power of ſuſpending Governors from the exerciſe of their military charge.

7th. Becauſe, as Governor of Fort Saint George, and Commander in Chief of the Forces in the Garriſon, I cannot be removed but by the orders of the Company, under their common ſeal, or under the hands of thirteen or more of the Court of Directors, as is fully ſpecified in the commiſſions and orders on that head.

8th. Becauſe the Governor General and Council, in their ſaid Letter of the 10th October, declare me ſuſpended in virtue of the power granted to them for that purpoſe, by the Regulating Act of Parliament of the 13th of His preſent Majeſty; a power which no longer exiſts, that Act having expired in the year 1779, and the Act of the 19th of His Majeſty, the laſt Act that has been communicated to us, chap. 61. for continuing it, having alſo expired on the 5th day of April laſt—a circumſtance which, even ſuppoſing culpability, entirely annihilates their ſuperintending and controlling power.

For all which reaſons I do, in the name of my Conſtituents, the Eaſt India Company, and in defence of thoſe rights I am inveſted with by the ſaid Company, moſt ſolemnly proteſt againſt the illegal aſſumption of authority in the Governor General and Council of Bengal, of impoſing partial ſuſpenſions; declaring it at the ſame time to be my firm intention not to acquieſce in the Reſolutions of the ſaid Governor General and Council ſo paſſed, the ſame being illegal, and evidently contrary to the ſpirit, meaning, and letter of the Act of the 13th of His preſent Majeſty, called the Eaſt India Regulating Act; but to conſider myſelf, in every reſpect, as Preſident of the Council of Madras, and Commander in Chief in the Fort and Garriſon of Fort Saint George, hereby exonerating myſelf, in theſe reſpective capacities, from any evil conſequences which may attend an uſurpation of authority in the Governor General and Council of Bengal, and an eventual ſubmiſſion and obedience to their illegal orders, by any of the Members of this Adminiſtration; againſt whom, as integral part of this Government, without whoſe preſence no Council can exiſt, no meaſure can be taken, no buſineſs carried on, I do, in the event of ſuch ſubmiſſion and obedience, alſo moſt ſolemnly proteſt, ſeparately and collectively, and hold them, and every of them, anſwerable, as well to the Honourable Eaſt India Company, for the ſubverſion of this Government, and uſurpation of the authority thereof, as to myſelf for any loſs or injury I may ſuſtain in my perſon, property, or liberty, or in the due enjoyment and exerciſe of thoſe rights and powers of which I am legally poſſeſſed and inveſted.

Wherefore—as I hold this Government to be compoſed of a Preſident and Council, as particularly provided for in the commiſſion of Government, and not in a Preſident and Select Committee, who have only general powers in certain inſtances—I move, That the opinion of the Board be taken, whether this unjuſtifiable ſtretch of uſurped authority in the Governor General and Council of Bengal, to ſuſpend not only the Preſident and Council collectively, but every Member of it ſeparately and individually, as their ambition, prejudice, or caprice may lead them, be acquieſced in; and whether their orders ſhall be obeyed.

Fort Saint George, 7th November 1780. (Signed) John Whitehill.

Sir Eyre Coote delivers in the following Minute:

As the Letter from the Supreme Council, now read, contains my ſentiments at large on the ſubject of the ſuſpenſion of Mr. Whitehill from his office of Governor of this Preſidency, and as my opinion thereon has already been recorded in the Proceedings of that Board, it is unneceſſary I ſhould, on this occaſion, enter into any further diſcuſſion, but ſimply declare my firm reſolution to ſupport an authority which I think the Governor General and Council of Bengal, by the Regulating Act of the 13th of George the Third, have, in the preſent inſtance, a clear, legal, and unqueſtionable right to exerciſe; and muſt therefore add, on my own part, as Commander in Chief of the Company's Forces in India, that whilſt that Act of the Supreme Council of Bengal remains in force, which it muſt do until reverſed by an authority even ſuperior to themſelves, I cannot, nor will not, act with Mr. Whitehill as Preſident of Fort Saint George, deeming him, under ſuch ſuſpenſion, diveſted of all authority, and conſequently incompetent to any acts of Government whatever.

In delivering this opinion, I wiſh to be underſtood, that I mean nothing derogatory towards Mr. Whitehill and that, whenever the bar ſhall be properly removed, and his reinſtatement in this Government takes place, I will cheerfully co-operate with him in any meaſure that may promiſe a remedy for, or aſſiſt to extricate the affairs of the Company, and, I may add, the Public in general, from their preſent difficulties and diſtreſſes.

(Signed) Eyre Coote.

Mr. Johnſon delivers in the following Minute:

I am of opinion, That the Letter now read of the 10th October, from the Governor General and Council of Bengal to this Board, has ſuſpended John Whitehill, Eſq. our late Preſident, from his office of Governor, &c. of this Fort and Settlement; and that he does accordingly ſtand ſuſpended, and conſequently cannot ſit at this Board, as a Member of this Government, or vote upon any Queſtion, or do any act of Government whatever.

7th Nov. 1780. (Signed) Samuel Johnſon.

Mr. Smith delivers in the following Minute:

Mr. Whitehill being ſuſpended from his office as Preſident of the Council and Governor of the Fort and Garriſon of Fort Saint George, by orders from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, contained in their Letter dated 10th October 1780, I am of opinion, that he ſtands ſuſpended accordingly, and that he cannot deliver in any Minute, make any Motion, give his voice on any Queſtion, or do any act of Government whatever.

7th Nov. 1780. (Signed) Charles Smith.

APPENDIX. No. 101.

Mr. Whitehill desires, that the Motion contained in his Minute be now put.

Sir Eyre Coote objects to it, as he is of opinion Mr. Whitehill, at this time, actually stands suspended from the station of President and Governor of Fort Saint George, in virtue of the authority vested in the Governor General and Supreme Council, by the Regulating Act of the 13th year of His present Majesty; and that therefore Mr. Whitehill has no longer a right to move a Question at this Board.—Sir Eyre Coote further desires, that the following Motion be put, That Mr Charles Smith, agreeably to the rules of succession at this Presidency, he being next to the chair in this Government, do from henceforth take upon him all the power and authority which have hitherto been legally and constitutionally vested in the President and Governor of Fort Saint George.

Mr. Davidson particularly requests, he may have some time allowed him to deliberate on this subject, before he gives his opinion; and it is in consequence agreed, that the meeting of Council be adjourned until to-morrow at ten o'clock.

Wednesday, 8th November. At a Consultation;

PRESENT,

The Honourable John Whitehill, Esq. Governor, President,
Lieut. Gen. Sir Eyre Coote, K.B.
Charles Smith,
Major Gen. Sir Hector Munro, K.B.
Samuel Johnson,
Alex^r Davidson.

The Board met agreeably to their adjournment of yesterday.

Minutes of the proceedings of yesterday read.

The opinions of the several Members of Council are taken upon the Motion made yesterday by Sir Eyre Coote, viz.

That Mr. Charles Smith, agreeably to the rules of succession at this Presidency, he being next to the chair in this Government, do from henceforth take upon him all the power and authority which have hitherto been legally and constitutionally vested in the President and Governor of Fort Saint George.

Mr. Davidson for the Motion, and delivers in the following Minute:

For the reasons so amply set forth in the President's Minute, and particularly because I understand from that Minute, and from Sir Hector Munro, a Member of the Select Committee, that the cause of Mr. Whitehill's suspension no longer exists, the Guntoor Circar having some time since, pursuant to the orders of the Supreme Council, been ceded to Bazalet Jung; I do not approve of Mr. Whitehill's suspension, though I acknowledge the power of the Supreme Council; I therefore support General Sir Eyre Coote's Motion, that Mr. Charles Smith, the next senior Servant to Mr. Whitehill, be the acting President.

Mr. Johnson for the Motion.

Sir Hector Munro against the Motion being put in effect for the present; and delivers in the following Minute:

As the President never meant to dispute the authority of the Governor General and Supreme Council, in executing their orders to deliver up the Guntoor Circar:

As the delay was occasioned by a particular circumstance blended with some difficulties which occurred:

As the act for which the President has been suspended by the Supreme Council of Bengal did not exist at the time they carried their Resolution into execution:

And, as I imagine, upon a representation of facts as they stand, that the Supreme Council would rescind their act of suspension, if they have that power:

For these reasons I am not for carrying the orders of the Supreme Council, respecting the President's suspension, into execution, until we hear again from them on this subject.

Fort St. George, 8th Nov. 1778. (Signed) Hector Munro.

Sir Eyre Coote for the Motion.

APPENDIX, No. 102.

Mr. Whitehill delivers in the following Minute:

In Sir Eyre Coote's Minute of yesterday, he declares, that considering me suspended by a legal and unquestionable authority, he cannot and will not sit or act with me as President of this Council.

If Sir Eyre Coote was as firmly persuaded of the justice, nay of the existence of the grounds on which the Governor General and Council of Bengal resolved my suspension, as he seems to be of their power, I should not be at all surprized at his declaration. The Governor General and Council, Sir Eyre Coote himself being one of them, came to the Resolution of suspending me, upon an idea of our refusal and determination not to give up the Guntoor Circar. He sees at present, that the idea was without foundation; he finds we have not only not refused to give it up, but that we have actually done it, and done it in obedience to their order. It therefore needs no great force of argument to convince him, that the Resolution in which he bore a part was founded in error; nor will it, I hope, be difficult to prove, that condemning a man without any specific charge against him, in which he also concurred, is an act of the highest injustice and precipitation. Thus, though Sir Eyre Coote must in his own breast be convinced that the order of the Supreme Council was precipitate and unjust, he is determined to support it. Do the principles of honour he so eminently possesses, approve such a conduct? Do they not rather call upon him, when he has done an injury, to endeavour to repair it? Perhaps he will say he is obliged to pay implicit obedience to the orders of the Governor General and Council. That he is, to all their lawful orders, I admit. But, right or wrong, to carry them into execution, I say he is under no obligation; nay, knowing them to be founded in error or injustice, he would be highly criminal in doing it. Has Sir Eyre Coote considered the consequence of his Resolution, not to act with me as President of this Council? Should I not, as he wishes to comply with this partial and oppressive order, should I not hand over the keys of the Garrison to Mr. Smith, and withdraw myself from the deliberations of Council? Should I not, by such a step, acknowledge a culpability that does not exist?—And should he employ force to drive me from the honourable station in which I am placed, he would be guilty of a subversion of this Government; and it would depend on my prudence and attention to the public interest, if he would not give birth to the horrors of a civil war in a moment when unanimity and co-operation are essential to the preservation of the Carnatic and the safety of Madras—And, should neither a resignation on my part, nor force on his, take place; should he sit down contented with his Resolution not to obey the orders of this Presidency, as it is at present formed; should he withhold the supply of money he has brought with him, and refuse to order the Bengal Troops to march, or to co-operate with those of this Government;—to what a desperate situation would be reduced the Company's interest on the coast! The remains of our own Army being insufficient to repel the Enemy in so critical a situation as the present; when I am determined not to acquiesce in an act of injustice, I see no measure left for Sir Eyre Coote to take, but either to employ a force which I must submit to, to carry into execution an illegal order, though he knows it to be such; or to repair an injury he has erroneously erroneouſly and haſtily committed. He is to determine which to adopt.

Fort Saint George, 8th Nov. 1780. (Signed) John Whitehill.

Carried in favour of the Motion, That Mr. Whitehill is ſuſpended from his office of Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George; and that Mr. Charles Smith ſucceeds thereto.

Sir Eyre Coote delivers in the following Minute:

From a Paper juſt now given in by Mr. Whitehill, I obſerve that I am pointed out as the chief inſtrument in the buſineſs of his ſuſpenſion; and why he ſhould conceive himſelf vindicated in placing me in ſo diſtinguiſhed a light, I am at a loſs to find out. Surely my being charged with diſpatches from the Supreme Council at Bengal, addreſſed to the Preſident and Select Committee of Madras, can in no ſhape conſtitute me more a party in the affair than I originally poſſeſſed as a Member of that Board, and what I muſt now ſhare as holding a ſeat at this Council. Mr. Whitehill carries the idea of my power ſtill further; by imputing to me the ability of ſuſpending the execution of orders from an authority which I am myſelf obliged to obey in all caſes, where my own commiſſion, as Commander in Chief of the Company's Forces in India, does not enable me to act independently of them. It is impoſſible upon this occaſion that Mr. Whitehill can ſuppoſe me poſſeſſed of any inſtructions from the Supreme Council as Commander in Chief of the Army, to enforce obedience to an order proceeding from them in their civil capacity, ſanctified by a conſtitutional Act of Parliament, and addreſſed to a Civil Government, ſubject to their controul. In the firſt place, allowing it poſſible I could have had any, I ſhould certainly have brought them forward on this occaſion; and in the ſecond place, could the Supreme Council have entertained a thought of the kind, they muſt have betrayed a ſuſpicion of imbecility in their civil power, and an implied doubt of the legality by which they exerciſed it.

Theſe circumſtances conſidered, I am perſuaded the burthen which Mr. Whitehill's arguments tend to impoſe upon me in particular, will appear as unjuſt as they muſt in the end be ineffectual.

(Signed) E. C.

Wedneſday, 8th Nov.—At a Conſultation;

PRESENT,

The Honourable Charles Smith, Eſq. Governor, Preſident,
Lieutenant Gen. Sir Eyre Coote, K. B.
Samuel Johnſon,
Major Gen. Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Alexander Davidſon.

The Secretary reads the following Paper, together with the Commiſſion of Government, from the Honourable Court of Directors; the Company's civil and military Servants, and the Inhabitants, attending:

" The Honourable the Governor General and Su" preme Council, by their Letter to this Preſidency of " the 10th ult. in conſequence of powers delegated to " them by the Act of the 13th of His preſent Majeſty,
" having been pleaſed to ſuſpend John Whitehill, Eſquire,
" from his office of Preſident and Governor of Fort
" Saint George; the Honourable the Preſident and " Council of Fort Saint George do hereby give notice,
" That the ſaid John Whitehill, Eſquire, ſtands ſuſpended
" from the office of Preſident and Governor of Fort
" Saint George, accordingly; and that Charles Smith,
" Eſquire, late ſecond of Council, ſucceeds thereto."

Charles Smith, Eſquire, then takes the chair as Preſident and Governor of Fort Saint George and its Dependencies; and the oaths of allegiance and office are adminiſtered to him.

John Whitehill, Eſquire, having applied for a copy of the Proceedings relative to his ſuſpenſion; it is unanimouſly agreed, that he be furniſhed with an official copy thereof.

(A true copy.)
Ch. Freeman, Sub-Secretary.

APPENDIX. No. 103.

APPENDIX, No. 103.

Extract of the ſeparate Letter from Fort Saint George; dated the 4th July 1775.

Par. 8. HAVING lately received information from the Chief and Council of Maſulipatam, of the particulars of the ſuccours of men and ſtores imported at Mootapillee, for the uſe of Bazalet Jung, brother to Nizam ul Mulck, within the courſe of a few months, we deemed it adviſable to communicate the ſame to the Governor General and Council; and at the ſame time to make known to them our apprehenſions, in caſe of a rupture with France, and that Bazalet Jung ſhould not be prevented from collecting ſuch vaſt quantities of military ſtores, and ſuch formidable numbers of French and other Foreigners as he is daily enliſting into his ſervice.

9. In the ſecond article of the Treaty afore-mentioned entered into in 1768, with Nizam Ally Cawn, your Honours will be pleaſed to obſerve, that the circar of Murtazanagur, or Guntoor, is guaranteed to Bazalet Jung on certain conditions during his life-time, and at the deceaſe, or infraction of the terms agreed upon, that the property of it reverts to the Company.

10. Were we convinced that Bazalet Jung had in the leaſt manner infringed the terms on which he holds poſſeſſion of the circar, we could, with the greateſt propriety, not only call him to a ſevere account for the ſame, but, according to the tenor of the agreement, diſpoſſeſs him of a country which he is no longer maſter of than while he adheres to the points ſtipulated in the Treaty aforeſaid: but, while no ſuch matter has come to our knowledge, and his conduct is, as far as we are acquainted with it, conformable to the line laid down for his actions, we ſee not how we can, with any degree of propriety, prevent the great and increaſing evil of the French ſettling in his dominions. On this ſubject we have written particularly to the Governor General and Council, and have at the ſame time given it as our opinion, that the only modes which are left for obviating the danger to be apprehended, are, to endeavour, if poſſible, to prevail upon Bazalet Jung to give up the port at Mootapillee, at which place all his ſuccours are imported, for an adequate acknowledgment; or, if practicable, the whole circar on the like terms: or that he will admit of its being protected for him by the Company, he being at the expence of the force employed on that ſervice.

APPENDIX, No. 104.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George, to the Court of Directors; dated the 17th October 1778.

Par. 28. YOU have been adviſed in former Letters from this Preſidency, of the growing influence and power acquired by the French in the dominions of Bazalet Jung, where a conſiderable party of their Troops has for many years been maintained upon the ſame footing nearly as the Troops formerly with the Soubah of the Decan, under Mr. Buſſey. The Guntoor Circar, which at preſent belongs to Bazalet Jung, but reverts to the Company at his death, opens a paſſage for ſupporting and recruiting this party from the ſea; but though the danger to be apprehended from a body of Europeans kept up in a ſituation ſo near to your Northern poſſeſſions, has been often obſerved, no effectual meaſures were ever taken to remove it. In the Conſultations of 10th July, our Preſident entered a Minute on the ſubject of this party, and propoſed his idea of the method to be purſued for effecting its diſmiſſion from the ſervice of Bazalet Jung; which was approved, and in part adopted, when we received your authority to begin hoſtilities in India. We have ſince formed a body of Troops in the Maſulipatam Diſtrict, to act againſt the French party; and as Bazalet Jung has expreſſed himſelf uneaſy at the conſequence it has aſſumed, which is even become dangerous to himſelf, we hope and expect, from his aſſurances, that he will unite with us as far as he can in ſubduing it.

APPENDIX. No. 105.

APPENDIX, No. 105.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George, to the Court of Directors; dated the 13th March 1779.

Par. 12. YOU were acquainted, in our Letter of the 17th October, that we had ſome hopes of prevailing on Bazalet Jung to diſmiſs the French Troops, whom he had long entertained in his ſervice, and whom he had placed in a ſituation which rendered them formidable to your poſſeſſions in the circars. We lately opened a negociation with Bazalet Jung on this ſubject, and having received certain propoſals from him, containing an offer of the Guntoor Circar at rent, on condition of our keeping an Engliſh force conſtantly with him, for the defence of his country; we embraced that opportunity of acquainting him, in general terms, with our wiſhes in reſpect to the French Troops, and to make the condition of our renting the circar, and ſupplying him with a force, that he ſhould abſolutely diſcharge and ſend out of his country every Frenchman in his ſervice. By a Letter we received from him a few days ago, we have the pleaſure to learn, that he has, in conſequence of our deſire, diſmiſſed the French Troops; and that he is impatient to conclude a Treaty of Friendſhip and Alliance with the Company on the terms of his firſt propoſals to us.

Par. 13. The poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, and the diſmiſſion of the French Troops from the dominions of Bazalet Jung, are certainly objects of great importance to the ſecurity of your Northern Provinces; and we ſhall loſe no time, after the diſpatch of this ſhip, in bringing the Treaty with Bazalet Jung to a concluſion, on the moſt favourable terms we can obtain. The Governor General and Council of Bengal have been informed of our deſign, which they much approve.

APPENDIX, No. 106.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort St. George, to the Court of Directors; dated the 14th October 1779.

Par 12. WE acquainted your Honours, in our addreſs of the 13th March laſt, with the progreſs we had then made in our negociation with Bazalet Jung, for obtaining the poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar. We have ſince exchanged with him a written agreement to the following effect: viz. In conſideration of his diſmiſſing the French Troops under Mr. Lally entirely from his ſervice, we engage to furniſh him with ſuch a military force as he may require for the protection of his country (the quota to be ſettled hereafter.) This force is only to be employed in defending him againſt foreign attacks, but on no account to be carried beyond the line of his own territory. We have further agreed to ſpare him additional Troops to protect him, in caſe of an attack, if our ſituation will admit of it. In return for theſe ſervices, Bazalet Jung conſents to our taking poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, at rent, paying ſuch a ſum for it as has been uſually received ſince he has been maſter of that country; and from the amount of this rent we are firſt to provide for the pay and expence of the Troops ſtationed with him, and then remit to him whatever balance ſhall remain. He has further engaged to ſupply the Company with a body of Horſe, in caſe it ſhall be required of him. Theſe are briefly the terms of our agreement, and Bazalet Jung has in conſequence given us a Sunnud, by which we have taken poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar.

Par. 13. Although the Company derive not, at preſent, any pecuniary benefit from theſe engagements, yet the advantages of having preſent hold of the Guntoor Circar; of excluding the French influence entirely from that quarter; and of entering into a defenſive alliance with Bazalet Jung, are, in our opinion, ſuch as cannot fail of operating greatly to your intereſt. By retaining poſſeſſion of the circar, you effectually ſecure your reverſionary right to that diſtrict, and you ſhut up the only port on the Coaſt by which the French have hitherto been accuſtomed to introduce men and ſtores into the heart of the country, and through which they have ſo long maintained an intercourſe and connection with Bazalet Jung. By the protection now held forth to this Prince, we hope, beſides putting an end to the views of the French, a ſtill more material purpoſe will be anſwered, and that is, to check the views of Hyder Ally, which are much more to be feared. Hyder, in the month of February laſt, conquered the Cuddapa Country; he was advancing with the ſame intention towards Cannoul, and the dominions of Bazalet Jung, when his affairs called him back to his Capital at Seringapatam. Had he puſhed his conqueſts further at that time, which he might eaſily have done, your circars, and the Nabob's poſſeſſions to the Northward, would have been laid entirely open to his invaſions, and with his Cavalry he might have ravaged them at pleaſure. Seeing the feeble barrier that remains between Hyder and our Territories to the Northward, it is apparently for your intereſt and ſecurity to ſupport Bazalet Jung, who is the only Prince that has the ſmalleſt chance of ſtanding, with our aſſiſtance, againſt the arms of Hyder: our force with him will likewiſe be ſo ſituated, that we ſhall be able to make uſe of it, if neceſſary, for the protection of the circars; and as we do not mean, by any addition to your eſtabliſhment, to replace the Troops ſtationed with Bazalet Jung, the maintaining thoſe Troops out of the Revenues of the Guntoor Circar, muſt be conſidered as a ſaving of ſo much expence, ſince you will occaſionally be able to employ them in the protection of your own diſtricts.

Par. 14. The detachment firſt propoſed to be ſtationed with Bazalet Jung, was three battalions of Sepoys, and one company of European Artillery, with ſix field pieces. We appointed Lieutenant Colonel Harpur to command it, and directed him to proceed by the neareſt route to Adoni, the Capital of Bazalet Jung; and as that route led through the Paſs of Atcour, in the Cuddapa Country, lately ſubdued by Hyder Ally, our Preſident wrote a Letter to Hyder's Manager, to requeſt the Troops might march by the ſaid Paſs unmoleſted. Colonel Harpur in the meantime proceeded with the detachment; but on his arrival at the Paſs, he found it ſo ſtrongly guarded to oppoſe him, that he did not think it prudent to force it, and therefore returned to the Guntoor Circar, from whence he had marched. We have ſince reinforced his detachment with two companies of European Infantry, half a company of Artillery, and another battalion of Sepoys, and have directed him to march to Adoni, by whatever route he ſhall, upon enquiry, find moſt practicable,

Par. 15. The Guntoor Circar having been delivered into our hands, in conſequence of the agreement before recited, our Preſident employed himſelf in aſcertaining its annual produce, while in the poſſeſſion of Bazalet Jung, and having obtained particular accounts of the receipts from this diſtrict for the four laſt years, with the charges of collection, he laid them before us, and we then deliberated in what manner to diſpoſe of the circar, ſo as to realize the ſum for which we are to account with Bazalet Jung, agreeably to the tenor of our agreement. The Nabob, who, by your Letter of the 4th March 1767, Par. 13, had been promiſed the Guntoor Circar at rent, whenever it came into your hands, addreſſed us a Letter on this occaſion, putting us in mind of that promiſe, and offering Propoſals to rent the circar for ten years. The terms of theſe Propoſals are higher than the ſums obtained from the circar by Bazalet Jung, (at leaſt for the laſt four years, of which we had the particulars before us) and of courſe would enable us to account with Bazalet Jung, for rather more than he could have expected from us by our engagement.

Par. 16. It was evident to us, that there were only two ways of realizing, with any certainty, the produce of this diſtrict; the one by collecting the Revenues immediately for your account, and the other by letting it to the Nabob; for there appeared to us no other perſon of ſufficient reſponſibility to be entruſted with ſo large a rent. If, by collecting the produce ourſelves, it were, from any miſmanagement or bad ſeaſons, to fall ſhort of the rent to be accounted with Bazalet Jung, the difference could only be made up out of your treaſury, which might be inconvenient; but when it is let to a reſponſible perſon, ſuch deficiencies are not to be apprehended. For theſe reaſons, but more particularly becauſe your orders of 1767 ſeemed to favour the Nabob's application, we have reſolved to grant him the Circar at rent; ſubject, however, entirely to your pleaſure, and to ſuch reſtrictions as may appear neceſſary for ſecuring the rights of the Zemindars and Inhabitants.

Par. 17. Your Honours will obſerve on our Minutes, that Mr. Smith differed from the reſt of us in reſpect to the propriety of diſpoſing of the Guntoor Circar in the Committee, giving it as his opinion, that it ſhould have been ſettled in the Council as a matter of Revenue. We thought otherwiſe, becauſe all the previous ſteps being of a political or military nature, had been adjuſted in the Committee; and becauſe, in our ideas, this laſt meaſure, which was connected with the reſt, could not with propriety be ſeparated, and ſubmitted to the opinion of Gentlemen, who were unacquainted with every thing that preceded it. Mr. Smith likewiſe objected to giving his vote upon the queſtion, for granting the Guntoor Circar at rent to the Nabob, for the reaſons which appear in the Minutes.

APPENDIX, No. 107.

Extract of a Letter from Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. to the Chairman of the Eaſt India Company; dated the 31ſt October 1778.

OUR Diſpatches from the Select Committee and other Departments, are ſo full as to leave me little further to add. The reduction of Pondicherry being accompliſhed, our next object will be to inſiſt on the force under Mr. Lally, conſiſting of a body of French in the pay of Bazalet Jung, to be delivered up. This I am in hopes we ſhall find but little difficulty to ſucceed in; and that we may be able to obtain the Guntoor Circar to be put in the Company's poſſeſſion, and to remain under their management, paying a ſtipulated ſum to Bazalet Jung during his life; this meaſure will effectually ſecure the Northern Circars, and diſappoint every view the French may have in that quarter.

I expect to hear every day from the Nizam and Hyder, who, I now think, we ſhall find very ready to court the friendſhip of the Engliſh, however they might have been inclined to be troubleſome before the reduction of the French power: it is certain they looked to the event of our operations againſt Pondicherry to determine their political conduct. The heavy balances that were due and accumulating from the Northern Zemindars, I have no doubt will now be recovered; and that your Revenue there will be on a more ſecure footing than ever. The uncontrolled power of the Chiefs of the Northern Settlements, and the mutual intereſt that ſubſiſted between them and this Government, I am perſuaded was very oppreſſive to the Zemindars, and detrimental both to your Revenue and Commerce. The alteration that has taken place by fixing their Jemabundy here, will be productive of the beſt conſequences to the Company, though it will require time for the Zemindars to recover from the load of debt with which they are burthened; and the utmoſt attention and indulgence muſt be given to promote the cultivation of their lands. The determination of calling the Zemindars to the Preſidency, has ſtruck at the root of thoſe evils which they complained of; and it is the ſubordinate Chiefs alone that will probably wiſh the meaſures we have taken had been diſpenſed with. It is the intention of your Select Committee, immediately after this diſpatch, to ſet about the reduction of your expences in every department, both civil and military; and I flatter myſelf our next advices will acquaint you with our ſucceſs in the accompliſhment of ſo material an object. In all regulations of ſuch nature, the intereſt of individuals muſt be affected; it will therefore be indiſpenſably neceſſary, that whilſt we are endeavouring to put the Company's affairs on a proper footing, we receive their utmoſt ſupport; my only wiſh is to obtain their approval of my conduct.

APPENDIX, No. 108.

Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors, to the Preſident and Council at Fort Saint George; dated 4th March 1767.

Par. 12. IT was rather precipitate to offer, as you did, the management of the Circars to the Nabob, before you had weighed all the conſequences; for after having done ſo, the retraction could not fail to mortify and diſguſt him: however, your ſecond judgment appears to us the beſt, not only for the reaſons you aſſign, but becauſe we apprehend, that if any thing can give us the interior, peaceable, and quiet poſſeſſion of the Circars, it will be ſuch a kind of Government as ſhall make the ſeveral Rajahs and Zemindars feel and acknowledge its juſtice, mildneſs, and equity, above all others that they have been accuſtomed to, ſo long as they live in obedience, and fulfil the engagements they are bound to; effects which we much doubt whether they would ever have derived from the Company's Government, had the Nabob, or any other Native of Indoſtan, been entruſted with the particular management. What we have ſaid, implies a confidence in you, that the Rajahs, Zemindars, and every other Inhabitant, will be protected in the poſſeſſion of their juſt and hereditary rights; we mean not only as relative to oppreſſion, from the Members or Miniſters of our own Government, but alſo from the encroachments and attempts of each other. And to that end it will be neceſſary to aſcertain the boundaries and rights of the ſeveral diſtricts. This may be a work of time and difficulty, but it is nevertheleſs highly expedient; for as you muſt now become the ſole arbiters of thoſe rights, it is impoſſible you ſhould decide equitably without ſuch a knowledge; and we ſhall expect that you will, from time to time, tranſmit us a very particular account of your proceedings herein.

APPENDIX, No. 109.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Council at Fort Saint George, to the Court of Directors; dated 1ſt April 1766.

WE had ſome reaſon to apprehend the Nabob would be very jealous, and not well pleaſed, if he was not made acquainted acquainted with our designs, and that he might endeavour to prevent our keeping a proper force in the circars, by giving us constant alarms of invasions from the Marattas, or others. To obviate this, we at first proposed to make him a party, by offering him the management of the Circars, on paying a certain annual rent for them—We were indeed the more inclined to this measure, as the Nabob had advanced large sums, and it was well known that Hussein Ally could never have obtained the Phouzdarry from Nizam Ally, without the assistance of the Nabob, who, encouraged with the hope of some time or other possessing them himself, had, without our knowledge, lent Hussein Ally five Lacks of Rupees, which we were in some measure under the necessity of seeing repaid. Proposals were accordingly made to the Nabob, and which he seemed very ready to accept: but upon more mature deliberation, we judged, that till your authority was entirely established, it would be more for your interest to keep the management in your own hands, not only as it would be less complicated, but give less umbrage to Nizam Ally, already jealous of the Nabob's designs on the Decan, and would therefore judge that the existence of his Government depended on opposing the the Phirmaund, which gives us possession of a country adjoining almost Hydrabad, especially as there is no Fort of any consequence to interrupt our march to that capital, or even to Arungabad: he therefore concluded little harmony could be expected from the neighbourhood of two such rivals. For these reasons, and to prevent the Nabob's being embarrassed with more than he can manage to advantage, we have declined entering into that measure. But as the Circar of Guntoor or Condavir, which lies on this side the Kistna, is intermixed with the Nabob's country to the Northward, and the Troops he is obliged to keep there to guard that frontier, will at the same time preserve tranquillity in Condavir, it may be for your interest to give him the management of it at a reasonable rent, as soon as your authority is perfectly established.

APPENDIX. No. 110.

APPENDIX, No. 110.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Consultations, the 27th January 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Esq. President,
Sir Eyre Coote,
John Whitehill.
General Munro, on service.
Mr. Smith, indisposed.

THE President delivered in the following Minute:

The accompanying intelligence, which I have received from the Camp of Fazel Beg Cawn, through Sitteram Rauze, by means of his Vakeel, I think it necessary to lay before the Committee, as it contains many points for their information relative to the views of the Soubah, and to the situation of his General, Fazel Beg Cawn; and if transmitted to Bengal, may be of some service to the Governor General and Council, in forming their political plan, particularly when the present situation of affairs, the detachment from Bengal, is considered. In a former Minute, I gave my opinion of the necessity of having some person to reside at the Soubah's Court, during the unsettled state of affairs, if no other consequence was to arise from it than our being at a certainty of the views and intention of the Nizam, and to obtain such intelligence as we now only imperfectly receive by chance. The settlement of the Guntoor Circar, the payment of the Nizam's tribute, the being at some certainty with respect to any intrigues the French may be carrying on, are all objects of importance; and the sending some person immediately to Hydrabad, as well as to Hyder Ally, appear to me to be absolutely necessary for our security, and what cannot fail of meeting with the approbation of the Governor General and Council, as no matter will be concluded without their knowledge and approbation. I shall therefore propose to the Committee that Mr. Hollond be appointed to proceed to the Nizam with all expedition, and that instructions be drawn out accordingly for his conduct.

When Rumundud Dowlah was acting under the Soubah in full authority, he protected Fazel Beg Cawn, and promoted him to an high rank, and they were to one another close friends. But some of the Aumeens (or principal persons) that are with the Soubah, often accused Rumundud Dowlah to the Soubah; and by every persuasion, brought at last Rumundud Dowlah into danger of his life; and Fazel Beg Cawn becoming suspicious with regard to himself, has for these two years since determined going to the Soubah's Court. But although three or four of the principal persons that are with the Soubah always endeavour to blame Fazel Beg Cawn, they are not able to overturn him, nor to manage the affairs themselves; the Soubah, being a sensible man, knows very well that those people are not able to act in his affairs, and never gives ear to them, but employs the said Beg Cawn in every matter of consequence, not minding whether he come to visit him or not; and the Soubah writes to Fazel Beg Cawn the contents of Letters which he receives from different places, in order to receive his advice, and employs him without any suspicion, though people who do not know the matter, talk in public as if the Soubah does not agree with Fazel Beg Cawn, because he does not go to the Soubah, but they are mistaken. Colonel Goddard, with some English Troops, set out from Bengal, and in their march they crossed the Nanbaden River, and are now three Cos on this side the said river; the distance from Bombay to Bonah is 40 Cos; 3 or 4 battalions of Sepoys, with some soldiers and officers, having set out from Bombay with Chinto Vital, the Dewan of Rogobah, and have, after four or five days march, halted at a place where they themselves safe near a tell, and continuing in that place, and taking charge of the district situated round about them, and also possession of the garrison. Upon hearing this, the people at Poonah constantly wrote to the Soubah, desiring him to come to their assistance, and the Soubah is daily sending those Letters to Fazel Beg Cawn, ordering him to give him his opinion. The people at Poonah place a confidence in Fazel Beg Cawn, and write to him for assistance; this man must either assist the Poonah people, or join Ragobah and the English against the Poonah people, and to beat Ragobah and the English against the Poonah people, and to beat Ragobah, because the Souhah has, from the beginning, protected the Poonah people against Ragobah, being his enemy.—Secondly, the Soubah thinks that if he protects the Chief at Poonah, being a child, his advice will be followed, but if instead, Ragobah should be successful, who is a man that can manage for himself, he will not be quiet, but always endeavouring to give trouble, by remembering the late displeasure and enmity that was between them. Thirdly, as the said Ragobah is coming to the assistance of the English, and as the English make themselves already master of all the countries, with a full authority, the Soubah thinks that they will never submit to his orders, and that therefore if Ragobah be put in power at Banal, and the English should enter into those parts, they will cause great trouble to him; he does not therefore chuse to be a friend to Ragobah and the English; and the Soubah is of opinion, that if he and the Poonah people join together, the English will not be able to stand against them; but Fazel Bag Cawn thinks, that the Soubah is only carrying on the business relying on his assistance, and the Ameens that are with the Soubah cannot bear to see Fazel Beg Cawn in favour, which are the reasons why he keeps himself so retired, without shewing his authority. Besides this, as he has been some time in the service of the English, and been obliged to them, he always wishes for their success; being, by the protection of the English Company, in high rank under the Soubah.

And

And as the Engliſh protect Ragobah, he is of opinion, they will certainly one time or other, put Ragobah into power; and afterwards they may be able to cauſe trouble to the Soubah, and to him too, though now the Soubah's intentions lead him another way; by not conſidering the power of the Engliſh, he will at laſt repent of it. Therefore Fazel Beg Cawn, in condemning what will follow, is ready to bring the Soubah to a firm friendſhip with the Engliſh, by perſuading him privately to it, from day to day; and after this is performed, to act under the Soubah in every thing, according to the plan and opinion of the Engliſh; this the real intention of Fazel Beg Cawn.

Governor Rumbold, on the 8th of Iſtand Maer, ſent a Letter to the Soubah, which he has communicated to Fazel Beg Cawn; in which the Governor mentions, that an order was arrived from Europe to turn out all the French that are in thoſe parts of Indoſtan; and gave notice, that on ſuch a date the Engliſh Troops took poſſeſſion of Pondicherry; and that the whole number of French who were there, being come under their power, would be diſpatched to Europe; and that alſo he had ordered all their different places and forts to be taken poſſeſſion of. The ſaid Governor mentioned alſo, that with regard to thoſe French Troops which are now in Condavir, or the Guntoor Circar, he has written to him the Soubah; but that the Soubah never ſent a proper Anſwer, which diſpleaſed him very much. A copy of the Governor's Letter has been ſent to Fazel Beg Cawn, ordering him to let him know his opinion and advice about it.

Before I came to this place, Governor Rumbold arrived at Madras; after that, you acquainted me that the Governor had wrote a Letter to the Soubah; and on my arrival here, I told it to Fazel Beg Cawn; but he knew nothing of it, though the Soubah did uſually ſend a copy to him of any Letter which he had received; lately the Soubah has ſent a Letter to the Soubah, which he ſent immediately, and copies of thoſe Letters and Anſwers all come to Fazel Beg Cawn.

Beſides, Fazel Beg Cawn deſired me to write to you under hand, that the Engliſh will well know that Bazalet Jung has employed ſome French Troops in the Guntoor Circar, to the diſpleaſure of the Engliſh; and he ſaid he would tell me in a few days, what the Soubah's intentions may be concerning it; and he deſired me to beg you to enquire, whether the intention of the Engliſh is to take the Guntoor Circar as a conqueſt from the French, or to turn only the French Soldiers out of the ſaid Guntoor Circar; or whether they are to take that circar by way of peace and friendſhip from the Soubah, or by force.

Colonel Goddard having with his Troops from Bengal croſſed Narbundat, and halted by a place called Huſſemgat Bendar, the Boapaut Country within three coſs of the ſaid river, which place belongs to the Pettaum Court Monuvdam, under the Mogul; on that place the ſaid Colonel Goddard poſted himſelf by the canal of the ſaid Recuttams, that country being ſituated Weſt and Southward of Rupenjah Band, and belonging to the province of Poonah; but the country ſituated Eaſt and Northward to Mundayer Boomſlah, and the borders join each other's country. The ſaid Colonel Goddard has got as far as Muſſengat Band, without any hindrance on the road; and as there is forty or fifty leagues diſtant from that place to Bombay, he muſt paſs near Bombay, by a way near Poonah; on this account he thinks it will be difficult for him to get proviſion, &c. &c. on his march, becauſe the borders of the Bengal Country are left very far behind. Moveover, he conſidered that in caſe the Troops belonging to Poonah ſhould come and ſurround him on the march, he will meet with danger, therefore he is daily writing to Muddagee Bounſelah.

Three of the Engliſh Gentlemen have ſeparately ſet out from Calcutta, and being arrived at Negapor, requeſt Muddagee Bounſelah to join them, and to aſſiſt them in getting to Bombay, by which means, they ſaid they ſhould be ſupplied with proviſion by his aſſiſtance from behind; and that he might follow him with his Troops a few days march: but Muddagee Bounſelah concluded, that if he ſhould do ſo, and join the Engliſh, having firſt protected Rajahbah, and afterwards diſappointed him; that if he ſhould do ſo, he would not be able to ſecure himſelf; he did not therefore think proper to agree with Colonel Goddard's propoſals, though he cannot even refuſe the deſire of the Engliſh, as he ſuppoſes they will make themſelves maſters of all the countries. Colonel Goddard, for to give proper ſatisfaction to Muddagee Bounſelah, ordered one of the Gentlemen to go to him to Negap, who I believe is gone by this time: ſuch is the ſituation of that buſineſs, and the Colonel finds himſelf in difficulties.

What Fazel Beg Cawn deſired me to write to you at large is as follows: If the Engliſh certainly intend ſupporting Ragobah, and to put him into power, Fazel Beg Cawn ſays he can effect it eaſily; he ſays it will be impoſſible for Colonel Goddard to go to Bombay, becauſe Maddagee Baunſelah cannot ſafely join the Engliſh as long as matters remain in the preſent ſituation; but if the Governor will take his advice, he ſays he will promote a friendſhip between the Soubah and Engliſh, and then cauſe Maddagee Baunſelah to join them, and will likewiſe get the buſineſs of Poonah Country effected. The manner and way of doing it, he ſays, muſt be as follows: if the Government will diſpatch a detachment of four or five battalions of Sepoys, and three or four hundred Soldiers, with proper Officers, under the name of going to Poonah—then he will come to Comametto by the time the ſaid detachment will arrive at the Pernaud Country; upon hearing them marching, the Soubah will aſk Fazel Beg Cawn's opinion and advice about it; then he will by good words, argument, and perſuaſion, bring him to embrace the friendſhip of the Engliſh, and perſuade alſo Muddagee Baunſelah to join them; after that he will accompany the Engliſh Troops, and they will enter Poonah without any further trouble.

In doing and performing ſo great a buſineſs, the Company muſt then agree to the propoſal when it ſhall be made by the Soubah and Muddagee Baunſelah; and if their intention is to finiſh this buſineſs, it muſt be done without any longer delay of time, and the promiſe muſt be made to him by the Company in great ſecrecy, and without letting it become public. If the buſineſs which could not be effected by the Gentlemen of Fengal and Bombay is done early by the Governor of Madras, his name will be greatly eſteemed; and if the Company deſire to get the Guntoor Circar, he ſays he will by all means for them in a friendly way.

On receipt of this Letter be ſo good as to ſpeak every thing freely, and let me know, whether it can be done or not; if the Governor of Madras undertake this, and diſpatch the Troops, it will be ſo much the better; but if he won't conſent to it, and ſay it muſt be done by the Gentlemen of Bengal, you will let me know accordingly.

By the favour of the Soubah his Maſter, Fazel Beg Cawn ſays he is in high rank, but on account of ſome Ameens who are at the Soubah's Court, and not their friends, he does not go to pay his viſit to the Soubah; yet the Soubah has a great regard for him.

He cannot attempt to perſuade the Soubah to be in friendſhip with the Engliſh, until he knows their true intention; but if the Soubah even paſſes his word to the Poonah people, he cannot afterwards retreat.

Therefore, on the arrival of this Letter, you will let me know, whether the Engliſh Company conſent to their propoſal or not.

You may be ſure, that if the Engliſh Troops can be ſent, Fazel Beg Cawn will be able to do any thing eaſily, and without Soubah; and that whatever advices he gives in ſecret, if that can be brought about, every thing will come into good order. I have got the copy of the Letter which the Governor General wrote to the Soubah, and likewiſe the Soubah's Anſwer in Perſian, and ſend them to you.

Agreeably to the Preſident's recommendation at the concluſion of his Minute, reſolved, that Mr. John Holland

APPENDIX. No. III.

lond be appointed to proceed to the Soubah's Court, and that inſtructions be prepared for him accordingly.

Thomas Rumbold,
Eyre Coote,
John Whitehill.

APPENDIX, No. III.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 7th February 1779.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George, to the Governor General and Council in Bengal; dated 7th February 1779.

ENCLOSED we have the honour of tranſmitting to you a Paper of intelligence, received by the Nabob from his Agent at Poonah. Its authority is too ſtrongly marked to leave any doubt on our minds concerning the particulars; and we have now only to hope, that the effects of ſo conſiderable a check in the progreſs of the Company's arms, may not create ſome attempts to diſturb our poſſeſſions on this ſide of India, or to fruſtrate the expectations we had formed of putting a final and ſpeedy period to the power of the French.

The ſubject indeed is of ſuch a nature as to awaken all our reflections; and we ſhall beg leave here to ſtate to you briefly what occurs to us from a review of our ſituation with reſpect to the Powers around us, and a conſideration of the probable effects that may have been cauſed by the unfortunate enterprize in ſupport of Ragonaut Row.

It will admit of no doubt that Hyder Ally at preſent bears no favourable inclination towards the Company, and that he is very ſtrongly in the intereſt of the French. Had we not commenced the War in this country with ſo great a ſuperiority, Hyder would moſt likely have appeared and taken an active part againſt us in the beginning. The ſucceſs of our arms againſt Pondicherry, probably determined him to perſevere in the line of neutrality he had adopted, and we had every reaſon to think we might have purſued our operations to the point at which we aimed, without any moleſtation whatever from him, had not the misfortune of the Bombay Troops cauſed ſo material a change in the face of affairs. Hyder now perceiving ſo glaring an inſtance of weakneſs and diſgrace, may be encouraged openly to reſiſt our propoſed attempt on Mahé, which he conſiders in ſome ſort as under his protection.

With reſpect to the Nizam, his avowed attachment to the Poonah Miniſters, and the warmth with which he remonſtrated to your Board and to this Government, againſt the deſigns which he underſtood had been formed in favour of Ragonaut Row, ſufficiently ſhew how he muſt have received the news of our diſaſter, and how materially this misfortune will contribute to ſtrengthen the inclinations he will naturally have conceived to our prejudice.

The diſpoſitions of the Peſhwa and the Miniſters at Poonah upon this event may be eaſily conceived. The effects of their reſentment may be ſuſpended for a time, but we can never ſuppoſe they will reſt ſatisfied with the advantages they have acquired; much leſs can we expect they will unite in friendſhip or in meaſures with thoſe who have attempted ſuch dangerous deſigns againſt them.

Thus, by one ill-timed and unfortunate enterprize, the reputation of our arms is ſullied, and the friendſhip of the principal Indian States hazarded, or loſt for ever; and that too at a period when we are engaged in a War which calls for the execution of all our force, and the good will of any State in alliance with us.

In the midſt of theſe unpleaſing reflections, we feel no ſmall degree of ſatisfaction at the ſucceſsful meaſures that have been purſued againſt the French. By removing them from our neighbourhood, we are at liberty to act with much greater ſpirit and ſecurity, and we yet flatter ourſelves that it is within the power of the two Preſidencies of Bengal and Madras, by prudent and vigorous meaſures, to repair the miſchiefs that have been occaſioned by the miſcarriage of the Bombay Troops, to wipe away the diſcredit that has fallen on the Company's arms, and to keep in awe the Powers that may be diſpoſed to take advantage of our ill ſucceſs on that ſide of India.

On the receipt of the intelligence from Poonah, it became a queſtion with us, whether it would be ſafe or prudent to purſue the expedition we had ſet on foot againſt Mahé. We ſaw the additional riſk to which it was expoſed, and the inconvenience of ſending ſuch a body of Troops at this time out of the Carnatic; but we perceived alſo the particular advantages that would reſult from the ſucceſsful execution of our meaſures: we ſaw that this was the only opportunity that might offer for removing the diſadvantageous impreſſions which have been occaſioned every where by our late defeat; that the appearance of diffidence or timidity on this occaſion, would ſtrengthen and confirm thoſe impreſſions, and probably operate more to our prejudice than any failure that could happen from the proſecution of the enterprize: and laſtly, that the withdrawing our Troops would be inevitably followed by the capture of our ſettlement at Tellicherry, which, though perhaps not important in itſelf, would, in the eyes of the Country Powers, be conſidered as a victory of no ſmall conſequence to the French, and perhaps induce thoſe who are now waivering, to declare openly in their favour. Upon the whole, our concluſion was, that the expedition ſhould be proſecuted; and we came to that reſolution accordingly.

We have ſome hopes that Hyder Ally, who ſecretly favoured and wiſhed well to the cauſe of Ragonaut Row, ſeeing the danger to which he may be expoſed from the reſentment of the Maratta State, will be glad to avail himſelf of our ſupport; and in that caſe we may be able to detach him entirely from the intereſts of the French, and render him a moſt uſeful Ally to us. Indeed we are ſo convinced of the good policy of uniting cloſely with Hyder in a defenſive Alliance, that we ſhall embrace every occaſion to effect it. We have lately appointed one of the Company's Servants to proceed to his Durbar, and have written to him for the neceſſary ſupports, which we expect daily.

As our Northern Circars lie ſo open to invaſion from the dominions of Nizam Ally, and as there is but too much reaſon to doubt the ſincerity of his friendſhip for the Company, we think it highly expedient at this juncture to have the beſt intelligence of his deſigns, and to be timely informed of any motions he may make towards thoſe provinces for this purpoſe, as well as to ſettle every thing that may be neceſſary for obtaining the Guntoor Circar for the Company, and procuring the diſmiſſion of the French Troops from the ſervice of Bazulet Jung. We have appointed one of the Company's Servants to proceed to the Court of Nizam Ally, in quality of Reſident; he will have inſtructions to correſpond with your Board, and to communicate every information you may require from that quarter. The Northern Circars being too extenſive to be properly defended by the ordinary force maintained there, and the protection of the Carnatic and Tanjore requiring all the Troops that are ſtationed for their ſecurity, we are apprehenſive, that if any ſudden attack be made on our poſſeſſions to the Northward at this juncture, while we have ſo large a detachment employed on the expedition to Mahé, we might not be able to collect a ſufficient force in time to repel it. Conſidering the value and influence of thoſe poſſeſſions to the Company, we think it our duty to attend particularly to their ſafety; and with that view we beg leave to communicate a thought which has occurred to us, and which may poſſibly be improved by you to ſome uſeful purpoſe.

APPENDIX, No. 112.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 19th April 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident.

THE Preſident, in conſequence of the negociation that has been carried on with Bazalet Jung, and the repreſentations which have been made through his Vakeel, of the neceſſity of ſending immediately a force to protect him againſt the attempts of Hyder Ally, who threatens an invaſion of his country, propoſes, that three battalions of Sepoys, a company of Artillery, and ſix field-pieces, be ſent, with all poſſible expedition, for the protection of his country; which is approved and ordered accordingly.

The Preſident lays before the Committee the following draft of a Letter, propoſed by the Nabob to be ſent to the Soubah.

To the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah.

The fidelity and attachment which I bear to your Highneſs are ſuch, that I am at all times deſirous of your welfare, and the proſperity of your Highneſs's illuſtrious Houſe, which I hope you are well convinced of. The diviſions which have of late prevailed in the Maratta State, and your Highneſs being engaged in other affairs, have given an opportunity to the Myſore Chief (Hyder) to collect a large force together, with which he has been able to diſpoſſeſs Murrarow, and the Zemindars of Chitteldurg Bulhar, and many others, of their territories; by which he has amaſſed great treaſures, and has greatly increaſed his power. He has now attacked Abdul Hulim Cawn, the Fouzedar of Cuadapa, taken his country and the fort of Sudhout, and at laſt impriſoned the Fouzedar and all his family. He intends next to go againſt Cannoul, Adoni, and Raichoor, and even to march againſt your Highneſs, and your Brother Bazalet Jung. If Hyder ſhould croſs the Kiſtna, and march into theſe countries, and your Highneſs does not immediately take proper revenge of it, it will be extremely difficult to accompliſh it next year, conſidering that his power is daily increaſing. The preſent inability of his Highneſs's Brother to effect this, is well known.

When I conſider my preſent ſituation, and the great number of Engliſh Troops which are every where, and that a force of five thouſand Europeans are daily expected from Europe; beſides, that the Troops under the command of Colonel Goddard, may be ordered to aſſiſt, if it ſhould be found neceſſary; and when I conſider alſo, that the Engliſh, by taking the forts of Pondicherry and Mahé, have driven the French entirely from this country; I am under no ſort of anxiety or uneaſineſs that my country will be invaded; yet, out of the exceſs of my fidelity and attachment, I was greatly concerned when I heard that Hyder's intentions were to go againſt Adoni and Rachour, becauſe I know that your Highneſs's Brother has it not in his power to oppoſe him, and I have often ſpoken of this to Governor Rumbold. I now underſtand that Governor Rumbold and the Council of Madras, who are well diſpoſed towards your Highneſs, as are all the Engliſh, who are famous for the ſincerity of their friendſhips, have determined to ſend a detachment with ſtores to Raichoor and Adoni, by way of Delour Conda, to join your Highneſs's Brother Bazalet Jung, and to be ready to protect his country. It appears that your Highneſs will find it adviſable to order immediately part of your Forces, under the command of an able Officer, to croſs the Kiſtna at Raichoor, and join the Engliſh and Bazalet Jung, in order to ſave his country from the attack of the Enemy. This will be the ſure means of protecting Bazalet Jung, and in many reſpects tend to the welfare of your Highneſs's affairs; on the contrary, if it is neglected, the conſequences will be bad. I make no doubt but your Highneſs will look upon what I have now repreſented to you, as proceeding from my well-known attachment and fidelity to your Highneſs, and I hope you will diſpatch orders to your Talookdars, &c. in Delour, Conda, and Segver, to get proviſions, and every thing elſe which may be wanted for the Engliſh Troops, and furniſh them with Guides and Hircarrahs, to ſhew them the roads through which they are to paſs. I alſo hope that your Highneſs will be pleaſed to honour me with an Anſwer to this as ſoon as poſſible.

The Committee approve of the foregoing Letter, and the Preſident then recommends, that a Letter be written to Mr. Hollond, the Reſident at the Soubah's Court, acquainting him with the ſteps we have reſolved to purſue in favour of Bazalet Jung, and deſiring him to avail himſelf of them; to promote our views with the Soubah, and to engage him to take ſuch a part in his Brother's defence as may effectually check the dangerous deſigns of Hyder in that quarter; which is approved.

APPENDIX, No. 113.

Extract of Bengal Select Conſultations, 25th October 1779.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I RECEIVED your Letter of the 22d ultimo, on Thurſday laſt the 13th inſtant, and immediately ſent to the Soubah, to deſire leave to wait on him the day following; but on account of ſome ceremonies on Friday, and the death of a Grandoon on Saturday, I was prevented ſeeing him till yeſterday. The Governor's Letter, which I then delivered to his Highneſs, leaving me little to ſay for myſelf, I had only to obſerve to him, that the meaſures you intended purſuing in ſupport of his Brother, had been adopted in full confidence of their being perfectly agreeable to his Highneſs's wiſhes, and that I hoped he would ſee the expediency of uniting with us, to give a check to Hyder's encroachments, and give orders for a part of his Army to join ours, and for our Troops being ſupplied with proviſions, &c. agreeably to the requeſt contained in the Governor's Letter. I remarked, from the change in his Highneſs's countenance, that he was much diſtreſſed at the information the Letter gave him; but he ſo far commanded himſelf as to ſhew nothing of it in his converſation; and when I requeſted to know what he would have me to ſay in reply to the Governor, he anſwered, that affairs of this nature were attended with ſerious conſequences, and required mature deliberation: that the approach of the rains, and the difficulty of getting proviſions, rendered it impoſſible for him to ſend any part of his Army; that the people (Bungueras he called them) who made a trade of ſupplying his camp with proviſions, not being in expectation of his moving, were ſcattered about, and not to be prevailed upon to croſs the rivers to attend our camp; that there were no ſtores of proviſions in the countries where our Troops were coming;—with more to the ſame effect. I then took my leave of his Highneſs, and very ſhortly after my return home, received a meſſage from him, ſignifying, that as the Governor's Letter required conſideration, he had not ſpoken fully to the contents of it, and deſired to ſee me again at the Durbar the day following. I waited upon him accordingly; and after being ſeated, his Highneſs began with declaring, that he thought it extraordinary when you had ſent a Gentleman for the declared purpoſe of ſtrengthening the mutual friendſhip between him and the Company, you ſhould, at the ſame time, engage in meaſures ſo little conformable to theſe profeſſions, and ſo little likely to produce this effect. He read over to me the 4th and 7th articles of the Treaty of 1768; and ſaid, that your holding a correſpondence, and forming engagements, with his Brother, Bazalet Jung, conſtituted a direct violation of theſe articles; that you had no right to interfere with the concerns of his family or country; that with reſpect to your ſuppoſing the part you had taken would be agreeable to him, the articles did not allow any latitude for making ſuppoſitions that might eventually be ſo deſtructive to the peace of the contracting parties; that if you had any thing to propoſe for his benefit, he ought to have been conſulted upon it; and laſtly, that he did not apprehend any invaſion of his Brother's country on the part of Hyder Ally. I told him, in reply to the above, that you had good information of Hyder's being determined on attacking Adoni and Raychoor; and that you were even apprehenſive the force you were ſending would ſcarcely arrive with his Brother in time to protect his country; that the ſuddenneſs of the emergency, and the near approach of the danger, had made it neceſſary for you to be quick in embracing this meaſure, in which the defence of our reverſionary circar of Guntoor was likewiſe concerned; and that if it had not been for your being preſſed in point of time, you would no doubt have conſulted with his Highneſs previous to your adopting the meaſure. His Highneſs was not at all ſatisfied with this declaration; and in anſwer to every thing I ſaid, reverted to the two articles of the Treaty; obſerving, that nothing I could urge was capable of vindicating the ſtep you had taken; that the infraction of the Treaty was clear; that if it was your intention to adhere to it, he had a right to hope, that you would immediately forbid the Sepoys from advancing into his country; but that if you no longer regarded it, and perſiſted in ſending them, he ſhould be under the neceſſity of ordering his Troops in that quarter to oppoſe their march with force. His Highneſs concluded with deſiring me to repreſent theſe matters to you without loſs of time, that in caſe of ſerious conſequence, he might not be liable to blame. What the Soubah's real intentions may be, it is impoſſible for me to know; his Highneſs Waulau Jau, by means of ſecret correſpondence, may know them better than I can. With reſpect to Bazalet Jung, I have been informed, that it was the Soubah's wiſh to ſee him reduced, and ſince matters were not ripe for his Highneſs taking an open part in oppoſition to Hyder, he was not ſecretly diſpleaſed at Hyder's demands of money having fallen upon his Brother, whoſe country at the ſame time he conſidered as in no immediate danger of being attacked.—The Soubah informed me to-day, that he hears Hyder propoſes next to take Little Commonet, the only place left belonging to Cuddapah; and that being thus in poſſeſſion of all the paſſes, his intention is afterwards to fall upon the Carnatic. I cannot underſtand, from any thing I have heard the Soubah ſay, that he apprehends his own country to be in any danger of an immediate attack from Hyder. He has been very open to me on the ſubject of his preſent ſyſtem of politics, and ſeems to conſider himſelf as pretty well ſecured at this period by means of his Alliance with the Marattas. Hyder, he ſays, has often made him offers of large ſums in payment of arrears of Peiſhcuſh, due for Myſore, upon condition of his Highneſs's ſtanding neuter, and not ſupporting the Marattas; but that being connected by Treaty with them, he has conſtantly rejected Hyder's overtures. He does not affect to ſpeak ſlightingly of Hyder's power, but conſiders him as formidable, and growing more ſo every day: I have no doubt that he wiſhes to form an Alliance with us againſt him. Although he conſiders himſelf and the Marattas united as capable of making a ſtand againſt him in their own defence; he is not forward to enter offenſively into a conteſt with him, but entertains hopes that the intereſt of the Company will engage them to be a party for reducing his overgrown power. He ſays, that Hyder's Army conſiſts of 40,000 Horſes, 25,000 Sepoys, and 100,000 Carnatic Peons. He thinks Hyder will not riſk a pitched battle with us; but if he invades the Carnatic, will purſue the plan he adopted before with ſo much ſucceſs, of burning, deſtroying, and laying waſte the country.—I have delivered the Nabob's Letter agreeably to your orders.

APPENDIX. No. 113.

lation

APPENDIX. No. 113.

Hydrabad, 17th May 1779.

I am, with great reſpect, Honourable Sir, and Sirs, &c.

APPENDIX, No. 114.

Copy of a Letter from Sir Thomas Rumbold, Baronet, to Mr. John Hollond; dated Fort Saint George, 10th June 1779.

Dear Sir,

I HAVE duly received your favours of the 17th May and 24th. The former accompanied one to the Select Committee; but General Munro and Mr. Whitehill being gone to Pondicherry, a Committee will not be held for ſome days; and that there may be no delay, I ſit down to write you fully. Before General Munro and Mr. Whitehill went to Pondicherry, a Letter was agreed on to be wrote to you, in anſwer to your's, giving an account of your reception at the Nizam's Court, and it is now forwarded to you; as alſo a Letter for the Nizam, with a copy to you for your information. There is no other view, but to give you all poſſible conſequence at his Court; and no more is wrote to him than is abſolutely neceſſary, in anſwer to the Letters he writes to me. As you will obſerve, we refer him to you for all particulars with reſpect to the Nabob's Letters. When the laſt packet was diſpatched, which you have acknowledged the receipt of, the Nabob's Letter was forwarded by me; he ſent a copy to the Select Committee, which was ordered to be tranſmitted to you; and if you did not receive it, there muſt have been ſome neglect of the perſon who cloſed the Letter. With reſpect to the Nabob's firſt Letter, I applied for a copy, but it was late at night, and I muſt have detained my packet till the next day; I therefore deſired Mr. Haliburton, who had read the Nabob's Letter to the Nizam, to give you the contents of it, which he tells me he did do. I agree with you, that copies of all Letters ſhould be ſent you, which the Nabob wiſhes to have delivered to the Nizam, that, acting in a public character, you may be fully informed of what paſſes; and I would have you, as much as poſſible, inculcate in the Nizam that idea, that you are acting for the Company, independent of every other Power; at the ſame time it will be proper to ſhew him, there is no jealouſy between the Nabob and the Company, but that the latter are not to be guided or influenced by any other Power whatever. You will ſee by my Letter to the Nizam, that it is the wiſh of the Committee to keep you reſident with him: I thought it would have more force, mentioning it in a Letter from me, than coming as a repreſentation from yourſelf.

I was ſurprized, on the peruſal of your firſt Letter of the 17th, that you did not acknowledge the receipt of mine of the 24th April, and was apprehenſive that either mine to you, or your Anſwer, had been intercepted; and was happy to find, by your laſt Letter of the 24th, that my Letter before mentioned had come ſafe to hand; though you take no notice of a very material part, relative to the Peiſhcuſh, on which the Committee now write you, and which is a point we wiſh much to carry, if not entirely, in part; though I am ſtrongly of opinion, an exemption from the whole ſhould be inſiſted on.

I will now freely offer you my ſentiments on every thing that has paſſed between the Soubah and you; and I hope to be able to give you ſuch ground and reaſons as may allow you to ſpeak with firmneſs on ſuch points as are ſubmitted to you to negociate.

The agreement with Bazalet Jung will, no doubt, raiſe the jealouſy of the Soubah, but at the ſame time be a very great check on him; nor have we in any reſpect infringed the Treaty with him, by entering into the agreement with his Brother.

The 4th and 7th articles he referred you to, are in a Treaty not valid, as a ſubſequent one was made, full and explicit. The Treaty the Soubah quoted was concluded with General Calliaud, dated 12th November 1766. This is the Treaty I complain of, as ſacrificing the rights of the Company; for no mention is made of the Phirmaund from the Emperor granting the circars unconditionally to them; but they are received as a free gift from the Nizam. A War afterwards broke out, and a ſecond Treaty was concluded between the Nizam and the Preſident and Council of Madras, dated the 23d February 1768: the very firſt article claims the circars as an iniam, or free gift, from the Emperor, for ever; and the ſecond article admits of the circar of Murtazanagur remaining in the poſſeſſion of Bazalet Jung during his life; but it is expreſsly provided, that if he affords protection or aſſiſtance to the Enemies of the Company, he was to forfeit his right to the circar, which the Company were to be at liberty to take poſſeſſion of. Notwithſtanding this ſtipulation, a body of French were conſtantly kept up and recruited in his ſervice. There is no doubt but Mr. Lally maintained a correſpondence with the Government of Pondicherry, and was from thence occaſionally ſupplied with arms, ſtores, &c. and men were allowed, in ſmall parties, to proceed from the French ſettlements to join him. Such a conduct in Bazalet Jung would have authorized the Company, agreeable to the ſecond article of the Treaty of February 1768 (which is the only Treaty to be attended to) to have ſeized by force on the circar of Murtazanagur; but, out of friendſhip to the Soubah, they deſiſted from ſo hoſtile a meaſure againſt his Brother, and took the milder method of remonſtrating to his Highneſs, and to Bazalet Jung himſelf, againſt ſo direct a violation of the ſecond article of the Treaty; but all our repreſentations were in vain. Still we took no ſteps till the breaking out of the preſent diſputes with the French Court. Our own ſafety then obliged us to adopt meaſures to remove a force ſo capable of aſſiſting any armament the French might have attempted to have ſent towards our Northern Settlements: no time was to be loſt in long negociations, that might have admitted of fatal delays: we muſt either have proceeded to have made uſe of force to expel the French, or have inſiſted on knowing from Bazalet Jung his real intentions and views in keeping with him ſuch a body of the avowed Enemies of the Engliſh Nation. We choſe the latter, as ſuppoſing it muſt be more agreeable to the Soubah; and on Bazalet Jung informing us, that he only kept the French Troops in pay for the defence of his own territories, we agreed, provided he would diſcharge them, to furniſh him with a detachment from the Engliſh Army for that purpoſe, to be paid from the Revenues of Guntoor, which the Company have only rented from Bazalet Jung, and have not poſſeſſed themſelves of, as their right; and in doing this, the Company have not, in any ſhape, infringed the Treaty, but provided only for their own ſecurity. The Officer commanding our Troops has poſitive orders to confine himſelf to the defence of Bazalet Jung's diſtricts; to reduce the refractory Zemindars, and on no account to go beyond the bounds preſcribed to him; and this is alſo a particular article in the agreement with Bazalet Jung, which will not be broke through. You will fully repreſent theſe circumſtances to the Soubah; and as he has deſired to know the Company's real intentions, you will pleaſe to inform him, we have no views but thoſe of ſtrict alliance and friendſhip; that he may ſet his mind at eaſe; that we have not the moſt diſtant idea of ſupporting any Power againſt his authority; and that whatever points we wiſh to obtain, it is our intention to endeavour at ſucceſs by negociation and treaty, and not by the ſword. With this diſpoſition on the part of the Company, I cannot help expreſſing the utmoſt concern to find he ſhould ſo haſtily expreſs an intention of ordering his Troops to oppoſe the march of our's towards his Brother's country: I can only deſire you will, on this occaſion, make uſe of the ſame words to the Soubah, that he did to you on the receipt of my Letter, that affairs of this nature are attended with ſerious conſequences; and you may further add, that no one ever oppoſed the Engliſh Troops with impunity: but that on reflection, and being aſſured the Company have no hoſtile intentions againſt his power or government, I have no doubt but he will be convinced we have done nothing with reſpect to the removal of the Troops from Bazalet Jung but what our own ſafety required, having poſitive orders from hence to remove from his country all the French, as the natural Enemies of the Britiſh Nation; and, I took the method I ſuppoſed muſt prove the more agreeable to his Highneſs than ſending an Army for the purpoſe; but the ſeveral repreſentations that had been made to him did not produce the deſired effect. It will be very neceſſary that you expreſs great diſſatisfaction at Mr. Lally and his Troops being entertained by his Highneſs; the reaſon he gives, for fear they ſhould enter into the ſervice of the Marattas or Hyder, is futile. If the Soubah is ſufficiently powerful to think of oppoſing the Engliſh Troops, thoſe under Mr. Lally being in his country are at his mercy, and knowing that they are the Enemies of the Engliſh, and that this Government has frequently repreſented to his Highneſs their wiſhes about them, they might very eaſily have been ſeized and ſent to the ſea-coaſt to be embarked for Europe: this would have effectually prevented any intrigues to diſturb the peace of the country. You deſired me, when you went away, to write you fully my ſentiments, which I ſhall continue to do; and allow me to obſerve, from the experience I have had in dealing with the Country Powers in different parts of Indoſtan, a too ſubmiſſive language will ſeldom gain upon them; it is neceſſary ſometimes to treat them with reſerve and hauteur. Such is the Company's preſent ſituation with reſpect to power, that they are rather to be conſidered as giving laws than ſoliciting favours; and ſhould the Soubah pretend an indifference to the friendſhip of the Engliſh it may not be amiſs to hint, that though they are always inclined to peace, they are ever prepared for events that may oblige them unwillingly to obſerve a different conduct. It would ſeem from your Letters, that he ſuppoſes we are apprehenſive of Hyder's entering the Carnatic, and would on that account wiſh to ſtrengthen our Alliance with him: that is not the caſe; Hyder has moved off, and I have great reaſon to ſuppoſe will ſoon wiſh to connect himſelf more cloſely with us: my grand object is, if poſſible, to relieve the Company from the heavy Peſhcuſh paid to the Soubah from the circars; indeed, at preſent, we are unable to make good the balance due to him; our expences are ſo great, our treaſury ſo low, our reſources ſo confined, and our Northern Revenue ſo much in arrears, that I know not how to obtain the money to remit to the Soubah, ſhould we find ourſelves under the neceſſity of doing it; and at any rate we could only give him teeps payable in a certain time; but it is worth while to make the attempt to get rid of it altogether. No point of this kind was ever carried without ſome difficulty; and many points that might have been obtained, have never, from want of reſolution, or other cauſes, been attempted. The Soubah (if I am not miſtaken), with all his bluſtering, would dread very much a rupture with the Engliſh; he is afraid of Phazel Beg, and our Troops with Bazalet Jung muſt be a check upon him; he will be very well ſatisfied we mean not any thing hoſtile againſt him, and do not deſign any ſteps that can interfere with the peace of his poſſeſſions, and the honour of his government; our great expences in the preſent War, our failure of Revenue, and having balances in the circars, muſt all be mentioned to him in ſtrong terms, as reaſon for the application we make relative to the Peſhcuſh. It may not be improper to mention, that we expect a Treaty will very ſoon be concluded with the Marattas; for he builds, I believe, much on the probability of our being at variance with them. You ſee I mention every circumſtance to you that occurs to me; it proceeds from my zeal for the intereſt of the Company, and my deſire to obtain every beneficial point for them that I poſſibly can accompliſh during my Government. Excuſe me, if I recommend to you to be very ſecret in your negotiations. I was ſurpriſed on receiving a Letter yeſterday from Colonel Harpur to the Select Committee mentioning, that he had been informed, in a Letter from Mr. Cotesford, that the Soubah was very angry at our detachment's marching to join his Brother, and threatened to oppoſe their march: theſe reports getting wind may be of great detriment. For fear you ſhould not have copies of the Treaties with the Soubah, I ſend you a copy of each, which will give you all neceſſary information. I repeat to you again what I mentioned in a former Letter, that if we can but obtain a remiſſion of this burthenſome Peſhcuſh, we ſhall render an eſſential ſervice to the Company. No news yet from Europe; the moment a packet arrives I will inform you, as alſo of every material occurrence. The Nabob's Brother, Murphuis Cawn, is dead, and the Durbar either are, or affect to be, in great tribulation. You may notify this event to the Soubah; and you may aſſure yourſelf, that at the ſame time I think all proper reſpect and attention ſhould be paid to the Nabob, as the Company's old Friend and Ally, I will not ſuffer any interference that can claſh with or obſtruct the intereſt of the Company. I expect Sir Edward Vernon, with the ſquadron, here about the end of the month. We have had no accounts of any French ſhips or veſſels being ſeen in any part of the Eaſtern ocean. If any thing further occurs, you may depend on my writing to you.

APPENDIX No. 115.

I am, &c.

APPENDIX, No. 115.

Extract of Fort Saint George Country Correſpondence.

No. 73. From the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah to the Governor, received the 15th May 1779.

I HAVE had the pleaſure to receive your Letter, in which you expreſs a wiſh of aſcertaining my inclination to preſerve the friendſhip between us; and you at the ſame time acquaint me of your intension to ſend Mr. Hollond, a gentleman of rank and abilities, to negociate ſome particular matters with me. You wrote to me ſome time ago upon the ſame ſubject, to which I gave you an anſwer, and I now again acquaint you, that it is my ſincereſt deſire to adhere ſtedfaſtly to the Treaty which ſubſiſts between us; you may reſt perfectly ſatisfied of this, I have no objection to your ſending a perſon of truſt to negociate any matters here; it is right that one ſhould be ſent, who may return when he has tranſacted the buſineſs he is ſent upon. If it is your intention to keep him conſtantly here, I muſt acquaint you, that this was never done before, and innovations of any kind are improper: ſending a perſon to me, may be attended with great advantage in ſeveral reſpects, becauſe I can communicate ſome matters to him, and he may explain to me your intentions, by which our friendſhip may be put on a more ſolid foundation; there is, therefore, no impropriety in ſending from time to time a perſon to confer on ſome matters, when neceſſity requires it, after adviſing me of it. Be kind enough to conſider of this in a favourable manner, and favour me with your anſwer immediately, as I wait for it, to ſend the proper paſſports for Mr. Hollond. Regard me ever friendly diſpoſed to you, and continue to give me accounts of your welfare. What ſhall I ſay more?

APPENDIX, No. 116.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, 28th May 1779.

READ the following Letter from Mr. Hollond:

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſquire, Preſident and Governor, &c. Select Committee of Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I arrived at this place on the 6th inſtant, and on the 8th in the morning waited on the Soubah. I was received with all the honours that have uſually been ſhewn to gentlemen appointed in public ſtations to this Court; Cazen Deverah, an Omrah of the firſt rank at the Durbar, having been ſent by the Soubah to my tent to receive me, and conduct me to Court with a retinue of elephants, &c, and a large party of the Soubah's Troops. Upon my delivering the Governor's Letter, and the Company's preſents, the Soubah expreſſed himſelf much pleaſed.

Nothing paſſed relative to buſineſs on my firſt viſit; but, in conſequence of an appointment laſt night, I waited on his Highneſs again this morning. Conformably to my inſtructions, I aſſured him that it was your firm intention to adhere ſtrictly to the Treaty of 1768; that with reſpect to the Peſhcuſh for the circars, in full confidence of his giving all reaſonable ſatisfaction with regard to the Circar of Guntoor, and the Troops in Bazalet Jung's ſervice, it was your intention to give orders for diſcharging the arrears, and paying the Peſhcuſh regularly in future, according to the Kiſts which have been ſettled for that purpoſe; that you had inſtructed me to make this declaration to him; and that, with a view to a more eaſy communication of ſentiments upon affairs of importance, you were deſirous that I ſhould reſide conſtantly at his court. In anſwer to what I have above ſtated, his Highneſs made the ſtrongeſt and moſt earneſt declarations of his great deſire to be upon terms of the ſtricteſt friendſhip with the Company; that he had not deviated in any inſtance from the Treaty ſubſiſting between the Company and him; that he had been ſtrongly ſolicited to join in ſupporting the French, but had deciſively, from the beginning, rejected every overture, as inconſiſtent with his engagements with the Company. That with reſpect to Lally's party, he had cauſed his Brother to diſmiſs them from the Guntoor Circar, and that he had done this in compliance with the Governor's Letter, at a time when they might have been uſeful, on account of Hyder Ally's near approach towards that quarter. With reſpect to my reſiding at his Court, he expreſſed himſelf doubtfully, but he appeared on the whole to be diſinclined to it. He ſaid a great deal about our taking part with Raganaut Row, which he conceived to be a deviation from the terms of the Treaty of 1768; but he ſpoke with great reſpect and moderation towards the Company. He then proceeded to tell me, that he wiſhed I would ſtate the purport of his declarations to the Governor; and that upon receiving his anſwer, he ſhould have ſomething further to ſay upon ſome matters of importance, in which the Company's intereſts and his own were jointly concerned, I told him, that as there had been a declaration of friendſhip on both ſides, there was no neceſſity for writing to the Governor and waiting for his anſwer, upon the ſubject of what had paſſed; and that I wiſhed he would immediately inform me of the buſineſs he had to propoſe, that I might communicate it without loſs of time, and receive early inſtructions regarding it. In reply to this, he again requeſted me to communicate to you what had paſſed; and hoped, from the whole of his conduct, and the earneſt and ſincere declarations he now made of his unſhaken attachment to the Company, that the Governor would expreſs himſelf ſatisfied with reſpect to his Highneſs's firm intentions of being ſteady to his engagements, and of his being heartily diſpoſed to adopt every means in his power to preſerve and cultivate the Company's friendſhip. He gave me no intimation of the nature of the buſineſs he had to propoſe; but I have every reaſon to believe, that he wiſhes to form an alliance for the reduction of Hyder Ally, who has lately taken Cuddapah and Sidoutam, and exacted money from Bazalet Jung and the Nabob of Cannoul.

adopt

The Soubah informed me, in the courſe of the conference, of his having engaged Lally in his ſervice, which he told me he had done merely to prevent that party joining with the Marattas, or Hyder Ally, who was, he ſaid, already too ſtrong. An attention to his own ſecurity, againſt ſo powerful an enemy, who has invaded and ſubdued countries ſituated ſo contiguous with his, and conſequently makes ſuch near approaches towards his own Poſſeſſions and Capital, was moſt probably the cauſe of the Soubah's taking this ſtep.

I have not been able to learn any thing preciſely with regard to the ſtrength of Lally's detachment. With reſpect to intelligence in general, you may depend upon my employing my beſt endeavours to obtain authentic accounts of all important occurrences, but you muſt be ſenſible, that under a Mooriſh Government, good information cannot be procured but in the way of intrigue, and that precipitate enquiries muſt tend to create ſuſpicions and give alarms; it will therefore be neceſſary to tread cautiouſly upon this ground.

The Soubah's ſon is at preſent with a part of his Army at Kulburg, a place near the Maratta Country, having been lately ſent there to cover it from an attack threatened by a party of Marattas.

With reſpect to the renting the Guntoor Circar from Bazalet Jung, as you did not lay any ſtreſs upon it in your inſtructions, and as I was informed, that my mentioning it would be totally uſeleſs, I thought it beſt for the preſent to paſs it over in ſilence.

I remain, with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient
humble Servant,
John Hollond.

Ordered to lie on the table.

APPENDIX, No. 117.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations; dated 5th June 1778.

THE Preſident delivers in the following Minute:

As the Letter from Mr. Hollond of the 9th ultimo, giving the Committee an account of his reception at the Court of Nizam, and what paſſed between the Soubah and him, requires to be replied to as ſoon as poſſible, as alſo a Letter from the Soubah to me, as Governor, I ſhall beg leave to offer my ſentiments on their contents, and to propoſe for the conſideration of the Committee, ſuch anſwers to them as I think the preſent ſituation of affairs require.

In reply to the Soubah's Letter, it will be neceſſary to acquaint him, that we are pleaſed to find, the ſending Mr. Hollond to confer with his Highneſs, has met with his approbation; that ſince the receipt of his Letter, we have received one from Mr. Hollond, informing us of the friendly reception he has met with from his Highneſs; conformable to thoſe ſentiments of regard and amity he has been pleaſed on all occaſions to expreſs towards the Company, and which cannot fail to cement the friendſhip ſo happily eſtabliſhed between them. That the invariable cuſtom of all States in alliance, is to keep a reſident at each other's Court, which has been found the moſt certain way for removing every cauſe of jealouſy and miſunderſtanding, and of preſerving ſuch alliances, by a proper attention to the intereſts of each other, which generally diſappoints the views of thoſe who might be inclined to ſow the ſeeds of diſſention, and diſturb the public tranquillity; that we have no doubt but this repreſentation will have due weight with his Highneſs, and that having wrote fully to Mr. Hollond, he will explain every thing material for his Highneſs's conſideration.

APPENDIX No. 117.

Mr. Hollond to be wrote to: that we approve his conduct in the interview he had with the Soubah, and are pleaſed to find he met with ſo friendly a reception from his Highneſs: that we deſire he will expreſs to the Soubah our thanks, for the endeavours he informed Mr. Hollond he had uſed, to remove from the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, his Brother, the French Troops under M. Lally; but as the French are the avowed enemies of the Britiſh Nation, we wiſh they had been directed to proceed to the ſea-coaſt, that we might have ſent them, with all others of the ſame nation, now our priſoners, to their native country, that they might no longer have wandered about to diſturb the peace of any of the different States in Indoſtan; and we cannot but lament, that they ſhould have found protection in the ſervice of his Highneſs: that we requeſt he will freely communicate to Mr. Hollond whatever he may have to mention for our information, and that we ſhall be ready to pay all proper regard to what he may recommend for our mutual intereſts.

I muſt now requeſt the Committee's permiſſion to lay before them my ſentiments on a particular point, if poſſible to be negociated with the Soubah; and if I ſhould be ſo happy as to find the Committee with me in opinion, I would recommend that Mr. Hollond be wrote to on the ſubject. I am ſenſible it is a very delicate one, and muſt not be abruptly gave into; but that the opening it to the Soubah will require much management on the part of Mr. Hollond, who muſt, by turns, ſooth and work upon his apprehenſions, as occaſions may require. I have always conſidered the Peſhcuſh paid by the Company to the Soubah, for the Northern Circars, as diſgraceful to them, and an acknowledgment which the Soubah had no right to demand. The giving up the Guntoor Circar, during the life of his brother Bazalet Jung, was a ſufficient condeſcenſion. The grant from the Mogul was free and unconditional for the five circars, and the receiving them afterwards as a grant from the Soubah Nizam Ally Cawn, on paying him an annual Peſhcuſh, was a ſacrifice of the Company's rights. The time ſeems favourable to throw off ſo heavy a burthen: for the immenſe expences the Company are put to, both to the Northward and in the Carnatic, renders it neceſſary that we ſhould endeavour to relieve them as much as poſſible: we may with ſafety make the attempt, and try to obtain a remiſſion of ſo unneceſſary and improper a tribute, which, by the Mogul's Phirmaunds to the Company, the Soubah has no legal title to. But in the end, ſhould the witholding it be impolitic, or likely to be attended with difficulty, we may then make good the payments to him. I am perſuaded he is not ſufficiently powerful to enforce the demand; and the ground I go on is, that he would not have been entitled to exact ſuch a mark of dependance, if the original Phirmaund from the Emperor had been properly attended to.

The heavy expences of the war with the French, the large bodies of Troops we are obliged to keep up for the defence of the circars, the conſiderable balance due from thence, and the failure of a great part of the Revenue, may be urged to him, to induce him to give up this point; which, he may be aſſured, cannot fail of producing from the Company a ſuitable return in the continuance of their friendſhip and alliance. If we cannot bring him to relinquiſh the whole, the balance now due may be paid, on his giving up any future claim; and ſhould we not even ſucceed ſo far, we may refer to the Treaty concluded between the Soubah, and the Preſident and Council of Fort Saint George, dated the 23d February 1768, Article 5th, wherein it is ſtipulated to pay the Soubah annually, for the ſpace of ſix years, from the 1ſt January 1768, the ſum of two lacks of Arcot Rupees,

APPENDIX. No. 117.

at Madras or Maſulipatam, that is to ſay, one lack on the 31ſt March, and alſo one lack on the 31ſt October, or two lacks every year, and one lack more at each of the periods, whenever the circar of Condavir is put into the Company's poſſeſſion. This was to continue till the 1ſt of January 1774, when the ſum to be paid to the Soubah was to be increaſed to five lacks in two equal payments, and in caſe of obtaining the circar of Condavir, to ſeven lacks. It may be here neceſſary to remark, that the circar of Condavir is the one now poſſeſſed by Bazalet Jung, known to us commonly by the name Guntoor. It appears that it is only from the year 1774 that the Soubah has been entitled to the annual Peſhcuſh of five lacks, near two years of which are now due to him. If then, upon the repreſentation of the burthen we feel by ſo conſiderable an annual payment, we can even bring him back to the receipt of two lacks of Rupees, which was ſtipulated for the firſt ſix years, it will be eaſing the Company in part from a very heavy burthen, and every attempt to reduce their yearly charges, appears to me very neceſſary; that the affairs on the Coaſt may be ſupported without any foreign aid, and they may reap at home the clear amount of the inveſtments provided from hence. I therefore propoſe that Mr. Hollond be wrote to particularly on the ſubject, that he may uſe his utmoſt endeavours to obtain ſo deſirable an object; nor would I have him mention any compromiſe, or ſtipulate for the payment of any part of the Peſhcuſh, till every endeavour has in vain been uſed to induce the Soubah to relinquiſh the whole; and Mr. Hollond may from his obſervations learn, if there are any points in which the Soubah wiſhes a compliance on the part of the Company that may be acceded to, in return for his giving up his claim to the Peſhcuſh.

Tho^s Rumbold.

The Committee entirely approve of what the Preſident has propoſed in the foregoing Minute; and it is reſolved that Letters be prepared accordingly, for the Soubah and Mr. Hollond.

Tho^s Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Hector Munro,
Charles Smith.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations; dated the 11th June 1779.

Sent the following Letter to Mr. John Hollond:

To Mr. John Hollond.

Sir,

We have received your Letters of the 9th May, and are pleaſed to find you met with ſo favourable a reception from the Soubah. By the encloſed copy of the Letter to his Highneſs, which we now ſend, you will ſee what we have ſaid on the ſubject of your remaining at his Court, and we flatter ourſelves he may be induced by it to give his aſſent to a meaſure ſo well calculated to preſerve the intercourſe we wiſh to eſtabliſh with his Highneſs.

We ſhall now enter with you upon a ſubject which we have much at heart, and which by its importance will merit every attention we can give to it. The Peſhcuſh ſettled by the Treaty of 1768, to be paid annually to the Soubah for the Northern Circars, has always appeared to us not only a very expenſive, but in ſome meaſure a diſgraceful charge upon the Company, conſidering the free and unconditional grant by which the Mogul conveyed thoſe Provinces to them. When we reflect on the power of the Company at that time, and the inability of the Soubah to make any effectual oppoſition againſt it, we cannot but conſider the ſurrender of their right to hold the circars, free of all demands whatſoever, by virtue of the Mogul's Phirmaund; the acceptance of a Saned for them from the Soubah, on condition of paying him a tribute nearly equal to what they yielded him, and the giving up to Bazalet Jung during his life, one of the moſt valuable of thoſe circars, as very great conceſſions, any one of which ſhould have been eſteemed ſufficient to purchaſe what the whole only obtained; we mean the peaceable poſſeſſion of the lands granted by the Phirmaund.

If it were abſolutely neceſſary to pay any Tribute to the Soubah, the ſum of two lacks of Rupees annually for the four circars that we retained, ſeems to have been the moſt reaſonable valuation; and it appears extraordinary, that this ſum, which was agreed to be paid for the firſt ſix years, ſhould by the ſame Treaty have been raiſed to five lacks of Rupees per annum, without the Company's reaping any additional advantage to warrant ſo great an increaſe. This laſt ſum is indeed highly exorbitant, and were we even to lay no ſtreſs upon the Mogul's Phirmaund, but attend merely to the expence and riſk of maintaining poſſeſſion of the circars, under the Company's authority, we ſhould deem it unreaſonable. Seeing then that the Company have, under all circumſtances, made but a diſadvantageous bargain with the Soubah for the circars; we think it incumbent upon us to embrace the firſt opportunity of relieving them wholly, or in part, from the burthen they ſuſtain in the payment of the Peſhcuſh; and though we are ſenſible it muſt be attended with many difficulties, we do not entirely deſpair of ſucceſs, and we think the preſent juncture the moſt favourable that can happen for the trial.

We would have you therefore, by degrees, break the ſubject to the Soubah; and when you think him ſufficiently prepared, we wiſh you to repreſent to his Highneſs, that although by the Mogul's Phirmaund we were entitled to the full and undiſturbed poſſeſſion of the five circars therein granted, free of all demands whatſoever, yet, in conſideration of the great reſpect which the Company had for his Highneſs, and their earneſt deſire to preſerve his friendſhip and good-will, they relinquiſhed, in a great degree, their right under the Phirmaund, and conſented to receive the circars as a grant from himſelf, ſubject to ſuch ſtipulations as have almoſt annihilated their value; that the very large conceſſions made by the Company on that occaſion, for the ſake of his friendſhip, muſt have doubtleſs produced in his Highneſs the moſt favourable diſpoſition towards them; and upon that preſumption they are led to hope, he will reconſider the affair of the Peſhcuſh, and act therein agreeable to the principles of reaſon and equity: that the ſum of five lacks of Rupees for the circars of Ellore, Rajah Mundry, Muſtaphanagur and Chicacole, is much more than thoſe provinces can afford, after paying all the charges attending the collections, allowing for unfavourable ſeaſons, the failures of Renters and Zemindars, the expence of Troops, and the general riſk of maintaining thoſe extenſive countries againſt foreign and domeſtic troubles; that till within theſe laſt two years we have, by the means of long uninterrupted peace and tranquillity, been able to pay his Highneſs the amount of the Peſhcuſh regularly; but ſince it was increaſed from two lacks of Rupees to five, many circumſtances have contributed to render it too burthenſome for the Company to bear, and have occaſioned their falling into arrears: among theſe the great expence of the war with the French, the conſequent proviſion neceſſary for the ſecurity of the circars, and the great failures which have lately accrued in the Revenues, may be mentioned as the moſt conſiderable: that the Peſhcuſh was originally ſettled on the idea of our remaining in the full and peaceable enjoyment of the Revenues; and we truſt his Highneſs is too reaſonable to expect from us, in this time of failure and trouble, what we could ill afford to pay when the circars were in profound tranquillity, and the Company in the full receipt of every advantage belonging to them.

If by theſe, and ſuch other arguments as ſhall occur to you, the Soubah can be brought to a favourable diſpoſition in regard to the Peſhcuſh, we wiſh you to repreſent to him, how very acceptable a thing it would be to the Company, to be relieved of this great burthen; how thankful they would be for it; and how ready they would would be, upon all occaſions, to come into the views of his Highneſs, and to give him the ſtrongeſt marks of their friendſhip and attachment.

Although our wiſhes extend to the entire remiſſion of the Tribute, which we would have firſt propoſed to the Soubah, and ſupported by your beſt endeavours; yet we confeſs, that without ſomething of importance to tempt him, we can hardly expect he will at once be brought to ſo great a conceſſion; but we hope, by making the demand at this time, that we ſhall the more eaſily obtain what we think we have a juſt claim to, which is a conſiderable abatement in the amount of the Peſhcuſh: if therefore the Soubah, after all your endeavours, ſhall appear diſinclined to remit the whole, we would have you try to bring the Peſhcuſh back to the former ſtandard of two lacks of Rupees, which is as large a ſum as the countries can afford, after the failures, loſſes, and charges, they have lately ſuſtained, and are ſtill likely to ſuſtain during the preſent War: if it be poſſible alſo to obtain a proportionate remiſſion of the arrears on this account, we ſhould be well pleaſed.

We have written to the Soubah, as you will ſee in the encloſed Copy of our Letter, on the ſubject of the French party under Lally; expreſſing our ſurprize at his entertaining them in his ſervice, and requeſting him to ſend them out of his dominions: we deſire you will uſe your endeavours to effect their removal, ſince we cannot but conſider them now in the ſame point of view nearly as when they were employed in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung.

We are,
Sir,
Your moſt obedient Servants,
Thomas Rumbold,
&c. Select Committee.

Fort Saint George,
11th June 1779.

APPENDIX, No. 118.

Extract of Fort Saint George Select Conſultations, the 9th July 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Sir Tho. Rumbold, Bart. Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Charles Smith.

READ the following Letter from Mr. Hollond, Preſident at Hydrabad.

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Eſq. Preſident and Governor, and Select Committee, Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I had the night before laſt the honour of your commands of the inſtant, and waited this morning upon the Soubah, to deliver to him the purport of your inſtructions regarding the Peſhcuſh for the Northern Circars. As the Governor's Letter related to the diſmiſſion of Lally's party from the Soubah's ſervice, we were firſt led into that ſubject. His Highneſs repeated to me what he had ſaid before, as repreſented in my Letter of the 9th May, that the party would aſſuredly have been entertained either by Hyder Ally or the Marattas; that the ſtrengthening either of theſe powers muſt have been a great diſadvantage to us, the former of them being to his certain knowledge ill-diſpoſed towards us, and the latter engaged in actual hoſtilities againſt us; that he conſidered the party of Europeans as vagrants, and aliens to their natural country; that they were not French, but the refuſe of various nations; that they could never have it in their power to join the French, ſhould they be diſpoſed to attach themſelves to the fortunes of that Nation, and that they had not attempted to do it at the ſiege of Pondicherry. I repeated in reply, what had been ſaid in the Governor's Letter; I urged, that their not attempting to aſſiſt their Nation at Pondicherry, was owing not to the want of inclination in them to diſtreſs us, but to the want of opportunity and power; that their leader and commander would ever look forward to his own country; and would endeavour, by every poſſible means, to recommend himſelf to his own Prince and Nation; that the keeping them together in a body in his ſervice, was a meaſure hurtful to our intereſts, and inconſiſtent with the terms of the Treaty. On taking leave of this ſubject, he gave me no poſitive aſſurances of his intention of diſmiſſing them, but in the courſe of the converſation, ſeeming deſirous of excuſing himſelf, and of ſoftening matters, by ſaying, that the party was entertained by one of his Aumils, and not by himſelf; and that they were not engaged for any ſpecific time, but optionally, and were to be diſmiſſed at will. The Soubah now proceeded to enquire of me, what your anſwer was relative to the repreſentations he had made on the ſubject of our engagements with Bazalet Jung, and what your inſtructions were regarding the payment of the Peſhcuſh. I told him, with reſpect to the former, that you did not deem thoſe engagements in the light of an infringement of the Treaty, as he had repreſented them; that you had long ago frequently and preſſingly written to him to diſmiſs that party of Frenchmen from his brother's ſervice; that you had been for ſome time paſt ſenſible of the probability of a War with France, and had foreſeen the danger of their being kept together in a body, in a ſituation contiguous to our poſſeſſions; that you had nevertheleſs, from an attention to the friendſhip ſubſiſting between his Highneſs and the Company, forborne taking any hoſtile meaſures for their removal; that at length, by the breaking out of a French War, it became more immediately neceſſary for you to take ſome ſteps for expelling them from that part of the country; that as Bazalet Jung, by their removal, would have been left without defence, you had engaged, on condition of his diſmiſſing them, to furniſh him with ſome Troops for his protection, to be paid out of the Revenue of the Guntoor Circar; and on this condition had rented it from him; that by the 2d Article of Treaty, the circar was juſtly forfeited to the Company; but that they had been induced to wave this claim, from an unwillingneſs to embrace any meaſure, however equitable, that might be the cauſe of miſunderſtanding with his Highneſs. The foregoing circumſtances having been before ſubjects of diſcuſſion, we advanced ſo far without any apparent ſymptoms of uneaſineſs or reſentment on the part of the Soubah; but upon my proceeding to declare to him, what you had given me in charge relative to your deſire of obtaining a remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh, he was exceedingly agitated, and expreſſed himſelf with great warmth and force, but at the ſame time with decency. I had before told his Highneſs, upon his applying to me for the diſcharge of his arrears of the Peſhcuſh, that on account of the great expences of the French War, and the Zemindars having been deficient in their payments, it would be impoſſible for you to comply with his requeſt. I believe he has been for ſome time jealous of this delay. I now repeated to him the above arguments, and added, that the heavy charges of the Army; and the collections, the large balances due from the Zemindars, and the failures of renters from unfavourable ſeaſons, and other cauſes, were altogether ſo large a draft upon the Revenue, as greatly to exhauſt it, and rendered the payment of the Peſhcuſh a very heavy burden; that the Company in England were uneaſy at the payment of ſo large a ſum from a Revenue that could not bear it, which there was the more occaſion for them to give attention to, from the burden falling in part upon their other Revenues; that by the Mogul's Phirmaund of 1765, the ceſſion of the circars was declared to be free and unconditional; and that it was ſo acknowledged on the part of his Highneſs, by the Treaty with the Company of 1768; that nevertheleſs, through regard to his honour and dignity, the Company had been contented to receive them, by the firſt Treaty 1766,

APPENDIX. No. 118.

as a grant from his Highneſs; that the Sum itſelf was not ſo conſiderable as to affect his Highneſs's Revenue, or give him any uneaſineſs; that as he had, through favour and munificence, excuſed others the payment of Tribute, he would, no doubt, be inclined to ſhew an equal degree of liberality to the Company, who had given him no moleſtation in his Government, and had hitherto, during times of peace and tranquillity, been punctual in complying with the terms of their engagement; that for theſe reaſons, you entertained a well-grounded hope, that through his friendſhip to the Company, he would be induced to excuſe them the payment of the Peſhcuſh; that it would be doing the Company a pleaſure and a favour; that they would be ever ready to acknowledge it, by ſhewing him at all times all poſſible marks of their attachment and friendſhip. His Highneſs was too much agitated to permit me to go through the whole of the above repreſentation without interruption: upon my firſt opening the ſubject, he ſaid, he found that we were determined to break the Treaty, that he looked upon it as already violated; that there could not be any further occaſion for my ſtaying at his Court; that if we were bent on War, he was likewiſe ready. He afterwards replied more in detail to the points I had dwelt upon; he ſaid, that with reſpect to deficiencies of Revenues, from whatever cauſe, he had nothing to do with them; that the Treaty was clear and explicit; that no exception whatever had been made, nor proviſion ſtipulated, for failure of any kind; that he had himſelf ſuffered great loſſes upon various occaſions; but ſhould think it very unreaſonable to call upon the Company for a year's Revenue of the circars towards his indemnification; that with reſpect of its being put upon the footing of favour, it might, have been a reaſonable ground, if we had done him any favours on our part; that whatever might be the profits of the circars, they were our own, and it was not right that the loſſes ſhould be his; that his ſituation, at the time of our taking poſſeſſion of the circars, would have enabled him to prevent it; that he has ever conſidered the ceſſion of them to us, as proceeding from the fraud and ignorance of his managers, but that he has ſince been induced to ſubmit to the heavy loſs he ſuſtained on that occaſion, from a ſenſe of the regard he owed to his engagements; that as he conſidered himſelf pledged by the Treaty to maintain Peace with the Company, he had harboured no intentions of taking any ſteps to diſturb the public tranquillity; but that, if we ſaw any advantage in breaking with him, he ſhould be very well pleaſed, as he was convinced, in caſe of a rupture, that the profits of the conteſt would be on his ſide, and that he ſhould be able to make a better bargain for himſelf than had been made for him by his ſervants: that with reſpect to our forbearance, in not having taken poſſeſſion of the circars upon the ground of the Mogul's Phirmaund, we ſeemed at preſent to have loſt view of that principle; that both himſelf and the Company might now revert to that ground, and after a trial of ſtrength, make a freſh Treaty upon new terms ſuited to the events of War; that if we thought him in ſo weak a condition, as to be under a neceſſity of ſubmitting to this new claim, we were greatly deceived. His Highneſs, in the courſe of his converſation, ſpoke as if he conſidered Hyder Ally as waiting only to be called on to join him, and as if he and his people upon ſuch an occaſion, would be ready to fly to his banners, and to act under his orders; and purſuant to this idea, he ſaid, he ſhould give orders to Meer Ally Rizam, Hyder's Governor of Cuddapah, to join his ſon, and proceed againſt Colonel Harpur. I told him that with reſpect to War, it ought to be a matter of ſerious conſideration with him; that the power of the Company in Bengal, and on the Coaſt, was very great; and that, by means of our ſhips, and the command of the ſea, we could eaſily tranſport our Army from the North or South to any place where they might be wanted; that from the equitable principle of our Government, we were not forward to invade our neighbours, but that we feared no power whatever; that we expelled the French not only from Pondicherry, but likewiſe from Mahé, which was in Hyder Ally's dominions; that with reſpect to the Peſhcuſh, it was really a heavy charge on the Circar Revenue; that I had been ſent, through reſpect for his Highneſs's great ſtation and dignity, to requeſt the remiſſion; that the requeſt ſtood on good grounds; and I concluded with hoping, that he would be pleaſed to conſider it maturely. His Highneſs ſtill continued to hold the language of reſentment and War, but in terms of decency, and not of outrage: He propoſed to me either to proceed to Madras, or to communicate the above particulars to you, with a preſſing requeſt for a ſpeedy anſwer. He ſaid, he ſhould immediately prepare for hoſtilities, and deſired me to inform you ſo; intimating, that if there were any delay in your anſwer, his Troops might poſſibly, in the meantime, advance upon Colonel Harpur; and that in ſuch caſe the blame would be yours.

I have the honour to be, with great reſpect,
Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your moſt obedient
humble Servant,
John Hollond.

Hydrabad,
June 26th 1779.

The above Letter being taken into conſideration, the following Draft of an Anſwer is read and approved, and ordered immediately to be diſpatched.

APPENDIX, No. 119.

To Mr. John Hollond.

Sir,

WE have received your Letter of the 26th ult. this morning, and we loſe no time in replying to it, that you may be prepared to preſs forward the affair of the Peſhcuſh, which we have much at heart.

The line you have taken, and the firmneſs which appears to accompany your repreſentations to the Soubah, are very commendable; and though they ſeem for the preſent to have made a ſtrong impreſſion on his mind, and to have raiſed a great degree of reſentment againſt us, we ſtill flatter ourſelves that in the end they will prove ſucceſsful, and obtain for the Company more than we could have procured by a different mode of conduct.

The effect occaſioned by our firſt demand reſpecting the Peſhcuſh, is no other than what might have been expected. We would have you, however, repreſent to his Highneſs, that we cannot forbear expreſſing our concern at the unfavourable interpretation which he has put upon our deſigns; that the manner in which we have applied to him for the remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh, is full of reſpect; and ſo far from denouncing the ſmalleſt threat againſt him, we wiſhed to owe this great favour entirely to his generoſity and good-will; and had not the leaſt intention of proſecuting the claim upon any other ground: that we appeal to himſelf, whether the ſtyle of his anſwer to our demand be ſuch as the Company ought in reaſon to have expected from a friend and an Ally, or whether he has not given us too much cauſe to charge him with thoſe hoſtile intentions, which he would fix upon us? That our claim in the article of the Peſhcuſh, has ſuch foundation in equity, that we cannot relinquiſh it; and we ſtill hope his Highneſs, upon mature reflection, will be ſo well convinced of it, as to give the Company a proof of his friendſhip and good-will, by complying with their requeſt. If it be neceſſary, from the diſpoſition of his Highneſs, or from any new circumſtances which we cannot foreſee, to vary this repreſentation, you will act accordingly as ſhall ſeem to you moſt likely to anſwer our views, in which we ſhall now fully and finally intruſt you.

As we cannot flatter ourſelves that the Soubah will be brought to remit the Peſhcuſh entirely, including the arrears arrears that are due, we would have you make trial of the following propoſitions, in ſuch order and manner as you may deem expedient to obtain for the Company on this occaſion, the greateſt relief that can be procured.

1ſt. To offer the whole of the balance, payable in three or four months, on condition that the entire Tribute be remitted in future.

2d. To offer him half of the balance by bills, either on Maſulipatam or the Preſidency, on condition that the other half be remitted, and the Peſhcuſh in future be fixed at the ſum eſtabliſhed by Treaty to be paid for the firſt ſix years, which is the moſt that the Company can afford to pay by way of Tribute, even in time of peace.

3d. To offer him the whole of the balance now due, at two ſtated payments, allowing a reaſonable time, on condition that the Tribute in future ſhall only be two lacks.

4th. To remit the whole of the balance now due, in conſideration of our late expences and failure of Revenue, and on condition of our paying the Peſhcuſh regularly in future.

We empower you to ſettle with the Soubah on any of the foregoing propoſitions, confiding in your zeal and attention to the intereſts of the Company, from which we expect to derive every advantage that can be obtained under the preſent circumſtances; but ſhould the Soubah reject all the propoſitions we have laid down, you muſt in that event acquaint him, that the Company will pay the balance with current Tribute, as ſoon as they are in caſh: that they have no deſigns to commit hoſtilities upon him, or to infringe any of his rights; but that they will always be prepared fully and effectually to revenge the leaſt inſult that ſhall be offered to them.

We wiſh you to continue your remonſtrances, as you ſhall ſee occaſion, againſt the conduct of the Soubah, in entertaining Lally's party contrary to his engagements. We encloſe you a Copy of an intercepted Letter from an Officer belonging to that party, which you will employ according to your directions.

Tho' Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Hector Munro,
Charles Smith.

APPENDIX, No. 120.

Extract of Fort St. George Select Conſultations, the 13th September 1779.

PRESENT,

The Hon. Sir Tho' Rumbold, Baronet, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Sir Hector Munro, Knt.
Charles Smith.

READ the following Letter from Mr. Hollond, Reſident at Hydrabad, dated 31ſt Auguſt.

To the Honourable Sir Tho' Rumbold, Baronet, Preſident, Governor, and Select Committee, Fort Saint George.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I was on the 22d of laſt month honoured with your Letter of the 10th, and in conſequence waited on the Soubah. I informed him of the great deſire you ſtill expreſſed to obtain a remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh; that you were greatly concerned to find, inſtead of giving a favourable attention to your requeſt, his Highneſs had been ſo forward in making declarations inconſiſtent with the friendſhip that had ſo long ſubſiſted between him and the Company; that in the mode of proceeding which you had obſerved upon this occaſion, it had been the object of your particular attention to ſhew all poſſible reſpect to his Highneſs's great ſtation and dignity; that although you wiſhed, upon good grounds, to be relieved from the heavy burthen of the Peſhcuſh, it could not fail of giving you uneaſineſs, if the requeſt you had made ſhould be the occaſion of your being upon terms of miſunderſtanding with his Highneſs; that you hoped he would conſider maturely the reaſonableneſs of your repreſentation, and manifeſt his friendſhip to the Company, by giving his ready aſſent to a requeſt ſo juſtly founded. We were naturally led, from this preface, into a diſcuſſion of the queſtion at large, nearly as I have ſtated it to you in my Addreſs of the 26th June: all the arguments made uſe of on both ſides at the former occaſion were now again repeated. I obſerved that his Highneſs appeared to be particularly agitated, when I mentioned his having excuſed others, as a ground for the Company to expect an equal ſhare of his regard. I made uſe of this argument, entirely with a view of ſhewing the Soubah that I was not unacquainted with the preſent weak ſtate of his Government, and it ſeemed to operate accordingly: he replied immediately to this part of my repreſentation with ſome warmth, that it was not conformable to cuſtom to repeat words after a deciſive anſwer had been given. The Soubah, in the courſe of the converſation, dwelt much upon his having a larger Army than ours, ſaid, he could eaſily ſend parties of horſe, of which we had none, to lay waſte the Carnatic and Circars; that if we would not pay the ſtipulated Peſhcuſh, and the balance due, he ſhould be under the neceſſity of committing hoſtilities, in order, by that means, to recover thoſe ſums. I replied, firſt, that with reſpect to what his Highneſs had ſaid to have heard of the ſtrength of our Army, it would be found, even in point of numbers (ſuppoſing numbers the important conſideration) to be truly reſpectable, and was amply ſufficient to oppoſe to the power of any of our enemies; that by the ſea being open to us, our Bengal Army could always be tranſported with the utmoſt diſpatch into the circars; that the real ſtrength of an Army conſiſted in diſcipline; and the art of managing them; that ours, which had been often tried, were well known to be powerful; that our ſyſtem of War did not require a numerous body of horſe; but that of theſe we had a ſufficient force trained, according to the rules of European diſcipline; that the Company had no intention of becoming his enemies, and would not be the firſt to diſturb the peace of the country; but in caſe of hoſtilities being committed, from whatever quarter, we were always prepared, and were full of confidence, that if a ſtroke of a ſword were ſtruck, there would be afterwards no poſſibility of repairing the miſchief, which might extend no one knows how far; that with reſpect to the advantages he had declared he promiſed to himſelf from a War with the Company, he would do wrong to be ſanguine, as the event might poſſibly be different from what he might expect; that it was natural for him to ſuppoſe, that what I ſaid proceeded from my zeal for the intereſt of the Company, but that if I were his own ſervant, and the real and faithful well-wiſher of his Highneſs and his family, which I wiſhed him to conſider me, I ſhould not fail to uſe my utmoſt endeavours to diſſuade him from his being precipitate in engaging in hoſtilities againſt our Government; that what I had repreſented upon this occaſion with reſpect to the ſtrength of our Army, did by no means proceed from any intention of exaggerating the Company's power, but from the ſincere deſire I had of giving him a true and perfect view of the real ſtate of affairs, in order that he might thereby be enabled to conſider the queſtion before him maturely on true grounds, previous to his taking any ſteps that might diſturb the public tranquillity, and involve the country in diſtreſs. His Highneſs ſtill continued firm in refuſing his compliance with the requeſt for the remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh, and informed me, that he ſhould give me audience of leave in two days. He ſent for my Dubaſh the ſame evening, and deſired him, through Sbemſe Ud Dowla, his principal ſervant, to tell me to prepare for my departure on the day he had preſcribed as above-mentioned. In the viſit I had paid his Highneſs, I had not made known to him your firſt propoſition, poſition, which was the diſcharging the balance due, on condition of his remitting the Peſhcuſh in future; I thought it better to keep up this conceſſion in order to give a check, as much as poſſible, to his Highneſs's expectation, wiſhing much that the deſired accommodation might be eſtabliſhed on this ground; neither did I think it neceſſary to yield, after receiving his Highneſs's meſſage above ſtated, believing it to be an artifice employed by his Highneſs to drive me to make ſuch further propoſitions as I might have in charge. The day following my Dubaſh was again ſent for to the Durbar, and was given to underſtand through Sbennſe Ud Dowlah, that the Soubah had appointed Sabit Jung, Brother of Fazel Beg Cawn, to ſpeak to me on any buſineſs I might have to propoſe. I accordingly paid a viſit to Sabit Jung, agreeably to the Soubah's deſire; but nothing was ſaid on either ſide on buſineſs; and after an interval of two or three days, he returned my viſit. As I underſtood that he had been appointed to ſay ſomething to me from the Soubah, I waited, after the uſual compliments, in expectation of his opening the buſineſs he might have to ſpeak of: he told me that he was not authorized to ſay any thing to me on the part of the Soubah, but that his Highneſs had deſired him to hear, and report, any propoſitions that I might have to offer on the part of the Company. We then went through a diſcuſſion of the ſeveral arguments ſtated in my former Letters; in the courſe of which I did not fail to ſet before him in the ſtrongeſt terms, the great danger the Soubah his maſter would inevitably be expoſed to, if he ſhould imprudently precipitate himſelf into hoſtilities with the Company: I added, that as the Soubah, on the day I viſited him, did not appear to be in a diſpoſition to give a favourable attention to any propoſition which I had to offer, I had not thought that occaſion a proper meeting for introducing any further matter. I told him, that I had often given his Highneſs the ſtrongeſt and moſt unequivocal aſſurances of the Company's firm intention to maintain that friendſhip which ſubſiſted between them, and of the great inclination which I knew you had to ſhew his Highneſs every poſſible attention that could manifeſt your high eſteem and reſpect to his perſon and Government. I then added, that if his Highneſs was inclined to receive a Nazur, as a mark of reſpect from the Company, and as an acknowledgment on their part of the great favour ſhewn them by the remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh and balance, I was perſuaded that in ſuch caſe you would willingly do every thing in your power to conform to his wiſhes, and that it would be the occaſion of great ſatisfaction to you, if the difference was accommodated on this ground. Although Sabit Jung pretended not to have been authorized to ſay any thing on the part of the Soubah, he replied, with reſpect to the remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh, that it could not be on any terms whatever; and he aſked me pointedly, Whether, after having heard the Soubah's reſolution, it was our intention, bonâ fide, to pay the ſtipulated Tribute? This was ſo explicit and direct a queſtion, that I found myſelf under the neceſſity of making ſome kind of reply to it, by deſiring him to conſider how the caſe ſtood, and to draw his own concluſions regarding the event. I was induced to propoſe the payment of a Nazur, rather than to offer the balance of Peſhcuſh, not only becauſe I perceived it would be agreeable to the Soubah under that denomination, but becauſe it enabled me the more eaſily to conceal the amount of the ſum you propoſed paying him; and further, if I had mentioned your intention of paying the amount due under the name of balance, I apprehended, conformable to the modes of Eaſtern Courts, there would have been a further claim made on the Company under the title of Nazur.

APPENDIX. No. 120.

I am led, upon this occaſion, to expreſs my wiſhes that I might be authorized to offer a ſuitable Nazur, in caſe of neceſſity, beyond the payment of the balance due, rather than be driven to an accommodation, on the ground of either of the other three propoſitions contained in your Letter of the 10th July. As the payment of Tribute is a matter by which the independency of Government is effected, and as we have negotiated the remiſſion of it at this Court, I am ſtrongly of opinion, that the point ought, if poſſible, to be carried through. We have repreſented, that it will be unreaſonable on the part of the Soubah, to claim this Tribute in future, and he has refuſed his compliance with our requeſt, in terms not warranted by his ſituation. When we conſider that he is ſupported more by the reputation of his late father's name and government, than by any real power of his own, it muſt neceſſarily be ſuppoſed the opinions of the Indian powers, to reſent both the refuſal and the manner, the latter of which will, no doubt, if we ſhould yield, be greatly exaggerated. If under theſe ſuppoſed emotions of reſentment on our part, and after the public declaration we have made, of the unreaſonableneſs of the demand, we ſhould ſtill continue to pay the Peſhcuſh, it will be univerſally believed through this country, that our compliance has proceeded from apprehenſions of the Soubah's ſuperior power; I propoſe therefore to continue ſteady to the ground I have aſſumed, and ſhall not make any further propoſitions, unleſs, purſuant to your inſtructions, it ſhall be abſolutely neceſſary.

It may be proper, on the preſent occaſion, to inform you of the reports I have had of the ſtrength of the Army. The number of his horſe, and that of all his Jaqueedars and Munſubdars collected together, are, according to various accounts, from 30 to 50,000; the Soubah's Sepoys exerciſed in the European manner, are ſaid to be 8,000, and thoſe of Fazel Beg 10,000. I have ſeen thoſe belonging to the former, and have had accounts of Fazel Beg's, and I am fully of opinion that they will be found, in caſe of action, to be leſs ſerviceable than common Pike Peons, of whom there are many conſidered as fighting men in the Soubah's Army, but it is of little conſequence to aſcertain their numbers. If we may form a judgment of the whole of his Cavalry from a ſample of ſome thouſands lately arrived at this place, under the command of his ſon, they are ſmall, poor, and ill equipped. There is not a ſingle gun mounted on the walls of Hydrabad, and the place is wholly defenceleſs. The power of the Soubah does not extend to the ability of controlling even his Jaquierdars, of whom Fazel Beg Cawn is one, and holds himſelf independent of this Court; Bazalet Jung, and the Cuddapah and Cawnoul Nabobs have for a long time held themſelves alſo entirely independent of him: there cannot, under all theſe appearances of a weak Government, be any thing to apprehend from the Soubah's reſentment. I think it neceſſary to adviſe you of all theſe circumſtances, as I conceive that my yielding a ſtep of the firſt ground I have aſſumed, will defeat my beſt endeavours to maintain myſelf in either of the three propoſitions following, mentioned in your Letter of the 10th July, the laſt of which will I think moſt certainly be rejected. The many conferences I have had with the Soubah have given me an opportunity of forming an opinion of his character; and I conſider him to have ſo much experience of affairs, and ſo juſt a knowledge both of his own ſtrength and the Company's Government, that I cannot think it in any degree probable he will be diſpoſed to carry his threats into execution, and plunge into the danger of War with ſo formidable a power as our's is well known to be: I am therefore the more inclined to keep my firſt ground, and to diſregard his menaces. I have already remarked his not carrying thoſe into execution, that related to my diſmiſſion from his Court. I believe that the credit he derives from receiving the Tribute from the Company, is by far a greater object with him than the amount of the ſum ſtipulated; and from this conſideration I think it highly probable that he may perſiſt throughout, in refuſing his compliance with the requeſt that has been made to him for an entire remiſſion of it; I do not imagine, however, that he will on this account be ſo imprudent as to commit hoſtilities upon any part of our poſſeſſions. If other circumſtances were favourable, it is very probable he may rather ſend me away than give his aſſent to the propoſition I have made to him. The balance due is ſo ſmall a ſum when ſet in compariſon with the preſent flouriſhing condition of his treaſury, that I am doubtful whether the offer of paying will be accepted, as he may probably think it more for his intereſt to riſk the loſs of it, than to make a conceſſion which has a tendency to diſcredit him, by impreſſing the minds of other powers with an opinion of the weakneſs of his Government. I am not encouraged to draw any concluſions deciſively favourable to my wiſhes, from the circumſtance merely of his not having given me audience of leave, conformably to the declaration he had made of his intention ſo to do; the ſituation of our affairs with reſpect to the Marattas, gives me a great alarm. There has been, for a long time paſt, a determined perſonal enmity between his Highneſs and Ragonaut Row, and his Highneſs is apprehenſive that our eſtabliſhing Ragonaut Row in the poſſeſſion of the Poonah Government, will be but a prelude to our attacking his own poſſeſſions. He conceives, that our connection with the Maratta Chief extends to the engaging in hoſtilities againſt him; and being very apprehenſive of our Government, he has, as I underſtand, ſent a Vakeel to Surat, with inſtructions, in caſe of our uniting again with Ragonaut Row, either to get himſelf included in the Treaty, or to make a ſeparate Treaty in his own name with that Chief; in caſe he cannot ſucceed in either of theſe objects, he has determined, as I have been informed, to join heartily with the preſent Poonah Adminiſtration againſt Ragonaut Row, and conſequently againſt us. I am not acquainted with the final reſolution of the Bengal Government relative to the Poonah affairs; conformably, however, to what the Preſident wrote me in a former Letter, I told the Soubah, that I believed our Government was diſpoſed towards the reigning Adminiſtration at Poonah, if any thing could be ſettled with them upon a reaſonable footing; that even in caſe of any obſtructions to a renewal of the former Treaty of friendſhip with them, and of our being obliged, in conſequence, to ſupport Ragonaut Row, I nevertheleſs was very well aſſured, that there was not any intention on our part, of aiding Ragonaut Row in any views againſt the Peace of his Highneſs's country. I am doubtful whether he will truſt to the event. If Peace be eſtabliſhed with the Poonah Miniſters, it is poſſible that his Highneſs, ſeeing that he can have no hopes of aſſiſtance from that quarter, may be diſpoſed to make the moſt of the Peſcuſh, by accepting the balance due, or the ſame amount under the denomination of Nazur, as a conſideration for yielding up what I believe he conceives to be already loſt. In the caſe of his joining the Poonah Miniſters againſt Ragonaut Row and our Army, his pretenſions drop of courſe. He will probably keep me here until he ſees the end of the negotiations ſet on foot on the Malabar Coaſt, and perhaps beyond that period, until he can form ſome judgment of Hyder Aly's intention. He appears to be under great apprehenſions from that quarter, and will have it in his power, by my reſiding at his Court, to impreſs Hyder with an idea of there being an alliance formed with the Company to oppoſe his further encroachments.

Read two Letters from the Nabob, dated 19th and 20th ultimo; the former containing intelligence relative to the deſigns of Hyder Ally and the Nizam, in conſequence of our having entered into an alliance with Bazalet Jung; the latter, on the ſubject of Hyder Ally and the Marattas, and recommending that the diſputes with the latter be made up as ſoon as poſſible; for which purpoſe, if we approve, he can ſend for an able and truſty perſon from Poonah to negotiate a Treaty with us.

Agreed to acknowledge the receipt of the foregoing Letters, and to acquaint the Nabob, that if any perſon came hither on the part of the Marattas, we ſhall give him a favourable reception, and contribute, as far as lies in our power, to promote a good underſtanding with that State. APPENDIX, No. 121.

APPENDIX, No. 121.

Honourable Sir,

I DO myſelf the honour herewith to enclоſe you copy of my laſt Addreſs to the Preſident and Select Committee of Madras; I likewiſe tranſmit to you copies of Letters of prior date, together with copies of three Letters from the Committee to me. I ſhould have ſent the former to you ſeparately at the time I wrote them, but deferred doing it in expectation of being able to give you ſome more deciſive information with regard to the object they relate to.

The Soubah talks of taking the field as ſoon as the rains are over, but his movements muſt depend, I think, upon the turn the negotiations may take, that are now on foot with the Poonah Miniſtry.

I am, &c. &c.

(Signed) John Hollond.

APPENDIX, No. 122.

Extract of Fort William Secret Conſultations, the 25th October 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,
Mr. Barwell, indiſpoſed,
Sir Eyre Coote, gone to viſit the different ſtations of the Army.

THE Governor General lays before the Board a Letter which he has lately received from Mr. Hollond, deputed by the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George to the Court of the Nabob Nizam Ally, at Hydrabad. This contains an account of his proceedings, and the ſtate of his negotiations, to the time in which it was written.

The Board received the original intimation of this commiſſion in a Letter from the Select Committee, dated the 7th February, but hath never received from them any further advice of the particular objects deſigned to be accompliſhed by it, nor of the progreſs made towards the execution of them, which muſt be aſcribed to ſome official inattention. In this perſuaſion he is confirmed, by the aſſurances of the Commander in Chief, who left that Preſidency about the time of Mr. Hollond's appointment, and by a Letter received ſince from Mr. Hollond, ſoon after his arrival at Hydrabad, containing a report of the reception which he met with from the Nizam, and a copy of his inſtructions. By ſome accident this Letter has been miſlaid, which the Governor General regrets, becauſe it obliges him to have recourſe to his memory for the ſubſtance of it, which, though of little importance when it was received, is become of very material conſequence at this time; from the great variation which has been made, as well in the principle and deſign as in the progreſs of Mr. Hollond's commiſſion.

In the Letter from the Select Committee, dated the 7th February laſt, they aſſign as their motives for this deputation, their apprehenſions leſt the jealouſy of Nizam Ally ſhould be excited by their connection with his Brother, the Nabob Bazalet Jung, and by the long arrears withheld of his Peſhcuſh, and induce him to take a hoſtile part againſt them; and the profeſſed object was therefore to ſatisfy him on both theſe ſubjects; and ſuch, in his recollection of them, was the ſubſtance of Mr. Hollond's inſtructions, though more explicitly detailed. Theſe were to explain to the Nabob the nature and urgency of the impending negotiation with Bazalet Jung, and to engage his concurrence in it, and his ſanction to ſuch engagements as might be concluded with the Nabob Bazalet Jung; to apologize for their want of punctuality in the payments of his Peſcuſh, to ſettle the mode of diſcharging the arrears, to require from him the previous aſſurance of a pacific diſpoſition towards their Government, and to give him ſimilar aſſurances of theirs, and of their firm determination to abide by every article of the Treaty of 1768. Theſe inſtructions ſeemed equally wiſe and well adapted to the ſeaſon and occaſion which gave birth to them, and were ſuch as perhaps in the ſtrict conſtruction of the dependance of that Preſidency on the controul of this Government, they were authorized to give, by their own ſeparate power, ſince the profeſſed and only object was the preſervation of Peace, grounded on a Treaty already exiſting.

APPENDIX. No. 122.

But by the tenor of the ſubſequent inſtructions tranſmitted to Mr. Hollond, it appears that they have been imperceptibly led from their firſt deſign into a train of demands, which were both in their natural tendency oppoſite to it, and have proved ſuch in their effect. The Treaty with Bazalet Jung is concluded and avowed without the participation of his immediate Sovereign and their Ally; the arrears and current payment of the Peſhcuſh withheld, and effectually, though indirectly, refuſed, under pleas highly unreaſonable and irregular; and a demand for diſmiſſion of the French, and other enemies, and native forces, entertained under the command of Mr. Lally, a French Officer; a demand in itſelf reaſonable, and ſuitable to the relation in which they ſtand with the Nabob, but neither politic nor reaſonable while their other demands indicate an intention of War, and are even accompanied with indirect threats of it.

The Nabob has given to theſe requiſitions their obvious conſtruction; and unleſs his arguments have received ſome aſſiſtance in the relation of them from Mr. Hollond, who appears to poſſeſs all the requiſites for the truſt to which he has been ſelected, they are ſuch as manifeſt the cleareſt conviction of their unreaſonableneſs, as well as a proper ſenſe of the inſult conveyed by them; as nothing but an extreme contempt for his power could apparently have dictated the propoſal of relinquiſhing ſuch valuable and acknowledged rights, without one conceſſion offered in return, that might ſerve as a ſpecious cover to his credit in yielding them.

To demand the abſolute ceſſion of a right acquired by Treaty, or even the variation of it, without ſomething propoſed as an equivalent or alternative, will, though not a direct breach of Treaty, be always conſidered as ſuch; as the demands of ſtates are ſuppoſed to be deliberate acts, of which every conſequence has been duly weighed before they were paſſed, with a reſolution to ſupport them; and becauſe they cannot be ſupported but by violence, either immediate or eventually implied, or by the principle of right, which is entirely excluded from the preſent queſtion. But the right of Nizam Ally to the Peſhcuſh ſtands yet upon ſtronger ground, ſince it ought to be remembered that it was the effect of ſolicitations and importunity on our part, his conſiſting in a ſimple acquieſcence, extorted from him by the neceſſity of his affairs; this conſideration would render the attempt doubly criminal to wreſt it from him.

It is but juſtice to acquit the Preſident and Select Committee of Fort Saint George of ſuch an intention or reſolution, already decided within their own breaſts; the contrary is evinced by the final inſtructions contained in their Letter to Mr. Hollond, dated the 10th July. In this they diſclaim all thoughts of violence, expreſſing their hope to receive the remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh from his generoſity, and propoſe various and ſucceſſive qualifications of their demand, till they have reduced it apparently to a quiet acquieſcence in the Treaty, as it now ſtands; apparently, for a very different reſolution may be ſuſpected in the concluding declaration, that if all their propoſitions are rejected, they will diſcharge what is due when they are in caſh, but will defend their rights, if they ſhould be attacked; a mode of expreſſion, which, without much violence on the literal conſtruction, may be taken as an implied, an indirect refuſal to diſcharge it, and a threat of reſiſtance, if it ſhould be reclaimed by force; ſo that the negotiation, when it ſhall have run its round to the point at which it ſet off, will have made an impreſſion in its courſe, which muſt either diſturb the good underſtanding between the Preſidency of Fort Saint George and their Ally, or to efface it, they muſt ſubmit to ſacrifices, which, however juſt in themſelves, would reflect a public diſcredit on their Government.

In this ſtate of the negotiation, the interpoſition of a ſuperior authority appears to be equally ſeaſonable and neceſſary, both to the Preſidency of Fort Saint George, from the difficulty in which it ſeems to have involved them, and to prevent the conſequence which a breach with their Ally would entail on the credit of their faith, and on the general intereſts of the Company.

While the political ſyſtem of the Company's affairs in India is eſpecially and excluſively entruſted to the charge of this Government, it ſeems to follow as a neceſſary rule, that all political negotiations ſhould originate with this Government, and all commiſſions and deputations to foreign States iſſue immediately from it. But the Court of Directors have, in one inſtance, determined otherwiſe. And this Board has already given its conſent to Mr. Hollond's appointment, though under inducements widely different from the circumſtances which have been ſince made the objects of it. It would be therefore improper to withdraw it; and in other reſpects he appears to be well qualified for it.

The deſign of this Minute is ſolely to bring forth a queſtion before the Board, with all the introductory facts which appear neceſſary for the determination of it; namely, "Whether this Board ſhall interfere in the preſent negotiation, or ſtill leave it to the conduct of the Select Committee of Fort Saint George?" The Governor General forbears to offer any opinion on the mode of interference, if any ſhall be judged proper, wiſhing rather to leave this ſubject at large to their deciſion.

Mr. Francis. I think this Board ought to interpoſe its authority to prevent, if poſſible, any further operation of the meaſures taken by the Preſident and Council of Fort Saint George, without our conſent and knowledge, and which evidently tend to a rupture with the Nizam at a very unfavourable point of time, and on the ſlighteſt and moſt unwarrantable pretences.

Mr. Wheler. I am of the ſame opinion.

(Signed) Edwd Wheler.

Mr. Barwell. As this negotiation cannot be effected or concluſive, without the interpoſition of the Governor General and Council, I am of opinion it muſt interfere.

(Signed) Richd Barwell,
Warren Haſtings.

APPENDIX, No. 123.

Extract of Fort William Appendix to Conſultations; dated the 25th October 1779.

Honourable Sir,

I HAVE the honour herewith to tranſmit to you copy of a Letter which I this day addreſſed to the Preſident and Select Committee of Madras. The moſt important information I have been able to obtain ſince my arrival here, is, that the Soubah begins to grow jealous of Hyder Ally's increaſing power; and, in effect, not only the Soubah's ſecurity, but our own, ſeems to render it neceſſary, that a check ſhould be given to the incroachments of that reſtleſs uſurper By the reduction of the Fort of Chittuldungum, I have been informed, that he acquired an acquiſition of Country to the amount of thirty lacks of rupees. He has ſince been employed in the Countries bordering on the Soubah's. He has entirely ſubdued the Cuddapah Country, and poſſeſſed himſelf of a very large ſum in plunder; and has exacted ſums of money from the Cannoul Nabob, and from Bazalet Jung, the Soubah's Brother. How far it may be our intereſt to preſerve Peace at preſent, you are the beſt judge; but Hyder's power, if it is ſuffered to increaſe will certainly become formidable. The Soubah would be glad, I believe, to ſtrengthen himſelf with our alliance; and although he has not yet ſaid a word to me upon this ſubject, I am clear that the buſineſs he deſired me to mention to the Governor of Madras, relates to this object.

Fazel Beg Cawn, who was formerly in our ſervice, during the War with Myſours, and who was afterwards introduced and ſupported by Rukunul Dowla at this Court, is become ſo powerful, that he is no longer controllable by the Soubah. This man, who looks for ſupport to our Nabob, and who has a faction in his favour at this Durbar; and our Nabob, who is jealous of the Soubah, and who conſiders a free communication of ſentiments with this Court, without his intervention, as dangerous to his influence; will both of them exert themſelves to prevent my reſiding here. The Soubah and his ſervants ſeem at preſent, from prejudice, to be diſinclined to it; and himſelf, as well as thoſe of his ſervants who are his friends, and wiſh him well, are full of ſuſpicions; I think it therefore very probable, as ſoon as the negotiations relative to the views he has againſt Hyder, are brought to a concluſion, that he will give me my audience of leave. If you ſhould be of opinion, that my reſiding here can be attended with any advantage to the Company, ſome ſteps that may be conducive towards procuring the Soubah's aſſent, will, no doubt, ſuggeſt themſelves to you. The Soubah conducts his buſineſs in his own perſon; and as I am allowed free conference with him, without the intervention of an interpreter, I can pledge myſelf for a faithful communication of any repreſentations you may have to make to him on the public intereſts.

I am, &c.
John Hollond.

APPENDIX, No. 124.

Extract of Fort William Secret Conſultations; dated the 1ſt November 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident,

Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Edward Wheler, } Eſquires.

Sir Eyre Coote gone to viſit the different ſtations of the Army.

THE following Letter to Nizam Ally Cawn having been prepared by the Governor General, conformable to his Minute of the 25th October, is now laid before the Board, and read:

In the month of February laſt, a Letter was received from the Preſident and Select Committee of Fort Saint George, who had been appointed by the Company to manage and tranſact the political affairs of the Preſidency, under the general controul and direction of this Government, informing us of their intention to depute a public Miniſter to your Court, for the purpoſe of explaining and accommodating ſome ſubjects of diſſatisfaction with your Highneſs, and of confirming the ancient faith and alliance between your Highneſs and the Company; and Mr. Hollond was ſoon after deputed on this ſervice, with inſtructions conformable to thoſe intentions, namely, to give you the ſtrongeſt aſſurances of their deſire to cultivate and preſerve the good underſtanding which had ſo long ſubſiſted between you; to repeat their intention of ſupporting the Treaty of Alliance concluded in 1768; and at the ſame time to expreſs their concern at the arrears of the Peſcuſh, which had been ſuffered to accumulate, and to explain the unavoidable cauſes which had prevented the punctual diſcharge of it.

APPENDIX. No. 124.

He was alſo to make you acquainted with the ſituation of that Preſidency, in regard to the French, which made it expedient for them to enter into a negotiation with Bazalet Jung, on particular points, to which Mr. Hollond was directed to ſolicit your aſſent and concurrence.

Objects of the nature here deſcribed, were ſo deſirable in themſelves, and ſo conformable to our wiſhes, that they could not but meet with our approbation; and we were pleaſed to ſee them undertaken upon principles, which had no other profeſſion, or apparent tendency, than to ſtrengthen and confirm the obligation of a Treaty already concluded, and, of courſe, not requiring any ſpecial authority from this Government.

Mr. Hollond has ſince informed me of his arrival at Hydrabad, of the gracious reception which he had met with from you, and of the particular conferences which he had been admitted to, as late as the end of Auguſt.

From theſe I underſtand, the negotiation had been imperceptibly carried beyond the limits originally preſcribed to it; and that ſome propoſitions had been made to your Highneſs, which you had received as demands, and miſconſtrued them into an intention to depart from the Treaty ſubſiſting between you and the Company, although this Government has received no communication of theſe ſubjects, from that of Fort St. George; yet, as the ſlighteſt cauſes, if ſuffered to operate, often produce the moſt important events; and as it is my wiſh, and equally that of the other Members of this Government, to remove firſt the impreſſion of a miſunderſtanding with your Highneſs, eſpecially on an occaſion which might reflect upon the Engliſh faith, if it were attended with other conſequences; we have therefore judged it incumbent upon us, to interpoſe our authority and mediation, to recall the negotiation, on the part of the Government of Fort Saint George, to the terms of their original inſtructions; and to remove the doubts to which the paſt may have given birth in your breaſt, by informing you, that the Government of Fort Saint George hath never entertained an idea of the intention which ſeems to have been imputed to them; if they had, they would certainly have informed us of it, as ſuch a deſign could not be carried into execution, nor the Company's name pledged to any new engagements, without the knowledge and ſanction of this Government, by the controlling powers which it poſſeſſes over the other eſtabliſhments, of which you were early and formally adviſed, on their firſt inſtitution. And, for the ſame reaſons, we have written to Mr. Hollond, and required him to ſuſpend the buſineſs of his commiſſion, until he ſhall have received further inſtructions from his immediate conſtituents; in conſequence of which, a Letter has been written to them from hence.

After ſuch demonſtrations of the ſincerity of my friendſhip and attachment to your Highneſs, and of the zealous reſpect which this Government maintains to the faith of its Treaties, I ſhall hope to receive as ample and ſatisfactory proofs of your reſolution to maintain the ſame inviolable on your part.

For the reſt, I refer you to Mr. Hollond.

APPENDIX. No. 125.

APPENDIX, No. 125.

APPROVED the foregoing Draft, and ordered, that it be ſent to the Perſian Tranſlator.

The following Letters are accordingly written to Mr. Hollond, and to the Preſident and Select Committee of Fort Saint George.

Sir,

The Governor General having laid before us your Letter of the 3d of September, with the ſeveral Papers encloſed in it, we obſerve, that a line had been preſcribed for your negotiations in the laſt orders which you received to that date, differing very eſſentially from your original inſtructions, and in its conſequence tending to create a rupture with Nizam Ally Cawn: we have therefore deemed it incumbent upon us to endeavour, by a timely interpoſition, to prevent any ſuch miſunderſtanding, for which purpoſe we encloſe a Letter to him from the Governor General, which we deſire you will immediately deliver.

A Tranſlation of it is likewiſe encloſed for your information, and we direct that you ſuſpend your negotiations, until you ſhall receive further orders from the Preſident and Select Committee of Fort St. George, to whom we have written more fully on the ſubject.

We are, &c.

Fort William,
the 1ſt November 1779.

APPENDIX, No. 126.

Gentlemen,

THE Governor General has laid before us a Letter which he has lately received from Mr. Hollond, your Miniſter at the Court of the Nabob Nizam ul Muck, dated the 3d September; which contains matters of ſo great importance to the general intereſts of the Company, as, in our judgment of them, to require our immediate interference.

We impute it to an official omiſſion, that we have never yet received the regular information of Mr. Hollond's appointment, of which the firſt notice was conveyed to us by an early Letter, addreſſed by him to the Governor General, with a copy of his inſtructions. We were indeed adviſed in your Letter to us, of the 7th February laſt, that you had appointed a Miniſter to this Court, for the ſpecial purpoſes of facilitating the acquiſition of the Guntoor Circar, and generally to confirm the Nabob in the intereſt of your Government. Such alſo we underſtand to have been the ſubſtance of your inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, from the Governor General's recollection of them, theſe having been by ſome accident unfortunately miſlaid, with an explanation in addition to them, of the cauſes which had compelled you to withhold the regular payment of the Peſcuſh due to the Nabob by Treaty for the Northern Circars, and a promiſe of diſcharging the arrears, and greater punctuality in the future payment of it.

Such were the original objects of this deputation, and they appeared to us to have been moſt wiſely and ſeaſonably adapted, both to the relation in which we ſtood to the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, and to the general exigencies of our affairs, at a period when, as you very juſtly obſerve, we were engaged in a War, which acquired ſpecial ſanction from the controlling powers which are veſted in this Government; and we patiently waited the iſſue of it, in the perſuaſion that the ſame prudence which planned, would direct the execution of it to the moſt happy termination. We are not ſufficiently acquainted with the progreſs of this buſineſs to diſcover the intermediate cauſes which ſeem imperceptibly to have led the negotiation into a very different channel; but we perceive, by the copies of Mr. Hollond's lateſt correſpondence with you, to the beginning of September, that the firſt objects of it have been totally dropped, and new points introduced, which have given great offence to the Nabob, and have even been conſtrued by him as a reſolution on your part to violate the Treaty ſubſiſting between him and the Company. We allude chiefly to your demand for a remiſſion of the Peſcuſh, which, from the urgent and pointed terms in which it was conveyed, accompanied with a denial of the right on which it was originally founded antecedently to the Treaty, and the affirmation of utter inability to diſcharge either the arrears or current payments of it, and without any compoſition or condition offered to engage his compliance with it, did too ſtrongly warrant the conſtruction which the Nabob appears to have given to it, not as an implied, but decided reſolution, from which you could not afterwards depart without hazarding the imputation of inability to ſupport it. What impreſſion your laſt propoſal may have made upon the mind of the Nabob, we are yet unacquainted with; but if they are communicated to him with the declaration and defiance with which you conclude your inſtructions upon them to Mr. Hollond, we fear they may yet fail of their effect, and the candour which dictated them be miſunderſtood.

Excluſively of any other conſiderations, we ſhould be exceedingly concerned at a rupture grounded on ſuch a plea, as it would ſeverely reflect upon our national faith, and require a long tale, to which the world in ſuch circumſtances never attends, to convince it, that the charge was without foundation.

Neither do we think it prudent in the preſent ſtate of our affairs, to expoſe them to the hazard of a rupture with a power which at any other time we ſhould have held in much lighter eſtimation than we now do, with ſo many weighty concerns upon our hands, which will ill bear this addition to them. In this delicate criſis, we have judged it expedient and incumbent upon us, to interpoſe our mediation and authority, to prevent the conſequences, which appeared to us inevitable to one ſide or other without ſuch an intervention, and we have choſen ſuch means for this purpoſe, as appear to us moſt likely to produce their effect, and at the ſame time to retrieve the credit of your Government without occaſioning any diminution of its influence. We have written a ſhort Letter to Mr. Hollond, in which we have deſired him to ſuſpend this negotiation until he ſhall receive further inſtructions from you; and to the Nabob we have written, though more at large, to the ſame effect: for your information, we tranſmit you an Engliſh copy of this laſt Letter, which will ſufficiently point out the line, which we wiſh to have obſerved in your future inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, and we require your ſtrict conformity to it.

We are, &c.

APPENDIX, No. 127.

Extract of Fort William Secret Conſultations, 17th January 1780.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Sir Eyre Coote abſent on a viſit to the different ſtations of the Army.

READ the following Letters and Encloſure, from Mr. Hollond.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I received your Letter of the 1ſt November, on the 29th of the ſame month; and not having been able to ſee his Highneſs the Soubah on the day following, I delivered it to him on the 1ſt inſtant. His Highneſs expreſſed preſſed very great ſatisfaction on reading it; and I have ſince been waiting his anſwer, which I applied to him for on the 6th inſtant; his Highneſs promiſed to ſend it to me immediately, but not having yet received it, I think it neceſſary to inform you, without further delay, of my having complied with your orders.

Hydrabad, I remain, &c. &c.
December 8, 1779. John Hollond.

APPENDIX, No. 128.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I Herewith tranſmit you his Highneſs the Soubah's Anſwer to the Letter which I had the honour to deliver to him, encloſed to me in yours of the 1ſt November.

Hydrabad, I am, &c. &c.
December 18, 1779. John Hollond.

Copy of a Letter from the Nabob Nizam Ally Khan.

Your gracious Letter under date 25 Shawaul, 6 November, to this purport, that the Governor and Council of Madras had deputed Mr. John Hollond to Hydrabad, to explain to me thoſe points which might tend to ſtrengthening our friendſhip, after having informed you of it, and that whatever that Gentleman has mentioned further than what they may tend to this end, is contrary to the intentions and permiſſion of the Council, that you have therefore directed the Governor and Council of Madras to attend particularly to this matter; and that you have written to Mr. Hollond to put a ſtop to his negotiations till he ſhall receive explicit Letters from Madras, was delivered me by that Gentleman; and from the contents of it, I received great ſatisfaction.

Friendſhip and faith to their Treaties in the Engliſh Company, have been, from the beginning, the admiration of all the rulers, and I, after the concluſion of the Treaty in 1182, from my own experience, found this maxim of the whole world to be true. At the time of your coming to the Government in that quarter, and the ſuperintendence of the affairs of all the Engliſh Settlements, and of your writing to me, that you had learnt from all quarters, and by the actual ſituation of affairs, the firmneſs of our friendſhip: you were made particularly acquainted with the negotiations, which, with the approbation of the Governor and Council of Madras, had been entered upon between the Company and this quarter. I alſo gained information of the ſituation of all matters from Colonel Upton, when on the breaking out of Ragonaut Row's quarrel, with the circar, he came here in his way to Poonah, to ſettle the negotiations between Row Pundit Purdhan Mahdo Row Narrain. But that of late, many evident infringements of the Treaty ſhould have ariſen, is matter of the greateſt aſtoniſhment to any one who reflects on the former alliance and eſtabliſhed cuſtom of the Company.

Whatever I diſcovered on the ſubject of Ragonaut Row, I formerly wrote to you, and now encloſe a copy of it, and you wrote to me in anſwer, that the negotiations and tranſactions of the Engliſh Company were the ſame, and that no alteration or infringement ſhould be ever made in the Treaties entered into by the Governor and Council of Madras; but whatever has happened contrary to this declaration, is of no conſequence to be repeated, ſince Ragonaut Row is now in the ſame ſituation in which he was formerly.

Mr. Hollond, upon his arrival here, requeſted me, contrary to all right, to annul the ſmall Tribute for Rajemundery, and the other circars, for which, formerly, I received from that quarter, lacks of Rupees, the particulars of which I before informed the Company of, in an encloſed paper; and for which, ſince, I have not received altogether, a tenth part of what I formerly did; and the Governor and Council of Madras have, by violence, ſeized the Circar Murtazanagur, which, by the Treaty, belonged to my Brother Ameer ul Omrah, Sujah ul Mulk Bahader, Bazalet Jung. Reflect now, what can be concluded from ſuch conduct, except a breach of the Treaty. I accordingly wrote to you the 2d Rejib, and the 2d Ramzaun, all the particulars, by two Hircarrahs, together with a copy of my former Letter. As your anſwer late arriving, and in the meanwhile the violences of the Governor and Council of Madras increaſed, I was on the eve of revenging them, as was proper: When your Letter arrived, and on the peruſal of the explicit contents of it, I put a ſtop to my preparations. If what you write is from your Heart, and the Governor and Council of Madras will remain ſtrict to the Treaty and Alliance, and give over all further demands to have the Tribute to the circar annulled, and will relinquiſh poſſeſſion of the Circar of Murtazanagur, it is well; if they will not, I have nothing of more conſequence, than the preſerving and defending my Country; and the ſpark of diſpute and enmity will be raiſed to a flame. That I have overlooked and connived at the provocations which have been given me, and which I before informed you of, was owing to my deſire to preſerve the Treaty, not to my inabilities to revenge myſelf. By the bleſſing of God I am prepared, and am in no want of aſſiſtance. The Rulers of Poonah, whoſe dignity and exalted ſtate of power is owing to my protection and aſſiſtance, are attached to me, and would ſupport me to the utmoſt, and Modajee Booſla is my Ally, and is as one with the Rulers of Poonah; and Hyder Naige, who entertains enmity againſt the Engliſh Company, having lately entered into a Treaty with the Poonah Miniſters, agrees with us in all matters.

Do you, who are prudent and foreſeeing, and able to determine on the right Plan, reflect maturely upon theſe circumſtances, and conſider attentively in your mind, that it is from this new line of conduct of the Engliſh Company, that the foundations of enmity have been laid in the whole Country of Indoſtan; and ſhould your views be hoſtile, which appearances ſeem to point out as immediately impending, let not the time be loſt in fruitleſs pretences, but whatever is proper to be written, do you write to the Governor and Council of Madras without delay. Further particulars will be made known to you, by the Letters of Mr. Hollond, who, agreeable to your's, remaining ſilent till the arrival of the explicit directions from Madras.

My views and ſole deſire, which you requeſt of me to write to you, are, that no infringement be made in the Treaties between me and the Company, and that our friendſhip and alliance may remain firm and ſtedfaſt. Knowing my anxiety, write without delay, anſwers to my former and preſent Letters.

A true Copy.
Edward Colebrooke,
P^r^ Tranſlator.

Read another Letter from Mr. Hollond, as follows:

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

His Highneſs, the Soubah, at the time of delivering me the Letter which I had the honour to tranſmit to you on the day I received it, expreſſed himſelf in terms of the greateſt reſpect, and with the higheſt encomiums on the conduct you had obſerved towards him on the preſent occaſion; and added, that from the equity of your proceedings, and the friendly terms of your Letter, he was ſtrongly induced to wiſh you ſucceſs in the meaſures you might determine on, with regard to the Poonah Government, although they ſhould not be entirely conformable to his own wiſhes; he deſired, however, that through me he might, as a friend intereſted in your proſperity, communicate his ſentiments upon the ſubject of the ſyſtem of politics with regard to the Marattas, in which he conſiders you engaged. He began by declaring, if you continued determined to ſupport Ragonaut Row, he ſhould not interfere, nor deem himſelf intereſted in the quarrel; but he ſaid he wiſhed you to conſider how troubleſome an undertaking you would have on your hands; that the Marattas would never venture to face us in a pitched battle, but would employ their numerous bodies of horſe, in ravaging and laying waſte our Country and in cutting off proviſions; and might, by this mode of War, diſtreſs us as much as by obtaining a victory. Moodajee Booſla was now cloſely united with the Poonah Miniſtry, and would take an active part in the War againſt us; that the charge of the War would fall very heavy on the Company, and would neceſſarily be at a great riſk, as our exertions are in favour of a perſon who has neither money or credit to enable him powerfully to co-operate with us: finally, that this very hazardous enterprize was in behalf of one, whoſe treachery and inconſtancy of character was ſuch, as might hereafter bring into danger the advantages we now might hope to reap from our alliance with him. He ſaid, that he was well acquainted with the principle eſtabliſhed among the Engliſh, of granting indefeaſible protection to thoſe who ſought it under their flag; that we therefore never ſhould, in any extremity, be brought to conſent to the delivering Ragonaut Row into the hands of the Poonah Miniſters; that poſſibly there might not be the ſame objection in putting Ragonaut Row under his protection; that by doing ſo, there would be a termination of the preſent troubles; and that Ragonaut Row ſhould have an annual allowance from him, of two or three lacks of Rupees, for his maintenance and ſupport.

APPENDIX. No. 129.

I did not think it neceſſary to give the Soubah my opinion of this propoſition; neither in communicating it, do I wiſh to be underſtood to have entered into his Highneſs's views; but I have deemed it my duty to tranſmit you theſe particulars, as matters of information, from which, poſſibly, ſome hints might be derived.

His Highneſs the Soubah informed me, he had underſtood from the tenor of your Letter, that the negotiation that regarded the Peſcuſh had originated with me, and that I had not been duly authorized by Government to ſpeak to him upon that ſubject. He ſaid, that as you had ſtated the matter in that light, he had neceſſarily taken it upon the ſame ground; that he ſuppoſed, and was fully confident, your reaſon for charging me with acting an unauthorized part, were founded in ſuch conſiderations, regarding the reputation of our Government, as had made it moſt adviſable that this imputation ſhould be thrown on me: and he was pleaſed to add, that not only the knowledge he had of the ſtrict diſcipline obſerved in our Government, but likewiſe the good opinion he had perſonally of me, would not admit of his ſeeing the affair in any other light. It is conformable to his Highneſs's deſire I have ſtated this circumſtance to you.

I remain, &c. &c.

Hydrabad, John Hollond.

December 20, 1779.

Ordered, That the ſubject of the above Letters do lie for conſideration.

Warren Haſtings,
P. Francis,
Edward Wheler.

APPENDIX, No. 129.

Extract of Fort William Secret Conſultations the 14th February 1780.

RECEIVED the following Letter and Encloſures from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George:

Gentlemen,

In your Letter, dated the 4th November (the receipt whereof hath already been acknowledged) you are pleaſed to animadvert on our late proceedings for obtaining a remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh due to our Treaty with Nizam Ally of 1768, for the Northern Circars; and after expreſſing your apprehenſion of their effects at this juncture, when you have ſo many weightier concerns on your hands, you obſerve as follow: "In this delicate criſis, "we have judged it expedient and incumbent upon us "to interpoſe our mediation and authority, and to pre- "vent the conſequences which have appeared to us ine- "vitable on one ſide or other; and we have choſen ſuch "means for this purpoſe, as appear to us moſt likely to "produce their effects: and at the ſame time to re- "trieve the credit of your Government, without occa- "ſioning any diminution of its influence, we have written "a ſhort Letter to Mr. Hollond, in which we have de- "ſired him to ſuſpend his negotiation until he ſhall re- "ceive further inſtructions from you; and to the Nabob "(Nizam Ally) we have written, though more at large, "to the ſame effect. For your information we tranſmit "you an Engliſh copy of this laſt Letter, which will "ſufficiently point out the line which we wiſh to have "obſerved in your future inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, "and we require your ſtrict conformity to it."

Before we proceed in our reply to this Letter, it may be proper to mention, that our Preſident has thought it expedient to enter on the Conſultations a very full and explanatory Minute, compriſing not only the whole tranſactions on which your Letter is grounded, but alſo an extenſive view of the preſent ſituation of affairs. A copy of this Paper we now encloſe, by his deſire, and as the manner in which he has handled the ſubject of the Peſcuſh will leave us but little to ſay in this place, we beg leave to refer to his Minute for a particular and circumſtantial account of our proceedings in that affair.

We confeſs to you, Gentlemen, we felt no ſmall degree of ſurprize to find that our endeavours to eaſe the Company, by friendly and perſuaſive means, of a heavy and diſgraceful burthen, ſhould have fallen in your opinion under the imputation of a breach of faith: we cannot conceive how an application to the Nizam, to ſhew the like favour to the Company on this occaſion that he had done to other tributaries in ſimilar caſes, with an expreſs declaration on our part, that we meant to proſecute our claim upon no other footing than that of a requeſt, which he might grant or refuſe as he thought proper, ſhould have been liable to ſo harſh a conſtruction. But you ſay, that "the urgent and ſpirited terms in which "our demands were conveyed, accompanied by our de- "nial of the right on which it was originally founded, "and the affirmation of utter inability to diſcharge "either the arrears or current payments of the Peſhcuſh, "and without any compoſition or condition offered, to "engage his compliance with it, did too ſtrongly war- "rant the conſtruction which the Nabob appears to have "given it," &c. You will be pleaſed to remember, that in our firſt inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, whereon to ground his application, there was nothing at which the Soubah might reaſonably take offence; on the contrary, when we had ſuch good cauſe of complaint as that which he afforded, by receiving the French Troops under Mr. Lally, into his ſervice, contrary to the Treaty of 1768, we think the ſtyle of our firſt repreſentation erred rather on the ſide of forbearance than of ſpirit. It was the violent manner in which the Soubah thought proper to receive a requeſt, that occaſioned the ſpirited repreſentations made by Mr. Hollond, and our ſubſequent orders to him to addreſs the Nizam in a ſtyle ſuitable to the juſt offence he had given us. When we ſaid, in a former Letter to you, that "we were engaged in a War which "required the exertion of all our force, and the good- "will of every ſtate in alliance with us," we did not mean that the friendſhip of the Indian States ſhould be purchaſed by improper condeſcenſions and ſubmiſſion upon points wherein we had reaſon on our ſide; but that we ſhould not raſhly or unjuſtly provoke their reſentment.

We are extremely concerned that you ſhould have thought it neceſſary to interfere in an affair of this kind; but our feelings are ſtill more affected by the manner in which it has been done. If the credit of this Government were in any ſhape hazarded by an application to the Soubah, which we can by no means believe, the proper way of retrieving it, would have been to have allowed us to withdraw the application; and not by the mode you chuſe to follow, which could poſſibly anſwer no other purpoſe than to degrade our conſequence, and bring us into contempt, where the intereſt of the Company required that we ſhould appear in a reſpectable light.

to

But ſhould it ſeem to the Company, as we are in no doubt it will, that any interference at all, upon this occaſion, was not juſtified by the controlling powers lodged in your Government, then the manner of doing it will appear ſtill more extraordinary and improper. We have heard, and indeed ſeen upon our own records, during the adminiſtration of Mr. Whynch and Lord Pigot, ſome inſtances of claims and even acts of power, exerciſed by your Government, which we could never reconcile to the ideas we entertain of your authority; nevertheleſs, our earneſt deſire to preſerve all poſſible harmony between the two Preſidencies, would have kept us in profound ſilence, had we not been pointedly called upon by an overt act of power, ſo nearly affecting us, to declare our ſentiments on this ſubject.

The clauſe in the Act of Parliament, which forms the ſole groundſ of the controlling powers, is in theſe words: "And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, "that the Governor General and Council, or the major "part of them, ſhall have, and they are hereby autho- "rized to have, the power of ſuperintending and con- "trolling the governments of, and management of, the "Preſidencies of Madras, Bombay, and Bencoolen, ſo "far and in ſo much as that it ſhall not be lawful for any "Preſident and Council of Madras, Bombay, or Bencoolen, "for the time being, to make any orders for com- "mencing hoſtilities, or declaring or making War againſt "any of the Indian Princes or Powers, or for nego- "tiating or concluding any Treaty of Peace or other "Treaty, without the conſent and approbation of the "ſaid Governor General and Council firſt had and ob- "tained, except in ſuch caſes of imminent neceſſity," &c.

This power, as we conceive, is only a negative reſtraining power, confined to two points, orders for declaring War, or for making Treaties, not a poſitive compelling power, extending to all the political affairs of the other Preſidencies; yet you are pleaſed to tell the Nizam, that we had been appointed by the Company to tranſact the political affairs of this Preſidency, under the "general controul and direction of your Government." We know not what effect ſuch a declaration may have produced upon his Excellency; but this is a power, we ourſelves can only admit to be in the Court of Directors, unleſs it ſhall be proved to us by an Act we have not yet ſeen, that it legally appertains to your Government; and in ſuch caſe you may reſt aſſured, even though we have no regular notice of it, that we ſhall be as prompt in our obedience as we are and ſhall be to the powers which are known to us.

The clauſe of the Act was wiſely intended by the Legiſlature to eſtabliſh among all the Preſidencies an uniform ſyſtem with reſpect to their Wars and Treaties; for before that Act paſſed, it had ſometimes happened that one Preſidency was at war againſt a power with whom another Preſidency was under engagements of peace and friendſhip. This abſurdity is remedied by the controlling authority veſted in your Government, which reſtrains the other Preſidencies, under a ſevere penalty, from making War or Treaties without your previous conſent; but in reſpect to all other matters connected with theſe two points, however nearly they may lead to or affect them, the ſeveral Preſidencies are, as we conceive, left preciſely with the ſame powers that they poſſeſſed before the Act took place, that is to ſay, the powers of governing, directing, and managing, according to their own judgment and direction, under the ſole authority of their conſtituents.

The Act of Parliament itſelf; the Commiſſion of Government under which we act; the Orders of the Company; an expreſs Reſolution made by your own Board in 1775 (which our Preſident has quoted in his Minute) and the reaſon of the thing, all combine to ſatisfy us of this truth.

APPENDIX No. 130.

We come now to enquire how far the actual controlling power lodged in your Government, authorized your interference in our late proceedings regarding the Peſhcuſh. Finding ourſelves embarraſſed by this burthen, and unable to make the regular payments to the Nizam, we applied at a juncture that we thought favourable, for a remiſſion of the whole, or any part which he might be inclined to give up; and though we had ſo good a cauſe for delaying, or even withholding altogether, the payment of this Tribute, yet we aſked the remiſſion as a favour; and mentioning with extreme caution and delicacy the juſt ground of complaint which he had given us, by publicly retaining in his ſervice the French Troops under Mr. Lally, contrary to an expreſs article of the Treaty of 1768; but becauſe the Nizam choſe to conſtrue this inoffenſive, and even forbearing conduct on our part, into a deſign of committing hoſtilities, and to expreſs himſelf in a ſtyle which betrayed more weakneſs and folly, than of any purpoſe from which we might apprehend danger, you are pleaſed, without even requiring the leaſt information or explanation from us, to interpoſe your authority (as you term it) by writing at once to the Nizam, and telling him, that we had acted in this caſe without your knowledge or ſanction; and that he was not to regard any thing we had done: this was indeed giving to the Nizam a complete triumph over us: but how was it effected? it was effected, we fear, at the expence of the Company's preſent and future intereſts; it was effected at the expence of that firmneſs, which ought to have been ſhewn in a caſe where the Nizam had infringed an article of a public Treaty; it was effected at the expence of the credit of this Government, becauſe, as we conceive, the point did not come within the extent of your controlling power.

There was no order made or given by us for declaring War againſt the Nizam; we neither made nor gave any order for negotiating or concluding a new Treaty with him; all that we did was, to take advantage of Mr. Hollond's reſidence at the Nizam's Court, to requeſt a favour for the benefit of the Company. The Nizam's compliance would have led to no new Treaty, becauſe we offered nothing to engage it but general expreſſions of friendſhip; but if it had led to a Treaty, there is no reaſon to imagine but that we ſhould have required your conſent in due time, and concluded it in all proper form.

Notwithſtanding the mortification and diſappointment we have ſuffered on this occaſion, ſuch was the reſpect we had for your conſequence, ſo deſirous were we of avoiding, at this time, even an appearance of diſagreement between the two Preſidencies, that upon the receipt of your Letter of the 4th of November, we heſitated not to acquieſce in the part you had taken, ſo far as to write a Letter ourſelves to the Nizam, containing aſſurances of friendſhip and eſteem, and acquainting him we ſhould do all in our power to ſatisfy him in regard to the Peſhcuſh. We have reaſon to believe that the Nizam's reſentment, if he really felt any upon this ſcore, is now at an end; and having ſucceeded ſo well in his firſt appeal from the Acts of this Government, we entertain no doubt that he will riſe in his demands, until every ſource of uneaſineſs and diſcontent, proceeding from your conduct or from ours, be wholly removed.

We are,

Fort St. George, 5th January 1780. Gentlemen, Your moſt obedient humble Servants.

APPENDIX, No. 130.

Minute of the Preſident, delivered in on the 30th December 1779.

THE Letter from the Governor General and Council of

APPENDIX No. 130.

of Bengal, dated the 4th November 1779, gives me no leſs ſurprize than concern; ſurprize, I ſay, becauſe, at a time when we were uſing our utmoſt endeavours to manage the affairs of this Preſidency, and to promote the honourable Company's intereſt committed to our charge, to the beſt advantage, I flattered myſelf, that our conduct had ſome claim to approbation rather than cenſure; and I feel concern, that from the neceſſity of ſelf-defence, I ſhould be forced into an unſeaſonable controverſy with thoſe whom I do not wiſh to have the ſmalleſt appearance of variance with.

The Governor General and Council of Bengal have thought proper, in the moſt public manner, to manifeſt a diſapprobation of our conduct: they tax us with an omiſſion towards them, in not having given them regular intimation of Mr. Hollond's appointment to the Nizam's Court; they cenſure the application we directed Mr. Hollond to make to the Nizam, for a remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh, as a meaſure which tended to produce a rupture with the Nizam; and finally, they have iſſued their orders to this Preſidency, through the channel of a Letter to the Nizam; a copy of which they have ſent us, and require our ſtrict conformity to.

It is my intention to examine minutely, and to anſwer the charges contained in this Letter; but I muſt firſt premiſe, that I think the manner and ſtyle in which it is written, no leſs exceptionable than the matter it contains. The reprehenſion it conveys, I cannot but think an indignity offered to this Preſidency. In caſes where we were ſo unfortunate as to differ in ſentiments from the Governor General and Council, we ſhould receive their opinion and candid advice with pleaſure and due attention, but ſuch dictatorial reprehenſion I think degrading to a Board, veſted with ſo great a ſhare of the adminiſtration of the Company's affairs in India, and cannot fail to leſſen in the opinion of the States we are connected with, and of the world in general, the reſpect they ought to maintain.

In the firſt paragraph of this Letter, the ſubject of their animadverſions is introduced by the mention of a Letter which the Governor General has laid before the Council, received from Mr. Hollond, our Miniſter at the Court of the Nizam, dated the 3d of September; but as the Nizam himſelf wrote to the Governor General, it appears extraordinary that the Nizam's Letter was not alſo ſubmitted to the conſideration of the Council. This Letter would have expreſſed the Nizam's ſentiments more clearly; but it did not anſwer the preſent purpoſe, as it would have ſhewn that his Excellency was exceedingly diſpleaſed with meaſures purſued by the Bengal Government, as ſhall be pointed out hereafter.

As to their complaint of not having received regular information of Mr. Hollond's appointment to the Nizam's Court, I do not comprehend how the Governor General and Council can impute to us an official omiſſion, or indeed an omiſſion at all, when they acknowledge, that in our Letter of the 7th of February laſt, we adviſed them of our having appointed a Miniſter to the Court of the Nizam on ſpecial purpoſes; and in our inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, of the 22d of February, he is particularly directed to convey every neceſſary intelligence to the Governor General and Council of Bengal as well as to us, and to be as early as poſſible in all his communications to both Preſidencies. Mr. Hollond was not deficient in complying, in the moſt ample manner, with this deſire; though the Governor General had unfortunately miſlaid our inſtructions to him. As from thoſe circumſtances it is evident, that in our application to the Nizam, we neither meant to neglect the Council General, nor to take advantage of their want of information of the ſteps we took, I conſider the charge of omiſſion as frivolous, and unworthy of further notice.

But the great object of the Council General's reprehenſion, is the application for remiſſion of the Peſhcuſh, which they alledge as a principal ſource of offence to the Nizam, and tending to bring on a rupture with him. How far he was affected by that application, or irritated by other conſiderations, will appear by the Letter received from Mr. Hollond, and by the following Letter from the Nizam to the Governor General.

Copy of a Letter from his Highneſs the Nabob Nizam ud Dowla, to the Governor General.

" At the time Ragonaut Row ſought for refuge at " Bombay, and the Government there gave him pro- " tection, in conſideration of the Treaty ſubſiſting be- " tween the Company and myſelf, by the means of the " Governor and Council of Madras, I wrote to you, " that beſides many other things, it was mentioned in " that Treaty, that the enemies of the Circar ſhould be " conſidered as the enemies of the Engliſh; that it was " therefore highly improper in the Government of Bom- " bay, to grant protection and aſſiſtance to Ragonaut " Row, whom, conſidering the friendſhip which ſubſiſted " between me and the Row Pundit Pirdhawn Mahadeo " Rownarrain, I could n t but regard as an enemy.

" You, Sir, write me in anſwer to this, that the " actions of the Company were uniform; that there " ſhould be no deviation from any quarter, in the Treaty " between me and the Governor and Council of Madras; " that in the ſame manner as you entertained a friendſhip " for me, you conſidered the Pundit Perdhawn as your " friend; and that it was not your intention to break the " union between you and him, for the ſake of Ragonaut " Row. I conſidered your declarations free from all double- " dealing, and waited to ſee you put your profeſſions into " execution; but every thing that has happened ſince " has been in contradiction to them. To what degree " has not the Government of Bombay given aſſiſtance to " Ragonaut Row? what have they not done for him? " what happened afterwards, is well known. I regarded " the faith of Treaties, and, truſting to your profeſſions, " I declined giving aſſiſtance to the Pundit Perdhawn, " notwithſtanding his ſolicitations, and the friendſhip " which ſubſiſted between us; and before the com- " mencement of hoſtilities, I gave my advice to the " Poonah Miniſters, and prevailed on them to diſmiſs " the French Ambaſſadors, who had come to Poonah " with a deſire of ſettling a Treaty of friendſhip with " the Pundit Perdhawn and the Circar. I paid no re- " gard to the propoſals made to me by them here; yet, " notwithſtanding all this, I underſtand that the Govern- " ment of Bombay have newly taken up the cauſe of " Ragonaut Row, whom they mean again to aſſiſt; and " that he is now at Surat, with the hopes of being pro- " tected by them; and that Colonel Goddard has been " ſent from Calcutta to join the Bombay People, for " this end.

" Beſides this, Mr. Hollond, who has been ſent to me " by the Governor of Madras, amongſt many other " things tending to bring on a rupture betwe n us, has " acquainted me of his being deſirous that I ſhould re- " mit the Peſhcuſh for the Circars; and I find alſo, that " the Governor has intentions of poſſeſſing himſelf of the " Circar of Guntoor, which, by Treaty, is ſettled on my " Brother, Sujah ul Mulk Bahauder Ally. Theſe things " are unprecedented, and contrary to the Treaty, and " muſt be conſtrued into evil deſigns. I have therefore " told Mr. Hollond, that it was plain that ſuch Treat- " ment was founded on hoſtile views. If you are de- " termined, I ſaid to him, to break Treaties, it is well; " you may ſet about it when you pleaſe, and we will go " to war if you think proper: I am ready on my part, " thanks to the Almighty: you have been the firſt to " break the Treaty. Mr. Hollond has informed the Go- " vernor of all this; we ſhall ſee what he writes in an- " ſwer.

" By the bleſſing of God, you are a wiſe and conſi- " derate man, and you ſuperintend all the Settlements of " the Engliſh in this country; I have therefore thought " it neceſſary, above all things, to inform you of theſe " particulars. I will acquaint you what happens next,

" Be

" Pe kind enough to anſwer this Letter ſoon, as I am " anxious to hear from you."

The Nizam, in the foregoing, alludes to a Letter from the Governor General to him, a Copy of which he forwarded to me, and is as follows:

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Haſtings, the Governor General of Bengal, to the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah.

" I have been honoured with your Excellency's " Letter, and underſtand the contents; which have " given me great pleaſure. You therein acquaint me, " that the merchant who went with ſome curioſities " from this, has arrived at your Court; and that you " had given him a full account of the affairs of the " Maratta State, in what manner Ragonaut Row had " entered into engagements with your Excellency, and " afterwards treacherouſly murdered Narrain Row, to poſ- " ſeſs himſelf of the Government; how he entertained " hoſtile intentions againſt your Excellency, but received " a total defeat; that your Excellency had afterwards " entered into new engagements with the Pundit Perd- " hawn. Your Excellency is pleaſed to tell me, in " the ſame Letter, that when Colonel Upton was at " your Court, in his return from Porebendar, after he " had made the Treaty with the Marattas, your Ex- " cellency related to the Colonel the evil deſigns of " Ragonaut Row, and in what manner you ſtood en- " gaged with the Maratta Miniſtry; and ſhewed to the " Colonel the Treaties you had made with the Gover- " nor of Madras. You ſay, that it is mentioned in " that Treaty, that the enemies of the Circar ſhall be " deemed thoſe of the Company, and that thoſe of the " Company ſhall be deemed thoſe of the Circar; that " notwithſtanding this, we had given aſſiſtance to Rago- " naut Row, your enemy; which your Excellency was " at a loſs to account for. Your Excellency ſays, in " the ſame Letter, that if we have any diſagreement " with the Maratta Miniſtry, without the participation " of Ragonaut Row, it matters nothing to your Ex- " cellency; but if it is on his account that we have " quarrelled with the Maratta Miniſtry, your Excel- " lency will be obliged to give them aſſiſtance, as you " have entered into engagements with them, which " you regard as binding; and that you muſt conſider " us as having infringed the Treaty which ſubſiſted be- " tween us. You add, that you have thought it neceſ- " ſary to acquaint me with all the above particulars; " and alſo, that after Colonel Upton left Poonah, a re- " port was ſpread, that Ragonaut Row was preparing to " return to that place; and the Maratta Miniſtry " thought it adviſable to retain the French Vakeel, " who had come to them; for if the Treaty made with " Colonel Upton was adhered to, it was well; but if " there was any infringement on the part of the Engliſh, " an opportunity might offer, in which the retaining " the French Vakeel might be of ſervice to their affairs. " Your Excellency likewiſe mentions, that, notwith- " ſtanding the intentions of the Maratta Miniſtry, as " ſoon as you heard of their keeping a French Vakeel " with them, your Excellency wrote to them, that it " was not proper to keep him, and that accordingly he " was ſhortly ſent away from Poonah. Illuſtrious Sir, " the caſe is this: ſomething more than a twelvemonth " ago, a perſon was ſent, in the quality of Ambaſſador " from the French King to the Maratta Miniſtry at " Poonah, and a friendly connection between them and " the French. About that very time, we received au- " thentic accounts from Europe, that the French King " was ſeeking every means to hurt the Engliſh Nation, " and for this purpoſe has demanded the aſſiſtance of " the Marattas. This was afterwards confirmed, by " our hearing that a Treaty had taken place between " them, by which it was ſtipulated by the French Am- " baſſador, that he would aſſiſt them with a body of " Europeans, and a large quantity of Military Stores.

" After a public Treaty had been made between the " Maratta Government and the Plenipotentiary of the " Engliſh Nation, and every thing had been ſettled " with the conſent of the principal men of the Miniſtry " of Poonah; that the Marattas made a Treaty with the " French, I can give your Excellency the moſt clear " and undoubted proofs. It was not long after, that " we received accounts from Europe, of our Nation " being at War with the French; I then thought it ne- " ceſſary, from the ſituation of affairs, to ſend a force " to Bombay, but not to aſſiſt Ragonaut Row, with " whom this Government has entered into no Treaty. " It was not intended that this force ſhould diſturb or " moleſt the Poonah Miniſters, with whom we were " friends; but it was ſent merely to the aſſiſtance and " protection of Bombay, becauſe we conſider it as the " duty of this Government, to protect all the other Settle- " ments of the Engliſh Nation in Indoſtan; and there " was reaſon to fear, that the French, who are our " public enemies, or the Marattas, would go againſt " that place.

" If it is true, as the report prevails, that it is their " intentions to do ſo, we ſhall, without doubt, exert " our power to take vengeance of them; and the Poo- " nah Miniſters, by declaring themſelves our enemies, " muſt make themſelves the enemies of your Excellency; " and it will be the duty of your Excellency, in conſi- " deration of your Treaty with us, inſtead of joining " with them, to endeavour, as much as in your power, " to diſſuade them from their evil intentions. If, on " the contrary, it is found this report is falſe, and that " the Marattas entertain no bad deſigns, or that they " have relinquiſhed them if ever they had any, we ſhall " never act in any ſhape which may prove detrimental " to their affairs, but even employ our Army to render " them friendly ſervices. In a word, we are the friends, " of the Paſhwa and Miniſters of Poonah, and ſhall ne- " ver deviate from that friendſhip, as long as they ſhall " continue to be our friends. If they declare themſelves " our enemies, we ſhall be under the neceſſity to act as " enemies towards them; your Excellency alſo, in com- " pliance with the Treaty which you quote in your own " Letter, and the conduct you wiſh to hold, will find it " neceſſary to be their friends or enemies, as their " actions deſerve.

" As it is my moſt ſincere wiſh to maintain the friend- " ſhip between us, and adhere firmly to the Treaties " between your Excellency and the Company, I thought " it neceſſary to give your Excellency a full and cir- " cumſtantial account of our reaſons for acting as we " have done; and I entertain not the leaſt doubt, but " your Excellency will, in the ſame manner, act towards " us, in preſerving the friendſhip between us, which " will tend to our mutual advantage. Be pleaſed to " ſend me accounts of your welfare, which at all times " gives me great ſatisfaction. What ſhall I ſay more?"

From the Nizam's Letter, I believe it will appear evident, that the principal cauſe of his diſpleaſure, was the meaſure purſued by the Bengal Government; and that it was not on account only of our application to him, for a remiſſion of the Peſcuſh, that he thought proper to take offence, and to declare intentions ſo hoſtile: it is the ſupport given to Ragonaut Row, and the meaſure purſued with the Marattas, that are the principal objects of his attention; for he writes more at large, and expoſtulates more fully on them. But ſince the Nizam has alſo mentioned, as a cauſe of uneaſineſs, our deſign of poſſeſſing ourſelves of the Guntoor Circar, and our application for the remiſſion of the Peſcuſh, I ſhall enter into a full diſcuſſion of theſe ſubjects. As to many other things which he alludes to, as coming from Mr. Hollond, and tending to bring on a rupture, ſince he has not ſpecified them, and this Government has not the moſt diſtant idea of what he can mean, I ſhall paſs them over, as the mere ſuggeſtions of a mind diſpleaſed, and prone to complain.

APPENDIX. No. 130.

APPENDIX. No. 130.

The Guntoor Circar had long been an object which both the Government of Bengal and Madras thought extremely proper to get poſſeſſion of, even by force of arms, if other methods failed*. But when the preſent War with France broke out, it became abſolutely neceſſary to ſecure it; for ſuch is the ſituation of that Country, that if poſſeſſed by an enemy, it cuts off all communication by land with our other Circars; and at the very time our Troops were before Pondicherry, a French force under M. Lally, in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung, continued for ſome time actually in the Guntoor Circar, uſing every endeavour to form an intereſt, and to cauſe a diverſion of our Troops from before Pondicherry, for the protection of our Northern Settlements. The Port of Mootapillee, in the Guntoor Diſtrict, gave the French an opening into the very heart of the Decan, and would have enabled them not only to diſturb the tranquillity of our poſſeſſion in the Circars, but to renew their old connections, and form ſuch alliances, as gave them heretofore great weight in that part of the Country, and would not fail to do ſo again; for I believe it has been generally allowed, that the withdrawing the French force under Buſſy from the Decan, was one of the moſt impolitic meaſures of General Lally's Government; and that it gave a more fatal ſtab to the intereſt of the French in Indoſtan, than even the reduction of Pondicherry at that time †. Many repreſentations were made by this Government to the Nizam, for the removal of the French Troops from that part of the country, but in vain; no ſatisfaction could be obtained either from the Nizam, or his brother Bazalet Jung; and, ſtrictly ſpeaking, the territory was, by the conduct of the Brothers, forfeited to the Company; for it is expreſsly ſtipulated, that Shuja ul Mulk (Bazalet Jung) was only to enjoy the Circar as a Jagheer during his life, under certain reſtrictions ſpecified in the Treaty with the Nizam, and in caſe of failure in any of thoſe reſtrictions (which has actually happened) the Company were authorized to poſſeſs themſelves of it: but as we found an opening for a negotiation with Bazalet Jung, we embraced this opportunity, and obtained the Circar at rent during his life, on terms advantageous to the Company, and infinitely ſo in point of ſecurity, not only from any attempts from the French, but from the ambitious views, or from the reſtleſs diſpoſition of the neighbouring powers. The policy and utility of this meaſure are ſo evident, that it does not require any further explanation; and as it met, very early, the approval of the Council General, they will not, I ſuppoſe, conſider it as a ſtep that ought in juſtice to have given the Nizam offence, ſeeing the Circar was obtained with the free-will and conſent of Bazalet Jung himſelf, who even firſt made the propoſal of renting it to the Company.

I come now to explain the affair of the Peſcuſh, and our motives for wiſhing to procure its remiſſion, and the ſteps we have taken for that purpoſe in the ſeveral inſtructions given to Mr. Hollond; and, I truſt, it will appear, that we have not endeavoured, by any means, to involve the Company in a War, as the Council General would ſeem to inſinuate.

It has, on the contrary, been the conſtant object of this Government, to preſerve Peace with all but our national enemies. I have ſincerely lamented every ſtep that has been taken to diſturb the tranquillity of any of the Indian States, when ſo fair a proſpect preſented itſelf to the Company, of almoſt unbounded affluence abroad, and of an undiſturbed commerce, to realize at home, for the national benefit, thoſe riches, which a long ſeries of good fortune and ſucceſs had put them in poſſeſſion of.

I hope I ſhall be pardoned for a momentary digreſſion, when I expreſs how much I am grieved on reflecting that the ſcene is changed, and that the Company's well-founded expectations will be turned to diſappointment: and I ſhall take occaſion to obſerve, that although I am not veſted with any ſhare of the ſuperintending and controuling power, delegated by the act of parliament, yet, as a ſervant of the Company, placed by them in a very conſiderable and reſponſible ſtation, I claim the privilege of offering my ſentiments on the preſent poſture of their affairs. It is a duty I owe to them, to employ whatever knowledge or experience I have acquired, either formerly, or ſince my laſt arrival in India, for their information: I ſhall at leaſt derive from my endeavours, the ſatisfaction of ſhewing my zeal for their ſervice, even ſhould I be unfortunately miſtaken in my opinions.

In returning to my ſubject, it will be previouſly neceſſary to take a ſhort view of the ſtate of our finances.

The Northern Circars did not yield the amount of Revenue expected from them. We had flattered ourſelves with an increaſe from that quarter, inſtead of diminution; but the Country had ſuffered from two unfavourable ſeaſons. The Zemindars, from diſputes amongſt themſelves, and miſmanagement, were impoveriſhed; and upon a thorough inveſtigation, were found unable to make good their balances, without the indulgence of time. Upwards of a year's Peſcuſh was due to the Soubah when Pondicherry ſurrendered; and this heavy burthen was accumulated without a proſpect of diſcharging it. Our treaſury was entirely exhauſted with the heavy expences of the ſiege of Pondicherry, the expedition to Mahé, the maintenance of French priſoners, and their neceſſary conveyance from this part of the world, and the great expence of completing the fortifications, which was abſolutely neceſſary to be done without loſs of time, and are now nearly finiſhed. We know not where to look for ſupplies. From Bengal we were told not to expect aſſiſtance. The Nabob, from the decreaſe of his Revenues, his diſtreſſed ſituation on account of debts, and the maintenance of a large family, and other cauſes, unable to furniſh us with more than the ſtipulated ſhare of current charges, and a proportion of his balances. The Raja of Tanjore pleading poverty, and not keeping up the payment of his ſubſidy, but with the utmoſt difficulty, and conſtantly in arrears, either from his own inability to look into his affairs, or from the miſmanagement of his Dewan. This Government, in ſome meaſure, reſtrained from taking a line which might remedy the evil in the Tanjore Country; or at leaſt if they took ſuch a ſtep, they ſubjected themſelves to the uncertainty of having their meaſures approved of at home; add to theſe conſiderations, that the Revenues of this Preſidency, even on a Peace eſtabliſhment, with the preſent increaſed Force, allowing for the civil ſervice and proviſion for inveſtment, will do little more than anſwer our current diſburſements, and leave this Government without a fund for the events of War.

Thus circumſtanced, although on the reduction of Pondicherry the tranquillity of the Carnatic was ſecured for the preſent, by the expulſion of our national enemy; yet as there was a proſpect of the continuance of the War in Europe, the events and conſequences of which were uncertain, it ſtill became neceſſary to provide for future exigencies. The only means we had to effect which, as we could expect no increaſe of income, were not only to endeavour the eſtabliſhing, as much as poſſible, a plan of internal œconomy, but alſo the preventing our Treaſury from being exhauſted by any demand or diſburſements we could avoid. The heavy Tribute of the Peſcuſh came immediately under the latter predicament; and the obtaining its remiſſion from the Nizam, ſeemed the moſt practicable relief that could, in the preſent conjuncture, be applied to our embarraſſed Treaſury. We were accordingly induced to make the trial of effecting it; and we inſtructed Mr. Hollond to uſe his endeavours for that purpoſe, by argument ſupported by the circumſtances of the times, which ſeem to afford a fair opportunity for ſucceſs.

* Vide Letter from Bengal, under date.

† Vide Orme's Hiſtory of Indoſtan, 3d vol.

Indeed

APPENDIX No 130.

Indeed it muſt be apparent that we were unable to pay the Peſcuſh; but in our inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, communicated by him to the Governor General, there is another very forcible reaſon aſſigned, beſides our inability, for withholding it from the Nizam, which I ſhall here mention.

The Treaty of 1768 being concluded with the Nizam only, we have hitherto made all our applications, relative to the Guntoor Circar immediately to him, and conſidered him as reſponſible for the due execution of that part which concerns his Brother. Upon this ground, viewing the conduct of Bazalet Jung in regard to the French Troops, as an infringement of the Treaty, we judged it proper to delay the pavment of the yearly Peſcuſh to the Nizam, until we could obtain ſome ſatisfaction on that head.

The cauſe of the complaint has never been removed; for when by negotiation we had prevailed with Bazalet Jung to diſmiſs the French Troops under Monſieur Lally, they marched immediately towards Hydrabad, and have been continued in the Nizam's ſervice ever ſince, notwithſtanding our remonſtrances; ſo that the Nizam, inſtead of entering into our views of diſmiſſing the French Troops, has encouraged and protected them. Mr. Bellecombe furniſhed Mr. Lally, and many of his officers, with commiſſions in the ſervice of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty; and ſome Letters have been intercepted, which are addreſſed to him as Colonel in the French ſervice, and Commander in Chief of all their Forces in the Decan; and under the Nizam's protection, there is no doubt but that they are at this moment conſidered as maintaining the intereſt of the French in India.

It will be found upon examination, that the Nizam's conduct has been unfavourable to the Engliſh, from the commencement of the meaſures adopted in favour of Ragonaut Row, for he has always been connected with the Poonah Miniſtry, and has generally acted under their influence, but ſtill has ſo far wavered from that connection, through jealouſy of the Engliſh, as to encourage, in ſome degree, the views of Hyder, the moſt formidable rival to both. This is the moſt impolitic meaſure he could follow, for it is plain that Hyder has views of conqueſt Northwards, and would ſoon poſſeſs himſelf of the Decan, were he not to be checked either by the Marattas or Engliſh; the Nizam ſingly being unable to reſiſt him. The following Letters will ſhew the diſpoſition of the Nizam.

Copy of a Letter from Hyder Ally Cawn, to Iſlecher Cawn.

" It has reached my ears that the Nabob Shuja ul " Mulk Bahauder, has given up the Circar of Guntoor " to the Engliſh, with an intention of making an alli" ance with them, and having a body of their Troops " ſtationed with him; ſuch a ſtep could never be dic" tated by prudence or foreſight. In every part through" out Indoſtan, where the Engliſh have eſtabliſhed their " influence, and got a footing under the cover of giv" ing protection and aſſiſtance, experience has ſhewn " what treatment thoſe have met with, who have had " any connection with that Nation. It may be ſeen by " their conduct towards the Nizams of Bengal and " other places, whom they have ſtripped of every thing, " and reduced under their authority. His Excellency, " no doubt, did not attend to all theſe conſiderations, " when he thought of entering into a Treaty with them; " for if he had, it is probable he would not have con" ſented to it. It is my opinion, that the Engliſh ſhould " not be allowed to have a footing in this part of the " Country. Time will ſhew whether any benefit ac" crues from it or not. His Excellency might ſettle " things in ſuch a manner, that he would keep poſſeſſion " of the Circar of Guntoor: this muſt be done by allow" ing the Killedars of my Country to rent that Circar " from him, which would be paid to him in three Kiſts, " by the means of the houſe of Wellap Sundes, the " Soucar; nobody would then dare to attack that " Country. Thanks to heaven my Troops are not few, " and his Excellency would find it more for his advan" tage to apply to me for ſuccour than another. When " once a Treaty takes place between us, no one will " dare to think of diſturbing that Circar. It is in no " ſhape whatever prudent or conſiderate to call the Eng" liſh into that Country. When Hurry Pundit Purkik " came ſome time ago, and diſturbed his Excellency's " territories, I expended lacks for the good of his Ex" cellency, and drove away Hurry Pundit. If I had " not done it at that time, his Excellency would have " been obliged to comply with the exorbitant demands " which he made.

" It is not in my power to conſent to his Excellency's " giving up the Circar of Guntoor to my old and bitter " enemies, for it joins to my country. If the Engliſh " are put in poſſeſſion, his Excellency and I cannot " agree. You, ſir, will explain all this in a proper manner " to his Excellency, and get his leave to come to me, in " order to ſettle this affair.

" What are the Engliſh whoſe name gives ſo much " alarm to the people of this country? How did I en" counter them when I was at War with them! how " often were they defeated by my victorious Troops! " this is well known to every body. Why ſhould they " be ſo much feared, that their protection ſhould be " ſolicited!

" If his Excellency and I are joined we ſhall ſtand in " fear of no one."

Copy of a Letter from the Nizam to Bazalet Jung.

" It has reached my ears, that the people about you " have thought it adviſable to let the Engliſh Com" pany have the renting of the Guntoor Circar from " you, and to have a body of Engliſh Troops placed " with you; this I conſider as no proof of your pru" dence or foreſight. You well know the diſpoſition " of thoſe Europeans, who when they once get any " thing in their poſſeſſion, never part with it, as may " be ſeen from what they have done in Bengal; and " Owde Suja ud Owla, poſſeſſed ſome power while living, " but now the Engliſh authority prevails throughout his " Country, the ſituation his ſons are in is known to all " the world; it is not in their power to recover their " loſt Dominions. Hyder Ally Khan can ſcarce be " conſidered in any light but a Zemindar; he " is not ſecure in his poſſeſſions, for we ſhall be able " to recover when our power increaſes, any Countries " which he now takes; but it is highly improper to " throw ſo much power into the hands of the Europeans: " you have done wrong in following this ſtep, for if " ever you ſhould find it neceſſary to call for my ſup" port, it will not be granted you. I now therefore " write to you to let me know what your intentions " are; if you perſiſt in doing this, you will find the " bad conſequences of it. Give me your anſwer im" mediately."

This recommendation of Hyder by the Nizam, is in expreſs contradiction to the 2d Article of the Treaty of 1768, which ſtipulates that Bazalet Jung ſhall neither keep up nor receive from Hyder Naigue, any Vakeel or Correſpondents, but live in peace and harmony with the Engliſh Company and the Nabob Waulau Jau, and give no protection or aſſiſtance whatever to the ſaid Naigue, or any of his people, nor any other enemies of the Company, or the Nabob Waulau Jau; but if this Article ſhall at any time be infringed, the Company ſhall be at liberty, by virtue of the Treaty, to take poſſeſſion of and keep the Circar of Murtazanagur, in the ſame manner as the other four, and the Nabob Auſuph Jaw engages to aſſiſt them therein with his Troops if neceſſary.

Such is the man we had to deal with; but prompted by the embarraſſment of our finances, and a ſalutary policy to get rid of the burthen of the Peſcuſh, we thought the nature, and I may say unreasonableness, (as I shall now endeavour to shew) of the Pescush itself, afforded us a very just plea to expostulate, and endeavour with the Nizam for a remission, if not of the whole, at least of a part of that burthen.

APPENDIX. No. 130.

When the Treaty was settled with the Nizam in 1776, an army had been formed to the Northward under General Caillaud, to take possession of these Circars, ceded to the Company by the Phirmaund of Shaw Allum: a negotiation took place, in which General Caillaud was employed on the part of the Company, and a Treaty concluded, in which no mention is made of the Mogul's Phirmaund, but the Circars are received as a grant solely from the Nizam, with a Pescush annexed to them. A quit rent, agreeable to the terms of that Treaty might then perhaps be very proper, when we did not think ourselves sufficiently powerful, or from other reasons did not deem it expedient, to claim them, in consequence of the Phirmaund we had received. But when the 2d Treaty of 1768 was entered into, after the War with the Nizam, in consequence of his having joined Hyder, and the former was in no situation to dispute our title to the circars, (as will appear from the first Article of the Treaty, where they are claimed in consequence of the Phirmaund) a Pescush to the Nizam was more than ought to have been granted, for the same Phirmaund that gave the Circars to the Company, gave the Carnatic to the Nabob, free from all Tribute or demands whatever, either for arrears or otherwise. In the Treaty with the Nizam of 1768, the Nabob receives the Carnatic exactly conformable to the tenor of the Phirmaund, but the Company are burthened with an increasing Tribute, and one of the Circars is allowed to remain as a Jaghire with the Nizam's Brother Bazalet Jung. It is very well known, that the Nizam, at the time he made them over to the Company by the first Treaty, received no great benefit from the Circars; the troubles raised by the Zemindars, who all endeavoured to maintain an independency, and the Troops the Nizam was obliged to have on foot, in order to keep these Zemindars in subjection, did not admit of any great surplus Revenue coming into his treasury. Whilst the Tribute or Pescush remained at only two lacks of Rupees per annum, which by the 5th Article of the Treaty of 1768, it did, for the first six years, the burthen was not greatly felt by the Company; but when that Tribute from the year 1774 came to be raised to five lacks of Rupees per annum, and when the Troops, which are necessary to be kept up by the Company, the charges of collections, losses arising from unfavourable seasons, and the failure of many Zemindars, are taken into consideration, the Pescush must evidently appear too great, and its disproportion to the Revenues naturally occasioned the arrears due to the Nizam.

The remission or diminution of those arrears, and of the Tax which caused them, was the object we wished to arrive at, not for the want or desire of bringing on a rupture, but to ease the distresses we labour under; and we endeavoured to attain that end, not by violence or threats, but by representation, and candid rational expostulation, as our several instructions to Mr. Hollond will shew.

Extracts from the Instructions to Mr. Hollond, under date the 11th June 1779.

" We shall now enter with you, upon a subject which " we have much at heart, and which, by its importance, " well merits every attention we can give to it. The " Pescush settled by the Treaty of 1768, to be paid an- " nually to the Soubah, for the Northern Circars, has " always appeared to us, not only a very expensive, but " in some measure a disgraceful charge upon the Com- " pany, considering the free and unconditional grant by " which the Mogul conveyed those provinces to them. " When we reflect on the power of the Company at " that time, and the inability of the Soubah to make " any effectual opposition against it, we cannot but " consider the surrender of their right to hold the Circars " free of all demands whatsoever, by virtue of the Mo- " gul's Phirmaund; the acceptance of Saned for them, " from the Soubah, on condition of paying him a Tri- " bute, nearly equal to what they yielded him; and the " giving up to Bazalet Jung, during his life, one of the " most valuable of those Circars, as very great conces- " sions; any one of which should have been esteemed " sufficient to purchase what the whole only obtained; " we mean the peaceable possessions of the Lands granted " by the Phirmaund.

" If it were thought absolutely necessary to pay any " Tribute to the Soubah, the sum of two lacks of Ru- " pees annually, for the four Circars that we retained, " seems to have been the most reasonable valuation; " and it appears extraordinary to us, that this sum, " which was agreed to be paid for the first six years, " should, by the same Treaty, have been raised, after " that period, to five lacks of Rupees per annum, with- " out the Company's reaping any additional advantage, " to warrant so great an increase. This last sum is, in- " deed, highly exorbitant; and were we even to lay no " stress upon the Mogul's Phirmaund, but attend merely " to the expence and risk of maintaining possession of " the Circars under the Company's authority, we should " deem it unreasonable.

" Seeing then that the Company have, under all " circumstances, made but a disadvantageous bargain " with the Soubah for the Circars: we think it incum- " bent upon us, to embrace the first occasion of re- " lieving them wholly, or in part, from the burthen " they sustain in the payment of the Pescush; and " though we are sensible it must be attended with many " difficulties, we do not entirely despair of success; and " we think the present conjuncture the most favourable " that can happen for the trial.

" We would have you, by degrees, break the sub- " ject to the Soubah; and when you think him suffi- " ciently prepared, we wish you to represent to his " Highness, that although by the Mogul's Phirmaund, " we are entitled to the full and undisturbed possession " of the five Circars therein granted, free of all demands " whatsoever; yet, in consideration of the great respect " which the Company had for his Highness, and their " earnest desire to preserve his friendship and goodwill, " they relinquished, in a great degree, their right under " the Phirmaund, and consented to receive the Circars " as a grant from himself, subject to such stipulations as " have almost annihilated their value: that the very " large concessions made by the Company on that occa- " casion, for the sake of his friendship, must have doubt- " less produced in his Highness the most favourable dis- " position towards them; and upon that presumption " they are led to hope he will re-consider the affair of " the Pescush, and act therein agreeable to the prin- " ciples of reason and equity: that the sum of five lacks of " Rupees, for the circars of Ellore, Rajahmundry, Musta- " phanagur, and Chicacole, is much more than those " provinces can afford, after paying all the charges at- " tending the collections, allowing for the unfavourable " seasons, the failures of Renters and Zemindars, the " expence of Troops, and the general risk of main- " taining those extensive countries against foreign and " domestic troubles; that till within these last two years " we have, by the means of a long uninterrupted peace " and tranquillity, been able to pay his Highness the " amount of the Pescush regularly; but since it was in- " creased from two lacks of Rupees to five, many cir- " cumstances have contributed to render it too burthen- " some for the Company to bear, and have occasioned " their falling into arrears; among these the great ex- " pences of the War with the French, the consequent pro- " vision necessary for the security of the Circars, and the " failures that have lately accrued in the Revenues, may " be mentioned as the most considerable: that the Pes-

" cush

APPENDIX. No. 130.

" cuſh was originally ſettled on the idea of our re" maining in the full and peaceable enjoyment of the " Revenues; and we truſt his Highneſs is too reaſon-
" able to expect from us, at this time of failure and " trouble, what we could ill afford to pay when the " Circars were in profound tranquillity, and the Com" pany in full receipt of every advantage belonging to " them.

" If by theſe, and ſuch other arguments as ſhall
" occur to you, the Soubah can be brought to a favour-
" able diſpoſition, in regard to the Peſcuſh, we wiſh you
" to repreſent to him, how very acceptable a thing it
" would be to the Company, to be relieved of this great
" burthen, how thankful they would be for it, and how " ready, upon all occaſions, to come into the views of " his Highneſs, and to give him the ſtrongeſt marks of " their friendſhip and attachment.

" Although our wiſhes extend to the entire remiſſion
" of the Tribute, which we would have firſt propoſed
" to the Soubah, and ſupported by your beſt endea-
" vours; yet, we confeſs, that without ſomething of " importance to tempt him, we can hardly expect he
" will, at once, be brought to ſo great a conceſſion;
" but we hope, by making the demand at this time,
" that we ſhall the more eaſily obtain what we think we " have a juſt claim to, which is, a conſiderable abate-
" ment in the amount of the Peſcuſh.

" If therefore the Soubah, after all your endeavours,
" ſhould be diſinclined to remit the whole, we would " have you try to bring the Peſcuſh back to the former " ſtandard of two lacks of Rupees, which is as large a
" ſum as the Countries can afford, after the failures,
" loſſes, and charges, they have ſuſtained, and are ſtill
" likely to ſuſtain, during the preſent War; if it be " poſſible alſo to obtain a proportional remiſſion of the " arrears on this account, we ſhould be well pleaſed.

" We have written to the Soubah, as you will ſee in
" the encloſed copy of our Letter, on the ſubject of " the French party under Lally; expreſſing our ſur-
" prize at his entertaining them in his ſervice, and re-
" queſting him to ſend them out of his Dominions; we " deſire you will uſe your endeavours alſo to effect their " removal, ſince we cannot but conſider them now in
" the ſame point of view nearly as when they were em" ployed in the ſervice of Bazalet Jung."

Extract from the Inſtructions to Mr. Holland, of the 10th July 1779.

" The line you have taken, and the firmneſs which " appears to accompany your repreſentations to the " Soubah, are very commendable; and though they
" ſeem for the preſent to have made a ſtrong impreſſion
" on his mind, and to have raiſed a great degree of re-
" ſentment againſt us, we ſtill flatter ourſelves, that in
" the end they will prove ſucceſsful, and obtain for the " Company more than we could have procured by a dif" ferent mode of conduct.

" The effect occaſioned by our firſt demand reſpecting
" the Peſcuſh, is no other than might have been ex" pected. We would have you, however, repreſent to " his Highneſs, that we cannot forbear expreſſing our " concern at the unfavourable interpretation which he
" has put on our deſigns: that the manner in which we " have applied to him for a remiſſion of the Peſcuſh,
" is full of reſpect; and ſo far from denouncing the " ſmalleſt threat againſt him, we wiſh to owe this great
" favour entirely to his generoſity and goodwill, and
" had not the leaſt intention of proſecuting our claim
" upon any other ground; that we appeal to himſelf,
" whether the ſtyle of his anſwer to our demand be ſuch
" as the Company ought in reaſon to have expected
" from a friend and an ally; or whether he has not " given us too much cauſe to charge him with thoſe
" hoſtile intentions which he would fix upon us? That " our claim on the article of the Peſcuſh, has ſuch
" foundation in equity, that we cannot relinquiſh it; and
" we ſtill hope his Highneſs, upon mature reflection,
" will be ſo well convinced of it, as to give the Com" pany a proof of his friendſhip and goodwill, by com-
" plying with their requeſt.

" If it be neceſſary, from the diſpoſition of his Highneſs,
" or from any new circumſtances which we cannot
" foreſee, to vary this repreſentation, you will act ac-
" cordingly as ſhall ſeem to you moſt likely to anſwer
" our views, in which we ſhall now fully and finally
" inſtruct you.

" As we cannot flatter ourſelves that the Soubah will " be brought to remit the Peſcuſh entirely, including
" the arrears that are due, we would have you make " trial of the following Propoſitions, in ſuch order and " manner as you may deem expedient to obtain for the " Company, on this occaſion, the greateſt relief that
" can be procured.

" 1ſt. To offer the whole of the balance payable in " three or four months, on condition that the entire " Tribute be remitted in future.

" 2d. To offer him half of the balance by bills,
" either on Maſulipâtam or the Preſidency, on condition
" that the other half be remitted, and the Peſcuſh in " future fixed at the ſum eſtabliſhed by the Treaty to " be paid for the firſt ſix years, which is the moſt that
" the Company can poſſibly afford to pay by way of " Tribute, even in time of Peace.

" 3d. To offer him the whole of the balance now due
" at two ſtated payments, allowing a reaſonable time,
" on condition that the Tribute in future ſhall be only
" two lacks.

" 4th. To remit the whole of the balance now due,
" on conſideration of our late expences and failure of " Revenue, and on condition of our paying the Peſcuſh
" regularly in future.

" We empower you to ſettle with the Soubah on any
" of the foregoing Propoſitions, confiding in your zeal
" and attention to the intereſts of the Company, from " which we expect to derive every advantage that can " be obtained under the preſent circumſtances; but
" ſhould the Soubah reject all the Propoſitions we have " laid down, you muſt in that event acquaint him, that
" the Company will pay the balance with the current Tri-
" bute, as ſoon as they are in caſh; that they have no de-
" ſign to commit hoſtilities upon him, or infringe any of his
" rights; but that they always will be prepared fully
" and effectually to revenge the leaſt inſult that ſhall be " offered to them.

" We wiſh you to continue your remonſtrances, as " you ſhall ſee occaſion, againſt the conduct of the Sou-
" bah, in entertaining Lally's party contrary to his " engagements. We encloſe you a copy of an inter-
" cepted Letter from an Officer belonging to that party,
" which you will employ according to your diſcretion."

The above Extracts contain fully the ſentiments and intentions of the Committee, and I flatter myſelf will vindicate them from the imputation of any deſign to violate treaties, or bring on a rupture with the Nizam. I cannot diveſt myſelf of the conviction, that our claim for the remiſſion of the Peſcuſh is both reaſonable and expedient in itſelf. The annals of Bengal ſhew, that the entire ſtoppage of a Peſcuſh, though unconditionally to be paid by Treaty *, is not a novel meaſure. Shaw Allum indeed, had no other gaurantee to enſure the regular payment of the Peſcuſh, in return for all the grants he made the Company, but the national faith, which proved then but a ſlender tie.

But the principal objection to the meaſure of the Peſcuſh ſeems to be, that it was undertaken at an improper time; for the Council General do not think it

* Vide agreement between Shaw Allum and the Company, relative to the Tribute to be paid him, dated 16th Auguſt 1765.

APPENDIX. No. 130.

prudent, in the preſent ſtate of our affairs, to expoſe them to the hazard of a rupture with a power, " which " at any other time we ſhould have held in much lighter " eſtimation than we now do, with ſo many weightier " concerns upon our hands, which will ill bear this ad- " dition to them." But who could conceive, that after the credit our arms had obtained in a national War both on this and the Malabar Coaſt, we ſhould be brought to ſo critical a ſituation as to dread the reſentment of the Nizam, whoſe power but a few months ſince was held in ſo light eſtimation: for on an apprehenſion expreſſed by myſelf to the Governor General, that the Nizam might take advantage of the troubles to raiſe diſturbances in the Circars; which was not improbable, when we conſider that Mr. Lally, who commanded the French party, would be ready and deſirous of promoting ſuch a plan) the Governor General expreſſed himſelf in anſwer to my Letter in the following terms: " I am not ſufficiently " apprized of the neceſſity of providing an extraor- " dinary defence for the Circars, having no great opinion " of the power of Nizam Ally, nor apprehenſive of his " making any formidable attempt to wreſt them from " us." I take occaſion to repeat here, that we had ſufficient grounds to withold the Peſcuſh, from the views and conduct of the Nizam, and that it would have been highly impolitic to have furniſhed, if not a declared enemy, at leaſt a very doubtful friend, with money to be employed againſt ourſelves, and that too when we could ſo ill ſpare it. Nothing can point out more ſtrongly the light in which the Nizam ſtood with the Governor General and Council, than the inſtructions given to Mr. Elliot for his negotiations with Moodajee Booſla, wherein it is ſaid, " The Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn has " always been connected with the French, and is now " in cloſe union with the Miniſters at Poonah;" and at the time theſe inſtructions were drawn up, ſo little delicacy was obſerved on the point of national faith, or of furniſhing tales to the world, that one of the conditions on which we were to purchaſe the friendſhip of Moodajee Booſla, was the recovery of the conqueſts which have been made from his Country by Nizam Ally; this was qualified indeed, by directing a reference on the point, if demanded, to the Governor General and Council, unleſs he (Moodajee Booſla) ſhall require it, as an indiſpenſable condition of his forwarding our views in the weſtern part of India.

The powers veſted in Mr. Elliot were diſcretionary and abſolute; and how, in point of national faith, do theſe inſtitutions agree with the firſt article of the Treaty with Nizam in 1766, and confirmed by the Treaty of 1768?

The two contracting parties do, by virtue of this Treaty of honour, alliance, and friendſhip, ſolemnly engage a mutual aſſiſtance, to eſteem the enemies of one the enemies of both, and contrarywiſe, the friends of one the friends of the other. If the former declaration, that the Nizam had always been connected with the French, and was at the time in cloſe union with the Miniſters of Poonah, gave ſufficient authority for the beforementioned article in the inſtructions, in that caſe the withholding the Peſcuſh, even forcibly, would have been full as wiſe, as juſt, and as politic a meaſure, as the attempt to wreſt from the Nizam his former conqueſts.

It is now time to finiſh this ſubject, which I ſhall do by obſerving, that ſince, however, the Governor General and Council thought expedient to interpoſe their authority, and to prevent the ſucceſs we might have reaſonably expected from our endeavours to obtain remiſſion of the Tribute, it would have been proper, in caſe the Soubah ſhould peremptorily inſiſt on immediate payment of the arrears due to him, to have pointed out to us in what manner, or from what funds, we were to ſatisfy him; for they acquaint us, the Treaſury in Bengal is ſo exhauſted, that they cannot afford us the leaſt aſſiſtance: and I cannot help remarking how miſerably injudicious and unfortunate thoſe meaſures muſt have been, which, by exhauſting our Treaſury, alarming every ſeparate State in India, and giving conſequence to the inſignificant, have reduced us, even after important ſucceſſes, to the neceſſity of ſubmitting to a man, whom the Council General themſelves have proved to be ſo much our enemy, and at the ſame time of ſo light eſtimation.

After what has been ſaid, I hope none will think our conduct can rationally be charged with having the ſmalleſt tendency to involve the Company in War, or that there was occaſion for conveying inſtructions to us in trite remarks or ſplendid declamation. I will, however, confeſs the force of what is contained in a paragraph of the Council General's Letter: " the world, on occaſions " of a ſuppoſed breach of national faith, or ruptures " grounded on plans that require a long tale to convince " and vindicate, ſeldom attend to ſuch circumſtances as " may be offered in defence." Nor can this obſervation be more fully verified than it was in the caſe of the Rohilla War, when neither repreſentations, nor the efforts of party, could prevail to wipe off the odium with which it was attended; and perhaps the Maratta War may afford another inſtance for application; but whether it is applicable to our meaſures, the world will judge.

I come now to ſpeak of the laſt paragraph of the Governor General and Council's Letter, and to conſider, whether, in the delicate criſis to which they acknowledge the Company's affairs are brought, they have actually choſen the means that are likely to promote the end they profeſs, which is, to retrieve (as they are pleaſed to expreſs themſelves) the credit of our Government, without occaſioning any diminution of its influence. That the credit this Government have obtained has engaged the attention of that of Bengal, evidently appears. If, as they profeſs, they were anxious to ſupport its influence, when the Governor General laid before the Council the advices received from Mr. Hollond, why, inſtead of immediately addreſſing the Nizam (without having acknowledged the receipt of any Letter from him) did not they adviſe us where they thought we were wrong, or on what points the neceſſity of the times made it prudent for us to alter our meaſures? do not the laſt propoſals contained in our inſtructions of the 10th July, which Mr. Hollond had to offer to the Nizam, leave ſufficient opening for ſuch a conduct on the part of the Governor General and Council, who, by ſo doing, would have continued in our hands the finiſhing the buſineſs which we had begun, and rendered unneceſſary that Letter to the Nizam, which, inſtead of ſupporting the credit and influence of this Government, ſeems only calculated to deſtroy both? Such a mode of proceeding on the part of the Governor General and Council, I muſt obſerve, would have been conſonant to the orders of the Company in their General Letter to Bengal, under date the 5th February 1777, Paragraphs the 20th and 24th.—Par. 20th. " But as you muſt have known that it was not poſſible, at the time of concluding the Treaty with Ragobah, for the country powers to have been apprized of your authority to controul other Preſidencies, in concluding Treaties, or in making Peace and War; or that our Governors and Councils reſpectively were reſtrained from acting independently in thoſe caſes; and as that Treaty had been formerly entered into by an agent from Bengal, and ſolemnly ratified by the Governor and Council, under the ſeal of the Company, we cannot but diſapprove of your mode of interference, by ſending an Ambaſſador directly to Poonah, without firſt conſulting the Governor and Council of Bombay, and of your determination to diſavow and invalidate the Treaty concluded by them, and alſo of your taking ſuch further ſteps as muſt degrade them in the eyes of the Natives, and perhaps make it impoſſible for them hereafter to conduct our affairs on the Malabar Coaſt with honour to themſelves, or advantage to the Company."—Paragraph, graph 24th. "This would have been the preciſe line we wiſh to have drawn; and if on any future occaſion you ſhall think it neceſſary to exerciſe the powers veſted in you by Parliament relative to Peace and War, we direct that you purſue the method adopted, when you thought Colonel Tipton's negotiations at an end; and that you contribute all in your power to preſerve to our reſpective Governors and Councils that conſequence which may enable them, on all occaſions, to promote the intereſts of the Company." Inſtead of following the line here pointed out, the Letter to the Nizam breathes a ſpirit of the controlling powers beyond what is lodged in the Bengal Government: the Act of Parliament plainly points out how far that controlling power exiſts; and this Government, ſo far from diſputing or raiſing doubts on it, are deſirous it ſhould take place in its full force; and they have ever, not only wiſhed to co-operate with the Council General in every point relative to the Company's political intereſts, but to receive their opinions upon ſubjects that do not immediately come under the controlling power, a power they have expreſſed a very juſt idea of themſelves in their Conſultations of the 8th November 1775: "Theſe opinions the Board only offer as mediators voluntarily choſen by the parties themſelves; by the Act of Parliament, the Preſident and Council of Fort Saint George are enjoined to tranſmit to the Governor General and Council advice and intelligence of all tranſactions and matters whatever that ſhall come to their knowledge relating to the Government, Revenues, or Intereſts of the Company; but no power is given to the Governor General and Council to exerciſe any controul or authority over the other Preſidencies in theſe matters, their power being ſolely confined by the Act to Hoſtilities and Treaties, yet this Board are of opinion, that they have a right to expect an implicit deference to be paid to their judgments on the preſent occaſion, not ſought by them, but brought before them in a ſolemn and deliberate Appeal from the Preſidency of Fort Saint George, and the Nabob of the Carnatic."

The remark in the latter part of this Reſolution is certainly juſt; for after a ſolemn and deliberate Appeal to their judgment on any ſubject, though not within their controlling power, they undoubtedly had a right to expect that a deference ſhould be paid to that judgment.

The buſineſs entruſted to Mr. Hollond was entirely a matter of Revenue; had our endeavour ſucceeded by the application he made, the Nizam might have beſtowed the favour on the Company by a Grant, without a formal Treaty; but if it became neceſſary to form a Treaty, and to pledge the Company's name to any new engagement, we ſhould, in due time, have given the Council general notice of every circumſtance neceſſary for their knowledge, and yielded up to them the honour of putting the finiſhing hand to the Treaty.

In this tranſaction we looked only to the credit ariſing from a due conſideration of the Company's intereſts; and in ſo large a field as the Bengal Government have for acquiring reputation by a proper economy, a frugal management of the immenſe treaſures of Bengal, the extenſive line of negotiations entruſted to their care, and a deſire to procure Peace to the Company, and by their weight and influence to preſerve it amongſt the Country Powers: I ſay the ſmall ſhare of honour this Government have within their reach (now that our natural enemies are ſubdued) ought not to have excited either the jealouſy of the Governor General and Council, or their haſty interference in ſo peremptory and impolitic a manner as they have done. We ſhould not have heſitated to follow the meaſures they recommended to us, and had they done it in a manner leſs derogatory to the rank and powers of this Preſidency, it would have carried no leſs weight. But whoever peruſes the Letter to the Nizam, which is pointed out as the guide for our conduct, and the concluding Paragraph of their Letter to us, muſt allow, that the Governor General and Council have choſen an unuſual mode of conveying a Mandate to one of the Company's Preſidencies; and that the Mandate itſelf is a ſtretch of their prerogative. APPENDIX. No. 130

Having now fully replied to every matter on which the Letter from the Governor General and Council of Bengal called upon us for vindication, I ſhall proceed to conſider a ſubject that requires little introduction, as it relates to what has been diſcuſſed in the former part of this Minute; I mean the War with the Marattas; which, although it originated elſewhere, yet, as it is connected with and affects this Preſidency, as well as every other part of India, falls properly within the province of its conſideration. I will venture to ſay, that it is as important and intereſting a War as the Company have ever been engaged in; for it ſeems to ſuſpend every other operation, and has manifeſted to the Country Powers our weakneſs and inability to engage in ſuch extenſive plans of conqueſt. I will view it under the heads of Juſtice, of general Policy, and of temporary Expediency.

In regard to its Juſtice, after the Treaty between Colonel Upton and the Miniſters and Chiefs of Poonah, in 1766, had been notified, there could be no juſt grounds to quarrel with thoſe Miniſters, unleſs they had committed ſome infraction of that Treaty, or had ſhewn decided marks of an inimical diſpoſition towards us, by the actual commitment of hoſtilities, or by a proved combination with our declared enemies. Neither an infringement of their Treaty, nor the commitment of hoſtilities, is imputed to them; but it is alledged that they gave reception to the Chevalier De St. Lubin, who is ſuppoſed to be ſent on the part of the King of France to form a Treaty with the Marattas. In the firſt place, I have no proof that Mr. St. Lubin was an actual Miniſter from the Court of France; at leaſt M. Bellecombe was not acquainted with his having any ſuch commiſſion, for in an intercepted Letter from him, in anſwer to one he had received from the Chevalier, recommending the ſending a Vakeel to Poonah (which would have been unneceſſary if there had been a Miniſter there) he ſays "that in the preſent ſituation of the French affairs, they were not in a condition to conſider of any great enterprize; that the beſt way was to remain quiet; that the ſteps the Engliſh were following would ſufficiently diſguſt the different States in Indoſtan; and that the French might then, at a more convenient juncture, ſtand forth to advantage. We have nothing to do at preſent (ſays he) but to ſtart the game for the Engliſh to purſue." This Letter is in poſſeſſion of Sir Edward Vernon; by ſome miſtake a copy of it was not kept in the Secretary's Office.

It ſeems to me moſt probable that St. Lubin, who is known to be an adventurer, might, from his own ſpeculation, wiſh to take advantages of the ſituation of affairs, and try to promote the intereſt of France by the project of an alliance with the Marattas, which would recommend him to the favour of his Sovereign if he ſucceeded. But on whatever footing he made his propoſals at Poonah, it does not appear that they were accepted, or that any ſteps to our diſadvantage were taken in conſequence of them. Although the Governor General, in his Letter to the Nizam, writes, "That the Marattas made a Treaty "with the French, I can give your Excellency the moſt "clear and undoubted proofs;" yet in the following part of his Letter he departs from this certitude, and expreſſes himſelf in leſs poſitive terms: "If (ſays he) on the con- "trary, it is found that this report is falſe, and the Ma- "rattas entertain no bad deſigns, or that they have relin- "quiſhed them if they ever had any, we ſhall never act "in any ſhape which may prove detrimental to their "affairs, &c." And this uncertainty is alſo expreſſed in the Council General's inſtructions to Mr. Elliot, where it is ſaid, "Or if you are convinced from other circum- "ſtances of the non-exiſtence of the engagements which "we ſuppoſed to have been formed between him (the "Chevalier St. Lubin) and the Miniſters, &c." On the other, the Nizam tells the Governor General, "Before "the commencement of hoſtilities, I gave my advice to "the Poonah Miniſters, and prevailed on them to diſ-

"miſs

APPENDIX. No. 130.

" miſs the French Ambaſſadors, who had come to Poonah " with a deſire of ſettling a Treaty of Friendſhip with the " Pundit Perdhaun and the Circars." And it is well known that Monſieur St. Lubin was obliged to leave Poonah, and retire to a Settlement belonging to the Portugueze. This proceſs conveys no preſumption of the ſuppoſed French Treaty. Indeed it is moſt probable, that the ſucceſs of our Arms againſt the French muſt have have rendered the Poonah Miniſtry very cautious of connecting themſelves with a nation whoſe influence and power ſeemed entirely annihilated in Aſia. The part the Poonah Miniſtry acted confirms this, for they took no ſteps to impede the march of General Goddard. Had they entertained hoſtile intentions towards us, or been diſpoſed to favour the French intereſt, they would have exerted themſelves to prevent the junction of the Bengal detachment with the Forces of the Bombay Preſidency, and in that caſe I do not believe that the detachment, though commanded by a gallant and excellent Officer, could ever have reached Surat, nor would the pretence, or maſk, have availed, that the Bengal Troops were ſent " not to aſſiſt Ragonaut Row, with whom this Govern " ment have entered into no Treaty," not to diſturb or moleſt the Poonah Miniſters with whom we were friends, (as the Governor General writes to the Nizam) " but " merely to the aſſiſtance and protection of Bombay." Had the Poonah Miniſtry been conſcious of deſerving the reſentment of the Engliſh, ſeeing ſuch a military manœuvre, they would have been on their guard, and expected it, and have tried to counteract it; on the contrary, the Marattas ſhewed an extraordinary degree of moderation, to be accounted for only by their deſire of continuing on peaceable terms with the Engliſh: had they entertained views of ſupporting the intereſts of the French, or of leſſening our power and conſequence, they would never have ſuffered the Bombay Army to march back in the manner they did. The Treaty of Tulicanoor will ſhew how humiliating a ſituation the Troops were reduced to: the Marattas dictated their own terms, and though they required the ſurrender of Salſet, and other Diſtricts before granted to the Company, we do not find, by the accounts from Poonah, that they now vigorouſly demand the full execution of the terms of that Treaty, nor would the Governor General and Council be juſtified in ſurrendering up the Countries the Company poſſeſs. But if, as the Marattas give way, we riſe in our demand, and inſiſt on other advantages, and the reimburſement of thoſe expences incurred by a War which they never ſought, and ſeemed inclined to avoid; there is no ſaying to what further lengths the diſpute may extend, nor when we may look for the much to be deſired object, Peace; for as they muſt conſider ſuch a demand as unjuſt to comply with, it will require more than a common degree of reſignation, and a very earneſt deſire on their part to put an end to the troubles which their family diſputes firſt occaſioned, and with which, juſtly ſpeaking, the Engliſh had no reaſon to interfere. There can be no doubt that the Marattas muſt already have ſeverely ſuffered themſelves, from the diſturbances we have raiſed; their Armies have been kept in the field at a conſiderable expence, and they have been obliged to ſuſpend all other operations, and to form alliances, on ſacrificing points they have deemed themſelves entitled to, in order to be guarded againſt our attempts; and it is almoſt certain that they have entered into a Treaty with Hyder Ally, their long avowed and inveterate enemy. Nothing could have brought them to ſuch a meaſure, but the deſpair of being able to effect a perfect reconciliation with the Engliſh.

Thus far the ground of a juſt cauſe of quarrel with the Poonah Miniſtry ſeems untenable: the Company themſelves, however, approve of the meaſure, of ſupporting Ragonaut Row's pretenſions to the Peſhwah of the Maratta States. Although it is recommended, yet it is not poſitively ordered, but left to the diſcretion of the Governor General and Council; in their Letter to Bengal of the 5th of Februrry 1777, they write as follows:

" You cannot but obſerve that we have hitherto ſuppoſed the affairs of Ragobah are rendered deſperate, and that the Miniſters at Poonah maintain their ground, and conſtitute at preſent the Maratta Government; we are nevertheleſs of opinion, that an alliance originally with Ragobah would have been more to the honour and advantage of the Company, and more likely to be laſting, than that concluded at Poonah; his pretenſions to the Supreme Authority, either in his own right, or as Guardian to the infant Peſhwah, appears to us better founded than thoſe of his competitors; and therefore, if the conditions of the Treaty of Poonah have not been ſtrictly fulfilled on the part of the Marattas, and if, from any circumſtances, you ſhall deem it expedient, we ſhall have no objection to an alliance with Ragobah on the terms agreed upon between him and the Governor and Council at Bombay."

If Ragonaut Row's pretenſions to the Supreme Authority are better grounded by conſanguinity than thoſe of his competitors, it is well known he paved the way to theſe pretenſions by the murder of his nephew Narrain Row, which, according to the Chriſtian ideas of juſtice, muſt have greatly weakened, if not altogether cancelled them: if, however, they are ſtill admitted, upon what grounds is the Treaty propoſed with Moodajee Booſla of Berar to be formed, of [illegible] it is ſaid in Mr. Elliot's inſtructions, "that he h[illegible]g pretenſions, if not a legal right, to " Rauje, [illegible]overeign Authority of the Maratta State?"

To conſider the Maratta War in the light of Policy, it is evident that the reſolution of ſupporting Ragobah was founded by the Company to procure an intereſt through him in the Maratta State, that would prevent the eſtabliſhment and encroachment of the French; but if he has no intereſt himſelf there, how can he procure it for us? The Company muſt have believed that ſome part of the Adminiſtration of the Maratta State had made application for our interference, and of courſe that he had a ſtrong party on his ſide. But it ſoon afterwards appeared that no application could have been made by the Miniſtry at Poonah; that our Reſidents there had been egregiouſly deceived; that the Preſidencies of Bengal and Bombay had been originally miſinformed, and through them the Company had been miſled in this matter. For on the march of the Bombay Troops, not one of the Miniſters ſtood forth in the ſupport of Ragonaut Row, not the ſhadow of a party ſeemed formed in his favour; on the contrary, contending intereſt united to oppoſe him as a common enemy. Indeed this appeared plain enough to the Governor General and Council, before the fatal retreat of the Bombay Troops in January laſt; for in the inſtructions to Mr. Elliot, dated the 18th July 1778, it is ſaid, " theſe Miniſters appear to us to have all been united in the reſolution of oppoſing the pretenſions of Ragonaut Row; he has now no party left amongſt the Marattas, with whoſe aid he could venture to aſſert them." And even Moodajee Booſla, who had expreſſed an uncommon eagerneſs for our alliance, although tempted with every offer that could excite either his ambition or revenge, declared, that he could not truſt Ragonaut Row, nor involve himſelf in any deſign to which he was a party. In this ſituation the eſtabliſhing Ragobah at the head of affairs at Poonah by compulſion would require an exertion and force not leſs than ſufficient to ſubject the Maratta Dominions. But this would be a direct deviation from the ſalutary and wiſe plan of policy adopted by the Court of Directors, expreſſed by them in repeated orders, to confine ourſelves to the defence and protection of their preſent poſſeſſions, and not to employ their Forces on diſtant Expeditions, and never to engage the Company in any diſputes between the Country Powers, but to leave theſe Powers to be a check upon one another without our interference. The Court of Directors, therefore, could never mean to involve themſelves in an undertaking of ſuch magnitude, in ſupport of Ragobah.

The

The Maratta, when united under one head, has long been the dread of every State in India; what could be more deſirable than to ſee that Power divided, and ſo waſting its ſtrength in internal quarrels, as to become leſs formidable and dangerous to ourſelves? When they ſhewed no inclination to break with us, and entered into no engagements with our Enemies, I cannot think it conſiſtent with ſound policy in us to follow meaſures that cauſe them to lay their private diſputes aſide, to reunite, and to direct their reſentment againſt us.

If the meaſures we have purſued with the Marattas were, at any other time, leſs improper than in my opinion they are, there are reaſons ſubſiſting that render them at this conjuncture inexpedient, and even inexcuſable. When the Britiſh Nation was involved in a diſtreſsful War, not only with the American Colonies, but with the Powers of Europe, the immovable object of our attention ſhould have been the ſecurity of our Settlements and Poſſeſſions; and the great advantage we had to derive from the expulſion of our national Enemies, was eſtabliſhing Peace with the States of Indoſtan. We ſhould have uſed all our endeavours to convince them that we were ſatisfied with our preſent dominions, and had no idea of increaſing them, nor of extending influence over our neighbours. That ſo far from harbouring deſigns of invading their territories, we wiſhed to ſupport and protect them; and this line of conduct was the more eligible, as, while it ſtrengthened our intereſt, it not only coſt us nothing, but gave us an opportunity of huſbanding our finances, and of providing a Fund for any poſſible exigence; and then if our national Enemies thought proper to invade us, we had reaſon to believe that the neighbouring Powers would be more diſpoſed to ſupport us, than to give them a favourable reception. On the contrary, by intruding ourſelves in the quarrels of the Powers of Indoſtan, we muſt be thought unfriendly, ambitious, and turbulent; and inſtead of making them our Friends, we have rendered them our Enemies. But at this period, the eve of the expiration of the Company's Charter, there was not time for plans, the concluſion and fruits of which muſt be diſtant, and the expence immediate. It was of the utmoſt conſequence to the Company to have a full Treaſury in Bengal, as we cannot tell what their occaſions for Money may be: no Wars ſhould have been engaged in, except what immediate ſelf-defence required; no Expeditions ſet on foot to diminiſh that Fund which had been beforehand collected, and on which it is probable a great dependance had been placed. The Proprietors at home have been reſtricted from increaſing their Dividends, that a Fund might accumulate there for particular purpoſes. A Fund was known to be accumulated in India; perhaps the latter may have been intended for ſome important uſe: what will our Conſtituents think, when they hear that a very conſiderable amount of that Fund has been beforehand diſpoſed of in a fruitleſs Expedition of the Bengal Troops through Indoſtan.

To conclude, I think our meaſures reſpecting the Marattas have been very unjuſt, impolitic, inexpedient, and ruinous: I think an end ſhould be put to the War as ſoon as poſſible. From their backwardneſs to quarrel with us, I hope a reconciliation may yet be effected, and they are the Nation from whoſe alliance we have the moſt advantage to expect, and who are the moſt likely to be a check on thoſe who are hoſtile to us; I ſhall then rejoice to ſee that ſyſtem purſued which will be the moſt conducive to the intereſts of the Company and Nation.

After having thus fully given my ſentiments on the ſeveral points mentioned in a former part of my Minute, whatever may be the opinion of the Committee, however we may feel ourſelves hurt by the proceedings of the Council General relative to our Inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, or whatever proſpects of advantage to the Company we may ſuppoſe are fruſtrated, I ſtrongly recommend that we do not ſuffer any circumſtance to interrupt the harmony that might ſubſiſt between the two Preſidencies. It was with this view that, in conformity to the wiſhes of the Council General, I immediately adopted their ſentiments, and moved in the laſt Committee for the recal of Mr. Hollond, and that a Letter ſhould be wrote to the Nizam, to aſſure him of our firm intentions to preſerve the Friendſhip ſubſiſting between his Highneſs and the Company; that we never entertained any other deſign; and that his ſuppoſing to the contrary muſt have ariſen from ſome miſtake: for whatever our particular ſentiments may be, it is a duty incumbent on us to make the co-operating with the Council General our firſt conſideration, and to adopt every idea of theirs that may lead to Peace, in order to remove, as far as depends on us, every embarraſſment which the late meaſures may have brought on the affairs of the Company. But at the ſame time that I recommend this to the Committee, and mean heartily to join with them in it, it is nevertheleſs my wiſh, that the ſentiments I have expreſſed in this Minute may be known to the Council General and to the Company, by being tranſmitted in our diſpatches to both. To the Company it is no leſs my duty than my inclination to offer my opinion on their affairs in every department of the Service; and by the controlling Power veſted in the Governor General and Council, I am bound to obey their Inſtructions on certain points, and ſhall always, readily and with pleaſure, comply, as far as that Power goes, even to an extreme idea of it: ſtill I claim a right, at the time I receive and put their directions into execution, to ſtate my ſentiments on them to this Committee, and to themſelves, if neceſſary, and to proteſt againſt the conſequences where I apprehend they may be attended with danger or detriment to the true intereſts of the Company. The diſpute with the Marattas is likely ſo materially to affect this Preſidency, as well as other parts of the Company's poſſeſſions, that I ſhould be in ſome degree culpable not to expreſs my ſentiments on it, when drawing to ſuch ſerious lengths.

Since writing the foregoing part of this Minute, I have received a Copy of the Nizam's Letter to the Governor General, in Anſwer to one the Nizam received from him on the ſubject of the Peſhcuſh.—Letter from the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah to the Governor General, Mr. Haſtings:——This Letter is entered in Conſultation the 17th January.

I am apprehenſive from this Letter, that as we give up points, the Nizam will riſe in his demands, and at any rate come to an open rupture with us, in caſe affairs are not accommodated with the Marattas. On that depends the line he will follow, being, notwithſtanding the pompous language he makes uſe of, no further to be conſidered than as an auxiliary, whoſe conſequence will increaſe from our contention with much more powerful States; and ſhould we comply with his requiſition to give up the Guntoor Circar, which we have in the moſt unexceptionable manner obtained on Bazalet Jung's own offer to us, it may be attended with very diſagreeable conſequences. The Governor General and Council ſhould be fully acquainted with the neceſſity there is for our obtaining it; for from its ſituation were that Circar in poſſeſſion of an Enemy, our communication by land will be entirely cut off with the others, and even a part be open to the French, ſhould they make any attempt in that quarter. The Nizam takes no notice of the French Troops in his Service; but it is to be hoped that the Governor General and Council will ſtrengthen our remonſtrance relative to them.

The Nizam in his Letter mentions the Treaty formed between the Marattas and Hyder Ally, which plainly ſhews the combination that has been entered into; and I am apprehenſive, that unleſs Peace takes place with the Miniſters at Poonah, that neither the payment of the Peſhcuſh, nor any other conceſſion on our part, will prevent him from joining to diſtreſs us as much as poſſible.

A true Copy.

(Signed) D. Braine, Sec^r.

APPENDIX. No. 131.

APPENDIX, No. 131.

The Governor General.

I HOPE it will not be thought neceſſary for the Members of this Government, or for myſelf particularly, to engage in a controverſy with the Preſident and Select Committee of Fort Saint George in the juſtification of our meaſures, which they have thought proper to arraign. I hope that the Board will, on this occaſion, alſo join with me in referring theſe extraordinary performances to the conſideration of the Court of Directors, that they may take ſuch meaſures as they in their wiſdom may think neceſſary for preſerving the dignity of this Government from ſuch inſults in future, as can only tend to involve the two Preſidencies in an altercation as dangerous as unbecoming.

The Preſidency of Fort Saint George detains our Recruits under the pretence of ſickneſs; and before the departure of the Ships that brought them to Madras, incorporates them with their own Troops. When we remonſtrate on this proceeding, point out to them the inſufficiency of our European Force for the defence of Bengal, and deſire the Recruits may be ſent to us, they elude our demands; tell us, in very groſs language, that they are entirely on terms of equality with us, and oſtentatiouſly remind us of the honours they have received from the capture of Pondicherry.

When we are obliged, from neceſſity, to interfere in their negotiations with Nizam Ally Cawn, in conſequence of information tranſmitted to us, at their own deſire, by a Miniſter they had deputed to Hydrabad, their Preſident ſends us a long ſtricture of the juſtice and expediency of the Maratta War, with alluſions to the conduct of this Government on points which unhappily were the ſubjects of long contentions between the Members of this Board, obviouſly for the purpoſe of engaging a party in this Board to the attack upon its Authority.

I will not depreciate the ability of the oppoſition which thoſe meaſures have formally received, nor their merits, after ſo long a diſcuſſion as they have already undergone, by making any reply to the objections of Sir Thomas Rumbold. Let them have the full weight they may be thought to deſerve, by thoſe for whoſe peruſal they may be intended.

I propoſe, That the Secretary be ordered to prepare, to be tranſmitted to the Court of Directors, Copies of our Letters to the Preſident and Select Committee of Fort Saint George, and of theirs to us; the Governor General's correſpondence with Nizam Ally Cawn and Mr. Hollond; and our Minutes upon the ſubject of his Negotiation, with a Narrative connecting the different parts of it.

APPENDIX, No. 132.

RESOLVED, That the following Letter be written to Fort Saint George:

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letters of the 31ſt December and 15th ultimo.

We return you thanks for the great readineſs which you have ſhewn to co-operate with us in the proſecution of our meaſures on the other ſide of India, by detaching a reinforcement of your Troops to join General Goddard's Army at Surat, in lieu of thoſe under the command of Colonel Brathwaite, which had been unexpectedly diverted from this Service. We have no doubt that the number you informed us you propoſed to ſend will be fully ſufficient.

We come now to reply to your Letter of the 15th of January. We ſhall not diſpute with you the right of this Government to interfere in ſuch of your political matters as tend to diſturb the peace of India, or Treaties ſubſiſting with other Powers, while you think proper to yield to the exerciſe of it; and hope that we ſhall not be compelled to the diſagreeable neceſſity of enforcing it. One general obſervation, however, we ſhall ſtate in this place on the ſubject of Negotiations, whether of a hoſtile or pacific nature, undertaken by the ſubordinate Preſidencies with any of the Country Powers, without the previous knowledge and conſent of this Government; and we ſtate it, not ſo much with a view to its being applied, as it might be, to the caſe now before us, as to meet the general and dangerous doctrine which we conceive is implied in that paragraph in your Letter, which ends with the following words: "But if it had led to a Treaty, "there is no reaſon to imagine that we ſhould not have "required your conſent in due time, and concluded it in "all proper form."

When all the previous ſteps are once taken, which neceſſarily lead to the concluſion of a Treaty, and which, if not productive of ſuch a concluſion, muſt be deemed nugatory in themſelves, and offenſive to the other contracting Party; the requiſition of our conſent to the Treaty becomes a mere formality, and in effect leaves us no option. If this obſervation be true of negotiations of a pacific nature, it holds much more ſtrongly, and becomes of infinitely greater importance to the common intereſt of the Britiſh Empire in India, when applied to acts done, or declarations made, by the ſubordinate Preſidencies, which, without literally denouncing War, tend directly to provoke it, or to render it inevitable: under the Letter of the Act of Parliament, they are then to defend themſelves againſt hoſtilities which they have themſelves excited, or which they may profeſs to expect. But defence in many caſes ſuppoſes the neceſſity and includes the authority of acting offenſively; and a War may be actually begun before this Government has time to interpoſe. By means ſuch as theſe the Governor General and Council may, in every inſtance, be deprived of the powers veſted in them by Parliament; or, which amounts to the ſame in effect, their advice and conſent may never be deſired, until it muſt arrive too late to prevent the operation of ſteps already taken.

Reſpecting the other ſubjects of your Letter, and the voluminous Minute of your Preſident, as we cannot apply them to any advantage, either of our own meaſures or yours, and as we do not know for what purpoſes they were addreſſed to us, unleſs for that of gratifying a reſentment excited by the part which we have lately taken in your negotiations with Nizam Ally Cawn, a part to which our duty and ſtrong neceſſity impelled us; we ſhall make no reply to them; but if you are ſincere in your profeſſion, of a deſire to avoid every circumſtance which may interrupt the harmony which might ſubſiſt between the two Preſidencies, we hope that you will confine your correſpondence with us to ſuch points only as relate to your own concerns; and reflect, that your cenſures on our acts, as they are irregular and highly unbecoming the relation of your Government to ours, and muſt be in every inſtance liable to erroneous concluſions, whether derived from falſe or defective materials, or from both, as in the inſtance now before us, and cannot fail to recoil upon yourſelves.

We are willing to allow you all the credit which is your due for the proſperous ſtate of your Preſidency; but you muſt leave to us the choice of the meaſures which depend ſolely and excluſively on our Government, and to a higher and competent authority to judge, and to decide on the propriety of thoſe which have a relation to Shaw Allum, the Rohillas, and the Marattas; or any other ſubjects which do not appertain to your authority, and of which you do not poſſeſs any authentic information.

We are, &c.

Read a Letter from the Nabob Nizam Ally, received and entered in the book of Perſian Correſpondence, the 7th inſtant.

From

APPENDIX No. 132.

From the Nabob Nizam Ally Khan.—Received 7th February 1780.

In anſwer to the Letter dated the 25th of Shawaul, 6th November, which was delivered to me on the 22d Zepaida, 2d December, by Mr. Hollond, I wrote on the laſt of the ſame month all the particulars of our friendſhip and alliance, and all circumſtances both good and bad, and made Mr. Hollond acquainted with them, who will alſo have written them to you. Accordingly that Gentleman, in obedience to your commands, put a ſtop to his former negotiation, and remained ſilent in expectation of Letters from Madras; and I, conſidering that you have the ſupreme power over all the Engliſh Settlements, and that your Orders would never be diſobeyed, was certain that the Governor and Council of Madras, from dread of diſobeying your directions, would remain ſtedfaſt in the former conditions. On the 2d Mohirram, 10th January, Mr. Hollond waited upon me, and informed me of his having received Letters of Recal, and preſented me a Karitah, a Copy of which is encloſed, and the Contents of which you will underſtand. I have alſo learned from other quarters, that the Governor and Council of Madras have not aſſented to what you have written, and that they are diſpleaſed with Mr. Hollond for having informed you of the ſituation of affairs after his arrival here. What difficulties did not the Governor and Council of Madras make about ſending Mr. Hollond hither? and at laſt, without my conſent, and even contrary to my intentions, ſent him to remain continually with me: and now that negotiations on many points are depending, they, without giving me information of it, and without any reaſon, recal him. From hence I am certain, that whatever I have heard is true; and if it is true, it is matter of great aſtoniſhment to me; ſince how will theſe negotiations or affairs of ſuch moment be carried on? I was before employed in negotiations on Peace and War with the Governor and Council of Madras, and from the former and preſent Letters in which you frequently wrote to me on the ſituation of the quarter, on your keeping ſtedfaſt to the Treaties and Engagements of the Company, and your having the ſuperintendance of all the Engliſh Settlements, I diſcover that you have really that authority; what power then can the Governor and Council of Madras have to diſſent from what you direct in your Letters, and to be diſpleaſed with Mr. Hollond for having written you the particulars of this quarter? and how can I be ſatisfied in the affair of the Money from the Circars, and in many other matters of which they write? Nor can I know to whom the power of conducting theſe matters is given by the Company; if it depends upon you, and you ſhould be willing to proſecute the negotiations, you ſhould ſend a perſon from your quarter. Whatever way it ſhall appear beſt to you, you muſt reflect on it; ſince it is neceſſary I, after having diſcovered the infringements of the Governor and Council of Madras, which have been particularly explained to you, merely on account of your Letters, delayed the revenging and puniſhing them; for the deſire of my heart is to ſtrengthen the Treaties and to increaſe the intimacy of our connection; but lately many things have happened; and beſides, I cannot be negligent and overlooking in my affairs. It is neceſſary that you write an Anſwer to this before the departure of Mr. Hollond, who is preparing to ſet off for Madras.

I encloſe you my Anſwer to the Letter of the Governor of Madras, the contents of which you will underſtand.

Encloſures in the foregoing.

No. 1.—Copy of a Letter from the Governor of Madras to the Nabob.

What you have ſaid to Mr. Hollond about the Peſhcuſh, has been made known to me by his Letters; and from finding your want of favour towards me, and that your thoughts are directly oppoſite to my intentions, I received great concern; notwithſtanding this, I am ſtill confident that you have no other wiſh but my ſucceſs and proſperity. I have repeatedly informed you, that when I requeſted to have the Peſcuſh remitted, it was for this reaſon, becauſe a firm connection ſubſiſts between you and the Company; and thinking that whenever any difficulties ſhould be made known to you, to have ariſen in ſending the Money, you might, from your favour towards me, attend to my repreſentations. This matter, however, depended entirely upon yourſelf, ſince there is no inſtance in which I have deviated from my reſpect and attention to you, how can it be imagined that I ſhall ſeek for War?

Sir, that you ſhould conceive ſuſpicions of an intention in us, which never entered into our hearts; of us who, till the preſent time, have always remained ſtedfaſt to our treaties and engagements with you, is bringing a great diſgrace upon us. Since you have not approved of the negotiations of Mr. Hollond on the ſubject before written about, it is improper that he remain any longer at your preſence: I have therefore written to Mr. Hollond to come to Madras immediately; and am hopeful that you will give him his diſmiſſion, and favour him with a Raydarry Daſtuck. At preſent there is a ſcarcity of Money in the Company's Treaſury. By the bleſſing of God, I will apply myſelf to the paying of the arrears of the Peſcuſh. My wiſh is, that an intimate connection and ſtrict alliance may be kept up for ever between you and the Company; and I hope that your intentions will tend the ſame way, that ſo neither ſide may receive any injury. Should it be agreeable to you, ſend a perſon in your Service from your preſence to Madras, that whatever he will repreſent from you may give me pleaſure, and remove all miſunderſtandings; and that the friendſhip between you and the Company may daily increaſe. What can I ſay more?

No. 2.—Copy of a Letter from the Nabob to the Governor of Madras.

Mr. Hollond has delivered me your Letter, and I perfectly underſtand the contents; namely, that you have learnt, from the Letters of that Gentleman, that the negotiations about remitting the Peſcuſh of the Circars, which had been undertaken ſolely with a view to increaſe the friendſhip and alliance between me and the Company, had not met with my approbation; and that it gave you great concern; that you are reſolved to maintain, in their full vigour, the Treaties and Engagements, and have no other intention; that as Mr. Hollond can have no further buſineſs here, I ſhould give him his diſmiſſion; that there is a ſcarcity of Money in the Company's Treaſury; but that, by the bleſſing of God, the Money for the Circars ſhall be paid; and that, if it be adviſable, a perſon be ſent from here to Madras, from whom you may learn my ſentiments, and who may remove all miſunderſtandings.

The maintaining and ſupporting the Treaties and Engagements of the Engliſh Company is your deſire; and my attention to Treaties is alſo known to the whole world; and my wiſh is, that both ſides may apply themſelves to ſtrengthen our connection and friendſhip: the fact is, that of the ſmall tribute due from the Engliſh Company for the Circars, the tenth part is not received. If this is alſo wanted to be put off or remitted, the Country cannot be ſupported. Many things which, when requeſted by a Friend, carry the greater obligation with them, in many inſtances, on account of divers reaſons, admit of denials. If it is your deſire that a perſon ſhould be ſent from hence to Madras to ſtrengthen the Treaties and obligations already ſubſiſting, I have no objection; he can be ſent, together with Mr. Hollond; if not, the ſending back that Gentleman will be enough. Knowing me to be firm in my attention to my Treaties, and favourably inclined towards you, by writing me continually the ſtate of your quarter, keep up our connection entire. I have kept Mr. Hollond till I ſhall receive your Anſwer; when it ſhall arrive he will take his leave of me.

APPENDIX, No. 133.

APPENDIX, No. 133.

READ the following Letters and Enclosures from Mr. Hollond:

Honourable Sir,

I had, on the 2d inſtant, the honour of your Letter of the 30th November, and conformably to your requeſt, have enclosed you copies of my Letter on the 23d March and May 9th, together with the Enclosures. My Letter of the 9th May was the firſt I addreſſed to you from Hydrabad, but as that of the 23d March, contained my inſtructions, which you mention to have been miſlaid, I now ſend them both.

I herewith likewiſe encloſe you a copy of a Letter of the 17th December, received from the Governor and Council of Madras, together with the copy of my anſwer to it.

After the declaration contained in the Letter I delivered on my arrival, reſpecting the intentions of the Board, with the Nabob's concurrence, to appoint a perſon to reſide conſtantly at his Court, I was greatly ſurprized at the order I had now received to return to the Preſidency; but I was much more ſo, when I was informed by his Highneſs, that in the Board's Letter to him, they had deſired him to ſend one of his own confidential ſervants to Madras, to confer with them on ſuch matters as he might have to propoſe.

Whether the meaſure which has now been adopted by the Board of Madras has proceeded from want of confidence in my honour or in my abilities, or from diſapprobation of my paſt conduct, or from perſonal reſentment, or, finally, from an opinion, that the affairs they have to treat of are ſuch as ſhould be negotiated by themſelves, I am left uninformed; but as I have not, for good public reaſons, taken a ſingle ſtep in the negotiations ſince the date of thoſe Letters from the Governor ſeparately, and the Governor and Council jointly, in which they expreſſed their cordial approbation of my conduct; and further, as I have not been favoured on this occaſion, as uſual, with a ſeparate Letter from the Governor, nor even with an official copy of the Letter to the Nabob; I am led to conclude that the Governor is perſonally diſſatisfied with me; for what reaſon I cannot tell, unleſs it be your interpoſition in the affair lately under negotiation, ſtrengthened, probably, by the endeavours of the Nabob Mahummud Ally and Fazel Beg. With reſpect to theſe two perſons, I mentioned in the beginning my ſuſpicion of the oppoſition the propoſed reſidence would meet from both of them; and I muſt be very much miſtaken, if they have left any means unemployed to effect my removal from a ſituation which they muſt neceſſarily have apprehended to be ſo pregnant with miſchiefs to themſelves; to the former, as it would leſſen his importance by opening an independent channel of intelligence, and would ruin his intrigues, and annihilate his wild ambitious views, by giving us the opportunity of eſtabliſhing a cordial intercourſe with the Soubah, and of obtaining a more complete inſight into the politics of the country; to the latter, as it would appear to endanger his uſurped independence, fortune, and life.

Whether or not it be in the courſe of events, that the reſtleſs activity of politics and war muſt neceſſarily be directed next againſt the Nabob's country; or whether it be moſt adviſable, on a general view of affairs, to draw cloſe, and enter into a firm, cordial, and permanent union with him, I do not pretend to underſtand; but with reſpect to the Nabob's diſpoſitions, I believe I can anſwer for it, that he is heartily inclined to meet us.

Upon my delivering to the Nabob, on the 10th, the Governor's Letter, he obſerved to me, That upon the ground of what he had thrown out in the firſt conference, he had expected that the Company's intereſt would have led the Board to take the preſent ſituation of affairs into their ſerious conſideration; and that I ſhould have been authorized to treat with him upon the ſubject of an alliance againſt the alarming growth of power in Hyder Ally; but that inſtead of this, a great deal of time had been taken up in diſputes regarding the fulfilling the terms of an eſtabliſhed Treaty; that his mind had been held in ſuſpence during the interval, and although he had felt great ſatisfaction from the receipt of your Letter, he was ſtill at a loſs to know what were the intentions of the Madras Board: that there was now poſſibly but a ſhort time left for deliberation, and a little ſpace might produce great events: that Hyder Ally was a pupil of ours in the art of war, and had made great progreſs in the European forms of diſcipline: that he had a large treaſury and army: that the Marattas, between whom and us hoſtilities had already commenced, had been very buſy lately in negotiating with him: that they have agreed to make a formal ceſſion of certain countries in diſpute, which he had ſeized during the family quarrels; and further, to leſſen the amount of their claim of Chout, on condition of his invading the Carnatic and Circars; that a plan of operations had accordingly been formed: that Hyder's ſon, Teepoo, had charge of over-running and ravaging the Carnatic: that Meer Hyder's brother in-law and Governor of Cuddapah, had the ſame buſineſs in charge with reſpect to the Circars: that Hyder himſelf, with the main of his army, intended to enter the Carnatic to ſupport his ſon: that the internal family diſputes which had for a long time prevailed among the Marattas, were in part made up, and in part cruſhed by the ſeizure and impriſonment of ſome of the diſcontented Chiefs: that 25,000 horſe had already been ſent towards Surat, to engage or haraſs Colonel Goddard's army; that 15,000 more were ſoon to follow: that Moodajee Booſla's army, under the command of his ſon, was on the point of ſetting out, to go by the way of Mahoor towards the Bengal provinces, to ravage and lay waſte thoſe countries; and that the Poonah Chiefs were likewiſe ſending an army to Bengal for the ſame purpoſe. He concluded with ſaying, he had himſelf been reſtrained from taking any decided part in thoſe general commotions, from a ſteady regard to the obligations of the Treaty ſubſiſting between him and the Company, and from the hope that their mutual friendſhip would continue firm and unſhaken. As he is not clearly acquainted with the nature of our complicated Government, he does not appear to be at a certainty with reſpect to our intentions, regarding the payment of the peſhcuſh; and the calling me away ſo ſuddenly on the preſent occaſion, has, I believe, contributed to increaſe his perplexity. He has informed me, that he ſhall immediately write to Madras, and if the Board continue to deſire it, he ſhall ſend a perſon to them conformably to their deſire, but that he has no buſineſs to give him in charge other than he has declared to me, and that previous to his departure he ſhall require ſome explicit and ſatisfactory declaration regarding the payment of the peſhcuſh. He ſaid, he thought that an alliance againſt Hyder would be advantageous to both parties: that he was well acquainted both with our ſtrength and our weakneſs: that without horſe, ſupplies of grain, treaſury, bullocks, &c. we might be ruined without having the opportunity of bringing our enemy to an engagement: that, independent of his own force, his influence over the Marattas was conſiderable, particularly over the Berar Rajah, who would not, contrary to his declared inclinations, venture to go upon any expedition that carried him far from home. This was, he ſaid, the ſum of what he had to communicate to me, and had alluded to in our conference at the firſt meeting; that none of his ſervants were now preſent, and that he had choſen to be alone with me, purpoſely to have the opportunity of talking to me in private, and of hearing from me what were the real intentions of our Government, in regard to an alliance ſo beneficial, as he conceived, to both parties.

How far the above declarations may merit belief or conſideration, is ſubmitted, with deference, to your ſuperior judgment and great experience; they came from an intereſted, and conſequently from a ſuſpected quarter. The communication of them however may at leaſt be uſeful, adding new materials to a body of other more important informations, and as ſuch, they may poſſibly aſſiſt you in forming general concluſions regarding the extenſive and important intereſts that are now embraced in the Company's ſyſtem, and poſſibly at this juncture of ſuſpence. The watchful jealouſy of a deſpotic Government renders it exceeding difficult to diſcover, and far more to have any intercourſe, with perſons capable of giving true intelligence; and I cannot but lament, in this reſpect, the reſtraint I have been under.

I was informed on the 8th inſtant, that Lally had gone off with the whole of his party to join Hyder, who had previouſly ſent him, as is reported, a ſum of money to engage him in his ſervice.

If my removal from Hydrabad hath, as I have reaſon to ſuppoſe, been occaſioned by your interpoſition, founded on information received from me regarding the affairs that were in agitation at this Court, it will nevertheleſs at the ſame time appear, that in the communications I have made to you, I have acted only in purſuance of the public orders received from the Governor and Council of Madras. My ſituation has been ſingular: no leſs ſingular is the ſituation of the Nabob Subahdar Nizam, who has affairs of conſequence to negotiate, and does not know which way to turn, or to whom the Company have delegated their authority.

Previous to my taking leave of the Nabob, I ſhall not fail to execute the orders contained in your Letter of the 30th November, in regard to the Treaty with Bazalet Jung. Although it was abſolutely neceſſary to take ſome immediate ſteps for the removal of the party under M. Lally, yet it will be difficult if not impoſſible to make the Nabob eaſy upon this head. He perceives, and perhaps upon juſt grounds, that his brother will become abſolutely independent of him from the inſtant our troops reach Adoni, from whence he thinks they never will be recalled. He even apprehends, from the alliance we have formed with his brother, miſchief much more alarming. The brothers in the deſpotic Government of India are all pretenders to Mumud, deſpotiſm being only ſupported by the attachment of a few of the great military ſervants of the Prince, and by their envy and mutual ſuſpicions of each other, there is foundation for jealouſy; and Bazalet Jung being a Prince of the governing family, the Nabob will never be eaſy whilſt our troops remain with him. A proper proviſion or jaghire and perſonal ſecurity may be guaranteed to him, but as long as a party continue with him it will be difficult either to ſatisfy the Nabob's pride or remove his ſuſpicions. Hyder is no leſs jealous of our getting footing in Adoni, having marked that country as a quarry for the firſt favourable opportunity, and being ſenſible that Bazalet Jung cannot be attacked through us without manifeſt diſgrace to the Engliſh name, and conſequently not without a certain rupture with us. The Nabob conſiders his brother as a rebellious vaſſal, whoſe country he could eaſily take poſſeſſion of if it were not for the certain conſequence, which he clearly foreſees, of his brother taking refuge with Hyder, who by having a ſon of Nizam ul Mulk, a pretender to the Government, under his protection, would thereby acquire ſo great an additional weight of credit and conſequence, as might lead him, under pretext of ſupporting Bazalet Jung, to invade the Nabob's own country: ſuch an event might be the conſequence, if Bazalet Jung were driven by the Nabob into Hyder's hands. Hyder has already given out his having ſolicited from the king a Phirmaund for the Decan. He is ſuppoſed to have accumulated a very large treaſury from the countries of the Zemindars, under the Myſore dependency, and from other petty and unconnected and unprotected Rajahs. I need not mention to you who are ſo well acquainted with his hiſtory, that he is thought to be a very able ſoldier, and a man of a reſtleſs, aſpiring, and vigorous character. The Marattas are certainly afraid of him, and he is perhaps pretty nearly a match for them and the Nabob united. His Highneſs aſſures me, that before an anſwer to his Letter can come from Bengal, I ſhall hear of Hyder's having attacked ſome one of the countries dependent on the Carnatic. Of the probability of this you may be able to judge by the advices you may have received from Madras.

As I conſider my character to be in danger of ſuffering by the meaſure adopted by the Madras Board, I hope I ſhall be juſtified in recommending to your particular attention, my having kept up the negotiation in a tone beyond the extent of my orders, by having adhered rigidly to my firſt propoſition, although I was fully authorized to offer others more favourable. The deſire of obtaining the beſt terms poſſible for the Company, would have been a ſufficient inducement to me to have done this, had there been no other motive, but I had others alſo for wiſhing to avoid making any further propoſitions.

On reading over my Inſtructions, you will not fail to obſerve, how evidently the declarations which I was therein directed to make to the Nabob, differ from the requeſts that followed ſo ſhortly after. I muſt ſay that I wholly diſapproved of them, not only as being contrary to the obligations of the Treaty, but as coming forth at a wrong period; declarations ſo directly contrary to them having ſo recently been made. The juncture likewiſe was critical, there being other important buſineſs already on our hands, and no certainty of our being ſecure from another conteſt with the French, in alliance with Hyder. Requeſts of this kind proceeding from a power jealous of the dignity and independence of Government, are in reality demands, and muſt ever be conſidered as ſuch. The Company could not receive a refuſal, and exhibit afterwards to this country the ſpectacle of a forced compliance: the Governor and Council poſſibly may not have adverted to this conſequence; and I, perhaps upon falſe principles, implicitly obeyed my orders, fearing, if I had made any repreſentations on the occaſion, that I might have been thought wanting in zeal, and diſinclined to undertake a difficult negotiation. I ſhould have been exceedingly unwilling however, without poſitive orders, to have proceeded beyond the firſt propoſition, not only for the reaſons I gave to the Madras Board, but becauſe I thought the object was not, if obtained, of ſo important a nature as to compenſate in a political view (if any conſiderations excepting thoſe of ſelf-preſervation may be allowed to compenſate) the ill conſequences reſulting from the violation of a Treaty; and becauſe further, I thought it probable the Nabob would have immediately rejected the other propoſitions, as conſidering that he would have been poſſeſſed of no better ſecurity for the performance of the ſecond engagement, than of the former one.

The approbation of my conduct, which you have been pleaſed to expreſs in your Letter of the 30th November, I ſhall always conſider as a very particular honour.

I am, &c.

Hydrabad, January 16, 1780. (Signed) John Hollond.

P. S. I obſerve that in the body of the above Letter, I have only alluded to the reaſons that induced me to ſuſpend the negotiation, without reciting them: they will appear by a peruſal of the following extracts, from a Letter I wrote to the Governor, dated November 14th.

"As the negotiations at Poonah hold the Soubah ſor the preſent in ſuſpence, I judge it wholly unneceſſary to apply to him again upon the ſubject of the Peſcuſh, until they ſhall have been brought to a determination; for this reaſon I have not ſpoken to his Highneſs relative to that point ſince I had the honour to addreſs the Board, under date the 31ſt Auguſt."

APPENDIX. No. 134.

Again in the ſame Letter:

" I am waiting in impatient expectation of the arrival of the Europe ſhips, which, I ſhould imagine, would have a good effect upon the negotiations at Poonah; and by bringing them to a ſpeedy concluſion, enable me to make another trial in regard to the affair of the Peſcuſh."

I am juſt informed from Madras, that the Nymph frigate arrived there on the 1ſt inſtant; that a month before ſhe had left Sir Edward Hughes, and the Indiamen, off St. Paul's; that Sir Edward had not ſent back any of his ſhips, and that they were all expected to arrive in a few days.

I am alſo informed from Madras, that the Nayers, at Hyder Ally's inſtigation, had inveſted Tellicherry; that the Madras detachment, after having been embarked to join General Goddard, have been relanded for the defence of that place: that the Nayers had attacked an advanced battery, and had ſtood the fire of our Sepoys with great firmneſs, but had at length been compelled to retire.

APPENDIX, No. 134.

THE Board, conſidering the neceſſity of appointing a perſon to reſide as their public Miniſter at the Court of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, and that Mr. Hollond's ſudden recall from Hydrabad would have too viſible an appearance of a diſunion between this Government and that of Fort Saint George;

Reſolved, That an application be made to the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort St. George, for their permiſſion, to appoint Mr. Hollond to reſide as public Miniſter on the part of this Government at the Court of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, for the purpoſe of negotiating ſuch matters as remain to be adjuſted with him.

Reſolved, That Mr. Hollond be furniſhed with credentials for that purpoſe, and directed to remain there in conſequence, until a reply from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort St. George be received to the preſent application.

Reſolved, That the following Letter be written to the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George:

Gentlemen,

The Governor General has received a Letter from Nizam Ally Cawn, with a copy of your Preſident's Letter to him, notifying the recall of Mr. Hollond. We are ſorry to perceive that the ſuddenneſs of the reſolution, and the abrupt manner in which it has been conveyed to Nizam Ally Cawn, have contributed to excite inſtead of allaying his ſuſpicions. For this reaſon, and becauſe he has deſired that we will ſupply the place of Mr. Hollond by a ſimilar appointment from this Government; which, inſtantly following his recall, would have too viſible an appearance of a diſunion between your Government and ours; we requeſt that you will permit that Gentleman to remain in the quality of our Miniſter at the Court of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, for the purpoſe of negotiating ſuch points as remain to be adjuſted between us. For this end we have granted him our credentials, and deſired him to continue in that ſtation, until we ſhall have been informed of your ſentiments and reſolution reſpecting the preſent propoſal.

We are, &c.

Reſolved, That the following Letter be written to Mr. Hollond:

Sir,

The Governor General has laid before us your Letter to him, dated the 16th ultimo, with the different Enclo-ſures which accompanied it; he has likewiſe received a Letter from the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, tranſmitting a copy of one addreſſed to him by the Preſident at Fort St. George, and of the reply which he ſent to it.

We are concerned to find that the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George have ſo ſuddenly reſolved upon your recall from Hydrabad, and that they have notified this intention in ſuch an abrupt manner to Nizam Ally Cawn, as to ſtrengthen the belief which he had previouſly adopted of their unfriendly diſpoſition towards him. In his Letter to the Governor General, he expreſſes his diſſatisfaction with their conduct, and requeſts that a perſon may be ſent from this quarter to ſupply your place, and to proſecute the negotiations which you had commenced. We find ourſelves inclined, for many reaſons, to comply with this application; but as an appointment from hence inſtantly following your recall, would carry too ſtrong an appearance of diſunion between the two Preſidencies, we are induced to ſend a commiſſion in your name, and to write to the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort St. George, for their permiſſion to appoint you to reſide as our public Miniſter at the Court of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn: in the meantime, we deſire you to remain there in that capacity.

Although you are a ſervant of the Company belonging to another Preſidency, and therefore not dependent on our authority, yet we deem it ſo eſſential to the general intereſts of the Britiſh Empire in India, that an Engliſh Reſident ſhould be ſtationed at this juncture with Nizam Ally, that we enjoin you to remain at Hydrabad in that quality, as you ſhall anſwer for the conſequences of your departure to the Court of Directors. We are thus pointed in our injunctions, becauſe the order for your recall may be repeated before the Preſident and Select Committee are in poſſeſſion of our Letter to them, requeſting that you may be allowed to continue; and becauſe, in caſe of their refuſing their conſent to this requeſt, it may be proper for us to depute a perſon from hence to ſucceed you, before you can relinquiſh your ſtation with ſafety to the Company's intereſt, with which you are thus entruſted.

Several additional motives weigh with us in conferring this appointment upon you.

1ſt. Our deſire to manifeſt to Nizam Ally Cawn and to the other powers of the country, that a ſtrict unity of principles and meaſures ſubſiſts between the Company's Preſidencies, which we think will be apparent from the mutual ſelection of the ſame agent, to negotiate the affairs of Bengal and Madras.

2dly. Becauſe the Preſident and Select Committee of Fort Saint George having made choice of you, and furniſhed you with particular inſtructions, ſuited to their own ſituation and circumſtances, you will be better acquainted with the relation in which they ſtand to the Nabob, and of courſe more likely to attend to the general and combined intereſts of both Preſidencies, ſince theirs is the moſt immediately concerned, than a perſon deputed immediately from Bengal.

3dly. Becauſe we obſerve, that ſuch negotiations as have been already intruſted to your management, have been conducted with temper and ability; and your experience of the Nabob's character, added to the confidence which he appears to place in you, will be more likely to enable you to ſecure his attachment, and to carry many points, than a mere ſtranger.

Encloſed you will receive proper credentials from us, which you may produce to the Nabob.

We think it ſufficient for the preſent, to refer you to the original inſtructions which you received from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George, and to confine your negotiations to the different objects therein recited. We alſo deſire that you will repreſent to the Nabob, the ſole end for which we have appointed you, in compliance with his requeſt, to be the earneſt deſire which we have to give him every proof of our amity and inclination to cement the good underſtanding which ſubſiſts between us. You will endeavour to ſatisfy

ſatisfy him, with the ſtrongeſt aſſurances, that nothing adverſe or hoſtile is intended towards him, by either of the Company's Preſidencies; but that, on the contrary, if he has any thing to propoſe, which ſhall tend to make our alliance more cloſe, confidential, and permanent, and to render the terms of the preſent Treaty reciprocally more binding and effectual, we ſhall readily liſten to them; and we hereby empower you to receive his overtures for that purpoſe.

The Governor General has written an anſwer to his Letter, which, together with the Engliſh draft, we herewith encloſe.

We are, &c.

P. S. Encloſed is a Letter to the Nabob Nizam Ally, which you will be pleaſed to forward to him in the moſt expeditious manner.

To Mr. John Hollond.

Whereas it has been judged proper to appoint a Miniſter, on the part of this Government, to the Court of the Nabob Nizam Ally Khan, to treat with his Highneſs: We the Governor General and Council, in virtue of the powers veſted in us by the King and Parliament of Great Britain, and by the Eaſt India Company, to direct and controul the political affairs of all the Company's ſettlements in India, relying on your fidelity, prudence, and integrity, have appointed you our public Miniſter, to remain at Hydrabad, or ſuch other place where the Nabob may reſide, and to treat with him upon all ſuch matters as are or ſhall be given you in charge by us. And we hereby give you full powers to that effect, declaring, that we will ratify and confirm whatever engagements you ſhall accept or conclude with the Nabob in our names, and on our behalf, according to the inſtructions with which we have or ſhall furniſh you for that purpoſe.

Given under our hands, and the ſeal of the Company, in Fort William, this 17th day of February 1780, or 11th Suffer 1194 Hegira.

Agreed, That the Governor General be requeſted to write a Letter to the Nabob Nizam Ally, in reply to that which he has received from him, and acquainting him with the credentials given to Mr. Hollond.

To the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, acknowledging the receipt of his Letter.

It is with great concern I obſerve that you attribute the recall of Mr. Hollond, by the Governor and Council of Fort Saint George, to an unfriendly diſpoſition towards you, when I really believe that the Preſident and Council of Fort Saint George are ſincere in their promiſe to abide by the terms of their Treaty, and have no intentions or wiſhes adverſe to your ſtate. For my own part, and on behalf of this Government, I can aſſure you, that we are reſolved to preſerve inviolate the faith of this Treaty, and promiſe to guard it from any infringement of the other Preſidencies, being heartily deſirous of cultivating your friendſhip, and maintaining a ſtrict and firm alliance with you on the moſt confidential terms. In proof of my deſire, and of the wiſh of this Government to afford you the ſtrongeſt teſtimony of our goodwill, we have reſolved, in compliance with your requeſt, to appoint a public Miniſter to reſide with you, on the part of this Government; but as Mr. Hollond is a perſon with whom you are already acquainted, and whoſe manners might therefore be more agreeable to you than thoſe of any other whom we could immediately depute from hence, we applied to his Superiors at Fort Saint George, to allow him to continue at Hydrabad in quality of our Miniſter. In the meantime we have thought proper to furniſh him with credentials, authorizing him to act for us as ſuch; and I deſire that you will give faith to any repreſentations or propoſals which he may make to you, in confirmation or ſupport of our friendſhip and alliance, and for improving the mutual intereſts of your Highneſs and the Engliſh Eaſt India Company.

(Signed) Eyre Coote.
Warren Haſtings.
P. Francis.
Edw. Wheler.

APPENDIX, No. 135.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort St. George, the 14th December 1779.

THE Preſident acquaints the Committee, that he means to give his ſentiments fully on the above Letter, at their next meeting. In the meantime, as it appears to him that no further benefit can be expected from Mr. Hollond's longer continuance at Hydrabad, he recommends that he be recalled; and that a Letter be written to the Soubah, explaining to him again our motives for requeſting a remiſſion of the Peſcuſh; that we are concerned at the ill ſucceſs of our application, but not having the ſmalleſt intention to break the friendſhip between him and the Company, on this account, we mean to take into conſideration the arrears of Peſcuſh, as ſoon as the Company are in caſh; that for the preſent, we have thought it proper to recall Mr. Hollond, and requeſt he will give him the neceſſary paſſports; and that, if he wiſhes to repreſent any matters to this Government, either now or at any other time, we ſhall be glad to receive any perſons he may depute for that purpoſe.

APPENDIX, No. 136.

From Governor Rumbold to Nizam Ally Khan; dated 17th December 1779.

MR. Hollond has fully adviſed me of every circumſtance that has paſſed relative to the Peſcuſh, and I aſſure your Highneſs it is with equal concern and ſurprize that I obſerve the unfavourable manner in which you have been pleaſed to conſtrue my intentions upon this ſubject. I think too well of your Highneſs to ſuppoſe you can really have miſtaken the part I have acted; however, leſt this ſhould be the caſe, I ſhall once more repeat; the requeſt I made for a remiſſion of the Peſcuſh, ſolely took its riſe from the long friendſhip ſubſiſting between your Highneſs and the Company, and the idea I had formed, that upon a fair repreſentation of the difficulties we experience, in regard to the payment of this money, your Highneſs would be induced to conſider our claim in a proper light. The matter being thus left to your own free will, and being accompanied by aſſurances the moſt friendly, and expreſſions full of reſpect, there could be no poſſible ground to imagine, that our conduct proceeded from any hoſtile intentions; and your Highneſs will permit me to obſerve, that it was injurious to our honour to ſuſpect us of deſigns which had not a colour of probability, and which were ſo inconſiſtent with that attention we have always paid to our engagements with your Highneſs.

As Mr. Hollond has not been able to prevail with your Highneſs to comply with our wiſhes, and as we ſee no further occaſion at preſent for his remaining at your Highneſs's Court, I have directed him immediately to return to Madras; and I am to requeſt you will furniſh him with the neceſſary paſſports and ſafeguard.—In regard to the Peſcuſh, ſo ſoon as the Company's treaſury will permit, I ſhall take into conſideration the arrears due to your Highneſs, and as my intentions are to preſerve the friendſhip ſubſiſting between us, I expect to find the ſame diſpoſition on your part, and that nothing will happen to interrupt it. Should your Highneſs have an intention

APPENDIX. No. 137.

intention to ſend any one of your people to Madras, I ſhall receive him with pleaſure, and attend to any repreſentations he may make in your Highneſs's name, that may at any time tend to clear up miſtakes between us, and to preſerve inviolate that harmony that I hope will always ſubſiſt between your Highneſs and the Company. May your Highneſs's proſperity and happineſs daily increaſe. What can I ſay more?

APPENDIX, No. 137.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George, 17th December 1779.

DISPATCHED the following Letter to Mr. John Hollond:

Sir,

We have received your Letter of the 31ſt Auguſt.

As we do not perceive any inclination in the Soubah to comply with our deſires relative to the Peſcuſh, and circumſtances having rendered your remaining longer at his Court unneceſſary, we have written to his Highneſs a Letter, which we deſire you will immediately deliver, and we direct that you return to the Preſidency as ſoon as poſſible. On your taking leave of the Soubah, you will aſſure him, agreeable to the inſtructions before ſent you, that it never was the intention of this Government to act in any manner offenſively againſt him, but that we cannot view the ſupport and encouragement given to Mr. Lally and the French troops under him, than a deviation from the terms of the Treaty ſubſiſting between his Highneſs and the Company, and that we flatter ourſelves, after the frequent repreſentations we have made to him, he will comply with our wiſhes in obliging them to quit his territories.

We are, Sir,

Your moſt obedient ſervants,

Fort Saint George, 17th Dec^r 1779.

Tho^s Rumbold, &c.
Select Committee.

APPENDIX, No. 138.

Extract of the Proceedings of the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George, 30th December 1779.

THE Preſident delivers in the following Minute:

Having fully conſidered our preſent ſituation with reſpect to the Country Powers, and having too much reaſon to ſuppoſe, from the declaration of the Governor General and Council, that a war with the Marattas is inevitable, as alſo from the intelligence we have received, that nothing yet has been ſettled by General Goddard; I ſubmit to the Committee's conſideration, whether our laſt Letter to Mr. Hollond and the Nizam are ſufficient to quiet the mind of the latter with reſpect to the Peſcuſh, or of any deſigns on our part to diſturb the tranquillity of his Government: for as his attachment to the Maratta Miniſtry has been declared by himſelf, and it is probable, in caſe of a war with them, will lead him to take an active part againſt us, eſpecially if what is ſo confidently aſſerted prove true, that Hyder Ally has entered into the combination, and concluded a Treaty with the Miniſtry at Poonah, it is incumbent on us not to afford the leaſt pretence, either for the Nizam, or the Governor General and Council, to impute to this Government any ſhare in the meaſures that have already involved the Company's affairs in difficulties, and are likely to be attended with a ruinous and deſtructive war. I have ſtill, from circumſtances, ſome faint hope, that peace may take place; but ſhould the contrary happen, and the Nizam inſiſt on the immediate payment of the Peſcuſh, as a condition of his remaining neuter, whether it might not be proper, as our treaſury is unable to ſupply ſuch a ſum, either to take meaſures for drawing bills on Bengal, or of giving Soucar ſecurity for the payment of the whole, or part of the Peſcuſh in a limited time. I have alſo to recommend to the Committee, that an account of the conduct of Bazalet Jung, and what paſſed in conſequence of his ſeveral Letters with reſpect to our troops, be tranſmitted to the Governor General and Council.

Colonel Baillie writes, that there is at preſent not the leaſt appearance of troubles in the quarters where the troops under his command are now ſtationed; but as the times are ſo unſettled, and we are not certain what movements may be made either by the Nizam or Hyder Ally, it may be neceſſary to caution Colonel Baillie to be on his guard; and in caſe of any attempts being made againſt the Guntoor Circar, or any other of the Circars, the troops aſſembled at Ellore, after leaving a ſufficient garriſon there, may have directions to join him, in order to ſtrengthen his detachment, and move, as occaſion may require, for the ſecurity of the Northern diſtricts; the Sepoys alſo, under Lieutenant Douglas, may be held in readineſs. The orders to Colonel Baillie ſhould be only to protect our preſent poſſeſſions, and not to act offenſively againſt any Power without our poſitive orders.

The Committee approve of the Preſident's ſentiments, and deſire him to conſider of the proper mode of having ſecurity ready to tender to the Nizam, in caſe we ſhould be called upon for the ſpeedy payment of the Peſcuſh.

Agreed alſo, That Lieutenant Colonel Baillie be empowered, in caſe of any movement towards the Guntoor Circar, either from the Nizam or Hyder Ally, to call for the Sepoys under Lieutenant Douglas, and for as many Sepoys as can be ſpared from the Maſulipatam diſtrict; and that the neceſſary Letters be written conformably to the Preſident's recommendation.

Agreed, That the Gentlemen at Bengal be informed of our proceedings in regard to the Guntoor Circar.

Letter from the Nabob Nizam Ul Dowlah, to the Governor General, Mr. Haſtings.

"On the 22d of Zecuyed, I received, through Mr. Hollond, your Letter, dated 25th of Shamal; in which you tell me, That the Governor and Council of Madras deputed Mr. Hollond to Hydrabad, with your knowledge, ſimply for the purpoſe of explaining ſome things, which would tend to confirm the friendſhip between us; that whatever he might have ſaid, beyond what has been agreed upon in former Treaties, has been done without the orders of the Council; but that you had wrote to the Governor and Council of Madras, to abide by the terms of the Treaty, and at the ſame time had deſired Mr. Hollond to ſuſpend the buſineſs until he ſhould receive freſh orders from Madras.

"The contents of the above Letter, replete with ſincerity, have given me great pleaſure and ſatisfaction. The Company, for their ſincerity and adherence to their Treaties, have been for a long time examples to the world, particularly what I experienced after the concluſion of the Treaty in 1768, has made a deep impreſſion in my heart, and is publicly known to all the world. When you wrote me at firſt, acquainting me of your acceſſion to the Government of Bengal, and the ſuperintendency of all the Engliſh ſettlements, and inquiring into the Treaties made with the different Powers, I gave you a particular account of the Treaty I had entered into with the Company, by means of the Governor and Council of Madras; and I alſo explained every part of it to Colonel Upton, who was here in his way from Poonah, after having made peace with the Pundit Perdhaun, in conſequence of the troubles raiſed by Ragonaut Row, the enemy to my Government, in order that Colonel Upton might report it to you. However, ſome untoward circumſtances which have happened of late, have ſcarce left me room what to imagine, when I at the ſame time conſidered the former conduct, and ſtrict regulations of the Engliſh Company: for inſtance, what has happened with regard to Ragonaut Row, which I wrote to you about in a former Letter, of which I now ſend you a copy. You, Sir, in anſwer to that Letter, told me, that the actions of the Company were uniform, and that there ſhould be no deviation whatever from the Treaty I had made with the Governor and Council of Madras; but every thing that has happened ſince, has been in contradiction to it, ſetting aſide what is now done towards Ragonaut Row, which is juſt what was done before. Mr. Hollond, without any reaſon whatever, now inſiſts upon a remiſſion of the ſmall Peſcuſh from the Circars of Rajalmandry, &c. which countries formerly yielded lacks to me, and were given up to the Company for the reaſons ſpecified in the encloſed Letter, and from which they reap ſuch advantages, that which is paid to me does not amount to a hundredth part of them. The Governor and Council of Madras alſo, by force and ſome pretext, have ſeized upon the Circar of Guntoor, which by Treaty is ſettled upon my beloved brother Bazalet Jung Bahauder. Conſider then, whether ſuch proceedings can be thought any thing but breaches of the Treaties between us. It was on this account that I wrote you on the 2d of Rejub and 2d of Ramzam, ſetting forth all this to you in general terms, and I afterwards ſent duplicate to you by Hircarrahs. Your anſwer not arriving, and the Governor and Council of Madras's proceedings ſtill going further, I had no remedy left, and entertained ſome thoughts of revenge, when I received your Letter, the ſincerity of the profeſſions of which made me delay the execution of my intentions. If your Letter produce any effect, and the Governor and Council of Madras, adhering faſt by the terms of the Treaty, give up the requeſt they have made for the Peſcuſh from the Circars, and relinquiſh the poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar, it is well; otherwiſe it is not poſſible for me, in juſtice to my Government, to forbear any longer; and the fire of war muſt ſhortly blaze into a flame.

" The forbearance I have hitherto held after the commencement of the breaches of the Treaty above-mentioned, has been owing entirely to my regard and faith to Treaty, and not to my inability. By the bleſſing of God, I have every thing in readineſs, and have no occaſion for the aſſiſtance of any other. The Poonah Miniſters, whoſe propriety, and the continuance of their Government, are, as it is well known, entirely owing to my ſupport, devoted to me, and ready to join me: Moodajee Booſla is alſo attached to me. Hyder Naigue, who is an enemy from his heart to the Company, has now made an alliance with the Poonah Miniſters, and only waits for directions from both. You, Sir, who are a prudent and wiſe man, will take all this into your conſideration, as well as the unprecedented conduct of the Company, which has made them enemies with all the Powers in the Decan. Should any thing happen, which, conſidering the ſituation and appearance of things cannot be far off, do not reproach me for having given you warning, but write again every thing that is neceſſary to the Governor and Council of Madras. You will know the reſt from Mr. Hollond, who, agreeable to your orders, waits quietly till he receives freſh orders from Madras. As you have wrote me to know what are my intentions, you will then know that my wiſhes are, to preſerve unſhaken the Treaty between me and the Company, and that the garden of our mutual friendſhip may daily flouriſh. Be kind enough to return me a ſpeedy anſwer to this Letter and the former ones."

I am apprehenſive from this Letter, that as we give up points the Nizam will riſe in his demands, and at any rate come to an open rupture with us, in caſe affairs are not accommodated with the Marattas: on that depends the line he will follow, being, notwithſtanding the pompous language he makes uſe of, no further to be conſidered than as an auxiliary, whoſe conſequence will increaſe from our contention with much more powerful States; and ſhould we comply with his requiſition, to give up the Guntoor Circar, which we have in the moſt unexceptionable manner obtained on Bazalet Jung's own offer to us, it may be attended with every diſagreeable conſequence. The Governor General and Council ſhould be fully acquainted with the neceſſity there is for our retaining it; for from its ſituation, were that Circar in poſſeſſion of an enemy, our communication by land will be entirely cut off with the others, and a port be opened to the French, ſhould they make any attempts in that quarter. The Nizam takes no notice of the French troops in his ſervice; but it is to be hoped the Governor General and Council will ſtrengthen our remonſtrance relative to them.

The Nizam, in his Letter, mentions the Treaty formed between the Marattas and Hyder Aly, which plainly ſhews the combination that has been entered into; and I am apprehenſive, unleſs peace takes place with the Miniſters at Poonah, that neither the payment of the Peſcuſh, nor any other conceſſion on our part, will prevent him from joining to diſtreſs us as much as poſſible.

Mr. Whitehill, and Sir Hector Munro, requeſt leave to enter their opinions on the foregoing Minute of the Preſident.

Mr. Whitehill, deſires to expreſs his warm approbation of the ſentiments contained in the Preſident's Minute, and to obſerve, that the Preſident has, in his opinion, fully juſtified the proceedings of this Committee with regard to the Peſcuſh for the Northern Circars, and given a moſt juſt and ſatisfactory account of the preſent ſituation of affairs throughout India.

Sir Hector Munro.—However deſirous I might have been to have offered my ideas in writing, on the preſent impending troubles with the Country Powers in India, the Preſident has treated the whole buſineſs ſo much at large, and has handled it ſo ably, that he has only left it neceſſary for me to ſay, that I moſt heartily join with him in thinking a war at preſent muſt be detrimental to the Company's intereſts, and perhaps embarraſſing to the Nation; and to approve entirely of his idea on this important ſubject.

Ordered, That a copy of the Preſident's Minutes be ſent to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, and that an anſwer be propoſed to their Letter of the 4th November.

Copy of Letter from the Select Committee at Fort Saint George, to the Governor General, &c. Council of Fort William.

To the Honourable Warren Haſtings, eſquire, Governor General, &c. Council of Fort William.

Gentlemen,

We have received two Letters from you, both dated the 14th February.

We are obliged to you for the acknowledgment in expreſs of the readineſs with which we detached a body of our troops to join General Goddard, but we apprehend, you have been pleaſed to give an object to this reinforcement, which we did not altogether intend by it. We did not ſay in our Letter to you on this occaſion, that we ſent theſe troops " to co-operate in the proſecu- " tion of your meaſures on the other ſide of India," becauſe we knew not what meaſures you might really have in contemplation, or what turn might be given to the ſtate of affairs on that ſide. In order therefore to prevent any miſtake with reſpect to our intention in detaching troops from this Preſidency, we declared expreſsly, that the object was to enable General Goddard to conclude an honourable and immediate peace. You had, in a Letter dated the 5th April laſt, communicated the terms of your intended negotiation with the Marattas, and thoſe terms which were to reſtore things to the footing of the Treaty made by Colonel Upton at Poonah, appeared to us, after the diſaſter ſuffered by the Bombay troops, both ſafe and honourable; here then is fully explained the intention of our reinforcement. So far we ſee our way clearly, and are conſcious that we are acting for the true intereſt of our Employers; but if any other meaſures differing materially either in form or complexion from the object we have mentioned, be purſued without our knowledge and concurrence, we do not mean, by ſending the reinforcement, to join our aſſent to ſuch meaſures, or to be anſwerable in any ſhape for their conſequences.

APPENDIX. No. 138.

When we wrote our Letter to you of the 5th January, on the ſubject of your late interference in our proceedings at the Nizam's Court, we did it under the impreſſion that you had exceeded, in a very eſſential point, the controlling powers lodged in your Government; and the juſt alarm occaſioned by this conduct, and by the right you had ſet up of "general controul and direction in "the political affairs of this Preſidency," put us upon a careful peruſal of the authorities from whence theſe claims might be ſuppoſed to proceed. We were indeed before ſatisfied in our own minds, that they had not the ſmalleſt foundation, but by the manner in which they were now advanced and exerciſed, we were led to think it poſſible that our judgment might have erred, for we could hardly conceive that Gentlemen, placed in high truſt, and acting under the ſacred appointment of the Legiſlature, would aſſume any powers not warranted by their commiſſions, becauſe it is evident, that the leaſt oppoſition to ſuch powers muſt create inconveniences of an embarraſſing nature, and becauſe real authority is always much more reſpected when it acts within its juſt and proper ſphere, than when it is mingled with powers of an ill founded or doubtful nature.

Such were our reflections at the time we examined into the claims that had been advanced; and as our credit much depended upon the manner in which we were able to ſupport the poſitions we might eſtabliſh, we determined to go to the bottom of the ſubject, and to treat it in our Letter to you with cloſeneſs, that we might have the benefit of a particular reply, and our errors, if we had formed any, removed by new lights. We referred to the Act of Parliament, and quoted the clauſe which forms the only true and proper teſt of the controlling powers: we ſhewed, that it expreſſed nothing like the power you had claimed and exerciſed; but that it reſtrained the other Preſidencies only from "making orders "for declaring war, or for negotiating or concluding any "Treaty of peace, or other Treaty, without your pre-"vious conſent." We ſhewed alſo, that this was the ſenſe in which the Court of Directors underſtood it, and in which you yourſelves formerly underſtood it. The clauſe is indeed expreſſed with perſpicuity, and the limitation is ſo clearly and preciſely marked, that we do not ſee how it can be miſtaken. We expected, however, when you were ſo pointedly called upon to defend the powers you had claimed and exerciſed, you would have endeavoured to prove them by the ſame teſt that we had employed to diſprove them. Inſtead of this, you tell us only in general terms, "that you ſhall not diſpute with "us the right of your Government to interfere in ſuch "of our political meaſures as tend to diſturb the peace "of India, or Treaties ſubſiſting with other Powers, "while we think proper to yield to the exerciſe of it; "and hope, that you ſhall not be compelled to the diſ-"agreeable neceſſity of enforcing it."

The firſt obſervation that occurs to us upon this paſſage, is, that you were not called upon to diſpute with us, but only to ſhew the authority on which your powers reſted. No man can expect obedience to powers which he is unable or unwilling to produce; and it would be unjuſt to the laſt degree, to think of enforcing ſuch powers before they have been produced. The ſecond obſervation is, that we have never yielded, as you ſuppoſe, to the exerciſe of the rights you claim. If you allude to our withdrawing the application to the Nizam for the remiſſion of the Peſcuſh; we reply, that we did not withdraw it, becauſe you diſapproved or interfered in the meaſure, but becauſe the application could not be properly ſupported after you had encouraged the Nizam to reject it, and becauſe we were unwilling to conteſt a point of right with you in a place where no diſagreement between us ſhould even have appeared, much leſs have been continued by our perſevering under theſe circumſtances in a fruitleſs demand.

In order, however, to remove all further miſapprehenſions upon this ſubject, we now declare, in expreſs terms, that we have not yielded, and that we cannot yield, to the power you have aſſerted, of "general controul and "direction over our political affairs," until you ſhew us your authority for it; and this favour we think you ſhould and may eaſily grant upon our application, if your claim be of the nature you would wiſh us to believe. In the meantime, the only power we can acknowledge with reſpect to this Preſidency, is the power of controlling our right of "making war, or for negotiating Treaties," and we can never admit the the leaſt extenſion of this power, while it ſtands ſo clearly defined, and anſwers, as we are ſure it does, all the purpoſes intended by it.

But in your Letter now before us, though you have treated the points we had conteſted, in ſuch a manner as if they were totally indefenſible, upon any ground of authority, yet you ſeem extremely unwilling to yield them to us; and with the view, as we ſuppoſe, of maintaining the appearance of your new powers as long as poſſible, a new phraſe is introduced, and repeated in more than one place; we mean that by which we are called a "Subordinate Preſidency." Theſe words we do not remember to have crept into your correſpondence at any time before, even when your claims were not diſputed, and we little expected to ſee them in your preſent Letter, ſtanding without a ſhadow of ſupport. "Subordinate" is a word of extenſive ſignification, and as it is here uſed, may be conſtrued into a general inferiority. So Patna is ſubordinate to Fort William, and Mulipatam to this Preſidency; but for our part, we totally diſclaim any ſuch ſubordination, and declare, that any idea drawn from ſuch a word, is inapplicable to the relative ſituation in which we are placed. As well might we ſay, Fort William is ſubordinate to this Preſidency, as this Preſidency to Fort William.

You are pleaſed alſo in your Letter, after expreſſing the intention of not entering into a diſpute with us, concerning the powers we conteſted, to make one general obſervation on the ſubject of negotiations undertaken by the other Preſidencies; which you ſay, is ſtated not ſo much with a view of its being applied, "as it might be," to the caſe now before you, but to meet the general and dangerous doctrine which you conceive is implied in that paragraph of our Letter which ends with the following words: "but if it had led to a Treaty, there is no rea-"ſon to imagine that we ſhould not have required your "conſent in due time, and concluded it in all proper "form."

Permit us to remark, in this place, that when you were taking from our Letter a quotation which you thought implied a general and dangerous doctrine, it would have had the appearance of candour, if you had been pleaſed to inſert the whole paragraph; becauſe it ſometimes happens, as in this caſe, that a partial quotation may convey a very different ſenſe from that of the whole paſſage, taken together. This omiſſion which you have made, we ſhall now ſupply. Speaking of your interference in our proceedings with the Nizam, and trying it by the powers of the Act of Parliament, we ſaid, "there was no order made or given by us, for declaring war againſt the Nizam; we neither made nor gave any order for negotiating a new Treaty with him. All that we did was to take advantage of Mr. Holland's reſidence at the Nizam's Court, to requeſt a favour for the benefit of the Company. The Nizam's compliance would have led to no new Treaty, becauſe we offered nothing to engage engage it, but general expreſſions of friendſhip. But if it had led to a Treaty, (that is, if any circumſtance had ariſen, which might have made it requiſite to offer ſpecific terms, to engage the Nizam's compliance) there is no reaſon to imagine we ſhould not have required your conſent in due time (that is, when thoſe terms had been communicated to you) and concluded it in all proper form."

Here then is the plain, genuine ſenſe of the whole paragraph; and we appeal to the judgment of any one, whether there be any expreſſion which can convey the leaſt idea of a general and dangerous doctrine, or any doctrine inconſiſtent with the juſt powers of your Government? Yet you have been pleaſed, upon an imperfect quotation of our words, to draw concluſions directly oppoſite to thoſe which were meant or warranted by the ſenſe of the whole paſſage; and from theſe erroneous concluſions, you have ſuppoſed that we intended generally, in our negotiations, to take all the previous ſteps which neceſſarily lead to the concluſion of Treaties, ſo as to make your conſent a mere formality. This we have never done in any caſe, nor do we mean it, for the reaſon you have yourſelves given. But there is nothing in the Act of Parliament which reſtrains our endeavours to ſerve the Company, by applications to any of the Country Powers, to do juſtice, or to ſhew favour to them in any thing which comes under our immediate cognizance; nor are we prevented by that Act from making any declarations (except that of war) which we think neceſſary, in ſupport of the rights and honour of the Company, as far as they are committed to our charge. If ſuch requeſts and declarations, from the miſconſtruction of the perſons to whom they may be addreſſed, or from their weakneſs, or from their propenſity to quarrel with us, or from any other cauſe, ſhould at any time bring on a war, there is no help for it that we know of; and all we have to do in ſuch a caſe, is to avoid declaring or committing hoſtilities without your previous conſent, unleſs the neceſſity be ſo imminent as would render it dangerous to wait for it. All this is perfectly clear, and the line is moſt diſtinctly traced by the Act of Parliament. But by your interpretation, after making erroneous concluſions, and ſuppoſing caſes upon them which do not ſeem to affect the queſtion between us, and which in ſome parts are not very intelligible, you ſay, "by means ſuch as theſe, the Governor General and Council may, in every inſtance, be deprived of the powers veſted in them by Parliament; or, which amounts to the ſame in effect, their advice and conſent may never be deſired, until it muſt arrive too late to prevent the operations of ſteps already taken." But your conſent, let it arrive ever ſo early, cannot in any caſe prevent the operation of our meaſures; nor do we ſuppoſe you wiſh to prevent any operations at all by your conſent to them.

With all due reſpect however to your judgment, we conceive, that beſides deviating from the powers granted by Parliament, and extending them to undefined lengths, you ſeem to have miſapprehended the nature of the power which is actually granted to you, and the inconveniences propoſed to be remedied by it. You will, we truſt, excuſe a ſuggeſtion of this kind from us, who are by your conduct become particularly concerned, that every thing which appears doubtful upon this intereſting point, ſhould be cleared up. We ſaid in a former Letter, and we now repeat, that the controlling powers with reſpect to War and Treaties, was, in our humble opinion, intended to remedy a moſt glaring abſurdity in the former ſyſtem, which was, that three Preſidencies being totally independent of each other, though all under one common maſter, made political and other Treaties with the Country Powers of the moſt contradictory nature; and thus it happened that the Company were ſometimes expoſed to imputations of breach of faith, and to other inconveniences ariſing from the oppoſite and claſhing engagements of their different Preſidencies: to remove this abſurdity, as we conceive, a reſtraining power was lodged in your Government, ſufficient to prevent this, or any other Preſidency, from negotiating any Treaty, or making war, without your previous conſent; by which means, and by proper attention on your part, it is impoſſible for the Company to fall into the inconveniences above pointed out. But there is nothing of a poſitive nature in this right; it cannot direct us to make or alter any Treaty, to declare any war, or to purſue any intereſt that we deem incompatible with the welfare of our Employers. In ſhort, it has no one power of compulſion; it has only the power of a ſimple aſſent or negative upon a queſtion, neceſſary to be propoſed by us, before we can begin any negotiation for a Treaty, or make any order for declaring war; and yet it is ſufficient for all the purpoſes intended by it.

We have now urged every thing that appears neceſſary to us, upon this important ſubject; we have done it with deliberation and candour, and we hope with all due reſpect; for we are not conſcious of the leaſt degree of warmth, reſentment, or any other feeling which is inconſiſtent either with our public or private characters. If you really poſſeſs the right you have claimed, exerciſed, and promulgated, of "directing and controlling the political affairs of this Preſidency," or any other right except that which the Act of Parliament has ſo expreſsly defined, we are ready to yield it the moſt implicit acquieſcence, and we make it our particular requeſt, only that you will produce the authority for it; or if you think it is contained in the Act of Parliament, that you will ſhew us how or where it is expreſſed, that we may aſſent to it if we poſſibly can: but until this be done, we hope and expect that you will refrain from the exerciſe of ſuch rights, as we cannot in duty to our truſt acknowledge; and from uſing language and expreſſions in your Letters, denoting them, becauſe neither can anſwer any other purpoſe than to provoke differences; and we aſſure you it is not our wiſh to diſagree, but to act with you in perfect harmony and good underſtanding; to pay you every reſpect and attention which are juſtly due to you, and to co operate with you moſt heartily in all meaſures that ſhall appear to be calculated for the honour and intereſt of our common Employers.

You are pleaſed in the latter part of your Letter, after ſpeaking of the Minute we ſent you from our Preſident, to expreſs your hope, "that we will confine our correſpondence with you to our own concerns; and reflect, "that our cenſures on your acts are unbecoming the "relation of our Government to yours," &c. You will be pleaſed to remember, Gentlemen, that we have never written to you upon any thing which did not immediately concern us; that we have not cenſured any of your acts, and have only remonſtrated againſt ſuch as directly tended to deprive us of our authority, or weaken the reſpect due to it. If you mean "by confining our correſpondence to our own concerns," that we are not to offer an opinion upon any public meaſure which may affect the peace of India, and in which we may be conſequently called upon to act, we hope you will pardon us, if we declare, that in ſuch caſes, we conſider it as an indiſpenſable duty we owe to the Company to declare our ſentiments, and that by ſo doing, we act perfectly conſiſtent with the relation in which we ſtand to your Government.

You have been pleaſed likewiſe to inſinuate, that what we have urged in ſupport of our remonſtrances, is derived from falſe or defective materials; we beg leave to aſſure you, that we have uſed no materials, but ſuch as are perfectly authentic, being your own Letters, and ſuch other Letters and Papers as have come to us officially, or from undoubted authority.

We are,

Gentlemen,

Fort St. George, March 13, 1780.

Your moſt obedient, humble Servants.

APPENDIX. No. 139.

APPENDIX, No. 139.

Mr. Johnſon's Minute on Mr. Hollond's Suſpenſion.

MR. Johnſon now delivers in the following Minute, at the ſame time apologizing for not entering it ſooner, on account of the number of Letters and Papers he had to refer to.

Having given my negative againſt the ſuſpenſion of Mr. Hollond, I think it neceſſary, in juſtice to that Gentleman, to aſſign my reaſons for not concurring in ſo ſevere a meaſure with the Preſident and General. In doing this, it would not be improper to enter into a thorough inveſtigation of the powers granted by Parliament to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, it having been oſtenſibly their claim to a ſuperintending and controlling power over this and the other Preſidencies, that has given riſe to the reprehenſion of Mr. Hollond's conduct; but I ſhall touch no farther on this ſubject, than may be requiſite to juſtify the vote I have given. I ſhall enter more fully into the examination of the Minute left us by Sir Thomas Rumbold, recommending this ſuſpenſion; as that Gentleman ſeems, from ſeveral concurrent circumſtances, which I ſhall take occaſion to mention, to have been actuated by a ſpirit of perſonal reſentment againſt Mr. Hollond.

In this Minute, which I conſider as a political teſtament, as he there arrogates to himſelf a power of directing the proceedings of the Committee, even after his reſignation of the chair, we are told that "every thing which may have contributed to the interference of the Governor General and Council of Bengal, in the late demand from this Preſidency for the remiſſion of the Peſcuſh, and eſpecially ſuch as originated with Mr. Hollond, ſhould be fully explained and underſtood." "Mr. Hollond's inſtructions from us (ſays Sir Thomas) directed him in general, only to communicate to the Governor General and Council of Bengal every neceſſary intelligence, by which (ſays he) I conceive nothing more would be underſtood, than that Mr. Hollond, who, by reſiding at a public Court, muſt be acquainted with many particulars relating to the affairs of the ſeveral Preſidencies, ſhould communicate directly to Bengal (for the ſake of expedition) ſuch intelligence concerning the affairs of that Preſidency, as might be neceſſary for their early information." If this was the true ſenſe of the inſtructions Mr. Hollond received from the Committee, it is very extraordinary that they ſhould be worded in ſuch a manner, as evidently to convey a different meaning. Had the conveyance of ſuch intelligence only, been the intention of the Committee, it is more than probable they would have expreſſed it in terms as explicit, as they did in their inſtructions to Maſulipatam. "The Gentlemen (ſays one of the Letters to Mr. Hollond) of Maſulipatam, having requeſted that you might be ordered to correſpond with them, upon ſuch buſineſs as may relate to their factory, we direct, that if any ſubject of this nature ſhould occur, you would write to them accordingly." Here no doubt could ariſe in his mind, what portion of intelligence he was to convey to Maſulipatam; it was evidently ſuch as only related to their factory: neither was there any room for doubt in his inſtructions relative to the Governor General and Council of Bengal. "We deſire (ſay the inſtructions) that you will, during your reſidence at the Nizam's Court, convey every neceſſary intelligence to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, as well as to us, and that you will be as early as poſſible in all your communications to both Preſidencies." If words have a meaning, it implies clearly, that Mr. Hollond ſhould convey every neceſſary intelligence to the Governor General and Council, as fully, as amply, and as particularly as to us; there is here no diſtinction made between the two Preſidencies: and Sir Thomas Rumbold perverts the meaning, and attempts to miſlead the underſtanding of the Committee, where he ſays, "the intelligence to be conveyed to Bengal, was only ſuch as related to that Preſidency." That this miſrepreſentation too was wilful on the part of Sir Thomas, and calculated to anſwer ſome preſent purpoſe, is evident from his own Minute of the 30th December; where, after quoting verbatim the inſtructions on this head, and leaving them their true meaning, he adds, "Mr. Hollond was not deficient in complying in the moſt ample manner with this deſire;" and thus, affords the cleareſt teſtimony of his want of candour in the explanation he impoſes on the Committee; yet on this explanation he founds his argument, to induce us to form an ungenerous and illiberal opinion of Mr. Hollond's conduct.

"Mr. Hollond (he tells us) had particular inſtructions relative to the Peſcuſh, which did not direct him to communicate the progreſs of his negotiation to Bengal; nor do I (ſays he) conceive he was in any ſhape authorized by our general inſtructions to him a Reſident, to communicate to the Governor General of Bengal, the particulars of a negotiation he had in charge from us, his Superiors, and which related ſolely to the intereſts of this Preſidency." As he has explained the general inſtructions, no doubt Mr. Hollond was wrong in communicating to Bengal what Sir Thomas ſays related ſolely to this Preſidency; but when we take a fair and impartial view of theſe inſtructions, we find that Sir Thomas's explanation of them has perverted their evident meaning, and that Mr. Hollond acted with the ſtricteſt propriety; for as their particular inſtructions, relative to the Peſcuſh, did not direct him not to communicate the progreſs of his negotiation to Bengal, he was bound to do it by the orders expreſſed in our general inſtructions, being directed to convey to the Gentlemen there, all neceſſary intelligence as well as to us. "If this Government (he tells us) had thought it proper or neceſſary, that he ſhould communicate his inſtructions and correſpondence to Bengal, it would have directed him ſo to do." But was not Mr. Hollond inſtructed to convey all neceſſary intelligence to them as well as to us? that is, as fully as to us; and was it not therefore neceſſary to acquaint the Government of Bengal, not only with the inſtructions he received from this Preſidency, immediately on his being ſent to the Nizam's Court, but alſo to communicate to them every ſubſequent Letter he received from the Committee, in order that the Gentlemen there ſhould have a juſt idea of the cauſe of his deputation, and of the ſtrict attention he paid to the orders he received?

"When I compare this unauthorized communication (ſays Sir Thomas) of all our Inſtructions and Letters to Bengal, with other circumſtances which have come to my knowledge, I cannot poſſibly force myſelf to think that Mr. Hollond has, as he aſſerts, uſed his endeavours to accompliſh our views, or that they have been throughout uniformly ſincere and zealous." But this communication which Sir Thomas is pleaſed to term unauthorized, was in fact authorized by the general orders, to correſpond equally with the two Preſidencies, and give them all neceſſary intelligence: for how could the Government of Bengal form a judgment of Mr. Hollond's adherence to the inſtructions he received, if they were unacquainted with the inſtructions themſelves? As to the circumſtances which Sir Thomas ſays have come to his knowledge, and which, for reaſons beſt known to himſelf, he does not think proper to mention in his Minute, I am at a loſs to conceive what they are.

As to facts; to prove that Mr. Hollond was not ſincere and zealous in his endeavours to accompliſh the views of the Committee, Sir Thomas ſays, "that in the ſeveral Letters to Mr. Hollond, he was deſired to continue unremittingly the negotiation concerning the Peſcuſh, and to preſs it to a concluſion as ſpeedily as poſſible; yet (ſays he) by a Letter from him to me, it appears, that he took upon himſelf to ſuſpend it, alledging as a reaſon, that he thought it may be taken up again with greater proſpect of ſucceſs on the arrival of His Majeſty's ſhips and troops, which were then expected." In reading over the Letters of the Committee to Mr. Hollond, I do not recollect recollect to have met the word unremittingly; and if it was uſed, I think it was improper; for, literal obedience to orders of this nature, may fruſtrate their intention. A Miniſter keeping his main point in view, ſhould be left entirely to the Government of his own prudence and diſcretion. Mr. Hollond's ſuſpending this negotiation at a time when he ſaw the Nizam full of his own conſequence and ſuperior power, in order to take it up again when he muſt have been ſenſible of his inferiority, was ſuch an act of true policy and ſound judgment as ought rather to redound to his honour, and entitle him to the thanks of the Committee, than be brought againſt him as an article of accuſation. As a further proof that Mr. Hollond was not ſincere and zealous in his beſt endeavours to accompliſh the views of the Committee, Sir Thomas tells us, "that Mr. Hollond received a Letter from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, directing him to ſtay at the Nizam's Court as their public Miniſter; which appointment (ſays he) Mr. Hollond regards as a further valuable mark of diſtinction, to the honour conferred on him by us by his former negotiation, and receives it with ſuitable ſatisfaction. This (adds Sir Thomas) exceeds all that went before." This it ſeems is the greateſt crime that Sir Thomas thought proper to accuſe him of at the Committee; as if the approbation of the ſuperintending power in India were ſo little flattering, that a Gentleman in a public and conſpicuous ſtation ſhould not feel an honeſt pride in it. "Upon the whole (ſays Sir Thomas) Mr. Hollond's conduct in this negotiation, whether intentionally or not, ſeems to have been more calculated to aſſiſt the views of the Nizam, and to promote the unſeaſonable interference which took place from Bengal, than to anſwer the purpoſe for which he was employed." Sir Thomas, however, appears here to have forgot the commendation paſſed on the conduct of Mr. Hollond by the Committee; for in one of their Letters they tell him "the line you have taken, and the firmneſs which appears to accompany your repreſentation to the Soubah, are very commendable." His conduct therefore could not have been calculated to aſſiſt the views of the Nizam, nor to promote the interference of the Government of Bengal, which was entirely brought about by the Committee themſelves, in attempting a negotiation with a Country Power without their permiſſion, contrary to the injunction of the Act of Parliament.

The firſt Letter for the recall of Mr. Hollond, we are told by Sir Thomas Rumbold, in his Minute of the 30th December, was moved in Committee by him; not for any of the cauſes of complaint brought againſt Mr. Hollond in his laſt Minute of the 1ſt April, but purely in adoption of the ſentiments of the Governor General and Council. The paſſage I have in view is expreſſed in theſe terms: "however we may feel ourſelves hurt by the proceedings of the Council General, relative to our inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, I ſtrongly recommend that we do not ſuffer any circumſtance to interrupt the harmony which ought to ſubſiſt between the two Preſidencies. It was with this view (ſays he) that in conformity to the wiſhes of the Council General, I immediately adopted their ſentiments, and moved in Committee of the 14th inſtant the recall of Mr. Hollond." Here is here no occaſion of betraying a confidential negotiation, no accuſation of having ſent copies of the Inſtructions and Letters to the Council General, neither is there any want of zeal or ſincerity; and yet Sir Thomas then knew that Mr. Hollond had acquainted the Government of Bengal with the whole progreſs of his negotiation; had ſent them copies of the Inſtructions and Letters of this Preſidency, and had ſuſpended his application for the remiſſion of the Peſcuſh, until what he conceived would be a more favourable opportunity. If theſe cauſes of accuſation really ever exiſted, they exiſted then, and why was he not then ſuſpended? Sir Thomas cannot be charged with lenity towards Mr. Hollond, and if theſe acts of delinquency are founded in truth, it is more than probable, that inſtead of moving for his recall, in adoption of the ſentiments of the Council General, he would have moved for his immediate ſuſpenſion from the ſervice.

To the firſt Letter of recall, Mr. Hollond endeavoured to pay a ready and dutiful obedience. He acquaints the Nizam of the orders he received to return to the Preſidency; and that as ſoon as he ſhould be in readineſs to ſet off, he ſhould wait on him for leave: but a few days after, the Nizam informed him he ſhould have a Letter for him to forward to the Governor, at the ſame time deſiring him to remain at Hydrabad until he could receive an anſwer; and as this was a requeſt he could not refuſe without offence, his excuſe on that occaſion has been admitted.

Notwithſtanding the requeſt contained in the Nizam's Letter, it was not thought proper to permit Mr. Hollond to remain longer at his Court; and he was accordingly, by Letter of the 1ſt February, directed to return to Madras with all convenient expedition. Nearly, however, about the ſame time that he could have received this Letter, he receives one from the Governor General and Council of Bengal; in which they tell him, "that although he is a ſervant of the Company belonging to another Preſidency, and therefore not dependent on their authority, yet they deem it ſo eſſential to the general intereſt of the Britiſh Empire in India, that an Engliſh Reſident ſhould be ſtationed at that juncture with Nizam Ally, that they enjoin him to remain at Hydrabad in that quality, as he ſhould anſwer for the conſequence of his departure to the Court of Directors." Thus was Mr. Hollond thrown into a very diſagreeable dilemma; ordered by one Preſidency to leave Hydrabad, and by the other to remain there; he was laid under the neceſſity of diſobeying one of them. In this ſituation he took that part which appeared to him moſt conſonant with the Company's intereſt, and accordingly remained at the Nizam's Court; informing, however, this Preſidency of the cauſe, and expreſſing his confidence of their approbation.

At the ſame time that the Governor General and Council diſpatched theſe orders to Mr. Hollond, they wrote to the Committee, expreſſing their concern to perceive that the ſuddenneſs of Mr. Hollond's recall, and the abrupt manner in which it had been conveyed to the Nizam, had contributed to excite, inſtead of allaying, his ſuſpicion: "for this reaſon (ſay they) and becauſe he has deſired that we will ſupply the place of Mr. Hollond by a ſimilar appointment from this Government, which inſtantly following his recall, would have been too viſible an appearance of a diſunion between your Government and ours, we requeſt that you will permit that Gentleman to remain in quality of our Miniſter at the Court of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn."

Though I ſhould have agreed with the Committee, in not allowing Mr. Hollond to remain at Hydrabad as the public Miniſter of the Government of Bengal only, after he had been appointed to act in that capacity by this Preſidency, yet, in order to keep up an appearance of unanimity, I ſhould have urged the propriety of permitting him to remain under the orders he had received from us, as well as theirs, until ſuch time as they had appointed one of their own ſervants Reſident there. This propoſal I ſhould have thought would have met with the approbation of the Committee, in conſequence of Sir Thomas Rumbold's recommendation, in his Minute of the 30th December, "that we ſhould not ſuffer any circumſtance to interrupt the harmony which ought to ſubſiſt between the two Preſidencies." To which he adds, that "it is a duty incumbent on us to make the co-operating with the Council General our firſt conſideration."

But Sir Thomas was then too much hurt, I imagine, at Mr. Hollond's conduct, to attend to any conſideration of harmony or co-operation with the Government of Bengal; and therefore a third Letter was diſpatched to Mr. Hollond, ordering him directly from Hydrabad, and threatening him with putting in execution the powers veſted in the Committee in caſe of delay.

To this Letter Mr. Hollond returned a very reſpectful, and

APPENDIX. No. 139.

and in my opinion a very ſatisfactory anſwer. The indiſpoſition of the Nizam had prevented his ſeeing him, and conſequently his taking leave; not having orders to depart without taking leave, he could not of himſelf attempt ſo offenſive a meaſure, and therefore, had no other cauſes intervened, he found it impoſſible to pay an inſtant obedience to the orders he received. He did not conceive he could incur our diſpleaſure by obeying the peremptory injunction of a Government conſtituted by Parliament the guardians of the public peace of India, more particularly when that Government declared theſe injunctions to be founded on the preſent critical ſituation of public affairs. He thought the conſideration of general and public objects ought to ſuperſede the regard due to particular and partial ſyſtems; and therefore, though covenanted to act under this Preſidency, that he could not diveſt himſelf of the ſuperior duty he owed to the Company, taken collectively, or of that zealous attention due from a faithful ſervant to their general intereſts; for theſe reaſons, regardleſs of his perſonal intereſt, he was under an abſolute neceſſity of complying with the orders of the Governor General and Council, until they ſhould relieve him from the public truſt they deemed it neceſſary to commit to his charge, and this he made no doubt they would do, on being made acquainted with our determination.

This is the ſubſtance of his Letter; and to us, who certainly ought to be more attentive to the peace of India, and the general intereſts of the Company, than jealous of our particular authority; I think it ſufficiently full and ſatisfactory. The powers of ſuſpenſion with which we are armed, ſhould be exerciſed with caution, and never on thoſe who ſacrifice their private intereſts to the public welfare. We ſee Sir Thomas Rumbold, for ſome private pique, miſrepreſent the general inſtructions to Mr. Hollond; we ſee him bring againſt him, as proofs of his miſconduct, thoſe acts which it was his duty to perform; and we ſee him act in direct oppoſition to what he recommended to the Committee before this reſentment was excited. In his Minute of the 30th December, we find him warmly recommending harmony and co-operation with the Council General, notwithſtanding their interference: we afterwards find him refuſing a requeſt of theirs, though it was founded in the general intereſts of the Company, and the propriety of keeping up, at leaſt the appearance, of concord and unanimity; I ſay we find him refuſing it, for though this was oſtenſibly the act of the Committee, I have myſelf no doubt that the refuſal originated in him, and that more from a principle of implacability to Mr. Hollond, than jealouſy of the Council General: and finally, we find him purſuing Mr. Hollond, to the moment of his departure for Europe, leaving us the executors of his laſt will, to ſuſpend that Gentlemen the ſervice, ſhould he attempt to delay obedience to this laſt order, without ever recommending it to us to weigh well the arguments he may offer in his defence, before we determined on exerciſing ſo ſevere an act of authority. The welfare of the Company requiring the concurrence of the ſeveral Preſidencies in every meaſure that may tend to promote them, I conceive that the requeſt of the Governor General and Council of Bengal ought to have been ſo far granted, as to have ſuffered Mr. Hollond to remain at the Nizam's Court, under the double appointment; which certainly would have been no derogation to the dignity of this Government: and therefore I think the refuſal of that requeſt, and the recall of Mr. Hollond, were haſty and undigeſted ſteps, incompatible with the true intereſts of the Company, or the general good of the Nation; and that Mr. Hollond has proved himſelf a zealous and faithful ſervant, in remaining at Hydrabad, at the riſque of our diſpleaſure, until another Reſident be appointed from Bengal: for this reaſon, and becauſe Sir Thomas Rumbold ſeems to have been more influenced in his recommendation to ſuſpend him, from perſonal reſentment, than by any public conſideration; and further, as Mr. Hollond appears to me to have acted throughout with the prudence, attention, and judgment, that has ever diſtinguiſhed him, I have given my hearty negative to his ſuſpenſion, and being fully perſuaded that his conduct merits the approbation of the Company, I do not perceive, with what degree of propriety it deſerves to be reprobated and puniſhed by their ſervants.

John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
May 29th 1780. Hector Munro,
Sam^l Johnſon.

APPENDIX, No. 140.

Extract of the ſeparate Letter from Fort Saint George; dated the 27th June 1769.

Par. 13. MR. Bernard is ſtill employed in ſurveying the jaghire lands, and hath made conſiderable progreſs; but much remains ſtill to be done, and the work advances but ſlowly. He hath often repreſented the delays and impediments he meets with, from the backwardneſs of the Managers and Chief of the diſtricts, in giving him the neceſſary aſſiſtance. The Nabob has been frequently requeſted to iſſue his orders, that Mr. Bernard may have all proper helps; and he hath promiſed ſo to do, but without much effect. When this ſurvey ſhall be completed, we hope to acquire a more accurate knowledge of the value of theſe lands, than hath hitherto been practicable. Upon ſuch informations as we have been able to obtain, we have no cauſe to differ from the repreſentations that have been made to you, at various times, in the general advices from hence, touching the value of theſe diſtricts: and we are of opinion, that if the Nabob continues to pay the full rents at which he hath farmed them, he muſt either oppreſs the inhabitants, or make good the deficiency out of his other Revenues; indeed we are ſorry to ſay, that the apprehenſions your Honours expreſſed in your commands of the 26th April 1765, Par. 30, have but too much foundation; and we deſpair of ſeeing this valuable part of your poſſeſſions, in a more flouriſhing condition than any other part of the Carnatic, whilſt it remains under the Nabob's management. It is not in reaſon to ſuppoſe that he would encourage the inhabitants of your lands, to the prejudice of thoſe which he conſiders as his own; but it is certain, that if no other encouragement were given, than merely not to exact more than the juſt proportion due to the Circar, that alone would put the inhabitants in a far better condition than thoſe of any other part of the Carnatic. Common policy, therefore, would oppoſe ſuch a preference, eſpecially when immediate intereſt ſo plainly concurs. The experience we have lately had of the intractable diſpoſition of the Nabob's Amuldars, gave us great cauſe to wiſh we had not parted with their power over theſe diſtricts. When the enemy lately entered the Carnatic, we foreſaw that the jaghire, as well as other parts, might be expoſed to the ravages, and that Madras might be diſtreſſed for proviſion; we therefore requeſted the Nabob, in the moſt preſſing manner, to iſſue poſitive orders to the Amuldars, to lay in as much as poſſible of the grain, proviſions, and production of the country, of every kind, into the forts of Chingleput and Poonamalee, and to uſe all poſſible means of conveying a good ſtore to Madras. We muſt do the Nabob the juſtice to ſay, he did repeatedly iſſue his orders, and we believe with a deſire of having them obeyed; yet the effects were far ſhort of our expectation; of which it would be endleſs to relate the particulars. The term granted to the Nabob, in the name of Vencatachellum, for the farm of the jaghire and Poonamallee, will expire in July 1771. It reſts with your Honours to determine, whether they ſhall again be put under the Nabob's management, if he ſhould chooſe it, or be let to other renters, or be managed by Amuldars. There is no doubt but that the Nabob will offer a much higher rent than any other perſon; the reaſons and the conſequences have been explained. And as your Honours are now furniſhed with all the lights we can at preſent give on the ſubject, it only remains, that we requeſt you will be pleaſed, before the expiration of the term, to ſignify to us your pleaſure on this ſubject.

APPENDIX, No. 141.

Extract of the General Letter to Fort Saint George; dated 10th April 1771.

Par. 55. HAVING expreſſed to our Select Committee the earneſtneſs of our deſire, that every conciliatory meaſure ſhould be employed to remove from the Nabob's mind, any jealouſies, and eradicate any ſuſpicions he may have unjuſtly conceived, reſpecting the ſincerity of our attachment to him; we ſhall here confine ourſelves to your inquiry concerning the diſpoſal of the jaghire lands, at the expiration of the preſent Cowle.

56. Impreſſed as we are with the moſt friendly diſpoſition towards the Nabob, we can by no means think of increaſing his jealouſy, or depriving him of the leaſt degree of importance, by not admitting him as a renter of the Enaum lands. And though theſe reaſons prevent us from reaping every benefit which might be expected from their being in other hands, many of the objections againſt his having them under his management would, in a great degree, be removed by his holding them only from year to year, ſince the apprehenſions he will be under of their being withdrawn from him at ſuch a period, ſhould there be any cauſe of complaint againſt his conduct, may diſpoſe him to comply with every reaſonable requiſition in behalf of the inhabitants, or for the providing of grain for the uſe of your ſettlement upon any preſſing occaſion.

57. If the Nabob, therefore, ſhould deſire you to continue him the renter of theſe diſtricts, you will revert to your former method of letting your farms, and grant him a yearly Cowle. And we truſt you will profit by this occaſion, and repreſent to the Nabob, that from our unwillingneſs to take any ſtep which may be diſpleaſing to him, we comply with his deſire in this reſpect, although we thereby obſtruct our own intereſts, ſince we cannot doubt but thoſe lands let to perſons, who might be more ready to cultivate and improve them, would in time yield us much greater advantages than we can expect from their being under the care of the Nabob.

Extract of the General Letter to Fort Saint George; dated 25th March 1772.

Par. 24. By our General Letter of the 10th April 1771, we apprized you ſo fully of our ſentiments in reſpect to diſpoſal of the Enaum lands, that it is unneceſſary for us to enter here on this ſubject, further than to inform you, that the motives which induced us to continue the Nabob the renter of thoſe lands, are too powerful to admit of your deviation from the orders we have given in this reſpect; for though we are ſenſible of the benefit which would accrue to the Company, were thoſe lands in other hands than thoſe of the Nabob, we had rather wait for a conjuncture more favourable than the preſent, before we attempt to reap all poſſible advantages from them, leſt that jealouſy, which the Nabob appears to have conceived, of our diſpoſition towards him, might terminate in diſguſt, were we to leſſen his conſequence in the Carnatic, by not permitting him to hold any authority in thoſe lands which he had granted to the Company.

APPENDIX, No. 142.

APPENDIX, No. 142.

Extract of the Revenue Letter from Fort Saint George; dated 5th February 1778.

Par. 31. ON the 17th December our Preſident laid before us a Letter from the Nabob, requeſting to have the rent of your jaghire lands continued under his management, for the preſent year, upon the ſame terms as he had formerly held it; and we found alſo, upon referring to the Records, that an application of the ſame kind had been made to Mr. Stratton and his Council, and that they had paſſed a reſolution to comply with his requeſt.

32. This happening, however, but a very few days before the receipt of your orders by the Swallow, the Letter which was intended by thoſe Gentlemen to have been addreſſed to the Nabob upon the occaſion, had not been diſpatched to him when our Preſident arrived, and took charge of the Government.

33. The unremitted attention which we were obliged to give to the more immediate objects of concern, upon our firſt coming to the management of your affairs, prevented us from entering upon this ſubject, until the receipt of the Nabob's ſecond application before referred to, and conſidering that theſe lands had been tacitly, though not formally, continued under the Nabob, from the time the laſt rent expired, and that above a third of the term already elapſed, during which the Nabob had begun to collect a part of the Revenue produced by ſmall grain, we were of opinion, that no alteration could take place, without involving you in difficulties, and perhaps loſſes; and we judged it therefore moſt adviſable to continue it to him.

34. A Letter was accordingly wrote to his Highneſs, ſignifying our acquieſcence to his requeſt, and inſerting at the ſame time, the condition your Honours have inſtructed us to require of him, relative to the operations of your Committee of Circuit, as well as a few others, which, if obſerved, we hoped might conduce to the improvement of theſe lands.

35. As the expediency of taking your jaghire into your own immediate poſſeſſion has, upon former occaſions, been very clearly and ſtrongly pointed out to you, and as your orders of the 12th April 1775, although manifeſtly favouring the meaſure, do not abſolutely authoriſe us to adopt it, we cannot but be anxious, under this ſtate of uncertainty, as to your real intentions, and we therefore requeſt your Honours will furniſh us with your preciſe directions upon this ſubject, that we may not be in doubt with reſpect to the part we ſhould take, when the matter may again come under our conſideration.

APPENDIX, No. 143.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 20th July 1778.

THE Preſident delivers in the following Minute:

It is with concern I find myſelf under the neceſſity of repreſenting to the Board the difficulty I have to obtain the leaſt aſſiſtance from the Nabob to ſupply our treaſury, now entirely exhauſted, not having ſufficient to pay the current charges of the month. Our preſent critical ſituation demands the moſt ſpirited exertion on our parts, to obtain from him the very large balances remaining due, as well as to induce him to provide ſome certain reſources for the very heavy expences attending our preſent neceſſary preparations. No arguments or ſenſe of the common danger, in caſe of a war, can prevail on him to furniſh the Company with what is abſolutely neceſſary to aſſemble our army, though it is beyond a doubt that money, money, to a large amount, is now hoarded up in his coffers at Chippauch, and tunkaws are granted to individuals upon ſome of his moſt valuable countries, for payment of part of thoſe debts which he has contracted, and which certainly will not bear inſpection, as neither the debtor or creditors have ever had the confidence to ſubmit their Accounts to our examination, though they expreſſed a wiſh to conſolidate the debts, under the auſpices of this Government, agreeable to a plan they had formed. This backwardneſs to aſſiſt the public ſervice is not the complaint of a day; the Records are filled with the diſtreſs which the Company's affairs have been expoſed to, occaſioned by the trifling and dilatory conduct of the Nabob, whenever money has been demanded from him; and I ſhall beg leave to refer the Board to a Letter written by one of the ableſt men that ever filled the chair of this Government, under date It affords a ſtriking picture of the difficulties he had then to ſtruggle with, in bringing the Nabob to a ſenſe of what ought to have been his conduct. The Letter is nearly applicable to the preſent times; but I will venture to ſay, the difficulties are heightened by him, for his love of money has increaſed with his advance of years. Threatened with the danger of a war, and dependent alone on our own forces, without one ally except himſelf to aſſiſt us, and he almoſt without troops, and unwilling to furniſh the means for the payment of ours, I look forward with more than common concern at the riſk we may be expoſed to. If he would but conſent to pay his juſt debt to the Company, contracted ſolely for the public ſervice, and what is due from him on account of the jaghire, which ought to be a conſtant and never-failing reſource to the Company, we might ſupport ourſelves for ſome time, and wait the event of further aſſiſtance: but I muſt be plain to tell the Board, entreaties and arguments are in vain. The Nabob muſt be rouſed from the ſtate he has fallen into, by ſome determined and ſpirited meaſures: on our part it is abſolutely neceſſary to purſue ſuch a line, for the ſafety of the Carnatic, and the preſervation of our poſſeſſions, which the neceſſity of affairs at preſent ſo indiſpenſably demands. I muſt here remark, that it was cuſtomary formerly to deliver in to the Nabob his Accounts with the Company regularly every three months; but the unhappy diſſentions that prevailed at the Board during the two former Governments, put a ſtop to that regularity ſo neceſſary to be obſerved, and the Nabob has had no Accounts ſent to him for two years, from the 31ſt July 1776, till they were adjuſted and delivered by me to him the other day. His debt to the Company, the end of laſt month, amounted to as follows, viz.

APPENDIX. No. 143.

Balance of the old debt, and account current charges - - - -	754,981	31	29
Balance on account of the Company's jaghire - - - - -	145,070	30	41
Pags	900,052	25	70

Excluſive of the above, without reckoning one pagoda extraordinary for the expences we are certain of being put to for our preparations, and which cannot in prudence be put a ſtop to, the debt is increaſing at the rate of 40,000 pagodas a month, beſides one lack of pagodas, which will be due in September on account of the jaghire. This Account, and our threatened danger, obliges me to urge, in the ſtrongeſt manner, that we may conſider of proper means to extricate us from our preſent difficulties, and the embarraſſments we are likely to be thrown into; I muſt confeſs, I ſee no other certain proſpect than inſiſting that the Nabob do grant the Company tunkaws on ſuch countries as we ſhall point out for the payment of his preſent debt, and as ſecurity for his ſhare of the current charges; and that Taſſeldars be appointed by us to act in conjunction with his, and to ſee that the collections are properly brought to account; and thoſe Taſſeldars, if it ſhould be found neceſſary, be aſſiſted with a ſufficient force.

It is with concern that I propoſe a plan that may be the cauſe of uneaſineſs to the Nabob; I wiſh to do every thing that may render his age eaſy and happy; but we are driven either to the ſacrifice of the public good, or to take ſuch meaſures as may prove a certain ſecurity to his, as well as our own Government; and before I put the plan into execution, I would wiſh, by Letter, to make one more repreſentation in the ſtrongeſt manner, to induce him to grant of himſelf the neceſſary ſupplies.

Having now offered my ſentiments with regard to the neceſſary meaſures to be taken for the ſupply of our treaſury, and which, if not immediately adopted, and troubles ſhould break out, it may then be too late to attempt; I ſhall now beg leave to call the attention of the Board to another material object for their conſideration; I mean the Company's jaghire, and the farming of the diſtricts of Poonamalee. This valuable poſſeſſion of the Company's is moſt ſhamefully neglected and oppreſſed; I will not ſay by the Nabob, for I believe he is in a great degree ignorant of it, but by thoſe he truſts in the collections. The year for which it is let is now expiring, and it becomes neceſſary that we determine how the Jemmabundy may be ſettled in future; for this purpoſe I would propoſe that an advertiſement be put up for the re-letting of the jaghire, and the diſtricts of Poonamalee, but firſt to acquaint the Nabob with our intentions; and that we by all means avoid that deſtructive ſyſtem of farming it from year to year, but receive propoſals for a longer term, from three to five years, and on ſuch conditions as may be effectual to recover the country from its preſent ruinous ſituation; and as the Nabob's leaſe expires the laſt of this month, I am of opinion it is abſolutely neceſſary to have ſome proper perſon ſent as a Taſſeldar to receive charge of the jaghire, till the new ſettlement is made.

I ſhall beg leave alſo to ſubmit another circumſtance to the conſideration of the Board, reſpecting the Vakeels, who come in from the different Powers to the Nabob, without paying any attention to this Government, in time of profound peace: it is, according to my ſentiments, highly improper, and tends exceedingly to leſſen the Company's conſequence in the eyes of the Natives, but in times of trouble, and on the proſpect of war, it is not only dangerous, but may be attended with many inconveniencies. The Nabob, at preſent, reſides immediately under our flag, and under the protection of our guns; and that Vakeels ſhall come in without any ſort of communication with this Government, or without even making a complimentary viſit to the Governor, appears to me highly improper.

I ſhall therefore move, That all Vakeels from the different Powers, who come within the Company's limits and protection, do immediately on their arrival wait on the Governor; and that all Vakeels now here be acquainted with this regulation, that thoſe who have not already done it may conform thereto.

I cannot but with concern reflect on the preſent backwardneſs of the Rajah of Tanjore, in the payment of his kiſts; which, by the beſt informations I have been able to obtain, proceeds from his weakneſs and inſufficiency to direct the buſineſs of the Revenue; theſe throw him at the mercy of his ſervants, who have not honeſty or ability to manage that valuable country to that advantage it is capable of: had it been in proper hands, there is not a doubt but the kiſts might have been all paid, and a large treaſury left to aſſiſt us, in caſe our occaſions ſhould have required it. A continuance of the preſent prevailing miſmanagement, cannot be prevented by a correſpondence; ſome other method muſt therefore be adopted, and that ſoon; on which I ſhall give my ſentiments at a future meeting.

The Board are ſenſibly concerned to find by this repreſentation from the Preſident, that the Nabob ſhould purſue a conduct ſo inconſiſtent with the friendſhip that has

has for many years ſubſiſted between his Highneſs and the Company, and eſpecially at a time when the precarious ſituation of public affairs renders every exertion on his part indiſpenſably neceſſary for the ſupport of their common intereſts: being however anxious to avoid any meaſure that may be in the leaſt diſagreeable or derogatory to him, and wiſhing to defer it until we are compelled to give up this important conſideration, for the ſtill more important one of the ſafety of the Company's poſſeſſions, in which the national welfare is deeply concerned, reſolved, That a Letter, conformable to the ſentiments expreſſed by the Preſident in the foregoing Minute, be addreſſed to his Highneſs upon the occaſion, and that our determination upon the ſeveral points which he has therein ſubmitted to us, be ſuſpended until the Nabob's anſwer be received.

The Board approve of what the Preſident recommends, relative to the complimentary attention which is due to this Government, from the Vakeels of neighbouring Country Powers upon their arrival at this place; and it is accordingly reſolved, That the ſame be in future ſtrictly obſerved.

APPENDIX, No. 144.

28th Auguſt 1778.

THE Preſident informs the Board, That having communicated to the Nabob the ſenſe of the Board, as recited in Conſultation the 10th inſtant, relative to the future diſpoſition of the Company's jaghire; his Highneſs expreſſed an earneſt deſire to have the rent continued to him for the enſuing year, upon the ſame terms as before; and offered to enter into any articles that might be judged neceſſary for the improvement and benefit of thoſe diſtricts.

Some debate ariſing concerning the meaſures to be taken in conſequence of the Preſident's Report of the Nabob's inclinations: as it is a ſubject that from its importance requires to be conſidered with a deliberate attention, and eſpecially in the preſent uncertain ſtate of affairs, it is reſolved, that a further time be allowed for each Member of Council to deliver his ſentiments upon it; and the Board accordingly adjourn until Friday next the 4th of September, for taking the ſame under final conſideration.

Tho' Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Samuel Johnſon,
Charles Smith,
Peter Perring.

APPENDIX, No. 145.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 4th September 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.
General Munro abſent on ſervice.
Mr. Smith indiſpoſed.

THE Preſident acquaints the Board, That having, ſince laſt Conſultation, uſed frequent endeavours to converſe with the Nabob on the ſubject of the Company's jaghire, in the hopes of leading him to a deciſive and explicit declaration of his ſentiments concerning it; his Highneſs has repeatedly evaded this deſign: and as the Preſident has ſufficient reaſon to believe that he is actually in treaty with certain individuals, for mortgaging the revenue of thoſe lands, before he is aſſured that they will be continued under his management, he is of opinion, that the iſſuing of advertiſements for renting them, may be attended with advantage, as it will be a means of coming at the knowledge of their eſtimated value; and by indicating to the Nabob, that we intend to let them out to the greateſt advantage, without regard to any perſon in particular, his Highneſs may be induced to enter upon the ſubject in a more ſatisfactory manner than he has hitherto been inclined to do. Reſolved therefore, that advertiſements for renting them for one, three, five, or ten years, be publiſhed throughout the ſettlement; and that the term for receiving propoſals be limited to Sunday the 20th inſtant.

Thomas Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

APPENDIX No. 146.

APPENDIX, No. 146.

Extract of Fort St. George Revenue Conſultations, 11th September 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Samuel Johnſon,
Peter Perring.

READ the following Letter from the Nabob.

From the Nabob to the Governor; dated 9th September 1778—Received D°.

" It is unneceſſary to tell you in what manner I have at all times paid up the rents of the jaghire, ever ſince I firſt have had the management of it, notwithſtanding the troubles that have happened of late years, and the many dry and ſcarce ſeaſons which we have had; becauſe I ever am the ſteady friend of the Company and Engliſh Nation, and ever wiſh the proſperity of their affairs. Notwithſtanding I have large arrears of revenue due to me in theſe diſtricts, yet I have had conſideration for the Ryots, and not dealt hard with them in collecting what was due. The year of Phazely 1188, having already commenced, I have to requeſt of the repreſentatives of my beſt friends, the Governor and Council, that they will do me the favour to let me rent the abovementioned diſtricts of the jaghire for the five enſuing years; that the Aumils may with eaſe and ſatisfaction to themſelves, attend to the cultivation of the lands in theſe diſtricts, and make the proper and neceſſary repairs of tanks and watercourſes. Conſidering the preſent poſture of affairs, there is a proſpect of a loſs in the revenues by troubles which may happen hereafter; and ſhould this be the caſe, which God forbid! I hope you will be kind enough to take the loſs which may ariſe to me, into your conſideration. What ſhall I ſay more?"

Advertiſements having been already publiſhed for letting out the Company's jaghire;

Agreed, That the conſideration of the Nabob's requeſt be deferred till the expiration of the term limited for receiving propoſals.

APPENDIX, No. 147.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 23d September 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Thomas Rumbold, eſquire, Governor, Preſident,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Sam' Johnſon,
Peter Perring.
General Munro on ſervice.

SEVERAL propoſals having been delivered in, relative to the re-letting the Company's jaghire;

Reſolved, That an Abſtract be made of the ſeveral propoſals, and that it be ſent round for the examination of Council.

APPENDIX.
No. 147.

PROPOSALS for renting the Company's Jaghire.

PROPOSALS.	Pondamaley.	Chingleput.	Conjerams.	Caroongoly.	Poonary Pergunnah.	Muncrungiam and Covelong.	Covelong.	Whotramoor and Sawlevauk.	Sevaccanche and Veerinoocaincke.	Perreyapoliam.	Saut Maginan.	Trepassoor, Pedd polliam, Pounary, Steery Cottah.
Chetrputt Ponapah								30,000	43,000	the 1st	5 Years
Abraham Moodliar									50,000	the last	5 D°
Sooreah Moothly								31,000
Purivakum Gangadura Pilly		56,200		56,500	19,500	25,100
Dafe Reddy						24,000
Currhee Coonum Soobramaniah Mooderlier	43,000	the 1st	3 Years.
	44,000	the 2d	4 D°
	43,000	the last	3 D°
Vadamalay Pilly
Sawmy Moodaly					20,500					17,500
Lutchaman Rauroo		52,000
											20,500
Veeraparmaull			37,000	the 1st	3 Years
			40,000	next	4 D°
			45,000	last	3 D°
Cootrumbourom Nurfawyah											21,085	the 1st 5 Years.
											23,055	the last 5 d° with Security.
Mango Putty							8,500	3 Years
							9,000	5 D°
							9,250	10 D°

	5 Years.	10 Years.
Tombeyapah Moderlear, his Gomaſtah Vencataroy and Moſtaliah	310,000	620,000
If the Fawkiers Allowances are deducted, will give	318,000	634,000
If the Charges of repairing the Tanks, &c. are allowed, will give	326,000	651,000
If the Free Gift Villages and Conicoples Fees are added	344,000	690,000
If the Villages taken by the Nabob in the Year 1765 and 1777, are added	373 000	740,000
If the Villages called Teckſiam, now in the Nabob's Poſſeſſion, can be added	383,000	760,000

PROPOSALS for renting the Company's Jaghire.

PROPOSALS.	The Whole of the Jaghire.	Chingleput.	Tripaſſoor, Perrea-pollam Poonary, Che Caracaudy, the new Diſtrict of Mungeeve.	Caroongoly.	Conjeveram.	Covanandum tetum.	Whotramatoor and Sawlevauk.	Pondamaley.
Govinda Row		56,500		57,250	53,000
Antonio de Souza	370,000 the 1st 5 Y's.
	390,000 the last 5 d°
Kiſtnajee Punda	313,000 for the 1st Y'r
Venkata Chelum	320,000 2d D°
	330,000 3d D°
	340,000 4th D°
	340,000 5th D°
	350 000 6th D°
	350 000 7th D°
	360,000 8th D°
	370,000 9th D°
	380,000 10th D°
Moonor Putchapah Moddelly and Veera Pooram Keſtna Pillee		43,000 1 Year.	67,000 —	55,000
		43,000 2 D°	67,000 —	55,000
		45,000 3 D°	70,000 —	55,000
		45,000 4 D°	70,000 —	57,000
		47,000 5 D°	73,000 —	57,000
		47,000 6 D°	73,000 —	57,000
		47,000 7 D°	75,000 —
		53,000 8 D°	75,000 —	60,000
		53,000 9 D°	75,000 —	60,000
		53,000 10 D°	75,000 —	60,000
Anunda Vizia Ninar								39,100
		52,000 —		53,500	42,500	13,500	26,500	39,500
		52,000 —		53,500	43,100	13,500	26,500	40 000
		53,000 —		53,500	43,100	14,000	27,500	41,000
		53,000 —		54,000	43,500	14,000	27,500	42,000
Appajee Royer		54,000 —		54,000	43,500	14,500	28,000	43,000
		54,000 —		54,000	43,500	14,500	28,000	44,500
		55,000 —		54,500	44,000	15,000	28 500	44,500
		55,000 —		54,500	44,000	15,000	28,500	44,500
		55,000 —		54,500	44,500	16,000	28,500	44,500
		55,000 —		54,500	44,500	16,000	28,500	44,500

APPENDIX, No. 148.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 2d October 1778.

THE Preſident delivers in the following Minute, relative to re-letting the Company's jaghire.

Having adverti ſed for letting the Company's jaghire, more with a view to aſcertain the real value and preſent ſtate of it, than with any determined reſolution to grant it to the higheſt bidder, which, in my opinion, would be an improper mode to be obſerved; it now becomes neceſſary to conſider the ſeveral points that depend on the re-letting of this valuable acquiſition of the Company's.

The granting ſo extenſive a territory, and ſo large an amount of revenue, to any individual, without the moſt certain ſecurity, and the moſt aſſured confidence that the perſon renting it, is in every reſpect equal to the talk of taking care of the cultivation and improvement of the lands, would, in my opinion, prove of dangerous conſequence, and probably a failure of revenue would enſue. The Nabob, who has for ſeveral years rented it, is ſaid not to have attended ſufficiently to the neceſſary repairs of the tanks, &c. &c that the inhabitants have had too much cauſe for complaint of the oppreſſion of his Aumildars; which I impute to our not having properly inſiſted upon ſeeing the terms fulfilled, on which the holding the jaghire has been granted to him; for had they been ſtrictly obſerved, the lands muſt at this time have been in a proſperous ſtate of cultivation.

The Nabob has wrote us a Letter on the ſubject, and ſeems exceedingly anxious that the jaghire ſhould be continued to him. He is apprehenſive that his honour will be hurt in taking it from him; and is extremely uneaſy at our having made a publication regarding it, which he deems a reflection on him; though ſtill I approve the meaſure, as it will ſerve clearly to ſhew the Company the preſent value of thoſe lands, and that we have not been actuated by any other views than what our duty has prompted us to for their intereſt. It ſeems to be allowed by every one, that the Nabob has paid us a larger revenue for the jaghire, than what he really collects from the country. Two principal reaſons, with others, ſeem to have operated on his mind, to induce him to ſubmit to this loſs of revenue; he is pleaſed with having the management of the country, which ſecures to him a degree of credit and conſequence; whilſt he remains at Madras, he procures every neceſſary ſupply for his family and his numerous attendants. Was the jaghire once taken from him, I am perſuaded he would be under the neceſſity of removing to Arcot, or ſome of his own garriſons, for he would never be reconciled to remain here, entirely as a private Gentleman, under the neceſſity of making application for every trifling aſſiſtance he might require for the convenience of himſelf and thoſe about him. The driving him from our Preſidency, by ſuch an act as taking the jaghire from him, becomes a point for political diſcuſſion. I am aware, that there have been opinions, that it would, on many accounts, be better if his Highneſs was to reſide at his own capital; I muſt profeſs I always differed from them: we never can have a greater influence in the Carnatic, nor a ſtronger aſſurance of attachment, I may ſay dependence, than whilſt the Soubah, with his family, and every thing that is dear to him, is living with us, and abſolutely under the protection and fire of our own guns. Some inconveniences, I allow, ariſe, but I am perſuaded they are much overbalanced by the advantages accruing from his reſidence here, and it would be a diſagreeable and cruel taſk, at his preſent advanced ſtage of life, to oblige him to quit that ſituation which ſuits his inclination, and which, from all appearance, he has choſen for his retirement during the remainder of his life. The Company, though many repreſentations have been made to them, have always ſeemed cautious not to diſtreſs him, and have never given orders to deprive him of the jaghire. The letting it to him from year to year, is in my opinion the moſt deſtructive ſyſtem that can be adopted; he is always in doubt whether he ſhall have the renewal of it, and that fear has conſtantly made him backward to grant thoſe repairs which are abſolutely neceſſary, and has kept him from giving that encouragement that might be expected; and that would in ſome meaſure repay him the loſs he has ſuſtained by renting it, as I am aſſured that the laſt three years have not yielded, one year with another, more than 330,000 pagodas. I have been at ſome pains to come to a certainty on this point, and believe the account is to be depended on.

APPENDIX No. 148

The Nabob applies to have the jaghire for five years; I am of opinion it would be better to let it him for that term, upon ſuch conditions as I ſhall hereafter ſpecify, which it is our duty to ſee punctually complied with; but leaſt the Company would wiſh to draw any line, or make any new regulations with reſpect to the jaghire, I ſhall propoſe, that it be granted to the Nabob for three years only, during which time the Company may have every neceſſary information for their guidance, in their future diſpoſal of it.

I am abſolutely againſt letting of it from year to year, as well for the reaſons I have before aſſigned, as for another, in my opinion a very material one: the preſent expected war with France, and the ſteps we have in conſequence taken, make it abſolutely neceſſary that we ſhould not leave to chance the ſettling of ſo material a ſource of revenue, which in caſe of troubles may, in other hands than the Nabob's ſubject us to diſappointment, and a great riſque of failure in the ſtated payments.

To conclude; the Company having in the ſtrongeſt manner, recommended to us to conciliate the mind of the Nabob, by every means in our power, and as they have lately ſent us a copy of the laſt Letter they wrote him, couched in the ſtrongeſt terms of friendſhip and regard, I do not think it would be politic, conſiſtent with our duty, or agreeable to the ſpirit of the Company's direction to us, or their expreſſions of friendſhip to him, to take the jaghire out of his hands, and at ſo critical a juncture to ſour his mind, and to treat him contrary to the wiſhes and directions of our Employers, and on a point he deems of conſequence, and on which he has ſhewn great anxiety.

Of all the propoſals that have been made in conſequence of the advertiſement, there is only one for renting the whole of the jaghire lands together, which is from Mr. Antonio De Souza; the others are only for ſeparate parts; and none of the propoſals advantageous. The dividing of the jaghire would, in my opinion, be a meaſure extremely detrimental. Mr. De Souza's propoſal is to rent it for ten years, a length of time we ſhould not agree for, without particular directions from the Company; and it appears to me, that the offer is made with a view to ſpeculate what may be done, more than from any certainty of ſucceeding in the undertaking; in caſe of failure, the loſs would fall heavy on the Company.

CONDITIONS on which the Jaghire is propoſed to be granted to the Nabob for the term of three years.

1ſt. His Highneſs the Nabob ſhall annually pay, at ſtated monthly payments, as formerly, the ſum of 324,000 pagodas, for the countries of Trepaſſore, &c. agreeable to the following kiſts, viz.

On the 31ſt day of January in each year	100,000
On the 30th of June	124,000
On the 30th of September	100,000
Pagodas	324,000

And

APPENDIX. No. 149.

And for the country of Poonamalee 40,000 Pagodas in different payments, as formerly.

2d. The juſt and proper ſhare of the produce muſt be given to the inhabitants.

3d. The tanks and watercourſes ſhall immediately, as the ſeaſon will permit, be put in repair.

4th His Highneſs is not to grant any village or portion of land, by way of free gift to any one, out of the jaghire belonging to the Company; and any grant, already made, without the knowledge and conſent of the Preſident and Council, to be void.

5th. In caſe the regular payments of the kiſts agreed on, are not punctually made, the Governor and Council, after one kiſt being a month in arrears, ſhall be at full liberty to re-let the jaghire in any manner they may think proper.

6th. Any Aumildar who may be found incapable of managing the buſineſs, or on proof of his oppreſſing the inhabitants, ſhall be removed at the requeſt of the Governor, and another be appointed in his room. But no Aumildar who has a Cowle granted him for any ſtated time, and fulfils the condition of the ſame, as making his regular payments, ſhall be removed till the expiration of the time for which the Cowle is granted, except for the reaſons mentioned in the former part of this article.

7th. The Aumildars of the Company's jaghire who ſhall be appointed by his Highneſs the Nabob, ſhall not, on any account, be ſent by force to Arcot, or out of the limits of the jaghire, without their own conſent.

8th. No part of the jaghire lands ſhall be mortgaged, or their produce, as ſuch mortgage will be conſidered as invalid, if there ſhould be a failure in the regular kiſts.

9th. The Preſident and Council ſhall be at full liberty to ſend, at any time, one or more of the Company's ſervants, to ſurvey or eſtimate the value of the jaghire and collection, and to ſee that the conditions herein expreſſed, are fully and punctually complied with.

Tho^s Rumbold.

APPENDIX, No. 149.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 5th October 1778.

THE Preſident propoſes, That his Minute relative to the Company's jaghire, delivered in laſt Conſultation, be now taken into conſideration, and that the jaghire be rented to the Nabob for the ſpace of three years, on the conditions expreſſed therein.

The Board taking into conſideration the Preſident's Minute;

Mr. Perring delivers in the following Minute on the occaſion:

Mr. Perring is of opinion, the Nabob ſhould have the jaghire for three years, becauſe none of the propoſals delivered in are admiſſible, except Mr. De Souza's, which he thinks ought not to be accepted, as he has not engaged to give any ſecurity for the principal payment of the rent; and the ſmall increaſe he offers is too inconſiderable an object to induce this Government to deprive the Nabob of the jaghire, when he has the holding it ſo much at heart, and pays the Company, in the opinion of people in general, the full value of it.

Mr Perring is for extending the leaſe to three years, from an opinion that the Nabob's holding it for one only, will be injurious, by deterring both him and the inhabitants from making the advances for ſubſtantial repairs to the tanks and watercourſes, ſo neceſſary to ſecure the future proſperity of the country.

Mr. Johnſon delivers in the following Minute on the occaſion:

I conſent to the letting out the Honourable Company's jaghire to his Highneſs the Nabob, for the following reaſons:

1ſt. Becauſe our Superiors ſo earneſtly recommended (in their Letter to us, dated 11th June 1777) our uſing every means in our power for ſtrengthening that amity which ſubſiſts between them and him.

2dly. Becauſe the times are critical, and, I believe, the letting out the jaghire to another would greatly hurt him; therefore, policy ſuggeſts the meaſure juſt at this juncture.

3dly. Becauſe I conceive the jaghire is let at as high a rent as it will bear in its preſent plight; and I believe the conditions on which it is propoſed to be let, tend to its improvement, and therefore there is a proſpect of its being rendered more valuable, at the expiration of the Cowle now propoſed to be granted to the Nabob.

Laſtly, Becauſe I apprehend the diſtreſs of the times may render it extremely difficult for any private individual to pay his kiſts; and it may be productive of many inconveniences, independent of the diſtreſs it muſt create to the inhabitants, the letting it out in ſeparate diſtricts.

Mr. Smith delivers in the following Minute on the occaſion:

I am of opinion the jaghire ſhould be rented to his Highneſs the Nabob for three years, on the terms and conſiderations expreſſed in the Preſident's Minute, for the following reaſons:

1ſt. Becauſe it does not appear to me from the commands of our honourable Employers, and they have ſaid much on the ſubject of the jaghire, that it is their will we ſhould take it out of the hands of the Nabob; on the contrary, they have, on various occaſions, and particularly in their commands of the 11th June 1777, ſtrictly enjoined us to conciliate his mind by every means in our power; and in the preſent conjuncture of affairs, when it ſo much depends on the Nabob, it would, in my opinion, be bad policy to ſour his mind, by refuſing him what he ſeems ſo much to have ſet his heart on obtaining.

2dly. Becauſe it is evident, from the ſeveral propoſals now before us, that the Nabob has always paid the full value of the jaghire.

3dly. Becauſe annual rents are univerſally allowed to be deſtructive both to the renter and to the inhabitants; and the condition now propoſed, will enable the Board to ſee that the improvement of the country is attended to, and ſtrict juſtice done to the inhabitants.

4thly. Becauſe none of the propoſals, except thoſe of Mr. Antonia de Souza's, are worthy of conſideration, and he makes no offer of ſecurity; ſhould therefore any troubles ariſe in the Carnatic, which are much to be apprehended, it would be difficult for any individual, particularly in theſe times when money is ſo very ſcarce, to be punctual in the payment of his kiſts; whereas, I preſume, the Nabob may always be relied on.

Charles Smith.

Mr. Whitehill delivers in the following Minute on the occaſion:

The Honourable the Court of Directors having, upon many occaſions, and eſpecially in the 29th paragraph of their commands of the 11th of June 1777, ſtrictly enjoined us to ſhew the Nabob every poſſible mark of reſpect and attention, as well on account of the intimate connection and alliance that hath for a long courſe of time uninterruptedly ſubſiſted between his Highneſs and the Company, as with the view of conciliating his mind, that had been apparently diſturbed by the late unhappy diſſentions in this Government; I think we ought to be extremely cautious of denying him any requeſt that is urged to us with the degree of ſolicitude, which he ſeems to feel upon the preſent occaſion. I am, on the other hand, no leſs aware of deviating from the line which our Employers have in their commands of the 12th of April 1775, indirectly pointed out to us, as that which their intereſt required us to purſue; but ſince it is a line which they have not abſolutely authorized us to adopt, and as we have in our Letter of the 5th February laſt, apprized them that we ſhould not feel ourſelves at liberty to take any new meaſures with reſpect to letting out the jaghire, until we were furniſhed with their preciſe inſtructions concerning it; I do not doubt that they will approve of our ſuffering thoſe lands to continue ſome time longer under his Highneſs's management. I am, however, very far from thinking it neceſſary, or even adviſable, to gratify the Nabob to the full extent of his wiſh: there is, in my opinion, a middle courſe, which, if adopted, will avert the embarraſſment we ſhould be liable to from giving an abſolute refuſal to the Nabob's requeſt, and at the ſame time reſerve to the Company the option of laying out any new plan they may hereafter be induced to make choice of, for the ſecurity as well as improvement of this part of their poſſeſſions. The medium I ſpeak of is, to let the Nabob have the jaghire, not for five, but for three years, by which time, if not ſooner, we may expect to receive the Company's orders concerning the future diſpoſition of it; and in the meanwhile, I conceive that his Highneſs will have no juſt reaſon to complain of ſuch an abridgment of the term mentioned in his Letter. The Nabob has, till now, never held thoſe diſtricts upon a longer leaſe than a twelvemonth, and he ought therefore to be ſo well ſatisfied to find himſelf thus far accommodated, as not to think of murmuring at a deduction, which, if taken in a comparative view, will appear of too little conſequence to juſtify in him the leaſt ſhew of repugnance to the meaſures of this Government.

Reſolved in conſequence, That the jaghire be rented to the Nabob for the ſpace of three years, from the laſt day of July 1778, on the conditions propoſed in the Preſident's Minute, for the reaſons contained in the ſeveral foregoing Minutes delivered in; and particularly, as no offer has been made in conſequence of the advertiſement for letting the jaghire, of equal ſecurity and advantage to the Company, that ſhould induce the Board at the preſent criſis to take it out of the Nabob's hands. And that a Letter be written to him, acquainting him, that the Board have agreed, on certain conditions to be ſpecified, to rent the jaghire to him for the term of three years, that his Highneſs may be convinced of the attention the Board have ſhewn to his requeſt, and how ready they are at all times to co-operate with his wiſhes where it may be done with propriety, and where the intereſts of the Company are not affected by their compliance; and they hope and truſt, that in conſequence of having manifeſted ſo chearfully their diſpoſition to oblige him, his Highneſs will in all his future payments for the jaghire, obſerve a ſtrict punctuality, and that he will immediately order the payment of the balance that remains due for the laſt year.

APPENDIX, No. 150.

Extract of Fort Saint George Revenue Conſultations, the 17th October 1778.

SENT the following Letter to the Nabob.

To his Highneſs, Wallaw Jaw Ummeed ul Hind, Omdat ul Mulk, Aſuph ul Dowlah, Unwer ud Deare Khan Behader, Zephur Jung, Sepoy Salar Soubahder of the Carnatic, Pauyez Ghaur.

May it pleaſe your Highneſs,

The Letter which your Highneſs has been pleaſed to favour me with, communicating to me your requeſt, that the Company's jaghire be continued to your Highneſs, I have received with every poſſible attention.

I have the pleaſure to acquaint your Highneſs, that the Board have come to a reſolution to rent the jaghire to your Highneſs for the term of three years, commencing from the 31ſt July 1778 and ending the 31ſt July 1781; ſubject however to the annexed conditions to be complied with on the part of your Highneſs, which I doubt not you will approve, as calculated equally for the advantage and credit both of the Company and your Highneſs. APPENDIX. No. 150.

I have the ſatisfaction to remark further, that nothing has given me more ſincere pleaſure than attending to the requeſt of your Highneſs in the preſent inſtance, and thereby convincing your Highneſs, that I embrace every opportunity, where I think I can with propriety do ſo, and where the intereſts of the Company do not ſuffer.

I hope and truſt, in conſequence of the readineſs I have ſhewn to oblige you, that your Highneſs will in your future payments for the jaghire obſerve a ſtrict punctuality, and that you will immediately order the payment of the balance that remains due for the laſt year.

CONDITIONS on which the Jaghire is propoſed to be granted to the Nabob for the term of three years.

1ſt. His Highneſs the Nabob ſhall annually pay at ſtated monthly payments, as formerly, the ſum of 324,000 pagodas, for the countries of Tripaſſore, &c. agreeable to the following kiſts, viz.

On the 31ſt day of January in each year -	100,000
On the 31ſt June - - - -	124,000
On the 30th September - - -	100,000
Pagodas	324,000

And for the country of Poonamalee, 40,000 in different payments, as formerly.

2d. The juſt and proper ſhare of the produce muſt be given to the inhabitants.

3d. The tanks and watercourſes ſhall, immediately as the ſeaſon will permit, be put in repair.

4th. His Highneſs is not to grant any village or portion of land, by way of free gift, to any one, out of the jaghire belonging to the Company; and any grant already made without the knowledge of the Preſident and Council, to be void.

5th. In caſe the regular payments of the kiſts agreed on are not punctually made, the Governor and Council, after any one kiſt being a month in arrears, ſhall be at free liberty to re-let the jaghire in any manner they might think proper.

6th. Any Amuldar who may be found incapable of managing the buſineſs, or on proof of his oppreſſing the inhabitants, ſhall be removed at the requeſt of the Governor, and another be appointed in his room. But no Amuldar who has had a Cowle granted him for any ſtated time, and fulfils the condition of the ſame, as making his regular payments, ſhall be removed till the expiration of the time for which the Cowle is granted, except for the reaſons mentioned in the former part of this article.

7th. The Amuldars of the Company's jaghire, who ſhall be appointed by his Highneſs the Nabob, ſhall not on any account be ſent by force to Arcot, or out of the limits of the jaghire, without their own conſent.

8th. No part of the jaghire lands ſhall be mortgaged, or their produce, as ſuch mortgage will be conſidered invalid, if there ſhould be a failure in the payment of the regular kiſts.

9th. The Preſident and Council ſhall be at full liberty to ſend at any time, one or more of the Company's ſervants, to ſurvey or eſtimate the real value of the jaghire and collection, and to ſee that the conditions herein expreſſed, are fully and punctually complied with.

Thomas Rumbold,
John Whitehill,
Charles Smith,
Sam^l Johnſon,
P. Perring.

APPENDIX. No. 151.

APPENDIX, No. 151.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Council at Fort Saint George, to the Court of Directors; dated 17th October 1778.

Par. 12. IN regard to your jaghire lands, we have often mentioned to you the inconveniences that attended the Nabob's management; but as we have obſerved at all times a ſtrong diſpoſition in you to continue them with him, under proper reſtrictions, our conduct reſpecting them this year has been governed accordingly. After the expiration of the laſt Cowle, in July, the Nabob having neglected to make his uſual application to be continued in the management, we thought it a favourable opportunity for advertiſing them publicly to be let; more, however, with the view of aſcertaining the general opinion of the real value or produce, than of putting them into other hands. The Nabob, greatly alarmed at this proceeding, addreſſed us a Letter, anxiouſly deſiring to have the direction of them as uſual, for a term of five years inſtead of one. We ſuſpended our deciſion until we had ſeen the effect of our advertiſement. Several propoſals were delivered in, but none of them came up to our expectation; nor was any ſufficient ſecurity offered for the rent, though a thing abſolutely neceſſary to be inſiſted on. Under theſe circumſtances, their continuance with the Nabob was become a matter of neceſſity, even had we been diſinclined to the meaſure; but we confeſs to you, after the wiſhes you had expreſſed ſo lately, that we ſhould endeavour, by every means in our power, to calm the Nabob's mind, apparently much diſturbed, and to eradicate from it every ſuſpicion of your want of friendſhip or goodwill. We were pleaſed at the opportunity thus given us, of promoting ſo deſirable an end; and though we did not comply with the extent of his requeſt, to be continued in the direction of the country for five years, we thought it in every view eligible to let him have it for three years; and we came to that reſolution accordingly, which we hope you will approve. For a more particular explanation of our ſentiments and reaſons, we beg leave to refer to our Minutes of the 10th inſtant.

APPENDIX, No. 152.

Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors, to the Preſident and Council at Fort Saint George; dated the 16th June 1779.

Par. 23. IN the 31ſt paragraph of the Company's Letter of the 12th April 1775, it was ordered, that no agreement ſhould be concluded with the Nabob for the jaghire lands, for more than one year. We are very ſorry you have thought fit to depart from that order; for although the Nabob was alarmed at your advertiſement to let the jaghire lands, we have no doubt but he might have been ſatisfied, as uſual, with a Cowle for one year.

APPENDIX, No. 153.

Letter from the Court of Directors, to the Preſident and Council of Fort Saint George; dated 10th January 1781.

Par. 1. YOU were acquainted by our Letter, dated 16th June 1779, that the propriety of calling the Zemindars to the Preſidency to ſettle their jemmabundy, would be taken into conſideration ſo ſoon as your proceedings were fully before us; we alſo expreſſed our hope, that your prudence would obviate any inconvenience or objections to which that meaſure might be liable; and particularly, that you would be upon your guard againſt any miſrepreſentation of the Zemindars, concerning the capacity of their lands to produce ſuch reaſonable revenue to the Company as ought to be paid by the ſaid Zemindars.

2. Your Revenue Conſultations from 14th March to 17th October 1778 per Valentine, were not received till the 24th of April laſt; the duplicates, per Mount Stuart, arrived in January preceding: and we are ſorry to be obliged to acquaint you, that your proceedings in that Department have not our approbation.

3. By Letter dated the 12th of April 1775, the Court directed, that when affairs reſpecting Tanjore ſhould have been accommodated and finally adjuſted, a Committee of Circuit ſhould be appointed, and conſiſt of five Members of Council. The objects of their inquiry were to be the produce of the country, the number of inhabitants, the ſtate of the manufactures, the fortified places, the groſs amount of the revenues, the articles from which they ariſe, the mode by which they are collected, the charges of collection, the ſpecific proportion uſually received by the Rajah or Zemindar, and that which cuſtom or uſage has allotted to the cultivator as the reward of his labour.

4. They were alſo particularly to inquire what ſecurity the Native has for his property, what Courts there are for the adminiſtration of juſtice, and how far ſimilar regulations to thoſe lately eſtabliſhed at Bengal by our Preſident and Council, might with propriety be introduced into the Circars.

5. The Committee of Circuit were likewiſe to aſcertain the ſtrength of each Rajah, Zemindar, or Landholder in the Circars; the expence of his houſhold and that of his troops, the means he has of defraying ſuch expences; and the number of regular Sepoys which it will be neceſſary for the Company to maintain in the reſpective diſtricts, in order to keep them in due ſubjection.

6. At the expiration of the then ſubſiſting leaſes, the Committee of Circuit were to re-let the lands for a term of years; and to take care that the proportion of produce to be received by Farmers of every denomination, ſhould be aſcertained and exactly defined; that all Farmers who might exact more from the undertenants than their due, ſhould forfeit their Farms; and that the means of redreſs, in caſe of impoſition or oppreſſion, ſhould be rendered as eaſy as poſſible.

7. After various delays, occaſioned in part by the unhappy diſſentions of our Council at Fort Saint George, we find, on your Conſultations of February 1777, that a Committee of Circuit had then ſet out from Vizagapatam, and entered upon the execution of their office. It alſo appears that the Members were indulged with Colonel's pay and batta for themſelves, and Captain's pay and batta to their aſſiſtants; which we think too great an allowance for the ſervice intended.

8. In the addreſs of the Committee of Circuit, dated at Chicacole the 5th of July 1777, complaint was made of the impriſonment of Jaganaut Rauze, the Company's renter of the Havelly Lands, by order of Viziaram Rauze. The Committee likewiſe complain of obſtacles being thrown in their way in the execution of their buſineſs; and repreſent, that through the intrigues of Silterram Rauze, Jaganaut Rauze had been deprived of his office of Duan to Viziaram Rauze.

9. The report of the Committee of Circuit, dated at Chicacole the 16th of Auguſt 1777, contains further important information concerning the amount of the revenues, and the military ſtrength of Viziaram Rauze, of which we ſhall take particular notice below.

10. At that juncture Mr. Whitehill arriving at Fort Saint George, Meſſrs. Johnſon and Perring were, in conſequence of the Court's orders, called to the Preſidency to aſſiſt in Council.

11. The 10th of September the Committee of Circuit tranſmit a further report to the Preſidency, accompanied with ſeveral Accounts from the Chicacole Circar; and the 6th of November the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam addreſs the Board very fully on the ſituation of affairs in that quarter; and both Committees of Circuit and and Council of Vizagapatam report very unfavourably of the behaviour of Sitteram Rauze.

12. Upon the receipt of offers for Farms from Ganjam, the Board very properly conſider it contrary to the orders and intentions of the Company, that any Farms dependent on the Circars ſhould be let for any conſiderable length of time, until fully inveſtigated by the Committee of Circuit.

13. The 25th of November 1777, before Mr. Whitehill had been three months at Fort Saint George, Viziaram Rauze, the principal Zemindar of the diſtricts dependent on Vizagapatam, was ordered to the Preſidency; but Mr. Johnſon, the late Chief of that Subordinate, diſſented to the meaſure.

14. The 5th December 1777, after noticing that a variety of cauſes had combined to impede the execution of the Court's orders relative to a Committee of Circuit; the Board appear juſtly ſenſible of the advantages to be derived from the due diſcharge of that important commiſſion, and reſolve, that the buſineſs ſhall be proſecuted without further loſs of time; and perſons were nominated to fill the vacancies occaſioned by the ſuſpenſion of Mr. Floyer from the Company's ſervice, and the appointment of Meſſrs. Johnſon and Perring to be Members of Council.

15. When meaſures were ſuggeſted from Ganjam, for increaſing the value of the Company's Farms, you ſtill reſolve to keep in view the objects propoſed by the Company, in appointing a Committee of Circuit; and forbear to paſs judgment upon the meaſures propoſed by the Gentlemen at Ganjam, until the Committee's opinion upon the ſubject could be obtained; and as the ſeaſon of the year was advanced, it was reſolved, that the higheſt offers for the term of one year ſhould be accepted.

16. On your Conſultations of the 18th of November 1777, we find propoſals tranſmitted by the Committee of Circuit from Padnah Rauze, for renting the Havelly Lands in the Chicacole Circar. The 19th of December your Preſident lays before the Board propoſals for the ſaid Lands from Sitteram Rauze, who was then at the Preſidency. The propoſals of Sitteram Rauze were exactly 5,000 rupees higher upon every ſpecific ſum, than thoſe tranſmitted by the Committee of Circuit.

17. It is not eaſy to conceive, that ſo ſmall and ſo regular an advance upon the various mixed numbers contained in the offer of Padnab Rauze, could have been the effect of mere chance. Appearances were however preſerved, and by the Preſident's caſting vote the lands were let to Sitteram Rauze for ten years.

18. On your Conſultations of the 2d February 1778, the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam expreſs their concern at the Havelly Lands being thus let to Sitteram Rauze, and refer to the character given of him by the Committee of Circuit. The ſame Letter contains a tender of 40,000 Rupees more for the Havelly Lands than Sitteram Rauze had agreed to pay; but the precipitate acceptance of his propoſals had precluded further advantages to the Company from thoſe Lands for ten years.

19. Concerning this tranſaction, our preſent Governor remarks, that the Havelly Lands had been let on too long a leaſe before his arrival; but he does not ſee that they could be in better hands.

20. We are however of opinion, that the character of Sitteram Rauze appears on the records of your Preſidency too exceptionable to admit a doubt of the impropriety of ſuffering him to reſume a power in the Circars, of which he had juſt been diſpoſſeſſed; and the committing of the Havelly Lands to his management, without taking care to provide for and eſtabliſh ſuch reforms and regulations for the benefit of the Natives, and for the advantage of the Company, as were directed in the Court's General Inſtructions of April 1775, was a breach of the Company's orders.

21. Our preſent Governor arrived at Fort Saint George the 8th February 1778. The 24th of March he recommended, that the Committee of Circuit ſhould not proceed; but that the Zemindars of the Northern Circars ſhould be directed to repair to the Preſidency. No good reaſons had appeared for departing from the Court's poſitive orders; but the meaſure was nevertheleſs immediately adopted by the Council.

22. On your Conſultation of the 10th of April, the Council at Vizagapatam repreſent, that they have undeniable proof of the Agent of Sitteram Rauze having remitted to his Maſter, then at Fort Saint George, 131,000 rupees; that further bills were negotiating for him, which together would nearly amount to one year's rent of the Farm. This intelligence was communicated to you, that meaſures might be taken to ſecure payment of his arrears at the Preſidency; you were alſo adviſed of there being the ſtrongeſt reaſons to believe, that in order to raiſe the above money, the poor Farmers had been ſeverely oppreſſed; that ſome of them had fled the country, and that thoſe remaining were groaning under the oppreſſions of the Agent of Sitteram Rauze.

23. Your Preſident being deſired to communicate the above intelligence to Sitteram Rauze, he aſſured him that the firſt kiſt of his agreement ſhould be forthwith paid at Vizagapatam; with which the Board ſeemed ſatisfied.

24. By a Letter from Captain Collins, on your Military Conſultations of the 16th of October 1777, it appears that Sitteram Rauze ſet out for the Preſidency the 21ſt of September 1777; the agreement for the Havelly Lands was concluded with him in December 1777; the annual rent agreed to be paid for thoſe Lands was, for the firſt five years, Rupees 235,000, and in December 1778, his arrears of rent amounted to Rupees 180,530; but we do not find that a ſingle Rupee of the large ſums remitted by the Agent of Sitteram Rauze to his Maſter, was ever required by our Governor and Council in diſcharge of his arrears to the Company, during the whole of his reſidence at Fort Saint George.

25. By a Letter from the Rajah Viziaram Rauze to Mr. Davidſon, on your Conſultations of the 15th of May, we learn that the ſaid Rajah was to ſet out for the Preſidency the 28th of April 1778.

26. The principal Zemindars being abſent from the country, the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam repreſent themſelves in the greateſt diſtreſs for the means of ſupport; there was no money to advance for the inveſtment, which was nearly at a ſtand; the Zemindary Agents were preſſed for money without ſucceſs, and pleaded want of inſtructions from their ſuperiors, as an excuſe for non-payment.

27. Upon this repreſentation, your Preſident informs the Board, that the Zemindars aſſured him they had not only left orders for diſcharging their arrears, but alſo provided for the management of their affairs during their abſence; that in particular Sitteram Rauze aſſured him, he had paid his kiſt due in February, and given orders for diſcharging the remainder as it became due: and with theſe profeſſions the Board ſeem to reſt ſatisfied.

28. The ſame day, after expreſſing his opinion that it was incumbent, without delay, to appoint a man of known abilities as Duan to Viziaram Rauze, to aſſiſt in eſtabliſhing the order and œconomy neceſſary to ſecure to the Company the punctual receipt of their revenue, and after paſſing the greateſt eulogiums on Sitteram Rauze, your Preſident propoſed to the Board to make Sitteram Rauze Duan of the Circar.

29. This ſudden predilection in favour of Sitteram Rauze appears to us very extraordinary; the profeſt objects of the appointment, as ſtated by the Preſident, were, that the jemmabundy might be ſettled, and that the balances due to the Company might be immediately collected. How far theſe ends have been anſwered we ſhall preſently inquire.

30. In your Preſident's Minute of the 20th of July, he ſtates, very truly, that the jemmabundy of the diſtricts dependent on Vizianagrum had been long thought very inadequate, and far ſhort of what other Zemindars had paid paid to the Company; and that the Court of Directors had higher expectations from the Chicacole than from any other diſtricts in the Circars.

APPENDIX. No. 154.

31. He likewiſe obſerves, that as the reduction of the Vizianagrum troops had left the defence of that Circar to the Company, of courſe they would expect a ſum equal to the expence of which the Zemindar was eaſed, by the diſbanding of his troops. We agree with our Preſident in the reaſonableneſs of this expectation, and we are ſincerely concerned to find the idea ſo ſoon and ſo totally abandoned. He proceeds to ſtate, that although Viziaram Rauze had diſbanded his troops eleven months, and was thereby relieved of a conſiderable expence; though he paid the Company but 305,000 of rupees per annum out of the money he collected, which was probably upwards of ſeven times that amount, he was ſtill in arrears to the Company, and greatly in debt to individuals.

In another part of his Minute, your Preſident obſerves, that theſe are not times to trifle with the revenues, inveſtments, or reſources of the Circars: and we muſt remark, that it had been well for the Company, and honourable for your Board, if you had not departed from theſe ſentiments; that before a final concluſion of the tribute or jemmabundy could be made, Viziaram Rauze ſhould make good the expences of the Expedition under Colonel Braithwaite. The Preſident then declares his firm conviction, that the plan propoſed, namely, the appointment of Sitteram Rauze to be Duan, was calculated for the benefit of the Company, and free from every private view; that as the Rajah obſtinately perſiſted in keeping at variance with Sitteram Rauze, the Board ſhould forthwith appoint him Duan to the Circar; and, except Mr. Johnſon, you approve in general the ſentiments of your Preſident. The adoption of the ſon of Sitteram Rauze by the Rajah, was to be confirmed by the Cowle of the Governor and Council; but the Rajah was to be rendered ſenſible of the impropriety of adopting his brother's ſon without conſent of the Preſident and Council, and without giving a proper Nazir to the Company. This reprehenſion might have been ſpared, becauſe you are not authorized to require Nazirs for the Company on ſuch occaſions; and if they have at any time been exacted, it muſt have been for the benefit of individuals.

34. Having noticed theſe particulars, we proceed to inquire how far your conduct, reſpecting the increaſe of our revenues, has been agreeable to your profeſſions of diſintereſted zeal for the welfare of the Company.

35. It is ſtated in the Report of the Committee of Circuit, dated the 16th of Auguſt 1777, that Accounts of Lands had then been examined in the Chicacole Circar, for five years preceding, amounting to 14 lacks per annum: that 10 lacks of the above were on account of the Rajah: that from inquiries already made, and informations received, they had every reaſon to believe, that the countries under Viziaram Rauze yielded at leaſt 20 lacks of rupees; that he maintained a conſiderable force at a monthly expence of 50,000 or 60,000 rupees; that his military ſtrength conſiſted of 11,000 men, excluſive of 5,000 or 6000 pike and matchlock men, who might be collected from the neighbouring diſtricts; and we no where find theſe accounts of the Rajah's revenues, ſtrength, and military charges, controverted. Taken at the loweſt eſtimate, his military charges amounted to 6 lacks of rupees per annum. This ſum, therefore, according to the ſpirit of the Court's orders, and in perfect coincidence with your own ſentiments on the ſubject, ſhould, in any new agreement with the Rajah, have been ſecured for the Company, in order to enable them to provide effectually for the protection and defence of the country.

37. The rent or tribute paid by Viziaram Rauze, previous to the laſt agreement, was rupees 3,05,000. The Committee of Circuit, as above obſerved, had reported the produce of his revenues 20 lacks at the leaſt. And at an attendance of the two brothers upon your Board, the 29th of July 1778, Sitteram Rauze declares to the Rajah, in preſence of the Governor and Council, that when he undertook the management of his affairs, the annual revenues amounted to about 7 lacks of rupees; but that when he gave up the management thereof, he left the Rajah poſſeſſed of a revenue, amounting to upwards of 22 lacks per annum.

38. Whatever errors might attend the eſtimate of the Committee of Circuit, the evidence of Sitteram Rauze ſtands uncontroverted, and muſt be deemed concluſive reſpecting the amount of his brother's revenues.

39. Upon this declaration of Sitteram Rauze, you admoniſh the Rajah, that it is the laſt opportunity he will have of declaring himſelf to the ſatisfaction of your Board; you therefore recommend to him, in the moſt earneſt manner, to be reconciled to his brother; and enforce your arguments by aſſuring him, that his own welfare, and the intereſt of the Company, render the meaſure indiſpenſably neceſſary; that if he continues to withſtand your preſſing, repeated, joint and ſeparate applications, you will be under the neceſſity of forming ſuch reſolutions, as will poſſibly be extremely painful to him, but which, being once paſſed, could never be recalled.

40. The Rajah perfectly underſtood your meaning. He ſaw what was intended by the ſpecious pleas of his own welfare, and the intereſt of the Company; and immediately replied, That he ſhould thenceforth conſider himſelf diveſted of all power and conſequence whatever, ſeeing the Board urged him to a meaſure which was contrary to his fixed determination, and that the reſult was to be the loſing of his Country.

41. Whereupon your Preſident immediately propoſed, that Sitteram Rauze ſhould be appointed Duan of the countries dependant on Vizianagrum, for the management of the collections; that he ſhould be directed to look into the Accounts of the Province; that he ſhould acquaint the Board with the reaſons for outſtanding balances; that he ſhould immediately take into conſideration the ſettling of the tribute to be in future paid to the Company; and the neceſſary Sibbendy to be kept up, which was to be as ſmall as poſſible.

42. The above propoſitions were no ſooner made than agreed to, except by Mr. Smith, who adhered to his former opinions reſpecting Sitteram Rauze; whereupon,

43. The Preſident delivers a charge to Sitteram Rauze, the newly appointed Duan; and a Saned was ordered to be granted, conformable to the terms of his appointment.

44. The Rajah continuing averſe to the new Duan, your Preſident recommends, that he be poſitively ordered to ſend the Muſmadars, or Accountants, and other Officers of Revenue, to Sitteram Rauze; and alſo to proceed with him to Vizianagrum, ſo ſoon as the neceſſary ſtipulation for paying off his balance, and ſettling a new jemmabundy ſhould be concluded.

45. This conduct towards Viziaram Rauze was unjuſtifiable: as the Committee of Circuit were particularly directed to inquire what ſecurity the Native has for his property, and to take care that, in caſe of impoſition or oppreſſion, the means of redreſs ſhould be rendered as eaſy as poſſible to the undertenants and cultivators of lands in the Northern Circars. It would be a ſtrange perverſion of principles to ſuppoſe, that the undoubted rights of the hereditary Rajahs and Zemindars of the country might be reverſed or infringed with impunity, or that they were leſs an object of the Court's attention, than thoſe of the lower claſs of people. Our ſurprize and concern were therefore great, on obſerving the very injurious treatment which the ancient Rajah of Vizianagrum received at the Preſidency; when, deaf to his repreſentations and intreaties, you, in the moſt arbitrary and unwarrantable manner, appointed his ambitious and intriguing brother, Sitteram Rauze, Duan of the Circar, and thereby put him in poſſeſſion of the revenues of his eldeſt brother, who had juſt informed you that he ſought his ruin. For, however neceſſary it might be to adopt meaſures for ſecuring payment of the Company's tribute, no circumſtance, except actual and avowed reſiſtance of the Company's authority, could warrant ſuch treatment of the Rajah.

46. How far it may be prudent, under all circumſtances, to revoke the appointment, now it has taken place, muſt be the ſubject of future conſideration.

47. Sitteram Rauze having carried all his points, and ſucceeded, as we apprehend, beyond his moſt ſanguine wiſhes, we are ſorry to find all appearances of large increaſe of tribute vaniſh immediately, and a very different language adopted, concerning the advantages to be expected from the Chicacole Circar; and that, for the revenues of a country reported worth upwards of 22 lacks per annum, Sitteram Rauze himſelf, he and his brother, will now give no more than 4,05,000 per annum.

48. The 18th of Auguſt, your Preſident reports to the Board, that a reconciliation had taken place between the Rajah and Sitteram Rauze; the means uſed to accompliſh this meaſure are not ſpecified.

49. In your Preſident's Minute of the 2d October, inſtead of perſevering in the ideas of immenſe benefits to be derived to the Company from the Circars, he changes his ground, and delivers himſelf in terms more likely to promote the views of the renter, than to increaſe the jemmabundy.

50. He repeats his former aſſertion concerning the Havelly Lands having been granted before his arrival to Sitteram Rauze, on a large increaſe of the revenue for a term of ten years. He hopes the agreement with him will be punctually fulfilled; but from all accounts received, he is led to believe, that the deſire of different people to have the country under their management, has induced them to offer more for Lands than they are really worth. That the method of letting them to the higheſt bidder, often proves deſtructive to the country; that it ends at laſt in a failure of revenue, and occaſions an accumulation of heavy balance from year to year: that the accounts given in by the Committee of Circuit, led you to imagine that the value of thoſe countries is much greater than in reality they are ſaid to be; but that it is not from accounts collected from different people, ſome of them intereſted, others diſcontented, and wiſhing for a change of Government, that the true value of a country can be eſtimated: that the collections alone ought to determine the jemmabundy: that he has found it extremely difficult to bring the two brothers, Viziaram and Sitteram Rauze, to conſent to any increaſe of their tribute: they plead inability on account of their debts to Soucars and others, of which they produce proofs; and aſſert, that their country is not ſo valuable, nor does it produce ſo conſiderable a revenue, as had been repreſented; and, finally, that they will only conſent, after much altercation, to increaſe the tribute of three lacks five thouſand rupees, which they have hitherto paid, to four lacks five thouſand rupees: he was in hopes you would have been able to ſettle a larger amount of revenues for the Company from the Vizianagrum country, but he did not believe it poſſible to obtain a further increaſe at that time.

51. He ſeems conſcious that the Company expect a greater revenue from thoſe countries; he therefore wiſhes to obtain the ſentiments of the Members of the Board on the point; and if any certain mode could be adopted, that would do juſtice to the Zemindars, and at the ſame time to add to the revenue of the Company, he would be happy to join in promoting it: but to this declaration he ſubjoins an immediate and deciſive opinion, that, in your preſent ſituation of actual war, and of an exhauſted treaſury, a certain eſtabliſhed revenue was preferable to any ſpeculative ſchemes, even if they ſhould, in the end, be productive of a larger tribute, which he thinks might be attempted with greater proſpect of ſucceſs, when there ſhould be a certainty of tranquillity in the country, and nothing to apprehend from the views of the French.

APPENDIX. No. 153.

52. This is the language of your Preſident, and theſe are the oſtenſible reaſons which induced you, after having been driven to the neceſſity of taking poſſeſſion of the refractory Zemindar's fort by force of arms, to reſtore the whole to him upon the moſt inadequate terms, and to put in the power of his intriguing brother, Sitteram Rauze, to maintain a larger army to oppreſs the country, and to reſiſt or elude the Company's orders with greater facility than at any time heretofore. And inſtead of care being taken that the proportion of produce due to the cultivators and undertenants ſhall be preſerved, and the means of redreſs, in caſes of impoſition or oppreſſion, rendered as eaſy as poſſible, according to the wiſe and humane inſtructions of a former Court of Directors, no check whatever is eſtabliſhed, but the whole country is left liable to all the miſeries which can be occaſioned by the cruelty, avarice, and rapacity of Sitteram Rauze.

53. The ſpeedy recovery of balances due to the Company, was one of the profeſſed objects of the appointment of Sitteram Rauze. The pretence was delufory, and the conſequences the very reverſe of the propoſition. Sitteram Rauze was appointed Duan in July 1778; in January 1779, the balances due for tribute, from himſelf and his brother, were rupees 5,75,999, beſides the charges of the expedition under Colonel Braithwaite, and excluſive of rupees 1,03,030, due from Jagannaut Rauze to the Company, who, by your new policy, had been ordered to ſettle his accounts with Sitteram Rauze.

54. After the ſtrong hand laid upon Viziaram Rauze, and conſidering the ſituation to which he had juſt been reduced by your veſting the management of his revenues in Sitteram Rauze, we think the change of ſentiments, expreſſed in his Letter of the 6th of October, not at all ſurprizing, more eſpecially as the reſtoration of his Fort, and the obtaining of the Zemindary of Ancapillee, were principal objects of that Letter. It ſuited his intereſt to expreſs himſelf in terms, which he could not but know would be acceptable to you. He did ſo; and the ſucceſs was anſwerable to his expectations; for, inſtead of your retaining poſſeſſion of his Fort, in order to preſerve an influence neceſſary to prevent future diſturbances and oppreſſions, you forthwith declared it to be an inconſiderable fortification, and order it to be delivered up on the following extraordinary condition; namely, that the baſtions and walls ſhall remain in their preſent ſituation. Ancapillee and Sallaveram Zemindaries were alſo granted to the Rajah; the ſon of Sitteram Rauze was confirmed in the poſſeſſion of ſupreme authority; all Zemindary Cowles were ordered in future to be made out in his name; and, what exceeds belief, his father, by your own ſuggeſtion, was to become ſecurity for the payment of the revenues ariſing from the country, thus ſubjected to his ſon's oſtenſible authority, and to his own real management.

55. After adjuſting theſe points in favour of Sitteram Rauze, you call the brothers before you, and profeſs to uſe every endeavour to prevail upon them, if poſſible, to conſent to a larger increaſe of jemmabundy: you aſſure them, it is no more than an act of juſtice to the Company; and your aſſertion was certainly founded on truth; but as the Rajah objected to the propoſed increaſe of revenue, though upon the moſt frivolous pretences, we have the mortification to find, that all your applications were inſufficient to procure an act of common juſtice to your Employers; from a perſon entirely within your power, and over whoſe property you had recently aſſumed and exerciſed the moſt abſolute and unlimited controul.

56. Your words on the occaſion are, that "the Board "are reduced to the diſagreeable neceſſity of declaring, "that their beſt endeavours have been uſed to raiſe the

APPENDIX. No. 153.

« jemmabundy, and are ſorry that they have proved in« effectual; that there ſeems to be little, if any proſpect
« of a larger increaſe; but the Preſident ſhall, however,
« once more endeavour to prevail with them to raiſe it."
That is, the Preſident ſhall ſolicit the Rajah and his brother to conſent to an agreement, to pay more than 405,000 rupees for a country, which, by their own confeſſion, yields upwards of 22 lacks; and which enables them to maintain an army of 11,000 men, to the terror of the neighbouring Zemindars, and, probably, to the inconvenience and danger of the Company in times of hoſtility.

57. Two days afterwards your Preſident reports, that notwithſtanding his moſt preſſing ſolicitation, they (the brothers) remain inflexible, and that he utterly deſpairs of ſucceſs: you ſeem prepared for the event; reſolve to accept the terms offered, for the preſent, and that Cowles for the Chicacole Circar be made out for five years, upon the very inadequate terms before mentioned.

58. Upon this view of the ſubject, we have a right to enquire, upon what grounds of policy, or of duty to the Company, you acted, when you thus ventured to gratify the dangerous ambition of Sitteram Rauze, before you had even ſettled ſuch a jemmabundy as by your own declaration would have been no more than an act of juſtice to the Company? The report of the Committee of Circuit, and the poſitive evidence of Sitteram Rauze, warrant us in aſſerting, that more than double the amount of the tribute for which you have agreed, might, and ought to have been obtained for the Company. The means of adding conſiderably to our revenues and ſtrength, were fully within your power; you have not availed yourſelves thereof; but have concluded an improvident ſettlement with the Vizianagrum Zemindar for five years, and thereby rendered redreſs to the Company, without breach of public faith, impracticable.

59. We are in poſſeſſion of one fact, which, ſo far as it extends, ſeems to convey an idea that the Zemindars have been abuſed, and their money miſapplied at the Preſidency.

60. On your Mayor's Court Proceedings we find, that the executors of the late Mr. John Readhead (one of the Governor's family) have lately obtained a warrant of arreſt againſt Sitteram Rauze, for the balance of a lack of rupees promiſed to Mr. Readhead. We have no conception of ſo large a ſum having been, bonâ fide, advanced by Mr. Readhead to Sitteram Rauze; and we muſt conſider you very reprehenſible for not exerting yourſelves to prevent, if poſſible, ſuch tranſactions, and alſo for not adviſing us thereof, ſo ſoon as it was in your power to afford us ſuch information.

61. We have, however, determined to take the moſt effectual meaſures for diſcovering whether any preſents have been lately received by any of our Servants, and if ſo, to recover the amount, and to return ſuch unlawful plunder to the Natives from whom it has been ſo unjuſtly obtained.

62. In your Letter to Maſulipatam, dated the 15th of April 1778, you order the Zemindars dependent thereupon, the Muſmedars of the countries under them, and the Company's Dubaſh, to repair to the Preſidency, where the jemmabundy is to be ſettled in future. The Chief and Council were alſo to repreſent, in the ſtrongeſt manner, the neceſſity of an immediate compliance on the part of the Zemindars, the danger of incurring your diſpleaſure, by ſhewing the ſmalleſt reluctance or unwillingneſs to obey your commands, and to enforce them, if a ready compliance were not obſerved by the ſaid Zemindars.

63. The balance of the diſtricts were very great at that time; and the Chief and Council repreſent, that the departure of the Zemindars for the Preſidency, left little room to hope that they would be able to negotiate bills with the Soucars to pay the kiſts then due, which otherwiſe they were in expectation of receiving.

64. Your Preſident's remark, that the mode which you intended to adopt, had not impeded the payment of former balances, was very proper; and the Chief and Council were highly blameable for ſuffering the Zemindars to fall ſo greatly in arrear; but it by no means follows, that the amount of the expences incurred in a journey to the Preſidency, would not have been better applied in diminiſhing thoſe arrears.

65. The 21ſt of May 1778, the Chief and Council of Maſulipatam adviſe you of the Zemindars having taken leave, in order to proceed to Madras. Their Letter is entered on your Conſultations of the 12th of June, and three days afterwards you order them to adverriſe for propoſals to rent the ſeveral Farms under their management, for a period of 5, 8, or 10 years.

66. The 3d of July, they acquaint you, that no propoſals whatever had been received; on which we remark, that in the abſence of the Zemindars, and under the apprehenſions which muſt have been raiſed in the country by their departure, we are not ſurprized there ſhould be no bidders for our Farms.

67. The 20th July the Zemindars being arrived at Fort Saint George, your Preſident acquaints the Board, that he had for ſome time paſt been employed in endeavouring to recover the balances due from them, and in collecting particular information relative to the revenue of the different countries, which he propoſed ſhortly to lay before you: and on the 2d of October, he delivered in a Minute on the ſubject; in which he ſtates, that it appears from inquiry, that the Zemindars are ſo loaded with debts to the Company and to individuals, that he obſerves, with great concern, the little proſpect there is of any great increaſe of revenue from the Lands, or of the ſpeedy payment of what remains due from them; that it ſeems abſolutely neceſſary to ſettle the tribute for a length of time, to prevent the Zemindars from being liable to frequent calls for new ſettlements; that the ſituation of the ſeveral countries is ſuch, as to require indulgence and time to recover them; and that not the leaſt part of the heavy debts due to the Company were likely to be received.

68. After this extraordinary introduction, he gives a detail of ſeveral objections, obſervations, and promiſes, of the principal Zemindars. As for thoſe who were leſs conſiderable, he ſays, he has been aſſured, they will have no objection to an increaſe of tribute, in proportion to what ſhall be paid by others, he therefore is of opinion, that it ſhould be recommended to the Chief and Council to ſettle with them accordingly.

69. Annexed to the Preſident's Minute, he preſents you with a ſtatement of the old Mooriſh mamood or rent-roll of the diſtrict, alſo of the French jemmabundy; of Huſſain Ally's jemmabundy; of the laſt year's jemmabundy; and of a propoſed increaſe of 9 per cent. for the enſuing five years.

70. Three days afterwards he renews the ſubject, and informs you, that he has uſed his utmoſt endeavours to obtain from the Zemindars a large increaſe of jemmabundy, but it was with difficulty he had brought them to agree to the advance above ſtated; that, conſidering their debts to the Company and to individuals, he believed it to be the utmoſt the country would bear; and he did not think preſſing them further at that time would anſwer any other purpoſe than that of adding to their diſtreſs.

71. It was natural for us to expect, that the moſt unqueſtionable proofs of facts ſhould have accompanied theſe declarations of your Preſident; and that all the materials of information upon which he had formed an opinion ſo very unfavourable to an increaſe of revenue, ſhould not only have been produced to your Board, and there fully inveſtigated, but that your diſcuſſion and obſervations ſhould have enabled us to judge of the propriety of your having concurred in the Preſident's motion for aboliſhing the mode of inquiry preſcribed, and upon the moſt mature conſideration, ſtrictly enjoined by the Court of Directors. In ſhort, it behoved you to have taken care, that the moſt unexceptionable, public, and complete information, on the principal objects expreſsly ordered to be inveſtigated by a Committee of Circuit, ſhould have been obtained, and fully diſcuſſed, before you had a right to ſuppoſe yourſelves warranted to let the Lands on long leaſes, or that your abolition of the ſaid Committee could have our approbation. Inſtead of which, your Preſident becomes almoſt the only channel of information to the Board; and his opinions and declarations are received by you, and tranſmitted to us on Conſultation, as the principal foundation of your reſolutions on points which required the moſt careful and deliberate inveſtigation of facts, before any concluſion could with propriety have been drawn from the premiſes.

72. On this intereſting occaſion your language is, that "as the exacting of terms from the Zemindars which "there was no likelihood of the fulfilling, would render "any ſettlement with them rather nominal than real, and "be the ſource of endleſs diſappointments both to your "Government and to the Company at home, and alſo "be productive of diſtreſs and diſcontent to the Zemin"dars; all which ought, even in times of peace, to be "guarded againſt, but more eſpecially in your then cri"tical ſituation of war, when the unavoidable expences "of military operations alone had almoſt exhauſted "your treaſury; therefore, on mature conſideration, "you were clearly of opinion, that it was not in the "power of the Maſulipatam Zemindars to make any great "increaſe of their jemmabundy at preſent, and that "endeavouring to draw more from them than they had "with ſo much difficulty been prevailed upon to pay, would "be treating them with a degree of ſeverity inconſiſtent "with that juſtice and lenity which it has ever been the "Company's inclination to ſhew them; that it could "not be denied in their preſent unfavourable circum"ſtances, but they were entitled to compaſſion, and that "every reaſonable indulgence ſhould be exerciſed to"wards them; particular care being nevertheleſs taken, "to recover the balance then due to the Company, in "preference to every other demand."

73. Upon this ſtate of the caſe you forthwith reſolved, that the jemmabundy, agreeable to the ſtatement of the Preſident, ſhould take place for five years; and in the 9th paragraph of your Letter, of the 17th of October, you aſſure us, that it is as high as the country will bear.

74. We ſhall not waſte time in commenting upon theſe incoherent proceedings, nor in proving that an unavoidable increaſe of expences on the part of the Company, and an empty treaſury, were by no means concluſive arguments againſt receiving an increaſe of tribute from the diſtricts of Maſulipatam. It never was our wiſh to oppreſs the Zemindars, but, on the contrary, to afford them the moſt effectual protection; in order thereto, it was neceſſary to poſſeſs the means. A meaſure was adopted by the Court of Directors, by which the ends propoſed might have been accompliſhed to the mutual advantage of the Zemindars and the Company. The Court's inſtructions were poſitive and unequivocal; they could not be miſtaken; no diſcretionary power was given you to depart therefrom; you have done it at your own riſk, without producing one good reaſon for ſo doing.

75. It is impoſſible for us to aſcertain the amount of damage to be ſuſtained by the Company in conſequence of your engagements, becauſe the countries have not been examined in the manner directed by the Court; but it is incumbent upon us to convince you, and all our ſervants in India, that diſreſpect to the authority, and willful diſobedience to the orders of the Company, ſhall not be permitted, nor delinquents be ſuffered to eſcape with impunity.

76. In the fifth paragraph of your Letter of the 14th of October 1779, you inform us, that advertiſements had iſſued for ſealed propoſals to rent the Farms and Havelly Lands dependent on Maſulipatam, for the term of five years: that after paying every degree of attention to the ſeveral propoſals, and making the neceſſary inquiries concerning the bidders, whether they were men of character, could be reſponſible to the Company, and were reſident on the ſpot, and how far their ſecurities were admiſſible, you, on due conſideration, thought it moſt adviſable to rent the whole (excluſive of the Salt Farms) to Letchema Narſinvaloo, for the term of five years, at the annual rent of one lack of Madras pagodas, being an advance upon the former rent; and the propoſer, a perſon more to be depended upon than others, from his character, the circumſtance of his being reſident in the Circars, and the unqueſtionable ſecurity he had produced.

77. On your Conſultations of the 10th of Auguſt, we find the Havelly Lands and Farms abovementioned, were diſpoſed of in the following manner:

78. After conſidering the ſeveral propoſals, your Preſident puts the queſtion, whether the offers of Mopooy Vencata Pentaloo, at 1,25,000 pagodas per annum ſhall be accepted?

79. Mr. Perring was of opinion, that, as the higheſt propoſals, they ſhould be accepted, if the man was of fair character, and could find ſecurity.

80. Mr. Johnſon and Mr. Smith underſtood the ſecurity was good, and were of opinion the higheſt offer ſhould be accepted.

81. General Munro was of opinion, that the higheſt offer ſhould be accepted, if the bidder be of fair character, reſident on the ſpot, and give good ſecurity: But the Bidder not being reſident at Maſulipatam, the General objected to his propoſal; Mr. Whitehill and the Preſident being alſo againſt it, the offer was rejected by the caſting vote of the Preſident.

82. Your Preſident ſays, the Bidder proceeds on ſpeculation, has been a Soucar's Gomaſtah, does not offer Soucar ſecurity, but the ſecurity of a family, whoſe property was much divided; and who, as your Preſident had been aſſured, had not entirely agreed to the propoſer's terms; he therefore offers his opinion, that the Farms (except Salt Farms ſhould be let to Letchema Narſinvaloo, who was a man of repute, reſident in the Circars, converſant in the revenue buſineſs, and who offers reſponſible Soucar ſecurity. The meaſure was carried by the Preſident's caſting voice; and the Salt Farms, on a ſubſequent motion of your Preſident, were alſo let for 42,500 rupees per annum, to another renter.

83. The difference between the two offers was 45,000 rupees per annum. The exceptions of your Preſident againſt the higheſt bidder, were mere aſſertions; and, if true in the fulleſt extent, amount to nothing like proof that Pentaloo was incompetent, or that the revenue would be inſecure in his hands; if the property of the family propoſed for ſecurity was divided, ſtill, if a family of real property, the ſecurity would not be precarious. The renter having been the Gomaſtah of a Soucar, could be no objection; the Lands were Havelly, not Zemindary; therefore the ancient inhabitants and Zemindars could neither be diſhonoured nor diſguſted by his renting thoſe Lands: and the Salt Farms were unqueſtionably eligible to the beſt bidder, with ſufficient ſecurity. In all events, it ſhould have been aſcertained, that Pentaloo could not give ſecurity to fulfil his engagements, before his advantageous offers had been rejected.

84. Your Preſident ſays, the higheſt bidder to whom the Farms could with propriety have been granted, did not exceed the offers of Narſinvaloo above 1,000 pagodas per annum. Suppoſing this to be true, we ſee no good reaſon for giving away 1,000 pagodas per annum to Narſinvaloo, much leſs were you authorized to conclude an agreement with him for five years, upon terms by which the Company are, in all probability, deprived of 2,25,000 rupees: the meaſure has therefore our diſapprobation.

APPENDIX No. 153.

85. In your Revenue Letter of the 14th of October 1779, you acquaint us, that a propoſal having been delivered to you by Ball Kiſtnab, for renting the whole Itchapore Diſtrict, excluſive of the Ganjam Sea and River Cuſtoms, for the term of ten years, commencing the 25th September 1779, and ending 25th September 1789, at the rate of four lacks and fifteen thouſand rupees per annum; you proceed to take into conſideration the ſtate of the Ganjam revenues, with the heavy balances due from the Zemindars, which appeared to be yearly accumulating: that after deliberating on the ſubject, and giving it a full diſcuſſion, you came at length to the reſolution of accepting Ball Kiſtnab's propoſals, on condition of his paying into our treaſury four lacks fifteen thouſand rupees per annum, at ſtated payments; forty thouſand rupees per annum on account of a balance due from the Zemindars; and 20,000 rupees per annum on account of a balance due from Jagabundoo Chowdry for the Havelly Lands, till the whole of thoſe debts be diſcharged

86. That your Preſident, in a ſhort introductory Minute, had requeſted the opinion of the Members of the Council upon the revenues of the Ganjam diſtrict, in order to aſſiſt his own judgment when final deciſion ſhould be thought neceſſary. That in a Minute of Conſultation the 29th July, he expreſſed his ſentiments more at large on the ſtate of the Ganjam diſtrict, its diſtance from the Preſidency, and the difficulty of bringing it under proper controul, except by letting it out to a renter at a certain fixed rent. You then refer us to your proceedings; and truſt, from what has paſſed on the ſubject, and from a ſubſequent petition of Ball Kiſtnab, that we ſhall approve the ſteps you have taken, as you have reaſons to hope the good effects of his conduct, in managing the diſtrict, will ſoon be experienced in the country, as well by the Zemindars as the inhabitants.

87. Your conduct on this occaſion certainly ſtood in need of an apology, being in direct contradiction to the Company's orders, and to former reſolutions of your own Board.

88. (1.) We ſhall recapitulate the dates of your proceedings before we enter upon the merits of the caſe before us, as it reſpects the intereſt of the Company.

88. (2.) The 18th November 1777, you deem it contrary to the orders and intentions of the Company, that any Farms dependent on the Circars, ſhould be let for a conſiderable length of time, until fully inveſtigated by a Committee of Circuit; you therefore decline ſeveral offers from Ganjam on that ſubject.

89. The 5th of December you expreſs your concern at low propoſals tranſmitted from Ganjam; you are ſenſible of the propriety of long leaſes, but ſtill reſolve to keep in view the objects propoſed by the Court, in the appointment of a Committee of Circuit; you therefore reſolve, that the higheſt offers for one year ſhall be accepted; which was ſignified in your letter to Ganjam, dated the 10th of December.

90. The 8th of February our preſent Governor (as noticed above) arrived at Fort Saint George.

91. The 27th of February he requeſts, amongſt other things, that conſideration of the appointment of a Committee of Circuit may be deferred.

92. The 24th of March he recommends, contrary to your own conſtruction of the expreſs orders of the Company, that the Committee of Circuit do not proceed, but that the Zemindars ſhould be directed to repair to the Preſidency, and that the annual rent ſhould be ſettled there in future, which was reſolved accordingly.

93. The 15th of April 1778, the Ganjam Zemindars were ordered to the Preſidency, together with Ball Kiſtnab, the Company's Dubaſh, or Interpreter.

94. The Chief and Council of Ganjam having repreſented the inability of the Zemindars to proceed to Fort Saint George; you agree, the 20th of July, to diſpenſe with their attendance, but repeat your orders for Ball Kiſtna to come to the Preſidency.

95. We find Jagabondoo, the oſtenſible renter of the Ganjam Havelly Lands, was, at the above period, in arrear for rent to the amount of rupees 1,52,666, and when preſſed for payment, that he declared, that he had in fact nothing to do with the Havelly Lands; that at the particular requeſt of Ball Kiſtna, he had lent him his name; that Ball Kiſtna was actually the renter; and that for fear of offending him, he had been induced to ſubmit to be looked upon as the renter; which Ball Kiſtna denies.

96. We paſs over the various explanations of the parties, becauſe in your own Letter to Ganjam dated the 21ſt of May 1779, after the peruſal of all papers relative to the ſubject, you ſay, it would appear that the real renter of the Havelly Lands was Ball Kiſtna; and the Council at Ganjam have declared, that it plainly appeared that one lack of rupees, which had actually been received from the Government (or Havelly Lands) remained at that time unaccounted for to the Company.

97. The 28th of February 1779, upon information that Ball Kiſtna had long been, and ſtill remained, at Maſulipatam; you direct the Chief and Council of that ſettlement, in caſe he ſhall refuſe to ſet out for Fort Saint George immediately, to ſend him down under a guard of Sepoys.

98. The 20th of April Ball Kiſtna being arrived at the Preſidency, you direct his attendance at the next Conſultation.

99. The firſt appearance of Ball Kiſtna at your Board was the 26th of April 1779. After anſwering your inquiries relative to the Gumſoor Zemindary, and ſtating his tranſactions with Jagabondoo, we find, at the ſame Conſultation, he preſents a propoſal to rent the whole of the Itchapore Diſtrict, including Havelly Lands, Sea and River Cuſtoms, and Zemindary Diſtricts, for ten years.

The three firſt years, at rupees — 350,000 per annum.
The two next years, at rupees — 425,000 per annum.
The five next years, at rupees — 430,000 per annum.

100. The 17th June 1779, your Preſident requeſts the Members to give their opinion what plan ſhall be adopted.

101. The 2d July you reſume the buſineſs; when Mr. Perring declares his belief, that Ball Kiſtna is the fitteſt perſon the Board could appoint to collect the revenues; he is, however, of opinion, that the offers of Ball Kiſtna are inſufficient, being much leſs than had been collected by the Chief and Council.

102. Mr. Johnſon was of opinion that all the Zemindars ſhould be obliged to ſettle their Accounts up to April preceding; that they ſhould give bonds payable by reaſonable inſtalments, and on no pretence be ſuffered to poſtpone payment of their current jemmabundy.

103. That the Havelly Lands ſhould be continued under Mr. Maunſell, who had given proofs of his attachment to the Company's intereſt, and in his opinion would not ſuffer the revenue to decreaſe.

104. That from inſuperable objections to a renter of the whole diſtrict, and from numerous examples which he had ſeen of the inſufficiency of ſuch renters, he was convinced that the plan which he had juſt ſugg-ſted was the moſt eligible, and therefore he wiſhed to ſee it adopted.

105. Sir Hector Munro ſtates the military expence of the Ganjam diſtrict at 80,000 pagodas per annum; the balances againſt the Zemindars at 400,000 pagodas. He notices the eaſe with which our troops ſuppreſs oppoſition, and therefore wonders that the balances ſhould nevertheleſs increaſe; he thinks reformation highly neceſſary, but entertains no hope of more than temporary advantage from any mode which could then be adopted; he apprehends there is a grand defect in our ſyſtem; that the reſponſibility of our Servants is not ſufficient to bind them to ſacrifice their intereſt to their duty; he conceives it very ſingular that a black man ſhould offer to do more than a Chief and Council had been able to accompliſh, and would look upon him as an adventurer, if he were not

not known to be well acquainted with the diſtricts, and ſtrongly recommended as a man of capacity and integrity; he did not therefore ſee on what grounds his propoſals could be rejected. That ſince they were made public, he underſtood the Gentlemen at Ganjam had offered to increaſe the revenues, and to enſure payment for ſome time at leaſt; that one of them had ſaid, the country would bear a tribute of five lacks of rupees; he wiſhed to know if they would enſure the payment, and had no deſire to determine finally till it ſhould be known what the Gentlemen at Ganjam would perform.

106. On your Conſultations of the 13th July 1779, the Council at Ganjam inform you, that their receipts of laſt year had been upwards of five lacks of rupees, notwithſtanding the receipts of Gumſoor Zemindary had been only 10,000 rupees, owing to the troubles in the country. The Ganjam Letter containing the above information, is accompanied with a complete ſtatement of the tribute of the diſtrict at large, and of balances incurred for about ten years preceding; which you defer to future conſideration.

107. The 29th of July Ball Kiſtna new models his propoſals. His former offers were upon an increaſing annual rent, and amounted to 40,50,000 rupees in ten years; his ſubſequent propoſals were at an equal annual rent, but the total amount was 41,50,000 rupees in ten years; beſides which he agrees to pay 40,000 rupees per annum towards the diſcharge of old balances.

108. In a further application he tells you, that his offer of 4,15,000 rupees is full as large a ſum, as the Company can expect; that the revenues will never bear to be any thing like five lacks, without oppreſſing the inhabitants.

109. (1.) That he ſhall have little advantage to himſelf; that his whole ſcheme is to put the revenues upon a proper footing, without oppreſſing anybody, and to obtain the Company's favour and protection:

109. (2.) That to pay off 40,000 rupees per annum, is a great offer; that ſeveral of the inhabitants are ſaid to have abſconded, which muſt occaſion a deduction of revenue. In ſhort, he hopes you will conſider his propoſals, and determine as ſhall be for the Company's intereſt, and according to the juſtneſs of his repreſentation.

110. Your Preſident now takes the lead; he tells you he has fully conſidered the ſtate of the diſtrict, its diſtance from the Preſidency, and the difficulty of bringing it under proper controul, except by letting it out to a renter, over whom the Chief and Council may be a check; he therefore gives it as his opinion, that the terms of Ball Kiſtna ſhould be accepted, and that a Cowle ſhould be immediately granted him.

111. This opinion is followed by an attempt to prove, that Ball Kiſtna's propoſals amount to a larger ſum than has heretofore been received; that balances ſtill accumulate, and create a fictitious quick ſtock, which cannot be realized; that civil and military charges in the diſtrict dependant on Ganjam, are exceſſive, and have reduced the Company's clear gain for the laſt two years to 24,585 pagodas; and that if unexpected receipts had not happened in March and April, there would have been an actual loſs upon the ſaid diſtrict; that at preſent two battalions of Sepoys are kept there, but by Ball Kiſtna's account, one will be ſufficient; that he will diſcharge the batta of thoſe employed with him, and pay his ſtipulated rent, free from all charges of collection.

112. Upon this repreſentation of the caſe, and the decided declaration of the Preſident in favour of Ball Kiſtna, Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon requeſt further time for conſideration of the ſubject; whereupon it was agreed to poſtpone it until the following Tueſday.

113. At your next meeting, the 6th of Auguſt, your Preſident opens the buſineſs, by offering a few more obſervations, by which he had been confirmed in his opinion, that it would be for the credit and intereſt of the Company, to accept the propoſals of Ball Kiſtna.

114. His mode of proving this propoſition was, by exhibiting a ſtatement of ſums collected within the laſt two years, under the head of old balances, and the total amount of the two years collections, old balances included, which, together, fell ſhort of five lacks of rupees per annum; but he does not bring to your recollection, that Ball Kiſtna had been the manager of the Gumſoor diſtrict for one of thoſe years, and only paid 10,000 rupees on that account during his management; nor, that under the oſtenſible name of Jagabundoo, he was largely in arrear for the Havelly Lands.

115. The ſtatement of your Preſident reſpecting old balances collected within the year, may be true; but his concluſions are inadmiſſible. If no balances had been incurred during the two years alluded to, it might have been to his purpoſe; but as there remained a larger ſum of the current revenue to be collected than has been brought in aid of the year's receipts from the recovery of old balances, the obvious concluſion is, that the current jemmabundy ought not to be diminiſhed; the actual receipt of ſo large a ſum annually, on account of balances of ſeveral years ſtanding, is a preſumptive proof at leaſt that recent balances are far from being deſperate, and may be recovered by proper care and application.

116. Had your Preſident exerted his influence in ſeconding our views, and promoting an early and effectual inquiry into the cauſes of temporary decline in the Circars, he had merited our thanks, and rendered eſſential ſervice to the Company. But as we muſt conſider his propoſition as tending to ſhut the doors againſt all inveſtigation, and that you have been induced, in conſequence of his motions, to tie up our hands from effectual interference, controul, and improvement, in the Itchapore diſtrict for ten years, we really want words to expreſs a ſentence of condemnation equal to the ſenſe we entertain of your demerit.

117. It is however with ſingular pleaſure, that we find ourſelves authorized by your proceedings, to make ſome exceptions in this general cenſure. All our ſervants could not be induced to concur in a meaſure, which appeared to them as abſurd as it was detrimental to the intereſt of the Company. We obſerve by Mr. Smith's Minute, on Conſultations of 6th of Auguſt 1779, that the balances of the diſtrict had increaſed 77,000 pagodas in five years, or about half a lack of rupees per annum, upon the full amount of the jemmabundy, which he ſtates at rupees 5,55,000 per annum, including 20,000 rupees added to the Gumſoor diſtrict; that the Rajah of that diſtrict had then been reduced to a proper degree of obedience and dependance upon the Company's authority.

118. Ball Kiſtna offers to pay a tribute of 4,15,000 rupees per annum. In regard to the payment of 40,000 rupees on account of Zemindars balances, we have no doubt of his recovering the whole of thoſe ſums in a ſhorter ſpace of time, and in larger proportions, than he has agreed to pay them: and as to the payment of the large balance upon the Havelly Lands in a courſe of years, your own deciſion renders the ſtipulation an additional indulgence to him; becauſe you have declared it would appear, that he was, under the oſtenſible name of Jagabundoo, the real renter of thoſe lands, and therefore he ought to have been compelled to clear off the whole balance immediately.

119. If Ball Kiſtna fulfills his agreement, he will pay off 400,000 rupees on account of old balances in ten years: but, including the above ſum, the Company will, in the ſame period, receive 14 lacks leſs than their tribute; and if we deduct 50,000 rupees per annum, as the average of the preceding five years balances, and conſider it as an abſolute and unavoidable loſs, the Company's additional loſs, by accepting the propoſals of Ball Kiſtna, over and above ſuch deduction, will be nearly 10 lacks of rupees in ten years.

120 In Mr. Johnſon's diſſent, he tells you plainly, that the decreaſe of revenue has been occaſioned by circumſtances which no longer exiſt: Mr. Smith had held the ſame language. You have not attempted to controvert the fact, nor had you the decency to vouchſafe a reply to the able and ſatisfactory arguments uſed by Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon againſt this very extraordinary meaſure; on the contrary, your Preſident immediately puts the queſtion, which is carried in favour of Ball Kiſtna's propoſal, without further debate; and the Chief and Council of Ganjam are forthwith ordered to give the country in charge to whomſoever Ball Kiſtna ſhall appoint, until his arrival, and to afford the renter all neceſſary aſſiſtance to enable him to fulfil his engagements to the Company.

APPENDIX. No. 153.

121. And notwithſtanding the terms of Ball Kiſtna are ſo very favourable, we do not find that ſecurity has been taken for the payment even of this reduced demand.

122. On the preſent occaſion we cannot avoid expreſſing our diſſatisfaction at the ſmall remains of apparent dignity, conſequence, and comfort, which had hitherto been preſerved to the ancient Zemindars, being thus totally and unneceſſarily extinguiſhed. Subjection to the Company's authority was neceſſary; but to be conſigned into the hands of their Dubaſh and Interpreter muſt, we think, ſo totally alienate their affection, and detach them from our intereſt, that we fear the ſtrong hand of power muſt be conſtantly exerted to preſerve the country in tranquillity; for as to the propoſal of Ball Kiſtna, to lower the tribute of ſome of the Zemindars, in order to render them more comfortable, after his own terms had been accepted and ſettled, we conceive it too glaring an abſurdity to entertain any expectation of its operation in favour of the miſerable Natives.

123. We remark, with particular concern, that General Munro's deſire of having the matter referred to Ganjam, before Ball Kiſtna's propoſals were accepted, was not operative; and our concern is exceedingly increaſed on finding the General vote for the agreement without heſitation, when he knew that an idea ſuggeſted by, and worthy of himſelf, had been paſſed over with ſilent diſregard.

124. Upon receipt of your orders at Ganjam, the Chief and Council obſerve, that by the reduction of the Gumſoor Zemindary, the diſtrict in general is brought into a ſtate of tranquillity, and the revenue ſecured on a more permanent footing than at any former period ſince the firſt eſtabliſhment of the Company's authority. This corroborates and confirms the arguments urged by Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon, in debate at your Board. Our ſervants at Ganjam had flattered themſelves, that their late repreſentation of the affairs of the diſtrict, and information of the very conſiderable collections of the preceding year, would have prevented the acceptance of a propoſal which, even admitting the terms fully complied with, appears inadequate to the amount which would have been collected by the Company's ſervants. They were, however, deceived in their reaſonable expectation, and we are ſorry to be obliged to lament the embarraſſment occaſioned to our affairs, by this and ſimilar tranſactions. They aſſure you, that however Ball Kiſtna might be ſcreened by an artful conduct, they had not the ſmalleſt doubt of his having been, to all intents and purpoſes, the renter of the Havelly Lands. And we have already remarked, to our great mortification, that a balance to the amount of 1,82,666 rupees, was then due from thoſe lands.

125. It appears, by your inſtructions to Mr. Hollond, on Select Conſultations of 22d of February 1779, that you were then anxious to know how the Nizam ſtood diſpoſed towards the Company; what his deſigns were, and in particular, whether he meant to take any, and what, part in the preſent war with the French; or in conſequence of meaſures lately adopted by the Gentlemen at Bombay, in ſupport of Ragonaut Row; or by the Governor General and Council of Bengal, reſpecting the march of our troops, and the propoſed alliance with the Rajah of Berar.

126. You take for granted that a great degree of jealouſy and diſtruſt muſt have been excited in the Nizam, becauſe thoſe proceedings had been directed in oppoſition to his profeſſed views and intereſt. You ſay, he had openly remonſtrated to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, and to you, againſt the ſupport given to Ragonaut Row, whom he conſidered as his declared enemy; and that there was reaſon to believe, he was not leſs adverſe to the meaſures which had been purſued relative to the Rajah of Berar.

127. To remove theſe impreſſions from the mind of the Nizam, and to ſubſtitute others more favourable to the preſent ſituation of the Company's affairs, you fear will be a work of time and difficulty, but relying much on the ſincerity of your own intentions, and the ſeaſonable exertion of Mr. Hollond's abilities, you did not deſpair of accompliſhing the ends you had in view, at leaſt ſo far as to prevent the Nizam from entertaining hoſtile deſigns againſt the Company, while they are engaged in a war with our national enemies, which was likely to employ all their ſtrength.

128. You encloſe copies of Treaties concluded with the Nizam in 1766 and 1768, and deſire Mr. Hollond to aſſure the Nizam of your firm intentions to abide ſtrictly by the terms of our engagements, in all reſpects; and that you had nothing ſo much at heart, as the preſervation of the peace and friendſhip eſtabliſhed between him and the Company by the Treaty of 1768. But as ſome circumſtances had happened concerning the Guntoor Circar, which might be thought to affect the terms of that Treaty, you explain them to Mr. Hollond, and prepare him to act as occaſion ſhall require; you direct him to correſpond with our ſervants at Bengal, and to convey to them all neceſſary intelligence: and thus far your conduct appears commendable, and has our approbation.

129. In a Letter from Mr. Hollond, dated the 17th of May, we find the moſt ſtriking repreſentations of the Nizam's concern and diſpleaſure at your tranſactions with his brother, relative to the Guntoor Circar. This Letter comes before us in the Conſultations of our Governor General and Council, having been tranſmitted to Bengal by Mr. Hollond, in the regular courſe of his correſpondence with that Preſidency. We have carefully examined your Records, but do not find the ſaid Letter on your proceedings. A copy is now tranſmitted a number in the packet; and we hope will appear to have been only an official and accidental omiſſion, and not an intended ſuppreſſion. We however cannot help remarking, that, with the ſaid Letter before you, we are utterly at a loſs to account for your future conduct on this important buſineſs.

130. You had juſt inſtructed your Reſident to aſſure the Nizam of your firm intentions to abide ſtrictly by the Treaty of 1768, and that you had nothing ſo much at heart: you had ſeen in the Letter abovementioned, to what degree of reſentment he had been raiſed, not by our aſſiſting Ragobah, and treating with the Rajah of Berar, but by your own proceedings concerning Bazalet Jung, and the march of your troops towards Adoni: yet, inſtead of abiding by your former ground, and ſoothing him by further promiſes of a punctual adherence to public Treaties and Engagements, you, at a criſis ſo very alarming and improper, depart abruptly from all thoſe declarations, and direct Mr. Hollond to attempt a remiſſion or conſiderable abatement in the ſtipulated Peſcuſh, which you had ſuffered to be more than two years in arrears.

131. It is not our intention at this time to proceed further on the ſubject, than to point out the glaring inconſiſtency of your conduct, in a meaſure of ſo much conſequence in our political ſyſtem; and to notify to you, that under all the circumſtances of the caſe, we fully approve of the interpoſition of our Governor General and Council, of the ſteps taken by them on the above occaſion, ſo far as they have hitherto come to our knowledge.

132. By a Letter from your Preſident, dated the 14th of May 1779, we were informed that you had concluded

the

the Treaty with Bazalet Jung, mentioned by the Select Committee in their Letter of the 13th of March 1779.

133. The ſentiments delivered by your Preſident on the ſubject, recorded on Conſultation the 10th of July, were very proper. Your care to effect the removal of the French from the Guntoor Circar, was commendable; and the hints ſuggeſted by our Governor General and Council, in their Letter of the 25th of January 1779, were alſo very judicious.

134. Your Letters and Proceedings, per Naſſau and Southampton, were received the 28th of Auguſt laſt: we ſhall now reply to ſuch parts thereof, as immediately reſpect the Guntoor Circar, and more particularly the letting of that diſtrict to the Nabob of Arcot.

135. In the 15th paragraph of your Letter of 14th October 1779, you acquaint us, that the Guntoor Circar having been delivered into your hands, your Preſident employed himſelf in aſcertaining its annual produce while in the poſſeſſion of Bazalet Jung; that having obtained particular Accounts of the receipts for the laſt four years, with the charges of collection, he laid them before you; that your deliberations were, in what manner to diſpoſe of the Circar, ſo as to realize the ſum for which you are to account to Bazalet Jung, according to the tenor of your agreement; that the Nabob, by the Court's Letter of the 4th of March 1767, par. 13, had been promiſed the Guntoor Circar at rent, whenever it ſhould come into the Company's hands; that his Highneſs addreſſed you a Letter on the occaſion, putting you in mind of that promiſe, and offering propoſals to rent the ſaid Circar for ten years; that the terms of his propoſals were higher than the ſums obtained from the Circar by Bazalet Jung, at leaſt for the laſt four years, of which you had the particulars before you; that of courſe you would be enabled to account with Bazalet Jung, for rather more than he could have expected by the agreement which had been concluded.

136. That there were only two ways of realizing, with any certainty, the produce of the diſtrict; the one by collecting the revenues on the Company's account, and the other by letting it to the Nabob; becauſe there appeared to you no other perſon of ſufficient reſponſibility to be entruſted with ſo large a rent; that if, by collecting the produce yourſelves, it ſhould, from any miſmanagement or bad ſeaſon, fall ſhort of the rent to be accounted for with Bazalet Jung, the difference muſt be made up from the Company's treaſury, which might be inconvenient; that if let to a reſponſible perſon, ſuch deficiencies were not to be apprehended. For the above reaſons, but more particularly becauſe the orders of 1767 ſeemed to favour the Nabob's application, you reſolved to grant him the Guntoor Circar at rent, ſubject to the pleaſure of the Court of Directors, and to ſuch reſtrictions as might appear neceſſary for ſecuring the rights of the Zemindars and inhabitants.

137. You inform us, that Mr. Smith had differed from the reſt of the Members of the Select Committee, reſpecting the propriety of diſpoſing of the Guntoor Circar in the ſaid Committee. That being a matter of revenue, he thought it ſhould have been ſettled in the Council. That you thought otherwiſe, becauſe all the previous ſteps, of a political or military nature, had been adjuſted in the Committee; and becauſe, in your idea, the laſt meaſure being connected with the reſt, could not with propriety be ſeparated, or ſubmitted to the opinion of thoſe Members of Council, who were unacquainted with previous proceedings. That Mr. Smith had likewiſe objected to giving his vote upon the queſtion, for granting the Guntoor Circar at rent to the Nabob, for the reaſons ſtated on your Minutes.

138. However commendable it might be for your Preſident to endeavour to obtain all poſſible information concerning the produce of the Guntoor Circar, it was exceedingly unbecoming in him to obtrude Accounts of that nature upon you, as a principal ground of agreement with Mahomed Ally Khan; and unpardonable in you to conclude ſuch agreement for ten years, without farther inveſtigation of the ſubject.

139. As an additional help to your deliberations, your Preſident lays before you the 13th paragraph of the Court's Letter of the 4th of March 1767, wrote in anſwer to an intimation from Fort Saint George, that the Guntoor Circar being intermixed with the country to the Northward, the troops which he was obliged to keep to guard that frontier, would, at the ſame time, preſerve tranquillity in Condavir; and therefore it might be for our intereſt to give him the management at a reaſonable rent, ſo ſoon as our authority was perfectly eſtabliſhed.

140. We ſhall not waſte time in pointing out the very different ſituation of affairs at preſent, compared with the period of 1767; nor need we ſtate the circumſtances at large, which convey the fulleſt conviction, founded upon many years experience, that no troops whatever, except ſuch as are regularly paid by the Company, and under their diſcipline, ought to be truſted with the protection of any part of the Nabob's country.

141. We think it far from certain, that our authority was ſo perfectly eſtabliſhed in the Guntoor Circar, at the time of letting it to the Nabob, as was neceſſary; and if that point had been incontrovertible, and there had been no other objection than the term of ten years, the idea is ſo repugnant to the letter and ſpirit of repeated inſtructions concerning lands already under the Nabob's management, that we think your conduct, in that reſpect, amounts to little leſs than open contempt of the authority of the Court of Directors.

142. We find no expreſſion in the Court's Letter of the 4th of March 1767, which amounts to any thing like an abſolute promiſe that the Nabob ſhould have the Guntoor Circar at rent; nor does his Highneſs pretend to claim it as a promiſe; he only ſays, he has heard that leave has been given to the Company's repreſentatives for that purpoſe, and requeſts to rent it for ten years.

143. Had you conſidered the 12th paragraph of the ſaid Letter of 1767, and reflected but a moment upon the various repreſentations of our Governor and Council, relative to inconveniences experienced ſince that period, on account of the Jaghire Lands being left in the Nabob's hands, and ſubjected to his Managers; and had you paid the ſmalleſt attention to the Company's ſentiments and orders on that ſubject, you muſt have been ſtruck with the impropriety of committing additional countries to the care of the Nabob's people; and have been convinced, that no conſideration whatever ſhould have induced you, to eſtabliſh authority or influence, except that of the Company, in a country of which you had ſo recently obtained poſſeſſion, which may be capable of very great improvements, and which ſeparates us by land from our more Northern diſtricts.

144. As to the oſtenſible clauſe, which ſubjects the bargain to our approval, we are really concerned to find you capable of ſheltering behind a ſubterfuge, which you ought to have been aſhamed of ſtating to us, knowing, as you muſt, the inconvenience and embarraſſment that would unavoidably attend the operation of that proviſo, if the Company ſhould think fit to annul the agreement.

145. And however repugnant it may be to us, to take any ſtep that may hurt the feelings of our antient friend and much reſpected Ally, we cannot conſent to diveſt ourſelves of that immediate and abſolute authority in the Guntoor Circar, which we deem neceſſary for its protection and improvement; and therefore we muſt, and hereby do expreſsly diſallow the agreement, and poſitively direct, that poſſeſſion of the Guntoor Circar be, without fail, and without waiting our further orders, reſumed for the Company ſo ſoon as the neceſſary ſteps can be taken, and the Accounts of the collections and balances properly adjuſted between the Nabob's Managers, the Natives of the diſtrict, and the Company.

146. In the execution of a meaſure ſo very diſagreeable, care muſt be taken that every attention and reſpect be ſhewn to the Nabob, which the nature of the buſineſs will will admit, in order to render your proceedings as little offenſive or diſtreſſing to his Highneſs as poſſible.

APPENDIX. No. 153.

147. In a political view we are alarmed for the probable conſequences of your conduct. You are informed, by means of the Nabob himſelf, that Hyder Ally had intelligence of all that paſſed at Madras, and in the Durbar of his Highneſs. You are not ignorant of the ſettled hatred ſubſiſting between the Nabob and Hyder; nor could you ſuppoſe, that Hyder would be an indifferent ſpectator, when, in addition to the oſtenſible plea of expelling the French, he found, that the Guntoor Circar, which borders upon the Cuddapah country, was to be granted to his inveterate enemy; and, upon this ground, we ceaſe to wonder at Hyder's oppoſition to the march of Lieutenant Colonel Harpur's detachment; though we are extremely concerned at the diſcredit which our arms have ſuſtained by that expedition.

148. In regard to the march of the detachment, we remark, that unleſs you had been certain of Hyder remaining peaceable, it was highly imprudent for Lieutenant Colonel Harpur to attempt a paſſage of ſix days march through Hyder's country; more eſpecially, as every ſubaltern in the army might have known, that by croſſing the Kiſtnah twice, Hyder's territories might have been avoided, and the mortification and diſhonour of a retreat prevented.

149. As the Nabob's people have, no doubt, commenced the collection of revenues in the Guntoor Circar, the impreſſions made thereby upon the minds of the Natives will certainly be unfavourable to our intereſt; and we fear, that the removal of his Managers, however tenderly it may be done, will be conſidered by his Highneſs as a very deep and grievous wound to his dignity.

150. In regard to Bazalet Jung, if you keep his country, and are unable to afford him the ſtipulated protection, he will probably fall a ſacrifice to the reſentment of the Nizam and Hyder Ally: the latter has, by your imprudence, had an opportunity of acquiring and manifeſting additional conſequence; the reſult may render him ſtill more troubleſome, and the concluſion be unfavourable to the Company's affairs on that ſide of India.

151. Beſides theſe political conſiderations, if the Nabob has advanced money for cultivation, another field of litigation and embarraſſment will be opened with his Highneſs, relative to his claims on the Guntoor country: and as it may require the utmoſt exertion of wiſdom and ability to diſtinguiſh in all caſes what is right, we are alſo apprehenſive that the moſt unremitting and diſintereſted perſeverance and integrity may be found inſufficient to bring ſuch complicated affairs to an happy concluſion, when poſſeſſion ſhall be reſumed for the Company: however, ſo fully are we convinced of the neceſſity of eſtabliſhing proper regulations in the Circars, and of the impoſſibility of doing it under a divided authority, that in all events we are determined to diſallow and revoke every agreement that has a tendency to deprive us of the power of interfering, immediately and effectually, and of preventing or reforming abuſes committed againſt the Natives or the Company, in thoſe diſtricts.

152. As the letting of the Guntoor Circar to the Nabob was an impolitic and indefenſible meaſure, we are ſorry to obſerve alſo, that the mode of carrying it into execution appears precipitate, and equally unjuſtifiable.

153. The 4th of October 1779, your Preſident lays before you the Nabob's requeſt to rent the Guntoor diſtrict for 10 years.

The conditions propoſed were,

For 2 years	2,00,000	Pagodas per annum.
next 3 years	2,05,000	D°.
next 3 years	2,10,000	D°.
next 2 years	2,15,000	D°.

Upon reading the Nabob's Letter and Propoſals in the Select Committee, Mr. Smith gave his opinion, as before obſerved, that as a buſineſs of revenue, it ſhould have been conſidered and determined by the Council in their Revenue Department. His opinion coincides exactly with our ſentiments on the point, and ought not to have been over-ruled.

154. At the ſame inſtant, in order to enable you to judge of the Nabob's propoſals, your Preſident produceth ſundry Accounts of the produce of the country; which, he ſays, were ſent him by Bazalet Jung. In this inſtance, Bazalet Jung and his Accounts become a ſubſtitute for a Committee of Circuit; with this difference indeed, that the Committee of Circuit's Reports would, in the firſt inſtance, have come before the Board at large, but Bazalet Jung's repreſentations, by the cuſtom of the ſervice, were, in the firſt inſtance, ſubject to the inſpection of your Preſident alone.

155. Having produced the Nabob's Letter, Bazalet Jung's Accounts, and a partial Extract of the Court's Letter of March 1767, your Preſident immediately brings forward the following queſtion, viz.

> " Whether the Nabob's propoſals ſhall be accepted,
> " ſubject to the Company's approval, and under
> " ſuch limitations as might be neceſſary for ſecu-
> " rity of the revenue and welfare of the inha-
> " bitants?"

Whereupon Mr. Smith, much to his credit, and as became his ſtation, declared, that having never before ſeen the Nabob's Letter, nor the Papers delivered by the Preſident, he was unprepared to give an opinion upon a queſtion of ſo much importance; he therefore begged the conſideration might be deferred till the next meeting of the Committee; but this requeſt, however reaſonable, was not granted.

156. From the foregoing particulars, it ſhould ſeem that you were determined to preclude all proper inveſtigation, and to ſee through no other medium than your Preſident.

157. We cannot omit remarking, that the Nabob's Letter muſt have been in your Preſident's poſſeſſion a fortnight before it was produced to the Committee; when brought to light, a majority appear ripe for a deciſion; a queſtion is forthwith put, and carried, for letting the Guntoor Circar, for ten years, with as little ceremony as though it had been only for the purchaſe of a bale of cloth! as though it had involved no one conſideration of importance, nor been of the leaſt conſequence to the peace of the country, or welfare of the Company, although you had every reaſon to believe, from the ſtrong repreſentations of Hyder Ally and the Nizam, that it would be extremely difficult to reconcile them to the meaſure, or to fulfil your ſtipulations with Bazalet Jung, even by force of arms.

158. Your Preſident's concluſions on the ſubject are very extraordinary; he ſays, it ſeems to be the wiſh of the Company, that the Nabob ſhould have the Guntoor Circar; that with the Court's paragraph before you, he was unable to ſee how you could be juſtified in rejecting the Nabob's propoſals; he was againſt delay, becauſe the ſeaſon was advanced; he aſſures you he had obtained every neceſſary information: the poſſeſſion of the Circar was of very material conſequence to the Company; and he wiſhed us to be acquainted of the ſteps taken, by the ſhips under diſpatch: he flatters himſelf with the Company's approval; and ventures to anticipate the credit which he expects you to obtain, from a tranſaction which in our opinion proves a majority of your Council unfit, and renders them unworthy, to be continued in the further adminiſtration of our affairs.

159. Under theſe circumſtances, the abolition of the Committee of Circuit, in violation of an expreſs appointment of the Company; the trouble and expence occaſioned to the Rajahs and Zemindars, by obliging them to proceed to Fort Saint George; the letting of the Havelly Lands to Sitteram Rauze for ten years; the appointment of him to the Duan of the Vizianagrum diſtrict; the cruel and unneceſſary degradation of the Rajah, his brother, by that appointment; the agreement for the Vizianagrum Zemindary Lands, for the Itchapore Diſtrict, for the Maſulipatam Havelly Lands and Farms, upon terms ſo very inadequate to their value; and the diſpoſal of the Guntoor Circar to the Nabob, for ten years; appear to us tranſactions ſo detrimental to the intereſt of the Company, and ſo inconſiſtent with your known duty, that we ſhould be wanting in our duty as Directors, if you were not made to experience the ſevereſt marks of our reſentment.

of

160. We have therefore reſolved, that Sir Thomas Rumbold, Bart. Preſident of our Council, and Governor of Fort Saint George, John Whitehill and Peter Perring, eſquires, Members of our ſaid Council, be diſmiſſed from the ſervice of the Eaſt India Company; and they are hereby diſmiſſed accordingly.

161. We have already obſerved, that the conduct of Meſſrs. Charles Smith and Samuel Johnſon have, on ſome occaſions, been commendable, and particularly ſo, in reſiſting the agreement made with Ball Kiſtnah; but as thoſe Gentlemen concurred in the abolition of a Committee of Circuit, which had been expreſsly appointed by the Company, and as that act of diſobedience of poſitive orders has been ſo very prejudicial to our intereſt, we can no longer deem Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon fit perſons to be of our Council, nor have any ſhare in the immediate adminiſtration of our Government at Fort Saint George: it is therefore our order, that Meſſrs. Charles Smith and Samuel Johnſon be not admitted to a ſeat or ſeats in our Council, except they ſhall be appointed, or ordered to ſucceed thereto, by the expreſs authority of the Court of Directors.

162. The concurrence of General Munro, in the reſolution for aboliſhing the appointment of a Committee of Circuit, and the countenance given by him to very improper meaſures, on ſeveral occaſions, relative to the letting of the diſtricts, deſerve the ſtrongeſt mark of our diſpleaſure; but as thoſe ſubjects were foreign to the General's military profeſſion, as we cannot ſuppoſe he was influenced by corrupt motives, and as the military conduct of General Munro has been highly meritorious, we ſhall not, on the preſent occaſion, proceed further than to expreſs our diſapprobation of his conduct on the occaſions beforementioned.

We are,

Your loving Friends,

London,
the 10th January 1781.

John Michie,
W^m Devaynes,
Nath. Smith,
L. Sulivan,
John Harriſon,
John Woodhouſe,
W^m Mills, jun^r.
W^m James,
H. Fletcher,
Cha^s Boddam,
Ben. Booth,
Rich^d Becher,
W. G. Freeman,
J. Stables,
Fra^s Baring,
L. Darell,
John Roberts,
Tho^s Cheap.

THIRD

REPORT

(BEING A SUPPLEMENT TO THE FIRST AND SECOND)

FROM THE

COMMITTEE OF SECRECY,

APPOINTED TO ENQUIRE INTO

THE CAUSES OF THE WAR IN THE

CARNATIC,

AND OF

THE CONDITION OF THE BRITISH POSSESSIONS IN THOSE PARTS.

Reported by the LORD ADVOCATE of SCOTLAND (HENRY DUNDAS, Esq.)
4th February 1782.

VOL. VII.

THIRD REPORT

(BEING A SUPPLEMENT TO THE FIRST AND SECOND)

FROM THE

COMMITTEE OF SECRECY, &c.

The 4th February 178:

The COMMITTEE of SECRECY, appointed to enquire into the Cauſes of the War that now ſubſiſts in the Carnatic, and of the preſent Condition of the Britiſh Poſſeſſions in thoſe Parts, and to report the ſame to the Houſe, with their Obſervations thereupon; and who were inſtructed to enquire into the Riſe, Progreſs, Conduct, and preſent State of the Maratta War, and all other Hoſtilities in which the Preſidency of Bengal now are, or have been, engaged, in the Support of that War, and of the Effects which the ſaid War and Hoſtilities may have produced in Bengal, and the other Settlements and Poſſeſſions of the Eaſt-India Company;—

HAVING been furniſhed with ſome additional materials reſpecting the ſubject matter of their Firſt and Second Reports, ſince they were directed by the Houſe, at the commencement of the preſent Seſſion of Parliament, to reſume their enquiries, have thought it their duty to lay before the Houſe the ſubſtance of thoſe additional materials, by way of Supplement to their former Reports; following the ſame arrangement according to which the ſeveral ſubjects were originally treated; and ſubjoining to their former Appendixes the Papers and Examinations from which this Supplement is compiled.

Supplement to the Firſt Report.

YOUR Committee, in their Firſt Report, laid before the Houſe, among other matters, the actual ſtate of the Carnatic, as far as it could then be collected from the various materials ſupplied by the Eaſt India Houſe, and other public offices. They then proceeded to ſtate the grounds which the Government of Fort Saint George had to expect the calamitous events which have happened; and to ſet forth the ſtate of defence in which the Settlement had been kept previous to thoſe events.

With reſpect to the firſt of thoſe points, Your Committee purſued the narrative of the tranſactions ſubſequent to Hyder Ally's irruption into the Carnatic down to Sir Eyre Coote's laſt diſpatches (vide Firſt Report) repreſenting the ſtate of his army, compared with that of the enemy, the total want of field artillery, and of the neceſſary precautions for the ſecurity of the Carnatic at large, or Fort Saint George in particular. The ſubſequent intelligence received from that country, informed your Committee, that on the 30th December 1780, Sir Eyre Coote thought it proper to call a council of war, conſiſting of himſelf, Sir Hector Munro, General Stewart, and Lord Macleod. The facts, upon which the queſtion to be determined aroſe, were thus ſtated by Sir Eyre Coote: No. 1. Supplemental Appendix to 1st Report.

"That the whole effective ſtrength of his army, in"fantry, cavalry, and artillery, amounted to 6,885 men;
"and that 500 ſepoys might perhaps be added to them.
"That Vellore, Wandewaſh, and Permacoil, were cloſely in"veſted by the enemy; the firſt of thoſe places, from the "Commanding Officer's account, he did not think in im-

" mediate danger, except from treachery, which had found " its way among the Nabob's people; but that Permacoil " muſt ſoon fall, as the gallant reſiſtance of ſo ſmall a gar- " riſon could not long be effectual againſt Hyder's re- " ſources;—that batteries were already raiſed againſt Wan- " dewaſh, and playing with ſucceſs, the garriſon inadequate, " conſiſting of two European companies, and a few ſepoys " belonging to the Nabob, who were diſſatisfied on account " of their arrears of pay, and actually deſerting; and the " natural advantages of the place not being ſo great as thoſe " of Permacoil, that it could not long reſiſt the great efforts " which would certainly be made againſt it; and that the " quantity of grain in it was a conſiderable object. The " General conſidered the ſafety of theſe two garriſons, and " that of Chingleput, which was alſo inveſted, as points of " very great importance.—Taking a comparative view of " the enemy's force and his own, the General was of opi- " nion, that they might engage, if forced ſo to do, with ſuc- " ceſs; that detachment was not adviſable, as the army " could not afford a diviſion. A movement for the relief of " thoſe garriſons, the General obſerved, would neceſſarily " expoſe Fort Saint George, the foundation of the Engliſh " intereſts on the Coaſt, from whence their own army muſt " derive its ſupplies—on that point he wiſhed to have the " advice of the general officers; and alſo upon this other " point, whether, if they ſhould ſucceed merely in relieving " the garriſons above mentioned, and return to the ſta- " tion which they had left, any diſadvantage to their " affairs would follow from that ſtep?—That he deſpaired " of ſepoys being ſent by ſea from Bengal, and thoſe who " were to march by land had not ſet out on the 14th of " March, and that it depended on Moodajee Boonſela whe- " ther they ever ſhould come or not."

It appears, that the general officers were unanimous in opinion, that the whole army ſhould march to the relief of thoſe garriſons, and return to their preſent ſtations; and that Sir Eyre Coote (obſerving at the ſame time that he tranſgreſſed againſt the uſual rules) laid the reſult of this council of war before the Preſident and Select Committee; who much approved of the reſolutions which had been taken.

As no intelligence whatſoever has been received by the Eaſt-India Company, directly from Fort Saint George, ſince the month of January 1781, Your Committee can only offer the ſubſtance of ſuch information as has been received from other quarters. A Letter from the Chief and Council of Anjengo, dated 11th February 1781 to the Court of Directors, repreſents, that Lieutenant Hughes, of the Seahorſe, who had left Madras on the 21ſt ultimo, and touched at Anjengo on his way to Bombay, had informed them, that Sir Eyre Coote had marched from his ſtation near Madras about the 17th ultimo; and a private Letter which the Preſident had juſt received from the Commandant at Palamcotah, dated the 8th February, acquainted them, that the ſiege of Carongoly and Wandewaſh was raiſed on Sir Eyre Coote's approach. The Governor and Council of Bombay, in a Letter dated the 30th April 1781, acquaint the Court of Directors, that they very much wiſh they had any late authentic accounts to give of the ſituation of affairs on the Coaſt of Coromandel, the hopes of which was the principal cauſe of detaining the Mercury ſo long; that it is certain the French had left the Coaſt of Coromandel in February, without lending any aſſiſtance to Hyder; and that they had been much diſtreſſed for proviſion, by means of the poſition of Sir Eyre Coote's army, and that General's having burnt all the boats at Pondicherry, which prevented their being ſupplied from on ſhore; and they add, that Mr. Stewart at Goa mentions that Hyder had quitted the Carnatic. Your Committee find, by a ſubſequent Letter from Anjengo, dated on the 6th Auguſt 1781, and received on the 16th of December laſt, addreſſed to the Court of Directors, and enclofing a Letter of Sir Eyre Coote's to Colonel Braithwaite, dated the 6th of July preceding, that a very conſiderable advantage had been obtained by that General over Hyder Ally, on the 1ſt of July, between Porto Nuovo and Mooteapollom. It appears that the action laſted eight hours, and was hard fought on both ſides; the enemy's force conſiſted of 25 battalions of infantry, 400 Europeans, 40 or 50,000 horſe, about 100,000 matchlock men, and 47 pieces of cannon well ſerved; yet that force was obliged to yield to the ſteadineſs of Sir Eyre Coote's ſmall army, four thouſand of the enemy being left dead on the field, and Meer Saib (Hyder's near relation, and ſecond in command) having been mortally wounded, whilſt the Britiſh army loſt very few officers, and but 3 or 400 men were killed and wounded.

This Letter from Anjengo ſtates it as confidently reported, that a veſſel from Holland had reached Colombo in June laſt, and appriſed that ſettlement of the probability of a rupture between the Engliſh and Dutch in Europe; and that the factory at Colombo were preparing themſelves accordingly.

Such was the actual ſtate of the Carnatic, according to the moſt recent information which the Directors of the Eaſt-India Company have received from any of their Settlements in India.

Your Committee next proceeded to proſecute their enquiry into the grounds which the Government of Madras had to expect an invaſion of the Carnatic, by Hyder Ally, and the means taken to avert it, or to defend themſelves, in caſe that event ſhould take place; and they find, from a Letter addreſſed to the Court of Directors, by the Select Committee of Fort Saint George, dated January 9th 1781, that the Maratta war is conſidered by them, as the ſole cauſe of theſe calamities; to which Sir Eyre Coote did not entirely aſſent.—They then proceed to ſtate, that, " ſo far back as October " 1779, Sir Thomas Rumbold informed the Committee, " that the Letters and Meſſages received from Hyder " Ally, for ſome time paſt, were couched in terms ſo " hoſtile and unfriendly, that he could ſcarcely conceive " them to be the genuine productions of that Prince— " that he had in conſequence ſent the Reverend Mr. " Schwarts to Seringapatam, with private inſtructions, to " learn the real diſpoſition of Hyder; but the iſſue of " this ſecret negotiation was ſuch, as left him no reaſon " to doubt, but his intentions were hoſtile both to the " Company and the Nabob. Alarming (ſay they) as this " information was, no reſolution was taken, more than " that the Gentlemen at Bengal ſhould be made acquainted " with it, and that General Goddard ſhould be adviſed of " it alſo.—About three weeks after, the matter was " again agitated, and a Member of the Committee " moved, that the moſt vigorous and ſpirited meaſures " ſhould be adopted; and ſubmitted, whether it would " not be proper to collect a ſtrong body of troops at " Vellore and Conjeveram, where they might be cantoned, " in readineſs to act as occaſion might require. This, " however, met with a ſimilar fate; nothing more was " done that had been in the former inſtance.

" From this time, until the beginning of June, no " further notice is taken of the meaſures of Hyder and " the Marattas, although the intelligence communicated " by the Nabob, gave us every reaſon to ſuppoſe that " he meditated ſome formidable blow againſt the Car- " natic; then indeed the Letters which came in daily " from the frontier garriſons, were ample confirmations " of what had been apprehended; and to increaſe our " difficulties, the Select Committee of Bombay adviſed " us, under date the 18th of May, that the Marattas " had declared in poſitive terms to General Goddard, " that they would not make peace unleſs Salſette were " reſtored, and the perſon of Ragobah given up.—The " undoubted information which was received of the " warlike preparations that were making by Hyder Ally " Cawn, induced Mr. Johnſon, in a Minute, ſeconded by " Mr. Smith, to recommend to the Committee, to take " into conſideration, the means of maintaining an army " in the field; and if that were impracticable, that they " would deliberate upon meaſures for reinforcing our " garriſons, Supplemental Appendix to 1ſt Report. N 4.

No 2. Supplemental Appendix to 1ſt Report.

No 3. Supplemental Appendix to 1ſt Report.

Supplemental Appendix to 1ſt Report. No 2.

" garriſons, and for keeping up a force at leaſt ſufficient to " protect the Company's and Nabob's poſſeſſions. Had this " opinion been followed, the troops which were ſeparated, " would have been formed into a body within the " ſpace of a month, without obſtruction or difficulty; " they would have marched unmoleſted into the very " heart of the Carnatic, and would have been ready to " have faced the enemy on their firſt entering the " Ghauts.—But the ſeaſonable precautions pointed out " in this Minute were diſregarded; the apprehenſions " about Hyder were thought groundleſs; and the oppor- " tunity was loſt, which might have poſſibly prevented " the invaſion of the Carnatic.—Had indeed, a peace " been concluded with the Marattas, or had there been " the proſpect of ſo deſirable an event, the rumour of " Hyder's intentions might have been diſregarded; but " when we had the cleareſt proof before us, the declara- " ration of the Maratta Court itſelf to General Goddard's " propoſition, it no longer became a matter that could " admit of further heſitation; a pacification with that " Government ſeemed to be as diſtant as ever, whilſt " every exertion that we might be enabled to make, " would unavoidably create an expence of both blood " and treaſure, which muſt infallibly exhauſt us in the " end.—The diſpoſition of the troops belonging to this " eſtabliſhment, was likewiſe a circumſtance of conſi- " derable diſadvantage to us;—one part under the com- " mand of Colonel Braithwaite, was at Pondicherry; " Lieutenant Colonel Baillie had a fine detachment to " the northward of the Kiſtna; and Colonel Browne had " one battalion of Europeans, one company of artillery, " and one battalion of ſepoys, acting under the orders " of General Goddard.

" Our force being in this manner diſperſed, no mo- " ment could have been more favourable for Hyder to " have entered the Carnatic, than the moment he em- " braced.—We were unuſually weak from the different " detachments we had on ſervice.—Bengal was plunged " into the moſt ſerious difficulties, and the treaſuries of " the Company in every part of India were reduced to " the moſt alarming ſituation.

" Since the 5th of November, when General Coote " arrived, every kind of exertion hath been made to in- " ſure to us ſucceſs in the next campaign. The General " himſelf is now encamped at Saint Thomas's Mount; " and we have every reaſon to expect that we ſhall reap " the moſt ſignal ſervices from his conduct and ability. " Circumſtanced as General Coote is, the Commander in " Chief of your forces in India; and more particularly, " having the entire direction of General Goddard's army " on the other ſide of India, where Hyder is moſt vul- " nerable, we could not, we conceive, have acted with " greater attention to your intereſt, than in entruſting to " him the general management of the war, as we have " done in public orders.—The orders which Sir Eyre " Coote informs us he has ſent to General Goddard, will, " we truſt, draw that officer from his offenſive meaſures " againſt the Marrattas, and enable him to make a di- " verſion in the Ridamore country, where the Nairs " even, we are told, are ready to revolt and join us: " they have kept the garriſon of Tellicherry cloſely con- " fined to the walls of their fort for a conſiderable time " paſt. The preſence of Sir Edward Hughes alſo ren- " ders it more probable; the ſquadron he has under his " command being at hand to co-operate, and tranſport, " if neceſſary, both men and ſtores to Mangalore."

They then proceed to acquaint the Court of Directors, that Mahomed Nudjif Cawn, the Nabob's manager in the Arcot province, inſinuates, that the capture of that place was owing to the conduct of the Company's officers; who aſſert on the other hand, that it was owing to the Nabob's people, eſpecially to Rajah Beerbur, who had the ſupreme authority at Arcot, and is now in the confidence of Hyder. They alſo acquaint them of an offer from Fazel Beg, of four or five thouſand diſciplined cavalry, which they had not poſitively accepted, by reaſon of the great expence, and by reaſon of expectation of aſſiſtance from Moodajee Bounceilo, but had kept the negotiation open. They likewiſe ſtate, that repeated repreſentations to the Rajah of Tanjore had not been able to procure either money or cavalry, and that nothing but empty words and profeſſions had hitherto been the fruit of their applications; and proceed to acquaint the Directors, that they had been informed by Sir Edward Hughes (by Letter, dated December the 4th) that His Majeſty's fleet had arrived ſafe at Tellicherry, where he had landed, for the reinforcement of that garriſon, 1 captain, 4 ſubalterns, and 108 marines; and that he had ſupplied them with 80,000 rupees, and a quantity of grain; and that he had directed two of the Company's ſhips to remain there, for the purpoſe of keeping the Port open for a ſupply of proviſions, until a reinforcement ſhould arrive.

Your Committee judged it expedient to examine William Petrie, eſquire, touching the grounds for expecting that Hyder's intention was to invade the Carnatic long before that event took place. That Gentleman, having ſerved the Company ſeveral years, in the different capacities of Commiſſary, Secretary to the Council, and reſident at Tanjore, informed your Committee, that, from the long miſunderſtanding and jealouſy which had ſubſiſted between Hyder Ally and the Madras Government, he never doubted but that we ſhould be involved in war with that power, as ſoon as he ſhould find an opportunity, which could only have been prevented by a poſitive alliance between him and the Engliſh, a meaſure which he had frequently courted; that Hyder viewed our attack on Pondicherry with a jealous eye, and would, in his opinion, have given aſſiſtance to the French, but for a favourite enterprize which he was engaged in at that time. Our attack at Mahé, and the ſubſequent operations in the Guntoor Circar, he believes, were conſidered by Hyder as acts of hoſtility; and that he would venture to ſay, that that Prince certainly meditated an attack as early as the time of the ſiege of Pondicherry, which Mr. Petrie heard at Tanjore, from a man who had formerly been in Hyder's ſervice, and who had viſited him at Nagore, at a time when this man was acting as an inferior Vackeel with the Dutch at Negapatam. It may be proper for your Committee to ſtate, that Mr. Petrie expreſſed himſelf to your Committee, as of opinion that the Rajah of Tanjore is well inclined to the intereſts of the Company; and imputed all difficulties which he met with during his reſidence there, to the jealouſy and general bad conduct of his miniſtry (co-operating with the Rajah's mild and indolent turn of mind) to whom he has intirely reſigned himſelf.—Upon the ſubject of the ſtate of affairs in Tanjore, your Committee beg leave to attract the particular attention of the houſe to Mr. Petrie's teſtimony, which affords much clear and eſſential information on this important point.

N° 5. Supplemental Appendix to 11th Report.

Appendix 4th Report N° 12.

On a ſubſequent occaſion, Mr. Petrie informed your Committee, in addition to his former teſtimony, that he knew Hyder had been inimical to the Engliſh ſince a ſhort time after the peace of 1769; at which time the Madras Board withheld from him the ſuccours which he thought he had a right to claim (in conſequence of that treaty) when his country was invaded by the Marattas. That the misfortunes of that war, in which he loſt his army, and a conſiderable part of his dominions, Hyder charged to our breach of engagements; from which period he eagerly looked for a favourable opportunity of making war upon the Engliſh. That the tranſactions of that time gave riſe to his ſubſequent connection with the French; but that, finding he could expect no eſſential ſupport from them, and apprehenſive of a ſecond viſit from the Marattas in the year 1773, he again ſolicited the friendſhip and alliance of the Engliſh againſt the common enemy, as he then termed the Marattas, and made ſuch advantageous offers to the Company, that had the Madras Board deemed it expedient in other reſpects to accede to his requeſt, the moſt ſolid commercial tial advantages might then have been obtained for the Company. Mr. Petrie further acquainted them, that he was at that time Secretary to the Board at Madras, where the ſubject was often debated; but that at laſt it was reſolved to decline the propoſed alliance, and to obſerve a ſtrict neutrality between Hyder and the Marattas. His reſentment on this occaſion, Mr. Petrie believes, cemented his connection with the French, and not improbably gave him the firſt idea of an alliance with his old enemies the Marattas; and that from this period the correſpondence between Hyder and the Company's Government he believed to have been merely civil, certainly not cordial. That on Sir Thomas Rumbold's arrival at Madras, he underſtood ſome correſpondence had taken place on the ſubject of an alliance; yet when Pondicherry was attacked, it was generally imagined, and juſtly, as he believes, that Hyder would have tried to raiſe the ſiege, had not his arms at that time been employed in another quarter. That the ſubſequent attack on Mahé, and the operations in the Guntoor Circar, were conſidered by Hyder as poſitive acts of hoſtility, who from that time ſeemed to make no ſecret of his hoſtile deſigns againſt the Carnatic. That his own reflections upon all theſe circumſtances, added to his information from Mr. Schwarts, who had juſt returned from Hyder's Durbar, and from other channels of intelligence, made him conclude, when he was about to leave India, that a war was not far diſtant, and that Hyder only waited for an opportunity to begin hoſtilities; and that he was ſorry to ſee that the Maratta war, by exhauſting the Company's reſources, and diſperſing their force, was likely to afford him a very favourable one; ſo that he never doubted of the Carnatic's becoming the theatre of war. That although the affairs of the Guntoor Circar, and of Mahé, were powerful provocations, yet Hyder would not have involved himſelf in the war had there been peace in Hindoſtan, until he had received the troops promiſed him by France; and does not think Hyder would have truſted his infantry and guns in the Carnatic, had the Madras Government only aſſembled the forces under that Preſidency in proper time, and ordered the army to move towards the Weſtern Paſſes, when they heard of Hyder's approach from Bengalore.

As the facts contained in Mr. Petrie's evidence appear to your Committee to be material, they have inſerted his evidence much at large, without meaning to paſs any judgment upon the conduct of the Madras Government, relative to the alliance with Hyder Ally, alluded to by Mr. Petrie.

Your Committee, in the courſe of their reſearches, have met with a tranſaction which originated with the Governor General and Council; in which, however, the Government of Madras was intereſted, and which they think it neceſſary to ſtate to the Houſe, though not directly connected with the ſubject matter of their Firſt Report.

They find, by Diſpatches from Calcutta, dated 7th January 1781, that the Governor General and Council (then conſiſting of Mr. Haſtings and Mr. Wheler only) after ſtating the neceſſity of uſing every means to relieve the Carnatic, acquainted the Court of Directors with a Treaty ſet on foot with the Dutch, whoſe poſſeſſions at Cochin and its neighbourhood had been attacked by Hyder Ally, and which had been formed under the advice and correction of Mr. Roſs, Director of the Dutch Eaſt India Settlements in Bengal. Theſe Gentlemen repreſent the force actually ſtationed at Cochin and near it, as able to furniſh the proportion of European infantry and artillery therein ſtipulated, as well as of Mallays, who might be quickly marched by a near route into the Carnatic, if the Governors of Columbo and Cochin ſhould accede, who have no regular powers to bind their Company, being ſubject to the Supreme Government of Batavia. They therefore ſtate this as a reaſon for having offered to the Dutch Director more advantageous terms than would otherwiſe have been expedient in an equal and formal negotiation, or adequate to their ſhare of the common intereſt in the war. But that no time is to be loſt, and inſtant relief is required, and that the dependent ſtate of thoſe perſons, whom they ſolicit to be the immediate parties, claims ſome additional conceſſions to indemnify them, and win the concurrence of their Superiors: this they ſay has induced them to offer the Tinnivelly country to the Dutch, "which may be ſeparated from the Carnatic, without either embarraſſment or danger of future competition; and, from its contiguity to the Dutch poſſeſſions in Ceylon, would prove a greater acquiſition to them, than loſs to the Nabob:" that the Treaty had been ſuddenly prepared, and, "without his knowledge, and of courſe without his conſent, though they know that the latter is indiſpenſibly neceſſary to that article of the Treaty in which the ceſſion of Tinivelly is ſuggeſted;" but that a ceſſion of a minute and diſtant part of his dominions, is but a ſmall ſacrifice for the preſervation of the whole, as the Nabob of Arcot is the principal in the war. In this Letter, the Supreme Government encloſe copies of the Treaty executed by them, and of their Letters to the Preſidency of Madras, the Nabob, the Directors of Cochin and Columbo, and the Supreme Government of Batavia.

The Minute of the Governor General and Council of the 4th January 1781 (recapitulating the reaſons abovementioned) contains the "propoſals for a Treaty of Alliance between the Engliſh and Dutch Eaſt India Companies, and the Nabob Wallah Jaw Behader;" and after reciting the invaſion of Hyder Ally, his attack on the Dutch Settlements, the common intereſt of the Nabob, and the advice and ſuggeſtion of the Dutch Director, declares, that the Treaty ſhall be propoſed to the ſeveral intended parties to it, and that it ſhall be binding on the Engliſh Company as ſoon as it ſhall have received the ſeals and ſignatures of the other parties. The ſubſtance of this Treaty appears to be, that the Governments of Columbo and Cochin ſhall furniſh 1,000 European infantry, 200 European artillery, and 1,000 Malays, with their complement of officers, ſubject to the Engliſh Commander, until the concluſion of the war and their re-delivery to their proper Government, and receiving their preſent pay, together with their field and garriſon expences: that it ſhall be propoſed and recommended to the Nabob of Arcot, to grant proper Sunnuds to the Dutch Eaſt India Company, transferring to them his right and property in the province of Tinivelly, together with the excluſive right of the Pearl fiſhery on all the Coaſt lying to the ſouth of Remfirem: that the Dutch Eaſt India Company may make ſuch conqueſts in the neighbourhood of Cochin as they ſhall be able, without the participation of the Nabob, or of the Engliſh: that if further aſſiſtance is required, the Dutch ſhall engage to obtain it from the Supreme Government of Batavia, on the ſame terms: that the Treaty being executed by the Supreme Council of Bengal, ſhall be forwarded to the Nabob of Arcot; and if executed by him, to the Directors of Columbo and Cochin; but liable to no diminution or alteration. Your Committee find, that their Letter to the Nabob repreſents the perilous ſtate of their common affairs, and the great ſacrifice made, by relinquiſhing the proſecution of the Maratta war, almoſt in the moment when they had reaſon to expect, from the ſucceſs which had attended it, that it would have ſpeedily terminated in an honourable and advantageous peace; and that the neceſſity of the utmoſt expedition muſt apologize for the want of his previous conſent. The Letter intended for Columbo and Cochin, repreſents to the Governors of thoſe ſettlements, the impoſſibility of correſponding with Batavia, by reaſon of the time which would thereby be loſt; and holds out the great advantage accruing to the Dutch, as an ample indemnification for their want of authority from their Superiors. In the Letter intended for the Supreme Government of Batavia, the ſame arguments of advantage are urged, to ſecure their ratification, and the neceſſity of expedition offered as an apology for having

N° 6. Supplemental Appendix to 1ſt Report.

N° 7. Supplemental Appendix to 1ſt Report.

having applied themſelves, in the firſt inſtance, to ſubordinate Governments. In the Letter from the Governor General to that of Madras, accompanying this Treaty, inſtructions are given to preſs the Nabob to a compliance, by repreſenting his neceſſities, his obligations, and the juſtice of the claims which they have upon him; and no doubt is entertained but that, from motives of policy as well as juſtice, the Nabob will accede to the terms offered in his name.

On the 12th of January 1781, the Government of Madras acquainted the Court of Directors, that they had particularly attended to His Majeſty's order in Council, of the 17th of April laſt, and ſhould vigilantly guard againſt any conſequences which might eventually ariſe from the meaſures that His Majeſty had been under the neceſſity of adopting; and on the 17th of February, tranſmit to the Directors their ſentiments on the Treaty above ſtated. They obſerve, that the ceſſion of the Tinnivelly country and Pearl fiſhery, which are to be perpetually ceded for a temporary aſſiſtance, are eſtimated at 35 lacks of rupees, equal in that country to £.385,750 ſterling. That a ſcheme of aſſiſtance from the Dutch had been intimated ſome months before, but that the weighty conſideration of expence ſeemed alone ſufficient to deter them from accepting it, though they had not abſolutely declined it; more eſpecially as the requiſite ſum might be more advantageouſly applied, by entertaining a body of cavalry, the want of which had been ſeverely felt. In addition to theſe arguments, they hold themſelves not to have been warranted in forwarding the Treaty, as Sir Eyre Coote's ſucceſs had been ſo conſiderable, as much was to be expected from General Goddard's operations, and as the reinforcement expected from Bengal would enable them to act with effect on the offenſive; but above all, as the revenue of the Southern Provinces were almoſt the only reſources left to the Nabob, and as his Highneſs had aſſigned them over to the Company (reſerving ſome ſhare for his houſhold expences) and were the moſt conſiderable part of their funds for carrying on the war, the ceſſion of ſo much revenue in perpetuity would ſtrip them of their beſt means of ſupporting themſelves in the Carnatic. To this they add, that His Majeſty's declaration in Council, of the 17th of April 1780, rendered the giving to the Dutch an opportunity of acquiring ſo much influence in that country, a meaſure both highly impolitic and detrimental to the Company's affairs.

Your Committee find, that the Directors of the Eaſt India Company, in their General Letter to Fort Saint George by the ſhips now under diſpatch, have expreſſed their opinion of this tranſaction in the following terms: "It is needleſs to enter upon an examination of the propoſed Treaty with the Dutch for the Tinnivelly country. Nothing but the moſt deſperate neceſſity could have warranted ſuch ceſſion of territory to the Dutch; however, as Great Britain and the States General are at open war, every effort muſt be continued to guard againſt, and, if poſſible, to reduce and deſtroy the power of the Dutch in India."

Supplement to the Second Report.

THE Abolition of the Committee of Circuit, and calling down of the Zemindars to Madras, was the point firſt attended to in your Committee's Second Report. In addition to what they have already ſtated on that ſubject, it appears to them, that on the 5th May 1778 (about three months after the arrival of Sir Thomas Rumbold at Madras) a Letter was written to him by Mr. Sadlier, then Chief of Maſulipatam, repreſenting, "that "he always had in mind how much the Governor ſeemed "to have at heart the coming of the Zemindars to the "Preſidency:—My utmoſt endeavours (ſays he) have "been uſed to facilitate your wiſh; but leſs ſanguine "than you appear, of the eligibility of undertaking ſud- "denly great reformation of ſyſtem, and aware of the "difficulties in which you may be involved. As I could "not, conſiſtently with the warm ſupport, gratitude and "inclination prompt me to, flatter you of the immediate "ſucceſs of your meaſures, I thought it beſt to be ſilent, "and not awake diſtruſt in you, till a full and complete "ſtate of the ſettlement and our ſituation were ſent you: "ſuch is now completed, and goes this night to "Council.

No. 1. Supplemental Appendix to 2d Report.

"If it had pleaſed you to have repoſed confidence in "me, and appriſed me of the ſtate of this Settlement "previous to my departure from Madras, and intruſted "to me after I could have communicated to you my "opinion on your plan, and the time fitteſt for its being "undertaken, poſſibly our treaſury might have been "repleniſhed, and the ſcheme forwarded. But having, "previous to my knowledge of your intentions, written "to the Zemindars, I found my influence and the in- "fluence of the Board here, annulled, and nothing to "be done till you have the Zemindars with you, or till "this Government is inveſted with their uſual authority." Upon theſe grounds Mr. Sadlier proceeded to ſtate the neceſſity of loſing no time in putting the meaſure in execution, after the ſubject ſhould have had due conſideration, and the Governor ſhould have ſatisfied himſelf how the calls on Maſulipatam for money were to be ſatisfied; and ſtates, that Sepoys might be neceſſary to enforce the order, "as it commonly requires ſuch an exertion "to get the Zemindars from their reſpective countries," and make them fulfil their engagements to Government.

It appears alſo, that this Letter contains a deſcription of the characters and private circumſtances of ſome of the principal Zemindars in that Settlement, which your Committee think it neceſſary to ſtate ſhortly, as affording matter for judging of the neceſſity, policy, or propriety, of calling down the Zemindars to the Preſidency, in preference to the meaſure which was ordered by the Court of Directors; namely, that a Committee from the Preſidency ſhould enquire upon the ſpot into every circumſtance which affected the reſpective intereſts of the Peaſants, the Zemindars, or the Company; and alſo as tending to throw light upon the ſuggeſtions made by the ſubordinate Settlements, and by the Zemindars themſelves, of their inability to afford the expence of a journey to the Preſidency, and a reſidence there for ſome length of time, and of the detriment which would thence ariſe to the ſubordinate treaſuries, and ultimately to the Company.

Tripetty Rauze is repreſented as very punctual in his engagements to the Company, as an able and frugal Manager of his country; uſeful to the Company, by aſſiſting them in ſettling with others of his own claſs, but a great ſufferer by having become ſecurity for the countries under his management, inſomuch as to be reduced to a "manœuvre," to endeavour to extricate himſelf from his difficulties; thus embarraſſed as he now is, Mr. Sadlier knows not how he can ſettle his affairs to the ſatisfaction of the Preſidency of Madras.

Opparow is repreſented as having a fine country, great part of which is under the management of others; But that his affairs are in ſo unproſperous a ſtate, that nothing ſhort of the ſequeſtration of his country, and giving him an allowance for his maintenance, can enable him to pay off his heavy debts, and reſtore him to his former ſituation.

Jagapetty Rauze is repreſented to have the name of being able to ſettle with the Company, either at Maſulipatam or Madras, but that a cloſe connection is ſaid to have taken place between him and Sitteram Rauze: "that Vackeels and correſpondence are in uſe between "them, and that there is cauſe to imagine that there "are intrigues on foot between the Zemindars of Chica-"cole and thoſe of this diſtrict, from this man's in-"fluence. This (ſays Mr. Sadlier) ſhould be diſ-"couraged, and may cauſe a combination of the whole "of the Zemindars to diſtreſs and embarraſs your plan. "To overcome ſuch confederacy, you might ſettle the "affairs of the different diſtricts ſeparately and at different "times, and not hazard the effects of intrigue, by "bringing the whole of them together."

Row Vencata Row is repreſented as having paid up his kiſts; and a renewal of his agreement, in the uſual mode, it is thought may be effected.—Ram Chundre Rauze is ſaid to wiſh to have his pretenſions to the Cotah country (now in charge of a Fouzdar for the Company) ſettled before he pays his inſtalments.—Coſtant Ram and Veſſereddy Ram, as having been always punctual, and likely ſo to continue.

The Chief of Maſulipatam then proceeds to draw the Governor's attention to the effects which this meaſure would, in his judgment, have upon the treaſury of the Settlement under his charge. "By the eſtimate (con-"tinues he) of probable receipts and monthly diſburſe-"ments, ſent to the Board, you will find, we have hope "of receiving very little; and our diſburſement, not leſs "than 33,000 pagodas monthly, (£. 13,300 ſterling) "beſides which, we owe to the Soubah, 31ſt March laſt, "77,922 pagodas, on account of his tribute; which ſum "is increaſing monthly, at the rate of 10,822½. The "payment of the laſt money was completed by the "Soucars only a few days ſince, which occaſioned the "Soubah, by one of his people, to write Vencata Royloo, "as you will perceive by tranſlate of the Letter now "ſent. It becomes an object of your moſt ſerious "attention, in caſe the Zemindars proceed as at preſent "intended, to find means by which our treaſury may be "ſupplied; the moſt valuable part of the Company's "inveſtment depends on it, and the Zemindars with-"holding as they do aſſiſtance of any kind, leaves little "hopes of reſources in ourſelves; for whatever may "appear due, ſuch is the ſtate of credit, and ſuch the "uncertainty of payment, I do not at this hour know "where I can apply with certainty for the ſmalleſt ſums, "and all I expect to be able to do, will barely furniſh "the demands of the preſent month, independent of our "ſilver, which may amount to about a lack of rupees, "which will be ſold to great loſs.—Thus, miſcarriage in "any of the affairs dependent on this Settlement, may "therefore be imputed to the change of ſyſtem, and what "diſappointments enſue, juſtified by the Council here on "this plea, and all misfortunes incident to it imputed to "your Board.—If too, by improper management here-"tofore, deficiency in payment of the kiſts now due, and "the revenue of this country, according to the preſent "ſettlement, ſhould happen, may not the cauſe, by its "effect of giving the firſt ſhock, to common and long "practiſed credit in the mode of ſecurities in thoſe coun-"tries, be alſo aſcribed to the preſent plan? In ſhort, if "it ſhould happen that the Settlement, by bad ſeaſons and "cauſes alledged by the Zemindars, is on the decline, "would it not be prudent to leave the Government "hitherto charged with reſponſibility, to juſtify its mea-"ſures, and bear the cenſure it deſerves? are queſtions "with deference I ſubmit to your better judgment.

"The period of ſettlement by Mr. Floyer, expires the "25th September next; a new jamabundy muſt then be "agreed on; that time or October may be better ſuited, "and the people better prepared to viſit the Preſidency. "In caſe then no change is intended in the preſent ſettle-"ment, ſuch ſeaſon may be equally convenient for the "Company for a future plan; and the Board here, by "being left to accompliſh its preſent payments, may "poſſibly at that time have its treaſury in a ſtate to "anſwer the exigencies, and the plan proceed without "inconvenience.—I am led to theſe obſervations, by a "ſincere wiſh to promote the ſucceſs of your meaſures; "and ſtimulated by ſuch motives, led to a freedom of "remarks I would not have uſed, but to the perſon whoſe "honour and ſucceſs highly intereſts me; I truſt there-"fore I ſhall not have given offence:—you have now (if "you think the ſubject deſerves it) but to afford it due "conſideration, and ſignify your further wiſhes to enſure "in me an arduous deſire to ſecond them, by the moſt "implicit obedience to your further commands. The "preſent Letter is meant as a private one, but whatever "obſervations concern the public, may be uſed as you "have occaſion."

Your Committee, upon this point reſpecting the abolition of the Committee of Circuit, and calling down the Zemindars, examined William Petrie, eſquire; who acquainted them, that he went firſt to Madras in the Company's Civil Service about ſeventeen years ago, and had acted in the ſtations of Commiſſary and Paymaſter to the army, during the laſt war with Hyder Ally, at the firſt ſiege of Tanjore, and in the ſubſequent campaigns: that he was afterwards appointed Secretary to the Government of Madras, in which department he remained till his return to England in 1776; that in the ſucceeding year he returned to India with Sir Thomas Rumbold, and was appointed Envoy or Reſident to the Rajah of Tanjore, and to the Chief-ſhip of Nagore and Caricole. That he again left India in January 1780; was proſecuting his journey over land, but was obliged, on account of the plague in Turkey, to return to Bombay; was preſent at the capture of Baſſein by the Bengal army; and on the Malabar coaſt, had an opportunity of hearing of Hyder Ally's alarming ſucceſs in the Carnatic, and the diſtreſſed ſtate of the Engliſh Government at Madras. That he left the coaſt of India on the 11th February, on board of a Portugueſe ſhip, and arrived in England, September 1781.—Mr. Petrie informed your Committee, that he remained with Sir Thomas Rumbold about twelve days after his arrival at Madras, and was not in that place when the Committee of Circuit was aboliſhed, but heard of it at Tanjore, which is diſtant from Madras three days journey by poſt, and ſix or ſeven in the uſual way: that moſt of the Zemindars, he believes, were at Madras when he returned to the Preſidency, but that he had no communication with them: that he was acquainted with the objects of the Committee of Circuit, and knew of its diſſolution; and from his knowledge of the affairs of that Preſidency, and the objects of that Committee, he is clearly of opinion, they were more likely to be attained by the continuance of the Committee, than by calling down the Zemindars; becauſe the Committee was directed to proceed to the Northern Circars, and inveſtigate the various matters which had been complained of in that branch of the Company's Government; and becauſe the inſtructions given to them for their guide, appear to him well calculated to accompliſh the purpoſes of reformation; whereas, by calling the Zemindars to Madras, the Board could only have partial evidence, and muſt be liable to impoſition and deception from thoſe men, whoſe intereſt it was to keep them in the dark. From his knowledge of the men appointed to form that Committee, Mr. Petrie thought they were very capable of that truſt; and being aſked whether there were other Gentlemen fit to ſupply their places in caſe of vacancy? he anſwered, "A great many indeed." With reſpect to the Zemindars having complained of the hardſhip of being brought down to the Preſidency, Mr. Petrie informed your Committee, that he did not know it, ſo as to warrant him in calling it perſonal knowledge; but that it was the notorious and univerſal ſenſe of the Preſidency, that they had ſo complained.

Supplemental Appendix to 1ſt Report, No. 5.

Mr. Cotsford, who as Chief of Maſulipatam for upwards of two years ſubſequent to the latter end of 1778, and whoſe whoſe departure from thence, on board of a Daniſh ſhip, without waiting for the approbation of the Government, had given offence, was examined by your Committee to this point; and informed them that, that great inconvenience had ariſen from the meaſure of calling down the Zemindars; that the collections had thereby been impeded, and that they had complained of the expence incurred by their journey, their reſidence at Madras, and the neceſſity of leaving their Zemindaries in the hands of ſervants. That he never had any converſation with any of the Zemindars reſpecting preſents given to any Members of the Government at Madras, although he had met with all the Zemindars on their return, and although, had they not been called down, he ſhould have accepted of certain advantages which were cuſtomary in his ſtation, after having firſt diſcharged his duty to the Company. Mr. Cotsford, upon the ſubject of the utility of the Committee of Circuit, ſeemed to think the Chiefs and Councils at the ſubordinate Settlements ought not to have been ſuperſeded by that inſtitution, and that a ſingle perſon might have done the duty of that Committee; of which he ſeemed to have too limited and inadequate an idea, confining it merely to ſurveying and letting the lands; whereas the Company's Letter of the 12th April 1775 (ſtated in the Second Report) comprehends many great and important objects of public policy, from the governing power down to the loweſt ſubtenant.

Vide Report on the Revenues.

Vide Supplemental Appendix, to 2d Report, No. 7.

Your Committee, in their Second Report to which this Supplement is offered, after having digeſted the materials with which they were furniſhed reſpecting the nature and effects of aboliſhing the Committee of Circuit, and calling down the Zemindars in perſon, ſtated the manner of dealing with them, and the remittances which were made to China by Sir Thomas Rumbold during that period. In addition to the formal materials on this head, they have been furniſhed with the following evidence:

Private Tranſactions of the Members of Government.

Captain Johnſton, of the Granby, informed them, that he ſailed from Britain on the 7th March 1779, for Madras; arrived there on the 18th January 1780, when Sir Thomas Rumbold was Governor; that he remained there about five months, and ſailed for China about the 18th June, where he arrived about the 29th Auguſt; that he carried with him treaſure belonging to individuals, and among the reſt 8,000 pagodas (£. 3,200 ſterling) belonging to Sir Thomas Rumbold, which he delivered to Meſſrs. Bradſhaw and Pigou; that Meſſrs. Oakley and Proctor, Sir Thomas Rumbold's attornies, had applied to him to take it on board, about fourteen days before he ſailed. That the treaſure was not regularly entered in the books where other effects are entered, and that a bill of lading was given. That he had 30,000 pagodas beſides, belonging to different individuals, but none belonging to any Member of Government, except that abovementioned. That the Seahorſe man of war ſailed in company, as convoy to the ſhips, and had money and jewels on board to a large amount, as he learnt from Captain Panton (Captain of the Seahorſe) whom your Committee find to be ſince deceaſed; of which 16,000 pagodas (£. 6,400) were the property of Sir Thomas Rumbold. That in converſation with Captain Panton, on board of his own ſhip, that Gentleman aſked him, what quantity of pagodas he had of Sir Thomas Rumbold's? and that upon his anſwering, that he had 8,000, Captain Panton replied, that he had double the number.

Supplemental Appendix, to 2d Report, No. 2.

Captain Parker, Captain Montgomerie, Captain Blanchard, Captain Wakefield, Captain Pierce, and Captain White, informed your Committee, that they had carried ſmall quantities of treaſure to China, on account of individuals (ſpecifying the ſums and names of the owners) no part of which appears to have been on account of any Member of the Government of Madras. Mr. Farrington Butterfield, Purſer of the Sandwich, which ſailed to China with moſt of the Captains abovementioned, informed your Committee, that not leſs than 30,000 pagodas were on board of that ſhip, belonging to Merchants; but that the Seahorſe had carried a great deal of money, for which three per cent. freight was paid to the man of war, while the Company's ſhips had but one.

Your Committee proceeded to examine Thomas Bevan, eſquire; who informed them, that he was ſecond of the Select Committee at China, appointed at the end of the year 1778: that he ſailed on the 6th or 7th of March 1779, and arrived in China on the 3d or 4th of October in the ſame year: that he had left Canton on the laſt day of January 1781, and came home in the laſt ſhip.—Having been informed by Captain Johnſton that 15 or 16 country ſhips had ſailed from Madras to China in the year 1780, your Committee interrogated Mr. Bevan with reſpect to the remittance of treaſure by individuals, by means of thoſe veſſels; and were informed, that the Board at China had money tendered to them, from private perſons as well as ſervants of the Company, from all parts of India: that there were ſeveral remittances from individuals, which he had opportunity to know of; but that they never aſked whoſe property it was, but only the name of the perſon to whom it was wiſhed it ſhould be remitted: that the caſh paid in does not always belong to the perſon who pays it in: that he had heard of money being ſent by country ſhips, but that the Board takes no notice of country ſhips, having no concern with them; and that they ſometimes pay into the Company's caſh, ſometimes to foreigners; and that large ſums are frequently paid into foreign treaſuries, which, though a difficult matter, ſhould be put a ſtop to from home, as that would benefit the Company. Mr. Bevan alſo informed your Committee, that he did not of his own knowledge know of any ſpecific ſums remitted by, or on account of, any individuals from Madras or Bengal.—Matthew Raper, eſquire, another ſupercargo, confirmed Captain Foxhall and Mr. Pigou's account, reſpecting the ſum ſtated in the 2d Report (vid. ante pp. 271. et infra) to have been paid in to him and his partner, on Sir Thomas Rumbold's account; and proved, that the portion belonging to Sir Hector Monro, was of the value of £. 466. 10*s*. 3*d*. He alſo confirmed the preceding teſtimony, reſpecting the importation of money by the Seahorſe; which, having been ſent up to the factory, "he did not know what it was, as it was not all public "money."

Some further light was afforded to your Committee, by the teſtimony of Mr. Petrie, reſpecting the preſent of a lack of rupees, ſtated in the 2d Report (p. 282, &c.) to have been ſecured to Mr. Redhead, the private Secretary of Sir Thomas Rumbold, by Sitteram Rauze, whilſt he was at Madras.

That Gentleman acquainted your Committee, that he was one of the executors of Mr. Redhead; that there was a diſputed article in the will, relating to a ſum of money claimed from Sitteram Rauze; and that it appeared to be a ſum of money promiſed by Sitteram Rauze, or his Agent, to Mr. Redhead, for certain ſervices to be rendered by him: but that, being abſent from Madras on public ſervice, he left the executorſhip entirely to Mr. Brodie, his co-executor, and could therefore only ſay, that he believed the ſervices to have been the accompliſhing of certain points for Sitteram Rauze at the Preſidency, through his (Mr. Redhead's) influence; that he had a copy of the agreement itſelf, tranſlated from the original by a perſon whom he knew well, and believes to be exact; with which Mr. Petrie furniſhed your Committee, and which they find to be as follows:

Supplemental Appendix, to 1ſt Report. D. No. 5.

Tranſlation of an Agreement granted by Seeteramraz Mabaraz to Mr. Redhead; dated 1ſt July 1778.

I Seeteramraz Mabaraz do hereby agree to pay one lack of rupees, as a preſent to Mr. Redhead, on account of his aſſiſtance in the following affair; viz.

That he ſhould cauſe to procure or get Cowls what I want from the Company to my Rajah, in the name of Gajapatee: that he ſhould procure Cowls of jamabundy in the name of Gajapatee.

That

That he ſhould cauſe to adjoin the countries of Anachapallee and Secheveram with my country or jemeendary, and to grant the Cowl for the ſame:

That he ſhould cauſe to remove the Sepoys from my fort, and deliver the fort to me to be as my own, with an order; and alſo to cauſe me and my brother to be in friendly manner with one another, and to aſſiſt in ſuch ſeveral other affairs:

And as for the abovementioned one lack of rupees, he has received a bond of 10,000 pagodas of the Shamarawoo; the particular of which is as follows:

He took upon himſelf, on account of Captain Lyſaght, to pay to Shart (Shamarawoo) pagodas 2540; which, upon deducting out of the above 10,000 pagodas, there remains 7460 pagodas, and the intereſt of which is 400 pagodas, both together is 7860 pagodas, which makes, at 356 rupees per 100 pagodas, is rupees 27981. 8 anas. For this ſum I cauſed my brother to give him a receipt; and as for the remainder of rupees 72018. 8 anas, I ſhall pay him rupees 22018. 8 anas at the time of my ſetting out from hence to my country; and the reſt of the balance of 50,000 rupees, I ſhall ſend it by the way of bills of exchange upon Soucars, and then I ſhall redeem my agreement from him.

Thus I willingly give this agreement to him, ſigned by Jemeeander Rajah Seeteramraz Bahadar, Muna Sultan.

By what has been ſtated in the Second Report, already preſented to the Houſe, it appears, that Sitteram Rauze had been ſucceſsful in carrying the points which he was deſirous of Mr. Redhead's good offices in the proſecution of; and his ſuſpicious conduct ſoon after this ſucceſs, when a dangerous revolt broke out at Vizagapatam, has been adverted to, which is further evinced by the following documents. The Chief of Ganjam wrote on the 7th October 1780, the following Letter to Vizeram Rauze, whoſe conduct towards the Company had met with their commendation.

" I have heard with aſtoniſhment of the mutiny at " Vizagapatam, and the confinement of the Chief and " ſome other Gentlemen. In order to ſuppreſs and puniſh " this wicked act, I have ordered a force to proceed " immediately to Vizagapatam, under the command of " Captain Bruce; and I charge you, as you value the " Company's favour and conſider your own welfare, that " you render every aſſiſtance in your power, by ſending " your troops to join ours in reducing theſe faithleſs, " ungrateful villains. There is an opportunity for you " to diſtinguiſh and recommend yourſelf to the favour " of the Engliſh, and I have not a doubt but you will " acquit yourſelf in an honourable manner to the ſatis- " faction of the honourable Board at Madras. Let me " hear of your welfare, that I may rejoice."

" Ganjam."

Notwithſtanding the urgency of the neceſſity which this Letter and other documents evince, the conduct of Sitteram Rauze, who had been in every inſtance favoured at his brother's expence, did not correſpond with the degree of favour which had been ſhewn him, but agrees with the character given of him by the Committee of Circuit, ſtated in the Second Report. On the 24th October 1780, the Chief and Council of Vizagapatam, in a Letter of that date, treating of the mutiny which had broken out there, ſtate the following particulars: " Without the leaſt partiality of our opinions, the beha- " viour of Sitteram Rauze, from the time of his return " to this diſtrict, now upwards of twenty days, is by no " means ſatisfactory; he has obſerved a reſerve, which " at this time betrays at any rate an indifference that is " inconſiſtent; two or three unmeaning Letters accom- " panying ſome horſes and plunder thrown away by the " mutineers; and obſerving in another addreſs, that he " was collecting money; is all that paſſed between the " Chief and him. He acknowledges the receipt of a " Letter, deſiring the mutineers ſhould be intercepted; " and ſays, that he has written to the Zemindars under " him: yet not one of the mutineers has been taken by " the Rajahs people, although they had timely advice, " and we know for a certain fact it has been in their " power. All theſe reflections have induced us to direct " the Chief to write to Sitteram Rauze, to ſtate the ac- " count of arrears, and to make a ſufficient demand to " anſwer all immediate expences."

Your Committee find, that Mr. Sadlier abovementioned, who was ſuſpended from his office in Council* by the caſting vote of Mr. Whitehill, joined by Sir Hector Monro, againſt thoſe of Meſſrs. Johnſon and Smith, for the reaſons and in the manner ſtated in the Firſt Report (pages 8, &c.) addreſſed himſelf to the Chairman of the Court of Directors, acquainting him by Letter with his whole conduct, from the time of his entrance into the Company's ſervice, down to the time of his ſuſpenſion; the cauſe of which he alledges to have been the freedom with which he gave his opinion in Council upon the bad conduct of the Government, but which his adverſaries alledge to have been neceſſary by reaſon of his intemperance, which tended to ſow ſedition and deſpondency among the inhabitants of Madras. In ſtating the whole courſe of his upright conduct and fidelity to the intereſts of his Employers, your Committee find, that this Gentleman dwells particularly on the early proof which he gave of his own diſintereſted- neſs, and of his deſire to put an end to the practice of receiving undue emoluments in the Chiefſhip of Maſulipatam, to which he had been appointed in April 1778; and complains that his endeavours were rendered fruitleſs, by the neglect of Sir Thomas Rumbold, then Governor, to take advantage of the information which he communicated to him.

On the 13th of January 1781, Mr. Sadlier wrote the Letter alluded to from Madras to the Chairman of the Court of Directors, which was accompanied by a copy of a Letter which he had addreſſed to Sir Thomas Rumbold, when Governor, dated 5th of May 1778, in which he told him, " the encloſed paper will let you into the " arcana of the ſweets of this Chiefſhip; it is com- " municated to you in proof of the confidence I repoſe " in you, and in teſtimony that I mean not to keep " ſecret any action which you may ſuppoſe can influence " my conduct; your honourable ſupport of me againſt " volumes of the baſeſt defamation, claims, and it ſhall " have it, this honourable and candid conduct from me— " the rapacity and peculation of men has nearly ruined " this country; the misfortune it is now involved in " originates from ſuch principles, and its effects may " have brought in diſtreſſes, poſſibly not to be re- " formed.

" The paper, if you pleaſe, may be deſtroyed, it is " intended but to ſhew the unſound ground you tread " in.

" Intereſt with me towards you bears no ſway. I " conſider my ſituation but temporary. I hope ere " long to afford you a better teſtimony of the hearty " good diſpoſition which actuates me for promoting " the honour of your Government; you have therefore " but to ſignify to me, without reſerve, what you wiſh, " and depend on its becoming my guide."

The paper which is referred to as encloſed by Mr. Sadlier, appears to be an Account delivered to him by Vencatarogaloo, the Company's Dubaſh and chief interpreter; tranſlations of which were ſent to Sir Thomas Rumbold. No. 3. Supplemental Appendix to 2d Report.

This Account appears to be intituled (according to the tranſlation) " The private Account receiving from " the Zemindars for ſettling three years jemabundy, (or " tribute.)" It commences with the Account of Mr. Floyer.s

* See pages 8, &c. of Firſt Report, where this tranſaction is fully ſtated.

Floyer's private bargains for gratuities, on his own account, on a ſettlement of three years with the Zemindars and Renters during the years 1186, 1187, and 1188, according to the computation of that country, and correſponding to the years 1773, 1774, 1775 of the chriſtian computation, or thereabouts. In the Supplemental Appendix, the Account itſelf will be found, wherefore your Committee will here only ſtate the totals from that Account; by which it appears, that the total ſum ſtipulated to be paid to Mr. Floyer, by the different tributaries, for his own private uſe, amounted to 135,886 pagodas and a fraction (i. e. £. 54,354 ſterling) of which 50,364 pagodas were paid (£.20,144 ſterling) and 85,524 pagodas (about £.34,210) were owing at the time when this Account was made up. By a ſeparate Account, Mr. Floyer's further ſtipulation for his own private advantage, appears to have amounted to 11,010 pagodas (equal to £. 4,409 ſterling) of which 7,055 pagodas were received (£.2,822 ſterling) and 8,955 pagodas due (i. e. £. 3,582 ſterling.) —Mr. Statham, the Salt Renter of this diſtrict, is alſo ſtated to have paid 6,000 pagodas (£. 2,400) for one year's leaſe. So that by this Account it appears, that Mr. Floyer's ſecret emoluments actually received, including the gratuity from Mr. Statham, amounted to £. 25,360; and that the arrears at the time of making up this account in May 1778, amounted to £. 37,742.

The ſame Paper alſo contains an Account of the private emoluments paid to Mr. Whitehill, on account of a ſettlement made for three years preceding the former one; viz. the years 1183, 1184, and 1185, correſponding to 1770, 1771, 1772, amounting in the whole to 192,261 pagodas and a fraction (i. e. £. 77,405 ſterling.)

It further ſtates, that Mr. Q. C. (which your Committee find means Quintin Crawfurd) received on his own private account 38,100 pagodas (£. 15,240); and that the opportunity afforded to Mr. Crawfurd for receiving theſe emoluments, is thus expreſſed in the tranſlation tranſmitted by Mr. Sadlier to Sir Thomas Rumbold: "Mr. Q. C. who not ſettled Zemabundy, only collected "the ſix kiſts of the third year of Mr. Whitehill's Ze- "mabundy, and alſo the three kiſts of ſecond year.— From whence it ſhould ſeem, that if one Chief ſettled the tribute for a given ſpace of time, and upon his removal another ſhould collect it, new and additional perquiſites were demanded of the Renters and Zemindars by the new collector.

Your Committee alſo find, that this Account contains further receipts of Mr. Floyer's, amounting to 27,875 pagodas (£. 11,146) under the following title: "Mr. "Floyer came the third year of Mr. Whitehill's Ze- "mabundy, who collected the three kiſts of the third "year Zemabundy at the time, who demanded to receive "private buſineſs, as Mr. Crawfurd."

When your Committee compared the names of thoſe Zemindars as above mentioned, whom Mr. Sadlier deſcribes as very greatly embarraſſed in their circumſtances, and thereby diſtreſſed for means to obey the ſummons to Madras, with thoſe by whom the private emoluments of Mr. Floyer, Mr. Whitehill, and Mr. Crawfurd, were furniſhed (in their reſpective capacities of Settlers or Collectors) they were found to be comprehended in both catalogues.

No. 4. Supplemental Appendix to 2d Report.

Your Committee find, that the receipt of the Letter abovementioned, containing this important information, was acknowledged by Sir Thomas Rumbold, in a Letter, dated the 20th May 1778, in the following terms:

"I ſhould have replied to your Letter of the 5th "inſtant ſooner, had I not obſerved that there was no "probability of our orders to the Zemindars not having "the effect we expected, and that ultimately they muſt "be convinced of the propriety of an implicit obedience "to the orders of this Government; and I have no "doubt will experience the advantages of the new mea- "ſure. I am much obliged by your account of the "Zemindars, the ſtate of their countries, finances, &c.

"Your information has thrown much light upon this "ſubject; and though I cannot ſee the bad conſequences "that are to follow from the Zemindars being ordered "here to ſettle their jummabundy, inſtead of fixing it at "the different Chief-ships, yet I beg you will be aſſured, "I am no leſs ſenſible of the good intention with which "you have freely given me your opinion.—If any failure "happens in the payment of their kiſts, the exigencies "of your Government muſt be ſupplied from hence; "but I am willing to believe you will not require our "aſſiſtance.

"As to the money due to the Soubah, you will receive "our inſtructions on this head before you diſcharge the "balance."

In another Letter, dated the 27th of May 1778, Sir Thomas Rumbold expreſſes his obligation to Mr. Sadlier, for his zeal in forwarding the meaſure of obliging the Zemindars to repair to Madras.

No. 3. Supplemental Appendix to 2d Report.

Your Committee alſo find, that the authenticity of the Letters and Accounts abovementioned, were verified by Mr. Sadlier, by an affidavit to be found in N° 3, Supplemental Appendix.

No. 3.

Your Committee do not find, that the official intelligence communicated by Mr. Sadlier, was made the ground of any enquiry or reformation during the government of Sir Thomas Rumbold or Mr. Whitehill; on the contrary, they find that Mr. Sadlier addreſſed a Letter to the Council of Madras, on the 8th January 1781, aſcribing the poverty of the public treaſury to the peculation practiſed by individuals, while the balances due at Maſulipatam amounted to upwards of four lacks of pagodas, as would appear by the Accounts to which he referred. In this Letter he urged the Council, with great earneſtneſs, to enquire into the conduct of his predeceſſors, which had, in his opinion, contributed greatly to the preſent diſtreſs; declaring, that a neglect of enquiry and proſecution would be treachery to their Employers. "Mr. Whitehill, ſays he, is now at Madras, and is upon "the point of departure for Europe, and if the Govern- "ment allow him to depart with ſuch information againſt "him, before he is acquitted by the forms of law, I "ſubmit it to the opinion of the Board, how far their "Employers may think them reſponſible for the con- "ſequences.

"If the Company's ſervants have been guilty of pe- "culation in office,—if they have abuſed the truſt re- "poſed in them,—if by theſe abuſes they have brought "diſhonour upon their country; let it be imagined how "much the opinion of their treachery may have laid the "foundation of our preſent reverſe of fortune, and what "influence it may have in future, not only to check the "Company's credit, but, from a want of dependance "upon our Government, to prevent thoſe alliances with "the country powers, which at preſent ſeem ſo eſſential "to our affairs.

"I have already urged, that the beſt foundation for "public ſpirit is public juſtice. Mr. Whitehill held the "firſt ſtation in the Company's ſervice upon this Coaſt "at the time when their affairs ſuffered the greateſt re- "verſe; and if it is proved, that he is one cauſe from "which our evil has originated, I ſubmit it to the Board, "whether he ſhould not receive puniſhment according "to law, both as an example to thoſe who hold truſt, and "that we may give our friends and our enemies an "opinion of our juſtice."

From theſe documents, it appeared to your Committee, that early in Sir Thomas Rumbold's government, information was communicated to him of the practices by which the Chiefs of Maſulipatam enriched themſelves, to which the poverty and diſtreſs of that Settlement were in a great meaſure aſcribed—That this communication was made by the Chief himſelf, whoſe ſtation gave him the beſt opportunity of diſcovering thoſe practices, and whoſe duty made it incumbent on him to diſcloſe them to the Government; and that his information was derived from the Company's Dubaſh, who was neceſſarily acquainted with the tranſactions which took place on ſettling the tribute with his predeceſſors: notwithſtanding which, no ſteps appear to have been taken by the Governor, either to enquire into the abuſes ſtated by Mr. Sadlier, or to lay this information before the Select Committee or Council at large, or in anyway to proceed upon it, or that it was ever communicated to the Court of Directors by the Governor.

That the Preſidency of Madras was in fact much diſtreſſed, by reaſon of the inconſiderable collections of territorial revenue under Maſulipatam, appears to your Committee, from paragraph 7 of the Letter in their Civil Department from thence, dated 9th January 1781.

No. 7. Supplemental Appendix to 2d Report.

" The diſappointments we experienced from the inconſiderable collections made for ſome time paſt of your " territorial revenue under Maſulipatam, and the heavy " charges incurred of late by the war with Hyder Ally " Cawn, having laid us under the neceſſity of appropriating all our reſources to the defraying military expences, " have been the means of impeding your inveſtment, " and have even obliged us to put a ſtop to the proviſion " of it for the preſent; indeed, the troubles now ſubſiſting in the Carnatic, render it impoſſible for the weavers " about Madras and Cudalore to work; we have, however, been able to give almoſt a full loading to the " Duke of Kingſton, and hope to ſend your honours 12 or " 1300 bales more, in the courſe of next month, or in " the month of March, ſhould the Governor General " and Council be able to ſupply us with tonnage for that " purpoſe, agreeably to a requeſt we made them in our " Letter 8th ultimo."

This further appears to your Committee, from another paſſage in the ſame Letter, in which the Select Committee obſerve, " That when the enormous outſtanding balances " of the Zemindars and Renters, inſtead of being greatly " decreaſed as they flattered themſelves would have been " the caſe, had on the contrary been ſuffered to augment " conſiderably, and at this time actually amount, including teeps, to M. Pags. 15,28,597; they cannot agree " with Mr. Cottesford, that nothing has been left undone " which the Chief and Council had the power of doing." And in this Letter they expreſs themſelves as greatly diſobliged at Mr. Cottesford's determination to return to Europe on board of a Daniſh ſhip, on account of his alledged bad ſtate of health.

No. 8. Supplemental Appendix to 2d Report.

Your Committee find, that a Revenue Letter of the ſame date, affords a very ſtriking proof of the difficulty with which the collection of the revenue was made in Maſulipatam. The Select Committee in that Letter repreſent, that the Zemindars having been collected there in June 1780, to ſettle their payments due, had ſo often evaded the delivering of their teeps (or promiſſory notes) that it became neceſſary to try what effect a ſhew of coerſive meaſures would have; and that Sepoy guards were actually placed upon their perſons; and that " it was " hoped this appearance of ſeverity would induce the " Zemindars to exert themſelves in the diſcharge of " their balances; but leſt it ſhould not, they had autho- " rized the Chief and Council, in the laſt extremity, to " adopt a plan which they had themſelves ſuggeſted, " which was, either to take poſſeſſion, in the name of the " Company, of their ſeveral countries, until they procured " bills for their ſeveral payments, in order to force them " to employ every reſource they poſſeſſed, to ſatisfy the " juſt demands of the Company; or to impreſs them with " an idea, that if they did not provide their teeps at a " certain period, ſhortly after the gathering in of har- " veſt, the beginning of the enſuing year, they had given " authority to the Chief and Council to ſeize on the " crops, and to keep poſſeſſion of them until the teeps " were produced." This Letter ſtates, that, after much diſpute, five teeps had at length been obtained, amounting to pagodas 388,988 (which deducted from 15,28,597, leaves a balance behind of 11,39,609 pagodas); and complains of want of vigour in the Chief and Council, in the matter of collections.

Your Committee further find, from a Letter of Mr. Sadlier to the Chairman of the Eaſt India Company, dated 30th November 1780, that upon the eve of Sir Thomas Rumbold's departure, an interview took place between Sir Thomas, Sir Hector Monro, Mr. Whitehill, and Mr. Sadlier; which is here ſtated in Mr. Sadlier's own words:

" A few days before the departure of Sir Thomas " Rumbold for Europe, and quite unprepared for the " event, I was called into a private room, where Sir " Thomas, Mr. Whitehill, and Sir Hector Monro, were " aſſembled before me. In this ſituation I was accoſted " by Sir Thomas to the following purport: " That he " heard I had joined Meſſrs. Smith and Johnſon in the " intention to oppoſe his meaſures after his departure, " and if he thought that this really was my deſign, he " would, before his departure, take a bold ſtep, by pre- " venting my ſucceeding to Council."—Thus then I " found myſelf in danger of being deprived of a ſtation " to which I was entitled by my ſtanding, and by years " of ſervice; I was to be robbed of the honeſt advantages " which the Company has annexed to that ſtation; and " my character was in danger of being murdered to " vindicate this triple act of baſeneſs, injuſtice, and " cruelty.

" Though my feelings were ſtrong, I had reaſon to rejoice that I was able to conceal them: I aſked Sir Thomas, " where he had his information? he ſaid, from report " only.—I aſked, if I deſerved cenſure in the ſtation held " under him as Chief of Maſulipatam; and whether he " could draw any inference to my prejudice, from my " manner of conducting myſelf in that ſtation? he anſwered, that ſo far from it, I deſerved praiſe.—I aſked " him, whether I had at any time communicated with " him about meaſures, or whether he was informed I " ſent for records and papers, or uſed any other means " by which I might acquire information? he ſaid, he did " not think me ſo communicative concerning meaſures " as I ſhould have been, and that he did not know I had " ſent for any papers.—I put the ſame queſtions to Mr. " Whitehill and Sir Hector Monro, and both anſwered me " in the negative; upon which I aſſured them, that I " had maintained an equal reſerve with Meſſrs. Smith " and Johnſon.—I then aſked Mr. Whitehill, whether, " during the time I had ſerved with him in Council, " previous to the arrival of Meſſrs. Smith, Johnſon, and " Perring, he had ſeen any thing in my conduct which " deſerved cenſure? and he aſſured me that he had not.— " Thus ended the inquiſition, before whom I neither " declared or diſavowed my ſentiments—the inquiſitors " however ſeemed to go away ſatisfied; and a few days " after, upon the departure of Sir Thomas, I was ſworn " in as a Member of Council."

Your Committee having peruſed and examined all the materials which have been tranſmitted to the Directors of the Eaſt India Company, ſince the concluſion of the laſt ſeſſion of Parliament, reſpecting the treaty concluded with Bazalet Jung by Sir Thomas Rumbold, and the negotiation with the Nizam during that Gentleman's government, find, that Sir Eyre Coote, in a Minute entered upon the Madras Conſultations, 12th January 1781, aſcribes the invaſion of the Carnatic, in a great degree, to thoſe meaſures—Sir Eyre Coote's Minute was occaſioned by a paſſage in the General Letter from that Preſidency, dated January 9th, 1781, which aſcribes the calamities of the Carnatic, in ſtrong terms, to the Maratta war; which they conſider as viſionary in itſelf, as tending to unite Hyder Ally and that Power, who were before at conſtant variance with each other, and as laying the foundation of the confederacy formed againſt the Britiſh intereſts in Hindoſtan. " At the ſame time (ſays " Sir Eyre Coote) that I put my ſignature to the General " Letter of the 9th of January 1781, I muſt, in candour " and in conformity to thoſe opinions which I have both " held and expreſſed, except againſt one part of it, and " which Vide Supplemental Appendix to 1ſt Report, No. 4.

No. 9. Supplemental Appendix to 2d Report.

" which aſcribes all our preſent misfortunes to the " Maratta war.

" That that meaſure may firſt have given birth to the " idea of a general combination of the powers of Hindoſtan againſt us, I will not endeavour to diſprove; " but that to it alone we owe the formidable incurſion " of Hyder Ally into the Carnatic, I cannot admit: firſt, " becauſe long after we had commenced hoſtilities againſt " the Marattas, Hyder himſelf continued to make con- " queſts upon them, and which our operations no doubt " facilitated. It was his favourite object, and which I " am confident he would never have quitted, or ſought " for a union with the Marattas againſt us, had not our " negotiations with Bazalet Jung, about the Guntoor " Circar, (on which he had alſo views) and the mode " in which they were carried on, awakened his jealouſy, " and very naturally made him apprehend, that our " ultimate intentions were to poſſeſs ourſelves of ſome " part of his country.—Whilſt it anſwered his purpoſe " to make peace with the Marattas, in order that his " attention or ſtrength might in no ſhape be diverted " from providing effectually for the ſecurity of his own " territories, it was entirely ſuitable to the Marattas in " their then ſituation, as it enabled them to direct their " whole force againſt the operations of our army under " Brigadier General Goddard. We alarmed his fears for " the ſafety of his own country; croſſed his views upon " the Guntoor Circar, which he was deſirous of obtaining " in form from Bazalet Jung. That an able agent " might not be wanting to foment theſe offences, we " deliberately gave umbrage to the Nabob Nizam; firſt, " by ſeeking and actually ſubſcribing to a treaty of friend- " ſhip with his brother and ſubject Bazalet Jung, without " aſking his conſent or approbation; and next, by de- " manding of him a remiſſion of the peſcuſh, or tribute, " which for theſe eleven years and upwards we have " paid him, as in treaty bound, on account of the North- " ern Circars. To prevent any bad conſequences ariſing " from the delay in the payment of the peſcuſh, which " was owing in the firſt place to a temporary inability, " created by the heavy current expences, which were " unavoidably incurred by the ſiege of Pondicherry; and " in the next place perhaps by miſmanagement; I was " induced, when I ſtopped here in my way to Bengal, to " recommend the miſſion of Mr. Hollond, as ambaſſador " to the Nizam's Court, to aſſure him, that the peſcuſh " ſhould be paid, and to explain to him the cauſe of its " detention.

" The Nizam has in his Letters to this Government, " and in his converſation with Mr. Hollond, who com- " municated them to the Governor General and Council, " avowed his diſpleaſure, on account of our behaviour " with regard to the peſcuſh and the Guntoor treaty; " and has, without ſcruple, acknowledged his having for " theſe reaſons encouraged and connived at a combination " of the Powers againſt us.

" With all theſe circumſtances before me, to which " the records both here and in Bengal bear teſtimony; " and further, knowing it is as a thing certain, that at " the very time the treaty was carrying on with Bazalet " Jung, Hyder would have entered into an offenſive and " defenſive alliance with us; I ſhould do an injury to " myſelf, and a ſtill greater one to our Superiors, who are " to paſs their judgment on men and meaſures by the " documents handed them from their reſpective Govern- " ments in India, did I tacitly ſubſcribe to that part of " the General Letter to the Court of Directors, which I " have hereby excepted againſt; and not alſo elucidate the " other cauſes, beſides the Maratta war, which have " aſſiſted to haſten our preſent diſtreſſes.

" I requeſt that this may go a number in the packet " now under diſpatch."

In a Letter, dated 2d December 1780, from the Governor General of Bengal to the Chairman of the Court of Directors, he acquaints him, that " another intereſt- " ing occaſion has now called for the exertion of this " Government, in the preſervation of that of Fort Saint " George: this at leaſt, ſays he, will not be imputed to " the Government of Bengal. If the extorted and pal- " liated confeſſion of the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn may " be credited, and we have the evidence of the moſt " public notoriety to confirm it, it was the ſole effect of " a confederacy formed at his inſtigation, and dictated by " his reſentment at the infringements made by the Select " Committee of Fort Saint George, on his rights obtained " by the treaty ſubſiſting between him and the Company, " and his natural apprehenſion of hoſtilities intended by " that Government againſt him. Whatever be the " cauſe, ſuch have been the effects, and it is our duty to " do all that may be in our power to avert them."

Your Committee have thus laid before the Houſe, the different poſitions maintained by the Governor General and Council on the one hand; who aſſert, that the confederacy which preceded the invaſion of the Carnatic, was entirely owing to the reſentment conceived by the Nizam againſt the proceedings of the Government of Madras, in the affairs of the Guntoor Circar and the peſcuſh;—and by the Preſidency of Madras on the other hand; who maintain, in their General Letter, dated 9th January 1781, that it is entirely to be aſcribed to the Maratta war;—and alſo the opinion of Sir Eyre Coote, who admits that the Maratta war may have given birth to the idea of a general confederacy, but maintains that it is a thing certain, that Hyder was ſolicitous to enter into a treaty with the Company, at the time when his views were croſſed, and the Nizam was diſguſted, which he conſiders as one immediate cauſe of the invaſion of the Carnatic.

Conduct of the Governor of Fort St. George reſpecting Mr. Hollond.

Your Committee, in their Second Report, have laid before the Houſe (from fol. 29 to 36.) the conduct of the Preſidency of Madras reſpecting Mr. Hollond, whom they had ſent as a public Miniſter to the Nizam's Court, originally for the purpoſe of apologizing to that prince for their not having obſerved a ſtrict punctuality in the payment of the tribute due to him by treaty. They have alſo ſtated the ſubſequent inſtructions ſent to Mr. Hollond, to obtain an entire relinquiſhment of the tribute both for the time paſt and time to come. This Gentleman, it will there be found, was recalled on the motion of Sir Thomas Rumbold, 14th December 1779; but on the 14th February 1780, he was appointed to remain at Hydrabad, as reſident from the Supreme Government. Your Committee, from the loſs of the Madras records, from 31ſt December 1779 to 2d April 1780, were not enabled to purſue this tranſaction to its concluſion, excepting ſo far as a Minute of Mr. Johnſon's afforded ſome light; but are now enabled to ſtate the remaining part of this tranſaction, from a Letter of the Supreme Government in their Secret Department, dated 29th November 1780, addreſſed to the Court of Directors. From this Letter it appears, that, in conſequence of a Minute and recommendation left by Sir Thomas Rumbold, Mr. Whitehill moved for Mr. Hollond's ſuſpenſion; which was carried. This does not appear to have had the effect of diſappointing the Supreme Council of the ſervices of Mr. Hollond, but, on the contrary, proved the very means of enabling them to continue him in his ſtation; he being then no longer a ſervant bound to the Settlement of Madras. The Letter abovementioned contains this paſſage:

No. 10. Supplemental Appendix to 2d Report.

" You were duly informed, in our addreſs by the " Swallow, of the recall of Mr. Hollond from the Court " of his highneſs the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, by the " Preſident and Select Committee of Fort Saint George; " of the reaſons which induced us to wiſh for his con- " tinuance there, and of the application which we made " to the Preſident and Select Committee for their per- " miſſion to him to remain at Hydrabad, as the public " Miniſter of this Government. This application was " refuſed, and Mr. Hollond was directed, in peremptory " terms, to obey the orders of recall before ſent him. " Theſe orders were as unreaſonable as they appear to " us

" us ill-grounded. They proclaimed to all India a " diſunion and ſeparation of intereſts between the two " Preſidencies, and, in particular, affected the aſſurances " which we had given to the Nabab Nizam Ally. We " were, however, obliged, though very reluctantly, to " acquieſce, and Mr. Hollond was left at liberty to con- " form to them. He was directly ſubject to the autho- " rity of your ſervants at Fort Saint George, and it was " not in our power to indemnify him from the probable " conſequences of diſobedience to it. But the reſtraint " upon our wiſhes to be availed of the ſervices of Mr. " Hollond at Hydrabad, did not continue long; for the " ſame temper with which he had for ſome time before " been treated by his immediate Superiors, inducing them " to ſuſpend him from your ſervice, we were enabled to " confirm our appointment of him, and did accordingly " appoint him to be Reſident on the part of this Govern- " ment only, at the Nizam's Court. The high opinion " which we entertain of Mr. Hollond's merits, our ſenſe " of his ſervices, believing him as we do to have been " the means of preventing a breach of the alliance ſub- " ſiſting between the Company and the Nabob Nizam " Ally Khan, at a moment when the Company's affairs " were very critically ſituated, and it became of the " utmoſt importance to ſecure even the neutrality of the " Nizam; the obligations, moreover, under which we " deem ourſelves to indemnify Mr. Hollond, by every " means in our power, from the effects which he has " unjuſtly ſuſtained of the reſentment of his Superiors at " Madras, for his obedience to inſtructions tranſmitted " to him by us, in conſequence of thoſe which he had " received from them, and which were notified to us by " them, call upon us to recommend him ſtrongly to " you; and in doing ſo, we make it our requeſt that you " reſtore him to the ſervice, and to his ſtanding on the " Madras Eſtabliſhment, or that he be transferred, with " his rank, to this.

" Mr. Hollond being placed under our immediate au- " thority at Hydrabad, our endeavours have been ſtrenu- " ouſly exerted to ſecure the friendſhip of the Nabob " Nizam Ally Khan, or to prevent him at leaſt from " taking part againſt us; but it has not been without " great difficulty, that theſe endeavours have hitherto " been exerted with a good effect. That power in the " Engliſh Governments which was ſettled in his neigh- " bourhood, and with whom of courſe his correſpondence " had always been principally held, had made demands " on him, which in his conception of them were deroga- " tory from the faith of the treaty ſubſiſting with him; " and had committed one act, which was a direct and " undoubted violation of it; and the general tenor of " their conduct had made him diſtruſtful of their inten- " tions to preſerve the peace with him. Such indeed was " his conviction of their unfriendly diſpoſition towards " him, that he found it neceſſary to be prepared for " hoſtilities; or ſuch was his reſentment of their conduct, " that he was determined to uſe the moſt likely means " within his compaſs, of cruſhing their ability to do him " further miſchief; and under the ſtrong influence of " thoſe impreſſions, it is a well-known and undenied fact, " that he had not only combined with the principal " powers of Hindoſtan againſt the Company, but was the " chief promoter of the alliance. For the particulars " of this hiſtory we beg leave to refer you to a Minute, " which has been delivered by the Governor General, 6 September. " and is entered in the Conſultations noted in the mar- " gin, as well as to a Letter from Mr. Hollond to the " Governor General, forwarded by the Trial packet, in " which the Nabob's avowal is declared, of his being " the author of the confederacy againſt us, and his juſti- " cation of it, on the plea of ſelf-defence, againſt the " ſuppoſed intention of the Preſidency of Fort Saint " George to break with him.

" To obviate a prejudice ſo rooted, and the effect of " an engagement ſo promiſing of ſucceſs as that in which " the Nizam is combined, would of itſelf have been no " eaſy taſk; but the difficulty has been ſo much " augmented, as to have been nearly invincible, from " the unwillingneſs of the Preſidency of Madras to uſe " the only means of reconciling him to us, and their " inattention to the advice and orders which are ſent them " for this purpoſe. It was the belief of the Nizam Ally, " that we were actually veſted with the controul, which " we declared ourſelves to poſſeſs; but he diſtruſted " the effect of that controul, ſince the orders which we " had repeatedly given, and declared to him, for the reſ- " titution of the Circar of Guntoor, had not only been " diſregarded, but Mr. Hollond, who had been the inſtru- " ment of the negotiation, had been puniſhed by them " for the part which he had taken in it.

" We have recited the great difficulties which oppoſed " our accommodation with the Nizam, of which we had " much reaſon to complain, ſo much, that it became " an object of neceſſity to remove them. The controul- " ing power, with which we are veſted by an Act of the " Britiſh legiſlature, had been, in repeated inſtances, " treated by the Gentlemen at Fort Saint George with " ſlight and diſreſpect; but in the preſent inſtance, they " thought proper to take more upon them: they defeated " our acts by their refuſal to conform to them, and com- " ply with our orders, where we had eſpecial right to " them. The faith of this Government had been pledged " to the Nabob Nizam Ally Khan, for the reſtoration of " the Guntoor Circar to Bazalet Jung; they were ſo in- " formed, and required to reſtore it. They did not " reſtore it.—We had no alternative but by a tame ac- " quieſcence to ſacrifice the truſt repoſed in us, and ſuffer " your intereſts to be involved in a war by a breach of " public faith, or to maintain both by an application of " the powers which have been given us for ſuch a pur- " poſe. Upon theſe grounds we reſolved, on the 10th " ultimo, to give effect to our commands, and determined " to exert the authority with which we were veſted, in " ſuſpending Mr. Whitehill, the Preſident of Fort Saint " George, from the Company's ſervice. Our reaſons for " this meaſure are particularly ſtated in our Letter to " the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint " George, of the 10th ultimo, which goes a number in the " packet, and to which we beg leave to refer you for " them: and at the ſame time that we are led to hope " that the beſt effects may be derived from it, in eſtab- " liſhing for the Company the neutrality or friendſhip of " the Nabob Nizam Ally Khan, during the preſent " troubles, and in ſaving our authority in his eſtimation, " and that of the other country powers, we are under no " fear that the Councils of your Preſidency of Fort Saint " George will be leſs ably or ſucceſsfully conducted here- " after, than they have been during the period in which " Mr. Whitehill directed them.

" You will obſerve, by our Conſultations of the 13th " ultimo, that we were then informed, by Letter from " the Preſident and Select Committee of Fort Saint " George, dated 23d September, of the meaſures which " they had at length been pleaſed to adopt, for giving " effect to our requiſitions of the 12th of June, by im- " mediate orders to their officer commanding in the " Guntoor Circar, to deliver over that country to Bazalet " Jung's agent; and by procuring an order alſo from " the Nabob to his Amildars, to relinquiſh all concern " in the management of the revenue."

Theſe additional materials your Committee humbly offer, as tending to complete that information reſpect- ing the different ſubjects treated of in their Firſt and Second Reports, which they have endeavoured, in obe- dience to the Commands of the Houſe, to procure.

Supplemental Appendixes

To the Firſt and Second Reports from the Committee of Secrecy on the Cauſes of the War in the Carnatic.

Supplemental Appendix to the Firſt Report.

No. 1.

Fort-Saint George.

Copy of a Council of War, held at Head Quarters, Great Mount, 30th December 1780.

At a Council of War, held at Head Quarters, near Fort Saint George, the 30th December 1780;

PRESENT,

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, K. B.
Major General Sir Hector Munro, K. B.
Brigadier General James Stuart,
Colonel John Lord Macleod.

LIEUTENANT General Sir Eyre Coote.—In the preſent very critical conjuncture of the affairs of the Eaſt India Company, and the very near concern which I perceive the operations of the army under my command muſt have, in bringing the whole either to a favourable or unfavourable criſis, I am induced, equally from a ſenſe of duty, and a ſincere regard for the future welfare of the Public, to requeſt your attention, Gentlemen, to a few circumſtances, which I ſhall ſtate as briefly as poſſible, and whereon I muſt alſo beg to be favoured with your opinions.

In the firſt place, I lay before you an abſtract return of the effective ſtrength of the army which I can depend on carrying with me into the field; and which, infantry, cavalry, and artillery, you will obſerve, amounts to in all 6,885 men. There is beſides, one battalion of Sepoys, about five hundred men, which I may perhaps be able to draw from Fort Saint George.

In the next place, I ſubmit to your peruſal my lateſt Letters from the garriſons of Vellore, Wandewaſh, and Permacoil, by which you will perceive they are all beſieged, or very cloſely inveſted by the enemy.

From the aſſurances given me by the officer commanding at Vellore, and from the difficulty with which he obſerves the enemy muſt make their approaches, I am under no great apprehenſion of its being in immediate danger, from any efforts of the enemy againſt it, unleſs aſſiſted by ſome treacherous hidden villainy of that kind, which he has ſo fortunately diſcovered in the Nabob's renter, and which I am happy he has checked in ſo effectual a manner, by putting him in irons; in which ſtate I have directed him to keep him, as he may be inſtrumental to the diſcovery of thoſe dark deſigns which I have long ſuſpected to exiſt in the Court of a native Power, living under the very walls of our garriſon of Fort Saint George.

Permacoil, with a very ſmall garriſon, and but one officer, as you will obſerve, made as yet a very ſpirited reſiſtance, and done more than could well have been expected from ſo ſmall a body of men. They cannot poſſibly, however, long bear up, under ſuch conſtant fatigue as they muſt be ſubjected to, by the freſh reſources which Hyder can daily bring againſt them. I conclude then, that in a very ſhort period of time they may be reduced to the utmoſt diſtreſs.

The garriſon of Wandewaſh I conceive to be in a critical ſituation. Batteries are already raiſed againſt it, and I fear muſt play upon it with great ſucceſs, unleſs its defences have been made much more ſufficient than when I knew it. The number of men in the garriſon are, conſidering its great extent, in no ſhape adequate to its defence, there being only two companies of our own Sepoys, and a few Sepoys belonging to the Nabob, who are by no means to be relied on, ſeveral having already deſerted, and the reſt diſſatisfied and diſcontented for want of pay, and on account of the arrears due to them. Under theſe circumſtances, and not having thoſe advantages of ſtrength by nature which Permacoil poſſeſſes, I fear much, notwithſtanding I have the moſt perfect confidence in the bravery of the officer in command, that it cannot long reſiſt the reiterated and ſpirited attacks which the force Hyder has ſent againſt it will undoubtedly make. I am informed there is in it a very large ſtock of grain, which is certainly an object to be looked towards.

Supplemental Appendix to the Firſt Report. No. 1.

I conſider the ſafety of theſe two garriſons, and throwing ample ſtores and proviſions into the garriſon of Chingleput, which you will obſerve by a Letter from the officer in command is alſo inveſted by the enemy, as objects of the utmoſt importance; and I am therefore extremely deſirous, if poſſible, to apply means towards their immediate relief; but how far it may be prudent, under the following circumſtances, to attempt it, is the point to be determined:

The forces of Hyder are very numerous; and although his infantry, diſperſed and engaged as they at preſent are, in the ſiege of the garriſons before mentioned, and alſo in that of Amboor, cannot ſpeedily be called together, yet his cavalry, of which he has got a very large body, not leſs than from twenty-five to thirty thouſand, may ſoon be aſſembled; and I doubt not, before we proceed two days march from hence, will be all around us, and will exert their utmoſt endeavours to haraſs and impede us in our march, and thereby gain that time which may be neceſſary to draw his infantry together, and enable him to force us to a battle. If he ſhould make this his object, notwithſtanding our inferiority in numbers, I think, with the ſtrength we have in artillery, we are equal to engage him. It is to be obſerved, that he too cannot be deficient in this very eſſential military equipment; as, beſides what he brought with him into the Carnatic, he obtained, by the capture of Arcot, and the garriſons which have fallen to him in the courſe of the war, a very ample ſupply of all kinds of ordnance and ſtores.

Our force is too limited to admit of a detachment adequate to the propoſed ſervice; if then a movement is to be made, it muſt be of the whole army. Every article of proviſion for its ſupport, together with the ſtores neceſſary for the garriſons in queſtion, muſt be carried from hence. The town of Arcadras and Fort St. George, the very foundation of the intereſts of the Eaſt India Company and the Engliſh Nation on this coaſt, muſt be left in a manner inveſted; of courſe, all communication with it will be entirely cut off, and no ſupport of any kind can be drawn from it.

Supplemental Appendix to the First Report. No. 1.

If we are fortunate enough to arrive in time to ſave Wandewaſh, we ſhall, I am confident, have no difficulty in finding good ground to take poſt, and on which we may engage the enemy to advantage, ſhould they offer us battle. If on the contrary, they decline a general action, and look to detaining us there, by conſtantly haraſſing us with their cavalry, they may reduce us to much diſtreſs, as, after the proviſions we carry from hence are expended, we ſhall have no other means of ſubſiſtence, but from the grain in Wandewaſh; whereof, I underſtand, there is enough for the expenditure of the army for many months.

I have already mentioned Fort St. George as the ſheet anchor of the intereſts of the Eaſt India Company and the Engliſh Nation on this coaſt; and of courſe conſider it as the firſt object of my care and attention. Whether, in taking the ſtep I have here ſubmitted to your opinions, expoſed to all the events I have above ſuggeſted, I ſhall be able to conſult the ſecurity of that object, is what I wiſhed to be ſatisfied in; and whether a return of the army to their preſent ſtation, without deriving any other obvious advantage than merely the relief of the aforeſaid garriſons, might not be productive of effects pernicious to the general intereſts of our affairs?

The preſent diſpoſition of the inhabitants of the country is not unknown to you. We have not only to combat againſt Hyder, but againſt the whole Carnatic; and have therefore no reaſon to hope for the leaſt aſſiſtance in any part of the road we may march, or in any part of the country we may go into.

Permacoil and Wandewaſh I ſhould be ſorry were they to fall into the hands of the enemy, becauſe of the great advantage they might be rendered of to the French, ſhould they arrive on the coaſt during the preſent war with Hyder.

I recommended a reinforcement of Sepoys being ſent me by ſea from Bengal; but, by my lateſt Letters from thence, I have not the ſmalleſt encouragement to hope that my propoſal will be in any ſhape adopted. The detachment of ſix battalions of Sepoys, reſolved by the Supreme Council to be ſent by land as a reinforcement to the army here, not having commenced their march on the 14th inſtant; and their movement, as I am informed, depending chiefly upon the favourable iſſue of ſome negotiations now carrying on with the Rajah Moodajee Booſla, to whom that body of Maratras laying at Cuttac belongs, there is no certainty that that detachment will ever leave the Bengal provinces. Any expectations of addition to our preſent force that might have been entertained from that quarter, cannot therefore weigh in the preſent deliberation.

I have now, Gentlemen, ſtated to you circumſtances, in as explicit and at the ſame time as conciſe a manner as the importance of the ſubject will admit of. I ſhall be happy in having your candid opinions thereon, as I mean that my conduct on the occaſion ſhould be, in a great meaſure, regulated thereby.

(Signed) Eyre Coote.

Colonel John Lord Macleod.—Sir Eyre Coote, Commander in Chief in India, having mentioned the preſent poſture of public affairs in Indoſtan in general, and particularly on the Coromandel coaſt at this period; that is to ſay, that Vellore, Permacoil, and Wandewaſh, are at this time inveſted or beſieged by Hyder Ally's troops; that Colonel Lang, who commands in Vellore, writes with aſſurance that he will hold out for a conſiderable time; but that Permacoil and Wandewaſh, from being garriſoned principally by the Nabob's troops, cannot be expected to reſiſt long: and Sir Eyre having been pleaſed to aſk my opinion, whether he ſhould march the whole army to the relief of Wandewaſh, &c, as it is impoſſible to act by detachment, the whole force of our army, not amounting at preſent to 7,000 effective men? I have to mention, that the ſecurity of Fort Saint George, and our ſure communication with that place, is, in my opinion, at preſent the grand object of this army, and the hinge upon which every thing turns. I form that opinion from the unaccountable conduct of the Durbar, from the firſt commencement of the preſent hoſtilities, from the knowledge we all have of the hoſtile mind of all the Natives of the Carnatic to the Engliſh intereſt, and of their attachment to Hyder Ally; which fully convinces me, that we have no reinforcement to expect from this country, and that all our ſuccours muſt come from the other Settlements, and from Europe.

I therefore think, that in any march this army may during the preſent ſtate of affairs take, a hold of the principal object ought always to be kept; that is, having it in our power at any time to return and cover Fort Saint George. This being in our power, I approve much of the army's marching as ſoon as poſſible to the relief of Chingleput, Permacoil, and Wandewaſh, and afterwards to return and cover Madras.

(Signed) Macleod,
Col. 73d Regiment.

Brigadier General James Stuart.—After attending to what the General has been pleaſed to communicate, I am of opinion, that the immediate reinforcement and ſupply of the garriſons of Chingleput, Wandewaſh, and Permacoil, ſo as to enable them to hold out for two or three months, or until it ſhall be known certainly with what force this war is likely to be carried on by both ſides, is of ſuch conſequence, that I have no difficulty in declaring it, according to my judgment, to be a moſt adviſable meaſure, to proceed immediately with the whole army that can be ſpared from Fort Saint George, on purpoſe to throw ſuccours into thoſe garriſons, carrying with them every means of ſubſiſtence, without the neceſſity of making detachments on any other account whatever.

I am alſo of opinion, that ſo ſoon as thoſe ſuccours are ſent into theſe garriſons, the army ſhould return to their former encampment at the Mount, there to wait the arrival of news from Europe, according to which, the future operations in this country ought to depend, whether to be offenſive or defenſive, keeping in conſtant view, the great ultimate national object, namely, the preſervation of Fort Saint George, with the ſhipping and property of the Eaſt India Company in the commercial ſtate.

I think that Hyder cannot in the time aſſemble any force ſufficient to diſpute the direct progreſs of our army to or from Wandewaſh, even though his cavalry may attempt to diſpute the paſſage of the Palar, which no doubt will be attended to.

I am alſo of opinion, that the fame of the Britiſh arms will not ſuffer by the appearance of a retreat to the Preſidency, after the object of the reinforcement to the garriſons is anſwered.

In caſe it ſhould ſo happen that Wandewaſh ſhall have fallen before the army reaches that place, I think that volunteers from the army ſhould be encouraged to throw themſelves both into Permacoil and Tiagar, in ſeparate bodies; but that the main object ſhould be to ſtrengthen and ſupply Chingleput, as the only immediate means to enable us to form magazines for the recovery of Arcot, to which, as to the principal object, all our future operations ſhould be directed, without attending to the Nabob's hill forts, ſo lately loſt by the cowardice or treachery of his Highneſs's officers or ſervants.

(Signed) James Stuart.

Major General Sir Hector Munro, K. B.—The Commander in Chief having laid before Lord Macleod, General Stuart, and myſelf, a ſtate of the troops in camp, as well as Letters which he received from officers in ſome of the garriſons in the Carnatic, ſetting forth ſome of the operations carrying on by Hyder's army; the Commander in Chief having at the ſame time told us, that the reinforcement expected from Bengal had not by late accounts began their march, and deſiring to have our opinions reſpecting reſpecting the army's marching to the relief of Wandewaſh, &c. I am clearly of opinion that the army ſhould march as ſoon as poſſible, not only to throw in ſuccours to Chingleput, Permacoil, and Wandewaſh; but to know if the enemy will come to action; and if he ſhould, I am confident the army will be ſucceſsful under their leader.

There are many reaſons why this event ought to be wiſhed for; and as the army will always be able to make good its retreat to Madras or the Mount, the time of its return ought to depend on various circumſtances, and the pleaſure of the Commander in Chief; and the informations he may from time to time receive,

(Signed) Hector Munro.

A true Copy,
Wm Tierney,
Secretary to the Commander in Chief in India.

Extract from the Minutes of the Select Committee, dated January 1781.

The Committee are ſenſible of the attention of the Commander in Chief, in laying before them the aforegoing deliberations of the council of war. In intruſting Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote with the immediate management of the war, the Committee felt that they were committing the moſt important truſt into hands in every reſpect qualified for the great object which they had in view, the ſafety of not only the Company's and the Nabob's poſſeſſions, but even of the deareſt intereſts of the Engliſh in India. Anxious for the moſt ſpirited, at the ſame time that they would have the leaſt hazardous exertions on the part of the army, they entirely acquieſce in the General's opinion, and in that of the experienced officers whom he conſulted. The carrying that opinion into execution, reſts with the Commander in Chief himſelf. All that is left for the Committee to ſay upon the ſubject, is, that the like public zeal which hath hitherto prevailed in all their deliberations, ſhall ſtill continue to manifeſt itſelf in their councils; that the General ſhall find every ſupport which it is in their power to give him; and that as he and they have had but one mind ſince his arrival upon this coaſt, they cannot but aſſure themſelves, that the conſequences of that unanimity will be highly beneficial to the intereſts of their Employers, whoſe welfare is inſeparable from that of the Nation at large.

A true Extract,
R. I. Sullivan, Sec^y.

Minute of Sir Eyre Coote.

Sir Eyre Coote.—Reflecting on the preſent very critical ſituation of the affairs of the Eaſt India Company, and of the intereſts of the Engliſh Nation on this coaſt; and ſenſible how near a concern any movement I might make of the army under my command, muſt have therein; for which, from the nature, progreſs, and ſpirit of the operations carrying on by the enemy, there appearing to me a neceſſity; at the ſame time not chooſing, in a matter of ſuch real and weighty importance, to truſt entirely to my own judgment, as to the expediency and propriety of the ſervice to be performed, and my ability, with the forces I have, when compared to thoſe of the enemy, to execute it; I held a council of war, at which was preſent, Major General Sir Hector Munro, Brigadier General James Stuart, and the Right honourable Colonel Lord Macleod; to whom having ſtated circumſtances with as much explicity as time would permit, I had the honour to receive their reſpective opinions and approbations of the ſervice I propoſed ſhould be undertaken.

However unuſual it is to diſcloſe the proceedings or the reſult of councils of war, before or even after the purpoſes of them have been fulfilled; and how far I may be juſtifiable in a deviation from what are the rules preſcribed in ſuch caſes, are points, which in the preſent inſtance I do not conceive it material to enter upon a previous diſcuſſion of; but ſhall reſt the future judgment, to be formed by the world, of the rectitude of the action, firſt upon the declaration of the perfect confidence I have in your zeal for the public ſervice, confirmed by the ſupport you have already afforded my exertions, and the deſire you have profeſſed to continue it; and next upon the claim which the political truſt, repoſed in you by our Superiors, gives you to know, whatever is likely to affect the intereſts of the honourable Company in that particular; and which, as my late deliberation may, in a very eſſential degree do, I therefore chearfully lay before you copies of the proceedings of the council of war, in the full perſuaſion, that the purport thereof will in no reſpect be divulged; and in the hope, that the meaſures therein determined on, may alſo be honoured with your approbation.

Supplemental Appendix to the Firſt Report. No. 2.

No. 2.

(Copy.)

Letter from the Chief and Council to the Court of Directors.

To the Honourable the Court of Directors for Affairs of the United Company of Merchants of England, trading to the Eaſt Indies.

May it pleaſe your Honours,

A SNOW, called the Hibernia, diſpatched expreſs from Madras to Bombay, paſſed this port on the 6th inſtant, when her commander, in purſuance of orders he had received, ſent aſhore an atteſted copy of a Letter from the Select Committee at the former Preſidency, addreſſed to the Reſident, &c. Factors at Tellicherry; a copy of which we herewith tranſmit, judging, that as this is the moſt preciſe mode of communicating the very intereſting intelligence it contains, the ſame will prove more acceptable to your Honours than a recital of its contents.

Lieutenant Hughes, who commands the Seahorſe frigate, which left Madras on the 21ſt ultimo, and touched here on her paſſage to Bombay, informed us, that the army under Sir Eyre Coote, conſiſting of between nine and ten thouſand men, marched from its late encampment near Madras about the 17th ultimo, in queſt of Hyder Ally; and by a private Letter which the Reſident has juſt received from the commandant at Palamcotah, dated the 8th inſtant, we learn, that Sir Eyre Coote's approach towards the enemy, compelled them to withdraw from Carangoly and Wandewaſh, which places they had beſieged.

Your Honours ſhip Royal Admiral, we have advices ſailed from Goa on the 31ſt ultimo, on her way to the Preſidency; and your five ſhips from Bengal, which left England in company with the Royal Admiral, arrived at Madras the 10th ultimo.

We have likewiſe the pleaſure to add, that we are now informed by Mr. William Petrie, of your civil ſervice on the Madras eſtabliſhment, that Amol ſurrendered on the 18th ultimo, to your army under Brigadier General Goddard, who, ſubſequent to this happy event, was preparing to march towards the Gauts.

Sir Edward Hughes, with His Majeſty's ſhips under his command (except the Seahorſe, which has not yet joined him) we have reaſon to believe was at Bombay the latter end of the laſt month.

As theſe advices are of ſo important a nature to your Honours' intereſt, we now deliver a duplicate hereof to Mr. Petrie, together with the original, in ſeparate packets; and have requeſted him to uſe his endeavours for forwarding one of them from the Cape of Good Hope, by ſome other ſhip than that on which he proceeds.

We are, with the greateſt reſpect,
May it pleaſe your Honours,
Your moſt faithful and
obedient humble Servants,
Ja. Morley,
Arthur King,
J. Hutchinſon.

Anjengo, the 11th February 1781.

Supplemental Appendix to the Firſt Report. No. 2.

Extract of a Letter from the Chief and Factors at Anjengo, to the Court of Directors of the Eaſt India Company; dated 6th Auguſt 1781.

The Morning Star cruizer, from Bombay, having called here on her way to Buſſorah, we embrace the opportunity of communicating to your Honours, the pleaſing intelligence of Sir Eyre Coote having entirely defeated the army of Hyder Ally Cawn, in a general engagement, between Porto Novo and Mooteapollam, on the firſt of laſt month; the particulars of which your Honours will be fully informed of, by the accompanying extract of a Letter from Sir Eyre Coote to Colonel Braithwaite at Tanjour, dated the 6th ultimo, which was tranſmitted to the Reſident by Captain Eidingtoun, the commandant at Palamcotah, who has likewiſe adviſed him of the following particulars:—that the Swallow packet reached Madras on the 22d June, and the Rodney packet alſo on the 12th ultimo, the latter having parted from the fleet ſhe ſailed with from England on the 5th of April, in latitude 28° N°.—That the army commanded by Sir Eyre Coote paſſed Permacoil on the 18th ultimo, with a view of effecting a junction with the large detachment of Bengal troops, which, with three battalions from the Northern Circars, had for ſome time been on their way to Madras, where, by the laſt accounts, they were nearly arrived.

Extract of a Letter from Sir Eyre Coote to Colonel Braithwaite; dated 6th July 1781.—Referred to in the above Letter.

The 3d inſtant I had the pleaſure to acquaint you of the ſucceſs of our little army, in a general action on the 1ſt inſtant, with Hyder Ally, between Porto Novo and Mooteapollam. It laſted eight hours, and was a hard fought day on both ſides. The enemy's force conſiſted of twenty-five battalions of infantry, 400 Europeans, from 40 to 50,000 horſe, and above one hundred thouſand matchlock-men, Peons, and Polygars, with 47 pieces of cannon well ſerved.

Our ſecond line having occupied ſome heights, by which our rear was ſecured, I advanced with the firſt towards the enemy's guns, many of which, had we had a body of cavalry, muſt have fallen into our hands. They made repeated attempts to force us with their horſe, and kept up a briſk cannonade, which for a long time our heavy fire could not ſilence; yielding at length to the ſteadineſs, ſpirit, and bravery of our comparatively ſmall body of troops, they retreated precipitately, and left us maſters of the field. Meer Saib received a mortal wound; and among four thouſand killed, are many of the principal officers. On our ſide, we loſt very few officers, and have only three or four hundred killed and wounded. You will be pleaſed to communicate this fortunate event to all the ſouthern garriſons.

No. 3.

To the honourable the Secret Committee of the honourable the Court of Directors for Affairs of the United Company of Merchants of England, trading to the Eaſt Indies.

Honourable Gentlemen,

1. YOU receive herewith an addreſs, dated the 31ſt ultimo, containing a ſhort abſtract of the ſyſtem we had adopted for our conduct in the preſent ſituation of affairs.

2. We had made every neceſſary arrangement for putting in execution our reſolution for withdrawing Tellicherry, and the time fixed for the departure of the fleet was arrived within two days, when, on the 18th inſtant, we received a Letter from the Governor General and Council, dated the 7th of January, which might and ought to have reached us ſeven or eight weeks ſooner, wherein they acquainted us of their having ſent round five lacks of rupees for the ſervice of this Preſidency, on the Duke of Portland; and gave us authority to paſs drafts upon them for ſuch further ſum as we might ſtand in need of. We had alſo private intimation of their having provided a large quantity of rice for the ſervice of this Preſidency, of which we actually received a part by the veſſel that brought their Letter.

Theſe reſources in view, we immediately determined, late as the ſeaſon was, to uſe our utmoſt exertion to preſerve Tellicherry, and make a requeſt to the Admiral to poſtpone his departure for a few days, in order to give us time to collect troops, and the neceſſary ſupplies for the garriſon, to be ſent down in company with the fleet, without whoſe aſſiſtance we could not have executed our meaſures. The Admiral expreſſing great ſatisfaction in our reſolution, cheerfully acquieſced in our requeſt; and, by a vigorous diſpatch, the Royal Admiral and Royal Charlotte were equipped for ſea; troops brought from the foot of the Gauts, and, with ſtores and proviſions, embarked within ſeven days upon different veſſels, which with the fleet ſailed from this place the 27th of the month.

4. The Royal Charlotte has been detained a few days, to wait for rice, to complete a ſtock for the rains; that ſhip, as well as the Royal Admiral, will proceed from Tellicherry to Fort Saint George, to aſſiſt in tranſporting Major Cotgrave's detachment to the coaſt of Coromandel, and will then purſue her voyage to China; whilſt the latter will return to Bombay, from whence ſhe will be diſpatched to England early in the enſuing ſeaſon.

5. The Prime will ſhortly ſail for England, and will carry our advices and proceedings at full length. We ſhall not now enter into a detail of the operations of the army, but ſhall only mention, that General Goddard has, in purſuance of our advice, relinquiſhed poſſeſſion of the paſs of Bhore Gaut, where he had propoſed forming a fortified poſt, marched the army to Panwell, in order to lodge his ſtores and heavy baggage, and proceed in his future operations according to the ſyſtem of defence we had concerted with him in march. This, a country favourable for the mode of attack, obſerved by the enemy; the army was extremely haraſſed by numerous bodies of horſe and foot, which had poured into the Concan country, and preſſed upon our troops with a degree of boldneſs, which can only be imputed to their exultation at the appearance of a retreat. Our troops in this ſituation behaved with their accuſtomed firmneſs and reſolution, and baffled every attack of the enemy to make an impreſſion either on the line or baggage, though our loſs, from ſuch continual attacks, could not fail being conſiderable; and we find, from our returns, that during the two days taken up in the march, three officers and fifty-five men were killed, and fifteen officers and three hundred and ninety-three men wounded; though we derive ſome ſatisfaction, that amongſt the privates killed and wounded, few or none were Europeans. We are very ſorry to add, that on the laſt day's march Colonel Parker, who commanded the rear guard, was mortally wounded, and died in a few hours.

6. Arrived at Panwell the 23d inſtant, when the General immediately, upon our requiſition, ſent over the troops we had appointed for the garriſon of Tellicherry, and will next proceed upon a plan for ſecuring the country from the ravages of the enemy, in the beſt manner poſſible, until the lateneſs of the ſeaſon ſhall compel them to retire. For this purpoſe, the army will immediately change its poſition, and move near Callian, a more centrical ſituation, and where it is propoſed to canton them during the rains. The Europeans and Bombay troops will be brought into this garriſon.

7. We very much wiſh we had any late authentic account to give you of the ſituation of affairs on the coaſt of Coromandel, the hopes of which were the principal cauſe of our detaining the Mercury ſo long. We can only now acquaint you, that it is certain the French left the coaſt of Coromandel in February, without landing any aſſiſtance

aſſiſtance for Hyder, or doing any other material damage; and that they were much diſtreſſed for proviſions; the poſition of General Coote's army, and his burning all the boats at Pondicherry, preventing their getting any ſupplies from the ſhore. Country intelligence, collected by Mr. Stewart at Goa, mentions that Hyder had quitted the Carnatic.

8. We have the pleaſure to adviſe you of Colonel Carnac's having gained a very complete victory over Mhadge Scindia; which is the more agreeable, as the Colonel had been obliged to retreat, and was haraſſed four days together by a very powerful army. After the fourth day's retreat, the Colonel countermarched a detachment from his army in the night, with which he got in the rear of the enemy, and attacked their camp, which was forced and plundered, and two guns, four elephants, and a large booty, fell into our hands. Several accounts concur that the enemy's loſs amounted to eight thouſand men, and Scindia himſelf eſcaped with difficulty to Seronga, attended by only .... horſemen.

We have the honour to be,
with Reſpect,
Honourable Gentlemen,
Your faithful and
obedient humble Servants,

Bombay Caſtle, 30th April 1781.

Wm Hornby,
D. Draper,
N. Stackhouſe.

No. 4.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George, to the Court of Directors of the Eaſt India Company; dated the 9th January 1781.

Vide Letter 19. 3d April 1780, by General Barker.

FROM the invariable term of our advices to your Honours, you will perceive a ſtrong, and we are ſorry to believe a juſt opinion of the ruinous conſequences which would ſooner or later fall upon the Company, from the war which your ſervants at the other Preſidencies had unneceſſarily entered into with the Maratta State. Bordering upon each others dominions, and heated by jealouſy and a deſire of plunder, Hyder and the Marattas never could have remained on amicable terms. Every year, unleſs when we ſtepped in to ſuſpend their operations, the country of the one or the other was the theatre of war. Their ſucceſs was various, but the effect, to the Engliſh intereſts, was the ſame. They reciprocally waſted their ſtrength, and found a ſufficiency of employment at home, to hinder their diſturbing the tranquillity of their neighbours.

20. While theſe two Governments, the moſt powerful in Hindoſtan, were thus weakening themſelves by an inveterate war, which, from the known diſpoſition of the parties, was never likely to have an end, your Settlements were at peace, and your proſperity was making the quickeſt advances to its fulleſt ſtate. Unhappily for your intereſts, the flame of diſſention at length broke forth at Bombay; the ſeeds of war which were then ſown in ſupport of the cauſe of Ragonaut Row, and which were afterwards nouriſhed in the moſt unbounded manner by the Government of Bengal, gave a reſpite to their rival powers. They ſoon began to ſlacken in their oppoſition. The pretenſions of each became every day more moderate. At length they combined againſt us, and from being enemies, cemented the ſtrongeſt ties of mutual aſſiſtance and ſupport againſt a conſequence which they had every reaſon to conſider as too formidable and interfering for the repoſe of India.

Committee, 23d October 1779.

21. The effect of this very early began to ſhew itſelf. So far back as October 1779, Sir Thomas Rumbold informed the Committee, that the Letters and meſſages received from Hyder Ally for ſome time paſt, were couched in terms ſo hoſtile and unfriendly, that he could ſcarcely conceive them to be the genuine productions of that Prince: that he had in conſequence ſent the Reverend Mr. Swartz to the Court of Seringapatam, with private inſtructions, to learn the real diſpoſition of Hyder; but that the iſſue of his ſecret negotiation was ſuch as left him no reaſon to doubt but his intentions were hoſtile both to the Company and to the Nabob.

Supplemental Appendix Letter from Fort St. George, No. 4.

22. Alarming as this information was, no reſolution was taken, more than that the Gentlemen at Bengal ſhould be made acquainted with it; and that General Goddard ſhould be adviſed of it alſo. About three weeks after, the ſame matter was again agitated and a Member of the Committee moved, that the moſt vigorous and ſpirited meaſures ſhould be adopted; and ſubmitted, whether it would not be proper to collect a ſtrong body of troops at Velore or Conjeveram, where they might be cantoned in readineſs to act as occaſion might require. This, however, met with a ſimilar fate; nothing more was done than had been in the former inſtance.

Committee, 17th January 1780.

23. From this time until about the beginning of June, no further notice is taken of the meaſures of Hyder and the Marattas, although the intelligence communicated by the Nabob, gave us every reaſon to ſuppoſe that he meditated ſome formidable blow againſt the Carnatic. Then indeed the Letters which came in daily from the frontier garriſons, were ample confirmation of what had been apprehended; and to increaſe our difficulties, the Select Committee of Bombay adviſed us, under date the 18th of May, that the Maratta Durbar had declared, in poſitive terms, to General Goddard, "that they would "not make peace with the Engliſh unleſs Salſet was "reſtored, and the perſon of Ragobah was given up."

Committee, 17th July 1780.

24. The undoubted information which was then received of the warlike preparations that were making by Hyder Ally Cawn, induced Mr. Johnſon, in a Minute, ſeconded by Mr. Smith, to recommend to the Committee, to take into conſideration the means for maintaining an army in the field; and if that were impracticable, that they would deliberate upon meaſures for reinforcing our garriſons, and for keeping up a force at leaſt ſufficient to protect the Company's and the Nabob's poſſeſſions.

Committee, 19th June 1780.

25. Had this opinion been followed, the troops, which were ſeparated, would have been formed into a body within the ſpace of a month without obſtruction or difficulty; they would have marched, unmoleſted, into the very heart of the Carnatic, and would have been ready to have faced the enemy on their firſt entering the Ghauts. But the ſeaſonable precautions pointed out in this Minute, were diſregarded; the apprehenſions about Hyder were thought groundleſs; and the opportunity was loſt, which might have poſſibly prevented the invaſion of the Carnatic.

26. It is not our intention here to throw an uncandid cenſure on the conduct of the majority of our Committee, in this early ſtage of the buſineſs. We give our opinions at the time, and they ſtand recorded for your Honours' information.

27. Had indeed a peace been concluded with the Marattas, or had there been the proſpect of ſo deſirable an event, the rumour of Hyder's intentions might have been diſregarded. But when we had the cleareſt proof before us, the declaration of the Maratta Court itſelf to General Goddard's propoſitions, it no longer became a matter that could admit of further heſitation. A pacification with that Government ſeemed to be as diſtant as ever, whilſt every exertion that we might be enabled to make, would unavoidably create an expence of both blood and treaſure, which muſt infallibly exhauſt us in the end.

28. The diſpoſition of the troops belonging to this eſtabliſhment, was likewiſe a circumſtance of conſiderable diſadvantage to us. One part, under the command of Colonel Brathwaite, was at Pondicherry; Lieutenant Colonel Baillie had a fine detachment to the northward of the Kiſtna; and Colonel Brown had one battalion of Europeans, one company of artillery, and one battalion of Sepoys, acting under the orders of General Goddard.

Supplemental Appendix to the First Report. No. 4.

29. Our force being in this manner diſperſed, no moment could have been more favourable for Hyder to have entered the Carnatic, than the moment he embraced. We were unuſually weak, from the different detachments we had on ſervice. Bengal was plunged into the moſt ſerious difficulties, and the treaſuries of the Company, in every part of India, were reduced to the moſt alarming ſituation.

44. Since the 5th November, when General Coote arrived, every kind of exertion hath been made to inſure to us ſucceſs in the next campaign. The General himſelf is now encamped at Saint Thomas's Mount; and we have every reaſon to expect that we ſhall reap the moſt ſignal ſervices from his conduct and ability.

45. Circumſtanced as General Coote is, the Commander in Chief of your forces in India, and more particularly having the entire direction of the army under General Goddard on the other ſide of India, where Hyder is moſt vulnerable; we could not, we conceive, have acted with greater attention to your intereſt, than in entruſting to him the general management of the war; which we have done in the ampleſt manner in public orders.

46. The orders which Sir Eyre Coote informs us he has ſent to General Goddard, will, we truſt, draw that Officer from his offenſive meaſures againſt the Marattas, and will enable him to make a diverſion in the Bidanore country, where the Nairs even, we are told are ready to revolt and join us, although they have kept the garriſon of Tellicherry cloſely confined to the walls of their fort for a conſiderable while paſt. The preſence of Sir Edward Hughes alſo renders it ſtill more probable; the ſquadron he has under his command being at hand to co-operate, and tranſport, if neceſſary, both men and ſtores to Mangalore.

47. While meaſures for the general good are thus purſuing here, at Bengal, and at Bombay, we have not been inattentive to the reſources which it is reaſonable to imagine we ſhould be enabled to draw from thoſe in alliance, and thoſe who live under the immediate protection of the Company.

The ſurrender of Arcot comes in another point of view. Mahomed Nudjif Cawn, who though not the firſt, was yet a man of conſiderable conſequence in the management of the Nabob's intereſts in that province, has, ſince his return, delivered in a narrative of the ſiege to his maſter. In this narrative your Honours will obſerve a degree of inſinuation, tending to caſt a principal ſhare of blame on your Officers who commanded there. Your Officers, on the contrary, complain of the Nabob's people, and eſpecially of Rajah Beerbur, who had the ſupreme authority at Arcot, and who is now confidentially employed by Hyder.

Committee, 27th Nov. 1780.

55. A matter of this nature is of great importance. Individually it carries a ſtain which, in all military ſervices, it is neceſſary ſhould be cleared up; and as it relates to the public welfare, it is fraught with conſequences of the moſt ſerious moment. Were the parties concerned in any other ſituation than that to which they are reduced by the capitulation, a ſtrict inquiry ſhould be had into every part of this affair; as they are at preſent, we muſt patiently wait, until an opportunity ſhall favour the inveſtigation.

56. The Nabob, who has uniformly kept up a cloſe and friendly correſpondence with Fazul Beg Cawn, the Commander in Chief of the Nizam's forces, ſome days ago informed our Preſident, that he had offers from the ſide of the Decan, of four or five thouſand well-diſciplined cavalry. Theſe offers, we had reaſon to conclude, had come from Fazul Beg. The expence, however, was too heavy for our preſent reſources. Moreover, there appeared a probability of aſſiſtance from Moodajee Bonſalah, the Rajah of Berar; and until we were certain of his intentions, it ſeemed the more prudent line to refrain from any poſitive engagements which might lead us into pecuniary difficulties, that our means were in every reſpect inadequate to.

57. The door of negotiation with Fazul Beg Cawn for this body of cavalry, it was ſtill politic to keep open. We impowered the Chief of Maſulipatam therefore, to enter into a correſpondence with that Sardar on the ſubject; but to determine on nothing until he had our final directions.

58. Early in our proceedings of the laſt year, your Honours will be pleaſed to obſerve, that we reſolved upon raiſing a corps of Sibbendies, for the purpoſe of collecting the revenues in the Circars dependant upon Maſulipatam, to conſiſt of five companies; and that we likewiſe directed, that theſe companies ſhould be raiſed and incorporated at Vizagapatam, with the two independent companies of Sepoys there on the ſame account.

Committee, 22d May 1780.

59. This force leaving our regular Sepoys more to the detail of real military ſervice than they were before in the Circars, and the Circars themſelves being far from any appearance of diſturbance, we reſolved, on a repreſentation from our Preſident, that the Northern Zemindars ſhould be ordered to furniſh a certain quota of troops to join the detachment, if neceſſary, ex, ected from Bengal. The Zemindars have accordingly been written to; and their numbers in cavalry, Sepoys, and pikemen, it is ſuppoſed, will amount to 13,500 men. With regard to their pay, that is to be accounted for, and deducted from the tribute of the Zemindars when the preſent troubles are over, at the ſame rate the Zemindars themſelves pay their people during the time they keep them in employment.

Committee, 4th Dec. 1780.

60. The tranquillity indeed of the Chicacole diſtrict, received a dangerous momentary ſhock, from a mutiny amongſt the grenadier Sepoys, who were ordered from Vizagapatam to this Preſidency, and who, refuſing to embark, turned upon their Officers, and all the Europeans of the garriſon. (The particulars of this unfortunate revolt, are entered in the proceedings referred to in the margin.) Lieutenant Criſp, Mr. Venner, a cadet, and Mr. Rutherfurd, one of your civil ſervants, were killed upon the ſpot. Mr. Caſamajor, the Chief, with ſeveral other Gentlemen, were ſeized, and cloſely confined for ſeveral hours.

Committee, 13th Oct. 1780.

61. The plunder of the place was the principal object of the mutineers; that accompliſhed, they left the fort in a body. We loſt no time, however, in ſending every aſſiſtance in our power to their relief. We ſent a party of fifty invalid Europeans by ſea, and ordered the Reſident at Ganjam, to reinforce them with thirty coffres from that garriſon.

62. Before this acceſſion to their ſtrength had arrived at Vizagapatam, the revolters had purſued their way inland towards the hills. Then they met with oppoſition from ſome of the Zemindars, and were drove to the neceſſity of diſperſing. In the meanwhile, conſiderable rewards having been offered for apprehending any of thoſe concerned, particularly the ringleader Sheik Mahomed, Soubahdar, ſeveral of them were detected. The conſequence was an immediate and exemplary puniſhment.

63. The conduct of Guzziputty Narrain Deo on this occaſion, was ſuch as to merit the higheſt marks of our favour. We accordingly reinſtated him in the Zemindary of Kinnedy, on terms to the advantage of the Company, as your Honours will perceive, on reference to our proceedings on that head in the Revenue Department.

64. The Letter from your Honours to the Rajah of Tanjore, which came by your ſhip Laſcelles, we deputed one of your civil ſervants to deliver to him. The Rajah received this mark of your friendſhip with the ſtrongeſt profeſſions of attachment to your Honours, and of reliance upon your protection. But the main object propoſed by the deputation of Mr. Lewin, that of procuring a ſupply of money, was not effected; the Rajah declaring himſelf totally unable to make any further exertions on that head. Mr. Lewin's report is entered on the proceedings of the Committee referred to in the margin.

Committee, 2d Oct. 1780.

65. The

65. The backwardneſs of the Rajah to raiſe the inconſiderable ſum required of him, was the cauſe of ſome diſſatisfaction to us; at the ſame time, we conceived it our duty to aſſure him, that every thing in our power ſhould be done for the ſecurity of his fort and country. Committee, 10th Oct. 1780 But as it would be abſolutely neceſſary, during the continuance of the preſent troubles, to get a ſufficient force into the field to act againſt the enemy, we informed him, we expected his ready acquieſcence in every thing that ſhould be propoſed to him for our common ſafety. We told him, that finding great difficulty in carrying on our military operations for want of a body of cavalry; we were uſing our endeavours to procure a ſufficient number, and that we ſhould take it as a favour if he would give us his aſſiſtance.

66. We again explained to him the heavy diſburſements neceſſary for the ſupport of the war, and earneſtly deſired he would aſſiſt us in the article of money. We pointed out to him how ſtrongly you had written to him on this ſubject in your laſt Letter, and hoped that he would want no other inducement to exert himſelf in giving you an extraordinary aid at this conjuncture, when you were called upon for the defence of your own and your allies poſſeſſions, againſt a formidable power.

67. We even went ſo far, leſt he ſhould have any colour of excuſe, as to tell him, if he could not poſſibly find means of procuring ready money on this occaſion, (which we truſted however could not be the caſe) that in ſuch an event, we had no doubt of his being able to put into our hands a quantity of grain, with liberty to mortgage or diſpoſe of it, in ſuch manner as might enable us to raiſe the neceſſary ſupplies.

68. To all theſe repreſentations, the Rajah of Tanjore has returned nothing but empty words and profeſſions, which he does not ſeem inclinable to realize.

69. This being the caſe, another Letter has been ſince written to him. We have told him, that the numberleſs Country Correſpondence, 26th Dec. 1780 No. 141. difficulties which have preſented themſelves to him, to the raiſing a body of 1,000 cavalry, are aſtoniſhing to us, eſpecially as he had concluded the expence of it would be deducted from his ſubſidy.—That our former Letters to him on the ſubject of cavalry was wanted, and as one immediately under the protection of the Company, he was the firſt looked to for aſſiſtance. We told him, the day of difficulty was the only one in which real friendſhip could be ſhewn; that procraſtination manifeſted a want of warmth in thoſe who, from the peculiarity of their ſituation, might be naturally ſuppoſed concerned in public affairs. That had means been taken in the beginning, the ſmall corps he had been ſolicited to raiſe might have been now complete; but that thoſe means had been unaccountably neglected, until it was almoſt too late to undertake any thing in a matter of ſo much importance to your affairs.—That the Tanjore country, however, having heretofore eſcaped every kind of ravage and devaſtation, we ſtill placed the greateſt dependence upon the aſſiſtance in both men and money, which it was peculiarly incumbent upon him to give, who enjoyed the ampleſt benefit of your protection.

70. Poſſibly this repreſentation to the Rajah, may have the effect upon him we deſire; we have incloſed a copy of it to the Commanding Officer at Tanjore, with directions to enforce the ſpirit of it firmly, but at the ſame time with the greateſt delicacy, leſt the Rajah's fears ſhould be alarmed.

93. Involved as your affairs are in every quarter of Hindoſtan, the accuſation of wantonly adding to the flame, carries in its conſequences a degree of criminality, which every Government, ſatisfied with the rectitude of its actions, is warranted to clear itſelf of, and even to retort upon thoſe who are primarily and principally concerned.

94. We have already ſaid, and we again repeat it, the Maratta war is the ſole cauſe of all the miſchiefs which hitherto have been felt, or hereafter may befal the intereſt of England in India.—The viſionary purſuit of that ſcheme, hath plunged you into the moſt complicated public calamity. The country powers, tired of the yoke, rejoice at the ruinous meaſures which, to the expenditure of all your treaſure in Bengal, and of all that hath been borrowed, hath been offenſively carried on againſt the combined Maratta empire. Nor ſhall we heſitate in declaring it our opinion, that unleſs a peace is ſpeedily concluded with that power, the hard earned ſupremacy of your ſituation will ſink under a blow the moſt ſevere that it hath ever yet received.

Fifth Report. No. 4.

97. Shortly, upon the departure of Sir Thomas Rumbold, we were ſolicited by the Nabob to aſſiſt him with a ſmall loan he was in want of, for diſcharging a demand made upon him by Colonel James Capper. As the Nabob appeared very anxious that this debt ſhould be cleared off, and as he engaged that the Company ſhould neither ſuſtain loſs nor riſk by the tranſaction, we acquieſced in the propoſition made to to us by his Highneſs; and accordingly granted Colonel Capper a bond for the amount, as is particularly ſet forth in our proceedings of the day referred to in the margin. Committee, 2d Jun 1780

120. In conſequence of an addreſs, which we received from our Surgeon General, in which he recommends a plan for the Hoſpital expences of his Majeſty's 73d regiment, we came to the reſolution, although there was no precedent for the mode recommended by him, to adopt it, it appearing the moſt equitable, until your pleaſure ſhould be known. The ſame to be carried to a diſtinct account, under the head of expences incurred for His Majeſty's 73d regiment. 10th May 1780

121. Towards the latter end of the year 1777, a Memorial was given in to us by the Captain Lieutenants of artillery, relative to their rank in the general line of the army; and again, in May 1780, they preſented us another petition, and begged we would write to the Gentlemen of Bengal, for information of the regulations they had thought proper to eſtabliſh in a ſimilar caſe, at the recommendation of your Commander in Chief in India. Committee, 1st May 1780

122. We accordingly wrote to Bengal on the ſubject. —The anſwer from thence was full as to the artillery rank they had eſtabliſhed; we therefore reſolved, that the Officers who held commiſſions as Captain Lieutenants of artillery on this eſtabliſhment, ſhould be put on the ſame footing with the Captain Lieutenants of artillery at Bengal, viz. that ſuch Officers as held commiſſions as Captain Lieutenants on the 17th April 1775, ſhould take rank as Captains in the army from that day; and that ſuch Officers as had been appointed Captain Lieutenants of artillery ſince that period, ſhould take rank as Captains in the army, agreeably to the date of their Captain Lieutenants commiſſions. 17th July 1780

123. Captain Robert Wood, whom your Honours were pleaſed to nominate to the Town Majorſhip of Fort Saint George, during the government of Sir Thomas Rumbold, having been diſappointed in his expectation of filling that office again, applied to us on the departure of the General Parker, and ſolicited the appointment agreeably to the tenor of your orders.

124. This matter had already been agitated at our Board, and it had been ſubmitted home to your conſideration; we therefore agreed, as our Preſident, in conſequence of your military inſtructions of March 17 4, and the latitude given him by the Company's orders relative to Captain Wood's appointment, had nominated Captain Sydenham to act in the office of Town Major, and the ſame had been given out in general orders, that no further ſtep ſhould be taken in it until your pleaſure ſhould be known.

125. Captain Harcourt Woodhouſe having been recommended to us by Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, we have granted him a certificate to partake of the military fund, he having ſworn that he was not directly or indirectly poſſeſſed of £. 2,000.

126. We have granted our permiſſion to Captain Charles Fraſer and Captain Thomas Hagot, to proceed to Europe for the re-eſtabliſhment of their health.

127. Lieu-

Supplemental Appendix to the First Report. No. 4.

127. Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Fletcher, agreeably to your commands, ſucceeded to his rank on this eſtabliſhment; but we are concerned to inform your Honours, that that brave and valuable officer was amongſt thoſe who fell in the action of the 10th of September.

128. Major Alexander Maclellan, after a ſhort illneſs, died on the 29th of laſt Auguſt. In conſequence of which we appointed Colonel Brathwaite to the command of the fort and garriſon, and of the troops ſtationed in the Tanjore country.

129. Mr. Robert Smith Bird, one of your Surgeons on this eſtabliſhment, has requeſted our permiſſion to accompany Mr. Whitehill to England, on the Duke of Kingſton; we have accordingly granted Mr. Bird our leave to attend Mr. Whitehill, and we take this opportunity of recommending him to your Honours, that he may return with his rank in the line of Surgeons.

130 Sir Edward Hughes having recommended that a proper perſon ſhould be ſtationed at the Daniſh Settlement of Tranquebar, for the purpoſe of collecting intelligence there with reſpect to the enemy, and having at the ſame time mentioned Mr. Edward Mackintoſh as a Gentleman well qualified for that employ; we have accordingly appointed Mr. Mackintoſh our Reſident at Tranquebar, with an allowance of 100 pagodas per month.

Committee, 9th Oct. 1780.

138. Your Honours have been frequently adviſed of the diſtreſſes, in which Colonel James, your Commanding Officer of artillery, hath been involved, from a failure on the part of the Nabob, in payment of a conſiderable ſum of money, advanced by him to his Highneſs's mutineus troops in 1776 and 1777. The particulars of his caſe are worthy of your attention.

139. In November 1776, the firſt dangerous mutiny broke out in the Nabob's ſecond regiment of cavalry. Colonel James was then Commandant of Trichinopoly. As ſoon as he received intelligence of the revolt, he ſent parties of Sepoys with Letters wrote in different languages, to learn their route, and with offers to them of 5,000 pagodas immediately on their returning to their duty, and of 1,000 pagodas per month, until the Nabob's pleaſure ſhould be known. "I did this," ſays he, "be-
"cauſe, on my appointment to the command of Trich-
"inopoly, I had an opportunity of viſiting the cavalry,
"which was then in that well-diſciplined ſtate, as to Committee, 11th Apr. 1780. "command applauſe from every Gentleman who ſaw
"them, many encomiums having been paid them by "Officers of cavalry formerly in His Majeſty's ſervice.
"From their appearance, and the pains that were taken
"by their Officers to render them complete, I could not
"but duly conſider the very extenſive ſervice they would "be of to the Carnatic, in caſe of trouble, and therefore
"I was fully determined to give every aſſiſtance in my "power to relieve them in their diſtreſſes."

140. For this firſt advance, Colonel James received the thanks of the Board, under date 4th December 1776. This induced Colonel James to make further advances of caſh; which he continued until the 1ſt April 1777, when a ſecond mutiny broke out in Captain Campbell's regiment, cantoned at Zepherabad, a few miles from Hyder Ally's country, and which had every appearance of being productive of fatal conſequences, the regiment being completely equipped for ſervice, with eight field pieces, and every thing elſe in proportion.

141. The intelligence of Captain Campbell's ſituation, he and his Officers having been made cloſe priſoners, was carried to Colonel James by the mereſt accident. He, however, ſaw no time was to be loſt; and accordingly, conſidering nothing but his duty, immediately ſent to them, and bound himſelf for the payment of ſo much of their arrears as he poſſibly could provide funds for. His obligation they looked upon as ſufficient. They releaſed their Officers, and ſhortly afterwards went upon ſervice, having received their laſt dividend of 6,000 pagodas from Colonel James the 1ſt of June 1777.

142. Conſiderable as theſe advances were, they yet were inadequate to the payment of all the arrears due to the cavalry, as appeared from the very alarming conduct of the other regiments who ſurrounded the Nabob at Chepauk, and obſtinately refuſed retiring, unleſs they were ſatisfied in what they had a right to demand, in conſequence of their agreement on entering his ſervice. The loan made by Meſſieurs Taylor and Co. on this account, hath repeatedly been ſtated to your Honours in the fulleſt manner.

143. Colonel James had indeed another reaſon for making the conſiderable advances he did to theſe regiments of cavalry. "I was encouraged to do this," ſays he, "by the directions of the Commander in Chief to "me to raiſe more money; and he had full powers
"from the Honourable Board, to take every meaſure he
"ſaw neceſſary to quell the mutiny."
Committee, 11th Apr. 1780.

144. Under theſe ſanctions, therefore, Colonel James advanced all the money he could raiſe. The Nabob, however, was ſlow and uncertain in refunding either the principal or intereſt. This drew a remonſtrance from Colonel James. We ſaw and felt for his diſtreſſes, and, ſenſible of the juſtneſs of his demand, intereſted ourſelves for him with the Nabob; but his Highneſs ſtill continued dilatory. He promiſed, indeed, that Colonel James ſhould be repaid; but yet the day was at a diſtance, and Colonel James, though ſuffering under a ſevere complaint, had the painful proſpect of being obliged to remain in this country, when a change of climate was become abſolutely neceſſary to his recovery.
Ib

145. Thus reduced, he made us ſeveral applications, and at length got the Nabob to requeſt we would on his account, ſatisfy Colonel James for the money he had advanced.

146. Senſible of the merit which Colonel James manifeſted at the time of making the advances, and of the real neceſſity there was for ſome ſpirited exertion for the preſervation of a corps which might have been of the greateſt utility, we readily agreed, that on the Nabob's engaging to repay the Company within a ſhort period of time, a bond ſhould be granted to Colonel James for the balance which ſhould be due to him. Accordingly, the Nabob having acquainted us, through our Preſident, that the amount ſhould be diſcharged as expeditiouſly as poſſible, we have granted a bond to Colonel James for pagodas 40,742. 25. 60, the ſum now owing to him by his Highneſs.

148. The proceedings of a council of war, held by the Commander in Chief of your forces, now go a number in the packet, together with our ſentiments on the ſubject. To theſe proceedings we beg your particular attention.

149. We have the pleaſure to acquaint you, that, by a Letter from Sir Edward Hughes, dated the 4th December, we are informed of the ſafe arrival of His Majeſty's fleet at Tellicherry, where he landed for the reinforcement of that garriſon, 1 Captain, 4 Subalterns, and 108 Marines; and of his having ſupplied them with 80,000 rupees for their diſburſements, and a quantity of grain. Sir Edward has likewiſe informed us, that, at the earneſt ſolicitations of the Chief and Factors, as well as of Major Colgrave, who commands the troops at Tellicherry, he had directed the Captains of the Company's ſhips Pondbane and Contractor, to remain there for the purpoſe of keeping open the Port for ſupplies of proviſions, until reinforcements ſhould arrive.

150. From Tellicherry Sir Edward propoſed proceeding with the ſquadron towards Bombay, touching in his way at Mangalore, to ſee if any thing effectual could be done againſt Hyder's veſſels in that part.

151. By a Letter from our Reſident at Ganjam, we are acquainted that a French privateer, mounting 18 guns, and ſuppoſed to be in concert with another, had been cruiſing off the Northern Ports of this coaſt for ſome time paſt, and had taken ſome few country veſſels.

No. 5.

WILLIAM PETRIE, eſquire, attending, according to order, was called in; and examined.

I went firſt to Madras in the Company's civil ſervice, about 17 years ago—have acted in the ſtations of Commiſſary and Paymaſter to the army during the laſt war with Hyder Ally, at the firſt ſiege of Tanjore, and the ſubſequent campaigns. I was then appointed Secretary to the Government at Madras; in which department I remained till my return to England, in 1776—the ſucceeding year I returned to India with Sir Thomas Rumbold—was appointed Envoy or Reſident to the Rajah of Tanjore—I was next appointed to the Chiefſhip of Nagore and Carricole—I left India again in January 1780, and being coming over land, was obliged, on account of the plague in Turkey, to return to Bombay. I was preſent at the capture of Baſſein by the Bengal army; and on the Malabar Coaſt had an opportunity of hearing of Hyder Ally's alarming ſucceſs in the Carnatic, and the diſtreſſed ſtate of the Engliſh Government at Madras. I left the coaſt of India the 11th of February, returned to Europe upon a Portugueſe ſhip, and arrived in England September 1781.

How long did you remain at Madras, after your arrival there with Sir Thomas Rumbold?—About twelve days.

How many days journey is it from Madras to Tanjore?—By going poſt, it may be done in three days; in the general way, it requires ſix or ſeven.

Was you at Madras when the Committee of Circuit was aboliſhed?—No, I was then at Tanjore; I heard of it there.

Were the Zemindars at Madras at your return then from Tanjore?—Moſt of them I believe were there—I had not any converſation or communication with them.

Had you reaſon to know that the Committee of Circuit had been aboliſhed?—Yes.

Were you acquainted with the objects of the appointment of the Committee of Circuit?—Yes.

From your knowledge of the Preſidency of Madras, and the affairs under their adminiſtration, is it your opinion, that the objects of the Committee of Circuit were moſt likely to be accompliſhed by the continuance of the Committee, or by calling the Zemindars to Madras?—I am clearly of opinion, by the continuance of the Committee of Circuit, for the following reaſons; viz.

Becauſe the Committee of Circuit was directed to proceed to the Northern Circars, and inveſtigate the various matters which had been complained of in that branch of the Company's Government; and becauſe the inſtructions given them for their guide, appeared to me well calculated to accompliſh the purpoſes of reformation; whereas, by calling the Zemindars to Madras, the Board could only have a partial evidence, and muſt be liable to impoſition and deception from thoſe men whoſe intereſt it was to keep them in the dark. From my knowledge of the men who were appointed to form that Committee, I think they were very capable of executing that truſt.

Were there other Gentlemen in the ſervice under that Preſidency, capable of ſupplying the place of any Member of that Committee, in caſe of a vacancy?—A great many indeed.

Had you reaſon to know that the Zemindars complained of the hardſhip of being brought down to the Preſidency of Madras?—I do not know it, ſo as to warrant my calling it perſonal knowledge; but it was the notorious and univerſal ſenſe of the Preſidency, that they had ſo complained.

Was it your opinion, or the general belief, either at Madras or Tanjore, that Hyder Ally meant an invaſion of the Carnatic a conſiderable time before his irruption there?—From the long miſunderſtanding and jealouſy which had ſubſiſted between Hyder Ally and the Madras Government, I never doubted but that we ſhould be involved in war with that Power, as ſoon as he ſhould find a favourable opportunity, which could only have been prevented by a poſitive alliance between him and the Engliſh, a meaſure which he had frequently courted. He viewed our attack on Pondicherry with a very jealous eye; and would, in my opinion, have given aſſiſtance to the French, but for a favourite enterprize which he was engaged in at that time. Our attack on Mahé, and the ſubſequent operations in the Guntoor Circar, I believe he conſidered as open acts of hoſtility;—but in anſwer to the queſtion, I will venture to ſay, that he certainly meditated war as early as the time of the ſiege of Pondicherry, which I heard from Tanjore, and from a man who had formerly been in Hyder Ally's ſervice, and who had paid me a viſit at Nagore; at which time I believe he was acting as an inferior Vakeel with the Dutch at Negapatam.

Are you one of the excutors of Mr. Redhead's will?—Yes.

Is there a diſputed article in that will, relating to a ſum of money claimed from Sitteram Rauze?—Yes.

Had you occaſion to know any thing of the foundation of the debt claimed by Mr. Redhead's executors from Sitteram Rauze?—It appeared to be a ſum of money promiſed by Sitteram, or his Agent, to Mr. Redhead, for certain ſervices to be rendered by him.

What were thoſe ſervices?—Being abſent from Madras on public ſervice, during all the time alluded to in the queſtion, I was under the neceſſity of leaving the executorſhip of Mr. Redhead's will to Mr. Brodie, who was the other executor; I can therefore only ſay, that I believe the ſervices were the accompliſhing of certain points for Sitteram Rauze at the Preſidency, through his (Mr. Redhead's) influence.

In what ſtation was Mr. Redhead at that time?—Private Secretary to Sir Thomas Rumbold the Governor.

Do you know, from any circumſtance whatever, at what time the ſaid preſent was promiſed to Mr. Redhead?—I cannot poſitively ſay the time; but I have a copy of the agreement, which was tranſlated from the original by a perſon who I know well, and believe to be exact, which I will ſend to the Committee.

What defence did Sitteram make againſt the claim made by Mr. Redhead's executors?—I cannot clearly anſwer, on account of the diſtance of time, and my being then abſent from Madras.

At the time I left India, I ſhortly ſuſpected that Hyder Ally was meditating an attack upon the Carnatic; and I will now ſtate to the Committee, my reaſons for that opinion.

Becauſe I know Hyder has been inimical to the Engliſh, ſince a ſhort time after the peace of 1769, when the Madras Board withheld from him the ſuccours which he thought he had a right to claim in conſequence of that treaty, when his country was invaded by the Marattas. The miſfortunes of that war, in which he loſt his army and a conſiderable part of his dominions, he charged to our breach of engagements; and from that period, I believe, he has eagerly looked for a favourable opportunity of making war upon the Engliſh in India. It was the tranſactions of that time, which gave riſe to his ſubſequent connections with the French. Nevertheleſs, finding that he could expect no eſſential ſupport from that Power in India, and apprehenſive of a ſecond viſit from the Marattas, in the year 1773, he again ſolicited friendſhip and alliance with the Engliſh againſt the common enemy, as he then termed the Marattas; and made ſuch advantageous offers to the Company, that had the Madras Board deemed it expedient in other reſpects to accede to his requeſt, the moſt ſolid commercial advantages might then have been obtained for the Company. I was then Secretary to the Board, where the ſubject was often debated; but at laſt it was reſolved to decline the propoſed alliance, and to obſerve a ſtrict neutrality between Hyder Ally and the Marattas. His reſentment upon this occaſion, I believe, cemented his connections with the French, and not improbably, gave him the first idea of an alliance with his old enemy the Marattas.—From that period, until my return to India in 1778, I believe the correspondence between Hyder Ally and the Company's Governments was merely civil; I am certain not cordial. Upon the arrival of Sir Thomas Rumbold at Madras, some correspondence I have understood took place, on the subject of an alliance; yet, when Pondicherry was attacked on the commencement of hostilities with France, it was generally imagined, and I believe justly, that Hyder would have tried to raise the siege, had not his arms at that time been employed in another quarter.

Supplemental Appendix to the First Report. No. 6.

The subsequent attack upon Mahé, and the operations in the Guntoor Circar, was considered by Hyder as positive acts of hostility; and from that time he seems to have made no secret of his hostile designs against the Carnatic. I was then leaving India, and my own reflections upon all these circumstances which I have now related, added to the information which I received from Mr. Schwartz, who had just then returned from the Mysore Durbar, and from other channels of intelligence, made me conclude that a war was not far distant, and that Hyder only waited for an opportunity to begin hostilities; and I was sorry to see that the Maratta war, by exhausting the Company's resources, and dispersing the force, was likely to afford him a very favourable one; so that when I left Madras, I never doubted but that the Carnatic would very soon be the theatre of war. I must however add, that although I have mentioned the capture of Mahé, and the measures with respect to the Guntoor Circar, as powerful provocations to hostility; yet, in my opinion, Hyder would not have involved himself in a war with the English, had there been peace in Hindostan, until he had received the troops which were promised him from France; nor do I think he would ever have trusted his infantry and guns in the Carnatic, had the Madras Government only assembled the forces under that Presidency in proper time, and ordered the army to move towards the western passes, when they heard of Hyder's approach from Bengalore.

No. 6.

Fort William, Secret Department.

General Letter, dated 7th January 1781.

To the honourable the Court of Directors for Affairs of the honourable United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies.

Honourable Sirs,

Par. 1. THE departure of Major John Scott to Europe, by express appointment from the Governor General, as his private Agent, affording us an opportunity of addressing you, we have the honour to avail ourselves of it in transmitting to you, in triplicate, our last advices from this Department, by the ships Fox and Walpole. Major Scott has taken his passage on board a Portuguese ship, which being to stop in her way at Fort Saint George, we have recommended it to the President and Select Committee at that place, to embrace the same occasion of transmitting to you a relation of the occurrences upon the Coast, to the latest period of Major Scott's stay. We beg leave to recommend this Gentleman to your favour, and that he may be restored to the Company's service, without prejudice to his rank, if he should be hereafter desirous of returning to Bengal.

2. We send to you numbers in this dispatch, copies of the Letters which we have received from Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, since we had the honour of addressing you by the Fox. We are much concerned that the information contained in them obliges us to say, that we still continue in expectation of more favourable accounts of the state of your affairs on the Coast. The confidence which we place in the exertions of Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, in his experience in military affairs, and in his zeal for the public service, will not permit us to despond of a prosperous change in it, while he continues at the head of your army; nor shall any assistance be wanting which we can render, to give effect to his efforts. The military expences are indeed large, but we have promised to provide for them as long as we are able; and acting upon that promise, we have ordered that the sum of C. R^{s} 4,23,672. 10. 3. should be remitted to Fort Saint George, in specie, by the ship Duke of Portland, now under sailing orders. We have taken measures to continue to that Presidency supplies of grain, and other articles of which they are in need, and shall in no instance relax in our declared resolution to relieve their wants, as far as we may be able to supply them; but it is not in our power to afford that aid which the army is said greatly to require, in an increase of its strength in Europeans. The unfortunate disaster which befel the detachments from General Munro's army near Conjeveram, in September last, was attended with an important diminution of it, and we are not able to spare, from the defence of our own provinces, more than have been already detached from them.

ited 10. 19, 20 Nov.

3. This consideration, added to others which arise from the present state of your affairs on the Coast, and the necessity which we feel of giving every aid to your Presidency of Fort Saint George that can possibly be obtained, without too disproportionate a sacrifice of the possessions of the Company, or of those of the Nabob Walaw Jaw, have induced us to propose a treaty of alliance with the Dutch, whose possessions at and adjacent to Cochin, have lately been invaded by Hyder Ally Khan. The treaty itself appears on our Proceedings of the 4th instant, which go a number in the packet, and has been formed with the advice and correction of Mr. Ross, Director and Governor of the Dutch East India Company's settlements in Bengal.

Conf. 4th January.

4. It appears, from an account, which the Governor General informs us has been communicated to him by Mr. Ross, that the force actually stationed at or near Cochin, will easily enable that Government to supply the proportion, both of European infantry and artillery, which are chiefly wanted, and of Malays, specified in the treaty; and these may be marched, at a very short notice, and by a very near route, into the Carnatic, if the Governors of Columbo and Cochin, on which they depend, will accede to the proffered alliance. To engage their assent, which will in such case involve both in great personal responsibility, as we understand that they have no regular powers to bind their Company in such an act without the sanction of the Superior Government of Batavia, we have offered to them much greater advantages than perhaps are suitable to the common interest which the Dutch Company have in the war, or than we should be inclined to yield in an equal and formal negotiation; but for this we have no time, the necessities of the Company require an instant relief, and the dependent state of those whom we solicit to be immediate parties in the treaty, claims some additional concessions, both to indemnify them, and to win the concurrence of their Superiors.

5. Urged by these considerations, we have proposed in the treaty the cession of the country of Tinivelly to the Dutch East-India Company. Its situation is such, that it may, as we conceive, be separated from the Government of the Carnatic, without either present embarrassment or danger of future competition; and from its contiguity to the Dutch possessions in Ceylon, will prove a greater acquisition to them than loss to the Nabob.

6. The treaty has been suddenly prepared without his knowledge, and of course without his consent; and the latter is, we know, indispensably necessary to that article of it, in which the cession of Tinivelly is suggested, and which, on our part, we can only propose; but it is the only part which he is likely to have in the war,

war, although the principal in it; and we have, in our opinion, a right to claim at leaſt this ſmall return both for the hazards which we incur and the exertions which we make for the ſupport of his cauſe—a return, amounting only to the ſacrifice of a minute portion of his dominions, and that the moſt diſtant of them, for the ſalvation of the whole.

7. A copy of the Letter, written by the Governor General to the Nabob on this occaſion, as well as of thoſe addreſſed to the Governors of Columbo and Cochin, and to the Superior Government of Batavia, appear on our Proceedings of the 4th inſtant; to which we have already referred you for a tranſcript of the treaty itſelf: the latter has received our execution of it, and has been entruſted with our other diſpatches to Fort Saint George, to Mr. James Dighton, whom we have recommended to the Preſident and Select Committee, to be employed to proceed with the Treaty and Letters, and ſuch other diſpatches as they may have occaſion to add, to the Governments of Columbo and Cochin.

8. We think it proper to ſend, for your information, an Extract of a Letter which we have received from the Preſident and Select Committee of Bombay, under date the 23d September, accompanied by a Letter to them from Mr. Henſhaw, their Reſident at Goa; it goes therefore a number in this diſpatch, but we deem the report therein conveyed to us, unworthy of our ſerious attention. We are generally inclined to believe, that although a connection may ſubſiſt between the Portugueſe and the Marattas, its effect cannot be important: they have no rank among the Powers in India; they have no means of ſubſiſting an army in the field; and no ſuch advantages are likely to be yielded to them, as can weigh againſt the ſtrong conſideration of the alliance which has long ſubſiſted between our nation and theirs. The claims which they prefer are claims of form, and perhaps would be preferred by any other Nation having them, whether they were or were not juſtly founded.

9. With reſpect to the ſuppoſed intention of aſſerting and maintaining the claim on Baſſein by force, it ſeems to us nugatory, and it cannot be effectual, ſince we have received certain advices that Brigadier General Goddard, with his army, was before Baſſein on the 18th of November laſt; and we are informed, that there was no force, excepting that in garriſon, to oppoſe his early capture of the place.

10. The inſults which have repeatedly been offered to the Portugueſe by our common enemy Hyder Ally; the friendſhip and alliance which has long ſubſiſted between their Nation and ours, and independently of this laſt conſideration, the intereſt which they have in common with us, in curbing an increaſe of power in that ambitious Chief, have induced us to make overtures to that Government, for an union with us in diſtreſſing Hyder Ally, by ſending a body of forces into his country; and we have availed ourſelves of the ſervices of Mr. Auriol, our Secretary, who had before received our permiſſion to proceed to the Weſt of India, for the re-eſtabliſhment of his health, by deputing him to Goa on this occaſion.

11. A copy of our inſtructions to Mr. Auriol goes a number in this packet: we confeſs that our expectations of ſucceſs from the overtures made to the Viceroy of Goa are not very ſanguine; but there appeared to us a poſſibility of adding to the force engaged againſt Hyder Ally, by the union of that Government with ours, and we were not willing to neglect even the remote chance of ſuch an advantage.

12. The perfidious conduct of thoſe of the French nation at Pondicherry, are repreſented in Sir Eyre Coote's Letter of the 19th of November, ſuggeſting to us the neceſſity of taking immediate meaſures for preventing the example from having effect among thoſe reſident at Chandernagore, and within the provinces. We have given public notice to the higher claſs of Frenchmen, of our poſitive requiſition, that they all quit the provinces, by ſea, on or before the 31ſt inſtant, on pain of being made priſoners, ſhould they be found in them after that period; and we have given orders for the immediate ſeizure of thoſe of the lower claſs. They had been all required in June laſt to leave the provinces by the 1ſt October, and our indulgence had permitted their remaining in them to this time; but the flagrant and hoſtile conduct of their countrymen at Pondicherry, would not allow us to continue the favour ſhewn to them any longer.

13. We have the honour to ſend to you encloſed, copies of the Letters which we have received from Brigadier General Goddard, ſince we addreſſed you by the Fox; the information before quoted, of his arrival at Baſſein, will not be found in them, but it is ſufficiently authenticated by our receipt of a bill of exchange drawn by him, and dated the 18th of December.

14. Excepting the Letter from Bombay before-mentioned, and which is ſent a number in the packet, we have received no advices from that Preſidency of a later date than thoſe tranſmitted to you in our Proceedings ſent by the ſhip Fox. We have remitted to them by the ſhip Portland, treaſure to the amount of five lacks of rupees; and we have authorized them to draw bills on us for any further ſums, at a reaſonable exchange.

15. The provincial Commander in Chief, in the perſuaſion that to derive from the native infantry of our eſtabliſhment, thoſe capital advantages which can only reſult from exact diſcipline, tempered with a ſtrict adminiſtration of the rights of the ſoldiery, it was poſitively neceſſary thoroughly to reform and new model the corps compoſing this part of our military force, preſented to us on the 26th ultimo, a ſeries of propoſitions beſt calculated, according to his judgment, for compaſſing ſo important and uſeful an end. Theſe propoſitions were accompanied with figured ſtatements, exhibiting, as nearly as might be, the extraordinary expence which would be incurred by the new Sepoy eſtabliſhments, and the annual ſaving which would accrue from the general arrangements.

16. The Letters which we have received from Brigadier General Stibbert on this ſubject, and copies of the ſtatements and propoſitions accompanying them, are ſent to you numbers in this diſpatch. After maturely conſidering the principles on which the plan ſubmitted to us was obviouſly founded, after meaſuring the extent of the advantages it promiſed to produce, and after ſatisfying ourſelves that it united œconomy and utility, we delayed not, in the conviction that the late military conſtitution of our native infantry was pregnant with defects, which, unleſs timely corrected, threatened the moſt ſerious and alarming conſequences, to paſs the whole of General Stibbert's propoſitions into reſolutions of our Council.

17. We will here delineate, as far as may be neceſſary, the general ground-work of this new ſuperſtructure; marking the leſs obvious motives of particular regulations, and diſtinguiſhing, in a conciſe manner, the advantages they poſſeſs over former inſtitutions and arrangements.

18. The apparent ſtrength of the battalions of the European regiments being at all times very inconſiderable (rarely exceeding 300 rank and file) and their poſitive or effective ſtrength being frequently below 200 men, the large eſtabliſhment of Officers annexed to theſe corps appeared to be productive of an utterly irrequiſite expence, without yielding a ſingle advantage in a military point of view; influenced by theſe reflections, we made it our requeſt to General Stibbert, to examine the expediency of doubling up the battalions of the regiments; and accordingly we have had the ſatisfaction of receiving his concurrence in a meaſure that while it occaſions in our monthly expences a retrenchment of 37,186 ſonat rupees, furniſhes us with a conſiderable number of Officers towards completing our native infantry on the new eſtabliſhment.

19. Although the Commander in Chief has, in the annexed annexed propoſitions, inſerted a clauſe expreſſing that when the ſtrength of the European regiments ſhall exceed 762 rank and file, they ſhall revert to their former conſtitution (becauſe in that caſe the corps would be too unwieldy for the purpoſe of manœuvring with celerity and exactneſs) yet we muſt remark, that it is by no means probable that we ſhall be reduced, during the continuance of the war in Europe, to the neceſſity of re-adopting this burthenſome aſylum, on the military principle ſuggeſted; and that the period at which alone ſuch a neceſſity is likely to occur, will be the beſt ſuited to its favourable and eaſy operation.

Supplemental Appendix to the First Report. No. 6.

20. Having reſolved, in conſequence of the approaching departure of a diviſion of our army towards Madras, to augment our military force, we iſſued orders for the raiſing of ſix new battalions; but the Commander in Chief having ſuggeſted to us the expediency of new modelling the native infantry, and of applying an immediate and effectual remedy to the abuſes which had crept into the corps compoſing this part of the army, to the great detriment of the ſervice, we thought proper to recall thoſe orders, and to ſignify to him that we were prepared to receive his ſentiments at large upon this important and intereſting ſubject; when he accordingly preſented to us the annexed propoſitions, explaining them as far as was requiſite, in our Conſultations of the 26th ultimo, at which he was preſent.

21. As the advantages of the new Sepoy arrangements, as far as relate to the purpoſes of manœuvring and diſciplining the corps, as well as to the effects which may be produced on the minds of the Country Powers, by ſuch an apparent increaſe of the number of battalions on our eſtabliſhment, are fully ſet forth in General Stibbert's Letter to us of the 31ſt of October, we beg leave to refer you to the ſame for his arguments on thoſe heads; which, we are to obſerve, had their due weight with us. We muſt alſo requeſt of you to ſeek, in the ſame Letter, the reaſons adduced by him for aboliſhing the office of Native Commandant to the Sepoy regiments; in the propriety of which we entirely acquieſced, as well as in the expediency of the regulation, directing the native adjutants to be made from jamautdars (inſtead of ſubadars) with a view of preventing theſe Officers from ſucceeding to the dangerous influence and authority of the Commandants.

22. At the ſame time that, in order to the correcting of the abuſes which had crept into the army, and which were of a nature tending directly to the deſtruction of the corps compoſing it, it was become neceſſary to fix ſuch checks, and to eſtabliſh ſuch rigid rules with regard to muſtering and paying the Sepoys, as ſhould put it totally out of the power of the Commanding Officers of regiments to derive any emoluments from their corps, and thereby engage their attention wholly to the diſciplining of them; it alſo became requiſite to annex ſuch rank and allowances to the command of theſe Officers, as ſuited its importance and the length of their ſervices. For to have entirely excluded them from all perquiſites and emoluments whatever, without advancing their rank and ſalary, would, ſuppoſing it poſſible to have eſtabliſhed ſuch a regulation, have produced no other conſequence, than that of rendering them to a man diſaffected to the ſervice; an evil that muſt have neceſſarily been followed by an univerſal relaxation of diſcipline, for which the moſt violent remedy would, under ſuch circumſtances, be ineffectual.

23. This danger however is avoided, by granting, as we have done, advanced rank and allowances to the Officers commanding regiments of Sepoys; who no doubt will, ere long, be reconciled to the reform; and being diſengaged from the purſuit of other objects, exert themſelves more than ever, in training and diſciplining the corps committed to their charge.

24. You will be ſatisfied, on examining the annexed papers, that notwithſtanding the great increaſe of Field Officers and Captains, conſequent to the new arrangements, there will be ſtill an annual ſaving on the whole of near three lacks and a half of ſonat rupees, after allowing for the actual increaſe of force gained to the eſtabliſhment. But as the Commander in Chief is aware, that, excluſive of pay and batta, there may be ſome other expences incurred by his regulations, of which he has not taken any notice, he does not reſt their propriety or utility on the head of ſaving. He will be ſatisfied if they ſhould not increaſe the diſburſements on the army account, and though, contrary to appearances, as well as to his hope, they ſhould add in a ſmall meaſure to the military burthen, he aſſerts himſelf confident, that the beneficial conſequences which will in due time reſult from them, will be abundantly more than adequate to the extraordinary expence they may occaſion.

25. It is unneceſſary for us to offer any remarks on the other parts of the annexed regulations. We conceive that they will ſpeak for themſelves; and we are particularly hopeful, that the preſcribed forms for muſtering and paying the native troops, will convince you that it was our deſign (in theſe arrangements) to ſtrike at the root of every abuſe that could poſſibly affect either the good order and diſcipline of your forces, or the rights of the native ſoldiery.

26. We ſend you herewith, a return of the European infantry and artillery on this eſtabliſhment: it will ſerve to place before you, in a clear view, the alarming diſproportion of our ſtrength in Europeans, to the number of native infantry; and at the ſame time the neceſſity of an early and ſtrong reinforcement of the former. We have before frequently ſuggeſted to you, the neceſſity of preſerving this eſtabliſhment entire; it was particularly ſubmitted to your attention in one Letter of the 13th of October laſt; and we muſt now repeat to you our moſt earneſt requeſt, that you will give the ſubject an early and particular conſideration. Your fixed eſtabliſhment of Europeans, even in time of peace, is not more than ſufficient to give reſpect to your military forces. In time of war, it is greatly inferior to its wants; and when the exiſting numbers are below the eſtabliſhment, it is our duty to declare to you, that your poſſeſſions are in danger of a ruin as ſudden as it may prove irretrievable. The eſſential ſtrength of this country, and the only ſtrength on which you can depend, is in the number of Europeans. You are not ſtrangers to this fact; and although there is no late proof from experience, of the truth of the aſſertion, it cannot be inferred, from this inſtance of our good fortune, that we may never experience the reverſe.

27. The ſum of forty-five lacks of rupees, to which the firſt loan on bonds, bearing an intereſt of 8 per centum per annum, was reſtricted by your reſolution of the 2d October laſt, having been completely ſubſcribed, we have determined to authorize the receipt of ſuch further ſums into the Treaſury as might be tendered to it for like bonds.

28. The ſtate of our Treaſury this day is as follows:

Ready Money	8,17,446	11	9
Bills receivable	1,85,728	2	—
Mint General Treaſury	4,80,732	13	—
Unſorted Treaſure	6,58,964	14	6
Current Rupees	21,42,872	9	3

Deduct

Deduct the amount of appropriated ſums as follows:

Balance account depoſits		11,00,900 8 5
D° Accomptant General of the Mayor's Court		1,36,358 4 —
Amount of the old bonded debt, in which the intereſt has ceaſed by public advertiſement	79,342 11 10
D° D°, on account of the Churchwardens, bearing a running intereſt, by order of the Court of Directors	98,200 — —
D° of the new bonded debt	62,58,651 1 6
D° 4 per cent. remittee loan	14,55,550 — —
D° annuities 1780	94,720 — —
	78,08,921 1 6
		79,86,463 13 4
Rup'		92,23,722 9 9

We have the honour to be,
Honourable Sirs,
Your moſt faithful humble ſervants,

Fort William,
7 January, 1781.

Warren Haſtings.
Edward Wheler.

No. 7.

Fort William, the 4th January 1781.

Secret Department,
Thurſday,

At a Council;

PRESENT,

The honourable Warren Haſtings, Governor General, Preſident, and Edward Wheler, Eſquire,
Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote abſent on ſervice.

THE misfortunes which have attended the Company's arms in the Carnatic, in the war with Hyder Ally, and the diſadvantages which attend the proſecution of it, requiring that every aid ſhould be given to the Preſidency of Fort Saint George, that can poſſibly be obtained, without too diſproportionate a ſacrifice of the poſſeſſions, either of the Nabob or the Company, the following draft of a treaty has therefore been formed, with the advice and correction of Mr. Roſs, the Director of Chinſura; the expediency of it having been ſuggeſted by the late hoſtilities which have been committed by Hyder Ally Cawn, upon the Dutch dependencies at Cochin. The force actually ſtationed at and near Cochin, as appears from an account communicated by Mr. Roſs to the Governor General, will very well enable that Government to ſupply the proportion both of European infantry and artillery, which we chiefly want, and of Malays, ſpecified in the treaty, and theſe may be marched at a very ſhort notice, and by a very near route, into the Carnatic, if the Governors of Columbo and Cochin, on which they depend, will accede to the propoſed treaty. To engage their aſſent, which will in ſuch caſe involve both in great perſonal reſponſibility, as we underſtand that they have no regular powers to bind their Company in ſuch an act, without the ſanction of the Superior Government of Batavia, we have proffered to them much greater advantages than perhaps are ſuitable to the common intereſt which the Dutch Company have in the war, or than we ſhould be inclined to yield in an equal and formal negotiation; but for this we have no time; our neceſſities require an inſtant relief, and the dependent ſtate of thoſe whom we ſolicit to be the immediate parties in the treaty, claims ſome additional conceſſions, both to indemnify them, and to win the concurrence of their Superiors. It is for this reaſon we have agreed to propoſe the ceſſion of the country of Tinnevelly to the Dutch. Its ſituation is ſuch, that it may, as we conceive, be ſeparated from the Government of the Carnatic, without either preſent embarraſſment, or danger of future competition; and, from its contiguity to the Dutch poſſeſſions in Ceylon, will prove a greater acquiſition to them, than loſs to the Nabob. His conſent, indeed, is eſſentially and indiſpenſably neceſſary to this article of the treaty, which on our part we can only propoſe; but it is the only part which he is likely to bear in the war, although the principal in it; and we have a right to claim at leaſt this ſmall return, both for the hazards which we incur, and the exertions which we make, for the ſupport of his cauſe; that is the ſacrifice of a minute portion, and that the moſt diſtant of his dominions, for the ſalvation of the whole.

For all the foregoing reaſons, we have reſolved, both on the ſubſtance of the treaty, as we have conſtituted it, and on its immediate execution on our part; and that it be tranſmitted, with the Letter entered on the Proceedings of this day, to the Preſident and Select Committee at Fort Saint George.—Other remarks, upon the treaty itſelf, we preſume will be unneceſſary, as we conceive their object and tendency will be obvious.

Propoſals for a Treaty of Alliance between the Engliſh and Dutch Eaſt India Companies, and the Nabob Walla Jah Bahâder.

Whereas the Nabob Hyder Ally Cawn has, without any cauſe, invaded the Carnatic Payengaut, and the poſſeſſions of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company which are ſituated therein, and attacked the ſettlements and forts of the Dutch Eaſt India Company dependent on the Government of Cochin, on the Malabar Coaſt; whereof it hath become the common intereſt of the Nabob Wallajah Bahâdar, who is the Sovereign of the Carnatic Payengaut, and of the two Companies aforeſaid, to unite in repelling and defeating the attempts and deſigns of the ſaid Hyder Ally Cawn, the Governor General and Council of Bengal, with the advice and ſuggeſtion of the Directors for the management of the affairs of the Dutch Eaſt India Company in Bengal, do propoſe and offer the following conditions of a treaty to the Nabob Wallajah, and to the proper Agents and Repreſentatives of the Dutch Eaſt India Company aforeſaid; hereby declaring them to be from the time in which the ſaid conditions ſhall receive the ſeals and ſignatures of the other parties to this treaty, binding on the Governor General and Council, and on all the Governments and dependencies of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company, in virtue of the ſeal of the Company, and the ſignatures of the Governor General and Council herein firſt prefixed; viz.

Article the firſt.—The Governments of Columbo and Cochin ſhall engage to provide and aſſign for the quota of the Dutch Eaſt India Company in the war with Hyder Ally Cawn, at or near Cochin, a diſciplined force, conſiſting ſiſting of not leſs than one thouſand European infantry, two hundred European artillery, and one thouſand Malays, with their complement of Officers, not exceeding the rank of Captains, it being underſtood and agreed, that all the Officers of a ſuperior rank ſhall either be furniſhed by the Preſident and Council of Fort Saint George, or appointed by commiſſions from them. Theſe forces ſhall be delivered over to the charge of ſuch Officer or Officers as ſhall be appointed by the Preſident and Council of Fort Saint George to receive them; who ſhall for that purpoſe proceed to Cochin, to receive charge and command of the ſame; and from that time the ſaid forces ſhall remain ſubject to the general authority and command of the Commander in Chief of the Engliſh forces, in like manner as the Engliſh forces in India are ſubject to his command, until the concluſion of the war, whether by the final conqueſt of the dominions of Hyder Ally Cawn, or by peace concluded with him, and their re-delivery in conſequence thereof to their original and proper Government; and their pay, according to the rates at which they are paid in the ſervice of the Dutch Eaſt India Company, together with all expences of the field or garriſon, ſhall be at the charge of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company, from the day on which they are transferred to the Engliſh command, until the day of their return, and re-delivery at Cochin, or ſuch other place as ſhall be mutually appointed for that purpoſe.

Supplemental Appendix to the Firſt Report. No. 7.

Article the ſecond.—In conſideration of the aſſiſtance granted in the manner ſtipulated in the preceding article, beſides their pay and expence, which are to be defrayed by the Governor General and Council on the part of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company, it is propoſed and recommended by the Governor General and Council to the Nabob Wallajah Babader, that he ſhall, on his part, grant and aſſign, by proper ſunnuds, to the Dutch Eaſt India Company, his right and property in the province or diſtrict of Tinnevelly, together with the excluſive right in the Pearl Fiſhery of all the Coaſt lying to the ſouth of Remfirem, to the Dutch Eaſt India Company; who ſhall be permitted to take poſſeſſion thereof from the day on which this treaty ſhall receive its final ratification, without any let or impediment on the part of his Aumils or Officers, of whatever denomination; and the ſaid province or diſtrict ſhall remain the property of the Dutch Eaſt India Company for ever.

Article the third.—It ſhall be allowable to the Government of the Dutch Eaſt India Company at Cochin, to carry on any ſeparate operations againſt the common enemy with their own forces, and to make conqueſts of any lands or countries adjacent to Cochin, and to keep poſſeſſion of the ſame without any claim of participation on the part of the Nabob Wallajah Bahâder, or of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company.

Article the fourth.—If a further aid of troops ſhall be required from the Dutch Eaſt India Company, for the maintenance of the war, they ſhall engage to furniſh the ſame ſo ſoon as they can be obtained from the Supreme Government at Batavia, on the ſame terms and in the ſame manner as are ſtipulated in the firſt article.

Article the fifth.—This treaty being firſt executed in the manner above-mentioned by the Governor General and Council of Bengal, for and on behalf of the Engliſh Eaſt India Company, ſhall be next tendered to the Nabob Wallajah Bahâder, for his acceptance and ratification; and having received the ſame, it ſhall be forwarded to the Governments of Columbo and Cochin, that it may, in like manner, receive their aſſent and final ratification, without any addition, diminution, or alteration whatſoever, to be made either by the Nabob Wallajah Bahâder, or by the Government of Columbo and Cochin.

Ordered, that the treaty above propoſed be copied fair, and that it be circulated by the Secretary to the Members of the Board for execution.

Agreed, that Mr. James Dighton be appointed Agent on the part of the Governor General and Council on this occaſion, with the uſual allowances; that he be entruſted with the care of our diſpatches to Fort Saint George, and recommended to the Preſident and Select Committee, to be employed by them to proceed with the Treaty and Letters written to Columbo and Cochin, together with ſuch other diſpatches as they may have occaſion to add, to thoſe Governments.

The Governor General lays before the Board the draft of a Letter which he has prepared to his Highneſs the Nabob of the Carnatic.

To his Highneſs the Nabob Wallajah, &c. &c. &c.

May it pleaſe your Highneſs,

The very critical ſituation in which the affairs of your Highneſs are at preſent involved, by the invaſion of the Carnatic, by Hyder Ally Cawn; the diſgrace which the Britiſh arms have lately ſuſtained on the Coaſt, and the conſequent neceſſity of every vigorous exertion on your part, not only to recover what has been loſt, but to preſerve what remains; are points too cloſely connected with your Highneſs's intereſt and proſperity, to require many arguments to enforce them.

